MEAD STUDIES LOOPHOLES IN PROFITS LAWS

Lindsay Warren To Report On "Untouchable" Irregularities Encountered

Washington, July 27—(AP)—Widening their war-profits inquiry, Senate investigators disclosed today they will call Comptroller General Lindsay Warren for a report on cases where he has sniffed irregularities but has not been able to do anything about them.

Chairman Mead (D-NY), said the war investigating committee will discuss with Warren on Monday the "loopholes" that he has found in the government's machinery for holding down excessive profits on making of military equipment. The committee was in recess today.

Two of the government's principal ways of recapturing undue profits are in machinery for renegotiating and terminating contracts. The committee already has asked the general accounting office for a report on termination of contracts with the Garsson munitions combine it has been investigating.

Senators Brewster (R-Me.), and Ferguson (R-Mich.), said it is their understanding that Warren will tell the committee about certain cases in which the GAO believes that irregularities occurred but lacks the definite evidence of fraud it needs to make its own inquiry.

"They said the committee expects also to obtain suggestions as to how it can make an overall survey of profits. In connection with the inquiry into the Garsson combine there were these developments:

1. Mead led a committee group into a conference with Attorney General Clark at which the New Yorker said the Senators would ask for income-tax returns of all officers of the Garsson companies and the Cumberland Lumber Co., which Rep. May (D-Ky.), served as Kentucky agent.

2. Mead declared that the committee will be available when May, whose doctor reported him ill and unable to testify for ten days of two weeks, is able to tell about his relations with the Garsson combine.

3. Ferguson demanded that the committee ask Col. Harold Brooks how he happened to give to Maj. Gen. Alden Wait, chief of the (Continued on Page Two)

Atlanta Hotel Fire Does Little Damage Atlanta, July 27—(AP)—A fire on the ninth floor of the Piedmont Hotel sent two elderly guests to the hospital and routed hundreds of others into the streets of downtown Atlanta early today.

The spectacular blaze, which hotel manager Sam Tarrott, said was confined to three rooms on the ninth floor of the 11-story hotel was brought under control quickly by two fire companies. The entire hotel was filled with smoke.

Tarrott said he could not immediately estimate the amount of damage, caused mostly by smoke and water.

A woman guest, Mrs. E. J. Perry of Bainbridge, Ga., was rescued from her room by firemen after she apparently had become locked in. Her room was near the scene of the blaze.

Another elderly guest, 84-year-old Emilio Suarez of Cuthbert, Ga., suffered a heart attack as he left his fifth floor room and was removed to a hospital.

Austria's Situation Tension Marks Soviet Effort To Bring Nation Into Sphere Of Influence As Vienna Gov't Acts In Defiance Of Russian Warning! Bevin Pessimistic

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin is one of Europe's most outspoken statesmen, as witness his blunt assertion during debate in the House of Commons that the Austrian situation "is very delicate at the present moment" and that he didn't know "whether Eastern Austria may even be cut off."

This statement of course is interpreted as referring to the possibility that Eastern Austria—which is occupied by Russia and contains the major portion of the country's industrial capacity—may be severed and become a unit in the permanent Soviet zone of influence. Startling as that may sound as coming from a foreign minister in debate, it is no surprise to observers who long have noted that control of all Austria appeared to be one of Moscow's objectives.

What spurred Mr. Bevin to this frankness was sharp criticism leveled at him by several members of Commons for his agreement at the big four foreign minister's conference in Paris that Italy's conference be permitted to retain the South Tyrol. He defended the action on the ground that it should be considered in relation to the whole European situation and not as an independent matter. It was then that he referred to the delicacy of the Austrian situation and pointed out that she had not yet achieved independence.

