Tampering With Mead Files Told

FBI Brought Into Year-Old Case In Which Pre-Dawn Tampering With Files Covering Garsson Munitions Firm Is Revealed; Unknown Visitor Knew Details Of Committee Work

By JACK BELL
Washington, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Senate war investigating committee turned over to the FBI today a year old case involving alleged pre-dawn tampering with committee files concerning the Garsson munitions combine.

An official familiar with the request to the FBI told a reporter the committee has received reports that about a year ago, when it was carrying on a preliminary inquiry into the arms-making enterprises, its office files were molested by an early-morning visitor.

The committee's investigation of this incident, it was reported, showed that some copies of the files concerning the Garsson case were removed from the building, copies made and the originals returned before 5 a. m.

The official said it was fair to suspect that some persons then connected with the committee may have been involved, since there was no disarray in the files. The alleged nocturnal visit was said to have come to light only recently through a statement by an informer.

When the committee reportedly considered attempting to unravel the mystery with its own staff, Mead was said to have decided that the case called for FBI work instead.

The committee already has been confronted with one incident in which Thomas O'Connell, a committee investigator working on the Garsson case, testified he was handed $500 expense money in a Chicago hotel by a former committee investigator as an advance on a $10,000 political campaign job he had been asked to accept.

O'Connell testified that the job offer came from Benjamin F. Fields, a press agent whose Washington connection with Henry Garsson and Murray Garsson the committee attempted to investigate.

Fields claimed constitutional immunity when he was brought to the stand.

O'Connell's disclosures—he said he turned down the offer and gave (Continued on Page 5)

Will Check Klan For Relations With Bund

Atlanta, Aug. 7.—(AP)—State Attorney General Eugene Cook today directed his assistant, Dan Duke, to investigate the possibility of connections between the Nazi Bund and the Ku Klux Klan.

Duke said he would leave today to confer with Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein of New York and Attorney General Walter Van Riper of New Jersey.

The state of Georgia has instituted suit in Fulton County courts to revoke the national charter of the Klan.

"I am particularly interested," Cook said, "in the joint meetings of the Nazi Bund and the Ku Klux Klan which were held in New Jersey immediately preceding World War II."

Both attorneys general have volunteered to give the state of Georgia any evidence they have which can be properly introduced upon the trial of this case.

United Nations Relief And Rehabilitation Administration Prepares For Its Own Passing In Geneva; New Agencies Prepared To Take Over Vast Program

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

By GLENN BABBE (For DeWitt Mackenzie)
Overshadowed by the noisy peace conference at Paris, another international gathering in Geneva is grappling with the vast dislocations and sufferings left by the war. In the home of the defunct League of Nations the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration is preparing for its own passing but with the hope that other agencies will embody its spirit and mission.

There is grave uncertainty whether this can or will be done. The time left for UNRRA grows short and the United Nations, for all the good will and high intentions of its champions, moves ponderously and slowly, dependent of decisions of its unit nations, in some of which governmental processes are none too rapid.

The Geneva meeting is the fifth general council of UNRRA, and its last. The three nations which have borne most of the financial burden

New Charge Is Brought Against Chicago Youth

Jurors Name Heirens In True Bill Accusing Murdering Mrs. Ross; Detailed Story Of Slayings Unfolded

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The State moved today to wrap up its case against William Heirens by obtaining an indictment, charging the 24-year-old possessor of a dual personality with the murder of Mrs. Josephine Ross, one of the three killings he confessed.

In unfolding a recalled story of his incredible criminal career yesterday, he set forth how he knifed Mrs. Ross, a 43-year-old widow, in her apartment in June, 1945, although he had not been indicted for this murder.

His confession solved the fiendish kidnaping, strangling and dismemberment of Edna Louise Degnan, 6, on Jan. 7, and the shooting and stabbing of Miss Frances Brown, a forger of Miss Frances Brown, on December 10, 1945.

