CHERRY CITES ISSUES BEFORE N. C. ASSEMBLY

Reviews Educational, Road-Building And Health Program Plans

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 27—(AP)—Controversial issues sure to hit the floor of the 1947 General Assembly were cited by Governor Cherry in a luncheon address here before the annual meeting of the North Carolina Citizens Association yesterday.

The Governor, terming the state's "outstanding need is that of public schools," warned that the state must make up its mind on what it wants in an educational program.

"If we expect the average public school graduate, coming from a teaching load of 32 pupils, to compete with a preparatory school graduate, coming from a teaching load of 15 pupils—then instead of spending $50 per pupil per year, we must spend $125 per pupil per year."

This would result, the Governor said, in an annual outlay of $100,000,000 on public schools. He said the state would spend $48,000,000 from its general fund on schools this year.

The request for the next biennium, he said, is more than $80,000,000 per year, or $123,000,000 for the biennium. The Governor said the amount would be required to provide a 20 per cent increase in salaries but said the amount is larger than the whole 1942 general fund receipts of $58,250,000.

"Since all state employees will have to be treated in the same way," the Governor said, "if the legislature should appropriate $62,000,000 per year for schools, the general fund current expense budget will approximate $90,000,000 per year."

He cited as one of the next needs of the state, the hastening of the "day when all-weather roads would be available to the farmer, mail carrier, the school bus, and the church goer—from one end of the state to the other."

He said the state plans to have 3,000 miles of secondary roads made all-weather each year for the next ten years and added "this program will require a lot of money."

Capital outlay of funds requests he said, for state institutions and agencies are in excess of $75,000,000. "It is doubted that the 1947 General Assembly will be able to meet more than half of the capital outlay requests," he said.

"The Governor states that he would ask the legislature 'to extend relief' to inequities and discriminations found in the tax law, and declared the present franchise and income taxes were higher than in adjoining states."

