CAB TRIES TO LEARN CAUSE OF AIR CRASH

Investigators Lift Wreckage Evidence Of Big Air Disaster

Stevensville, Newfoundland, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Veteran investigators of the U. S. Civil Aeronautics Board sifted the bits and pieces of a giant four-engine airliner today trying to learn why the craft hurtled head-on into a 1,200-foot wall of rock on Thursday morning, smashing 39 persons to death.

"It is the worst in my 37 years' experience," said George Gay, regional CAB chief, after visiting the scene of the tragedy.

From eye-witness accounts and the flame-fused remains of the American overseas liner the probe is fashioned this version of the crash, the worst in commercial aviation history. The plane was a DC-4 Douglas Skymaster. It had stopped overnight at Harmon Field on the southwestern coast of Newfoundland because of bad weather at Gander airport, across the island.

A crew of eight and 31 passengers were aboard. The tanks had been filled with 2,900 gallons of high octane gasoline for the long overseas hop to Shannon, Eire.

The plane used a runway pointing in a northeasterly direction toward a range of rock-capped mountains eight miles distant, which range up to about 1,500 feet.

Ground crews watched the craft rise normally, a half hour before dawn, with an estimated 150 feet of altitude before it reached the end of the runway. Suddenly a great

Policemen Killed By Korean Mobs

Seoul, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Rioting mobs in the Taku (Taegu) region of southeastern Korea killed 30 Korean police and seriously wounded 60 others before U. S. troops restored order. U. S. army headquarters announced today. One hundred Korean police were reported missing.

Lt. John R. Hodge, U. S. occupation commander, described the mob as leaders as vicious agitators from outside. Koreans said they were Communist demonstrators agitating against the Korean police as representatives of the military government.

Hodge's headquarters announced a few days ago it had discovered a Communist plot, conceived in Russia-occupied northern Korea, to discredit U. S. occupation forces and drive them out of the country.

The demonstrators carried off their dead and wounded.

Prescription Ruling Benefits N. C. Vets

Winston-Salem, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Home town prescription service for North Carolina veterans who have service-incurred disabilities or ailments is in operation, the veterans administration regional medical service has announced.

Made possible by a recently signed agreement between the V. A. and the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, the service enables a veteran who has been authorized for medical treatment to get prescriptions filled by his home town pharmacist.

Delays previously were incurred as prescriptions were filled free by mail by the V. A. itself.

A doctor who has been authorized to treat a veteran with service-connected disorders now can sign prescriptions for presentation by the veteran to his druggist.

The druggist reports the order to the State Pharmaceutical Association which bills the V. A. for the costs each month.

Truman's Statement

Palestine Pronouncement By President Perturbs British; Disagreement Revolves Around Method Of Arriving At Mutually-Desired Goal; Brief Review

By J. M. ROBERTS (For Mackenzie)

The British and American governments divided over Palestine as they have not been divided since the war debt debate of many years ago. But instead of a direct collision between individual interests, the new disagreement revolves around methods of arriving at mutually desired goal.

The British, accustomed in recent years to establishing a common front with the U. S. and then facing the world, are piqued that the President should step out alone in what has been considered a primarily British matter. But it is hardly a situation in which pique lingers long enough to really interfere with an international relationship.

Whether the President's statement will have the adverse effect on Palestine negotiations which the British profess to fear remains to be

A search party reached the scene and reported there were no survivors. The plane smashed into a hillside 10 minutes after taking off from the airport at Stephenville. Just two weeks ago a Belgian airliner crashed near Gander (A) with the loss of 7 lives. (AP Wirephoto Map).

Peace Commissions Finish Deliberations On Treaties

Treaty Drafts Now Go Before Full Sessions For Action; Delegates Haggard After 28-Hour Session In Balkan Commission; Yugoslavia Indulges In Filibuster

Paris, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The peace conference commissions today completed their work on treaties, which now go before full sessions of the conference for action.

After a 28-hour session, the Balkan economic commission ended a deadlock on reparations by adopting a British proposal calling for Bulgaria to pay $125,000,000 jointly to Greece and Yugoslavia, the sum to be divided later by the Foreign Ministers Council.

The vote of 9 to 5 was along west Slav lines. The delegates were haggard as the session ended.

A five-hour virtual filibuster by Slav delegates, who wanted the Bulgarian reparations question referred to the big four, blocked a

Gifford Pinchot Dies In New York

New York, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Gifford Pinchot, 81, twice governor of Pennsylvania and an expert on forestry, died last night in Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center here.

"Only in some cases where restaurants have had to absorb higher costs will they be passed on to the consumer," Clark said. But he expressed gratification that he has been able to show OPA some adjustment was necessary.

In abandoning its attempt to hold the price of meat meals at the June 30 level, OPA announced late yesterday it had acted to restore the prices of restaurant meat offerings to their normal relationship to the prices of other meals.

Under the new price order, when the increase is applied to a meal offering which costs 20 cents or more the price will be computed to the nearest nickel. Thus a 30-cent sandwich will go up to 35 cents, not 34.2. On charges of less than 25 cents, the increase will be 5 cents.

Power Walkout Felt By Industry

Pittsburgh, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Pittsburgh's 12-day-old stalemated power strike, which had made more than 100,000 workers idle here, today began to have repercussions in other sections of the country.

The basic steel industry in the district is practically unaffected since most of the producing companies have their own generating plants.

Hard hit, however, are the processors and fabricators, makers of finished and semifinished products, who have been forced to shut down almost unanimously throughout the 817-square mile affected area. Cessation of shipments of their products was beginning to make itself felt.

At Detroit, the Chrysler Corp. mentioned the power strike as a contributing factor in an equipment shortage expected to force the lay-off of 25,000 Chrysler and Briggs Manufacturing Co. workers.

At Huntington, W. Va., 300 men were laid off by American Car & Foundry Co. officials blamed the power strike in part.

Tobacco Sales

W. L. Whedbee, sales supervisor of the Greenville Tobacco Market, announced today that the official figures for tobacco sales on the local market for the week ending October 4, amounted to 6,248,970 pounds of tobacco, selling for $3,538,791.53, with a weekly average of $56.33 per 100 pounds.

Current totals for the entire season on the Greenville Market reached 45,987,262 pounds, sold for $2,844,582.23, or an average of $53.59 per 100 pounds through October 4.

OPA APPEASES CAFE OWNERS

New Price Hike Permitted On Meat Meals Next Thursday

Washington, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Restaurant owners accepted with satisfaction today OPA's decision that they may increase prices of meat meals up to 15 per cent next Thursday.

Walter F. Clark, president of the National Restaurant Association predicted that now they had made their point, many will not take advantage of the full increase.

"Only in some cases where restaurants have had to absorb higher costs will they be passed on to the consumer," Clark said. But he expressed gratification that he has been able to show OPA some adjustment was necessary.