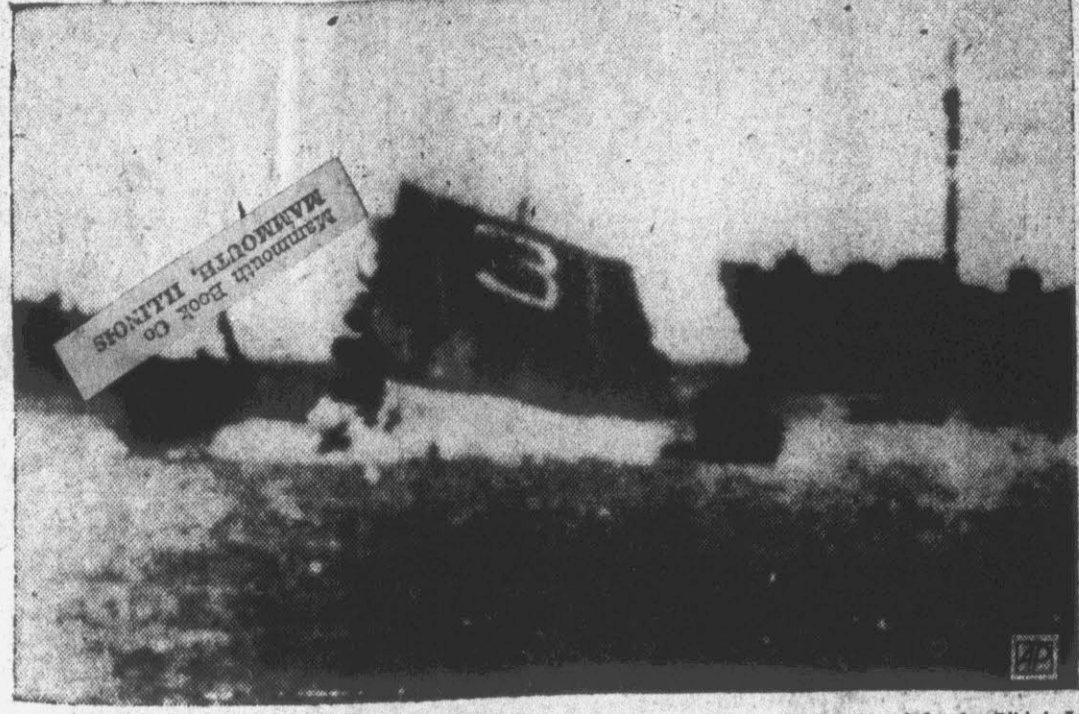

Bevin himself had added—though he did not—that the Big Three agreed to the independence of Austria at the Moscow conference of 1944, and reaffirmed it later. Austrian independence is a matter of great concern to the Western Allies in the rehabilitation of Europe, and the situation between Russia and the western powers has grown increasingly difficult.

One of the most striking indications of Russia's intentions came three weeks ago when, without consulting the other allies, she announced that she had taken over ownership of most of Austria's industries and other property in the Soviet Zone as German reparations. Moscow rejected American and British representations contesting this action.

But yesterday came a sudden and remarkable reaction by the unhappy Vienna government. The legislature took the initiative and defied the Soviet by unanimously approving nationalization of key industries, including some claimed by Moscow as reparations. This action was taken in face of Soviet warning not to do it, and thus the delicate situation of which Mr. Bevin spoke has jumped into the super class.

The reaction of Russia and the western allies wasn't immediately registered, but it is a tense moment.

DENY RUSSIAN IRON CURTAIN

Moscow Radio Asserts Many Permitted To Visit Soviet.

London, July 27—(AP)—The Moscow radio presented what it termed a "sufficiently convincing denial" last night of a statement by President Truman that the United States—although it had "royally" entertained guests from Russia—had been unable to get American visitors travel rights anywhere in the Soviet Union.

"xxx Facts testify," said the broadcast, quoting a Tass report, "that representatives of American science and culture, as well as of other countries, were and are given full and many-sided opportunities of acquainting themselves with the life of the Soviet Union and with the life of the Soviet Union and with questions of the cultural and economic state system of the U. S. S. R. they are interested in. These facts speak for themselves, being a sufficiently convincing denial of the above-mentioned allegations made by Mr. Truman." The broadcast said. U. S. Troops Are Attacked By Mob

Frankfurt, Germany, July 27—(AP)—U. S. troops in Bavaria were reported alerted today to be watchful for new violence involving Jewish displaced persons after three riotous incidents in which one Jew was killed and 13 persons were wounded.

The first of the Jewish attacks was directed from the displaced persons camp at Wolfrathausen, 15 miles south of Munich, against German civilians Wednesday night. A Jew was killed and six German civilians were wounded before American troops restored order.

The second and third outbreaks were officially described as organized attacks on American soldiers Thursday night, in which seven Jews were wounded by American soldiers' bayonets.

The third incident was at Windheim, 30 miles west of Nuernberg. There, the Third Army announced, American troops fired on a group of about 150 Jews who attempted to storm an enlisted men's barracks and one of the Jews was wounded.

Foul Play In Sailor's Death Aboard Ship

Key West, Fla., July 27—(AP)—The mystery surrounding the death of a second class seaman who was to have been discharged next week was still unsolved today as separate investigations by the navy and FBI continued.

