

THIRD PARTY HOPES FAINT AT AFL MEET

President Sends Message To Convention; Asks Cooperation Of Labor

Chicago, Oct. 8.—(AP)—President Truman in a message to the American Federation of Labor Convention today said America stands on the threshold of abundance but to attain it must have "the full cooperation of industry, labor and government."

"Today no less than in wartime, our most compelling need is full, sustained production," the President said in a message which drew loud applause when it was read to the convention.

He added, "Our demonstrated capacity holds out the promise of secure abundance for America's wage and salaried workers, as well as for our farmers and business and professional people."

A third party move entered the American Federation of Labor's Convention political discussions but veteran AFL leaders forecast it would make little headway.

The plan, put forward in a resolution assigned to a convention committee, contemplates formation of a third political party sponsored by the AFL with labor, farmer and consumer support.

It attracted attention among convention delegates because of present AFL coolness to both the Republican and Democratic parties and of AFL President William Green's disagreement with many policies of the Truman administration.

The general reaction among AFL officials to the third party idea was that the federation is not ready, for the time being anyway, to go along with it.

Even David Dubinsky, president of the AFL International Ladies Garment Workers and a figure in the New York liberal party, said the AFL isn't ready yet to accept the plan.

"I am for a third party," Dubinsky told reporters. "But we won't have one until all labor gets behind it. And even then it would take years to build."

The pending resolution, sponsored by the Auburn, N. Y., Federation of Labor, called on the AFL to elect a committee to form a new national labor party in 1947 similar to the labor party now at the helm of government in Great Britain.

Another pending resolution, and one given a better chance of winning convention approval, calls for expulsion of Communists from all AFL unions.

Stresses Major Farm Problems

Winston-Salem, N. C., Oct. 8.—(AP)—The North Carolina Association of Chamber of Commerce executives were told yesterday that North Carolina, essentially an agricultural state, has many "number one" farming problems that should be eliminated.

One of the big agricultural problems, D. S. Coltrane, assistant commissioner of the State Department of Agriculture declared before the group, is that this is a one-crop state.

Tobacco is grown on such a wide scale that it makes our agricultural economy unbalanced, he said. The problem is not how to raise more tobacco, Coltrane said, but how to produce better tobacco.

Another "number one" problem is cotton, asserted the assistant commissioner. He said ways must be found to reduce the production cost of the staple and that cotton farmers must become more mechanized.

Coltrane quoted some grain, livestock and poultry figures which he said were out of balance with the state's potentialities.

The heel farmers import as much as 700,000 tons of feed; they yield raise 35 per cent less hogs this year than two years ago, and 10 per cent less poultry.

Near East Strategy

Uncertainty Regarding Russian Ambitions Enter Into Palestine Problem; Analyst Sees Britain's New Empire-Defense Line As Means Of Achieving Ends

The pressing Palestine problem is heavily complicated by the differences between Russia and the Western Allies.

Uncertainty regarding the Soviet Union's ultimate ambitions very definitely enters into Britain's hesitation in dealing with the urgent difficulty, I dare say that if Moscow were maintaining a policy of keeping its hands off the strategically important Middle East, England wouldn't hesitate to agree to increased Jewish immigration into the Holy Land over the objections of the Arabs.

However, John Bull is fearful of making a move which would turn the great Arab world against him and thereby give Russia a chance to add the Middle East to its sphere of influence. As things now stand, if England lost control of that area it would cut her empire into halves from the standpoint of military defense.

German Agents Arrest Schacht For New Trial

Former Reichsbank Head May Be Tried By Denazification Court; Military Government Remains Aloof In Case

36-2 col.—GERMAN AG Walsh Stuttgart, Germany, Oct. 8.—Dr. Richard Schmid, state attorney of Wuertemberg-Baden, challenged today the legality of Hjalmar Schacht's arrest last night and demanded that the former Nazi economic minister be released until he is convicted by a German denazification court.

