BRITONS WANT QUICK ACTION ON PALESTINE

Mounting Public Demand; Plan Forthcoming; Events Nearing Climax

London, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Mounting public demand in Britain for decisive action to settle the turbulent problem of Palestine pushed Prime Minister Attlee's government toward a showdown today amid reports that the labor cabinet would produce a specific plan in the near future.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Colonial Secretary Arthur O Jones, who conferred for two hours with Jewish agency leaders yesterday, were slated to resume today their thus far fruitless sessions with leaders of Palestine Arabs and the Arab league.

The liberal News Chronicle, echoing sentiments which have run on through most of the British press in the last few days, declared editorially this morning:

"The immediate and pressing need is for the British government to announce its own plan, which must take some form of partition. An official government source said last week the cabinet had decided in principle that the partition of Palestine into Jewish and Arab sectors was necessary in view of the failure to win Jewish-Arab agreement on a solution.

Moshe Shertok, Jewish agency political chief, said after yesterday's conference that he thought "things are definitely moving to a climax," but declined to say whether the British officials had made any new proposals.

Jerusalem, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Jewish leaders appealed to the British today to reconsider plans for imposing martial law on the Holy Land, where grim tension was heightened by the speedy evacuation of British women and children as a convicted Jewish underground member waited to march to the gallows.

There was no official announcement from the government as to when the underground, 23-year-old Dov Bera Gruner, would hang. Executions in Palestine usually occur on Tuesday and Gruner was scheduled to die a week ago today, but won a delay.

Count Toll From Charred Vessel

Hong Kong, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The bodies of 130 persons were removed today from the charred bulk of the Chinese river steamer Saigon, several hours after the 7,700-ton craft had caught fire at her wharf here.

The number of passengers aboard the wrecked vessel was uncertain, and authorities feared there might be additional bodies in the wreckage. Scores of the passengers—mostly Chinese—leaped overboard to escape the flames, and it was feared some might have drowned.

The Saigon, which had been playing between Hong Kong and Canton, was carrying a highly inflammable cargo of cotton and paper, and the fire swept through the vessel with terrifying rapidity. Many of the stowage passengers were trapped below decks.

Renew Plea To Make City Port Of Entry

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—President Truman today had his eighth request to see that Charleston, S. C., becomes an international air port of entry.

The request was made yesterday by Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who said he told the President that "Charleston would make a third ideal port of entry."

New York and Miami are the only two such ports on the East Coast.

Disarmament Talks

Opposing Views On Procedure For Disarmament Talks; Soviet Safe In Stalling While They Seek A-Bomb Secret; Haste Needed In Forming Policy

The United Nations Security Council is talking today about how to talk about disarmament and atomic control.

Russia wants to talk first about general disarmament and come to atomic control in the course of implementing some general policy.

The United States wanted the atomic matter settled first, but is now seeking to compromise by establishing a commission to study disarmament aside from atomic or other mass destruction weapons, with the Security Council then to devote itself to the U.S. atomic plan. This suggestion is not expected to make much headway.

NAM Chairman Is Speaker At N. C. Farm Bureau Convention

Asheville, Feb. 4.—(AP)—If Congress fails to reduce taxes adequately to increase the flow of venture capital, it automatically will invite the depression that Congress and all of us seek to avoid," Robert R. Wason, chairman of the National Manufacturers' Association, told delegates to the 11th annual convention of the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation here this morning.

Also scheduled to speak today were Dr. Boris Shchekin, Washington representative of the American Federation of Labor; Allan Kline, vice president of the American Farm Bureau; Mr. Haywood Dall of Greenville, N. C.; Chester DuMont, N. Y. State Commissioner of Agriculture, and former Gov. J. Melville Broughton of North Carolina.

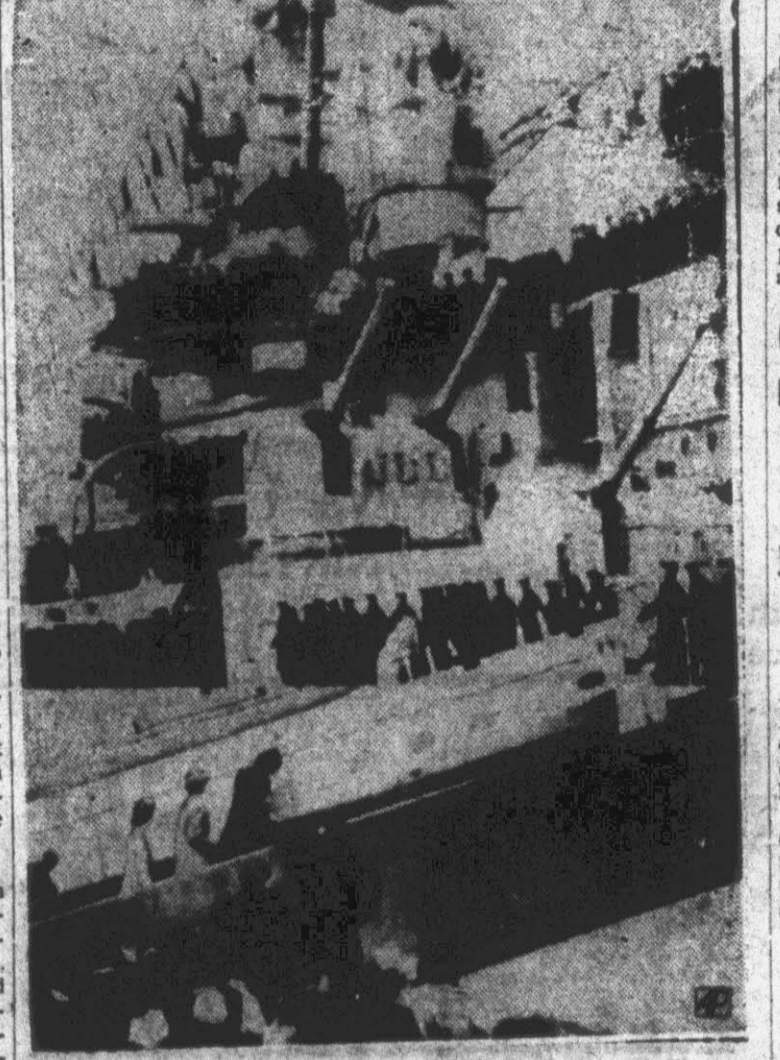

Wason, who emphasized the interdependence of agriculture and industry in the nation in his address, charged that continued favoritism by the government toward labor prevented all-out production by industry in 1946, declaring that "the public is no longer willing to grant wage increases under the impression that they will be paid by somebody else."

"The public understands as it did not understand even a year ago," he said, "that wages are simply prices. Real wages and the standard of living rise together."

"Recent wages without equivalent increases in production create only inflation. There is no need of depression in this country, but inflation will surely produce it. With government approval, feather-bedding will prevent the production of goods. Labor receives two days pay for one day's work. This is inflation."

