The Children's Corner

Sheppard Memorial Library

Lucky are the children of Greenville, and happy the parents who introduce them to the Children's Room at the Sheppard Memorial Library.

There is no cubbyhole in our city library, but a large and beautiful room with shelves and tables full of books for children of every age.

What better Gateway of Life could you open for your child than the world in print. In a love and enjoyment of reading is found the answer to many a child's longing for knowledge.

The little child of pre-school age is thrilled with pleasure when shown the shelves of colorful picture books from which he may make his own choice to take home and "read."

When your child has learned to read it isn't enough that you have filled his bookcases at home with wonderful books. It is typical and quite proper that he should want something new and different to read. Our library offers these children not only the lovely new books with such colorful illustrations as we never had; but also the Children's Classics with which we grew up, and which we all remember so tenderly.

As children progress through their school terms, it becomes necessary for them to do reference work in many books and sets of books which many of us can not afford to have on our shelves at home. Here again the library answers this need with a well-rounded reference section, and librarians who are keenly interested in children, and in helping them.

Plan to make a trip to your library soon with your children. While they are selecting their books in the Children's Room on the left, you can turn to the right and find a duplicate room filled with fascination for the adult. Whatever may be your particular interest or hobby, from Sheffield Silver to Hooked Rugs, from Religion to Travel, there will be books to increase your knowledge about it.

honor of the new members with war brides in the county as special guests. Several invited guests will attend from Farmville also as organization of a new club is anticipated there.

Reports were heard from Mid-Year Council at Durham held November 15-17 with eight representatives from the local club attending.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Chi Pi Players Please Audience
The Chi Pi Players of East Carolina Teachers College presented last night in the Austin auditorium the first of two performances of Barrie's comedy "The Admirable Crichton." The audience received the play sympathetically and appreciatively, and the concensus among those present was that "The Admirable Crichton" is one of the most polished performances ever to be staged by the Chi Pi's.

particularly successful in their roles were Robert Musselwhite of Greenville, as Crichton; Maxie Henderson of Fayetteville, as Lady Mary; Hubert Bergeron of Spring Hope, as Lord Loam; and A. E. Manning of Jamesville, as the Hon. Ernest Woolley. Unlike many amateur performances, the play moved quickly, and there were no delays between scenes. Enunciation was good and the voices of the cast well modulated. Carefully planned lighting effects, especially in scenes upon the island where the main characters are shipwrecked, added interest. Grouping of characters on the stage was well planned, and stage "business" showed much care and attention to detail.

Dr. Lucile Charles, of the college faculty, directed the performance. Working with students, a number of whom had never before appeared in a play, Dr. Charles did an excellent piece of work.

A second performance of the play will be given in the Austin auditorium this evening at 8:15 o'clock.

Red Men Enjoy Supper
Withlachoche Tribe had an interesting meeting last night. Three counties were elected to degrees. Business was generally routine and was followed by a barbecue supper which was enjoyed by all.

VA Office Here Has Busy Month
An increasing number of veterans are using the service offered by the Veterans Administration Contact Office located in the Greenville Armory.

During the month of November 733 veterans contacted this office for advice and assistance in all phases of veteran affairs, on behalf of whom 67 applications for Veterans Administration benefits were filed and 162 letters written.

These applications for benefits varied, but concerned mostly On-The-Job - Training, Institutional Training, Re-instatement and Conversion of Life Insurance, Application for Disability Compensation and Hospitalization, Out-Patient Treatment, and Dental Care.

Not included in the figure given above are the many applications for Terminal Leave Pay which were filled out on behalf of veterans.

In addition, 89 telephone calls were made to the office by veterans seeking advice who were unable to contact the office in person.

The Veterans Administration Contact Office is staffed by Mr. James D. Walters, Contact Representative, and Mrs. Boley Farley who invite veterans to bring all matters concerning the Veterans Administration to them for advice and assistance. Office hours are from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. on weekdays and from 8 a. m. to 12 p. m. on Saturdays. The telephone number is 2720.

TOBACCONIST AT KIWANIS

Stuart Ficklen Describes European Trip; Leaf Demands

By CHESTER WALSH
The Greenville Kiwanis heard an interesting story from L. Stuart Ficklen, member of the E. B. Ficklen Tobacco Company, at the weekly supper meeting last night. Informally, the Greenville tobaccoist told of a trip he and his brother, James S. Ficklen, made to Europe last spring. He told of contacting the tobacco dealers abroad; of their demand for American leaf, and of their appreciation of what this country did about winning the war.

