NEW PROPOSAL APPROVED FOR TERMINAL PAY

Truman OK's Compromise Plan Calling For Bond And Cash Payments

Washington, July 9 (AP)—Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) said today President Truman has approved a compromise plan for payment in bonds and cash of $2,750,000,000 in terminal pay to an estimated 14,000,000 veterans who served in the ranks during the recent war.

The Colorado Senator said the Budget Bureau, which speaks for the President, had recommended that veterans receive cash for all payments of less than $50 and five year bonds in $25 denominations for all greater amounts.

"The plan is intended to avoid inflationary effects of making a huge cash payment at once," Johnson said. "I think Congress will approve it before it quits."

Johnson said the new plan for paying all enlisted personnel the same terminal leave payments received by commissioned officers would be presented at a session of the Senate Military Affairs Committee today. A payment bill already has passed the House.

The House approved, 379 to 0, an immediate cash payment to all enlisted and non-commissioned personnel similar to the officers terminal pay. This is at a rate of 2 1-2 days a month, less time off for passes and furloughs.

The Senate Military Committee, at Johnson's request, then asked the Budget Bureau for Mr. Truman's views. The Bureau previously had informed congressional committees that the cash payments were "not in accord with the program of the President."

Johnson said the new compromise was worked out by representatives of the War and Navy departments and the Budget Bureau. Under this plan, he said, all cash payments would be made to all service men and women who were released before January 1, 1945, and to survivors of veterans.

In all other cases where the amount due was over $50, Johnson said, the veteran would receive five-year bonds which would be non-negotiable and would draw 2 1-2 per cent interest a year.

"If a veteran had $62 coming, he would get $12 cash and two $25 bonds," Johnson said.

Red Army Silent On Whereabouts Of Four

Berlin, July 9 (AP)—The U. S. Army Provost Marshal's office announced today that it had thus far been unable to obtain from the Russians any information concerning the whereabouts of four Americans who disappeared into the Soviet occupation zone last week.

American officials earlier had expressed a belief they were "getting the run-around" from the Russians who were thought to have arrested the four for illegal entry into the Soviet zone.

Revival Of Slavery In Japan Uncovered

Tokyo, July 9 (AP)—Supreme headquarters investigators declared today they had uncovered evidence of a revival of slavery through contract labor in Japan.

A spokesman said women and girls in large numbers were being put under two or three year labor contracts by their parents, who receive their wages.

General MacArthur issued a directive last Oct. 4, which prohibited the practice. A Japanese ordinance followed suit on May 17.

The Rise Of Organized Labor In America Is Described As A Culmination Of Many Set-Backs From 1790 To The Rise Of AFL; It's Golden Age Ahead

Washington, July 9 (AP)—The history of organized labor in this country is one of slow and feeble beginnings, of many mistakes and setbacks, and of complaints when depressions struck.

But it has been a history of continued struggle upward to power.

See Senate As Voting Meat Free Of Control

Supporters Of Strong OPA All But Concede Opponents Have Enough Votes To Decontrol Meat; Test Vote Expected Tonight

Washington, July 9 (AP)—OPA's beleaguered supporters all but conceded today that the Senate will vote to keep meat free from any revived price controls.

Democratic leader Barkley (Ky.) drove toward a test sometime tonight on an amendment by Senator Wherry (R-Neb.) to exempt meat and poultry products from the compromise bill to reestablish the price agency.

The Kentucky senator called Wherry's amendment the key issue in a campaign to keep major foods off the lists of any new ceilings that may be fixed.

Barkley declined to predict the outcome of this scheduled first vote. But Senator Murdock (D-Utah) told a reporter significantly:

"It looks like the other side has the votes to decontrol meat."

Murdock said he expects several Democrats from the western cattle country to join with a large majority of the Republicans in support of the Wherry amendment.

At early Senate debate revolved chiefly around meat controls. Chicago reported another day of sharply higher marketings Monday with cattle and hog prices generally upward.

To a contention by Jack Kranis, president of the National Meat Industry council, that large packers were hiking last OPA beef ceilings by 12 cents a pound, spokesmen for (Continued on Page 5)

Union's Early History

Washington, July 9 (AP)—The history of organized labor in this country is one of slow and feeble beginnings, of many mistakes and setbacks, and of complaints when depressions struck.

But it has been a history of continued struggle upward to power.

Trade unions began to appear after the Revolutionary War. From the beginning their basic aims were better pay, better hours, a stronger hold on a job, and better working conditions.

