OPA In Stalemate Among Conferees

Price Control Measure Enters Life-Or-Death Phase; Nation Starts Fourth Week Of Uncontrolled Prices; Barkley Sees "Glimmer Of Light" Over Deadlock

Washington, July 20.—(AP)—The OPA entered the life-or-death stage on Capitol Hill today. With Congress deadlocked, it became certain the nation will start on a fourth week of uncontrolled prices, with no one knowing in what form, if any, OPA might be revived.

The House-Senate Conference Committee seeking a compromise stalemated as House members refused steadfastly to accept Senate bans against any further price ceilings on milk, meat, eggs and other basic foods.

Senate Democratic Leader Barkley called the conferees to one more meeting today.

If this fails the OPA will be thrown open again in a House floor battle over whether to approve the Senate bill. President Truman, indicating a veto, has described the Senate measure as terrible.

The conferees, after four days of wrangling, were tied in knots on the question of allowing OPA certain discretionary power in raising prices on manufactured articles as prescribed by a new pricing formula in the Senate bill.

One Republican member of the closed door conference said privately administration forces are now fighting for a compromise, rather than risk the possibility that the House would approve the Senate bill.

Meanwhile, Congress—just in case OPA is restored—voted to cut $31,000,000 from OPA operating funds and to ban use of any of the money for propaganda in support of price control. The agency appropriation was put at $75,000,000 instead of $106,000,000.

The effort to compromise the issue of food price ceilings pivoted on a proposal to create a three-man board, with higher authority than OPA, which would restore such controls, if:

1. The price of a food item has risen unreasonably above the ceiling.

CHINESE MOVE NEARER BRINK OF CIVIL WAR

U. S. Peace Mission Failing; Troops March To Fighting Fronts

Shanghai, July 20.—(AP)—Diplomatic sources privately agreed today that U. S. General George A. Marshall's peace mission to China had failed.

Seemingly confirming the opinion, the Nationalist government began moving more men toward the fighting fronts and the Communists were reported reinforcing their positions.

General Marshall was believed unlikely to have the opportunity to confer with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek in the summer capital at Kuling, where the general went with U. S. Ambassador Dr. John Leighton Stuart.

A similar pessimistic attitude was expressed at the Communist headquarters in Nanking when a check was made on whether or not Communist chief negotiator Gen. Chou En-Lai would visit Kuling to talk with Chiang. The official asked the question countered with the comment:

Meanwhile, quarters professing to be "in the know" predicted Marshall would return home around the middle of August after making a final best effort to retrieve the steadily deteriorating situation.

This view coincides with the persistent reports that the government has abandoned all hopes of a peaceful settlement and intends to launch an all-out attack against the Communists in September.

The rumors also are persistent that the attack would have been mounted some week ago save for the vigorous protestations of Marshall.

It is predicted that if the U. S. envoy abandons the peace mission as a bad job, American forces in (Continued on Page Two)

OPA Unable To Repair 'Damage' Says Porter

Asserts Even With Best Of Price Control Bills, Effects Of OPA - less Interim cannot Be Completely Recovered

Washington, July 20.—(AP)—OPA Administrator Paul Porter said today that even if price controls are restored "perhaps some of the damage of the last three weeks can't be repaired."

Porter declared in a radio address that while OPA is "hard at work on plans to recover some of the ground that has been lost, even with the best of bills it isn't going to be an easy job putting the eggs back in the basket."

Asserting it "won't be a case of humpy-dumpy, whom all the horses and all the men couldn't put back together again," Porter added: "Some of the eggs are smashed and perhaps some of the damage of the last three weeks can't be repaired. But I feel confident, with effective authority from Congress, that we can recover a lot of the price control basket—and put a stop to other price increases that are threatening."

Porter's doubt about whether "ground lost" can be recovered raised the question whether he still feels that all June 20 price ceilings can be re-established if controls are revived.

When they expired on July 1, Porter said flatly that if Congress did not specifically provide for previous ceilings in any revival bill, OPA would restore them by a general order.

