Russia Attacks A-Bomb Menace

Spokesmen Warn U.S. Must Guard Against Failure Of A-1 Atomic Bomb Commission

Lake Success, N. Y., Nov. 29.—Kuzma V. Kiselev, foreign minister of White Russia, told the United Nations today there now is a warning of a third world war with atomic factories working at full power and added: "The monopolistic possession of the atom bomb cannot last forever."

He was joined in the Russian effort to scrap the atom bomb by Andrei Vishinsky, deputy foreign minister of the Soviet Union, who said: "The atom bomb is a sword of Damocles suspended by a thin thread. Only by removing such a menace can we establish security."

Kiselev took the floor after Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) demanded that the U. N. take action on an arms reduction plan at the current session of the general assembly and cautioned against any move to side track the atomic energy commission.

Connally did not mention the chance of the veto in any inspection system, a possibility which already has been under fire following Russia's acceptance of the international checks under the security council.

Welcoming the surprise Soviet agreement to international inspections in the field of arms and atom bombs, Connally said that in the light of statements by Stalin and Molotov that he hoped it would be possible now for the atomic commission to end its stalemate and reach an agreement on a system of direct international control of atomic energy with effective safeguards.

Earlier Australia challenged Russia's proposal with a demand for assurance that any system of U. N. control and inspection would not be subject to veto by the Soviet Union and other great powers.

Delegate Norman J. D. Munn, leading off the reaction to Soviet Minister Molotov's surprise agreement to international inspections, warned the 54-nation political committee that under present wording "the whole system of control could be made subject to the will of any permanent member of the security council."

Armament Inspection

Check-Ups On International Disarmament Pushed By Britain Is Not Yet Dead Duck; Book By Naval Intelligence Officer Contributes To New Understanding

Just before V-J Day a strange open letter appeared in the Washington Post explaining to the Japanese what "unconditional surrender" meant and disabusing their minds of the "utter destruction" fears their militarists still were seeking to implant.

Informed circles immediately spotted the letter as something out of the ordinary, as, in fact, an official communication designed to be picked up and communicated to Tokyo, and fingers began to point to Capt. Ellis M. Zacharias of the S. Naval Intelligence, then assigned to the office of war information. Zacharias has been trying for some time, using information gathered during many years, to reach the Japanese through psychological warfare. The revelations by Japanese after the war, and of the Pearl Harbor investigation, soon had people talking about him as one of the

Georgia Vote Is Again Attacked

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—L. P. Glass of Watkinsville, Ga., has petitioned the Supreme Court to set aside results of Georgia's recent general election and to order another one.

The petition, on file today at the court, claims the Nov. 5 ballot, as printed at Georgia, was rigged in favor of the Democrats and was "unfair and illegal" in seven particular instances.

The Supreme Court recently declined twice to interfere in Georgia primary balloting, challenged in suits charging that the state's "quota-unit system was unconstitutional.

PHONE RATES ARE APPROVED

State Utilities Commission Authorizes Increased Cost

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 29.—(AP)—The State Utilities Commission has authorized the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company to charge state customers an additional 50 per cent in business shops and industrial long-distance rates, Stanley Winborne, commission chairman, said today.

The commission order stressed that costs may be lowered if conditions improve, and reserved the right to make adjustments during the next 14 months.

It was explained in the commission order that present rates on the income of the company are so high that to enable it to make $50,000 needed to keep the phone company on a financially sound basis, the gross amount would have to be raised to $92,000.

New rates are effective December 1. Winborne said, authorizing five-cent long-distance phone increases and $1.75 per month on business phone bills.

The net increases to the company, Winborne said, will total $300,000 in business rates and $228,000 in toll rates.

The Southern Bell petition, presented here October 23-26, is to be the first presented other utilities commissions in Southern states (Continued on Page Eight)

Premier Leaves Sunday To Appear Before United Nations

Athens, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Premier Constantin Tsaldaris is scheduled to fly to New York Sunday with the presumed aim of laying before the United Nations a complaint that Greece's northern border has been violated in continuing fighting between leftist bands and Greek troops.

Passage for him, his wife and two assistants was booked yesterday.

