ARMED REVOLT IN PARAGUAY SAID SMASHED

Capital Unsettled; Insurgents Invaded Police Headquarters

Asuncion.—(AP)—Seven persons were dead of gunfire and this capital of Paraguay was under strict curfew overnight as the government has claimed to have smashed a short-lived armed revolt.

The government laid the revolt to communists and members of the opposition February (Febrerista) party trying to overthrow President Higinio Morinigo and his nephew, interior minister Victor Morinigo.

Insurgents, government reports said, invaded police headquarters yesterday and shot it out with Police Chief Rogelio Benitez, wounding him before they were driven out and the uprising quelled.

The government account said 200 revolutionaries infiltrated shopping crowds around police headquarters and the nearby government military academy, picked up guns and ammunition from two trucks and shot their way into the headquarters and the chief's office, where he refused to surrender and exchanged fire with them over his desk.

Soon after, the government said, off-duty police and military academy troops won the headquarters back.

Paraguay, with a million and a quarter population, has been under state of siege since Jan. 13 on today, the president said he had unearthed a conspiracy to upset him.

Margaret Poised On Eve Of Big Radio Broadcast

Detroit.—(AP)—Margaret Truman waited today in quiet seclusion for a radio program that may open the professional singing career she has wanted since childhood.

When she takes the air with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra tomorrow night, the president's attractive, blonde daughter will be backed by conductor Karl Krueger's opinion that the career she has chosen will be a distinguished one.

A program of three or four songs, including two Italian melodies, Cuban folk songs and a religious classic, is planned for Miss Truman's debut. The tentative selections are "Serenade," "Fernando," "Fidelio Lido," "Sadero's 'Falsanna Bambin,'" and Bach-Gounod's "Ave Maria."

While waiting for the big night, the 23-year-old coloratura soprano was naturally excited but as well poised as ever, according to a spokesman for the American Broadcasting Company.

Plane Crashes Near Burlington In Night

Burlington, N. C.—(AP)—Two persons were reported killed in an airplane crash about 17 miles north of Burlington on the Reidsville road during the night, a local undertaker reported.

The time and exact location of the crash were not immediately disclosed, but Sheriff C. H. Moore received a call to the scene about 6 A. M.

Bevin, First Minister Of Big Four In Moscow

Marshall Not Expected To Arrive Before Tomorrow; Russians Clear Moscow Streets Of Snow And Ice

Moscow.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain arrived at the White Russian railroad station about noon today, first of the visiting foreign ministers to reach the Soviet capital for Mr. Truman's Big Four session.

"We shall spend the days ahead in trying to make some peace which will prevent any future aggression and let the whole world live in security," Bevin said on his arrival for meetings at which the foreign ministers will work on peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

Expected late today or tomorrow was Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France, also coming by rail.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall, who flew from the United States, was not expected to arrive before tomorrow at the earliest.

"Cloudy weather forced Marshall's plane to make an instrument landing in Berlin yesterday, and uncertainty existed as to when sky conditions would permit the takeoff for Moscow."

(The Secretary of State scheduled conferences last night and today with Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, retiring U. S. Military Governor for Germany; Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay named to succeed McNarney, and Robert D. Murphy, the Military Government's political advisor.)

(He was to get a fill-in on the German situation and four-power control council disagreements over a report to the foreign ministers.)

Bevin was reported held up some hours at Brest-Litovsk, rain travelers had to change there from Western standard-gauge to Russian broad-gauge cars.

GOV'T MOVES TO FORESTALL COAL WALKOUT

Justice Dept. Asks Supreme Court For Quick Mandate On Lewis, UMW

Washington.—(AP)—The government will ask the Supreme Court Monday to knock out the possibility of a soft-coal stoppage March 31 by handing down immediately its mandate against John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers.

Union attorneys called a huddle today to decide whether they will oppose the motion by Attorney General Clark.

The Justice Department, contending the "danger" of a walkout exists, said it would be in "the public interest" for the court to issue its edict without waiting the customary 25 days.

Meanwhile Secretary of the Interior Krug said the government will make no attempt to bring Lewis and the soft-coal operators together for contract negotiations until Lewis has complied with the decision.

Asked by a radio interviewer last night whether the court's decision has lessened the threat of another coal strike, Krug replied: "Yes, temporarily."

The high court's mandate requires Lewis to withdraw his notice ending the union's contract with the government as operator of the coal mines. When he ordered the miners back to work Dec. 7, the UMW chief called a truce only until the end of this month.

Lewis will have five days to observe the mandate. Adding the usual 25-day delay by the Supreme Court would run the court procedure past the truce deadline.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate Labor Committee, said after Lewis' appearance as a committee witness yesterday he thinks the next coal strike will occur July 1—the date when the government's authority to operate the mines runs out.

Lewis' contention before the committee that the government is acting as "muscle man" and "police (Continued on Page Four)

Arabian Steeds Are King's Gift

Miami, Fla.—(AP)—Two spirited Arabian horses, the gift of the king of Saudi Arabia to an American girl, arrived here today none the worse for an airplane trip of some 10,000 miles across Africa, the Atlantic and northward from South America.

The animals, one gray and one sorrel, were lower to the ground from a Skyways international plane. They will be transported to San Francisco, Calif., where they are to be delivered to Miss Barbara Dechtel, daughter of Steve Dechtel.

