

GREEK GOV'T WILL PROTEST NEW INCIDENT

Yugoslavia Asserts Greek Planes Crossed Border Many Times

Athens, Sept. 7—(AP)—Political circles said today the Greek government certainly would lodge a protest with Marshal Tito concerning a Greek military plane which the general staff and air ministry reported forced down in Yugoslavia yesterday by Yugoslav anti-aircraft fire.

Reports in Athens last night said crew members of the plane, which the general staff and air ministry announcement said was riddled with anti-aircraft fire, suffered no injuries, but were detained by Yugoslav authorities.

(In Belgrade, where U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson conferred for 45 minutes yesterday with Marshal Tito concerning the Greek military plane which the general staff and air ministry reported forced down in Yugoslavia yesterday by Yugoslav anti-aircraft fire.)

Last night's Greek announcement of the plane incident, which followed by a little more than two weeks the summoning home of the Yugoslav ambassador to Athens, said:

"This morning one of our planes of the Salonika air base, while flying in the Axionopolis-Palkon mountain area and due to that fact flying at a low altitude, flew over nearby Yugoslav territory. Having been shot down by ack ack fire, it landed in Georjelv, not knowing it was the territory of a neighboring state.

"The aircraft was not carrying a camera. There was no intention of border crossing, and owing to the loss of bearings the aircraft made a forced landing, the pilot being convinced he was over Greek territory. When the plane was overdue, two search planes were sent out above our territory. The Yugoslav military attaché here has been kept aware of all above."

"The Yugoslav announcement said that 'for a long time our military authorities have noted military planes from Greece flying over our frontiers. It has been noted that the flying over our frontiers is purely of a military character.' It said a Greek military reconnaissance plane was 'forced to land by our fighters' and gave the date of the incident as Sept. 5).

Catch Gauleiter After Long Hunt

Herford, Germany, Sept. 7—(AP)—British headquarters announced today the arrest of J. Joseph Grohe, former Reich commissioner for northern France and Belgium, and "the man responsible for blowing up all five Rhine bridges at Cologne." Grohe, who had been sought by all occupation powers since VB day, was found in bed by a British intelligence officer Aug. 21 at Warburg near the British-American frontier. He was still wearing a bandage to cover a head wound inflicted when he attempted to take his life four months after capitulation.

Grohe, who was gauleiter at Cologne and Aachen (Aix-La-Chapelle) in latter days was described by British headquarters as the "last remaining gauleiter who was at liberty."

The headquarters announcement described Grohe as in the "top flight of Nazi officials and major war criminals."

Headquarters declared that under Grohe's rule many atrocities were committed in Belgium and north France. When the allied advance forced Grohe out of that area, he organized the Volksturm to fight the Americans, the announcement asserted.

Basic Point In Talk

Byrnes' Stuttgart Speech On Policy Towards Germany Stresses Country's Role As Keystone To Prosperity Of Neighbors; Urges Unification Of Reich

One of the most important points of Secretary of State Byrnes' Stuttgart speech on American policy regarding Germany strikes me as resting on this basic truth: "Germany must be given a chance to export goods in order to import enough to make her economy self-sustaining. Germany is part of Europe, and recovery in Europe and particularly in the adjoining states, will be slow indeed if Germany with her great resources of iron and coal, is turned into a poor-house."

That is indisputable, and it interlocks with all other vital issues. These include: the punishment and reform of the Reich, France's claims to the Rhineland and the Ruhr (which Mr. Byrnes rejected), and the boundary between Poland and Germany (which the secretary says America doesn't consider as settled). It is just a matter of every-day

Mayor And Aldermen Quit After Threats And Bullets

Athens, Tenn., Sept. 7—(AP)—The backwash from a flood of unrest following the August 1 riot in which war veterans supported their ballots with bullets left this city without a municipal governing body today.

Mayor Paul Walker and the Board of Aldermen addressed a letter "to whom it may concern" yesterday, filed a copy with City Recorder Lee Moses and quit, saying they feared for the safety of themselves and their families.

Their drastic action followed a nocturnal reign of terror against the aldermen which was climaxed when shots were fired from a night-prowling car into the home of Alderman Hugh Riggs.

Riggs said he and his wife, two daughters, son-in-law and six-year-old grandson were asleep in their home when a fusillade of shots awakened them about 1:15 a. m. Thursday.

