Lewis' Death Haunts Capitol

Friday Set For Showdown Between UMW And Truman Administration; Pressure Chiefly On White House, But Lewis Also On Spot With Implied Threat Of Walkout

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The pre-election coal crisis headed into the showdown stage today between John L. Lewis and the Truman administration.

While Lewis himself appeared to be on something of a spot with his implied threat of a walkout by his 100,000 soft coal miners Friday, the immediate pressure was on the White House.

The big decision that has to be made there is whether (1) to give in again—as the government did when Secretary J. A. Krug signed a contract with Lewis last summer to end the 90-day strike; or (2) to let the miners quit work four days before the elections and take whatever political consequences there might be.

Secretary Krug, who declined last week to break off his western inspection tour to meet Lewis here on the Friday deadline, still holds the top presidential assignment to solve the dispute.

Helping out are reconversion director John R. Steelman and the Senator General's George Washington, who is poring over the Krug-Lewis agreement of last May to determine whether the United Mine Workers chief is right in saying that his contract with the government can be reopened November 1. Krug contends it was to be in force for the entire period of government operation of the mines. But Lewis insists that a termination clause in his last contract with the operators, which he voiced last March 31, had been carried in the government pact.

Further, the UMW boss says if Krug fails to honor his demand for the Nov. 1 meeting, the current contract will be void as of that date instead of November 20, when Lewis originally indicated he planned to end the government agreement.

The May 29 contract, hailed by the union at that time as one of the best in its history, gave the miners the standard 18-2 cent hourly increase and set up a welfare and retirement fund with a five-cent royalty on each ton of coal produced. There already is more than $6,000,000 in this fund, and in a good production year like 1944 the union would gross $30,000,000.

Viceroy Wavell Asks Strife End

New Delhi, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Viceroy Lord Wavell appealed to Indians by radio tonight for an end to the communal strife which he said "now poisons life and disfigures the fair name of India."

Twelve persons died today during renewed fighting between Hindus and Moslems in Calcutta, and New Delhi police used tear gas to break up a crowd of about 1,000 Moslem League and Congress Party supporters battling in front of India's legislative building.

"Let us not look backwards to all dhareeds and injuries and recriminations, but forward to the prospect of a free, powerful and prosperous India," Lord Wavell said.

He said he made the appeal on behalf of both himself and the new coalition government, in which five Moslems have accepted posts.

Two persons were hospitalized as a result of the New Delhi fighting, which developed shortly before the assembly convened for its autumn session.

Example To World

Big Unions Beginning To Talk Higher Wages; Reconversion Once Tied Up By Strikes By These Powerful Groups; Background To New Questions

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

It has remained for Oriental India to give our bickering world a practical demonstration that even the most bitter quarrels are susceptible of adjustment.

Destiny works by curious and devious means, and one finds it difficult not to see in the sensational Moslem-Hindu truce at New Delhi a striking object lesson for the United Nations Assembly as it gets under way. For the greatest immediate service which our assembly could render would be to find a way of bridging the dangerous gulf between the Russian dominated Slavic bloc and the Western Allies.

Through long generations the Hindus and the Moslems have waged their often bloody warfare—at first religious and racial but finally

TRUMAN SENDS NOTE TO ARAB ON PALESTINE

Message To King Ibn Saud Reiterates Stand On Jewish Immigration

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—President Truman has sent a message to King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia reiterating his belief that steps should be taken to insure the immediate substantial immigration of refugee Jews into Palestine.

He told the Arab leader that he could not agree with the latter's statement that there was inconsistency in the American position.

Replying to a letter received from Ibn Saud October 15, the president wrote:

"With regard to the possibility envisaged by your majesty that force and violence may be used by Jews in aggressive schemes against the neighboring Arab countries, I can assure you that this government stands opposed to aggression of any kind or to the employment of terrorism for political purposes. I may add, moreover, that I am convinced that responsible Jewish leaders do not contemplate a policy of aggression against the Arab countries adjacent to Palestine.

The president said he still adhered to the belief, widely shared by the people of this country, that nothing would contribute more effectively to the alleviation of the plight of homeless Jews than the authorization of the immediate entry of at least 100,000 of them to Palestine.

In a letter released by the White House today he reminded the Arab leader that no decision has been made on this proposal which he submitted to Prime Minister Attlee of Great Britain more than a year ago.

Tribunal Backs Georgia Voting

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today refused to disturb a lower court decision upholding Georgia's county unit voting system.

Under the system, Eugene Talmadge recently won the Democratic nomination for governor, although he trailed James V. Carmichael in popular votes. Carmichael had the support of Gov. Ellis Arnall.

A special three-judge district court in Atlanta decided the system violates no constitutional guarantees of equal rights.

Three Georgia voters appealed to the Supreme Court to review the case and reverse the decision.

The high tribunal announced its decision in a brief order refusing to review the case. The court also stated that Justices Black and Murphy favored hearing the case.

Methodists To Hold Annual Conference

Henderson, Oct. 28.—(AP)—About 600 ministers and lay delegates will attend the annual session of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church here November 6-10.