GERMANS ASK TO TRY NAZIS

Formally Propose Trial Of Acquitted Trio Under New Laws

Berlin, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The hubbub over German political officials of the British and American occupation zones reopened formally today that the three defendants acquitted of war crimes in Nuremberg be tried by a German court on a charge of crimes against the German people.

The proposal was put forward in a resolution adopted unanimously at a German unification conference attended by minister presidents from the Russian and French zones which did not attend.

The resolution said the conference was of the opinion that the Nuremberg tribunal had tried the defendants on the basis of international but not domestic crimes.

It asked that a high German court representative of all four occupied zones, be established to try the three men under existing German law.

They are Hjalmar Schacht, Hans Fritzsche and Franz von Papen. The four-power tribunal that acquitted them Tuesday convicted 19 other high Nazis and sentenced 12 to death.

Nuremberg, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Hjalmar Schacht and Hans Fritzsche were spirited out of the palace of justice during the night and hidden from the public in private residences in downtown Nuremberg.

The two were "protected" by American and German police, who had orders from the American military government to keep visitors away from their refuge.

The former Nazi financier and radio broadcaster were released without advance notice shortly before midnight and whisked in jeeps to homes obtained for them by U. S. army authorities.

Bull Or Bear Market

Babson Park, Mass., Oct. 5.—Letters and telegrams are coming to me asking whether the country is now in a "bull" or "bear" market. This is a good deal like asking an expectant mother whether she is to have a boy or a girl. The simple truth is that the break has not sufficiently advanced to be able to say whether this is a bull or a bear market. Anyone could guess and many will guess correctly; but it is not up to a statistician to guess about anything. We may be in a bear market or this may be only a corrective movement in a bull market.

Break Not Unexpected
In previous weeks I have been suggesting that this break would come and have given various reasons for such a situation. If readers will refer to my annual forecast for 1946 which appeared in this paper the last week in December, they will find that forecast number 32 reads as follows:

"If Stalin lives and his health continues good, he will be the world's most powerful man in 1946 and may be a factor in determining world prices as well as production. The markets may even witness a 'Communist Scare' during 1946; but they should recover soon thereafter."

Those who trusted in me and followed these annual forecasts should have been prepared for what has happened.

In addition to the present break being a Communist scare, it was due to the arbitrary and unreasonable demands of labor. The break really started with the railroad strike and President Truman's veto of the Case Bill. It was especially disastrous during the trucking and shipping strikes in New York City, which nearly put its newspapers out of business. Readers who lived in New York or the other large seaport cities couldn't help but be "ears" during that period. Thus Russia and certain labor leaders are primarily responsible for the tremendous recent market losses.

Investors Necessary to American Industry
Of course, the thinness of the stock market has been a factor in the situation. When you draw a check on your bank, you immediately get your money; but when you give a broker an order to sell stocks, the situation is entirely different. He does not buy the stock, but rather, must hunt around for someone else to buy your stock. Moreover, (Continued on Page Four)

JURY ACQUITS TWENTY-THREE OF RIOTINGS

Two Convicted Of Attempt To Murder In February Mink Slide Fracas

Lawrenceburg, Tenn., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Twenty-three of 25 Negroes charged with participating in a racial disturbance at nearby Columbia seven months ago were free today—acquitted by an all-white jury.

The jury, which deliberated an hour and 53 minutes before bringing in a verdict late yesterday afternoon, found two other defendants guilty of assaulting four Columbia policemen during the day and night of racial unrest last February.

Robert Gentry, 21-year-old barber shop porter, and John McKelvey, 26, alone were convicted of aiding the shotgun-wielding street Patrolman Will Waldorf and three other officers in Columbia, arrested Mink Slide Negro business block the night of Feb. 25, after a day of racial tension.

They were convicted of attempt to murder and the jury set their sentence at not more than 21 years in the penitentiary.

Defense Attorney L. A. Ransom of Washington, D. C., immediately announced he would ask a new trial for the pair, a preliminary to an appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Another defense attorney, Maurice Weaver of Chattanooga, only white member at the defendants' trial, termed the verdict a victory or Americanism.

The defendants were all smiling when the convicted pair—following the reading of the verdict by Circuit Judge Joe M. Ingram, after jury foreman Robert Patterson had handed it to him on a slip of paper: District Attorney General Paul F. (Continued on Page Six)

RAF PLANE IS FORCED DOWN

Yugoslav Action Responsible; Belgrade Confirms Report

Caserta, Italy, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Allied headquarters announced today that reports from Belgrade said a British airplane was forced down yesterday in Yugoslavia.

The statement said it is believed the craft landed as a result of signals from Yugoslav combat aircraft and that there were no casualties.

The plane was believed to be a Bari-Belgrade-Bucharest courier craft, the statement added.

Rome, Oct. 5.—(AP)—A British plane was forced down in Yugoslavia today by Yugoslav action, reports reaching allied headquarters at Caserta said.

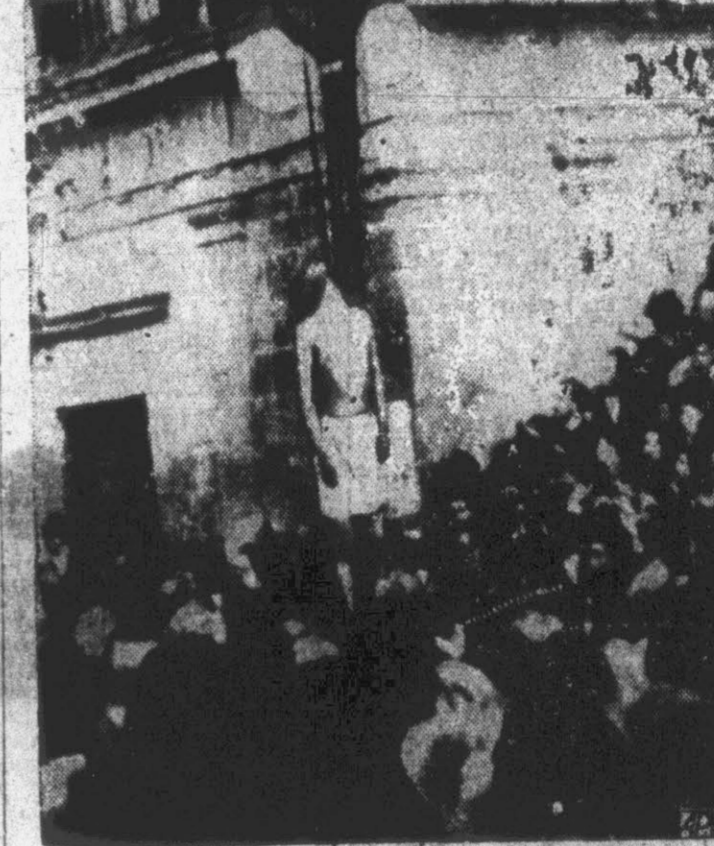

Whether the Yugoslav action was by fighter plane or anti-aircraft fire was not immediately learned. The Yugoslav army's forcing down of two U. S. army planes in August with the death of five American airmen, resulted in strong repressions from the American government.

