Seeming Harmony In Ranks Of GOP

Leadership Troubles Dissolved; Cleared For In House

Washington, Jan. 1.—(AP)—Congressional Republicans greeted the New Year today with their post election leadership troubles all but dissolved in an air of apparent harmony.

With Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio formally out of the race, the way was cleared for the election of Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana as GOP floor leader of the house.

This appeared to be little more than a formality at tomorrow's caucus of Republican representatives-elect, even though two other candidates—Reps. Thomas Jenkins of Ohio and E. M. Dirksen of Illinois—refused to follow Brown out of the contest.

Even before the campaign withdrawal, Halleck's campaign aides had claimed a minimum of 200 of the 245 caucus votes, and most of Brown's support was expected to be thrown to the Indianan, who has been backed for the post by Gov. Tom Dewey of New York.

Brown did not, however, formally endorse Halleck.

Senate Republicans ironed out their leadership difficulties before Brown pulled out of the race for the House. They got together on a state designating Senator Taft of Ohio as steering committee chairman, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan as president pro tem, and Senator White of Maine as majority floor leader.

Brown's formal statement declining to make the House race noted that the Ohioan had made no campaign for the leadership and instead had suggested some time ago that Republican leaders sit down and in a spirit of friendship and harmony and select as majority leader the person best qualified to serve the party and the nation in this critical time.

That suggestion, however, Brown continued, "has been ignored, and a bitter intra-party fight has been developing."

So, he added, "because of the need for harmony, and for other reasons which will become apparent later, I am asking my friendly colleagues who have offered their support not to submit my name or vote for me."

But close associates said Brown's action did not mean the tall rank is harmony within party ranks. A formidable bloc of House Republicans, they said privately, will follow Brown's leadership at any time he takes issue with Halleck or with Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, who becomes the speaker of the new House.

GOP PRESSES FOR MEANS TO UNSEAT BILBO

Washington, Jan. 1.—(AP)—Polling-making Senate Republicans committed to try to oust Democratic Senator Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi, turned today to the problem of how to do it.

Chairman Taft of Ohio, called a New Year's Day meeting of the GOP Senate Steering Committee to map strategy as:

1. The Justice Department pressed an independent investigation of Bilbo's affairs.

2. The embattled senator, promising to "fight on," declared anew that he is innocent of any wrong doing.

3. The Senate War Investigating Committee scheduled for release tonight its report on an inquiry into Bilbo's dealings with war contractors. One member said the report charges that Bilbo "used his high office" for "personal gain."

4. The three Democratic members of the special Senate Campaign Investigating Committee rushed work on a majority report which will contend no proof has been furnished to support charges that Bilbo intimidated Negroes from voting in last summer's senatorial election in Mississippi.

The two Republican members of this committee are preparing a dissent. (Continued on Page Six)

Coal Mines Are All Nationalized

London, Jan. 1.—(AP)—The British Labor government took possession of the nation's coal industry today, promising a new deal for the miners and more fuel for consumption and export.

Prime Minister Attlee and all members of his cabinet were present at the blue and white banner of the national coal board was hoisted over the board's headquarters in Berkeley Square.

This week it will be run up over 1,500 mines.

Simultaneously, but without formal ceremony, the government launched another experiment in socialism, assuming ownership of Cable and Wireless, Ltd., globe-circling communications system.

Civil aviation and the Bank of England already are operating under government ownership and nationalization of inland transport is before Parliament.

Prisoners Die In Jail Cell Blaze

Towson, Md., Jan. 1.—(AP)—Two men arrested only a few hours earlier on minor charges suffocated today when an unexplained fire surged through a cell block in the basement at Baltimore County police headquarters.

Police on duty in the building were unable to penetrate a "sheet of flame" which gushed up the stairway to the main floor from the cell block entrance. They pulled the bars from a window with a cable attached to two trucks, but couldn't get into the cells because of dense smoke.

DEWEY CLIQUE LOSES FIGHT

Lincoln Day Dinner To Feature Stassen As Speaker

New York, Jan. 1.—(AP)—The New York Times said today that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's supporters "were the losers in a fight to keep the annual Lincoln Day dinner of the National Republican club on a strictly local basis and as a result Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, probably will be the principal speaker at the affair."

Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, is the only avowed GOP presidential candidate thus far.

"The controversy came to light," the Times said, "as the result of a Washington dispatch that listed Mr. Stassen as a speaker and said Senator Robert A. Taft had declined, while no reply to an invitation had been received from Gov. Dewey."

"It was also reported that Mr. Dewey was opposed to having any named or potential presidential candidates speak at the dinner," the Times continued, adding:

"Edward Rager, chairman of the Lincoln Day dinner committee, presented the official version of the situation. He said that the dinner committee met several weeks ago, and that it did not want the dinner to be confined to any particular candidate or held on a local basis. Nor did the committee want the dinner to be built up as a boom for any particular candidate."

CITY DISPLAYS BIG ADVANCES

Aldermen Save Taxpayers Large Sum; Fine Cooperation

By CHESTER WALSH The year 1946 was a progressive year for the City of Greenville. Tax collections at this time total 83 per cent—a record. When the Board of Aldermen made up the 1946-47 budget last summer they did it in anticipation of collecting 80 per cent of the taxes. That's good business.