The Greek government has repeatedly asserted the bands have been supplied from within Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

The Greek information office in London said Monday that a formal complaint would be made to the U. N. Security Council.

In Sofia yesterday, George Dimitrov, Bulgaria's new Communist premier, told the Grand National Assembly his government "categorically rejects the slanderous accusations x x x that bands from Bulgaria have penetrated Greek territory." "He said he stood for a just and worthy peace with the United Nations, sincere collaboration with all neighbors, including the Greek people, and continuous friendship (Continued on page eight)

Greenville Leaf Market Winds Up Record Year

Close Of Tuesday's Sale Sees Most Successful Year In Market's Entire History End; Initial Handicaps Overcome

W. L. Whedbee, Sales Supervisor, announced today that "with the completion of Tuesday's sale the Greenville Tobacco Market brought to a close the most successful year in the market's entire history. The final figures for the entire year's sales (which include every pound of tobacco sold in Greenville through the closing of the market on Tuesday) are 63,461,002 pounds of tobacco which sold for $36,128,381.89 or an average of 52.76 per hundred pounds. Whedbee stated that this average included the sale of scrap tobacco.

The average for every pound of original producers sales was ever higher, being the astounding figure of $54.23 per hundred pounds. There has never before been such a high average on the Greenville Tobacco Market, not even in 1919.

Whedbee stated that these figures were particularly gratifying to tobaccoists, businessmen and merchants of Greenville alike, in that this year Greenville sold 8 million more pounds of tobacco than was sold here last year, and in fact sold more tobacco this year than has ever been sold on the Greenville market since crop control was re-established in 1940. The full significance of this record can only be realized by recalling the then-alarms fact that a large portion of Greenville's normal drawing territory was drowned out this summer in the months of June and July, while the tobacco crop was still in the field. Thousands of acres of tobacco in this section were a complete loss. This year, of necessity, Greenville's excess poundage had to be drawn from sections of the State which had never before sold their tobacco in Greenville and which had not suffered the devastating rains which played such havoc with the counties east of Greenville (Continued on Page Six)

Lewis Ordered To Stand Trial For Disobeying Court Order; Judge Upholds Right Of Court To Issue Restraining Order; Goldsborough To Be Sole Arbitrator

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—John L. Lewis today entered a formal plea of "not guilty" as Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough resumed the contempt of court action against him.

The United Mine Workers' president also waived any right to an advisory jury, leaving the district court judge sole arbitrator of the case. In ordering Lewis to trial for disobeying a court order to cancel his soft coal contract with the Government, Goldsborough upheld the court's right to issue such an order despite federal anti-injunction laws.

The Government immediately presented Navy Capt. Norman H. Collison, Federal Coal Mines Administrator, as first witness against the leader of 400,000 striking miners.

One of Lewis' lawyers immediately objected to Collison's testimony on the ground that the whole proceeding was illegal.

Overruling Lewis' motion for dismissal of the contempt action brought by the Government, Goldsborough declared: "The Norris-LaGuardia Act did not and does not apply, and the court has the same rights as it had prior to passage of the Norris-LaGuardia Act."

Goldsborough said his court had the right to enjoin "a labor union which was about to do something against the good of the public and the union itself."

Lewis and his United Mine Workers contended that the Norris-LaGuardia Act, curbing the use of restraining orders and injunctions in labor disputes, nullified Goldsborough's restraining order of Nov. 18 and was grounds for dismissal of the whole contempt of court action, saying Lewis had the right to ignore it.

Government attorneys on the other hand contended the law did not apply where the Government itself was acting as operator of the 3,300 soft coal mines seized during another crippling strike last spring.

Goldsborough's ruling cut short a day and a half of argument by attorneys for Lewis that the court lacked authority to restrain the UMW from terminating its Government contract. This notice by Lewis was followed by a walkout of 400,000 miners.

"The court repeats," Goldsborough said, "that this proceeding was for the sole purpose of maintaining the status quo in this dispute."

Before handing down his decision, the judge had remarked that Lewis in effect had "pleaded guilty" to contempt by refusing to obey the court's order to keep the coal contract in force.

