ARREST THREE WITH PICTURE OF ATOM BOMB

FBI Agents Arrest Trio Trying To Sell Picture To Newspaper

Baltimore, Oct. 11—(AP)—Preliminary arraignment of three men charged with publishing photographs of the atomic bomb was delayed until after noon today. The hearing was scheduled before United States Commissioner Ernest Volkart for 11 a. m., but noon passed with no indication when the men would be arraigned. The men were taken into custody by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents in Baltimore when they attempted to sell a photograph of the atomic bomb to the Baltimore News-Post.

A formal FBI announcement said one of the men had suggested the sale of the photographs for $7,000. Arrest of the three, two former servicemen and a reserve army captain scheduled to report for active duty again tomorrow, was announced in Washington by the Justice Department this morning shortly after formal charges against them were filed with the federal commissioner here.

Fred Hallford, agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation here, identified the men as: George Wallace Comer, 23, Bel Air, Md., former private first class in the army air forces, honorably discharged Dec. 26, 1945.

Miles Frederick Daubenhayer, 26, Bel Air, Md., former ensign in the U. S. Navy, separated from service July 28, 1946.

Capt. James Barnes Rike, Chattanooga, Tenn., who entered the army on Oct. 19, 1941, commissioned a captain in August, 1944.

Rike, Hallford said, had been once separated from service and was scheduled to return to duty with the army tomorrow at his own request.

The FBI agent said the three men were arrested by federal agents in Baltimore Oct. 9. (Continued on Page Eight)

LaGuardia Blast Starts New Feud

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—A three-way collision touched off by Fiorello H. LaGuardia, fiery director of General of UNRRA, rolled thunderous overtones today into the congressional investigation of war surplus sales. As the House committee renewed its probe, reverberations still echoed from LaGuardia's double-barreled blasts against Chairman Slaughter (D-Mo.) and John D. Small, head of the Civilian Production Administration.

Literally taking his coat off to accelerate his verbal punches, LaGuardia characterized the CPA as "that ward-healing corporation" and brushed off Slaughter's criticisms as "the quack-quack of a lame duck."

Slaughter, who became a member of the capital's lame-duck colony when he was defeated in his Missouri primary with the personal opposition of President Truman, previously had declared that UNRRA's diversion of railroad rails from China to Yugoslavia was "fraudulent."

Portugal's Regime Opposition To Dictatorial Government Of Salazar Has Been Growing For Years; Carmona, Puppet President; Movement Result Of Uniting Dissenters

Trouble for the Carmona-Salazar government in Portugal has been growing for several years. The regime has seemed to be almost suspended in mid-air, without the majority support of any one, possibly the major factions except, the country's army. And the most powerful section of the army, the officer group which originally installed Carmona as president in 1926, has been reported disaffected for some time. The dictatorship has been caught between Republican forces, which refer to it as fascist, and the monarchists, which the government has sought for years to hold in reserve for a time when it might be forced to fall back upon them. The so-called "Republican" opposition comes from Liberal Democrats, Socialists, Communists, the navy and the army minority, all demanding "liberalism." Monarchist propaganda has been directed less

CALM FOLLOWS SHORT REVOLT

Lisbon Quiet As Salazar Stamps Out Soldier Revolt

Lisbon, Portugal, Oct. 11—(AP)—Portugal was reported calm today after a short-lived bloodless soldier revolt in the north that led the Salazar government to alert troops and cut telephone communications out of Lisbon.

(Travelers arriving by plane in Madrid from Lisbon said more than 900 persons had been arrested in the Portuguese capital yesterday. They added that all now was quiet in the capital.)

A communique last night said a regular army officer, a group of noncommissioned officers and 70 soldiers participating in the uprising had surrendered without a fight. It added: "There is complete calm throughout Portugal."

Lisbon heard reports that a young officer had dashed into a cavalry barracks at Monte Predalva near Oporto, some 175 miles north of the capital, and shouting for soldiers to join "a march to glory to conquer freedom," had led four or five scores of them southward toward this city.

Republican guardsmen (militarized police) stopped the marchers near Coimbra, about 75 miles south of Lisbon. (Continued on Page Eight)

Stilwell Weaker Report Doctors

San Francisco, Oct. 11—(AP)—General Joseph W. Stilwell, 63-year-old hero of the Burma campaign and commander of the 8th Army, was reported "somewhat weaker" today in his fight against illness developing from a liver ailment.

The latest bulletin said the veteran campaigner's condition remains critical, but that he spent a "fair night" at Letterman General Hospital.

"Vinegar Joe" underwent an operation October 3 for a liver condition believed contracted in the Burma jungles and his condition has been critical for the past several days.

His wife, two sons and three daughters are at his bedside, it was reported at the hospital.

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR. against Premier Salazar than for themselves. As a matter of fact Don Duarte Nuno, one of the Braganza princes and pretender to the throne, has been protected by Salazar. The monarchists have believed that, in the event of the aged Carmona's removal by death or other circumstances, Salazar would reinstate the monarchy. Since the present Portuguese government was modeled by Mussolini in Italy, the would be all set for such a move, by which Salazar could hope to rally the anti-Communist forces of the country. The monarchists have been free to spread their propaganda in Portugal, whereas the Socialists and other leftist groups have been forced to operate underground. Salazar has been known as a "benevolent dictator" despite his repression of leftist activities, and

St. Louis, Oct. 11—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox bounced back into the lead with a 6-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals today at Fenway Park.

Red Sox: Gutteridge lined Pollet's first pitch off Mustal's glove into right field for a single. Al Brazle, a southpaw, started warming up in the Cardinal bullpen. Pesky rapped a sharp single between first and second into rightfield, sending Gutteridge to second. DiMaggio bounced to Kurovski who stepped on third to force Gutteridge. DiMaggio reaching first as Pesky moved to second. Williams singled very sharply to right scoring Pesky and sending DiMaggio to third. On Enos Slaughter's throw to the plate Williams headed to second and beat Garagiola's throw that tag as DiMaggio held third. Brazle replaced Pollet. York was purposely passed to lead the bases. Higgins bounded to Kurovski who threw to Garagiola at the plate to force DiMaggio and the bases remained filled. Marion scooped up Cuberson's grounder and tossed to Schoendienst to force Higgins at second.

SECOND INNING. Cardinals: Gutteridge threw out Slaughter. Kurovski sent a bunt pop to York. Garagiola's grass-snapper squirted through Pesky's legs into center field for a two-base error. Walker doubled to left scoring Garagiola with the tying run. Cuberson backed up a few steps and gathered in Marion's long fly.

One run, 1 hit, 1 error, one left.

