AMG EXPECTS MORE BOMBINGS IN STUTTGART

Official Calls Bombing Protest Against Denazification Program

Stuttgart, Germany, Oct. 21—(AP)—A ranking American Army official said today he expected more bombings like the weekend blasts in the Stuttgart area, as "protests against the denazification program."

"The American Military Government expects a widespread outbreak against the denazification program," the official, who may not be named, said in Berlin.

U. S. military and German criminal police workers counter intelligence agents in efforts to prevent the bombing of two "front" board headquarters and a U. S. military jail which some investigators thought to be connected to the approaching German trial of Hjalmar Schacht, truculent old banker who was acquitted at Nuernberg. No one was hurt.

Schacht, under arrest in a German prison, some distance from the one which was bombed, shouted to a reporter from his cell that the bombings were "obviously a democratic protest against the Hitlerite measures of the Germans who want to try me again."

The city of Stuttgart offered a $2,500 reward for information. American authorities disclosed that an American motor pool was destroyed in an explosion in the Mannheim area early this month and that a week before the Stuttgart bombings, an American Army officer's car was demolished south of here by an infernal machine. The investigators thought both incidents "possibly may have some connection."

Schacht, who was Hitler's finance minister and Reichsbank president early in the Nazi regime, said he learned of the bombings early today. "It could not be a plot to kill me—who would want to kill me?" the talk-heavy Jeweled German said fiercely. "I am no Nazi. They are protesting against the illegal measures of these Germans who today are trying to imitate Hitler."

"I am being detained illegally. These Germans are stupid fools. Criminals, rogues, Hitlerites. Who ever heard of a man being tried twice on the same charges? This is not democracy, this is Hitlerism."

Execution Pictures Will Be Made Public

Berlin, Oct. 21—(AP)—Some of the official pictures of the Nuernberg executions will be made public, the allied control council decided today.

The council assigned to its secretariat the task of selection, and the secretariat scheduled a meeting (at 4 a. m. EST) to review the pictures.

So far as known at Nuernberg, the official photographer made pictures only of the corpses, both clothed and unclothed.

CIO-UAW Plans New Demand On Industry

Cleveland, Oct. 21—(AP)—The CIO-United Auto Workers today planned a new wage drive, but exact demands were left for settlement over the bargaining tables.

Concluding a three-day conference yesterday, UAW's executive board limited itself to announcing it would seek "substantial wage adjustments."

UAW President Walter Reuther said that although the board originally planned to name a specific figure to be presented to Chrysler Corp. this week, it has decided that in view of spiraling cost-of-living figures this would be "unsound."

Pravda's Indignation

Moscow's Attack On American Influence In Turkey's Refusal To Play One-Sided Ball Game With Russia. Emphasizes Prediction In Column Last Saturday

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

That's pretty strong mustard which the Moscow Pravda (official Communist party publication) handed us with our breakfast this morning—I mean the accusation that American and Turkish diplomats have been participating in "extraordinarily crooked secret talks" on the future of the Dardanelles.

Still, this pungent Russian condemnation tends to emphasize the truth of the prediction in our column last Saturday that the Big Three are approaching a show-down over the serious differences between the Soviet Union and the Western Allies. Control of the Dardanelles is one of the issues which will help clear up the mystery of how much further Moscow aims to expand its sphere of dominance.

The Pravda article of course had reference to the fact that Turkey has rejected the Russian demand for a share in the defense of the

Byrnes Works On New Problems In Diplomacy

Support Brings New Confidence In Policy; President To Stress Points Made By Byrnes In Speech To United Nations

Washington, Oct. 21—(AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes reportedly confident that his "patient but firm" attitude toward Russia has wider support than ever, tackled pressing new problems today ranging from the Pacific to Turkey.

Aides said Byrnes was particularly pleased with the weekend radio speech of Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) emphasizing the "bipartisan" nature of American foreign policy and with President Truman's commendation of his own address setting forth specific points of that policy.

While the White House was silent on the field Mr. Truman will cover when he speaks at the opening session of the United Nations General Assembly in New York on Wednesday, officials in a position to know said the Chief Executive, like Vandenberg, will stress a number of the points made by Byrnes.

In particular, these officials said they expect Mr. Truman to deplore the fear and suspicion which have hampered inter-allied attempts to create a "climate" for peace in Europe, and the talk of the inevitability of another war.

"The President, they said, will emphasize the necessity of achieving

Accident Prevention

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 21—(AP)—Governor Cherry today asked North Carolinians to observe October 20-26 as Child Accident Prevention Week.

He said that all 26 of the Travelers Protective Association posts throughout the state will hold observance programs, including announcements in schools, churches, on the radio, safety evening pictures in theaters, essay contests, parades and demonstrations and public speaking exercises.

Statewide attention should be given the week because of the "deplorable number of traffic fatalities in North Carolina," the governor said.

U. S. PROTESTS NEW SHOOTING

Rap Slaying Of American Citizen In Russian Sector

Berlin, Oct. 21—(AP)—The American Military Government protested sharply to Russian authorities today over the fatal shooting of Harry D. Flory, Jr., of Pawnee City, Neb., by a Soviet military policeman in the Soviet sector of Berlin.

