May Invited To Appear Before Profit Probers

Does Not Indicate How Or When He Will Reply; Second Step Would Be A Subpoena Should Congressman Refuse To Testify

Washington, July 12.—(AP)—The Senate War Investigating Committee today formally invited Rep. May (D-Ky.) to testify publicly in its munitions inquiry.

May declined to say whether he would comply. "The committee made public a letter which said that May's secret testimony June 4 'did not furnish the full, complete and accurate facts' as to May's activities in connection with a chain of munitions makers."

Chairman Mead (D-NY) read the letter of invitation to the committee resumed its inquiry into the affairs of the combine promoted by Henry Garsson, one time internal revenue agent.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) termed the letter to the chairman of the House Military Committee "only the first step" toward getting May's testimony on the record.

U.S. SECURITY CALLED STAKE

Oak Ridge Guardians Block Atom Control Measures

Washington, July 12.—(AP)—A report that Oak Ridge security officers think the peace and security of the United States is definitely in danger threw a roadblock against the administration's atomic control legislation today.

House Republicans showed a disposition to sidetrack all such bills until world conditions become more settled.

Rep. Elston (R-Ohio) put it this way: "Before we talk about entering into international agreements concerning atomic energy, we should reach other agreements concerning the future of world peace."

He was commenting on a report read to the House yesterday by Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ), ranking minority member of the committee on un-American activities.

The report, by Ernie Adamson chief investigator for the committee, said he and Chairman Wood (D-Ga.) had been investigating subversive activities at the Oak Ridge Tenn. atomic project and had discovered:

- 1. Members of scientific societies there are very active in support of international civilian control of atomic materials and are devoted to the creation of some form of world government.
2. Some officers of the scientific communication with persons outside of the United States.
3. The security officers at Oak Ridge think that the peace and security of the U. S. is definitely in danger.
Walter C. Beard, Jr., and John P. Bull of the Oak Ridge engineers and scientists said in a statement last night their organization has at all times remained within the security bounds defined by the Manhattan district security officer.
"We never have been accused of violating project security," they asserted.

HEAVY FINES GIVEN BIG-3

Tobacco Firms To Be Given Sentences In Three Weeks

Lexington, Ky., July 12.—(AP)—Federal court attaches here estimated fines and costs approximating $875,000 will be levied against 41 defendants as the result of the recent supreme court decision sustaining anti-trust convictions against the three major tobacco manufacturers of this country.

Federal Judge H. Church Ford said he would summon the defendants before him for sentencing within three weeks. He said mandating notifying the Eastern Kentucky district court that its decision had been affirmed by the high tribunal have been received.

Pleas under which they agreed to abide by the decisions involving the three companies which were convicted and now stand subject to corresponding penalties were entered by 38 defendants—five major companies, 21 of their subsidiaries and 12 of their executives.

Fines and costs assessed against the American Tobacco Company, R. J. Reynolds Company and Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company, which fought the suit through the supreme court, totaled more than $225,000.

Other defendants subject to corresponding penalties include: The P. Lorillard Company, George H. Hummel, George D. Whitefield, Edgar S. Bowling, Herbert A. Kent and Harry A. Stout. The Imperial Tobacco Company of Great Britain and Ireland, Ltd., The Imperial Tobacco Company of Kentucky, Inc., and Leslie H. Reed. The British-American Tobacco Company, Ltd., Export Leaf Tobacco Company, Pocohontas Corporation and Robert C. Hatcher.

Giant Airliners Are Grounded In Inquiry

Washington, July 12.—(AP)—Orders from the Civil Aeronautics Administration, United States Airlines withdrew Lockheed Constellation airliners from service today pending an inquiry by the CAA and the Lockheed Aircraft Co. into a fatal crash of one of the giant craft at Reading, Pa.

The British Overseas Airways Corp., at CAA's request, also cancelled all Constellation flights on its transatlantic routes. BOAC action presumably meant suspension of its Atlantic service since it has no other planes for the London-New York route.

Auto Industry Expects To Fill Demand By '48

Detroit, July 12.—(AP)—Orders on hand for new passenger automobiles now total something in excess of 5,500,000 units, according to authoritative estimates.

If the car industry follows the anticipated pattern, the productive division should catch up with accumulating demand by the end of 1947 or early 1948. Trade experts plotting production trends forecast that assembly plants will turn out about 2,000,000 passenger cars between now and next Dec. 31, and add about 4,000,000 more in 1947.

These figures represent the more realistic thinking of the industry's conservative executives. None of these leaders ever placed much faith in reports that the war had piled up a backlog of demand for more than 12,500,000 vehicles. The latter figure, these executives say, more truly represents probable demand over five to six years, taking into account annual normal replacement requirements.

Sales managers say that price will be more of a factor than ever before in determining the volume of demand. Demand for cars from buyers to whom costs are second probably will be filled by early 1947. Most of the remainder of the estimated 5,500,000 buyers will require only a little urging to overcome their price objections.