"There will be no depression in 1947 unless the government makes it. Let agriculture and industry together consider themselves as a committee of vigilance against depression by government mismanagement."

Gromyko Rejects Plan For Controls Priority

Claims Disarmament Itself Should Be First Move; Austin Insists System Of Security Must Be Set Up First

Lake Success, N. Y., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Soviet Russia took sharp issue today with a U. S. declaration that world wide arms reduction must await the creation of airtight safeguards to prevent violation or evasion or arms agreements.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko told the United Nations security council that Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate, was "illogical in insisting that an international system of security must be the first step toward disarmament."

Gromyko said that disarmament itself should be the initial move in the broader program of world security.

At the same time, the Soviet delegate rejected a new American resolution on the arms reduction question as unnecessary. Gromyko declared that part of the U. S. proposal duplicated his own resolution of Dec. 27 and other parts duplicated the general assembly resolution of Dec. 14.

The Austin resolution provided that atomic control be given top priority in the pending discussions (Continued on Page Four)

MESSAGE GETS POOR SUPPORT

Congress Cool Toward Extension Of War Powers Act

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—President Truman's plea for extension of some of his war powers brought a common reaction from Democratic as well as Republican senators today:

Let's get rid of all of them as soon as possible.

Although his message to the lawmakers yesterday asked that only three of the remaining seven titles of the second War Powers Act be extended beyond their March 31 expiration date, the only one appearing to win anything like general approval was his plea for power to continue controls over sugar.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) told newsmen that one would have to stand, and Senator Taft (Ohio) chairman of the Republican Steering Committee, said he favors its continuation too.

Taft said there may have to be extension of the control power over some other commodities, but that the necessity will have to be proved.

"But I won't go along with any grant of powers to meet a national emergency that we do not now foresee," he added.

In his message Mr. Truman said that "although I do not anticipate that such an emergency will occur it is imperative that the government should have the power, during the remainder of the reconversion period, to deal with major unforeseen contingencies of this character."

Plan Hearing Over Mecklenburg Issue

Raleigh, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A public hearing will be held here at 9:30 a. m. Thursday on a measure by Rep. Dellinger of Gaston which would declare the truth of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence.

The measure would make it a legal fact that there was such a declaration; teachers could not doubt its truth in their classrooms; and books questioning its authenticity could not be taught.

SPEED DRIVE LIMIT TENURE

Eight-Year Top Limit For Presidents May Be Law By '48

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The House Republican leadership put on a burst of speed today in its drive to decree an eight-year top limit for any President.

Approved late yesterday by a judiciary sub-committee, the proposal to submit the "two-term" question to the people in the form of a constitutional amendment came before the entire committee today.

On the assumption it would win a speedy okay there arrangements were made for the rules committee to clear the legislation tomorrow for a House vote Thursday or Friday.

The limitation proposal must be approved by at least a two-thirds vote of both the House and Senate before it can be submitted to the people. And, before it can become a part of the constitution, it must (Continued on Page Four)

Sick Leave For Teachers In Bill

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 4.—(AP)—North Carolina's public school teachers and principals, one of the few groups of state employees who now are not entitled to sick leave, today have hopes of being able to draw checks for an annual 12-day period of compensated sick leave.

Rep. N. F. Hansell of Wake County last night at a meeting of the General Assembly introduced a bill which would give the school teachers and principals who draw their full pay while sick for 12 days.

The present arrangement, under State Board of Education regulations, requires a sick teacher or principal to pay $5 a day for a substitute.

New Bill To Revise Solicitorial Areas

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Senator Richardson of Union introduced in bill form today the report of a special commission recommending that solicitorial districts be reduced from 21 to 19 in number and solicitors be prevented from practicing law on the side.

The report was contained in two bills, which were referred to the committee on courts and judicial districts.

Payment of solicitors would be increased from $4,500 to $6,000 a year and expense allowance from $500 to $1,500.

Adm. Byrd In Visit To First Antarctic Base

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

Little America, Feb. 3.—(Delayed AP)—Admiral Richard E. Byrd slid down a snowy chute into the crystal caverns of his first two Little America camps today—and found a forgotten and favorite cornucopia.

He promptly lit up some old tobacco in the pipe and called it "Good. Damned good."

It was a real polar homecoming for the veteran explorer who led expeditions in 1928 and 1933 to this ice where a moving glacier is slowly crushing buildings of Little America one and two out of existence.

On his rediscovery trip, Byrd personally led a little group which included his own son, Richard E. Byrd, Jr., who had dreamed for years for such a day as this.

WILL EXTEND CITY LIMITS

Aldermen Authorize Project To Take In Suburban Area

By CHESTER WALSH

The Board of Aldermen at a meeting at the City Hall last night passed a resolution approving the extension of the city limits. Mayor Jack Boyd presided.

A bill is to be drawn outlining the proposed extensions and introduced in the General Assembly.

The proposed extension includes Hillsdale, including the baseball park; the Bama, now known as South Greenville; and east Greenville from the present city limits to Greenwood cemetery, and to include the old NYA center.

Extension of the corporate limits will provide for straightening the east and west boundary lines.

The Board of Aldermen's action last night was in response to petitions of property owners and residents of the eastern, western and southern suburbs of Greenville. Some property owners beyond the proposed western boundary line requested the city administration to include their property.

Denies Slashing Medical Budget

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 4.—(AP)—The chairman of the North Carolina Medical Care Commission has issued a denial to charges that the commission "slashed by 80 percent the estimated needs for the state mental institutions and by 30 percent for general hospital expansion" in order to gain appropriations for a four-year medical school and teaching hospital.

Commission Chairman James H. Clark's denial yesterday was directed at a report made public Monday by the fact-finding group of North Carolina physicians.

"The Medical Care Commission had no authority or desire to 'slash' or even to present the budget for the state's mental institutions to the Advisory Budget Committee," Clark stated.

Uneasy Senators Want Assurance That Chinks In Security Wall Are Quickly Patched; Plan Closed Meeting Of Atomic Committee At Early Date

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Startled by reports that Russia had had some success probing into atomic bomb secrets, senators sought assurances today that any chinks in the security wall are being patched up quickly.

Chairman Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) told his reporter the whole security matter will be discussed at length soon with David E. Lillenthal and military experts at a closed meeting of the full Senate-Atomic Committee. Lillenthal has been nominated as chairman of this country's Atomic Control Commission.

Hickenlooper also announced that the "joint" committee has hired as its executive director Fred B. Rhodes, former Army major who directed intelligence work on the Manhattan atom bomb project.

The Iowa senator would not comment on reports that Bernard M. Baruch told a locked-door meeting yesterday that there is evidence of Russian penetration into some of this country's supposedly well-kept secrets about the atomic project.

