

TRUMAN SEES VICTORY FOR HIS NOMINEE

Predicts Lillenthal Confirmation; Lists Ten Rivals

Washington, (AP)—President Truman predicted today the confirmation of David E. Lillenthal as chairman of the atomic energy commission.

Questioned by a reporter about the fight on Lillenthal in the Senate, Mr. Truman told his news conference he still is behind his nominee 100 per cent and thinks he will be confirmed.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), today listed 10 men—among them former Secretary of State Byrnes, and AFL Secretary George Meany—as acceptable to him for the chairmanship of the atomic energy commission.

David E. Lillenthal, president Truman's nominee for the post, definitely is not acceptable to Bridges. The New Hampshire senator has called Lillenthal "an extreme left winger" and an "apocryphal of Russia."

The first man listed by Bridges as an alternate nominee is Ernest Martin Hopkins, president emeritus of Dartmouth College at Hanover, N. H. The senator issued a statement saying these other men also would be acceptable to him and various senators taking part in the campaign to block Lillenthal's confirmation.

Bernard M. Baruch, adviser to presidents and former American representative on the United Nations atomic energy commission.

Former Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin.

Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal.

Lawrence F. Whittemore, president of the Boston Federal Reserve Bank.

John L. Sullivan, undersecretary of the navy.

Lewis H. Brown, chairman of the Johns Manville Corp.

Henry M. Whiston, president of Brown University at Providence, R. I.

Meanwhile, Lillenthal's supporters claim to be picking up strength for the Senate roll call. A Democratic policy committee official told reporters a survey shows the Senate now is inclined toward confirmation.

Sleet and snow came to a large portion of North Carolina today, and the forecast for tonight was freezing rain in the central portion, some sleet and snow in the north and west and rain along the coast.

Expected minimums tonight, the Charlotte Weather Bureau said, were 28-30 in the western portion, about freezing in central areas and 35-40 on the coast.

An inch of snow and ice was reported in the Winston-Salem area during the 24 hours ending at 8 a. m. today.

Greensboro reported a minimum of 25, with a half inch of ice or snow.

Charlotte had a low of 28 with a half inch of sleet.

Raleigh reported a minimum temperature of 28, with a trace of rain.

Minimum temperature of 30 was reported in Fayetteville, with a trace of rain but no snow.

'Red Arrow' Train Leaves Rails On Sharp Bend

Highway Safety Bill Is Proposed

Wildlife Separation Measure Passes In House; Inspections Of Vehicles And Examinations For Drivers Included In Safety Legislation

Raleigh, (AP)—A bill to promote safety on the highways was introduced in the Senate today, while the House passed by an overwhelming majority a bill to separate the Division of Game and Inland Fisheries from the Department of Conservation and Development.

Only two or three scattered noes were heard on the separation bill, which now goes to the Senate. The safety bill, among other things, provides for the semi-annual inspection of motor vehicles, a 50-mile an hour speed limit and quadrennial examinations for renewal of drivers' licenses.

Introduced by Sen. W. H. Currie of Moore, chairman of the Senate public roads committee, it is the product of weeks of conferring with motor vehicle department officials.

Twice yearly inspections of automobiles by the department of motor vehicles are provided for in the first section. Beginning January 1, 1948, state owned and operated portable stations would travel over the state, inspecting cars and issuing certificates of approval to those who passing inspection. A one dollar charge would be made for each inspection.

Those failing to comply with the provisions would be guilty of misdemeanor with varying punishments. The bill further provides for a loan of $300,000 from the highway fund to be repaid from one-dollar fees charged for each inspection.

Chauffeurs and operators would be examined every four years, according to another provision of the bill. Motorists now possessing licenses would be required to undergo examinations the same as new applicants. A $2 fee would be charged.

WILL DEBATE ATOMIC PLANS

Security Council Called To Discuss Three Key Issues

Lake Success, N. Y.—(AP)—Three principal points of disagreement between Soviet, Russia and the U.S. on atomic control stood out today as the United Nations Security Council delegates discussed possible ways to harness the atom for peace. The council was called to meet for an important general debate on the Russian and United States proposals now before the delegates.

It was generally agreed among the delegates that the three outstanding points at issue were:

1. The veto.
2. A convention prohibiting atomic weapons immediately.
3. The lack of powers for constructive work on atomic energy in a control scheme.

On the veto, the United States remained firm in its demand that the veto right in the Security Council must not apply on atomic matters, particularly on punishing offenders of any atomic control set-up.

Russia is equally as firm in demanding that the veto remain without alteration, which means that the veto would apply on the atomic question as well as any other. Russia also wants all atomic controls established within the framework of the Security Council.

Violent Blast Kills Thirty In Los Angeles

Los Angeles—(AP)—At least 30 persons were killed and more than 100 injured, police estimated, in a violent explosion which destroyed a two-story brick building and several nearby structures here today.

The explosion wrecked an area four blocks square. The explosion, which rocked downtown Los Angeles and broke windows as far away as 70 blocks, was in the plant of the O'Connor Electro-Plating Corporation.