The office of Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy American military governor, disclosed the protest, saying that it was concerned "not so much with the shooting as with the fact that an American party was molested at all in this city where there is free traverse between the occupation sectors."

Flory, 28, was a civilian executive in the AMG. He was killed Sunday when he failed to follow orders to proceed to Russian headquarters where a Russian major and a military policeman had baited him and his companions on a picture-taking jeep ride, two American women and a German chauffeur.

Reports to agents of the American Army's criminal investigation division said the Russians halted the Americans because they had been taking photographs in the neighborhood of Unter Den Linden.

Later U. S. Army headquarters were said to have an unofficial report from the Russians that the Russians stopped the Americans while "looking for hoodlums in an American jeep who invaded a polling place" during Berlin's Sunday elections.

An official report of the incident from Russian headquarters was expected tomorrow.

CID agents said the two women—Miss Carolyn E. Wyster of Cleveland, and Miss Perra Johnson of 316 North Magnolia Street—Sumter.

Following Last Week's Price-Break Major Cotton Exchanges Re-Open

New Orleans, Oct. 21—(AP)—Trading in future contracts suspended Saturday because of the sharp drop in prices last week, was to be resumed today on the country's leading cotton exchanges.

President D. T. Manget, Jr. of the New Orleans exchange, announced last night that one operator or whose selling accounted for most of the break liquidated his holdings over the weekend. The operator was identified only as "a single large long interest."

The exchange president said in a formal statement that the "rapid liquidation" of the long interest "greatly augmented" trading in futures and that the boards of directors of the New Orleans and New York exchanges decided to close the market Saturday so that "the means of facilitating the liquidation of the remainder of this position could be studied."

"Over the weekend the liquidation of this interest has been completed," Manget's statement said.

The closing of the exchanges followed a heavy selling wave which hit the market at mid-week and continued through Friday. Prices broke $25 or more a bale during the three days although the government's crop forecast of less than 9,000,000 bales was one of the shortest crop estimates in a quarter of a century.

Reports from New York identified the operator as a New Orleans man but cotton circles here would not comment on his identity.

STEEL CITY'S STRIKE ENDS

Pittsburgh's Industrial Life Returning To Normalcy

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21—(AP)—Industrial life in the Pittsburgh metropolitan area swung back towards normal today upon the end of a 27-day power strike—longest and most costly in the nation's history.

Hundreds of industrial plants resumed work at full speed to make up for lost production. Street car transportation was normal again and bus line operations almost normal.

For the first time in nearly four weeks, the Duquesne light company announced that the 1,500,000 persons in the affected area could use all the electricity they wished. The current was voluntarily rationed during the strike.

With its 3,200 unionized employees back at work, the company started making repairs that were let slide during the strike.

The Sun-Telegraph estimated the strike cost the steel capital "at least $300,000,000" in business and wages.

Conciliation sessions to end a 21-day-old hotel strike, also costing the city considerable business revenue today. The eight largest hotels here have been virtually closed, resulting in cancellation of a number of conventions.

The power strike ended when the light company employees voted to submit their demands for a 20 per cent wage increase and other issues to arbitration.

The vote, taken at a secret membership meeting, was 1,197 to 797 in favor of arbitrating the dispute which led to the strike, throwing thousands of men out of work in other businesses and displacing the daily lives of many inhabitants. The union has a total membership of 3,300.

President George L. Mueller of the Independent power union expressed the belief the favorable vote resulted from what he described as a change in the power industry's attitude toward the workers.

Company President Norman M. Ceit said supervisory personnel would be used to maintain service, and that outside workers would not be brought in.

Members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers union (AFI) local had printed picket line strike cards in readiness for the call-out, although they reported for work today.

The company's 35,000 electricity consumers in 10 counties and 11,000 gas customers in the metropolitan Columbia area sought last-minute substitutes for gas and electricity.

PILOTS STAGE STRIKE OVER WAGE DISPUTE

First Of Its Kind In Commercial Aviation; TWA Planes Grounded

Washington, Oct. 21—(AP)—A strike by pilots—first of its kind in commercial aviation—halted all trans-continental trans-worldwide lines planes in the U. S. and across the Atlantic.

The surprise walkout grew out of a months-long dispute over higher wages for the company's 1,400 pilots and co-pilots. Estimates of current earnings varied. Strike leaders calculated pay at $7,600 to $10,000 yearly where the airlines negotiating committee said it ranged up to $12,500 annually under a

Shortly after the strike began the company canceled more than 100 scheduled flights for a 24-hour period and announced "accelerated" pay will be extended each day unless the strike ends.

The company estimated that 3,000 passengers would be stranded on ground planes were stranded or shunted to trains and other airlines. Approximately 25 tons of mail likewise was shifted to other transportation.

Among those grounded—at least temporarily—was the Indian delegation to the United Nations assembly. Two reported it was made

UN DELEGATES ARRIVE TODAY

Go Into Huddle On Policies For General Assembly

New York, Oct. 21—(AP)—The Russian and American delegations to the United Nations General Assembly, which convenes Wednesday in Flushing Meadow park, were expected to reach full strength today with the arrival of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Senator Tom Connally (D-Tex) from the Paris peace parleys.

