Hard-Hitting Birds Take Easy Lead Over Bostonians

Boston (AL) . . . 070 000 000—4 1
St. Louis (NL) . . . 001 020 002—3 0

FIRST INNING

Red Sox:
McBride hit Brecheen's first pitch for a single to right.
After missing two attempts to bunt, Pesky looked at a third strike.
DiMaggio grounded sharply straight to Marion who fielded the ball cleanly, raced over to second to force McBride and whipped to first to complete a double play.
No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.
Cardinals:
Schoendienst filed to DiMaggio in center.
Moore lifted a high pop to Pesky at short.
Musial bounced to Doerr who threw to first for the out.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SECOND INNING

Red Sox:
Williams rapped one directly at Musial who easily beat Ted to the bag for the out.
York walked.
Doerr went out on a high bouncer to Schoendienst, York sliding into second.
Higgins was purposely passed.
Partee hit one directly at Schoendienst who tossed him out.
No runs, no hits, no errors, two left.
Cardinals:
Kurovski singled over short.
Slaughter popped to Pesky.
Dusak fanned.
Higgins made a neat pickup of Marion's solid rap near third and threw across to Doerr at second to force Kurovski.
No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

THIRD INNING

Red Sox:
Harris was called out on strikes.
Marion threw out McBride.
Pesky grounded to Schoendienst who flipped to Musial for the out.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.
Cardinals:
Rice fouled to left.
Brecheen feigned a bunt, missed the next pitch, then rapped a drive into right field which McBride first attempted to make a shoestring catch of, then changed his mind and decided to play it safe on one bounce. He bobbed the ball but was not charged with an error as Rice raced in to score. It was a single and a run batted in for Brecheen.
Schoendienst sacrificed Brecheen to second, and York threw to Doerr at first for the out.
Moore hit a high bouncer to Higgins who threw him out at first as Brecheen moved to third.
Musial lined to center field to DiMaggio.
One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

FOURTH INNING

Red Sox:
Moore took DiMaggio's fly.
With the Dyer-shift in position for Williams, Brecheen thrilled the crowd by striking out Ted with three pitches.
York walked.
Doerr singled into right field; York ran to second on the hit.
Marion fielded Higgins' grounder and tossed to Schoendienst at second to force Doerr.
No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.
Cardinals:
DiMaggio took Kurovski's host about 30 feet behind second base.
Doerr raced into foul territory along right field to take care of Slaughter's foul fly.
Harris walked Dusak.

An Empire's Decline

Churchill Paints Picture in Words While Criticizing Socialist Party's Government; Charges Serious Errors in Policy With Palestine and India

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

That was an amazing speech which former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill delivered at the weekend when, as leader of England's conservative party, he painted a gloomy picture of a shrinking British empire.
Churchill was bidding for a continuation of his leadership at a party conference and he was charging the present socialist government with making grievous mistakes to the detriment of the empire. Still, it must have been hard for him—the quittance of British imperialism—to make these admissions.
The famous war-time premier attacked the socialist government especially on two lines—Palestine and India. He charged that the government was "vacillating without plan or policy" for the Holy Land and was "holding on to a mandate in which they have no vital interest." He declared such a course was "gaining the distrust and hostility of Arab and Jew."
It was regarding mighty India, however, that which he really let himself go. He accused the Attlee government of so mishandling the situation that "no one can measure the misery and bloodshed which will overtake those enormous masses of humble, helpless millions, or under what new power their future destiny will lie" (this was a reference to Russia).

Churchill said that with the loss of India—and perhaps Burma—"the number of the king's subjects is being reduced to barely a quarter of what it has been for generations." And at the same time Russia has "brought extra scores of millions of people under the 'despotic control of the Kremlin' and continues to expand in every direction."
Well, now, what about this empire which "is being reduced" so sharply—the empire upon which the sun never sets? Whitaker's Almanack (published in London) says:
"The British empire occupies over one-quarter of the known surface of the globe, and its population exceeds one-quarter of the estimated number of the human race." Most of those millions are in India.

AFL Opens 65th Annual Meeting

Chicago, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor opened its 65th annual convention today with the name of Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach absent from the speakers' list.
The omission, which AFL leaders said could be taken as a mild slap at Schwelienbach, was coupled with a reference in an AFL executive council report expressing displeasure with labor department policies.
Traditionally, the labor secretary was the representative of labor in the cabinet, always speaks at conventions of the AFL, the nation's largest worker organization with 7,150,000 members.
"The AFL long has considered the Democratic administration has been more sympathetic with the rival CIO and has been angry with Schwelienbach for considering sending a CIO man to represent the American labor before the international labor organization. An AFL man was eventually chosen for the job but there still exists some resentment over the earlier consideration of the CIO."

