Soviet Asks New Ruling On Veto

Announces Opposition to Straight Majority Ruling, Will Fight For A Rule Requiring Two-Thirds Vote For Approval Of All Questions; Veto Developing Into Major UN Issue

By MAX HARRELSON New York, June 28—(AP)—Soviet Russia tossed a voting controversy into the lap of the atomic energy commission today when she served notice that she would fight for a rule requiring a two-thirds vote for approval of all questions before the commission.

That was one of the first questions scheduled for action as the commission was called into session at 10:30 a. m. (EDT) for its first meeting as a working committee to start laying the groundwork for a permanent atomic control agency.

The issue arose yesterday when the commission's committee on rules and procedure approved a rule providing that measures could be adopted by a straight majority of the 12 commission members.

The Russian procedure expert took exception to the ruling and reserved the right for Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko to bring the issue before the commission at today's closed meeting.

The session was scheduled to be confined largely to the adoption of rules of procedure, which in general follow the rules under which the Security Council operates.

There also was a possibility that the working committee would create one or two sub-committees to take up specific phases of the work of combining the U. S. and Russian atomic plans into an acceptable compromise formula.

Since the session was confined largely to procedural matters, it was decided to bar the press and public. Associates of U. S. Representative Bernard M. Baruch said, however, that Baruch felt that future meetings should be open.

Meanwhile, Gromyko's repeated use of the veto during Wednesday's Security Council debate on the Spanish question appeared to be developing into a major UN issue.

Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, president of the Security Council and foreign minister of Mexico, asserted last night that Russia's numerous negative votes constituted an "abuse of the veto."

"I have always opposed the veto power in essence," he said, "and I am particularly opposed to the abuse of the veto."

He said Wednesday's session of the Council "clearly demonstrated" that any of the Big Five powers can paralyze the activities of the council.

Castillo Najera said it was highly probable that the UN General Assembly take up the Spanish question in September "provided it is taken off the agenda of the Security Council."

CIO SOUTHERN DRIVE OPENS

Organizers Start Campaign Among Cannon Mill Workers

Concord, June 28—(AP)—The pattern of CIO's southern membership drive was taking shape here in Kannapolis today as ten organizers began an intensive campaign to organize the more than 20,000 workers at Cannon Mills, the world's largest manufacturer of towels.

The organizers—five of them war veterans—were under instructions from George Baldanzi, vice-president of the southern organizing committee, to follow these rules of personal conduct:

Do not include in drinking which Baldanzi said would not be tolerated. Drink "chocolate sundaes" rather than beer.

Do not enter any home where only the womenfolk are present, but return when the head of the house is present.

"You're the most important assignment in the south," Baldanzi who is directing the CIO drive in the Carolinas, told the organizers "Success at Cannon will make our job elsewhere much easier."

Organization of the mills by November 1 is the goal of the drive. Four organizers have been working quietly in Kannapolis for a week. They reported to Baldanzi that most workers they talked to felt the need for a union but feared to join or be active in it for fear of losing their jobs.

Other workers, particularly women, the organizers said, expressed personal loyalty to Charles A. Cannon of Concord, president of the mills, and a desire to do nothing to upset their present security.

D. L. Culver, head of the Cannon organizing staff, commented: "We want to put something in this community that hasn't been there before, more democracy. The Cannon mills are the tightest little package of domination I've ever seen."

far has given every indication of being non-communist? Now the attacks on the federated states idea by the Russian-sponsored socialist unity party in Germany (formed, you remember through a shotgun wedding of the social democrats and communists in the Russian zone) indicates one of two things. It could be a part of what seems to be a general Soviet idea right now that any and every thing proposed by the western powers contained a threat for Russia and is therefore to be opposed if so, it is hardly of lasting significance.

If, however, the Russians have decided conditions will permit them to play just as strong, or a stronger, role than the others in a Germany re-made whole, the stage is being set for a tug-of-war which makes the other postwar disagreements between the allies pale into insignificance. That might be indicated by the socialist unity party plea for a "united and indivisible" republic.

Big Four Start Preparing For New Paris Conference

Foreign Ministers Assemble for Free-For-All Session In Last-Minute Effort To Clear Decks For 21-Nation Peace Conference Next Month

Paris, June 28—(AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers assembled for a free-for-all session today on five peace treaties in a last-minute effort to clear the decks for a 21-nation peace conference in Paris next month.

The ministers, considerably encouraged by the solution yesterday of the Dodecanese Islands and the French-Italian border questions, instructed their deputies to bring skeleton drafts of peace pacts for Italy, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Finland for today's 10 a. m. EST session.

A British source said that with all five treaties before them, the ministers would be able to take up any topic they desired. This might lead to further discussion of the knotty problem of Trieste, considered the key to solving the remaining issues.

Many of these issues were fundamental. They included reparations and colonial issues, as well as the division of surplus naval units, and compensation of Allied nationals for destruction of their property in Italy.