With them aboard the British liner Queen Elizabeth on her maiden peacetime voyage was Paul-Henri Spaak, Belgium foreign minister and president of the General Assembly, and several others in the mounting list of topflight diplomats gathering in New York.

These included Philip J. Noel-Baker, who will head the British delegation until the arrival of Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin; Sir Hartley Shawcross, British attorney-general; Jan Masaryk, Czech foreign minister; Dr. Qao Tai-Chi, Chinese delegate to the security council; Joseph Bech, Luxembourg's foreign minister, and Dmitri Manuilsky, foreign minister of the Soviet Ukraine.

The completion of the American and Russian delegations signalled the intensification of huddles to determine policies to be carried out in the assembly.

Up to the moment of today's meeting at least, Communists had not changed their public stand—a demand that both sides revert to their January territorial holdings in China. And the Government still was insisting that any new truce should freeze positions as they now are. The Communists have lost several key areas since January's short-lived truce.

A new Communist offensive thrust has cut the Peiping-Tientsin road 57 miles southwest of Peiping, however, the Government acknowledged yesterday, and battles or skirmishes were scattered along 160 miles of

Senate Agriculture Committee blamed the sharp decline on a plan by the exchanges, brokers and their clients and was the result of a "bear raid."

This was denied by both the New Orleans and New York exchanges which offered to open their books and records for any official investigation.

Meanwhile, in Greenville, Miss., a House of Representative subcommittee on cotton issued a statement saying that "other than activities of gamblers, we have been unable to justify the drastic break which took place in the cotton market last week."

"The statement of the committee which is composed of Representatives Stephen Pace of Georgia, chairman, W. R. Foote of Texas, Tom Abernathy of Mississippi and George Grant of Alabama, urged farmers to hold their cotton off the market to correct the recent price break.

"We have the shortest supply in 20 years," the committee statement said, "we doubt that the crop this year will exceed 8,500,000 bales. We have the greatest demand for cotton goods in all history.

"This huge demand for cotton goods has been based upon the raw cotton prices that were prevailing before the market break.

"Therefore, the break in cotton prices was not caused by any of the fundamental supply and demand factors which really determine prices, but as a purely temporary combination of circumstances which developed in the future market."

Communist Backing Boomerangs In Vote

Berlin Voters Rebuff Russian - Sponsored Socialist Unity Party In Election For City And Borough Councils

Berlin, Oct. 21—(AP)—Virtually complete returns today showed that the citizens of Berlin sharply rebuffed the Russian-sponsored Socialist Unity (Communist) party in elections for city and borough councils.

The Social Democrats party won 48.7 per cent of the tabulated votes and the Christian Democrats took second place with approximately 22 per cent.

The Socialist Unity party, which was formed in the Russian zone by merging the Communist and Social Democrats parties, ran third with about 19.8 per cent.

The balloting was in all four of Berlin's occupation zones for parties, and not for individual candidates. City and borough councils will be selected on a proportional basis. The new council will replace the city government established last year by the Russians when the Red Army was the only military force present.

Fourth in the voting was the Liberal-Democrat party with 9.5 per cent of the vote.

The Social Democrats stand for socialization of industries. The second ranking Christian Democrats are staunch advocates of private property rights. The Socialist Unity party also espoused socialization of industries, advocating wide expropriation of properties belonging to persons they call "war criminals, big Nazis and capitalists," a means opposed by the Social Democrats.

The Social Democratic party (SPD) scored a smashing victory, capturing almost half the total vote. The Christian Democratic Union (CDU) was second well ahead of the Socialist Unity party.

With only 199 out of 2,281 precincts yet to be heard from, the vote was: Social Democrats, 918,743; Christian Democratic Union, 431,000.

UN General Assembly

First Meeting In This Country Starts Wednesday; Nothing Sensational Expected; Will Hear Reports Of Committees Created In London Last January

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 21—(AP)—The General Assembly of the United Nations opens its first meeting in this country Wednesday in New York. Nothing sensational is expected.

The meeting—to be held on the world's fair grounds in New York City—will last about six weeks. This is the assembly's second meeting. The first was last January in London.

That London meeting was more or less a routine affair.

At the New York meeting the assembly will hear the reports—and maybe take action on the reports—of some committees created in London.

From now on the general assembly meetings—like those of U. N.'s security council—will be held in this country.

Action Will Reduce OPA's Control To Very Small Share Of Average Family's Food; Officials Say Auto Ceilings Likely To Stay At Present Levels

Washington, Oct. 21—(AP)—Both OPA and Agriculture Department officials indicated today that price controls will drop from flour, bread and other baked goods this week, possibly today or tomorrow.

An OPA spokesman said there has been some discussion of decontrolling bread, rolls and other baked goods while temporarily retaining ceilings on flour and other millers' products.

"OPA has opposed this as inconsistent," the agency spokesman said. "We informed the agriculture department that if controls are to be lifted on bread and baked goods, they should also be lifted at the miller level upon flour."

This official pointed out that controls had been removed from all fats and oils, including shortening, which are a big share of bakers' costs.