Schmid cited the German denazification law, which provides that Germans accused of Nazi affiliations should not be confined until they are convicted by a denazification court. Schacht's arrest was ordered on charges that he had been a leading Nazi.

The irascible former Reichsbank head was arrested here last night on a charge that he had been a member of the Nazi Party in Nurnberg, where he was acquitted of war crimes charges by the international military tribunal a week ago today, and several hours after the chairman of the Nurnberg denazification board announced that proceedings had been instituted against Schacht, Von Papen and Hans Fritzsche, also acquitted.

Schacht's arrest was ordered by the Wuertemberg-Baden ministry of state despite a declaration earlier in the day by Lt. Gen. Lucius Clay, deputy U. S. military governor, that the military government preferred that the three acquitted defendants not be arrested "until they can be tried under denazification laws and found guilty."

Present when German police arrested Schacht at the home of Paul Reusch, a German mining magnate, and a friend of long standing, was the president of the denazification court of the village of Backnang where Schacht had planned to take up his residence, and the acting minister for denazification of the state of Wuertemberg-Baden.

The U. S. military government in Wuertemberg-Baden dissociated itself from the Schacht case. Col. W. W. Dawson, director, issued a statement saying "the military government's interest in the matter is solely that there should be orderly procedure."

Sugar Theft

By CHESTER WALSH Sheriff Noel W. Tyson said today that he is still investigating the robbery at the pickle factory in Ayrton last Thursday night when four Negroes in a truck and two white men in a car held up the night watchman while they loaded one hundred 100-pound sacks of sugar—10,000 pounds—onto a truck and carried it away.

Mason, Gettifer and Ben Demain, owners and operators of the factory, told the sheriff that N. H. Lofton, middle-aged white night watchman, reported to them that the two white men held him up at the point of a gun while the four Negroes loaded the sugar onto the truck. The sugar has not been recovered.

Authorities are working on several clues, but no arrest has been made.

Hurricane Miraculously Loses Force Reaching Florida Coast

Miami, Fla., Oct. 8.—(AP)—A hurricane which boiled up in the western Caribbean to whirl furiously toward the thickly populated Florida west coast miraculously lost its force today sparing the area from heavy damage.

Tampa, St. Petersburg, and other resort cities in the Tampa Bay area had prepared for the worst. But the worst turned out to be only moderately high winds early today which swept on up the Florida mainland turning inland and heading toward south Georgia and South Carolina.

A freakish twist, as often is the history of tropical storms, brought relief to the worried, rich west coast. The 125-mile an hour winds suddenly dropped to gusts of 50 miles or so. There was no official explanation—only relief.

Even the bumper citrus crop, expected to have escaped. First reports from Lakeland, heart of the grapefruit and orange belt, said the loss was minor. A rough-making crop with a value of $3,000,000 has been forecast for this season.

The weakened hurricane which breezed across the Florida peninsula this morning was expected to remain inland with continued movement over southeastern Georgia and South Carolina today and tonight although strong winds were indicated as far north as Atlantic City.

The Federal Storm Warning Service in a 7:15 a. m. (EST) advisory placed the storm a short distance west of Jacksonville and moving 30 to 35 miles an hour with a steady increased intensity.

Jacksonville had 11 winds up to 45 miles an hour in gusts with lowest pressure 29.30, the advisory said.

The hurricane with early winds reported as high as 125 miles an hour at the center entered the mouth of Tampa Bay about midnight with great loss of intensity and moved across the state's rich citrus belt.

The 7:15 a. m. advisory stated the inland movement of the storm "will cause further loss of intensity, and gale winds near the storm center will gradually moderate today and tonight."

"However, precaution against high tides and squally shifting winds should be continued on the Georgia coast and northward to Charleston and strong winds occasionally reaching gale force will be felt as far north as Atlantic City today," the advisory concluded.