Reformers and politically-ambitious jumped on the labor bandwagon from time to time. Unionism sprang up, got into politics, fell apart. All wanted better working conditions.

But some wandered far afield. In all its history Congress has passed very little legislation to restrict organized labor. But labor was restricted in other ways. For more than 100 years courts slapped unions down. Employers joined forces against labor.

The first union, perhaps, was the Philadelphia shoemakers in 1744.

FRANCE AGAIN IS MEDIATOR FOR BIG FOUR

With Deadlock Broken, Ministers Await Russian Policy On Germany

Paris, July 9 (AP)—The foreign ministers council, turning to the German question after finally breaking a four-day deadlock on the calling of a 21-nation peace conference, anxiously awaited today a promised "important declaration" of Russian policy toward the Reich.

The log-jam ended last night with the adoption of a French compromise providing that only a few suggested rules of procedure be sent out with invitations to the peace conference, scheduled to open July 29 in Luxembourg Palace.

This was considered a victory for the United States and Britain, which had opposed Russian demands that the invitations be accompanied by mandatory rules of procedure.

Under the compromise, France was authorized to send out invitations today to the nations which will draft peace treaties with Italy, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Finland.

The suggested rules of procedure will be drafted this morning by the deputy ministers and are slated to be ratified by the ministers this afternoon. The ministers then are scheduled to ratify their final agreements on Italian reparations, thus clearing the slate for discussion of the German question.

Speculation on the nature of the "important declaration" on Russia's policy toward Germany ran from one extreme to another. Some sources said Russia planned to offer to join Britain, France and the United States in establishing a central administrative organization within a federalized Germany. Others said the Russians would denounce Britain and the United States for conducting "secret negotiations behind the Soviet Union's back."

Tass, the official Russian news agency, has accused the two western allies of engaging in private conversations of Germany to which Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov "for some reason" was not invited.

Both Britain and the United States are known to favor a breakdown in the present rigid zonal boundaries of Germany and an end to the division of Germany into uneconomic, airtight compartments.

The two nations have maintained that this was pledged at Potsdam, when the powers agreed to unify Germany economically.

NEW SPLIT IN RANKS OF CIO

Communitistic Issue Gives President Murray New Headache

Washington, July 9 (AP)—A sharp split in the ranks of its Furniture Workers' Union gave the CIO a new headache today over the issue of Communism.

More than half the members of the CIO United Furniture Workers of America want to divorce themselves from what they term a Communist wing of their organization.

George Bucher, leader of the rebellious group which has adopted a divorce resolution, announced in Philadelphia his determination to take up the problem here today directly with CIO President Philip Murray.

In New York UFWA International President Morris Muster already has submitted his resignation because, he said, the union had become "Communitistic."

Bucher claims to represent 50 locals with a membership of 25,000 or more than half the union's 45,000 members. He and six other UFWA leaders were designated to lead the effort to form "a furniture workers organization independent of all totalitarian groups including the Communist part and its affiliates."

"We want to remain in the CIO and we'll take every appeal we can to that organization," Bucher told a reporter on an earlier visit here.

"However, as a last resort, if we are not allowed to throw off the yoke of Communism, we'll leave the CIO and form an independent organization—an organization of American furniture workers."

