MORE WORKERS LAID OFF DUE LACK OF COAL

Steel Furnaces Banked; Railroads Fee Pinch; Schools Closed

Pittsburgh, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Fires were banked in more of the nation's steel making furnaces today as the 13-day strike of 400,000 AFL-United Mine Workers forced idleness on nearly 150,000 other workers.

In Pittsburgh, heart of the steel and soft coal industry, the Pennsylvania employment service reported an estimated 23,000 workers idled by the coal walkout will become eligible for jobless pay this week.

Most of them are steel workers, who will be asking unemployment compensation for the fourth time in a year; first, last January during the steel strike; then during the coal strike of last spring; the power strike of October and the present crisis.

Coal using railroads felt the pinch of dwindling fuel supplies laying off an additional 6,400 workers. The Southern Railway at Washington, D. C., laid off 5,000. The Baltimore & Ohio an additional 1,062. The Norfolk and Western and the New York Central 350 at Columbus.

Ernest E. Norris, president of the Southern Railway, said the number idled will increase rapidly if the coal stoppage continues.

In Schenectady, N. Y., General Electric Corp. laid off 700 more workers today, bringing its idle total to 1,200. J. M. Howell, general works manager, said if the strike continues, one half of General Electric's 22,000 workers will be forced out of jobs.

In Colorado where trees were being cut for fuel in the Denver shelter belts, the Colorado Fuel & Iron Corp. laid off 415 of its 5,000 workers. Company officials said work on the layoffs will begin by the end of the week.

Hundreds of schools throughout the nation were closed because there was no heat. W. T. Middlebrook, business vice president of the University of Minnesota, said the school would also become a coal strike casualty after the holidays if the strike is still on. In Utah, Brigham Young University which was among the first schools to close during the crisis, installed oil burners and planned to resume classes Wednesday.

Rough Going For Antarctic Ships

Aboard the U. S. S. Mt. Olympus Dec. 3.—(AP)—Heavy seas made the going rough today as the Navy's Antarctic expedition pushed southward, heading for the Panama Canal.

Off Hatteras last night swells rolled the four ships of this contingent until dishes were smashed by the dozens.

The flotilla, which includes the flagship, a destroyer, a seaplane tender and an icebreaker, is due at Panama Saturday. After traversing the canal, the ships will head southward for a rendezvous with other vessels from West Coast ports.

The 4,000-man expedition is under command of Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd of polar expedition fame. Four months of exploration and scientific-military testing are planned.

OPA Offices In State Shrinking

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Two-thirds of the Office of Price Administration force in North Carolina or about 330 employees have received separation notices. The State OPA office passed from existence Sunday midnight.

State officials, including Director Theodore S. Johnson and heads of departments, will remain on the government payroll until the state office completes its liquidation about January 1.

Price control and rationing duties in North Carolina now will be handled through Atlanta, Ga., but a branch enforcement office for the Carolinas and Virginia will be maintained here.

Woman Selected For Jury In Mecklenburg

Lost Bones Of Cortes Found

While historians stand by as witnesses, government authorities remove the crystal and gold urn said to contain the remains of Hernando Cortes, conqueror of Mexico, from a niche in the wall of an abandoned chapel in Mexico City. Encased in a cloth-covered wooden box, the urn holds a skull, some bones, and a rolled document which were pronounced authentic. They had been lost for 123 years. (AP Wirephoto.)

Merge Policy In Germany Formed

Anglo-British Economic Merger In German Occupation Zones Announced By Bevin And Byrnes; Secretary Of State Discloses Plans To Put Before Ministers

New York, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes, jointly announcing with Foreign Minister Bevin a British American economic merger in Germany, declared today that he would ask the big four foreign ministers to discuss peace plans for Austria as well as Germany before ending their New York sessions.

Byrnes and Bevin said in a statement that the zone economic merger would become effective January 1, that it should make 40,000,000 Germans self-sufficient in three years and that they hoped it would lead to discussions with Russia and France for the economic unification of all Germany.

Byrnes discussed the radical new agreement, which diplomats consider the most important development in allied policy on Germany since the occupation started, at a news conference. It was his first meeting with reporters since the foreign ministers council was opened here a month ago.

He made these major disclosures: 1. The foreign ministers council, in his opinion, may wind up this week the peace treaties for Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland and proceed at once to a discussion of the German question.

2. On Germany, Byrnes intends to insist, as he had previously said he would, on a discussion of Germany's western frontiers—chiefly whether France should get the Saar and have the Ruhr internationalized.

3. The U. S. will ask that the Austrian question be taken up here. (Continued on Page Four)

Indian Round-Table

Discussions Starting Today Between Nehru, Jinnah And The British Government Ranks Among Vital Issues Of Our Times; Background To India Problem

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.

There's plenty to distract our attention here at home—what with the cold-weather to remind us of the wintry potentialities of the coal stoppage, and the heavy gunfire in our U. N. peace organization—but let's not overlook that impending Indian round-table conference which opened today in London.

The Indian problem ranks among the vital issues of our time. Failure to reach a satisfactory solution might result in the catastrophe of civil war in that country. That's a hard thing to have to say, but it's true and it is well that we recognize the fact. The round-table conference is a momentous affair.

U. S. DECLARES BLOODSHED IN FRANCO MOVES

Contends Isolation Of Spain May Start War Involving Others

Lake Success, N. Y., Dec. 3.—(AP)—The United States contended today that adoption of Polish and White Russian measures to isolate Franco Spain could lead to a bloody civil strife which might eventually involve other nations in a new war.

Senator Tom Connally (D-Tex.), setting forth the views of the U. S. before the 54-member political committee of the United Nations assembly, declared that the approval of either proposal would produce no positive results beyond cutting the Spanish people off from the rest of the world.

On the negative side, he said they might well lead to civil strife with serious international ramifications. He added that the proposals might array various Spanish factions against each other and enlist the support of various members of the United Nations.

He referred to Poland's resolution calling for a worldwide diplomatic break with the Franco government and the White Russian proposal asking for economic sanctions.