Within less than an hour after Wilbert Crowley, first assistant state's attorney announced yesterday would go before the grand jury, the jurors were reported to have named Heirens in a true bill formally accusing him of murdering Mrs. Ross.

Heirens will be arraigned in court tomorrow morning.

RUSSIA KNEW JAP WEAKNESS

Okada Says Soviet Played No Part In Japan's Defeat

Tokyo, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Adm. Ketsuke Okada, a key figure in the surrender campaign of a year ago, said today that Soviet officials knew six months before Russia entered the war of Japan's desire to surrender, but gave no indication of having transmitted "pleading peace feelers to Russia's Allies."

The former premier and elder statesman gave his behind the scenes version in what he said was his first interview with a foreign correspondent since the occupation.

An official representative of the foreign office made the first peace overtures in February, 1945, during conversations with the Soviet ambassador to Japan, Okada asserted.

"Russia's part in the Pacific was had nothing to do with Japan's desire to sue for peace," said the 79-year-old admiral on the anniversary of surrender.

"Peace could have come many months earlier if Russia had acted promptly in relaying Japan's request."

Okada said that other peace overtures were made. (Continued on Page Four)

WANTS HIGHER COTTON PRICE

Sen. Thomas Says 50-Cents A Pound 'Not Too Much'

Washington, August 7.—(AP)—Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee said today that "50 cents per pound for cotton wouldn't be too much" considering the cost farmers must pay for labor and supplies.

Cotton farmers are rapidly going out of business because they cannot obtain a sufficient price for their product, Thomas said, and the only solution is a price increase.

"Fifty cents a pound for cotton wouldn't be too much considering the high cost of machinery and the cost of farm labor, higher than the fact that the farmer must pay more (Continued on Page Four)

High Prices For Leaf Predicted

Raleigh, Aug. 7.—(AP)—A prediction that tobacco prices would remain high for the remainder of the 1946 sales season and would be high in 1947 unless conditions soon change, was voiced here last night by James Thigpen, specialist with the tobacco section of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Today's prices are so high, it almost looks like a run-away market," said Thigpen speaking at a dinner last night in a campaign to sell common stock of the newly-organized five-year tobacco stabilization corporation was launched.

The cooperative is designed to place a floor under tobacco prices at 90 per cent of parity by making loans on leaf that sells below a stabilizing price. However, growers participating in the program must be members of the cooperative and hold at least one 45 share of its common stock.

President Carl T. Ricks of Winston-Salem, president, said the cooperative would raise $100,000 in stock—$70,000 in North Carolina and $30,000 each in Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia.

BYRD WINNER OF VIRGINIA DEMO PRIMARY

Opposed By CIO-PAC And Intra-Party Split, Earns Nomination

Richmond, Va., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Senator Harry F. Byrd, opposed by the CIO-PAC and challenged within his own party for the first time since he entered the Senate, was nominated in Virginia's Democratic primary by a marking of more than 50,000 votes, unofficial returns showed today.

The record-breaking balloting in Tuesday's primary also brought the renomination of three Democratic members of the House of Representatives but defeat of Rep. Ralph H. Daughton of Norfolk by Peter H. Hart, Jr., 43-year-old Norfolk county farmer, who ran up a two-to-one margin in the Second district.

In the Fifth district congressional race for the nomination to succeed Thomas G. Burch, recently appointed to the Senate, Thomas B. Stanley of Henry county speaker of the Virginia House of Delegates, easily won over Linsey Moore of Pittsylvania county, a fellow member of the State Legislature.

The representatives renominated are J. Vaughan Gary of Richmond in the Third district; Lindsey Almond, Jr., of Roanoke, in the sixth and Howard W. Smith of Alexandria, in the Eighth.

Returns from all but 201 of the State's 1,713 precincts gave Senator Byrd 135,811 to 79,833 for Martin A. Hutchinson, Richmond attorney who was making his first bid for elective office. The total vote, which probably will be close to 220,000, exceeds by a wide margin the previous high of 194,274 cast in the 1937 gubernatorial primary.