Investigation Under Way In Train Wreck

Altoona, Pa., Feb. 20—(AP)—A three-way investigation was under way today to determine why the Pennsylvania railroad's "Red Arrow" passenger train plunged off Bennington curve Tuesday bringing death to 22 persons, with three men still unaccounted for.

The Interstate Commerce Commission and the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission sent their rail crash experts to the scene to work with PRR officials in investigating the wreck of the Detroit-to-New York flyer.

Machungun Fire From Ambush Kills Murderer

Chicago—(AP)—Police machine-gun fire killed Elmer Henry Pierce, notorious Milwaukee ex-convict, in an ambush at a deserted elevated station in suburban Westchester shortly before midnight last night.

Detective Joseph McCabe—one of nine policemen who laid the trap—opened fire on Pierce, 37, charged with murder in the wild Milwaukee street-car slaying of his niece last Jan. 7.

He said Pierce, described by police as a "dangerous maniac," ignored orders to surrender and reached for a loaded revolver in his overcoat pocket.

McCabe raked Pierce with 16 shots at a distance of 10 feet, killing him instantly. Andrew Altken, deputy chief of detectives, several weeks ago warned police to "have your weapons ready at all times" in dealing with Pierce.

Eleven Confess To Being In Lynch Mob

Sheriff Announces Cab Drivers Held In Slaying; Suspected "Trigger Man" And Others Still Being Questioned

Greenville, S. C.—(AP)—Twenty men were being held this afternoon for investigation in the lynching of Willie Earle, Greenville Negro, last Monday and officers expected to pick up at least six men this afternoon. Sheriff R. Homer Bearden said.

Greenville, S. C.—(AP)—Sheriff R. H. Bearden announced today that eleven taxicab drivers had admitted taking part in the lynching of Willie Earle, 25-year-old Negro, near here Monday and that another man, suspected of being the "trigger man," was being questioned.

Bearden did not identify those arrested. He said no warrants had been issued. It may be late today or tomorrow before warrants are taken out, he said.

Besides those who the sheriff said, had confessed, three others are being questioned today. They have made no statements.

Solicitor Robert T. Ashmore said that the case may be ready for presentation to the grand jury which will meet here Monday March 10, when general sessions court convenes.

Fourteen men had been taken into custody until noon today by Greenville County officers, Greenville city police, agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and the state constabulary, the sheriff said.

Bearden indicated, however, that the man who actually fired the fatal shot is the next objective of the investigators and said that the issuance of warrants for those allegedly involved in the lynching might be delayed until late today or tomorrow by this search.

GROUP DEFEAT FIREARM BILL

Registration Of Weapons Loses In Judiciary Committee

Raleigh—(AP)—Fragrant references were made to communism before Judiciary one killed today a bill to require the registration of firearms such as pistols and sub-machine guns.

Stator Incoe, Raleigh postmaster, said the history of firearms registration over the world was one of, first, registration, then confiscation. He said this type of legislation was sponsored by the communist government, and that one reason some countries were overrun by the Nazis was that those countries had firearm registrations and the Germans knew where to search.

Others fighting the bill included James H. Pou Bailey, N. E. Edgerton, and George Lyon of Asheville. Supporting the bill were John Morris of Wilmington, secretary of the state sheriffs' association, and state bureau of investigation director Walker Anderson. Both said such a law would assist law enforcement officers.

As an aside remark, Rep. Kerr of Warren said that the seeds of destruction already had been sown in this country and that while it may sound foolish, some alien group could seize power in this country.

The committee deferred action on a bill listing certain steps by which women could be excused from jury service.

White Primary Bill Goes To Talmadge

Atlanta—(AP)—With legislative action completed after bitter Senate debate, the white primary bill to bar Negroes from voting in Democratic primaries today headed for Georgia's executive offices and certain approval by Governor-claimant Herman Talmadge.

I. Gov. M. E. Thompson committed himself to a white primary measure but his legislative leaders fought against the Talmadge-sponsored bill which was passed.

He added that officers have requested that Solicitor Robert T. Ashmore come into conference in the case with a view to determining the form of the warrants that may be issued, and that J. D. Todd, Jr., county attorney, also will be asked to sit in during the final stages of the investigation and the determination of further steps to be taken. (Continued on Page Four)

London—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee announced today that it was the British government's definite intention to turn India over to responsible Indian rule by June, 1948.

Attlee also announced the recall of Field Marshal Lord Wavell as viceroy of India and the appointment of Admiral Lord Mountbatten to succeed him.

An authoritative source said that Mountbatten was expected to leave for India sometime in March.

This source said he understood that Lord Wavell would retire from public service.

Whitehall sources said yesterday that Wavell was being recalled as a result of the current constitutional deadlock in India between the Congress party and the Moslem League.

Authoritative sources said it was entirely possible that Attlee would announce complete British evacuation of the sub-continent—which has been under Britain's sway for 200 years—within a stated period, perhaps as little as a year.

A government white paper on the subject will be issued at the same time and American correspondents were summoned to a special news conference immediately afterward by members of the British cabinet mission which evolved the 1946 Indian independence plan.