The shipper was listed here as Abdul-Aziz Ibn Abdur Rahman Al-Faisal Al Saud, King of Saudi Arabia.

No one here knew the circumstances of the gift, but the horses drew a big crowd of aviation employees and visitors as they were blindfolded and lowered, still in their shipping crates, by a cargo hoist.

SPOTS ON SUN AFFECT RADIO

World's Radio Communications Are Widely Disrupted

Sun spots and magnetic disturbances interfered with radio communications over a large part of the earth's surface today (Saturday).

Press Wireless, Inc. in New York reported conditions erratic.

Associated Press radio circuits to London were stymied for a time. A spot on the sun 75,000 to 85,000 miles long was reported yesterday by director Roy K. Marshall of the planetarium at Franklin Institute, Philadelphia.

He said the spot was clearly visible without a telescope if the observer used a photographic film to shield the eye. Dr. Marshall said the spot was one of the biggest in the past two or three years and would disturb radio transmission until Monday or Tuesday.

In San Francisco, Press Wireless Inc., reported last night it experienced a complete cut-off in communication from the Orient for eight minutes.

At Bloemfontein, South Africa the Harvard University Observatory reported yesterday an eruption of sun spots which it said likely would cause widespread radio fading and various magnetic disturbances.

Girl Decides On Amputation

Pittsfield, Mass.—(AP)—Thirteen year old Joan Marie Stumpek wants to be like other little girls—without crutches.

She wants it so much that she is willing to have her leg amputated and replaced with an artificial one.

Joan decided it, all by herself her mother, Mrs. William J. Stumpek, said today.

"The doctor told her to think about it," the mother explained. "She did for weeks and then she told the doctor to do it if it would help her to be like other children."

Mrs. Stumpek added: "We are praying for the best."

The little girl's right leg has been crippled since she was five years old. Today she is in Shriners Hospital for crippled children in Springfield, waiting for the operation which her doctor, Dr. Garry de Hough, says will be performed next Thursday.

Coast Guard Is Given Scolding

Washington.—(AP)—The Coast Guard was scolded by the House Appropriations Committee today for having "grandiose designs" and ambitions to "assume the functions of a miniature Navy."

These words are in a report on a Treasury Department appropriation bill for the 1948 fiscal year. The bill included $133,000,000 for the Coast Guard.

Babson Discusses Spending

Babson Park, Fla., March 8.—Too many people have a childlike unconcern as to what is done with their hard-earned cash after it passes into government hands. Too many have a child-like trust of all institutions, from banks and insurance companies to government bureaus. All should study and investigate the concerns or groups which either receive or handle their funds.

We all should know where our tax dollars are going and how wisely they are being spent. Although savings are as low as they have been in many years, do you realize how extravagant is the new Truman budget? It calls for to thirteen times as much money to be spent by each government department in the coming fiscal year as was spent in any pre-war year. We enter the third year of peace with a proposed budget of around $37,500,000,000, now in process of being whittled down by Congress. Nine billion was our peak in "huge" pre-war budgets.

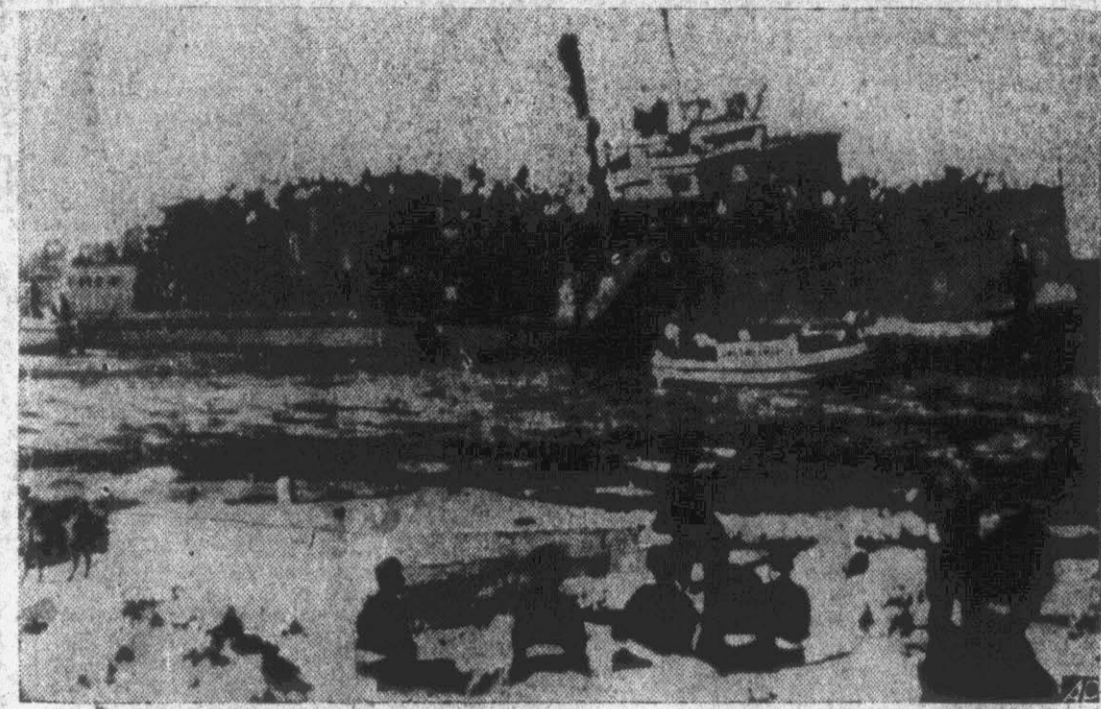

Typical Budget Items Why should it cost taxpayers almost $700,000,000 more in 1947 than in 1946 to operate regular government bureaus and departments? Why does operation and cost of upkeep of the executive mansion have to be more than three times the amount spent before the war? Do we need over a million more civilian personnel in war agencies today than we did before Pearl Harbor? All our departments of government are slated to get what we used to call "war-time appropriations."

