

Boston Red Sox Trim Cards 4-0

Deciding Runs Scored In First Frame; Pesky Singled, Williams Purposely Walked And York Slams Homer Over Left Field Fence; Error In Eighth Brings In Fourth Run For Boston

By JACK HAND Fenway Park, Boston, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Rudy York's tremendous 400-foot home run in the first inning with two men on base—his second game-winning homer of the series—helped Dave Ferriss earn a 4-0 victory today that put the Boston Red Sox out in front of the St. Louis Cardinals, two games to one.

Moore hit the first pitch to Doerr who threw him out. Musial walked. Musial stole second as H. Wagner's throw bounced in front of Pesky and rolled into center field. With Slaughter at bat, Musial was trapped off second base and finally run down. Ferriss to Higgins, who made the tag near third base.

Red Sox: Walker gathered in Moses' long fly. Pesky singled in third. DiMaggio bled into second. Williams was purposely passed. York hit a tremendous homer over the left field wall connecting of a three and two pitch, the ball traveling about 400 feet. Pesky and Williams scored ahead of him to put the Red Sox ahead 3-0. Doerr went down swinging.

SECOND INNING. Cardinals: Slaughter grounded out to Pesky. Kurovski rolled to Doerr, but York had to make a fancy catch of the second baseman's throw to make the out. York scooped up Garagiola's slow batted and stepped on first for the out.

THIRD INNING. Cardinals: Moses galloped into right-center field to haul down Walker's high fly. Marion singled to short. Dickson fled to DiMaggio in center. Schoendienst sent a long fly to Moses in deep right.

FOURTH INNING. Cardinals: Doerr threw out Moore. Doerr also threw out Musial. Slaughter fouled to H. Wagner.

Pepper Losing Faith In All Price Controls

Washington, Oct. 9.—(AP)—One of OPA's staunchest champions in last summer's Senate battle said he is giving "serious consideration" to junking all price controls today as President Truman pressed ahead with his personal survey of the meat shortage. Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), who lost a fight last June for renewal of the price control act without amendments, declared in a statement: "If price control is getting back like prohibition in its last days so that public opinion is not going to support effective price control and the congress is not going to support it, we might just as well try to have it."

Bride-To-Be Dies On Her Wedding March

With her bridal veil covering her face, Rose de Febrizio (in rear at right) enters the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel at Inwood, N. J., on the arm of her father, Louis, for her wedding to John Mastantuono, 20, her childhood sweetheart. A moment later as the wedding march rang out, the 21-year-old bride-to-be collapsed in the aisle and died. The bridegroom waited in an ante-room for the signal to approach the altar—a signal that was never given. (AP Wirephoto copyright 1946 The New York Daily News).

Decontrol Of Meat Hot Political Issue

Bitter Charges and Counter Charges Erupt As Major Parties Go To The Mat Over Responsibility Of Shortage

Washington, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The seething controversy over decontrol of meat erupted across the nation today, keyed to bitter political charges and counter charges. "Only one thing is certain. There is little meat in pan, kettle or oven. And, in some sectors at least, it is getting scarcer." UNRRA Director General Fiorello H. LaGuardia said it is not going overseas in UNRRA cartons. Asked by newsmen in Washington whether his organization is shipping meat abroad, LaGuardia replied, "Only some canned horsemeat." Most authorities agree there is plenty of meat, grazing on the ranges. This Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio charged that the available supply of meat has been artificially kept from the people. "Meat shelves of Ohio are bare," Lausche telegraphed Washington, urging a federal investigation of the meat situation in Ohio. As political overtones of the scarcity swelled hourly, these were the major developments: 1) "The Democrat," official party publication, spoke of a possible full-dress investigation to determine whether "any political or criminal collusion has taken place." The newspaper's headline proclaimed: "Meat scandal on Republican doorstep." To this, Rep. Halleck (R-I.), chairman of the GOP congressional campaign committee, retorted: "Apparently 'The Democrat' does not recall its party has been in control of Congress." 2) The OPA disclosed that 24 different industries—ranging from beef packers to representatives of the coffee, cosmetics, women's hosiery and facial tissue industries—are trying to win freedom from price controls. 3) In Chicago, the National Association of Retail Grocers said a 38-state survey of retailers in 62 cities disclosed that meat supplies in September were only 18 percent of the meat received in August. NO DESIRE TO BE PRESIDENT

Barrow, Alaska, Oct. 9.—(AP)—First returns in an Alaskan advisory referendum favored statehood for the vast territory by a slim margin of 23 votes to 23. Communications difficulties blamed on bad weather hampered efforts to obtain results in the election which ended yesterday at 11 p. m. (EST) in southeastern Alaska and later in time zones farther west. The referendum will determine whether Alaskans want congress to make their 586,490-square mile territory into the nation's largest state.