Today was the deadline for action by the Agriculture Department on a decontrol petition from the bake goods industry.

Agriculture previously had denied a decontrol request by Millers but the industry renewed its petition and a public hearing was conducted last week.

Freeing of flour, bread and other goods from price ceilings would reduce controls to a small share of the average family's food.

On the automobile front, where four industry-wide increases in the last year have boosted ceilings roughly 22 per cent above the 1942 prices, the OPA official told a reporter:

"Most of the major manufacturers agree with us that automobile prices have gone about as high as under ceilings as they should."

The official declined to comment specifically, however, on a pending General Motors request for an additional price boost similar to that granted the Ford Motor Co. some weeks ago under terms of a hardship provision of the new OPA act.

Officials have stressed that automobiles, along with building materials and other similarly scarce items are to be exempt from the administration's November 1 goal of getting rid of most price controls. And some have interpreted President Truman's most decontrol address as meaning that wage controls are to be junked only as price restraints are taken off specific industries. Hence it was not clear here what the government's official reaction would be to the action of the CIO-UUW-United Auto Workers union yesterday in calling for substantial wage adjustments from all motor makers whose contracts have reopening clauses.

Officials said, however, that rather than remove ceilings by that route, which would require a finding

Rumor Attempt On Life Of Pope

Rome, Oct. 21—(AP)—An informant at Italian police headquarters said today that "vague reports" were received there some days ago of an impending attempt on the life of Pope Pius XII.

The informant said these reports—which an intensive investigation had failed so far to substantiate—said the plot had been fomented by Yugoslav elements in exile at the Vatican's action in excommunicating Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac, head of the Catholic Church in Yugoslavia, who was convicted and sentenced to 16 years imprisonment.

A list of some 20 names of the alleged plotters was furnished to the Italian police, the informant said, but so far police have not found any of the persons named—or even determined whether they really exist.

Italian police issued last night a flat denial of rumors, which spread here and abroad yesterday, that an attempt had been made to assassinate Pope Pius XII.

Miss Sarah Gaster, who has given eighteen years of service to the blind in England, has been assigned by the National Institute for the Blind (England) to take charge of the far-famed Christoffel Blind Home and School in Isfahan, Iran. The founder of the institution, the Rev. Ernest Y. Christoffel, is now in the American zone of occupation in Germany and unlikely to return to Iran, according to the International Missionary Council. The Council, the Church Missionary Society (England), and the people of Isfahan and vicinity are contributing to the support of the Home and School.

Miss Dorothy P. Cushing of the American Board of Foreign Missions, Boston, Mass., reports that four racial backgrounds are represented among the teachers of the Congregational Christian Church serving in Turkey. At a recent meeting of the Congregational mission at Istanbul, these four led the devotions: Yoshio Fukuyama, a Japanese American from California; Angelina Duchs, a Greek American from Vermont; Mae Kelliszek, a Polish American from Massachusetts; and Robert King, an American Negro from Ohio. Says Miss Cushing: "When someone asked Bob King and Yoshio Fukuyama how they had been received by the Turkish people, Bob replied, 'I have to look in the mirror here to realize that I am a Negro,' and Fukuyama said that he had been treated uniformly as a person and not as a representative of a special race."

In spite of the current news of China in turmoil, there is rising a new China with great ambitions and high aspirations," says Miss Lucy Wang, president of Hwa Nan College, Poochow, China, now on a visit to the United States. "We are not blind to the fact that the government is facing great difficulties; but, at the same time, five revolutions are going on at once in Chinese life. They are the intellectual, the social, the political, the religious and the economic revolutions. Our youth are the real hope of China. We have made blunders, but they are daring, courageous and willing to sacrifice for China. They are the challenge to the Christian church in China today. Can they be given a right foundation for life? The welfare of the world depends on the answer."

Halloween Dance Planned By VFW

On Thursday night, October 31, the Charles Gray Morgan Post No. 7032 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold a Halloween dance at the armory from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Roy Cole and his 14-piece orchestra from the University of North Carolina. UNC has sent several top orchestras into the musical world to carve their names upon the scroll of fame, and from many reports from those who have heard Roy Cole's orchestra, "his name, in the near future, will rank with Kay Kyser, Johnny Scott Trotter and Hal Kemp, and others as UNC fame."

Roy is said to have a sensational vocalists with his band, and music lovers are enthusiastic over George Demas rendering of "Prisoner of Love," "Night and Day," "Temptation" and "The Gypsy."

Two Injured When Truck Left Road

By CHESTER WALSH
Two persons were seriously injured Saturday night about 9:30 o'clock when Henry Selvy, 35-year-old driver for the Cannon Transfer Company of Ayden, lost control of the truck which landed in a ditch near a culvert on the highway between Winterville and Ayden about 8:30 o'clock Saturday night. The truck was badly damaged.

State Highway Patrol Cpl. C. L. Teague, who investigated the accident with Patrolman Dick Chadwick, said no one at this time knows exactly what caused the wreck. The truck crossed to the left side of the highway and landed in the deep fill.