Reading of appointments for the coming year by Bishop W. W. Peete of Richmond will conclude the session.

The conference theme will be stewardship.

More than 700 churches belong to the conference, which embraces the eastern half of the state.

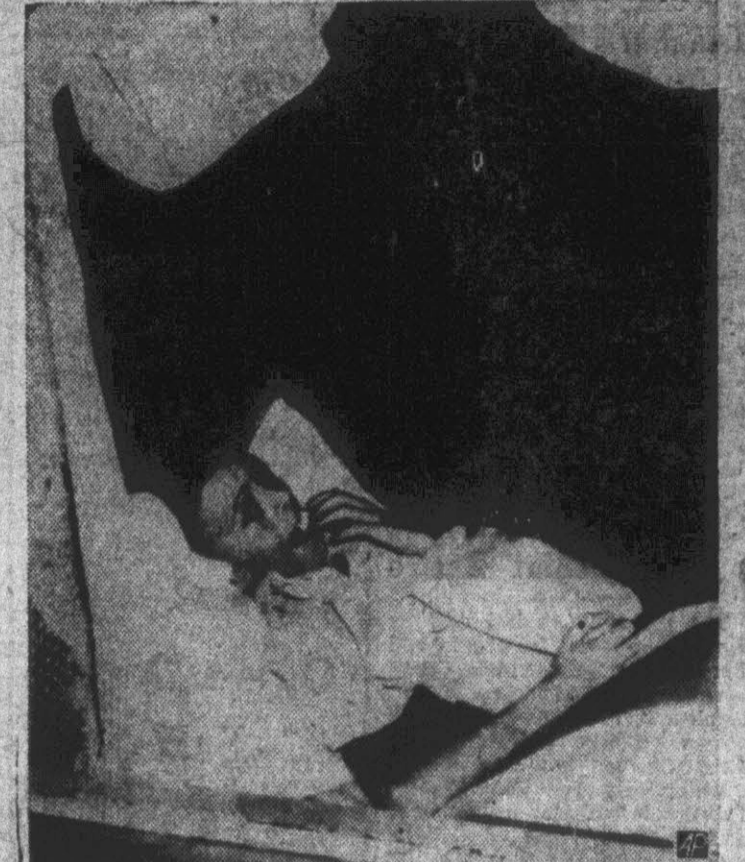

inextricably mixed with politics. Indeed, even as this is being written there has arrived a cable from Calcutta reporting further disorders which have cost many lives during the past week.

Still, up in New Delhi the weekend saw the completion of a coalition cabinet for the new provisional Indian government which is the forerunner of independence. That cabinet comprises both Moslems and Hindus, a circumstance which only a few weeks ago many people held to be an impossibility.

Now of course it would be foolish to assume that everything will be plain sailing from now on, or even that this first government won't collapse. That would be placing too much faith in the present.

Communists Sweep Bulgarian Election

Incomplete Returns Already Assure 'Fatherland Front' Working Majority; No Complaints On Conduct Of Voting

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The Communist-dominated Fatherland Front was reported by the government today to have won 200 assembly seats in 35 of the limited opposition parties in returns from 99 districts in the Sunday elections.

The assembly will have 465 members and thus the Fatherland Front already was assured a working majority.

The announcement said most of the candidates elected were of the Workers' Party (Communists).

In Sofia, complete returns gave the Fatherland Front parties 277,323 votes to 95,535 for the united opposition, election officials said.

Of the parties in the Fatherland Front, the Communists (Workers) were said to have polled 141,942 votes.

The election marked the first outright opposition challenge of the Fatherland Front's two-year rule.

(Sofia radio, in a broadcast recorded by CBS in New York, said early returns "show a crushing victory of the Fatherland Front over the opposition," with the Workers' (Communist) party "easily leading over" all the rest.)

Sixty percent of the eligible voters were reported to have cast ballots in the Plevna region, 75 percent each in the Varna and Gorna Djournals regions and 95 percent in the Svoje region.

Hit-Run Driver Kills Small Boy

By CHESTER WALSH

Daniel Eugene Elks, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Elks of near Greenville, was fatally injured by a hit-and-run driver Sunday night about 7:15 o'clock. State Highway Patrolmen Sgt. C. L. Teague and Richard Chadwick said the boy was standing in front of his father's truck while he was making some repairs. A car driven by an unknown driver struck the boy, inflicting serious injuries, and struck his father, slightly injuring him and damaging the Elks truck.

The death car was a 1936 or 1937 model blue Ford car, and was driven by a Negro. His family was with him. The Negro driver stopped and remained at the scene of the wreck on the Beilvor road near the Prison camp, a short time while the injured boy and his father were taken to a hospital. The boy died shortly after arrival there. The Negro driver of the car left and no one secured his name and address or the number of his car. Highway patrolmen said if he reports to them within 24 hours he will not be charged with hit-and-run driving.