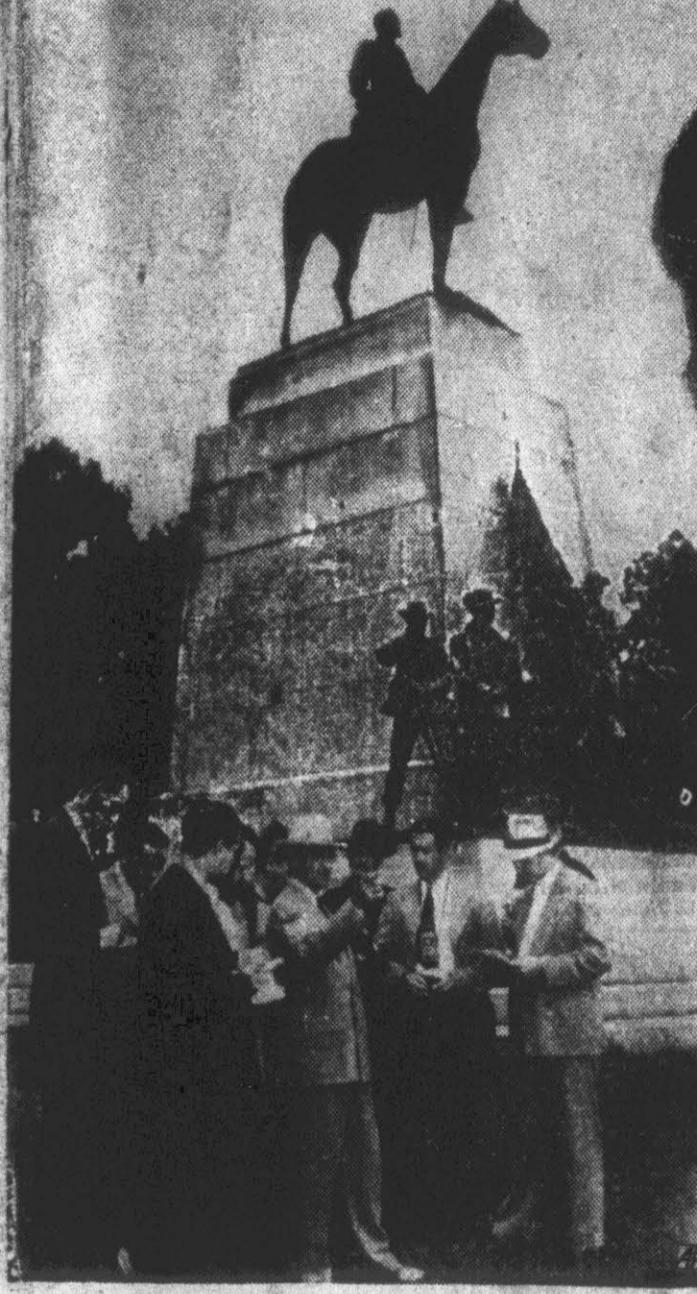

Murray himself raised the issue of Communism within the CIO by sponsoring a policy declaration adopted by the big CIO Steelworkers' Union at Atlantic City last May. It said the steelworkers would not allow Communists to dictate union affairs, although any member could "harbor such views as he chooses."

Elks Elect New Head At New York Meeting

New York, July 9 (AP)—Charles E. Broughton, editor and publisher of the Sheboygan, Wis. Press today was elected grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

Broughton, a member of the order for 43 years and chairman of the board of grand trustees before election to the new post, succeeded Wade H. Kepner of Wheeling, W. Va., as leader of 800,000 Elks affiliated with 7,500 lodges. The election was held at the order's first national convention since before World War II.

HUGHES' LUCK STILL HOLDS

Crash Victim "Holding His Own" Report Physicians

Los Angeles, July 9 (AP)—Howard Hughes' fabulous luck held good today.

Fighting the effect of critical injuries suffered in the crash and explosion of his experimental Army plane Sunday night, the millionaire aircraft and movie maker was reported by physicians at Good Samaritan Hospital today to be "holding his own."

The degree of shock and the extent of injury to Hughes left lung, severely battered when his chest was crushed in the crash, were the physicians' main concern.

Close watch was kept during the night by attendants, and a guard, posted after Hughes held a business conference in his hospital room yesterday against doctors' orders, remained on duty. The guards' instructions, issued by physicians, were to let no one into the room but doctors and nurses.

The 41-year-old producer of "Hell's Angels" and "The Outlaw" crashed his XF-11, photo-reconnaissance plane reportedly the fastest long-range craft yet built, into three houses and a garage in Beverly Hills, he smashed his way out of the plastic-covered cockpit in time to escape death in the flames which destroyed the craft, and remained conscious long enough to announce himself at the hospital.

The plane landed less than 100 feet from a car bearing the daughter and the mother of Agnes Liana Turner, with whom Hughes has been seen frequently. Miss Turner was not in the car, driven by her former husband, Steve Crane.

GOV'T LIFTS VEIL ON PLAN

Housing Agency To Underwrite Needed Production

Washington, July 9 (AP)—The National Housing Agency today unveiled its guaranteed market plan—a program designed to step up veterans housing construction through increased production of new type building materials and prefabricated homes.

Authorized by Congress in the Veterans Emergency Housing Act, the plan provides for the government to underwrite producers against loss in marketing their products.

It is the second part of a program to build 2,700,000 new dwellings by 1948. The first step allows premium payments on materials production under a $400,000,000 subsidies fund.

A double victory would restore some of the prestige Stassen lost in his vain attempt to persuade Nebraska Republicans they should run Governor Dwight Griswold for the Senate instead of Hugh Butler. The incumbent Butler was another whose international view the youthful ex-governor of Minnesota considered too narrow.