Hickenlooper said that irrespective of any information Baruch might have made available, the committee had determined to examine the general pattern of precautions being taken to keep all nuclear secrets at home until a workable scheme of international control is effected.

Baruch was described by one committee member as having told the senators that the way the Soviets framed some of their questions during United Nations discussion on control plans indicated that they knew more about the workings of the American setup than they were supposed to.

There were signs, Baruch was said to have told the committee members, that the Russians did not know what certain information in their possession meant or how to use it. This was reported to have been disclosed through the misuse by the Soviets of a code word the Americans thought was known only (Continued on Page Four)

SMALL STRIKE HALTS PLANT

Eighteen Employees Walkout; 3,500 Other Employees Idled

Pittsburgh, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A five-day-old strike by 18 "dinky railroad" workers at the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. plant at Allegheny, Pa., plant today not only had made 3,500 other employees idle but also had halted wage-and-hour talks between the steel company and the CIO United Steelworkers.

The breakdown in negotiations affected all plants of J. & L.

Fast spreading effects of the walkout yesterday resulted in the plant's rod-mill and 10-inch mill being shut down, making 1,000 additional workers idle. Earlier, the strike had closed all open hearth furnaces and Bessemer converter at the plant, shut down two blast furnaces, curtailed operations at three others, and stopped operation of the 14-inch rolling mill.

A J. & L. spokesman said union representatives "were advised that contract negotiations cannot proceed until the present strike at the Allegheny Works is satisfactorily settled."

Cancellation of the talks marked the first break in negotiations which apparently had been moving toward a peaceful settlement of wage demand and other issues. Observers (Continued on Page Four)

UNION CLAIMS CONGRESSMEN INTERFERING

Congress Accused Of Trying To Influence Court On Portal Suits

Detroit, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Congress was accused today of attempting to influence the court's decision in the Mt. Clemens Pottery Co. case, pattern for nearly $5,000,000 in portal to portal pay suits.

Edward Lamb, attorney for the pottery employees, told Federal Judge Frank A. Picard:

"No matter how this court decides, there will be some congressmen down there making cracks. If some newspaper commented while this case is pending it would be held in contempt. But some congressman can attempt to sway this court's opinion and hide behind his congressional immunity."

Judge Picard replied: "Well, I don't know. I'm not going to be swayed by that. It does not make any difference."

Testimony Monday dealt with the time required for employes to wait from the time clock to their work bench.

Exasperated and impatient, the court directed the company to have on hand no more than four rebuttal witnesses to give their estimate of how long it took pottery employes to get from the time clock to work benches.

The time element was injected into the case as portal time by the U. S. Supreme Court after Judge Picard settled the matter in favor of the employes on a simple overtime basis four years ago.

The higher court directed Judge Picard to determine the amount of walking time involved and whether it was too trifling to warrant damages.

In a semi-humorous four hour session Monday, Judge Picard heard five former employes and one company executive on the witness stand.

The employes testified that they spent up to 20 minutes daily walking to their work benches through debris and obstacles.

"It's the first time I've heard of these impediments in the way of these employes," said Judge Picard who heard some of the same witnesses in 1942.

James R. Lovi, son of the pottery company president, testified that he covered the same distance in (Continued on Page Four)

Construction Of Plant Is Fought

Elizabeth City, N. C., Feb. 4.—(AP)—The City Council last night authorized Mayor Jerome B. Flora to appoint a committee "to use every legal means" to fight the construction of a fertilizer plant by J. W. Ball on a site just outside the city limits.

The action was taken after a delegation of 25 persons who own property on the west side of the city near the site of the plant appeared before the council in protest and as a climax to several weeks of controversy over the matter.

Clarence Sanders, spokesman for the group, said negotiations between Ball and members of the delegation to find a new site for the plant had broken down and Ball apparently was going ahead with his plans to build a fertilizer plant on the present site.

Mitcher Rites To Be Held In Virginia

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 4.—(AP)—The body of Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, Atlantic Fleet commander, will be sent this afternoon to Fort Myer, Va., where final rites will be held in the chapel Wednesday at 2 p. m.

Lt. Comdr. W. D. Biggers, USN, the admiral's flag secretary, will escort the body of the former commander of task force 58 to the nation's capital and thence to Fort Myer. Interment will be in Arlington national cemetery.

Tax Evaders Are Paying Heavily

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The Treasury, in 18 months of intensified driving against tax evasion, has added more than $2,000,000,000 in assessments to taxpayers' original returns, Secretary Snyder said today.

More than $1,500,000,000 of this was tacked on during 1946, Snyder said in releasing an Internal Revenue Bureau report for the year. Extra assessments in 1945 totaled about $1,100,000,000.

Another $200,000,000 in extra tax payments and civil penalties was turned in voluntarily by some 150,000 taxpayers, who thus insured themselves against criminal prosecution for evasion.

Foot And Mouth Disease Epidemic In Mexico Closely Watched By U.S.; Cost Of Stopping Epidemic; Outbreaks In Past Years; Only Known Cure

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington—The United States is keeping a sharp watch on Mexico's foot-and-mouth disease epidemic. Further movement of Mexican cattle into the U.S. will be prohibited indefinitely.

Four U.S. veterinary experts are in Mexico helping the Mexican government fight the disease. Chairman Clifford Hope (R-Kan.), has named a House agriculture subcommittee to work with the Department of Agriculture in dealing with the threat of invasion by the epidemic.

The Agriculture Department stepped in to aid the Mexican government after urgent appeals from President Miguel Aleman.

The epidemic, reported spreading slowly north toward the U.S. border, is the first to touch North America since 1929. Herds in Texas, California and other western states were destroyed that year. It cost the nation millions of dollars to halt the epidemic.

The present epidemic came into Mexico with 375 zebu (Brahma) bulls, brought up from Brazil by private importers.

Animal imports from Brazil—or any country where the disease exists—into the United States are permanently prohibited.

Last June Secretary of Agriculture Anderson closed the border to Mexican cattle, sheep, hogs and goats because of the threat of foot and mouth disease. Five months later the border was reopened. A joint U.S.-Mexican commission reported, it could discover no foot (Continued on Page Four)

Received

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—President Truman today personally told the new Polish ambassador, Josef Wlanciewicz, that the Polish government "has to fulfill" its pledge to hold free elections.

Mr. Truman, however, received the envoy and accepted his designation as ambassador "of the Republic of Poland." This apparently put an end to any remaining speculation that the United States might break off diplomatic relations with the Polish government because of the way in which it conducted national elections on Jan. 19.

To Appear In GHS Senior Play

Eloise Tucee, plays Vivian George, a student at Brookfield College, in the senior class play, "Spring Fever," which will be presented February 7. She is the heart interest of Vic Lewis (Billy White) and these two do their part in making "Spring Fever" the hilarious comedy that it is. Eloise, who is studying dramatics, has appeared in several class productions. She is a member of the Coza and the Bet Club.