The officers also request that any person knowing the man's name and address report it to them at the City Hall.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by the Rev. Walter B. Nobles, Free Will Baptist minister of Winterville. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Surviving are his parents, a foster sister, Carrie Elks Stokes of the home, and his maternal grandfather, George A. Jones of near Greenville.

SECOND BOMB BLAST ROCKS GERMAN AREA

Terrorists Strike; Plant Explosive Near Denazification Office

Frankfurt, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The American Military Government announced today that terrorists, striking for the second time in eight days, exploded a bomb on a wind-down of the denazification board office at Esslingen last night.

By noon today 10 persons had been taken into custody for questioning, including one person who was said to have been seen running away from the building a few minutes after the explosion.

Security troops cordoned off the area and bloodhounds were called into action in an attempt to lead the investigators to the terrorists.

Last night's bombing damaged only the outside of the building at Esslingen, the announcement said. No one was hurt. The bomb was believed to be of the same type as was used in the Stuttgart explosions.

The explosion occurred at 8:28 p. m. (2:28 p. m. EST), just after an American patrol had passed the building near the center of town.

Army agents said they believed the bomb was planted by the same man or group responsible for the previous triple bombing in and near Stuttgart, which is only six miles northwest of Esslingen.

Soon after the blast rocked the town, security troops and German police rushed to the scene. Patrols were combing the area for the culprits this morning.

Army security officers said that the building stands in front of a canal and that footsteps were discovered leading from the canal to the building, but that these had been partially destroyed by troops who rushed to the scene.

The officers speculated that the perpetrators of the explosion approached the denazification building by boat.

The explosion, though it was heard over the entire town, caused no excitement or unrest among the civilian population, the officers said.

Capt. Nicholas Semeschow of Greensboro, N. C. Military Government security officer, said that the bomb was the same kind used in last week's bombing in Stuttgart.

The Stuttgart bombs were made from the casings of a 105 millimeter shell case.

Wave Of Rioting In San Domingo

Miami, Fla., Oct. 28.—(AP)—The Miami Herald today quoted a cable message from Manuel de Moya at Ciudad Trujillo as saying armed Communists began a wave of rioting in the Dominican Republic's capital on Saturday night.

The cable from de Moya, secretary to President Rafaelle Trujillo, said:

"Last night (Saturday) the Communists tried a coup d'etat. They notified the authorities of their intention to hold a meeting. In the early afternoon they distributed knives, machetes and clubs, and at 10 p. m., attacked foreigners and unarmed citizens.

"They have created disturbances throughout the city. The Mexican embassy was violated.

"Prominent members of the so-called Communist party did not take part in the meeting after ordering the disturbances."

The Herald said the Communist party was organized in the Caribbean island republic within the past two months.

Child Needs Council In Community Chest

BY MISS CLEO RAINWATER

About three years ago people of Greenville began to be aware of the problem of juvenile delinquency which has beset the entire United States. Our children were more and more frequently being found in undesirable places, doing things which were bad for them and causing trouble for the community. Offenders were largely younger children—so young that it was shocking to realize their condition.

A group of interested citizens came together to try to prevent such behavior, to study its causes, and to change conditions which cause such delinquency. Out of this group was formed the City Council for Child Needs.

The City Council for Child Needs has made studies of causes of delinquency. It has studied what things are being done in Greenville to occupy our children wholesomely and to provide the right kind of influences for young people. It has also studied individual cases of children who needed help. When these cases were the results of broken homes or of delinquent homes, the City Council for Child Needs has expended money, time, and counseling to correct conditions and to place the child in surroundings where he would be given a chance. In every case possible the organization has inspired the relatives of the child to meet as much of the responsibility and expense as they could while the organization supplemented and encouraged the family.

Big Powers In Opposition To Changing UN Charter

Complications Affect Maritime Strike Vote

East Coast Unions Ratify Agreement Terms But Dissenters On Gulf Coast Will Seek Prevention Of Acceptance

By the Associated Press (Continued on Page Six)

The AFL Union of Ship Officers announced today withdrawal of its pickets in New York, the nation's largest port, but Gulf Coast opposition was reported to agreements reached by two unions and ship operators to end the 28-day maritime tieup on the East and Gulf Coasts.

The U. S. Maritime Commission and union leaders said they expected ships to begin moving again tomorrow on the two coasts barring an unexpected development. The AFL union members voted yesterday and today on ratification of the settlement reached here Saturday, the CIO Engineers previously approved their new agreement.

In New York Capt. A. E. Oliver, co-chairman of the negotiating committee for the masters, mates and pilots (AFL) said the pickets would be withdrawn at mid-day because early balloting by union members was favorable.

Meanwhile a union spokesman in Boston said pickets had been withdrawn from 51 to 59 vessels in New England ports.

The Houston, Tex., local deferred ratification of the agreement, however, and the situation was further complicated last night by an announcement by the strike chairman of the Houston local of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (CIO), saying it disapproved the agreement reached by the union with operators last week.

The strike chairman, William G. Kellogg, said he would seek a federal court restraining order today to prevent national officers of the union from putting the agreement into effect. He asserted he had received assurances of support from locals in Philadelphia, Seattle, Savannah, Ga., Norfolk, Va., and Jacksonville, Fla.