N. C. To Consider New Voting Age

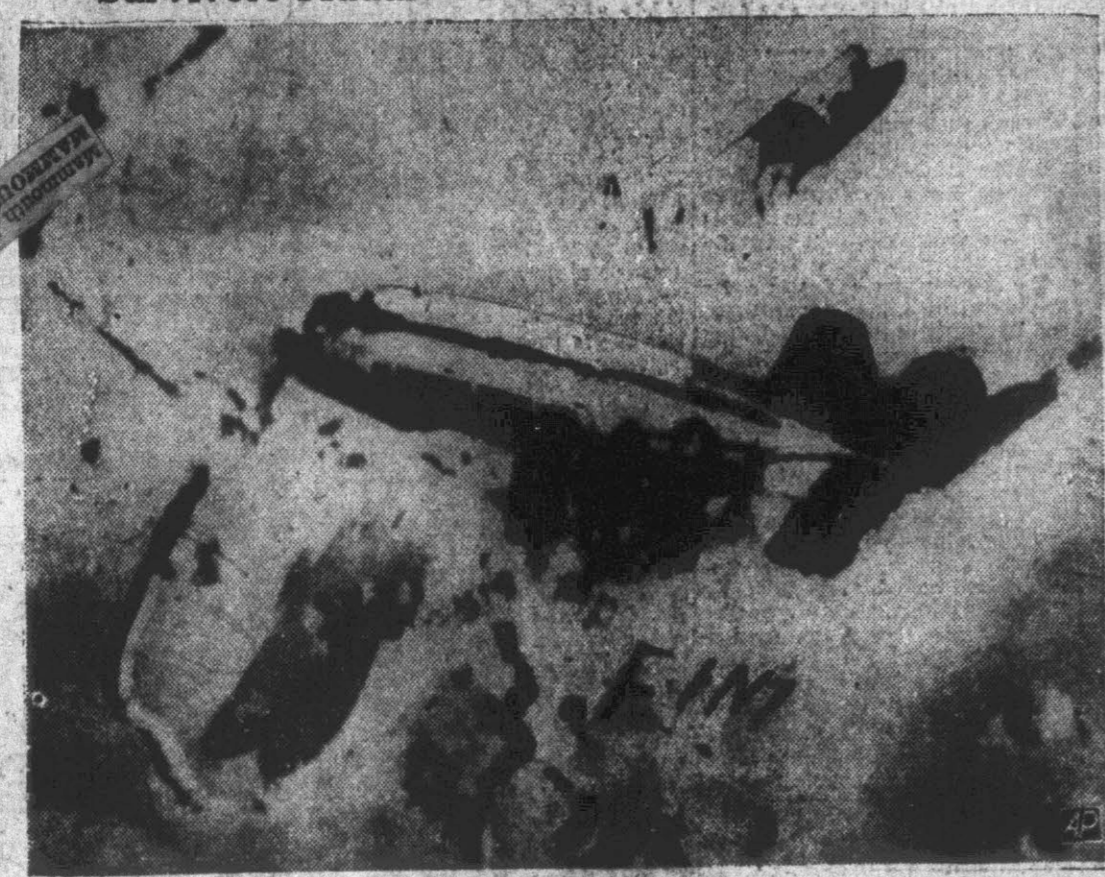

Winston-Salem, N. C., Nov. 27—(AP)—The North Carolina General Assembly at its January session may consider a proposal to lower the minimum voting age from 21 to 18 years.

The Winston-Salem Sentinel said it had learned from political leaders that such an issue would be raised. Georgia and South Carolina already have lowered the voting age to 18 and a proposal to this effect is pending in Alabama.

The Sentinel quoted Governor Cherry as saying he had not heard of such a move.

Attorney General Harry McMullan reported that an amendment must be passed before the voting age could be changed. This could be done: 1. By constitutional convention called by two-thirds of the members of each house of the General Assembly and by a vote of a majority of the qualified voters. 2. An act of the Assembly submitting the amendment agreed upon by a three-fifths of each house to be voted on in the next general election (in 1948).

Survivors Huddle Around Downed Plane

Twelve persons aboard the U. S. Army Dakota transport plane, which pancaked into Glauci glacier in Switzerland nearly a week ago, huddle around the fuselage of the ship as a rescue plane makes a photograph of the scene. All 12 were taken out safely by two small Swiss planes November 24. The lettering in the snow below plane might mean that the "E" in "Flies" was to be added, or that an "S" was to be added to make the French word "Fins" or finish. It was thought that if "Fins" were meant, the party was signaling it had enough relief supplies. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Bern, Switzerland)

British Resolution On Troop Census And Arms Cut Passed

Political Committee Of UN Assembly Votes Down Soviet Opposition; France Sides With Russia In Casting Ballot

By MAX HARRELSON
Lake Success, Nov. 27—The political committee of the United Nations assembly today overrode Soviet opposition and approved a British resolution declaring the proposed international troop inventory and the question of arms reductions were parts of a single general question.

Voting paragraph by paragraph on a British amendment to the original Soviet proposal for a troop census, the 54-nation committee decided by 33 to 17 that the two issues were separate aspects of the same general subject.

France voted with Russia in opposition and the other three members of the big five voted for the British proposal.

The committee then quickly approved by a vote of 36 to 12 the second paragraph of the British proposal, which declared that the troop inventory was the first step toward disarmament talks and was needed to help set up the U. N.'s proposed international police force.

Attorneys For Lewis Fail To Win Dismissal Of Case

Judge Says Lewis And Mine Workers Are Guilty Of Contempt Of Court If It Is Proven They Disregarded His Order Against Walkout; "No One Can Disobey A Restraining Order" Says Goldsborough

Washington, Nov. 27—(AP)—Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough today ordered a 15-day extension of his order Nov. 18 which was designed to avert a soft coal walkout.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—(AP)—Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough said today John L. Lewis and his mine workers are guilty of contempt of court if it is proved legally they disregarded his order about a coal mine walkout.

In those words, Goldsborough indicated that his decision in the contempt case against Lewis and his miners would not be influenced by the union's claim that the stop-strike order violated the Norris-LaGuardia anti-injunction act.

Regardless of whether or not the Norris-LaGuardia act applies in the soft coal case, Goldsborough said, no one can disobey a restraining order.

"If that could be done we would have anarchy," the judge commented. "If the defendants disregarded the restraining order, then they are guilty of contempt of court whether the Norris-LaGuardia act applies or does not apply."

"That, in this court's opinion, is the law." Lewis, who sat stony-faced with his attorneys, and the UMW so far have made no attempt to show that they tried to obey the judge's restraining order of Nov. 18, which instructed the UMW chief to withdraw his notice to the government that their working agreement was ending Nov. 20.

Shortly after his sharp interjection, Goldsborough recessed court and cleared the room. The whole morning had been taken up with arguments of three Lewis lawyers seeking to win dismissal of the contempt action.

Prior to the recess Joseph Padway, general counsel of the AFL appearing in a demonstration of AFL solidarity behind Lewis, disagreed with Goldsborough's analysis of the law. Padway told the court that Lewis' attorneys had advised the mine worker's chief that he was within his rights in disregarding the restraining order.