Billy White plays Vic Lewis, the romantic young art student, in the senior class play, "Spring Fever" to be presented on February 7. Mistaken identity on the part of Vic causes trouble amounting to a quarter of a million dollars.
Billy's first experience on the stage was as Bob Cratchit in the recent production of the "Christmas Carol."
Billy is a marshal and a member of the Monogram club, Science club, Glee club, traffic committee and band.

Highway Patrolmen Recover Stolen Car

In Police Court Monday Judge J. W. H. Roberts found probable cause against Robert L. Arthur, 19 and David G. Barnes, 15, both colored, who are charged with the larceny of Robert B. Cox's automobile on Albemarle Avenue last Friday night. The court ordered them held under $500 and $300 bonds respectively, for trial in Superior Court next April.

State Highway Patrolmen Whitfield and Thomas recovered the car at Swan Quarter Saturday afternoon. Arrested Arthur and Barnes and brought them and the stolen car to Greenville.

January Busy Month At Local VA Office

Veterans' activities at the Veterans Administration Contact Office, Greenville, reached a new high during the month of January. 1124 personal contacts were made, 128 telephone calls received and made, 739 letters were written and 104 applications for VA benefits were prepared.

These activities related to reinstatement and conversion of veterans insurance, educational and training benefits, hospitalization and medical care, disability compensation, and veterans' affairs in general.

Third Street School News

Infantile Paralysis
The amount of money the Third Street School collected on Infantile Paralysis was $132.27. The first grade collected $17.50, second grade $26.00, third grade $10.65, fourth grade $38.50, fifth grade $16.60, sixth grade $9.06, and the seventh grade $14.56.

Mac Respass who is in the fourth grade collected $15.00 which was more than anyone else.

The fourth and second grades collected the most money. The fourth grade collected 29 per cent of the money and the second grade collected 19 per cent of the money.

The Third Street school enjoyed collecting the money for the infantile paralysis drive.—Shirley Ann Saleed.

Latin American Program
On Friday, January 31, the seventh grade of Third Street school gave a chapel program on Latin America.

The program consisted of reports made by each pupil on some Latin American country, play about Christ of the Andes by the seventh grade boys and a South American dance by the seventh grade girls. The costumes were made by the pupils.

The mothers present, the children and teachers seemed to enjoy the program.—Marty Hadley.

School Trip
The seventh grade of the Third Street school is planning to take a trip to Raleigh Thursday, February 6, if the weather permits.

They plan to visit the legislature, the museum, the governor's mansion, Andrew Johnson's home, the blind school, the electric chair, the News and Observer and they also plan to eat lunch in the S. and W. Cafeteria.

They are all excited about going and are looking forward to a wonderful trip.—Helen Stokes.

Good Health Week
Good Health Week is from February third to the tenth.

Last week the seventh grade hung health posters, down the hall, and in their room. The whole of Third Street school is observing Good Health Week.

The seventh grade is also planning to select their lunch according to the seven basic foods at the S. and W. Cafeteria in Raleigh Thursday.—Lula Mayo.

Third Street School Auditorium
This year the Third Street school auditorium is being used more than ever before. In the past years it has not been used very much. This year new chairs have been added. Also some of the broken window panes have been fixed.

The auditorium is used for band, dancing, plays, rhythms, first grade toy orchestra and chapel programs. Due to these facts the children are having more fun. The school hopes that some day we may have basketball goals put up so that the children can play basketball indoors on rainy days and Saturdays.—Mary Ann Smoot and Frances Estelle Greene.

Murals and Projects
During the year the children of the seventh grade have drawn murals. The mural about South and Central America had a large map of South and Central America in the middle, pictures of Simon Bolivar, Pizarro and other beautiful Latin American scenes.

They also made scrap books on South and Central America and the West Indies. On Friday, January 31, they gave a program on their countries. First they gave talks and then they gave a play named "The Christ of the Andes" which the audience liked very much.—Sidney Briley and Sam Hux.

Elect Officers St. Paul Parish

At the regular February meeting of the Vestry of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, officers for the year were elected and other important business of the church was transacted.

Upon nomination by the rector P. D. Duncan was unanimously elected to serve as Senior Warden of the parish for the year. He has been on the Vestry for two terms, and has one more year to serve under the rotation system employed by the parish.

The nominations for other officers come from the members of the Vestry, and Frank M. Wooten, Jr. was elected to succeed himself in the office of Junior Warden. Tom Webb was elected to the office of Clerk, succeeding J. Edmund Waldrop, who in turn was elected to the office of Treasurer of the parish.

New members of the Vestry, who were elected by the congregation in January, were present at the February meeting. They are Mrs. H. S. Ragsdale, Louis Stuart Ficklen and Charles A. White. A. C. Ruffin, who was also elected at the January meeting, was out of town but will assume his place on the Vestry at the March meeting.

In addition to the appointment of special committees, plans were made for the formal installation of the four new members of the Vestry on Sunday, February 23rd.

Cases Tried In Police Court

The following cases were tried in Police Court Monday, February 3:

Speeding: George Midgett, colored, $20; William H. White, $20; Alvin M. Cone, $20.

Assault with a deadly weapon: Johnnie Staton, colored, $15; Jasper Ray Garris, colored, $25.

Violation liquor laws: Julius O'Neal, colored, $25.

Wins Oratorical Contest Medal

As part of the state-wide series of oratorical contests on World Peace set up by the World Federalists of North Carolina and the Extension Division of the University of North Carolina, the Greenville High School oratorical contest was held on January 30th. The Greenville Woman's Club was the sponsor.

The program was opened with a brief speech by Mayor J. H. Boyd on the importance of thinking about World Peace now.

Five contestants, under the leadership of Mr. R. B. Stalling of the Greenville High School faculty, gave well prepared speeches on the subject, "Is World Government the Path to Peace?"

Alfred Saleed was chosen the winner by the vote of the audience and Mrs. Robert Lee Humber, as president of the Greenville Woman's Club, presented him with a gold medal.

The Greenville High School Glee Club, directed by Miss Oren S-hindler, entertained with special music and gave a fitting closing to the program with their stirring last number, "One World."

Claims Groundhog Did Not Come Out

By CHESTER WALSH
"Rufus," local amateur weather prognosticator, claimed today that the groundhog did not come out of hibernation Sunday, February 2; that since the weather prognosticating varmint didn't come out of his burrow, he didn't see his shadow.

"Rufus" isn't worrying about the weather, he says, because extremely mild weather in December fooled the rodent and he came out January 2, saw his shadow and went back into hibernation. Incidentally, 22 days in January were cloudy, there were frequent light drizzles of rain, and one heavy downpour toward the latter part of the month.