Connally joined the Spanish debate after a list of small countries had spoken for and against the various measures now before the committee, including a U. S. resolution introduced late yesterday proposing that the assembly ask Generalissimo Franco to step down as the leader of the Spanish government. The committee decided to defer. IRON LUNG NEEDED HERE

Firemen Ask Donations For Special Rescue Equipment

By CHESTER WALSH The Greenville Fire Department is adding to its equipment an emergency truck in order to be more efficient in all kinds of rescue and life-saving work, together with stretcher cases. The truck will be three-quarter ton, with special designed body. It will be equipped with police radio and will carry every type of portable rescue and life-saving equipment. The rescue truck will be available for service in Greenville and surrounding territory. Chief George Gardner said: "The only other truck of this type in the State is at Salisbury and was donated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. It is hoped that the citizens of Greenville and Pitt County will contribute sufficient funds to buy and equip the rescue truck. It is also planned to buy a Mullikin automatic lung, or 'iron lung,' as the life-saving implement is generally known.

When a woman was seriously injured in an automobile wreck last Sunday and taken to a hospital here an 'iron lung' was desperately needed to prolong or save her life when her respiratory system was paralyzed. She died before state highway patrolmen arrived here from Raleigh with an 'iron lung.' (Continued on Page Eight)

The India office spokesman said as the sessions started today, that the talks were "crucial." Other authoritative sources have said that failure to settle the differences might be followed by civil war in India.

Lawyers Directed To Offer Views Of Possible Penalty

Awaits Sentence Of Court

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, today awaits sentence after having been found guilty of contempt of court in the soft coal strike by Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough. Lewis restated his defense in the history-making trial without offering a word of testimony in rebuttal. The court said sentence would be pronounced tomorrow.

Sentence Within Discretion Of Court, No Limits Set By Law; Verdict Announced After Lewis Makes Short Statement To Court Attacking Use Of Injunctions; UMW Head Released Free Of Bond In Custody Of Counsel

By ASSOCIATED PRESS Washington, Dec. 3.—(AP)—John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers were held "guilty of contempt of court" today for disregarding an order designed to avert the soft coal strike. Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, who handed down the historic verdict after five days of court proceedings, deferred sentence until tomorrow.

The penalties in fines or jail sentences are within the discretion of the court. The law sets no maximum or minimum in contempt cases. Opposing attorneys were directed by Judge Goldsborough to submit their recommendations tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

The verdict was announced after Lewis, making his first public utterance since before the 13-day-old strike, had spoken out against "this ugly recrudescence of government by injunction." He referred to the court's restraining order directing him to withdraw his contact termination notice, which led to the strike. Lewis declared the order deprive es the miners of their constitutional rights as American citizens. Pending sentence, Goldsborough directed that Lewis go free of bond in custody of his counsel.

AFL General Counsel Joseph A. ... "The court did not need to add 'in custody of counsel.'"

Lewis, Padway said, will be in court of his own free will at any time the judge orders.

In announcing his verdict, Judge Goldsborough emphasized that Lewis was guilty both individually and as president of UMW, and that UMW is separately guilty.

Then he said quietly that having found Lewis guilty of contempt, he considered the question of sentence "of course very important."

"While it may be somewhat unusual, but certainly not improper," he said, "the court would like to have the views of counsel for the defendants and counsel for the government as to what these sentences should be.

Neither the government nor defense lawyers would discuss with reporters the question of penalties. When Lewis was asked for comment, he merely shook his head and turned.

After the judge announced his verdict, Lewis asked for and was granted permission to make a statement.

"The history of labor injunctions prior to 1932 is a sordid one," Lewis began in somber tones. It was his first public statement since before the soft coal strike began on Nov. 20.

Lewis stood facing the judge with his broad back to the crowded courtroom. After reviewing a history of government statutes forbidding the courts to restrain strikes, he turned quickly to coal strike issues and inveighed against "the deadly brutal 54-hour work week in American coal mines."

Lewis asserted the UMW had been impelled to announce termination of its contract with the government on November 13, 1946, and the contempt proceeding against Lewis and the UMW.

After his announcement that the contract was ended, Lewis said the government in violation of the Norris-La Guardia (anti-injunction) act asked for a restraining order and it was granted without notice and without hearing.

Sonorously he went on, denouncing this coercive and all-embracing restraining order, which he was accused of ignoring.

Speaking officially as president of the UMW and vice-president of the AFL with 8,000,000 members, Lewis said he could not subscribe to this ugly recrudescence of government by injunction. Addressing the court, he said: "Your injunction, sir, I respect." (Continued on Page Four)

OLD CASE WAS U.S. EVIDENCE

Lewis Took Opposite Tack In Previous Proceedings

Washington, Dec. 3.—(AP)—John L. Lewis rested his defense without offering a word of testimony in rebuttal to contempt of court charges in the soft coal strike.

The government rested its case last night. The sudden union move was announced by chief United Mine Workers Counsel Welly K. Hopkins, after Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough had admitted documentary evidence against the union chief.

This evidence, offered by the government, consisted of a United Mine Workers' brief in a previous proceeding contending that the government operated the mines in its role as "sovereign."

The brief, filed in September in the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company case, was contrary to Lewis' claim in the present action, in (Continued on Page Eight)

OAKLAND TIED UP BY STRIKE

City's Officials Considering Disaster Emergency Plan

Oakland, Calif., Dec. 3.—(AP)—An AFL-called general strike went into effect today threatening a tie-up of transportation and industry for 1,000,000 East Bay persons and shutting off commuter service for 120,000 across the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge.

None of the early morning street cars left their barns and those which had operated on overnight schedules stopped running as the deadline approached.

The key system commuter trains which daily carry thousands to work in San Francisco across the light and one-half mile bay bridge did not leave their barns.

Pickets patrolled around the plants of the Oakland Tribune and the Post-Inquirer as well as ice-cream stores, bars and restaurants. Alarmed city officials were considering a disaster emergency plan whereby citizens would volunteer to bring in food and other necessities.

"We don't want trouble but if others do, we're prepared," said (Continued on Page Eight)

New Plane Wreck In Vosges Peaks

Belfort, France, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Twelve charred bodies have been exhumed from the wreckage of a plane that crashed yesterday on the eastern slope of the Ballon d'Alsace peak in the Vosges mountains, gendarmerie headquarters said today.

The wreckage was burned so badly that the searching party could not identify the plane, believed to be a French Army transport from Germany, nor ascertain the identity, age or sex of the victims, the announcement said.

The gendarmerie reported that a party sent to the wreckage yesterday extricated four bodies but had to stop at nightfall. The plane was believed coming from Germany and, if properly identified, had 13 passengers listed as being aboard.

Flying over the Vosges in a storm it apparently was caught in air currents. A motorcyclist going through the storm along a mountain road saw the flames and spotted the wreckage at the edge of chasm.