Shipstead, if defeated, would be the year's fourth loser among Senators running for reelection. Charles C. Gossett (D-Idaho) and George L. Radcliffe (D-Md.) were beaten in primaries. Raymond E. Willis (R-Ind.) withdrew his candidacy when confronted by powerful opposition at his party's state nominating convention.

BOSTON, July 9 (AP)—The American League team won the all-star baseball game here today, defeating the National League, 12 to 0. Ted Williams hit two home runs and Charlie Keller one for the Americans. The Nationals could get but three hits from the combined offerings of Bob Feller, Hal Newhouser and Jack Kramer, who worked on the mound for the Americans. It was the ninth victory in 13 all-star games for the American League.

ROCKET TESTS OUTGROW OLD PROVING SITE

Scientists Now Looking For Place To Test Long Range Missiles

Washington, July 9 (AP)—If you think things are crowded in your neighborhood, pity the army ordnance people.

Rocket scientists have outgrown the white sands proving ground in New Mexico, where they are testing guided missiles with a potential range of 200 miles, and are now searching the United States, the Caribbean and Pacific areas for a 2,000 mile test ground.

The army ordnance department, announcing today that such a search is being made by a joint army-navy commission, indicated their next need will be a private planet of their own, about the size of the earth.

That was when they said that long-range planning forecasts indicated a range of guided missiles to 20,000 miles—weapons capable of reaching the globe.

These scientists told a reporter that their great rocket will cruise the earth in about an hour and a half, at a 200-mile altitude.

It was explained that the go-rocket likely will be a series of rockets discharged in succession in the air. Thus the one that gets back to home plate would be the great-great-grandson of the one that took off.

Could a rocket carry a passenger? "Yes, in time," came the unhesitant reply, "when rockets are modified with pressure chambers so that men can stand the high altitudes, changes in altitude and the terrific speed."

Meanwhile, could the rockets of the present or near future carry atomic bombs? Indications are: Yes. And indications are that the Germans were thinking along the same line.

It was explained that the Germans built a 14-ton V-2 rocket which has 13 tons of instruments and fuel. That leaves but one ton in the warhead for the "business."

Contract Renegotiators Testify They Refused To Condone The Entertainment Charges And Other "Expenses" For Munitions Firm; May Protest "Gestapo Tactics"

Washington, July 9 (AP)—Army contract negotiators testified today they trimmed the war profits of an Illinois munitions maker in 1943 from 26.4 to 9.3 per cent partly by refusing to okay big Washington entertainment bills, boosted rent fees and claims for abandoned machinery.

George H. Knutson, member of the War Department Price Adjustment Board, told the Senate War Investigating Committee, that the adjusted profits, before taxes, for the Erie Basin Metal Products Co. were cut from $1,776,000 to $209,000 on that year's renegotiated business.

The army renegotiators were called as witnesses as the committee delayed this afternoon an appearance by Secretary of War Patterson.

The members plan to seek an explanation from Patterson on how and why the Illinois combine won more than 78 million dollars in war contract. They also want to know why one of its plants got the Army Navy "E" award over objections of the Chicago ordnance office.

Knutson said that renegotiators found, in examining the contracts of five of the corporations alone among them Erie Basin, a total of $3,520,000 in "excessive profits" on renegotiable business amounting to approximately $24,000,000.

In dealing with Erie Basin alone, Knutson said that the government had called for a refund of $1,279,000 of "excessive" profits on contracts for the fiscal year 1943.

He reported that this would have left the company with adjusted profits of $506,000.

In reaching the figure, Knutson and his aides said they had eliminated $10,000 from the company's claim for $22,000 for expenses in Washington which former army Captain Carl L. Moline described as "entertainment and propaganda."

Eliminated, too, was an item for $118,000 for machinery listed as abandoned. Knutson said that the machinery was still in existence and did not constitute an allowable cost.

The amount of rent which Erie Basin was paying an affiliated company for the use of a factory was cut by $110,000. The renegotiators testified that the amount had been nearly doubled after the original agreement between the two companies was reached.

Engineer Saves Self From Conveyor Belts

Malden, Mass., July 9 (AP)—Trapped in conveyor belt rollers which were crushing his legs, a 46-year-old engineer saved himself today by throwing tin cans until he hit an electric switch which shut off the power.

George Ross of Saugus aimed for his life 30 times before he scored the hit which stopped the rollers.