The Department of Commerce, for example, is to have more than thirteen times the $20,000,000 at its disposal before the war. It is difficult to understand why in times of good employment almost as much money is delegated to "relief" as in depression periods. The veterans, the farmers, the old people among us are adding to the unreasonably high budget by asking the government to solve all problems. Individual self-reliance and economical planning are being discarded as everyone turns to Washington.

Subsidies The cost of subsidies this year will be over $13,000,000,000. Today many individuals who desire something for themselves or for a particular group first endeavor to obtain it through Washington rather than through their own resources and initiative. Formerly, only as a last resort, did our people take their problems to the federal government. Subsidies given to any individual or group cause a shift of some control to men and bureaus in the federal government. This control is unhealthy for our country.

Handing over much of the country's cash to support certain groups is not democratic and is financially dangerous. The United States spent $80,000,000 in price supports to the farmers on potatoes alone in 1946. More and more farm products are asking for price supports. Farmers will probably be paid well over $320,000,000 for cutting down production this year. This program for export subsidies means the govern- (Continued on Page Four)

DUTCH UNLOAD LIBERTY SHIP

Million Dollar Cargo Is Confiscated By Netherlanders

Tandjongpriok, Java.—(AP)—Dutch workmen today slowly unloaded the confiscated cargo of the U. S. Liberty ship Martin Behrman under the eyes of armed Dutch guards. The American crewmen stood by and refused to help.

The crew declined to operate the ship's cranes when the workmen began taking out bales of rubber and quinine bark, part of the million-dollar disputed cargo, and the Dutch were forced to use short cranes. Dutch sailors, with the assistance of tugs, had moved the Behrman to a berth where cranes were available.

The Dutch claim the Behrman's cargo, the Netherlands East Indies administration maintaining that the cargo, loaded at the Indonesian nationalist port of Cheribon, came from estate wrested by Indonesians from the Dutch.

Big Elephant Dies, Due Heart Failure

Berlin.—(AP)—Slam, the big, 27-year-old bull elephant of Berlin's Zoological Garden, the only elephant in the zoo to survive the rigors and bombs of war, died yesterday of heart failure.

Sentimental zoo visitors, who remembered Slam's ugliness greeting them just inside the gates of the zoo, said loneliness got on his nerves and contributed to his death, but veterinarians said he had been ill for quite a while.

Diplomatic Crisis Over Greece Involves Possible Reshaping Of American Foreign Policy; Truman Expected To Ask Aid For Greece

Washington.—(AP)—President Truman today weighed his most momentous decision since the war: end—whether to reshape historic American foreign policy by calling for direct intervention in the internal affairs of Greece.

The grave diplomatic crisis provoked by Britain's decision to cast off her obligations in the shaky Mediterranean nation kept the Chief Executive close to the White House, his hopes for a Caribbean cruise abandoned temporarily "because of developments."

In both congressional and diplomatic quarters, it was expected that Mr. Truman will ask Congress for authority and money to shoulder the lion's share—and perhaps even more—of Britain's burden in Greece to bulwark southern Europe against the spread of Communism.

He called 15 congressional leaders of both parties to a White House conference Monday at which he presumably will say what course he has decided to take.

Mr. Truman's task is a delicate one. His words will be weighed in Moscow for what they portend in future Soviet-American relations.

The decision will come—probably early next week—at a time when Secretary of State Marshall still is in Moscow with the diplomatic chiefs of Britain, France, and Russia in an effort to work out the future of Austria and Germany.

For this reason, it is expected that the President will phrase any public statement with caution, emphasizing the need of helping the hungry Greeks and ending their civil strife rather than the threat of Communist expansion.

The key legislators called to the Monday meeting include the leaders of both the House and Senate and the chairmen and ranking Democratic members of the committees which control expenditures and help guide foreign policy. Little more than a week ago Mr. (Continued on Page Four)

Active Fighting

Peking.—(AP)—Chinese press reports said today that between 100,000 and 170,000 Communist troops were massed around the naval base city of Tsingtao while 30,000 Reds pushed toward Kiaoohsien, 25 miles to the northwest.

In Manchuria, main government forces were reported across the Sungari river, with intense fighting expected around the Taolishan bridgehead. Earlier reports said the forward of government forces had driven north to within 60 miles of Harbin.

REBEL GREEK LEADER DIES

Self-Styled Boss Of Guerillas Reported Killed In Action

Athens.—(AP)—An unconfirmed press dispatch said today that the self-styled leader of the anti-government guerilla forces in Greece, identified only as "Captain Markos," had been killed in action.