Earlier advisories had indicated the storm would enter the Atlantic in the Jacksonville area and pick up in intensity over the water with a possible threat to the thickly populated east coast.

Hurricane warnings remained displayed north of the Florida Keys.

PLANE CRASH FATAL TO TWO

Forty-Four Other Persons Aboard Survive Wreck Of Airliner Cincyenne, Wyo., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Two passengers from among 46 persons aboard a San Francisco to Chicago United Air Lines DC-4 Mailliner were killed early today when the four-engined ship crashed on the Fort Warren military reservation a mile and a half northwest of Cheyenne.

Coroner Wesley Schrader announced that one of the dead was William Wang, about 35, of San Francisco. The other victim was a woman about 50 years old. Efforts to identify her had not proven successful several hours after the accident.

United Airlines officials announced that only two or three other passengers were hospitalized, and their names and the extent of their injuries was not immediately known.

Other passengers, including two small infants, escaped injury and were at the airport awaiting transportation in another plane to continue their trips according to company officials.

What caused the plane to crash as it approached the airport for its only stop between San Francisco and Chicago, was not immediately known.

Sheriff Norbert E. Tuck said the large plane broke in two when it crashed on the military reservation not far from the post ammunition dump.

The sheriff and company officials said the plane did not catch fire. All cargo and mail was saved. The plane missed striking a small building which housed post ammunition by about 100 yards.

Seven More Children Die After Accident

Apeldoorn, Holland, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Seven more schoolboys died in a hospital today, increasing to 19 the number killed by a Dutch naval plane which crashed into a school gymnasium yesterday, setting it on fire. Seven other boys remained in a hospital with burns.

Max Christern, 21, pilot of the British-made Pffely, also was killed when it fell as he was stunting. His mother, watching, died of heart trouble.

U. S. BORROWS BRITISH BEEF FOR SERVICES

Agriculture Dept. Silences Plans For Easing Meat Shortages Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The War Department announced today that negotiations are in progress for a loan of 20,000,000 pounds of beef belonging to Great Britain to meet the army's current need for troops overseas.

The Department had said earlier the negotiations were for Argentine beef, to be taken from Argentina's exportable surplus.

Today's announcement said that under plans being discussed with Britain, the United States would repay the British with meat, pound for pound, prior to February 28.

The Agriculture Department meanwhile maintained strict silence on tentative plans for easing the domestic meat shortage as it awaited a formal demand that livestock price controls be ended.

The War Department said completed requirements of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and War Shiping Administration, for which the Army Quartermaster General buys perishables, is 12,000,000 pounds of beef weekly.

However, only about 4,000,000 pounds weekly has been forthcoming in the past two weeks from federally-inspected packing plants.

This was the day an OPA meat industry advisory committee set last month in announcing that it would file a decontrol petition under terms of the new OPA act.

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton E. Anderson has virtually committed himself to rejecting the petition. The next step would be an appeal to the independent decontrol board.

Aides of Anderson reported meanwhile that the secretary is awaiting White House reaction to the proposals he discussed with President Truman last week for putting meat back on the nation's dinner tables.

These officials declined to discuss the proposals except to state that seizure of livestock on farms is not being considered.

The subject of federal seizure action in another direction was raised, however, by Senator Green (D-RI) who told reporters he thinks the government should take over any excess stocks of meat found in packers' warehouses.

Green also said the Justice Department should investigate whether there is a conspiracy to withhold meat from consumer trade channels.

Alaskans Voting On State Status

Juneau, Alaska, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Air-minded Alaska, a crossroads for "top of the world" flights, decides today whether to seek statehood.

Despite a last minutes flurry of charges which led to reprinting of the statehood ballots because Senator Norman R. Walker, author of the statehood referendum bill, called their wording confusing, the issue was generally expected to carry.

Voters also will choose between incumbent E. L. (Bob) Bristlett, Democrat, and Almer J. Peterson Republican, for territorial delegate at Washington, D. C. named territorial officers and legislators and voted on the blanket primary.