Old-timers who believe in signs and portents, say that if the groundhog comes out of hibernation on February 2 and sees his shadow, this means 40 days of bad weather. The groundhog, like the weather and spring flowers, is off schedule this year.

If history repeats itself, we are due a severe blizzard this month. In 1927, the groundhog came out of his burrow on Feb. 2, saw his shadow and hurried back into his den. An assorted brand of weather prevailed during that February, and on March 1 it started snowing, and continued until next afternoon. It was the heaviest snowfall in this section in years.

Strength FOR THE DAY
By EARL L. DOUGLAS

THE TREASURED BOOK
When certain of the Siamese Christians were fleeing from the Japanese, one of these believers, having only a few minutes to choose what he would take with him and what he would leave behind, chose to take his Bible.

It turned out that he was the only one in his village who had thought to take the Bible with him. They all fled into the hills. The Bible was passed around and hundreds of them took turns at reading it. It was used for burial services, for baptisms, and for weddings. On Sunday one of the members read before the assembled throng. At last it was fairly in tatters, but the whole village considered it their most precious possession.

The man who had thought to take it along with him and who, more than anyone else, had used it, was brought through an accident to the place where he could not use it at all. He broke his glasses, and after that someone else had to read the Bible to him.

What poor Christian stuff there is in these hearts of ours here in this comfortable land. We are usually too busy to give the time we should to church and personal devotion, and often we rate our comforts and luxuries above the precious Word of God.

WASHINGTON LETTER
COCKTAIL PARTY'S FLOCK OF ANGELS HARP ON SYMPHONY
By JANE EADS

Washington, Feb. 4.—The sun-tanned little man, impecably garbed in a dark blue suit, had floppy paper wings pinned to his back. A gold-spangled halo teetered on a wire over his bald head.

"I think the National Symphony is one of the finest in the country," he said seriously.

"You'd be surprised how many good orchestras there are in the United States—and a lot of them are in the small towns, too."

The world, he said with a sweeping gesture of his expressive hand, is more music-conscious than it ever been. The radio, USO tours during the war, the movies, all helped make it so.

The man was Andre Kostelanetz, the conductor. The place was a press-radio cocktail party launching the National Symphony Orchestra's seventeenth annual sustaining fund drive.

He was representing one of the "archangels" of music. Other male guests who just had paper wings pinned to them were mere "angels."

"Be an angel—two drinks and you are in heaven," read the invitations to the party.

On Broadway the "angel" is one who puts up the money, or pays, and musicals. Other symphony orchestras have "angels" or municipal grants, but the National Symphony has none. It is asking Washingtonians to be angels in a unique effort to raise $175,000.

It started by inserting ads in the local papers. "Wanted—an angel! Call National 8410."

The response was gratifying. People who called National 8410 out of plain curiosity ended up by putting up.

As for the cocktail party, it was "heavenly" all right. Everyone had two drinks to see what would happen. Then he took other drinks to stay where the first two drinks put him—heaven, or what have you.

Caller Bruno Bonkow, with a white carnation in his buttonhole, hovered about to see how people liked the drinks. "Angel cocktails," he called them. He told me they contained Bacardi rum, brandy, Grand Marnier, fresh lime juice and grenadine.

Sylvia Meyer, National Symphony

harpist, was on hand with her golden harp to play "heavenly" music. Washington columnist Austin Cassini arrived in a big white hat, misty with tulle and little plumes, which she called "sitting on a cloud." "I thought it should have been the other way around.

Disarmament

Disarmament gives the Russians a better chance to play their role of peace-seeking while knights before the other nations have grown tired of watching this. For the real contest between East and West for a long time has been over which side shall obtain or retain the backing in world councils of the smaller nations.

Quite probably the Russians know that the United States cannot get down to cases quickly on disarmament. There is every indication that we have arrived at any policy on the subject. Neither, so far as is known, have other governments. No one has a plan to submit. The Russians are merely calling on the Security Council to sit down and devise one.

On the other hand, definite lines of action have been drawn on atomic control. Everybody has agreed to it except the Russian bloc. Aside from a little tin-painting about "atomic diplomacy" and "setting an example for world confidence and unity" by destroying our a-bomb arsenal, the Russians have got to agree or disagree. Knowing that we are not going to use it on them unless they commit some overt act themselves, they figure they are perfectly safe in trying to bargain all over the place while they try to learn how to make their own bomb and even things up.

If a nation like prewar Germany had the a-bomb, everybody would be diving head-over-heels into even the least promising agreements with the big powers.

But with a greater need, development, Russia knows she can demand the best terms for herself while we try Kansas, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana,

Cattle Embargo

Twelve days later, ranchers in the Vera Cruz area, on Mexico's gulf coast, reported sickening of cattle. In a few weeks the epidemic had spread west to near Mexico City.

Sanitation precautions, in addition to halting animals at the border, have been set up by the U.S. Bureau of Animal Industry. While they are hopeful, officials here are not optimistic about keeping an epidemic away from the border herds.

Food and mouth disease is the most highly communicable contagion known to veterinary medicine. It attacks cloven-footed animals—cattle, primarily—but also sheep, hogs and goats. Horses and poultry apparently are immune, and humans are not affected.

Animals develop blisters in the mouth and around the hooves. Veterinarians know no real cure. A German scientist before the war claimed to have perfected a vaccine, but he has not been heard from since the war.

Laboratories in Brazil and Great Britain produce a vaccine, but it is expensive and not completely effective.

Agriculture authorities say the only two real methods of eradication are slaughter and quarantine. In each epidemic both methods are invoked immediately.

The disease has appeared in the United States nine times since 1870. In 1870, 1880, 1884, 1902 and 1928 the epidemics were confined generally to local areas.

In 1914 the disease spread to 23 states and the District of Columbia. An estimated 175,000 cattle were slaughtered and burned.

States affected included New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, West Virginia, Kansas, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Montana and Washington.

That outbreak alone cost the nation about $9,000,000.

Ten years later two outbreaks occurred in California and Texas costing $5,000,000. In 1929 a small outbreak occurred in southern California.

The Bureau of Animal Industry is in charge of the campaign to keep foot and mouth disease out of the country. Dr. S. O. Pladness, chief of the bureau's field inspection division, is a foot and mouth specialist. He has studied the disease in Argentina and Europe.

Austin made it clear that the U. S. not only would insist on priority for atomic control but that it would also demand an air-tight system of international security, including a world police force and inspection agencies, before it would agree to slash its armaments.

Such Russian opposition to the inspection clause on the grounds that it would be a violation of sovereignty was reported unchanged despite weekend consultations between Austin and Soviet Delegate Gromyko.

The entire plan for arms reduction, first put forward by the Russians in a surprise move before the general assembly and adopted unanimously with amendments last December as a recommended directive to the council, has been snarled up in the procedure of the council.

