GERMANS GET NEW HOPE IN ZURICH TALK

Churchill Calls For End To Retribution; Urges Federated Europe

Zurich, Switzerland, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Winston Churchill called today for "an end to retribution" for Germany once she is stripped of the power to make war, and for French and German partnership in some kind of United States of Europe.

The British war-time prime minister's speech at the University of Zurich was the second within two weeks to cheer the Germans. Secretary of State Byrnes at Stuttgart Sept. 6 advocated speedy establishment of a democratic provisional government for Germany and gave notice that Germany's eastern borders had not been finally determined.

Churchill made no reference however, to the American foreign policy controversy arising from Secretary of Commerce Wallace's recent speech and letter to President Truman on Russia.

Churchill called for a federal government for Germany, saying "the ancient states and principalities of Germany, newly joined together into a federal state might take their individual place among the United States of Europe."

Declaring in an address at the University of Zurich that "we dwell strangely and precariously under the shield and protection of the atomic bomb," Britain's war-time prime minister said Europe needed a regional organization within the United Nations.

"France and Germany must take the lead together," he said. "Great Britain, the British Commonwealth of Nations, mighty America and I trust, Soviet Russia for them, indeed, all would be well—must be the friends and sponsors of the new Europe and must champion its rights to live and shine."

Speaking of the urgency of finding a solution of the world's problems, he said "the atom bomb is still only in the hands of a state or nation which we know will never use it except in the cause of right and freedom, but it may well be

Continued Search For Survivors

New York, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Seventeen army, navy and coast guard planes and three coast guard cutters were engaged today in a continued search for wreckage and survivors of the Norwegian tanker Marit II, the coast guard office here announced.

The vessel split in two during a hurricane last Friday. Twenty-four members of the crew were rescued but 13 persons still are missing.

The search centered in an area 70 miles east of Cape Henry, Va., the coast guard said.

Many army and navy planes which had joined in the search that has covered 120,000 square miles, were released to their bases at the end of yesterday's unsuccessful hunt.

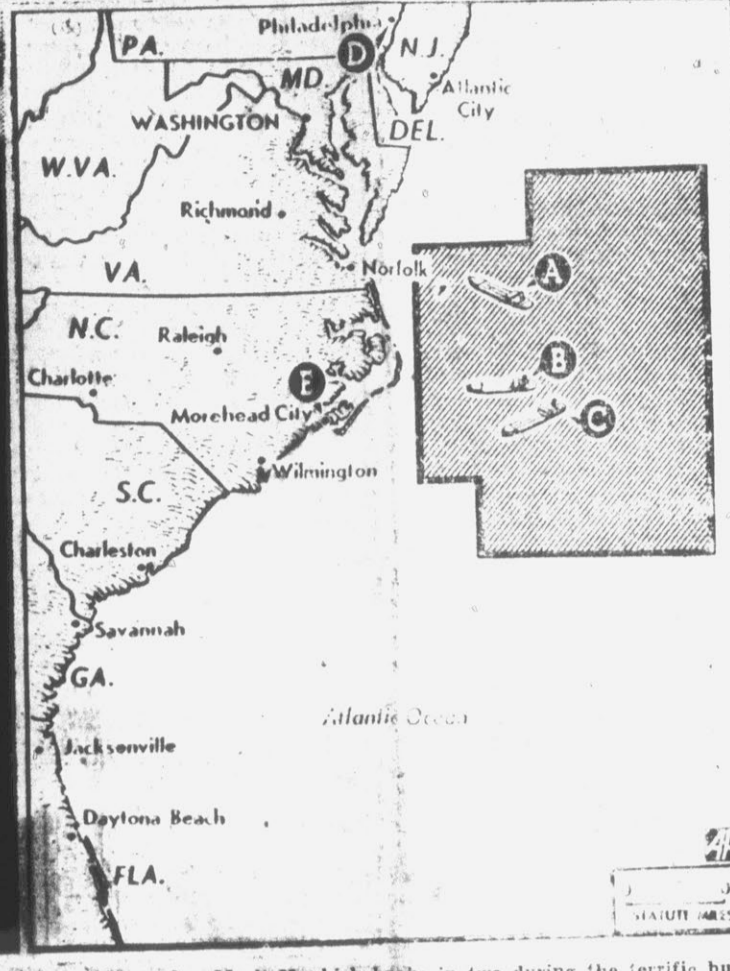

Twenty-four members of the Marit's crew who took to life rafts were rescued Sunday and have been brought to port.

One army plane yesterday reported that it had spotted a small life raft with two men aboard, but a closer inspection by a tanker in the vicinity showed the report to be in error.

CIO Seamen Win Pay Parity In Case Before Arbitrator

MEAT CONTROL HIT BY LEWIS

Meat Scarcity Affecting Coal Output Says Union Leader

Washington, Sept. 19.—(AP)—John L. Lewis called on the price control board today to remove the price controls on meat, saying that mines in three states are closing down because miners cannot now buy meat.

The United Mine Workers' chief told the board in a telegram that grave unrest is spreading all over the mining areas, because miners cannot perform the laborious and hazardous work of producing coal on a diet of cereals and vegetables.

Lewis listed the three states in which the mines are shutting down as Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky, in the heart of the rich soft coal belt.

The union leader's telegram was received by the control board as it opened the second day of its hearings on demands for restoration of price ceilings on dairy products.

Yesterday was the deadline for written arguments, and letters and telegrams still were arriving at the board offices at a late hour. The possibility of a decision during the day appeared remote.

Milk, cheese, butter and other dairy items have been free of controls since OPA lapsed June 30.

Lewis asserted that a shortage of meat already has reached "famine proportions" in six southeastern Kentucky counties, which he did not further identify.