Senators Begin Drive To Ban Grain Price Ceilings

Veto Threat Dooms Evatt Atom Agency

Gromyko Refuses To Surrender Vetoing Powers; Australian Leads Move To Amend Charter Of United Nations

New York, July 12.—(AP)—Australia's proposal for an autonomous world atomic control agency which would maintain only one ultimate link with the United Nations Security Council apparently was doomed today under the threat of Russian veto when and if it reaches the council.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko's refusal to surrender the veto on atomic matters were made known as Australian Foreign Minister H. V. Evatt prepared to lay his program before the 12-nation U.N. atomic working committee at 3 p.m. EDT.

Evatt's report, winding up the first phase of atomic discussions, covers the five meetings of a special six-nation atomic sub-committee. After the sub-committee's final meeting an authoritative source said Gromyko had insisted in secret session that Russia would brand only for atomic control under security council administration without alteration of the veto rights of the Big Five permanent members.

Bailey Returning

Washington, July 12.—(AP)—Senator Bailey, North Carolina Democrat, who suffered an abdominal attack at the Capitol several months ago, is expected to go to his Raleigh home before the end of the month.

His condition is "satisfactory and just about the same" as it has been since he left Doctors Hospital after a stay of several weeks, Miss Elaine Foster, secretary of the Senate Commerce committee which Bailey heads, reported.

TOBACCONISTS VOTING TODAY

Fate Of Marketing Quota System To Be Decided

Atlanta, July 12.—(AP)—Flue-cured tobacco farmers in six southern states—Florida, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia—voted today to determine whether federal marketing quotas will be continued.

Balloting was on the question of retaining quotas for the 1947, 1948 and 1949 crops or the 1947 crop alone or whether the growers are opposed to continued controls.

The agricultural adjustment act of 1938 directed that the secretary of agriculture proclaim quotas or the 1947 flue-cured tobacco crop and provide for a referendum to determine whether growers want the quotas retained.

Approval by at least two-thirds of the growers voting will keep the marketing quota system in effect. In the last referendum in 1943, a majority of 87 per cent of the farmers voting favored controls.

Under the 1938 adjustment act each grower is given an allotment and marketing quota. Tobacco sold in excess of these quotas is subject to penalty and taxes.

Growers voted today in the wake of an announcement by the Agriculture Department in Washington that the 1946 tobacco crop will yield 2,126,000,000 pounds—passing the two-billion pound mark for the first time.

The department said the flue-cured crop is expected to reach a new peak of 1,774,000,000 pounds compared with the 1945 harvest of 1,774,000,000 pounds. Burley production was estimated at 543,000,000 pounds, a drop of about six per cent from last year.

GOP Objective Is To Compel House To Vote Specifically For Decontrols Already Ordered By Senate; The Administration Leaders Fearing Second Presidential Veto

Washington, July 12.—(AP)—New England senators launched an effort to keep price ceilings off feed grains in any renewal of OPA authority.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) said he and others had drafted an amendment to pending OPA revival legislation which would ban controls over wheat and other grains when used for livestock and poultry feeds. It would retain ceilings on flour and cereals.

The Senate rejected 40 to 32 Wednesday a move by Senator Reed (R-Kan.) to exempt from controls grains and products manufactured from them.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb) indicated that he will offer an amendment which would guarantee wholesalers, retailers and distributors the same markups and discounts they enjoyed in 1940.

With these and other amendments lined up, the Senate disposed of other pending business temporarily delaying action on a bill to restore curtailed OPA authority for a year.

A drive also was on to elicit the exemptions previously voted for meat, milk and sundry other items. Republicans got behind the new campaign after barely failing to rip from the measure provisions which Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said could prevent manufacturers from getting needed price increases.

The GOP objective was to compel the House to vote specifically on the various decontrols already ordered by the Senate. Administration leaders were worried over the outcome. They conceded that if the House might go along and that President Truman again might feel compelled to toss out a veto.

This is the strategy, as outlined by Taft to a reporter: "Once the House passes the measure to bring OPA back to life in summer form, the bill will have to go to a conference committee so differences with the House can be straightened out."

Heiren Linked In Unsolved Murder

Chicago, July 12.—(AP)—State's Attorney William J. Tuohy said today William Heiren's fingerprints matched those found in a room where a former Wave was slain last December, as well as those on the Suzanne Degnan kidnapping ransom note.

The prosecutor's announcement was made shortly after the 17-year-old University of Chicago student was indicted by a Cook County grand jury on 29 counts of burglary, robbery and assault to kill.

The former Wave was Miss Frances Brown, 33, who was shot and stabbed to death in her North Side apartment, Dec. 11. Suzanne Degnan, 6, was kidnapped and slain Jan. 7.