In his radio speech, Porter cited an increase of 68 per cent in hide prices since the removal of controls. (Continued on Page Two)

U. S. TRAITOR DIED IN CAMP

Red Army Gives Report On Long Sought Propagandist

Berlin, July 20.—(AP)—The Russians informed U. S. army headquarters today that Fred W. Kallenbach, 51-year-old "Iowan" long sought by the Americans as a traitor for broadcasting Nazi war propaganda from Germany, died October in a Soviet detention camp.

A Red army major general transmitted the information in a letter to the American intelligence section, which previously had tried in vain to learn his fate after his arrest by the Russians more than a year ago.

Kallenbach, the "Lord Hee Haw" of radio Berlin, died of natural causes at a camp in the Soviet occupation zone of Germany. The exact cause was not specified, but it was known that he had been ill with a heart ailment and asthma for 18 months before Germany fell. (Continued on Page Four)

Willing Workers Are Scarce Says Officer

Raleigh, N. C., July 20.—(AP)—City Sanitarian Superintendent A. A. Corea, bothered with lack of labor in trying to keep garbage moving here, says that a check shows that there isn't a shortage of able-bodied men, but there is a shortage of willingness to work.

He said that he was able to hire only two men this week; they were supplied by the U. S. Employment Office. He said that he had interviewed two dozen, but all turned down the jobs, which he said, pay more than war laborers got before World War II.

Corea said that he found four idle men, four miles from here, and offered to send a daily truck to bring them to work if they would take the jobs. The men, Corea declared, refused to work even at these terms.

FBI Check Voted In Atom Control

Washington, July 20.—(AP)—The house shouted into atomic energy legislation today an amendment requiring an FBI loyalty check for all persons connected in any way with atomic energy development.

The amendment, proposed by Rep. Dondero (R-Mich.), was approved by a thunderous voice vote amid fresh demands that the entire bill be sent back to the Military committee for further study.

Its adoption followed a declaration by Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) that Communists "are packed into every department of this government" and the committee on un-American activities "knows about it."

Rewritten in major parts, the bill will face a senate-house conference if it escapes the boob traps laid by its opponents.

Before a final vote is taken, the house must decide whether to send the entire measure back to its military committee for "further study." A motion to do that has been drafted by Rep. Short (R-Mo) and its adoption would put the legislation over until next year.

Danes To Build Huge Atom Research Plant

Copenhagen, July 20.—(AP)—A Danish scientist, who asked remain anonymous, said today that Prof. Neils Bohr's institute of theoretical physics here would be substantially enlarged and modernized to enable Bohr to continue atomic energy research.

Details of the plan, he said, include the construction of a subterranean plant for work on electrons with particularly high energy.

Bohr, who left Denmark during the Nazi occupation to avoid the Gestapo, helped to develop the atomic bomb and is now in Britain.

ARMY'S JUNE ENLISTMENTS ABOVE NEEDS

Arouses Hope Army May Prolong Voluntary Induction Holiday

Washington, July 20.—(AP)—New enlistment figures kindled hope in congressional quarters today that the army may be able to prolong its voluntary induction holiday.

Latest returns showed that during June there were 62,493 enlistments in the army, or more than 20,000 above what the War Department regards as its average monthly needs.

It may be, said Rep. Short (R-Mo.), who made the figures public that the draft extension law will not have to be used at all or at least that the induction holiday in force during July and August can be continued.

The figures that Short said he received from the War Department showed that during the first week of June there were 11,745 enlistments. During the second week there were 12,319; the third, 13,093, and the fourth, 25,336.

While no enlistment figures for July are available, the Department informed Short that a falling off during the first week could be expected because of the holiday weekend.

Army sources quickly pointed out that the heavy enlistment rate in June probably resulted from the graduation of teen-agers who assumed they would be drafted eventually or simply had been waiting for school's end to enlist.

Then, too, the fact that Congress was in the process of raising the pay of enlisted men fifty percent an army spokesman said, "Undoubtedly had much to do with the heavy enlistment rate in June."

"Many men had been waiting for Congress to give evidence that it was going to raise the pay," he said "and in June it was apparent that the raises would be ordered."

Selective Service has announced that it will call 25,000 men for induction. (Continued on Page Two)

Food Wastage In Navy Said Small

Washington, July 19.—(AP)—A House Naval Affairs Subcommittee reported today that "food wastage which has occurred under naval jurisdiction has been relatively minor."

