LOWER PRICES FOR HOUSING SAID GENERAL

Survey Over Nation Shows Trend; Many Building Still Overpriced

Washington—(AP)—A sharp drop in the column of home sales and a "definite trend to lower prices" for the first time in eight years were reported today by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

The residential home turnover has declined in 64 percent of the 475 cities covered by its semi-annual market survey, the association said. The drop is most general in the larger cities.

"The survey showed a trend to lower prices for residential property in about one city of four, although a majority of the cities—54 percent—still recorded prices higher than they were a year ago," the report

Ten-Month-Old Strike Could Be Ended Says CIO

Washington—(AP)—Leaders of the 10-month-old Allis-Chalmers strike at Milwaukee told the House Labor Committee today it could end the strike "within 24 hours" by recommending either arbitration or fact-finding.

Robert Buse, president of CIO Auto Workers Local 248, and Harold Christoffel, honorary president, declared the committee has such "power and prestige" that the company would feel compelled to accept.

In a joint statement prepared for the committee, they said the company's testimony before the House and Senate labor groups that Local 248 is under "communist leadership" was a "smokescreen" to hide the management's "arrogant, arbitrary, and intransigent attitude" in the strike.

Telephone Workers File Strike Notice

Thirty-Day Strike Notices Filed On Behalf Of Telephone Workers In More Than Dozen States Over Pay Demands

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS

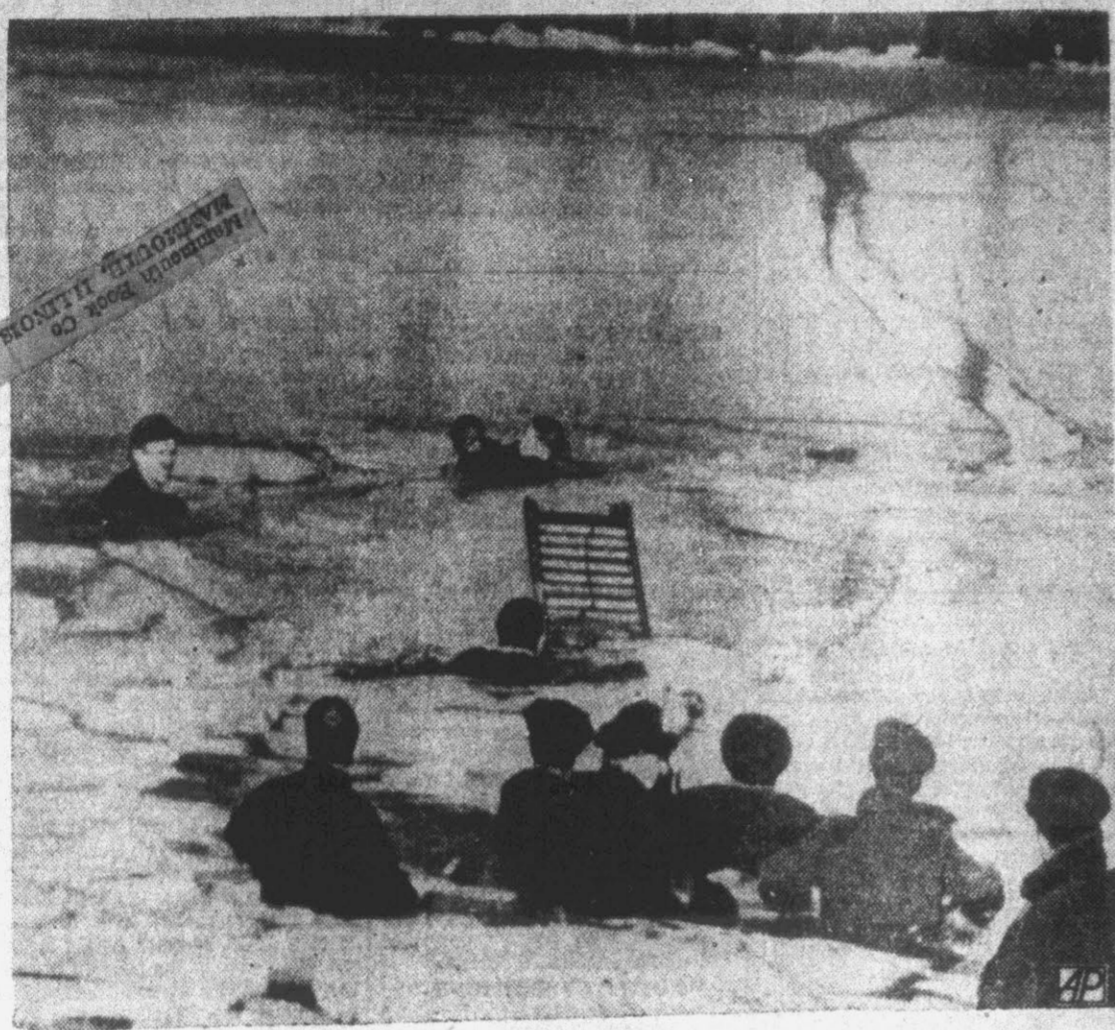

Thirty-day strike notices on behalf of more than 100,000 telephone workers in at least 23 states were on file with the federal government today and a union spokesman described the separate actions as part of a "coordinated program" of the National Federation of Telephone Workers.