No Reply By President To Attlee Note On Palestine

Arab Leaders Protest Truman Appeal For Immigration Charging Political Move; Jewish Agency Welcomes Statement, Attempts To Improve Relations To Permit Action At Conference

London, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Informants at the residence of Prime Minister Attlee said today President Truman had not yet answered the British leader's last communication on Palestine and that the message called for a reply.
Mr. Truman asked the British on Friday to open Palestine at once to substantial Jewish immigration. The Arab executive agency in Palestine termed Mr. Truman's statement a bid for Jewish votes in the American elections next month. The Jewish agency welcomed the pronouncement.
A British foreign office spokesman declined comment on a declaration by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York that the immigration of Jews into Palestine must not be merely 100,000, as Mr. Truman suggested earlier, but several hundreds of thousands.
The Jewish agency said yesterday that Jews throughout the world warmly welcome President Truman's statement and added that discussions were underway with the British government to improve the atmosphere in Palestine and to create conditions enabling the Jewish agency to participate in the Palestine conference when it reconvenes here December 18.
"It is difficult to understand why the president's reference to the admission of 100,000 Jews into Palestine should be regarded as a sudden intervention," the agency's own statement said, "when it is well known that the president has urged this course since he first advocated it a year ago."
Meanwhile the Arab executive organization, in a statement issued from Jerusalem, said it is not possible for Arab countries under any circumstances to agree to any further Jewish immigration into Palestine.
"Palestine Arabs," the statement added, "wish to assure Truman that the world at large now knows the real reason underlying such declarations."

Washington, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Government conciliators, spurred by one union leader's prediction that a settlement may be near, pressed their efforts today to end the week-long maritime tieup.
Capt. Harry Martin, president of the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots, told newsmen in New York last night that things look more favorable than at any time since negotiations started.
He said an agreement might be reached by nightfall, but cautioned that if the stalemate runs through tomorrow negotiating committees of both his union and the CIO Marine Engineers Beneficial Association may leave the capital.
This lent a new note of urgency to today's renewal of the conversations after a two-day recess prompted by a flareup of temper on all sides.
Chief Conciliator Edgar L. Warren, put off the sessions until 2 p. m. (EST) today in the hope that a weekend cooling of spirit might help crack the deadlock over wages and union security for AFL dock officers and CIO engineers.
Dealing with the unions are the East and Gulf Coast operators, on the one hand, and the west coast carriers, represented by the Pacific American Ship Owners Association on the other.
In the middle is the Maritime Commission, which holds the balance of power in the Merchant Marine because so many vessels are under its contract.
Labor Department conciliators today said the parties are not too far apart on wages but that the issue

TENTH DEATH ON HIGHWAYS

Annie Payton, Negro Killed Near Grimesland Saturday Night

By CHESTER WALSH
The tenth highway fatality in "hit County" this year occurred Saturday night when Annie A. Payton, 6 Negro, was killed near Grimesland, State Highway Patrol Co. John Laws said. Three persons were killed on highways here during the past week.
Annie A. Payton, an expectant mother, died Saturday night at Taylor Hospital in Washington shortly after she was struck by a car driven by Furnie C. Laughlin, 26, of Greenville, on U. S. Highway No. 264, one mile east of Grimesland.
Corporal John B. Laws of the State Highway Patrol, investigative stated that the Negro woman, who resided at Grimesland, Route 1, got off a Carolina Trailways bus, walked to the rear of the bus, and stepped into the path of the automobile (Continued on Page Four)

Cordell Hull Is Said To Be Out Of Danger

Washington, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Cordell Hull, who suffered a stroke a week ago, now "appears to be out of any immediate danger," Bethesda Naval Hospital reported today.
The 75-year-old former Secretary of State, who rallied over the weekend after being in a critical condition for several days, rested well last night and continued to show improvement.
A 9 a. m. bulletin from the hospital said:
"Mr. Hull has continued to show improvement. He rested well last night and appears to be out of any danger."