This was promptly challenged by one of Lewis' lawyers, T. C. Townsend, who said: "He hasn't entered any plea of guilty, your honor."

After some argument over legal technicalities, the judge ruled: "The motion to discharge and vacate the motion is overruled."

Truman Advised To Reduce Legislation

REFUGEE MOVE IS RULED OUT

Palestine Court Thwarts Effort Against Deportation

Jerusalem, Nov. 29.—(AP)—The Palestine government's high court thwarted today an effort to prevent deportation to Cyprus of nearly 4,000 Jewish refugees, and speculation promptly arose that the ruling might provoke a renewal of underground violence, dormant for 10 days.

The court discharged a habeas Corpus writ granted Monday to Jewish lawyers, who had filed an action demanding the Palestine government show cause why the refugees should be deported.

The Jews arrived off Palestine without immigration certificates aboard the risky freighter Lechita. Two of them were killed in an hour's riot at Haifa Jetty Monday, incidental to their transfer to three British ships, which since have been cruising in territorial waters. These ships are now expected to take the refugees to Cyprus, where 6,000 passengers of two previous refugee ships are detained.

Usually moderate Jewish sources said today's ruling, while "perfectly legal," might cause extremist elements of Irgun Zvai Leumi and the so-called Stern Gang to "take matters into their own hands again."

They pointed out a trace in underground operations had been prepared for the last 10 days but added that new deportations "could provide a spark that will set the terror off again."

Capitol Hill Friends Urge President To Center Fire On Fewer Major Issues To Capture GOP Cooperation

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—President Truman reportedly is being urged by some Capitol Hill friends to center his fire on a few major issues in recommendations to the new Republican-controlled Congress.

Several influential Democrats said privately they hope Mr. Truman produces middle of the road proposals for legislation on labor housing, taxes and expenditures the military draft and possibly army-navy merger.

They would prefer that he not attempt to cover the broad field of suggestions he made to the last Congress.

At that time Mr. Truman asked a legislative branch nominally controlled by the Democrats to act on 21 separate proposals. Republicans and anti-administration Democrats joined in smacking down many of these and altering others out of recognizable form.

With the Republicans now in control of the legislative machinery and likely to pursue their own objectives, many of the Democrats think it would be wise for the president to present his ideas only on top issues.

One of these is likely to be labor control legislation, on which the congressional approach probably will be affected vitally by whether the coal mines still are idle when the legislators meet Jan. 3.

Jurist's Decisions

The Case Of Lewis vs. Uncle Sam Presents Many Important Issues That Must Be Decided Upon By Judge Goldsborough; Precedents Will Be Established

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Today John L. Lewis' struggle with Government centers on the Norris-LaGuardia Act.

This act, passed by Congress in 1932, still stands, unchanged. It has helped unions tremendously. In almost all cases—the exceptions are too detailed to go into here—it forbids a federal judge to interfere in a labor dispute.

Until this act was passed, employers crippled many unions by getting federal judges to forbid their striking.

There were two ways in which judges fixed to do this: 1. By issuing a restraining order. This was just a temporary order—say for 10 days—to a union not to strike. 2. Then by issuing an injunction. This was a permanent order to a union not to strike. The Norris-LaGuardia Act pre-

Thanksgiving Day Service
The Christian Science Society in Greenville held a Thanksgiving service as usual on Thanksgiving Day at eleven o'clock, conducted by the First Reader, Edward Harris.

The Thanksgiving Proclamation by the President of the United States was made a part of the service.

"Thanksgiving" was the subject of the lesson-sermon. The Golden Text was from Colossians 3:15. "Let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to which also ye are called in one body, and be ye thankful."

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name." (Psalms 100:1,4).

Selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following: "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more. Gratitude is much more than a verbal expression of thanks."

In Memoriam
Elda—In sad loving memory of our daughter and sister, Elda Scott, who died one year ago today, November 29, 1945.
The dearest one in all the world Has gone away to stay.
A broken heart is all we have, Since you have gone away.
She little thought when leaving home That she would never return.
That she so soon in death would sleep.
And leave us here to mourn.