All of yesterday's Democratic candidates will face Republican opposition in the November general election, and Senator Byrd also will be opposed by Socialist and Independent candidates.

Senator Byrd, repeatedly referring to himself as No. 1 on a CIO-PAC purge list, made the opposition of this branch of organized labor one of the main issues of his campaign. He also pointed to his 13-year Senate record and particularly his championing of measures directed at governmental economy and mutual responsibility for labor (Continued on Page Four)

CIO Emphasizes Its New Policy

Washington, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The CIO today asserted its new—though temporary—policy to concentrate on holding down prices rather than making higher wage demands.

The CIO's "Economic Outlook" stated that unions now could "accomplish more by price action than by wage action" to maintain present income. This follows the general policy laid down by the CIO's executive board at its July meeting, a spokesman said. The board will meet again Aug. 15.

Detroit, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The issue of whether to "hold the line" on wages or seek increases to offset increased living costs was worked before the CIO United Auto Workers executive board today by the UAW Chrysler Division.

Norman Matthews, director of the UAW Chrysler unit which claims 85,000 members, asked the board for permission to reopen the national contract with Chrysler Corporation to seek wage adjustments.

Informed observers forecast that the board would table the matter until the national CIO wage-price conference at Washington next week.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Batavia Metal Products, Inc., part of a mid-western munitions combine which is being investigated by a Senate committee, was sold last night to two New York industrialists.

Sidney S. Gorham, an attorney for the firm, disclosed the sale of a bankruptcy hearing against the company before Referee Martin Ward today.

Gorham said Dr. Henry Garsson, head of the Batavia concern sold all Batavia stock last night to James Stein, president of Metallaplast Co., Inc., which produces metal and plastic products in New York, and Herman Staff, head of the Diamond Production Company, also of New York, which produces industrial diamonds.

Only yesterday the government was granted permission to join in a petition for bankruptcy against the Batavia concern which originally was filed by six creditor companies last Friday. The creditor companies and the government claiming Batavia and a subsidiary, the Challenge Co., owed them over $1,000,000 asked that a receiver be appointed immediately.

Tax Evaders Send In 'Conscience' Money

Washington, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The treasury estimated today its drive against black marketeers and other tax evaders had lifted fiscal 1946 tax collections $170,000,000 by joggling thousands of tax payers into "sudden recoveries of memory."

A record "conscience payment" of $2,000,000 by a certain taxpayer, his associates and his company, led the parade of additional tax turn-ins, the Bureau of Internal Revenue said.

Truman Victory

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Truman and backers of his move to unseat Rep. Roger C. Slaughter came out on top today (Wednesday) in what the Missouri Congress member had called "a fight to determine the future course of the Democratic Party."

Complete returns from the Fifth Missouri congressional district gave Enos A. Axtell, 37-year-old former navy lieutenant, the Democratic nomination by 2,741 votes over the two-term incumbent, Mr. Truman had said: "If he's right, I'm wrong."

Jerome Walsh, former OPA enforcement attorney, ran a distant third.

Axtell's November opponent will be Albert L. Reeves, Jr., ex-lieutenant colonel of the army engineers. He was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

Slaughter was one of the few congressional incumbents defeated.

Scheduled to play their first matches in the women's singles division were Margaret Osborne of San Francisco, Louise Brown of Beverly Hills, Calif., Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd of Hidden Valley, Calif., and Doris Hart of Miami Fla., seeded in that order at the top of the list.

British Compromised Amendment On Procedure Adopted

Over Molotov's Opposition; Five Former Enemy States Will Participate In Deliberations Beginning Saturday

By LYNN HEINZLERING
Paris, Aug. 7.—The conference of Paris wound up its work on procedure in the rules committee today after settling a Marathon argument on voting machinery and invited five former enemy states to participate in its deliberations beginning Saturday.

