Vanderberg Hits U. N. Economics

Attacks Proposed Budget Saying U. S. Not Ready To Pay 50% Of Administrative Costs As Suggested; U. S. Considers Approach To Veto Issue And Disarmament

By LARRY HAUCK... Senator Vanderberg (R-Mich) today sharply attacked the proposed United Nations budgetary plans with the flat assertion that the United States was not ready to pay 50 per cent of the administrative costs as suggested.

Vanderberg, a U. S. delegate to the U. N., leveled his broadside at the whole financial setup of the general assembly split up into 51-nation committees to begin the task of debating more than 50 items on a crowded agenda.

Coupling his stand with a strong appeal for economy, Vanderberg told the financial committee that the U. S. felt that the capacity to pay yardstick advanced by the U. N. as a sole basis for assessments to be inadequate and unreliable.

Vanderberg said that his government was ready to pay 25 per cent which he wanted established as a permanent ceiling on the total to be assessed against any one government. However, the senator said his government was ready to urge Congress to approve 33 per cent in 1947 on a strictly temporary basis.

Meanwhile, the U. S. delegation was reported considering its approach the question of the big power veto in assembly committee. No definite decision was made, however, on the exact stand to be taken. It was previously understood that the U. S. was opposed to any charter amendments.

The temporary end of the formal assembly sessions—now in recess for at least a week—found Russia and the U. S. competing for leadership in the assembly, undertaking.

American officials safeguarding the U. S. proposals for disarming arms control by an international inspection system as a revolutionary idea that, if adopted, would result not only in a constant watch over atomic resources of all nations but also put an end to secret weapons of all kinds.

While the Soviet Union, which took the initiative in demanding an arms cut, has consistently opposed inspection proposals as applied to atomic energy alone, there was some hope evident among the diplomats gathered here that a formula might be worked out which would be acceptable to both America and Russia and result in concrete proposals for bringing all types of armaments under strict control.

Army's Replacement Service Is Cancelled

Washington, Nov. 1.—(AP)—The Army's replacement and school command which directed the wartime training of nearly 3,000,000 GIs and officers, was mustered out today at Fort Bragg, N. C. as an economy measure.

General Jacob L. Devers, ground forces commander, said in a review of its accomplishments that the command played a major role in applying battlefield lessons to the training of replacements.

Organized in March, 1942, the training command directed operations of 29 camps and 481,000 officers and men at its wartime peak. Functions of the agency and about one-fourth its remaining personnel are being absorbed by ground forces headquarters at Fort Monroe, Va.

German Peace Terms

Foreign Ministers Council Get Down To German Treaty This Month; Fear On All Sides Of Germany Used As Pawn In Politics Hampers Setting Terms

The four-power Foreign Ministers Council, having worked its way through some of the European problems which revolve around Germany, are expected to get down to that explosive nuclear core itself this month.

Secretary Byrnes makes it clear that the United States puts immediate occupation necessities ahead of final peace terms and is calling into conference General Clay and his civilian adviser, Robert Murphy who have been running things for us at that end.

The problems of making peace for Germany probably will follow closely the lines of those already encountered—fear on all sides that one or more of the powers will attempt to use Germany as a pawn to extend selfish interests; France's desire to take control of the Saar and the Ruhr which three times in 70 years provided the weapons for

NASH DIES IN GAS CHAMBER

Condemned Movie Projectionist Cheerful On "Last Mile"

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Robert L. Nash, 43, moving picture projectionist of Raleigh and Henderson, died today in the state's gas chamber at Central Prison for the shooting of Mrs. Margie Parker, 20, whom he proclaimed to the last "as the girl I loved."

Nash entered the execution chamber calmly and smiling at 10:01 a. m. the gas started rising at 10:04 and he was pronounced dead 15 minutes later. He was still wearing a diamond ring, which he earlier said Mrs. Parker had given him last Christmas.

In an interview yesterday, Nash said "Margie" put the ring on his finger with a wish and his promise never to take it off, and "I never have. It will stay on my finger even to the grave," he added.