Bullets, he said, ripped into the hallway and through the kitchen windows. The rounds which drove Continued on Page Four

Kai-Shek Planes Wound Americans

Peiping, Sept. 7—(AP)—Informal sources at Sino-American truce headquarters today said U. S. officials could be expected to protest strongly to Chiang Kai-Shek over the bombing of a true team near Chengteh and the reported wounding of three Americans.

The Chinese government's air force all along has been a thorn in the side of executive headquarters. "Theoretically, the air force should obey agreements made by tripartite headquarters, but actually it never has." Tripartite headquarters comprises U. S. Chinese government and Chinese Communist representatives.

The Chinese government air force flies U. S. planes and uses U. S. bombs, gasoline and supplies.

MISS AMERICA TO BE SINGER

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 7—(AP)—"Miss America" of 1946 was to be named tonight and from preliminary contests it appeared a girl with an operatic voice would be selected, perhaps not the most beautiful of 48 entries, but certainly the most talented.

The Miss America pageant, begun in 1921 as a bathing beauty contest, has changed tone, and emphasis now is placed on talent—a matter almost of brains before beauty. The bathing suit still has its place, but the figure that fills it rates less than a third of the judges' consideration.

Fifteen of the 48 girls representing 37 states and 11 cities were to be named tonight as finalists for the coveted "Miss America" title. Entries representing Atlanta, Ga., Louisiana, and Pennsylvania appeared to be definite finalists on the strength of their voices.

Blonde, 18-year-old Janey Miller, entered as "Miss Atlanta," had a slight edge over the other competitors. She was the only double winner of the preliminaries.

Miss Miller's five-foot, nine-inch figure was good enough to make her a co-winner with Eileen Henry of Brooklyn, "Miss New York" in the bathing suit division last night. She carried off the talent prize Thursday night when she thrilled 10,000 spectators with an aria from Puccini's opera, La Tosca.

One of the shortest girls in the contest, five-foot, two inch Eleanor Kramer of Lebanon, Pa., "Miss Pennsylvania," took first prize in the talent division last night with her splendid delivery of the light opera selection "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier."

"Miss Louisiana," Marguerite McClelland, blonde, five-foot, two and a half inch graduate of Louisiana State University, took the Wednesday night talent prize with a light opera selection, "Voices of Spring."

State Contends Ewing Sane And Capable Of Murder

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 7—(AP)—The 10-day-old trial of Wall C. Ewing, 54, local businessman and politician who faces first-degree murder charges in connection with the death of his wife last March 13, is recessed until Monday when arguments will be given to the jury.

Solicitor F. Ertel Carlyle yesterday paraded 17 witnesses to the stand in an effort to refute contentions by the defense that Ewing was a victim of an alcoholic psychosis and therefore incapable of planning and carrying out a murder.

After the witnesses—a doctor, a minister, local business men, local detectives and neighbors—testified the state and the defense told the court that all testimony had been given.

Babson Discusses Stock Break

New York, N. Y. Sept. 6 Selling stock is very different from going to the bank to draw out money. When you do the latter, the bank gives you cash from its reserves and you immediately take it home with you. It will always be the amount of your check—no more, no less.

Reasons For Break When you sell stocks, the broker must hunt around to find somebody who will buy your stock. When the market is booming, somebody will probably pay you more than the stock cost you; but on a declining market, he has more difficulty to find buyers. This is especially true today when buyers must pay cash. This largely eliminates the little people, so, too often, only well-to-do people have the ready money. During August most of these wealthy people are away on vacations and have forgotten the stock market. Thus it has been especially difficult for brokers to find cash buyers during the past month. This, in my judgment, is the main explanation of the August market break.

Certainly there is nothing in the present business situation to justify declining prices. Every company has tremendous unfilled orders and the banks are over-flowing with idle money. It should take two or three years to fill the demand for automobiles; while the building industry has not yet got under way. It is true that in previous periods of prosperity the market has turned downward during the first half of the prosperity era; but history does not always repeat itself. Certainly, today history is not repeating itself in any other category.

SENATE BOARD PROMISES TO PROBE VOTING

McKellar And Bilbo Targets Of Group Investigating Campaigns

Washington, Sept. 7—(AP)—A spot check of the recent primary election campaigns which resulted in the renomination of Senators McKellar (D-Tenn.) and Bilbo (D-Miss.) was promised by the Senate campaign investigating committee today as soon as it can recruit a staff.