On the Balkan treaties, the principal problems concerned freedom of navigation on the Danube and freedom of commerce with Balkan nations. There were no fundamental points of disagreement on the (Continued on Page Six)

Tumultuous Session In Noisy Jap Diet Tokyo, June 28—(AP)—The Japanese Diet, long on debate and uproar under an allied-given freedom, had another tumultuous session today with women members being shouted down with cries of "Shut up, ye woman!"

Communist Shiro Ozaka was unopposedly elected to the Liberal Right-wing party when he denounced the proposed constitution as an effort to retain a government of capitalists, landlords and bureaucrats.

Into the din stepped Mikio Miki, an Independent, shouting at the top of her lungs, "Quiet, please, and give the Communist a chance to speak."

The Liberals, estounded at hearing a woman raise her voice in the Diet for the first time, subsided at first, then fell to the killing again. When she resumed shouting, they shouted right back, "Shut up, ye woman!" Nevertheless, they quit after a while and let the Communist finish his speech.

Five Missing In Collapse Of Pier Philadelphia, June 28—(AP)—Collapse of a 150-foot Delaware River pier today dropped at least a dozen workers and a 100-foot crane into 20 feet of water.

At least six persons emerged alive but injured from the tumbling debris and high rolling waves raised by the crash.

Fate of the others was not determined immediately but workmen leaving gates outside the pier said at least five remained unaccounted for.

One of the rescued, 54-year-old William Turnbull, said that a few minutes before the collapse he noted a crack of about a half inch running toward the end of the wood flooring but had not attached particular significance to it.

There was a sudden terrific roar, he said, and "it looked as though the pier just opened up and we all dropped through."

"I went clean to the bottom with the pier atop me, tons of timber and metal work piling around me," he related.

"I was caught fast at the bottom and was losing consciousness when a piece of the stuff dropped next to me and loosened whatever was holding me fast."

Democratic Leaders Urge Truman To Sign OPA Bill

WAR PROFITS PROBE GIVEN TRUMAN OKAY

Senate Committee President Used To Head Prepares For Inquiry

Washington, June 28—(AP)—A sweeping war profits investigation by the Senate committee President Truman formerly headed is shaping up, with White House blessing.

Senators said Mr. Truman agreed to arm the chamber's defense investigating committee with authority to look into individual and corporation income-tax returns as a part of the inquiry.

One committee member, who declined to be quoted by name, told a reporter this unusual power probably will be used to dig into the affairs of a 14-country combination which reportedly yielded nearly a million dollars in profits to a half-dozen individuals who borrowed that amount to finance their first war contracts.

This group was described as having an interlocking directorate in companies which at times bid against each other for subcontracts let by associated firms which had obtained prime contracts.

Committee members said a preliminary check indicated that a few individuals and their wives shared large salaries as company officers and that only small dividends were paid.

These Senators said that so far as is known now the enterprise was carried on in a fully legal way. Their chief interest in making a sweeping investigation, they added, is to close any loopholes for excessive profits that might still exist in tax laws.

Mr. Truman was said to have agreed to cooperate with the committee by issuing executive orders making available necessary government records, including income tax returns. Under present law, such returns may be examined only by state tax officers and the taxing committees of Congress, unless Congress or the President gives specific permission to others.

Chairman Mead (D-NY) told reporters the defense investigating committee—long known as the "Truman committee" during the war—wants to look into what he described as "mushrooming" organizations, including "letterhead companies" which sprang up to bid on war contracts. Mead said public hearings will begin Monday.

The total can't be accurately given, as registration in many counties is not announced. The highest estimates, however, have placed Negro registration at little more than 5,000 in the entire state.

Only one act of violence has been reported. Etoy Fletcher, war veteran and student at Jackson College for Negroes, signed an affidavit (Continued on Page Six)

NO PAY BOOST FOR TEACHERS

New School Budget Sets All-Time High For State

Raleigh, June 28—(AP)—No salary increases for school personnel are provided in the $42,676,129 budget which the State Board of Education adopted last yesterday for the nine-months public school system for the next fiscal year.

However, the budget sets an all-time high for North Carolina and is $1,500,000 higher than the record budget for the last fiscal year.

The increases are to take care of 662 additional teachers, higher transportation costs, increased costs of plant operation, and to buy coal usually ordered in the spring but unavailable this year.

Controller Paul Reid said a deficiency of $678,391 would be taken care of by using an unexpended balance of $879,391 in the current budget.

Approximately $3,163,320 in addition to the budget will be paid from the State's General Fund for emergency salaries to school personnel, as provided by the last Legislature.

Reid said that the budget calls for $2,822,581 for instructional salaries, compared with $3,401,085 last year. The item encompasses an additional 602 public school teachers.

The general control budget is $1,145,293, compared with $1,084,090.21 last year. Included are salaries of superintendents, clerical assistants, office expenses and county boards of education expenses.

Instructional service, including teacher and principal salaries and instructional supplies, is budgeted as $35,640,706, compared with $34,324,177.32 last year.

The board also ordered consolidation of the 36-pupil high school at Hobgood, Halifax County, with Scotland Neck, with the Hobgood school to be reinstated if enrollment increases to the required limit, and consolidation of the Pateo's High School in Pitt County with a nearby school.