Red Sox: Partee singled. Kurovski fielded Dobson's sacrifice bunt but threw too late to catch Partee at second and all hands were safe. Gutteridge singled through the middle of the diamond scoring Partee and sending Dobson to second. The run put the Red Sox ahead, 2 to 1. Pesky bunted sharply back to the mound and, Brazle threw to Kurovski at third to force Dobson. Pesky reaching first as Gutteridge stopped at second. DiMaggio grounded into a double play. Marion to Schoendienst to Mustal.

One run, 2 hits, no errors, one left.

PRELATE GETS PRISON TERM

Yugoslav Court Says Archbishop Guilty Of Collaboration

Zagreb, Yugoslavia, Oct. 11—(AP)—Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac, head of the Roman Catholic Church in Yugoslavia, was convicted and sentenced today to 16 years imprisonment at hard labor on charges of collaboration with the axis.

Two co-defendants were sentenced to death; ten others, including the archbishop's secretary and a number of priests, drew prison sentences, and three Franciscan monks for whom the prosecution had asked clemency were acquitted by the three-judge people's court.

The audience, which stood through the long reading of the judgment, cheered as sentence was pronounced upon Stepinac. The 46-year-old archbishop received the announcement without emotion, looking straight at the court.

Stepinac was convicted of all main counts of aiding the axis, the puppet Croatia regime of Dr. Ante Pavelic and the Croatia wartime Ustashi terrorists. He was convicted of approving forced conversion of Orthodox Serbs to Catholicism; of glorifying the Ustashi in the Catholic press; of sponsoring organization of terrorist units, of being seen in public with German and Italian occupational officers, and of having fanned a hope that the government of Premier Marshal Tito soon would fall.

Stepinac, whose arrest was announced by Tito's government Sept. 18 following a long series of Yugoslav press attacks on him and the Catholic Church, had implied that he believed he was not being given a fair trial.

The trial was attended by Bishop Joseph P. Hurley of St. Augustine, Fla., regent of the Apostolic Nunciature in Belgrade.

In Rome, Pope Pius XII decried the trial as "most sad" and denied he had ever approved forced conversions. Vatican sources, charging the arrest had come after all Catholic pastors in Yugoslavia had read

No A-Bombs Stockpiled In Britain, All In U. S.

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—This country's atomic bombs are staying right at home, President Truman made clear today.

He officially exploded reports that the United States has armed Britain with a supply of the powerful weapons.

The Chief Executive's denial was made without qualification at his news conference late yesterday.

Asked specifically whether there are any atomic bombs "over there," Mr. Truman replied in unequivocal positive terms that there are not.

The queries were prompted by published reports built around speculation that since Britain had shared in the development of the atomic weapon, it had been decided to give her a concrete stake in the finished products.

Among diplomats it was hoped the President's assertions would help to eliminate suspicion abroad that Britain and the United States are "playing partners" in a long-range military alliance, and at the same time ease tension over the future use of atomic energy as a weapon

President Expected To Give Decision On Meat

Will Present Administration's Course On Meat Problem "In Two Or Three Days"; May Report To Nation On Radio

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—President Truman reportedly will decide the administration's course on the meat problem "in two or three days"—then possibly explain it to the nation by radio.

This forecast by a high official in close touch with the situation came as Mr. Truman carried to his cabinet again the politically potent question of how to put meat back on the nation's dinner tables.

For the third consecutive Friday meat was tagged a top subject at the regular weekly cabinet session (11 a. m. EST).

This time the President got reports on a conference of key government officials in which he sat personally in order to size up what could or should be done about the lack of steaks and chops.

The four and three-quarter session was held late yesterday at the White House. There Mr. Truman met with Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan, Republican Director John R. Steedman, Attorney General Tom Clark, OPA Administrator Paul Porter, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and other officials.

It was the fourth such meeting in a week, but the first Mr. Truman had attended.

The President listened carefully to all suggestions as to how to get livestock moving to market again but made no contribution.

While White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said no decision was reached, one high government official said he expects there will be one "very soon," although not before tomorrow.

Some Presidential advisers, the official said, have been urging Mr. Truman to go on the radio when the decision is made so the people will know the administration's position.

Meanwhile, the possibility of removing price ceilings on meat as a solution moved to the fore again.

RUSSIAN-TURK TALKS LIKELY

See Possibility Of Bilateral Conference Over Straits

Istanbul, Oct. 10—(Delayed)—(AP)—Turkey, though expected to reject renewed Russian demands for joint defense of the Dardanelles, seemed likely today to consent to Moutreux-Russian talks on the issue as a prelude to a conference with other interested nations.

Informed sources said they looked for Turkey to enter into such bilateral talks provided she was sure of continued U. S. and British support of her refusal to share defense of the Straits with the Soviet Union and provided they were made preliminary to a multi-government conference for revision of the 1936 Montreux convention regarding the Dardanelles.

Thus she would keep open the door which the Russians pushed ajar in their latest Dardanelles note with this conciliatory sentence: "And as regards a conference on the subject of the regime of the Straits, the Soviet government is of the opinion that convocation of this conference must be preceded by as large a discussion as possible of this question by means of direct conversations between the governments."

In her first note on the subject in August, rejected by Turkey, the Soviet Union did not mention any formal conference to deal with the Straits, the strategic link between the Black Sea bordering Russia and the Mediterranean.

Plan Roosevelt Memorial; Attlee And Churchill Express Admiration

London, Oct. 11—(AP)—The House of Commons laid aside law-making today to express its admiration for Franklin D. Roosevelt, whom Winston Churchill ranked above Washington and Lincoln.

Led by Prime Minister Attlee and Opposition Leader Churchill, all political parties joined in approving a bill to erect a Roosevelt memorial in Grosvenor Square, site of the U. S. Embassy and center of American planning for European liberation.

Attlee described the late president as one who "combined the qualities of the fearless idealist with those of the far-seeing and prudent man of affairs."

"His practical appreciation of what was possible never hampered the breadth of vision of what was desirable," the prime minister said.

"He stood emphatically for the common man in all countries. It is fitting that this memorial in London should come from the contributions of the common men and women."

Torchlight meetings sponsored by the American Pilgrims Society in London. Its $100,000 cost is to be raised by $1 subscriptions.

AFL Plans Work In Foreign Fields

Chicago, Oct. 11—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor set out today to woo foreign worker groups on its own after spurning a fresh bid to join forces with the World Federation of Trade Unions.

As a starter, the AFL convention arranged to hear speeches from a 15-man delegation of South American union officials.

Lately the CIO has been actively cooperating with Latin American labor organizations and the AFL wants to build up its prestige south of the border and work for revival of a Pan-American trade union federation.

Fraternal delegates from Great Britain brought an invitation to the convention from the British trade union congress to cooperate, if not join the World Federation of Trade Unions.

