BUILDERS ARE CAUTIONED ON PRICE CEILING

OPA To Enforce Ceilings Despite Relaxation On Controls

O Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—OPA today warned builders and purchasers of some 700,000 homes started under the veterans emergency housing program that they must adhere to previous price ceilings despite recent relaxation of home building controls.

While there are no price ceilings on construction started since the housing program was revised on Dec. 24, OPA said in a statement it will continue to enforce ceilings applicable before that date on sales prices and rents.

Not only will builders be required to observe the regulations under which they obtained priorities last year, but veterans who purchase such homes must adhere to the same ceilings if they rent them or resell them, OPA said. In the case of a sale broker's fee may be added to the sales price.

Builders who obtained priorities prior to Dec. 24 will be required to post notices of ceiling prices and give first preference to veterans on sale or lease.

OPA's announcement followed closely new relaxations of restrictions. (Continued on Page Six)

Pet Awakens Master In Blazing Bedroom

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Mickey, a cocker spaniel, knew what to do when fire broke out in her master's bedroom.

Mickey was in the kitchen with four of her seven-month-old puppies at the time. She ran into the bedroom, leaped from the flaming bed on which B. B. Hicks slept and pawed his face until he awakened.

Then she dragged the burning blankets from the bed with her mouth.

Hicks managed to reach the telephone and notify the fire department before he lost consciousness.

Firemen put out the blaze after rescuing Hicks, Mickey and the four puppies.

Senate Blocks New Teachers' Pay Hike

House-Approved Amendment Side-tracked Into Calendar Committee; Gov. Cherry's Intervention Is Evidenced

Raleigh, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The Senate, with seven members present, blocked today an amendment providing pay increases up to 30 per cent for teachers and state employees.

The measure, rushed over from the House, was sent to the calendar committee.

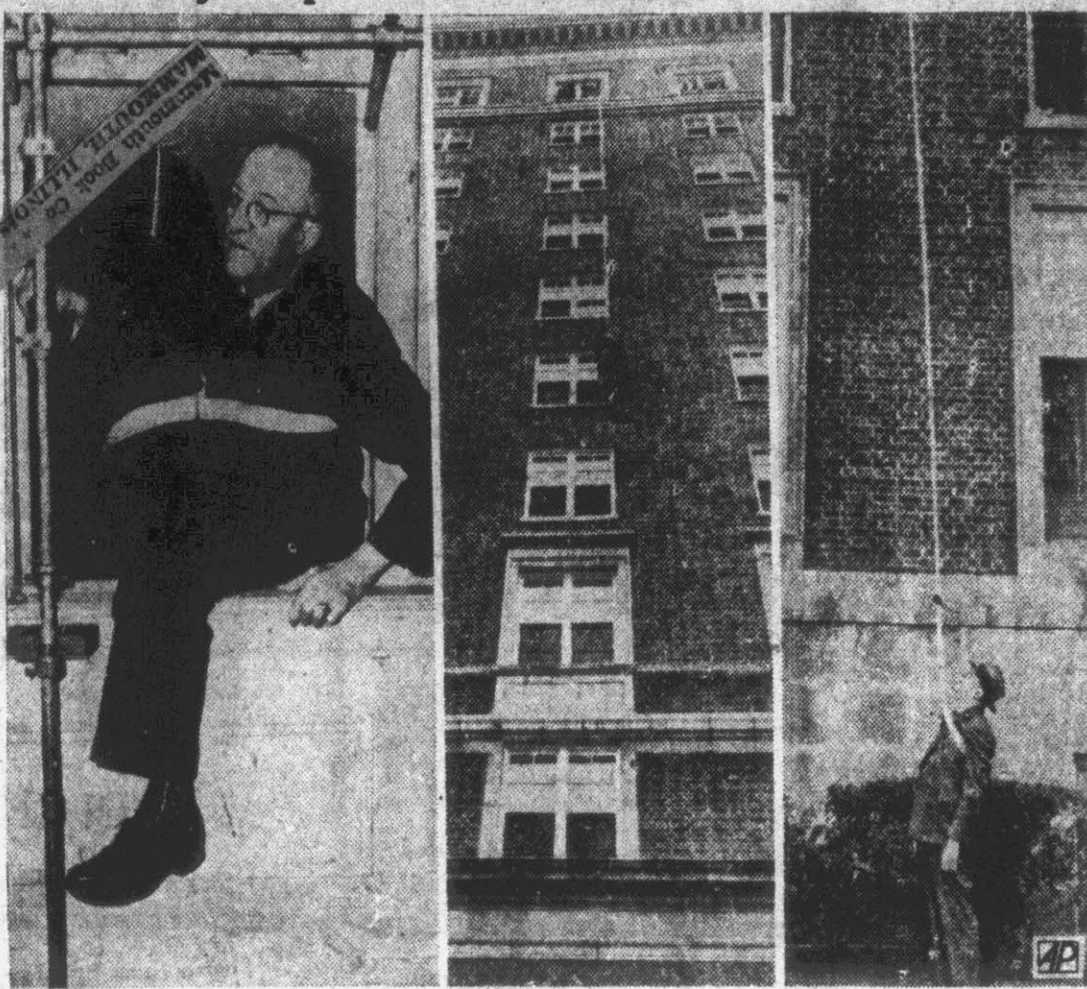

It was evident that Governor Cherry, as indicated yesterday, had stepped into the picture. He said in his biennial message that he stood for 20 per cent pay increases.

He advised in his biennial message on the state of the commonwealth delivered Thursday before joint sessions of the Legislature, a plea for emergency salary increases of 20 per cent, and also advised that the teachers and state employees should be prepared for reduction when recession comes.

The House action yesterday came after the Senate, in a brief session, followed the administration supported bill calling for the 20 per cent pay increases, effective from January 1 of this year to the end of the 1946-47 fiscal year.

However, when the bill reached the floor of the lower chamber, a ground swell of opposition occurred. Rep. Oscar Barker of Durham (Continued on Page Six)

'Safety-Scape' For Hotel Fires Demonstrated

John Bassett, 65-year-old barber from Detroit, demonstrates his "Safety-Scape" at a hotel in Atlanta, Ga., for firemen and underwriters. Designed to save persons trapped in hotel fires, the simple mechanical device permits descent by a steel ribbon released from an automatic reel. Left: Bassett leaves a 12th story window of the hotel with a strap looped under his arms. Center: He descends at elevator speed. Right: Safely on the ground, he has completed the 12-story drop in about 18 seconds. (AP Photos).