As Nash walked his "last mile" to the execution chamber, he asked Prison Chaplain William H. R. Jackson to read the 23rd psalm, his favorite biblical passage. He told the chaplain: "I am not crazy one bit, and not resentful." He added that he was happy because "now I am going to be with Margie."

He told Jackson he killed her because he "loved her more than anything else in the world" and he thought it was for her own good and happiness.

After being placed in the chair, Nash looked toward the ceiling and closed his eyes as if in silent prayer. Then the mask was placed over his face, and he waved goodbye with both hands to witnesses standing behind the thick plate glass.

Nash was denied his request to enter the chamber wearing a pair of shoes, which he said Mrs. Parker had given him. Warden Hugh Wilson said his fifteen minute execution was one of the longest at the prison.

CHINESE REDS IMPERILED BY GOV'T ARMY

Encirclement Cuts Off Crack Communist Troops In Port City

Peihai, Nov. 1.—(AP)—An estimated 100,000 crack Chinese Communist troops were reported cut off today by Government encirclement of the big north China port of Chefoo, where a violent battle raged in the streets.

In sore peril from this assault on their mountain stronghold, the Communists massed thousands of troops in five Shantung peninsula ports east and west of Chefoo, presumably to try to break through to the sea.

Pro-Government dispatches said they were assembling at Weihaiwei, the one-time British port 40 miles east of Chefoo, Pengail, 40 miles northwest of Chefoo, Lungchow, 60 miles west, and two smaller ports on the peninsula.

Field accounts said the eastward claw of the Government pincers had been thrust 10 miles inland and had swept up Mowping, 20 miles east of Chefoo on a main road to U. S. Marine-occupied Tsingtao, 115 miles south.

Chinese Government gunboats were reported trading broadsides with shore batteries.

Government commanders apparently had struck an unexpectedly tough core of resistance, because they had predicted the city would fall by Thursday.

The latest dispatches mentioned stiff resistance as Government troops fought into the port city.

While the Government strove to pinch off this springboard to Manchuria, its armies were spreading swiftly across Liaotung peninsula above Russian-occupied Dalren in Manchuria itself.

They had seized at least two strategic points along 100 miles of Korea Bay, where Communists might put in or take off to or from the mainland redoubt in Shantung Province.

These were Chwangho, 93 miles northeast of Dalren, and Tsingtao, 20 miles farther northeast. These were two of the best landing points between Dalren and Government-held Antung at the Korean frontier.

RACE HATERS HOLD MEETING

Arouse Wrath Of Listeners; Police Avert Possible Violence

Atlanta, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Police prevented possible violence last night when a Jewish war veteran interrupted to describe as "lies" attacks on his race by speakers at Columbians, Inc., recently chartered group centering its wrath on Negroes in the call for a "progressive white community."

Emory C. Burke, president of Columbians, set the pace for the meeting earlier when he presented a "medal of honor" to James R. Childers, 17-year-old boy under police court bond charged with black-jacking a Negro Monday night.

Both Burke and Homer L. Loomis, Columbians secretary, attacked Negroes, Jews and the Atlanta newspapers in their speeches heard by an estimated 250 Jewish veterans who attended the organization's mass meeting.

Loomis' talk was prefaced with a reference to the "alien element" in the audience. "I hate the Jew," he shouted, "because they have never become part of the American way of life."

He also described Jews as the "original Nazis" in aspiring for world domination and added "the Jew will die for what he believes in, but I've never seen one die for the American word."

An unidentified Jewish war veteran shouted at the close of the talk that "half you have been saying is lies."

A half dozen Columbians, in their uniforms, moved forward, followed by others from the front rows. Jewish veterans stood their ground around their ally but four city detectives, assigned to the meeting moved quickly between the group to thwart possible trouble.

Loomis announced the remainder of the meeting would be "closed" and the Jewish veterans left without incident.

Burke earlier told the audience that "we don't care x x x what newspapers say or think" about his group; if planned to publish a weekly that eventually would become a daily.

Loomis, referring to Childers' arrest, said he had been assigned to protect a white home and that he was trying to protect the Negro from "street ruffians."