Marshal Tito's government contended the planes had overstepped the Yugoslav border. Subsequently a Greek plane also was forced down in Yugoslavia.

This was the first British plane to be reported forced down there. The military air service between Vienna and Udine, suspended after two American planes had been shot down, was resumed this week.

American Legion Backs Unified U. S. Services

Elect New Commander; Will Continue Feud With Gen. Bradley; Advocate National Defense Steps; Wind Up Convention

San Francisco, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The American Legion over the opposition of its naval bloc, added its voice today to those who endorse a single department of national defense embracing a unified command and equal status for the army, navy and air force.

The Legion, concluding its first postwar national convention here yesterday, voted unopposed its approval of a resolution proposing a single department of national security in the President's cabinet. The vote followed a half-hour battle with opposition led by Massachusetts naval supporters.

Col. Paul H. Griffith of Uniontown, Pa. and Washington, D. C. was elected national commander without opposition, succeeding John Stelle of McLeansboro, Ill. Griffith a veteran of World Wars I and II made it plain in his acceptance speech that there would be no relaxation of the Legion's feud with Gen. Omar N. Bradley, the Veterans' Administrator.

The Legion will demand that Congress rescind the law which "crippled the on-the-job training program as administered by the Veterans' Administration," Griffith declared.

In general, the tone of the Legion's actions indicated the course of the veterans' group in the coming year will follow closely that of the outgoing leadership.

The convention voiced a demand for retention of atomic secrets by the United States; expressed support for legislation to "correct labor-management chaos," calling for compulsory arbitration in labor disputes and accountability of labor unions; endorsed universal military training similar to that advanced by the War Department except in the training period requirements; and took a position generally opposed to a World War II bonus at this time and rejecting support of pension to World War I veterans over 50.

Fishermen Missing In Wake Of Typhoon

Ponta Delgada, Azores, Oct. 5.—(AP)—One hundred and twenty fishermen were reported missing today at the island of Santa Maria in the wake of a 98-mile-an-hour typhoon which destroyed 12 fishing vessels, two port tugs and several launches. Four fishing boats were missing.

Reports from San Miguel and Santa Maria island said the winds did "catastrophic" damage yesterday, destroying crops, ruining houses, smashing pineapple hot-houses and wrecking communications.

Latest reports said the American-built airfield in the Azores was practically destroyed.

British Press Predicts New Terrorism In Palestine; Statement Said Jeopardizing Efforts For Settlement; Action Said Affront To British Government

London, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The British Foreign Office confirmed today that Prime Minister Attlee had sent a note—a strong one, it hinted—in reply last night to President Truman's demand for immediate and substantial Jewish immigration into Palestine.

As the British press predicted a new wave of terror over the Holy Land as a result of the President's statement, a Foreign Office spokesman, disclosing the note had been sent, said it was "personal" and he did not expect that it would be made public.

He said Britain was "puzzled" to learn that Mr. Truman had acted so "precipitately," and that the President did not accept the decision of the government bearing "the responsibility for Palestine."

Thus the spokesman underlined the view that Britain under its League of Nations mandate remains in sole control of Palestine and has no obligation to accept suggestions made by the United States or any other outside power.

Last night, an official speaking for the prime minister said flatly that Mr. Truman's statement "may well jeopardize" British-sponsored negotiations to determine Palestine's future.

Earlier the Foreign Office said Britain would not act upon Truman's appeal "until the whole political future" of Palestine was settled. The President had said that further immigration could not await a settlement.

By diplomatic standards, Britain's statements were quick and sharp, and some London diplomatic writers said they indicated Attlee was angered, both by Truman's proposals and by his insistence on publishing them despite Attlee's request that publication be deferred.

Behind Britain's deep concern over the Presidential statement lay the following factors:

1. A feeling that Mr. Truman had affronted the British government by publishing the statement against Attlee's wishes.
2. A belief, often expressed in authoritative British quarters, that Truman's 100,000 figure for immediate Jewish immigration tends to become an absolute minimum Jewish demand.

British sources have suggested that, had Truman set no figure, the Jewish Agency might have accepted a lower quota.

According to this theory, Truman's request has given the agency added courage to fight for goals which meet greater resistance from the Arabs. This possibly was what (Continued on Page Six)

Resume Conferences At Hart Cotton Mills

Tarboro, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Efforts to end a wage dispute which has held the Hart Cotton Mills here strike-bound since Monday will be resumed today by mill operators and representatives of the Textile Workers Union of America (TWU).

Today's conference was arranged by Fred Ponzer of the U. S. Conciliation Service, and each side has expressed hope that an agreement can be reached.

On Monday 350 of the mills' about 800 workers walked out on strike over demands for a wage increase giving them 73 cents an hour minimum pay. The Hart Mills are an open shop, but the TWU claims that it represents over half of the workers in the plant.

H. B. Harris of Greensboro is representative of the TWU.

Palestine Background

Both Arabs, Jews Have Claim On Area For Homeland; Present Problem Began After World War I When Britain Assumed Mandate; UN May Get Debacle

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Here's an ABC of the Palestine problem.

President Truman has shoved it into the headlines with his suggestion that Britain let a substantial number of Jews immigrate into Palestine now.

Jews and Arabs both claim Palestine as their homeland. The Jews had a kingdom there before Christ. It fell. The Jews were dispersed. Through the centuries they continued to look upon Palestine as their homeland.

Some Jews remained in Palestine. But the Arabs, a Semitic people like the Jews, lived there in greater numbers. Palestine was the heart of the Arab world.

Many nations held Palestine after the Jews' kingdom disappeared. Turkey had it at the time of World War I. Britain took it from her. The League of Nations gave it to Britain as a mandate.

Which means: Britain was to run (Continued on Page Six)

Jarvis Methodist Church Rally Day will be held at Jarvis Memorial Church on Sunday morning at the Sunday School hour, 9:45 a. m. Members will meet in their classes during the first part of the hour and then will assemble in the church auditorium for the Rally Day program.

The High School glee club will render selections during this service. All members of the school are urged to be present and members of the church who are not enrolled in school are cordially invited to attend and to join a class.

World Wide Communion Sunday will be observed at the 11 o'clock worship hour. All over the world Christians will gather in their churches for the observance of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. All members of the church will want to share in this rich experience and those in our community who are not identified with any church are invited to worship at this service.

Entertains at Supper and Bridge Grifton.—Mrs. Jack Tucker was a gracious hostess on Thursday night when she had for supper and bridge members of her contract club and invited players. Lovely arrangements of Dahlias were used as decorations. Prior to the games a delicious supper was served.