Last Recourse

Salisbury, England, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Free milk and beer and expense-paid vacations of 10 days were offered as bait today in the Ministry of Health's campaign to enlist more than 1,700 men and women to serve as "victims" in a government-sponsored experiment to check the common cold.

The government even promised three shillings (60 cents) daily pocket money and attention by a doctor—intent upon giving the volunteer a cold.

So far 129 students have submitted to tests at Harvard Hospital here. Only 33 have developed colds.

Back of the Health Ministry's generosity is a shortage of chimpanzees.

Selection Of Governor For Trieste Is Problem

Squabble In Security Council Anticipated Over Man To Run Free City; British Complaint On Albania Received

Lake Success, N. Y., Jan. 11.—(AP)—The Security Council was on the lookout today for a man to run the Adriatic port of Trieste and guide it in the ways of peace and democracy as a free territory under United Nations supervision.

The council, after a long preliminary argument yesterday, finally agreed to take over Trieste at the bidding of the Big Four Foreign Ministers' Council, which established the free territory as part of the Italian peace settlement.

At about the same time, the council received another Adriatic problem—a British complaint charging Albania with mining the Corfu Straits where two British destroyers were damaged last October with a loss of 44 lives.

The British seek an apology and compensation for damages and loss of life. The complaint, the first ever filed by Britain with the council, was offered after fruitless direct negotiations with the Albanian government.

Only Australia abstained in the 10-0 vote on Trieste, maintaining to the end that the council was not specifically authorized to undertake such an administration as that arranged for the Adriatic port area by the United States, Britain, Russia and France.

The other ten nations concurred in the decision of the foreign ministers that they were empowered to adopt Trieste as a ward of the U. N. and security.

The council was in recess until 11 a. m. (EST) Wednesday when debate on arms reduction proposals will be resumed.

MANIAC RUNS WILD IN CAFE

James Briggs Assaults Wife And Attacks Policeman

By CHESTER WALSH
Considerable excitement prevailed at the Dixie Lunch Room, near Five Points last night about 9 o'clock, when James F. Briggs, 28, knocked down with his fist his wife, a waitress, and then held a crowd in the cafe; bay and dared anyone to give aid to the bleeding and prostrate woman on the floor.

The infuriated man literally took possession of the place for a while. He had taken the injured woman into the kitchen when Policeman Tommy Gladson arrived. Briggs grabbed a butcher knife and threatened the officer, backing the officer, who had his gun drawn, into the street at the point of the knife.

Bystanders urged Gladson to shoot Briggs and save his own life. Briggs is alive today because of the officer's coolness.

The man was not drunk, witnesses said. He was finally disarmed by Patrolman Gladson and Detective M. E. Corbett arrested him with difficulty. Briggs was very much infuriated when he was locked up.

Paul Mixon, manager of the cafe, took Mrs. Briggs to a hospital for treatment and then to her home, 1116 Dickinson avenue. (Continued on Page Four)

RECORD LOSS BY WALKOUTS

Idleness Caused By Labor Disputes Triples Old High

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Less than one per cent of the 4,700 strikes and lockouts in 1946 caused nearly three-fourths of the record loss in working time.

The government bureau of labor statistics reported today that all idleness due to labor-management disputes amounted to 113,603,000 man-days. This is triple the prior record high of 38,026,000 man-days lost in 1945 and four times the 28,425,000 in 1937, the next highest year.

But BLS said that out of the total 4,700 work stoppages only 35 involved strikes of more than 10 days. (Continued on Page Six)

Babson Discusses Youth Crime-Wave

Babson Park, Fla., Jan. 11.—It is hard to grasp the full import of the tidal wave of juvenile delinquency as today reported by police and courts, by social workers, and by the grim lips of school and church. No testimony of public authorities, however, should be needed to warn readers of its sweep. You only have to scan the list of daily news items—some perhaps dated right in your own community or neighborhood. The "teen-age" situation at present is frankly bad and scientists fear that the future outlook is even worse.

Has It Come To "Babies Will Be Babies"?

Two highlights stand out in studying the "what can it be—"infant insanity" epidemic of this postwar age: First: The sheer gravity and depravity of the widespread offenses. Literally they do not stop short of robbery, arson, torture, rape or other nameable kinds of crime. Second: The astounding, all but unbelievable, youthfulness of the perpetrators.

There was a time when an arrested and accused offender "made news" because he was said to be a teen.

COMBINING OF LABOR BILLS GETS SUPPORT

Proposals By Case, Ball And Wagner Would Be Merged Into One Bill

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Senate Republican leaders leaned today toward the idea of combining two or three of their labor bills into one big package.

Members of the Senate Labor Committee said privately that the brief hearing planned for the No. 1 bill on the schedule, the Ball-Taft-Smith Bill, now may be combined with the hearings on other proposals such as:

1. The far-reaching bill to abolish industry-wide bargaining, introduced yesterday by Senator Ball (R-Minn.). Ball said of this proposal that it would prevent industry-wide strikes, and under it "certainly John L. Lewis would not be an absolute dictator."
2. Proposals to outlaw various forms of the closed shop.
3. Proposals to change the Wagner Act in order to give employers a better bargaining position.

The idea of showing a large number of labor law changes into one bill has been favored all along by House Republican leaders. Two or three huge omnibus bills have been introduced in the House.

But the 51 Senate Republicans meeting a week ago, decided on the general strategy of proceeding first with the Ball-Taft-Smith Bill and then holding a longer hearing on other proposals.

The No. 1 measure, sponsored by Ball, Senator Taft (R-Ohio), and Senator H. Alexander Smith (R-Ky.), is a slightly revised version of last year's Case Bill. It would set up a federal mediation board, delay strikes 60 days, prevent jurisdictional strikes and require unions to make financial reports.

The theory of holding only brief testimony on this measure is that the Case Bill passed Congress last May—only to be vetoed by President Truman—and needs very little further study.

Recommends Dismal Swamp Be Nat'l Park

Richmond, Va., Jan. 11.—(AP)—The United States Division of Forestry is ready to recommend approval for the purchase by the United States of the 323,000 acres of dismal swamp for conversion into a national park.

This was indicated in a letter from R. M. Evans, regional forester, to William A. Wright, chairman of the State Conservation Commission, in which he said the forestry office was ready to recommend purchase "when and if the principal property owners can be persuaded to sell."