Bell's Pharmacy

We can see her face before us now, Still feel her hands in ours, That sweet last look she gave to us, Still lingers in our minds, No one knows how much we miss her.
No one knows the bitter pain We have suffered since we lost her. Life will never be the same. We have had our share of sorrow, We have had our heavy loss, But for the sake of Jesus, We will try to bear our cross. You are gone, but not forgotten, Never will your memory fade, Loving thoughts will always linger Around the grave where you are laid.

American Legion Auxiliary
On Monday afternoon, November 25, the American Legion Auxiliary, honoring the Gold Star Mothers, met at the home of Mrs. J. L. Evans with about twenty six members present.
The Gold Star Mothers were presented corsages. There were five Gold Star Mothers present, Mrs. J. L. Rollins, Mrs. Walter Cherry, Mrs. F. V. Johnston, Mrs. J. B. Spilman and Mrs. Wiley Brown.
The president of the auxiliary, Mrs. J. R. Worsley, presided over the business session.
The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Wiley Brown, our chaplain, followed by the singing of "America", and the reading of the Preamble together. Secretary's and treasurer's report and reports from the various committees were heard and discussed.
It was announced that the gifts for the service men's Christmas Gift Shop at Oteen had been mailed. A motion was passed to send money to buy sweaters for seven patients at Oteen.

Gifts for Yanks was discussed and volunteers were asked to help wrap the gifts.
The Child Welfare Committee asked the families in need be reported to Mrs. H. R. Rogers and the cases would be investigated, and help given according to their needs.
It was decided that the December 16 meeting be held at the home of Mrs. Woodrow Worthington in Winterville.
Mrs. Alfred Kennedy, Jr., chairman of the Membership Committee, introduced two new members—Mrs.

Leland Mizelle and Mrs. J. W. Allen. Also two guests—Mrs. Henry Renfrew and Mrs. Tew.
Mrs. Frank Taylor introduced the guest speaker, Dr. R. W. Bradshaw. Dr. Bradshaw gave an inspiring and consoling talk to the Gold Star Mothers and the auxiliary.
We, like Dr. Bradshaw, wonder if we will ever be able to pay the debt that we owe to our boys who sacrificed their all that we might have World Peace. We can only try.
At the close of the program a dessert course was served with nuts and cookies.
The assisting hostesses were: Mrs. Simon Tucker, Mrs. L. Baker.

Miss Grace Smith and Mrs. S. L. The United Kingdom has 178,000 miles of highways.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By HARRIET DOUGLAS

RATIONALISM AND FAITH

There was a sect in Jesus' time known as Sadducees. They opposed Jesus and his ministry, and, along with the Pharisees, brought him to his death. We are told of these Sadducees that they disbelieved in angels and in the possibility of a spiritual life.

That of course was the trouble with the Sadducees. They were the rationalists of their day. Furthermore, they had the reputation of always knowing on which side their bread was buttered. They scoffed at the idea that messengers of God were constantly coming to human hearts to carry out some commission from on high.

The sect of the Sadducees perished long ago. Historically, they are extinct; actually, they exist today and are about as prominent and influential as they were two thousand years ago.

There is many a person today who thoroughly disbelieves in all things spiritual. He calls for proof of the existence of God and then proceeds to define proof as something which transpires within a laboratory. There is plenty of proof of the existence of God in the experience of those who put their trust in Him. People who cultivate a relationship with God in the unseen world are quite sure that God heals the broken heart, stills the turbulent mind, and guides us in the midst of our bewilderment.

The believer lives in a world quite different from that of the rationalist because "faith is the giving substance to things hoped for, a conviction of things not seen."

Inspections . . .

a very lively current problem.
The United States has proposed to yield the secrets of atomic power to international control whenever an effective inspection system has been set up to prevent its military use.

The problem of military inspection is inherent in other issues before the United Nations. The British have just failed to get it used as a check on the veracity of forthcoming reports on the size and deployment of armies. It is obvious that it is going to be one of the reliances in whatever peace machinery is evolved.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's statement yesterday accepting the principal of international inspection machinery along with other statements in this field make it certain it will be one of the prime factors in discussions.