During progressions high scores were made by Mrs. H. P. Quinley, Mrs. Robert Mewborn and Mrs. Paul Bradley. Other guests were Mrs. Jack Chapman, Mrs. Alton Chapman, Mrs. J. L. Quinley, Mrs. Thurman J. Williams, Mrs. Eleanor Gowder, Mrs. Vance Wall, Mrs. Ivan Bissette, Mrs. L. L. Mewborn, Mrs. John Biggers, Miss Hazel Patrick, Miss Bert Johnson, Miss Marie Chapman and Miss Louise Mewborn.

Literature Department The Literature Department of the Woman's Club will meet for its first fall meeting Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock with Miss Frances Wahl and Miss Lena Ellis at the teachers' dormitory. A good attendance is desired.

Wesley Foundation The Wesley Foundation Council has made an enthusiastic start on its year's program. The Fall Retreat was held the week-end of September 21-23, and the officers returned to Greenville to be on hand to welcome incoming Freshmen and new students. After offering assistance in the difficulties incident to registration, they invited the new students over to the Methodist Student Center, where they were welcomed by Miss Mamie Chandler, Director, and other members of the W. F. Council.

On Friday and Saturday afternoons the new students in the Methodist group were entertained at the Center, and on Sunday afternoon all Methodist students and members of the College Faculty were invited to an Open House. President and Mrs. Cooke, several members of the faculty and a large number of upper classmen and new students called between the hours of 3:30 and 5:30 p. m. Punch and cookies were served by members of the Council.

Council members invited the new students in their dormitory parlors on Sunday morning to show them the way to Sunday School and Church. A large number attended the Student Class in Jarvis Memorial Church School at 9:45. The worship was led by Kay Mann, Chairman of the Wesley Foundation Commission on Worship. An impressive part of the program was the solo, "Spirit of God Descend Upon My Heart," which was sung by Rayonell Bailey. Miss Mamie Chandler, teacher of the class, spoke on "The Need for the Guidance of God in Finding the Meaning of Life."

A big party was given in the Social Room of the church on Thursday evening from 8:00 to 10:00 o'clock, to which invitations were issued to all Methodist students and faculty.

The chairman of the eleven Commissions are organizing and setting up work for the year. Opportunity is offered all Methodist students to actively participate in the program of the Wesley Foundation through one of these commissions, which cover the area of various student interests. The Council is working in a fine spirit of cooperation to realize the objective set up for the Wesley Foundation for this year—"to bring students to know God through Jesus Christ and to express His spirit in all life's relationships."

F. T. A. Meets in Winterville On Tuesday, October 1, the Parent-Teachers' Association had its first meeting of the year with Mrs. Sam Winchester, Pitt County Farm Agent, of Greenville, as guest speaker.

After the meeting was opened by Mr. G. D. Cox, president, Miss Vera Hamilton, sixth grade teacher, who had charge of the devotion, read the nineteenth Psalm and lead the prayer. Then Miss Dorothy Carwin, second grade teacher, sang, "The Lord Is My Shepherd."

Mrs. L. H. Ellis, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved as read.

After a discussion about the membership fee and a definite time for the meetings, it was decided to keep the membership fee at 50 cents and to have 7:30 p. m. as a regular time for the meetings during the winter months.

After the business part of the meeting was completed, Mr. Cox introduced Mr. Winchester, who made an interesting talk on the subject of beautifying the school grounds. The topics which were discussed in his talk were the plantings, the arrangement of walks and drives, and the establishment and maintenance of a lawn.

Miss Whitford's seventh grade won the dollar for having the largest per cent of attendance.

After the meeting was adjourned, cookies and punch were enjoyed by all.

Reedy Branch Church Auxiliary The Young Women's Auxiliary of Reedy Branch Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Raymond Hardy on Monday night, October 7, at 7:30. All members are urged to be present and visitors are always welcome.

Bethel N. C. E. A. The local unit of the N. C. E. A. had an informal meeting at the Bethel elementary school on Wednesday afternoon. The meeting opened with the guest speaker, Miss Reba Proctor, and all the teachers enjoying delicious cola.

After the announcements were made by Mr. Walter Latham, Miss Proctor who is the supervisor of Pitt county schools, was presented by Miss Lois Stator, the president. Miss Stator expressed in behalf of many other teachers the appreciation of Miss Proctor's assistance and guidance in the past and for the future.

Miss Proctor gave a very challenging talk on the integration of the language arts program in all phases of the school curriculum. She urged the teachers to encourage their pupils to speak, write, and read their experiences effectively. Such procedures, the language arts program will become more functional in school and out of school activities.

T. E. L. Class On Thursday evening of last week the T. E. L. class of Memorial Baptist Church met with Mrs. R. E. Pittman at her home on Summit Street.

The class was called to order by the president for a brief business session, after which the program chairman presented Mrs. N. C.

"America the Beautiful" which was followed by the Lord's Prayer. After the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Dennis Hardy, Mrs. Hardy also made a financial report. It was made known that the Bethel elementary school would receive such playground equipment as swings, a merry-go-round, and a slide.

Mrs. Ralph Carson, chairman of the luncheon project, gave a report on its plans for the year. The committee has planned to add some new equipment and to keep a more attractive luncheon. Mrs. Carson also expressed a need for lard, meat, and canned goods.

The attendance prizes of $1 were won by Mrs. Hammonds' fifth grade and Mrs. Shelton's twelfth grade.

Mr. J. P. Harris, Jr., representing the Bethel Fire Department gave a check for $100 to be used in furthering the luncheon project. Mr. Will Minton, chief fireman, urged the schools' cooperation in the coming Fire Prevention Week.

After the business meeting, the guest speaker, D. H. Conley, superintendent of the Pitt County Schools, was presented by the president. Superintendent Conley discussed very effectively the present awakening of all people to the place that the school should hold as a center of all worthwhile community activities.

He also spoke of the near future plans of completely renovating the Bethel elementary school into an attractive and comfortable building. However, he cautioned all people not to forget the value and the importance of teaching the basic school subjects and the wholesome guidance of the youth of Pitt County as well as the nation.

E. C. T. C. Pirates Tackle A. C. C. Bulldogs Tonight

JOHNSON SAYS TEAM CAPABLE OF FINE SHOW

Strong Pirate Eleven Has Plenty of Understudies; See Trophy's Return

By JIM LOCHRIDGE

Head Coach Jim Johnson of the ECTC Pirates today proclaimed that his boys are ready, willing, and able to defeat the Atlantic Christian Bulldogs. Johnson has a very strong first team and a plentiful supply of understudies in each position to warrant his confidence of victory in tonight's battle of the gridiron. Every member will be in there fighting doubly hard to win and to bring the Bohunk Trophy back to ECTC after a long absence.

The only injuries in the Pirate camp were Jim Brinson with a sprained knee, and Leman Greene with a possible foot fracture. Both are alternate second string quarterbacks, and received the injuries in scrimmage Thursday. Brinson worked out yesterday in light uniform and probably will see some action tonight at Guy Smith Stadium.