G.O.P. Senators Ignore War Dept. Plea, Release Secret Report On Military Government Investigation

Washington, Dec. 3.—(AP)—A Republican decision to make public a staff investigator's "confidential" report on conditions in the American occupation zone of Germany today split an already gaping party-line split in the Senate War Investigation Committee.

Chairman Kilgore (D-W. Va.) criticized the decision by the four G. O. P. committee members—Brewster (R-Me.), Ball (R-Minn.), Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Knowland (R-Calif.). He declared it is not a committee report, but one by a committee employe, and is based in part on "hearsay evidence."

In addition, Kilgore read reporters a letter from Secretary Patterson expressing the War Department's opposition to release of the report.

"As written," Kilgore quoted Patterson as saying, "this report gives a distorted and frequently erroneous picture of the military government in Germany."

From information available it appears that the subject matter of the report is based upon unsworn statements and in many cases upon hearsay evidence.

Despite the uproar, Kilgore told reporters he has not the slightest intention of resigning the chair. (Continued on Page Four)

Fraying Of Tempers

Washington, Dec. 3.—(AP)—The crippling strike of the past year, and the present coal strike have frayed a lot of American tempers.

There's a good deal of feeling in this country, and among congressmen, that Congress must do something to curb organized labor.

Two kinds of people are talking about those curbs: 1. Those who honestly believe that, for the good of the whole nation, there should be stronger restraints on labor.

2. Those who, for selfish reasons of their own, see now a chance to struggle labor damaging blows. But curb union how much? To cripple them? To set them back where they were before 1937? To leave them at the mercy of employers? (Continued on Page Four)

Coal Producers' President Quits

Washington, Dec. 3.—(AP)—The Southern Coal Producers Association today accepted the resignation of former Nebraska Senator Edward R. Burke as its president, less than a week after he proposed resumption of negotiations with John L. Lewis.

The board of directors of the association announced this action after a special meeting called by Burke to discuss the opposition of approximately one third of the directors to his public declaration on Thanksgiving Day.

Burke had suggested a two weeks truce in the strike by the United Mine Workers, and proposed that the operators immediately sit down with Lewis in an effort to agree on a new contract and regain control of the government-operated soft coal mines seized during last spring's 59-day strike.

Chi Pi Players to Present Comedy

Robert Musselwhite, one of Greenville's most capable and popular amateur actors, will play the leading roll in the Chi Pi Players production "The Admirable Crichton," by Sir James M. Barrie, on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week.

Already well-known in the city and on the campus through previous appearances, Musselwhite will probably have his biggest moments as an actor in the Barrie play. Dr. Lucile Charles of the college faculty, who is directing the production, says of him, "In the entire play he is good; in some scenes he shows truly remarkable talent."

Dr. Charles, incidentally, is one of the most widely experienced directors now connected with a North Carolina College.

Musselwhite will take the part of Crichton, a butler, who is shipwrecked on a lonely island with members of the English aristocracy. There he proves his real worth and puts his superiors to shame. Lady Mary Lasenby, English beauty, played by Maxie Henderson of Fayetteville, a tall, stately brunette, is the leading lady. The romance of the titled lady and butler brings out the serious theme of the otherwise gay play, a satiric comedy on the shams fostered by the caste system in society.

Musselwhite began to be interested in dramatics while he was a student in the Greenville high school. There he played in such productions as "The Mikado," Gilbert and Sullivan's popular light opera, and in various comedies. After entering East Carolina Teachers College, he joined the Chi Pi Players and began to make a name for himself.

His education was interrupted when he entered the army, in which he served, as he says, "four years and five days." Last year, after returning to the college, he was leading man in the one-act comedy "Companion-Mate Maggie," by Helen Dertsch and in the full-length comedy "Personal Appearance" given by the senior class. Both of these plays were presented on the campus, and later the one-act drama was given in Goldsboro and "Personal Appearance" at Camp Lejeune.

"The Admirable Crichton" will be presented at two performances on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week at 8:15 o'clock in the Austin auditorium.

One of the highlights of the evening was a play, "Jean in Bookland," given by the school children. The plot of the play was to show what an interesting part books can play in children's lives and how to spend a happy rainy day.

There being very little business the meeting adjourned early.

W. C. T. U. Notes

Because of requests made by W. C. T. U. members to express the views of the organization concerning the so-called "New Approach" to the alcohol problem and the many schools for the study of alcohol problems the National W. C. T. U. has made the following pronouncements:

We declare that the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union has always emphasized the scientific approach to the alcohol problem. It has evolved and promoted educational processes for acquainting the public with the scientific as well as ethical and moral aspects of the problem. It has recognized that alcoholism is a disease affecting the drinker, his family and his community. It believes that since prevention is the modern method of attacking other diseases, prevention should be the primary process applied to alcoholism. And, since so much is being said about the rehabilitation of alcohol, we should stress the fact that total abstinence is the essential, ultimate factor in all methods of rehabilitation.

While we do not at all wish to interfere with full and complete study of all phases of the alcohol problem, we believe it is our responsibility to warn our members and the public that some organizations and schools are tending to be content with supporting prohibition and total abstinence.

We, the National Woman's Temperance Union cannot endorse any activity or teaching which results in the acceptance of the use of beverage alcohol in any form or quantity.

Down in Morehead City on the water front there is one of those "better places to eat" for the managers say "No drinking please" and they mean it. The words below have attracted attention of many visitors through the years. We appreciate your business but you use drunk or acting drunk lease say out. It will save embarrassment because we will ask you if you are in that condition. We do not wish to lose one sober customer to gain one hundred drunk ones.

Sam Morris, widely known radio preacher and abstinence speaker, and Col. Henry M. Johnson, attorney of Louisville, Kentucky, have filed a suit in the Federal District Court at Louisville against the Columbia Broadcasting System, five of its officials, Jacob Samuel and William S. Paley, and Isaac and Leon Levy, the Schenley Distillery Corporation and Schenley Distillers, Inc., for $15,000.00 for conspiracy and unlawful discrimination in favor of Schenley and the commercial beer and wine interests in selling to them the choicest radio time for beer and wine broadcasts while using unjust discrimination in refusing to sell time for total abstinence broadcasts to Sam Morris. The complaint alleges that Herbert Bayard Swope, a member of Columbia's executive committee, has been at the same time public consultant and advisor for the Schenley interests at a salary of $36,000 a year.