The city has promptly met its obligations for bonds and interest and its credit with New York bond buyers and banks is gilt-edged.

Mayor Jack Boyd said:

"The city administration has functioned efficiently, with a loyal spirit of cooperation among the various departments strikingly evident. The police and fire departments are better organized, maintained and equipped better than ever, and there is vigorous cooperation among the various law enforcement agencies. The street department has secured new equipment and is doing good work under Supt. Claude Mallison.

An outstanding project during the year was the construction of the new city hall building. (Continued on Page Six)

Cab Drivers Call 'Frisco Walkout

San Francisco, Jan. 1.—(AP)—Yellow Cab drivers struck at one minute after midnight today, taking 500 taxis from service at the peak of the New Year's celebration.

Even before the strike went into effect, early celebrants felt the pinch. The Yellow Cab Co. stopped sending its cabs back for the night shift at 3 p. m., nine hours before strike time.

All Peoples Greet New Year With High Hopes

1947 Keynoted By Wave Of Optimism And Rejoicing Throughout World; Effects Of War Still Dampen Some Festivities

London, Jan. 1.—(AP)—Bucarest, London, and other cities greeted the New Year on a keynote of hope, following gay revelries last night in Europe's capitals, where some also prayed for a brighter future.

The silver bugles symbolized Britain the hope—still unrealized, but still much alive—of its socialist postwar planners for a new and better life for all.

"The bugles sounded the hope of the Russia, in a year-end pronouncement over the Moscow Radio, expressed a feeling that 1946 had brought victory to the Soviet Union's foreign policy and defeat for "atomic diplomacy," thus improving the hope for peace.

In France, where a hard-pressed people somehow defied the inexorable laws of supply and demand and found a little wine and some festive food to celebrate the advent of another new year, Premier Leon Blum ordered a flat five per cent cut in the marked prices of all goods and declared that another five per cent cut would be ordered in 60 days.

In Argentina, which ended the old year with a record heat wave, a $1,625,000,000 five-year plan designed by President Juan Peron became effective, with objectives including new roads, dams and irrigation reservoirs, new school buildings, low-cost housing and nationalization of industries.

President Enrique Adolfo Jimenez of Panama issued a year-end decree granting amnesty to all persons charged with political offenses, while refugees throughout the world gained a little hope when the preparatory commission of the International Relief Organization came into being at Lake Success, N. Y. The commission is to take over certain functions of UNRRA which died at midnight, and to take steps for operating the IRO.

Four Firemen Rescued From Fallen Structure

New York, Jan. 1.—(AP)—Firemen, working in the glare of huge searchlights, clawed their way on through tons of twisted steel and crushed concrete today to extricate four comrades who were buried as three floors of a Manhattan loft building collapsed during a four-alarm fire.

Last to be removed from the debris was fireman Michael Bennett, who had lain beneath the rubble since the floors buckled at 8 p. m. last night, two hours after the fire broke out in the building, located at 149 Broadway, near the Wanamaker Department Store on the edge of Greenwich village.

Fire officials theorized that the curth, third and second floors had crumpled under the weight of water poured into the building.

Bennett was freed after a fire department physician crawled his way through the wreckage to give a blood transfusion.

Others removed from the smoldering remains were battalion chief William Hogan, fire Capt. John McGuire, and Lt. Jeremiah Connolly. All were removed to the hospital.

Legislators Await President's Move

Await Word On Which Cast-Off War Powers Are Wanted Back And On Those Remaining He Is Willing To Discard

Washington, Jan. 1.—(AP)—Republicans kept their law books handy today while awaiting word from President Truman on which cast-off war powers he wants back and which additional ones he is willing to junk.

While generally applauding the chief executive's surprise action in declaring World War II hostilities at an end yesterday, GOP lawmakers made clear they want a quick and full scale review of the nearly 500 emergency controls still in effect.

Rep. Michener of Michigan, slated to head the House Judiciary Committee when the Republicans take control of Congress Friday told newsmen:

"I'm for repealing all the laws that are shown to be not essential to the functioning of the government."

Other party leaders re-echoed his views but said they preferred to wait until they have given the complex subject more study before citing specific examples of which wartime restrictions should be added to the 18 Mr. Truman threw overboard yesterday, with 33 others set to die June 30.

Most Congress members said they hoped the president would go into greater detail in his state of the union message scheduled for Monday.

The end of hostilities proclamation caught not only Capt. Hill but most government agencies as well completely off guard. In retrospect, however, it appeared that at least two factors dictated the timing:

1. By acting when he did, Mr. Truman made the sharp excise tax cuts; called for correspond-wit's government's fiscal year. Thus the (Continued on Page Four)

Hotel Guests ESCAPE BLAZE

Ice Plant And Small Hotel Destroyed In Kentucky Town

Cadiz, Ky., Jan. 1.—(AP)—About 20 guests, including one 80-year-old woman who was paralyzed and had to be carried out by volunteers, escaped injury today when fire destroyed the Cadiz Hotel and the Cadiz ice plant.

Mayor Porter Piercy of Cadiz estimated the damage would amount to between $30,000 and $35,000. In November, 1920, fire destroyed ten buildings here, including the previous Catez Hotel on the same site, at a loss which Mayor Piercy said ran more than $100,000.