Only a week ago, the United Nations Balkan Investigating Commission now sitting at Salonika established field teams to visit various parts of northern Greece in an effort to find Moros. The commission is investigating Greek complaints that guerilla forces in Greece received aid from Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

Petrelis Eliades, a member of the Greek Parliament, whose daughter was slain recently by guerillas, informed Premier Demetrios Maximos on Feb. 22 that he personally would "execute" Markos if he appeared before the commission as had been suggested.

Other press reports said 52 guerillas had been slain and 27 captured. Third Mountain Brigade units surprised and attacked a large insurgent band at Spilia on Mount Kissaivos, south of Olympus. An (Continued on Page Four)

WRITING FOUR POWER TREATY SAID NEEDED

Marshall Declares Security Pact Against German Would Solve Problems

Berlin.—(AP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall said today that completion of a four-power security pact against Germany was of the highest importance.

He said United States proposals for that sort of treaty, first made by his predecessor, James F. Byrnes, last year, were a declaration to the world of continuing U. S. willingness to accept responsibility in European affairs.

Marshall hinted that the security pact was the major objective of the United States delegation to the Moscow foreign ministers' conference to which he now is en route. Some U. S. officials expressed belief such a pact would be welcomed by France and might serve to allay her traditional fear of German aggression.

Marshall said French President Auriol and Premier Ramadier had given him at first hand their views on numerous questions puzzling Europe and confronting the foreign ministers at Moscow.

He said he also had studied the (Continued on Page Four)

Income Classification; Government Allows For Some Error, You Can't Make A Precise Estimate Of Future Income; Example Of How To Fill Out Form

By JAMES MARLOW

Editor's note: This is the last of 12 stories explaining who must do what about his income tax return. If you're in the $5,000 or over class, you work out your 1947 estimated tax step-by-step as you did in making your 1946 return—and find our tax rate in the table on the back of the instruction sheet.

The $5,000 or over people automatically can claim more than their final return in 1948. Following is an example of how to fill out the 1947 estimated income tax return: You, married, two children, have a weekly salary of $160. For 52 weeks that's $8,320. Subtract your standard $500 expenses. That leaves $7,820.

From the $7,820 subtract your $2,000 in exemptions—you get $5,820 in exemptions each for yourself, wife, two children—and have left $3,820. That $3,820 is the part of your income which is taxable.

Now look at the instruction sheet, mentioned above. Where it shows income between $4,000 and $6,000 you'll see the tax on the first $4,000 of your taxable $3,820 is $840, plus 26 percent of the remaining $1,820 over $4,000. That 26 percent is $323.20. You add the $840 and the $323.20 for a total tax of $1,163.20. But (Continued on Page Four)

"Operation Scuttle"

Churchill's Gloomy Declaration On Indian Future; Civil War Dangers; Time To Withdraw; Can India Rule Herself? Progress Since World War I

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill declares gloomily that the feuding Moslems and Hindus of India are preparing for civil war when England withdraws her troops not later than June, 1948, in accordance with the recent promise of the Socialist Government.

Churchill made this assertion in the House of Commons during debate in which he and his conservative followers attacked the program. The past-master of colorful language termed the withdrawal "Operation Scuttle," and then produced this word picture with sweeping strokes:

"It is with deep grief that I have watched the clattering down of the British Empire with all its glories and all the service it has rendered mankind."

The big Socialist majority, however, stood behind Prime Minister Attlee's pledge. Sir Stafford Cripps, who has played an important role in the Indian negotiations, told Commons that the only alternative to withdrawal would be to strengthen British controls and reinforce British troops. That would mean England would have to remain in India at least fifteen to twenty years, he said. And Attlee gave this corollary: "The time has come when Indians must shoulder their responsibilities. We can help them, but we cannot take their burden ourselves."

The danger of civil war in India will always exist until the warring Moslems and Hindus bury the politico-religious hatchet. As a matter of fact the past few months have seen thousands slain and much property damage in communal fighting. Even as this is written there is turmoil in the great Punjab province of northern India.

Do you ever wake up thinking "another day, and it will probably be just like yesterday?"

If you do, it means that you need exercise, and I don't mean the "run around the block" kind, but mental exercise, something new and different to think about.

Come down to the Sheppard Library and spend an hour or so browsing through the shelves. Maybe you need a hobby—model airplanes, stamp collecting, making puppets, or pottery work.

Perhaps you've stopped wondering "Why" about things—and this is bad; for when we cease to wonder, and then find out, we are sure to be dull and boring, not only to ourselves, but to our friends.

The shelves of the Children's Room are full of books and magazines. Choose a few at random and make yourself comfortable for an hour or so. When you leave, with at least one book, I am sure, you will be opening a new door to knowledge whether you have chosen mystery or handcraft, or stories of far-away lands.

Car and Bus Crash Evans and Third

A car driven by Leslie H. Davenport, U. S. Navy, and a Greenville Transit Company passenger bus driven by Walter Holloway, 26, collided at the intersection of Evans and Third streets last night about 10:15, police said.

Jack Kinser, U. S. Navy, a passenger in Davenport's car, suffered cuts about the face and abrasions. Davenport received minor bruises. They were treated at Dr. Joe Smith's Clinic.

Police are investigating. No arrest was made.

Auto Climbs Tree Bruce Sugg's Yard

Police arrested Billie L. Harris of the Pactolus community about 4:15 a. m. today and charged him with driving while drunk, reckless driving and damage to property.