The justice drew a laugh when he remarked dryly: "The cemetery I full of people who took the doctor's advice."

At another point, Goldsborough remarked that Lewis and the United Mine Workers made a very big mistake in walking out before the courts ruled on their contract dispute with the government.

Justice Goldsborough said "The court feels that your action in not waiting for a judicial determination was a very great mistake on your part." (Continued on Page Four)

Big Four In Secret Talks

Private Conversations Indicate Harmony In Effect
New York, Nov. 27—(AP)—Working in secret, the Big Four foreign ministers sought today to complete agreement on the Trieste problem and other issues delaying final draft of the European satellite peace treaties.

The policy of secrecy was imposed in the course of a lengthy discussion yesterday among Secretary of State Byrnes, Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Deputy Foreign Minister Couve de Murville. The policy meant that press officers of the three Western powers would no longer discuss in detail with correspondents the work of each day's session.

All that was given out on yesterday's meeting, which started at a luncheon given by Secretary Byrnes and lasted until early evening, was that the Big Four discussed the Trieste issue and others of the 30-odd open questions in the Italian treaty.

The meeting indicated an intensified and presumably harmonious effort by all the foreign ministers to complete the treaty drafting. Two days ago Byrnes and Molotov spent an hour and 15 minutes together (Continued on page eight)

Woolard Head Good Health Committee

W. H. Woolard has been appointed Pitt County chairman of the North Carolina Good Health Association program. The purpose of the association is to arouse interest in better health conditions in the state, more hospitals and clinics and increased medical service.

It has been pointed out that North Carolina is on the tail end of the list of states in this respect. There are 34 of the state's 100 counties which have no hospital beds.

Each of the county schools is to appoint a boy and girl student to meet at the Greenville High School on Thursday, December 5, at 7:45 p. m., to compete with other students in a discussion of better health and increased medical facilities. Later the winners in the preliminary contest will go to a district competition at East Carolina Teachers College. R. B. Starling of the High School faculty will be director of the contest.

According to the famous Dr. Osler, everyone should take up a hobby and ride it hard.

Community Nature Exhibit
The Greenville Garden club sponsored a community nature exhibit at the Woman's Club on Friday and Saturday. Various individuals and schools of the city exhibited as well as members of the Garden club.

A most interesting program was given by Dr. Christine Weston of E. C. T. C. on the opening afternoon at 3:30. Mrs. Charles Reynolds introduced Dr. Weston who gave a demonstration in making terrariums. In the evening a moving picture, "Vacationing in North Carolina," was given by the Department of Conservation and Development.

The following exhibits were displayed:
Shell collection by Mrs. J. H. B. Moore.

Insect collection, biology class of Greenville high school, Mrs. June Tripp, teacher.

Leaf collection, botany classes of E. C. T. C.

Wood and rock collection, sixth grade, Training school, Miss Hyman, teacher.

Painted bird pictures, 5th grade Training school, Miss Browning, teacher.

Insect collection, 4th grade, Training school, Miss Rainwater, teacher.

Nature study mural, painted by 7th grade of Third Street school, Mrs. D. M. Clark, teacher.

Finger painting by same grade.

There were many arrangements of autumn leaves, grasses, indoor gardens and terrariums.

Mrs. Travis Hooker arranged a centerpiece for a dinner table, which brought forth much favorable comment. The scene was a miniature lake with a hunting lodge and autumn woods surrounding.

Mrs. C. E. Okley, bird chairman, displayed a bird sanctuary, bird bath and gave directions for feeding birds during the winter months.

A very practical exhibit was a compost heap and rules for making one. The valuable plant food stored up in the leaves we are so prone to burn in the autumn. This compost heap was a reminder to save compost leaves if possible.

The Garden club voted to have their annual Christmas show on the 12 and 13 of December. This show was suspended during the war years and the public will anticipate the revival of this delightful affair.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

November 27, 1906

Does Thanksgiving consist in eating and drinking, frolic and sport, or in worship? To right thinking people this question can be answered in but one way. If we are to retain the time honored custom of observing Thanksgiving Day, we owe it to ourselves and to our God to observe it primarily by the giving of thanks.

Thanksgiving day is a testimony of the religious character of early American settlers, but no less, to the same character in their descendants. The Puritans first began its observance. President Lincoln made it a national festival. If the element of gratitude to Almighty God resulting in the public expression of that gratitude by formal thanksgiving to Him for mercies vouchsafed to this land, is not to be the underlying theme that causes us to observe the day, it becomes a supreme national farce.