The fact that the Indian interim government—first step in that plan—now is threatened with complete breakdown because of continuing (Continued on Page Four)

PLAN STRIKE, OPPOSE BILLS

Telephone Workers Union In Senate Labor Hearing

Washington—(AP)—The National Federation of Telephone Workers, preparing for a countrywide strike in April unless its wage demands are met, today opposed legislation to forbid collective bargaining on an industry-wide basis.

Joseph A. Beirne, the federation's president, told the Senate Labor Committee that only by negotiations on such a scale can the independent union deal satisfactorily with what he called the "monopolistic" American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Great Day

By CHESTER WALSH

Despite inclement weather, the Greenville Merchants Association's semi-annual "Dollar Day" selling event for the retail merchants was a success in every way.

An observing reporter for the Reflector, hobnobbing in and out of stores on Dickinson Avenue, Evans and other streets, was convinced that "Dollar Day" in Greenville—the best to have a market in the world—was a success beyond the anticipation of the merchants.

Parking places were hard to find and cars were parked to a considerable distance in the residential sections. The throngs of shoppers in stores and on the streets manifested something of the "holiday spirit."

Shoppers were out in such numbers in the forenoon that some of the stores had to close their doors and let in the prospective customers in reasonable numbers.

"Greenville really is the shopping center of Eastern Carolina, and this fact was thoroughly demonstrated today in spite of rainy weather, with a possibility of snow," John W. Glover, president of the Merchants Association, said.

Incidentally, Mrs. Cora S. Powell, the executive secretary, and her assistant, deserve a "big hand" for the fine work in having the Greenville "Dollar Day" bargain event widely publicized.

His appointment is for four years—until the end of the term of Secretary-General Trygve Lie. Price will receive a yearly $13,500 salary and $8,500 expenses, tax free.

Since he left government service, the 55-year-old Price has been a vice-president of the Motion Picture Association of America under Eric Johnston in Hollywood.

Problems In Freedom

Withdrawal Of England From India, While Making True The Dream Of Liberty For Many Millions, Puts Heavy Responsibility On India's Government

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Withdrawal of Mother England from the Indian empire, which has been promised by Britain as a complement to the grant of independence, will of course bring to fruition the dream of generations of liberty-seeking natives—but it also will place upon a relatively inexperienced government a tremendous responsibility not only for organization "but for maintenance of order among the 400,000,000 people of a sub-continent afflicted with racial, political and religious strife.

Indian leaders generally recognize the trials and perils ahead of them. Indeed, while many—including Mahatma Gandhi—insist on the withdrawal of England lock-stock-and-barrel, yet there are others who would like to see the mother country remain in an advisory and protective capacity during the early days of the new government. Among the latter is Mahomed Ali Jinnah, brilliant head of the All-India Moslem League. He has told me emphatically that it was essential for Britain to stay until an Indian government was a going concern.

One of the greatest problems will be to bring British India and the native states together under one federal government. British India comprises the provinces which have their own governors and legislatures and are under the central government at New Delhi; the native states are some 600 semi-autonomous units which are ruled by the princes.

Many of these princes occupy thrones hundreds of years old, and have the power of life and death over their subjects. The wealth of a lot of them is literally so vast that they haven't the slightest idea of what it amounts to.

Labor Terminology

An Explanation For The Uninitiated Of Terms Used In Congress And Business, Which Are Connected With Labor Relations; Definitions And Comment

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington—(AP)—If you're puzzled by the labor terms being flung around in Congress these days, here's what some of them mean.

Arbitration—A third, disinterested party is called in voluntarily—but only voluntarily—by an employer and his workers to settle a dispute.

When they call in an arbitrator, always as a last resort, both sides agree to abide by his decision. Voluntary arbitration is often used.

But there's no law compelling arbitration. Congress won't pass such a law now. Unions and employers alike are dead set against it.

Boycott—There are two kinds: primary and secondary boycotts. Here are examples:

Primary boycott: a union won't handle the goods of a plant with which it has a labor dispute.

Secondary boycott: a union won't handle goods of a plant which, although not in dispute with that union, is disputing with some other union.

The guests were welcomed into a spring like atmosphere of daffodils and tulips by their gracious hostess. After a short business meeting, presided over by the president, Mrs. Ficklen, the program was turned over to Mrs. E. W. Moseley who presented a book review, "We Shook the Family Tree" by Hildegaard Dolson. Mrs. Moseley in her own easy and humorous style gave the club a most entertaining review of the Dolson household, a family story attractive and pungent with the affairs of Hildegaard, eldest of four live-wire children, her adventures and escapades that kept the family tree quivering from her teen age heart throbs throughout the years of finding herself in the business circle of New York. Mrs. Moseley made her hearers acutely aware of the barbed pen and amusing style of the author.

After the meeting the hostess served a delicious salad plate. Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. E. P. Ferguson, Mrs. E. W. Moseley, Mrs. Butz and Miss Mary Harding.

Round Table Club "Russia" was the topic of a talk by Dr. E. C. Hollar of ECTC at a meeting of the Round Table Book Club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Nobles.

Dr. Hollar first drew the attention of his listeners to the map of Russia, showing that great body of land stretching under the Arctic Circle, from the Pacific Ocean on the East to the Baltic Sea on the West. "This is the largest continuous body of land under one control in the world," stated Dr. Hollar.