The sailor was identified last night as Benjamin Leroy Long Hobbs of Nebo, N. C. His body was found Thursday morning stuffed into a gun turret aboard the U. S. destroyer Stribling, tied up at Key West.

The navy said Hobbs was apparently the victim of foul play but gave no details except that the body showed superficial wounds on the head. The Miami Herald reported that a Negro mess boy was in custody but the navy declined to comment on the report.

All personnel of the ship has been confined to the ship since Thursday morning. The American petroleum industry was born in 1859, when crude oil was pumped from the first well ever drilled for the sole purpose of producing petroleum.

In some homes both parents are obliged to work in order to pay the high living expenses and taxes that we have today. When I was a boy, the parents and school teachers operated. In fact, when I got a licking in school and my parents heard about it, I got another at home! But for some reason corporal punishment has entirely gone out of style in most school systems of today. Zionists Set Price On Accepting Plan

Paris, July 27—(AP)—Well informed Jewish sources said today that the immediate admission of 100,000 Jews to Palestine apparently would be the price for any Jewish acceptance of a British-American cabinet committee plan for partition of the Holy Land.

Jewish policy will not be determined until the Jewish agency executive meeting in Paris Monday, but these sources expressed belief the future of the partition plan was largely contingent on a parallel acceptance of the speedy immigration for 100,000 refugees from Europe, as originally recommended by the official British-United States committee of inquiry last April 30.

Jewish sources declined to speculate whether these refugees could be accommodated in areas allotted to Jews under the British-American cabinet committee partition scheme, a point on which U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was silent last night when he disclosed the plan in Washington, with the comment that the British government had approved it.

In London, the British Foreign Office declined comment on Byrnes' statement that the British government had approved the plan. The plan reported by Byrnes appeared to have no connection with a proposal disclosed yesterday by sources close to the Jewish agency, which said that independent talks between certain Jewish and Arab leaders had evolved a provisional four-point program based upon the creation of separate Jewish and Arab states, each under United Nations mandate.

Byrnes gave no details of the committee plan, but said it was part of the detailed set of proposals for projected admittance of the 100,000 Jews to Palestine.

Jewish circles expressed neither surprise nor pessimism at prompt disclaimers from the Arab agency in London regarding the reported Paris proposal. It had apparently been expected that the initial Arab reaction would violently oppose any suggestion of partition. In fact there was some optimism that the Arabs might swing over to support the idea of communal divisions if it appeared that this would lead to a peaceful settlement.

Jewish anxiety to speed up the immigration of 100,000 refugees appeared to be a factor that in itself would impel the Jews to accept the partition ever if the split should give territorial advantage to the Arabs.

Vienna, July 27—(AP)—Austrian government sources announced officially today that two members of the people's party in Parliament were arrested yesterday by the Russians while on their way home from the session at which Parliament voted nationalization of 81 key industries, including 13 claimed by Russia for reparations.

The legislators, Hans Kottulinsky and Ferdinand Priesch, both from Styria, were taken to Russian headquarters at Aspern at midnight and were held until morning, when they were released, government spokesmen said.

It was learned officially that the Austrian government planned to deliver a vigorous protest over the incident, probably to Col. Gen. L. V. Kurrasov, Soviet commander.

Babson Discusses Young People

Gloucester, Mass., July 27—This city, like most communities, is having trouble with juvenile delinquency. It shows here especially in the breaking open of summer cottages and unoccupied buildings. In Wellesley, Massachusetts, where I spend most of the year, it has been evident in the ruthless destruction of school property for which there is absolutely no excuse.

Parents Are Blamed The police and school departments put the blame upon parents. They state that too many parents are either at work—or else out on parties, etc.—while the children are running fast and loose throughout the town. Perhaps this criticism is justified, but it should be remembered that the parents are paying the salaries of the policemen and school teachers. Of course, the parents should help more, but the police and the teachers have no right to dump it all back into the parents' laps.

What is the Remedy? One remedy for juvenile delinquency is to repeal certain state laws as to employing minors. Boys who are strong enough to destroy buildings are strong enough to work in a store or on a farm. The original purposes of these labor laws may have been sound; but they have been carried too far. Corporal punishment may do something for these boys when the schools are in session; (Continued on Page Two)

Los Angeles, Calif., July 27—(AP)—An apparent victim of amnesia, Dr. Alfred Russell, 41-year-old Chapel Hill, N. C. scientist, was in care of Monroe C. Kidder, an associate here today.

Dr. Russell was found yesterday in a city jail here, after having been reported missing shortly after his arrival in Los Angeles six days ago. He had been picked up by police three days ago in a suburban area, and had been booked on suspicion of vagrancy. Kidder said that Dr. Russell came to Los Angeles to join the staff of the drug and oil plant division of the California Department of Education.