With ships tied up for weeks by the maritime strike and rail and automobile transportation limited candidates have made intensive use of airplanes in their campaigns.

Comments of statehood have argued the costs of setting up a state government would be too great for the small population. A territory since 1912, Alaska has never voted on statehood and even if passed today, Congress must still pass an enabling law and a constitution be written and adopted.

Chinese Reds Say "No" To Ten-Day Armistice

Nanking, Oct. 8.—(AP)—General Marshall, in an unprecedented statement, confirmed today that Communist leaders rejected an offer of a 10-day truce in the Kalgan offensive to permit both sides to "talk things over."

Issuance of the statement was fully as significant as its contents which some observers interpreted as dooming hopes for peace. It is the first time that Marshall, special U. S. envoy, has released verbatim exchanges of notes between his office and the two battling Chinese factions.

(As if emphasizing their rejection of Chiang Kai-shek's truce bid, the Communists intensified their assault on Paoting, capture of which would sever the Government communication line between Peiping and Shichichang and give the Reds a strong bargaining point in negotiations, Associated Press Correspondent Tom Masterson reported from Peiping.)

(As the Communists pushed close to the walls of encircled Paoting, Hopeh province, capital, other Red forces moved northward to halt Government reinforcements pushing slowly southward along the Peiping-Hankow railroad line. They clashed with Chiang's troops near Kaoletien, Sunglin and Tingshin, 40 to 55 miles south of Peiping.

(Chinese press dispatches acknowledged that most of the Government's reinforcements were held up between Chohsien, 35 miles south of Peiping, and Sunglin. These troops were dispatched from Peiping several days ago.)

(The Communists smashed at Paoting's south and east walls and captured a strong outpost northwest of the city. Government sources meantime reported the capture of five towns seized last week by the Reds.)

(Masterson also reported that Chiang's chief of staff, Gen. Chen Cheng, returned to Nanking today after visiting Nankou, the Government's advanced military headquarters for the Kalgan offensive when the Communists launched their surprise offensive against the Peiping-Hankow railroad in retaliation for the Kalgan attack.)

(Marshall's statement included a significant paragraph that the Communists' truce rejection had come from party headquarters at Yanan, indicating the high command now directly is guiding its strategy.)

Services Honor Oscar A. Hankner

As a memorial to the late Oscar A. Hankner, member of the department of health and physical education at East Carolina Teachers College, a devotional service was held in the Austin auditorium on the campus at noon today.

Mr. Hankner, who had taught at the college since 1939, died on October 3, in Champaign, Ill. Both residents of Greenville and members of the college community attended the exercises. The Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, in a brief talk, stressed the ideas that Mr. Hankner's life, though short, was a full one because of his service to others and that the teacher because of sincerity of purpose and a desire to help others merited the favor of God and the appreciation of those with whom and for whom he worked.

A program of music included the "Largo" from the New World Symphony, by Elisabeth Drax, pianist, and "Peace I Leave With You," by Roberts, sung by a trio of students composed of Blanche Osburn of Angier Jean Roberson of Spring Hope and Sally Margaret Johnston of Wilmington. Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, college president, read appropriate passages from the Scriptures.

Greeks Ask Arms For Civilian Use

London, Oct. 8.—(AP)—A foreign office spokesman said today Greece had asked Britain to supply arms for the use of Greek civilians in fighting bandits in the northern provinces of that troubled kingdom.

The spokesman said the request had been taken under advisement, along with a Greek request for advance on Premier Constantinos Tsaldaris' proposal to organize civilians in the northern regions, where the British said two weeks ago fighting amounted to a "small scale civil war."

Unofficial Whitehall sources indicated that a statement of British policy in Greece might be issued tonight.