"With no natural barriers, the West part, and great open spaces, it is peculiarly vulnerable to invasion."

From earliest time she has invaded, and many times conquered. Dr. Hollar briefly, and in most interesting manner, traced the ancient history of Russia, concluding his talk with some remarks about the Russian Revolution of 1917.

Inter Se Club

"After 47 years of American rule, the Philippines have raised their own flag over the islands," commented Mrs. Joe Taft in a talk before the Inter Se Club Tuesday at the home of Mrs. R. W. Bradshaw. "Acquired by Spain in the sixteenth century, the Philippines remained under her rule for more than three centuries," said Mrs. Taft. "In 1899 the islands passed formally into the hands of the United States and in 1901 a civil government was established with William H. Taft as governor-general."

"Under Spanish rule the Philippines suffered almost intolerable health conditions. Lepers were unhealed for pure water did not exist, and great scourges of smallpox, cholera and bubonic plague came. Nothing was done about them until the Americans were sent to the Philippines," stated the speaker. "A successful campaign was made against disease and hand in hand went a program of education."

"In discussing other phases of Philippine advancement Mrs. Taft explained that agriculture received special attention from government bureaus as well as schools. Many miles of first class roads and about a thousand miles of railroads were built."

"The Philippine government under United States rule became a text-book democracy. The promise of freedom had been freely and publicly given and the United States had always intended to keep it. In 1916 a large measure of freedom was given when the act providing for a legislature elected by popular vote was passed. In 1935 a commonwealth government was established and for ten years the Filipinos practiced self-government until in July, 1946, they were given absolute independence," said Mrs. Taft.

The discussion was ended with the statement that eight years of free trade with the United States has been given the Philippines and a promise of $20,000,000 has been made for war damages, reparations and the purchase of U. S. surplus property.

After a short business session, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Sam Underwood and Mrs. Humer Irving, served a delicious salad course with hot tea. Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. F. P. Brooks, Mrs. Bob Thompson, and Mrs. Urcell Webb.—Reported.

The High Seas

At the joint meeting of the committees on education held in the senate chamber last night, the report of the sub-committee on the Eastern North Carolina Training school for teachers was presented and was unanimously adopted.

The appropriation for the Eastern Training school is $15,000 for buildings in the next two years conditioned upon the raising of not less than $23,000 by the town in which or near which it may be established. The school is to be for both sexes.

The establishment of the Eastern Training school for teachers was the result of mutual concessions. It will not affect the State Normal and Industrial college or its appropriation.

The program was turned over to Mrs. E. E. Forbes, program chairman, who introduced Mrs. Rufus Stark. Mrs. Stark gave the Chatham members a very interesting talk on the life of Senator Robert Taft.

Mrs. Bowen, assisted by Mrs. Luther Bowling, served a delicious salad course with coffee and nuts. Books were then distributed by Mrs. E. R. Conway.

A. A. U. W. Meeting

The keynote of the February meeting of the American Association of University Women was set by the following quotation in a letter from the General Director, "Now that the seven arts are being redefined all over the world, public thought and action must be aroused in each community through learning, interpreting, creating and building through the arts. The test of the community's social conscience is whether it can express itself through contemporary art. If it can, it offers a contribution to the culture of the country."

The program was presented by the Art Committee, with Miss Jean Lane, chairman, Mrs. Herbert Carter sang, "A Spirit Flower" by Tip-ton, and French Clock" by Kraus, accompanied by Miss Martha Cammack of the piano. Miss Irene Heizer had arranged a book exhibit on art which contributed a great deal to the theme of the program.

Miss Alice Wooten spoke on Charles Spruce, a painter and Eberhart Umlauf, a sculptor, who are resident artists at the University of Texas.

Mrs. J. E. Winslow told the group about the life and work of Grandma Moses who started painting when she was 78 years of age.

Miss Lane discussed the Northwest Pacific group of painters who are attracting much attention now. She closed the art program with references to the art resources of the college library and to the study guides on the arts which are offered by A. A. U. W.

Miss Hooper announced the state meeting of A. A. U. W. in Charlotte March 21-22. The local branch is to send four delegates. In addition to these delegates, Mrs. Robert L. Humber, candidate for state president, and Mrs. D. S. Spain, candidate for secretary, will attend the meeting in Charlotte.

The local branch of A. A. U. W. and the college Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. sent more than 100 pounds of supplies to European students in answer to the urgent appeal which was sent out for these supplies.—Reported.

Red Oak News

A large congregation heard Dr. Hilley, president of A. C. College, in a stirring message at Red Oak Sunday morning. Rev. H. G. Quilev, our pastor, was supplying the pulpit at Elizabeth City. Dr. Hilley was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chairman Page after services.

"Circle No. 1" of Red Oak met last evening at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Vandiford with about fifteen members present. Mrs. James Allen read some verses from the book of Ruth which was an inspiration to all. A most gratifying treasurer's report was given, thanks to the splendid co-operation of all our folks in our recent drive for building funds. Circle No. 1 will have a candy sale next Wednesday, Feb. 26th. We have some ladies in our community who are really noted for their candy making and they will be asked to make the candy for us, and then some of our number will sell this candy. Now, if any of you who read this article want some delicious chocolate fudge or seafoam candy, call Mrs. L. W. Edwards, phone 3789, and she will take your order and it will be delivered to your door.