The speaker made a fine impression on the 75 representative business and professional men who compose the Kiwanis Club. He said the people of England, Holland, Belgium and other countries are ready to buy the tobacco raised in this country.

Charles Wilkerson had charge of the program. Judge Dink James introduced the speaker. Dr. E. R. Browning, of the ECTC faculty, was a special guest.

President Ed Rawl presided. Incidentally, after the meeting Rawl recalled that the three previous administrations did great work for Kiwanis in Greenville—Presidents Joe Taft Dick Bundy and Dr. J. M. Barrett. He told the directors after the meeting about some fine achievements of the club.

Mrs. J. Herbert Waldrop, who sings the kind of songs the Kiwanians enjoy pleased the group last night with two songs, "Sylvia," and "Sweetheart," with Mrs. Ray Tyson as accompanist.

James Ray Pittman led the singing of Kiwanis songs. Marshall Clark won the attendance prize, given by Dr. S. M. Crisp, R. E. (Red) Corbett, manager of the State Theater, was a guest of Dr. H. G. Haney.

Secretary-Treasurer David C. Moore, Jr. will be host to the officers and directors at the monthly meeting next Monday night.

The officers and directors held an informal meeting after the close of the regular session, with President-elect Eli Bloom presiding. New officers and directors will be installed at the first meeting in January.

Christmas Checks This Year $34,000

By CHESTER WALSH
When the Christmas parade, welcoming Santa Claus, passed along Evans street yesterday afternoon to spread good cheer among the children of Greenville, old Kris Kringle was functioning in another way which carried good cheer to nearly a thousand persons who are members of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association's Christmas Savings Club.

Christmas Savings Club checks totalling $34,000 had been placed in the mails during recent days for those who joined the Christmas Savings Club last December. That's a lot of money saved in small sums during the year, but it is a substantial amount in early December for those who have to do Christmas shopping.

Secretary-Treasurer A. C. Tadlock watched the Santa Claus parade from his place with some other grownups who believe that there "really is a Santa Claus" in the Christmas Savings Club.

Tadlock said 925 depositors in the Christmas Savings Club with the First Federal are receiving their checks now for $34,000—Christmas money! Some depositors saved a quarter a week—others $1 or more. The Christmas Savings Club is popular and depositors are already enrolling for 1947. It was started in 1938, with about 200 depositors and that year's savings totalled $7,000.

This year—1946—the 925 depositors in the First Federal's Christmas Savings Fund are receiving $34,000—and that's a big increase over $7,000 the first year—nine years ago. The deposits increased $27,000.

A person may deposit 25c weekly and receive for Christmas, 1947, $12.50, or deposit a dollar a week and receive $50 next December, and so on. Enrollments are now being made.

Jaycees Present Check To ECTC
In a regular dinner meeting Thursday night the Greenville Jaycees received a complete report from the committee on the Thanksgiving Day football game sponsored by the club. Bancroft Moseley, committee chairman, gave due credit to all members working on his committee especially Bruce Sugg, Jr. Bruce was in charge of all ticket sales and also helped immensely on the publicity committee. A certified check was turned over to Dr. Carl Adams of East Carolina Teachers College and was earmarked to be used in the scholarship fund for athletics. This is the first effort in a program by Jaycees to further aid the athletic program of the college.

Dr. Adams graciously accepted the check and stated that it was the largest amount ever turned over to him for use by the college for any purpose. He assured the Jaycees that the money would be used only in scholarships for athletes.

Committee reports were given from the attendance and membership committees which show good results. Guests of the club were Dr. Carl Adams, Professor of ECTC Milton Adams, employee of the State Bank & Trust Company, Dr. Kenneth Guigens, Optometrist and Herbert Carter, band leader from the college. Samuel J. Weeks was welcomed back into the organization after serving 18 months in the Army. Sam will be back at his old job in the County Agent's Office.

The annual value of Canada's fur production is more than $30,000,000.

