WARNS UNIONS OF REACTION TO PAY SUITS

Moderation Urged To Avoid Risk Of Congressional Restrictions

Toledo, O., Dec. 28.—(AP)—The lawyer who set in motion the series of employ overtime suits against manufacturers, now snow-balled into a enormous sum, advised unions today to proceed cautiously.

Edward Lamb said that the union leaders and their attorneys should not risk tough, restrictive action from congress by asking "fabulous and reckless" amounts in the portal-portal pay suits.

The nation-wide train of legal actions, in which workers ask overtime pay covering all required time they put in on their employers' premises, aggregate nearly $300,000,000 in Ohio alone, and more are being filed almost daily.

Lamb, who obtained from the U. S. Supreme court a decision that employers must pay for all substantial time a worker spends at his site of work at an employer's request, said in an interview:

"Attorneys filing these suits for back pay shouldn't try to name the sum they think is due the workers. Such a suit, itself is only an accounting action, asking the court to say how much. But it is not necessary and it is unwise to specify these fabulous and reckless sums.

"They frighten industry and may stir congress to adopt restrictive legislation in the coming session."

He described it as "the biggest and most important decision the Supreme court ever made."

Yet, he remarked, the decision did Continued on Page Three

Western Union Gets Rate Boost

The increase is in addition to a 10 per cent hike in the rates as of last June 12, and the total of 20 per cent was made effective indefinitely.

Critical Report On Bilbo Okayed

Washington, Dec. 28.—(AP)—Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), reported today that a majority of the Senate War Investigating committee had approved a report criticizing Senator Bilbo (D-Miss) for his relations with war contractors.

Ferguson said the ten members of the committee were being polled on the Bilbo report and "six of them already have approved it."

He said he could not divulge the names or party affiliations of these six until the entire committee has been polled and the report filed with the secretary of the senate.

At the same time Ferguson said it would be impossible for the war investigating subcommittee to hold additional public hearings on Bilbo's affairs before the new congress convenes, January 3.

Witnesses Of Dairen Incident Give Account Of 'Ultimatum'

By WILLIAM H. NEWTON (Representing the Combined American Press)

Distributed by the Associated Press Shanghai, Dec. 28.—(AP)—From two of the United States navy officers who were on the bridge of the ship when the incident took place came further details today of the Soviet ultimatum offering a navy courier vessel to the port of Dairen within 15 minutes "or we will not be responsible for the consequences."

The witnesses were Lt. Com. W. Gordon Bell of Staten Island, N. J., and Lt. Charles D. Arnsperg, Both information and both accompanied the vessel on its trip to Dairen.

Their story of the incident aboard the vessel is in sharp contrast to the recent announcement by a spokesman for the U. S. State Department that the Soviets did not "in any sense" issue an ultimatum to the navy ship.

Both officers had been ashore and came aboard just before the Soviet ultimatum was issued.

"As we came through the gate of the port a Russian major jumped forward," Lt. Arthur said. "He assailed us verbally shrieking at us and pointing to the ship. We tried to let him understand that we did not speak Russian."

"We were aware of the fact, however, that he was very upset and angry about something. A Russian navy officer who was also present at the gate apparently tried to moderate the Russian major."

"Accompanied by the Russian major and the naval officer we went aboard. Commander Edgar Yates met us and they all went to the bridge. I followed them and that is when I noticed that they were talking in the same harsh manner to Commander Yates."

"When the ultimatum was given, Ensign Tilghman Koons, the navy interpreter, asked the Russian major to repeat it so he could get a perfectly accurate translation. This the Russian major did. I think Ensign Koons had him repeat it three times."

"This was before the American consul, Mr. Benninghoff, or the captain of the ship came aboard. The Soviet officer requested that we leave the port without them and anchor in the harbor. I in-

TRAIN WRECK NEAR RALEIGH

Two Trains Collide; Early Reports Say None Killed

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 28.—(AP)—Two Southern Railroad trains, one a passenger and the other a freight, collided head-on today near Auburn, eight miles from here.

Ambulances and fire trucks were dispatched to the scene. Early reports said no passengers were killed. The fireman on the passenger train, Number 64 from Greensboro, was missing, however.

The freight was carrying a number of gasoline tankers. Some of the gas spilled and there was danger of fire or an explosion.

The State Highway Patrol dispatched a number of men to the scene.

A conductor on the passenger train, whose name was not immediately known, said the freight was on the main track when it should have been on a siding. The passenger engineer locked his brakes and his train skidded some 200 feet into the oncoming freight.

At the moment of impact, neither train was reported traveling fast.

The engineer of the passenger train jumped from his cab just before the collision. He was uninjured.

The engine of the passenger train left the track and plowed into an embankment. The freight engine did not leave the rail.

Rineanna, Eire, Dec. 28.—(AP)—Trans World Airways officials announced that 12 persons—three crewmen and nine passengers—were killed when the Constellation Star of Cairo crashed and exploded on a river isle near the Shannon airport early today.