At the close of a very pleasant meeting, the hostess served hot coffee, chili, salad sandwiches, minis and toasted pecans. The next meeting, in March, will be at the home of our chairman and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Oia Kittrell. The April meeting will be held at Mrs. John Crawford's and the May meeting with Mrs. Fred Worthington. We were glad to welcome two new members, Mrs. Wyatt Barber and Mrs. Fred Worthington.

Circle No. 2 met at the lovely new home of Mr. and Mrs. James Joyner on the Greenville-Farmville Boulevard last evening with Mrs. Joyner and Miss Lillian Joyner as hostesses. A large crowd was present and interesting reports were given. Mrs. Jesse Jordan was elected chairman of this group and Mrs. Joe Tyson was elected vice-chairman. The treasurer gave a most interesting report. This circle recently served a supper to Mr. McBrayer and the J. C. Penny employees. The circle appreciated the splendid donation received in connection with this supper. They noted to give another supper soon.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses and a most enjoyable time was reported by all. Our men are slowly but surely getting our kitchen and community center connected. Mr. Hazard May has the framing and part of the weather-boarding completed; Mr. Amos Evans has his door placed and Mr. Leon Tyson, Oia Kittrell and F. L. Allen will fix the other door this week. This will certainly mean a lot to us to get this work done.

Plans are underway at Red Oak to add two new Sunday school rooms, build a vestibule, make new brick steps and brick veneer the whole church. Estimates have already been made and before very long we hope to have some evidence on the church yard that we are really in earnest about the expansion of our church. Many of our friends have encouraged us in many ways for which we are deeply grateful.

Library News

North Carolina has long ago won for herself a place in the literary world. At no period in her history, from "ante-bellum days" till the present post-war world reconstruction days, has there been any dearth of North Carolina writers. The literature of North Carolina probably began with the publication of John Lawson's "New Voyage to Carolina," published in 1709. The average layman recalls, among the many North Carolina writers of early days, Ashe, Connor, O'Henry, Dixon, Boyd, McNeill, Winston, and later Phillips, Russell, Archibald Henderson, Thomas Wolfe, Hope Summerell, Janet Gray, and Ellis Credle.

The great host of present day writers in North Carolina and their high rank among the writers of the nation is a source of great pride to all North Carolinians. It is the duty and privilege of all its citizens to be acquainted with the works of these distinguished authors. This list does not claim to be comprehensive, but it gives one an idea of the number of writers now living and writing in North Carolina and of the wealth and interests of their works.

The Sheppard Memorial Library has practically all of these books for the reading interest of its public: Bernice Kelly Harris: "Sweet Beulah Land," "Purslane," "Portulaca," "Jany Jeems." Noel Houston: "Great Promise," "Paul Green," "Lost Colony," "Out of the South," "Highland Call," "Josephus Daniels," "Tar Heel Editor," "Editor in Politics," and "The Wilson Era," winner of the Mayflower Cup in 1945. Jonathan Daniels: "A Southerner Discovers the South," "A Southerner Discovers New England," "Frontier Along the Potomac." Marion Hargrove: "See Here, Private Hargrove." James Street: "Taproots," "Oh

Hornet's Nest In Museum

Joseph A. Toth of Flint, Michigan, ran into a giant hornet's nest when he went hunting on the farm of his father-in-law, B. W. Buck of Black Jack. Luckily the hornets were not at home. Toth, a freshman at East Carolina Teachers college, bore off his find and presented it to the college Museum. One of the largest nests to be found in these parts, it is 48 inches in circumference, and measured lengthwise, 61 inches around. ### Chapter II

Beautiful, alluring Gloria deSylvia stood there smiling at Bert in the narrow corridor outside the band leader's door.

"I heard you asking Blackey for a job in there," she said. "Can you really play the saxophone?"

"That's what they tell me," he stated confidently, furious at the other's insolence. "The least Davis could have done was let me play for him."

"Blackey's pretty rough sometimes—on the surface, she said sympathetically. "Where can you be reached, in case—well, if I should happen to hear of anything?"

"We're checking out of here tomorrow morning," he said, wondering at her interest. "Just now I don't know where we'll be."

A softness came into the singer's languorous dark eyes. "Is that your mother with you out there?" Bert nodded. "Funny," she said wistfully, "how much she made me think of mine. Well, be sure to leave a forwarding address at the desk, Mr. McLane. And good luck." Smiling, she opened the door and went into Blackey's office.

"What luck did you have?" his mother asked expectantly as Bert came back to their table.

"No sale," he said morosely. "He even had the crust to call me an amateur."

"Well, of all the cheeky, outrageous things!" she spluttered hotly.

Bert reached for her hand. "If you've finished with that gingerale, Mom, let's go upstairs—and get a little sleep." And sleep he did, a deep sleep of exhaustion, despite Davis's insult and Gloria deSylvia's kindly concern.