Mrs. Burke Stancil at the meeting of the Inter Se Book Club on Tuesday afternoon at which Mrs. Reynolds May was hostess.

In her introduction the speaker stated that her discussion would be confined to the ancient and medieval eras which covered the period from 273 B. C. to about the year 1650 A. D. Indian art during these centuries falls into two main divisions, namely Hindu art and Mohammedan art. Likewise, Hindu art may be divided into two periods, art of the north and art of the south.

In discussing the art of the north, special reference was made to Assam sculpture of which the famous art critic, Sir John Marshall, said of the sculptors in Sarrah capitol, "Both bell and lions are in an excellent state of preservation and masterpieces in point both of style and technique, the finest carvings indeed, that India has yet produced, and unsurpassed, I think, by anything of their kind in the world."

The art of the south is of special interest in as much as it seems to be of native growth untouched by foreign influence. Noteworthy as an example of this period are the huge temples of Tangare and Gangaikonda-Cholapuram.

The Mohammedan period is characterized by beautiful tombs, strong fortresses, gorgeous palaces, and magnificent mosques. The famous Taj Mahal is the culmination of the art of this period. In fact, many architects agree that this is the most perfect piece of architecture which man has ever produced.

This scholarly review of art in India up to 1650 marks the fifth of a series of papers on the general topic, "India," which the club has been studying this year.

Following the program a short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Sam Underwood, at which time the club voted to buy a T. B. bond and Mrs. Oscar Hauser was welcomed as a new member.

During a delightful social hour Mrs. May, assisted by her mother, Mrs. L. B. Garris, served delicious refreshments. Mrs. Raymond Moore was a guest for the afternoon.

Attention Junior Hostesses

Business Changes Owners
Coastal Refrigeration, Roger M. Collins, owner, has bought Jimmy's Refrigeration, on Fifth Street Extension, near the radio station. The sale was completed November 13 and Collins has taken over the management. W. M. Umphlett was the former owner. The concern will deal in all kinds of refrigeration equipment and service, including air conditioning. Collins, a native of Kingstons, was formerly in business in Blufffield, W. Va.

Makes Thanksgiving Appeal
Radio's Mr. District Attorney will plead the cause of brotherly love to the suffering people of the war-devastated countries, in a special broadcast by Church World Service, which will be heard over station WGTC at 9:30 a. m. Thanksgiving day. This war revealed today by Rev. H. G. Haney, secretary of the Greenville Ministerial Association.

Church overseas relief and reconstruction is the theme of the broadcast, a 15 minute dramatization starring Jay Jostyn, Mr. District Attorney. Musical director is George Shackley, who is known to network listeners as musical director of the Federal Council of Churches in America. Soloist is Johnny Thompson, head Sundays on the American Broadcasting Company. The dramatization contrasts the Thanksgiving of a typical American family with that of a family in one of the needy areas of Europe.

The broadcast is the climax of a nation-wide "Share-Your-Thanksgiving" appeal for $2,000,000, being made simultaneously by the Protestant churches of America for overseas relief, including ministrations to children. Rev. Haney said. He added that special offerings will be taken in Thanksgiving services sponsored by the churches of Greenville and vicinity. Contributions collected here will be "routed through each denomination's post-war fund, or sent directly to Church World Service, which coordinates the cooperative overseas relief and reconstruction work of the major Protestant churches.

Through CWS nearly eleven million dollars in money and relief supplies have been distributed this year in 29 countries in Europe and Asia.

Literature Department
The Literature Department of the Woman's Club was delightfully entertained on Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. C. Galloway with Mrs. Louis Harrison assisting hostess. Upon arrival the guests were served delicious cake, nuts and coffee.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Mrs. Agnes Settle, and the business session held. One new member, Mrs. George Renfro, was welcomed into the club. The following guests were also welcomed to the meeting: Mrs. Brooks of Kingston and Mrs. T. A. Person and Mrs. Arthur Corey.

The program of the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. J. L. Savage, who in a very interesting and able manner gave a review of the life of Oscar Wilde and his play, "Lady Windemere's Fan." The play, having been recently reproduced, is now playing on Broadway. Mrs. Savage gave such a splendid report and sketches from the play that each one of us felt that we were seeing the play. It was a most enjoyable program.—Reported

The Chatham Book Club
On Tuesday afternoon Nov. 26, the Chatham Book Club met at the home of Mrs. J. C. Lanier on Rock Spring drive. The house was decorated with lovely fall flowers. Upon arriving the hostess served a deli-icious sweet course with coffee. After a short business meeting presided over by the president, Mrs. Sam Williams, the meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Earl Forbes, who introduced Mrs. A. C. Ruffin. Mrs. Ruffin had as her subject, "Precious Stones." Mrs. Ruffin gave a most interesting and instructive paper not only on the value of precious stones, but also their influence on world history. The club was glad to have as their guest, Mrs. John Clark.