But AFL President William Green, mindful that the CIO had helped form the WFTU recently as the successor to the former International Trade Union Congress of which the AFL was a member, flatly rebuffed the idea of working with WFTU.

Normal Air Traffic Over Central Europe

Frankfurt, Oct. 11—(AP)—Normal air traffic over central Europe was restored today as the United States army lifted its temporary suspension of American flights over Romania.

Similar bans on flights over Czechoslovakia and Hungary were rescinded late yesterday.

Officials here declined even to discuss the reason for the suspensions and would not comment on reports from Washington that the flights might have been halted at the request of Russian authorities because of troop movements.

All Rentals On Living Quarters In Pitt And Beaufort Counties Must Roll Back To Level Of July 1, 1945; Controls Become Effective Midnight October 31

Raleigh, Oct. 11—All rents on living quarters in Pitt and Beaufort counties must roll back to the level of July 1, 1945—sixteen months ago—effective November 1, it was announced today.

Theodore S. Johnson, State OPA director, said that the extension of OPA's rent control program to Greenville, Farmville, Washington, Beaufort and all of Pitt and Beaufort counties will "freeze" all rent for living quarters at the level of July 1, 1945—sixteen months ago—on all dwelling units including houses, apartments, hotels, rooming houses, tourist homes, trailer camps, and any room or sleeping quarters rented. It will be illegal for landlords to collect any more rent after November 1 than was collected sixteen months ago.

"Some rents in Pitt and Beaufort counties have skyrocketed within the past year according to official figures reported to OPA by the Bureau of Labor Statistics," Johnson said.

"This official survey agency of the government about two years ago made a survey in the area and this survey showed that other sections did not advance as fast, or as early, as did rents in the other areas already under control. However, after a recent survey it became OPA's job to declare rent control necessary in the area."

In the interest of economical operation the Greenville area rent control program will be directed by the same executive head as the Goldsboro area rent office. It will be headed by Mr. John Morris, of Goldsboro.

Rent controls in Pitt and Beaufort counties will be directed by an office in Greenville, at the Greenville Price Control Board. The rent area will be known as the Greenville Defense Rental Area. The 1946 population of the area was 97,675 and the area had 6,250 rental units at that time. Recent surveys show that the population and rental units have increased since 1940.

Mr. Morris will keep headquarters in Goldsboro. The Greenville office will have a rent representative, one inspector, and a rent clerk. Additional persons as needed from time to time will be sent here from other rent control areas.

Johnson said that plans for the registration of every living quarters rented or offered for rent will be announced about November 15.

As of midnight, October 31, rents are frozen in Pitt and Beaufort counties at the level of July 1, 1945—sixteen months ago. It will be illegal for anyone to pay more rent or to collect more rent than the rent paid on the freeze date sixteen months ago. Rents must be "rolled back" at once," Johnson said.

Rail Brotherhood In Debate Over Merger

Miami Beach, Fla., Oct. 11—(AP)—A Toledo delegate, T. C. Griffith, introduced a resolution today for affiliation of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen with the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

The matter was argued on the floor at the trainmen's convention with a majority of speakers favoring the abandonment of the brotherhood's independent status and its 218,000 members becoming CIO affiliates.

It was referred to the joint relations committee, which was instructed to study the proposition and report to the convention in about a week.

hear this. But there's no way in which they can. And, going beyond his own newspaper and the job it was trying to do in Providence, he thought of these things:

Why couldn't all newspapermen—editorial writers, managing editors, city editors and general reporters—put out better papers if they could sit around, exchange ideas, listen to experts, question experts?

Back of his thinking was this: The whole problem of putting out a newspaper which can inform its readers intelligently becomes more complicated yearly as the problems of nations and people grow.

Over a period of time Brown talked with many newspaper publishers about his idea. This year 38 of them, agreeing with him, put up more than $100,000 and created the American Press Institute.

Head Of N. C. Federation Of Women's Clubs Speaks Here

Mrs. Karl Bishop of Spray, president of the N. C. Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke on Thursday night to a large group of Senior and Junior Women's Club members. Choosing for her subject "The Power of Individual Responsibility," Mrs. Bishop soon won the admiration of her listeners with her clear thinking, her sincere and able manner of presentation and her fund of information. "World government," she said, "will never come to pass unless each person assumes his own responsibility for making it succeed. It is so necessary that something be done quickly to make world government a reality that women should bestir themselves to see that everybody is better informed on world affairs." Head Of N. C. Federation Of Women's Clubs Speaks Here

Mrs. Karl Bishop of Spray, president of the N. C. Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke on Thursday night to a large group of Senior and Junior Women's Club members. Choosing for her subject "The Power of Individual Responsibility," Mrs. Bishop soon won the admiration of her listeners with her clear thinking, her sincere and able manner of presentation and her fund of information. Wives of Faculty Form Club
A club with the wives of faculty members of East Carolina Teachers College as members was recently organized in Greenville, and several meetings of the group have been held. Activities will be largely social and, according to present plans, will include a number of events for 1946-1947. Included in the group are 35 women. Meetings will be held once a month.

At an organization meeting held on October 3 at the home of Mrs. F. D. Duncan, officers for the year were elected. Mrs. Charles W. Reynolds was chosen president, Miss Wendell W. Smiley vice president, and Mrs. E. C. Hollis secretary and treasurer. Six committees of the Group met on Thursday, October 10, to discuss plans for a program for the year.

GOOD ADVICE ABOUT FIRES

Chief Gardner Talks About Prevention; Warns Of Panic

By CHESTER WALSH
In a talk about "Fire Prevention Week" over the radio the other night Fire Chief George Gardner gave good suggestions as to what to do in case of fire. It follows:

"In all public buildings and other places where large crowds are assembled there is always the possibility of a panic from more causes than fire alone. The way to prevent panic and fear is to plan in advance what you would do in case such should occur, so that you might not only save your own life but the lives of many others because you planned in advance for the unexpected. In less than ten seconds all of you can be changed from educated civilized people to a herd of stampeding wild animals as has happened many, many times."

"When entering buildings make a mental picture of the structure of the building, note the exits most especially the two nearest you and by doing this if one is blocked, you may use the other. Let this thought impress you to the extent that you can carry on in the dark as well as in the light. Never use the main entrance in an emergency as most everyone who did not plan in advance for the unexpected will be using that as means of quick exit. Also take your time and above all, do not become frightened nor excited. By being calm and collected in your thoughts, a crowd will respect your leadership and follow you to your exit. Before going to bed at home and hotels have a flashlight handy."

"This same rule applies to theatres, hotels, boats, the home and all walks of life. Remember, plan for the unexpected in advance and keep calm."