Only a few positions are sewed up by first string players, as second stringers are pushing them hard for the starting lineup. In the back field, Bill Fearing, Pirate running sensation, is a sure starter in the left halfback slot, with two capable understudies, Hubert Musselwhite of Greenville and Ab Williams of Elizabeth City, for relief roles.

At fullback, E. S. Pittman of Kinston is top man at present, and Henry Borneman of Wilmington and Bill Kittrell of Winterville are fighting it out for second place. Pete Everett was sidelined the first part of the week with an ankle injury, but he will be the starting quarterback for the Pirate eleven. Slade Phillips, who has been held back by a foot injury, has driven ahead and it will be a toss-up between Phillips and Ed Grady for the starting post at right half. Jack Davis, seat back from Kinston, has been showing up well at right half and will be sure to see action tonight. Nick Zuras of Silver Springs Md., member of the undefeated 1941 team, will be counted on for some long punts such as he has been booting in practice.

On the line there is even more guesswork as to who the starters will be. "Shotgun" Brown, Portsmouth, Va., is having everything his way at right end, but it is undecided whether the left end will be filled by Frank Winesette of Plymouth, or by Louis Tatarski of Portsmouth, Va. Joe Edwards, former Rocky Mount High track and football star, and Dennis Basnight of Elizabeth City should see some action from the flank positions. Henry Andrews of Greenville and Keith Kilpatrick, Kinston, are now pushing R. B. Lee of Kinston, and John Wyatt of Portsmouth, Va., for the first string tackle position. The starting guards will be picked from these four men, Dan Wheelless, George Keesler, Joe Williams and Bob Miller, although H. R. Long and Amos Sexton are sure to play some. C. O. McMullan, Elizabeth City is back after being out with a badly sprained shoulder and is battling with Everett Hudson of Thomasville for the second team berth at center. Willard Pendleton of Portsmouth, Va., will get the nod for the start at center.

Probable lineups for both teams are as follows:

ECTC—Tatarski or Winesette, LE; Lee, LT; Wheelless or J. Williams, LG; Pendleton, C; Miller or Keesler, RG; Wyatt, RT; Brown, RE; Everett, QB; Fearing, LH; Grady or Phillips, RH; Pittman, FB.

AAC—Phillips or Zollcofer, LE; Giarmlis, LT; R. Brown, LG; Davis, C; Wiggins, RG; J. Brown, RT; Chapin, RE; Bain, QB; McCaskill, LH; Clark or Riggan, RH; and Thompson, FB.

Junior Varsity Ties Pam Pack

The ECTC Outlaw Jr. Varsity was deadlocked last night to a 0-0 draw with the Washington Pam Pack in Washington. The superb ball playing of the Pack and the numerous penalties drawn by the Outlaws kept the battle on a very even keel all night. The ECTC team received the opening kick-off and proceeded to march down the field to the 15-yard line, where they received a 15-yard penalty and the Pack took over on downs. The Pack punted and again the Outlaws began to go down the field. This time they went to the 25-yard line before receiving their penalty. The ball see-sawed from one team to the other throughout the last three quarters. In the final minutes of the game the Outlaws marched on from their own 3-yard line down to the Pam Pack 35 yards only to have the game end at this point.

Hayes, Weatherington, Young, Long and Bailey showed up very well on the Outlaw squad and the complete Washington team played excellent football.

The Outlaws meet the Ahooskie High School team in Ahooskie on October 19.

Boston Heavy Favorite To Beat Nat'l Leagues

St. Louis, Oct. 5—(AP)—Boston's fence-busting Red Sox, with Ted Williams definitely back in the lineup, are ranked top heavy favorites to whip the newly-crowned National League champions from St. Louis in the 43rd World Series opening tomorrow at Sportsman's Park.

Despite the Cardinals' stretch drive that overcame a 7½ game Brooklyn lead and finally carried them past the Dodgers to the flag in the first tie playoff in history, the odd makers remain loyal to the home run power in the Sox bats. Boston is a 7 to 20 choice to take the series and 13 to 20 to crip the first game.

For Manager Eddie Dyer of the Cardinals who has been riding the baseball hot seat since the "experts" last spring picked him to coast home 15 games in front, the role of an underdog is a welcome change. The freshman skipper honestly believes his Red Birds have a real chance to upset the mighty Sox and he is banking on his southpaw pitching to do the trick.

With that in mind, "Skip" Dyer plans to open with lefthanders Howie Pollet and Harry Brecheen and follow with Murry Dickson at Boston. Tex Hughson is expected to be Joe Cronin's choice although it may not be definite up to game

Phantoms Lose In Closing Minutes

By JOHN FARLEY

After see-sawing up and down the field at Guy Smith Stadium last night for three quarters, the Spring Hope football eleven finally defeated the Greenville Phantoms 6-0 in the last few minutes of the fourth quarter.

The teams were so evenly matched that neither threatened the other seriously until the second quarter. At that time Greenville pushed the head down to the opponents' 10-yard line where they lost it when Spring Hope intercepted a pass. Thereafter, neither Greenville nor Spring Hope posed no new threats until Spring Hope took the ball at mid-field and ran it down for a touchdown and the only score of the game. They failed to make the extra point when Bobby Fleming blocked the kick.

Starters for Greenville were: Cook, center; Eilers and Rose at guards; Tanner and Little, tackles; White and Turner, ends; Evans, Clark, Joseph and Tucker in the backfield.

Justice Leads Team To Win Over Miami

Miami, Fla., Oct. 5—(AP)—Sparked by 160-pound, fleet footed Charlie Justice, the University of North Carolina Tarheels last night smothered a favored University of Miami Hurricane eleven 21-0 before a record 31,541 fans.

Justice, who ran, passed and kicked himself into virtually every play during the 60-minute, started the Tarheels' scoring streak by galloping 65 yards behind perfect interference in the third play of the game. Bob Fox Magic Toe was good for the extra point.

In the 20 times he got his hands on the pigskin Justice gained 267 yards out of the 406 netted by the visitors. In 11 gallops he clicked off 162 yards; in three punt returns he chucked up 68 more and piled up 27 more with two well placed passes.

SQUEEZE PLAY
Chicago, Oct. 5—(AP)—A baseball game at the Walsh school playground was delayed yesterday while firemen were summoned to recover the ball—and a player.

One of the youths slammed the ball onto the roof of the school's power plant and it rolled into a vent. Outfielder Toby Preski went in after it and got stuck. Firemen managed to get him out and also found the ball, and the game was resumed.

Wake Forest Boasts Georgetown Victory

Washington, Oct. 5—(AP)—Wake Forest football stock, never to be sneezed at in the Southern Conference, boasted a gilt edge today.

The Demon Deacons from North Carolina, victors last week over highly touted Boston College, 12-6 romped over a slightly underdog Georgetown here last night 19 to 6. Wake Forest cashed on Hoya mistakes, which were numerous. Six Georgetown fumbles were recovered by Wake Forest and at least two led directly to scores.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

THE ETERNAL SCHOOL
The cross is the outstanding Christian symbol. It stands for the principal thing in our faith, namely, sacrifice.