The committee conducted an investigation in response to congressional complaints that the navy was wasting food. A summary of its findings said:

"Food wastage which has occurred under naval jurisdiction has been relatively minor compared with the volume of food handled and the intensity of the demobilization program."

The two-member subcommittee, Reps. Rivers (D-SC) and Hess (R-Ohio), said it would keep an eye on the situation and report to Congress if there is "any relaxation of the present strict conservation."

The report said that the principal areas in which waste was complained of were Astoria and Portland, Ore., and Charleston, S. C.

On the spot investigations of these areas disclosed, it said, that "waste of naval stores had occurred" but that "in consideration of the enormous quantities of food stuffs turned in by ships being inactivated in the areas it must be considered minor."

Pearl Harbor Report Expected Late Today

Washington, July 20.—(AP)—A joint congressional committee expects to file with Congress late today its findings and recommendations resulting from its lengthy inquiry into the causes of the Pearl Harbor disaster.

The report will wrap up testimony which the committee heard from 43 witnesses. It also will cover the transcripts of evidence taken in earlier investigations, among them that of a presidential commission headed by former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts. The majority report will be accompanied by a minority report.

Babson Discusses "Union" vs "Non-Union" Jobs

Gloucester, Mass., July 20.—I am down here on Cape Ann where I was born—to me the most beautiful spot in the world. Of course the hills, woods, rocks are the same as during my boyhood days. I even picked blueberries today at Dogtown Common from which I picked them sixty years ago. At least, I got some from the same hidden spot at the junction of certain two old stone walls!

Changes In Sixty Years

But many things are different. Of course, in my boyhood days there were no automobiles and I well remember the first telephone, electric light and even street car, which was pulled by horses. But perhaps the most evident change is in the attitude of wage workers and the fact that labor unions are apparently killing the efficiency and ambition of too many Cape Ann people.

Most people believe in "collective bargaining" between employers and wage workers. This means that wage workers must combine and employ trained leaders to advise and fight for them. So far, so good. But everyone should also know that are more to divide only as there is more produced. Wage workers are not primarily interested in money wages, but rather in what these wages will buy in food, clothing and shelter.

Why Houses Are Scarce

But why don't these people understand this simple fact? When talking with men on warves and factory steps, they agree that there is more to divide only as there is more produced. Yet, they keep on reducing hours and slowing down on their work.

No wonder we cannot find houses in which to live. The bricklayers, carpenters and painters have so "slow-downed" their work that it now costs too much to build a house. By so doing, these members of the building-trade unions are forcing up their own rents and are making it so much harder for their own children to find houses.

Character Building

But "increased cost" are not the worst part of labor's mistake. The greatest danger rests with the effect of the "slow-down" on the character of all workers in an industry. This present-day "slow-down" practice, not only raises the cost of living for every wage worker, but it lowers his self-respect and efficiency. It kills ambition which is the spark-plug of a happy and prosperous life.

This unfortunate change in the attitude of people is the biggest (Continued on Page Four)

Elizabeth City Fire Razes Big Building

Firemen Keep Vigil Over Smouldering Remains Of Second Largest Building In Heart Of Business District

Elizabeth City, N. C., July 20.—(AP)—Firemen maintained a watchful vigil here this morning over the smouldering remains of the Kramer building, which burned late last night and early today with a loss estimated at $300,000.

The three-story building—the second largest in Elizabeth City and in the heart of the business district—was a complete loss, according to Fire Chief Jerome B. Flora, who said that about all that remains was "four walls."

The blaze, first seen breaking through the roof near an elevator shaft at about 10:15 last night, was brought under control three hours later by the Elizabeth City Fire Department, assisted by two trucks from the Coast Guard Air Station one from the Naval Air Station and one from Edenton.

Small individual flames still burned into the day and firemen continued to spray water into the charred debris.

Both the roof and the third floor gave way, as did parts of the second floor. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

The building—which occupied two-thirds of a block at Main and McMurrine streets—was owned by the J. P. Kramer estate and operated by the Kramer Realty Company. Robert Kramer said the loss was covered by insurance, and owners of the four stores in the building said at least part of their losses were covered. About 20 business offices were also in the structure.