President Planning No Pre-Election Speeches

By ASSOCIATED PRESS... President Truman, riding homeward to vote, greeted a station crowd at St. Louis from the rear platform of his train today as congressional campaigners drew breath for their last chance weekend wind-up rallies.

The president had an opportunity to make other appearances at Jefferson City and Sedalia as his train rolled across the Missouri plains but no formal speeches were planned.

A Democratic rally prior to next Tuesday's elections was scheduled for his home town of Independence tonight, but Mr. Truman will not be there. He planned to spend the evening with his family while House Speaker Rayburn makes the principal address at the rally.

As local campaigns gathered heat in many parts of the country, national notes were sounded in behalf of the two major parties by Henry Wallace, former secretary of commerce, and Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and Republican possibility for the 1947 presidential nomination.

Wallace, speaking Thursday night at Madison, Wis., said much of the information about Russia comes from groups which he described as

Chest Drive

In the first day of campaigning, workers in the 1916 Greenville Community Chest drive have raised $6,517.00, or approximately 52 per cent of the total goal of $12,500.

General Chairman Reynolds May announced the following reports: Of the amount reported, $1002 was contributed by the business district division headed by the Lion's Club.

Mrs. Alma Underwood of the Women's Division reported contributions totaling $315. Other workers are expected to report today.

E. Graham Flanagan of the special gifts committee reported that approximately $5,000 had been received.

J. H. Waldrop, president of the Greenville Community Chest, stated that reports from all committees should be in by Saturday afternoon.

BAPTISTS TO BUILD SOON

Memorial Church To Have $60,000 Educational Building

By CHESTER WALSH... More than a hundred members of Memorial Baptist Church at a "fellowship" supper at the Woman's Club last night feasted on roast turkey and all of the "trimmings" and raised about $5,500, increasing the educational building fund to $41,000 of the proposed quota.

It is understood that the State Baptist Convention will total $10,000 to the fund, making the total sum of cash on hand $51,000 of the estimated $66,000 of the new educational building on the church property at Fourth and Greene streets will cost.

Claude D. Ward, chairman of the Building Committee, presided. Inspiring talks were made by the pastor, Rev. Richard E. Haraway, Dr. B. McK. Johnson, Lawrence Stroud and Mrs. Stroud, E. R. Conway, Bill Lee, N. C. Brooks, Dr. H. Frederick Jones, a former pastor of the church, J. D. Aman and others.

Plans have already been drawn for the new educational building. It will be a thoroughly modern structure, conveniently arranged for classroom work or group meetings.

At Albuquerque, N. M., Secretary of Agriculture Anderson called for the election of a Democratic Congress as the biggest insurance that farm prosperity will continue.

Tomorrow noon, the Democratic National Committee announced, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will speak over the ABC network from New York.

Wallace, speaking Thursday night at Madison, Wis., said much of the information about Russia comes from groups which he described as

SEARCH CITY FOR BOMBERS

Police Cover Baltimore Waterfront For Mass Murders

Baltimore, Nov. 1.—(AP)—A steady procession of detectives and uniformed policemen patrolled the Baltimore waterfront today in an intensive search for the perpetrators of the incendiary bombing of a rooming house in which four merchant seamen lost their lives and five others were injured.

Police Commissioner Hamilton R. Atkinson, assuming personal direction of a round-up of every waterfront character "with whom we have ever had any trouble," described the blast as "one of the worst crimes in the history of the city."

Throughout the night detectives "tramped into eastern district police station with a constant stream of suspects, most of whom were questioned and released.

Amid denunciations of the bombing by Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin, who described it as "mass murder," and other officials and labor leaders, the Federal Bureau of Investigation was called upon to study two warning notes which police said were delivered before the bombing.

Jesse Rodriguez, proprietor of the rooming-house, said one of the notes was thrown through a window of the house last week attached to a monkey wrench. Police quoted it as follows:

"Stop rooming flinks (labor spies) in your house, which is owned by Bethlehem Steel. This is your final warning."

Rodriguez told police he started operating the rooming house when he retired after working 18 years in the Bethlehem plant here. He said the building was not owned by Bethlehem.