Polar Route Is Proven Feasible By Big Plane

Cairo, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The communications officer of the superfortress Pegasus Dreamboat, which flew non-stop 10,925 miles over the Arctic Circle from Honolulu to Cairo, said today that commercial air service over the top of the world was practicable from a communications standpoint.
Lt. Col. F. J. Shannon, called back to army service especially for the test flight from his job as engineer for Radio Station WCAU in Philadelphia, said high radio frequencies were blocked out repeatedly by sunspot flares but declared:
"If commercial airways decide to use this region as an air route, I believe they could have successful communications with a few well placed low frequency radio stations."
Shannon pointed out in an interview that the shortest distance between many population centers was across the northern wastes.
The commander of the Dreamboat maintained meanwhile that the 276-mile-an-hour trip had proved the ability of the B-29 to "defend the United States over any part of the world."
The Dreamboat landed at Payne Field in the desert near here at 9:57 a. m. (2:57 a. m. EST) yesterday—39 hours, 36 minutes after the takeoff of an epochal flight to test equipment in Polar weather.
Col. C. S. (Bill) Irvine of St. Paul, Neb., pilot of the big four-engine Boeing and commander of its 10-man crew, said the flight had proved the superfortress "would do its job" of defending the United States anywhere.
The Dreamboat had been stripped even of de-icing equipment to carry a heavier fuel load and had exhausted all except 400 gallons of the 12,000-gallon supply by the end of the trip.
But Irvine told reporters the United States Army new B-36 bomber could have made the same flight with a bomb load. "The B-36 was designed for a range of 10,000 miles with a load," he explained, "while the B-29 has a range with load of 7,000."
In Washington, Gen. Carl Spaatz, Army Air Forces commander, said the journey had proved "the feasibility of a flight across the Polar wastes by properly equipped aircraft" and had given valuable information on problems of navigation, engineering, communications, weather, fuel consumption and physical (Continued on Page Four)

STORM FLAGS OVER FLORIDA

Hundred-Mile Gales Roar Towards Florida's Coastline

Miami, Fla., Oct. 7.—(AP)—A severe hurricane with winds over 100 miles an hour at the center and gale winds extending outward 200 miles from the core roared toward the Florida coast at 15 to 18 miles an hour today after lashing the western tip of Cuba last night.
The storm will enter the Florida west coast between Fort Myers and Tampa about midnight and sweep northward through the state, the federal warning service at Miami stated in a 10 a. m. (EST) bulletin.
The hurricane center was placed about 130 miles southwest of Key West with winds of 50 miles an hour at Key West and 38 miles an hour at Miami.
Rain squalls which lashed Miami and the Florida Keys throughout yesterday and last night continued today.
Hurricane warnings were extended northward along the Florida west coast to Cedar Keys and northeast toward warnings westward to Apalachicola, and on the Florida east coast northward to Fernandina.
As the storm approached the Florida Keys, a fleet of Red Cross trucks, escorted by State Highway patrolmen, rumbled over the overseas highway to bring out all who were stranded.

Ten Killed In Crash Of Dutch Army Plane

Apeldoorn, Holland, Oct. 7.—(AP)—A Dutch military plane flown low over the home of the pilot's mother crashed into the roof of a nearby school today, killing the pilot and eight school boys and seriously injuring at least 10 others.
The fier's mother, a widow, died of a heart attack.
The plane was a single-seater Firefly. It struck a school hall in which about 25 boys were doing gymnastics.
The plane's left wing ripped a hole in the roof of the gymnasium hall. Burning gasoline poured into the hall, setting afire the boys' clothes.
Raeder, who was convicted on three counts of the indictment—common plan or conspiracy, crimes against peace and war crimes—said the verdict was the result of "a mistake in the way the prosecution handled the Norwegian case."
This mistake, he said, was due to political interests.
Meanwhile Hjalmar Schacht, one of three defendants acquitted by the tribunal, was reported to have left Nuernberg for "the vicinity of Stuttgart" to visit relatives and friends. Military government authorities here said he had cleared with them and with the German police.
Of the other two acquitted defendants, Hans Fritzsche was staying at the home of friends in Nuernberg and his future plans were unknown. Franz von Papen, the other, still was waiting in the Palace of Justice jail for permission to enter the British zone in order to go to his old home at Stockhausen.

U.N. Atom Scientists Hope For Compromise

Mexico Proposes Middle-Of-The-Road Plan To Evade Deadlock On Control System; Delegates Slow To Approve

By MAX HARRERLSON
Lake Success, N. Y., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Scientific experts of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission started discussions today to determine whether Mexico's new middle of the road proposal offered a practical way out of the commission's deadlock on atomic control.
The 12-nation committee of scientists was called into closed session at 10:30 a. m. (EST) to answer a specific question submitted last week by Mexican Delegate Luis Padilla Nervo in the hope the reply might give the political committee the basis for a compromise.
In substance the question was this: Is it technically possible to construct plants which would consume denatured nuclear fuels for industrial, power, medical and research purposes without "regenerating" additional stocks of such fuels which might be used for atomic weapons?
Padilla Nervo said that if the scientists found this technically feasible he would ask the political (No. 2) committee to agree to what would amount to a compromise between the proposals offered by the United States and Soviet Russia.
He suggested that these secondary installations might be operated nationally, with only infrequent inspections, while the plants actually producing the raw materials suitable for both atomic bombs and peaceful uses could be operated by an international authority in international zones.
This, in the opinion of Padilla Nervo, would help to meet Russia's objections to inspections and at the same time would offer the safeguards insisted upon by the United States.
There was no indication, however, that the proposal would be acceptable either to Russia or the United States, since all the delegates were reluctant to comment before the scientists had explored the question.
Meanwhile, U. S. Representative Bernard M. Baruch was reportedly to be planning a declaration this week re-affirming his atomic (Continued on Page Four)