Today's fire started in an ice plant owned by Van Alexander and operated by James Sexton. It soon spread to the second floor of the three-story frame hotel, owned and operated by Mrs. O. H. Malone.

The volunteer fire department here was aided by every man-in this small Trigg county seat and by firemen and equipment from Hopkinsville, between 20 and 30 miles eastward.

Mrs. Clara Miller, 80, had to be carried from the burning hotel where she had been a guest for some time. She is paralyzed and was under the care of a nurse.

The volunteer firemen were handicapped by snow and sub-freezing weather.

Raleigh Man Is Robbery Victim

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 1.—(AP)—Arcus Thompson, 55, reported to police that two white men entered his rooming house last night and robbed him of $12,000.

Thompson, 111 E. bed, refused to tell the robbers where the money was hidden and one of them bit him with a pistol. Mrs. Thompson, fearing her husband would be seriously injured or killed, told them where the money was located.

Police Chief R. R. Hargrove said Thompson had the large amount of money as the result of his sale of a farm.

Cabinet Reviews Morgan, Of UNRRA, Retires From Army

London, Jan. 1.—(AP)—The London Star said today the British cabinet had "already discussed" the engagement of Princess Elizabeth heiress to the British throne, to Prince Philip of Greece and decided to seek reaction in empire countries over which some day she may be queen.

The Star report said W. L. Mackenzie King, Canadian prime minister, had told Prime Minister Attlee he could "see no personal reason why the marriage should not take place."

Madrid, Jan. 1.—(AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco said in a new year's message to the Spanish people today that "our conscience rests on the exquisite and recognized gentleness, nobility and high-mindedness with which our policy has been carried out toward all peoples and problems in these hours."

"Our peace and the security of our well being are an undeniable reality which our enemies seem to cover with a curtain of insults and slanders," Franco said in a four-minute radio broadcast.

Speaking just after midnight from his El Pardo palace, Franco said that Christ's "equality, liberty and justice characterize our acts."

Franco Speaks In Praise Of Works

Washington, Jan. 1.—(AP)—More than 400 statutes conferring war powers remain on the books despite President Truman's declaration of the end of hostilities.

All of them will die on certain dates or within a certain time after the President or Congress proclaim (1) that the war emergency is ended and (2) that the national emergency is over.

But many of the powers involved have been used to make profound changes in the set-up and actual workings of some governmental agencies.

Government lawyers and officials have urged cautioning Congress against suddenly calling the war at an end without first adopting laws to make permanent some of the changes generally considered desirable in peacetime.

Under the first War Powers Act, for instance, the War and Navy Departments were completely reorganized. If the war were declared ended, the departments would revert to the status they held under the old and outworn National Defense Act.

The same act gives the armed forces the right to buy supplies under streamlined procedures, which many officers feel should be followed in peacetime.

The Second War Powers Act includes such important powers as the authority to allocate scarce supplies. It is under this act that sugar is now being rationed.

BRITISH ADMIT AGREEMENT ON U. S. WEAPONS

Confirm Early Reports On Standardization Of Military Equipment

London, Jan. 1.—(AP)—A government source confirmed today for the first time that Britain and America had agreed in principle to standardization of "certain items of military equipment" to fixed United States sizes and patterns.

British and American military experts are discussing the standardization of small arms, the source said, but he emphasized that "an embracing decision" had been taken to standardize all the military equipment of the two nations.

The disclosure came two months after authoritative military sources told the Associated Press of the arms standardization plan. Publication of the story in the U. S. gave rise to numerous questions of Parliament and to a charge by the Communist Daily Worker that a secret British-American military pact had been reached.

The government informant did not rule out the possibility that "an embracing" decision to standardize arms might be taken in the future. He said the two countries' military advisers were "starting at the bottom and working their way upwards."

British newspapers, meanwhile, front-paged reports from New York claiming that Britain and America were rapidly completing plans for land, sea and air cooperation (Continued on Page Four)

Violent Assault On Americans In China

Mounting Anti-American Demonstrations In Shanghai; Students Molest American Servicemen; Display Restraint

Shanghai, Jan. 1.—(AP)—Several Americans, including Army lieutenant and an Associated Press photographer, were molested in a particularly vehement anti-American demonstration by 1,000 Chinese University students today.

A lieutenant, walking with a girl on Avenue Joffre in the former French concession, was assailed by paraders, who struck him over the head with light bamboo canes. They also tried to pull off the girl's clothing and shouted obscenities.

The lieutenant, clasping the girl's hand, forced a path by using his body as a shield. The demonstrators suddenly left them. The officer, head held high, smiled quizzically.

An Associated Press photographer forcibly was prevented from taking pictures by demonstrators who blacked one of his eyes and beat him on the back and shoulders with fists. He swung his camera to clear a path and made his way to safety.

Louis F. Roth, an American national and longtime resident who considers China his home, said some students grabbed and shook him. He is manager of an export firm.

Americans were more disgusted than angry. They pointed out it wasn't so long ago that Chinese greeted every GI with a thumbs up salute and shouts of ting hao (very good).

Some posters in the band were particularly offensive. They bore the two words "Bitch! Bitch!" They were taken as an oblique but pointed insult to womenfolk of military personnel who pass that thoroughfare to and from Broadway Mansions, one of the main hotels for servicemen and their families.