Notices filed to date, as disclosed by union sources, included workers in New York, New Jersey, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Colorado, Arizona, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, New Mexico, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and California.

Thomas A. Lambert, president of the Mountain States Federation of Telephone Workers, said the notices were "a mere formality to keep within the law in case negotiations break down." He and a union official

Death Defeats Rescue Efforts In Icy River

In this dramatic picture, made by Photographer Roger Terhune of the Passaic (N. J.) Herald-News, policemen and firemen in foreground and a Metro Wrobel (left), 31, make heroic but vain attempts to rescue two boys in the ice-clogged Passaic river. The boys are just beyond reach of the ladder which the rescuers are trying to shove to them. Shortly after this picture was made the boys went under and were drowned. Another boy, not shown in photo, also drowned. (AP Wirephoto)

"People's Choice"

Miami Beach, Fla.—(AP)

The reelection of President Truman in 1948 was asked by party leaders as 300 faithful Democrats ate a $250-steak dinner and washed it down with champagne, also on the bill, at a Jefferson jubilee dinner here last night.

Aitroney General Tom Clark declared that "America wants Harry Truman in 1948" and Secretary of Commerce W. Averill Harriman asserted Mr. Truman "is growing in the estimation of the people of this country."

Notable Activities In Assembly During Week

New Liquor Bills In Hopper; Unionized Labor Loses Second Round Over Closed Shop; Favorable Report On Wildlife Measure

Raleigh, N. C.—(AP)—Liquor bills were dropped into legislative hoppers this week as opponents and proponents of the liquor referendum hastened to rally forces before a liquor hearing scheduled Tuesday by the Senate Finance Committee.

Other activities notable in the eighth week of the current session were: Passage by the House of a hotly-contested anti-closed shop bill; a favorable Senate committee report on the wildlife measure; a substitute to the co-op bills; lengthy hearings on the wage and hour law and a measure regulating intra-state trucking.

Three prohibition bills were introduced Thursday and brought to 32 the number of measures, mostly local, dealing with wine, whiskey or beer which have been sent forth in the current assembly.

Unionized labor lost its second round in its fight to retain the closed shop as the House passed by an overwhelming vote the anti-closed shop bill. It turned down all amendments, including one that would have submitted the question to a vote of the people. The Senate will consider the measure next week.

The House-approved wildlife measure was reported upon favorably by the Senate Committee on Conservation and Development, a third round victory for proponents of the fight to separate the Division of Game and Inland Fisheries from the State Department. It will be brought before the Senate Tuesday morning for a final test.

A second substitute to a bill to tax co-operatives, submitted to the House Finance Committee, was referred to a five-man sub-committee with instructions to report by Tuesday. The substitute would tax only

AIRMEN SAFE AFTER CRASH

Third B-29 Lost During Week In Alaska; Men Rescued

Anchorage, Alaska—(AP)—Fourteen Army Air Force fliers who parachuted from their flaming B-29 Superfortress Friday to safety on the Aleutian peninsula were being cared for today at three different locations after their rescue by three amphibian planes which saw the big bomber go down.

The Superfortress was the third of its type lost by the Alaskan Air Command in a week.

The big craft, commanded by Lt. B. M. Johnson, R.R. Mason City, Ia., was flying northeast of Naknek when an engine caught fire and the men were ordered to bail out, the command's headquarters at Elmendorf Field near here announced.

Young Demos In Session Today

Greensboro, N. C.—(AP)—Young Democrats from throughout the state gathered here today for a re-organization session looking to bring membership and club activity up to a prewar footing.

Senator John L. McClelland (D-Ark) is slated to be the principal speaker at a dinner session tonight at the Sedgewick Inn, with a number of state dignitaries expected to be on hand.

The Young Democrats organization, headed by Basil L. Whitner of Gastonia, has sent out invitations to Thad Eure, Secretary of State; W. Kerr Scott, Commissioner of Agriculture; Harry McMillan, Attorney General; Forrest H. Shuford, Commissioner of Labor, and Hathaway Cross, Commissioner of Paroles.

Babson Discusses Bonds

Babson Park, Florida, Feb. 28.—Three weeks ago in this column I discussed the stock market. I gave ten reasons favoring higher prices. This week I will discuss bonds. These bonds may be divided into two major groups.

Taxables vs Non-Taxables

By taxable bonds I have in mind those of established corporations and U.S. Government bonds. Nearly all such corporation bond issues now on the market should be safe. They yield from 3 percent to 5 1/2 percent according to their marketability. For an investor buying only for income and security, the medium-grade bonds often are better than the low-yielding bonds. Each issue should, however, be judged on its own merits.