The Handicapped

Employ The Handicapped Week Aimed At Arousing Interest In Problems Of Disabled Vets And Helping Them Find Suitable Work; How System Works

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—This is employ the handicapped week. In this story the term means this:

A person who—disabled in some way, physically or mentally—isn't doing the job he thinks he can do best, or has no job, or lacks training for a job he thinks could give him a living.

Such a handicapped person may be a blind man, a man with one eye, or one leg, or a bad heart, or an arrested case of tuberculosis.

Employ the handicapped week is aimed:

1. At employers. To get them interested in employing handicapped people or finding jobs for them where they can work best.

2. At handicapped people themselves. To let them know there are places where they can go for help in finding jobs, or better jobs, or training for jobs.

(This week is not aimed directly at disabled war veterans. They can get help from the Veterans Administration.)

For every disabled veteran, there are about five handicapped civilians. There are according to government estimate, about 1,500,000 such handicapped civilians.

This is how a handicapped person can go about getting help:

Every state has a vocational rehabilitation office, usually in the state capital, although some states may have branch offices.

Sometimes this rehabilitation office may be called a welfare office. If you're a handicapped person and don't know how to get in touch with the state rehabilitation office, ask your local Red Cross or community chest or some other social work like this:

The system has been set up to service organization for guidance. You apply to your state's vocational office.

Britain's Foreign Secretary Addresses Peace Makers; Reminds Delegates Self-Preservation Compelled Allies To Fight Together In Peace

Paris, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Great Britain told the peace conference today "unity was the foundation of our victory and must be the foundation of our peace."

Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia presided at the plenary session. Bevin's address followed a declaration by Paul-Henri Spaak, Belgian foreign minister and president of the United Nations General Assembly, that the peace treaty drafted for Italy was too harsh in its present form.

Calling Trieste one of the prime disputes, Bevin said "I confess that there have been times when I had doubts as to the settlement of drawing a border between Italy and Yugoslavia."

Bevin declared unfounded Slav charges that Great Britain and the U. S. were trying to build a military base in Europe "by making Trieste an international settlement rather than giving it to Yugoslavia outright."

"We have no strategic interests in Trieste," at all, Bevin said. "I hope these unfounded allegations will never be repeated."

"We are firmly resolved that our own victories at El Alamein shall not have been in vain," Bevin said. He said Great Britain favored the stripping of Italy of her colonies and asked the conference what delegates thought would have been the reply if Germany and Italy were the victors and Great Britain was asking the Axis for the return of lost territory.

"It wasn't Great Britain that attacked Italy, but Italy attacked us," Bevin said. He said there was a long time when "The Bastion" of the Middle East was defended by only the British Commonwealth and "I am proud to say, Greece."

Bevin praised the conference for its time and one-half weeks work, declaring the foreign ministers and the world would be in possession of the facts when the final texts were written.

Bevin told the conference self-preservation forced nations to work together in war, but when it comes to rebuilding the world, "different views prevail and there is no compromise to agree."

Emphasizing his belief that the Italian treaty was not too harsh, (Continued on Page Four)

Today with but ten million acres under cultivation, out of the state's 31,200,000 acres, North Carolina is still an area of vast natural resources in wild plant life.

PIN-WORMS Now can be Beaten!

The miseries of Pin-Worms have been known for centuries, and millions of victims have sought a way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body.

Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug (sentinal violet), a highly effective treatment has been made possible. This drug is the vital ingredient in P.W., the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son.

The small, easy-to-take P.W. tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms. So don't suffer in silence with the embarrassing rectal itch caused by this ugly, stubborn pest. Ask your druggist for a package of JAYNE'S P.W. and follow the simple directions carefully. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back.

Brig. Gen. W. L. Weible, commanding general of the Yokohama base, reduced the sentence.

Evidence showed Colliers had been drinking in Tokyo and was walking with a Japanese girl who told him that sometimes Japanese men beat girls for going out with Americans.

At that moment a Japanese man approached on a bicycle. Colliers shot and killed him.