BARUCH GIVEN HIGH PRAISE

Washington, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Gov. Earl Warren of California said today he wished his friends would quit trying to run him as a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1948. The big, genial 55-year-old governor, who holds both the Republican and Democratic nomination to succeed himself in the Nov. 5 election, told this reporter: "I am not a candidate. I am not interested in the nomination." (Continued on Page Three)

Trygve Lie Hints Action In UN Atom Control Talks

New York, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The first public hint that Trygve Lie, the United Nations secretary general, might take a hand in the slow moving atomic energy discussions raised far-reaching questions today as Bernard Baruch held grimly to the American plan to harness the atom for peace. Lie dropped the hint during a short speech last night just before Baruch was awarded the Freedom House plaque for his services as the U. S. member of the United Nations atomic energy commission. However, Lie later told newsmen that he had no intention of intervening immediately. In accepting the honor, presented by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt Baruch, maintained that the American plan was the only one. (Continued on Page Four)

Peace Makers Enter Final Phase Of Treaty Writing

FEARED STORM IS DWINDLING IN CAROLINAS

Tropical Hurricane Virtually Blows Self Out On Way To Sea

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 9.—(AP)—A freakish tropical hurricane, which raged havoc in Cuba with 125-mile-an-hour winds that slowed down relatively to a snail's pace before they entered Florida's west coast, virtually blew itself out last night in the Carolinas. The Charlotte Weather Bureau said the storm center, which had skated across Georgia and South Carolina at 25-miles an hour, had slowed down to less than five miles an hour by the time it hit the North Carolina border early last night in its northeasterly course toward the sea. The hurricane killed four persons and caused crop damage of $2,000,000 in western Cuba Sunday night as the winds diminished so rapidly that government weather experts were at a loss to explain the phenomenon. Only negligible damage was done to Florida's rich citrus belt, whose $150,000,000 crop, the largest in history, is due to be harvested in a few weeks. The winds had dwindled to 40-mile an hour gusts in Spartanburg, S. C., last night and only minor damage was reported. The Weather Bureau said the storm would continue northward over the interior of North Carolina and Virginia and over the Atlantic Seaboard north of Charleston to Block Island. The winds were expected to continue to diminish as the storm moved. (Continued on Page Three)

Conferees Adopt Preamble To Italian Settlement; Molotov Speaks Against "Undemocratic" Government For Trieste; Says Free City Anglo-American Dominated

Paris, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The peace conference entered its final phase of treaty writing late today with the adoption of the preamble to the Italian settlement. Yugoslavia abstained in the voting on the preamble, though the preamble text had been adopted unanimously in commission. Articles one and two were passed so quickly and unanimously, Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, who assailed the Italian treaty draft plan for the projected free state of Trieste as an undemocratic method of keeping that strategic Adriatic area under British-American control in an address to the delegates this morning, presided as chairman. Molotov opened the balloting after calling on the spokesman of the Italian political commission, A. D. McIntosh of New Zealand, to present his report. The conference secretary general, Jacques P. Duparc, explained the voting rules for the final decisions. Molotov then put the treaty preamble to the conference. Speaking for the Soviet Union in a peace conference plenary session, Molotov declared that the statute adopted by the parley's Italian political and territorial commission for governing the free state lodged absolute power in a foreign governor and left the city's population disenfranchised under foreign soldiers. "This means Trieste is not an international free territory, but a semi-enslaved supervised territory under control of the Anglo-American forces," Molotov declared. Making his first pronouncement since his return from Moscow, Molotov demanded that the conference transfer power in Trieste to a government elected by the popular assembly similar to the postwar government in Danzig. "It is not true to say there is no similarity between Trieste and Danzig," he said. "The experience of Danzig should be utilized in Trieste." Addressing himself to western block nations, Molotov criticized what he termed attempts by the old democrats to isolate the young Slav democracies. Especially as they are trying to maintain their new national institutions and are not willing to do the bidding of "some other powers." Molotov told the conference delegates. TROOPS QUELL ROMAN RIOTS