VETS CHOSEN FOR OFFICERS

"Top Cream" Of World War II To Get Permanent Ranks

Washington, June 28—(AP)—President Truman today nominated 9,800 "top cream" veterans of World War II as permanent officers in the regular Army.

They were selected by the War Department from an original list of 108,000 applicants, all of whom held temporary commissions in the wartime citizen army.

The nominations, which went to the Senate for confirmation, will bring the officer corps of the regular Army to its authorized strength of 25,000.

A Senate military subcommittee yesterday approved doubling the figure to 50,000 after hearing Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower testify that the additional officers may be needed for the next 25 or 30 years.

The War Department said it employed a new screening process in the selections designed to find "the best leaders in the world today."

Voluntary withdrawals and failure to pass rigid physical examinations trimmed the original applicant list from 108,000 to 81,000, the department said.

Those who failed to make the grade in today's list will have another opportunity if Congress follows (Continued on Page Six)

Labor Dept. Reports Violations Of Laws

Raleigh, N. C., June 28—(AP)—Inspection of 963 manufacturing, mercantile, service, and mining establishments employing 36,285 workers during May was reported today by Lewis P. Sorrell, Chief of the Division of Standards and Inspections of the State Labor Department.

Sorrell's report showed that the inspectors uncovered 1,406 violations of the North Carolina labor laws and various infractions of the federal wage and hour law during the month.

There were 565 violations of the child labor law; 250 of the safety code; 159 of the sanitation regulations; 80 of the maximum hour law; 63 of the time-record regulations; and 289 miscellaneous violations. The report indicated that 1,642 cases of violation were brought into compliance during the month, following recommendations by the inspectors.

Sorrell said back wages totaling $79,497 were paid by 54 firms to 437 employees during May. The employees had previously been underpaid according to the wage-hour minimum wage and overtime standards.

THE NATION TODAY

By James Marlow Washington, June 28—(AP)—If Congress approves the $3,750,000,000 loan for Britain, individual Britons—farmer, businessman, manufacturer—can't walk into a bank and ask for a piece of it.

Individuals can't borrow from the loan. The borrowing will be done by British banks. Something like this:

When Americans and Britons sell goods to one another, they want to be paid off in their own country's money: dollars and pounds sterling.

So American banks keep a fund of pounds sterling in British banks and British banks keep a fund of dollars in American banks. Hence:

A Briton wants to buy from an American—say machinery—and he deposits his check for the price of the machinery with his own British bank where he has a checking account.

Warn President That It's 'All Or Nothing' So Far As Bill Now Pending Before Senate Is Concerned; Barkley Predicts Passage Of Measure Sometime This Afternoon

Washington, June 28—(AP)—Congressional leaders told President Truman today that if he does not sign the compromise OPA measure, it will expire Sunday midnight.

Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) told reporters after a White House conference that the majority leaders were unanimous in telling Mr. Truman that it is "all or nothing" so far as the bill now pending before the Senate is concerned.

Barkley said he, Speaker Rayburn, House Majority Leader McCormack and Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) told the President that no simple resolution continuing the present OPA powers even temporarily could gain approval of Congress in the event of a veto of the compromise bill.

Those who saw the President said he did not commit himself. Barkley predicted the Senate will pass the bill by mid-afternoon.

Only three senators were on hand when the Senate met at 11 a. m. an hour early. They were McKellar (D-Tenn), presiding, Barkley and White of Maine, the Republican leader.

There was no sign of Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex) who talked for eight hours yesterday and last night against the bill.

Barkley said that President Truman is under compulsion to act one way or another on it before Sunday midnight, when the existing law expires.

"We told the President this is the best bill we can get out of Congress now and it is either take that or nothing," the Kentuckian said.

"The President called up down to discuss the price control bill and conference report on which we hope to get a vote in the Senate in a few hours," Barkley went on.

"He asked us for our judgment in good faith. We were unanimous in our recommendation."

Others at the conference were Speaker Rayburn, Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) temporary president of the Senate and House Majority Leader McCormack (Mass.).

"We urged him to sign on the ground that it is this bill or nothing," Barkley continued. "As unsatisfactory as the bill is, the situation will be infinitely worse without it."

The urgency of the OPA extension was emphasized when the President called off his usual Friday cabinet meeting to talk with his congressional "Big Four."

The compromise bill appeared White House bound after a few more hours talk by senators still weary from W. Lee "Pappy" O'Daniel's eight-hour, 18-minute filibuster that failed.

Destruction Left In Wake Of Brief Storm

Detroit, June 28—(AP)—Property damage estimated in hundreds of thousands of dollars was left today in the destructive wake of a short-lived but vicious tornado that tore into Detroit yesterday afternoon.

The twister, second in the area in a little over a week, swept across the Canadian border from Windsor, leaped the Detroit river and hit a northwest industrial section about a mile from downtown.

The British bank tells the American bank: "Pay the American machine manufacturer, John Jones, so many dollars of our dollar fund."

Jones gets his American dollars and the British buyer gets the machinery. The system works in reverse if Jones wants to buy something from a Briton.