Aside from going without meat, Lewis added, miners in many localities have been unable to obtain any lard and fats for cooking and seasoning.

"The very method of price fixing under the CPA," Lewis said, "operates against the distribution of adequate meat supplies to mining areas because the seller can profit more in nearby markets."

"Those in the know assert that we face the worst meat shortage ever," Lewis said.

NMU Sailors And Others Awarded Equal Pay Status With AFL Ship Personnel; Provides Basis For Resumption Of All Shipping Activities

By ASSOCIATED PRESS An arbitration award by James L. Fly, federal arbitrator in the case of the CIO National Maritime Union today placed NMU seamen and others on parity with AFL ship personnel and provided what Fly described as an adequate basis for the immediate resumption of all shipping activities.

Fly's award was on collateral issues of a June 14 agreement which averted a nation-wide CIO maritime strike then. Operators and the union had agreed to accept his ruling. Salary increases chiefly of from $5 to $10 a month are provided by the award. The present wage scale for the NMU seamen affected is $172.50 a month.

Fly said, as he announced the award in New York City, that he was requesting all seagoing personnel to return to work immediately and asserted there was no longer any arbitrary attitude of shipping on all coasts. He said he would see all ship operators, particularly those on the west coast, to reinstate all men on strike.

Earlier, NMU President Joseph Curran had blamed "mysterious forces in high government circles" and the arbitrary attitude of J. B. Bryan, head of the Pacific American Shipowners Association, for delaying a quick end of the strike.

In San Francisco yesterday, west coast maritime strikers marched on the offices of the Pacific American Shipowners Association but failed in efforts to see Bryan.

The marchers had left a rally at which Walter Stack, secretary of the marine firemen, asserted the first overtures toward settling the waterfront tieup had been received and rejected. But an association spokesman said no such offer had come from the shipowners. So did the Federal Conciliation Service.

Man Missing In Mine Explosion

McCoy, Va., Sept. 19.—(AP)—All eight of eight men in the McCoy mine of the great valley anthracite coal corporation had been accounted for today an hour and a half after an explosion rocked the mine.

R. G. Stevens, of Radford, president of the mining company, said the men came out of the mine before the arrival of emergency crews with gas masks from the school of mining at Blacksburg.

Two men were badly burned and one was injured by the blast. Stevens said the injured man probably had a broken leg.

One man was missing, he said, but it was not certain whether he was still in the mine or had not been checked out by mine officials.

Stevens said the explosion came about 10.30 a. m. but that he did not know how far back in the mine it occurred. The men with gas masks were under direction of L. I. Colburn, head of the school of mines at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. Mine officials said they did not think there was any fire inside.

TOUR ALARMS CONGRESSMEN

Need Stronger Defenses In Pacific Assert Lawmakers

Washington, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Five touring lawmakers, home from a six-week Far Eastern inspection trip, said today America must strengthen its military and political positions in the Pacific.

Specifically, the five members of the House military committee, who traveled 38,000 miles since August 10, said they are convinced of the urgency of building up a strong ring of defense, reaching within striking distance of Russia.

While insisting that the group's attitude is not one of belligerence toward the Soviet Union, Rep. John E. Sheridan (D-Pa.), who headed the subcommittee, told reporters the recommendations are intended to insure against any eventuality. The five will prepare a formal report later.

The lawmakers held conferences with Gen. Douglas MacArthur, supreme commander in Tokyo, and with Gen. George C. Marshall, who is in Nanking trying to mediate differences between Chinese Nationalists and Communists.

In addition to Sheridan, the group that made the entire trip included Reps. Sikes (D-Fla.), Short (R-Mo.), Thomas Martin (R-Ia.) and Leroy Johnson (R-Calif.). They were accompanied by Rep. Felghan (D-Ore.).

Raise Status Of Mission In Egypt

Washington, Sept. 19.—(AP)—After 70 years of diplomatic relations, the United States and Egypt agreed today to raise their respective missions in Cairo and Washington to the rank of embassy, and to exchange ambassadors.

The State Department, in announcing the change, said President Truman will name S. Pinkney Turk as the first U. S. ambassador to that country.

President Truman also notified the Egyptian government that he approves its proposal to elevate Ambassador Aminoum Hassan to ambassador in Washington.

Mahmoud Hassan has been Egyptian minister here since 1938.

White House Denies Deal With Wallace For Silence

Search Planes Find Survivors Of Crash

Wreckage Of Trans-Atlantic Belgian Airliner Found In Wilderness; Survival Kits Dropped By Rescuing Planes

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—At least five to seven persons were reported today by separate sources as having survived the crash of a trans-Atlantic Belgian airliner which crashed in the remote wilderness of Newfoundland.

A Trans World Airlines pilot aboard an inbound plane reported seeing three persons at the side of the wreck and four others walking about four miles from the scene. The coast guard said one of its search planes had seen five persons.

The Trans World Airlines plane, which left Boston early today for Cairo and heading toward Gander, circled the scene for an hour until other planes could arrive to take up the rescue.

All the survivors were said to be "very active" and waved their coats vigorously at the plane.

The pilot reported, according to IWA, that the Sabena plane was completely burned though all its one piece. Trees were leveled for 500 yards where it had smashed along the ground, he said.

Survival kits were dropped by rescue planes. The coast guard said its North Atlantic patrol reported that the survivors seen included two men, two women and a child. It was not established immediately whether there were others alive.

The wreckage was reported on a hillside "in very difficult country." The kits were dropped by a coast guard plane soon after an inbound Trans World Airlines plane spotted them.

The coast guard said a PBY plane landed with a rescue team on a lake four or five miles from the crash scene and slowly was making its way across rocky, hilly country. Two army rescue teams also were to be landed near the scene.