Three Hour Struggle With Workers Testing Lay-Off

Rome, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Police and troops using tanks and armored cars fought for three hours before the Viminale Palace, seat of government, today with demonstrators led by workmen protesting their dismissal from a public project. A government communique said one person died of injuries and 79 others were wounded. Police announced earlier that three had been killed and leaders of the 20,000 to 30,000 demonstrators asserted that at least eight were slain. Scores of bullet marks pocked the palace. Government officials said the head of the Italian Communist party, Palmiro Togliatti, retreated from a palace balcony, where they were attempting to quiet the angry mob when pistol shots were fired in the air. Pietro Nenni, Socialist leader and minister, suffered minor bruise when the crowd shoved him around as he walked among the demonstrators trying to pacify them. The workers' ranks were swelled by homeless war veterans and refugees from a camp on the edge of the city. At one time, some members of the throng penetrated the palace as far as the office of Premier Alcide De Gasperi, but they were pushed back after they had smashed furniture and windows elsewhere in the palace. AAF IS GIVEN RESEARCH JOB ON MISSILES

Ends Two-Year Dispute Between Ordnance And AAF Over Controls

Washington, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The Army Air Forces took over control of research into guided missiles today, thereby ending a two-year dispute within the War Department over the development of such weapons of future warfare. An order by Secretary of War Patterson placing the Army Ordnance Department in a subordinate role was issued with the avowed purpose of attaining "the most efficient utilization of scientific talent and engineering facilities." W. Stuart Symington, the War Department's Under Secretary for Air said in announcing the order: "It is possible that there has never been a more important decision in connection with the future of our defense structure." Symington noted it would centralize authority and responsibility and "will save the taxpayers many millions of dollars." He took occasion, however, to note at a news conference late yesterday that three Navy bureaus (Continued on Page Four)

Hull's Condition Is Same After Relapse

Washington, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The condition of former Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who suffered a slight relapse yesterday, was reported unchanged today at Bethesda naval hospital. A 9 a. m. report from hospital said: "Mr. Hull rested fairly well during the night but there is no change in his condition which is considered serious." Hull's condition has ranged from serious to critical since he suffered a stroke nine days ago. He entered the hospital September 12.

Meteors Appear In Sky Tonight

New York, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Astronomers forecast the most spectacular celestial display in the memory of modern man would appear at the same time (about 10 p. m.) tonight throughout the United States and Canada and in approximately the same quarter of the heavens. Astronomers differed, however, on the approximate universal moment of appearance of the fiery trail of meteors from the comet Giacobininer which sped past the earth 24,000,000 miles distant nine days ago. The Hayden planetarium said the comet itself was well plotted by that the mathematical minds differed somewhat on the timed positions of its flaming trail. Unless prevented by poor weather, the planetarium said, watchers should turn to the northwest and trace a line to the zenith overhead. Approximately one-third of the way up from the horizon will be the radiant point of the flaming display which will break across the sky.

Close Friends Hear Of Tragedy Together

Westbury, N. Y., Oct. 9.—(AP)—A boss contractor and his superintendent—long friends—were at work together on a housing project yesterday when two policemen approached. One policeman spoke quietly to the contractor, Ralph Weidner, and the other listened with a grim face as Weidner told his son, Robert, 13, had been seriously injured in an auto accident. The building superintendent, Ralph Eldridge, Sr., put a sympathetic arm around his old friend as he heard the bad news. Then the other policeman stepped forward and told Eldridge his son, Ralph, Jr., 31, had been drowned in another accident.

Diplomats' Rights Special Privileges And Immunities Given Diplomats; Can't Be Arrested Or Sued For Any Crime; Most Countries Extend Such Courtesies To Our Own

Washington, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Diplomats are like a race apart. They get special treatment. Laws that govern other people don't govern them. The reason, of course, is this: A diplomat represents his country when he is abroad. Because he's the representative of his country, the nation he's visiting gives him special privileges so there'll be no interference with his work. This goes for our own, and nearly every other country's silk hat crew. The latest reminder of all this comes from Nikolai Novikov, Soviet ambassador, who complains he was treated discourteously when he arrived at LaGuardia Airport in New York last Friday. Novikov reportedly complained that customs inspectors detained him an hour at the field, trying to persuade him to sign a statement that his baggage contained nothing illegal. The full details may never come out. The State Department is investigating. But this is a good spot to review the treatment diplomats get. Foreign diplomats coming here—That would be an ambassador or minister, his family, servants, and members of his staff like military and naval attaches—must go through customs, but without examination of baggage. They can't be arrested or jailed or sued in court for any reason. If a foreign ambassador killed an American citizen here, he couldn't be arrested. If he ran up a big bill for something like clothes—or for anything (Continued on Page Four)