Flora estimated that the building was worth $100,000. The adjoining Chesson building was undamaged. There were several injuries, the most serious being those suffered by Adolphus Mason, Elizabeth City returned veteran who volunteered from the crowd to help fight the fire. He was hit in the face with the full force of water from the hose and (Continued on Page Two)

BOLIVIA SITE OF REBELLION

Chaotic Uprising; President Escapes Assassination

Buenos Aires, July 20.—(AP)—Rebellious students fired on Bolivian cabinet ministers, wounding one and narrowly missing President Gualberto Villarroel, in a fresh disturbance at La Paz yesterday, said reports from Chile today.

Earlier reports said 100 persons were killed in an uprising Thursday which had for its aim the overthrow of Villarroel.

The Associated Press correspondent at La Paz said the new disturbance yesterday took place in the Bolivian capital in front of the government palace when President Villarroel and his ministers were making speeches from the balcony. One policeman was killed.

The report said the government alleged that Alfredo Mendizabal said to be acting under Communist instruction, was leader of the revolutionary uprising.

A general strike was reported still in progress in La Paz. Officials of the Bolivian Embassy here said the revolutionary uprising occurred Thursday afternoon when a group of heavily armed students staged a rebellion at the University of La Paz which was crushed within a few hours.

However, a dispatch from Arequipa, Peru, quoted private sources there as saying that the situation remained chaotic throughout the day yesterday, with bloody fighting and many persons killed.

The attempted coup was the second in Bolivia in the last five weeks. Bolivia broke off communications (Continued on Page Four)

Gromyko Says No Secrets Wanted

New York, July 20.—(AP)—Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko, playing a stand-in role among the scientific advisers to the United Nations commission, was on record today as saying that "nobody is asking for secrets" of atomic knowledge at this state of atomic control discussions.

The remark was given emphasis by the fact that the five quoted words were the only ones given in direct quotation in a 700-word official U. N. report on yesterday's secret meeting of the new 12-nation scientific and technical advisory committee on atomic energy.

The only reported point of conflict yesterday arose over Gromyko's proposal that the scientific committee chairmanship should pass back and forth between the representatives of The Netherlands and Poland. This was authoritatively said to have been beaten by ten votes, with Poland abstaining.

Dr. Hendrik Anthony Kramers of The Netherlands was named temporary chairman.

Gromyko, who represents Russia in all political deliberations on atomic control, turned up among the scientists as a substitute for the Soviet scientific representative who now is observing the Bikini atom bomb tests.

Charges To Be Filed In Hesse Jewel Theft

Frankfurt, Germany, July 20.—(AP)—U. S. army headquarters announced today that charges probably would be filed early next week against Wac Captain Kathleen Nash Durant and Maj. David F. Watson, two of the three principals in the $1,500,000 Hesse family jewel theft.

The announcement did not mention Col. J. W. Durant, Capt. Durant's husband, also held in the investigation of the theft of the jewels from Kronberg Castle.

Army officers said the Durants were separated recently and placed on different hotel floors "because they probably will be tried individually."

The nature of the charges to be placed against the three officers has not been disclosed. Some army officials predicted the trials would begin late this month or early in August.

Woman's Equal Rights Defeated Yesterday, Women Will Try Again; Constitutional Amendment Is Goal; Problem Of Getting Two-Thirds Vote In Both Houses Big Difficulty

Washington, July 20.—(AP)—Women are going to try again to get equal rights with men. But they'll have to wait awhile. They have already been waiting at least 23 years for Congress to act, what they wanted and still want is an amendment to the Constitution which, by becoming the law of the land, will say men and women should have equal rights everywhere in this country.

To get such an amendment, this would have to happen:

1. Two-thirds of the members of both House and Senate would have to approve the idea. Getting a majority vote in either House is not so tough. But getting a two-thirds vote is very tough.
2. If both houses of Congress approved the proposed amendment, it could not become a part of the constitution until 36 of the state legislatures also okayed the idea. (It might take years, if ever, for those 36 state legislatures to get around to doing it.)

Women who want this amendment, first got the proposal introduced in Congress and there it was seems to get sidetracked.