Major William E. Spence of the GBI, said: "It looks like it was a rehearsed affair. It looks like it might have been planned since the Negro was first confined to jail."

He referred to Roger Malcolm, 27-year-old Negro who had made bond on a charge of stabbing his employer, a white man. Malcolm's wife and George Dorsey and his wife were the mob's victims. Although an announcement from Washington said the Federal Bureau of Investigation would investigate the case for the Civil Rights Section of the Justice Department, an assistant district attorney said: "So far it seems to be a state case."

NEW AND USED AUTO PRICES ARE SET BACK

June 30 Ceilings In Effect Temporarily; Porter Asks Consumer's Aid.

Washington, July 27—Ceiling prices of both new and used automobiles are restored to June 30 levels, OPA announced today, although higher prices on new automobiles will be issued shortly.

Pending announcement of new price schedules, all transactions must conform to the June 30 ceilings even in cases where the buyers agreed during the interim, when price controls were off, to pay in excess of the ceiling and made a down payment, the agency ruled.

Ceilings of used cars were dropped four per cent as of July 1, a reduction which became effective automatically with the OPA revival act. This was the regular semi-annual reduction to take account of depreciation.

The forthcoming ceilings on new cars—which some officials will approximate $100 on popular price models—are based on a requirement of the new law restoring dealers' prewar profit margins which OPA had reduced.

OPA Administrator Paul Porter predicted today the new price law will prevent a runaway inflation but warned that some prices—particularly of clothing—are going to climb.

While his re-born agency scrambled to issue 30 to 40 new price increase orders on top of yesterday's 143, Porter appealed in an address broadcast by ABC for consumer help in enforcing the OPA act.

"The law authorizes price increases that neither you nor I would like to see," he said, "but it will provide a real measure of protection for millions of Americans who are simply having no reserves with which to ride out an inflationary storm."

"When prices and rents went on vacation a month ago, they gave us a taste of what a serious inflation might be like."

Farmers Pleased With Leaf Sales

Valdosta, Ga., July 27—(AP)—Georgia and Florida flue-cured tobacco growers looked back on the first week of 1946 sales today and noted with satisfaction that they had disposed of nearly 18,000,000 pounds of leaf at an average price of 44.75 a pound.

Actual sales on the 17 Georgia and two Florida markets for the first three sales days were 17,890,636 pounds.

All markets are closed today. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported price increases as ranging from $1 to $6 a hundred pounds yesterday, with sales continuing heavy.

Good lemon cutters sold for a high of $53, up $3 from Thursday while best thin nondescript went for $12.75, a decline of $5.25. Low orange lemons were up $6 at $39 a hundred pounds.

Yesterday's sales on the 19 markets were 8,937,354 pounds at an average price of $45.22, this was 96 cents higher than Thursday's average.

Washington, July 27—(AP)—A sharp line between the title of one agency and another. Usually, and rightly, you think of a department as being one of the 10 cabinet departments, like the department of agriculture, or state or treasury.

But some units inside an agency are called departments—just because someone wanted to call them that—like the "power department" or the "management service department."

An office and a bureau may really mean the same things, or different things. The main divisions of the State Department are called offices, like the office of European affairs or the office of far eastern affairs.

But in the postoffice department a bureau is the equivalent of an office in the state department. All this is confusing enough. But when the Senate committee created to investigate non-essential government spending took a look at the interior department set-up, it threw up its hands and said hodge-podge.

The interior department has branches like these: The office of fishery conservation, the division of territories and island possessions, the U. S. board of geographical names. (Continued on Page Two)

Shadows Already Hang Over Paris Conference

Clashes Between Byrnes And Molotov Inevitable On Balkan Issues; Truman And Cabinet To See Delegates Depart.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, July 27—(AP)—A sharp conflict already is shaping up for the Paris peace conference between Secretary of State Byrnes and Russian Foreign Minister Molotov over Soviet reparation demands on Hungary.

The United States is insisting that a new economic deal in Hungary is essential to establishment of a firm peace in Europe. It has protested strongly Red Army seizures of Hungarian foodstuffs and Soviet removal of Hungarian factories as well as current industrial production, contending the result is economic chaos in the Balkan nation.

The protest, made public by the State Department last night, highlights the difficulties confronting Byrnes as he sets out today for Paris and the 21-nation conference, opening Monday, which will write peace treaties for the former enemy states of Hungary, Italy, Bulgaria, Romania and Finland.