East African Bases Britain's Middle East Defense Indicate Africa To Be Developed As Primary Base Of Supply; Defense In Depth For New Atomic And Aerial Age

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR. Britain's "tentative" plan for consolidating her Middle Eastern defenses far south of the present Egypt-Palestine-Trans-Jordan-Iraq line does not imply that the Lion is through ranging the Mediterranean's shores. It is true that the British, often accused of holding these ancient lands in durance vile, are rearranging their Suez defenses in an effort to clear their skirts in Egypt and elsewhere. But talk of moving key administrative and supply bases to Kenya and Tanganyika means establishment of defenses in depth, not withdrawal. And the big implication is that Africa will be developed as a primary base of supply. The British military program in 1942 after the Japanese made a pass at Ceylon which did considerable damage and thoroughly frightened its defenders, and when Rommel was knocking at the gates of Alexandria and Cairo, East Africa suddenly became a "rear area" for empire forces in both the Near and Far East. Alexandria was abandoned for the time being. Haifa and Mombasa became important points of British naval concentration. First-class air installations were strung out over Kenya and Tanganyika the latter a former German territory under British mandate, to tie in with the American-developed supply system to West Africa, Kharطوم and Egypt. Simultaneously with these military moves the British Foreign Office was working on its plan of development for Uganda, Kenya, the Sudan and Africa generally. (Continued on Page Four) boys and girls of the first grade to see which group could have the smallest per cent absent during the entire month. The group that lost, which was the boys, were obliged to give the other group a party. Our youngest group of students are really enjoying school.

The second grade has an enrollment of 44 children. There has been much interest shown during the first month of school. Their per cent of attendance was 98.13. The daily attendance was largely due to giving red stars for perfect attendance for each week. They have an attendance record on which the names of the children are kept.

The children are now interested in a unit on trees and their leaves. This will be written about later.

The third grade is very much interested in beautifying their classroom. The walls are painted the color of the sky, with the cabinets painted ivory. The flower pots are Chinese red.

The children have started a flower garden in a sand box located in one corner of the room.

When the students finish cleaning and painting they are hoping to have the prettiest room in school.

The fourth grade has a large enrollment this year. Three grade mothers have been chosen. Mrs. J. C. Parker, Mrs. A. L. Gwiltney and Mrs. J. F. Hathaway were elected for grade mothers.

The students of the fourth grade are also trying to make their classroom more attractive and are progressing along the road of success quite rapidly.

Students of the fifth grade have been studying about Columbus in history. Since they are scheduled to give a chapel program on October the 11th, just the day before Columbus day, they have decided to have a program about Columbus.

The sixth grade has been enjoying its study of Egypt. As a review of the study, the class made a large frieze picturing life in ancient Egypt. Every student took part. It pictures types of homes, ways of making a living, religious celebrations, preparations of a mummy, and the famous Sphinx and Pyramids. The boys and girls enjoyed having the eleventh grade history class see the frieze and hear talks on Egypt.

John C. Rodman Rotary Speaker

By WYATT BROWN

The United States should remove its reservations made on accepting the World Court and the people should adapt their ideologies more to the world ideas in order to make the United Nations organization work declared John C. Rodman, a Washington, North Carolina, attorney, when he addressed the Greenville Rotary Club and guests last night on international relations. Mr. Rodman was introduced by Fordy Harding who, in his eloquent manner, referred to the distinguished lineage and the accomplishments of the speaker.

"It is no longer a question of peace or war. Now there is peace under the United Nations or destruction of civilization," the speaker said in his opening. He mentioned a third possibility but ruled it as a feeble third—the possibility of outlawing the atomic bomb due to mutual agreement out of fear of retaliation. The handling of poison gas and biological warfare in World War II was cited in posing this alternative to destruction. "We cannot rely upon this," he said in commenting on the third possibility for the world's future.