Authorities said Harris was driving eastward on West Fifth street, and that when he approached the blinder light at Elizabeth street, instead of turning to the left to round the turn, he drove straight ahead.

The speeding auto crashed into former Mayor Bruce Sugg's yard damaging a cement wall and crashing into a tree. Harris' car was practically demolished. He suffered injuries about the mouth and chest. He was locked up. Harris will be tried in Police Court Monday morning.

"MEIN KAMPF" IS RARE BOOK

Few Copies Left In American Occupation Zone Says Army

Berlin—(AP)—Although there were millions of copies of Adolf Hitler's "Mein Kampf" printed in Germany, the U. S. Library of Congress is having difficulty finding even 150 in the entire American occupation zone.

John Bradley Rhind, of the American Military Government's education branch, said today.

"However," Rhind added, "we have reports there may be many copies available in the black market, where, Germans say, the book is a popular item and brings 2,000 marks ($200)."

Rhind is a member of a military government force appointed to gauge German public and commercial libraries of literature of a Nazi or militaristic nature under an order issued by the four-power allied control authority.

The American group is working with a master catalogue of 18,000 banned titles which are to be destroyed by grinding them into pulp to make paper for school text books and note books.

It is planned, however, to preserve 150 copies of each banned book. These are to be collected by the Library of Congress mission and preserved for use by American universities and the schools and bureaus of other allied nations.

Sleet, Rain, Wind For March Weather

Sleet turning into rain last night about 9 o'clock, provided some winter weather. Rain continued throughout the night about 7 A. M. today strong wind whipped up a miniature gale.

From last night to 7 A. M. today the Weather Bureau gauge indicated that more than an inch of rain had fallen—one inch and 18 one-hundredths, to be exact.

The temperature this morning was 35 degrees—three above freezing—and about cold enough to snow. Mrs. C. E. Maiden, Airways observer here for the Department of Commerce, reported.

The lowest temperature of the winter was 14 degrees above zero on Friday, February 14—Valentine's Day.

The victim was M. Hinton. The ambulance driver reported that he noticed a draft, then found a side door open and Hinton missing. He was found injured in the road and taken to a hospital where he died. Mrs. Hinton was hospitalized for shock.

Preview of next week's disaster

Maybe it won't be a tornado killing and maiming men and women—and children.

Maybe it will be the devastation of a flood. Or the destruction of a hurricane, or a fire. Or the sweeping scourge of an epidemic.

But one thing can be foreseen in the disaster that will strike every week of the year—where in our nation—

It's what you're giving for—when you give to your Red Cross.

Your Red Cross will be on the job!

Chapter 16

"How in heck can you do any writin' in all this hammerin'? Sounds like another war!" Carolina stood over Bert's writing table, mopping his forehead with a handkerchief. His face was flushed with exertion. His hands were covered with ink.

Bert grinned up from the newspaper ads he was preparing. "Got another inspiration, buddy?"

"I want your advice about wall paperin' the powder room."

Bert waved him out. "The powder room's your creation, fella. Anything you say there goes."

"Okay, but don't say I didn't—the rest of it was drowned by violent pounding."

It had been like this for ten days—sawing, hammering, the constant chir of Eileen's electric sewing machine. But the rambling hacienda had a lot to show for it!

The spicily scented walls were beautifully lined, the spacious floors of the dining room and living room were gleaming and waxed and ready for dancing. Pete and Charlie Morrison had done a masterly job on the damaged ceiling. Artistic chairs and tables—handiwork of Phil and Roy—had been painted in bright shades and set against the walls and in the red-bricked patio. Gay chintz curtains hung at the tall windows. With their brocade salvaged from the ruined houses, Bert and Eileen had reupholstered chairs and love-seats for the foyer. A big sign hung across the entrance—THE HACIENDA. Electric lights and telephone were in. The Alvarado Merry Makers were practically ready for their gala evening.

Bert and Eddy were starting to the Palm Springs newspaper office with their advertising copy, when Mr. O'Malley, the real estate agent, drove up in his car.

"Nice much like the old place," he said, looking around, "but you've certainly improved it. Be much easier to sell, this way, when the time arrives."

"You're not thinking of selling?" Bert said in alarm.

"The property's up for sale, naturally. But I'm not advertising it. His smile was reassuring. "Maybe you boys'll want to buy it yourselves one of these days."

"Could be!" Bert warmed to the prospect. "We'll have to make a pile of money first."

"We're going to invest in advertising," Bert said, showing his copy. "We'll get the people out with this and hope to bring 'em back again with what we give them."

"If you run into a fellow named Pepper Shayne at the newspaper office, tell him I recommended you."

"Somebody in the advertising department?"

"No, he's a reporter. He can do you a lot of good, one way or another, if he has a mind to."

"Thanks, Mr. O'Malley. We'll look him up."

But by one of those coincidences that almost seemed predestination, it was not the reporter, but Gloria deSylvia that Bert and Eddy ran into at the newspaper office. She came out, in a charming-revealing orange-and-green sun suit, stuffing sheets of paper into a beach bag that matched a wide-brimmed hat.

"Well, Bert McLane!" she said, removing jeweled sunglasses and giving him the full power of her dark, magnetized eyes. "I've been wondering what happened to you."