It represents the crucifixion of Christ, but it stands for something else also. It is the setting forth in terms men can understand of the necessity of continuous crucifixion on the part of all who call themselves followers of the Man of Galilee. Jesus made plain in the Gospels, and Paul in his epistles emphasized time and again, the imperative necessity of crucifixion if we should attain the spiritual benefits which Christ came to render humanity. Paul speaks of the believer's dying with Christ. By this he means that we have to crucify to renounce, to give up everything that would keep us from following the Jesus way of life. Chief among these things in the experience of almost everyone of us are selfishness, avarice, envy, pride, sensuality, jealousy, covetousness, evil speaking, and everything in which is manifested a lack of love for one's fellows. The cross stands central in our faith, but it stands central because it symbolizes something we all have to be willing to endure, namely, renunciation.

The promise is that if we die with Christ we shall live with him. If we give up lesser things, we shall gain higher things. If we give up self, we shall know peace of mind and the quietness of a heart made right and kept right with God.

WASHINGTON LETTER

EVER MORE TO ROAM
By JANE EADS

Washington—A lot of young people who got around the world a bit during or just after the war have developed an acute case of wanderlust.

"I never want to settle down again—not even when I get decrepit."

So says pretty Emily Towe, who was a newspaper woman in New York and Washington until she joined the Red Cross last year.

Emily has itching feet all right. She joined the Red Cross in a public relations job and was sent to India in September, 1945. In November she flew over the hump to Shanghai.

Then she got all over north China, flying around in Army and Marine planes till the middle of March.

In Peiping she went shopping with a couple of Marines. She was looking for a pair of earrings. She found the pair she wanted in a tiny little shop in the courtyard of an old palace. The shopkeeper served tea—free.

He said the earrings, which were hand made, were worth $6.

The Marines said that was too much. The shopkeeper, accustomed to bargaining, came down to $4. The Marines told the wizened old man he was the Jesse James of China. Of course he had never heard of Jesse James, but he had an idea that he must be a big shot in America.

"Jesse James—me. Ah Jesse James." He grinned with pride. "You can have the earrings for $3."

The Marines and Emily walked toward the door.

"All right, $2," he said. Emily was wearing the baubles when I had lunch with her the other day.

Later she went to South China, to Canton and Hong Kong. Stopping off in Tokyo and Honolulu, Emily came home only to traipse off again. This time it was to Alaska. Emily had resigned from the Red Cross and was doing free-lance writing.

She says women are streaking up to Alaska on the theory that prospective husbands grow on trees. There are still more men than women there, she says, but they're mostly rugged characters and not too willing to pop the question.

A lot of gals seeking matrimony find up waitresses, teachers and clerks and life is just about as it is back home only more so. In Nome, for example, life's most exciting moments seem to be when the boat steams in from the states with supplies.

She says Nome is bleak and grim, boasting only one street with wooden sidewalks. Even in late May, she says, ice is piled up in front yards and a half mile out on the Bering Sea. Eskimos come to town in their wolf parkas. Nome is a metropolis to them.

The town is built on tundra, or very soft soil. If you get off the sidewalk you sink into it up to your knees. Each year when the snow melts the wooden houses buckle up. So do the sidewalks. All this gives a lopsided appearance to the town.
Emily said she never saw darkness the whole time she was in Alaska. If she came in from a date at 11:30 or 12 o'clock, it seemed broad daylight.

Now she is off again, this time on a freighter for South America. She hasn't figured out where she'll go after that.

under the present unfair rulings of the Federal Reserve Board, the broker must find a man with ready cash to buy your stock. This is a rule that does not apply to selling anything else. This ruling should be amended at once.

In connection with the Communist scare there is the possible bombing of certain large American cities. World War II could easily be reopened by England. Yet our government gives no protection to investors against such a catastrophe. With this additional unjust condition, the handicap to legitimate investors, is intensified.

"I insist that most investors are rendering a legitimate service; the welfare of the country depends upon them—American industry could not exist were it not for small investors; there would be no employment and certainly very few consumer goods would be available were it not for small investors. I despise speculation. I myself have never bought a share of stock on margin or on borrowed money, or advised anyone else to. On the other hand, I believe that the investor in American industry is entitled to as much protection as the man who invests in a farm, a home or deposits his money in a bank.

Protect Small Investors
During the bank panic, a large number of banks in this country closed. In most cases there was no need for them to close, but for various reasons—some political—they were forced to close. Millions of people lost billions of dollars—mostly unnecessarily. After this unfortunate event, Congress passed a law insuring bank deposits up to $5,000, or, rather, putting a floor under such losses. In the interests of a better America, why shouldn't Congress protect small investors with a similar floor?

James F. Carr Is Assistant Dean

James F. Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Carr of Greenville, formerly of Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn., has been appointed assistant dean of men for the Tallahassee branch of the University of Florida.

Carr arrived in Tallahassee this weekend to take up his duties as assistant to Dr. Otis McBride, recently appointed dean of men. He will also be director of residence for the Tallahassee branch.

Carr has had teaching experience at East Tennessee State Teachers College as well as at Peabody, and served from 1942 to 1946 in the weather service of the army air forces both in the states and overseas. He has his A. B. degree from East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville, N. C., and his M. A. from Peabody, where he has also done considerable work toward his doctor's degree. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa and Kappa Delta, Phi honorary education fraternities and of Pi Gamma Mu, social science fraternity. He is a Mason and a member of the Christian church.

W. J. Bundy To Speak At Oxford Orphanage

Oxford, N. C., Oct. 5—(AP)—Grand Master William J. Bundy of Greenville is scheduled to be the principal speaker at the annual sessions and homecoming exercises of the Oxford Orphanage Alumni Association meeting here today and tomorrow.

Bundy is to speak here tomorrow morning at 11:30 in the orphanage chapel.

Elmo Ferguson of Norfolk, Va., president of the alumni chapter, and will preside over the meetings.

One of the highlights of the program will be the Oxford Orphanage-Methodist Orphanage football game here this afternoon at 2.

World Bank & Fund Nearing Early Goals

Washington, Oct. 4—(AP)—The $15,500,000,000 World Bank and Fund, urgently prodded by both the United Nations and UNRRA moved today toward their goal of making a major contribution to the restoration of international trade and domestic economic stability in all countries.

Frankly hanging out the customer wanted shingle, the twin lending agencies concluded their first annual meeting yesterday with the election of Hugh Dalton, British chancellor of the exchequer, as the new chairman of the bank and fund boards of governors. London was selected as the site for the next meeting in September, 1947.

College Library Improves Service

The East Carolina Teachers College library has improved its service to students this fall by remaining open continuously from 7:45 a. m. until 9:30 p. m. Previously the library closed during meals.