Capt. William C. Ash, co-chairman of the MMP negotiating committee, said yesterday in New York he expected ships would start to move by Tuesday "unless Maritime (Continued on Page Six)

Truman's Aides See No Cabinet Changes

Assert President Has Enough Trouble Finding Men For Top Govt Jobs Without Trying To Reshuffle Cabinet

By ERNEST B. BACCARO

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Highly placed administration officials said today President Truman will try to keep his present cabinet intact during the year ahead.

One top rank aide, describing Mr. Truman's primary personnel problem as the accumulation of vacancies in other high level posts, added: "Everybody seems to talk about cabinet changes except the boss himself."

This official, in daily touch with the Chief Executive, said Mr. Truman will be guided largely by the wishes of Secretary of State Byrnes in naming a new ambassador to London, W. Averell Harriman was brought home recently to replace the ousted Henry A. Wallace as Commerce Secretary after Wallace took issue with Byrnes' foreign policy.

Byrnes' work with the Paris Peace Conference and on preparations for the coming four-power foreign ministers' meeting in New York November 4, plus the President's own preoccupation with the meat and other problems, have delayed a get-together on this vacancy, one of nine waiting to be filled.

Five involve the congressional-created Atomic Energy Commission. The other three are federal communications chairman, solicitor general and loan administrator. Here's the picture:

Atomic energy—Mr. Truman signed the bill setting up the domestic control agency August 1. Since then, however, he has run into difficulty finding five men who would be able to work together as a team.

New Pay Demands

Compromise Effected By Age-Old Enemies, Hindus And Moslems, In Forming Indian Government Demonstrates Even Most Bitter Quarrels Adjustable

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The biggest unions—the ones which had the biggest strikes since the war ended—are beginning to talk of higher wages again.

Those unions are the CIO Auto-workers, the CIO Steelworkers, and John L. Lewis, AFL Coal Miners. Their gigantic strikes, coming as they did in the midst of reconversion, tied the country in knots. They'll tie it in knots again if they strike again.

It is not certain they will strike. Wait and see. So far the word strikes has not been mentioned by the autoworkers, steelworkers or coal miners. At the moment they are talking only of higher wages.

China Lines Up With U. S., Britain And Russia Against Rewriting Charter; Smaller Nations Appeal For Unanimous Agreement Among Big Five

New York, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk of Czechoslovakia told the United Nations today that his country stands guard over the very heart of Europe and appealed before the assembly for unanimous agreement among the great powers, because that way the little countries will have a much better chance.

Czechoslovakia, which lies in the Russian zone of Eastern Europe and has a long tradition of friendship with America and the west generally, wishes to live in friendship and political and economic cooperation with all free and democratic countries.

He scoffed at talk of an iron curtain cutting off his land and invited fellow delegates to come and see for themselves, promising they would have no trouble obtaining permission to enter. Masaryk spoke as the 51-nation assembly pushed forward through its fourth day of general debate.

Chief Delegate Warren Austin told his American associates at a caucus that he would make a U. S. policy speech to the assembly—probably tomorrow or Wednesday. It will deal with the veto question.

Heykal, Pasha, the Egyptian Senate president, urged that a world police force might be created and disarmament begun soon and that an international refugee organization might be set up. He did not specifically mention the Palestine issue.

On the question of military forces on foreign soil, Heykal Pasha said: "I request the assembly to condemn the maintenance of military forces on the territory of any country without the specific consent of the government involved."

The middle east, he said, is an area of vast resources and vital communications and the United Nations must see that its countries are not interfered with by the big powers. Sometimes, he said, treaties are signed by smaller countries under pressure. In this connection he mentioned the Soviet-Iranian agreement for development of Iranian oil signed last May.

The American decision to have Warren Austin to speak reverses an earlier delegation conclusion that no speech would be necessary in addition to that made at the opening of the session by President Truman. Since that time the veto issue has assumed major proportions.

Whether the American chief delegate would also touch on another U. N. hot potato—the demand by various nations for action against France Spain—appeared uncertain.

Icy Gales Hit Nome Damaging Buildings

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Scared and battered Nome today began cleaning the wreckage of 18 buildings destroyed or damaged during an icy gale that swept in from the Bering sea over the week-end.

As the storm roared northward, property owners estimated their loss at between $200,000 and $400,000.

Six business buildings were wrecked and 12 seriously damaged. All were on the south side of the town's main thoroughfare paralleling the waterfront. Basements were flooded in many others which withstood the pounding seas and 60-mile-an-hour winds.

No lives were lost and a few minor injuries were reported.

Sixty-five per cent of Canada's area is agriculturally worthless.

All Time High

W. J. Whipple, sales supervisor of the Greenville Tobacco Market, announced today that in the 45 selling days that the Greenville market has been open this year, it has already paid out more money than has ever been paid out in any year since the market was established.