Dragged into the machine above the knees, at the Potter Drug and Chemical Company, Ross twisted a jackknife out of his pocket and cut through his heavy four-foot belt.

When that failed to stop the machinery, he grabbed cans pulled from the belt and hurled them at a wall switch six feet away until he hit it.

Hospital attaches said the man had a good chance of recovering without amputation.

Britain's Hidden Feud

Conservative House Of Lords Called A Thorn In Side Of Socialistic Commons; Lower House May Eventually Strip Lords Of Few Remaining Prerogatives

This is a perilous time for the scarlet-and-ermine robed members of England's House of Lords and it therefore is important to note that its predominantly conservative legislators have just sidestepped a fresh and dangerous crisis in their feud with the new socialist government which is in the midst of a far-reaching program of nationalization.

Socialist leaders have been threatening to curb or eliminate altogether the few remaining prerogatives left to the noble lords if the latter interfere with socialist plan. Recently along came a red-hot issue which British newspapers have been saying would provide a test whether private institutions can survive under the leftist regime.

This issue involved the action of the House of Commons in excluding the non-profit insurance groups from the government's new social insurance system. These include the "friendly societies," having 8,000 members. The lords yesterday had before them the question of whether they dared challenge Commons by reversing this measure—and if they did make such a move it was certain there would be fireworks.

Now of course it wouldn't matter a tinker's dam in the long run whether the lords did this or not, because Commons can override anything the lords do. However, the lords can delay legislation up to two years by obstructive tactics, and the socialist government—with only four years of life left before a new general election—can't afford to waste that much time.

It was a dangerous moment for the House of Lords—and they decided that discretion was the better part of valor. They voted to let the Commons measure stand.

Should the feud finally come to a showdown in which the government actually would decide to strip the lords of remaining powers, the thing presumably would be achieved this way: The socialist majority in Commons would pass a government measure emasculating the upper house. The Prime Minister then would serve notice on lords that they dared challenge Commons by

Achieves Record

Lieutenant Ben Harris, the little man with the big cigar, is one of the best organizers and leaders attached to the Station Athletic Department. While most of the officers handle one sport, Mr. Harris finds time to handle half a dozen. Currently he is directing the badminton, softball and tennis teams.

Reporting to Alameda in January, 1946, after a distinguished war service record that included two and a half years overseas, he was named aviation physical and military training officer.

Prior to his commission by the navy he was director of physical education at Glendale High School, Kenly, North Carolina. Joining the Navy at Norfolk, Virginia, he was commissioned an Ensign May 3, 1942. After attending Communication school Mr. Harris was ordered to lighter-than-air at Lakehurst, New Jersey.

Shipping overseas in January, 1943, he helped to establish the first airship squadron outside of the United States in Trinidad

Returning to the States he was stationed at Hitchcock, Texas. While there he played right field for pennant winning hardball club, battling a cool 356.

Back overseas in November, 1944, he served as administrative officer at blimp headquarters, Santa Cruz, Brazil. Mr. Harris met Chief Charley Peters, present Helicat coach, in Brazil and played on a rival baseball team. Peters reports that Harris was one man he could never strike out.

Lieutenant Harris has elected to stay in the navy until July 1, 1947, and his secret ambition is to get back into LTA and fly in new ships now being built by the navy. A real sports lover, he has found the time to participate in some form of recreation during his entire career.

GREENVILLE, N. C.

Goldsboro Takes Greenies Again

After a fast two-run start in the first inning, the Greenville base-batters were held scoreless until the sixth game when they scored once again; while the Goldsboro nine batted twice in the third, once in the fourth, and twice again in the sixth. The final score read Goldsboro 5, Greenville 3.

Greenville's runs were made by Parise, Carlson and Ranweiler; who were knocked in by rightfielder Wall and pitcher Tommy Lee. Goldsboro sewed up its win by coming through in the sixth with two runs. With one out, Collins and Markell opened with singles; Navarattil's grounder to first was mishandled sending Collins across the plate; Markell was chased down between third and home while trying to score on the play. Navarattil was scored when Salyer doubled for his fourth hit of the game.

Fayetteville meets Greenville here tonight in the Guy Smith Stadium for a double header. First game starts at 6:45.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

THE SPIRIT OF ADOPTION

For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again unto fear, but ye have received the Spirit of adoption; whereby we cry, Abba, Father.

There is one of the great verses of the Bible. There is a precious spiritual truth described in the word "adoption." It means that we belong to the spacious household of God. When people believe that, the bondage of fear departs; the Spirit of adoption comes in to possess them.