Earlier, Sabena, the company operating the plane, said a rescue party was rushing to the scene 22 miles southwest of Gander.

The airliner made a last report to the Gander field at 3 a. m. Eastern Daylight Time yesterday when (Continued on Page Six)

PARDON PLEA FOR MEADOWS

Judge Frizzelle And Others Ask Executive Clemency

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 19.—(AP)—A plea for an unconditional pardon for Dr. Leon R. Meadows, recommended by trial Judge J. Paul Frizzelle, was submitted today to the State Paroles Commission.

The verbal plea was made before Paroles Commissioner Hathaway Cross by R. L. McMillan, Raleigh attorney. He presented an array of letters requesting executive clemency.

He said the one which carried most weight was that of the trial judge who said he favored it after Meadows served a year of his three-year sentence.

Meadows, convicted of embezzlement and false pretense in connection with his handling of special and student funds while president of East Carolina Teachers College, entered Central Prison here on September 25, 1945. However, counting extra time granted for good conduct and Sunday work, he now will have served a technical two years.

Judge Frizzelle wrote Governor Cherry after Meadows had served the year: "The demands of justice and the public interest will have been fully met and no good will be accomplished by further confinement."

Cross advised that the appeal in behalf of the prisoner, who is 6 years old, would be taken under advisement.

Among others pleading for clemency were S. L. Arrington of Rocky (Continued on Page Six)

President's Secretary Declares No "This For That" Arrangement Concluded; Dispute Continues Inside Cabinet; Patterson And Forrestal Denounce Wallace Charges

By JOHN B. HIGHTOWER Washington, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The White House said today President Truman made "no deal" with Secretary of Commerce Wallace in return for Wallace's decision to keep quiet for the duration of the Paris peace conference.

Reporters asked Charles G. Ross the president's press secretary about some news stories that mentioned a deal and a "this for that" arrangement.

"That is absolutely untrue," Ross declared. "There was no deal or anything resembling a deal and I can say that from first hand knowledge."

Ross was present during the latter part of a two and a half hour conference yesterday between Mr. Truman and the commerce secretary, which ended with Wallace still a cabinet member. It was at this meeting that Wallace agreed to make no speeches or public statements until the Paris conference is over.

One report said that the "something in return" Wallace was supposed to have extracted from the chief executive was an implied promise to promote some changes that Wallace advocates in foreign policy.

Ross disclosed that Mr. Truman had tried to call Secretary of State Byrnes in Paris by telephone this morning but atmospheric disturbances prevented.

So far as is known here, Mr. Truman has not been in direct touch with Byrnes since Wallace's implied criticism of this country's policy toward Russia, voiced in a speech last week. However, the President has conferred frequently with Undersecretary of State Will Clayton and in fact a scheduled conference with him this noon.

Democratic National Committee officers said a tentative itinerary originally mapped out for Wallace called for congressional campaign speeches through the month of October.

In view of yesterday's developments, they added, a new itinerary will have to be mapped out if the Paris conference ends before the election. This of necessity will be a curtailed one with Wallace being sent to "spots where it is felt he could do the most good."

While Wallace stepped to the side lines in the row over American foreign policy, the dispute continued unabated inside the cabinet.

Moreover, top administration officials made clear that the compromise truce by which Wallace will make no public utterance until the end of the Paris peace conference next month does not settle any of the basic issues he raised—either concerning American relations with

Quake Report

MIAMI, FLA., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Marion H. Gilmore of the Navy's micro-seismograph center reported a "large" earthquake was recorded on naval instruments at 1:55 a. m. EST. today.

The center was 5,000 kilometers from Miami and possibly was in Chile, said Gilmore. The shock was recorded at the micro-seismograph center at the Richmond Naval Air Station, Miami; at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, and at Roosevelt Roads, Porto Rico.

Gilmore said the definite center of the shock was not located but added that "it appears to have been in Chile."

FSA PRAISES N. C. FARMERS

Excellent Record In Repaying Loans Say Officials

Washington, Sept. 19.—(AP)—North Carolina farmers "have an excellent record of repaying loans," to the Farm Security Administration.

North Carolina borrowers, FSA officials say, had borrowed $34,736,899 and paid back $26,264,124 in principal or 92 per cent of the amount due by June, 1946. In addition they have paid $1,922,677 in interest on rehabilitation loans since the program began about 10 years ago.

Payment records in farm ownership "also are excellent," FSA officials said. By March 31, 1946, which was the closing date for payment from 1945 income, a total of 1,802 Tar Heel borrowers had paid 104 per cent more on loans than required, to keep them on a basis of 40 equal annual installments.

Since 1935 a total of 29,600 North Carolina farmers obtained short-term operating credit, 2,723 the 40-year farm-buying loans, and 10,597 families in the state were farming with "supervised credit" in the rural rehabilitation program.

Tar Heel farmers received $11,840,046 in loans by July 1, 1946 to buy farms, and by that time 352 already had paid the loans in full, "many years before final payments were due," FSA said.

Man Is Convicted Of Slander In Primary

Washington, N. C., Sept. 19.—(AP)—George E. Pritchard, Elizabeth City resident, was convicted in Superior court here yesterday on a charge of slandering W. I. Halstead of Camden county during last Spring's primary campaign and was sentenced to 12 months on the roads.

He gave notice of appeal to the Supreme Court, pending which he was freed on $1,000 bond, fixed by Judge Luther Hamilton.

Judge Hamilton commented, after Pritchard's conviction, that an acquittal would have been "a miscarriage of justice."

Halstead was a successful candidate for the legislature in the campaign. Pritchard was alleged to have circulated a number of letters attacking his character.