The decision to investigate sworn complaints made by interested citizens was reached at a two-hour closed session of the committee late yesterday.

The complaints charge that McKellar and his supporters spent more money than the Tennessee law allows ($10,000), and that Bilbo advocated intimidation of Negro voters to keep them away from the polls.

Edwin W. Carmack and John Randolph Neal, unsuccessful contenders for the nomination won by McKellar, filed the Tennessee complaints. The Mississippi charges came from Edgar G. Brown of Washington, D. C., director of the National Negro Council, and Dr. James L. P. Rumble of New York, chairman of the Citizens' National League, Inc.

Carmack declared that Ed Crump, Memphis political leader, and his supporters, spent more than $100,000 for newspaper advertising alone in McKellar's behalf.

Brown's petition demanded that Bilbo be denied a Senate seat because of reports that he urged "red-blooded Anglo-Saxons" to "resort to any means" to keep Negroes from voting in the primary.

Senator Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the five-man investigative group, said that McKellar and Bilbo both had filed reports of their campaign expenditures in the primaries, but he declined to make them public.

Under the procedure outlined by Ellender, the investigators—when they are picked—will look over the situation in the states involved, and report to the counsel, who will recommend whether the committee hold hearings and pursue the matter.

Wife Of Disabled Vet Left Babies At VA Office In Despair

Philadelphia, Sept. 7—(AP)—Mrs. Joyce Cawley, 18, who left her two babies at the Veterans Administration office because she couldn't provide for them on state and federal payments, was happy today she will get her babies and will get help.

Through Samuel J. C. The Richard Cawleys have no children. The babies are being cared for at the Society to Protect Children from Cruelty.

Her husband, William, 25, partially paralyzed ex-serviceman, is to return to the Philadelphia Naval Hospital next month. He has been receiving $11.50 monthly pension for 10 per cent disability, and Mrs. Cawley has been receiving $72.50 a month, plus two quarts of milk daily. Continued on Page Three

Royal Engagement Is Said To Be Unlikely

London, Sept. 7—(AP)—The London Star said today that an announcement of the engagement of Princess Elizabeth, heiress to the British throne, and Prince Philip of Greece was "confidently expected in circles close to the royal family."

Previous newspaper reports of such a romance were described last Thursday by a Buckingham Palace informant as pure nonsense. He said a marriage between the 20-year-old princess and Prince Philip, cousin of King George II, was unlikely since members of the Greek royal house were Catholics.

Russia Would Slow Atom Board Report

Asks Postponement Of Final Action On Report; Secretariat Concerned Over Delay; Council To Sum Up Unsettled Cases

New York, Sept. 7—(AP)—An authoritative non-Russian source said today that the Soviet delegation to the United Nations Security Council had asked for postponement of final action on a scientific report to the atomic energy commission and also of the council's draft report to the General Assembly.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko was quoted by this source as saying he had not had time to study the council's digest, which was examined in a 21-2-hour secret council session yesterday.

The meeting adjourned with the suggestion that amendments should be offered within the next several days so the general report could be whipped into final form. It will contain the council's summation of the unsettled Russian, Iranian and Spanish cases and the pending Soviet Ukraine complaint against Greece.

In an informal meeting of the scientific and technical committee of the atomic energy commission at the U. P. Lake Success headquarters, the Russian member was reported to have asked for a stay until Monday on the final approval of its report.

Although the Russian member, Prof. Alexandrov, was reported to have raised no objection to the report drafted as the result of 18 meetings the scientists have held he was said to be waiting for final word from Moscow. A colleague with whom he alternated in the discussions on the presumably non-

End Of A Honeymoon

French Communists Break Truce With MRP Leaders; Foreseeing Fourth Republic, Reds Plan For Coming Elections; Attack MRP As Being Tool Of Church

Paris—France's political honeymoon is rapidly nearing an end. With general elections approaching the Communist party has come out openly with an attempt to discredit President Georges Bidault's Popular Republican Movement as a party secretly subservient to the Catholic Church and "the trusts."

The allegations are not new, but heretofore Communist leaders—as members of interim coalition governments sitting side by side with MRP leaders in the cabinet—have muted their opposition during a two-year political truce.