Zacharias' story serves to emphasize the necessity for extreme care before the safety of the U. S. is left to international inspection. Von Rintelen, says Zacharias once pointed out that the U. S. in those days made virtually no effort to hide its military developments but added, and this is the point of such significance to planners of international inspection systems:

"The U. S. is too vast with developments going on simultaneously at distances of thousands of miles, interrelated as they are and requiring simultaneous observation. . . . It would require hundreds of highly qualified agents and no intelligence service can afford to concentrate such a huge army . . . in any one country."

Jurist's Decisions . . .

he could dig into the case, the judge told Lewis:

1. For the 10 days ending Nov. 27 you are under a restraining order not to tear up your contract.

2. On Nov. 27 you and the Government can come into court and argue whether an injunction should be issued to keep you from tearing up your contract.

(The judge hadn't decided about issuing an injunction against Lewis. He wasn't going to decide that until he had heard both sides.)

But Lewis didn't wait for a hearing on the injunction. He just ignored the temporary restraining order. He let his contract stay torn. His miners walked out.

Why did Lewis ignore the restraining order?
His lawyers point to the Norris-

Leaf Market . . .

ville, and upon which counties we have heretofore depended for a large part of our poundage on the Greenville market.

That the Greenville market was able, in spite of this initial setback, to come from behind and forge ahead into a record-breaking year, is a tribute to hard work and the fine spirit of cooperation which has existed throughout the entire year between the tobaccoists, businessmen and merchants of this city. They can all be justly proud of the part which they have played in setting this fine record. The results which have been obtained this year by cooperative effort and a wider scope of advertising point out plainly the path that we should follow next year and in the years to come. It has paid off big in cash this year for every man, woman and child in this community.

Wedges stated that the 36 million dollars which has been paid out by the Greenville market this year set an "all time" high record. It is eleven million more dollars than has ever been paid out in any year since the market was established.

The Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade, said Wedges, wishes to express its appreciation to every farmer and businessman who has sold his tobacco in Greenville this year and to cordially invite every one of them to repeat this mutually profitable practice next year and every year in the future.

In concluding his remarks, Wedges stated that he wished to again urge every farmer and businessman who has raised a single pound of tobacco this year to do three things in the immediate future, in order to help realize the prosperity with which we have been blessed this year:

1. First, to save and bank at least a part of this year's greatly increased income as a bulwark against future years, which may not prove to be so spectacular.

2. Second, to do everything in their power to see that the crop is produced at much less cost than the present crop, which was so expensive to the farmer.

3. Third, to close this present year with an honest and sincere spirit of Thanksgiving; thankful that this year, upon the citizens of this community, God has seen fit to send the dual blessings of both peace and prosperity.

LaGuardia Act and say that, under the act, the judge had no right to issue even a restraining order to Lewis since Lewis was having a labor dispute.

They were saving here that, since they thought the judge had no right to issue any order at all, there was no reason for Lewis to obey it. But the Government lawyers argue:

1. In this case it was the Government, not a private employer which had a contract with a union. The Norris-LaGuardia Act covers only union contracts with private employers.

2. Therefore, the judge had a right to issue the order since the Norris-LaGuardia Act nowhere forbids court interference in a labor dispute involving the Government.

The judge tells Lewis that anyone—even though he thinks the courts have no right to issue a restraining order—must obey it because there'd be "anarchy" if everyone could disobey court orders.

Now the judge will have to rule on whether he had a right, under the Norris-LaGuardia Act, to issue a restraining order against Lewis.

But even if the judge decides he had no right to issue the order, he still will have to decide whether Lewis, once the order was issued should have obeyed it anyway.

If the judge decides that he, the judge, was wrong in issuing the order but that Lewis was wrong in disobeying it, he can fine or jail Lewis.

Because of all the fuss over the restraining order, the judge has not had time to hear arguments as to whether he should issue an injunction against Lewis to prevent a mine walkout, which has occurred already.)

The new turn in developments which beclouded the game's fate earlier in the week was announced here last night by C. R. Joyner president of the North Carolina High School Athletic Association. Joyner previously had announced that the AA title was forfeited to Wilson because Greensboro refused to play on the latter's home ground.

The statements were attributed to Shaughnessy by the Post in a story which said he would be relieved of his coaching job at the end of the season.