Italian Socialist Party In Crisis

Rome, Jan. 11.—(AP)—A large faction of the Italian Socialist party deserted today over the issue of collaboration with the Communists. The leader of the anti-Communist faction, charging Italian Socialism had been subjugated to "foreign forces," said the split raised "the specter of civil war."

The anti-Communist leader, Giuseppe Saragat, said the pro-Communist leadership of the party involved "a cold and methodic subjugation to the principles of foreign forces" and held the danger of "international war" also.

Saragat, constituent assembly president and former diplomat, though usually suave and practiced on the rostrum, seemed nervous and unhappy as he appeared before the party's 25th national congress.

Spending Estimate Seized As Service Merger Reason

Strong Bi-Partisan Opposition To Budget Slashing That Would Impair U. S. Security; Consolidators Of Armed Forces Have New Argument

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Strong bi-partisan opposition to budget slashing that might impair security developed today as Army-Navy merger advocates seized on the President's spending estimate as a good argument for consolidating the armed services.

The merger move gathered momentum as Republican financial managers, talking of sharp reduction in Mr. Truman's $31,500,000,000 budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1, looked hungrily at a projected outlay of $11,000,000,000 for the forces.

On both sides of Capitol Hill the GOP leadership, seemed nearing agreement that $3,500,000,000 may be about as much as Congress can hope to pare from the President's estimate.

Chairman Taft (R-NY) of the House Appropriations Committee said the total can be reduced "at least three or four billions." This is the amount Chairman Taft (OHIO) of the GOP Senate Steering Committee has said he thinks can be "squeezed out."

Taft told reporters his contention that appropriations can be cut to slightly over $29,000,000,000 had been widely taken to mean he intended a slash of some $8,000,000,000. (Continued on Page Four)

GOP PLANNING PROFIT PROBE

Work For Continuation Of Investigating Committee

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Republicans, planning a big-scale probe of munitions profits, charted strategy today for continuing the special Senate War Investigating Committee despite opposition of Democratic senators.

Chairman Brewster (R-Me.) scheduled a conference with Senator Gurney (R-SD), head of the new Armed Services Committee which some Democrats contend should take over the work of the special inquiry group which was under President Truman's chairmanship when he was in the Senate.

Brewster already has conferred with other Republican members of the special committee so that, as he put it, "we can present a united front on policy" when the matter comes up for a vote in the Senate, probably Monday.

These GOP senators expect that Gurney will fall in line with party plans and yield any claim the Armed Services Committee might have to conduct war investigations.

The issue came up in the Senate yesterday when Democratic Senators Tydings of Maryland and Hayden of Arizona protested against Republican efforts to continue the life of the war inquiry unit and (Continued on Page Four)

FEAR VOLCANO MAY BLOW TOP

Philippine Peak Boiling With Smoke And Molten Rock

Abard U. S. Army weather plane over Mayon Volcano, Jan. 11.—(AP) Mighty Mayon Volcano looks ominous. A haze of grey pink smoke streams out of her cone to cover a 100 mile section of southeastern Luzon.

Mayon, a volcano that has erupted frequently in the past 100 years, boils with smoke and lava.

Only a trained volcanologist could predict whether Mayon is ready to blow her top this time, but the fact that her cone of boiling rock is still intact seems ominous to weather observers aboard this plane. It might go at any time.

Mayon burst into activity Wednesday night, sending a ball of fire hurtling skyward. Two Navy fliers who preceded this flight said a small stream of lava is coursing down toward Pipog, a fishing village of 5,000, and might carry to the vicinity of the town.

The pilot of the C-47 transport, Capt. Robert A. Harris, Dayton, Ohio, banks within 200 yards of the (Continued on Page Six)

Person County Has Liquor Referendum

Roxboro, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Person county, hotly-contested battleground of the wets and dries, voted today for the third time in a decade on the question of legal liquor.

The cry went the 1937 election by 22 votes and increased their majority in 1940 to 64 votes when approximately 2,500 ballots were cast.

The referendum is the first in the state in 1947.

Politics In Romance

Russian Reaction To Engagement Between Princess Elizabeth And Prince Philip Of Greece A Source Of Concern To Britain; Pressure By Leftists

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
News Item:—The reported romance between England's charming young Princess Elizabeth and handsome Prince Philip of Greece has stirred the subject of political controversy in Britain.

News Item:—Field Marshal Montgomery, England's famous soldier, has been feted in Moscow, and the Soviet press is paying tribute to him as one of the world's outstanding commanders.

"And what," demands a reader, "is the relationship—if any—between Elizabeth's romance and Monty's glorification in the Red capital? It sounds like a sad mixture of shoes and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

Well, that's a fair question, and maybe we shouldn't have started our column with such a riddle. Still there's a very definite association of ideas, and when we have made this clear we shall have uncovered a highly significant political development. We may well start with some queries propounded a few days ago by the London newspaper "Pictorial."

"What will be Russia's reaction to Elizabeth's engagement to a prince whose identification and origin will scarcely be disguised by formal British citizenship? Or is the Russian reaction to such a personal matter of no real concern?"

That's it: what will Russia think? Poor Elizabeth and Philip! Why should Moscow be concerned with an affair of heart between two youngsters who are just starting out in life and have had no hand in international affairs?

Closed Shops Today

An Explanation Of The "Closed Shop"; How It Reached Its Present Status; How It Stands In Relation To Legislative Proposals Now Coming Up

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Here's an explanation of the closed shop, how it got that way, and where it stands now.

Senator Ball, Minnesota Republican, has just offered a bill in Congress to ban it. Will Congress do it? It's too soon to say.

A closed shop is a place where no one but a union man can work or be hired. Unions argue for it this way:

1. It's unfair for a worker not to join a union if he receives the benefits won by a union.

2. A closed shop gives a union greater security against any attempt by the boss to wreck the union.

3. There's less trouble within a plant with a closed shop—the kind which might arise between union and non-union men.

4. A closed shop prevents discrimination—that is, the boss can't favor a non-union man over a union man.

Enemies of the closed shop say this:

1. It deprives a man of his freedom—to join or not join a union.

2. It forces a boss to fire good men just because they won't join a union or to refuse to hire them unless they are union members.