Without hesitation he took the position that the atomic bomb would not be a U. S. monopoly long. Then he told of his personal observation of the awful devastation of the atomic bomb on Nagasaki which he witnessed as the first American officer privileged to do so. He landed with the Marines.

He derided the newspapers' playing down of the awfulness of the atomic bomb for he said not a thing was left standing in the mile and a half area of the U shaped bowl of Nagasaki except the solid cement of front door steps. The death dealing rays that lasted after the bombing killed Japanese, who returned to find their relatives; so, they stopped going back and had not begun again when Rodman viewed the

Biological Warfare Is Another Threat

Biological warfare is another threat in the case of war. Germany, Japan and the United States had accumulated stocks of germs for World War II but refrained from using them. They might be most deadly in rendering the civilians impotent when put into water supply.

He briefly touched on the development of the cosmic ray for destruction in war more powerful than the atomic bomb.

Then he said he wanted to take up the most important things he would say and he asked what the United States was doing to perfect the United Nations. The Security Council which he explained is the center of the potency of the UN has been rendered impotent by the veto power, and will continue so until the veto is eliminated.

Next the speaker took up the subject of Communism. He eliminated Russia as Communist by declaring Russia was a dictatorship just like Italy and Germany were except that a fourteen man board holds the power instead of one man. Russia is aiding the Chinese Communists in China to undermine U. S. influence. In the face of that U. S. cannot say too much for Great Britain has used her army to force elections to secure the elections that suited her. In commenting on Russian foreign policy Mr. Rodman quoted Churchill, Russia's foreign policy is "a mystery within an enigma."

"We must change our ideologies," ing Warren for what they believe may be a dark horse role at the party's national convention two years from now. Thus far, they have had to work without any cooperation from a man who broke all the records by topping both major party tickets in his race for a second term. He is opposed in November only by Henry R. Schmidt, prohibitionist party nominee, and Archie Brown, a Communist write-in candidate. One Republican party chieftain, who did not want to be quoted by name, said the governor personally had stepped on an effort by friends in Oregon, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona to organize movements in those states to advance him as a Western candidate for the Presidency.

Roman Riots . . .

Continued from Page One. A government communique early this afternoon said 50 of the demonstrators and 29 policemen were injured. It did not specify whether the riot man was an officer or rioter. The announcement said posters announcing the termination of the works project for Saturday had been erroneously put up during the morning. Actually, the communique said, authorities were working on a plan for a new project which would absorb the unemployed.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

DON'T BE TOO SURE
Someone has said that the nearest trick the devil ever perpetrated was to spread the story that he was dead. After every reason has been given for the decrease of religious interest among people today, the greatest reason, probably, is that people disbelieve in the devil and have but little fear of eternal punishment.

Yet regardless of the jaunty skepticism men have about Satan the spirit of evil seems to be abroad in the world just as it always has been. The word "Satan" means "adversary." In the Bible he is pictured as hostile to all goodness a being who aims to undo the work of God by leading men into evil ways.

This may appear to many to be a naive conception. Perhaps it is. But its naive character does not alter the fact that evil as a gigantic enterprise still thrives among men. Certainly the world in which we live today is more comfortable and in many ways more wholesomely enlightened than it was a thousand years ago. It is doubtful, however, if the sum total of evil today is much less than it was centuries ago. We have just been through a war which killed more human beings than any struggle that ancient or modern man has known anything about.

So let us not be too sure about the demise of the "adversary." We may not be as sure as our ancestors were about his personality, but along with them we can be dead sure about his presence in the world.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WEATHER MAN LIKES THE WEATHER WHETHER YOU DO OR NOT
By JANE EADS

Washington—The capital's weather has a bad reputation—unjustly according to W. P. Day, senior forecaster at the Washington Weather Bureau since 1913. He says he'd rather spend his vacation in Washington than any place else because the weather is so nice. Everyone else seems to try to get away.

There are a lot of other places just as hot, like Independence, Mo., or hotter and more humid like Philadelphia, Baltimore, Richmond, Norfolk, Louisville, Cincinnati and other points on the map, Day says. The normal average temperature for Washington in July for example is 76.8 degrees. This July it was 76.2 degrees.

July 1940, through July 1944, were a touch above normal. That's when Washington summers got a bad reputation, Day says. The weather doesn't vary much either. In July 1939, the average temperature was 76.2 degrees, same as this July. Of course the thermometer soared to 98 on July 20 this year, but that was just one day out of the month.