The British before the war always bought more from us than was bought from them. So they always had on hand a good supply of American dollars in American banks.

Britons owned lots of American stocks and securities and received interest and dividends on them. These were received in the form of checks for American dollars.

But since the British security holders lived in Britain they wanted to be paid in money that could be used in Britain: pounds sterling. So they turned their checks over to (Continued on page four)

An Analysis Of The News By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr. For MacKenzie

Well, it looks as though Russia has begun to look to the future of Germany.

For months the eyes of the western allies have been turned on Russian circles in both Berlin and Moscow for a tip-off on the subject. British and American policies have been held in a liquid state awaiting it.

Would Russia move for a unified Germany which she could hope to dominate some day? Or would she concentrate on the area already within her sphere, leave the "iron curtain" where it now stands, and permit the western powers to play the major role in integrating the Rhineland and other important western German areas into the economy of a reorganized Europe? Or would she adopt the idea of a Germany composed of federated states in the hope that such compartmentation would make step-by-step communication easier than it would be in a whole Germany which she

Each member of the W. C. T. U. is asked to commit to memory the pledge and purpose of the union: "I hereby solemnly promise, God helping me, to abstain from all distilled, fermented and malt liquors, including wine, beer and cider, and to employ all proper means to discourage the use of and traffic in the same." The purpose: total abstinence and the abolition of the liquor traffic.

Rev. Hugh Bousman, a missionary to the Philippines, speaking at Atlantic City said, "There is twice as much liquor shipped to the Philippines as clothing and one half as much intoxicating beverages as food for hungry people."

"We deplore the light regard of many Christians and even ministers toward the increase in the use of alcoholic beverages." A quotation from a resolution adopted recently by the Buffalo Baptist Association, comprising about forty churches in western New York.

True, indeed, are the lines below, entitled "The Saloon a Bar":
A bar to Heaven, a door to hell,

Whoever named it, named it well. A bar to manliness and wealth. A door to want and broken health. A bar to honor, pride and fame. A door to sin and grief and shame. A bar to hope, a bar to prayer. A door to darkness and despair. A bar to honored useful life. A door to brawling senseless strife. A bar to all that true and brave. A door to every drunkard's grave. A bar to joy that home imparts. A door to tears and aching hearts. A bar to Heaven, a door to hell. Whoever named it, named it well.

Funeral Services

Clarence Hedgepeth

New Bern, June 27.—Clarence Hedgepeth, 28, a buyer for the A. C. Monk Tobacco Co., of Farmville died about 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at a local hospital as a result of injuries sustained Tuesday night in an automobile accident on Highway 17, about 13 miles north of New Bern.

Hedgepeth had spent a week in New Bern to help supervise work at a local redrying plant of the Monk company. He planned to return to Farmville Tuesday night because his child was to undergo an operation.

According to an investigation by State Highway patrolmen, Hedgepeth lost control of a car, owned by the Monk company when it passed another automobile traveling in the opposite direction. The car swerved on a shoulder of the road and turned over several times. He was not found for several hours. Taken to a local hospital, his condition was described as critical.

Mr. Hedgepeth was a Methodist and a Mason. His body was taken to Farmville this afternoon for the funeral service to be held there Saturday afternoon. Burial will be in Knoxville, Tenn., home of his wife.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Farmville Methodist Church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock by the pastor, the Rev. E. R. Clegg, assisted by the Rev. Martin Y. Self of Mount Olive.

Burial will be in Wyn-Hurst Cemetery in Knoxville on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Graveside services will be conducted by the Rev. W. M. Seymour, pastor of the Knoxville First Methodist Church. Masons will take part in the rites.

Surviving, besides his wife, are one son, one daughter and his parents, residents of Stem.

Locals Drop First Game 9-3, Smother Eagles In Opening Innings Of Night-Cap To Win 7-4; Rocky Mount Playing Here Tonight

By BERT MOYE
Greenville and Kinston divided a twin-bill in Kinston last night with the Eagles taking the first game 9-3, and the Greenies the final game 7-4.
The Kinston Eagles had two big innings in the initial game scoring four runs in the fourth frame on two doubles, two singles and a walk, and then came back in the fifth frame to score five more runs on two singles, two doubles and a triple.
Greenville scored one run in the third when Ranweiler walked and Parise brought him home on a triple and then scored two more in the ninth when Payne singled. Narron reached first on an error and Tommy Lee brought them both home on a single.
Joe Alamo started on the mound for the Greenville club but was forced to retire in the fifth frame after yielding an even dozen hits. Ray Carlson then turned pitcher and hurled two hit ball the rest of the game.

In the second game, which was a seven-inning affair, it was Greenville all the way. The Greenies started off scoring in the first frame when they put across two runs in the first on two singles and error and a hit batsman. They then came back in the second frame to score three runs on two singles, two errors, a wild pitch and a stolen base. Singletons were scored in the sixth and seventh by the Greenies. Mound Records Passing To American Leaguers

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Known for years as a pitcher's paradise, the National League appears certain to yield that title to the American loop this season.