President Truman arranged to see his Secretary of State aboard his plane at Washington airport about noon. There was more than the usual fanfare scheduled for the departure. For the White House said Byrnes' fellow cabinet members and Chief Justice Vinson would also join in the send-off.

Byrnes briefly reviewed some of his Paris projects at a news conference. He said that he planned on Monday to confer with the three American members of a joint Anglo-American committee on Palestine.

The aim is to fix American policy on the committee's proposal for partitioning Palestine between Jews and Arabs in connection with the plan for immigration of 100,000 Jews.

It was learned from informed persons that the British are ready to accept the principle of the immediate immigration of 100,000 Jews, as urged by Mr. Truman but feel the project cannot be carried out until after further conferences with Jewish and Arab leaders.

On another aspect of his Paris mission, Byrnes said that he expected American troops to be withdrawn from Italy within 90 days after the Italian peace treaty is signed.

Byrnes also said that the Paris conference both minority and majority views can be fully presented. He explained this is because procedures are proposed which would prevent any majority in a committee from overriding minority opinion and preventing its presentation to the full conference.

On most major issues, he made clear, the United States is already committed to act with the other great powers—Russia, Britain and France—as a result of compromise agreements made in the recent foreign minister conferences. However, on issues on which no final commitment has been made the United States will have the right to fight for its own solution. This may mean conflict with Russia on several points of Balkan policy, particularly such matters as free navigation of the Danube.

Impatient Congress Awaiting Vacation

Legislative Odds And Ends Stand Between Congressmen And Longest Holiday In Eight Years; Only Two 'Musts' Before House.

Washington, July 27—(AP)—Only a few odds and ends of legislation—some with a "must" rating—stand between Congress and its longest vacation in eight years.

With many legislators holding week-end travel reservations, congressional leaders mapped out a 11 day of work today in hopes the legislative barriers to adjournment may be demolished by nightfall.

They fear that it may be impossible to obtain a quorum to transact any important business next week, even though final adjournment is not contemplated until next Wednesday or Thursday. Without a quorum, controversial legislation can be blocked in either Senate or House by a single member's objection.

All during the war years Congress was in virtually continuous session. Last year it got only a brief vacation.

The sine die adjournment which leaders plan would mean this Congress is through unless called back into special session. The new Congress elected in November will take over next January.

Two "must" bills top the House docket. One would extend the powers of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation until next June 30. It passes (Continued on Page Two)

Titles Confuse Many

The Government's Many Departments, Divisions, Agencies, Bureaus, Offices And Boards Grew Up Like A Confused Family; Congress Trying To Clean House

Washington, July 27—(AP)—Does it get you down when you cannot figure out what all the names and terms and titles inside the government mean?

Don't worry. You have plenty of company. What's the difference between a department, an office, a division, a bureau, an authority, a board, a commission? Is there a difference between them? Sometimes. Sometimes not. Why?

It just happened that way over the years. The government is like an apartment house which was built about 150 years ago to house so many families. Each family had its own apartment. The government was small then.

But the children grew up. Some stayed single, some got married, and some had children of their own. Some got divorced. But all stayed in the same house or tried to. It got to be a big crowd.

They had to build wings on the some new floors, put up partitions between the rooms to make new rooms, double up, and even build a couple of new houses, all connected with the old one.

Because of the intermarriage and divorces their names got scrambled. So since the government grew up in that haphazard way, don't feel

HEIRENS WILL CONFESS ROLE IN SLAYINGS

Defense Attorney Says Client Ready To Admit Three Murders.

Chicago, July 27—(AP)—Malachy Coghlan, attorney for William Meirens, announced today the youth would offer to submit to state's attorney William J. Tuohy confessions of the kidnap-killing of Suzanne Degnan, the "lipstick" slaying of Frances Brown and the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Josephine Ross.

"The defense feels that the time has come for Heirens to make known by confessions to the state's attorney the facts of the various crimes charged against him," he said.

"There is no need to quibble about the number of homicides," he added. "There are three. They are the Degnan girl, the ex-Wave Miss Brown and Mrs. Josephine Ross."

"The defense will make known its position to the state's attorney, probably Tuesday, and will submit to any procedure he subscribes." The youth, the attorney confirmed, discussed the three slayings at a conference in the county jail yesterday with his parents and lawyers.

Coghlan said the 17 year old University of Chicago student had agreed to sign any statement he makes to the state's attorney.

Tuohy said earlier that he had not been informed of any confession but that he would "like to have one" if it could be accomplished in a legal manner.