What Wallace Said

The Secretary Of Commerce Aroused International Excitement With His Speech And Letter To Mr. Truman; Here's Analysis Of A White House Mix-Up

Washington, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The tempest over Henry Wallace may quiet down now—for a while at least—since he's agreed temporarily not to make any more speeches.

For a whole week there's been international excitement over Wallace: what he said in a speech last Thursday night and what he wrote earlier to President Truman in a letter which Wallace made public Tuesday night.

In the speech and the letter Wallace urged a softer United States attitude toward Russia. And he suggested ways in which he thought the two nations might work better together for peace.

Anniversary Of "The Mukden Incident" Passes Unnoticed; Historians May Regard It As Start Of World War II; City Again Center Of Warlike Struggles

By GLENN BABB (For DeWitt MacKenzie) The anniversary of one of history's turning points slipped by almost unnoticed, yesterday. The world is surfeited with anniversaries recalling tragic and bloody events, and dread of more to come turns men's eyes to the anxious future rather than the past.

But it was on Sept. 18, 1931, that the Japanese army launched its conquest of Manchuria, thereby ushering in the most terrible 15 years in the human story. Historians a century hence may debate whether the second World War should be dated from Japan's 1931 blow at world peace or Hitler's losing his armies on Poland Sept. 1, 1939.

The Japanese adventure constituted the first major blow struck by a great power at the world order

Scientists Hint Rivals To Dreaded Atom Bomb

Washington, Sept. 19.—(AP)—More or less cryptic hints of terrifying new weapons of death came from three directions today.

One was tucked away in Secretary of Commerce Wallace's controversy letter to President Truman—a passing but significant reference to radioactive poison gas.

Another was contained in a radio address by Editor-Scientist Dr. Gerald Wendt, who spoke of a "super-deadly" poison so potent a single ounce could kill every person in the United States and Canada.

Finally, Maj. Gen. Alden H. Waiatt chief of the Army's Chemical Corps frankly acknowledged that his experts have worked with toxic agents that have "power far, very far beyond anything we had known in previous chemical warfare research."

Trucking Firms File Suit Against Unions

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Suit for damages of $10,000,000 was filed in federal court today by 55 of the largest interstate and local trucking concerns in New York against local 807, International Brother of Teamsters (AFL) on the ground the union was conducting an unlawful strike in violation of the Smith-Connally act.

The plaintiffs are members of the Motor Carrier Association of New York, the New York State Motor Carrier Association, or are independent truckmen, according to Harris J. Klein, counsel for the two associations and the plaintiff.

The national W. C. T. U. convention is to be held this year at Minneapolis, Minnesota, September 19-24. Outstanding speakers on the program are Bishop Ralph S. Cushman, Dr. Glenn Clark and Mrs. F. H. Grevelt.

Mrs. L. E. Brown, president of the North Carolina W. C. T. U., left Charlotte Sunday for Minneapolis to attend the entire session. Members of the local union are asked to pray definitely and earnestly for this convention.

The liquor ad crusade is meeting with success. Many organizations and individuals over the nation are cooperating in this crusade and great results are anticipated therefrom.

W. C. T. U. members and other interested persons are asked to tear out the liquor advertisements which come to them in their magazines and newspapers, put on each a printed sticker protesting these ads, and mail to the publishers. Any local members who have not received stickers may call 2980 or 3283 and get a supply.

We are not asking the publishers of liquor ads to atone for their past transgressions, although the enticement to debauchery and ruin of multitudes of our sons and daughters is involved. The Lord God Almighty, who holds the breath of every living creature in His hand, has the record and will settle that score. All we are asking is that they withdraw from their cooperation with and support of this arch monster and the spread of its propaganda.

More than $900 has been pledged and paid by members of the W. C. T. U. of Champaign, Illinois, and their friends to finance a counter advertising campaign. Once a week space in the local paper has been purchased for publication of a cartoon answering the "Old Judge" ads.

Training School P. T. A.
The P. T. A. of the Training School held its first meeting of the school year on Wednesday afternoon, September 18th.

The speaker, Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, was presented by Miss Frances Wahl. His subject was "Problems of P. T. A." He pointed out that the P. T. A. is an organization of both parents and teachers and participation of both groups is necessary.

Parents and schools are agents of society and have concurrent jurisdiction over children. The P. T. A. provides an opportunity for the teachers to know the parents and how they would like the teachers to take their places.

He suggested these ways in which parents can help the schools and teachers:

Attend meetings.
Attend every school function to which you are invited and visit at other times.

In visits and the desire to become acquainted learn what the school is trying to do before having much to say about it.

After learning the schools' goals and objectives you have the privilege and duty to make suggestions about the work.

Every organization for public good should and does render some small financial assistance.

Uphold school and teachers to the nth degree to your children. You should always make the school right. If you think the teacher is wrong, uphold her to the child, but talk with the teacher about the problem.

Not only encourage children but help them with homework.
Get husbands interested.
Keep your child healthy enough to go to school.

Support your organization.
Mrs. Vance Perkins presided over the business meeting. The minutes were read by Miss Ruth Modlin and approved. Mrs. Ficklen Arthur gave the treasurer's report. During the business session several projects for the coming year were discussed. At the conclusion the session was adjourned by the reading of the P. T. A. prayer.—Reported.

Chapter 1
Martin King took heed of the unmistakable signs and portents as he paid his breakfast check in Joe's, and knew that trouble lay in wait for him.

Ten minutes later, he walked up a flight of dark stairs and entered the city room. It was 11:45, and for the third time that year Martin was early.

Bill Doran, the Record's dour city editor, sat talking with a slender, elegant man of fifty, who wore a waxed yellow mustache. Doran boomed, "Marty, I've been phoning your place for an hour."