Tuohy said Heiren's fingerprints showed 13 points of comparison with those found on the jamb of Miss Brown's bathroom door.

The comparison, Tuohy said, was made by Sgt. Thomas Laffey of the Police Bureau of Identification who, the prosecutor added, discovered nine points of comparison between Heiren's prints and those on the note demanding $30,000 ransom which was left in Suzanne Degnan's bedroom.

Germanys must be threefold: (1) To make absolutely certain that never again will she be able to wage a war of aggression; (2) to reeducate her in the ideals of peace and real democracy; (3) to rehabilitate her so that she may take her proper place in the politico-economic life of Europe.

Total dismemberment of the Reich, with the consequent destruction of all industrial and other economic relationship, would hardly seem to fit into that picture. Of course there is a school which would destroy Germany, and it's easy to understand that feeling, for one has sinners as few nations ever have sinned. Moreover, she must be punished in a manner befitting her crimes.

Still, even if the allies look at the matter solely from the viewpoint of self-interest they can't escape the fact that the old Germany was the keystone of the continental European arch—faulty, but still the keystone. It is given to doubt whether that keystone can be destroyed.

HUGHES TELLS CRASH CAUSE

Taking Turn For Worse, Gives Message For Army

Los Angeles, July 12.—(AP)—His battle for life suddenly weakening, Howard Hughes, 41, beckoned his doctor to his bedside last night and whispered a halting story of the cause of his fiery crash Sunday in an experimental plane.

"I want you to give this message to the Army. The accident was caused by the rear half of the right propeller," the multimillionaire maker of planes and movies told Dr. Verne R. Mason.

"I don't want this to happen to anybody else."

Explaining carefully that the rear set of propeller blades on the right engine of his twin-engine plane had suddenly reversed pitch during the first test hop, Hughes said:

"It felt as if some giant had the right wing of the airplane in his hand and was pushing it back and down.

"Tell the Army to look in the wreckage, find the rear half of the right propeller, and find out what went wrong."

Hughes gave his message to Dr. Mason after asking, "Am I going to live?" and hearing the physician solemnly reply: "I don't know."

In a bulletin on Hughes' condition, issued when he disclosed the airman's first words on the cause of the crash, the doctor said:

"Howard Hughes has suffered a turn for the worse in his fight for life. His left lung has failed to respond and is still functionless. He is surviving through the restricted use of his right lung, to the extent permitted by his crushed chest, which includes nine broken ribs."

Hughes' XP-11 photo-reconnaissance craft, reportedly the world's fastest long-range plane, struck and set afire three houses and a garage in Beverly Hills before crashing and exploding in a vacant lot.

Russia Receives Big Reparations

Byrnes Says Fourteen Billions Already Taken From Germany By Russians, Molotov Demanded $10 Billions; No Decision Reached On Economic Unification Of Germany

Paris, July 12.—(AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes said in a statement on German reparations today that the Russians already have received directly or indirectly $14,000,000,000 in territory and equipment.

The Russians through Foreign Minister Molotov demanded $10,000,000,000 reparations of Germany earlier this week.

Byrnes acknowledged that an accurate valuation was difficult, but he said the detachment of Eastern Germany, including Silesia, as decided at the Potsdam conference placed $14,000,000,000 worth of German property under Soviet control.

Under another agreement, this area was placed under Polish administration in compensation for portions of Eastern Poland which Soviet Russia absorbed, the secretary pointed out.

The council of foreign ministers heard a proposal by Byrnes for economic unification of Germany but no decision was reached. France demanded that the Saar be excluded from the unification and integrated into French economy, and Russia asked more time to study the Saar, an American informant said.

Secretary of State Byrnes proposed that the Berlin Control Council of the United States, Russia, France and the United Kingdom be instructed immediately to set up the machinery for such a merger. The proposal was tabled, perhaps for further discussion at the afternoon session.

The American informant said Byrnes made his new proposal after President Truman's Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France said in a circular statement that the Saar should be excluded from such a unification and be incorporated fully in the French economy. The Saar with its rich coal deposits complements economically the iron deposit of adjoining French Alsace-Lorraine.

Byrnes yesterday had told his colleagues that the United States was ready to proceed with an economic merger of the occupation zones.

A British informant said that the morning meeting was completely inconclusive, although British Foreign Secretary Bevin discussed Byrnes' new unification proposal in favorable terms and said his government would study it urgently.

After Byrnes' new plan was tabled, the American suggested that the session discuss Austria. Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia suggested that deputies be instructed to begin work on an Austrian treaty after they have finished the draft of accords with the defeated nations.

A French source said the ministers did agree to name a special committee to study the problem of how much German coal production to leave to the Germans and how much to allot to the Allies.

The committee will report to the Berlin Control Council, which will pass on the report to the ministers by September 1.