Los Angeles, Nov. 27—(AP)—Baseball big-wigs began tricking in today for the combined minor-league winter meetings starting here next week.

OIL-PLATES Your Engine!

ACTUALLY a soap bubble is an extremely sheer net of molecules (held together by a strange attractive force) enclosing a sphere of air. And by pioneering in fields of molecular forces, Conoco scientists bring out new and better oils.

For instance, by molecular attraction, a special ingredient in Conoco Nth motor oil is bonded to working surfaces of your engine. Unlike the soap bubble which vanishes when pricked, Conoco Nth oil's ingredient holds on—is OIL-PLATED to cylinder walls and other parts.

OIL-PLATING stays up where it belongs . . . doesn't all drain down to the crankcase, even overnight . . . gives you these benefits:

- added protection when your engine starts up
- added protection from corrosive action
- added protection from wear that leads to fouling sludge and carbon
- added smooth, silent miles

That's why to OIL-PLATE now . . . at Your Conoco Mileage Merchant's. Look for the red triangle. Continental Oil Co.

Service Builds A Business

ON THIS OUR 80th Anniversary of continuous operation in Greenville we look at the steady growth of Greenville and Pitt County. We believe that our city and county have grown and prospered because of their natural and man-made facilities for rendering better service. We like to think that our business has grown and prospered through the years because we provided our patrons with good, dependable and guaranteed Service.

Today we are more anxious than ever to render Better Service to each customer who comes through our doors. Every one of our 55 employees, who have an average of more than 12 years service with our company, are working every day to increase our service facilities to our many patrons.

Today we are proud to present two more of the men in our Service Department who have served our company and our patrons well over many years. They are

A. C. FOSKEY
Mr. Foskey was born in Beaufort County but lived in Pitt most of his life. He started working with our company in 1931 and has been in our service department ever since. Mr. Foskey is both a registered Ford and Ford Ferguson Tractor mechanic and is on duty every day in our down stairs service department, where he has a host of loyal customers.

LEE DAIL
Mr. Dail is one of our younger mechanics having been with our company only 3 years. But in this short time he has progressed so fast that he is now regarded as one of our most capable registered Ford and Ford-Ferguson Tractor mechanics. Lee works in our 2nd floor service department where he does many of the heavy repair jobs. He has a large following of customers who call specifically for him to do their work.

For Good, Dependable and Guaranteed Automobile Service, call 3723 or drive into our completely equipped Service Department where men with long experience in every phase of the automobile business are waiting to serve you. We are proud to be called "THE OLD RELIABLE."

TRUE THANKSGIVING

One of the basic Christian doctrines is the doctrine of stewardship. According to the Bible, a good Christian is expected to be a good steward, and stewardship means the use of everything we possess in a way that will please God.

It is usually applied to the Christian's use of money, although it is intended to be applied also to the Christian's use of time, ability, responsibility, and everything that goes to make up life. But when we speak of stewardship, usually we mean the right use of material things to God's glory.

Our Lord had a great deal to say about money. He appreciated the harm it could do to the human soul if wrongly used. It causes one to put his trust in material things rather than in God, and it opens up infinite avenues of debasement. Jesus declared that it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of heaven. He maintained that the justification for this world's blessings is a disposition on our part to use them properly.

Here then is a great truth for us to ponder at the Thanksgiving season. The best way to render thanks to God for his blessings is to use them in a way that is pleasing to Him. God hath given us all things richly to enjoy.

WASHINGTON LETTER

FLIGHT-HIKER BUGS ON OCEAN PLANES INVADING HAWAII

By HARRISON R. HUMPHRIES

(For Jane Eads)

Washington — Trans-Pacific air travel has developed bugs. Nothing mechanical—simply the age-old problem of insect pests.

During the past year 15 new varieties of hitch-hiking insects have invaded Hawaii on planes from other regions of the Pacific. They are a real threat to the sugar and pineapple crops.

Department of Agriculture and Public Health Service officials are devising ways to meet the menace in Hawaii as well as the equally serious danger to agriculture on mainland United States should new destructive insects gain a foothold.