Under an American amendment, as altered at Russian suggestion, the representatives of Italy, Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland can be heard both in committee and in the full conference sessions on questions of the treaties concerning them.

The committee had adjourned at 2:30 a. m. after 20 hours of debate in which it was finally able to overcome the embittered opposition of Soviet Russia and five other members her bloc to adopt a British compromise on the voting machinery.

The compromise proposal, adopted by a 15-6 vote after 20 hours of debate, would require a two-thirds majority for decisions of the 21-nation peace conference, but would permit measures adopted by a simple majority to go to the big four foreign ministers council as recommendations. All decisions of the conference are subject to the approval of the council.

Soviet Russia had held out from the first for a two-thirds majority rule and opposed the British amendment permitting simple majority recommendations. The Netherlands and Australia spearheaded the fight against the Russian position.

The rules committee was to convene at 4 p. m. (10 a. m. EST) today to complete final details of procedure. A 36-plenary session was scheduled.

The compromise on voting procedure, as well as other rules approved by the committee, must be ratified. (Continued on Page Four)

German Industries Ready For Russia

Schwinturt, Germany, Aug. 7.—(AP)—German industrial plants in the American occupation zone are being rapidly dismantled for delivery to Russia as an advance payment on reparations.

U. S. reparations officers reported that 60 per cent of the 145 plants approved so far for reparations in the American zone have been disassembled. Of these industries, 50 per cent were aircraft and armament factories.

New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)—R. J. Reynolds, III, wealthy tobacco heir and actress Marianne O'Brien plan to be married at 6 p. m. (EDT) today at the East 52nd street apartment of the bride's mother.

Friends said the couple would go aboard Reynolds' yacht for his island honeymoon off the coast of Georgia.

Reynolds, former treasurer of the Democratic National Committee and one-time mayor of Winston-Salem, N. C., and his former wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Dillard Reynolds, were divorced last June.

Miss O'Brien is a former Warner Brothers starlet and has appeared in Broadway musicals.

The marriage license application, made in her real name Marian Byrne, gave her age as 29, Reynolds' as 40.

Both Delegates Realize American-Russian Relations Are Worse Than Generally Recognized And Getting Worse; Terrific Burden Said Beginning To Show

By JAMES MARLOW

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER (Substituting for James Marlow)
Washington, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes is a mild-mannered man with a quality of tempered steel under the manners.

In international conferences, he is a hard hitter but he can take it, too.

The same may be said of Vyacheslav Molotov except that, far from being mild-mannered, he is a tough talking old Bolshevik, who seems to enjoy a good fight—and usually a drink with his adversary afterward.

On these two men rests the burden of peace or no peace in the atomic age which was one year old yesterday, if you date it from Hiroshima. And there are signs that the terrific burden and the constant battling are beginning to tell. What this may mean is not presently clear. The part of either not recognition by both that American-Russian relations are even (Continued on Page Four)

Red Oak News

Seven beautiful pins were presented to as many members of Red Oak Sunday school last Sunday morning. These people had not missed a Sunday from Sunday school for the past year.

It is quite an honor for one person in a family to receive a pin, but when four people, in fact, the whole family receives one, it is a signal honor. We had a whole family to receive pins. They were Mr. and Mrs. Amos Evans and their children, Betty Lane and Amos Ray. Something else about this same family, too, that is very interesting. Mrs. Evans is one of the best Sunday school teachers to be found anywhere and her daughter is in her class and Mr. Evans also teaches a class of young boys and girls and his son is a member of that class. Isn't that a wonderful record?

And then two fine young men were presented pins also. They were Lenwood Heath and Charles Stocks. We are proud of these boys and we hope that nothing prevents them from receiving the second year pin another year hence. Mrs. B. L. Tyson received a pin also.

Friends of Miss Minnie Ella Smith, daughter of our good friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith of Winterville, will be sorry to learn that she recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Pitt General hospital. She is convalescing nicely at her home now.