Selvy, the driver, suffered a fractured skull and other injuries, and today was still unconscious at Pitt General Hospital. He is not expected to live. The Daniels, 21-year-old Negro passenger, suffered severe cuts about the head and fractured facial bones. Many of his front teeth were found on the seat of the truck. Daniels is at Dr. Joseph Smith's Hospital, Third and Washington streets.

State patrolmen said several motor vehicle accidents occurred during the weekend in which there was considerable property damage but no person was injured.

Warning

State Highway Patrol Cpl. C. L. Teague today warned motorists attending the Pitt County Fair on the Falkland Highway this week to abide by the traffic signs in the area and not to park on the shoulders of the highway. The parking law will be strictly enforced.

Highway patrolmen said parking space in the vicinity of the Fair Grounds is limited as a result of new buildings along the road. The patrolmen urge the public, as far as possible, to patronize the Greenville city buses and taxicabs. The fair started today and will continue through the week-end and day.

Thad Eare Will Be Speaker For Elks

John W. Glover, exalted ruler of the local lodge, will preside. Important matters are to come up for consideration. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock.

A free barbecued chicken supper will be served members of the local lodge and visiting Elks at 7 o'clock. All members are invited to attend.

Hubbard And Wife Win Safety Award

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nobles, both employees of the Fossil-Coke Bottling Company, won the "Safety Drivers of the Week" certificates of award presented during the regular Sunday night broadcast over radio station WGTC last night. The "Safety Drivers of the Week" campaign is sponsored by the Greenville Police Department. A select committee, observing traffic during the week, selects the man and woman driver of the week who drive carefully. Police Jim Tanner is master of ceremonies on the program, which is presented Sunday nights at 8 p.

Severe Penalty For Driving Car Drunk

In Police Court today, John Holden, colored, charged with driving while drunk and recklessly, gave notice of appeal to Superior Court when Judge Jimmy Roberts found him giddy and temporarily suspended judgment in the case. It was testified that Holden drove his car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and that he collided with a car driven by Peter Grice, colored, of Grimesland, damaging the vehicle to the extent of $200.

His Honor, in temporarily suspending judgment, intended to give the man a chance to settle for the damages. When Holden said he would appeal, the court ordered Court Clerk Russell Rogerson to make this entry: "Fifty dollars fine and costs, lose driver's license for a year, and pay the owner of the damaged car $200." The state law penalty about driving a vehicle while drunk is mandatory and a driver's license is automatically revoked.

Kenneth Royall Says "No Definite Plans"

Washington, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Although he does "intend to return to North Carolina and practice law some day," Under Secretary of War Kenneth G. Royall says he has not made any definite plans. The North Carolinian made this statement here yesterday following publication of an editorial in the official army and navy bulletin Saturday that Royall had told friends he probably would resign soon and return to his home state.

THE LEAST YOU CAN DO

The early Greek physicians believed that it was not possible for a man to enjoy perfect health unless he carefully organized his life so accomplish this single objective. This meant the meticulous ordering of each day. Proper nutrition, exercise, and rest were perfectly balanced. Physical constitution, age, and even the seasons of the year were considered. For a man of affairs, such a regimen is out of the question. When your work is done, you play and exercise when you can. But this little you can do. See your family physician at least once a year. Follow his advice. In case medication is required, we are prepared to serve you promptly and economically.

Pirates Trim Erskine, 21-7 In Fast Contest

Teachers Loose Three Scoring Drives For Win; Line Holds Visitors; Fearing, Phillips And Everett Bring Home Bacon

By JIM LOCHRIDGE

The East Carolina Teachers College Pirates defeated Erskine College here Saturday night 21 to 7. It was their second victory of the '46 season against one loss and one tie.

The Teachers kicked off to Erskine and held them in their own territory until they were forced to punt on the fourth down. Fearing took the punt on the ECTC 30, and ran back 9 yards. From this point, the Pirates went on a 61-yard touchdown drive which terminated in a 6-pointer 11 plays later. Fearing paced the march with two brilliant 17-yard dashes and the scoring plunge, aided by a couple of line bucks by Phillips which brought two needed first downs. Wheelless converted from placement for the extra point.

Just before the end of the first quarter ECTC forced the South Carolinians to punt again. It took only four plays this time from the ECTC 39 to pay dirt. Fearing went round left end for 11 yards, Everett picked up 26 more on a quarterback sneak; Phillips went right through right tackle to the 15-yard line, and Fearing scored standing up on the fourth play. Bob Miller's kick from placement split the rights to place the Pirates ahead 14-0 in the first quarter.

Midway the second quarter, Joe Blackston, Erskine halfback, intercepted an ECTC pass which set the South Carolinians' touchdown bound. Penalties totaling 25 yards against ECTC and a pass from Blackston to Whaley good for 25 yards set the pigskin up on the 4-yard line and Childress scored on a line buck. Whaley converted from placement for the extra point.

It took 12 plays in the early minutes of the third quarter to give the Teachers another tally. Fearing, Phillips and Everett took turns carrying the ball to pay dirt over the Erskine team with Everett making the score on a quarterback sneak from the 4-yard line. Wheelless kicked for the conversion which put ECTC out front 21 to 7.