The worst summer in the capital's history was in 1930. There was a diller of a heat spell that lasted 20 days. On eleven of these days the temperature stood at 100 or more. Once it rose to 106.

Never in 70-odd years had there been a total of 11 days of 100-degree temperature. Only saving thing about it was that the air was very dry, says the weather man. So it was the heat and not the humidity. Last year we had a wet July with 10 inches of rain. That time it WAS the humidity.

Just as some men have always been interested in collecting stamps or making bird houses, Day says he has always been interested in the weather.

He gets a lot of letters. He says most of them are complaints about bad forecasts. All he can do is to try to explain. He guesses he makes about as many mistakes as the average doctor.

"The most difficult weather is when rain or snow is in the offing," he says. "You don't get credit for the easy weather."

In the winter, Mr. Day likes to go to Florida and he "kind of likes to beat the Spring" by going to the Further, you, an American, not only can't bring action against a bigtime foreign diplomat, but, if you try, you could be jailed under the laws of this country for as long as three years, and be fined, too. Most countries, but not all, extend to our diplomats abroad the same general kind of courtesies and immunities that we give them when they're here.

Some of these courtesies and immunities are agreed upon by treaty some by international practices.

plan which now fits well into the picture of great new administrative and supply bases.

Since the British are expected ultimately to substitute bases at Tobruk and Benghazi for their present installations in Alexandria, the "front line" of Middle East defenses would be little changed, but it would be relieved of the duty of protecting supply routes, which were so seriously threatened in World War II.

Whether Britain is merely announcing something she began during the war, or whether she is accepting a new conception of defense in an age of atomic and aerial weapons, there is one fixed point about which the rest revolves. She is not making, nor permitting herself to be forced into any change which opens a threat to her oil holdings in the Middle East. Those wells, refineries and pipelines are as vital to her as her navy, which depends upon them. No matter what political considerations intervene, they will never separate her from them.

when price controls were off.

In Washington, the Agriculture Department said meat produced under federal inspection last week was up five per cent over the previous week, but was 69 percent below the corresponding week of 1945.

4) Beef industry leaders voted 11 to 1 to press their battle against price ceilings on meat. But their action, in the form of a petition to Secretary of Agriculture Anderson will be delayed by technicalities until the end of this week or early next week.

5) Rep. Jed Johnson (D-Okla.) said he strongly urged Secretary Anderson to lift meat price controls and added, "I took it he agreed with me. As I recall it, he said 'You may be right.'"

6) Senator Green (D-RI) also talked with Secretary Anderson and told newsmen that Anderson appeared "very much interested" in his recommendation that the Justice Department investigate reports of meat hoarding. Green wants the government to seize meat from packers if it finds any evidence they are hoarding or building up excess stocks.

Lie has already acted in one regard to the atomic commission—last spring he dispatched letters to some governments who had not appointed delegates urging them to do so in order for the commission to go to work.

Secretary of Treasury Snyder greeted Baruch last night on behalf of President Truman and read a message from the president praising Baruch. Also at the speaker's table were Secretary of War Patterson and Secretary of the Interior Krug.

Baruch did not mention Wallace by name. However, there was no continue independent research and development, adding that Patterson's decision went only part way in clearing up that type of waste.

The dispute between the Air Force and Ordnance Department dates back to a 1944 order by Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, then deputy chief of staff. This assigned to Ordnance development of missiles launched from the ground which depend primarily on their momentum for their flight. This covered the Nazi V-2 with which Ordnance had been experimenting.

The Air Force, contending in vain that it should control all air weapons, was given responsibility only for those depending primarily on aerodynamic forces. This meant weapons with wings.

To resolve the dispute and to prevent overlapping in other kinds of military research, the War Department last summer set up a new division for the research and development of guided missiles, which still will have to decide just what is a guided missile. Also Patterson's decision failed to assign to any military arm the responsibility for actual use of new weapons.

gates that the question before them was whether to establish the free state on democratic principles or abandon these principles.

"The Anglo-American proposals for Trieste mean in actual fact making the city something like a colony," said Molotov, adding that the French proposal which the commission adopted was nothing more than a revised version of the British-American proposals.

This, said Molotov, presents the people of Trieste with a semi-colonial disenfranchised status in a milder form.