This year, in only 45 selling days, the markets has paid out the sum of $31,749,753.33, and the marketing season is not yet over. The nearest approach to this all-time record was the year 1945, when for the entire year (63 selling days) the Greenville market paid out $25,947,845.94.

Whedbee stated that he hoped Greenville would set an all time high record this year, but again cautioned farmers that these boom times would possibly not last always and urged every farmer to save and bank at least a part of this year's greatly increased income.

Jr. Cooking Club

The Jr. Cooking club which has been disbanded through the summer months was reorganized Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Ruth Cobb, who with her usual grace entertained members much to their joy. The officers elected were Miss Ruth Cobb, president; Miss Myrtle Warren, vice president; Miss Pat- tie Wooten, treasurer. The work of the little cooks was shown by the dainty refreshments which were prepared by them.

Text from James 1:12. "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation; for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him."

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?" (Psalm 27:1). And from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The true sense of being and its eternal perfection should appear now, even as it will hereafter. Nothing can interfere with the harmony of being nor end the existence of man in Science." (Pages 550, 427).

Cadets And Irish Still Lead 'Unbeaten' Parade

New York, Oct. 28—(AP)—Army and Notre Dame, still immune to the "upset epidemic" which has taken its weekly toll with deadly regularity, led the parade today as the college football campaign headed into its final, and usually fatal month.

Army made it 24 straight with a 19-0 win over a stubborn Duke team; Notre Dame cracked its Iowa flinx by blasting the Hawkeyes 41-6; powerful Penn rolled over Navy 32-19; UCLA's Bruins moved a step nearer to the Rose Bowl with a 33-7 romp over Santa Clara; Georgia pulverized Furman 70-7 and Harvard squeezed by Holy Cross 13-6.

Three teams—Texas, Tennessee and North Carolina State—boasting untarnished records up to last Saturday, fell by the wayside to join the long list of upset victims. Northwestern, Oregon and North Carolina U. each tied once, remained unbeaten with impressive victories.

Unless they are bitten by the upset bug next week, which would be a major calamity, Army and Notre Dame will present spotless slates when they meet head-on in their epic clash at the Yankee Stadium Nov. 9. Each enjoys a comparative breather next Saturday, the West Pointers tuning up with twice-beaten West Virginia and the Ramblers engaging the below-standard Navy Midshipmen, who have dropped four in a row since their opening game triumph. Army has won six games and Notre Dame four.

The pigskin spotlight next week will be centered on the South where the Georgia Bulldogs take on Alabama. The Crimson Tide, Rose Bowl champions, bounding back from an unexpected defeat by Tennessee with a 21-7 win over Kentucky last Saturday, will provide the sternest test yet encountered by Georgia, which has knocked off live foes in a row.

In the southwest, Rice and Texas A & M, tied for the conference lead, take on Texas Tech and Arkansas, respectively, in a pair of games that may scramble the standings. Texas, victim of a stunning 18-13 upset by Rice's Fighting Owls, tries to regain some of its fading glory against formidable Southern Methodist. Little Cincinnati, the David of the football Goliaths, seeks its fifth win in six games at the expense of the highly favored Tulsa Golden Hurricanes.

The big nine dominates the mid-western section. Illinois, aiming at a dismal start, takes on Iowa. Michigan attempts to return to the win column against Minnesota. Ohio State, finally looking like the powerful team it had been cracked up to be, meets Northwestern, with only a tie to mar its otherwise spotless five-game record, and Wisconsin plays Purdue. Indiana clashes with Pittsburgh in an inter-sectional game.

Unbeaten Penn tackles Princeton in an Ivy League game in the east, and Harvard hopes to remain in the select class by knocking off stubborn Rutgers.

DEACONS HEAD 'UPSET' LIST OVER WEEKEND

Standout Struggles Scheduled For Tar Heel Elevens Next Week

The current toast of Tar Heel football, the Wake Forest Deacons, will try to whip another Tennessee rival this week.

Upset conquerors of previously unbeaten Tennessee by an astonishing 19-6 score at Knoxville Saturday, the Deacons invade the Volunteer State again Friday night when they will attempt to deraill the Chantanooga choo-choo.

Chattanooga lost to Miami, 33-13 last Friday.

The state's lone surviving unbeaten, untied eleven, Guilford, will put its record in the line at High Point.

The Quakers have won five in a row and have yielded only seven points, those being made in the closing minutes last Saturday night by Milligan, a 19-7 victim.

A typical Saturday fare will offer such standout struggles as Georgia Tech at Duke, N. C. State vs. Virginia Military at Roanoke, Va., North Carolina at Tennessee, Washington and Lee at Davidson, Elon vs. Erskine at Anderson, S. C. Alabama State Teachers at Western Carolina Teachers (night), Presbyterian at Catawba (night) and Appalachian at Lenoir-Rhyne (night).

Duke, a much-respected team despite its record of two victories in five starts, will be up against a dangerous rival in Georgia Tech. The Engineers smothered Auburn 27-6, in their last outing.