Courses in library science are being offered this fall as a minor and a small number of students are taking advantage of the opportunity to train themselves as school librarians. Formerly such courses were offered by the college only as electives, and on account of crowded schedules only a few students were able to enroll in them. Mrs. Mary Peacock, state school library advisor, has commended the college for giving additional emphasis to library work among students.

Several courses in library science are now being required of students at the college for the first time. Liberal arts majors in English, high school majors, and grammar grade majors include courses in library science in their schedules.

Seek Cause Of Blast At Sun Oil Refinery

Marcus Hook Pa., Oct. 5—(AP)—Two investigations were underway today in the explosions and fire at Sun Oil Company's Marcus Hook refinery where seven persons were killed and 140 others injured. Charles W. Taylor, district fire marshal of the Pennsylvania State Police, said he had been ordered by the state fire marshal in Harrisburg, Pa., to determine the cause of the blasts which rocked the $13,000,000 aviation gasoline refinery Thursday night.

The other investigation was that of the Sun Oil Company itself. Of the number injured, 63 remained in hospitals for treatment.

Dig Another Grave

By DON CAMERON

Chapter 14
Richard spent a lot of time at the Gold Mine Club and he wasn't the kind of person to overlook opportunities to get money. If he'd happened to find out some guilty secret of Morrissey's he'd probably have tried to make use of it, since obviously he was capable of blackmail. Unless he knew something of farther unless it turns out to be essential to our case."

"Richard and I became quite friendly a couple of years ago, before he'd gone through all his money and started getting into serious scrapes. People looked on him as a bit wild and irresponsible rather than crooked—something he'd grow out of in time—and that's what I thought when I said I'd marry him."
"The real break came after the death of Leona Mitchell, when I heard the gossip and remembered little incidents that seemed to prove what they were saying about Richard. I wouldn't see him after that, but I answered a couple of his letters and I don't doubt that some of the things I wrote might be construed as the reproaches of an innocent maiden who had loved not wisely but too well."

"There was nothing put down in so many words to that effect, of course?"
"Of course not. Next to myself, no one knew better than Richard that it wasn't so."
"I was only thinking that someone might have wanted to get the letters from Searle to sell to you or your father," Cloud said. "You see, we searched Searle's apartment without finding a single letter or anything else to connect you with him."
Martin said, "I like the idea about someone else wanting to take over Searle's blackmail setup. Several people new that Ennis was willing to pay for whatever Searle possessed and it would be reasonable to suppose he'd pay one man as soon as another. A chiseler wouldn't even have to know what was in the letters, but only that they were valuable."
"You're doing all right," Cloud said. "A few minutes ago I had one suspect locked up safe and sound, and now you're trying to give me seven."
Martin counted on his fingers. "Seven? A hundred people may have known of the situation before the killing, but we're sure of Barbara and her father, Clarabelle, Doran, Morrissey and, toward the last, Dexter. They make a round half-dozen by my arithmetic."
"Such modesty," Cloud said. "Always dodging the limelight, aren't you, King?"
"That was all. Cloud had no more questions and Barbara seemed anxious to get away. Leaving the station house with her Martin felt that his role thus far had been anything but heroic and stood in need of justification."
"I've done some first-class bungling," he began tentatively.
"She nodded. 'I'd have warned you if you'd given me a chance, but it wouldn't have done any good. You'd have gone right ahead with your own ideas.'
"My only idea was to spare you unpleasantness."
"Don't think I'm not appreciative. In a way I'm highly complimented that you'd go to such desperate lengths for me. What I can't understand is your vehement and distinctly uncomplimentary insistence on everybody understanding that you aren't fascinated with me—even though you aren't."
He took her arm as they crossed the street and continued to hold it when they reached the other side.
"I should have been scared stiff about the fix I was in on Searle's account," he said, "but I wasn't, because I was busy thinking about you. I wanted to kiss you that night. The reason I didn't was that always before, when I was out with a girl and felt like kissing her, I did. What I mean is, you didn't seem like just another girl."
She was silent while they walked half a block. She said finally, "You'd be furious, wouldn't you, if you thought I tried deliberately to make you say something like that?"
"I might be."
"It isn't quite true. But I did want to see how close you'd come to—well, a declaration of love. And—"
"And what?"
"Well, I don't happen to be in love or on the verge of it. I don't want to be or to play at being. I think I'm a little sorry I brought up the subject. And now, Martin, I'm anxious to get home. Now that I've seen Cloud I'll have to talk things over with Dad before the police do, and he'll take some handling. Will you please get me a taxi?"
"Sure."
He stood on the curb and searched the street with stony eyes. The anger Barbara had anticipated was burning inside him, but he was determined to smother it. A cab drew up.
"Can I take you home?"
"There's no need."
"He travels the fastest who travels alone," he quoted, opening the door of the cab. "And riding with me is a risky business, as you found out the other morning. Be gentle but firm with your father."
On the running board she turned and, before he knew her intention, kissed him on the lips. It was over in a split second, and then she was sitting in the cab, not looking at him, calmly telling the chauffeur her destination. She did not say good-bye or wave as the car started with a champing of much-abused gears.

LYNN NESBITT WAS SPEAKER

Kiwanians Observe National Newspaper Week; Plans For Silver Anniversary Banquet

By CHESTER WALSH
Lynn Nesbitt, widely known Raleigh newspaperman and head of a syndicate serving scores of papers, made an eloquent after-dinner speech last night at the weekly supper meeting of the Greenville Kiwanis Club.

He used as his subject the Kiwanis International slogan for the occasion, "A Free Press—Voice of Freedom, Guardian of Liberty."

The speaker described newspapers as public servants and declared there is no propaganda sheet in North Carolina. He described the newspaper's functions as giving unbiased reports of what's going on in the world and breaking down the news in such manner as to make it readily understandable to the reading public—and always giving both sides of the subject. Editors leave it to the readers to make up their own minds, he said, and proclaimed that newspapers reserve the right to criticize public officials for not "heaving to the line" of public interest. Nesbitt's description of by-line articles in newspapers, giving both sides of questions, made an impression on the 75 representative business and professional men at the Kiwanis meeting. The speaker described the Book of Mark in the Bible as the basis of news reports in a paper; the Book of Matthew as historical in recording events, and the Book of John as the editorial column of a paper. Nesbitt's reminiscences of newspapering in North Carolina were decidedly interesting and informative. He said there are more than a million newspapers distributed in North Carolina, including the weeklies.

In concluding he said "newspapers regard themselves as the custodians of the great American privilege of freedom of the press and freedom of speech and sacredly guard the privilege. Preceding Mr. Nesbitt's fine talk D. J. Whichard, Jr., editor and owner of the Daily Reflector, spoke briefly, outlining the paper's policy and reciting some of the interesting experiences in the making of a daily paper. He said the Reflector was established by his father, the late D. J. Whichard, more than 60 years ago, and that it has been in continuous operation ever since. He told of plans now in the making for enlarging and improving the Reflector and the building and the installation of more modern equipment. The Greenville publisher, who preceded the main speaker, paid fine tribute to Mr. Nesbitt and the effective work he is doing in Raleigh.