Bert pressed her outstretched fingers. "This has happened, Miss deSylvia!" he said proudly exhibiting the advertising copy.

"You're down here—leading your own band?" she asked, when she'd glanced at it.

"Opening my own nightclub—ours!" He turned to introduce Eddy, but saw that he had gone into the building.

She was reading the road direc-

Seek Indictment Of Thirty-One

Greenville, S. C. — (AP) — The prosecution will seek indictments against 31 white men charged with murder in the slaying of Willie Earle, when the Greenville County Grand Jury convenes here next Monday. Solicitor Sam R. Watt of Spartanburg said.

Watt's announcement followed a verdict by a coroner's jury yesterday which found that the 24-year-old Negro had died as a result of mob action.

Watt and Solicitor Robert T. Ashmore of Greenville read statements allegedly made by 28 of the 31 accused Greenville men into the record at the three and one-half hour inquest. A number of the statements identified R. Carlos Field, Sr., a Greenville taxi dispatcher, as the man who fired the fatal shot into the Negro's head.

One statement, by Marvin Henry Fleming, said that Herd had telephoned taxi companies here to determine how many men "wanted to go to Pickens x x x."

Margaret Truman To Make Singing Debut

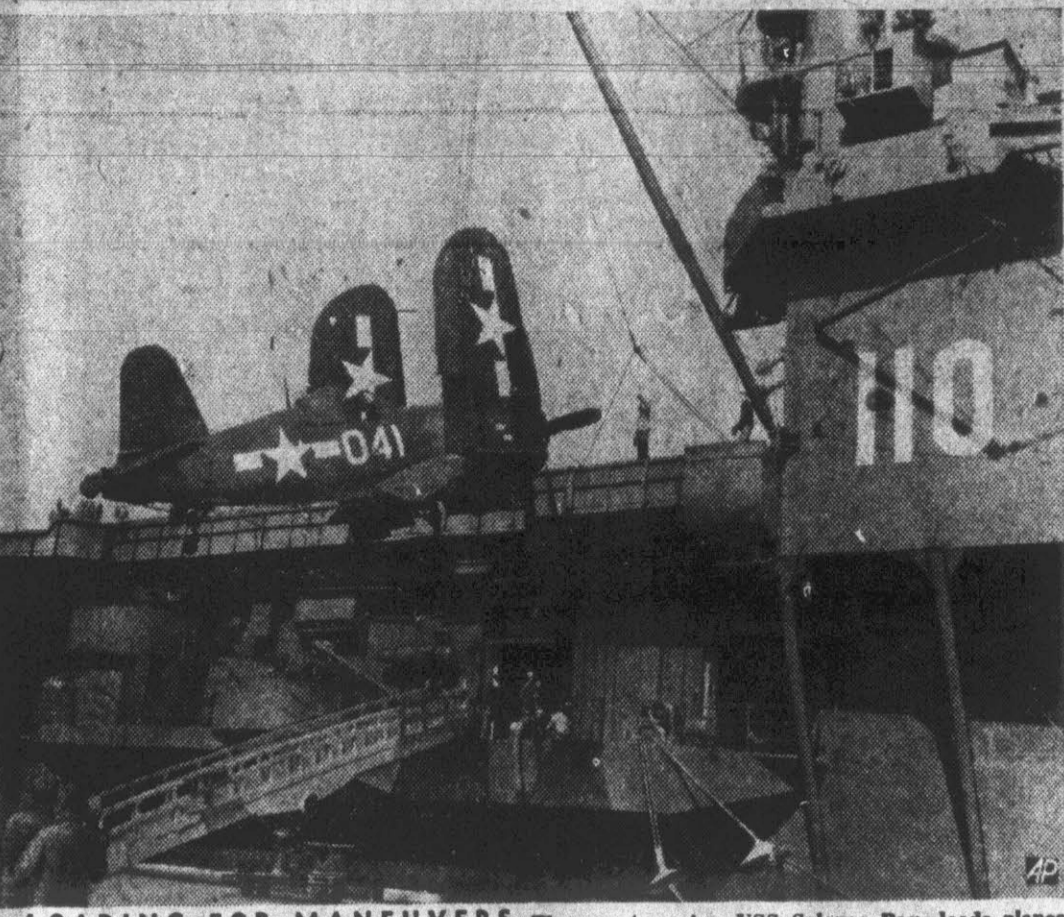

Washington — (AP) — Margaret Truman will make her radio debut Sunday, March 9, singing on a program from Detroit, 8 to 9 p.m. (EST).

The President's daughter will appear on the Sunday evening hour of the American Broadcasting Company network.

The Hacienda's modest six-inch space beneath it.

Bert and Eddy looked at each other dolefully. "What rotten luck!" "I told you you were licked before you started—in this god-for-saken dump," Pete crowed pessimistically. "We'd better pack up right now and go back to Los Angeles."

Social Security

Law Requires Employers To Include Name And Social Security Account Number Of Every Employee In Quarterly Tax Returns

Employers who do not have a Social Security account number for each employee who worked for them during January, February, and March should take steps immediately to obtain such numbers, in order that this information may be included in their payroll tax returns for the first quarter of 1947. The law requires every employer to include in his quarterly tax report, the name, account number, and wages paid to each employee.