While the senior circuit is in danger of failing to produce a single 20-game winner for the first time since 1931 and only the second time in its 70-year history, the American League may boast four pitchers in the selected 25-game winner class.

Only four times in the majors have that many pitchers of the same league accounted for 25 victories apiece. The National League quartet of Grover Alexander, Philadelphia; Dick Rudolph and Bill James, Boston and Jeff Tesreau, New York, was the latest to accomplish the feat in 1914.
Each of the present quartet, Hal Newhouse of the Detroit Tigers; Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians; Dave Ferriss, Boston Red Sox, and Spud Chandler, New York Yankees, has passed the 10-victory mark with less than half the schedule completed.
Newhouse, the great lefthander, with 13 victories under his belt stands the best chance to do it again.

The top winner in the National League is Johnny Sain of the Boston Braves, who has notched eight victories.

The Dodgers scored two runs in the seventh inning on singles by Dick Whitman and Bruce Edwards, a sacrifice, a wild pitch and a squeeze play by Ed Stanky to break a 1-1 deadlock and sew up the contest.

Hank Behrman, who relieved starter Joe Hatten in the fifth, held the Braves to one hit the rest of the way to receive credit for the triumph.
The Cubs came from behind to beat the Pirates, with pinch-hitter Bill Nicholson driving in the tying and winning runs with a bases-loaded single in the ninth inning.

defensive game and did not have to do much hitting to take advantage of the Cards unusually poor defense.

Sydney Briley with a double and a single was the only man in the game to get more than one hit.

To Discuss Game Laws At Meeting

By CHESTER WALSH
All sportsmen—hunters and fishermen—are invited to attend a conference on hunting regulations at the courthouse in Williamston next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Game Committeemen J. Wilbur Bunn of Raleigh and V. R. Wollet of Littleton will preside. State Game Commissioner John D. Findlay of Raleigh said hunting regulations for next fall and winter will be discussed freely. He suggests that sportsmen attend and participate in the discussions. This conference will permit those who love to hunt and who also are interested in conservation of wildlife to make their ideas known to authorities.

The proposed reduction in the deer season from 90 to 45 days in eastern counties is expected to be the major topic. District Game and Fish Protector J. O. Teel of Greenville said today.

A similar meeting will be held at the courthouse in Elizabethtown Wednesday, July 3, at 2 o'clock. Game Committeemen K. C. Council of Wanaish and V. R. Wollet of Littleton will preside there.

Sonora, Calif., June 27—(AP)—It's a darn shame, pardner, when you can't even find a place to hitch your horse these days.
Sonora stockmen are putting up a fight against installation of parking meters because the proposed city ordinance would prohibit hitching horses to them. The outraged cattlemen complain that it would have the effect of legislating horses off the street.

BOYS LEAGUE BASEBALL

In a free scoring game, W. Greenville's Indians won over the Wildcats from the Eastend by the score of 1 to 6. The Wildcats were leading 6 to 2 going into the third inning but then the roof fell in, so to speak and when the Indians had been retired they had scored nine times. After that inning the scoring was even. In their last turn at bat the Wildcats put on a big rally and before they could be retired they were one run up on the Indians. The Indians then scored two runs in the bottom half of the inning to eke out the victory.

Earl Stockes and Conner with four hits each led the hitting for the Indians. Milton Foley with two doubles and a single and Rowland, Tucker and Quinn with two hits were top men for the Wildcats.

Third Street's Tigers outplayed the Yankees from Training School yesterday and pinned a 9 to 2 defeat on the boys from the Eastend. The Yankees had a bad day, making five costly errors and getting only five hits. The teams were tied at two up until the third when the Tigers scored six runs to sew up the game.

Bobby Five with two doubles and Bobby Five with two singles led the winners at bat. Eugene Ayers with a triple and a single was the only Yankee to get two hits.

Glenn Scott pitched his team to a 10 to 2 victory over the Cardinals from the Training School yesterday morning at Third St. Park. The Cards were held scoreless in all except the sixth inning when they scored their two runs. On the other hand the Giants scored freely due mainly to the errors of the Cards. The Giants played a good

CHINA SINGS PRAISES TO GOD

Native Christians in missionary countries sing for the most part the hymns which European and American Christians have been singing for centuries. But in addition to these, they have composed melodies and written hymns after their own modes, which are stately and inspiring and which often charm the ear and inspire the heart of occidentals. One of these hymns has the refrain, "God is the spring wind, we are the grass, let Him blow."

The spring wind, when our nostrils first catch the fragrance of spring in the mellowing winter wind, we know that growth and blossom are near at hand. The spring wind has in it the promise of life. It strokes the tresses of the new grass. It sends ripples and waves through the fields. It puts rhythm and life into what a few weeks before was the dead countryside.

Jesus likened the life of the spirit to the blowing of the wind. "Ye know not whence it cometh or whither it goeth; so is everyone who is born of the Spirit." Also the Bible speaks of the life of man being as grass. The Chinese hymn writer sings of the Spirit of God blowing back and forth across the spirit of man, giving him life. It is the picture of human life depending utterly upon God for existence and growth. We are as dependent upon Him for life as is the grass of the field. "He is the spring wind, we are the grass, let Him blow."