French President Bidault told the meeting, associates said, that France would consent to "the provisional" treatment of Germany, in her actual frontiers, as an economic unit, on the condition that administrative machinery set up to accomplish this be heard by Allied personnel and not German.

Benefits Given Labor

Greatest Advances Gained Since 1930 In Form Of The Norris-LaGuardia Act (1932), The Wagner Act (1935), And Fair Labor Standards Act (1938)

Washington, July 12.—(AP)—Organized labor has inched along for more than 150 years but its most solid benefits—some employers call them privileges—have been received since 1930.

Here are three of the main benefits granted unions by Congress: 1. The National Labor Relations Act (The Wagner Act), passed in 1935. This law gives workers the right to form unions; it gives unions the right to bargain with employers; it compels employers to bargain with unions; it forbids employers to interfere with the formation of unions.

And it also establishes the National Labor Relations Board to see that an employer does not—in the board's view—do anything unfair to his employees because of their union activities.

2. The Norris-LaGuardia Act passed in 1932. This put a sharp damper on the use of injunctions court orders to stop union activities like strikes, picketing and boycotts.

The act also outlawed the yellow-dog contract, which had been a thorn in the side of organized labor since its beginning.

A yellow-dog contract simply means: A boss could compel a worker, before giving him a job, to sign an agreement saying he would not join a union. That can't be done now.

3. The Fair Labor Standards Act passed in 1938. This made the 40-hour week compulsory for firms doing business in interstate commerce. (States have various laws of their own affecting firms doing business within a state.)

The Fair Labor Standards Act also established a minimum wage of 30 cents an hour for firms in interstate commerce, which are firms whose goods go across state lines.

The 30-cent minimum wage automatically became 40 cents an hour in 1945. The Senate recently passed a bill to make the minimum wage 65 cents an hour. The bill now is in

HIGHER DRAFT AGE LIMIT IS ASKED TRUMAN

Army Would Raise Top Draft Age To 34; Manpower Shortages Acute

Washington, July 12.—(AP)—The army has recommended to President Truman that the top draft age be boosted from 20 to 37 years when induction calls are resumed in September.

Few, if any, men over 26 have been drafted since V-J Day last August.

The War Department recommendation was disclosed today by an official completely familiar with it after the American Council on Education heard an assertion last night that selective service expects to scrape the bottom of the manpower barrel as it's never been scraped before by next March.

The declaration came from Col. George A. Irwin, chief of the demobilization division of selective service, who mentioned only incidentally in the course of his informal address that the army does not want any men over 35.

Heretofore the army has been reluctant to take men over 25, although while the stop-gap draft extension law was in effect from May 15 to June 30 men through 26 were being processed for induction.

Informed of Irwin's new age reference, the official who asked not to be quoted by name said the new change of mind came about because the current draft act bans inductions of 18-year-olds, about 25,000 of whom made up the bulk of draft calls in recent months.

With this prime source of manpower dried up by law, the official asserted, the army decided it would have to go above the 30-year bracket to fill its needs. Fathers are specifically exempt under the new act.

Mr. Truman first cut the top draft age from 37 to 29 years after V-E Day and trimmed it to 25 on V-J day.

However, 10 years ago remained subject to the draft until the wartime act expired May 15. The stop-gap law narrowed the age limit to men 20 through 29, while the nine-month extension measure passed last month broadened this to include men 19 through 44.

Funds Inadequate For Planned Celebration

The Greenville, Ayden and Farmville posts of the American Legion, working with the local Veterans of Foreign Wars, have joined in planning and staging a World War II Veterans Celebration on August 14. Veterans who entered the service from Pitt County, or are now bona fide residents of the county, will be entertained.

The committee appointed to plan the extensive program have found that the cost will exceed the funds available. It has been announced that in order to obtain the money the committee would present its worthy cause to the citizens of the county that they may contribute to the honoring of those veterans who have returned. "It is hoped that when the soliciting committees call on the various citizens, that their generosity will rise to the occasion."

Explaining carefully that the rear set of propeller blades on the right engine of his twin-engine plane had suddenly reversed pitch during the first test hop, Hughes said:

"It felt as if some giant had the right wing of the airplane in his hand and was pushing it back and down.

"Tell the Army to look in the wreckage, find the rear half of the right propeller, and find out what went wrong."

Hughes gave his message to Dr. Mason after asking, "Am I going to live?" and hearing the physician solemnly reply: "I don't know."

In a bulletin on Hughes' condition, issued when he disclosed the airman's first words on the cause of the crash, the doctor said:

Fellowship Class Host At Banquet

By CHESTER WALSH

The Men's Fellowship Class of Memorial Baptist Church was host at a chicken supper at the Rotary building last night to the members and their wives and sweethearts. Frank White, president of the class, presided. J. Archie Rogers, class teacher, in a happy short speech, welcomed the men and their "commanders-in-chief", and gave a special welcome to Mr. R. B. Lee, long-time teacher of the class, and Mrs. Lee, and the Rev. Richard Hardaway and Mrs. Hardaway and their son, John, who recently completed a long service in the U. S. Navy, and others. In a singing contest for a prize the ladies won over the men—a hundred to one.