Battalion Chief Thomas Heagerty of the fire department said yesterday's blast was caused by a homemade incendiary bomb consisting of two varnish cans fastened together one containing a substance smelling like gasoline, the other bearing an odor like that of kerosene oil.

Thesley Manning, charged with being drunk outside the grand jury room at the courthouse, was given 14 days in jail when taken before Judge R. Hunt Parker, who is presiding this week.

Margaret Dyer was given a year in jail and Moses Jones, both colored, was given six months on the roads for the larceny of $280 from Frank Phillips, colored tenant farmer. The court ordered a verdict of not guilty against Annie B. Woodard, colored.

Sam Manning, charged with violating a five-year probation order imposed on him in August, 1943 when he was convicted of larceny and sentenced to serve two years on the roads, was ordered to serve his sentence.

Suspension of payments after the Nov. 5 deadline will be effective until reports are received, VA said, adding that the reports are necessary so that it can adjust the payments to conform with limitations established by Congress.

Student Botanist Is Found Dead At Duke

Durham, N. C., Nov. 1.—(AP)—A brilliant 19-year-old student botanist was found dead in a Duke University laboratory yesterday and Sheriff E. G. Belvin said he committed suicide by turning on the gas jets.

The senior student, Walter Clark of Miami, had won recognition in germinating an orchid seed from India. University officials described him as the "most brilliant student botanist I ever had."

A goodbye note to another student was found beside the body but the sheriff said the note gave no reason for Clark's action.

Belvin said it was a clear case of suicide and that no inquest would be necessary.

OPA SHUTS UP LOCAL BOARDS OVER NATION

Moves To "Decontrol" Self In Sweeping Retrenchment Program

Washington, Nov. 1.—(AP)—OPA began to take on the appearance today of a skeleton left over from Halloween.

In a sweeping action toward decontrolling itself along with the national economy, the price agency served notice on approximately 10,000 field workers—roughly one-third of its remaining staff—that their jobs will fold up in 30 days.

Even more immediately, OPA ordered its last local price boards—1,612 of them—looked up for kecks on Monday.

Agency officials said the twin moves will save $10,000,000 in salaries, rentals and other expenses that otherwise would have run on until OPA itself died by law next June 30.

OPA chief Paul Porter in announcing the retrenchment program on the heels of scores of decontrol actions declared that the government is handing most of the price control jobs back to American citizens.

"If citizens work a steeper neighbor worked on local boards," he added, "we can prevent disastrous inflation during this period when production of goods is steadily increasing to supply unfulfilled demands."

The Bureau of Labor statistics reported meanwhile that wholesale food prices dropped an average of 3.2 per cent in the week ended last.

Superior Court Adjourned Today

By CHESTER WALSH... After signing some orders and attending to other details this morning, Judge R. Hunt Parker of Roanoke Rapids adjourned the one-week criminal term of Superior Court shortly afternoon today.

In Superior Court the case against Sam Warren of Hickory Va., N. H. Lofton, night watchman of Ayden, and Johnnie McLawhorn truck driver of near Ayden, charged with the larceny of 10,000 pounds of sugar from the Ayden pickle factory some weeks ago, was postponed until the January term of court.

The case against James Gibson alias John Ivey Gibbs, colored charged with first degree burglary and criminally assaulting Mrs. Mary Reeves at her home in Ayden, was postponed until the January term. Gibson was taken back to State Prison at Raleigh. The court appointed Blount and Taft as counsel for Gibson.

Thesley Manning, charged with being drunk outside the grand jury room at the courthouse, was given 14 days in jail when taken before Judge R. Hunt Parker, who is presiding this week.

Margaret Dyer was given a year in jail and Moses Jones, both colored, was given six months on the roads for the larceny of $280 from Frank Phillips, colored tenant farmer. The court ordered a verdict of not guilty against Annie B. Woodard, colored.

Lewis Absent As Meetings Open, May Delay Appearance Until Krug Returns; Four Thousand Miners Stay Home Adding Emphasis To Big Stick Held Over Nation

By HAROLD DW. WARD... Washington, Nov. 1.—(AP)—John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers put their demand for a new contract and higher pay before government officials in person today as some soft coal diggers in West Virginia laid down their tools in emphasis.