3. Closed shops are monopolies, but, under the law, companies cannot form monopolies. So why should unions have them?

4. In a closed shop a worker has no protection against some unfair action against him by his enemies within the union.

(On the other hand: A worker who is not a union member has no (Continued on Page Four)

Our Farm Folks
By MRS. FRED T. LANGFORD
Home Demonstration Agent
And
VERNA BELL LOWERY
Asst. Home Demonstration Agent

The Red Oak Home Demonstration Club started off the new year of 1947 with a bang. On January 1 about 125 men, women and children enjoyed their annual "get together" meeting. This dinner meeting was held in the community building which was attractively decorated in a new year motif. As you entered the door, you were greeted by a flickering happy new year message in red and white lights at the back of the stage. The stage was also banked in evergreens and baskets of silver dipped flowers and shrubs. The window panes were painted with bon-ami and darted with locks of cotton that reminded one of a mid-winter snow scene. There were tall candles burning in crystal holders on the banquet tables, which gave the building a cozy atmosphere.

Recreation for the evening was led by Mrs. B. L. Tyson, which included songs, drawing of lucky tickets, and competitive contests between husbands and wives. The husbands were overjoyed over winning the spelling contest and each received a dust pan.

The Chicod Home Demonstration Club had an enjoyable evening in the Home Economics department on January 3. The tables were decorated with potted plants. The food, backed chicken, dressing, giblet gravy, string beans, candied potatoes, cranberry sauce, pear salad, rolls, ice cream and coffee, was served buffet style. Mrs. Uran Cox served the salad course.

Everyone enjoyed the songs and especially "Darling I Am Growing Old," which was sung by the husbands. The recreation was led by Mrs. Newman Lewis. This is an occasion that the husbands look forward to each year. There were as many men present, if not more, as there were women. Mrs. Newman Lewis wanted to know if the women couldn't arrange to have them as their guests twice a year.

Belvoir Home Demonstration Club: One of the finest meetings ever held by the Belvoir Home Demonstration Club was the one on last Thursday night. The school lunch room was beautiful with its decorations of white burning tapers and ivy. A delicious baked chicken dinner was served to 40 club members, husbands and guests present. In her gracious manner Mrs. Earl Lewis, president, presided and extended a cordial welcome to which Mr. L. L. Murray, principal of the school, responded. Relays, games, and stunts were led by Mrs. Lewis after the program.

After these bountiful meals the audience enjoyed a demonstration on "Nutrition in Relation to Health" given by Mrs. Verona Lee J. Langford, Home Demonstration Agent and Miss Verna Belle Lowery, assistant Home Demonstration Agent. Mr. S. C. Winchester, farm agent, and Mr. Sam Weeks, assistant farm agent, discussed "Soil in Relation to Health."

The agents introduced their subject by saying: "North Carolina recognizes its number one need as that of good health. State leaders and civic organizations are sponsoring a health program to make the citizens of our state conscious of the necessity of good health. It is fitting that the club members in Pitt County along with the 54,625 members in the state make plans this month to improve the health of their families."

The agents stressed the importance of including the basic 7 foods in the diet.

Some people have "ailments" because they do not eat certain foods. This point was noticeable in the skit, "Food and Health," given by five members in the respective clubs. The skit recommended eating well-balanced meal instead of taking many vitamin pills and medicine.

The farm agents stressed the importance of having rich soil in order to produce foods with a higher nutritive value. They related several experiments which provided this point specially in dairy production.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

LUBBERLAND IS OUT

Hansel and Gretel were left in the woods by their cruel step-mother. They wandered about until they fell asleep, and when they awoke a beautiful white bird led them through the forest to a gorgeous house made of cake and confectioner's sugar. Straightway they fell to eating. Hansel broke off a piece of cake from the eaves of the house. Gretel pressed her tongue against a window of spun sugar and satisfied her appetite for sweets.

It is the perennial dream of humanity, put in story form. Always people have hoped that the time would come when man would have all he wants with little or no labor. But it is only a dream and a childish one. Life is not made that way.

Listen to the words of that stern old realist, Thomas Carlyle: "A perpetual dream there has been of Paradise, and some luxurious Lubberland, where the brooks should run wine, and the trees bend with ready-baked viands; but it was a dream merely; an impossible dream. Suffering, contradiction, error, have their quite perennial, and even indispensable abode in this Earth." "Herein is the outstanding teaching of Christianity made manifest. The cross stands central in our faith. Life is like that, says the Christian gospel. It knows nothing about a 'luxurious Lubberland.'"

WASHINGTON LETTER

WILSON, LEAVING SECRET SERVICE, REVIEWS HIS WORK
By JANE EADS

Washington—Frank J. Wilson, 59, retiring in January after 10 years as chief of the U. S. Secret Service, sat at his desk in the Treasury building puffing a big cigar. "I think," he said, "I'll buy a sailboat and cruise around Lake Erie, like I've always wanted to."

For 26 years Wilson has been a law enforcement officer in the Treasury Department. The son of a Buffalo policeman, he began his colorful career as a special agent of the Intelligence Unit of the Internal Revenue Bureau in 1920.

He figured in the income tax investigation which resulted in the conviction of Al Capone and other major racketeers, but he says his participation in the Lindbergh kidnapping case was the most exciting.

He persuaded Lindbergh and his lawyer, Col. Henry Breckinridge, to permit him to take the serial number of the $50,000 ransom bills.

This strategy finally resulted in the conviction of Bruno Hauptmann when, after three years, he passed one of the bills.

Wilson says his most satisfying achievement has been his service's ability to suppress and eliminate many of the country's leading counterfeiting rings.

Today counterfeiting is at its lowest record in history. In nine years, he boasts, the Secret Service has reduced counterfeiting more than 90 percent.

In 1937, Wilson inaugurated a program to make potential victims of counterfeiting and forgery "counterfeit-conscious" and "check-conscious." This was achieved by showing how forgers work and by explaining differences between bad and good money.

Here's how the Secret Service tells you to detect counterfeit bills: 1. Know your money. Study the bills you receive so as to become familiar with the workmanship on them, especially in the portraits.

2. Compare a suspected bill with a genuine of the same type.

3. Look for the investigation of stolen War Savings Bonds. Every year, Wilson says, the Secret Service arrests scores of offenders who have stolen, forged and fraudulently cashed Savings Bonds.

In the old days, Wilson says, he used to try to beat the record of the year before for convictions. But now he wants to send fewer people to jail, make more people fraud-

Wilson says his has been no 8-hour day job. You never would have found him out on the golf links in fine mid-week afternoons. "I've always worked from 12 to 16 hours and sometimes as much as 24 hours," he says, pointing out that the motto of the Secret Service is "Be alert 60 seconds every minute."