In addition the fire chief reminded owners of theaters, restaurants, schools, churches, hotels and rooming houses to frequently see that all exits are in working order. State Fire Marshal Sherwood Brockwell of Raleigh is giving similar advice.

Incidentally, while at a firemen's convention here some time ago Brockwell told the meeting that Greenville's fire chief was one of the best in the state and that there is no more efficiently manned or better equipped fire department in any city of similar size than the Greenville fire department.

Mayor Boyd Praises Women's Activities

Mayor Jack Boyd, in appreciation of the fine work being done by the business and professional women today issued the following proclamation:

"Whereas, beginning with 1928, National Business Women's Week has been saluted by the Presidents of the United States of America the Governors of the States, the Mayors of Cities and the Officials of Counties and Towns; and
"Whereas, the week beginning October 13, 1946, has been designated as Business Women's Week in North Carolina; and
"Whereas, the Business and Professional Women of this nation and State have contributed so unceasingly and effectually to the social and economic and political life of the Nation; and
"Whereas, it is most urgent that the people of the United States develop a new sense of community responsibility for providing jobs for all who wish to be gainfully employed and at a living wage, it is most important that all peoples and all groups of this State, County and City give their best thought and make their best contributions toward community planning for new job opportunities based on careful appraisal of economic resources and market opportunities;

"Now, therefore, I, J. H. Boyd Jr., Mayor of the City of Greenville North Carolina, do hereby designate the week of October 13th to 19th Business Women's Week in Greenville. During this week I call upon all women of Greenville to take an active interest in helping to find or create job openings in their communities for veterans and all citizens desiring gainful employment, to initiate, augment and/or coordinate needed community programs for more adequately meeting the local housing, health, recreation and public education problems of the community; utilizing or integrating therein the State and National aids and facilities, thereby causing the leaders of the community to grow in power and skills which will enable them to do their part toward bringing jobs, justice and peace into the communities of the world."

WEIGHTY PROBLEM
Denver, Oct. 10—(AP)—A decision by Maurice Levy, 640 pounds of professional wrestler, to fly from Denver to Grand Junction, Colo., poised an engineering problem for Western Airlines.

Airline employees here said they had to communicate with their engineers in Burbank, Calif., before putting Levy on the reservation list.
"They told us to seat him in the front of the plane, to remove a chair arm so he could sit on two seats, and to get him an extra wide safety belt," a harassed ticket agent reported.

Seattle, Oct. 10—(AP)—Was Kilroy an army bugler?
Harry Grimlund, Lake City grade school principal, reported that someone entered the school, "made off with a trumpet and case and left this sign of the fabulous army character on the blackboard: "Kilroy's been here."

Girl Scouts Are Doing Good Work

By CHESTER WALSH
Greenville Girl Scout troops are resuming their fall activities and are outlining interesting programs. Mrs. E. L. Henderson, acting executive secretary, said today. Miss Frase, from the Pitt County Pre-Conditioning Center for the Blind, is assuming leadership of Girl Scout Troop 8. This group will definitely function as a service group this year. At a meeting in Girl Scout headquarters at the City Hall Tuesday evening Miss Frase outlined the year's objectives and the means by which these objectives may be achieved.

A number of the Girl Scout troops need leaders. Mrs. W. P. Moore, Commissioner of Greenville Girl Scouts, extends an invitation to young women to volunteer to become troop leaders and help in the good work of scouting.
Troop camping of Girl Scouts is one of the highlights of the year. Mrs. R. B. Lee's troop spent last Friday night and Saturday at well-equipped Camp Hardee, on a high bluff overlooking Pamlico River, below Chocowinity. Weather permitting, various troops will go to camp during weekends during the fall.

Nurses' Aides Have Good Record Here

The Red Cross Nurses' Aides held an interesting monthly meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Jack Foley, Sr. Mrs. John Warner, the chairman, presided. Ten nurses aides were present.

Nurses' aides here gave 325 hours of service at Pitt General Hospital during September. Their good work has elicited praise from physicians and surgeons, hospital officials and patients. The Nurses' Aides was organized during the early part of the war for special service while so many nurses were in the armed forces by Mrs. Walter Lippman, wife of the internationally famous newspaper writer.

Library News

For new fall styles in color and excellent reading in a charming atmosphere visit the Sheppard Memorial Library. A new coat of paint makes a lovely building almost new. So it is with new books that do not depend on the copyright date to make them new; so it is with people. How new the following gallery appears, regardless of copyright date, and how much richer and more interesting the world is because of their lives.

The Sheppard Memorial Library offers a variety in the field of biography, as suggested by the following:

"More Was Lost," by Eleanor Stone Perenyi, gives the personal experience of Eleanor Stone, an American girl who married a Hungarian baron and lived in Czech-occupied Ruthenia. The young wife's difficulties in a strange land with a strange language under signs of impending catastrophe in Europe give this true story great fascination.

"Diary of a Williamsburg Hostess," by Helen Campbell makes one realize how necessary it is to have dignity with a sense of humor if one is to conduct, properly, Americans who do have a great reverence for the past.

"The Road to Wimbledon," by Alice Marble, is far more than the story of a tennis champion; it's a thrilling challenge to any young girl who knows what she wants and is determined to succeed.

"Hong Kong Holiday," by Emily Hahn, and Lily Dache's "Talking Through My Hat" are two biographies they are talking about and shrugging their shoulders with an "ultra-modern" verdict.

"No Time for Tears," by Lora

Hughes, is a great book that received a "Life-in-America" award. Lora Hughes is a sturdy nurse of the great northwest who was an angel of mercy, not only in those vast spaces of our country but even over to Honolulu, after the infamous Pearl Harbor day.

"Oscar Wilde: His Life and Wit," by Pearson, brings this eminent playwright up to modern times and makes one appreciate the clever Irish poet as never before.

"Mahatma and the World," by Shridharani; "Doctors East, Doctors West: An American Physician's Life in China," by Hume; "The Good Fight," by Quezon; "Comie Mack, Grand Old Man of Baseball," by Lieb; and "Son of the Wilderness," by Wolfe, which is a life of John Muir that won the Pulitzer award in Biography, are just a few of the "new" biographies.

"Lives of great men all remind us We can make our lives sublime And departing, leave behind us Footprints on the sands of time."

Societies Begin Year's Work

Several societies and departmental clubs at East Carolina Teachers College began their year's work with programs and social meetings held recently.

With an attendance of approximately 200 members, the Home Economics Club, meeting in the New Classroom Building, welcomed new members, presented a quiz program, and entertained at a social hour on Tuesday evening, October 3. Mabel Lacy, faculty advisor, and Audrey May of Greenville, president, gave a report on a conference of the National Home Economics Club, which they attended in Atlanta on October 4-5. Members presented Miss Lacy with a gold club pin in appreciation of her services as advisor during 1945-46.