Beaten, 19-6, by Army at New York, Duke, nevertheless gained in stature, particularly with its display of dogged defense. Army's peerless pair, Blanchard and Davis, did not score through the Blue Devils' line.

North Carolina, with Charlie Justice scooting for scores on 70 and 90-yard runs, racked up its fourth straight victory, disposing of Florida, 49-19.

Lone blot on the UNC record is an inaugural 14-14 tie with Virginia Tech.

The Gobblers, incidentally, have established themselves as No. 1 spoilers as far as North Carolinians are concerned.

Having kept North Carolina off the unbeaten, untied list, they jumped off N. C. State, 14-6, last Saturday to break a string of four Wolfpack triumphs.

TWICE LOST Moscow, Idaho, Oct. 26—(AP)—

This ad appeared twice yesterday in the Moscow Idahoian: "Lost from pickup truck, platform rocker on Moscow-Genesee Highway."

But it was not a duplication. Two individuals bought platform rockers at separate furniture stores loaded them on small trucks and headed homeward, both in the Genesee area. Both returned to the newspaper and advertised the loss yet neither was aware of the other's ad.

Strength FOR THE DAY

BY EARL L. DOUGLAS

FACE FACTS SQUARELY
It is hard for most of us to face reality. We like to deceive ourselves into believing that things are better than they are. Occasionally people who are nervously ill like to imagine that they and the world in which they live are worse off than circumstances would indicate. Facing facts, good and bad alike, is hard for everyone as a consistent policy.

When Marie Antoinette arrived in Paris to marry the heir of the king of France, every poor and neglected person was banished from the streets of Paris. France was on the brink of revolution. Her population was half-starved. But Marie Antoinette was not allowed to know anything of this. She passed through throngs of what appeared to be gay, happy, and prosperous people. The poor were driven into alleys, ways or locked in their houses.

Politicians today resemble the politicians of Marie's day. So do many preachers who shut their eyes to mounting inequities in their own communities and prefer to deal with inconsequential. So do multitudes in the pews who welcome only a gospel that takes the soreness out of their bruises. So do labor leaders and employers alike who refuse to face the insistence of economic principles and who try to put the interests of a class before the welfare of a nation.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WHAT OCCIDENTAL TREASURES ATTRACT ORIENTAL PRINCES?
By JANE EADS

Washington—Candy and nylon head the shopping list of Prince Suvasthi of Siam, his princess and Princess Rambhalbarm Sukhodaya during their visit in this country.

The nylon and candy will make four pairs of dark eyes dance when the gifts are presented to Prince and Princess Suvasthi's daughters at school in Cheltenham, England.

Princess Suvasthi says her daughters are not so different from American girls. They know all about flannelbugging, Van Johnson and tussling with their hair.

When they lived in the palace at Bangkok, both Princess Suvasthi and Princess Rambhalbarm wore saris and a costume, called the pasin and fashioned something like the long, straight sheath worn by Chinese women.

But in England and on their travels they wear chic western clothes. Princess Rambhalbarm, however, is in mourning and wears only unadorned black.

Princess Rambhalbarm is the widow of King Prajadhipok, who caused such a stir 15 years ago when he came to this country for an operation on his eyes. She is the aunt of the 20-year-old King Ananda who was found dead in his boudoir in the Royal Palace last year with a bullet wound in his head.

King Ananda was succeeded by his brother, Prince Phumiphon, 18 who was born in Boston. His father, the late Prince Mahidol of Songkhla, was studying at Harvard.

Young King Ananda, more western than eastern in his tastes, enjoyed playing a saxophone and driving about in a jeep on the palace grounds. His death, which is surrounded with mystery, occurred on the eve of a projected trip to this country.

Princess Suvasthi says the authorities are still investigating the death of the monarch, but her husband thinks it must have been an accident.

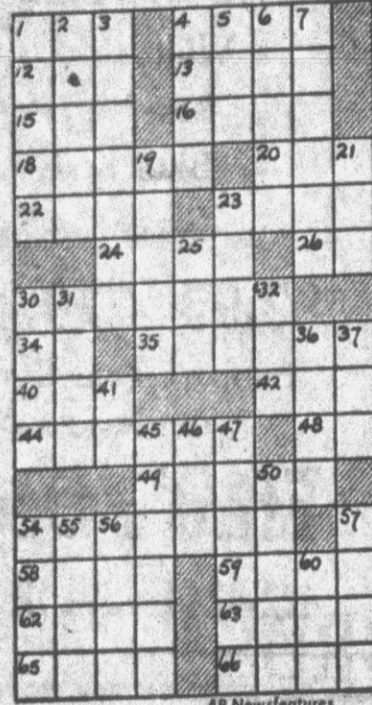

Twelve of the 20 members of the medical commission which conducted a post mortem held it was most likely murder. But the majority of the Siamese, Americans and British observers at the public investigation thought it was suicide.