All the U.S. Governments should be safe. The small investor should buy Series "E" which yield about 3 percent although you must wait ten years before getting your interest. Large investors buy the "F's" or "G's" which yield 2 1/2 percent. The interest on these bonds is taxable like the interest

ODDS AGAINST LILIENTHAL IN SENATE VOTE

TVA Nominee's Rejection "Shape Of Things To Come" Says Bridges

Washington—(AP)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) claimed today the signs are against confirmation of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Referring to a 7 to 5 vote by the Senate Public Works Committee to recommend rejection of Gordon Clapp's nomination as a director of the Tennessee Valley Authority, Bridges declared:

"It is the shape of things to come."

Lilienthal, as TVA chairman, and Clapp as general manager, were intimately associated on the big valley project.

Both came under heavy fire from Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), and much of the testimony in both confirmation hearings came from the same witnesses and followed the same general line.

McKellar has attempted to prove that Communists infiltrated into TVA without hindrance by the directing heads.

Although the Lilienthal hearing has been held before an entirely different group of senators—the Senate panel of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy—Bridges told a reporter he considers the Clapp vote yesterday indicative of the Senate's final decision on Lilienthal.

There are 16 Republican senators who first took the oath last January. They are considered the great unknown factor in the tense Lilienthal struggle. Few have disclosed how they intend to vote.

Regardless of the adverse committee vote, Democratic leaders announced they will try to push Clapp's confirmation through on the Senate floor. President Truman told a news conference yesterday he still is behind Clapp.

Inquest Tonight Into Death Of Woman In Auto

By CHESTER WALSH

Pitt County Coroner Griffin H. Rouse will hold an inquest at the City Hall tonight at 7:30 in connection with the death of Helen Smith, 20-year-old Negro, in woods near the New Bern highway, two weeks ago.

Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson has been holding without bail William Wilson, 30-year-old Negro, pending the outcome of an autopsy performed by Dr. J. L. Winstead and a report of toxicologists at Duke Hospital, who examined the woman's stomach.

Coroner Rouse said William Wilson told officers that he and the woman went for a ride the night of February 14; that they parked in woods and went to sleep; that he woke up the next night and went home in a taxicab; that Sunday morning, February 16, he and his brother, Alex Wilson, and his brother-in-law, Jim Smith, drove to the parked car, and they found the woman dead on the back seat.

Polk Ballot Plaints Are Aired In Court

Tryon, N. C.—(AP)—Charges of irregularities in the November election in Polk county were headed for airing in the county's civil courts today following complaints drawn up against two office holders yesterday.

Named in separate complaints signed in behalf of two Republican applicants for their posts were the sheriff, W. D. Hines, and county commissioner C. C. Story.

Congress Demands Details Affecting Greek Decision

Aged Couple Accused Of Slavery

Alfred Weslev Inalls (right), 64, of Coronado, Calif., and his wife, Elizabeth (left), 62, appear in court at San Diego, Calif., for arraignment on federal charges that they held their 57-year-old Negro housemaid, Dora L. Jones, in slavery for 30 years. Behind them is a U. S. marshal. Assistant U. S. Attorney William Ritz said FBI investigation disclosed Mrs. Inalls, the former Elizabeth Kimball, went to Alabama in 1905 as a missionary school teacher, befriended the Negroes, then 15, and later took the girl to work as a maid in her home at Washington, Lynn, Mass., Boston, and finally Coronado. Legislators Want Blueprint Of Obligations Involved Before Deciding Whether U. S. Should Take Over British Commitments In Greece; Truman Points Way

Washington—(AP)—Congress members of both parties called today for a blueprint of the obligations involved before deciding whether the United States should take over British commitments in Greece.

Legislators who talked it over with President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall at a conference at the White House Thursday remained uniformly silent, but other members said they want to know what the move will mean in terms of money and foreign policy.

Several said the issue is whether the U. S. intends to plunge further into Europe's turbo-political conflict between communism and other forms of government.

President Truman pointed up this nation's desire for stability abroad last night with a declaration that it is essential to economic and political reconstruction overseas that a new food crisis be averted. He said if this country continues the present rate of shipments it will meet by the end of April in export quota of 350,000,000 bushels of grain and flour originally set for the end of June.

But "the battle of food is by no means over," President Truman declared. He said:

"We must go beyond our program and continue to ship as much grain in May and June as we can, in the interest of world stability and freedom." Coal shipments also must continue, he said, even at the cost of sacrifice and considerable effort on our part.

The president's announcement was based on a report from his cabinet committee on world food programs.

The future of the Greek government as well as the present regime in Turkey, appeared at stake in reports that the British have informed this country they no longer can bear the financial burden of maintaining troops and relief

T. V. Soong Resigns As China's Premier

Try Creation

Brookhaven, N. Y.—(AP)—Reversing the operation of the atomic bomb, the Brookhaven National Laboratories will seek to create matter by changing energy into solid substance.

The laboratory, expected to be the greatest atomic peace laboratory in the world, will not be equipped with bombs or military aims.

It is aimed at new machines that will produce two to three billion electron-volts energy in the form of protons or other particles each as heavy as an atom of hydrogen.