Martin sighed, "So soon?" He flung his coat across a chair and approached the pair with deliberate slowness. "Why not forget you used to be a newspaperman, Lee?" he asked the elegant one. "I get plenty of action from headquarters without needing you to smell out secret scandals."

"This is an exceptional tip, Martin. I'm charging Doran fifty dollars for it. We're going to kick Richard Searle into State's Prison."

A gleam of interest showed in Martin's eyes, but his grin was derisive. "It's been tried. I'd have taken a bath in turpentine to see him sweat when Leona Mitchell jumped out of his apartment window—or was pushed out—but the local nabobs who used to be his father's buddies hushed it up."

"You can take that bath now. Searle has borrowed and stolen from everybody he knows. He's tobogganing and the law is going to grease the way."

"For lechery, larceny—or just loitering?"

"Larceny, by fraud and by check-raising, to the tune of more than fifty thousand dollars."

Doran cut in. "He got twenty-eight thousand out of that rum-soaked old harridan Clarabelle Messmer—"

"Clarabelle Dexter Schmidt Messmer," Dexter said softly. "Once my wife. She's rum-soaked and old and as loony as they come, but it was every cent she had."

The city editor's face turned a dull red. "I'm sorry, Lee. I clean forgot, it was so long ago. Anyway, Marty, the cash went across Howard Morrissey's crap tables in the Gold Mine Club, down in the Village."

"Naturally," Martin commented. "After which Searle proceeded to take Morrissey down the line. He put on a crying act and Morrissey insulted him by writing him a check for twenty-five bucks. Morrissey must be a careless penman, because when the bank paid off, after Searle had avenged the insult by making some marks on the check, it was for twenty-five grand."

"Searle won't go to jail," predicted Martin. "He'll go into the East River."

"No," Dexter flicked cigarette ash into a cuspidor. "I talked with Morrissey. He needs the money and intends to make Searle get it up. He won't have the guy killed till he's tried everything else."

Doran said, "Marty, your job is to convince Morrissey that he ought to holler copper. See Clarabelle first and make her give you a signed statement that she'll prosecute. Morris will fall in line then, so he won't be left out if Searle goes to make some kind of settlement. Make Morris put it in writing, too. Then, just to keep the record clear, see what Searle has to say."

Martin rode the elevator to the street level and got into a taxicab. "Seventy-fourth and Madison," he directed, "and step on it."

The cab slowed as it neared 74th Street and Martin got out.

He found the name he wanted and rang. After a few seconds a tiny voice came from a perforated disc. "What is it?"

"It's about Richard Searle, Mr. Messmer."

"Richard? Oh, my goodness! Come up, please, but give me a minute."

The door opened finally, revealing a shapeless woman in a pink wrap, her face a mask of unevenly applied powder, her short flaxen hair a dry tangle. Only her eyes seemed real, inquisitive and anxious.

"Did you say your name was King? Do find a place to sit down." Martin sat on the edge of a sofa.

LOOK OUT FOR PIN-WORMS

Recent medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children (and grown-ups too) may be victims of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting what is wrong! And these pests, living inside the human body, can cause real distress.

So watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms—especially the irritating rectal itch. Get JAYNE'S P-W and follow the directions.

P-W is the Pin-Worm treatment developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, after years of patient research. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

Ask your druggist: P-W for Pin-Worms!

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drag everytime you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula, which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloats and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

"Mrs. Messmer, we understand at the Record that Searle has succeeded in getting money from you and several other people by means that weren't entirely legal. There's a strong possibility that he'll appear in criminal court on serious charges."

"You're not friendly with him any more, are you?"

The quivering was spreading from her lips to her cheeks. "No, we're not . . . friendly. He used to pay a great deal of attention to me before I gave him all my money. Mr. King, you'll think me an old, fat fool, but he even asked me to marry him, and I . . . I thought he . . . meant it."

Martin made his tone brisk and businesslike. "You can get the law after him and show him you're not to be trifled with."

"But how could he get the money in jail?"

"You can bet he'd try twice as hard to get it if he were there than otherwise. And remember, you aren't his only victim. If someone files a prior claim—"

"Oh, do you think that might happen?"

"Why not? If I were you, I'd swear out a warrant."

"I'll do it."

He drew a deep breath.

"We're printing a story about it tomorrow morning. We won't mention anything personal, like his asking you to marry him. I'll need a statement from you in writing to protect us in case Searle tries to make trouble."

"Tell me what to put down."

Martin lit a cigarette, closed his eyes.

"Write, 'Dear Mr. King: This is to inform you that I plan to bring immediate criminal action against Richard Searle because—'"

It had been easier than he had expected.

Strength FOR THE DAY

BY EARL L. DOUGLAS

THE GIFT OF GENTLE TOUCH

Personality is a powerful force. Sometimes people of great learning or skill reflect bitterly that they have made no worldly success, while people of no learning and very little skill have made a great success. There are many factors involved in such a situation, but personality is usually the greatest. People who know how to get along with their fellows are liable to make much more of a success than highly endowed and educated people who lack this gift. The word "touch" comes from a Latin word which means "touch." Tact is the technique of the light and pleasant touch. Some very commendable people lack it. Every time they touch their fellows they do it in a rough or awkward fashion, which either bruises or annoys. Scattered about in every considerable collection of persons are individuals who, in an indefinable way, draw their fellows to them and make everybody around them feel secure and contented. Someone was telling me just today about a teacher of very gentle manner who could go into a room full of adolescent ruffians and within ten minutes have everything going her way. It was said of Phillips Brooks the great Boston preacher, that no matter how gloomy the day, everything brightened up when he put in his appearance. "Are you cold, lad?" asked a noble Scotchman of a street urchin. "I was sir," came the reply, "until you spoke to me."