Mrs. Ed Powell of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Emily Pickard of Durham visited their Jenkins relatives last week-end.

Mr. John Crawford, who has been critically ill, is very much improved at this time, we are glad to report.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By HARRI L. DOUGLAS

ATHEISTS IN FOXHOLES

This axiom—"There are no atheists in foxholes"—was heard often during the past war. The idea behind it was that men exposed to the danger of sudden death universally turned to God for protection and salvation.

In the first place, it is evident from the report of chaplains that this statement is an exaggeration. The consensus of opinion seems to be that men in foxholes largely follow previous behavior patterns in the matter of religion. Those who had faith found it a tower of strength in their desperate hours; those who had none did their duty with equal devotion, but, we may be sure, with an emptiness of feeling behind it the extent of which we can only surmise.

In the second place we may question whether many conversions took place under the deadly danger of the battlefield. Although there have been many examples of sudden conversion, as a general rule the process is rather slow and gradual—not a quick flash of light, but rather the slow transformation of night into day.

Religious faith cannot be turned on like a faucet in times of crisis and turned off under conditions of normal living. The statement that there are no atheists in foxholes will only be true when religion is strong enough to banish atheism before the grim necessity of foxholes occurs.

Russia Knew . . .

tures, which likewise remained unanswered until the Potsdam declaration, were made through the Japanese ambassador in Moscow. The plans were to send the late Prince Fumimaro Kono as a special emissary to further the peace attempt. Kono, three times premier, killed himself after the surrender rather than face arrest as a war criminal suspect.

Ozaka expressed belief that "if Russia had acted promptly there would be a very strong emergence of communism in Japan."

Garson Firm . . .

U. S. District Judge William J. Campbell appointed Referee Ward to hear the case, and at preliminary hearings Ward declared he had not found sufficient evidence to warrant that a receiver be named. At today's hearing, the government claimed that an incomplete audit showed Batavia received at least $664,675 in overpayments on war contracts, and the six credit companies claimed they had been unable to collect debts totalling $18,019.96.

Orman said the purchasers had not assumed the debts of the Batavia Company. Joseph H. Schwartz, another lawyer for Batavia, said Garson had practically given away his stock so the company can operate."

Cotton Prices . . .

for everything he buys," the senator told a reporter.

Spot cotton now is 34 cents per pound on the New York market. Oklahoma formerly raised 800,000 bales of cotton a year, the senator said. Last year it produced less than 400,000 bales and this year he forecast production will be less than 300,000.

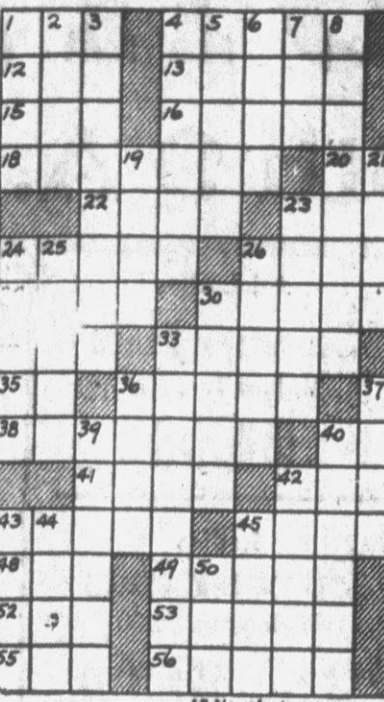

"The same thing is going on throughout the country," he added. "Farmers are leaving the farms. The farm population has decreased some 7,000,000 in the last few years and the farmers do not seem to be going back."

In spite of the fact that iodized salt can help prevent simple goiter, the American Medical Association warns that "persons over 30 years of age with any swelling of the throat that might indicate goiter should not use iodized salt unless they do so under the direction of a physician."

PENNEY'S

Byrnes-Molotov . . .

The major conflict first developed two days ago when Molotov made a slashing attack on Byrnes, accusing him of inconsistency. At issue was a question of how the conference should vote.