State Senator Arthur B. Corey had charge of the program. In introducing the two speakers he quoted Mark Twain's story of the spider spinning its web over the door of the firm that failed to advertise. The program was one of the best of the year, Kiwanians said.

Past President Joe Taft presided. President Ed Rawl, who was at Kiwanis International headquarters in Chicago.

It was announced that plans are complete for the 25th silver anniversary banquet to be held at the Woman's Club next Friday night at 7 o'clock.

Many Kiwanians agreed to transport boys and girls from the college to the ball park for the football game tonight.

Judge Dink James and Dr. Glenn Haney had birthdays; each contributed a nickel for each year of their age.

Marvin Blount, Jr., and E. T. Meeks of Wilson were guests. Bill Aycock's recital of the story about the two boys and the bathroom and the pony elicited applause.

billow of flame flared into the sky and cascaded down the stone face of the mountain. There had been no indication the ship had been in trouble.

Lieut. Robert A. Nolan of Dunn-Loring, Va., fire marshal at Harrison, left immediately in a crash truck with eight Newfoundland fire fighters and Sgt. Glen Baker of Oklahoma City.

"The sky was so red and the flame was so big we thought it was very near," he said. "But we had to walk eight miles after we left the truck."

"We could only find two bodies one was a man, the other a woman."

U. S. proposal that Bulgaria pay $100,000,000 to Greece and Yugoslavia together and a British proposal to pay that sum to Greece alone and settle with Yugoslavia later.

Other conference commissions had completed their work on all other clauses of the five peace treaties for Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, Italy and Romania—after three long days and nights of rush work at the end of 10 weeks of debate.

At an hour which the conference had fixed as the deadline for receiving commission reports, preparatory to opening plenary sessions on Monday, the Balkan-Finland commission still was wrangling.

Greek delegate Jean Politis, insisting on a decision by the commission, proposed an overall figure of $200,000,000 for Bulgarian payments, to be divided equally between his country and Yugoslavia.

NO PROTESTS

Washington, Oct. 5—(AP)—May be there's plenty of meat in the ninth congressional district of North Carolina.

At any rate Rep. Bob Doughton (D-NC) is one congressman who can brag, his aides told a reporter today, that not a protest has been received here by his office about the lack of meat.

The muck ox has the tail of a sheep, kidneys of a goat, spleen of a donkey, bones of an ox, ribs of a bison, hoofs of a caribou.

its verdict and I cannot complain about it.

The verdicts climaxed a 14-day trial preceded by months of legal sparring by lawyers for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and prosecuting attorneys.

The Negroes were indicted by a grand jury a month after the turbulent day and night of racial conflict at Columbia which left 11 wounded and later resulted in the fatal shooting of two Negroes being held in jail. The two were shot during an escape attempt.

Palestine . . .

They argue that if a Jewish state were set up, soon the Jews would flow over into the neighboring Arab states, eventually outnumbering the Arabs.

The Jews, on the other hand, want a home in Palestine. They want it to be a state, even if it means dividing Palestine up into Jewish and Arab states.

And they want the British to let thousands upon thousands of homeless Jews in Europe immigrate there to safety and a home. Because of Arab opposition, the British have been holding down such immigration.

So the story which has been going on since 1917, when Britain took Palestine from Turkey, is still going on, still unsettled.

In September, 1945, President Truman asked the British to let 100,000 homeless Jews of Europe go to Palestine. The British did not.

Instead, a couple of joint American-British committees were set up to study the problem. Even these committees couldn't see eye to eye.

One said Palestine should not be permitted at all to become a Jewish state or Arab state. The other suggested that zones—one Jewish, one Arab—be created.

Under this zone idea, the Jews could accept as many Jewish immigrants as they wished. The Arabs wouldn't have to let any into their zone.

So the British then asked the Jews and Arabs to go to London to discuss the problem. No Jew or Arab from Palestine would go. In fact, no Jew would go.

But a delegation of Arabs from Arab states around Palestine went to this conference didn't function, so the British decided to adjourn until mid-December.

At this point Mr. Truman steps in again and asks the British to let substantial numbers of Jews from Europe immigrate into Palestine. This is his second request in a year.

The British may have to turn the whole problem over to the United Nations since it received its mandate from the League of Nations which no longer exists, and to question Britain's right to continue the mandate.

Statement . . .

the Arabs are adamant, ahead of all the rest.

That a permanent solution will be found quickly seems doubtful. But the U. S. proposal of economic aid for the area in connection with increased Jewish immigration may contain the germ of a possible long range solution.

President Roosevelt, after his trip to America and the Middle East was greatly impressed by the possibilities of developing the area. He thought that irrigation, with development of natural resources, could change the entire political and economic face of this ancient part of the world.

courts martial were advocated.

The convention also called for immediate improvement of Alaskan defenses and maintenance of Puerto Rico as a fortified base; a merchant marine capable of acting as a naval auxiliary in time of war; continuation of the merchant marine cadet corps; civilian defense and training of civilians in the national defense for protection of civilian population; and the navy and marine corps reserve training program.

Griffith announced he would initiate a study of veterans' housing adding "we expect to do those things which are necessary to get housing construction actually under way."

cents, the price will be raised in seven cents.

OPA said it would have revised regulations ready next Tuesday. These also will change the present method of computing ceilings, on meals built around entrees which are not under price control.

At present ceilings are computed adding the actual cost of the item and the current over-all profit margin. After Thursday the price will be the actual cost plus the margin of 1943.

When meals or dishes contain both controlled and decontrolled items, OPA said, the main c/h or entree will determine whether the ceilings is fixed by the cost-plus method or the 15 per cent boost allowed on meats.

Truman's Demand . . .

Britain meant when she said Truman's statement "may well jeopardize" current negotiations for settlement.

Fear has been voiced by both the conservative press and by some government sources that Truman's statement might stir both Arabs and Jews to violence, complicating the already difficult problem of maintaining order in Palestine.

The Daily Mail said this morning that "Jewish terrorists x x are likely to regard this intervention x x as a direct incentive to intensify their campaign of terror and murder."

"Arabs on the other hand, will have an acute cause for bitterness and it would not be surprising if the prospect of Mr. Truman's proposals being made quickly effective stirred them also to the point of violence."

Nomad hunters of central Australia are reported to be able to eat and drink in large quantities and then travel long distances without food and with little water.

Beginning October 15, 1946 we will offer for sale a large number of residential lots approximately 50 of which have comfortable homes already built on them.

We expect to offer these first to our employees and former employees, second preference will be given to veterans, others will be for sale to the general public.

These homes are in good state of repair and the construction no doubt is much better than could be had today due to the better quality of materials in same.

Make your arrangements now to own your own home.