Appeal Will Be Made If Government Moves "Any Of Our Ships"; Maritime Strike Now 100% Effective In All Ports; Unions Ready To Strike "From Here On In"

By the Associated Press
A union threat to call on all organized labor for an over-all nation-wide general strike if the government moves "any of our ships" as it has threatened to do, was voiced today by a union official as the world's greatest maritime fleet lay landlocked behind a ring of striking, picketing seamen.

The threat was voiced by Paul Hall, port agent of the striking Seafarers' International Union (AFI). "If the government moves any of our ships as it has threatened to do," Hall said, "we will call on all organized labor to come out with us for an over-all national general strike. That means street car conductors, machinists and everybody else."

Hall explained that an appeal for such a general strike would be made through various local central labor councils, should the government attempt to move ships.

He said the seamen's strike now was "100 per cent effective in all ports," and added "we are in fine shape and prepared to strike from here on in."

"We believe its effectiveness is beginning to tell and a complete tie-up will win demands," Hall said.

Pier sheds were dark behind closed entrances and cargo booms were fixed tight as thousands of vessels and a half-million men were tied in the greatest maritime strike in history.

This was the picture as the strike of members of the sailors union of the Pacific and the Seafarers International Union entered its third day, and the second day of picketing.

Transoceanic passenger traffic was suspended; import and export of raw materials vital to the nation's mills and factories were halted; more than 250,000 tons of relief cargo for Europe and Asia were tied up in 125 UNRRA ships.

Officers of the two unions claimed more than 2,500 ships lay in Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf ports without crews.

Both American and foreign vessels were hit by the strike—either directly by the striking seamen—seeking a reversal of a wage stabilization board ruling denying them the full wage increase won in recent negotiations—or by members of

OPA Sees Meat Shortage Ahead

Washington, Sept. 7—(AP)—Housewives get a double order of bad news on new retail meat prices today from the OPA.

First, they learned that the new ceilings will boost aggregate retail meat bills $600,000,000 a year.

Next, Geoffrey Baker, deputy OPA administrator, predicted in a radio broadcast (ABC) that after ceilings go into effect again next Tuesday meat probably will be very scarce.

"We may as well face the fact that there is not enough meat for everybody to get all he wants of every kind," Baker said. "And the fact that we've already eaten part of the supply that would be coming in during the next few months—if the removal of ceilings hadn't rushed it in earlier—aggravates the situation."

Baker said the new ceilings are adjusted so that the average family will be affected least. "You will find the largest increases are on the choicest cuts."

Strength FOR THE DAY

By SARA L. DOUGLAS

A Word Becomes Respectable
Before Jesus came into the world, the word "servant" was a despised word. The last thing anybody wanted to be was a servant. Then came the humble teacher of Nazareth preaching a doctrine that turned the beliefs and practices of men upside down. Among other things he declared that it was noble to serve.
He declared that the highest thing a man could be is to be a servant of God and a servant of his fellow men. Men running for public office now declare before their constituents,
"I am your servant. My endeavor as an officeholder will be to service you in every way I know how."
This change of attitude toward the word "servant" is something mortals have never known before. It shows a basic change in men's way of looking at things. The greatest man that ever lived not only imported to mankind a sense of nobility of service; he lived such a life of humble service himself that he gladly laid down his life in bringing that service to its climax.

But Jesus went beyond human service. He declared that we are all servants of God. When a man believes himself to be a servant of God and uses his actions on the conviction, his life becomes something inspiring to behold. Our religion teaches us to reach up in love to God and to reach out in love to our fellow men.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WHERE ORIENTATION MEANS GETTING HEP TO SOCK-HOPPING
By JANE EADS

Washington—They not only learn how to mind their "ps" and "qs" in English, but they learn a lot of other American tricks at the Orientation Center for Foreign Students and Trainees.

Such as sock-hopping, eating ice cream cones and playing baseball.
The Center is under the joint sponsorship of the State Department, the National Education Association and the District of Columbia Board of Education. It is located at the District's Wilson Teachers College.

Students and trainees going to the center are financed largely by the State Department under a grant, the funds of which are administered by the National Education Association. For several years the project was financed by the Office of Inter-American Affairs.
During the past year students from all the Latin-American countries and China, Syria, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey and Egypt were enrolled at one place or another. The course lasts from six to eight weeks.
Students seeking to partake of the opportunities of study and training in this country go through a screening process by specially selected committees of educators in their own countries. Their credentials are then sent to the United States.