Committees—where the proposal had to go before it could come on the floor of the House or Senate for a vote—might approve it. But, until yesterday, one session of Congress after another died at the proposal never got up to the floor. Yesterday it did. In the Senate.

And there it collapsed for the session. Reason: 38 senators voted for it, 35 voted against. This was just a majority vote in its favor. Two-thirds vote was needed.

But women who have sponsored the idea through the years, a litte breathless at the defeat, yesterday rallied their determination and said they'd try again next year. An amendment to the constitution would mean scrapping all state laws in which women are not on an equal footing with men. (Continued on Page Two)

"Old Age" Serum Discoverer Dies

Moscow, July 20.—(AP)—Dr. Alexander Alexandrovich Bogomolets, Soviet scientist and politician who said that human beings normally should live to be 150 years old, died last night at Kiev. He was 64.

The Soviet council of ministers said that Bogomolets, who created a serum known as A. C. (anti-reticular cytotoxic) which he maintained would hold off old age by slowing up deterioration of connective tissues, succumbed of a "grave disease."

In an interview six weeks ago, Bogomolets said that some of his assistants had taken doses of his serum, but said nothing about having taken it himself.

He told correspondents at that time that a heart condition made it uncertain whether he would accept an invitation to visit the United States next September.

He said the serum was effective in restoring connective tissues and speeding the healing of wounds, but that it was no "elixir of life" in the fantastic sense.

Bogomolets was vice chairman of the Ukrainian S. S. R. Council of Ministers, president of the Ukrainian Academy of Science and a deputy of the Supreme Soviet.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

LAST WORDS OF THE GREAT

Last words are always significant. The words of great men upon their death beds give us not only an insight into their lives, but insight into the meaning of life in general. Here are a few of the utterances which certain of the great are said to have made as they confronted death:

Earth is receding; heaven is approaching; God is calling me." Sir Walter Scott said, "I feel as if I were to be myself again." Charles Wesley, who wrote 6,000 hymns, said with his last breath, "I shall be satisfied with Thy likeness—satisfied, satisfied." His brother, John, one of the most useful men of his century, or of any century for that matter, made this last statement: "The best of all is, God is with us." Father Damien, the leper priest in Molokai, said, "My work, with all its faults and failures, is in His hand." Goethe, the German poet, ordered his attendants to "open the shutters and let in more light." Phillips Brooks, prince of American preachers, declared in the last moment, "There is no other life but the eternal." Susanna Wesley, mother of one of the most famous families in history, gave this injunction to loved ones as her life slipped away: "When I am gone sing to God a hymn of praise."

Everyone enters life the same way—with a wall upon his lips; but after the turmoil of living is past men give up their earthly stewardship in a variety of moods.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

TEA OR TIE, RU IS LORD
By JANE EADS

Washington—I poured tea today for Lord Inverchapel, the new British ambassador, but he had to teach me how.

I had gone to interview the ambassador. He was sitting in a chair that he said he was always slipping in. He had four pipes on his desk and one in his hand.

He is a lean, ruddy-faced man in his sixties, with sort of graying sandy hair. He was dressed in impeccably tailored gray flannels with a white pinstripe. His eyes never stopped smiling. (He is noted for his humor.)

We talked awhile and I suddenly found myself being interviewed. He asked me how long I'd been in the business, where I'd been, about my colleagues, about America.

Then he got up and pushed a button. It was 4:30 and he said it was time for tea. Where was it? He asked himself.

It was brought in on a huge silver tray. There were a silver teapot and a pot of hot water and delicate china cups with roses on them.

There were a little plate with tiny round slices of brown bread spread with butter, a plate of cookies and a small round white cake with pink icing. The cake, he said had been made especially for me.

"I think the lady pouts. Sit here," he said as he pulled back from the long banquet-like table a big leather chair with a high back.

"I've never done this before," I murmured.

"Well, first you take the teapot hold it directly over the cup and aim for the middle."

Shakily, I poured one cup half full.

"That's enough," he said. "Pour some into the other cup."