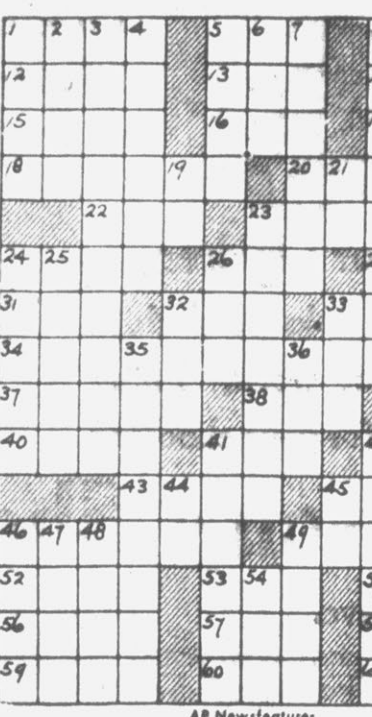

NO TIME FOR RED TAPE

It seems to us that there should be some way to cut unnecessary government red tape in order that immediate use might be made of housing facilities at the local airport for GI students who want to attend college here this fall. For many months since the navy ceased operations at the airport the city and county have been busy trying to get control of the badly needed buildings and materials at the field but there is so much government red tape that to date little has been accomplished. There are many buildings still standing at the airport that could be put to immediate use and many others have been dismantled and stacked in piles apparently to rot while some two-by-four government official makes up his mind what is to be done with them. It is the height of folly to have to turn away men students at the college for lack of housing facilities when the facilities at the airport are empty and unused and most likely will never be used again by the government. The college opens next week and the need for housing facilities is urgent. Unless the government acts immediately it has been suggested by some that local officials "take the bull by the horns" and go ahead and permit the students to be housed at the airport. While ordinarily we would not approve of such methods this might be one way to make it possible for many GI students to attend college this fall who otherwise would have to be turned away for

A-Bomb Rivals . . .

However, the fact that Wallace wrote of "other" weapons in addition to the atomic bomb suggested that he was referring to something besides the now well-known radioactive by-product of the bomb explosion itself.

Dr. Wendt, in his talk, made no specific mention of possible methods of spreading the new poison. However, in a discussion of radioactive by-products of the atomic bomb, Wendt referred to contamination of reservoirs stating: "And yet an atomic bomb would not even be necessary because enormous quantities of such radioactive material are produced in the course of manufacturing the bomb. These powerful by-products of the plutonium plant could themselves be dropped in small bombs from planes and might even be more effective in rendering the water supply fatal."

"It would not even be necessary to drink this water. In every house the plumbing system furnishes a direct connection with the water reservoirs and forms a complicated branching network which would automatically carry the source of the deadly rays into every home."

What Wallace Said . . .

It was doing so only because a columnist had obtained a copy of it. Wallace's office, before releasing it, got approval from Mr. Truman's press secretary, Charles G. Ross. Later, when Ross checked with the President, Mr. Truman wouldn't approve. Too late. The letter had been released.

This tremendous White House mix-up on a subject so important and delicate as our foreign relations kept Washington and the nation steamed up. Generally, the reaction to this whole occurrence seemed to be divided among three classes:

1. Those who dislike Wallace and hence found in all this a reason for disliking and criticizing him even more.
 2. Those who have consistently followed Wallace looked upon what he said as an expression of their own views.
 3. Those who—although they had followed or sympathized with Wallace until now—became critical of his thinking when they analyzed what he said, and the implications in what he said.
- In this way they can judge for themselves. Because in his speech Wallace suggested we say in our backyard and keep out of Russia's backyard he has been criticized as proposing isolationism.
- To this writer it seems that Wallace's speech was not as carefully

Denies Deal . . .

Russia or Wallace's own future in the cabinet. Mr. Truman did, however, act swiftly to make public a joint army and navy declaration that this nation has no thought of making war on the Soviet Union.

While Secretary of State Byrnes whose policies have been the target of Wallace's criticism, maintained his silence in Paris, Secretary of War Patterson and Navy Secretary Forrestal became the latest to jump into the affray.

In a letter to Mr. Truman which the chief executive made public last night shortly after he ended his conference with Wallace, Patterson and Forrestal denounced as untrue a Wallace charge that one school of military thinking advocates a preventive war against Russia before Russia makes atomic bombs.

Release of the letter was widely regarded as a gesture to reassure the Kremlin of America's peaceful intentions toward the Soviet Union.

As for the public debate over relations with Russia, which Wallace began in New York last Thursday the secretary himself made clear that he had yielded only temporarily to the president's efforts to silence him. The Paris conference is tentatively slated to end October 15, and Wallace presumably is holding his fire only until that time.

Stuffed Peppers Are Super for Supper

A dish that combines a super flavor with easy preparation is doubly welcome by the "cook" when supper time rolls around. Please yourself and family, too, by serving these easily prepared stuffed peppers now while peppers are plentiful and of excellent quality.

Green Peppers . . . stuffed with corned beef hash

Wash and remove tops and seeds from 6 green peppers and drop in boiling water for 1 minute. Stuff peppers with a mixture of 2 tbsp. catchup

1 can WILSON'S CERTIFIED CORNED BEEF HASH
Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°F., until tops are brown, about 30 minutes.
Serves 6.

Plan a Hurry-Up Supper
Want to come home late some afternoon soon? Then stuff the peppers and store in refrigerator in their baking pan. First one home pops them into a hot oven when it's time.

If you've made kidney bean salad and lunch chifon pie in the morning, all that remains to be done is to cook a head of cauliflower (15 to 20 min.) in cooking. To prevent: Add a little vinegar or lemon juice to the water . . . and be careful not to overcook it.