Fruit and candles will be served to all present and Mr. and Mrs. Hazard May, Mr. and Mrs. Billy May, Miss Sarah May, William and Milton May will have this in charge.

Others who have been asked to serve on other committees are Mrs. Clyde Bright, Mrs. Ab Perry, Mrs. Edna Simmons, Burton Evans, Linwood Heath, Mrs. Jarvis Tripp, H. R. Allen, Joe Joyner and Mrs. Bill Stocks.

If everyone will do what they are asked to do, this should be one of the best programs ever presented by the folks of the Red Oak Sunday school and community.

Cards have been mailed to fifty boys and girls notifying them to be present, Wednesday night, December 4th, for practice. This practice is just for the teen-age boys and girls. It is hoped that all who can will come. Let's make this a real Christmas celebration!

Local Show People Make Good On Stage

By CHESTER WALSH

Some more theatrical talent has been developed in Greenville and the section, Tex Street and his "Saddle Pals," and his wonder horse, "Snaky," have played at the State Theater in Greenville twice and made a hit each time. Manager R. E. Corbett said, Tex Street and the eight or 10 members of his show are all local persons. Tex bought his horse when it was wild, trained it himself, and the talented equine could hold his own answering questions with the "Quiz Kids," some of those who have seen the show said. Members of the show are talented comedians, vocalists and instrumentalists, the two attractive girl vocalists being exceptionally talented.

Tex Street and his group have appeared frequently on the local and other radio programs and are popular. "Snaky," the wonder horse, won't go nearer than five feet from a microphone. Aside from his mike shyness, the horse is a good actor.

Rotarians Hear Psychology Talk

By WYATT BROWN

The role of a clinical psychologist in the world today and tomorrow was discussed last night at the Rotary Club meeting by Miss Patti Frase who is connected with the North Carolina Pre-conditioning Center for the Blind and who is a native of Akron, Ohio. Miss Frase is known locally for her volunteer work in Girl Scouting and other community activities.

"Psychology has as many branches as law or engineering," warned the speaker to begin with. Then she explained the difference between the psychiatrist and the clinical psychologist—the psychiatrist is a person with a medical degree and then has mastered brain surgery as well; the clinical psychiatrist has no medical degree but detects and diagnoses from tests and interviews all types of brain disorders. She went on to say that clinical psychologists are doing some minor therapy and counseling now-a-days.

Reporting on the spread of clinical psychologists Miss Frase revealed that industry is gobbling them up to assist in selection and placement of employees and personnel. In fact, Miss Frase said, industry is grabbing the trained clinical psychologists as fast as they appear from training.

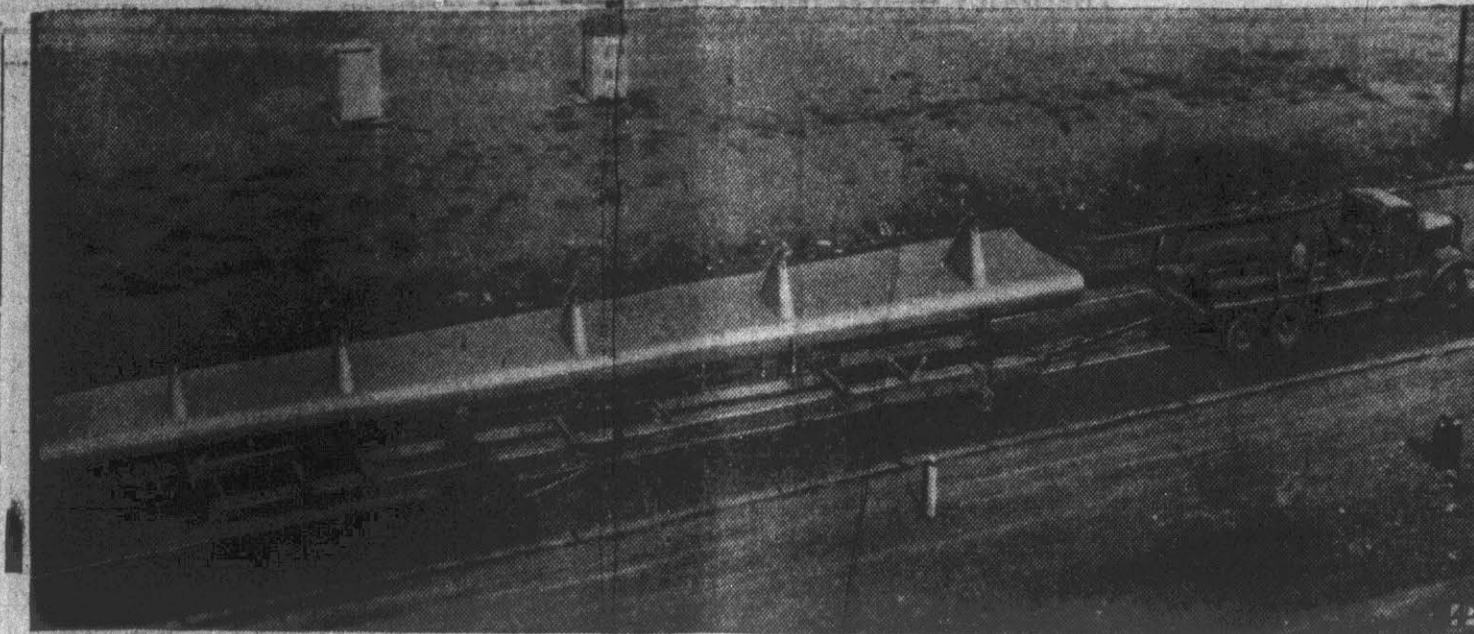

In urging her hearers to use the psychologists more Miss Frase mentioned how doctors are consulted about health and stylists about clothes but psychologists are seldom consulted about child's aptitudes or capacity. In furthering her plea Miss Frase mentioned the great advantage of knowing the child's mental capacity to indicate to the parents whether the child is equal to parental expectation in scholarship or being frustrated by overzealous adults.

Miss Frase said, "Do not be concerned if you are termed a neurotic. We each have our quirks but we do not deviate too far from the norm."

"Do not be any more afraid of the psychologists than of dentists. Find out what your quirks are and nurse them on an intellectual basis," urged Miss Frase in conclusion.

J. B. Kittrell, representing Mrs. Polly Little, proposed the Rotarians assist in providing Christmas cheer for the sick war veterans in the hospitals at Camp Lejeune and a free will offering was taken for the purpose.