Four thousand miners at Williamson, W. Va., stayed home while negotiations between the government and the UMW representatives were starting here.

Owners of the mines, meantime, joined in a statement complaining that the government decision to confer with Lewis was politically inspired and that any concessions would be a public disgrace.

Lewis, president of the union, absented himself from the start of the conferences which he demanded with the coal mines administration. The UMW chief remained in his office while subordinates headed by John J. O'Leary, UMW vice-president, met with navy Capt. N. H. Collisson, the coal mines administrator.

Absent also was secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug with whom Mr. Lewis made the current agreement last May 29 to end a 59-day strike. Lewis now asks reopening of that contract.

J. J. Ardigo of the Williamson Coal Mine Operators Association said at Williamson, W. Va., that 15 of the 42 mines in that area were forced to close down because of the failure of 4,000 miners to show up.

"In line with Lewis' contention that the government has breached the agreement under which the government is running the federally-seized mines, Ardigo quoted miners as saying the stoppage was a matter of "No contract—no work."

As the meeting opened the bituminous coal operators' negotiating committee issued a statement saying the government in the view of the committee, has decided to reopen its contract with Lewis and that the decision had been made by politically minded men.

Lewis has demanded such reopening but so far the government has not directly agreed to go that far. Armed with a thinly-veiled threat to renew last spring's strike by his 400,000 soft coal miners, the fiery union leader apparently held most of the top cards—pretty well conceded in advance—in his pay for a new wage agreement.

In setting today's meeting, Krug, who is away on a western inspection tour, delegated his aide, coal mines administrator N. H. Collisson, to open the parley. Krug is not due back in Washington until November 4—one day after the election.

One thing appeared certain: Lewis will hold the stage in the preliminary phases of the negotiations. Krug has already made that clear.

Heavy Penalty For Hit-Run Motorist

In Police Court today Judge J. W. H. Roberts found Roscoe Eastwood of the Saratoga section of Wilson county guilty of driving his car while drunk and hit-and-run driving.

It was testified that Eastwood's car collided with W. R. Phelps, Jr. white youth, badly damaging his motor bike and painfully injuring him. The municipal jurist fined Eastwood $100, recommended that his driver's license be forfeited for a year and that he pay young Phelps $100 for his hospital bill, motor bike and loss of time from work.

OPA Closes Up Shop

Only District Offices To Remain Open; Chiselers Have Better Chance To Gyp Customers; Here's A General List Of Items Still Under "Control"

Washington, Nov. 1.—(AP)—On Nov. 4 OPA closes its 1,642 local price control boards. But—this does not mean the end of OPA now.

There'll still be some price ceilings. To control them, OPA will keep 61 district offices running.

And rent ceilings stand, unchanged. OPA will keep its 650 area rent control offices running to sit on rents.

But from now on keeping the lid on retail prices—the prices which you, the consumer, pay—is a lot tougher.

By this action—scrapping 1,642 local price boards and dumping the whole load of retail price control on 61 district offices—OPA is greatly weakened.

For that reason chiselers will have a far better chance to gyp you. Watch out.

Here's the score:

1. The items which remain under price control still are scarce. Some of them—like refrigerators and washing machines—are listed below.

2. If—after Nov. 4—you think ceilings are being violated, you'll have to complain to your nearest district office.

3. You'll have to apply to that same district office for any information you want on OPA prices.

4. If you have a complaint—or want information—about rents, ask your nearest area rent control office.

5. If you lose your sugar ration coupon, tell it to your nearest OPA district office.

OPA's decision to wipe out the local boards was pretty sudden. It was part of the job of finally ending OPA itself.

OPA said that once the ceilings were taken off meat and other

The bride wore a gown of white satin with a sweetheart neckline, and long sleeves with calls lily points. The full skirt ended in a short train. The three-quarter length veil of bridal illusion was worn with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a white satin prayer book topped with a white orchid and showered with tube roses. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls.