The offer of a confession would solve the Ross slaying without any evidence having been obtained to (Continued on Page Two)

Hospital Suite For Truman Use

Washington, July 27—(AP)—The Army and Navy Register, unofficial service publication, said today that one wing of the army's Walter Reed Hospital will be remodeled into a suite for emergency use of President Truman and his family.

It said the contract already has been let and calls for a bedroom, living room and reception room for the President's personal accommodation; four additional bedrooms; two sitting rooms, a diet kitchen, a room for guards and a solarium.

It estimated cost is $148,000. Special facilities were provided for the late President Roosevelt at the Navy's medical center, Bethesda, Md.

Col. Wallace Graham, the president's physician, told reporters he has been working since his appointment to obtain a place where the president could not only have adequate facilities, but privacy and the protection of the secret service always demands for a chief executive.

ONLY GOD AND HIS POWER

We could learn a great many lessons about the power and providence of God if we took the time to examine the essential nature of certain modern inventions.

Radio transmission speaks volumes on the power of the unseen. No one would suspect, did he not actually know from experience that the atmosphere round about him is charged with messages and all varieties of musical programs. As soon as we buy a receiving set, attach it and turn the dial, we suddenly become aware of the conditions in the unseen world about us which we never suspected.

Also we can take the microscope and looking at the smallest bodies in the created universe see there a portion which we call a Creator. We turn from the microscope to the telescope, and as we look out over the majestic heavens we see the hand of God keeping the planets on the age-old tracks of their orbits. The palmist said that the heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth his handiwork. If this same palmist were living today, he would have much to say about the mystery of the radio and about the power of God being shown forth in the marvelous advances man is making in science.

There is no such thing as Nature. If we really have religious faith let us recognize Nature as God's way of working in the physical universe. There is no other power but God Himself.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By HOWARD LOBSON

(Last of Three Articles)
Washington - War halted the Federal Public Housing Authority (FPHA) low-rent program with material shortages and the more pressing need for emergency housing in industrial areas.

FPHA's subsidiary, the United States Housing Authority (USHA), was able to get ahead and build 53,000 war housing units with low-rent funds. However, the war scrapped immediate hopes for 23,000 more units in 167 low-rent projects. These cannot be revived until more money is provided by the Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill.

This measure has passed the Senate and is now before a House committee. Wilson W. Wyatt, national housing coordinator, supports it as an intrinsic part of his broad program for veterans' housing, because it would make low-rent homes available for veterans. About 2,170,000 veterans and service-men's families now are living in public housing.

Tremendous as it was, FPHA's war housing job didn't move the government very far along toward answering the great national question - "Where can I get a place to live?"

FPHA says 1,200,000 families had been forced to double up by last October. By the end of this year, 3,400,000 more will need homes. About 2,800,000 of these latter will be the families of veterans.

That is where Wyatt and his veterans' program come in to give home construction a two-year boost. He has $400,000,000 to spend on stimulating the production of building materials and is authorized to guarantee a market for prefabricated houses. This was provided by the Fatman Housing Act.

With the Wyatt program, FPHA Commissioner Philip M. Klutznick, "we are trying to telescope into two years a volume of building that otherwise would take four or five years."

It is an ambitious plan to get homes at prices veterans can afford to pay. It includes the hope that passage of the Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill, or a similar one sponsored by Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.), will permit an expanded low-rent program to march along hand-in-hand with accelerated private building.

Given the authority and money proposed in either of those bills, FPHA could get started on a plan to build 125,000 low-rent units a year for the next four years. Local housing authorities already have asked for help on projects totaling 36,000 units to be built over the next three years.

The government's double-barreled program for private and public building is aimed at what Klutznick calls "the goal of good homes and better neighborhoods for American veterans."

... leaves the job of the government to cut out for it by this fact:

A real estate gap - at least 10 percent - is left between the top of the low-income market and the lowest possible income group that private enterprise can serve. We must recognize that public housing is here to stay.

New Point of View Needed

President Truman is not the only person who is cokeyed on labor problems. There are just as bad examples among the legislators of every state and especially among the school committees of most communities. Labor legislation is necessary and I am for it, but it should apply equally to employers and young people. Furthermore, habits of work should be taught in our public schools along with French, Latin, Music, and the so-called social studies. But first of all, churches, YMCAs, YMHA's, CYOs and other groups interested in reducing juvenile delinquency should get the laws changed so as to encourage names, the bureau of reclamation, the geological survey and the national park service.

The same Senate committee gathered a list of government agencies doing similar, identical or related work and found that as many as 29 agencies may have units doing the same or similar work.