Sir Frederick commented: "My retirement from the army is certainly not at my request." (Continued on Page Four)

War Powers Statutes

Over 400 Statutes Invoked During War Still On Books Despite Truman's Action Yesterday; Lawmakers Caution Congress On Removing Laws

By CLARKE BEACH

Washington, Jan. 1.—(AP)—More than 400 statutes conferring war powers remain on the books despite President Truman's declaration of the end of hostilities.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

Christmas Dance
There was a very enjoyable dance given Christmas eve night in order that Durwood S. Wilson could attend who was on a four days leave from the Military Academy at West Point. The hall was decorated very elaborately with Japanese lanterns and American flags. From the ceiling hung many Japanese parasols with the lanterns hanging from them. BRANDED—BUT NOT ON HIS CALF
—(AP)—One Australian has a burning memory of how a poddy calf feels when it is branded—he bears the registered brand of a New South Wales farmer on his flesh. During branding time the red hot brand was rested against a log, not noticing it, a neighbor sat on the log and the brand. It is reported that he had far more fuss than any calf ever did.

HOME ON THE ROAD TO THE AIR AGE
Deming, N. M.—(AP)—Something new in homes—front door on the highway and back door on an air strip—is claimed by Mr. and Mrs. Pestelle Cooper.

A hangar is built right into the house. A driveway connects the front door with the highway while the back door opens on a half-mile air strip from which Cooper, banker and insurance executive, flies to his appointments.

WIFE WHEN READY
Rockford, Ill.—(AP)—Here's a bias which could have been reported, quite properly, in the society columns. The ladies were preparing a dinner at the Mission Covenant church. An overheated oven prompted them to turn in an alarm. Two trucks responded swiftly. The firemen fixed the stove, sat down and ate man-size slices of cake.

LOVES LANGUAGE
Alton, Ill.—(AP)—Mrs. William Phillips teaches a French class at Shurtleff college, and one of her pupils is her husband. Phillips met the former Genevieve Bonvalet, pretty and possessor of a bachelor of philosophy degree, when he was in France with the U. S. Army. She came to this country last August, and they were married.

POLISH-GERMAN TRADE
Warsaw, Poland—(AP)—A Polish delegation of the ministry of navigation and foreign trade, headed by Jan Stanislaw Broniewicz, has opened negotiations with Soviet authorities for the conclusion of a new agreement covering the import and export of goods into the Russian occupied zone in Germany. The original agreement, made in 1945, expired shortly.

100,000 GERMANS SENT LOST RELATIVES
—(AP)—It is officially estimated that 10,000,000 Germans throughout all four zones are searching for missing relatives.

In the British zone alone 4,000,000 names are indexed by the German Missing Persons Search Bureau. Most tragic are the children too young to know their own names. They are photographed so that their parents may search the files. A series of daily broadcasts united 370 children with their parents in one month. In the same period 81,000 Germans were reunited with relatives.

FOOD TAX LIFTED FROM POLISH FARMERS
Warsaw—(AP)—The Polish peasant farmer, who for more than a year after Poland's liberation paid his taxes "in kind," by supplying provisions and foodstuffs, now pays his levies in cash.

A recent decree relieved peasants from paying with foodstuffs which had caused much grumbling and discontent among the farmers who preferred to sell their produce for cash in the free markets.

HIS LONG LEGS BEAT THE BUS
Syracuse, N. Y.—(AP)—If the Syracuse Transit Company had to depend on persons like Gordon R. Johnson for patronage, it would go broke.

During the 13 years Johnson has been a license clerk at City Hall, he reports, he has "staked" the bus only twice. Both times it was raining hard.

Buses are uncomfortable for his six-foot two-inch frame.

"If I get a seat my knees are jammed up against the seat in front and if I have to stand my head is bouncing off the ceiling," he added.

Mother Rescues Brood And Stork Pays Visit

Lubbock, Tex., Jan. 1—(AP)—Mrs. H. R. Roye, who gave birth to her sixth child only a few hours after she had saved her five other young children from their blazing farm home in 18-degree weather early Monday morning, was "doing fine" today.

The 33-year-old mother and her husband, 34, a tenant farmer near Idalou, small community near here, have taken their family to stay with relatives in a two-room house where the two families make a total of 16 persons.

Residents of nearby towns have started a fund-raising campaign for relief of the family.

Mrs. Roye's physician said she was "up and about" yesterday. The story began at 1 a. m. when Mrs. Roye sent her husband to Idalou for the doctor. After he left, she lit an oil stove in the kitchen. The stove somehow overturned and the fire began spreading.

Mrs. Roye sent her oldest child, Elaine, 11, to find her father and help, put her 14-month-old baby in the care of Louise, 9, huddled her two other children, seven and five, in the room farthest from the blaze, and started fighting the flames.

Roye, who had gone to a brother's house one-quarter a mile away, returned with his brother, left him there and started again for the doctor.

Mrs. Roye and her children were taken to the brother's house and at 4 a. m. she gave birth to an eight-pound boy.