Aldine Early of Aulander, president, and Annette Pridden of Warsaw, program director, presided over a meeting of the English Club held in the Austin Building on Tuesday, October 3. A series of contests and a reading by Dr. Lucile Charles of the faculty provided entertainment. Douglas Jones of Farmville and Ola Forrest of Greenville, students of physics, gave a series of demonstrations before the Science Club at the first meeting of the year on Tuesday evening, October 3. J. O. Derrick, faculty member, was elected advisor of the club.

The Robert H. Wright Chapter of the Future Teachers of America met on Tuesday, October 11. Louise Forrest of Ayden, president, welcomed new members. The program included a talk by Emma L. Hooper, faculty advisor, in which she told of the life and ideals of Dr. Robert H. Wright, first president of the college. Mrs. Helen Rouse Hunter of Warsaw and Mrs. Lala Vaughan Phelps of Murfreesboro made brief comments on the work of the chapter. Egbert T. Rouse of Grifton was elected club reporter.

NON-STOP FLIGHT

Camden, N. J., Oct. 11—(AP)—State Police Detective Harry Armano stood on the porch of the recorder's office and told a prisoner he was taking to jail "there's no need for you to get wet. Run out to my car as fast as you can."
The prisoner did. However he didn't bother to stop when he came to the car and today police of nine nearby states were on the lookout for him.

Strength FOR THE DAY

WHAT ABOUT NON-RESISTANCE?

Some people interpret Christianity entirely from the standpoint of non-resistance. The great novelist Tolstoy was one of these. He, and people who hold his point of view, point to our Lord's sayings about turning the other cheek, going the second mile, loving one's enemies etc., and arrive at the conclusion that a Christian must take whatever the ungodly care to inflict upon him, and take it without protest or resistance.

In contrast with this, however, is the picture of Jesus himself scourging the money-changers out of the temple. Most significant of all is the fact that in the Sermon on the Mount—from which the advocates of non-resistance derive most of their arguments—one also finds our Lord's instructions concerning dogs and swine. "Give not that which is holy unto the dogs," said our Lord, "neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you" (Matt. 7:7).

In other words, our Lord believed that there are people in the world who have no more intention of being just and merciful than do dogs and swine. We must be fully aware of their nature and treat them accordingly. Our Lord warns us not to make the mistake of entrusting things holy to such people or of putting at their mercy anything we prize.

RENT CONTROL

The decision to enforce Rent Controls in the Greenville Area will be met with cheers by the majority, and moans of anguish by the few who have been capitalizing on the housing shortage to charge exorbitant rents.

The State OPA Director, in announcing the roll-back included in his statement: "It will be illegal for anyone to pay more rent or to collect more rent than the rent paid on the freeze date sixteen months ago." In short, the person who pays over-ceiling rentals is just as guilty as the landlord who charges them.