Senator Tom Conally Takes Peace Conference Floor; Calls For Adoption Of Commission Recommendations; Answers Slav Critics Of Plan For Free State

By ROBERT ENUNSON
Paris, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Senator Tom Conally took peace conference delegates today the United States would make no further concessions on the Trieste issue and urged the adoption of commission recommendations.
Conally (D Texas) was the first speaker in general discussion on the Italian treaty as the conference got into plenary session under the able chairmanship of British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin for its final spirit of treaty drafting.
Conally reminded delegates the outline of principles for the projected free zone had been backed by two-thirds of the Italian political commission and then added:
"It outlines principles without which no settlement is possible."
The senator declared that for the United States, the Trieste agreement was one decision, one agreement in which no part can be separated from the whole.
"A just solution of the problem of Trieste and the frontier between Italy and Yugoslavia," he said, "is the keystone of the peace treaty."
"Unless this statute becomes operative," the senator warned, "our obligations toward the population of Trieste cannot be discharged."
"The city must be founded on democratic principles. It must be free and independent, so organized that it can have a life of its own, free from outside influences, from any one power or group of powers."
However, Conally said, assurances of integrity and independence could only be made by the Security Council, as represented by the governor. The governor, Conally said, must have ample but limited powers to accomplish these guarantees.
Conally answered Slav criticism that Trieste was intended as an Anglo-American base on the Adriatic.
"No bases either military, air or naval are to be built or maintained in the area," he said. "No troops are to be sent there except as directed by the Security Council in the exercise of its functions."
"There will be no case of any power or group of powers using Trieste. It is sophistry to think that any power or groups of powers can use the Security Council for its own ends," the senator said.
In opening the session, Bevin called upon the first delegate of the U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes. Byrnes asked the permission of the chair to have Conally (Continued on Page Four)

RAEDER ASKS FIRING SQUAD

Admiral Says Health Too Poor For Prison Sentence

Nuernberg, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, builder of the German fleet and one of three men sentenced to life imprisonment by the international military tribunal, has appealed to the allied control council to change his sentence to death by shooting.
Raeder said his petition did not mean that he was pleading guilty as indicated but was prompted by his advanced age of 70 and the state of his health.
He told the control council: "The resistance of my body is very low and the imprisonment would not last very long."
Raeder, who was convicted on three counts of the indictment—common plan or conspiracy, crimes against peace and war crimes—said the verdict was the result of "a mistake in the way the prosecution handled the Norwegian case."
This mistake, he said, was due to political interests.

Brozek Girl Is Sent To Mental Hospital

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Loretta Frances Brozek, who had been serving a seven-year sentence in the women's reformatory at Alderson, W. Va. for the kidnaping of youthful Terry Taylor here last February, today was committed to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Washington, mental institution, upon advice of psychiatrists, despite her tearful plea that she was sane "but different from other girls because bad treatment by my parents."
Judge E. Yates Webb signed the committing papers after listening to the girl contradict findings of several psychiatrists who had found her "of unsound mind."

OPA's Latest Ruling On Meat-Meal Prices Raises Cost To Consumers Eating Out; Here's A Background Summary Of Restaurateurs vs. OPA On Prices
By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Oct. 7.—(AP)—It's going to cost you more to eat out. Restaurant prices on meals with meat go up 15 per cent, starting on Thursday.
That's only part of the story here is the general picture. It revolves around the date of June 30.
Until June 30 restaurants were not supposed to charge more for meals than they had charged in April, 1945.
OPA had ordered it that way in order to keep restaurant prices down.
But June 30 came and on that day Congress let OPA die. Right then all price controls on everything, including restaurant meals, died, too.
Price controls were off on everything until late in July when Congress passed a new price control law, bringing OPA back to life.
But Congress had made some changes. Because of the way the new law was written, not everything that had been under price control June 30 had to go back under ceilings.