Guests of the club were W. H. Wooward, Elijah Edwards and John Horne. The program was presented and arranged by John G. Fleming, chairman of the Program Committee. Judson Blount, club president,

VA Pay Office Holds Up Checks

Winston-Salem, N. C., Dec. 3. (AP)—The Veterans Administration has announced that November subsistence allowance checks for veteran students in the state and those training on-the-job will in a small percentage of cases be either delayed or not mailed at all.

The disbursing office in Richmond, Va., advised yesterday that of the approximately 45,000 veterans in training under provision of the G. I. Bill, 6,500 have had their checks interrupted or temporarily suspended in compliance with the law.

Various reasons for those not getting their checks early this month include: some trainees were overpaid in the past; files on others have been requested from their home states; and incorrect and unreported addresses.

Veterans still without their checks after the next 15 days were advised to inform their VA training officers.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

THE KIND THAT DEVOUR LIFE
The average reader of the New Testament can pass over without knowing it the very important teaching that there are two kinds of sins—the gross sins and the spiritual sins.

The gross sins are obvious and are so-called because they are connected with gross passions. Adultery, murder, theft, lying, come under the category of gross sins. Our Lord dwelt very little upon them. He spent most of his time calling people's attention to the spiritual sins which they very often do not recognize as sins at all but regard as virtues. These spiritual sins are avarice, covetousness, pride, love of power, selfishness, jealousy, envy, enmity, and malice. A man may have any or all of these weaknesses and still be regarded by the world as a good citizen. Jesus said that these spiritual sins get down so deeply into a man's heart and eat out the core of his life in such a merciless fashion that he is brought to spiritual disaster almost before he knows it.

Everyone knows that murder, impurity, blasphemy, etc. are sins. Jesus wasted no time talking about evils which everyone admitted were evil. But he tried by every conceivable means to shock his generation into the realization that they were doing nothing about their inner, subtle, spiritual sins, and that their very hearts were, as a consequence, being devoured. Such sins are hard to detect, harder still to confess, and hardest of all to withstand.

WASHINGTON LETTER

NURSES SOMETIMES NEED NURSING, MEMORIAL SPONSORS SAY

By JANE EADS

Washington—A "county fair" has started a campaign to provide a $2,000,000 national home and social center here honoring a co-ordinated group of 100,000 nurses and medical women who served in World War II. Sponsored by the Officers' Club of the Army Medical Center, of which Walter Reed Hospital is a part, the fair has set the pattern for similar affairs to be held at service posts throughout the country.

In addition plans for an intensive national campaign to start Sunday, Nov. 17, have been drawn. The officers and enlisted men of the Army, Navy and Air Force Medical Corps are "solidly" behind the nurses in the movement to build them a home. Maj. Gen. Norman T. Kirk, surgeon general of the U. S. Army, says,

"Those who know of the sacrifices and the devotion to duty of these valiant soldiers of mercy will wholeheartedly support this endeavor to establish a practical, living memorial," says Gen. Kirk.

Nurses of World War I will also be eligible to take advantage of opportunities offered by the memorial.

Mrs. Kirk, wife of the surgeon general who was herself an Army nurse in World War I, conceived the idea for the Nurses National Memorial as it will be called.

She says many nurses are shattered in health and need a place of their own for rehabilitation. Through their years of service many also have lost contact with their former homes and are alone and need companionship and a sense of belonging.

Mrs. Kirk points out that various gifts may provide:

Library, $100,000; memorial auditorium, $50,000; dining room $50,000; math lounge, $25,000; kitchen, $15,000; drawing room, $5,000; sitting room, $1,500; bedroom, $500; service room, $250.

A typical service room, she explained, would be a small kitchen for the preparation of snacks, tea or coffee, and so forth. It would contain electrical equipment and a refrigerator.

Other service rooms would include sewing rooms with electric sewing machines and wash-rooms with dryer for washing out small items and with ironing facilities.

Arthur H. Johnson is national chairman of the Nurses National Memorial committee. Jarrett C. White, architect, has drawn the plans of the building and grounds.

(National committee headquarters are at 825 Woodward Building, Washington, D. C. Contributions to the fund for the memorial will be received there. Please do not send them to this newspaper.)

on few men to possess. Wavell's plan is even more difficult than that of the two Indian leaders. He brings to it the gratifying spirit which we saw in his New Year message to his troops in bloody 1941:

"Have you ever thought what a world we could make if we put into peace endeavors the same energy, the same self-sacrificing and co-operation as we use in the wastefulness of war?"

Here is the Indian situation in brief:

After much sparring and heart-burning both the Hindus and the Moslems agreed to participate in an interim government. Nehru was made chief minister of this provisional regime since he was president of the major political organization, the predominantly Hindu All-India Congress. Both Hindus and Moslems were given positions, and things got under way leading up to the meeting of a national assembly to frame a provisional constitution.

However, the old animosities broke out and the Moslems withdrew. They said they had no chance of fair treatment by the Hindus who outnumber the Moslems three to one. Therefore, Jinnah reverted to his demand for Pakistan, that is, the Hindus and the British went to independent Moslem states. Both see a federal government under which will come all the provinces and states.

But this political break wasn't the worst of the situation. Terrible communal rioting has been going on for weeks in various centers be-

Tempers . . .

Wages were held down. Hours were long. And big business had the courts on its side—courts ready to stop strikes with injunctions—until the Norris-La Guardia act passed in 1932, told courts not to use injunctions in labor disputes.

The act was the first big break labor ever had in this country; until then business had all the weight on its side. Then in the mid-1930s the Wagner Act and Wage and Hour Law were passed.

The Wagner Act said bosses had to do business with unions. It represented their workers and the wage-hour law put in the 40-hour week with extra pay compulsory for overtime.

With those two laws on their side—backed up by the Norris-La Guardia Act—labor unions grew tremendously so that single, big unions covered whole industries.

So labor has become truly very strong—with strength to match that of the employers who had had the muscles in all our previous history until 1932—only in the past 14 years.

In 14 years it had to change from being a boy to being a giant. It growing up it sometimes not only was ungraceful, but disgraceful. I piled up some excesses that were a stink:

Racketeering, arrogance, disregard for the public welfare, unreasonable strikes that hurt the strikers more than the employers, and so on.

But that could have been expected. It was part of the push and pull, the evolution of an industrial society.