The sponsors expect these vast energies to change into positrons, which are one of the unit masses of matter that supply part of the mass of all chemical elements, and most of the mass of stars of them.

Dramatic Resignation Stirs Speculation On Kai-shek's Next Move; Reshuffling Of Executive Cabinet Thought Likely

Nanking—(AP)—China's Supreme National Defense Council today approved the resignation of Premier T. V. Soong and named Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek as concurrent president of the executive Yuan pending appointment of a new premier.

Soong resigned dramatically today, stirring speculation that Chiang might revamp his whole cabinet and bring in minority party members for the first time.

Soong, criticized by political foes for his handling of China's financial crisis, made his announcement before a critical legislative Yuan (council) which had summoned him to defend his fiscal policies.

Before stepping aside, Soong, who is the Generalissimo's brother-in-law, declared the Communists, by destroying communications, were responsible for the chaotic state of China's economy.

Political observers thought it likely that Chiang also would take on the premiership and then reshuffle the executive Yuan (cabinet), which now is loaded with Soong's friends.

Some also thought it possible that Chiang would take advantage of the opportunity to bring in minority parties.

Soong gave no reason for his resignation, but it came at a time when criticism of his economic policies was rising both in the press and in the legislative Yuan.

Soong told the legislative Yuan that inflation went unchecked after the war with Japan because "the people of China plunged into a civil war cumulatively more exhausting than the war with Japan."

Survivors Tell Of Blast Aboard New Diesel Ship

New Orleans—(AP)—Survivors of the SS Ben Froemming, which exploded in the Mississippi River at Oak Point, La., last night, told of one great blast that killed three men and injured seven.

Through the public relations officer of the New Orleans Port of Embarkation, Colombian crew members aboard the vessel today told how the crankcase of the 1750-horsepower main engine of the vessel exploded, rocking the ship and sending out great sheets of flame that blistered crew members, some seriously, others fatally.

The cause of the explosion, they said, would be difficult to determine because among the dead was Joel W. Moor, service engineer for the Busch-Sulzer firm that constructed the vessel's engines. Moor was in the charge of the diesel engine at the time of the explosion.

Aboard the vessel were 50 crewmen, 28 of them employees of Inallas Shipbuilding Company, owners of the vessel, and 22 Colombians making the trip to become acquainted with operation of the vessel.

Your Tax Exemption

You Can Save Money By Being Careful About Liting Exemptions; Who Is A Dependent? Normal Tax And Surtax Combined; Simple Explanation

By JAMES MARLOW

Editor's Note: This is the sixth of 12 stories explaining who has to do what about his income tax return.

Washington—(AP)—You'll save money by being careful about your exemptions in filing your 1946 income tax return.

You get a $500 exemption—which means $500 knocked off your total income before the tax is applied—for:

- 1. Yourself (always).
2. Your wife—if she had no income of her own or is filing a joint return with you.
3. Each dependent.
When a husband and wife file separate returns, he claims his own $500 exemption for himself. She claims her $500 for herself.
When a wife files a return and her husband had no income, she claims his $500 exemption in addition to her own.
(What the wives of enlisted men can do is explained in a later story on servicemen and veterans.)
You can claim as a dependent any close relative—no matter how young or old—who received more than half his support from you in 1946 and had less than $500 income of his own.
A dependent—even though he earned money, if it was less than $500—doesn't have to file a return. And you don't have to report his income even if he turned it over to you.
You can't claim as a dependent anyone who had $500 or more income, even though he received more than half his support from you.
(Anyone with $500 or more income must file his own return and take his own $500 exemption for himself.)
You can claim as a dependent for the whole year a child born to you as late in 1946 as Dec. 31.
You can claim as a dependent for the whole year a dependent who died anytime in 1946, even as early as Jan. 1, 1946.
When you use the 1946 long form—which means working out your own tax—you must do this:
(All you do is subtract the total exemptions from your total income.)

History Is Repeated

Today's Developments Similar To England's Position Six Years Ago When That Country Was In A Military Crisis; Help From U.S. Is Only Answer

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.

Developments during the past few days show clearly that relative positions of the United States and Great Britain today are, in the economic field, much the same as they were in the military field six years ago.

The British, strained to the breaking point at home, have nevertheless been fighting to retain their world position. They are doing without essential goods in order to rebuild their trade abroad; maintaining armies and making loans to carry their share of occupation and rehabilitation expense while themselves forced to borrow; exerting themselves in a hundred ways to hold the allegiance of the smaller countries in the dispute between the ideologies of Western and Eastern Europe. And they cannot keep it up, alone.

Britain's appeal for help in Greece is a climatic admission of inability to handle, alone, the job she has set for herself. Without this help, Greece in all probability will collapse into another Soviet satellite.

for months, too, that if America is to have a say, as she has attempted, in the Palestine settlement, that she must carry her share of the heavy cost London claims will be entailed.

We are already carrying, in a manner of speaking, the expense of Britain's occupation in Germany and her effort—which is just as much our effort, to be sure—to keep Europe in the Western sphere.