Eleven other persons aboard the plane have been hospitalized, with at least two in serious condition the announcement said.

"We have not been able so far to determine how the crash happened," a JWA spokesman said.

The Constellation plowed into tiny Melican Island, a swampy, weed-covered patch with only one house, and scattered burning wreckage over hundreds of yards of water and bogland shortly after 2 a. m. (9 p. m., Friday, EST). The scene is Continued on Page Three

Real Estate: Continued good demand for modern suburban homes. Politics: Increased foreign troubles. Stocks: To work higher. Bonds: Firmness temporary

1. One great event of 1947 will be a beginning of a movement of population from the big coastal cities to the small interior cities, unless definite steps are taken for world disarmament.

2. A year ago the U. S. Babson chart registered 130. Today it is estimated at 160. The Canadian Babson chart registered 190 a year ago. Today it is estimated at 204. Some time during 1947 these Charts will register higher figures.

MORE EXPORTS FOR GERMANY Will Reduce American Burden In Feeding Occupied Zones

Berlin, Dec. 28.—(AP)—Sharp reduction in the American taxpayers' burden of feeding Germany was officially forecast today in plans to export more than $100,000,000 worth of manufactured goods from the U. S. occupation zone in 1947.

M. S. Szymczak, Military Government chief of trade and commerce, said the program for next year represented an increase of more than 400 per cent over the 1946 export level.

Szymczak, a Chicagoan on leave as a governor of the Federal Reserve System, reported the zone's exports and commitments during the first eleven months of 1946 reached only $23,242,000.

Ninety per cent of this volume consisted of raw materials, with Great Britain, The Netherlands and the United States heading the list of receiving countries. But next

WAA PUTS UP PIPELINES FOR SALE ATTEMPT

Washington, Dec. 28.—(AP)—The War Assets Administration today asked new bids for outright purchase of the $147,000,000 Big and Little Inch pipelines running from the Texas Panhandle to the New York-Philadelphia area.

The Government-owned lines were offered for use in transporting natural gas or petroleum and its products, or a combination of both.

WAA said bids must be received not later than noon, Feb. 8, 1947, and will publicly opened Feb. 10.

The lines first were put up for disposal last summer with a provision that they could be either purchased or leased. The lease provision has been eliminated in the new specifications and a WAA official said the agency is interested only in an "outright sale."

In a move to alleviate the fuel shortage during the recent coal strikes, the Government leased the lines to the Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company to carry natural gas to the Eastern industrial area. The lease continues through April, WAA said.

WAA Chief Robert M. Littlejohn rejected all 16 bids which were opened last July 31, declaring that he did not "feel any of them guarantee the Government what I consider a fair price."

Littlejohn, who later appeared before a special House committee investigating surplus property disposal. (Continued on Page Four)

STASSEN PLAN IS REJECTED

Reece Turns Cold Shoulder To Open Forum; Fears Dissension

Washington, Dec. 28.—(AP)—A polite "no thanks" from GOP Chairman Carroll Reece left Harold K. Stassen's Republican open forums on their own today, without financial aid or direction from the National Committee.

In rejecting an offer by Stassen for the National Committee to take over the forums, Reece said it would cost too much money and might create intra-party dissension.

Stassen, the only announced candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948, organized the forums last April to develop possible planks for the party platform. He is chairman of their advisory committee.

Replying to Reece's turndown yesterday, the Minnesotan said the forums will continue to cooperate with the committee and will be willing to be taken over at any time.

Henry T. McKnight, director of the ROF, told newsmen the organization will expand operations in 1947 as an "independent Republican activity working in close cooperation with the Republican National Committee."

"The ROF," he stressed, "will not become Stassen-for-President clubs. They will not be connected with Mr. Stassen's Washington office recently set up under the direction of Mr. Earl Hart. They will not promote his candidacy in any way."

Messersmith, U. S. Ambassador To Buenos Aires, In Washington To Iron Out Dispute With Braden Over What Should Be Done About Our Argentine Policy

By NORMAN CARIGNAN

The old ghost of U. S.-Argentine relations is stalking the pale green corridors of the State Department again.

In Washington, apparently for a full review of the question, is veteran career diplomat George Messersmith, U. S. ambassador to Buenos Aires, bearing ideas on what should be done about Argentina.

His views reportedly are at variance with those of Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden, a burly 230-pounder who has charge of U. S. relations with Latin America.

The problem basically is the same that has rankled many a diplomat before and split the State Department wide open on a number of occasions.

Crudely stated, the question is: "Should the United States forgive what it sees as the sins of its sister republics for the sake of

UN Atomic Energy Commission Has Until Monday To Rule Veto Out Of International Control Plan; If Action Not Taken, U. S. Will Not Yield A-Bomb Secrets

Lake Success, N. Y., Dec. 28.—Bernard M. Baruch's sharp warning that the United States could not yield atomic bomb secrets to the world unless the veto was ruled out of any international control plan sent United Nations delegates into hotel room conferences today seeking off the floor agreement.