Reports from Bangkok say that the bitter political struggle which has grown out of the unexplained circumstances of the king's death has begun to assume more importance than the death itself.

much confidence in human nature. There are still many problems to be solved, and one of them is the burning desire of the Moslems for Pakistan—an independent state of their own, which has provided the main stumbling block in the protracted negotiations. It's safe to assume that Mohamed Ali Jinnah, the brilliant leader of the Moslem League hasn't abandoned the hope that in some way he may achieve the goal of Pakistan.

However, the all important fact is that at long last Jinnah has compromised on Pakistan, at least temporarily, in order to get the interim government going. And the Hindus—who outnumbered the Moslems three to one—have made concessions to the Moslems in the matter of cabinet positions.

Thus even if a fresh crisis should overtake the new government, the spirit of conciliation displayed has flung a rainbow across the Indian sky. We know now that there is not, and never has been, any truth in the traditional cry that the Hindus and the Moslems were doomed to eternal enmity. Maybe they haven't reached peace yet, but they are on the road.

Great credit for this dramatic truce must be given to both Pandit Nehru, the Hindu leader who heads the provisional government, and Jinnah. Next to Mahatma Gandhi these two are the most powerful men in all India. The bigness they have displayed in making this compromise certainly offers encouragement for the future of self-rule in India.

Your correspondent is particularly interested in this development because, as I have recorded before in our column, Jinnah indicated to me back in 1943, when I visited him at his home in Bombay, that he would be willing to compromise on Pakistan. I talked with him for the better part of two days on the general situation, and came away with the feeling that when the time was ripe he would make just such a gesture as he has now made.

As things now stand, even if a fresh crisis should overtake the new government, we have had a heartening example of what the spirit of give-and-take can do. It's something for the U. N. to ponder.

Pay Demands . . .

our history, said an employer could not raise or slash wages without government okay.

In this way the government tied wages into prices. For some months earlier in 1942 the government had put a lid on prices. Thus by controlling wages and prices, the government tried to keep both in line.

But that control of wages and prices is beginning to disappear at this time. It began to fade after the Japanese surrender when the government did this:

It said an employer could raise wages without government approval, and as much as he wished, if he didn't try to use that wage increase as a reason for raising prices.

If he did, then the government stepped in and, before letting him raise his prices a limited amount, it put a limit on the size of the wage increase he could give.

So to this extent, at least it still tried to control wages and prices.

Looking back over the past four years in which the government has controlled wages and prices, the union leaders argue: The government was a lot lighter on wages than on prices.

They argue: Workers need still higher wages to try to catch up with the much higher prices. They argue that the wage increases granted the recent strikers were not enough.

demanded by asking higher wages from Chrysler, Packard and Hudson.
John L. Lewis wants to talk about wages with the government, which has been operating the coal mines since May.
Meanwhile, because the government still has price controls on autos, steel and coal, it still controls wages in those industries.

Guest Minister Will Be Speaker At ECTC

Eloquent Sermon By Dr. Hardaway

The Memorial Baptist Church of this city was filled to capacity Sunday morning to hear Dr. Richard E. Hardaway, its pastor, deliver one of the most impressive sermons of the year.
Dr. Hardaway retold with classic simplicity the age old story of Christ's curing of the withered hand in the Sabbath day, and of His subsequent condemnation by the Pharisees for his performance of that deed of mercy on the day of the Lord.

With adroit hand Dr. Hardaway drew a revealing parallel between the Pharisee of Christ's time and the hypocrite of modern time, who dons his cloak of sanctimoniousness on Sunday morning, and then conveniently removes it, along with all pretense of Christian living, on all the other days of the week.

Dr. Hardaway urged his listeners to be real Christians, not just Christians in name only or just on Sunday, but on the contrary to so let the Christian spirit of helpfulness, unselfishness and practical every day good deeds, so tincture their lives each day in the week that they would be a credit to whatever Christian organization they belonged, instead of just dead wood upon the church rolls.

In closing, Dr. Hardaway reminded his hearers that just as a laborer's hands will show signs of heavy toil in which he is engaged, so will Christians, who have labored in the service, have substantial evidence of a faithfulness to Christ, which consists of more than just lip-service on one day of the week.

★ With the passing of each year, a great number of facts are added to man's increasing store of knowledge. Not over seventy-five years ago a man of superior intelligence could possess a working knowledge of all of science. Now, however, the realm of the known is so vast that it is necessary for men to specialize in order to master one small but deep corner of scientific knowledge.
Thus we have the physician, who diagnoses disease and prescribes medication and treatment. The pharmacist compounds and dispenses. Both the physician and the pharmacist benefit greatly from the researches of the biologist, the chemist, the physiologist, and the physicist, to name but a few. Through the teamwork of the allied sciences, increasingly better medical service for all is assured.

Grain Market

Chicago, Oct. 28 (AP)—Wheat and oats were strong in today's grain futures trading. Inability of cash traders to purchase more than small amounts of wheat and oats in the country together with light receipts at terminals reflected in the futures trading.
At the finish wheat was 1 1/2 to 2 cents higher than Saturday's close, January 2.04. Corn was 1/4 to 1/2 lower, January 1.36 1/2. Oats were 1/4 to 1/2 higher, November 84 1/2. Barley was unchanged, November $1.36 1/2.