Regan Jones, master of ceremonies, directed an entertaining program including games for which prizes (including nylon for the ladies) were awarded. Miss Elizabeth Bridgers sang two songs.

"Without A Song," and "Smiling Through," and "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" as an encore. Miss Pauline Bell was accompanist at the piano.

Last night's delightful fellowship gathering was one of a series given during each year. The Fellowship Class membership has considerably increased during the last six months.

Sugar Shortage Grows Alarming

By CHESTER WALSH

The shortage of sugar here and elsewhere has reached an alarming state, a checkup at wholesale and retail stores and at eating places revealed today. The shortage is acute in this and other states. State institutions in North Carolina are begging for sugar with which to preserve and can fruits and vegetables grown on their own premises. A similar condition is prevailing in Pitt County and Greenville.

Fruit is ripening on trees and vines and much of it is going to waste because there is no sugar with which to preserve or can it.

And while this shortage prevails there is an abundant supply of sugar in Cuban warehouses, but the Cubans will not sell it to United States buyers because of a misunderstanding with the powers-that-be in Washington. Incidentally the Secretary of Agriculture is now in Cuba trying to straighten out the tangle with the growers there.

U. S. Senator Clyde R. Hoey has announced in the press that he has caused to be diverted a big shipment of sugar to North Carolina but today this continued to be only a "message" and the sugar famine continues while unknown valuable quantities of fruit and vegetable are unharvested and rotting because home canners and others cannot procure a supply of sugar.

The manner in which the government is handling the sugar supply situation recalls the saying of the man adrift at sea in a small boat: "Water, water, water everywhere, but not a drop to drink."

The governmental advice to save all food possible is good advice, but some action in Washington to get the abundant supplies of sugar in storage at the place of its origin would contribute more to saving food than printed slogans from the National Capital, a well informed man said here today.

Late Rally Again Wins Ball Game For Greenies

By BERT MOYE
Dwight Wall's timely single to right field brought home V. Blackwell from second base with two away, gave the Greenies a 3-2 victory over the Kinston Eagles here last night.

Greenville had knotted the count at two-all just previous to this when Joe Parise singled, Carlson walked, Verne Blackwell hit to second baseman Bell with Carlson being forced on the play, in attempting to catch Blackwell at first, the ball was thrown wild with Parise coming home for the tying score.

The game was thrilling from the beginning to the end and was featured by the pitching of the three hurlers participating in the game. Lefty Gauding went the entire route for the Kinston Eagles, being touched for only three hits, while Dean Ballam and Joe Alamo pitched four-hit ball for the Greenies. Ballam was taken out of the game for a pinch hitter after pitching three-hit ball, and his withdrawal from the game was strongly protested by the local fans.

Greenville scored its first run of the game with nary a hit and it was all done by the fleet-footed Ray Carlson. With two out in the top half of the fourth Carlson was issued a free pass to first; he then made a successful steal to second and in going to second, Bell, Kinston second sacker, errored the ball with Carlson advancing to third on the play. Then as Gauding went to sleep on the job, Carlson made a safe dash to steal home.

Kinston came back in their half of the fifth to score a run and knot the count at one-all. Rightenburg reached first on Merle Blackwell's error, advanced to second on a wild pitch, and came home on Tepedino's single.

Kinston's final run came in the ninth when Rightenburg walked and was sacrificed to second by Gauding and Tepedino singled to bring him home.

However, all the excitement any fan would wish came in the ninth inning when four Kinston players were put out of the game for arguing with the umpires, Hudson and Gibson. Those who were escorted from the park by police officers were Manager Frank Rodgers, Swamp Norwood, Sam McLawhorn and Bell. The argument started when umpire Hudson called a ball a foul when Gauding was at the plate. The argument seemed to be that Gauding was hit by the ball but umpire Hudson ruled that it was a foul tip instead. Hudson won the decision.

Greenville goes to Kinston tonight to play a return game and Kinston will pitch their strike-out artist, Andy Tomasic. Just who will go hurling for the Greenies is not known at this time.

The Greenies return home Saturday night when they play the Goldsboro Bugs in a twin-ball affair, with the first game getting under way at 6:45 o'clock.

WALL LEAVES GREENIES
Dunn, July 12.—Dwight Wall, former Wake Forest College star and an outfielder with Greenville's Greenies of the Coastal Plain League, has been signed to manage the Dunn-Erwin club of the Tobacco State League.