No group of people ever had more in life to drive them to abject terror than had the early Christians to whom St. Paul wrote these words about the bondage of fear. They were rejected by their generation, scourged, despoiled of their goods, persecuted, dragged before magistrates; many of them were killed in a variety of cruel fashions. Yet in the midst of such circumstances they displayed a calm courage which astounded their persecutors and resulted, after each season of suffering, in a great increase in the number of avowed Christians. People so admired the way these Christian disciples took the tragic vicissitudes of life that many of the people who led the movement against them changed sides after the persecution ceased and became Christians.

These Christians were without fear because they were convinced that they belonged to God. You can't frighten a man who is a real Christian, and you can't frighten him because he is a Christian.

MARKETING QUOTAS

Prior to the marketing quota system, when farmers planted according to their own inclination and without regard to the requirements of demand, the economic level of the tobacco farmer was near the bottom. His standard of living was low, his family had no luxuries and were deprived of many of the necessities of life; his farm buildings, in many instances were dilapidated because he was without the money necessary to keep them in repair. Only in rare instances did the children of tobacco farmers have the advantage of an education in institutions of higher learning.

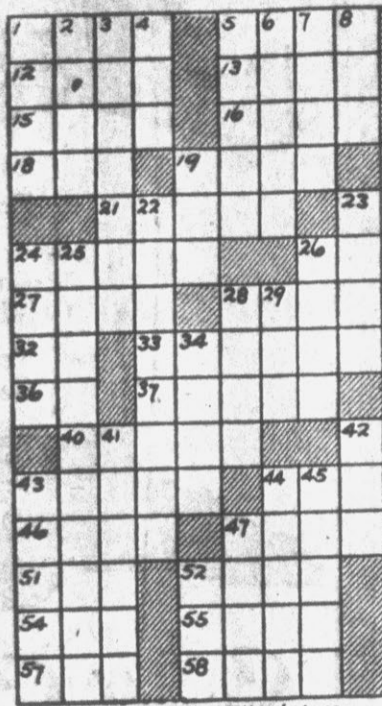

During the period of marketing quotas, the farmer's status has shown marked improvement. Many farm mortgages have been paid. Buildings have been repaired and painted, economical farm machinery acquired; land values have increased, and the standard of living of the farm family has been immeasurably raised. The tobacco farmer has been able to raise his family to a decent place in the life of the nation.

The July 12th referendum is probably one of the most important ever held in North Carolina. Our state's dependence upon this one crop is such that the ultimate collapse of tobacco prices would also seriously hurt the majority of business as well as the farmers in North Carolina.

It is vitally important to all that every tobacco farmer, whether he be landlord,

Unions

Party, the "first purely labor party in the world." It lasted until 1872. As the country grew, unions grew. Among other things they fought for free public schools and an end to imprisonment for debt. But the panic of 1837 smashed unions as unemployment spread.

Unions got going again in the 1850's in the spirit of prosperity which followed the discovery of gold in California. Then—the depression of 1857. More unions folded.

With the Civil War came the need for production. Unions fattened again.

During this period labor leaders saw the need for a national federation and called a convention in Baltimore in 1866. Out of this came the National Labor Union which lasted until 1872. It went in for politics and reform and set up the National Labor Reform Party in 1872.

The party ran a candidate for President. He received 30,000 votes. The party disappeared. Then came the depression of 1873.

But another organization, one of the most famous in history was taking form. This was the Noble Order of the Knights of Labor. It started out in 1869 as a secret organization of tailors who wanted it unknown to their bosses.

Soon it spread, becoming a national organization. It dropped its secrecy in 1878. It was a union for all workers, skilled and unskilled, manual, clerical, professional and the small business man.

The Knights wanted a normal 8-hour day, an end to child labor, equal pay for men and women. By 1886 the Knights had over 700,000 members. They dropped to little more than 70,000 in 1893. Why?

The Knights had set out to organize all workers, but didn't have enough organizers. They led some successful strikes and were mixed up in some that lost. They looked for more than trade union benefits. They looked for other things, too like reorganization of the banking system.

Also, the Knights were in conflict with craft unions—unions of skilled workers—since the Knights wanted to absorb all kinds of workers.

And—the American Federation of Labor, organized in 1886, was growing in power. Unlike the Knights the AFL put the emphasis on craft unions, turned away from forming political party, and thought in terms of benefits for workers, not general reforms.