The next afternoon, after fruitless visits to hotels and rooming houses, the McLanes visited fat and genial real estate agent, Dan O'Malley. Perhaps they could rent a furnished apartment, if it weren't too expensive, or share a little house.

Mr. O'Malley was sympathetic. He had lost a son in the Marines, he said, and would certainly like to help them. But there just wasn't anything to offer, anywhere, at any price. "It's the peak of the season here in Palm Springs," he told them. "Some people even make their reservations a year before."

"But there must be something," Bert declared, unwilling to accept defeat. "A little shack or a garage, or something. I've lived in fox-holes and I won't be very fussy, just so I can stay down here six months and get my health back."

"Well, hold on a moment!" Mr. O'Malley swung around in the swivel chair. "If it's just a bed you need and if you can cook your own chow, maybe the Van Cleef hacienda would answer."

"The Van Cleef hacienda?" "A place seven or eight miles out. The main section was burned out last winter, but part of the servants' quarters are intact—and furnished."

"We drove past it, coming in," Bert said.

O'Malley reached for his broad-brimmed Panama. "Let's drive out and see if the cook-stove's in working order."

With misgivings, the McLanes viewed the wreckage that once had been a magnificent drawing room, library and dining room. Only a few sticks of the handsome furniture had survived the flames and water. Ruined tapestries sagged from the walls, and heavy brocade draperies, from broken windows. The ceiling had caved in in places, but strangely, the huge ornate chandeliers were undamaged and, except for corners where the rugs had not protected them, the floor boards still remained.

"This is the worst of it," O'Malley smiled. "Now let's see the good part."

And actually, in contrast, the servants' wing—a series of small bedrooms connected by a narrow hallway to an enormous pantry and kitchen—seemed almost homey. A sudden shifting of the wind had diverted the blaze, saved most of the furnishings. The huge oil range still worked and the water system, Mrs. McLane discovered, was still connected with the large, filled storage tank in the rear. Nevertheless, she looked doubtfully at Bert.

"It would be terribly lonely for you, Son."

"And no way to get supplies, without a car."

"Oh, I'd leave you the car," she answered quickly, although Bert knew that she depended on it, to market for her boarding house at home.

He shook his head. "I don't think it would do, Mr. O'Malley, but thanks for bringing us out here, just the same."

and tea here in this cupboard," Mrs. McLane said, opening doors. "And soda crackers—and sugar—"

"Well, there you are—all set!" He smiled at Bert. "If you decide to stay on the property, young fella, and protect it from further vandalism, you can have it for practically nothing."

"You certainly are very kind, Mr. O'Malley." They shook hands warmly.

"Try it for a few days, and then come in and see me."

As the twilight swiftly fell and the cold night quickly closed in around them beneath a star-em-broidered cobalt sky, Bert and his mother sat together in the cozy kitchen—isolated, thoughtful, in the vast, brooding desert. Only the purring of the teakettle on the huge range broke the silence. Bert rose, crossed over to the stove, poured hot water into a dainty tea pot, and brought it to the table. Suddenly he laughed.

"Remember yesterday, Mom, how you were longing for a cup of tea. Right at this very spot?"

"Just shows you should be careful what you wish for, doesn't it?" A mischievous twinkle came into her eyes. "Because, sometime or other, you eventually get it."

But, despite their game cheerfulness, Bert felt pretty desolate as, exhausted, he fell asleep in the narrow bed that had once belonged to the rich Van Cleef's butler. He thought of Ellen back in Los Angeles, and of his brothers, and, bitterly, of the talented, successful band leader, Blackey Davis, who would have none of him and what he had to offer. Some day he'd show that guy that he was not an amateur!

Jefferson Standard's 40 years service to Policyholders and Beneficiaries has provided

SECURITY, COMFORT, EDUCATION, RETIREMENT, HAPPINESS

PROTECTING 300,000 POLICY HOLDERS • INSURANCE IN FORCE

1907 1947

THOUSANDS OF POLICYHOLDERS, representing a cross-section of foresighted men and women in 28 states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico, are now sheltered by the protective cover of Jefferson Standard life insurance. During the year 1946 more new life insurance was purchased, both by old and new policyholders, than in any other year in the company's history. Such rapid growth is striking testimonial to the helpful service rendered policyholders and to the integrity and qualifications of the men and women who comprise the company's field organization. Entering its 40th Anniversary Year, Jefferson Standard is on the threshold of $700,000,000 life insurance in force, with intensified plans for expanding the company's service to many new communities.

EXCELLENT EARNINGS ON INVESTMENTS

Jefferson Standard again led all major life insurance companies in rate of interest earned on invested assets—the result of an alert and sound investment policy.

Again in 1946 5% interest was paid on funds held in trust for policyholders and beneficiaries, thus continuing a rate that has been maintained for 40 years—since the company was organized in 1907.

STRONG FINANCIAL POSITION

(a) Contingency Reserve, Surplus, and Capital total $20,800,000, an unusually high ratio of additional funds for policyholders' protection.

(b) Total assets $179,000,000, an increase of $18,000,000 for 1946. For every $100 of liabilities there are $113.12 of assets.