The Greenies consented to release Wall if he could obtain a position as a player-manager. Wall replaces J. Stephenson, "catcher who has been in charge of the locals for the past week.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

SNAP JUDGMENTS REVISED
Almost fifty years ago in a mid-western city a boy applied for a position as salesman in a brokerage firm. He was by no means promising, and the only reason the manager of the local office allowed him to have a job was because he presented a letter from the big boss in New York.

The manager and his associates decided they would get rid of this youngster in a hurry and gave him a list of prospective customers. They forgot, however, to tell him one thing, namely, that the people he was to see were classed as impossible and had been solicited many times before to no avail. There was furore in the office a week or two later when it developed that he had sold securities to every one of the hard nuts. Overnight, this rather colorless boy sprang into prominence, first in his local community, and later throughout the nation. Within five years he was in the New York Office, a member of the firm. Some people judge the value of a gift by the attractiveness of its wrappings, and in their judgment of people they apply the same standards. Certain of these were ridiculously mistaken in the case of this young salesman. The Almighty often seems to take delight in sending his geniuses and prize-winners into the world disguised.

No one should ever be discouraged because he doesn't strike the fancy of the general run of folks. Furthermore, in seeking an employee, it is best not to put too much stock in appearance.

THE VETO

An unexpected stumbling block to Democratic procedures in the United Nations has come up in the power of the veto.

When this tremendous privilege was agreed upon by Churchill, Stalin, and Roosevelt, it is safe to say that at least two of the governments represented saw this prerogative in a different light than did the third.

Six times the veto has been invoked; each time by the same nation. It is no wonder that smaller countries, committed to following those decisions laid down by the General Assembly, should become impatient with the autocratic application of this singular privilege. They have seen one of the Great Powers ride rough shod over the expressed wishes of a majority—and virtually channel the actions of this greatest assemblage of the world has ever known, to suit one nation's desires.

Mis-use of power has always resulted in that power's being eventually reduced or taken away altogether. Australia's popular representative, Herbert Evatt, has formally proposed renewed discussions on the use of the veto in the General Assembly. Whether anything will come of it is anybody's guess.

The answers to four questions might well decide the ultimate success or failure of the new-born United Nations. (1) Would the United States and Great Britain agree to restrictions in order to also bind the Soviet?

Wonderful Wizards Of Washington—The Optimists

Someday, these two Western Powers may have a very real need for the Veto. (2) Would Russia submit to having her most powerful weapon in this conclave of nations taken from her? We doubt it... she might even threaten to withdraw from the United Nations if this were done. (3) Was Evatt's proposal a mere warning of the dissatisfaction felt by the smaller countries, to be dropped when a desired effect has been accomplished? (4) Is the Veto necessary? Well, in the government of these United States, North Carolina does not have the power of vetoing federal laws promulgated in Washington; so why should it be necessary to keep the Veto in a government of united nations?

estimates that within 10 years—if the cotton picker, flame cultivator and other machines now becoming available find quick acceptance—perhaps one of every four farmers and farm workers in the south will be without work.

According to department estimates, 4,000,000 to 7,000,000 new jobs will be required off the farm in the next 10 years to provide for displaced farm workers, increased population and pre-war unemployment in the south.

Many communities which mushroomed with "war baby" industries are looking for new industries that may be the difference between prosperity and ghost towns.

Sen. Bailey (D-N.C.) and Rep. Hays (D-Ark.) have started the ball rolling by introduction of identical bills in the Senate and House "to provide for aid in industrialization of underdeveloped areas."

The legislation avoids any mention of "decentralization" of industry. The sponsors say "Let us help the people find opportunities where they are—not to become industrially prosperous by taking away opportunities at the expense of other regions."

Nevertheless, a major portion of opposition to the bill probably will pivot on the decentralization issue.

Under the legislation, funds would be authorized for the Commerce, Agriculture and Labor departments to encourage private enterprise, in cooperation with state and other agencies, in under-industrialized areas by:

1. Providing technical aid for farmers, businessmen, workers, cooperatives, civic organizations, clubs and committees, community study groups and local and state government agencies.

2. Preparing and distributing technical and economic information on opportunities in private enterprise in various industries and regions.

3. Providing assistance to authorize federal, state, local and private agencies engaged in training of returning servicemen, war workers, farmers and other workers to fit the needs of new or expanding industries.

4. Giving advice to expanding or new enterprise in finding adequate financing.

5. Cooperating with public utilities, transportation systems and other enterprise in making provisions to improve or enlarge their facilities.

Commerce Secretary Wallace and Agriculture Secretary Anderson already have endorsed the bill. However, a rocky road lies ahead.

Rep. Hays has heard that not all rural communities want industries.

He added that the second step—presumably if May declined to appear—"should be a subpoena."

Garson said he was "rarin' to go to present his case."

"I am ready to say a lot of things," the ex-internal revenue agent told newsmen after hearing Chairman Mead (D-NY) describe testimony thus far as beyond the ken of "the most imaginative writer of fiction."