The maid of honor wore a gown of aqua, eyelet embroidered taffeta, fashioned after that of the bride, with a sweetheart neckline, bouffant skirt and long sleeves. She wore a coronet of matching net, entwined with forget-me-nots and carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

The junior bridesmaid wore a long apricot marquisette dress with full skirt over taffeta, with a square neckline and short puffed sleeves. She carried an arm bouquet of lavender chrysanthemums and wore a coronet of matching flowers.

Mrs. Gurganus, mother of the bride, wore a gown of black crepe, trimmed in sequins, and shouwer bouquet of gardenias.

After the wedding the young couple left by plane for a wedding trip north, after which they will be at home at 2019 Dilworth Road, West. For traveling the bride wore a black wool suite with pink blouse and black accessories, her black felt hat faced with baby pink feathers. Her shoulder bouquet was a white orchid.

The bride was educated in Greenville, N. C., and for the past few years has held a responsible position at the Charlotte Quartermaster Depot. She is a member of Beta Sigma Phi, International business and social sorority.

Upon graduation in Dalton, Ga., the bridegroom spent three years as a member of the Personnel Division of the Labor Department in Washington, D. C. After spending four years in the Army, part of which time he was stationed in the Philippine Islands, he was in Dalton where he is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is now connected with War Assets Administration in Charlotte.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gurganus, Miss Ada Jones, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Worsley, and young daughter, Ann, of Greenville, N. C.; Miss Morrell Keister, and Mr. Haley Wood Keister of Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Winston E. Keister, Mr. Guy Warren Keister and Mr. John Ralph Stacy of Dalton, Ga.; Mr. Charles Starnes of Washington, D. C., and Mr. and Mrs. Phares V. Breneman of Statesville, N. C.

After the rehearsal on Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gurganus entertained the wedding party and out of town guests at a take cutting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Chestnut on Islesworth Avenue. The living room and den were arranged with white chrysanthemums and greenery. The bride's table was covered with an imported lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake which was cut by the bride and groom. At each end of the table were silver candlesticks holding white tapers.

Receiving were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gurganus and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Chestnut. At the punch bowl were Mr. and Mrs. James R. Worsley and Miss Ada Jones. Assisting in serving were Miss Jean Carson, Mrs. Pat Ring, Miss Mary Lee Alexander and Miss Polly Rhyne.

Chrysanthemums in fall colors, decorated the spacious drawing room. After the regular business session, presided over by Mrs. Frank Wooten, a timely program given by Mrs. W. L. Best, was enjoyed by all.

With the current fears of Russia, the subject of Alaska drew special interest. The country, whose purchase from Russia, was once termed "Seward's Folly," was portrayed as today the greatest potential air base in the world, of paramount military importance. The thought of Siberia being only fifty miles away, intensified the interest in Alaska, and the speakers review of the history and geography of this country, was listened to with interest. Every aspect of our northernmost possession, left one grateful that Russia, as today needed money, and was willing to trade Alaska for cash. The club expressed the hope that the government of the United States would continue to use imagination in the economic and military development of Alaska.

At the conclusion of the program the hostess served a delicious salad plate with coffee.

Mrs. Harry Harvey of Huntington was a guest of the club, Reported.

Claassen's Classic Selections See State, Duke And Vols On Win List

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
New York, Nov. 1—(AP)—Army and Notre Dame have come this far without a blot on their 1946 football records and this forecaster sees another victory for each club tomorrow, the last tests before they tangle in New York Yankee Stadium on Nov. 9.

Army should have little difficulty with West Virginia.

Notre Dame, reported ready to unroll a scabback at Navy's expense, should have just enough trouble with the defensive-minded Midshipmen to smooth out any wrinkles.

Other selections:
Penn over Princeton: Skip Minisi to collect another blizzard of points

Pennsylvania.
Oregon State over Stanford: Off their scores with UCLA, Stanford should win. Off their scores with Southern California, Oregon State should triumph. The pick is the home team, Oregon State.

Georgia over Alabama: A battle of top-flight backs, Gilmer of Alabama vs. Trippi of Georgia. In the belief that Trippi will get the more assistance, Georgia is the choice.