VIOLINIST TO GIVE CONCERT

Lions Club Sponsors Leona Flood At ECTC Thursday

By CHESTER WALSH N
Leona Flood, internationally famous concert violinist, who will appear in concert at the Austin auditorium, East Carolina Teachers College, Thursday night, October 10, at 8 o'clock, has had a brilliant and successful career as a violinist. She will appear here under the auspices of the Greenville Lions Club. Proceeds of the concert will go to the Lions Club fund for the benefit of the blind.

Incidentally, the Greenville Lions Club has a "Good Samaritan" reputation for its far-reaching and helpful activities toward training blind persons and the visually handicapped to become self-supporting.

The Lions Club was responsible for organizing the Pitt County Association for the Blind, which has received national recognition. Frank M. Brown, president of the association, and others were largely responsible for the State's establishing here the Pre-Conditioning Center for the Adult Blind.

Most artists have known the embarrassment of falling stage props bursting seams, or other mishaps which arise to plague stage folk. None is quite as unique as the story told by Leona Flood, the talented young violinist who appears in recital here next Thursday night.

At the age of eight, Leona was playing at a public recital being given by her mother, who is a composer and pianist. An extremely shy child, Leona found it trying to face the large audience. While playing the violin obligato for the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria," she shut her eyes tight and looking a bit angelic, unconsciously kept turning more and more away from the audience until at the finish she opened her eyes to find that she had completely turned her back to them. She turned around and bowed seriously but unfortunately the audience burst into laughter while she ran from the stage and burst into tears.

Since then she has appeared in concert in the principal cities of Europe and the United States.

Tickets for the concert here are on sale by members of the Lions Club.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By RALPH L. DOUGLAS

WHY?
Some years ago a man wrote a book entitled "Why We Behave Like Human Beings." Another book might have been written on why men and women very often do not behave like human beings.
With the superior endowment we have as the highest of the animal creation, why do we insist so often on using everything we have except our brains? Why do we lose our tempers and make spectacles of ourselves in our own eyes and in the eyes of others? Why do we stand transfixed before what appear to be opportunities to make more money and remain oblivious to the fact that there is much more in life than possessions? Why do we indulge ourselves in petty and ridiculous little weaknesses year after year? Why do we mar many an hour by hateful thoughts about others? Why do we spend so much time on trivialities in the midst of an era that has more to teach us than the human race has known in all its previous history?
Why does the laboring man throw the industrial life of the country into disorder by wildcat strikes and thus make himself the most abject victim of such confusion? Why do employers squeeze the last penny for themselves and pay no attention to the welfare of their workers?
Why do legislators view every law with reference to the effect it will have on elections? Why do diplomats keep on making the same mistakes that diplomats have been making for thousands of years and head a peace-loving world toward war? Why?

WASHINGTON LETTER

SUBSIDIES FOR BRAINS
By JANE EADS
Washington - Scholarships to England's Oxford University awarded by Cecil John Rhodes have long been prize plums to the educationally hungry.
Now comes Uncle Sam with a project that will dwarf the famed British gift by its scope.
President Truman recently signed a bill which provides that up to $20,000,000 can be earmarked for educational exchanges with any country which buys surplus property, and up to $1,000,000 can be spent each year in each country where such a deal is made.
The bill was introduced in Congress by Senator J. William Fulbright ("D-Ark."), former president of the University of Arkansas, who has studied the progress of student exchanges abroad and was himself a Rhodes scholar.
Under the legislation, the Department of State is authorized to use some of the proceeds from surplus property sales abroad for exchanges of students and other educational activities.
The bill provides that American students can be given grants of foreign currency to be used for education and research in foreign countries and that American professors can be given grants to give lectures in foreign institutions.
Foreign students can be given scholarships to study at American institutions abroad or they may receive funds to pay their transportation to this country to study.
The bill does not authorize expenses of foreign students here.