Yet in these past 14 years labor unions have won vast benefits for their members in the way of higher wages and better working conditions.

fully submit, deprives the miners of these constitutional rights, freedom of speech, freedom of assembly and freedom from involuntary servitude.

"The miners and I stand upon these constitutional rights as American citizens.

"The miners are law-abiding, God fearing citizens, he said, and have only "asserted their rights as citizens."

Merge Policy . . .

The main issue, diplomatic informants said, is whether an arrangement can be made for the early withdrawal of Russian and other allied troops from Austria.

Byrnes is adhering strictly to his policy—contrary to what the Russians want—that the allied powers should not take any German reparations from current German production. The Russians are now known to want an agreement by which they might collect reparations for many years to come.

manship of the committee. Kilgore is due to be displaced by Senator

Browster, however, when Republicans take over majority control of the Senate next month.

The report in question was made by committee counsel George Meader after a trip to Germany. Purported extracts have been published in several quarters. The Republicans' principal argument for release of the entire report was understood to be that inaccurate impressions have been produced by the piecemeal leaks. On that premise, they gave copies to reporters yesterday with the supposition that they could be made public Wednesday.

Kilgore said he did not know how portions of the report had become available earlier to "certain favored members of the press."

Published accounts have declared the report contains charges of widespread misconduct by occupation troops, by Negro soldiers and German women; of very high venereal disease rates; of low quality replacement troops; of an influx of large numbers of Jewish refugees into the American zone; and of the refusal of many thousands of displaced persons to be repatriated from the American zone.

Notre Dame Voted Top Football Team Of Year

Cadets Lose Throne; North Carolina Ranks Ninth; N. C. State, 18th; Wake Forest, 23rd; Duke Ties With Navy For 24th

New York, Dec. 3—(AP)—In a final voting spree for the campaign, the nation's sports writers today shocked Army's Cadets off their throne as kings of the gridiron for the first time in three seasons, and named the Irish of Notre Dame as the "football team of the year" for 1946.

Reversing their field as a result of Army's close call against Navy's fire-eating Middies last Saturday while the Irish were wrecking Southern California, the sports writers deposed the careening Cadets by the slim margin of 71 points in the largest vote ever cast in the Associated Press' weekly poll.

Actually, however, it wasn't quite that close. Of the 18 scribes balloting for their selections for the top ten teams, as of the end of the season last Saturday, an even 100 voted for Notre Dame to head the parade, as against 48 for Army. Nine others, unable to decide, split their tickets and called it a tie between the two outfits which battled to a scoreless draw three weeks ago—the only blot on Army's otherwise all-conquering three-year run.

Of the other first place nominations, 25 went to unbeaten, untied Georgia, in third place in the final voting for the year; two went to the all-winning Bruins of the University of California at Los Angeles, who held fourth place; and one each to up-and-down Texas and doughty Delaware. Delaware like Army, has been unbeaten in three years. Neither Texas nor Delaware made the first ten in the final ratings.

Just back of UCLA, in fifth place in the final standings, came Illinois' big nine champions, who tangle with the Uclans in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1. The Illinois polling 893 points, beat out their Western Conference rivals, the Wolverines of Michigan, who wound up in sixth place, with 778.

As a matter of fact seven of the top ten teams are parties of the first or second part in the major Bowl battles on New Year's Day. Georgia's Sugar Bowl rival, North Carolina, came home in ninth place with 394 votes. Tennessee's Vols ended in the seventh slot with 507 points. They now head for the Orange Bowl to take on the Rice Owls, who round out the top ten with 207 points. Louisiana State

Tickets Scarce For Sugar Bowl

Chapel Hill, N. C., Dec. 3—(AP)—The University of North Carolina Athletic Association has been informed that only 3,500 tickets will be available to students, faculty trustees and alumni for the New Year's Day Sugar Bowl game at New Orleans between Georgia and North Carolina.

At an administrative conference yesterday, the president of the student body, alumni and athletic officials decided to allot tickets on a 50-50 basis, assigning 1,750 to students and faculty. Many of the university's nearly 7,000 students have indicated their desire to attend.

Assault Is Voted "Horse Of Year"

New York, Dec. 3—(AP)—Assault Robert J. Kleberg's triple crown champion of the three-year-olds survived a mid-summer slump and closed his season by earning "horse of the year" honors in the closest battle in the history of the balloting

The Texas-bred son of Bold Venture polled 17 of the 32 votes cast by the staff of the Triangle Publications, publishers of the Daily Racing Form. Armed finished second with 11, Lucky Draw third with three, while Styrmie was given one lone tally.

Bowl Officials Wait Okla. Vote

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 3—(AP)—Gator Bowl officials today were apparently awaiting a vote of University of Oklahoma players before making a final choice of an opponent for North Carolina State in the New Year's Day football game here.

Officials were known to be negotiating with Oklahoma, co-champion of the big six conference, and Coach Jim Tatum said in a long distance telephone conversation he believed his soomers would accept a Gator Bowl bid.

Monty Advocates Greek Army Aid
Athens, Dec. 3-(AP)-A well posted foreign informant said today that British Field Marshal Lord Montgomery had strongly advocated that the partisan-buffeted Greek Army be reorganized this winter on a "pre-war hand to hand mountain fighting basis."

Montgomery, chief of the British Imperial Staff, talked yesterday with ranking Greek government and foreign diplomatic officials. The British military mission now training the Greek Army was said, however, to have opposed such a program, advocating the maintenance of a mechanized three division field force. The mission said the partisan fighting was "disrupting the schooling."

CREDIT GROUP ELECT HEADS

Production Credit Association In Anniversary Meeting

The Greenville Production Credit Association celebrated its 13th year of short-term credit service to farmers of Pitt and Greene Counties when members held their annual meeting at the courthouse in Snow Hill on November 30th.

Jno. R. Carroll of Winterville, N. C. was re-elected as a director for a three-year term. Jesse L. Tripp Route 1, Ayden, N. C. was elected a director for one year to replace the unexpired term of G. L. Mewborn whose resignation was accepted at this meeting.

Other directors are D. F. Hardison of Snow Hill, J. P. Davenport of Factions and Mack G. Smith of Bell Arthur.

President Jno. R. Carrll presided at this meeting. Secretary-Treasurer F. L. Little, Jr. stated that the association had made 662 loans totaling $1,595,000.00 and that reserves built up to protect the investment of members amounted to $69,610.00.