Molotov asserted this was a contradiction of the decisions of the foreign ministers council on Trieste. The plan embodies, such restrictions on the legislature and executive, and grants ~~some~~ powers to the governor, that hardly anything remains of democracy, the minister said.

These "wide" powers, he said, in actual fact mean absolute power for a governor imposed from above and the disenfranchisement of the population.

Molotov also called for adoption by the conference of a Polish-Ukrainian amendment rejection in commission to suppress neo-Fascist and frontier Revisionist movements within Italy.

"The Polish and Ukrainian amendment was rejected by nine votes to eight, with three abstentions. This action cannot be accepted, he added.

Molotov appealed for conciliation between the Slav and non-Slav nations, but warned western nations they must respect the rights and position of the Slav states.

Sports

Undeclared Wake Forest opens its Southern Conference campaign against Clemson Saturday with a healthy respect for the Tigers, despite their setbacks at the hands of Georgia and N. C. State.

Line Coach Tom Rogers of the Deacons declared that Clemson "has one of the best teams in Dixie" and reported that in scouting the Clemson-Georgia game he noted that Clemson "did a good job of bottling up Charlie Trippi."

The Deacons have Bob Leonard, 225-pound left guard, John (Red) Cochran, tailback, and Bob Sacrin, hard-running wingback, on the injured list, but hope to have them ready for participation in the Clemson tilt, which will be played on the Deacons' field.

Rain drove the Tigers indoors yesterday but they used the afternoon to review motion pictures of Wake Forest-Clemson games since 1941. Wake Forest won the last four games in the series, which now stand 7 to 3 in favor of Clemson. The University of North Carolina welcomed George Steinweiss, one of its former backfield stars, as a member of the backfield coaching staff yesterday as work proceeded for entertaining Maryland at Chapel Hill in another of this week's conference games. Head Coach Carl Snavely said Johnny Clemens, Crewe, Va., freshman, might be in the starting lineup against the Terrapins.

The wind and rain in the wake of the Florida hurricane failed to halt preparations of other squads for their weekend sets.

Davidson, making ready for N. C. State at Raleigh Saturday night, was admonished by Coach Bill Story that "there are things we've got to know before the state game that nobody will learn in skull practice."

The Duke Blue Devils likewise ignored the weather to get in some hard work for Navy at Baltimore and Furman, though driven inside past an afternoon on timing of plays and studying scout reports of the South Carolina-Alabama game.

Furman plays South Carolina at Furman Friday night. Coach Quinn Decker of the Citadel warned that there would be some new faces in the lineup when the Bulldogs face Newberry at Charleston, S. C. the same night. George Washington continued work for another Friday nighter, which will send the Colonials against Rollins College at Orlando, Fla.

The college of William and Mary expanded its seating capacity to 14,000 for its Saturday game with Virginia Tech. Washington and Lee emphasized defense in getting ready for West Virginia at Charleston, W. Va., and the University of Richmond had an intra-squad scrimmage preparatory to Saturday night's game with Hampden-Sydney.

BEATEN DUKE FACES NEW FOE

Hasn't Topped Navy Since 1930, But Wade Said Hopeful

Baltimore, Oct. 9—(AP)—When Duke comes to town for its gridiron date with Navy Saturday it'll bring along a double incentive for victory over a Middle eleven that isn't what it used to be.

The Dukes have been kicked around twice this season and would like to wipe out humiliations at the hands of Tennessee (12-7) and North Carolina State (13-6). More important, the Blue Devils are eager to repay the Sailors for three wartime drubbings.

Navy Mentor Tom Hamilton has in effect, merely this to say, "They shall not pass."

Of course Columbia passed the Navy line well enough last week (to the tune of winning by 23-14) but Hamilton says his boys nevertheless "showed a lot of football," and he expects them to show more on Saturday.

"We're not discouraged," the captain said.

Coach Wallace Wade and his Durham Devils hope that when they get through with the Tars, they will be, though Duke hasn't defeated Navy since 1930.

At any rate, Navy's chances were boosted somewhat with the report that Lee Bramlett, team captain and wing man, will probably be back in the starting lineup.

Wade is expected to start the same eleven that opened against Tennessee (though Carl Perkinson or Charlie Davis may sub for regular center Fletcher Wall, injured last week.

About 50,000 are expected to witness the spectacle.