In the old days the only way the bugs could negotiate the great expanses of water separating Pacific land areas was by boat. The going was slow, and the insect mortality rate was high.

Now with virtually the entire Pacific area linked by fast and frequent air service—particularly by Army and Navy transport planes—the crop-devouring and disease-carrying insects that abound in the south Pacific islands move about easily.

All the usual control measures such as fumigating planes, are being used, but they are proving none too successful.

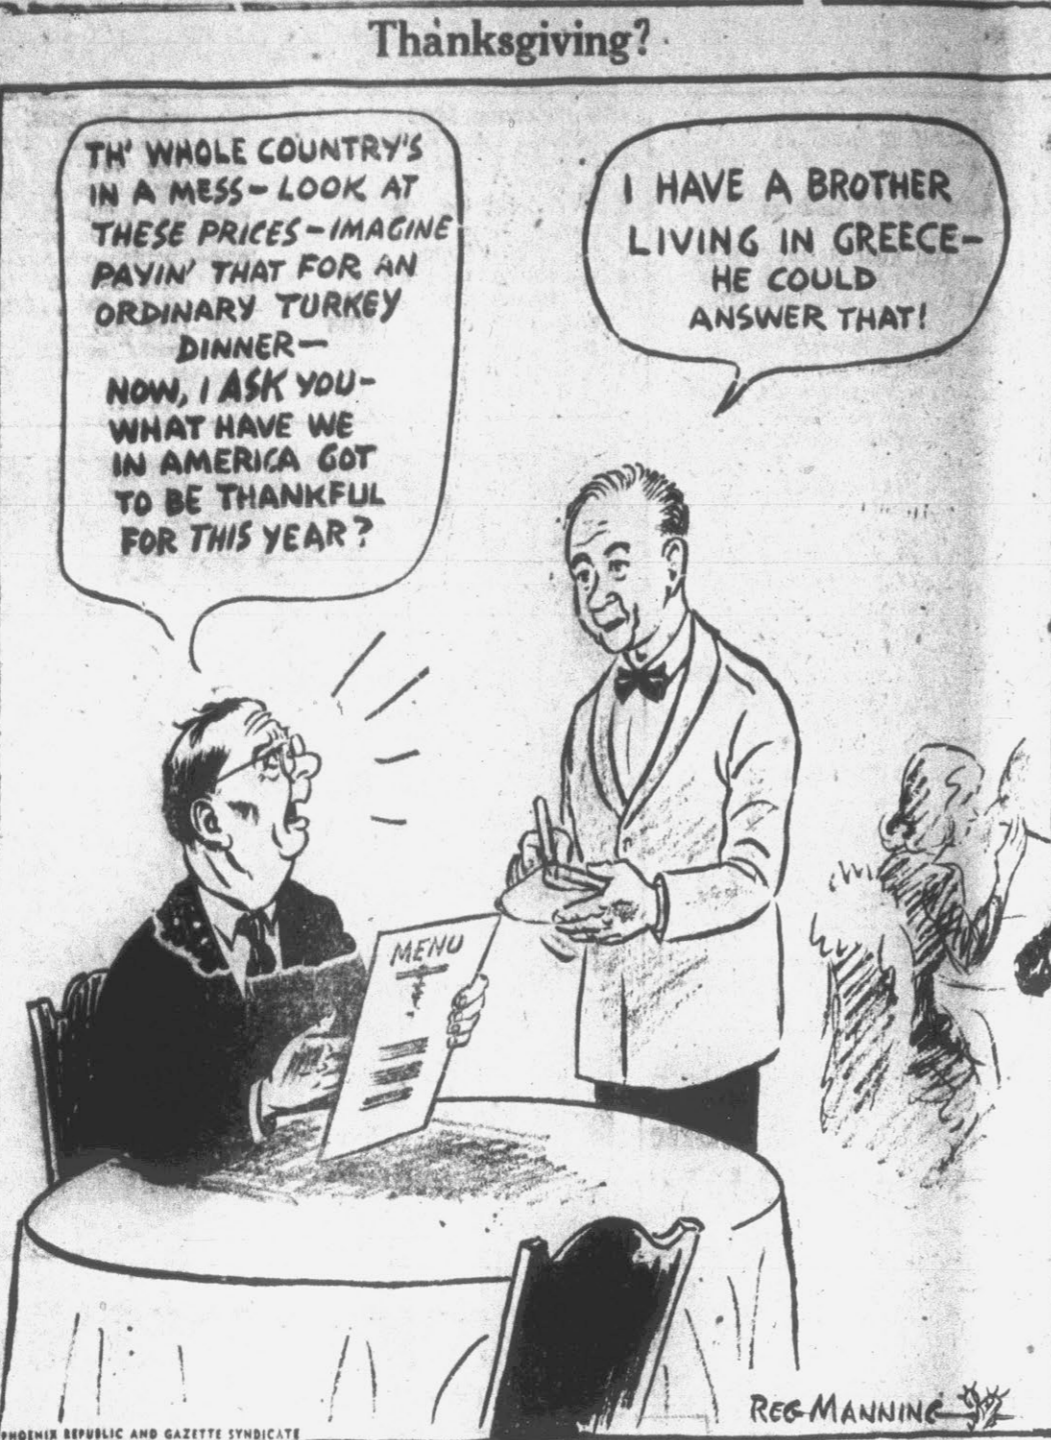

Some of the 15 new types of insects already have spread throughout the eight main islands, stripping trees and bushes.

One of the most recent arrivals is the mango fruit fly. Immediately upon its discovery in some trees in down town Honolulu, an embargo on fruit shipments to the other islands was imposed. Despite these precautions, the pest is now firmly established throughout the territory. Experts believe it probably never can be eliminated.

At present, sugar and pineapples—the economic life blood of Hawaii—have not been affected seriously, but entomologists have small hope of their escaping unless the insects can be brought under control quickly.

Both crops are highly vulnerable to insect pests. In 1900, the sugar cane hopper was first discovered in Hawaii and the sugar production, now averaging nearly a million tons annually, dropped to less than 300,000 tons. The hopper finally was controlled by the introduction of a natural enemy—a parasite—from Australia.

In 1910 the cane borer caused millions of dollars damage before another natural enemy was found.

Because of the large volume of air traffic through Hawaii reaching as high as 1,500 planes a month—entomologists are unable to determine the exact origin of some of the new insects, but evidence points to the American island of Guam as the probable source of two particularly dangerous moths

"Big John" . . .

(Continued from Page One) let when he comes out of doors? It's like a one-man parade when he comes out: the big hat, the big eyebrows, the eyes burning brightly like candles deep in his face.

Then the walk starts, slow, almost funeral slow, one foot laid down solemnly in front of the other.