Washingtonian Presents Facts On Carolina's "Good Health" Program

By WYATT BROWN
Dr. Maynard O. Fletcher of Washington, N. C., presented some of the facts about the good health program Monday evening in an address to the Greenville Rotary Club.

With consolidated schools and hard surfaced roads in mind, as North Carolina projects put over by the people of the state, Dr. Fletcher said he felt confident that they would put over the good health program which he considers the third leg of the job—good schools, good roads to reach the schools, and now good health for the students.

Fletcher cited the program's history from its inception in 1943, the subsequent surveys and partial implementation in the 1945 state legislature. The next immediate objective is the state appropriation of funds to match the federal Hill-Burton bill to provide every county with a hospital by paying only one third of the cost, and the creation of a four year medical school at the University of North Carolina.

Statistics presented by Dr. Fletcher stressed the following: In North Carolina, there is only 2.4 hospital beds per one thousand white people, and only 1.7 beds per one thousand colored people, with most of them in the urban sections of the state where the largest part of the population resides in rural communities. Thirty-three counties have no hospital beds at all.

With only one doctor per 3,600 white persons and only one colored doctor for over six thousand colored people, Dr. Fletcher simply stated, "There are just not enough doctors for the sick people in North Carolina."

Our Number One Need

Among school children, 87 per cent were described as having defective teeth; 16 per cent with defective vision, 16 per cent are underweight and 14 per cent have defective tonsils.

Dr. Fletcher said that the State has appropriated $1 per day for indigents who need hospitalization, a loan fund for medical students who will practice at least four years in a rural community, and a campaign to increase the use of health and hospitalization insurance has been staged.

In conclusion, Fletcher urged everyone to let their members of the State Legislature know they wanted money appropriated for the "Good Health" program and their legislators would vote for it with a view of asking for a better and healthy citizenship.

New Home Too Small For Growing Family

Newton, N. C., Jan. 1.—(AP)—Robert Bost, Jr. of Newton today was pondering an addition to his recently-built small home after his wife gave birth to triplets, two girls and a boy, in Catawba County Hospital yesterday.

Mrs. Bost is the former Metta Louise Ennis of Smithfield. The triplets weighed a total of 14 pounds. The Bosts also have a 3-year-old son.

New Instructor On ECTC Staff

John Cameron of Jonesboro, N. C., has accepted a position in the physical education department of East Carolina Teachers College and began work at the opening of the winter quarter on December 31. A graduate of Eton College in 1937, Cameron has studied also at Columbia University and at the University of North Carolina. Before he entered service in the Navy, he was a member of the physical education department of Louisburg College for five years, and also served as assistant basketball coach at the University of North Carolina.

During the war Cameron was a lieutenant-commander in the Navy and was engaged in physical education at the Iowa City Pre-flight school and at the Naval Air Station at Corpus Christi, Texas. He was discharged from service in August, 1946.

Mrs. Cameron, formerly Beulah Bradley of Raleigh, and two young children are now making their home in Raleigh, but will move to Greenville soon. Mr. Cameron is now living at the Woman's Club of the city, where his mother, Mrs. W. J. Cameron, is hostess.

Dangerous Spot Is Now Repaired

By CHESTER WALSH
The city street dept. has eliminated a hazardous cave-in underneath the asphalt paving at the bottom of the valley on East Fourth street, between the high school and St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Several feet of earth under a considerable area of pavement had sunk, leaving the pavement suspended like a bridge over the chasm and supported only by the wire reinforcement in the asphalt. A bridge spanned the valley many years ago. Later the valley was filled in and the street was paved. City Engineer Henry L. Rivers said a leaking drain pipe had permitted water to settle the earth at that spot.

The city placed a warning flare at the "hump" in the valley recently to safeguard motorists. The street department did a good job making the fill without interrupting traffic. Motorists are warned to drive carefully over the fill in the pavement.

The sidewalks on both sides of Fourth street there have become a couple of venetian canals since the grassy area has become several inches higher than the pavement. When it rains the pavements are impassable for pedestrians. Mayor Jack Boyd said today that the water obstruction will be removed so pedestrians will not have to wade across when the rains come.

Plane Accident Near Charleston

Charleston, S. C., Jan. 1.—(AP)—Three men and two women were killed when their DC-3 plane, bound from Newark, N. J., to Miami, Fla., crashed near here last night.

First reports had said that only three persons were killed.

Charleston police said all 11 persons on the plane, a freighter were burned almost beyond recognition.

The plane was owned by International Airlines, which operates a freight service between Newark and Miami.

The plane established radio contact with the airport control tower at 10:43 p. m. It was drizzling at the time and visibility was poor. Four minutes later the plane crashed and burst into flame about three miles northwest of the airport, in the suburban, Midland Park section of Charleston.

Announcement...

Sears, Roebuck and Co. today announced that it is introducing a new and unique phonograph record club which in general is patterned after the company's popular People's Book Club.

This new Silvertone Record Club made its debut through the medium of the company's annual Christmas catalog which has been distributed to customers throughout the nation.

The Sears record club represents the first venture of this type to offer recordings made especially for its membership. The recordings are made on 12-inch, red vinyl plastic discs which according to the club sponsors, retain original tone quality and permit longer playing time. Among membership privileges offered by the club is a bonus record for every four records purchased and a monthly magazine called the Silvertone Voice in which new selections are described and storied.