New York Cotton

New York, Oct. 28 (AP)—Cotton opened $2.75 to $10 a bale lower. Heavy selling swept the cotton futures market today and forced prices down as much as $10.00 a bale, the daily allowed limit, for some deliveries.
Noon prices were $5.00 to $7.50 a bale lower than the previous close. Dec. 31.70, March 31.40, and May 30.82.
In the final hour heavy selling was again encountered which forced prices down to the lowest levels of the day.
Futures closed $9.50 to $10.00 a bale lower than the previous close.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 28 (AP)—Falling trends, on a relatively slow market, dominated today's transactions in stocks.
Leaders, with the exception of scattered issues including gold mines, pursued the lower drift after a fairly active opening. Declines of fractions to 3 or more points were widespread at the close with dealings quickening a bit in the final quarter hour. Oils exhibited more than usual heaviness. Transfers for the full proceedings ran to around 900,000 shares.

College Is Providing Student Employment

East Carolina Teachers College is providing work for 130 self-help students during the fall quarter, according to Dean Ronald J. Slay. Of these 110 are women, and 20 are men.

Work done by the students covers a wide range of activities. The college dining room employs the largest number, 67 students having assignments there. Serving as receptionists in the four student dormitories are 12 women and one man. Sixteen are student assistants in the library. Others help in various ways in the work of 5 departments of instruction, the infirmary, the college museum, the post office, the News Bureau and the registrar's office.

Hours worked by students range from 60 to 180 hours, and earnings are applied to college expenses. Self-help students must maintain a good scholastic record. Many of them in addition hold offices in student organizations and take part in the varied activities of campus life.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. LONDON JEWEL THEFTS MOUNT

"Super-Criminals" At Work Says Baffled Scotland Yard
 London, Oct. 23—(AP)—"Cat" burglars struck three times over the week-end, obtaining $27,600 worth of jewels and apparels in the latest of a chain of robberies that started with the audacious theft from the Duke of Windsor.
 Harassed Scotland Yard detectives expressed belief that five gangs of thieves were operating under the direction of a general staff of super-criminals. One detective said the entire organization was new to crime. A thorough ransacking of the usual criminal hangouts produced no clues, it was said, and even tried and tested stool pigeons have proved worthless.
 The latest theft revealed was that of $7,600 worth of gems and jewels from the home of Lt. Col. Henry Ashley Scarlet. The "cat" thief apparently climbed a drain-pipe into the house last Thursday.
 Adelaide Hall, American-born singer, was robbed of an ermine coat and cape, a silver fox fur and $12,000 worth of jewelry by burglars who jimmed open her front door while she and her husband dined with a neighbor last night.
 David Lowe, British customs official, lost $3,000 in jewels to thieves who apparently climbed through his kitchen window Saturday night.
 Meanwhile officials of the royal palace of St. James disclosed today that $3,200 worth of diamonds reported stolen Saturday "have been found intact in the palace."
 The London Evening Standard laid the wave of robberies to "a powerful and determined gang formed on the lines of a self-contained army unit."

IMPROVE BUS LINE SERVICE

Three New Franchises Granted Will Benefit Greenville
 By CHESTER WALSH
 The North Carolina Utilities Commission has granted franchises to three bus companies to operate additional passenger service in this territory after lengthy hearings which were contested by various competing buslines entering Greenville. Operation of additional buses will greatly increase travel facilities for people traveling to and from the Greenville area, and to Washington, Robersonville and Williamston and points along the various routes.
 Paul T. Ricks of Greenville received a franchise to operate over N. C. Highway 903 from the intersection of N. C. 903 and N. C. 125, near Hamilton, via Robersonville and Stokes to the intersection of the Bethel-Greenville highway.

UNIONS DENY CAMPAIGNING

Protest Testimony Before Expenditures Probe Board

Washington, Oct. 23—(AP)—Officers of two big AFL unions told the house campaign expenditures committee today they have spent no money and don't propose to spend any in this year's elections.
 John F. English of Indianapolis, secretary-treasurer of the International Teamsters Union, and Harry J. Steeper of Tea Neck, N. J., first assistant to the president of the American Federation of Musicians, were the witnesses.
 The two unions, along with the AFL garment workers and laundry workers unions had refused to supply in writing the answers to committee questions dealing with the source of their income and their political plans.

Deafened People May Now Hear Clearly

Science has now made it possible for the deafened to hear faint sounds. It is a hearing device so small that it fits in the hand and enables thousands to enjoy sermons, music and friendly companionship. Accepted by the Council on Physical Medicine of the American Medical Association. This device does not require separate battery pack, battery wire, case or garment to bulge or weigh you down. The tone is clear and powerful. So made that you can adjust it yourself to suit your hearing as your hearing changes. The makers of Beltone, Dept. 2597, 1450 W. 19th St., Chicago 8, Ill., are so proud of their achievement that they will gladly send free descriptive booklet and explain how you may get a full demonstration of this remarkable hearing device in your own home without risking a penny.