Two Grid Games On Tap Thursday

The Greenville High Junior Phantoms play host to the Roanoke Rapids team tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Guy Smith stadium and the Middlets will be out for their third straight win Thursday night at 7:30 with New Bern furnishing the opposition.

The Middlets have won quite a following in their first two home games and another large crowd is expected to be at the stadium tomorrow night. The Middlets stand a very good chance of coping their conference crown if they can keep up the brand of ball they have been showing so far. At present they are leading their league with two wins and no losses, having overcome the strong Kinston and Goldsboro teams. All the teams in the conference are strong though and the local team will have to keep on their toes to keep their slate clean.

The afternoon game is expected to be close and exciting, most of the Junior games are well matched and Roanoke Rapids is generally near the top of the conference in the football standings.

Ayden High Football Team In Big Schedule

The Ayden High School football schedule opened September 20. After meeting Farmville, Mt. Olive, and Wallace, October 11 was scheduled as an open date.

On October 18, they meet Farmville at home; October 25—Williamston at home; November 1—open; November 8—at Wake Forest; November 15—Selma at home; November 22—at Columbia; Thanksgiving, November 28—Wallace at home.

Michigan Aiming To Defeat Army

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 9—(AP)—Head Coach Fritz Crisler's terse comment, "We aren't going in there expecting to lose" summed up the attitude on the University of Michigan campus today as the student body awaited the clash with Army here Saturday.

Crisler has insisted that his eleven—currently rated as the nation's fourth best team in the Associated Press pool of sportswriters—has not "pointed" for the game with Army the country's No. 2 eleven.

However, all observers concede that the director of Michigan's athletic fortunes has done a masterful job in setting up a game that many non-collegiate sports tycoons could well envy.

As University of Michigan athletic director, Crisler this Saturday is set to deliver to a sellout crowd of 85,938 an exhibition typical of his record as a football thrillmaker, win or lose.

Deacons & Clemson Coaches Meet Again

Wake Forest, N. C., Oct. 9—The important Southern Conference game between Wake Forest and Clemson in the Deacons' stronghold will mark the seventh meeting of the teams under their present coaches, D. C. (Peahead) Walker of Wake Forest and Frank Howard of Clemson. Coach Howard's teams won the first two games in 1940 and 1941 but Coach Walker's charges have won the last four scraps.

Durham, N. C., Oct. 9—(AP)—A second set of motion pictures of last Saturday's Tennessee-Duke football game today convinced Coach Wallace Wade that two offensive ends touched Walt Sliester's pass that resulted in the second and game-winning Tennessee touchdown.

less on the average, than any other collegiate club in the nation.

Figures just released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau speak well for the offensive and defensive efforts of the Southern Conference eleven but are so overwhelming as to be almost insulting to its first two foes of the 1946 campaign—Erskine and Wofford.

In these two games, Davidson rolled up a total of 912 yards in 110 ground plays and 282 yards on 28 completed passes for a total of 1,164 yards, or an average of 528 per game.

At the same time, Davidson held these two opponents to a combined net total of three yards, an average of a yard and a half per game. Together, Erskine and Wofford lost a total of 41 yards on the ground against Davidson but managed to complete a couple of passes for 44 yards.

grabbed Higgins' bouncer and threw to first for the out. Doerr moving to second. It was no sacrifice. H. Wagner popped to Schoendienst behind first base. Doerr holding second. Brable resumed warming up in the Cardinal bullpen. Ferriss filed deep to Slaughter.

FIFTH INNING.

Cardinals: Williams loped into left-center to catch Kurovski's fly. Garagiola singled to right. Walker filed to Williams. Marion then grounded to Doerr who threw him out.

Red Sox: Moses swung and missed a low outside pitch for the third strike but Garagiola dropped the ball and had to throw to first for the putout. Dickson threw out Pesky. DiMaggio lined a double to left. With a runner on second the Cardinals used a different shift on Williams, everybody veering toward his left except Kurovski who remained at his regular third base position. Williams then obliged by looking at a third strike.

SIXTH INNING. Dickson lined a long double into the left field corner. DiMaggio came in fast for Schoendienst's very short fly as he made a shoestring catch, then threw to second to double up Dickson who was halfway to

"In several different states," Green declared, "they are attempting to enact legislation denying us the right to freely contract with employers, interfering with the right of contract. Why do they do that to labor? Why don't they do it with people with money?"