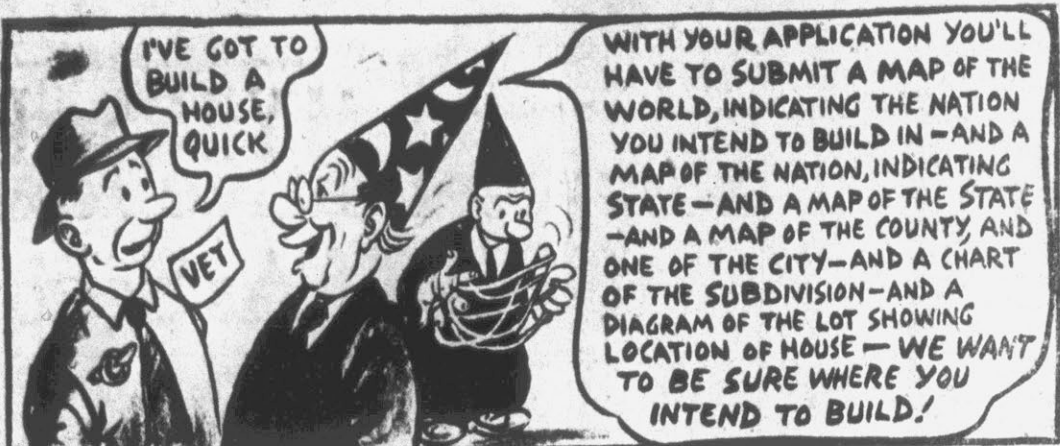

"Do you take milk?" He was helping me from the other side of the table. He filled the cups with hot water, reached for the milk. When I said I liked it straight, he smiled and said I was a real tea-drinker.

"Now you take two slices of the bread, put the buttered sides together and eat them with your fingers."

We settled down. I got on with the interview.

He said that this was his fourth appointment as an ambassador. He had been in Baghdad, Chungking and had just come from Moscow. He was once minister to Sweden and had served also in the Central American republics in Cuba, Haiti and Morocco. He speaks 10 languages.

The change of climates of one country from another didn't bother him. He said it made him hardy.

"I'm interested in muscles, particularly my own," said he.

He used to play golf with a six or 16 handicap, but he hasn't played since he was in Chungking.

He's extremely fond of gardening and doesn't like to be called an amateur. He says he really is a professional.

Walking is his favorite means of transportation.

"All the walking I get now is up and down the stairs," he said sadly.

The ambassador had his breakfast in the embassy garden at 7 o'clock, is at his desk from 8:30 a. m. until 8 o'clock every night.

Lord Inverchapel's name was Archibald Clark Kerr before he became a lord. He is known to his friends as "Archie." Like all Scotch lords, he is entitled to have a Scot on his staff to play bagpipes at dinner. He had three in Sweden but brought only one to America.

of an almost chaotic job, they say.

Some laws, like those forbidding employment of women in mines may be considered as intended to protect women from dangerous work.

They point to laws which they consider discriminatory against women:

Discrimination in jury service holding public office, property rights, the right to own and control one's earnings.

But those who fear an amendment would mean scrapping beneficial laws for women, point to these as benefits:

Labor laws: strike women special privileges; mothers' pensions; laws compelling husbands to support their wives.

This is a fight which probably goes on for years.

can find the cash to maintain themselves. The prices of bare necessities are fantastic.

A mountainous complication is added by the fact that famine is sweeping many parts of the country. This is due to failure of crops lack of seed and inability to secure sufficient imports. Millions of people are starving and untold numbers are dead from hunger. Whole villages are threatened with extermination. The position is so desperate in many areas that the people have been reduced to banditry and murder to secure food or the money with which to purchase it.

There you have the altogether grim setting for the fight between Chinese communism and the Nationalist government. Even if the country had one undisputed government, the task of pulling the nation out of its tail-spin would be titanic.

The question of whether Chinese Communism is affiliated with Moscow will have a considerable effect in the trend of the struggle, as I see it. It's a remarkable thing that this point thus far hasn't had any formal official clarification. When General Ho Ying-Chin was asked if there was any connection between the two he shot back tartly: "Better ask the Chinese Communists that."

Well, I've done exactly that in China and have made the inquiry from no less personage than General Chou En-Lai, second in leadership of the Chinese Reds. He told me that the Chinese Reds were not hooked to Moscow. Still you will find many competent observers who believe (but can't prove) that the Chinese Communists get inspiration and material aid from Russia.