Four Prisoner To Die In Prison Camp

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Leroy Smith, 27-year-old Negro who was sentenced in Edgecombe County for attempted rape, was killed Saturday night at the Bladen County camp by an accidentally discharged shotgun blast. Prison Inspector Kyle Matthews said today.
Matthews said that Smith, an honor grade prisoner, was helping to move some furniture in the guards' quarters when a locked wooden gun case was tilted. One of the guns fired and Smith was killed almost instantly.
Smith was the fourth prisoner to die violently within the last week. The others were killed in motor vehicle accidents.

Christian Science Service
 "Unreality" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, October 6.

Golden Text, I John, 2:15. "All that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world."

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all? And Jesus answered him. The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord." (Mark 12:29, 30). And from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in anything which does not proceed from this great and only cause." (Page 207).

Strength FOR THE DAY

By SARA L. DOUGLAS

ON GUARD
In approaching present-day problems, people seek their solution in almost every sphere except the spiritual. Occasionally a man like General MacArthur arises who says that the basic problem of modern times is theological in nature. Most people, however, try to explain everything on the basis of economics and politics.

In our dealings with Russia, it is well for us to remember that Russia is an atheistic country. Since this is true, Russia feels in no way bound by certain codes of honor which bind other nations. When millions of small farmers refused some years ago to co-operate with the Soviet government, the authorities clamped down upon them, cut off their food, let them starve. Communism is frankly based on a philosophy of life which says that anything justifies the end which Communism seeks to attain, namely, the dictatorship of the proletariat. The more ruthless the means employed the more effective it is believed to be.

Behind our dealings with other nations stand sentiments and sen-sibilities which are at least nominally Christian. If we would understand Russia, we must remember that that nation justifies means which we regard as evil and immoral. Its rules form their judgements entirely apart from all religious standards.

So in international matters today theology plays a tremendous part even though diplomats and theologians fail to realize this.

WASHINGTON LETTER

RAF MEN VISITING U. S. IN FORCE ROYALLY ENTERTAINED
BY JANE EADS

Washington—"Operation Goodwill" is having a jolly fine time in this country.

"Operation Goodwill" is the code word adopted by 230 young Royal Air Force fliers for their visit to the United States. They were invited over here to participate in the U. S. Army Air Forces Day program at Los Angeles.

A spokesman for the group said he believed the invitation to come see America and have a good time was a gesture toward repaying the Britishers for their hospitality to American men during the war.

Well, they're having fun. The climate sort of knocked them out the first few days. They're not used to heat and humidity in England
such as you find in Washington,
Texas, New York and, yes—California.

They arrived in the United States in July, fair-skinned and a bit on the pale side. Now they are almost black from daily swims and sunbathing.

Most of the youngsters—their average age is between 22 and 23—had to work up to the big meals they're getting here. Diets are still pretty thin in England and the boys hadn't had steak dinners such as they found here in many a day.
They liked Hollywood, where they were entertained lavishly by blondes and bigwigs. A great many Hollywood beauties wrote their names on the 16 ships the boys came over in.

They never before had seen anything like the barbecue they went to in Texas. They don't have barbecues in England.

They had two big thrills during their visit in Washington. They flew over the White House and the Capitol building—the first to fly over the two structures since before the war. They had to get special permission to do this. They made a long-anticipated tour of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and talked with the G-man Chief J.
Edgar Hoover.

Commanding officer of "Operation Goodwill" is Group Captain Richard Collard. In his early thirties, of medium height and good-looking with fair curly hair and blue eyes, Capt. Collard was in the German prison camp, Stalag Luft 3.
He was commandant of the camp, appointed by the Germans. He was in charge of 17,000 imprisoned American, British and Russian av-

Col. Irvine said the flight had shown the magnetic North Pole to be about 200 miles closer to the geographical North Pole than scientists had believed. When the plane passed north of the presumed magnetic pole, its magnetic compasses, instead of pointing south pointed toward the geographical pole.

In addition Barnes Aircraft Service is to provide active management of the airport under the supervision of the County-City Airport Commission, as well as use all proper means, including advertising, to promote the full use of the airport by civilians as well as commercial aircraft, Secretary Kyzer said.
The Airport Commission, composed of J. N. Williams, chairman, L. M. Buchanan, vice-chairman, Willard T. Kyzer, secretary-treasurer and N. C. Brooks and G. H. Pittman, stated that in contracting with Barnes Aircraft Service it feels that it has an operator equipped by experience, as well as personnel and otherwise, to develop full civilian use of the Pitt-Greenville Airport which is one of the most modern airports in this section of the coun-

The Arab executive commented that the American people would not tolerate such statements as Mr. Truman's if they realized the grave danger which may be caused to vital American interests in all Arab and Moslem countries.
The statement, which was adopted after a two hour session of the four member executive committee expressed grave concern and astonishment over President Truman's repeated declarations on Jewish immigration, thus embarrassing his government and entangling her in matters not justified by right, justice or logic.