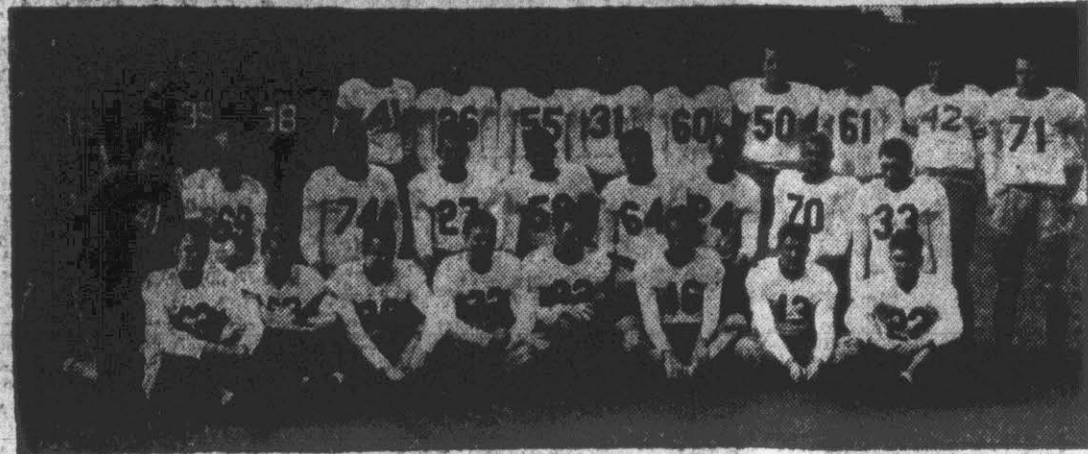

In the line, Amos Sexton, Wyatt and Winesette were good reasons for the visitors to take to the air in their attempts to reach the goal. Time and again they stopped the opposition ground rushes for lost yardage. The longest run of the night was made by Ed Grady, sub for Phillips, which was good for 40 yards.

Blackston, Whaley and Anderson paced the visitors' backfield while McGill, Carnes and Randolph looked good in the line.

The starting lineups:
ECTC—Datarak LE, R. B. Lee LT, Sexton LG, Pendleton C, Wheelless RB, Wyatt RT, Brown RE, Everett QB, Fearing LH, Phillips RH, and Pittman FB.

Erskine—Padgett LE, McLeod LT, Freeman LG, McGill C, Carnes RG, Murphy RT, Randolph RE, Cotton QB, Whaley LH, Blackston RH, and Snipes FB.

Busy Saturday Coming Up For N. C. Big Five

Although there will be action aplenty this coming football weekend, followers of the state's big five teams will have to get most of their on foreign fields.

Duke and Wake Forest figure in two of Saturday's standout struggles, the Blue Devils' engaging mighty Army in New York City and the Deacons taking on unbeaten Tennessee on the Vols' home battlefield.

In addition, N.C. State, the firecracker of the Southern Conference with a 4-0 record, will go after No. 5 at V. P. L., the team that held North Carolina 14-all in the Tar Heel opener.

North Carolina, with three impressive victories following that disappointing tie, tackles Florida in a homecoming test at Chapel Hill and Davidson, beaten 26-0 by V. M. I., plays host to Hampden-Sydney.

Other Saturday games pair Western Carolina Teachers and Lenoir-Rhyne at Hickory; Catawba and Elon at Winston-Salem at night; High Point at Newberry at night; Cherry Point Marines at Duke "B"; Tennessee Wesleyan at Brevard and Guilford and Milligan at Greensboro at night.

A Friday game shows East Carolina Teachers at Newport News Naval Apprentice Station.

In North Carolina the Tar Heel State and North Carolina the Tar Heel State has two of the 12 remaining major undefeated teams in the country, college football season, a cockeyed State dropped its mark with a 14-6 Saturday victory at Wake For-impossible, reaches the halfway mark this week with only a handful of major teams still clutching untarnished records.

Many previously unbeaten outfits were engaged today in pulling themselves from the wreckage strewn across every section of the land in-est, overcoming a first period touchdown by Rock Brinkley, Wake fullback, with second and fourth period tallies, the latter in the closing minutes of the game following a pass interception deep in Deacon territory.

Numerous fumbles and pass interceptions by an alert State defense sent the previously unbeaten Deacons down to defeat.

Duke, which has been looking better each week since its opening game loss to State, came through 41-0, against Richmond, unbeaten in four previous starts.

North Carolina duplicated Duke's feat of the previous week by scuttling Navy at Baltimore, 21-14, with a last period comeback. Sub fullback Walt Pupa smashed over for both tallies in the fourth quarter of the bruising battle.

Other Saturday games saw unbeaten, unscored on Guilford walloped Wofford, 36-0; Catawba walloped Appalachian, 28-6; Milligan trip Western Carolina Teachers, 6-0; East Carolina Teachers trim Erskine, 21-7, and Greensboro A. and T. blank North Carolina College 17-0.