ABOUT THE WEATHER
By Vhester Walsh
Maybe the groundhog had something to do with this. Early today there was a light shower of rain, then out came Old Sol in all of his brilliance to remind of spring. During the forenoon angry thunderhead clouds scudded through the skies, with shifting winds. At 2 p. m. the rain came. This morning's and the afternoon's showers totaled less than one-third of an inch.

The senior choir of Zion Chapel Free Will Baptist Church, Ayden, will celebrate its second anniversary under the instruction and guidance of Lester L. Barlett.

Leading senior choirs of the Free Will Baptist connection will furnish music for the occasion, after which the evening entertainment will expire with the spreading of tables with delicious refreshments. Everyone is invited to worship with us at that time, February 9, at 6:30 p. m., Zion Chapel Free Will Baptist Church, Ayden, N. C.

On last Monday night the Pastors Aid club of the Sycamore Hill Baptist Church had its annual banquet at Mrs. Laura Bush's cafe. The cafe was beautifully decorated with fresh cut flowers fern and evergreen. A miscellaneous program was had with Mrs. L. R. Taylor acting as mistress of ceremonies. Among those speaking were Mrs. J. S. Alexander, Mr. R. P. Payton, Mr. Sharper Forbes, Mr. Joe Donelson, Rev. J.

A delicious salad course was served with desert. Every one enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Miss Clo Eatmon and Miss Illene Wilkins of Spring Hope were weekend guests of Miss Irlina Davis, 509 Douglas Ave. Friends of Miss Lizzie Green will be happy to know that she has recovered from a ten day illness.

Baby Chicks

For you this week or until all surplus chicks are sold.

$12.00 For 100

4 Reasons Why You Will Profit From Dail's Chicks

1 We Carefully Select Every Breeder Used

The chicks you receive are only as good as the breeders behind them. That's why we inspect each and every bird in our flocks of more than 7,000 breeders. They are hand picked for size, vigor, health, and for other physical qualifications. This is a very important step toward supplying big, sturdy, profitable chicks to you.

2 We Bloodtest Every Breeder

Every breded—male or female—in our breeding flocks is bloodtested for Pullorum disease each year. Our breeding flocks are free from reactors, entitling us to a rating of Pullorum Passed. The chicks you get from us are stronger and healthier because of this program—they live better and net you greater profits.

3 We Set Only Uniformly Big Eggs in Our Modern Incubators

All eggs placed in our mammoth incubators are first selected for size, shell texture and coloring. We set only eggs averaging 24 ounces or more per dozen. This gives you bigger chicks with an inherited ability to lay bigger eggs. We then hatch these eggs in modern incubators to assure big, livable chicks.

4 We Ship Big, Sturdy Chicks

Although we take every possible precaution to hatch only big, sturdy chicks, we nevertheless select carefully in filling every order. We promise you quality chicks, and we make every possible effort to see that you get quality.

DANCE ON THE DESERT

By Florence Theel

AP Newsfeatures

Chapter 6

Paul opened the car door with a flourish. "Hop in, Eileen, m'vairneen. You're riding with your agent and manager." With an apologetic look at Bert, Eileen got in.

Bert rode on the back seat with Eddy and Paul's drums, trying not to mind too much that Eileen, looking lovely as a princess, was having such a good time with Paul. She hadn't told his brother, evidently, about their talk—her pledge—that night in her apartment, before she'd met Paul. Well, he'd played in the open, anyway. He'd promised Bert competition at the outset. And he'd seen to it, very cleverly, that for more than a week Bert and Eileen had not been alone together.

when they arrived. Captain Martyn, smiling and urbane in evening clothes, was at the door of the banquet room to greet them. Dinner was nearly over, dancing would start at nine.

Bert touched his forehead in a mock salute. "The Alvarado Merry-Makers reporting, Sir."

The captain eyed their smart new uniforms with evident approval. "Very handsome turnout. Very professional looking."

"We're a professional outfit," Paul said with an impish grin.

"Very sweet of you to sing for us, my dear," he said to Eileen.

Dark blue velvet proscenium curtains made a rich frame for the orchestra upon the stage. They looked all right. Bert felt, and appearance counted for a lot. And, judging by the demand for encores, their playing was all right, too. He was conducting, playing solo passages on his saxophone, when the score demanded.

"They like us, fellas," he said jubilantly, at the first intermission. "Maybe well enough to let us play their other dances."

"Must be lots of clubs like this we could play for," Paul said enterprisingly. "If we go after them."

"You're the boy to do it," Phil said, recognizing leadership. "How about you being business manager?"

Paul looked pleased. And Bert was pleased, too, when he saw how well Eileen's songs went over with the Rotarians.

He pursued her into the wings, after sustained applause. "They love you, Eileen! Come on back, and give them another chorus."

"Oh, Bert—im so happy!" She was so near, so lovely. Her eyes were wide and lit like stars. Resolutely, Bert turned from her radiance. He took her hand and pulled her back with him, upon the stage at midnight, as they put away their instruments, and Eileen was setting her wraps. Captain Martyn handed Bert their money. "A wonderful performance, boys! How'd you like to play for us the rest of the season?"

It was what Bert had hoped for worked for, but he asked, conditionally, "Eileen, too?"

"Absolutely!" the captain said, emphatically. "And, hereafter, with pay!"