of hiring only union masters and engineers still is a formidable barrier.
Hopes for settlement in the opinion of some government officials, rest on these possible developments:
1. A split agreement by the east and west coast operators. Up to now the unions have insisted on a national agreement which would apply on the Pacific coast as well.
2. The Maritime Commission may yet agree to put into effect on all ships the government owns on the west coast the terms of any agreement made between the unions and Atlantic coast operators.

nally speak instead.
Conally was one of the American members of the Italian political commission which drafted the report before the conference, including the principles for the statute on Trieste contained in a French compromise text.
Conally urged nations surrounding Trieste to allow the city to develop a free, international gateway into the continent.
"Its prosperity depends on its use as a port by the states of central Europe," said Conally. It must not fall under the influence of one or the other of its neighbors. It must be truly free and independent with its own international character.
Applause greeted Conally's call to the conference to adopt the compromise plan to forward it to the foreign ministers council as a guide to the final writing of the treaty.

The boys are rather shy and, as one of their own group said, "inclined to be stuffy," but once they catch on in a town they make many friends.

"We love the girls, but we aren't wolves," said this same chap.
The fliers are taking nylons to the girls back home. In San Antonio, Tex., an organized group of 160 British war brides arranged for a local shopkeeper to sell each flier one pair. The boys also bought cowboy outfits, cosmetics and toys—all impossible to get in their own country.

care to leave their island homes for shelter in either Miami or Key West.

Residents of Key West and Fort Myers braced for the blow. Wind-does were boarded up and disaster and relief workers were alerted.

Others in the southern sector of the necklace of islands stretching southward from the mainland to Key West were instructed to secure their homes and boats and board busses for city shelters.

The storm center was 140 miles southwest of Havana at midnight with winds of 60 miles an hour at dry Tortugas, a group of 19 coral islets 65 miles west of Key West.

At that time the Cuban town of San Julian was being buffeted by 112 mile winds.

W. O. Johnson, federal storm forecaster, urged the more populous areas of the rich "Gold Coast" from Miami northward and the west coast above Fort Myers to remain on the alert.

Ominous black and red hurricane warning flags flapped over the area from Key Largo, 40 miles south of Miami, to Key West, and along the Florida west coast to Fort Myers.

involved. If Britain should lose this great sub-continent, the king-emperor would indeed have lost some three quarters of his subjects, as Churchill points out.

Since all the signs are that Russia is going to wield vast influence in the Orient, we can see what Churchill has in mind. Also one might make the observation that if India interests seem to her to lie with England, then Hindustan will remain within the commonwealth. If she thinks she belongs exclusively in an Asiatic bloc—not unlikely dominated by Soviet Russia—then the British empire will be the loser.

But then, after price ceilings were put back on meat, OPA told restaurants they could not charge any more for their meat meals than they had charging on June 30.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Cromulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.
Cromulsion blends bethwood creosote by special processes with other time-tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.
No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Cromulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permits rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 7 - (AP) - Selected recoveries, principally in steels, brightened the stock market a shade today although many leaders faltered and nothing resembling vigor was present during the session.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 7 - (AP) - Corn led an upturn in grain futures today based on a strong demand for the yellow grain in cash markets and fears that box car shortages will slow down movement of grain to terminals. Visible supply of corn fell 1,356,000 bushels to 3,376,000 bushels. Wheat closed 1/4-1/2 higher, January $2.04 1/2. Earlier, January wheat hit $2.04 1/2, highest price for any wheat future since January, 1925. Corn advanced 1 1/2-2 1/4, January $1.38 1/2-3/4, and oats were up 1/4-1/2 cent, November 85 1/2-3/4.

Tarboro Mill Strike Reaches Settlement

Tarboro, N. C., Oct. 7 - (AP) - Full operations were scheduled to be resumed at the Hart Cotton Mills here today following the settlement Saturday of a five day old strike.

Settlement of the strike came at a meeting of 200 strikers who voted to accept an offer by the mill management of a 71-cent hourly minimum wage. When the workers, members of the Textile Workers of America (CIO) went on strike last Monday they demanded an overall wage increase and an hourly minimum wage of 73 cents for all workers.

Pirates Held Down To Tie A.C.C. 6-6

Out-Play Bulldogs But Penalties Prove Costly; Early Lead Lost In Third Period By Long Pass Into End Zone

By JIM LOCHRIDGE

East Carolina Teachers College and Atlantic Christian College fought to a 6-6 tie score Saturday night at Guy Smith Stadium before a crowd of about 3,000 fans. This was the first gridiron clash between these bitter rivals since 1941, but the old spirit of rivalry was still there. ACC kept possession of the Bohunk Trophy, but will have another chance to win it when the teams meet in Wilson November 9.