A record of the wages received by each covered worker is kept for him by the Social Security Administration. This wage record will be used, later, as a means of determining the amount of benefits payable to him, when he is old, or to his family in case he should die. The worker's name and the number that is assigned to him, by the Administration, are printed at the top of his ledger sheet and stamped on all records that are kept on file for him. It is the same number that appears on his Social Security card.

There has been no increase in Social Security taxes. The tax rate of one cent on the dollar remains unchanged. Each pay day the employer takes out one percent of the worker's wages, adds to that his own one percent payroll tax, and at the end of the quarter sends it to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

The Social Security tax returns are audited by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Then the wage data goes to the Social Security Administration where the Accounting Division credits each item of wages to the proper account.

Chapter 17

The time had come for Mrs. McLane to return to her Los Angeles boarding house to relieve Tony Perrell, so that he could join his partners at The Hacienda, to prepare for the grand opening.

"I do wish I could be here," she said wistfully, as she got into the car, trim and pretty in a dark blue suit and white beret.

But not as much as Bert and Eddy wished it.

"Couldn't you possibly drive down again Friday night, Mother—just to be our mascot?"

"It won't seem right if you don't," said Eddy.

"Well, I'll try very hard," she promised, kissing them goodbye. "But I shouldn't leave a houseful of boarders to look after themselves, particularly on a week-end."

Eileen was remaining. At the last moment, she had smilingly produced an evening dress, announcing that she was going to sing, with Tony, at the opening. "Why aren't I tripping?" she said. "Then I could put on a floor show."

Bert hated to think of her leaving Sunday. "If we make a go of this thing, honey, you're coming back to stay."

"Any time you're ready, darling." They both meant being married, though neither of them said it.

"Tony kept exclaiming with delight, as the boys showed him around. "Never have I seen such magnificent," he praised, with Latin fervor. "You boys do all this beautiful remodeling and I just come down when it is finished and say 'just wonderful!'"

Will Continue 4-H Club Corn Contest

The 4-H hybrid corn contest will be continued for 1947. Last year the Greenville Chamber of Commerce sponsored this contest and plans have been made for a sponsor this year who at present is unknown.

Objectives of this contest will be to increase the corn yield in Pitt County which at present is low. Increasing the corn yield will be accomplished by planting an adapted hybrid seed, using close spacing, high fertilization, and shallow and early cultivation.

Through these methods 4-H Club members proved in 1946 that it was possible to produce over 100 bushels of corn per acre on average soil in Pitt County. Prizes will be awarded as follows:

First prize, $30; second, $20; third, $15; fourth, $10; and fifth, $5.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

DAWN COMES AT LAST Toward the end of his life Horace Greely wrote: "When Clay was beaten by Polk, I felt as though the universe were bankrupt, which is just where I was mistaken."

According to Greely, Clay stood for everything good and Polk for everything ineffective and colorless. In this contest he seemed to feel that unworthiness had won the day, that mediocrity had triumphed over ability, that justice had been vanquished.

But the universe does not go to pieces as the result of one happening. In fact it has weathered a considerable number of disasters in the past few million years. Neither do our lives go to pieces as the result of one disappointment, one defeat, one sorrow if we have courage enough to look facts fairly in the face and faith enough to believe that in a world presided over by a loving and omnipotent God all things work together for good if we do our part. At the midnight of despair we make imperious demands for a reason why things should be as they are. We say there is no justice in the world, or perhaps cringe beneath the awful realization that inexorable justice has caught up with us.

But dawn comes at last. The pain of sorrow dies. The sting of disappointment goes down. Clay is not elected, or we are not elected, or we have lost money, friends, loved ones, or opportunity. Before God and through God it comes out at last, even as we would have chosen in the beginning had we known enough.

WASHINGTON LETTER

TITLE: LAST MAN OUT OF DUNKIRK VISITS WASHINGTON By JANE EADS

Washington—Harold Rupert Laforet George Alexander, Viscount of Tunis and Arival, and the third son of the fourth earl of Caledon and Lady Elizabeth Graham Toler, is visiting the United States.

The Viscount is better known as the Governor General of Canada. He was also Field Marshal of Canadian troops in the Mediterranean campaign of World War II. He looks like Ray Atherton, the United States Ambassador to Canada.

He is modest and doesn't give interviews, but he is a very popular fellow just the same.

Viscount Alexander is the personal representative of King George VI in Canada.

The Governor General has no executive powers at all except that he gives "royal assent" to bills passed by Parliament's House of Commons and Senate. The bill does not become a law until the Governor General gives the "royal assent."

In addition, the Governor General delivers the "Speech from the Throne."

"The Speech" is delivered at the opening of Parliament after the Viceroy has driven with pomp and pageantry from his residence, "Ridau Hall," to Parliament Hill in Ottawa.

The address corresponds to our President's "State of the Union" message to Congress. It outlines what the situation is in Canada and what the King expects Parliament to do in the way of legislation.

But actually neither the King nor the governor general, has any more control over it than you or I. It is prepared entirely by the government.

Viscount Alexander, who was born in County Tyrone, North Ireland, on Dec. 10, 1891, was sworn in as Governor General of Canada, April 12, 1946.

His father died when he was a child, and he was brought up by his mother on a rambling estate in Ireland. He went to Harrow, where he played football and cricket, and then to Sandhurst for military training.