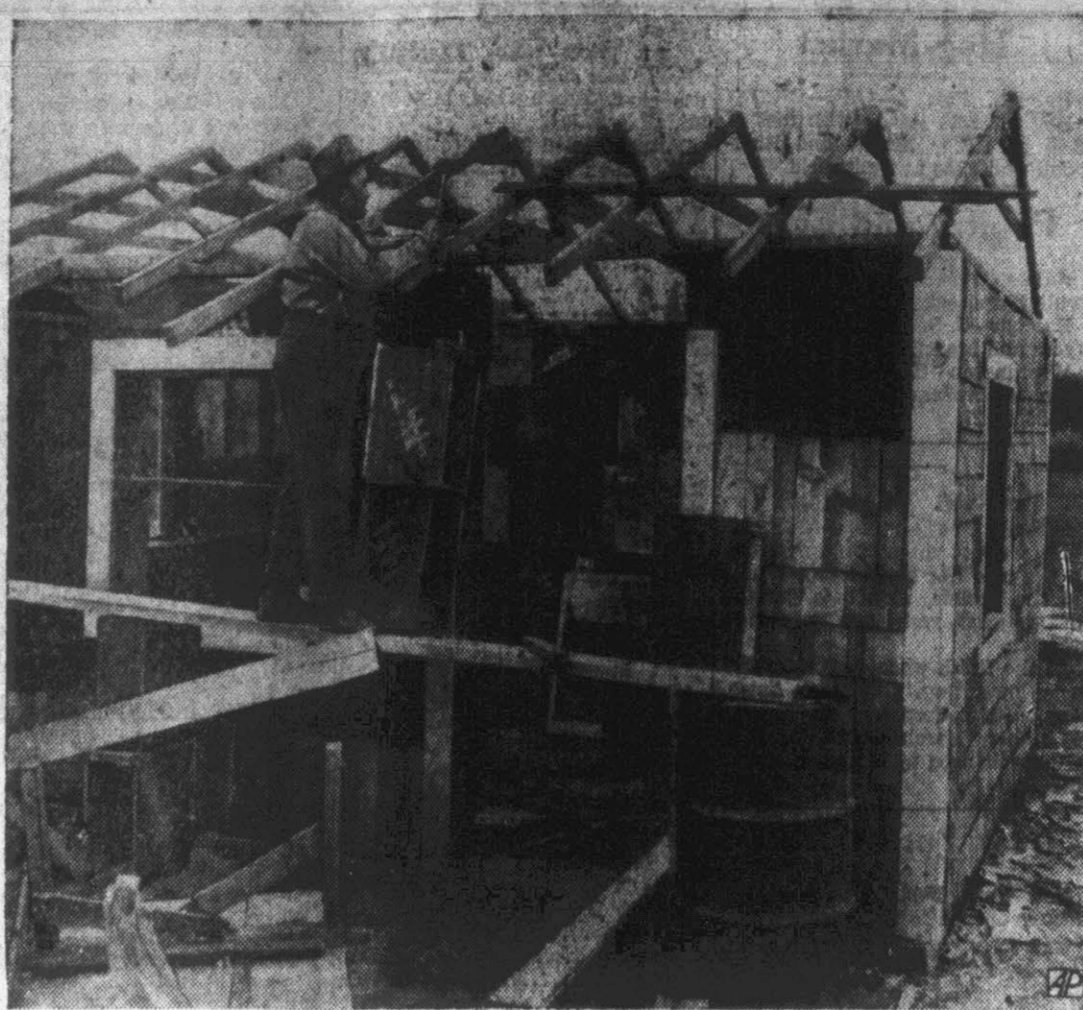

"We'll be delighted," Bert accepted warmly for them all. And when the captain had gone, he asked them, "How about us splitting with Eileen tonight, fellas? She did more to put us over than our fancy uniforms."

Only Pete, the guitarist, was unwilling. "I don't see why we should. She offered to sing free, tonight, didn't she. And now, on account of us, she's got some paying dates."

"Don't be a piker, Petie," Carolina drawled, good-naturedly. And so with five against him, Pete chipped in, and they finally made Eileen see that she had more than earned her share.

Bert squeezed her fingers as he handed her the money.

"You just stay around with us,

Eileen, and maybe someday you can cut loose for good, from that desk and typewriter."

"I'll stay!" she answered softly. And, again, Bert had to turn away.

A man in a tuxedo stopped them at the door. "If you're open for next Saturday night, I'd like you to play at my daughter's wedding reception."

"We'll be very glad to," Bert began, but Paul interrupted.

"That would be at Union rates, of course."

"Of course!" The Rotarian gave Bert a card with the address and hour.

"Seven advanced dates! Not bad," Eddy said enthusiastically.

"Pretty nifty return for furnishing a little free music for the Marylanders' party," Bert said thoughtfully. They really owed all this to Captain Martyn and the club's grand code of helping its fellow-members, along with refugees and disabled vets. He'd see that he and his brothers played for them often, even if the other three didn't care to give their time.

They had made a grand beginning. It could lead them anywhere! Still, all the rosy prospects didn't make him exactly happy that his handsome, bantering brother Paul was again sitting with Eileen going home—this time on

LONG-RANGE WORK

Galena, Idaho, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Pearl Barber, snowbound here for the last two weeks, is worried about filing her income tax return before the March 15 deadline.

Otherwise being marooned doesn't bother her. A radio and telephone keep her in contact with the outside world and she says she's been averaging two phone calls daily from friends in Twin Falls and relatives in California.

If the road over Galena summit isn't opened before March 15 she plans to head for Ketchum on snowshoes.

Confucius is credited with having been the first to use chilled tea on second degree burns some time before 400 B. C.

the back seat.

Paul was saying triumphantly, "I told you I'd launch you on a career, didn't I?"

"Yes, you did. And thanks a million, Paul, for everything." She added, after a little pause, "It's wonderful when people really mean the things they say."

Bert was stung by the quiet words. Were they a rebuke, accusing him of insincerity? Well, if they were, he'd have to let it stand. He'd reached a decision tonight. Paul was a better man for her than a disabled vet, like himself.

FANACEA

Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 4.—(AP)—A crisis of some sort is brewing in the life of an East Spencer, N. C. woman.

On a post card addressed to the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce she wrote her terse appeal:

"Dear Sirs, please send me anything you have. Hurry up!"

She will receive a pamphlet, "The Story of Fort Worth."

UNION WOULD SUPPORT LAWS

AFL Supports Labor Bills Not Interfering With "Freedom"

Miami, Fla., Feb. 4—(AP)—The AFL Executive Council indicated today it might support some changes in labor laws which would not interfere with union "liberties and freedoms."
 AFL President William Green told newsmen the 15-member council would consider today and tomorrow proposed legislation dealing with labor questions, and he told reporters that if any of the bills did not interfere with liberties and freedoms of labor unions they would be supported by the AFL.
 The first bill analyzed by Green and General Counsel Joseph A. Padway led to a condemnation of the Ball-Taft-Smith bill, which green described as having objectives which are "largely hypocritical."
 The measure, sponsored by Republican Senators Ball of Minnesota, Taft of Ohio, and Smith of New Jersey, was described by Green "as a modified version of the Case bill," which was vetoed by President Truman during the last session of congress on the grounds that it would not prevent strikes and would inflict punitive sanctions against trade unions.

 An analysis of the Ball-Taft-Smith bill submitted to the AFL executive council at its winter meeting here was prepared by Padway. He found "in every section a clear intent to come to the rescue of employers who stubbornly resist advances for their workers."

GOOD HEALTH

It Can Happen to You
 HELP PREVENT FIRE LOSSES WITH CONCRETE

No fire-fighting facilities near your farm or ranch? Maybe you can't help this fact, but you can protect yourself—by building with fireproof materials. You can't afford to risk your farm buildings, your valuable livestock, your home itself, to destruction by fire.
 Concrete won't burn! It can't be ignited by flying sparks or embers; it resists spread of fire from near-by buildings.
 Plan now to modernize your farm with good-looking, fireproof, storm-proof concrete buildings. You save on upkeep through generations of satisfactory service. Why not talk things over with your cement dealer and ask him for names of concrete contractors? We can help with booklets showing how to build. Write us, stating type of buildings you have in mind.

PHANTOMS TO PLAY TONIGHT

Elizabeth City Team Is Foe In Conference Tilt At GHS Gym

With two straight Northeastern Conference wins under their belts, Coach Bo Farley's Green Phantoms go all out for their third straight and sixth of the season here tonight when they entertain Elizabeth City's Yellow Jackets in the high school gym at 8 o'clock.