ACC won the toss and elected to receive. The Pirates were over-anxious and were penalized twice for being off sides on the first two plays. They got a hold on themselves three plays later as Slade Phillips and John Wyatt stopped McCaskill for two consecutive losses of six yards which forced the Bulldogs to punt. Phillips, 180-pound back from Portsmouth, Va., took the kick on his own 41, and returned to the ACC 42-yard line. At this point, the Pirates went on a touch-down drive. Charles (Shotgun) Brown of Portsmouth, picked up 11 yards for a first down on the first play. Runs by Phillips, Ellie Earing and Pete Everett brought the pigskin to the one-yard line where Everett took it over on a quarter back sneak for the initial score of the game. To attempt for placement for the conversion was blocked. For the remainder of the first half, the Teachers were a constant threat, but were plagued by fumbles which ACC covered.

Early in the third period, after an exchange of punts, the Christians got possession of the ball on their own 30-yard line. Thompson picked up 11 and 2 to the 42-yard line. A penalty of 15 yards against ECTC gave the Bulldogs possession on the ECTC 43-yard line. Bobby Clark was thrown for a three-yard loss to the 40. Again, the Pirates were penalized 15 yards. This stroke of luck for the Bulldogs put them on the 25-yard line. A long fluke pass into the end zone was caught by Andy Phillips for the tying six points. The try for the conversion was blocked.

For the rest of the game, the Pirates battered the Bulldogs but were unable to score. Time and again

FIRST ROUND ENDS IN PLAY

Thirty-Two Players Left In President's Handicap

For the past ten days play has been in progress on the links of the Greenville Golf and Country Club in their annual President's "Handicap" match, resulting in victory for thirty-two players. These thirty-two players will match during this week for their play-off reducing the field to sixteen. This the second round will have to be played by next Sunday, October 13th. The winners of this round will continue until other rounds are played, further.

ACC was thrown for losses and forced to punt. Amos Sexton and George Kessles, second string guards, were outstanding in stopping line plays.

Slade Phillips, acting captain who made the starting lineup last night after being out as a result of a foot injury, deserves credit for his bang-up offensive and defensive game. Ellie Earing and Pete Everett came through with some brilliant runs at opportune times.

Lineups:

ECTC: Tatarski LE, Lee LT, Wheelless LG, Pendleton C, Miller RG, Wyatt RG, Brown RE, Everett QB, Fearing LHB, Phillips RHB and Pittman FB.

ACC: Phillips LE, Gillarmis LT, R. Brown LG, Davis C, Wiggins RG, J. Brown RT, Chapin RE, Bain QB, McCaskill LHB, Clark RHB, and Thompson FB.

Officials: Referee—Mock, Kinston; umpire—Latham, Wake Forest; head linesman—Farley, Duke; field judge—Jones, N. C. State.

Following are the statistics of the game, the first figures being for ECTC, the second for ACC:

First downs, 16 and 6; rushes, 42 and 37; yards gained rushing, 228 and 117; yards lost rushing, 5 and 46; net yards rushing, 223 and 71; passes attempted, 9 and 9; passes completed, 1 and 1; yards gained passing, 9 and 23; passes intercepted by opposition, 2 and 1; punts, 2 and 34; yards punts returned, 31 and 10; opposition fumbles covered, 0 and 4; yards lost in penalties, 55 and 50.

After reducing opponents until the Champion is crowned on or about Nov. 11th. The winner's name will be handsomely engraved on the Cup which is the permanent keepsake of the Club, but an individual trophy will be given the Champion for his achievement.

Winners over their opponents for the first round are:

Bill Allen defeated Jimmy Phelps; Ercel Webb defeated Simon Moyer; Dr. Barrett defeated Roger Taylor; Dr. Massey defeated Tom Smoot; Herbert Waldrop defeated Howard Waldrop; and George Montgomery defeated Dave Mosier.

Reynolds May defeated Tyson Bilbro; Boyd Moore defeated Cecil Perkins; Dr. Billy Brown defeated John Proctor; Bill Taft defeated Dave Clark; Hunter Keck defeated Luther Herring; Bruce Baker defeated Don Conley; and Jack Edwards defeated Seth Hooker.