In Remembrance of PVT. RAYMOND M. HODGES Two years ago, we did not sense the danger it might be...

He left his home to go away, To where he did not know; But wherever it might be, His best he surely would bestow.

He proudly took his place, And never shirked his part; But tragic was the ending, For such a willing heart.

The telegram came which stated, Missing is your son, We've known not of his whereabouts since February twenty-one.

Letters came which built up hope That somewhere he might be, Imprisoned in some distant place, And soon would be set free.

Time slipped by and months seemed years, As hope was getting low; But by this time a wall was built, Much stronger for the blow.

Then the telegram came, Officially pronounced dead; But no information about his death was said.

To other people it simply meant One more dead hero; But to those who loved him much, It meant a world of woe.

Although the time was limited, He willingly did his best, We're sure his task was very well done, When God called him to rest.

We miss him more than words can say, But always, nevertheless, We are guided by these words, God knows what is best.

Written by Frances Hodges. Pvt. Hodges was the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Hodges of Grimesland. He was killed in action in Germany February 21, 1943.

To other people it simply meant One more dead hero; But to those who loved him much, It meant a world of woe.

Although the time was limited, He willingly did his best, We're sure his task was very well done, When God called him to rest.

We miss him more than words can say, But always, nevertheless, We are guided by these words, God knows what is best.

Kiwanians Enjoy Weekly Meeting

By CHESTER WALSH

At the Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting last night Clarence Griffin of Williamston, Martin County's representative in the N. C. General Assembly for three terms made an impressive after-dinner speech. He used as his subject, "Are We Thinking Straight?"

The Kiwanis Club approved and adopted the directors' recommendation that the club establish a trust fund at the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company for scholarship.

Last night's meeting had something of the color of a "father and son" affair when several of the Kiwanians' sons were guests of the club.

Incidentally, a committee was appointed last night to confer with heads of other civic groups concerning some special welcome affair for returned veterans.

Tarboro Bites Dust Twice As Greenies Win 9-5, 2-1

Locals Play In New Bern Tonight, Meet Bears Here Sunday In Contests For Tied Positions In League Standings

By BERT MOYE
Greenville took both ends of a twin bill from the Tarboro Tars here last night by taking the opener 9-5, and the seven inning night cap to the tune of 2-1.

In the initial game, Greenville scored in the first four frames. They scored two runs in the first when Carlson reached first on a fielder's choice, advanced to second on Bodnar's error. Verne Blackwell singled, and Earl Smith doubled to bring them both home.

Two more tallies were put across in the second when Alamo walked, Merie Blackwell singled, and Carlson doubled to bring them both home.

A lone run was put across in the third frame when Payne and Narrown walked, Lee hit to short who made an attempt to catch Narrown at first and dropped the ball with Payne scoring on the play.

What proved to be the Greenies winning runs tripled, Verne Blackwell hit to center with Moore dropping the ball and Carlson scoring on the play. Verne Blackwell advanced to second and was brought home on Earl Smith's timely single.

The Greenies scored two more in the sixth when Merie Blackwell singled, Carlson doubled to bring him home, Smith was out on an infield out with Carlson advancing to third on the play, and then Carlson took advantage of Mays' slow wind up and stole home for the second run.

"Iron Man" Alamo started off for the Greenies on the mound in the first game and received credit for the win after pitching for the first five innings. He was touched for five hits and four runs during his stay on the mound. Alamo had worked in the second game in Tarboro the night before.

Tarboro's big inning was the third when they scored three runs. Mays singled, Moore walked and short-stop Lucas homered to unload the bases.

A homer by pitcher Mays in the fifth frame accounted for a run. Their scoring ended in the sixth when Parker singled, stole second, Vorrell singled, and Hand singled to bring in Parker in the third.

Leading the Greenie's defensive attack was the work of Ray Carlson, who hit two doubles, a triple and a single in five trips to the bat. He scored three of the Greenies' runs, stole two bases, and batted in three Greenie runs.