From under the hat he surveys when he bothers to look at all—the small wave of human faces which flows up to him: a dozen reporters, or maybe forty, or more.

They've been waiting hopefully for hours, thinking maybe this time Big John will open up. One of them pipes: "What's the news, Mr. Lewis?"

Big John stops and throws up his hands, almost tragically. He says one word: "Gentlemen." Sometimes he says sadly, it seems: "You should know better than that."

Sometimes he just doesn't answer but stops and stares for a while at the courageous man who asked the question. Then he plows forward. The little wave of faces melts away.

This is all right, for Big John. It's a technique: mystery, the silence that shrouds great and grave events.

He's been using it a long time. It works pretty well, too, for Big John. By saying one word or no word he gets as much publicity as many men who make a speech.

But, brother, it gets monotonous.

Speculation . . .

(Continued on Page Eight) British interminable embarrassment through the world. And if we tried it and didn't make it stick, the possibilities of an amicable settlement between Russian and western interest in Europe would be more remote than ever.

If we tried it and did make it stick, however, the communists may decide to settle down to develop what they have and drop, at least for a while their dreams of expansion. And it might save some western conscience sover what has happened to some of the countries for whose liberties they ostensibly went to war.

Cherry . . .

(Continued from Page One) Or the health program, the Governor said, "it would seem that our trouble with the health program comes from ignorance, poverty and lack of sanitation.

"I am sure that a great amount of good could be accomplished by placing greater emphasis on teaching health in our schools, encouraging better sanitation in our homes and giving assistance in preventing the spread of communicable disease. Our low per capita earnings are at the bottom of both ignorance and poverty."

Attorneys Fail . . .

(Continued on Page Eight) Lawyers for Lewis argued that operation of the coal mines is not a sovereign function of the government, and that the government itself does not regard the miners as government employees.