The big power foreign ministers—Molotov, Byrnes, Bevin of Britain and Bidault of France—had recommended a two-thirds vote, but Mr Byrnes had reserved his right to support some other plan if he chose. He did support a modified two-thirds vote as the peace conference got under way, and that made Molotov sore. So he attacked Byrnes Yesterday Byrnes struck back. He accused Molotov of inconsistency on various occasions. He detailed his earlier statements to show he never had bound himself to any voting procedure. He also said he had reiterated his reservations time and again because otherwise "I knew from experience" that Molotov would contend he was bound.

That implication of past disagreeable experiences by Byrnes high-lights one of the difficulties of understanding between the two men. There were other sharp words by Byrnes obviously resenting Molotov's dig at the conduct of the American delegation. Byrnes delivered his own final punch in a manner that perhaps only a diplomat would very clearly understand—by making a distinction between the Russian government and the Russian people and implying we might get on well with the people if it were not for their government.

This incident in Paris, and the whole tone of the peace conference, may have ominous meanings for the future. For instance:

1. The voting issue may really be a struggle for control of the conference machinery, foreshadowing a split between Russian and Anglo-American blocs on all big issues.
2. Even when they are already supposed to have ironed out all major differences, the big-powers cannot stick together to put over their program.

sibilities but little more.

Most important of the new agencies is the international refugee organization (IRO), whose charter was approved recently by the United Nations Economic and Social Council but still awaits ratification by the U. N. General Assembly, meeting in New York Sept. 23, and verification by member nations. Moreover IRO is designed chiefly to care for and resettle refugees who are to find new homes overseas and not to feed and shelter the majority of the 850,000 displaced persons now under allied care in Europe. There is no place in its program for ministering to the other millions whom UNRRA has helped keep alive.

Also in the formative stage is World Health Organization (WHO) but this agency has neither the funds nor the operating plans to take over any real share of UNRRA's functions next year.

The tremendous task of feeding the hundreds of millions who still will be hungry in 1947 and 1948 must, according to present prospects, go back to the governments of the suffering populations or to the armies of occupation whose areas contain the great concentrations of displaced persons. The United Nations has a planning agency, the Food and Agricultural Organization (FAO), which will open its annual conference at Copenhagen Sept. 2. But FAO is a long term proposition; just yesterday it published a survey showing how the world should be fed properly by 1960; it has no program for taking up the immediate tasks UNRRA will lay down next year.

Hunger is one of the vital political elements of our troubled

Attorneys said that Section 80 refers to the filing of false claims and Section 88 to conspiracy to defraud the government.

Drones Seen As Omen Of Future
San Francisco, Aug. 7—(AP)—The historic flight of two unmanned B-17 drones from Hilo, Hawaii to Muroc air base, California, today was termed the forerunner of accurate, long range guided missiles armed with atomic warheads.

Brig.-Gen. William L. Richardson, chief of the army air force guided missiles division, said the unprecedented radio piloted flight proved the air force could have struck a target at 2,500 or more miles range with any conventional bomber—unmanned—and added: "The atom bomb to us is a warhead. We fully expect some day to have larger guided missiles with atomic warheads."

Richardson did not elaborate. He timed a western trip to be at Muroc Dry Lake for the drone landings yesterday. He flew on a drone-mother (control) ship for the aerial atomic bomb drop at Bikini June 30. He did say, however, that the air force has just scratched the surface in guided missiles and "the Manhattan district hasn't told us yet what size atomic warhead would be practical for guided missiles."

Officers Destroyed Liquor Distillery
ABC officers Tuesday afternoon seized and destroyed an illicit liquor still in Pactolus township, three miles west of Pactolus near the Creek Road. After a chase of officers J. M. Ward and J. L. Taylor arrested Joe Carney, Sr., Negro. Another of the operators, a Negro, made his escape. Carney was released under $250 bond for his appearance in County Court on August 13.