Now Britain is trying to regain at least a measure of her strength before she uses up the American loan upon which she is drawing far faster than expected. But this is not merely a matter of bridging an emergency period, the end of which can be foreseen definitely. There is "always be an England," to be sure. But she is being gradually shorn of her empire. The areas which produce the raw materials for her industry are now becoming industrialized on their own. Inevitably the question arises as to when, if ever, she will be able to meet, without outside help, the commitments which she has been accustomed to shoulder.

Call "Time Out" In Budget Fight

Washington—(AP)—Republican senate leaders sought today to rally their majority behind a limit of 2,000,000,000 on public debt reduction in order to leave a good margin for tax cuts in the fiscal year starting July 1.

A hasty week end adjournment after the leadership's first setback of the 80th congress carried over to Monday and final decision on this issue and a proposal to cut $4,500,000,000 out of President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget.

Democrats engineered the upset late yesterday when they caught the GOP with only 43 of its 51 members on the floor.

Pact Provides For Reich Reparations

London—(AP)—An official British government source said today the new British-French treaty of alliance contained "provisions to meet any failure by Germany" to pay her reparations.

The official declined to say whether the provisions bound Britain and France to take aggressive military action in case of a German failure to pay off.

PROPHET REPUBLIC AND GAZETTE SYNDICATE REC-MANNING

In the House Gym they have bikes that tell a congressman how many miles he gets out of paddling the wheels around without leaving the spot. Four laps, registered on some sort of a score board, make a mile, he explains.

Sometimes the congressmen play riddle ball. This is not competitive, Pete says. The men just take the inside of their balls and then bang up against the wall with tennis rackets. It's sort of like handball.

Army officers assigned to desk work in Washington have an opportunity now to keep in shape under a program announced by Maj. L. R. Barth, director of a newly formed Pentagon Officers Club.

All male officers assigned to the War Department and reserve and National Guard officers working as civilians in the Washington area are eligible to membership. Officers of other nations are eligible for associate membership.

The club, which is fixing up a gym in a basement storeroom in the Pentagon Building, will be self-supporting. The officers will pay $2 initiation fees and $2 monthly dues.

Already the club has 200 members. When it really gets going they'll choose teams for volleyball, squash and handball. Exercise classes will be organized too.

Maj. Barth majored in physical education at Pennsylvania State College. He came to the Pentagon from Baltimore, where he was director of athletics for the Second Army.

Everything's being done to keep members of Congress and the military fit and trim—or relaxed—as the case might demand, during their stay in the capital.

It's mostly for relaxation that a hot room, a steam room and electric cabinet baths are maintained in ground floor rooms of the Senate Office Building—for solons who get tied in knots during trying days.

Wellington Scott, better known as "Scotty," has been looking after senators for the past 25 years. He says the law-makers often retire to the hot room—bathed to 175 to 190 degrees Fahrenheit—and sit until they get into a sweat.

Some of them choose the steam room, where they also sweat.

In addition to relaxation, some senators loosen up a bit or try a bit of muscle-tightening in the improvised gymnasium set up for their pleasure. Here there are a rowing machine, a punching bag and a handball court.

In the House Office Building, there is a regular full-sized gym. I wanted to go up and talk to Pete Henderson, the man who runs it, but he said by the sound of my voice he didn't think it would be proper.

He didn't think the congressmen would like it if a woman came barging into their gym. This I had no intention whatsoever of doing.

Pete said the congressmen went in for less strenuous forms of exercise. His patrons represent all age groups, he said, and it is his job to see they get "enough exercise and no more."

the table for the tax according to your 1946 income and the number of your exemptions.

Last year taxpayers had to think in making out their returns, of separate exemptions for the normal tax and the surtax.

There's been a change. This year in figuring the tax on income, the normal tax and the surtax have been combined.

So now you think only of one $500 exemption: Whether you can claim it and deduct it from your income before the income is taxed with the combined tax.

That's why, to make it easy on you, no distinction was made in history between normal and surtax exemptions.

(Monday: Watch your deductions.)

William J. (Dick) Bundy, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau, has announced that radio talks will be made each night next week by prominent community leaders throughout the county, and also that campaign announcements will be made at all civic clubs.

Chairman Taft emphasized that this year raising the quota will be more difficult than during war years and that he was urging all workers to impress upon the public the need for continuing the work of a Red Cross which is so essential to the public health and safety of the nation as well as the many other services rendered by this time-honored institution of mercy.

Under the Smith-Connelly Act labor organizations are required to file 30-day advance notice of intention to strike. In Washington the notices now being filed were regarded as a mere formality in keeping with the convention action.

Joseph A. Beirne, NFTW president, hinted in his testimony before the Senate Labor Committee Feb. 20 that there might be no telephone strike.

"Personally, I would be inclined to arbitrate rather than call a strike," he said.

Better times have been made by multi-engine propeller planes, including the Army's P-47 Thunderbolt, a superfortress, which flew from Burbank to New York in five hours and 27 minutes in 1945.