After the student or trainee has been accepted, negotiations for getting him properly placed in a college, hall or laboratory get underway. First however, he must achieve a clean, non-like attitude to his new surroundings.

At the Orientation Center he gets this through numerous social events and an "informal program of inroduction to American life and customs.

The State Department believes these activities will prove of infinite value to the students when they leave Washington to go to schools or industrial establishments in other parts of the country.

Sometimes the Wilson faculty entertains the students at tea and dances. Quite often the Center reciprocates with a similar affair.
Foreign students apparently are eager to enter what they can of their own cultural and intellectual resources to make a good go of the thing.

Extra-curricular activities include such stunts as repainting the college cafeteria tables and chairs.
Reward for this effort was an ice cream cone.

The Wilson Men's club accepted all the male students of the Orientation Center as honorary members. They invited them then to attend a "sock hop," where men and women alike were required to remove their shoes upon entering and dance in their stocking feet.

As a State Department Official put it:

"Many of the Center's students attended, accepting with philosophic good humor what they were assured was one of the more bizarre American customs."

"The Orientation Center could be considered an experimental United Nations in microcosm, in that it is perhaps the sum total of just such personal contacts and friendly relationships between peoples which create the atmosphere of international good will upon which the peace of our world must be based."

LABOR OUTLOOK
Some persons are selling stocks on account of further strike threats. These do not worry me marketwise. When production catches up with consumption the cost-of-living will again decline and labor's main argument will have been knocked in the head. Furthermore, as the "52-20 Clubs" dissolve and veterans and their wives again enter the labor market, a surplus may take the place of the present shortage. This will be another thing to keep labor leaders sensible.

This may lay the foundations of a complete Republican victory in 1948. I am not a politician but merely a statistician and, hence, my forecast. However, either before or directly after November 5th, we should have much higher prices. If a Republican President could be elected in 1948, stocks would "go through the roof."

Russian Revolution Ahead?
Something may happen in Europe greatly improve the situation. If the British and American delegates stick together and refuse to get tired out, Russia may be sent into a state of free terms and secure freedom of all seas for all nations. The death of Stalin would make the stock market boom. Moreover, it is very probable that the Allies are now planning an encircling a Russian Revolution. This is the reason for the "certainty" and the desire of the Russians to tie up the Danube ri-

So Germany has become a symbol of growing disension between Russia and the Anglo-American allies. Mr. Byrnes points this unhappy situation up when he says:

"It is not in the interest of German people nor in the interest of world peace that Germany become a pawn or partner in military struggle for power between the east and the west."

But Byrnes didn't stop with the advocacy of economic unity. He declared that the American people want to return the government of Germany to the German people. He outlined a broad plan for eventual unification of the Germans under federal government. He said the American government took the stand that the German people at large should now be given the

The secretariat hoped that the meeting, for which painstaking and irrevocable housing and other arrangements had been made, would go on at the insistence of secretary of state James F. Byrnes upon his return Sunday to the peace conference.

It was noted likewise that British foreign minister Ernest Bevin had put conditions on his acceptance of the postponement after foreign minister Molotov came up France and China in favor of deferring the assembly session until the peace conference ends.

other unions who have honored the picket lines.

The chain of pickets was expected to be extended even further today—50 all New York harbor tugboats manned by AFL crews.

Officials of the SUP said the picketing extension would halt all harbor activity in New York except for a few railway barge tugs. The tugboats were expected to cease operation by 4 p. m. (E.D.T.).

The small vessel normally bring in an estimated 80 percent of New York City fuel and half of its food supplies.

During a tugboat strike last February, fuel oil and coal supplies dwindled to virtual exhaustion leading Mayor William O'Dwyer to order the shutdown of the city's business and amusement activities except for certain exempted enterprises directly concerned with maintaining life and health.

Shipping men in New York called the walkout the costliest strike in the history of American shipping.

In Washington the War Department said the strike virtually had paralyzed shipment of American troops and supplies to Germany and Japan. But Harry Lundeberg, head of the SUP, declared in San Francisco that the War Department statement was a "falschood."

Still lost in a maze of amendments, the 1,500 delegates were to hear today the Ukraine's views on the Big Four proposal to internationalize Trieste. As Russia has already stated her opinion that Yugoslavia should rec the disputed territory that is now part of Italy, it seemed certain that the Ukraine would follow suit. Russia has agreed, however, to support the Big Four's internationalization plan.