NEW RECORD GAIN IN INSURANCE IN FORCE

Insurance in force increased $83,000,000 in 1946. Total is now $672,000,000 on thousands of policyholders from coast to coast.

BENEFITS PAID

$7,400,000 paid to policyholders and beneficiaries in 1946, bringing the total since organization in 1907 to $159,000,000.

LARGEST INCREASE IN NEW BUSINESS

$114,000,000 life insurance was purchased by new and old policyholders in 1946—an average of $2,200,000 per week—a 64% increase over 1945.

Dear Sir: It came to my attention a few weeks ago that the movie schedule for Sunday had been changed. This I feel is very inconvenient for our movie goers, especially the young people.

The majority of our people find it most convenient to attend the movies in the late afternoon and early evening, thus giving our young people a chance to get home early, and also the working people who seldom wish to attend a late movie.

Yours truly, Mrs. E. L. Parker

 Greenville Families can now enjoy

For years Southern Bread has been the popular favorite of thousands of families throughout the Carolinas. Now at last you will find it at our favorite food store right here in Greenville.

If you've never enjoyed the downright delicious goodness of famous Southern Bread, you will want to try a loaf today. When you taste and recognize its outstanding quality, you will discover for yourself why Southern Bread has climbed to the front ranks of popularity.

Southern Bread is Always Good 'n Fresh — baked by skilled master bakers with flour that is milled from the finest grain the golden wheat fields of America produce — and enriched to its whole-grain value.

For your enjoyment, Southern bakes, and your grocer features a variety of Southern Bread — Southern White Bread, Southern Thin-Sliced Sandwich Bread and Southern Wheat Bread. To find your family's favorite, be sure to try all three.

The name SOUTHERN, registered with the U.S. Patent Office, is both your protection and your guide when buying bread —

So get the Southern habit
 And keep your folks well fed,
 Always ask for SOUTHERN
 When you ask for bread.

SOUTHERN SANDWICH BREAD

Undivided Margins .....	5,029.01

The taxes listed in the chart to the right are the taxes paid by the Farmers Cooperative Exchange in 1946. They were paid on the same basis as any other business firm in North Carolina.

Had the Farmers Cooperative Exchange been required to operate under the same rule as ordinary commercial corporations, it would have paid, in addition to the taxes listed on right, a franchise tax of $1.75 per $1,000 on its capital stock of $1,964,165.70 or $3,437.28 instead of the $270 paid as license tax in lieu of the franchise tax; or a total of $3,167.28 more than it paid. Also, it would have paid a 6% income tax on savings of $45,581.33 that was distributed as dividends on capital stock and on undivided margins of $5,029.01. The total tax on these would have amounted to $3,036.62.

The total amount of additional taxes the Farmers Cooperative Exchange would have been required to pay in 1946, under the rule applied to regular commercial corporations, would have amounted to only $6,203.90.

We hereby certify that we were employed by the Board of Directors to audit the books and accounts of the Farmers' Cooperative Exchange for the year ending June 30, 1946, and that the above statements regarding volume margin and taxes are true.

WHAT IS THE REAL ISSUE?

Statements have been made by representatives of the North Carolina Merchants Association, inferring that farmer cooperatives were great octopuses reaching out to grab everything and giving nothing in return. In fact, they have created an impression that farmer cooperatives do not pay taxes. It has also been contended that the State of North Carolina was losing millions of dollars in revenue and that the farmer was not carrying his end of the tax burden.

The Farmers Cooperative Exchange offers the certified statement of a reputable accounting firm, which stated above that in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1946, the Farmers Cooperative Exchange, owned by the farmers of North Carolina and operating under the Cooperative Law, paid $62,163.51 in taxes on exactly the same basis as any other business in the State.

Had it been required to pay the State income tax and franchise tax as required of ordinary commercial corporations, it would have paid $6,203.90 in additional taxes.

With only $6,203.90 more tax, it is obvious that it is not the amount of taxes involved that many of the merchants are fighting, but the farmers and their rights to own and operate their own cooperatives in order that they may better their economic condition, enjoy a higher standard of living, and farm in a competitive world.

Farmers of North Carolina have always paid their share of taxes. They had to list every mule, every plow, and everything else they owned because those things were tangible. That has not always been true with other groups.

Many merchants in the state own farms and farm in direct competition with the farmers, who depend 100% on farming for a living, yet they frown upon the idea of the farmer organizing his own business in competition with the merchant.

What is the real issue? Is it taxes or is it the farmer's right to organize his own business?

Why The Farmers Cooperative Exchange Was Organized?

It was not by choice or chance that the farmers of North Carolina organized their own business—they were forced to in order to exist.

For 66 years, they tilled the soil producing food and fiber for their fellowman, waiting and hoping for help and advice that never came.

Finally, after years of waiting and hoping, they were forced to provide help for themselves.

Hardly had the farmer recovered from the depression of the early twenties, his fourth since the Civil War, before the depression of 1932 was at hand. During that year, North Carolina's 1,600,000 farm people were forced to accept conditions that will never be forgotten. Cash farm income sank to an average of 18 cents per day per capita and an average farm family of five had but a total of 90 cents per day to provide clothing, medical care, hospitalization, and to meet religious, educational and social obligations. Practically every farm market was glutted.