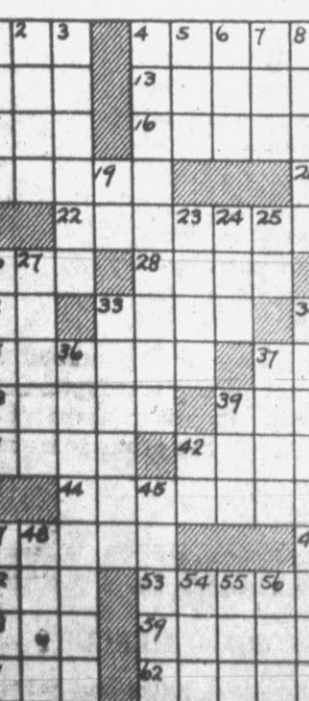

Lewis' attorneys contended that the government was directly responsible for the soft coal walkout. "There need not have been any cessation of employment—there would not be today," counsel for Lewis said, "if the government-

Food Shortage . . .

They said a long stoppage of corn production would make an already bad shortage of food fats and oils.

considerably worse. They reported that some West Coast copra crushing plants already have been closed, and that plants for crushing soybeans, flaxseed and cottonseed face the same prospect.

The effect of the strike on food exports will depend, they said, on the length of the strike. They said rail movement of food to ports probably won't be hampered for a time. Shortages of coal for processing plants, or curtailment of electrical energy for such plants, may have more serious repercussions in Japan, Formosa and other countries.

Camphor is obtained from the tree beyond a few inches, and camphor laurel, a tree which flourishes in dim light.

MOUZON FALLS TO 'BOBCAT'

Montgomery KO's Youngster In Eighth Round Of Match

Philadelphia, Nov. 27—(AP)—The 27-year-old Bobcat Bob Montgomery always wins the last battle—or the one that counts when the chips are down.

He did it again last night by stifling Whirlwind Wesley Mouzon, a 19-year-old streak of dark brown lightning, in eight rounds to hang onto his half of the world lightweight championship. Just when everyone figured he was all washed up.

Afterwards Montgomery was grinning in his dressing room and chiding some of those who thought Whirlwind Wesley would knock him out in two rounds—as he did last August.

"A lot of you guys said I was all washed up, and one more fight and I'd go into business," he reminded, "but here I am—still the champ."

Bob proved it before 12,416 customers who paid $84,414 for tickets and jammed Convention Hall to the rafters. It was the biggest indoor fight gate in Quake City swatting history.

Promoters had built this one up as a grudge match, from ill feeling accumulated since last August's short-and-sweet scramble, and it turned out to be exactly as advertised. The two went at it as if they were going to knock each other's head off. Wesley took the first three rounds on his speed and jabs. Bob slowed Mouzon down with body blows, softened him up with rights, and finally caved the roof in with a long left hook at 2:18 of the eighth.

Mouzon was surprisingly light last night at 132 3/4. Montgomery weighed 135 on the button.

PIRATES SET FOR CONTEST

First-Stringers In Starting Line-Up; Game Time Is 2:15

The Pirates of East Carolina Teachers College are set for their Thanksgiving game tomorrow at 2:15 in Guy Smith Stadium, where they will meet the Pope Field Flyers of Fort Bragg. Fans are hoping for a turn in the weather so that the contest can take place.

The game, the only Thanksgiving contest to be played in this section of the state, is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the benefit of the college athletic fund.

Coach Jim Johnson will have his first line players in the starting lineup, and indications are that the game will be a hard-fought contest. The Pope Field Flyers had a successful season on the base at Fort Bragg. It remains to be seen what they can do when they meet the strong opposition offered by a college team such as the Pirates.

PONTIAC
FINEST OF THE FAMOUS "SILVER STREAKS"

The production of Pontiacs has fallen far below expectations because of conditions beyond our control. Now, the outlook is encouraging. The number of cars being built—while still below pre-war levels—is steadily increasing. Which means that more of the people who simply won't have anything but a Pontiac will be satisfied sooner.

If, in the meantime, you are ever tempted to take delivery of a more quickly available car, consider this: The things that made you want a Pontiac in the first place are still EXCLUSIVE TO PONTIAC! Nowhere else at any price can you get the same time-won reputation for dependability, long life and over-all economy. No other car offers the ever-fashionable "Silver Streak" beauty that lifts Pontiac out of and above the rest. None handles so sweetly—rides so comfortably. And none can parallel Pontiac's basic value—for no other car offers so much of everything you want for every dollar you invest.

You've been patient and loyal to Pontiac for some time now. So why not wait a little longer and get a great deal more? You'll be glad you waited.

Preventive Service Pays Off Every Time!
Just because you HOPE to get a new car soon, don't let your present car get into a dangerous state of disrepair. Having your car properly serviced pays off—not only in assuring you the safe, economical, dependable transportation you need, but also in protecting the used car allowance you will ultimately receive.