Wilson arises every morning at 7:15 and has a picnic at his breakfast table, eating along with the birds in his garden. Before he sits down at his breakfast table, which is surrounded by windows, he fills up two feeders in the garden with sunflower seeds, peanuts and small chick feed.

synthetic home. I refer to the many homes which have no spiritual background and where a Bible is never read. What of enduring worth do such habitations offer to eager childhood? Now do not mistake my meaning, for I hasten to add that such a synthetic home may be streamlined with all the gadgetry which the wife can crave and the husband can buy. It may be among the swellest houses in town; for police blotters will show that some of the worst horrors of delinquent juveniles involve the so-called elite. It is the home's behavior to which I refer and this has little to do with the cost of the house.

Today's congestion is floating many families from the overgrown big cities and into the smaller towns, suburbs, and countryside. Let us hope that this outboard trek will lead to revival of true home-making and real child-rearing. If blessed with such results, this nation will be far along toward solving its tragic youth problem. Puffed out of congestion's deadly orbit and influences, the normal home can re-develop a family life that will absorb and improve the youngsters. Parents will not be less prone to pass the buck to hired baby-sitters, underprivileged teachers, and the contagion of

One of the first things his committee will do, he said, will be to review the personnel needs of the Army to determine whether 1,070,000 uniformed men will be required during the next year.

Rep. Plumley (R-Vt.), who will head the Naval Appropriations Subcommittee, said there is room for reductions in the Navy's budget, but declined to specify what items could be shaved.

Known as a "big Navy" man, Plumley emphasized that he will not propose cuts that would interfere with efficiency.

Plumley saw room for substantial savings through elimination of overlapping functions of the Army and the Navy without merging the two services.

protection against unfairness by his boss.

The idea of a closed shop is old. There were closed shops in this country as early as 1800. They were widespread by civil war days. After World War I business crushed unions and, with them, closed shops. Then came the depression of the early 1930s.

Congress passed the National Labor Relations Act in 1935. (This NLRA also is called the Wagner Act after Senator Wagner, New York Democrat, who fought for it till Congress passed it.)

The purpose of the act was to protect workers when they wanted to bargain collectively—that is, through a union—for better pay, hours and working conditions.

The NLRA gave its blessings to the closed shop—although it didn't say there had to be closed shops in this way.

If the majority of workers in a plant vote for a certain union to represent them, that union bargains with the boss.

If he agrees to a closed shop, then the act says:

He must fire anyone who is not a union member and must not hire any but union members.

(He's not compelled by the NLRA to agree to a closed shop. But a union may force him to by a strike or threat of a strike.)

Congress had banned closed shops on railroads. This was a special case. The railroads had been making closed shop agreements with local unions—company dominated unions—to freeze out the big unions.

If the Republicans are going to make good their promise to take a big bite out of the President's figures, they conceded, they must do considerable nipping on Army and Navy funds which account for about 30 percent of the total.

"Substantial, honest-to-goodness cuts" in military spending were foreseen by Rep. Engel (R-Mich.) if the Army and the Navy are merged.

Engel, who will head the appropriations sub-committee handling Army funds, told reporters that even without a merger large cuts

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE HEIGHT, NUMBER OF STORIES, AND SIZE OF BUILDING; THE PERCENTAGE OF LOT THAT MAY BE OCCUPIED; THE SIZE OF YARDS, COURTS AND OTHER OPEN SPACES; THE DENSITY OF POPULATION; THE LOCATION AND USE OF BUILDINGS AND LAND FOR TRADE, INDUSTRY, RESIDENCE OR OTHER PURPOSES; CREATING DISTRICTS FOR SAID PURPOSES AND ESTABLISHING THE BOUNDARIES THEREOF; PROVIDING FOR CHANGES IN THE REGULATION, RESTRICTIONS AND BOUNDARIES OF SUCH DISTRICTS; DEFINING CERTAIN TERMS USED HEREIN; PROVIDING FOR ENFORCEMENT; ESTABLISHING A BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT; AND IMPOSING PENALTIES.

In pursuance of authority conferred by G. S. 160-172-180-181, and for the purpose of promoting the health, safety, morals or general welfare of the inhabitants of the City of Greenville by lessening congestion in the streets; securing safety from fire, panic, and other dangers; providing adequate light and air; preventing the overcrowding of land; avoiding undue congestion of population; facilitating the adequate provision of transportation, water, sewerage, schools, parks and other public requirements; and by other means, in accordance with a comprehensive plan; now, therefore:

The Board of Aldermen of the City of Greenville do ordain as follows:

Section 1. Short Title

This ordinance shall be known as the "Zoning Ordinance" and the map herein referred to, which is identified by the title "City of Greenville, North Carolina Zoning Map," shall be known as the "Zoning Map."

Section 2. Definitions

For the purpose of this ordinance certain terms and words are herein defined as follows:

Words used in the present tense include the future; words in the singular number include the plural, and words in the plural number include the singular; the word "building" includes the word "structure"; and the word "shall" is mandatory and not directory.

ACCESSORY BUILDING: A subordinate building or portion of the main building, the use of which is purely incidental to that of the main building.

ALLEY: A public thoroughfare which affords only a secondary means of access to abutting property.

BASEMENT: A story partly underground but having at least one-half of its height above the average level of the adjoining ground. A basement shall be counted as a story for the purpose of height measurement if the vertical distance between the ceiling and the average level of the adjoining ground is more than five (5) feet, or if used for business purposes, or if used for dwelling purposes by other than a servant or his family.

BUILDING, HEIGHT OF: The vertical distance from the mean elevation of the finished grade along the front of the building to the highest point of a flat roof, or to the deck line of a mansard roof, or to the mean height level between eaves and ridge for gable, hip, and gambrel roofs.

CELLAR: A story having more than one-half of its height below the average level of the adjoining ground. A cellar shall not be counted as a story for the purposes of height measurement.

DWELLING, ONE-FAMILY: A detached building designed for or occupied exclusively by one (1) family.

DWELLING, TWO-FAMILY: A detached building designed for or occupied exclusively by two (2) families living independently of each other.

DWELLING, MULTIPLE: A building of portion thereof used or designed as a residence for three (3) or more families living independently of each other and doing their own cooking therein, including apartments, apartment hotels, and group houses.

FAMILY: One (1) or more persons occupying a premises and living as a single householding unit, as distinguished from a group occupying a boarding house, lodging house, or hotel.