Merie Blackwell also had a big night at the bat, collecting three singles in five trips to the plate and scoring two of the Greenies' runs. The second game proved to be a pitching duel between Alex Benton of the Greenies and Rothe of the Tars. Both men were touched for five hits during the abbreviated game, three walks apiece were given up and Rothe struck out four men while Benton struck out five.

Benton pitched the last four innings of the first game of the double-header. Tarboro started things off in the first frame when they scored one run on a single by Lucas and a double by Parker, for their only run of the game.

Greenville matched this in their first frame when Carlson walked, stole second and came home on V Blackwell's single.

The Greenies tallied their winning run in the second frame when Narrown singled, Lee sacrificed, and Luk singled to bring him home.

Greenville goes to New Bern to meet the Bears there tonight and they return here Sunday afternoon for a game with the Bears scheduled to start at 3 o'clock. Monday night Rocky Mount plays here at 7:45.

over Chicago yesterday to his impressive record.

Even in victory, Zuber had to play second fiddle to Ted Williams when umpire Red Jones evicted 14 White Sox players and coaches after he had warned pitcher Joe Haynes about "dusting" Williams.

The Pale Horse resented the charge that Haynes was "throwing at" thumping Teddy. A yammering from the bench resulted in Dario Lodigiani, Ed Smith and Bing Miller. When the riding persisted, Jones cleaned out the dugout, shooing 10 more players and leaving only manager Ted Lyons, coach Mule Haas and a skeleton bullpen brigade.

Williams appeared to be the least excited person in the park, calmly brushing the dust of his uniform and then lining out a single, Ted's first hit, a double in the first inning, had started the Sox off to their easy triumph with the first two runs.

Boston's phenomenal Fenway Park record against the Western clubs now reads 28 won, 2 lost (both to Bobby Feller).

With the Yankees and St. Louis Browns unscheduled, the Red Sox topped their lead over second place New York to 11 1-2 games.

Hal Newhouser chalked up his 18th victory in an unimpressive performance against Washington, 10-5, allowing 12 hits.

Barrel-chested Pat Seery of Cleveland hammered two home runs his 15th and 16th, in the Indians' 6-1 romp over the Athletics.

Brooklyn came out of its disastrous slump long enough to down Cincinnati, 8-4, and go into a first-place tie with the Cardinals, who were washed out of their night tilt with the Phillies after three scoreless innings.

Rookie Warren Spahn continued his impressive left-handed work dumping Chicago, 6-1, to give Boston its third straight western series. Pittsburgh and New York were not scheduled.

BABSON

difference which I notice between the men of today and those of my boyhood days. Today, too many people want only to "ride in the cart", instead of taking their turn at "pulling the cart". This situation is bad both for the community as a whole and for those who allow themselves to "slow-up in their work. The only way we can prevent higher prices is for all of us to work harder and produce more.

This brings me to give some advice relative for whom to work. Would you, personally, be better off

Bill (Sinker Ball) Zuber, a luckless pitcher who couldn't get anybody out for the Yankees, is proving to be a $7,500 bargain find for the pennant-bound Boston Red Sox.

Picked up for the nominal waiver fee when New York cut him loose the 31-year-oldster had earned three straight decisions for his benefactors and hasn't been beaten yet.

Joe McCarthy hung onto Zuber long after most of the fans had given up on him, spotting him here and there along the way against the right kind of opposition. Last year the Yanks couldn't get a run for him and he was shut out no fewer than seven times.

Three relief jobs for New York produced one loss and he hadn't worked in almost a month when Bill Dickey let him go in mid-June. His first Boston appearance was a gaudy, threemit shutout of Cleveland. Although he was batted out by the A's he came back to trim Cleveland in his third start and then added a four-hit, 9-2 decision working with a small unorganized concern? I grant that each has certain advantages and certain disadvantages, depending largely upon the character of the industry and your age, health, etc. But in closing let me give some rules which, perhaps, should be followed:

1. If you are young and ambitious, get a job with a concern where there is no labor union. If you are a good worker, you can get more rapid advancement with an unorganized concern.

2. If you are fifty years of age or not in very good health, you will be better off to join a labor union and get a job with a closed-shop concern.

3. If you are middle-aged, but have good health—or vice versa—then join the union but get with an open-shop concern which accepts both union and non-union men.