Representatives of the 12 nations on the U. N. atomic energy commission had until Monday morning, when the body goes into session, for final decision, to settle this critical issue, which generally is regarded as the key to the basic arms reduction program laid down by the U. N. assembly.

Baruch's strong speech was made at a closed session of the commission last night in the midst of bitter debate over inclusion of the veto with regard to punishment of violators of a control system. The American delegate made it clear that he could not recommend Senate approval of any plan including the veto.

Delegates saw little chance for immediate agreement, in the face of Russia's continued silence and new opposition to Baruch by France and Great Britain, and postponed the whole issue until Monday.

The early part of the nine-hour meeting had been harmonious with the remainder of the Baruch plan being adopted without ballot.

Soviet Delegate Gromyko was absent, because, Prof. S. P. Alexandrov tersely told reporters, he was occupied with other business. He sat through the whole meeting without speaking, but near its end advised the chairman that he wanted to be considered present but abstaining in full.

Declaring that it was yes or no, Baruch said: "I cannot recommend to the people of the U. S. I cannot advocate before the Senate of the U. S. that this country surrender to that potent weapon and dedicate to mankind its tremendous knowledge in the field of the production of atomic energy—in the belief that they are outlawing the use of this weapon for war and opening the gates for the use of atomic energy for the good of all mankind—under any system which is open to nullification of punishment by what can be called a subterfuge."

"All we have asked you to do is to vote in favor of the proposition that it should not lie within the power of anyone to determine by his own veto whether he or a friend is guilty and should be punished."

Several men have been approached, it is reported, including Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman, Assistant Secretary of State William Clayton, and Graham P. Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada.

The prestige of the bank presidency is great and the pay is more than adequate—$30,000 a year tax-free. That is more than any U. S. official gets except President Truman. The man who takes the job will be a target for global pressures and a focus of international cross purposes. He will be open to criticism from the financial community if he takes risks and from humanitarians if he is too careful.

He is accountable to the people of the United States, whose taxes are the bank's biggest source of capital. Yet he will work under the knowledge that the board of directors, in the final analysis, is his boss.

Crowd Protests Family Eviction

New York, Dec. 28—(AP)—Fred Daab and his family were evicted from their Brooklyn apartment yesterday—but not until 50 policemen battled an enraged crowd of 2,500 who gathered to bar the eviction. It started when a marshal and two patrolmen, executing a court dispossession order, carried out Linda Lee Daab's Christmas tree. At this point the crowd began chanting "we can't let this go on." The policemen carried the tree and the furniture back into the house and called for reinforcements who roped off part of the street. The tree and the furniture finally were taken out despite the jeers of the crowd which pushed against the lines.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Manning Miss Mary Sue Manning, Miss Hettie Rue Manning and Mrs. Mary Harrington of Greenville, Route 4, were the guests of Mrs. Ruth Nobles of Baltimore, Md. during the past week. Miss Mary Sue Manning and her husband, Mr. Manning, recently married couple, are living at 405 East 10th Street.

Several men have been approached, it is reported, including Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman, Assistant Secretary of State William Clayton, and Graham P. Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada.

The prestige of the bank presidency is great and the pay is more than adequate—$30,000 a year tax-free. That is more than any U. S. official gets except President Truman. The man who takes the job will be a target for global pressures and a focus of international cross purposes. He will be open to criticism from the financial community if he takes risks and from humanitarians if he is too careful.

He is accountable to the people of the United States, whose taxes are the bank's biggest source of capital. Yet he will work under the knowledge that the board of directors, in the final analysis, is his boss.

"I feel that the Government can and should get a better monetary return than that indicated in the several bids," he said.
The top offer, he continued, was $110,000,000, of which $66,000,000 was to be cash and the remainder income debentures.

Bromwich Back In Cup Matches

Melbourne, Dec. 28—(AP)—The windup of the Davis Cup challenge round, postponed by heavy rains until Monday, was saved from being pure anti-climax today by the decision of Australia's John Bromwich to return to play.
Bromwich withdrew yesterday after he and Adrian Quist surrendered to the United States the trophy Australia has held since 1939 in losing the decisive doubles match to the American team of Jack Kramer and Ted Schroeder.
Schroeder had started the rout the previous day by trimming Bromwich at singles, and Kramer followed through with a three-set victory over Dinny Pails.
The remaining two singles matches, which will have no bearing on the final outcome, were scheduled for today, but postponement was forced by a heavy downpour.

Boys who were not fourteen before September 1, and are not over 5' 8" tall are eligible to play with the squad.
Panels of aluminum and paper are being tested for use in house walls.
More than 16 per cent of school children in the United States use school buses.