GARAGE, PRIVATE: A garage used for storage purposes only and having a capacity of not more than three (3) automobiles of not more than one automobile per family housed in the building to which such garage is accessory, whichever is the greater, and in which space may be used for not more than one commercial vehicle, and in which space may be rented for not more than three (3) vehicles of others than occupants of the building to which such garage is accessory.

HOME OCCUPATION: An occupation for gain or support conducted only by members of a family residing on the premises, provided that no special space is designed or arranged for such occupation, and provided that no article is sold or offered for sale except such as may be produced by members of the immediate family residing on the premises.

LOT: A parcel of land occupied or to be occupied by one main building or use, with its accessories and including the open spaces accessory to it. No area shall be counted as accessory to more than one main building or use, and no area necessary for compliance with the open space requirements for one main building or use shall be included or counted in the calculation of the open space accessory to any other main building or use.

LOT, DEPTH OF: The mean horizontal distance between the front and rear lot lines.

LOT, CORNER: A lot or portion of a lot more than seventy (70) feet wide at the junction of an abutting upon two or more streets. Any portion of such lot more than seventy (70) feet distant from that street with the greater frontage shall comply with the provisions of this ordinance applicable to interior lots.

LOT, INTERIOR: A lot other than a corner lot.

LOT, REVERSED CORNER: A corner lot which does not front on the same street with the interior lots on the same side, as distinguished from the same end of the block.

LOT, THROUGH: A lot having frontage on two (2) parallel or approximately parallel streets.

LOT, LINES: The lines bounding a lot as defined in this ordinance.

NON-CONFORMING USE: A building or land occupied by a use that does not conform with the use regulations of the district in which it is situated.

STABLE, PRIVATE: A stable with capacity for not more than two (2) horses, provided, however, that a private stable may exceed a whereon such stable is situated contains an area of not less than two thousand (2000) square feet for each horse accommodated.

STORY: That portion of a building included between the surface of any floor and the surface of the floor next above it, or if there be no floor above it, then the space between such floor and the ceiling next above it.

STREET, HALF: A story under a gable, hip or gambrel roof, the wall planes of which on at least two (2) opposite exterior walls are not more than two (2) feet above the floor of such story.

STREET: A public or private thoroughfare which affords the principal means of access to abutting property.

STRUCTURE: Anything constructed or erected, the use of which requires more or less permanent location on the ground, or attached to something having more or less permanent location on the ground.

FRONT YARD: A front yard is an open unoccupied space on the same lot with a main building, extending the full width of the lot and situated between the front line of the lot and the front line of the building projected to the side line of the lot. The depth of the front yard shall be measured between the front line of the building and the curb line. Covered porches, whether enclosed, or unenclosed, shall be considered as part of the main building and shall not project into a required yard.

REAR YARD: A rear yard is an open space on the same lot with a main building unoccupied except as hereinafter permitted, extending the full width of the lot and situated between the rear line of the lot and the rear line of the building projected to the side line of the lot. The depth of the rear yard shall be measured between the rear line of the lot, or the center line of the alley if there be an alley and the rear line of the building.

SIDE YARD: A side yard is an open unoccupied space on the same lot with a main building, situated between the side line of the building and the adjacent side line of the lot and extending from the rear line of the rear yard to the front line of the rear yard. If there be no front yard, the front boundary of the side yard shall be the front line of the lot and if there be no rear yard the rear boundary of the side yard shall be the rear line of the lot.

Section 3. Districts:
(A) In order to regulate and restrict the location of trades, industries and other uses, and the location of buildings designed, erected or occupied for specified purposes, to regulate and limit the height and size of buildings hereafter erected or altered, to regulate and determine the area of yards and other open spaces, and to regulate and limit the density of population, the City of Greenville is hereby divided into districts of which there shall be three (3) known as:

(1) Residence district.

(2) Business district.

(3) Industrial district.

(B) The boundaries of each district are indicated upon the zoning map of the City of Greenville, which is hereto attached and made a part of this ordinance. The residence district, business district, and industrial district are shown on said map plain, stippled, crosshatched, or by various colors or otherwise distinguished. Said map and all the notations, reference, and other information shown thereon shall be as much a part of this ordinance as if fully described herein.

(C) Except as hereinafter provided:

(1) No building shall be erected, reconstructed, or structurally altered nor shall any building or land be used for any purpose other than is permitted in the district in which such building or land is located.

(2) No building shall be erected, reconstructed, or structurally altered to exceed the height limit hereinafter established for the district in which such building is located.

(3) No lot area shall be so reduced or diminished that the yards or other open spaces shall be smaller than prescribed by this ordinance, no yard or open space provided about any building for the purpose of complying with the provisions of this ordinance shall be considered as providing a yard or open space on an adjoining premises shall be considered as providing a yard or open space on a lot whereon a building is to be erected.

Section 4. Residence District Regulations.

(A) USE REGULATIONS: In the residence district no building or land shall be used and no building shall be hereafter erected or structurally altered, unless otherwise provided in this ordinance, except for the following uses:

(One-family dwellings, two-family dwellings, multiple dwellings.

(2) Boating houses, lodging houses, hotels not involving the conduct of any business other than for the sole convenience of the guest thereof.

(3) Clubs, excepting those the chief activity of which is a service customarily carried on as a business.

(4) Schools, institutions of an educational or philanthropic nature, public buildings.

(5) Churches, convents.

(6) Hospitals, clinics.

(7) Museums, art galleries, libraries, parks, playgrounds not conducted for profit.

(8) Farming, truck gardening, nurseries, provided that no greenhouse heating plant shall be located within sixty (60) feet of any front lot line or within twenty-five (25) feet of any other lot line.

(9) Accessory buildings including one private garage when located not less than sixty (60) feet from the front line of the lot or as a part of the main building, and also including one private stable when located not less than sixty (60) feet from the front line of the lot and not less than five (5) feet from any other lot line.

(10) Uses customarily incident to any of the above, uses including home occupation such as dressmaking or the office of a physician, surgeon, dentist, musician, or artist, provided, however, that any such home occupation shall be situated in the main building, and also including name plates not exceeding one (1) square foot in area and signs appertaining only to the lease, hire or sale of the premises or building or part thereof, provided that the total area of such signs shall not exceed twelve (12) square feet, and provided that the total area of such sign shall be illuminated unless such sign and illuminating device are located entirely within one (1) foot of a street wall of the main building, and provided, further, that no advertising sign of any other character shall be permitted in the residence district.