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By ROWLAND EVANS, JR.
Washington — Decentralization, keynote of Gen. Omar N. Bradley's ambitions for the Veterans Administration, has already gone far in VA activities.

Prior to Bradley's appointment as veterans administrator, all veterans' affairs were handled from the central office in Washington and its New York branch. Insurance, death pensions, education and other matters flowed to the central office from all the 54 regional VA offices. Soon after V-E day it became apparent the central office could not handle the huge amount of work necessary to keep up to date VA's obligations to the millions of World War II veterans.

First move by Gen. Bradley and his coordinators was to establish 13 branch offices. The branch offices have the same jurisdiction over their respective territories as the central office previously exercised over the whole country.

The central office eventually will become a policy-making focal point for the branch offices. Sore subject with many veterans is the way their insurance matters have been handled by VA. Decentralizing the VA insurance setup is expected to cure any inefficiency. Instead of premium notices being mailed out from New York for the central office, they will be handled from the branch offices. Likewise, premiums will be paid to the branch office having jurisdiction. Already two branch offices (Boston and St. Louis) have been equipped with the necessary records and machinery to handle insurance matters for veterans in those areas.

Another sore point with veterans who have returned to schools and colleges and on-the-job training programs under the GI Bill of Rights is the delay encountered in receiving their subsistence allowance checks. Lack of liaison between the central office and regional offices was often to blame. Now all education matters are handled by branch offices, and most of the latter report up-to-date movements of the checks.

Decentralization in the medical field will give VA closer control of the more than 100 VA hospitals. Doctors and nurses are being hired by branch offices, and deputy administrators are able to keep abreast on the medical activities in their areas. Original plans called for completion of the decentralization program by February, 1947. But VA officials now say "complete decentralization" will be effected by the end of this year. That's when the last insurance records will be transferred from the New York branch of the central office to the new branch offices. Duplicate records of every veteran, in the form of a master file will remain in Washington.

The Nation . . .

British banks and got credit in pounds sterling.

The British banks then deposited those checks in American banks. The latter set aside the amount in dollars for the British banks.

Then the war came and, before this country started giving Britain lend-lease aid, the British government had to buy planes, tanks and other things in this country. And the British government—just as in the case of the Briton buying machinery from American Jones—had to pay for what it bought with dollars on deposit in American banks.

This, and the huge wartime drop in our purchases from Britain where plants turned to war work, put a big dent in Britain's supply of dollars.

So the British government took over the holdings of Britons abroad paying their people in pounds sterling and borrowing the stocks and securities in this country to buy war goods with dollars.

The war's over now and Britain still needs American goods. But it doesn't have the dollars with which to pay for them. But if the loan goes through—

British banks—when Britons want to buy something in America can take their checks and borrow dollars from the $3,750,000,000 loan and have those dollars deposited to the British banks' credit in American banks.

By this method a British bank can pay an American—from whom it's British client bought—in dollars obtained through the loan.

In this way Americans can keep on selling to Britons and getting paid in American dollars. This question arose: If the British lack dollars now, why don't they buy some with their pounds sterling and thus build up their fund of dollars in American banks?

The money experts here in Washington answer: Why should Americans or American banks want to buy pounds sterling? We don't need sterling. The British need dollars.

Also—too much buying of pounds sterling with dollars would drive down the value of the pound, thus causing a loss to Americans who have bought pounds sterling.

Recruiting Station Stays Open Sunday

It has just been announced by Staff Sergeant Paul G. Manning, N. C. O. in charge of the Greenville Recruiting Station, that the recruiting office will remain open Saturday and Sunday from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. to take care of all men desiring to enlist in the Regular Army before the deadline date, June 30.

Mrs. Lizzie Brooks Funeral Tomorrow

Mrs. Lizzie Brooks, 83, widow of John W. Brooks, died at the local hospital at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon after being critically ill for several days. Funeral services will be conducted at the home in the Red Bank community at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon by Elder S. B. Denny, Primitive Baptist minister of Wilson, assisted by the Rev. Richard E. Hardaway, pastor of Memorial Baptist Church of Greenville. Burial will be in the Brooks family cemetery on the homeplace. Mrs. Brooks was born and reared in Lenoir county. She was married in 1883 to John W. Brooks and had lived since then in the Brooks ancestral home near Greenville. She was a member of Great Swamp Primitive Baptist Church in Greenville.

Poland To Give Treaty Details

Washington, June 27.—(AP)—The United States registered an important progress today in its persistent efforts to learn what sort of international economic deals are being made behind the "iron curtain" of Soviet-dominated Eastern Europe. The stepping stone was the reinstatement of a $90,000,000 American credit program for Poland.

Under terms of the loan agreement, the Warsaw government is to supply the U. S. with the texts of Poland's economic pacts both with Russia and other countries. Warsaw promises this will be done. American officials hope, as a result, that they may soon obtain the first official detailed information as to the kind of arrangements which have been worked out by Poland with Russia, Hungary and Romania, as well as with Sweden, Denmark and Norway, and other governments.