Here's part of the list, showing the number of units, and what they are concerned with:

Housing, 22; standards and inspection, 17; map making, 24; education, 16; waterpower and power, 16; insurance, 22; investigations, 46.

Some undoubtedly duplicate one another's work and might be eliminated or rolled into one.

A year ago President Truman asked Congress for power to merge a batch of government agencies. Congress gave it to him and last May he offered a plan.

It did not pretend to be a complete reorganization - job-which would be a huge task-but propose merging the work of about 20 government agencies. Congress spiked some of the plan, approved some last week.

No one is suggesting a complete overhauling of the government.

The legislation also gives the government, through the commission, a virtual monopoly on inventions and patents in the field of atomic energy, provides the death penalty for major violations of security with intent to injure the United States, and directs that a member of the armed forces head the division of military application under the commission.

Among the many names mentioned as possible selections for members of the commission are those of O. Max Gardner, undersecretary and David E. Lillenthal, TVA chairman.

McMahon said he had no individual to suggest to the President but wanted outstanding men named to the commission.

The other authorizes a loan of $75,000,000 to the infant Philippine republic. Without it, administration leaders said, the Philippines, which became an independent nation on July 4, won't have any money to run their government.

Also awaiting House consideration are bills to authorize a $100,000,000 program of cancer research, to provide automobiles for legless veterans, and to give states control of oil rich tidelands.

The Senate faces a fight over a House-passed bill exempting railroad rate-making from anti-trust law provisions.

It also has around the corner the usual year-end filibuster against a House-passed bill outlawing poll taxes as a prerequisite to voting for federal officeholders. That may come up Monday.

tie the youth to that crime.

In the Degan case, the prosecution has announced the youth's finger and palm prints were found on the ransom note. In the slaying of Miss Brown, 33 year old former wave, the states attorney said his finger prints had been found on the door of her bathroom.

George Subrunski, a witness, also came forward in the Degan case, identifying Heirens as a youth he saw carrying a paper shopping bag near the Degan home at about the time the six year old girl was kidnapped.

Formal indictments charging Heirens with the Degan and Brown slayings were returned by the Cook County Grand Jury yesterday.

The defense move is an obvious strategy to save the strapping youth from a possible penalty of death in the electric chair.

Charleston, S. C., July 27.—(AP)—Benjamin Rhett Heyward, 65, a Charleston business man, was killed and Alderman Charles F. Middleton was injured yesterday when lightning struck a boat in which they were fishing with two other men.

The other two in the boat were Herman G. Leiding and Isaac M. Bryan, also of Charleston. The party was fishing in the Inland Waterway at the Isle of Palms.

N. C. High School Athletic Ruling

Chapel Hill, July 27.—(AP)—The executive committee of the North Carolina High School Athletic Association has decided to maintain the present age limit for high school athletes.

At a meeting here yesterday, the committee voted that a student to be eligible for conference competition this year, must not have reached his 20th birthday before October 1, 1946.

The committee also decided that members of veterans schools are ineligible; that a returning veteran may resume the athletic status that he held at the time he left school; that a student must have passed three standard courses during the 90-day-90-day term immediately preceding approval, and that 60 per cent attendance be required.

IN MEMORY. In sad and loving remembrance of our dear son, Weylan Tucker who departed this life one year ago for our country in India, near Cherrapun.

The month of July is here again; To us the saddest of all the years for it was on the 27th day of July our dear boy passed away.

Your life was a life of service. You lived for others the true. Whenever a friend was needed, 'Twas there we could always find you.

Upright, and faithful in all your ways. A beautiful character; to the end of your days. Always devoted, good and kind; What a wonderful memory you left behind.

In life we loved you dearly; In death we do the same. I often sit and think of you And wish you were here again.

Day by day I sadly miss you. Friends may think the wound is healed, But they little know the grief that in my heart is concealed.

We never thought death so near. But only those who have lost can tell. The pain of parting without farewell.

God knew your load was heavy. Though you never complained. So He took you home to Heaven Where there is no grief or pain.

Dr. Cooke said that no immediate changes in the administrative organization of the college are forthcoming.

He also complimented the faculty and staff for their loyalty to me and for the sincere intelligent efforts they have made to bring the college through a trying period.

KIWANIS HAD GREAT NIGHT

Carl McKinney And Charles Whedbee Feature 'Broadcast'.

By CHESTER WALSH Carl McKinney's "broadcast" program at the Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting last night, with Charles Whedbee as master of ceremonies, was the most entertaining presentation of the year, and the Kiwanians were "children of a larger growth" for the time being and everybody had a good time. President Ed Rawl presided over the meeting.