Col. William Council holds the transcontinental speed record. He flew a P-80 jet plane from California to New York in four hours, 13 minutes and 30 seconds on Jan. 26, 1946.

Mantz said yesterday he could have done much better if his radio had not failed shortly before he reached New York.

"I spent a half hour over the other side of Philadelphia trying to get my radio working," he told newsmen. "I lost 40 minutes trying to find New York. After all, I'm only a country boy."

It was engaged in a search mission for another B-29 missing in the Mount Katmai region since Monday.

Two amphibian planes, also seeking the lost bomber which vanished with 13 men aboard, saw the fliers parachuting from their stricken ship which crashed with an "explosion like Bikini."

The amphibians landed on a lake a mile and a half away and within a short time had located all of the airmen who "hit the silk."

Four of the men, whose names were not learned immediately, were injured in the jumps, one having a dislocated hip. They were flown to a hospital at Kananakak.

Six others were flown to Baknek village and the remainder were taken back to their base.

The Phillips Brooks Club, through its president, the Rev. M. W. Lawrence, has invited the ministers of all denominations in the state to the next meeting of the club to be held at Duke University Monday March 3, 1947. The monthly convocation will begin with a luncheon in the Oak Room at 12 noon. At 1:30 p. m., Bishop Edwin A. Penick of the Diocese of North Carolina and vice-president of the House of Bishops will give the first address. At 2:30 p. m. Dr. John Bradway, professor of law at Duke, will speak on "Legal Aid Clinics." Both lectures will be given in the York Center.

Duke University will have as its keynote speaker the first seventy-five ministers who write a card indicating their intention of attending.

At least 12 survivors were removed by ambulances within 20 minutes after the blast, and rescue crews clawed through the debris seeking 38 other persons believed to have been in the building at the time.

Jerusalem—(AP)—A terrific Sabbath explosion wrecked a three-story British officers club in Jerusalem today, and an Army officer said "it is impossible even to estimate the dead and wounded in there."

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Keeney and Miss Marcia Keeney, of Manchester, Conn., visited Mr. and Mrs. Moye Dill Thursday and Friday en route to their home from Florida.

Congressman Herbert C. Bonner of Washington spent the day in Greenville.

Harris-Aldridge
The marriage of Miss Lucille Shoffner Aldridge, daughter of Mrs. Daisy B. Aldridge of Norfolk, to George C. Harris, USN, son of Mrs. Pauline Harris of Norfolk, took place Saturday evening, February 22 at nine o'clock in a candlelight ceremony in the Chapel in The Woods, Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va. The double ring ceremony was performed by Chaplain Wood, Commander, USN.

The bride and groom entered the chapel together and took their vows before an altar flanked by vases of spring flowers and candelabra. They were preceded by Mrs. Vernon H. Gregory, sister of the bride as maid of honor, and Vernon H. Gregory as best man.

The bride was attired in a gray gabardine suit with navy blue and pink accessories, and she wore a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Both mothers wore black crepe dresses with matching accessories and corsages of red roses.

Organ music was furnished by Mrs. Ellison, church organist.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris are spending the week in Washington, D. C. where Mr. Harris is attending advanced gunner's mate school.

F. T. A. Study Course
Beginning Tuesday, March 4, through Friday at 2:30 p. m. the F. T. A. of the Third Street school will hold a study class conducted by Miss Alice Strawn, member of the high school faculty. Throughout the course Miss Strawn's topic will be "The Family Rediscovered." All members are urged to attend. The public is also cordially invited.

Falkland P. T. A.
Unfortunately there was no article published about the Falkland January P. T. A. meeting. It would be unjust not to mention the inspiring message Miss Anna Little delivered in her devotional. She expressed the importance of "Spiritual Education" to the parents present. It needs to be taught in the daily lives of our children. A short business session followed. Then the program chairman, Mrs. T. K. Fountain, read the monthly message from the state president and the meeting was turned over to Mr. Williams who ran two pictures with his movie projector. Members enjoyed a short feature, "Here Comes the Circus" and a main feature "Lucky Corrigan." These pictures gave the association an idea of what to expect from their own projector which was due to arrive shortly. The shows concluded the meeting and members felt glad they had braved the cold to attend.

February meeting
Do you want your child to be called a problem child? Home environment usually guides a child to the road of life he will follow, said Mrs. Boyette in her devotional message to the Falkland P. T. A. members last week. If a problem child's home life was investigated it probably would not be a happy home.

The association agreed to send a gift to Mrs. Paul Davenport to show their appreciation for her unpaid services to this district. Members also contributed $5 to be given to the national association celebrating Founder's Day. Miss Spain, the principal announced the lunch room would be unable to run much longer due to the lack of funds. A splendid report was given on the work of the finance committee. Mrs. Nelson, who has certainly worked hard to get the movie projector paid for.

Mrs. T. K. Fountain read the president's message for the month. Then school children gave a short play on Founder's Day. Members then enjoyed a picture on their own movie projector showing the progress and growth of railroads and trains since they first began. The meeting adjourned after the show.