The foreign minister's council decided yesterday to delay action on a Russian proposal to postpone from Sept. 23 to Nov. 11 the New York session of the general assembly of the United Nations, pending the return of Secretary of State Byrnes from Germany.

Meanwhile Bevin, who was scheduled to leave for London to attend a conference on the Palestine problem, made an earnest effort to create a little far-sighted planning among the delegates that might expedite matters.

controversial questions was reported to have departed for Moscow in the last several days.

Council delegations of the U. N. secretariat were deeply concerned, meantime, over the Russian demand for postponement until November 11 of the General Assembly meeting scheduled for September 23, in New York and formally called for that date by Secretary-General Trygve Lie in the face of Rus-

THE MATERNAL INSTINCT

By Dorothy Slayey

Chapter 9
The only indication that Lillie noted of Mrs. Bradford's having heard her was a quick convulsive swallowing, and she turned to Ardath Kelm. "And there's a doctor over in East Bradford. Your husband might be interested in the visit you paid there." Ardath Kelm's hand went to her throat, and Lillie stooped and picked up her handbag from the chair where she had been sitting. "And there's that good-looking Italian greenskeeper up at the new golf club."

Lillie straightened her hat and gently mopped her face with her handkerchief. "We don't miss much in East Bradford, and the first time that I hear that Violet's been made unhappy in this house or by any of the Bradford family or friends, I might have to do something about it."

Not until she had turned and left the room did either woman speak and then she heard her younger say, "Well! I . . . Well!"

Lillie found her way out alone and turned toward East Bradford. It was a long walk but she wanted to walk. The sticky, moist heat of the August day pressed down on her and her body began to feel heavy and she was plodding rather than walking. Her slim body seemed too cumbersome and she thought of the big Slavic women who plodded along cow-like through East Bradford, their bodies huge and misshapen from their child-bearing, and she thought, "That is how I feel. I'd way they look. Heavy from life."

When she reached the Washington House, she did something she rarely did because Pud didn't like it. She went in through the bar because she had to reach Pud quickly. Being mid-afternoon the bar was quiet. In a little while the shift would change in the mills and then it would be filled with laughter and loud talk and the smell of sweaty bodies, but now there was only the drone of the big blade fans that hung from the ceiling and the sour-sweet odor of beer, and Pud sitting in the corner reading the afternoon paper. He looked up and said, "Why, Lillie, honey?"

She dropped down at his feet. "Oh, Pud," she cried, "Violet's going to have a baby," and at his start of surprise added, "She's married. To Laurence Bradford."

Jerily she spilled out the whole story. When she had finished, Pud sat stroking her hair for a moment. "You know, Lillie," he said slowly, "it's a little like blackmail. What you said to them, I mean."

"I don't care," Lillie answered defiantly. "There isn't anything I wouldn't do for Violet." Her voice broke. "If I'd only kept her with me the way you said. If that Miss Miller had let me know what was going on."

"But, Lillie," Pud protested, "You can't run Violet's life. You know when you dam a stream, if it isn't done in the right place and the right way, it'll spill over its banks and go wild. If you had tried to change Violet's life, you don't know what might have happened."

"Well," Lillie answered, "if I could only have this baby instead of her." She began to cry and Pud stroked her hair and said "Ah, Lillie, honey don't." She gulped and managed a feeble laugh. "Oh, well, I guess the Lord knows what he's doing. I'm not a bit maternal."

At the supper table, she suddenly born line forming around Violet's mouth, and she said quickly, "Listen to Lillie, baby. I know what I'm talking about, don't I?"

Through the rest of the summer and then the fall and winter, Lillie worried about Violet and Pud worried about prohibition. "It's not right I tell you, Lillie," he would say, "to take an honest, respectable living away from a man."

So they both waited, and on the sixteenth of January, 1919, prohibition became a fact and Laurence Rodney Bradford, Jr., was born. It was August Bradford himself who called Lillie and told her.

Falkland H. D. Club
A barbecue dinner was sponsored by the Falkland Home Demonstration Club on Friday night, August 30th, in the recently erected Pittman-Carroll Community and School hall. The barbecue was delicious. Ice cream with chocolate sauce and coconut cookies were served afterwards. Recreation consisting of bingo and music was directed by Miss Lorraine Moore, a member of the Stantonburg school faculty.