The program was standard and unique; the radio equipment was there, and the two veteran radio announcers worked with the same seriousness they would on a presidential broadcast. The funny thing about it was, the Kiwanians were "not on the air," but they liked it.

The program opened with some songs by Mrs. Margaret James with Mrs. Christine Smith at the piano. It was a "truth or consequence" program. Failure to answer a question and the victim had to pay the consequence.

Diminutive Police Chief Jim Tanner had to give an imitation of a stout woman getting into a "size too small" girdle. That was a whiz! J. A. Collins essayed the role of a motorist starting an old car on the road that wouldn't start.

Dignified and erudite Dave Moore, Jr. did the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet." Felix Scheller did a dog and mule act that was a hit. Guy Smith did a hula-hula dance in straw skirt that won the prize presented by Carl McKinney.

Judge Dink James did a U. S. battle cruiser act and mowed down the Jap ships. Rev. Richard Hardaway shaved with his hands tied behind him, and how he did fuss! He got 'em off. How did he do it? Ask Tige Gardner and Eli Bloom.

ROCKS DEFEAT GREENIES 7-4

Two Runs In Sixth Decided Game; Return Match Tonight.

Two pitchers, Guder and Kennedy, pooled their talents last night to help Rocky Mount to a 7-4 score over Greenville.

Ballam tossed the entire game for the Greenies, allowing seven hits; Frank Guder gave up six, Kennedy none.

The Rocks racked up three runs in the third and were matched in the fourth inning by Greenville when Smith homered with two on. The score remained tied through the fifth. The winning runs were made in the sixth; Balentine walked—and was brought home on Colombo's three-egger. Colombo came in on Monday's single putting the score at 5-3.

The seventh inning saw the Greenies bring in their last run, while the Rocks tallied twice again. Greenville plays a return match with Rocky Mount here tonight. Game time: 7:45.

Regarded as washed up when he was waived out of the American League after failing to win a single game in 1941 and last approaching his 40th birthday, Lefty Fritz Ostermuller is proving to be one of the finest pitchers in the National League this season.

Toiling for the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates, the ever-smiling Dutchman has managed to shape up an 8-6 won-and-lost record. That tells only part of the story. Of Osty's half-dozen defeats, four came by one run and twice his mates failed to score a single run for him.

Ostermuller has started 15 times this season and has finished his last 13 straight during which time he has not allowed more than four runs in any single game, and that on only two occasions.

The Quincy, Ill., veteran, now in his 13th year under the big top, achieved his first shut-out victory of the campaign last night. The triumph was doubly sweet to him as it came over the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers, who shunted him to the minors two years ago.

Fritz halted the Dodgers with seven harmless hits in fashioning a 5-0 victory which atoned for his 3-0 loss to the Flatbush flock a week ago in Pittsburgh. Vic Lombardi, who slung that shutout over the Bucs, was the victim, going down to his fifth defeat as against 10 successes.

The third place Chicago Cubs failed to take advantage of Brooklyn's lapse by losing to the Philadelphia Phillies 2-1 when first baseman Frank McCormick singled with two out in the sixth inning to drive in both Phillies runs.

The Boston Red Sox retained their 11-game lead over the New York Yankees in the American League by dumping the St. Louis Browns 8-5 as the Yankees were beating the Chicago White Sox 6-2.

Virgil (Fire) Trucks spotted the Philadelphia Athletics three runs in the first inning and then proceeded to pitch and bat the Detroit Tigers to a 4-3 win.

League leading batter Jim Vernon drove in two runs with his sixth home run and scored the winning run in the ninth inning as the Washington Senators shaded the Cleveland Indians 5-4.

In the National League's only day contest, the New York Giants defeated the Cincinnati Reds 3-2 when Billy Rigney climaxed a two-run ninth inning rally with a single that brought in Buddy Blattner from second with the deciding run.

The Boston Braves joined the Cards in a day off.

BOYS LEAGUE BASEBALL

The Cardinals from the Training School won their fourth game in a row yesterday morning at the expense of the Giants at the Third St. park by the score of 2 to 1. The game was close all the way and the winners did not make the deciding run until the last inning.

With the bases loaded and only one out Larry Flye, who had played a great fielding game, threw wild to third on an easy double play and the winning run scored.

Both teams got a total of four hits. John Sideris got two for the Giants and Floye and Williams got the other two. Foley, Farley, Woolfolk and White got the hits for the Cards.