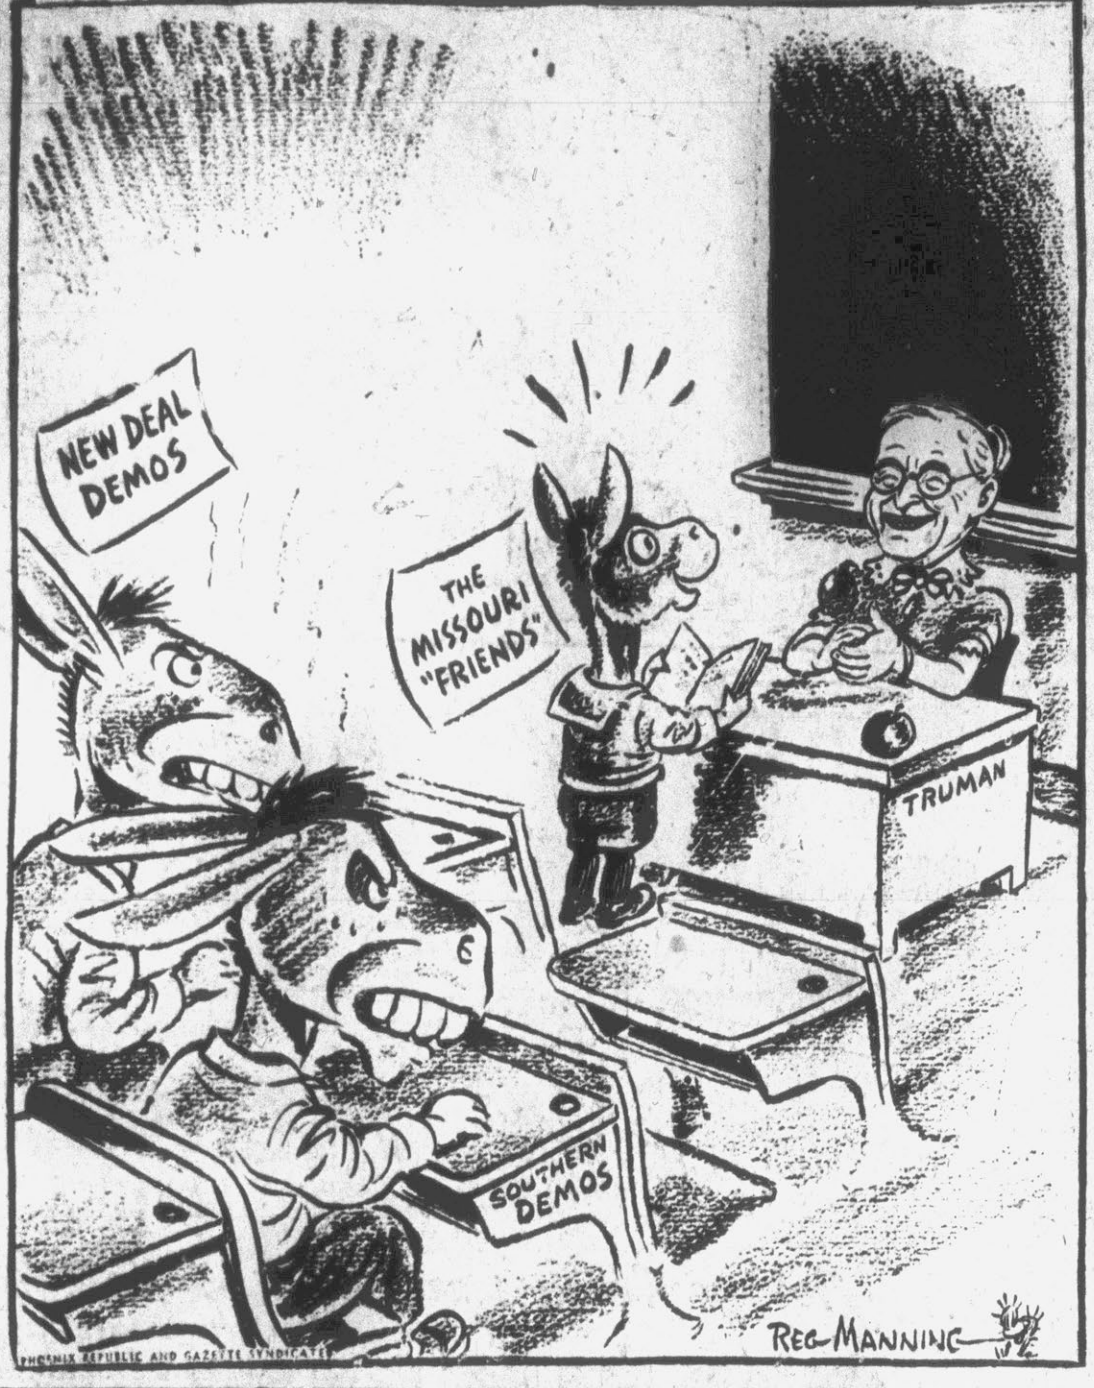

The following excerpt from a letter to the Public Forum by a college student helps explain the need for rent controls:

One lady in Greenville is trying to place four boys in one room which isn't too bad since the housing situation is bad, but she is charging each person in the room $5 per week which amounts to more than $20 per month for each boy and nets the lady better than $80 per month for her one room which is more than the whole house is worth. Then there is another lady who is placing three boys in one room, two of the boys having to sleep together on a three quarter width bed, and the charge to these boys is only $5.50 each per week which runs up over $22 per month for each lad and a neat plus of $66 per month to the lady for the room. These aren't all the instances, but they are a good example of how much some people appreciated the boys going through combat for them and how quickly people forget. The veterans thank those who are trying to help them live off their small allowance. There are those who will pay these high rental fees from necessity, but the people whom they live with certainly will not receive any praise.

EXTRA MEN AT A PARTY
By JANE RADS
Washington—There'll be plenty

Yah-Teachers Pet

"Extra men," promised Mrs. Robert Sherrod, wife of Time Magazine's chief correspondent for the Far East, as she invited me to a cocktail party.

Sure enough, there were "extra men," as they are called in this town where women outnumber the handsome sex about 10 to one constitute an achievement in housing.

The extra men included such public idols as Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, Marine Corps Commandant and a sprightly conversationalist, and the bulky former OPA chief Leon Henderson, who has a special charm all his own.

The general sat on my left on a sofa sipping a drink. He was telling Mrs. Sherrod she ought to take wristwatch bands to China. By jolly, one man brought a suitcase full of the things out there and made a fortune.

"Cut it out, General," said Leon who was sitting on my right. "I was in China a year ago breaking up the inflation."

The Sherrods live on the outskirts of the capital. Unless you have a car of your own, transportation is a problem. I called for a taxi. It arrived just about the same moment Bob Sherrod produced a free ride for me. A tall, dark handsome man who had a car of his own with a chauffeur waiting out in front paid off the cab driver and escorted me to his shiny steed.

As we rolled down Massachusetts Avenue, I learned he was Edwin A. Locke, Jr., formerly right-hand assistant to Donald Nelson, now a special consultant on China to President Truman.

He asked the chauffeur to drop him off and then continue on to my address. I looked at the back of the chauffeur's smartly capped head. "Army," I thought, when suddenly I let out a yelp.

"Is this a White House car?" I asked.

"Yes, Miss."

wrong with the—should I say balloons?)

Miss Schindler's statement—"I think I enjoyed last year's work more than any year I have taught."

That proved that music is Miss Schindler's life. Each "best year" will be the same. In appreciation of Miss Schindler's artistry I hope she will enjoy many dozens of "best years" in the future to repeat that statement.

Music is harmony. The "off-beat," "jazz" or "jitterbug" editions are more or less like a Communist element against the beauty of the American way of life.

When nations, states, counties, cities, towns, communities and neighbors realize this, then we can compose one glorious symphony. That will be number one on the parade every week for centuries to come. Its title: EVERLASTING PEACE.

It was the job of these two men to get the institute started. One of the first things they bought was a huge oval table around which as many as 30 newspapermen can sit and talk.

Managing editors and editors of 25 papers—some of their papers were not among the contributors of the $160,000—were chosen to come to the institute for three weeks.

The newspapers which sent these men here—far more asked than were chosen—are paying the insurance $100 a week for each of them. That covers their room on the campus, board, university fees, and other expenses.

Their salaries while they are here, of course, are paid by their papers.

Every day from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. they sit around the table. Experts from various fields, including newspapering, come and talk to the editors and then are open to questions.

The experts are some of these: newsmen who are labor experts, labor leaders, George Gallup, the public opinion specialist, men who have ideas about making newspapers more readable.

The editors not only get the expert and pick up ideas from them, but comes into each other, sometimes bluntly, because some of the editors are critical about the way some other editors' papers are run.

After three weeks this group goes home. In batches of 25, they'll be followed by city editors, picture editors, and general news reporters. Each group will have sessions with Portugal . . .

American observers have credited him with doing Portugal more good than any leader of modern times.

The army called him from a military professorship to join the Carnation regime in 1926, and it was the army which supported his assumption of dictatorial powers in 1933.

But where Mussolini's corporate state was founded upon the military, Portugal's has always been civilian. Salazar's concept of the state as the central national force rather than the people themselves does not extend to the personification of the state in the leader which has characterized other dictatorships. His idea is maximum effectiveness with the minimum of political maneuvers and trappings.

into the spotlight at his news conference yesterday by declining to comment on a question whether he still favors keeping ceilings on meat.

Two weeks ago the Chief Executive said unequivocally that he was opposed to scrapping controls.

Whether ceilings should be removed has been given serious consideration at the White House conferences, although some of the conferees reportedly have insisted that the price lid should stay on.

The way is open for immediate decontrol should the decision go that way. The beef packing industry yesterday filed its formal petition for elimination of ceilings, and Anderson's approval is all that would be required.

Women IN THE CHURCH

WOMEN IN THE CHURCH M. Miss Clara A. Engle, R. N., of Inlay City, Mich., who served for two years as an American army nurse in England and in France, has been appointed a missionary of the Congregational Christian Churches, and has been assigned to nursing duties at Gaziantep, Turkey. A graduate of the nurses' school at Butterworth hospital, Grand Rapids, Mich., Miss Engle served in surgical clinics in Boston, Cleveland, Chicago, and New Orleans, and in the Mayo Brothers Clinic before entering the military service. She is one of the first of a large number of former service nurses being sought by the various churches for work in hospitals overseas and in the United States.