Sports

New York, Oct. 21—(AP)—The college football season, a cockeyed campaign in which surprises are a dime a dozen and nothing seems the past weekend's wave of upsets, where the form already has been scrambled beyond recognition. Illinois, 27-21 victor over Wisconsin will be at Michigan, which tied Northwestern, 14-14, and Minnesota, which swamped Wyoming 46-0, will go to Ohio State, led 14-14 by Purdue.

Army, Notre Dame and Texas—still the nation's top trio—all have their work cut out for them next Saturday when they face tough opponents ready, willing and able to blemish their all-victorious records.

The Cadets, who blasted Columbia into New York's Polo Grounds for their annual battle with Duke. The Blue Devils warmed up for this one with a 41-0 whitewashing of Richmond.

Notre Dame, idle last week, invades Iowa, which pulled one of Saturday's many surprises by blanking Indiana 13-0. Texas, which dumped previously unbeaten Arkansas 20-0, visits Rice, an improved team that dropped Southern Methodist 21-7 for its third triumph since losing a 7-6 opener to Louisiana State.

Pennsylvania's Quakers, who kept their record clean by smearing Virginia 40-0, entertain Navy, downed 21-14 by North Carolina for their third loss.

Cornell, tied 6-6 by Yale, visits Princeton, 14-7 winner over Rutgers, and Columbia goes to Dartmouth, upset 20-13 by Brown. Elsewhere in the east, it will be Coast Guard at Yale, Holy Cross at Harvard, Syracuse at West Virginia and Boston University at Brown.

Midwestern fans will be treated to two conference games in the big

Rudolph Hess Stages Comeback At Prison

Nuernberg, Oct. 21—(AP)—Col. B. C. Andrus, U. S. commandant of Nuernberg prison, said today that Rudolph Hess, no longer in the shadow of the gallows, has staged a remarkable recovery from the loss of memory of which he complained during his trial.
Hitler's former deputy Fuehrer, now serving a life term for war crimes, "is in a good humor and has a keen, alert memory" said Andrus. Hess is listed as "convict 125."

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning
That The "Red-Blood" Is Getting Low
If you do not feel like your usual self, do not have the urge to go on and on, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palm of both hands, your fingers, your lips, the lobes of your ears—see the color and color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells stream thru your body from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, low energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities by analysis of the blood have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special iron and copper salts which are naturally potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice which is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater strength and strength should make you feel better, sleep better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Dig Another Grave

By DON CAMERON

(AP Newsfeature)

Chapter 16
Morrisey was not hot and bothered; he was brisk and determined and his words were friendlier than his voice.

"How are things, Marty? I heard about you going down for questioning. I see you came through without getting hurt."

"They didn't have anything to go on except a suspicion that I wasn't cooperating. But you aren't here to talk about my life and love, you're on the trail of that letter you gave me."

"Did the cops get it?"

Martin shook his head. "Cloud has a picture of it, made at the Record office, though. He wants to get his hands on the original. It's too bad about that mistake."

"It was the girl," Morrisey said. "I told Cloud she'd made a mistake. I remember what you said."

"Where's that letter, Marty?"

"I had to put it where I can't lay hands on it in a hurry. If everything goes right I'll try to get it for you later."

"Tell me where it is and I'll send someone after it."

"No."

Morrisey leaned forward abruptly. "How much do you want? I've already dropped plenty in this deal, but I'll go for another thousand. Take it or leave it."

"Just for that," Martin said, "I may never give it back to you. What I dislike most about Ennis is that he thinks he can bribe me. I haven't got anything against having money, but I am particular how I get it."

"I want the letter, Maty. Get that straight, because I'm not fooling."

Martin was nearing the point of exasperation.

"We're not getting anywhere," he said. "I've outlined the situation as plainly as I know how. You'll have to make the best of it."

"Be good to yourself, Marty. You know how much trouble I can make if someone crosses me. You wouldn't want any more problems than you've already got."

"You're not being smart," Morrisey stood up, buttoning his coat;

neither his face nor his eyes betrayed the slightest emotion. "Most people think twice before turning on me."

Martin glowered at the door after it had closed behind Morrisey. He had made a dangerous enemy, but far from being upset about it, he was glad. He had more than a slight suspicion that Morrisey had murdered Searle; and now that an open break between them had been brought about by the gambler himself, he would enjoy trying to prove it.

Ten minutes after Morrisey had gone the phone rang; again. Interrupted in pleasant speculations charting the successive steps by which his late caller might be maneuvered toward the electric chair, Martin answered with a curt "Yes?"

A liquid burbling sound in the receiver startled him; it ended in an explosive sob and then a hoarse voice struggled through and said thickly, "Lee. Oh, Lee, you've just got to help me."

"What's wrong?" Martin asked, involuntarily mimicking Dexter's manner of speaking. For the voice belonged to Clarabelle Messmer; its husky plaint called up her likeness as vividly as if she had been in the room, blowsy and muddled and quite drunk.

"I'm so frightened, Lee. An awful policeman was here most of the afternoon trying to make me say things I didn't want to. I'm sure he thinks I killed Richard. I can't sleep or anything, I'm so worried."

"There's nothing to worry about," "That's what you always say. But ever since that horrid reporter was here terrible things have been happening. Now I'll never get any of that money. And you'll have to get that letter from him so I can burn it up before he uses it to make more trouble so the police won't suspect him."