(B) HEIGHT REGULATIONS: In the residence district no building shall hereafter be erected or structurally altered to exceed 35 feet in height, or 2½ stories in height, except as provided in the section relating to side yards. See C 2 (e).

(C) AREA REGULATIONS:

(1) Front Yards: On every lot in the residence district there shall be a front yard having a depth of not less than 35 feet, provided, however, as follows:

(a) Where lots comprising forty (40) percent or more of the frontage on one side of a block are developed with buildings at the time of the adoption of this ordinance, having an average front yard with a variation in depth of not more than eight (8) feet, no building hereafter erected or structurally altered shall project beyond the average front yard line so established, provided, further, that this regulation shall not be so interpreted as to require a front yard depth of more than thirty-five (35) feet.

(b) No front yard depth need exceed the average provided for the two adjoining buildings, one on either side thereof, if such two adjoining buildings are less than two hundred (200) feet apart.

(c) When the geographic contour or grade of the lot is such that compliance with the front yard requirements is impossible or will impose undue hardship upon the property owner, the Board of Adjustment will establish a front yard line suitable and practical for such lot.

(2) Side Yards:

(a) On every lot in the residence district there shall be two (2) side yards, one on each side of the building. Neither of such side yards shall be less than eight (8) feet in width and the total width of such two (2) side yards shall not be less than sixteen (16) feet.

(b) On any lot having a width of less than thirty-eight (38) feet, and of record at the time of the adoption of this ordinance, the required total width of the two (2) side yards shall be that herebefore prescribed less one-half (½) foot for each foot said lot is less than thirty-eight (38) feet in width, provided, further, however, that no side yard shall be less than three (3) feet in width.

(c) The side-yard regulations in (a) and (b) of this paragraph shall apply to all lots including corner lots, except that in the case of a reversed corner lot, which faces an intersecting street, the side yard on the street side of such reversed corner lot shall have a width not less than fifty (50) percent of the front yard depth required on the lots in the rear of such reversed corner lot and no accessory building on such reversed corner lot shall project beyond the front yard line of the lots in the rear of such reversed corner lot, provided, however, that this regulation for reversed corner lots shall not have the effect of reducing the buildable width of the main building, or less than twenty-six (26) feet or for an accessory building to less than twenty (20) feet on any lot of record at the time of the adoption of this ordinance.

(d) Side yards for multiple dwelling units. Units constructed, reconstructed, or altered to house more than two dwelling units must add an additional five feet to the total side yard requirements hereinafter prescribed for each additional dwelling unit in excess of two under the same roof.

(e) Structures may exceed the height limitation herein prescribed but must add three (3) feet to the side yard requirements as outlined herein for each ten (10) feet or fraction thereof by which the structure exceeds the height limitation as outlined in Section 4 B.

Section 5. Business District Regulations.

(A) USE REGULATIONS: In the business district no building or land shall be used and no building shall be hereafter erected or structurally altered, except as otherwise provided in this ordinance, for any of the following uses:

(1) Acetylene gas manufacture or storage.

(69) Vinegar manufacture.

(70) Wool pulling or scouring.

(71) Yeast plant.

(72) And in general those uses which may be obnoxious or offensive by reason of emission of odor, dust, smoke, gas or noise.

(B) AREA REGULATIONS:

(1) Side Yards: In the business district no side yard shall be required except as follows:

(a) Buildings erected for dwelling purposes exclusively shall comply with the side yard regulations of the residence district.

(b) Where a building is erected for mixed use, namely, for both dwelling and business purposes, each story of such building used in any part for dwelling purposes shall, if more than two (2) rooms in depth, be provided with two (2) side yards, one (1) on each side of the building, neither of which shall be less than eight (8) feet in width, provided, however, that this regulation shall not apply to the street side of a corner lot.

(c) Where a lot abuts upon the side of a lot zoned residence there shall be a side yard of not less than five (5) feet in width.

Section 6. Industrial District Regulations.

(A) USE REGULATIONS: In the industrial district buildings and land may be used for any purpose whatsoever not in conflict with any ordinance of the City of Greenville, provided, however that no building or occupancy permit shall be issued for any of the following uses until and unless the location of such use shall have been approved by the Board of Aldermen.

(1) Acid manufacture.

(2) Cement, lime, gypsum or plaster of paris manufacture.

(3) Distillation of bones.

(4) Explosives, manufacture or storage.

(5) Fertilizer manufacture.

(6) Garbage, offal or dead animal reduction or dumping.

(7) Gue manufacture.

(8) Petroleum refining.

(9) Smelting of tin, copper, zinc, or iron ores.

(10) Stock yards or slaughter of animals.

(B) AREA REGULATIONS: In the industrial district neither rear yards nor side yards shall be required except as follows:

(1) Buildings erected for dwelling purposes exclusively shall comply with the side yard regulations for the residence district.

(2) Buildings erected for mixed use, namely, for both dwelling and business purposes, shall comply with the side yard regulations prescribed for such buildings in the business district.

Section 7. Non-Conforming Uses

The lawful use of a building or premises existing at the time of the adoption of this ordinance may be continued although such use does not conform with the provisions of this ordinance, and such building may be reconstructed or structurally altered and non-conforming use therein changed subject to the following regulations:

(A) The order of classification of uses from highest to lowest, for the purposes of this section shall be as follows: Residence district uses, business district uses, industrial district uses, as permitted under the preceding sections of this ordinance.

(B) A non-conforming use may be changed to a use of higher classification, but not to a use of lower classification, nor shall a non-conforming use be changed to another use of the same classification unless the new use shall be deemed by the Board of Adjustment, after public notice and hearing, to be more harmful to the surrounding neighborhood, from the standpoint of the purposes of this ordinance, than the existing non-conforming use.

(C) A non-conforming use may not be extended, but the extension of a use to any portion of a building, which portion is at the time of the adoption of this ordinance primarily arranged or designed for such non-conforming use, shall not be deemed to be an extension of a non-conforming use.

(D) The structural alterations made in a non-conforming building shall not during its life exceed fifty (50) percent of its assessed value, nor shall the building be enlarged, unless the use therein is changed to a conforming use, provided, however, that a non-conforming building damaged by fire, explosion, tornado, earthquake, or similar uncontrollable cause to an extent of not more than sixty (60) percent of its value may be repaired or rebuilt within one year of the date of such damage, but not thereafter.