Now it can be told — CIMADE (Comite Inter-Mouvements Aupres des Evancues), now recognized as an effective "arm of the Protestant Church in France" in its work of relief and evangelism, especially among young people and displaced persons, was organized as a "Christian underground" by Mlle. Madeleine Barot when things were blackest in occupied France. Under her inspiration and personal leadership this "underground" was formed from French youth of the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Student Christian Federation, and similar bodies of young people. Their earliest secret activities were primarily on behalf of unfortunates in the concentration camps, and other evacuees and refugees. They established end operated "railways" and "exits" for thousands of people over the borders; they hid children and adults sought by the Gestapo and secret police; they assisted escaped prisoners of war and Allied airmen who had been shot down; and in many other ways they helped the Allied cause and probably saved many thousands of lives. The name of Mlle. Barot seems destined to take its place along with that of Joan of Arc and other French re-voles.

The noted Jesse Lee Home for Children, in Seward, Alaska, closed for four years because of government need of property in its vicinity for the prosecution of the war, has now been replenished with new equipment and furnishings. The Home is conducted by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, and the superintendent is the Rev. George W. Greene; he is assisted by six missionaries from the United States. The capacity of the home is 110 children.

Highlights on the agenda will include consideration of the Association's stand on federal health legislation and promotion of the American Dental Association's national-wide program for extending dental care for children.

Red Cross Warns Danger Of Fires

Washington, D. C.—Because more than half the disasters in which the Red Cross gave assistance during the past year resulted from fires which could have been prevented the American Red Cross is urging nationwide participation in observance of National Fire Prevention Week, October 6-12.

More than 10,000 persons are burned to death and property losses from fires in the United States each year amount to nearly $900,000,000, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters and the National Fire Protection Association.

In campaigning against such tremendous fire losses through workers in 3,755 chapters throughout the nation, the American Red Cross points out that the majority of preventable fires occur in homes and apartment buildings. Most of these can be traced to careless use of cigarettes and matches, defective flues and overheated chimneys, faulty electrical equipment, and general negligence concerning inflammable fluids and materials brought into the home.

KIDNEYS GETTING YOU UP NIGHTS?

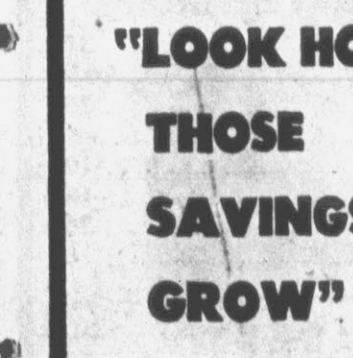

If you get up nights—have frequent desire to pass your water—but have scanty passages—yes, and have backache due to excess acidity in the urine, be glad you're reading this.

Three generations ago Dr. Kilmer, a famous doctor, found hundreds of patients with this trouble. Painstakingly he made a medicine of his herbs, roots, vegetables, balsams—Nature's own way of relief. He called it "Swamp-Root" and millions of grateful men and women have taken it—often with amazing results.

Swamp-Root goes right to work to flush out the kidneys, increases the flow of urine, helping to relieve excess acidity, and the irritated bladder gets a good flushing out, too. Many report getting a good night's sleep after the first few doses. Caution: Take as directed.

For free trial supply, send to Dept. S Kilmer & Co., Inc., Box 1255, Stamford Conn. Or—get full-sized bottle of Swamp Root today at your drugstore.

Winterville Teachers Organize

The teachers of Winterville High School have made an active start toward a very successful school year. They met Wednesday afternoon for the second time to make definite plans for professional study meetings. The purpose of these meetings is to study school policies and problems and to determine the most effective methods of dealing with them.

Miss Sarah Ann Brown, chairman of the group, opened the meeting very pleasantly by serving everyone with Coca-Cola and salted peanuts. It was decided that the group should meet every two weeks for the first few months and then, as often as necessary. Several teachers offered excellent suggestions as to things in the school needing attention. Plans were made to begin research immediately on the topic of "Discipline." Each teacher is to make a detailed study of her special group and to bring to the next meeting any questions that she might have or any observations that she might have made. Other topics to be studied and discussed at future meetings are: "How To Improve Toilet Facilities," "Art in the Classroom," and "Promotion Policies and Practices." When it is thought necessary, other subjects will be added.

Miss Reba Proctor, county supervisor, attended the meeting. She helped with the planning and suggested reference materials related to the specific topics.

These teachers are showing much interest in child welfare by improving themselves professionally. It may be added that Winterville has no unqualified teachers. Every teacher in the school holds an "A" Certificate.—Vera Hamilton.

The Fireside Club

The Fireside Club of the Christian Church met Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Smith. The beauty of the home was enhanced by the lovely arrangements of giant size dahlias. After the co-president, Mrs. Spruill Spain, opened the meeting, stating the purpose of the club, Mrs. Plato Evans gave a few devotional thoughts. Mrs. J. K. Proctor expressively sang, "The Old Refrain." Dr. H. G. Haney introduced Dr. W. E. Marshall, professor of political science at E. C. T. C., who spoke on the American Home, emphasizing the American Christian home. This home is based on love, honesty, faith and sincerity. Dr. Marshall holds an optimistic view of the youth of today. The cornerstone of America's greatness lies in the characteristics of the good home: faith in God, loyalty to truth and obedience to God. As a fitting conclusion Dr. Marshall read Edgar A. Guest's poem "Myself."

At the social hour, Mrs. R. E. Corbett led a flower contest. Mrs. David Evans, foremost in floral culture, received the first prize. The hosts and hostesses served a delicious ice course with cakes and nuts. Those assisting Mr. and Mrs. Smith as hosts were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. C., who spoke on the American Home, emphasizing the American Christian home. This home is based on love, honesty, faith and sincerity. Dr. Marshall holds an optimistic view of the youth of today. Guest's poem "Myself."

Winterville Teachers Organize

The teachers of Winterville High School have made an active start toward a very successful school year. They met Wednesday afternoon for the second time to make definite plans for professional study meetings. The purpose of these meetings is to study school policies and problems and to determine the most effective methods of dealing with them.

Miss Sarah Ann Brown, chairman of the group, opened the meeting very pleasantly by serving everyone with Coca-Cola and salted peanuts. It was decided that the group should meet every two weeks for the first few months and then, as often as necessary. Several teachers offered excellent suggestions as to things in the school needing attention. Plans were made to begin research immediately on the topic of "Discipline." Each teacher is to make a detailed study of her special group and to bring to the next meeting any questions that she might have or any observations that she might have made. Other topics to be studied and discussed at future meetings are: "How To Improve Toilet Facilities," "Art in the Classroom," and "Promotion Policies and Practices." When it is thought necessary, other subjects will be added.