Garson waived much of yesterday afternoon while the committee questioned Albert W. Jacobson, who rose from a $1,620 a year War Department job as clerk-typist to consultant in the legal branch of the Chemical Warfare Service at $9,975 a year.

Jacobson told the committee his duties included review of millions of dollars of advance payments to Garson's munitions combine.

He also testified that Chairman May of the House Military Committee had recommended that he without doing terrific damage to Europe. It must be repaired and restored within the limits prescribed by the peace terms.

Total dismemberment of Germany would in the main defeat the objects sought, because the various parts of the Reich have been interdependent. But there is nothing in this circumstance which would preclude the creating of a federation of German states, and it wouldn't prevent the allies from carrying out their determination to eliminate all industries which might be used to create sinews of war.

Many of the difficulties which the allies face would seem to be covered in major degree by Secretary of State Byrnes' proposal last April for a four-power (America, Britain, Russia and France), 25-year mutual assistance pact to insure the demilitarization of Germany. This pact would commit the United States to participate in European security with armed forces for at least a quarter of a century after the end of the present military occupation of the Reich. Such a treaty would ensure safety during the period of moral, political and economic rehabilitation of the Reich.

Molotov at first characterized this proposal as wholly inadequate. Yesterday, however, he said he would study it further, and Byrnes indicated that the term of the treaty could be extended to forty years if this would satisfy Russian objections. Both Britain and France have accepted it. Agreement on this point among the Big Four certainly would render much easier the titanic task of settling Germany's affairs in such manner as to remove the evil but at the same time not do irreparable damage to the rest of Europe.

be reinstated to the District of Columbia bar, from which he had resigned under pressure.

May has acknowledged interceding with the War Department for the Garson interests, but has denied any personal profit.

Developments outside the hearing room included:
1. President Truman told his news conference that Mead's War Investigating Committee has his full support in its profit probing.
Mr. Truman used to head the committee when he was a senator.
2. Benjamin F. Fields, Washington press agent accused by Senator Mitchell (D-Wash.) of offering him a $5,000 bribe to "lay off" the case, told reporters he was merely trying to help a friend. Fields also summoned to testify today, said he had talked with Mitchell but denied that any money was mentioned. He said he had no connection with the munitions combine but was trying to help the combine's Washington agent, Joe Freeman.

ing the employment of women and children. These, with one exception, are all state laws. They're sketchy, spoty, uneven.
(The exception is a Federal law forbidding the employment of children on products shipped in interstate commerce. The Federal government can't tell a state what to do on goods or services intended strictly for use inside a state.)
Forty-three states limit the hours women can work. Some limit the kind of work they can do. For example, forbidding their employment in mines or underground. A few states have no laws on women.
Most states limit the work of children under 16 to eight hours but the state laws governing their employment are not uniform.

New York Cotton

New York July 12—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 78 cents a bale to $1.15 lower.

In late trading the cotton market moved up sharply to new high ground for the day on a flurry of mill buying and short covering prior to the week-end.
Futures closed 25 cents to $1.65 a bale higher.

Grain Market

Chicago, July 12—(AP)—Substantial offerings of cash oats by the country, plus prospects of a good movement of 1946 oats within a few weeks, caused a weak undertone in oats futures today. Cash dealers reported bookings of more than 250,000 bushels.
At the close oats were 1 1/2-2% lower than yesterday's finish, July

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, July 12—(AP)—Steels and assorted industrials led the stock market on a week-end decline today with selling a bit more pronounced than recently.
A half-hearted early recovery attempt failed to attract support and with a few aviation weakenings, losses of 1 to 2 points—there were isolated wider falls—soon appeared in all departments. Dealings, fast at intervals, slowed in the final hour and extreme setbacks were reduced in most cases near the close. Transfers of about 1,000,000 shares were the largest since July 1.

a bill to continue OPA until July 20 in its pre-death form.)
Senate insistence almost certainly would compel the House conferees to lay these decontrols before the full chamber for test ballots. Taff said these votes probably would nail down the exemptions.
The Senate still had to take care of a few other proposed amendments before getting around to a vote of its own on final passage of the new OPA bill.

Safety Plan Will Cover Five Years

Greenville, July 12—(AP)—Chartering of the State Committee for Traffic Safety will be one of the first steps taken in a five-year program adopted by the State Advisory Safety Committee. Employment of a general manager for the committee is planned. He will work with the State Motor Vehicles Department to encourage safe driving and to create public sentiment in its favor. Other points in the five-year program include educational projects in elementary and high schools, etc.

orts to expedite enforcement of traffic laws, improvement in dangerous highway conditions, periodic reissuance of drivers' licenses, and enlargement of the State Highway Patrol. The last two objectives would require action by the state legislature.

The plan was prepared by Coleman Roberts, chairman of the State Advisory Safety Committee, at the request of Governor Cherry, and was approved yesterday at a committee meeting here.