Among these is a new agreement by which Russia grants substantial credits to Poland, presumably for trading with the Soviet Union.

Grain Market

Chicago, June 28—(AP)—Oats dropped more than a cent a bushel today on selling inspired by favorable crop prospects, substantial offerings of cash grain by country elevators and indications that the OPA extension bill maintaining ceilings on livestock and poultry would receive senate approval.

Deferred oats contracts closed 1 1/2 cents lower while July was unchanged at 88 cents. Corn was bid at $1.46 1/2 and barley at $1.35 1/2. At Winnipeg rye finished 5 cents higher.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 28—(AP)—Steel stocks, lower most of the time, swung back in the fourth hour of today's market and selected issues extended the rally of the previous session, but many leaders failed to override light selling.

From the start the list seemed a bit tired out after Thursday's climb. Dealings were relatively slack throughout and developed scant activity even when the metals pushed upward. While gains of fractions to a point or more dotted the ticker tape near the close, losers were plentiful.

Humber Speaker At Oxford Meet

When Granville County celebrated its 200th birthday at Oxford yesterday, Robert Lee Humber, scholarly Greenville attorney, delivered the main address and shared the impressive program with Mrs. Edith Fagan Cannady, Granville County librarian.

In his address Mr. Humber said the founding of Granville county was the start of the foundation of the nation. "We are celebrating today," he said, "an event as significant as any in North Carolina history." In tracing the history of Granville from 1746 the speaker said he knew of no better way of commemorating the occasion than by restoring Horner Military Academy, which was established at Oxford in 1851 and in 1914 was moved to Charlotte. After World War I the military school was moved back to Oxford. It was later destroyed by fire. Granville County was formed from what was a royal proprietorship which once extended from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from lower Virginia to Spanish Florida.

Mrs. Cannady, Granville county librarian, gave some interesting history of the county. The Granville area is scattered with color and historical lore. The first storage warehouse in the state devoted entirely to aging cured leaf tobacco was built in Oxford in 1866. John Penn, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, lived in Granville. It was pointed out that the older homes of Granville are informal museums of Americana. Clothing, tools and household furnishings dating back 200 years were brought out for the day and exhibited in store windows.

Dr. C. Sylvester Greene, editor of the Durham Herald, spoke at a civic dinner in Oxford last night and delivered an impressive address. Supt. B. D. Bunn of Granville county schools, presided. The bi-centennial ceremonies were sponsored by the Granville-Historical Association, Chamber of Commerce and the Oxford Rotary, Kiwanis and Exchange clubs.

Tobacco Growers Require Exports

Raleigh, N. C., June 28—(AP)—President Lee L. Gravelly told the Tobacco Association of the United States today that the tobacco export business this year will depend upon the international financial situation, but that in any case "we must regain our foreign trade."

Making his annual report to the association, meeting here to adopt regulations governing sale of the 1946 tobacco crop, Gravelly said that unless there is an improvement in the monetary status of governments abroad, American tobacco will cost too much for export.

However, he said, the export picture "shows definite improvement," now that the war is over. But he added:

"We must use every means at our disposal to assure definite exportation of a large part of the coming crop, if we are going to maintain reasonable prices for the growers."

The foreign markets were lost during the war years, he said, and were served by lend-lease. Now that the war is over, many of the foreign trade areas are unable to pay the high prices necessary to get American tobacco.

Gravelly said the Commodity Credit Corporation was still holding 67,000,000 pounds purchased from the 1945 flue-cured crop, which totaled 1,161,422,012 pounds—the largest on record. The CCC purchased the tobacco for lend-lease but will not participate in the 1946 auction.

Altogether, Gravelly said, the year 1945 was the most successful in the history of the tobacco industry.

1947 Kaiser Car Features Are Revealed

Details of the new Kaiser automobile which will be sold locally through the Auto Specialty Company, Kaiser and Frazer dealers in Greenville, were described today by W. B. Peel, head of the auto sales firm.

The Kaiser, Mr. Peel said, will be a full-sized six-passenger automobile with sleek new body lines and outstanding engineering features.

Featuring front wheel drive, the Kaiser is powered by a 92-horsepower six-cylinder engine. The engine, together with the clutch, transmission, and final drive assembly form a single unit mounted forward in a manner which makes it possible for the engine, transmission and differential to be removed for easy service, he said.

Unlike other types of front wheel drives made in the U. S., the Kaiser engine is placed forward of the front driving axle, thus maintaining a more constant center of gravity and resulting in better traction on hills and under all driving conditions.

The Kaiser is the first mass production passenger car in America to have independent "torsionetic suspension" on all four wheels. Twisting action of heat-treated steel bars gives new smoothness of ride at all passenger loads. Hydraulic shock absorbers complete the unique assembly, Mr. Peel said.

The new Kaiser was designed by Howard Darrin, internationally known stylist. Its body lines are characterized by a single sweep from front to rear fenders, the lowest silhouette in the industry, a wheelbase of 117 inches and unusually wide front and rear seats.