(E) If a non-conforming use is discontinued, any future use of the buildings and premises shall be in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance. A reasonable interim, however, between tenants or occupants shall not be construed to mean discontinuance.

(F) The foregoing provisions of this section shall also apply to non-conforming uses in districts hereafter changed.

Section 8. Exceptions

The foregoing height and area regulations shall be subject to the following exceptions and regulations:

(A) HEIGHT:

(1) On through lots one hundred (100) feet or less in depth the height of a building may be measured from the average elevation of the finished grade along the front of the building, considering the end facing either street as the front. On through lots more than one hundred and fifty (150) feet in depth the height regulations and basis of height measurements for the street front permitting the greater height shall apply to a depth of not more than one hundred fifty (150) feet from the street.

(2) Chimneys, cooling towers, elevators, bulkheads, scenery lots monuments, domes, spires, parapets, walls, and necessary mechanical appurtenances may be erected to any height in accordance with existing or hereafter adopted ordinance of the City of Greenville.

(B) AREA:

(1) Every part of a required yard shall be open and unobstructed from its lowest level to the sky, except for the ordinary projections of sills, belt courses, chimneys, flues, buttresses, ornamental features, and eaves, provided, however, that none of the aforesaid projections shall project into a minimum side yard more than one-third (1-3) of the width of such side yard and in any case more than twenty-four (24) inches.

(2) Open or lattice enclosed fire escapes, fireproof outside stairways, and balconies opening upon fire towers projecting into a yard not more than five (5) feet shall be permitted where so placed as not to obstruct light and ventilation.

(3) No cornice shall project over a street line more than five percent (5%) of the width of the street and in any case more than four (4) feet.

Section 9. Board of Adjustment

(A) A board of adjustment is hereby established. The word "board" when used in this section shall be construed to mean the board of adjustment. The board shall consist of five (5) members who shall be citizens of the City of Greenville appointed by the mayor and approved by the Board of Aldermen. The term of office of the members of the board shall be for three (3

GHS Quints Win In Doubleheader

Both Greenville High School basketball teams romped to victories last night in Tarboro as the varsity won 46-24 while the Baby Phantoms triumphed 40-15.
 The senior team paced by center Glynn Perkins, easily defeated the Snake quintet. The halftime score was 29-12. Glynn Perkins, the Phantom high scorer, threw in basket after basket to rack up 26 points. Hart with 6 points was best for the losers.

In the preliminary game the Greenville Juniors completely outclassed the Snake team, defeating them 40-15. Joe Allgood with ten points was high man for the winners. Everett with 7 points topped the losers.

Barney Ross Has Another Victory

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 11—(AP)—Scrappy Barney Ross, onetime king of the welterweights and survivor of tough Pacific fighting, has scored another knockout—this time over the narcotic habit.
 The much-decorated veteran of Guadalcanal won his latest bout in four months. The scene: the huge U. S. Public Health Service Hospital in the rolling Blue Grass horse country near here.
 Dr. Victor M. Vogel, medical officer in charge of the institution, announced last night Ross would be discharged Tuesday. Ross declined to discuss his immediate plans.
 Ross had appeared voluntarily in the U. S. Marshal's office in New York and asked admission to the hospital. He told how drugs had been given him by well-meaning friends while he suffered war wounds and malaria, and how he continued using them after his discharge from the Marines as he suffered recurrent headaches.

U. S. TO KEEP ARMED POWER

Forrestal Says Military Forces To Be Kept Indefinitely

Cleveland, Jan. 10—(AP)—The United States "will remain militarily strong," says Navy Secretary James V. Forrestal, "until the United Nations is a going business."
 And then, he told a world affairs forum last night, "it will devote such portions of its military power as is appropriate and necessary to give effective force to the sanctions of that organization."
 Another speaker at the opening session of the Cleveland Council on World Affairs' 21st Institute, Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese ambassador to the United States, declared that "if (China's) national unification cannot be completed today because of the uncompromising and selfish attitude of the Communists, there is no sound reason why China should not go ahead with her national reconstruction."
 With these keynotes sounded in the session devoted to Asia, the institute today turned its attention to Latin America and Western Europe. This afternoon's sessions present Sumner Welles, former U. S. Undersecretary of State, and Ezequiel Padilla, former Foreign Minister of Mexico. Among the speakers on tonight's program on Western Europe will be the Italian Premier Alcide de Gasperi.

Soldier-Husband Is Shot By Lonely Wife

Pittsburgh, Jan. 11—(AP)—A 20-year-old expectant mother sat in an Allegheny County jail cell today and wondered what the law would do to a wife who admitted wanting to keep her soldier-husband at home so much that she shot him in the hand to delay his return to the Army at the end of his furlough.
 Chief County Detective Joseph A. Stack identified the young woman as Mrs. Marion Shields of near Verona in Penn. Township, who, he said, declared:
 "It was no accident because I meant to shoot him so that he couldn't go back to camp. I told him I was going to shoot him."

Chained Woman Prisoner Moved

Thomasville, N. C., Jan. 11—(AP)—Mary Byerly, alias Mary Amos, High Point woman whom Thomasville police admitted they chained to a hospital bed after she became ill in jail Christmas Day, has been transferred to Davidson County jail at Lexington.
 A preliminary hearing in Recorder's court here yesterday found probable cause she was implicated in the $275 robbery at gunpoint of Walter Garner of High Point last Nov. 21. She was bound over on $500 for a hearing in Davidson Superior Court.
 Eugene Turner and Garland Harville, both of High Point, posted $500 each for appearance in the court after probable cause was found against them in the case. The Byerly woman was arrested in High Point and released to Thomasville police.

Bilbo's Son May Be Possible Successor

The former wife of Mississippi's Senator Theodore G. Bilbo announced in Jackson that their son, Lt. Col. Theodore G. Bilbo, Jr., (above) might be a candidate for the office to which his father was elected if a vacancy occurs. Col. Bilbo is on duty with U. S. occupation forces in Germany. The senate has delayed seating the senator because of charges against him in connection with his campaign tactics. (AP Photo).

Lewis Fight Up To Court Today

Washington, Jan. 11—(AP)—John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers told the Supreme Court today the Government's no-strike injunction in the soft coal dispute was void.
 Attorneys for Lewis and the union filed a brief before the high court contending that Congress had barred the issuance of restraining orders against unions.
 The Government also filed a brief, arguing that Lewis and the union should have obeyed the Federal District Court's order not to strike last November regardless of the court's authority to issue such a directive.