Columbia over Cornell: Not more than seven points should separate these two ancient Ivy League rivals but the choice is with Columbia even though Roy Cestary, Columbia's ace punter, is out with a broken arm.

Northwestern over Ohio State:

PHANTOMS TO PLAY TONIGHT

All Hands On Deck For Contest With Scotland Neck

With all hands back on deck, Coach Bo Farley's eager Green Phantoms go all-out against a very strong Scotland Neck stadium here tonight at Guy Smith Eleven Hour Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

The Phantoms wound up a full week's work yesterday with a short practice just to stay limbered up.

During the week, Coach Farley has effected one or two changes in the first team backfield. He has shifted Jim Lee back to his old position at wingback and moved Mahlon Tucker to fullback, the position at which he performed so well as a sub in the Kinston game. Glenn Perkins and MacMcLachorn are running at fullback and blocking back, respectively.

Up on the line, Coach Farley has shifted Shelly Beard from center over to the left tackle slot. The other tackle position is held by Bud Whitehurst. Bobby Fleming and June Rose are in the guard positions. Henry Turner and Paul Stokes or Billy White are in the end positions.

All in all the Greenies looked better in scrimmage than in a long time. This week, they should play a better brand of football.

Scotland Neck reputedly has a big eleven which has been giving opponents plenty of trouble. Their Coach, Floyd Woody, former ECTC athlete, is well known in Greenville.

'RETONGA PRICELESS TO ME,' SAYS MR. REPASS

Felt Too Weakened to Attend To Business. Distress From Nervous Indigestion Promptly Relieved, Poultry Dealer Declares "Retonga Put Me Back On My Feet"

MR. W. E. REPASS

"I lost thirty-five pounds while suffering torment from nervous indigestion and could not look after my business. Retonga promptly brought back my appetite and I have again reached my normal 165 pounds weight and feel fine," gratefully states Mr. W. E. Repass, 417 West Front St., Knoxville, Tenn., widely-known poultry dealer.

"I lost my appetite and no matter how careful I was about the little I forced down gas and sour stomach tortured me unmercifully," continued Mr. Repass. "I felt too restless to sleep soundly and so weakened, I could hardly walk around the block. I was thirty-five pounds underweight and whenever I looked in the mirror I felt like I saw a stranger. Headaches from constipation would almost knock me out and harsh laxatives became a habit with me. I couldn't help being alarmed because I seemed to keep going downhill.

"Retonga promptly brought me priceless relief. My appetite soon returned. I regained thirty-five pounds and now work ten to twelve hours daily without tiring. Nights I get plenty of refreshing sleep. Constipation and indigestion distress are relieved and I feel fine. Retonga surely put me back on my feet."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at Bissette's Drug Store.—Adv.

Consistency isn't a trait of the 1946 Buckeyes and they would have to be consistently good to defeat the Wildcats. Northwestern.

Tennessee over North Carolina: There's an old saying that lightning never hits twice in the same place Tennessee was hit last week. Thus the Vols should win even if Charlie Justice is in the North Carolina backfield.

Yale over Dartmouth: Art Fitzgerald, one-time Notre Damer, calls Yale's signals now and the big green will regret it. Yale.

Duke over Georgia Tech: Playing before the home folks gives the Blue Devils a slight edge. Duke.

Michigan over Minnesota: One of the upsets that have marked every weekend this year may happen in this game but, off the records, Michigan is the selection.

UCLA over St. Mary's: Although Cal Rossi is out of this important fray with a broken leg, UCLA should have enough left to stop Herman Wedemeyer and his pals under the lights tonight.

South: Louisiana State over Mississippi, Vanderbilt over Auburn, Kentucky over Michigan State, North Carolina State over VMI, Virginia over Richmond, Virginia Tech over Clemson, William & Mary over Maryland, Davidson over Washington and Lee.

Midwest: Illinois over Iowa, Wisconsin over Purdue, Indiana over Pittsburgh, Tulsa over Cincinnati, Oklahoma A & M over Kansas, Kansas State over Iowa, Missouri over Nebraska.

Southwest: Texas over Southern Methodist, Oklahoma over Texas Christian, Rice over Texas Tech, Hardin-Simmons over Arizona, Texas A & M over Arkansas.