The Knights served a purpose. They bridged the gap between unions which were floundering after the Civil War and the AFL which picked up the ball and carried it half a century. It's still going strong.

Army Witnesses

Knutson said that Eric Basin has protested the renegotiation order for the $1,270,000 refund, and that the matter awaits a court determination.

The hearing veered to renegotiation figures after a day in which:

1. The committee heard testimony that Rep. May (D-Ky) promised a timber deal in 1943 after saying he was "in touch with the proper people" to get war contracts and that he and an associate would both draw big salaries.

2. May took the floor of the House to deny again that he had profited in any way from the timber deal or the operations of the munitions combine. Denying what he called "Gestapo tactics," the chairman of the House Military Committee told his colleagues that "truth crushed to earth, will rise again."

3. The possibility arose that a constitutional provision might bar the Senate committee from questioning May, whose earlier unofficial appearance before the group was described by Chairman Mead (N.Y.) as "wholly inadequate."

ROUGH PLAY

Phoenix, Ariz., July 9 — (AP) Maricopa County Superior Court Judge Dudley W. Windes asked man seeking divorce from his wife on the grounds of physical cruelty for details.

The divorce was granted.

N. Y. Stock Market
New York, July 9—(AP)—Buyers returned to a "thin" stock market today and, converging on steels and motors, lifted selected issues fractions to around 3 points although volume remained at a relatively low level.
Slight irregularity prevailed until after midday when quotations began to stiffen. Even some of the recently soft rails did better. Activity quickened a trifle on the comeback but the ticker tape frequently shaded. While extreme gains were looked in most cases near the close, plus signs predominated. Transfers of around 800,000 shares were the best in a week.

they had simply added the amount of the government subsidies, which had averaged about five cents a pound.
Wherry's amendment provides: "No maximum price and no regulation or order under this act or the stabilization act of 1942, as amended, shall be applicable with respect to livestock, poultry or eggs or food or feed products processed or manufactured in whole or substantial part from livestock, poultry or eggs."
Wherry said he feels confident the Senate will approve the proposal because it is tired of black markets and thinks there ought to be a test in which some commodity is left free to seek its competitive price level on the market.

Camp Hardee Is Popular Resort

By CHESTER WALSH

Forty-six girls from several states and a score of counties and cities are enjoying a summer vacation at Camp Hardee, Greenville Girl Scout camp on Pamlico River, below Chocowinity. Forty-six girls concluded a two-weeks period at the camp on the morning of June 28. During the afternoon another 46 girls went in for a two-weeks period. Camp Hardee is signed up for the entire summer. It has become one of the standard regulation summer camps for girls. It is popular because of its ideal location, its splendid equipment and safe waterfront and the high type personnel employed by the Greenville Girl Scout Council to direct and to carry on the camp activities.

Camp Hardee was established six years ago. The Greenville Girl Scout Council owned the land on a high bluff overlooking the river and easily accessible from the Chocowinity road. Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Hardee of Norfolk, Va., donated $10,000 for construction of buildings. This year the Greenville Rotarians held two meetings at the camp and went to work clearing the woods and helping to put the buildings in order. In time for the opening of the camp, Mrs. Katherine Adams is director of the camp. The most nourishing food is provided; arts and crafts, woods and waterfront activities, etc., are taught. The services of a physician and trained nurse are always available. Sanitary conditions and drinking water at the camp are approved by the Board of Health. Every facility is provided for the safety and happiness of the girls who attend the camp. Mrs. W. P. Moore is commissioner of Greenville Girl Scout Council.

Playground Fair To Be Wednesday Event

After having been postponed twice last week due to the rains, the Fair for the youngsters will be held at Cotanche Playground Wednesday afternoon at four. All the things that go to make up the excitement of a fair will be there. Games of skill with prizes for the winners, bingo games, pony and donkey rides, peanuts and drinks and many other exciting events. The fair is free and all the young people are invited.

C. P. Earhart Back In City For Visit

C. P. Earhart, who was manager of J. C. Penney Company's Greenville store when it opened and remained here 17 years, is in the city visiting friends. Mrs. Earhart and son, Bobby, and A. M. Earhart, Mr. Earhart's father, are with him. Mr. Earhart left Greenville at the beginning of the war and went to Fairburg, Nebraska, to live. While in Greenville he and Mrs. Earhart took an active interest in community affairs. Their son, Bobby, was one of the best carrier boys the Reflector had.

Gov't Lifts ...