The records to be distributed by the club are being recorded and produced for Sears by the subsidiary operations of the Associated Muzak Corporation. This organization is well known through a subsidiary, Muzak, Inc., originators of a "wired music" service which is widely used in 78 large cities.

According to T. V. Hauser, Sears' vice president in charge of merchandising, the company's decision to enter the record field was based on three main factors; One, an ever increasing demand for records; Two, an anticipated large increase in the use of record players; Three, the development of vinyl plastic unbreakable records which makes possible the production of recordings of unusually high tone quality and permanency.

"Through the medium of this club," said Mr. Houser, "Sears will make available to music lovers, carefully selected masterpieces from the fields of popular light concert and concert music from which to build permanent record libraries for the home."

"In assembling the orchestras to make its recordings, Sears has recruited the nation's top ranking musicians, and we are supplementing these leading instrumentalists with outstanding men and women vocalists. Sears has also employed some of the foremost arrangers and conductors." Mr. Houser stated that in determining the original selections for the club, Sears conducted a poll among a typical cross section of its city and rural customers to learn their likes and dislikes in the music field. In this way, Sears hopes to satisfy the diversified musical tastes of the club membership.

Among the artists who have recorded, or are scheduled to record, for the club are vocalists Lanny Ross, Vivian Della Chiesa and Claramae Turner; conductors Erich Leinsdorf, Sylvan Levin and Allen Roth; and arranger-conductors Glenn Osser and Ted Dale. Ten records are offered prospective club members in the original catalog announcement and the monthly selections are scheduled to begin in January. The club was introduced through Sears' retail outlets in November.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

THE NEW YEAR
We read in the Bible that the patriarch Abraham, when he turned from his ancestral home toward the promised land, went forth knowing not whither he went. He was probably not the first man to go out knowing not whither he went. We are standing today, all of us, on the threshold of a new year. We have never passed this way before. A vista opens before us upon which neither our eyes nor the eyes of anyone else have ever rested. We know not what the next minute may bring forth; it is folly to speculate about the next year.

But Abraham went out feeling that God was leading him. His faith was very simple but very deep. Years passed without his hearing the voice of God, yet his faith never wavered. And when at last God spoke, He spoke in a way which made Abraham feel that the years of silence and trust had not been in vain.

WASHINGTON LETTER

FEMINISTS PREPARE TO APPEAL THEIR CAUSE TO THE UN

By JANE EADS

Washington—At the fifth Pan American Conference, in 1923 in Chile, some members of the American National Woman's Party persuaded delegates to start listening to the desires and hopes of the women of their countries. In 1928, at the sixth conference, held in Havana, only seven women were nominated as spokesmen for their republics. But in Lima, Peru, in 1938 the Inter-American Commission of Women was established. They were to work for women's rights and asked to submit reports at the ensuing conferences.

In Washington 19 of the 21 republics are represented at the current assembly of the Inter-American Commission of Women. They are reading a document which is aimed to ask many things for their betterment, politically and socially. They expect to draft a report to submit to the U. N.

The Commission has already accomplished much in obtaining the right for women to vote and the right to maintain their own nationality after marriage. Already 10 countries have given women suffrage — the United States, Ecuador, Brazil, Uruguay, Cuba, El Salvador, the Dominican Republic, Guatemala, and Panama. Venezuela voted suffrage for women but only for the Constitutional Assembly.

The right to vote in municipal elections has been granted the women of Chile, Peru, Argentina, Bolivia and Venezuela and of some provinces of Mexico.

Other delegates include Miss Leonina Cardoso, a great feminist and journalist, former counsel of the Brazilian Embassy at Rome, and Dr. Ofelia Barret of Honduras, who worked for UNRRA in Europe during the war.

War Powers . . .

the war or the national emergencies are price controls, export controls, selective service, and the government's power to buy, sell and charter merchant vessels.

Congress first tackled the problem of eliminating the war powers within a few weeks after Japan surrendered, and many lawmakers at that time seemed to think they could tell the whole complex knot by simply passing one little law.

Nine bills were introduced terminating the war powers in the House Judiciary Committee merely recommended the repeal of 46 minor statutes. Such a resolution was adopted by the House, but it never came to a vote in the Senate.

Only eight of these 46 statutes, incidentally, were among those which the President terminated yesterday by ending hostilities. Some officials predict it may be a long time before the matter of war powers can be disposed of finally, and the war officially ended.

For instance, a new measure to give a permanent organization to the War and Navy Departments might be held up until the debate on merger of the armed forces and universal training has been concluded.

The most costly fire of the year, according to the board's records, was the burning of a whisky warehouse at Fresno, Calif., on August 28, with a loss to the government, alone, of close to $11,000,000 in liquor taxes. In addition, the value of the spirits destroyed amounted to more than $3,000,000. More than 10,000 barrels of brandy, 3,000 barrels of whisky and 7,000 drums of alcohol, each holding 55 gallons, were lost.

Industry was hard hit by other multi-million dollar blazes, which destroyed valuable stocks of critically short materials as well as the factories that produced them.