Martin took compassion on her. He said, "You're talking to King now."

"Yes, that's his name, Lee. Wilton King or something like that. He lives in that apartment where poor Richard passed away and I hope he goes to prison because he was always trying to make trouble for Richard."

"This is King," Martin repeated loudly. "I'm not in prison yet. I'm in Lee's room, and he isn't here."

"You're—King?"

"Martin King," said Martin patiently. "Remember the nice chat we had the other day? It's too bad things didn't work out the way we thought they would."

"Why are you in Lee's room if he isn't there?"

"I'm staying with him for a few days. We're old friends. Should I have him call you later?"

Clarabelle sniffled. "Mr. King, I wish you'd return that letter I wrote for you. You can't have any use for it now."

"You needn't worry. It won't be used in any way."

"But I will worry. After someone is dead—and so tragically, too—you don't want things left around to show you bore them animosity when they were alive. It's like speaking ill of the dead, don't you think?"

"I haven't the letter with me now, but I'll see if I can get it for you." It occurred to him that this garrulous creature might after all tell him more than anyone else about the conference that preceded Searle's exit from life. At least hers would be a different slant, and it was possible that the clue he wanted—or the pointer to the clue—lay there, unrecognized until now. "Supposing I call on you in the morning?"

"That will be all right. Not too early, though."

"Ten o'clock?"

"Then or a few minutes later. I'll be expecting you, Mr. King. If you see Lee before midnight, tell him I do wish he'd telephone me."

Martin wrote a note for Dexter, left it at the desk in the lobby and took the subway to the Village.

"freedom from fear." And he may, they add, make some pointed, if indirect, references to what the American government regards as Russian "war of nerves" tactics toward countries supporting American and British objectives on peace-making issues.

Byrnes hammered these tactics hard in his Friday speech. With Russia obviously in mind, he said: "States must not unilaterally by threats, by pressures or by force disturb the established rights of other nations."

Meanwhile, diplomatic problems piled up on Byrnes.

Officials say that one he would like to settle before he goes to New York with the President Wednesday is that involving the American policy of U. N. trusteeships.

There are still some wide differences on this subject between State Department officials on one side and War and Navy officials on the other. The State Department generally favors putting as many of the former Japanese and Japanese-mandated Pacific islands as possible under some type of U. N. trusteeship.

The services generally want to keep all islands which might conceivably be essential to American security under exclusive American control.

The Secretary also may have to figure out new American moves in the so-called "slave labor" issue with Yugoslavia and the ticklish problem of administration of the Dardanelles.

Yugoslav officials have issued vigorous denials of American charges that 15 United States citizens of German descent have been detained in concentration camps and forced to work as slave labor.

Berlin Vote . . .

Before the election, Lt. Col. Louis Glaser, political affairs chief of the United States Military Government's Berlin branch, said the issue clearly lay between Eastern and Western political philosophies.

"Germany must ultimately make a decision in this respect," he said. "The Berlin vote, establishing such a decision, will have great influence upon the ultimate destiny of Germany and therefore upon the political destiny of Europe."

Though pre-election predictions generally had favored the Social Democrats, strong in pre-Nazi Berlin, the defeat the SED suffered surprised many.

This party, formed in the Russian zone by a fusion of Communists and Social Democrats, waged a stronger campaign than other parties because it had more paper and other material advantages.

The Yenan (Communist) radio said that 100,000 volunteers had joined Red forces in the last two weeks and that guerrilla tactics were crippling the Government's military machine far to the south, particularly in Kiangsu Province just north of Shanghai and Nanking.

Shooting . . .

Pilots Strike . . .

inefforts to get them aboard other planes from Shannon, Eire, to New York.

TWA, the nation's fourth largest aircraft carrier, was the only airline hit by the strike which David L. Benckel, head of the AFL airline pilots association, described as a last recourse in the prolonged wage dispute.

Picket lines appeared at the company's shops and administration building in Kansas City but there was no similar action in other cities.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, governing agency for aviation, met in Washington, but a CAB official told reporters he knew of no action in prospect.

The strike got under way at the expiration of a week-end ultimatum from the union to the company demanding pay adjustments. It was first set for 3 a. m. and then was delayed two hours.

The union rejected last month a government fact-finding board's recommendations for settlement of the controversy. Both sides disputed the effect of the board's findings.

TWA's president Jack Frye countered that the board's formula actually gave the pilots and co-pilots increases up to 36 per cent.

UN Delegates . . .
The Soviet delegation planned its first meeting on shipboard coming up the North river from Quarantine, where Nikolai V. Novkov, ambassador to Washington, and Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate to the security council, arranged to board the Elizabeth. Molotov was accompanied by his deputy, Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

Senator Connally was the last to arrive in the American delegation, which scheduled another series of preliminary discussions of policy. The big five veto issue was today's subject.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.) who served with Senator Connally alongside Secretary of State James F. Byrnes at the Paris conference, arrived from Washington last night to join the delegation discussions under the leadership of former Senator Warren R. Austin of Maine, head of the American group.