Many merchants, who up until that time had been the farmer's chief counsel and adviser, failed to step into the gap and help the farmer.

At this point the farmers of the State began to look around them and take stock. They found out that from 1925 to 1932 the average per capita cash income had been only 38 cents per day and that over 50 per cent of the State's 332,000 farm homes had depreciated to the extent that they had a value of less than $500 each.

It was because of these deplorable conditions that agricultural leaders decided something had to be done. North Carolina's farm economy had broken apart. The farm markets were glutted and the farmer's purchasing power was getting smaller by the year. In most cases, many merchants, who had proven such staunch friends in the better days when the farmer had money to spend, turned their back on the farmer once his money or farm was gone. They had made little or no effort to help the farmer develop a market, but rather expected the farmer to sell on a glutted market during the fall months for whatever price he could get.

The Farmers Cooperative Exchange was organized in 1934. Its first investment was in a modern seed and grain cleaning plant to aid the farmers in producing more seed and grain.

The second move was a fertilizer factory to assist the farmers in taking advantage of the information and research data given out by the State Agricultural College and North Carolina Test Farms.

The third step was to build a feed mill to provide a market for the farmer's grain and manufacture their own feeds by formulas recommended by the State's Agricultural College. It should also be pointed out that prior to this time they had no way to take advantage of the research and information and experimental work of the College and the Department of Agriculture.

Since that day the Farmers Cooperative Exchange has provided numerous marketing services for its owner-members. In eggs alone, it has saved the farmers thousands of dollars and in grain and seed, furnished the farmer a year-round market.

Today, North Carolina farmers, through their own organization and with the help of North Carolina State College and the North Carolina Department of Agriculture, are rapidly turning North Carolina into a balanced agricultural State, which is the only hope for the future security of our economy.

The only way to make farming a profitable business is to lower cost of production and to market in such a way as to give farmers their share of the consumer dollar—this is what farmers are doing through their own cooperatives.

Make Agriculture a profitable way of life and our whole economy will be safe.

AWAITED GAME IS DUE FRIDAY

Phantoms Go To Washington For Tst With League Leaders

In a position to either make or break Washington as far as the Northeastern Conference Crown is concerned, Greenville's Phantoms go to the Pamlico city tomorrow night for one of the games they have pointed for all season. The same two teams will play a return match in the Wright gym at ECTC on Monday evening.

If the Phantoms can upset Washington in both of these games it would throw the conference crown into a two-way tie between Kinston and Washington.

The Pam Pack will undoubtedly have the odds on the Greens, however, as their tremendous height which has kept them winning all year will again make a great deal of difference. However, Elizabeth City managed to get one win over Washington and the Phantoms feel that they can do the same thing with half a chance since they beat Elizabeth City twice this season.

The Phantoms worked against a Washington type zone yesterday and will do so again today. They should be ready for one of their best games in Washington Friday night.

Local Man Reports Missouri Tobacco

James Keel of Keel's Warehouse in Greenville and who operated a tobacco warehouse in Weston, Missouri, after the season closed here, sent the following interesting information about the Missouri tobacco market:

"With a medium quality crop, the farmers here have averaged about 38c. Top price has been 60c. The tobacco companies have bought about all of the medium and better grades of tobacco, but have bought very little of the heavy grades. The Government, with its 90 per cent of parity loan program, has taken about 25 per cent of the crop, practically all in heavy grades."

CLARK STEALS FLOOR HONORS

Guard Plays Brilliant Ball As Pirates Take 42-41 Victory

The Pirates of East Carolina Teachers College got back on the winning side last night, when they defeated the Norfolk Division of William & Mary by a close score of 42-41. The Pirates led by a comfortable margin throughout the whole game, but the Braves put on a last minute drive only to fall short by one point.

Jim Taylor found his shooting eye and came up with 12 points to lead the ECTC scorers, but the real star of the night was Snag Clark, who turned in one of the finest floor games of any player this season. Clark constantly stole the ball from the Braves. Roughton, Brave forward, tied Taylor for scoring honors, dropping in 12 points also.

Charlie Moye, star center who was missing from last night's lineup, will be out for the rest of the season with a fractured wrist received in the Atlantic Christian game Tuesday night.

ECTC will make their last home appearance of the season Friday night, meeting the Cherry Point Marines in a game scheduled for 8 p. m.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel gummy laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly always the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Here is a letter from a farmer about an experience he had with natural soda on his corn. It is offered here in the hope that you will find his suggestion helpful and profitable.

The Farmer's Forum from Uncle Natchel's Book of Experience

"On a field of corn where I had a good stand, I sidedressed it with 250 lbs. per acre of Chilean Nitrate when the corn was knee high. Just to see what would happen, I doubled the side-dressing on a few rows and on the next rows left it off altogether. When we checked up on the results, I found that the corn that had not gotten any soda had fired above the ears; that which got the 250 pounds showed a little firing, while the corn that got double, had not fired at all. I used to think that firing was caused by dry weather but now I believe it really is hunger for nitrate."