Miss Reba Proctor, county supervisor, attended the meeting. She helped with the planning and suggested reference materials related to the specific topics.

These teachers are showing much interest in child welfare by improving themselves professionally. It may be added that Winterville has no unqualified teachers. Every teacher in the school holds an "A" Certificate.—Vera Hamilton.

Dr. Sherrod Visits College

Dr. E. C. Sherrod, president of East Tennessee State Teachers College in Johnson City, was a visitor on the campus of East Carolina Teachers College on Thursday, October 10.

While in Greenville, Dr. Sherrod, who is planning a new science building for the Tennessee school, inspected the new Classroom building on the campus and consulted with Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, president of East Carolina Teachers College, and other administrative officers. With Dr. Sherrod was Mr. Beeson of Johnson City, architect for the proposed building.

Memorial Church, Rev. Robt. W. Bradshaw, several official members of the church, and Mamie Chandler, director of the Wesley Foundation, and Lorraine Davis, president of the Wesley Foundation, were presented to the group.

The Fireside Club

The Fireside Club of the Christian Church met Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Smith. The beauty of the home was enhanced by the lovely arrangements of giant size dahlias. After the co-president, Mrs. Spruill Spain, opened the meeting, stating the purpose of the club, Mrs. Plato Evans gave a few devotional thoughts. Mrs. J. K. Proctor expressively sang, "The Old Refrain." Dr. H. G. Haney introduced Dr. W. E. Marshall, professor of political science at E. C. T. Sparkling Midget Grid Team Defeats New Bern

The Greenville Midget team romped over the New Bern Mites to the tune of 26 to 0. Sideris and Farley, with their accurate passing and running were too much for the visitors.

Greenville scored late in the first quarter when Sideris threw a pass to Vainwright from the 10-yard line. The extra point was made as Sideris crashed through the middle. The second touchdown of the quarter came after a series of passes, starting on the New Bern 30-yard line, was climaxed when Sideris went over from the one-yard line. The try for the extra point was blocked. The third tally came on another pass in the third quarter, when John Sideris again passed to Larry Flye who caught the ball standing alone in the end zone. The play started from the 12-yard line. Again the try for the extra point was unsuccessful.

The final score of the game was on another pass. Eddie Farley then found Julian Vainwright open to his left and threw a perfect strike. Vainwright made a nice catch on the 10-yard line and ambled over untouched for the score. New Bern threatened in the fourth quarter, after getting to the locals' five-yard line they were halted and as the game ended the Greensies were on the march again.

The Greenville line played well last night with Moore, Bobby Bradshaw and Tommy Evans playing a hard defensive game. The New Bern team was held to three first-downs during the game. Many of the younger Midgets saw some action in the game that was marred only by the wet mist that dampened the spirit of the spectators.

"The Wake Forest-Clemson games have almost always been close and exciting and I'd be only too happy to win this one by one point," said Walker, whose team is undefeated thus far in non-conference games with Boston College and Georgetown.

The Clemson squad of 35 will travel this afternoon to Wake Forest after a week's careful attention to Deacon plays.

Duke was reported in good shape for its clash with Navy at Baltimore tomorrow, with the exception of end Ed Austin and center Frank Sinkovitz, who have been side-tracked with injuries.

Conference pacing N. C. State held a closed session in preparation for Davidson at Raleigh tomorrow night, while Davidson tried out four flankmen to replace ends Hal Mapes and Buddy Cheek. Mapes was declared scholastically ineligible to make the trip and Cheek has an injured knee.

Harold "Bo" Hagan of Savannah South Carolina's freshman find, was groomed for a possible boost in his statistical achievements against Furman tonight. Hagan has a punting average of 42 yards, has completed nine of 14 passes for an average of 17 yards, and against Alabama achieved a total gain of 147 yards.

The Citadel plays Newberry at Charleston and George Washington goes to Orlando, Fla. to meet Rollins College in other games tonight.

The topflight conference game in Virginia tomorrow will send Virginia Tech against William and Mary. Virginia military will face a favored University of Virginia eleven at Charlottesville and Washington and Lee will also be the underdog against West Virginia at Charleston, W. Va.

Horse Meat On Training Table

New York, Oct. 10—(AP)—Iowa State gridgers are going to be served horsemeat, but most other college football squads generally have not reached that stage—yet.

Tex Oliver, coach at the University of Oregon, gave a typical reaction to the news that the first shipment of horsemeat—a 180-pound hind quarter—had arrived in Ames, Ia., for the Iowa State training table.

"We believe in red meat even if it's horse or goat meat," Oliver declared. "But we haven't had to eat that yet."

The meat shortage has reduced the Indiana gridgers of the Western Conference to eating chicken, but early replies to an Associated Press survey indicated that while meat is increasingly difficult to obtain so far most schools have been able to get it.

Some—like Ohio State and Nebraska—have their own supply and early replies to an Associated Press survey indicated that while meat is increasingly difficult to obtain so far most schools have been able to get it.

Football Players Try Oxygen To Pep 'Em Up

Football players at Georgetown University in Washington try out a new oxygen-dispensing go-cart aimed at pepping up weary players. The boys used it in their game with Wake Forest College Friday night. It didn't help. Wake Forest defeated Georgetown 19-6. (AP Wirephoto).

Newsprint Cost Raised By OPA

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—OPA today raised manufacturers' ceiling prices for newsprint $10 a ton but refused a decontrol request by newspaper publishers. The agency said the decontrol request was still under study, but the price increase was granted "to assure that United States publishers will continue to receive maximum possible shipments of newsprint." The increase, effective today, applies to all newsprint sold for use in the United States, both domestic and imported. OPA said the new ceiling for standard newsprint delivered to 38 "port" cities will be $84 a ton. Ceilings for deliveries in 10 zones are specified in line with trade practices.

Zooming Prices Said Must Fall

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, said today that prices for some things have climbed beyond the reach of too many people, and cannot be maintained. He specifically named real estate, construction and "most farm products" as areas in which prices "are out of line with what people can or are willing to pay, even at present high levels of income." Eccles cautioned against another round of wage increases declaring that "where profits permit, prices should be lowered rather than wages increased." And, as chief shaper of the Federal Reserve's controls over credit, he set himself firmly against relaxation of requirements for full payment in cash for securities, heavy down payment and quick payoff on installment purchases of consumer goods. His views were set out in a 3,000-word memorandum on the economic outlook" amplifying statements he made last Monday in a speech at an Agriculture Department conference. "The war and postwar situations and the inflation which already has occurred have created distortions and maladjustments" that "sooner or later, will have to be corrected," Eccles said.

Today a Communist spokesman awaiting confirmation of the loss, said future action was uncertain.