Roberts said that the committee for traffic safety will require no state subsidy, but will be supported by volunteer contributions to a $100,000 annual budget. Neither will be committee function with the responsibility of a state department unit.

Reduction of traffic accidents and fatalities in the state by at least 50 per cent is the avowed objective of the program.

ing the Giants held the Cards scoreless and then scored the winning run.

Milton Foley with three doubles and two singles, was the leading hitter for the Cards followed by Troy Wilson, Bernie Bullard and Rowland with two hits each. John Sideris, with two triples, a double and a single was the leader for the Giants. Topse Smoot and Gardner also of the Giants got three hits apiece.

House Loan Vote Said Imperative

Washington, July 12—(AP)—House Democratic Leader McCormack said today the British loan presents the issue of whether the United States will take "our necessary role in world affairs" or leave "practically all of the other nations of the world, against their will desires, subject to the influence, gravity and the orbit of the Soviet Union."

Pleading for house ratification of the senate-approved $3,750,000,000 credit, the Massachusetts member said, "whether or not we like it, the fact remains that practically all of the countries off the world are looking to either Washington or Moscow."

And every country in the world, he added, is watching the house vote, scheduled for tomorrow.

If America fails in its role as world leader, "it will leave other countries and peoples the easy prey to the influence of totalitarianism," McCormack declared, adding: "We have either to take our place in the world as the leader in preserving and strengthening those truths we believe in — and that means vision and courageous leadership—or we will go back again into provincial and isolationism."

BOYS LEAGUE BASEBALL

The Yankees from the Training School did something yesterday that they have seldom done this summer when they defeated the league leading Tigers from Third St. It was not done without a fight. In the last inning with the Yankees leading by three to tie the score only to have the Yankees score in the bottom half to win the game.

Joe Clark Sawyer and Ayers led the winners at bat. Bobby Williams was the only Tiger to hit safely twice.

The Giants gave the Cardinals an awful going over Thursday morning at the Training School field. The Cards had a bad day, they couldn't field nor hit, and when the game was over the score was 17 to 1 in favor of the Giants. On the other hand the Giants hit hard and timely to run up their big score.

Sydney Briley had a big day at the bat for the Giants, in five times at bat he got two singles, a double triple and a homer. Larry Flye and John Sideris with three hits each helped the Giants run up their lead. Milton Foley got two of the three hits that the Cards got off Scott who was pitching for the Giants.

Giants 3 3 6 4 0 1 0

Wednesday at the stadium the Giants defeated the Cardinals in a free hitting game by the score of 16 to 15. The Cards went into the sixth inning with a three run lead only to lose it in the last inning of the regular game. In the extra in-

REGAINS 20 LBS. FEELS FINE; THANKS RETONGA

Relief From Long-Standing Distress Of Indigestion Seems Marvelous, Says Mr. Holt. Retonga Worth $50 A Bottle To Him, He States

"Nervous indigestion tormented me until my weight dropped twenty pounds and I could hardly carry on. Retonga brought me such splendid relief that I regained my lost weight and feel better than in years," happily states Mr. George Holt of 401 E. Radford Place, Knoxville, Tenn. Discussing his case, he gratefully stated:

"I suffered from nervous indigestion off and on for at least twenty years and never felt like my real self. I lost my appetite and had to make myself eat. After every meal I suffered from sour stomach and torturing stomach gas. I was twenty pounds underweight and seemed to keep losing strength. I felt too restless to sleep well. Constipation forced me to take strong laxatives, but these seemed to bring little relief and I suffered from splitting headaches. I kept going but it was a tough job.

"Retonga brought me truly grand relief. I relish food. Constipation and those awful headaches are relieved and I get refreshing sleep. I feel that Retonga has been worth at least $50 a bottle to me."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. There is only one Retonga; accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at Bissett's Drug Store.—Adv.

Service Is Our Business

We are proud to present two men from our Service Department who have helped greatly to establish our reputation for EXPERT AUTOMOBILE SERVICE. During the next month we will introduce many more of our 42 employees whose average experience in the automobile field and with our company exceeds 12 years.

CLYDE LANDING
Mr. Landing is the man who greets you with a smile when you drive in to our service department. He is well qualified for his job with a background of 22 years in the Auto Service Business. For the past 12 years Mr. Landing has been serving our customers as our Service Manager.

J. E. (DOC) RUSH
Mr. Rush is the "dean" of all auto mechanics in Greenville. In our front window you see him rebuilding engines or working at his lathe turning out a special tool or fitting for a car which can be repaired only by his expert work. He has been an auto mechanic for 34 years and has been in our Service Department for 28 years.

For the best in Automobile Service call 3723 or drive into our garage and let us confer with you about your particular requirements. We have complete facilities to make all type repairs to your car. When you need service, remember—