W. E. Debnam, radio commentator and news analyst who made the principal address at this meeting congratulated the membership, directors and employees on the progress of the association and the service being rendered to farmers by the association. He cited facts and figures emphasizing the need for farmers to continue cooperating for their own economic welfare.

Mr. Debnam gave figures of salaries being paid to school teachers of this state compared with salaries of unskilled workers which indicated that our school teachers are highly underpaid, and urged the citizens of this state to back the increase of 20 per cent in salaries requested by the teachers throughout the state.

In a report to the stockholders, Director Mack G. Smith reported that the association has reduced the capital owned by the Production Credit Corporation of Columbia, S. C. from $109,000.00 to $42,500.00 since organization. He reported to the members that they now own 76 per cent of the total net worth of this organization.

J. R. Jackson, Field Representative of Production Credit Corporation, and V. E. Fillingim, Assistant to the Vice President of Production Credit Corporation, made short talks at this meeting.

Director D. F. Hardison and Assistant Secretary-Treasurer B. M. Richardson also had parts on the program. Secretary Little reported an attendance of 79 members and visitors.

Social Security

MANY GF'S EMPLOYERS UNDER SOCIAL SECURITY

Many returned veterans who are building homes are becoming employers under Social Security, even though they may be covered employees themselves at the same time. As employers it is incumbent upon them to make quarterly informational returns as prescribed by the Social Security Act.

Most homes are being built under contract, and contractors already know of their duties and obligations in this matter, but homes which are being built by individuals, not on farm property, are causing the owners to become employers, often without their knowledge. People who are building houses now, and who are not aware of their liability under Social Security should get in touch with their Social Security Administration office or with the nearest Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue.

State Calls Western Union For Hearing

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 3—(AP)—The Western Union Telegraph Company of New York must appear here at a show cause hearing of the State Utilities Commission on December 11, and explain failure to carry out the commission's Order 3666, issued last June 25. Edgar Womble, commission rate expert, said today.

Womble said that the order required the telegraph company to eliminate a "20 per cent differential allowed to the United States" on intrastate traffic after July 1, 1946, on telegraph service supplied to it by the company, and shall file amended tariff to make the required change.

TO AMERICAN CITIZENS . . .

Are YOU tired of the SUGAR SHORTAGE? YOU CAN END IT!

You have suffered almost five years of short rations in sugar. How would you like a sugar shortage for five more years? You may have it!

Why?

Your Government has completely controlled every phase of the sugar business since Pearl Harbor — production, processing, distribution, and rationing. This is still true. We are no longer a "free" people in so far as sugar is concerned.

Because of heavy shipments of sugar to foreign nations, Americans this year will receive only 73 pounds of refined sugar per person as compared with their prewar consumption of 98 pounds.

Yugoslavia, whose belligerence towards Americans is all too well known, secured tens of thousands of tons of sugar through the UNRRA this year — with the approval and aid of our Government.

Plans are proposed to continue the American people on a sugar shortage for years to come. Howard R. Tolley, formerly of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, now Director of the Division of Economics and Statistics of the Food and Agricultural Organization of the UN, has just proposed a program for sharing our sugar supply with other nations for years to come.

The Tolley program is not a famine relief program. It is a plan to raise the normal consumption of sugar in other countries at the expense, and through the sacrifice, of the people of the United States.

Specifically, Tolley proposes that by the year 1950 the total American supply of sugar (and syrups) should be depressed by 12 6-10% under the total pre-war consumption. And this despite the fact that our population in 1950 is expected to be 13,500,000 more than in 1940.

The Tolley plan would keep you on a war-time basis years after the peace. How would you like that?

Sugar is indispensable for a well balanced American diet. Without it you would not have most of the canned foods and preserves, a large amount of canned milk, ice cream, candy, soft drinks, cakes and pies, and many other foods. Most cereals and many fresh fruits are unpalatable without sugar. Millions of Americans today are obliged to use saccharine (a coal tar product having no food value), in their coffee.

Millions of dollars worth of fruits in the United States have gone to waste because of sugar shortage. Farming communities have suffered not only the loss of fruit but the food values that the canned or preserved fruit would have given.

Housewives cannot prepare satisfactory meals or do their baking without an adequate supply of sugar.

Labor in the food processing industry has been thrown out of work because of the sugar shortage.

Sugar has been dished out liberally by our Government to foreign nations who normally do not secure their supplies in the Western Hemisphere. In many cases you are paying the bill for the sugar you did not get but which went elsewhere.

This year the United States Government approved the allocation of hundreds of thousands of tons of sugar from our sources of supply for movement abroad. Some of this sugar went to countries behind the so-called "Iron Curtain." Although we pray most fervently to the contrary, shipping sugar and other materials into countries behind that "Iron Curtain" could be the same thing as our sending scrap iron and oil to Japan in the days before World War II.

Relief for famine is one thing. But appeasement never succeeds whether the appeased is friend or foe.

The total production of sugar in 1947 in those areas normally supplying the United States will be tremendous — over 9,000,000 tons. How much of it will you get? And how much will our Washington bureaucrats send to other shores.

The question before the American people today is whether our sugar supplies should be given out in an openhanded way by a few Government officials to foreign nations or whether we should keep America strong. That is a question that should be decided by the American People and not by a handful of bureaucrats.

As a result of the war regimentation we have fallen into the habit of accepting anything put before us, be it an empty sugar bowl or an empty meat platter. This has presented a perfect opportunity to a few men in Washington to tell us what we shall eat, what we shall wear, and how in general we shall conduct every detail of our lives. As a free people, we should throw off the horse collar so firmly fixed around our neck.

The production of the United States and that which it buys belongs to the American people and not to a handful of bureaucrats. The great masses in America earn what they get by sweat and toil.

Americans should stop acting like slaves.

Americans must speak their mind and express their will to their elected Washington representatives, including the President.

The American people, by stating in writing what they think and believe to their elected representatives in Washington and the President, can control the amount of sugar that is to be retained by us at home and the amount that is to be distributed abroad.

Here, plainly, we have a situation where 140,000,000 people want and need more sugar and have a right to demand more sugar. Consequently, an outraged public should demand of their elected representatives that steps be taken now to put an end to this shameful sugar shortage in 1947.

If every American will make his desires known to his representatives in Washington, more sugar will be available for him in 1947 and then in 1948 we should have a full sugar bowl.

The power under which our sugar has been disposed of arbitrarily should be taken back by the people, and away from the small group of men in Washington who, on the whole, have done a very poor job for them.