TWO WIN GOOD HEALTH TALKS

District Winners Announced For Contest At College
Winners in a district oratorical contest sponsored by the Good Health Association of North Carolina and held at East Carolina Teachers College on Friday, Dec. 6, were Virginia Dickens, representing Wilson County, and Alton Hill, representing Lenoir County. Fifteen high school boys and girls from schools in Nash, Lenoir, Pitt, Bertie, Martin, Edgecombe, Wilson, and Beaufort counties, delivered original speeches on aspects of the good health program in the state. The contests were staged under the direction of Dr. Meredith N. Posey of East Carolina Teachers College.

A second round of speeches will be held at the college on Friday, Dec. 13. This will be preliminary to a state contest in January, at which a girl and a boy will be chosen as winners and awarded scholarships to college.

Back-To-Work . . .

(Continued on Page 5) Administration said 44,000 tons were now being dug daily by 3,000 miners in 98-strip mines after the recent increases.

At Altoona, in the heart of the rich central Pennsylvania area, John N. Geyer, SFA administrator, reported production had risen from 26,000 tons a day to 40,000.

Meanwhile, unemployment spread with steel and iron counting a total of more than 55,000 idle, railroads reporting 60,000 furloughed and miscellaneous industries a counting for 171,000.

Fire Witness . . .

"God," muttered Brooks, "I knew she couldn't clear that marquee."

Frantic fear seemed to catch the trapped at that point and as fast as firemen could clear the net of a broken body, another would smash into it. A moanful, piercing wail traced the descent of those who jumped, tapering off like the eerie scream of a shell disappearing into the distance.

It chilled you to the depths of your soul. It left you sickened and weary.

Embargo Felt . . .

First word of plant closings in the important furniture manufacturing area of North Carolina came from Hickory. There unemployment figures attributable to the coal situation passed the 1,000 mark as 15 plants closed their doors.

Freight Rate . . .

(Continued From Page One) a time limitation on the 10 per cent increase in passenger fares authorized in 1942. This increase was due to expire six months after the formal end of the war.

The 17 1/2 per cent freight increase will replace a temporary 6-1-2 per cent hike which went into effect last July 1. The temporary increase was authorized pending the commission's study of the carriers' bid for permanent rate boosts.

Dr. Cooke Speaks At Meeting In Raleigh

Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, president of East Carolina Teachers College, spoke yesterday before the North Carolina Association of Public School Officers at a meeting held in Raleigh.

Discussing "Recruitment of Teachers," Dr. Cooke advanced two reasons for the scarcity of teachers today. First, the greater respect which other professions enjoy; and second, the larger ultimate salaries which they offer. "The problem," said Dr. Cooke, "is not merely one of finding enough people to man the schools. The problem is essentially one of determining who shall teach." An adjustment in salaries, a general concern for good teaching, and a wide respect for good teachers will help in solving the difficulties of recruiting outstanding men and women as teachers, according to Dr. Cooke.

BEST PARADE MANY YEARS

Greenville Gives Rousing Welcome To Old Santa Claus

By CHESTER WALSH
The Christmas parade welcoming Santa Claus to town yesterday afternoon was the best since before the war started. The Greenville High School and East Carolina Teachers College bands led the procession through the city to the courthouse, where the judging took place. The parade was a feature of the parade; the decorated bicycles and the penies with little tots in the saddle, the decorated horse-drawn vehicles, the saddle horses etc., were attractive and worth a long trip to see. Another feature of the Santa Claus parade was the Dodge truck bought by the fire department to be used as a rescue unit and specially equipped for emergency service, and including an iron lung.

Mrs. Cora S. Powell, executive secretary of the Merchants Association, announced the judges' awards to the following prizewinners: Bicycles: First prize, Billy Simmons; second, Joe Louis Farmer colored. Girls: First prize, Donah Irvin; second, Frances Adams. Pets: First prize, Billy Jenkins; second, Carol Clapps. Pony: First prize, Connie Bowen; second, Kay Smith. Buggy: First prize, Roland (Dick) Mayo; second, Marvin Bullock. Mules: First prize, R. L. Penner. Saddle horse: First prize, Margaret Roebuck; second prize, Regan Jones.

Haywood Dail was the announcer. Clyde Landing provided the loud speaker system. Tom Wilson assisted in lining up the parade. The judges were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Keel and Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Hoell of Washington. Mayor Jack Boyd, A. M. Lum, Haywood Dail, W. T. Kizer and Walter L. Harrington welcomed the judges.

The streets along the line of march were thronged with grown-ups and children to greet Santa Claus.