The honor guests were Mrs. Ruell Tyson, secretary to the agent, Miss Yvonne Joyner, and Miss Lowery, the newly appointed assistant agent, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Pittman, Mrs. Ruell Tyree, ex-president of the county club, Mrs. C. Hassell Mayo, all of Falkland and Mrs. Mamie Pierce of Bethel, who years ago was very active in club work in Falkland.

Thanks go out to the many who made this dinner possible, to Miss Anna Little, Mrs. Leslie Peaden and Mrs. Joe D. Little for their efficient and earnest work in preparing and serving the dinner. To Mr. Levi Woodson, whose wife is president of the club, for his generous help who with Mr. Frank Weber prepared and cooked the barbecue. Contributed Much
To Bethel Program
The names of three well known persons who contributed very much to the success of the Bethel Rotary Club's "Homecoming" banquet for the veterans of World War II from Bethel township last Thursday night were inadvertently omitted from yesterday's story of the occasion.

Henry Siston, who officiated as toastmaster, and Mrs. Siston, faithful helper for the Rotary Club there for many years, and Dr. G. C. Garrison, song leader for the club, did much to make the brilliant affair a success.

About a hundred veterans registered at the meeting and there were about 50 Rotarians and special guests present.

Honeymoon's End . . .

"limit" democracy through advocacy of a strong president of the republic; attempts to "maintain state subsidies for parochial schools," and attempts to "torpedo" nationalization measures "on behalf of large shareholders."

With this frank call to battle, the end of "tripartism" seemed not far away.

In a country so individualistic that it normally has 20 or more political parties, these three giants have succeeded in putting aside their differences to hasten the country's critically needed reconstruction—political as well as material.

Young Mother . . .
ly from the State Veterans' Commission.

Mrs. Cawley brought her problem to public attention yesterday by plunking her babies and her husband's $1150 check on the desk of the Veterans Administration office with the angry declaration: "I cannot feed these children on this. If the veterans administration thinks it can be done, let them try it."

Members of the Greenville Veterans' Housing Commission will meet at eight o'clock Monday night in the Alderman's room, city hall. Incorporation papers have already been received and the meeting is for the purpose of going ahead with the work of aiding veterans to complete homes already started or to build homes. Every member of the commission is urged to be present.

HEADQUARTERS AT TRIESTE — This is the Allied Military Government building in Trieste, disputed key city in the province of Venezia Giulia in northeastern Italy.

LOGS FOR PAPER — Loggers in a boat clear the way through floating timber at the Gatineau Mills, near Hull, Quebec, as production was resumed by Canada's pulp and paper industry. During the war, the industry made nylon and nitro-cellulose for explosives.

LOG JAM BLASTED — A log jam is broken up with dynamite in the Desert River in the Gatineau district of Quebec as huge stores of pulpwood move toward Canadian paper mills.

Shortly afterwards Mrs. Cawley went to the police and said she had given up the idea of abandoning her children to the Veterans Administration.

Sports

By JOE REICHLER
It's St. Louis slugging against Brooklyn pitching as the front-running Cardinals and runner-up Dodgers race down the stretch two and a half games apart in a sizzling September drive for the National League pennant.

Each team has won six of seven games since Sept. 1, the Cards relying upon their punch to offset spot-pitching while the Dodgers have been getting splended hurling to atone for their ineptitude at the plate.

The Cards gave a perfect example last night of the way they've been playing in recent days when they outslugged the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-6 in a freehitting game at Sportsman's Park. A total of 31 hits were made by both teams, 16 by the Cards including a three-run homer by Terry Moore in the fourth inning which decided the game.

In the only other National League game, the Giants, aided by three home runs, overpowered the Philadelphia Phillies 16-2 at the Polo Grounds. Ernie Lombardi was the big gun for the Giants, the huge catcher poling a grand-slam homer in addition to two singles. In all he drove in five runs.

Boastful Bobo Newsom, backing up his talk with some fine pitching, snapped the Boston Red Sox' winning streak at eight by twirling the Senators to an 11-inning, 3-2 victory over the American League leaders under the lights in Washington.

Despite the loss, Boston needs only three more victories to clinch the flag, since the second place New York Yankees bowed to the Athletics in Philadelphia at night 4-3.

Paul (Dizzy) Trout, back in winning stride, fashioned his 13th victory and his fifth shutout by pitching the Tigers to a four-hit 9-0 triumph over the Cleveland Indians in Detroit. Hank Greenberg hammered his 31st home run for the Tigers. The win enabled the Tigers to advance to within one game of the Yankees in their battle for second place.