"Mama" Steals Show In Production At College

Martha Jefferson of Fountain completely won a large audience from the college, Greenville, and neighboring towns when she appeared last night in the Austin auditorium of the college in the leading role of John Van Druten's comedy, "I Remember Mama." With dignity and emotional intensity Miss Jefferson gave a performance that set a new standard for amateur performances at the college. Stately, blonde, and beautiful, Miss Jefferson is an ideal type for the part of the strong Norwegian woman whose tenderness and courage are the themes of the play. Her portrayal of Mama was remarkable in that that part was the first she has had in a play since she acted a few minor roles in high school.

MARTHA JEFFERSON

The play was produced jointly by the Chi Pi Players and the Senior class of the college under the direction of Dr. Lucile Charles. Opal Belcher of Columbus, Ohio, and Hubert Bergeron of Spring Hope were student directors. A second performance will be given this evening at 8:15.

The staging was an interesting and unusual feature of the performance. Episodic in character, the play has more than twenty scenes, and both the main stage and the apron were used to create the illusion of changing locale. The costumes of the early 1900's and artistic lighting effects lent atmosphere and attractiveness to the play.

Jerome Worsley of Greenville made a hit in the comedy role of Mr. Thorkelson, and in a few scenes

"stole the show," Robert Musselwhite, Greenville senior, was competent in the male lead of Uncle Chris, especially in his spirited acting of early scenes of the play. Mary Cameron Dixon of Wilmington in the dual role of Katrin, narrator and Mama's eldest daughter, gave an intelligent performance. Eleven-year-old Wayne Smiley and "Clement," pet cat on the campus, were the "outsiders" of the cast, which included 23 college students.

Nominees for treasurer were Joyce Branch, Mary Alice Jackson, and Peggy Bright.

The nominees for song leader were Gladys Hines who is song leader at the present time, Annie Rose Harrington, Amy Cayton, and Shirley Bright.

Leah McGlohon, Sarah Jane Rollins, Marjorie Stancill, and Marjorie Little were nominees for historian.

Those selected as nominees for reporter were Peggy Langston, Virginia Worthington, Margaret Joyner, and Arlene Joyner.

For parliamentarian, nominees were Shirley Bright, Louise Tripp, Erlene, Forbes, and Mary Louise Harris.

When the nominations ceased, we asked each of the nominees for song leader to sing for us so that we could know which would be the best for that office.

Each nominee made an impromptu speech, which everyone enjoyed. We adjourned after an enjoyable meeting.

Girl Scout News

March 12th as a special significance to all Girl Scouts in the United States. With the approach of this date, the name of the founder of Girl Scouting in this country is heard at all troop meetings, over the radio, and is seen in print in all the leading papers of the country. All people interested in Scouting will be pleased to know that a biography of the founder of Scouting, Juliette Gordon Low, will be available at bookstores after March 10. The following review gives a glimpse of what will be in this book.

Juliette Low or "Daisy," as she was affectionately known to her friends, had the supremely delightful faculty of making life an adventure. She was best known as the founder of Girl Scouting in the United States. Bright, gifted, a person of great warmth and charm, she had a tremendous sense of the dramatic, and a child-like interest in all things and all people.

In this first full-length biography of her written especially for girls Mildred Pace has caught the charming spirit and the vibrant personality of the person who a life full of dramatic events and fascinating experiences.

This is a fast-moving story filled with the humor and adventure that characterized Juliette Low's life. It will delight the millions of girls all over the world to whom Juliette Low is a Girl Scouting heroine.

Cabling in 1912 from England where her friend, Lord Baden-Powell, had told her about Scouting, Juliette Low exclaimed, "I'm bringing home the biggest thing yet." To the 12 girls in Savannah, Georgia, who were the first Girl Scout troop in the United States, she brought this "biggest thing"—Girl Scouting.

Through the years which followed she spread her own enthusiasm for Girl Scouting to girls in every corner of the United States. Not a wealthy woman, she used her own funds to promote what she thought could be a tremendous character-building force among girls. She used not only her own money but her endless fund of energy and contagious enthusiasm.

The Girl Scout organization, today the largest organization of its kind in the world, is witness to the success of this outstanding American woman.

Illustrated with excellent pen and ink drawings, this book also contains as a frontispiece a portrait of Juliette Low.

Senator Corey Tells Kiwanis Of Legislature

By CHESTER WALSH

State Senator Arthur B. Cory, at the Kiwanis Club's weekly supper session last night, reviewed the activities of the General Assembly, discussed certain pending legislation, and in an interesting manner presented a picture of what's going on in the Legislature which was informative and decidedly interesting.

He convinced the Kiwanians that he knows what's going on up there, and that he is having an active part in the deliberations. Referring to lobbyists, the Pitt County senator said, "While I'm up there I'm going to vote the will of my people."

He discussed the international log rule for measuring timber; the so-called state surplus of $74,000,000, with the comment that this is a necessary reserve fund for essentials; the proposed eugenics law; the anti-child shop and other bills.