Other features of the new Kaiser car include new-type, trigger-action outside door handles; push-button inside door controls; wide-base wheel rims; chrome, plastic and lucite interior knobs and escutcheons; new-type, equalized and self-centering, four-wheel hydraulic brakes; large rear window contoured to the curve of the body in all directions; broadcloth upholstery; large luggage compartment, and concealed hinges on all doors.

NAME CHOSEN FOR VFW POST

Members Vote To Name Post After Charles Gray Morgan

At last night's regular meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 7032, the members unanimously voted to name their post after Charles Gray Morgan, first man from Pitt County to be killed in action during World War II.

Charles Gray Morgan, Seaman Second Class, joined the Navy January 19, 1941. He was serving on the U. S. Mary Luckenbach, which was torpedoed in the Arctic Sea September 14, 1942 at which time all hands were lost. He was the son of Mrs. Kenneth Staton, of Greenville.

Rev. Roscoe Hauser, pastor of the local Episcopal Church was unanimously elected post chaplain. Rev. Hauser served as a chaplain during his Army career and saw service in the China-Burma-India theater of war.

James Walters, of the Veterans Administration, whose offices are located in the Armory building, spoke briefly on his work here.

The post voted to start their fund-raising campaign to build their future V.F.W. home. The first project is the sponsoring of a carnival during the second week of July. The post also went on record as endorsing the American Legion's Welcome-Home Day for all veterans to be held in August, 1946.

The meeting was adjourned by Commander Larry Averette after setting a call meeting for Friday night, July 5.

A British source commented that despite yesterday's fruitful session at which the Italian-owned Dodecanese Islands in the Aegean Sea were awarded to Greece and the Tende and Briga regions on the French-Italian border to France—it seemed doubtful that the ministers could meet their self-imposed deadline for completion of work on the five treaties today. He expressed doubt also that the peace conference could be called for July 15 but said it might be convened later in the summer.

The delegates obviously were elated as they emerged from the long session yesterday, and one source said that Secret ray of State Byrnes exclaimed at one point: "I'll need a couple of minutes to catch my breath to recover from the shock."

Earl Browder Boed On Arrival In U. S.

New York, June 27.—(AP)—Earl Browder, deposed U. S. Communist Party chieftain, is home from a six-week visit to Russia.

Leaving La Guardia Airport late yesterday after his arrival by plane he was booed by some persons in a crowd which had gathered. Two women hissed and a man shouted: "Why didn't you stay in Moscow? We don't want you here."

He had no comment on British action in holding him incommunicado at an airport for two days as he awaited a plane.

Two thousand were named to be captains, 6,100 as first lieutenants and 1,100 as second lieutenants. In virtually every instance their new rank will be a reduction from their wartime commissions. Age was the determining factor with second lieutenants under 28, first lieutenants between 28 and 35, captains between 35 and 42 and majors between 42 and 48.

Rent Control ...

While rent officials predict that the bill in Congress would cause rents to go up, they shy away from any calculation on how much it might be.

"It would be stupid," said one OPA official who asked to remain anonymous, "for me to make a forecast on that, even if I could. It would only be an invitation for landlords to go after such an increase, or more."

As for what might happen if rent controls were to be eliminated, another official commented to a reporter privately: "I shudder to think about it."

Both OPA Administrator Paul Porter and Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles have predicted that rents inevitably would rise under either of the separate bills passed by the House and Senate. They have not revised their opinions in the light of the compromise measure.

State Elections Board To Meet

Raleigh, June 28.—(AP)—The state board of elections will meet here tomorrow to canvass and certify the vote in the June 22 run-off primaries.

Except for a few individual county races, the biggest task facing the board will be the canvassing of the fifth and sixth congressional district races, in which Rep. John Folger defeated hurman Chatham of Winston-Salem, and Rep. Carl Durham bested Judge E. Earl Rives of Greensboro.

Although there have been charges of alleged irregularities in the fifth district voting, Col. W. T. Joyner, elections board chairman, said no official charges had been received by the board.

Also to be considered are regulations governing absentee balloting by service personnel in the November general elections. Ballots to be used in absentee voting must be printed by August 1 to allow overseas voters time in which to receive and return their ballots.

The board plans to print 150,000 absentee ballots, although it ex-

Germans Arrested In Mass Demonstration

Hamburg, June 28.—(AP)—British authorities held an unannounced number of German civilians under arrest today following a mass demonstration staged by Hamburg residents yesterday to protest an order directing 30,000 persons to evacuate their homes to make room for the families of British military personnel.

The demonstration, in which approximately 4,000 persons participated, was a manifestation of resentment against the Allied occupation.

Seward H. Mott, executive director of the Urban Land Institute, an independent national organization with headquarters in Washington, made the assertion.

The catalog will be 37 percent larger than last year's book. But missing from it are such articles as radios, men's dress shirts, watches, sheets, refrigerators, sewing machines and many other hard to get items.

Possibly reflecting recognition of increased purchasing power, Sears will offer goods with price tags as high as $4,600. That's for a diamond ring.

But the company won't forget low-cost merchandise. A coat is offered at $49, and a man can get a wool suit for $24.50.