Two Top Tennis Stars Defeated

Forest Hills, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Two of Uncle Sam's Davis Cup stalwarts have been swatted right out of the National Tennis Championships the past two days, and in their places as the big tournament reached the semi-finals today were a couple of belting young Californians who might be ruling the roost a year from now. Gone, specifically, were Frankie Parker, champion of the past two years, and Billy Talbert, who chased him to the wire on each occasion. Talbert got the post-war axe first, at the hands of Bob Falkenburg, the University of Southern California youngster. Parker got it yesterday from Tom Brown, Jr. of San Francisco.

Where Falkenburg's win over Talbert on Thursday caused a measure of surprise, it was nothing compared to the excitement around the clubhouse after Brown got through blistering Parker in five sets.

Brown, 23, looked like he might be wavering when he dropped the third and fourth sets, but he came back better than ever in the fifth. The full court was 6-3, 6-4, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1. His semi-final opponent today was Gardner Mulloy of Miami seeded third. Falkenburg is matched against Jack Kramer, seeded second. The finals will be played tomorrow.

Rocks Take Lead In Semifinal Playoffs

Rocky Mount's pennant winners during the regular Coastal Plain League season are scheduled to play at Rocky Mount tonight in the 4th game of the semifinal series.

Rocky Mount moved into a 2-1 lead in games in the playoffs by posting a 4-1 victory at Goldsboro last night.

Victory came with a two-run outburst in the third inning on singles by Harrison, Drews and May, mixed with a throwin, and two outfield flies.

Rain blocked the schedule Wilson-Kinston game last night. The teams will try again tonight at Kinston. Each team has won one series contest.

Doctors To Examine Mauriello And Louis

New York, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The physical fitness of heavyweight Champion Joe Louis and Tami Mauriello, who come in a true fight at Yankee Stadium Sept. 18, will be determined next week by a physician of the New York Athletic Commission.

Louis will be examined at his Pompton Lakes, N. J., training camp Tuesday, while Mauriello will be looked over the following day at his new training site in the Bronx.

The two fighters signed the official contract for the scrap here yesterday and each deposited a $5,000 check to guarantee his appearance.

Australia Bids For Williams' NBA Title

Sydney, Australia, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Australia now wants NBA Lightweight Champion Ike Williams to put his title on the line.

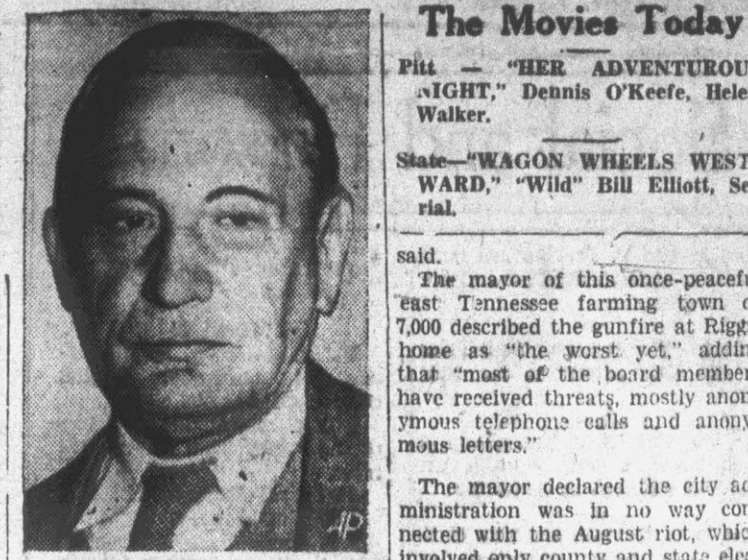

Harry Miller, manager of Stadiums, Ltd., said today he had telegraphed his English agents to offer the Trenton, N. J., Negro the same amount he received for knocking out British 135-pound King Ronnie James to meet Australia's Vic Patrick. Williams also was offered plane travel fare for three.

New York Cotton

New York, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 45 cents to 85 cents a bale higher.
Heavy general buying swept cotton futures into new highs for the season. Prices closed as much as $5.00 a bale higher. A large portion of the buying was attributed to textile mills anticipating a considerable expansion to sell a large volume of goods.