Take off that horse collar. Write to your elected representatives. Do it now!

WITNESSES IN BILBO HEARING

Former Servicemen Relate Unsuccessful Attempt To Vote

Jackson, Miss., Dec. 3.—(AP)—A Negro veteran, displaying clothing splashed with brown stains, told Senate investigators today he was beaten insensible in a jail at Gulfport, Miss., July 2 after trying unsuccessfully to vote.

The Senate committee investigating Senator Theo G. Bilbo's primary campaign tactics heard this veteran, Richard E. Daniel, after two others testified they had been refused registration after being asked a number of questions on government.

Both said they believed the examination procedure was inspired by Sen. Bilbo's campaign advice to local officials for handling would-be Negro voters, quoted as "Ask them questions they can't answer."

Daniel said he tried to vote at the Gulfport city hall but was told "You are in the wrong place."

As he was leaving the building, he said, two men named Estes and

Allen struck him and said, "Take off that damn hat and don't let us catch you in here with it on." Daniel said all the other men in the room wore hats.

Daniel said he made no resistance and left, but was overtaken a short distance outside the building by the same two men with a policeman named Williams. He said he was taken to jail and that as soon as he arrived there Williams, without saying a word, began beating him about the head and body with his fists.

The hearing broadened today into an investigation of the handling of would be Negro voters by local officials.

Ickes Called To Give Testimony

Washington, Dec. 3.—(AP)—While the government pressed its plans to turn the big and little-inch pipelines into gas conveyors during the coal strike, a congressional committee called Harold L. Ickes today to hear his idea on ultimate disposal of the war built lines.

Oil and gas interests are vying for permanent use of the $145,000,000 project that Chairman Arnold former head of the Justice Department anti-trust division described as "the Muscle Shoals of the second world war."

Stalin Ill?

Istanbul, Turkey, Dec. 3.—(AP) Two Istanbul newspapers published assertions today that Prime Minister Stalin of Russia was seriously ill.

The political correspondent of Tainin, crediting his information to "authoritative reports," said Stalin's illness was so serious that "all high ranking Soviet officials and his closest friends are now near him." The account said Stalin did not recover from an illness last spring, and that his condition was getting more and more serious.

The newspaper Tasvir quoted political circles at the Bulgarian capital of Sofia as saying Stalin's illness has taken a dangerous course, despite doctors' efforts.

Surplus Property Committee hopes to develop conclusions as what would be best use, from the standpoint of national good.

Ickes as wartime fuels administrator, directed the construction of the huge oil lines running 1,500 miles from the southwest to the eastern seaboard.

Old Case . . .

The Jones and Laughlin case involved unionization of supervisory employes at the mines.

The brief was admitted over the strenuous objections of Joseph A. Padway, chief counsel of the AFL, who argued that it concerned events "long before" the present case.

The judge overruled him, remarking that "an inconsistent case may shed some light on the sincerity of a litigant."

U. S. Declares . . .

Vishinsky told the committee yesterday that the Soviet delegation was not prepared to discuss the U. S. proposal at that time. Whether he would be in a position to appear before the committee today was doubtful.

It was understood the Soviet delegation had asked Moscow for instructions. If those instructions arrived in time Vishinsky was expected to take the floor today or tomorrow to make known the Russian position.

'Iron Lung' . . .

(Continued from Page One) The firemen are hopeful that the citizens will donate the necessary money to buy and equip the rescue truck, including an "iron lung."

The rescue truck and equipment will cost $5,000. The firemen have already raised $2,720.90 of this sum. The department still needs $2,379.10.

The Firemen's Rescue Unit Committee is withers Harvey, chairman; Sherman M. Parks, Frank M. Park, M. E. White and Boyd Cox. Donations may be made to the fire department or to any of the committee. A list of the names of all donors will be published.

If the fire department can save just one life with an "iron lung" it will more than pay for itself.

Oakland . . .

Oakland's 500 police were put on 12 hour shifts and days off were cancelled.

The mass walkout stemmed from strikes at two department stores where the AFL retail clerks union is seeking contracts. Police conveyed 12 truckloads of merchandise through picket lines to the two downtown stores Sunday.

Last night the AFL Central Labor Council and AFL Building Trades Council set in motion orders to Crafts to "take a holiday" today.

The Alameda County CIO Council announced that CIO members would not pass through picket lines.

The walkout threatened to stop deliveries of such essentials as food, milk and gasoline. Union members arranged a permit system for deliveries to hospitals, institutions and emergency cases.

British Cotton Buying Is Upheld

London, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Britain's Labor government has a House of Commons endorsement for its plan to keep the Liverpool Cotton Exchange closed and go on with the wartime system of bulk raw cotton buying by a state commission.

Commons, disregarding conservative arguments that the textile industry and the country as a whole would suffer, approved a bill to this effect, 291 to 144, on second reading last night.

Sir Stafford Cripps, board of trade president, said in debate that the government itself would not be buying the cotton and that profits would go not to the government but into a reserve or toward reduction of the price of cotton to spinners.

Chinese Poised Outside Dairen

Peking, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Government military authorities said today Gen. Tu Li-ming's troops soon would take over Dairen, Manchuria's largest port, which has been occupied by the Soviets since the Japanese surrender.

General Tu's troops have been poised at Pulantien, 45 miles north of Dairen just inside the border of the old Japanese Kwantung leased territory, pending negotiations with Red Army commanders.

Dairen was specified a free port in the 1945 Sino-Soviet treaty.

Wholly unconfirmed reports in the Chinese press described the residents of Dairen as in panic because of Chinese Communist activity. This followed unsubstantiated stories in all pro-Government newspapers yesterday that the Communists were stripping Dairen industrial plants and hauling parts away by sea.

French Assembly Head Is Elected

Paris, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Socialist Vincent Auriol was elected president of the new French National Assembly today, defeating the Communist and Radical-Socialist candidates.

Auriol received 284 ballots, Marcel Cachin, Communist, 170, and Alexandre Varenne, Radical-Socialist, 98.

Auriol's election was made possible by the support of the conservative Popular Republican Movement (MRP) headed by Georges Bidault, the retiring president-premier.

The premiership is sought by Communist Maurice Thorez.

Thorez thus far is the only announced candidate for the premiership, vacated last Thursday by Georges Bidault, head of the moderate MRP (Popular Republican Movement) in a constitutional step to open the way for the Fourth Republic.