President Truman shortly will appoint the 10 members of the Board of Foreign Scholarships, which will set the policies that the State Department will administer.
Procedure of selection of students also will be set up by the board.
Representatives of the U. S. Office of Education, the Veterans Administration and several state and privately-owned educational institutions will be named by the President.
Veterans of both world wars will be given preference in the awards.
It is expected that the first grants will be made in 1947 and that in the next two or three decades 100, 000 or more Americans will be sent abroad.
Agreements have already been made with Great Britain, Australia,

Near East

defense has depended on controlling the Mediterranean and the Suez Canal—her life-line to the Far East —and this necessitated domination of the Middle East, with its large Arabian population.
The last war made it clear that it was highly unlikely that Britain could hold the Mediterranean in a third world conflict. Hitler demonstrated that danger when he had European armies driving down toward the Middle East while Marshal Rommel was racing hell-for-leader for Alexandria across the Libyan desert. Had the Nazi dictator closed that vast pincers, the allies would have been in a bad way.
These points presumably have been heavy debate among the experts as to which course to pursue—the old or the new.
The old school is said to have advocated sticking to the strategy of trying to defend the Mediterranean route. The new school has wanted to scrap that and establish a defense across Africa from the Gold Coast on the west of Kenya and Tanganyika on the east, with South Africa as a link in this defense to safeguard the Cape of Good Hope route to India and Britain's other Far Eastern territories.
Apparently the new school has won in the main, with the compromise that Britain maintain her Middle Eastern zone of influence so long as feasible. The corollary to this would seem to be that London soon may feel greater freedom of action in dealing with the Jewish-Arab controversy in Palestine.
One doesn't suggest, of course that Britain would agree to unrestricted immigration of Jews against Arab wishes. However, the handling of 100,000 Jewish immigrants—as advocated by Washington—or even double that number, might be achieved without undue difficulties pending settlement of the question of the Jewish national home which England promised in 1917.

Army To Lose Football Crown Claims Pollsters

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—After two years Army has finally been rooted out of its spot at the head of the nation's football parade. The nation's sport writers, voting in the Associated Press' first weekly poll of 1946 on the top ten teams in the country, today boosted Dana X. Bible's touchdown-happy Texas Longhorns up to the head of the class.

All told, 108 ballots were cast from coast to coast, and 69 of them voted the straight Texas ticket. Army got 21 first-place votes, and Notre Dame, finishing third, drew 15. One voter balloted for a first-place tie among the Longhorns, the Cadets and the Irish. University of California at Los Angeles and Pennsylvania each drew one of the other two first-place nominations.

Under the usual point system of scoring—10 for a first-place selection, 9 for a second, 8 for a third and so on—it was a photo finish among the top three, with Texas piling up 999 1-3 points, Army 928 1-3 and Notre Dame 913 1-3. Army's second-place nominations were 36 to 13 for Notre Dame.

Last Saturday, while the Cadets were whipping Cornell 46-21—in a game that saw a team score more points against Army than any other outfit had piled up in three years—Texas took on the Oklahoma Aggies in the nation's outstanding game-of-the-day and just about ran the Cowboys out of the ball park, 54-6. The Longhorns climbed from tenth spot in the national rankings.

For Notre Dame, it was somewhat of a rocket rise, too, as the Irish romping over Illinois and Pittsburgh in their two starts this season, climbed from ninth at the end of '45, to third so far in 1946.

Michigan, with a total of 632 points, moved up to fourth place in this week's voting, off victories over Indiana and Iowa.

The rest of the first ten were distanced in the voting. The UCLA Powerhouse was fifth with 401 points. Alabama's Rose-Bowl champions, second only to Army last year, dropped to sixth in the current balloting, with 352. Pennsylv-

MIDGETS AND JUNIORS PLAY

Two Teams Meet New Bern And Roanoke Rapids Thursday

Both the Midgets and the Junior High Reserves play their last home games of the season here Thursday at the stadium. It will be the last opportunity to see the Midgets who are currently leading their conference with two wins and no losses. These wins have been over the strong Kinston and Goldsboro outfits. Their opponents for Thursday will be the Midget team from New Bern.