A bit of these sauce makes cauliflower more appetizing—saves on butter, too. Be sure to ask for Certified American Cheese for superb flavor.

Other Quickies
You'll enjoy the flavor of Certified Corned Beef Hash so much you'll want to keep several cans on hand all the time. Here's another delightful way to serve it: Remove both ends from the can, push out the roll of hash and put in 5 or 6 slices. Pan-fry quickly using only a small amount of fat (Advance Shortening, of course). Serve with poached or fried Clear Brook Eggs.

Did you ever try slicing Mor and breading it before pan-frying? It's really a treat . . . with or without a dash of chili sauce.

After-Thoughts
If you bake green peppers whole, it's easy to keep them upright if you stand them in muffin pans. Same goes for stuffed tomatoes; baked apples.

What to do when unexpected guests drop in around dinner time? Dress up the family menu by spreading crisp crackers or potato chips with Certified Deviled Ham and serve with a tomato juice cocktail.

Yours for cooking enjoyment,
George Rector

WASHINGTON LETTER

WOMEN FROM INDIA AND CEYLON STUDY NURSING IN AMERICA

Washington—Daisy Charles has her graying black hair parted in the middle and drawn tightly back into a knot at the nape of her neck. She wears glasses. She is a little woman, but brittle and with an unwavering determination. Her tiny, slender hands are strongly expressive.

She was wearing Indian dress with a sari or long piece of material draped under one arm and caught in folds on the other shoulder. It was wine colored and pure silk, handwoven with a gold border.

I had lunch at the National Press Club with Daisy, Mrs. Rukumani Jangar, also of India, and Mrs. May Jainu-Deen of Ceylon. The women were in the United States on a Rockefeller Foundation scholarship to observe public health and nursing methods. They had just finished a year's course in these subjects at the University of Toronto in August they will go to England and thence home to put into practice what they have learned.

Daisy Charles is a Christian named after missionary godparents. Her great grandfather was pastor of a mission church in Mysore State. She was educated in Travancore schools and studied nursing in Madras. In Mysore, with its population of 6,500,000, she will be superintendent of public health nurses.

Mrs. Langar, younger, with pretty dark eyes and a rosy smile, is from Travancore State, which has a population of 5,500,000, and until now has had no public nursing service. A Hindu in religion, she will head a nursing school.

Mrs. Jainu-Deen is also young and very pretty. She is vivacious, witty and sure of herself. She is a wealthy Christian. Her husband represents the Bata shoe interests and several American firms in Ceylon. They live on a vast and beautiful tea estate in a modern house that beats Hollywood.

She wore a great deal of jewelry a necklace of wooden beads carved from a native tree and scores of golden bracelets, hand-carved. She returns to Ceylon to be in charge of training public health nurses.

All the women were in dead earnest over the opportunity lying before them. There is a great need in India and Ceylon for better nursing methods. They had great hope for the advancement of public health. All over India nurse associations are springing up.

"Nothing but education will do the job," says Daisy, expressing satisfaction over the fact that in 1947 India will have compulsory and free public education for all children through 14 years of age.

The menu the day of the luncheon listed "veal curry a la Indienne" but none of the women seemed interested. They all ordered strictly American dishes and then doused them with black pepper and tabasco sauce.

of conquest. At any rate the conquest became a fact within the next few months.

Once again Mukden is the center of warlike developments and Manchuria is a battleground. Despite the continuing efforts of American peace-makers, China's civil war is rising to new heights of ferocity and the chances of negotiated peace are fading. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's own chief of staff, Gen. Chen-Cheng, has arrived at Mukden fresh from conferences with his master at the summer capital, Kuling, and both Nationalist and Chinese Communists say that this presages an all out Nationalist campaign to destroy the Communist hold in Manchuria, the richest

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Sept. 19—(AP)—Heavy selling again deluged the stock market today, sinking leaders 1 to 8 points as a new average low for 18 months and putting the high speed ticker tape as much as seven minutes behind for the first time since 1946.

Wednesday's decline was extended moderately at the opening in fairly active dealings. The real liquidating wave hit the list shortly after midday with the recording machinery lagging for the greater part of the hour. "Flash" quotations were printed on the tape at intervals to show the real situation on the floor.

The pace then slowed as timid support arrived and extreme losses were reduced in most cases. There was another burst of offerings in the final quarter hour and many recoveries were eliminated at the close. Transfers were among the largest of the month, transfers running to around 3,000,000 shares.

GHS PHANTOMS PLAY FRIDAY

Meet Edenton High In First Grid Test Of The Season

By DAVE CLARK

Coach Bo Farley jerks the wrapper off his 1946 gridiron edition here Friday night when the Greenville High Green Phantoms meet Edenton High's eleven in Guy Smith Stadium at eight o'clock.

With only 4 lettermen back from last year's successful aggregation Coach Farley is still in doubt as to how his boys will react come game time this Friday. But he is reasonably pleased with the Phantoms' showing in their scrimmage sessions to date.

After a hard scrimmage on Monday the Phantoms took it easy yesterday as they began tapering off for Friday. For the most part, the boys are in good shape with no players sidelined because of injuries, although guard Jimmy Cozart was lost because of a bad case of asthma.

Edenton's team is reported to be considerably heavier than the Phantoms' and their backfield is a fast one, so no one is regarding them lightly. Only the game will tell what their strength is however.

The four Phantom lettermen back from last year are Bud Whitehurst, tackle, Jimmy Lee, fullback, Henry Turner, end, and June Rose, guard.