The still was a 50-gallon steam outfit. The officers said the operators were preparing for another "run" when the raid was made. Ten 50-gallon barrel fermenters containing 150 gallons of fermenting molasses and cornmeal mash, eight gallons of moonshine whiskey and the distilling equipment were

Boys Had Good Time Elks Camp

The Greenville boys sent by the Elks Lodge to the Elks Summer Camp in Western Carolina made a creditable showing. They returned here ruddy and healthy and reported that they had the time of their lives. Heber Tripp accompanied the youngsters to camp and remained with them during the two-week period. On the way to camp he picked up 12 boys in Wilson and four in Zebulon. Mr. Tripp said the senior boys manifested the true Boy Scout spirit by cooperating with camp officials and looking after the younger boys.

Zack Taft was honored as the best camper in the senior group. Bobby Smith was second, winning two awards—the 50-yard dash in swimming and the run and jump event. Jimmy Harvey also won an award in the swimming event. Kent Lee, Bobby Lee and Troy Wilson also won swimming awards.

Donald Dewey, Hugh Peaden and Bobby Watson took part in many activities and were popular. Jimmy Bremer, Dallas Anderson, Julian Vainwright, Sam Hux, Dan Reid, Eugene Ayers and Louis Clark made good in baseball games. Charles Ballance, nine-years old led the group in prayer on two occasions. Mr. Tripp said the main sports were baseball, swimming, softball, basketball, hiking, archery, tennis, tumbling, volleyball, boxing, table tennis and horseshoe pitching. The boys also worked in the craft shop, where they learned to make baskets and to model, etc.

The Elks summer camp for boys is a wooded tract of 316 acres. Different lodges send groups of boys there each summer.

in-farm drainage have been invited to attend. The demonstration will be conducted by Mr. W. C. Eagles, Conservationist, with the local Soil Conservation District.
"Proper drainage on farms of Pitt County has paid good dividends the past two seasons. Some drainage problems can best be corrected with tile lines while others are better suited to open ditch drainage," said S. C. Winchester, local County Agent. The local Soil Conservation District has trained personnel in farm drainage who are working with farmers of Pitt County helping them with their drainage and other conservation problems.

Local Club Splits Bill With Fayetteville Nine

By DAVE CLARK

Rampaging Greenville bats manufactured 11 runs from 14 hits in the opener of a double bill last night in Guy Smith Stadium as Big Rex Benton pitched sparkling two bat ball to hang up a 11-0 shutout over the cellar dwelling Fayetteville Cubs. The Greensies weren't so fortunate in the after-piece, however, when John Helms, Fayetteville first sacker, homered off Dean Ballam with the bases chock full of Cubs to give his club a 7-5 triumph.

Helms' game winning smash came in the sixth frame with the score standing at 4-3 in Greenville's favor. Anderson had walked and stole second to start the inning. De Angelus walked and was pushed on to second when one of Benton's tosses went wild and beamed Marx, the next batter. Marx's runner went to first, thus loading the bases. Ballam, who took over on the hill for Benton at this point, straight-way hit Book with a bad pitch, who took his base, forcing Anderson across the plate making the score 4-3. This set the stage for Helms' game winning clout over the left field fence.

The Greensies pulled a valiant rally in the last of the seventh, the final inning of the nightcap, when, with two out, Carlson and Manager Virgil Payne, always at his best with the chips down, clouted a double down the leftfield line to score Carlson. It was too little and too late, however, as Earl Smith struck out to end the game. Rex Benton, after his superb two hit job in the opener, must have felt as if he could do the same thing in the afterpiece, because he came back on the hill in the second contest. It looked as though he would gain his second triumph of the night, until the unfortunate beaming incident in the sixth.

The Greensies actually clinched the first game in the second inning when Smith, Parise, Luke and Benton were issued successive walks.

The Greensies pulled a double killing in the third inning of the second game when with one on, the next man up hit to Merle Blackwell at third, who started the play Blackwell to Payne, to Luke.