In Langley, S. C., a textile warehouse burned on July 3, at a loss of $3,800,000. A Philadelphia chemical plant burned at a cost of $1,725,000. Five blocks of warehouses in Pittsburgh, eight freight cars and tons of food went up in a $2,000,000 fire on March 21. A Paris, Ill. grain mill fire on September 9 cost $3,000,000.

Three other 2,000,000 fires were a Cicero, Ill. picture frame plant on January 2, five buildings in the business district of Muskegon, Michigan, February 22, and the Staten Island, N. Y. ferry terminal fire on June 25.

There were several million dollar fires. Smokers' carelessness, lack of automatic sprinklers and fire escapes, delayed fire alarms and antiquated construction were among factors brought out by investigation of the disasters. The National Board of Fire Underwriters distributed a suggested "Ordinance Providing Safety to Life in Places of Assembly," and various cities set about revising their fire laws.

morning in one of the wildest nights London has seen since V-E Day. Crowds packed the streets from wall to wall, singing and dancing and kissing each other as Big Ben banged the hour. Quieter thousands thronged the forecourt of St. Paul's Cathedral, symbolizing the countless dots on the world's map where prayers—rather than parties—welcomed the new year.

In Germany, where the economic mergers of the American and British occupation zones became effective today, the parties were few and chilly. In Hamburg for instance, theaters, cinemas and restaurants were ordered closed at 7 p. m., beginning today, to save fuel.

In Italy, the hard-pressed cabinet held a special New Year's Day session to discuss action for meeting threatened general strikes in southern Italy, where food shortages have put the population in an ugly temper.

Chilly, hungry Greeks heard their king, George II, accuse "some of our old allies" of "an unfair and hostile diplomatic and press attack" on Greece, to which an 11-nation investigation commission is scheduled to proceed this month to check on border warfare.

For the Russians, it was the night for Father New Year to play Santa Claus to the kids and the Moscow Radio made it clear that joy was general in Red Square and throughout the Soviet Union. But the Russians also made it eminently clear that they—like elephants—never forget, at least when it comes to politics.

Asked whether Field Marshal Lord Montgomery would discuss arms standardization between Britain and Soviet Russia when he visited Moscow this month, the government source said the chief of the Imperial General Staff was not scheduled to talk about this question.

EXPERTS HUNT V-2 WARHEAD

Want Scientific Instruments Sent To Record Height

Washington, Jan. 1—(AP)—Scientists said today that search for the warhead of a V-2 rocket fired to a record height of 114 miles Dec. 17 will be resumed after the holidays.

Experts of the Johns Hopkins physics research laboratory at Silver Springs, Md. said the hunt for the missing warhead was suspended temporarily because many of the workers at the White Sands, N. Mex., rocket testing base were on vacation.

They expressed certainty that the warhead, which contained scientific instruments, had landed in the testing area and said the search was narrowing down to a localized section. It is quite possible, they added, that the warhead may have broken up before hitting the ground after being blown free of the rocket body.

They were amused by suggestions that the warhead may be suspended in midair, pointing out that the level at which gravity becomes neutralized is many thousands of miles beyond the 114-mile altitude. As an example, they explained that even at 4000 miles it is believed gravity operates at about one-fourth the pull at the earth's surface, diminishing in geometric regression as the distance from the earth decreases.

It also is possible that the rocket parts may have so scattered in the desert that they never will be found.

Back Pay Claims Still Increasing

By The Associated Press
Scores of new portal to portal wage suits seeking retroactive wage claims totaling more than $400,000,000 were filed in federal courts in 19 cities yesterday, increasing the grand total of demands sought in actions on file to nearly two billion dollars.

In Chicago alone 32 additional suits involving approximately $63,000,000 were filed. Reports were received of other actions filed in various parts of the country boosting the day's claims by unions to $432,671,992 and the unofficial grand total to $1,807,127,992.

Although many of the suits on file asked no specific amount, leaving it to the courts to determine, industrial and congressional leaders have predicted the final total may be more than five billion dollars.

Jewish Terrorist Is Given Death Penalty

Jerusalem, Jan. 1—(AP)—A military court sentenced to death today Dov Gerner, 33, an Irgun Zvai Leumi member, for firing a gun in a terrorist attack on the Ramat Gan police station last April.

Two policemen were killed and 15 Irgun members were killed or wounded, including Gerner. Two dozen automatic weapons were stolen.

The Palestine military commander must confirm the sentence. Gerner followed the customary Irgun practice of refusing to recognize the court's jurisdiction and demanding treatment as a war prisoner.

DEWEY BEGINS SECOND TERM

Governor Calls For International Understanding

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 1—(AP)—Thomas E. Dewey, beginning his second, four-year term as New York's governor, today called for a better understanding among nations as "the supreme task before all governments."

The 1944 Republican presidential nominee, considered a strong possibility for the 1948 nomination, took the oath of office in a tradition-stepped ceremony in New York's assembly chamber, packed with high state officials, legislators, judges, congressmen and other invited guests.

In his prepared address today, Dewey declared that "here in our own country—so much more fortunate than others—we have had present all of the essentials for great economic progress, yet we have so tangled our affairs that there is actually widespread apprehension on every hand of a possible depression."

"Today the whole world waits with bated breath to see whether America will stop its internal quarrelling and get to work or will lead the retreat back to world-wide economic stagnation," he added.