Billy Morton defeated Milton Harrington; A. C. "Bits" Ruffin defeated Con Lanier; Dr. Glenn Haney defeated Henry Harrell; Bob Smith defeated Fred Saue; Lyman Ormond defeated Ben Billard; DeRock Vincent defeated Joe Eym; Marion Blount defeated John Warner (by default); Joe Taft defeated Cecil Bilbro; and Aubrey Tilley defeated Carlos Murray (by default).

Red Corbett defeated Billy Davnport; Bert James defeated Phil Goodson; James Ray Pittman defeated A. B. Stallworth; Rev. Bob Bradshaw defeated L. M. Ernest; Dink James defeated Bill Kyzer (by default); Gentry Galloway defeated Billy Hodges (by default); Claude Plyler defeated Dr. Raymond Moore (by default); Dick Stokes III defeated Bob Thompson; Sherwood Roberson defeated L. S. Taylor (by default); and Charles Whedbee defeated Vern Grove.

Cards Defeat

McBride backed up against the right field wall and gathered in Marion's high drive.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIFTH INNING.

Red Sox: Partee popped to Kurovski. Harris poked a Texas leaguer over second base for a single. Moore caught McBrides loft. Pesky grounded to Musia. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Cardinals: Rice singled to left field. Brecheen bunted down the third base line where Higgins readily scooped up the ball but threw wide and high in an attempt to force Rice at second. Pesky, covering second, barely managed to touch the ball which glanced off of his glove and rolled into center. Rice raced around to third on the error, charged to Higgins, and a Harry Brecheen made second before Pesky recovered the ball in short center. Beechern was not credited with a sacrifice. Schoendienst rounded to oDerr who flipped to first for the out.

Moore rapped another sharp one straight at oDerr, but this time the ball glanced off the second baseman's glove and rolled into right-center field. Moore was credited with a single. Rice came in easily from third to score and Brecheen galloped to third on the play.

Musial became the third straight batter to hit to Doerr and Bobby fielded his grounder and hrew to Pesky at second for the forced play on Moore but Pesky's relay to first in time to double up the fast-moving Musial. Brecheen then ran of the inning to make the score 3-1 for St. Louis. Kurovski grounded to oPesky who flipped to oDerr forcing Fusal on second. Two runs, two hits, one error, one left.

SIXTH INNING

Red Sox: DiMaggio hit a two and two pitch to Marion who tossed him out with plenty to spare.

Williams sent a screaming line drive directly at Schoendienst who played well back of first base. Kurovski made a fancy glove-hand pickup of York's solid rap toward the hole between third and short, and with a nice underhand toss got his man at first.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cardinals:

York fielded Slaughter's grounder and tossed to Harris who covered first for the putout.

Dusak doubled to right, missing a home run by several feet. After catching Harris' first pitch to Marion, Partee called for time apparently having hurt a finger. Partee was forced to retire from the game.

Hal Wagner took Partee's place behind the bat.

Marion filed to McBride in medium right field close to the foul line but Dusak was forced to hold second when McBride uncorked a perfect throw to third.

Rice, whom the Red Sox have yet to retire, was purposely passed.

Brecheen went down swinging on three pitches.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

SEVENTH INNING.

Red Sox: After complaining over a second called strike, oDerr hit a three and two pitch far into left field where Dusak camped under it. Marion scampered near second to field Higgins' grounder and threw him out.

H. Wagner was called out on three strikes completely fooled by a pitch which appeared to break about six inches across the width of the plate.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cardinals: Schoendienst hit the first pitch to Pesky and was thrown out at first.

Moore worked the count to three and two and then walked.

Musial was called out on strikes.

EIGHTH INNING

Red Sox: Leon Culbertson, a righthander swinger batted for Harris and Joe Dobson a righthander, began warming up in the Red Sox bullpen.

Culbertson looked at a ball and raised a soft fly to Slaughter in right.

McBride hit the second pitch and sent a fly ball to Moore in center.

Pesky swung late on a sharp-breaking curve and sent a bouncer to Marion who tossed him out. It required Brecheen only five pitches to retire the side.

No runs, no hit, no errors, none left.

Cardinals: Dobson, with a 13-1 won and lost record during the season, took over the pitching chores for the Red Sox.

McBride had to duck a strong wind to catch Slaughter's tricky high drive in short right.

Dick Sisler, a left-handed batter hitting for Dusak, grounded out, to oDerr to York.

Marion also grounded to Doerr and was thrown out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Ninth Inning

Red Sox: DiMaggio singles along the third base line but Dom beat the throw to first.

Williams, after missing a half-hearted attempt to bunt, raised a high foul fly which Kurovski gathered in near the third base field boxes.

Slaughter came in almost to the infield to gather in York's wind-blown fly.

Walker ran back close to the left field wall to catch Doerr's long drive.

No runs, one hit, no errors.