Fans To Watch Mites Play New Bern Cubs

Greenville's "Mighty Mites" travel to New Bern tonight for a conference game with the Cubs of that city.

The Mites have gone through a rugged week of practice and should be at top form tonight. The starting line-up is not definite, since line positions are being sought after by at least two evenly matched players for each position.

A host of Greenville backers will accompany the team to New Bern to watch the pint-sized gridsters whose spirit and playing have amazed their followers.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By H. L. DOUGLAS

CRISIS OFTEN MAKES HEROES

Someone asked Sir Ernest Shackleton, the Antarctic explorer, what had been the most tense and terrifying situation of his career. In reply he recounted an occurrence when he and a group of his men were kept by inclement weather from their base of supplies. One night Shackleton awoke just in time to see one of his men crawling stealthily to the side of a companion and carefully opening his biscuit bag. There shot through Shackleton's mind the agonizing fear that he was witnessing a dastardly piece of villainy, when suddenly to his amazement he saw this man take some of his own food supply, deposit it carefully in the bag of his sleeping companion, and then crawl back to his own place.

It usually takes some overwhelming situation to bring out either the worst or the best in us. In this case a man manifested heroic self-sacrifice in the face of what appeared to be the imminent possibility of death. He divided the last of his food supply with a companion and did it stealthily so that no one might note his heroism and praise it. Only a few of the world's heroes are heralded as such, and this is because most of the heroes are undistinguished persons who carry glorious valor into the little circumstances of life.

ings, with kitchen and dining room facilities. Present plans provide for starting construction shortly after the first of the year and to have the cash on hand to pay for the much-needed building.

A feature of the meeting was the singing of gospel songs led by Harold A. McDougle, with Mrs. J. L. Fleming as accompanist.

Convention . . .

and benediction will follow.

At Friday morning's session C. O. Hawley of Indianapolis, Ind., will discuss "Crusade for a Christian World." An open forum will follow. George F. Cuthrell of Dunn will speak on "Spiritual Implications of the Crusade." A crusade luncheon will be held at the Woman's club at 12:15 o'clock.

At Friday afternoon's session, a "Rural Church Panel" will be conducted by Allen Wilson, master, assisted by Byron Carlisle, G. A. Hamilton and R. A. Phillips. Following the benediction, there will be a "Visual Education" exhibit.

An outstanding feature of the convention will be the youth banquet at the Woman's Club at 6 o'clock. The laymen's banquet will be held at Eighth Street Christian Church, host to the convention, at the same time.

The final session of the convention Friday evening will include a "Young Laymen's Conference" at 8:20, directed by James M. Hainey son of Dr. H. Glenn Hainey, pastor of the host church, and musical selections by the Atlantic Christian College Glee Club. Gaines M. Cook of Indianapolis, Ind., will deliver an address.

The list includes:
Building materials and lumber.
Most textiles and clothing. (Clothing should have on it a retail ceiling price tag attached by the retailer or manufacturer).
Most heavy consumer durable goods such as household mechanical refrigerators, washing machines, electric ranges, vacuum cleaners, cooking and heating stoves, floor coverings, and bedding goods like springs and mattresses.
Most major items of household furniture. (Again, most of the furniture is supposed to have ceiling tags).
Farm machinery and equipment. (Some of it is supposed to be tagged with price ceilings. But the district offices have a complete list).
Automobile, most automobile tires and other rubber items. (But these are not specifically tagged).
Solid fuels, such as coal and coke (OPA from time to time has issued area prices).
Services like laundering and dry cleaning. (Check your district office if in doubt).

The United States, as evidenced by its actions in its own zone, wants the occupation continued until denazification and democratic educational programs shall have had full opportunity to do their work and then would like to see Germany

OPA Shuts Up

butter and lard, the bureau said. However, the food index was still 49.8 percent higher than on June 30, when OPA controls were temporarily suspended, and 60.3 percent above the corresponding week last year.

With the 10,000 reduction in personnel, OPA's staff will drop to about 24,000 persons, with many of these slated for dismissal as de-control continues.