"The supreme task before all governments is to seek to bring about a better understanding and good will among all people and all nations," Dewey declared.

The committee's decision is subject to approval by the conference of all GOP senators, scheduled for tomorrow.

Taft let up in the air the question of whether there will be an attempt to halt Bilbo at the door when the new Congress convenes Friday, or

Seeing Eye Dog Is Proven Loyal

Troy, N. Y., Jan. 1—(AP)—James H. Connell, Jr., 26, does not doubt today that his seeing eye dog, Durvock, is loyal.

Connell, who is blind, slipped on an ice-coated street atop an embankment last night and slid with the dog down a 75-foot embankment, dropping from a 10-foot retaining wall to a sidewalk.

Durvock's barking brought persons in the neighborhood to the rescue. The dog stayed with Connell in a police ambulance and followed him into an emergency hospital room. Connell suffered a fractured ankle.

Gas Chamber Used Speed Up Executions

Hamburg, Germany, Jan. 1—(AP)—Johann Schwarzhuber, former Ravensbrück concentration camp, testified in an affidavit today that women inmates too sick to work were gassed because shooting was "too slow."

He and 15 other staff members of Ravensbrück, largest women's prison on record, are on trial before a British military court on war crimes.

Schwarzhuber estimated 200 women were shot at the camp, but that 2,400 were executed by gas in the interest of speed.

Dead Detectives Found By Hunter

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 1—(AP)—The chief of Little Rock detectives and his lieutenant were found shot to death today in a suburban park area barely an hour after they had left police headquarters.

The officers, Chief O. N. Martin, 50, and Lieut. Jack Deubler, about 35, were found by a rabbit hunter about 9:30 a. m., alongside their squad car.

Deubler had been shot in the back with a shotgun. Martin was shot in the head with a large calibre revolver.

Anti-Trust Law Planned By U.S.

Berlin, January 1—(AP)—The American military government soon will announce for the U. S. zone of Germany a law requiring dissolution of all enterprises employing more than 10,000 persons, it was learned from a high official source today.

By order of Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy military governor, the Americans are acting alone on decartelization after about 18 months of effort to reach an agreement on a four-power plan, this source said. The Potsdam declaration called for decentralization of German economic and industrial combines at the "earliest possible" time.

However, the Americans express hope that their arrangement will become the basis for a Germany-wide anti-trust code.

Good Samaritans Render Aid To Deserted Mother And Children

By CHESTER WALSH

Christmas did not come to Mrs. Gladys Williams and her three little children—the youngest, four months old—until several days after December 25.

But—there is a Santa Claus! Greenville people have that fine spirit of old Kris kingle during the Yuletide and at other times during the year.

Mrs. Williams, wife of Robert Williams, who can earn $35 a week when he works, living in a small, cafe building on Pitt street, in the rear of Harris and Rogers' warehouse, was hungry and her children were crying for food when J. C. Youngblood went there to collect rent. Youngblood had no idea Williams was going to house his family there. He thought he intended to install a cot and sleep there until he could find living quarters. Mrs. Williams told him she had no money and that she and the children were hungry. He sent Police Detectives M. E. Corbett and George Crawford to the place to investigate a case of direct poverty. The officers were shocked. They provided at once $5 worth of food for the deserted family and they gave Mrs. Williams $2.50 from their own pockets before they reported the case to Chief Tanner.

Police Clerk Russell Rogerson and a hobnobbing newspaper reporter arranged to pass the pitiful story on in the Daily Reflector last night. In the story there was expressed a hope that there really "is a Santa Claus." There is! Santa Claus is the spirit of Greenville people.

Matt R. Long, prominent business- man, made a generous offer to Chief Tanner to be one of the Good Samaritans and others followed suit.

Today that young mother and her three children, Barbara Anne 4; Mary Louise, 2, and diminutive Betty Lou, four months old, have food and warmth and the assurance that there are such things in this world as "friends."

Christmas came to them late, but happily. Chief Tanner conferred about the case with Maj. W. H. Stanley, head of the Salvation Army here.

Police were happy today in their Good Samaritan roles, with the radio car working along the Jericho Road. They reported to the Reflector that Glasgow Smith sent $5. Mrs. A. H. Taft, Broad Street Grocery, Mrs. Walter C. Johnston's Grocery, Cayton's Grocery, Wald-munford Bakery and Mrs. C. T. Mumford arranged with police to send food to the family. Mrs. Joe Moyer and an unidentified woman sent clothing for the mother and little children. Mrs. W. R. Myers sent $5. Chief Tanner said that coal had been sent to the dwelling and that lights will be turned on in the present cafe-building domicile of Mrs. Williams and the children. Others extended aid.

"Am I my brother's keeper?" "We are, in Greenville, thank God!"

Chief Tanner said Robert Williams, the woman's husband, left home last Thursday and his wife had only 30 cents for food. That went for peas and a loaf of bread. When Detectives Corbett and Crawford went there they got busy and things began to happen.

In the meantime, Robert Williams, husband and father of the children is in the city jail under $1,000 bond. He will be tried in Police Court before Judge Jimmy Roberts for non-support. There will be many witnesses against him.

If he is found guilty of non-support it is safe to expect his honor to fix the sentence so that Williams will have to pay money into the court each week for the support of his family.