(Continued from Page One) Declaring that a new enterprise normally "proceeds slowly," Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt asserted that "the need for homes for veterans is so urgent that the production of new materials and new types of construction cannot wait."

Milk Price ...

(Continued from Page One) three cents per quart on sweet milk. "I am hopeful," Webb continued "that as the dairy feed situation and milk production improves, a readjustment of these prices may be made."

Rocket Tests ...

something "super" in his mind. Out at the white sands proving ground ordnance experts working with German scientists are taking up where the Nazis left off in developing that murderous weapon of World War II.

Tent Meetings Draw Crowds Each Night

Salvation Army evangelistic services in a tent at White and West Fourth streets, continue to draw large congregations. Maj. William H. Stanley, who is doing the preaching, said. Services are held each night at 8 o'clock. A young people's service precedes the meeting. Congregational singing is a feature of the meeting.

A special meeting will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in charge of a group of Salvation Army Youth Crusaders who are touring the state. Capt. Harlan Cleveland, young people's secretary, will have charge of the service tonight. The public is invited.

New Proposal ...

(Continued from Page One) partisan interest in issues which the council may be called upon to consider in the near future, and it seemed possible that this fact might provide differences over the question of their admissibility. The applications must be considered by a special subcommittee of the council before they are presented to the general assembly meeting scheduled to open here Sept. 3. It is possible that additional applications may be received before the July 15 deadline on petitions to be presented to the forthcoming assembly session.

In addition to Transjordan, nations thus far seeking membership are Albania, Siam, the Mongolian People's republic (Outer Mongolia) and Afghanistan. One conflict looms between Russia and the western powers over Albania, which has the nominal sponsorship of Yugoslavia and the behind-the-scenes support of the Soviet Union.

Britain has taken the lead in opposing Albania, refusing to recognize the regime of Premier Enver Hoxha, which is intimately tied up with the Yugoslav organization of Marshal Tito in the Russian sphere of influence. France is expected to oppose the application of the Bankok government—at least until border difficulties between Indochina and Siam are settled.

The Siamese government has protested to the U. N. against the French "aggression" from Indochina and announced its intention of submitting the frontier dispute to the Security Council under a provision that a non-member may seek arbitration if it agrees in advance to abide by the council's decision. The United States, Britain, China and India have declared they would support a full hearing of the border dispute and sponsor the membership application of Siam.

VFW Membership Drive Nears End

Each evening during this week the membership committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 7032 will be on hand at their carnival booth to sign up any overseas veteran desiring to join. Special emphasis is being placed on the fact that the charter closes July 25, and all veterans joining on or before this date will be charter members; names of which will appear on the charter.

The VFW post was organized April 25 of this year, and was named the Charles Gray Morgan Post after the first Pitt Countyman killed in action in World War II. The post has a membership of two hundred overseas veterans, and the membership committee hopes to double this number during this week, or before the charter closes.

The fund raising committee is holding an auction sale Friday night at 9 o'clock at the carnival, proceeds of which will go towards building a Veterans of Foreign Wars home. Items to be auctioned are washing machines, a Philco radio with turn table, linoleum rug, white shirts, nylon hose, smoked hams, bacon, lard, butter, white sheets and many other "hard-to-get" items. "Bill" Sermons, local auctioneer, will be on hand to auction off these items.

Arm Caught On Auto, Victim Badly Mauled

Sylva, N. C., July 9.—(AP)—With his arm accidentally caught in the bumper of an automobile, Zell Stilwell, 51, last night was dragged for a mile over a Jackson county road before being rescued.

In the C. J. Harris Community Hospital he was suffering from serious injuries. J. M. Reagan, driver of the car was reported held for investigation.

STADIUM EVENT POSTPONED

It has been decided that the doubleheader and field day that was to be held at the stadium for the boys of the Boys League will not be held Wednesday as planned but will take place later on in the summer. This was decided after it was found that so many of the boys were working in green tobacco. It was felt that a large number of these boys wanted to take part.

Stilwell was dragged over a half mile of graveled highway and another half mile over a paved road. His legs were badly lacerated and much of the flesh was ground from his legs, arms and shoulders.

UNBELIEVABLE RESULTS

"The results I recently got with a bottle of HAPPY JACK would be unbelievable to those who didn't see for themselves. This dog was the worst looking sight I ever saw. He had suffered with mange for months. His hide looked more like an alligator's with hardly a hair on him. Exactly three treatments of HAPPY JACK cleared up his condition completely. Within thirty days he had a new coat of hair, showed his former pep and had regained his lost weight."