The stand of ball played by the local Midgets has created a great deal of spectator interest. Many fans went to the first game out of curiosity, but after seeing the fine exhibition put on by the "Mighty Mites" have become staunch supporters. In fact, the Midgets are fast becoming local favorites. With "Mr. Inside" Sideris and "Mr. Outside" Farley, the Midgets have the same "one-two" punch that has made the Army football team so famous.

The Junior High Reserves will be out to win their second game of the young season. The Reserve of the Roanoke Rapids Jackets will furnish the opposition. The Juniors played a great game to win over Tarboro two weeks ago, but let Kinston pass them silly last week in their loss to the Red Devils. Instead of playing two games on Thursday night, the Juniors will square off with Roanoke Rapids at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and the Midgets will play under the lights at 7:30 p. m. Both games will be played at Guy Smith Stadium.

vania was seventh with 254 1-3 Georgia and Tennessee deadlocked for eighth with 247 and Northwestern, impressive 20-8 winner over Wisconsin last Saturday, moved up to tenth, with 177.

The second ten: 11—Columbia 148; 12—Illinois, 119; 13—Louisiana State, 94; 14—Ohio State, 77 1-3; 15—Yale, 47; 16—St. Mary's (California), 45; 17—Stanford, 38; 18—Arkansas, 23; 19—tie between Kentucky and North Carolina State, 17 each.

Police Having Radio Programs Of Safety

By CHESTER WALSH
Police Chief Jim Tanner's "Drive of the Week" program for the police department over the Greenville radio station Sunday night elicited favorable comment here yesterday. Tanner, in his broadcast, outlined police plans for promoting safety driving in Greenville. In his talk over the radio he explained that the police desire to promote safety in driving by education and co-operation of motorists, rather than by arrests. The broadcast will be made each Sunday night from 8:45 to 9 o'clock.

A feature of Sunday night safety program was the awarding of prizes to two Greenville citizens for safe driving. There were Dr. H. G. Hancy, pastor of Eighth Street Christian Church, who has driven automobiles for 30 years and never has had an accident, and Mrs. R. E. Rogers, Washington highway, who has been driving for 20 years and never had an accident. Prizes for each of the winning motorists were donated by 12 different business places in Greenville.

Chief Tanner, in an interview with a staff representative of the Daily Reflector today, recalled that there have been 10 deaths on the highways of Pitt County this year in spite of the wonderful work the State Highway patrolmen and police are doing. Tanner pointed out that the fatalities in the nation have increased to such an extent that President Truman, through the state governors, has inaugurated a program by which it is hoped to reduce highway tragedies and the injury of persons and loss of property.

Chief Tanner's admonition was to "Drive carefully, park right, regard the other fellow's rights, and remember, 'The motorist who has the right of way is he or she who is driving right.' Be sure you're right, then go ahead," he said.

The safety "Drive of the Week" Program" will be presented each

Make up your mind about your hearing NOW

If your hearing is slipping, you want to know all about it. Is the loss serious? If a hearing aid can help you—how much help should you expect?

At our Hearing Center I will give you—free—an audiometric hearing examination that supplies the answers you want. This is the most accurate of all hearing tests—used by hearing rehabilitation programs in hospitals, schools and industry. Your hearing will be tested for both air and bone conduction. Sonotone offers both routes to better hearing—for often a person not greatly helped through the ear passages will hear extremely well through the bones of the head.

If you really need a hearing aid, you'll convince yourself by this test. If you don't need help, or cannot be helped, you should know. Sonotone sells only better hearing—based on careful tests, close fitting to your personal need, training and continuous hearing care for lasting hearing success.