The rest of the probable starting is composed of Dennis Cook at center, Tommy Eilers at the other guard, Jim Tanner at the other tackle, Billy White at the other end in the backfield along with Lee and Billy Goodson, tailback, Lewis Evans, wingback and Dave Clark blockingback.

Same Old Story, Louis Won Again

New York, Sept. 19—(AP)—They dug up another heavyweight last night, Tami Mauriello, who was not scared by Joe Louis, and Tami wound up like so many of his predecessors have, a-blubbering in his dressing room after having been knocked out by the great Negro fighter in the first round.

The Bronx barkeep was not overawed by the champion. With the very first punch of their jilted bout in Yankee Stadium, Mauriello clipped Joe on the temple and sent him reeling into the ropes as the throng rose and beloveted its excitement.

And then Louis, more surprised than hurt, by his later admission, took a few Tami, tore him apart and left him draped helplessly over the middle rope in 2:09 of the opening stanza. It was Joe's 23rd successful defense of his title.

"I thought I had him," Tami cried as he sat later with a towel draped around his dejected head. "I thought I had him, and I grew careless."

At that, and in the tradition of another tavern keeper, Tony Galento, Mauriello did not "die" on his way to fight Louis, he went in, threw a cocky, exploded his best punches on the champion's jaw, and went down only after he had been beaten into helpless exhaustion.

CHOU EN-LAI WARNS OF WAR

Leader Of Chinese Reds Quits Nanking Peace Talks

Shanghai, Sept. 19—(AP)—Chou En-lai, No. 2 Chinese Communist announced today he had quit the Nanking peace negotiations and asserted the Chinese and American governments' Far Eastern policies are based on the assumption there will be a Russo-American war, with China as an important base.

Chou, in an exclusive interview, said he personally does not believe such a war is in prospect "because neither the Soviet nor American publics want war."

He warned, however, "the outbreak of a third world war will inevitably lead to revival of Japanese imperialism and its penetration into China rather than victory for the Kuomintang (Chinese Government party)."

Chou gave this conclusion on his opinion that the United States if engaged in war with Russia would rely upon Japanese support rather than Chinese "because Japan's economy is more stable and its manpower is more readily mobilized although North China and Manchuria would obviously become a major battlefield."

"Such a war would result in nothing but tragedy for China," he said.

Asked if the Chinese Communists want the Chinese civil war placed before the United Nations Security Council on the grounds it constitutes a potential threat to international peace, Chou replied:

"If the United States government abandons its position as mediator and sides fully with the Kuomintang, in other words, if it continues its present policy, America will find herself called upon to render an account to the world and to the Chinese people. However, the Communist party has not yet contemplated placing the case before the United Nations."

Chou said he would return to Nanking to resume peace negotiations only if Chiang Kai-shek agrees to reconvene the military committee of three—General Marshall and Chinese Government and Communist representatives.

Sports

By JOE RECHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

There was every indication today that whichever team wins the National League flag—whether it be the St. Louis Cardinals or Brooklyn Dodgers—will have to overcome strong opposition from the rest of the league the remainder of the way.

All teams are geared up and lying in wait for the two contenders. The Cardinals, expecting fairly soft opposition from the Boston Braves whom they had defeated 14 times in 20 engagements this season, found a thoroughly aroused team and went down to a 2-1 defeat under the lights at Braves Field.

The setback reduced the league leaders' margin over the Dodgers to a game and a half. The Brooks were held to a split by the Pittsburgh Pirates in an afternoon double header at Ebbets Field.

As matters stand now, the Cards still boasts a decided advantage over the Dodgers, who have 10 games left to play as compared to nine for the Redbirds. The season ends a week from Sunday. Any combination of nine St. Louis victories or Brooklyn defeats would give the Cards the flag.

The Cards meet the Braves again today, with the Tribe in the midst of a six-game winning streak which has pulled it up within a game of the third place Cubs.

Lefty Fritz Ostermueller, a Dodger castoff, held his former mates to nine scattered hits in pitching the seventh place Pirates to a first game 3-2 victory.

Ralph Branca, who turned in that masterful shutout job against the Cardinals last week, duplicated his runless performance with a five-hit 3-0 victory for the Dodgers in the second game.

Hal Newhouse became the first major league pitcher to register 25 victories for three consecutive years since Lefty Grove did it in 1930-32. Newhouse reached that level yesterday when he pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 2-1 10-inning victory over the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Boston Red Sox, with Manager Joe Cronin and a half-dozen of his top-flight performers back home resting for the World Series beat the Browns 6-2 under the lights in St. Louis. Home runs by Sherry Robertson, Stan Spence, Mickey Vernon and Jake Early helped Washington humble the Cleveland Indians 8-1 on their own grounds.

The Phils solidified their hold on fifth place in the National League by winning twice from the sixth place Reds 2-1 and 6-3.

The Cubs preserved their slim lead over the Braves by whipping the New York Giants 4-3.

Earl Caldwell won his 13th game against four setbacks as the Chicago White Sox split with the New York Yankees. After Spud Chandler gained his 18th victory for the Yanks with a 4-0 shutout, the Sox won the nightcap 9-7.

The CIO-sponsored committee for maritime unity then appealed to Governor Warren of California to apply official pressure on the shipowners.

Some movement, meantime, was detected yesterday in scattered seaports, principally on the east coast and the gulf, following release of foreign vessels and AFL-managed ships from the CIO's picket lines.

The U. S. Maritime Commission said longshoremen worked on 97 ships in New York harbor.

The NMU seamen are demanding a $5 a month raise on the west coast and a $10 a month hike on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts. This would bring them up to the scale of AFL seamen who were granted monthly increases of $22.50 on the west coast.

The present scale for the NMU seamen affected by the wage demands is $172.50 a month. They won a $17.50 a month raise three months ago.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen

Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.