Senator Corey cheerfully answered questions and altogether provided one of the most valuable programs presented to the Kiwanians in a long time. James Ray Pittman had charge of the program. Judge J.W. H. Roberts introduced the speaker.

W. J. (Dick) Bundy and Lee Roy Bell had birthdays and donated a nickel for each year of their age for the Underprivileged Child Fund.

Dr. Paul A. Toll won the attendance prize, given by Rev. Richard E. Hardaway, Veteran Secretary Dave Moore was absent due to illness. Hunter Keck was back after an operation. Program Chairman J. Archie Rogers announced that the Program Committee will present the program next Friday. President Eli Bloom presided.

Arthur Tripp will have charge of the program at the Washington Kiwanis Club's meeting at Saleeby's restaurant in Washington Monday night at 6:30.

seum when they were tiny babies, or when they had been injured.

You see, this Trailside Museum, which is one of many in America today, was started so that children could learn more of the interesting facts about forest animals, birds, insects and water life.

The children run the museum almost entirely, caring for the animals, feeding them, and cleaning their cages.

Animal Inn tells the life stories of many of these visitors to Trailside Museum, and the wonderful pictures by Milo Winter make these little wild animals even more real. At the end of each chapter you feel that you have found a new friend, and better understand the care and character of his kind.

Did you know that 18 baby possums would fit in a teaspoon? That a squirrel's tail is not just for beauty, but for balance in flight, and a shield in bad weather? And that animals have rough and tumble games which they enjoy as you children enjoy yours?

All of us love animals, and most of us know very little about the wild ones. Virginia Moe has written a book which answers these questions, and many more, and best of all, it is a true story.

Final Bout In NEAC Race Matches Pam Pack-Devils

Greenville Falls To Kinston; Washing-ton Trims New Bern; Consolation Game Is Discarded; Championship Play Starts At 8:30 Tonight

By DAVE CLARK
Washington's Pam Pack and Kinston's Red Devils, the class of the Northeastern Loop all season long, advanced to the NEAC Tournament finals at the ECTC gymnasium last night by taking more or less comfortable victories over New Bern and Greenville, respectively, in the basketball semi-finals.

Tonight's championship game between these two teams will get under way in the ECTC gym at 8:30. No consolation game between the Greenville and New Bern quints will be played since neither team showed much interest in such a match. The reason for the late start of the game therefore, is to allow Kinston and Washington fans time to arrive in Greenville and so as not to have the starting time conflict with the ECTC senior play curtain time, at 8:15. Incidentally, radio station WCTC will broadcast tonight's game.

The contest tonight should be one of the season's best. Defeated twice by Washington by one and two point margins during the regular campaign, the smooth work-taxes, he said. The taxes now are higher than neighbor states. Therefore, we will have to convert North Carolina into an agricultural and industrial state in order to collect these revenue funds. The state spent $47,000,000 on public schools last year and this year will spend about $61,000,000, Mr. Johnson said.

There was a good attendance of 48 members and 35 guests.

Prussian State Dissolved Today

Berlin—(AP)—An allied control council law was published today abolishing the state of Prussia which it said "from the early days has been a bearer of militarism and reaction in Germany."

In dissolving the Prussian state, its central government and all its agencies, the control council said it was "guided by the interests of preservation of peace and security of peoples and with the desire to assure further reconstruction of the political life of Germany on a democratic basis."

Try Our Want Ads

ing Kinston ball club will enter tonight's game in a revengeful frame of mind.

Last night, the Red Devils, led by lanky hook shot artist Paul Bennett, spilled a hard fighting Greenville Phantom club by a 41-24 margin as they hit the basket from all angles of the court. Bennett rebounded off one beautiful hook after the other to take the night's scoring honors at 13 points. He also turned in a good defensive game on Greenville's Glynn Perkins, holding him to seven markers.

The Phantoms, despite the 17-point margin, gave the classy Devils a good ball game for most of the way. After falling behind 11-2 in the first quarter, they rallied to make it 21-17 at halftime. After the intermission, they narrowed the count 25-22, but from then on, they couldn't find the basket.

Washington High's height and might once again was the deciding factor in their 46-30 win over a fighting New Bern Bear five. Tall Hallet Ward, the man who beat Greenville almost by himself last Monday, led the scoring for the Pack by tallying 18 points.

The Bears took an early 6-2 lead as the game started, but could not hold onto it for long as the tall boys came back to force ahead and stay there. New Bern rallied in the fourth quarter with a flurry of baskets, but it was too little and too late.

Warren Russell, New Bern's bid for all tourney honors, scored eight points to pace his team's attack. Ballard, the Bear center, tossed in seven.

The outcome of tonight's title contest is anybody's guess. Kinston has the smoother working outfit, but Washington still has the edge in height, except for Kinston's Paul Bennett. The Red Devils, however, probably have more incentive to win due to the two hard fought games they lost to the Pam Pack during the past season.

After the game, the winner and runner-up will be presented with the respective trophies. Coaches Jim Johnson and Dick Porter of ECTC will also announce their all tourney team and medals will be present to these boys.