Since this is the two teams' first meeting of the season, little is now known as to how they will stack up against each other tonight. Judging from scores of other games in the circuit, the Greens will be favored to win. The Jackets lost last Friday to Roanoke Rapids 26-23, a team which the Phantoms have beaten twice this year, and they were defeated last Tuesday by Kingston 41-31. The score of the last Greenville-Kinston tilt was 33-22 in favor of Kinston.

However, many times scores really mean little or nothing, as good teams sometimes lose to inferior ones on "off" nights.

The Yellow Jackets are known to have a tall team, many members of which are ex-GIs, and tall teams are always tough to deal with.

Starters for Greenville tonight probably will be Jimmy Cox and Billy White at guards, Henry Turner and Letas Jackson or Dave Clark at forwards and Glynn Perkins at center.

Sports

Philadelphia, Feb. 4—(AP)—Jimmy Bivins and Curtis Sheppard, two hard-hitting contenders for Joe Louis' heavyweight title, have been matched for a 10-round bout at the Philadelphia Arena Feb. 17.

Sheppard, the "Hatchetman," lives in Philadelphia but has done most of his fighting out of Pittsburgh and Baltimore. Bivins is a Cleveland boy.

Sheppard was recently rated No. 1 contender by former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey. During the war, while Louis was in Army uniform, Bivins was picked by Louis as the top heavyweight active at that time.

Boston, Feb. 4—(AP)—Enos Slaughter whose madcap dash to the plate scored the run that beat the Red Sox in the World Series has agreed to St. Louis Cardinal terms "with a swell raise" for two years.

Baltimore, Feb. 4—(AP)—Seton Hall College, with a record of 18 straight victories this season, was ambushed last night by a hitherto mediocre Loyola of Baltimore team which snatched a tingling 54-53 decision to drop the New Jersey quintet from the slim ranks of the nation's undefeated basketball quintets.

Marshall Agrees To Cooperate In Probes

Washington, Feb. 4—(AP)—Secretary Marshall today promised cooperation in the house foreign committee's projected inquiry into State Department operations and American diplomatic policies.

His offer of aid was contained in a letter to Chairman Eaton (R-N.J.), in it, he also endorsed a committee move to prevent overlapping congressional investigations of the State Department.

Tax Compromise Offered To GOP

Washington, Feb. 4—(AP)—A tax cutting compromise which would give small income earners twice as big a percentage slash as those in the upper brackets was proposed to GOP leaders today by Chairman Allen (R-III), of the house rules committee.

Under Allen's scale, taxes on incomes up to $2,500 would be pared 20 per cent; 2,500 to $5,000, 17 per cent; $5,000 to $10,000, 15 per cent, above $10,000, 1 per cent.

The Illinois lawmaker estimated his proposal would mean an overall tax reduction of about $2,750,000,000 compared with the $3,350,000,000 loss of revenue under the 20 per cent across-the-board cut advocated by Chairman Knutson (R-Minn), of the Ways and Means committee.

Select Speaker For Girl Scout Banquet

Mrs. D. S. Coltrane of Raleigh, wife of the assistant state commissioner of agriculture, will be the speaker for the annual Greenville Girl Scout banquet to be held at the Rotary Club on Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. W. P. Moore, commissioner of Greenville Girl Scouts, will preside.

Mrs. Coltrane is commissioner of the Raleigh-Wake County Girl Scout Council and is vice president of the state legislative council of North Carolina. This council is composed of 15 state organizations with a total membership of 50,000. Better health laws and educational advantages for the people of North Carolina is the primary aim of the council.

Deputy Sheriff Held In Robbery

Anderson, S. C., Feb. 4—(AP)—Jim McAlister, a deputy sheriff at the Gossett Mills, where an $8,000 payroll was stolen last Thursday, has been arrested on a warrant charging him as an accessory, Clarence B. O'Neil, Anderson county sheriff's deputy, said today.

McAlister was arrested last night at the mill, Broadwell said, in information of J. B. (Blue Jay) Frost, 29, Anderson garage worker, being held in $30,000 bail in connection with the robbery. Under similar bond is Lawrence Rulalido, 26, Philadelphia truck driver.

All but $130 of the money was recovered in a plum thicket near Anderson Friday.

Making A-Bombs Now Costs Less

Washington, Feb. 4—(AP)—Dr. J. H. Rush, atomic scientist, said today atomic bombs can be manufactured virtually on a shoestring of cost compared with the billions that were needed to produce the first one.

The bomb materials, he said in an interview, can be produced at Hanford, Wash., plant that cost only around $326,000,000 or the new Chalk River Canadian plant.

Actually the $1,000,000,000 Oak Ridge (Tenn) plant isn't needed for bomb production, although it is useful for peacetime production of atomic energy.

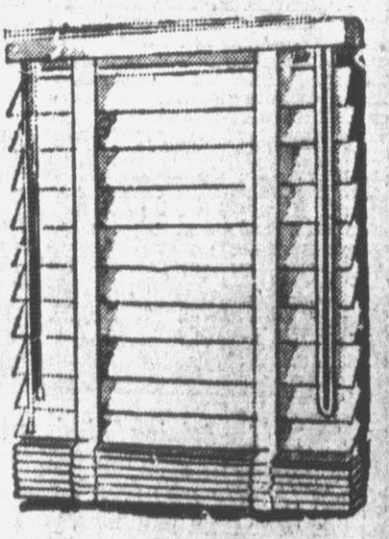

"The point to be emphasized," he said, "is that it would be disastrous to place too much confidence in a feeling that other nations can not build atomic bombs because they do not have the funds or the technical know-how for immediate construction of vast plants."

Last April his car was wrecked by the tidal wave. Its replacement was destroyed by the storm waves of Jan. 4.

A third car arrived by ship. As it was being unloaded the sling broke and the car was ruined by a 20-foot fall.

Judge Has Reply For Durochers

Los Angeles, Feb. 4—(AP)—Superior Judge A. Dockweiler went to bat today in another inning of the contest over the marriage of Actress Laraine Day and Leo Durocher, Brooklyn Dodgers manager.

The jurist said he had an answer ready to the affidavit of prejudice filed against him yesterday by Miss Day, but he wouldn't disclose what it would say in advance of its filing.

Presumably it would refute Miss Day's allegation that he can not give her a fair and unprejudiced hearing on his order to show cause why her interlocutory divorce from J. Ray Hendricks, airport executive, granted Jan. 20, should not be set aside.

Miss Day's action served to postpone a hearing scheduled for today on the show cause order. The judge said it would be postponed until the matter of prejudice is decided. Presiding Judge Caryl M. Sheldon of Superior Court will hear the prejudice case and decide whether