He was known as the "last man out of Dunkirk" in World War II's

The Little Savage. WHY DO CIVILIZED COMMUNITIES SET A HIGHER VALUE ON WILD ANIMALS THAN ON THEIR OWN CHILDREN? ZOO KEEPER, $4,761. SCHOOL TEACHER, $2,094. ACTUAL SALARIES IN "TYPICAL" U.S. CITY. REG-MANNING

tragic battle. He served in France for four years of trench warfare in World War I as Captain of the Irish Guards. He went "over the top" with his men 30 times. He is famed as a great strategist.

Viscount Alexander is a great ski enthusiast, but his chief interest is painting. He expects to spend half of his time in this country visiting art galleries and museums of the Capital and New York city. In addition to these talents, he speaks French, German, Russian and Urdu. He was married in 1931 to Lady Margaret Bingham, daughter of the Earl of Lucan. They have a daughter, Rose, 14, and two sons, Shane, 11, and Bryhan, 7.

"Operation . . ."

(Continued on Page Three) where. Most of the fireworks are in so-called British India, which is distinct from the native states ruled by the princes. If either the Hindus or the Moslems of British India wanted John Bull to stay in the country, the situation would be far more favorable for him. Probably most if not all the princes would like him to retain control—not because they love him but because they are fearful of losing their thrones after he withdraws. However, in British India both Hindus and Moslems want John to clear out.

An overlord doesn't inspire affection in a subject people. The consensus of impartial observers is that the time has come for England to withdraw. No one can say that there won't be civil war if she clears out, but it's a hundred to one there will be if she doesn't. And her withdrawal according to schedule may be the move which will impel the Indians to remain within the British Commonwealth of Nations instead of severing all ties with Britain.

Frequently I am asked whether India is far enough advanced to be able to rule herself. I've been studying this situation for more than a generation, and this is the way it looks to me: Many of India's millions still are primitives and, gauged by Western standards, her backwardness is vast. Still, she has been making mighty strides since the first World War. Education has spread, and amazingly enough she has forged ahead until she is one of the leading industrial nations of the world.

While the masses certainly aren't qualified to rule themselves, there are many brilliant and highly educated Indians who are well equipped to take over the responsibilities. There are enough of them to see the job through.

BABSON

(Continued from Page One) ment sells farm products overseas at a loss, after buying them here at high prices with the taxpayers' money. On-job training for veterans is to result in a billion dollar subsidy to business men.

Financial Suicide? By recent estimates each worker labors almost a full day every week just for the government. If overgrown and wasteful government continues how much of the worker's pay will be "take-home"? Let us realize that every time we ask our government for money we are really digging into our own pockets and those of our children for perhaps generations to come.

It will be a pity if we as farmers, business men, job-holders, and veterans hand down to future generations a heritage of debt and greed. Both can kill at the roost future opportunities for the high standard of living of which we have been so proud. We are at last learning to "turn over the box and look at the price" when buying merchandise; let us follow the same principle when paying our taxes. Surely, let us see what is in the box!

Mar. 15 Estimate . . .

5 percent of that $1,313.20 tax. The 5 percent is $65.66. The $65.66, subtracted from the $1,313.20, leaves $1,247.54. That's your estimated tax for 1947. The full tax you figure you'll owe.

But you don't have to pay all that now, or at the end of 1947, because most of it will be taken out of your salary by your boss before the end of 1947.

How much out? You know the boss is withholding a tax of $22.40 every week from your $180 weekly salary. Multiply that $22.40 by 52 weeks, for a total of $1,164.80 to be withheld from you in 1947.

Now, for the first time, you can pick up your Form 1040ES and on Line 1, where it says "estimated income tax for 1947"—you write your total tax of $1,247.54. Underneath, on Line 2, write the tax boss will withhold from $1,164.80, and subtract it from the $1,247.54, and write the answer, $82.74, on Line 3.

That $82.74—the difference between the $1,247.54 total tax and the $1,164.80 to be withheld from you—is the tax you'll have to start paying by March 15. You can pay it in full March 15 or in quarterly installments of $23.18—most people pay quarterly—on March 15, June 15, Sept. 15 and Jan. 15, 1948.

If you're going to pay in quarterly installments, write the $23.18 on Line 7. Filling out the rest of Form 1040ES is simple. (Answer questions 4 and 5 quarterly. If they apply to you.)

Tear off the bottom part of 1040ES, filled out, and turn it into the Internal Revenue Collector with the tax you owe, in installments or in full.

The government allows you to make an error of 20 percent in your estimate. If you discover later that you've made a larger error, you can correct on those quarterly payment dates: June 15, Sept. 15, Jan. 15, 1948.

Truman grimly laid down to a smaller bipartisan group the news of the British decision and of Greece's plight, stressing its potential impact on the balance of power in Europe and perhaps the whole world.

Although the full story of that secret conference has not been told, it was understood he emphasized that collapse of the present Greek government would mean its replacement by one under Communist control.

this great organization to come to our aid in the event of tornadoes, conflagration, flood, or other disaster. Within the past year when the tornado struck the Grifton Section, our Local and National Red Cross immediately went into action rendering aid and financial assistance in the amount of several thousand dollars to stricken people of that area. In addition to this, we have the splendid services being rendered by our own Local Red Cross Chapter. Within the past twelve months 250 individuals received various services from the chapter. Also the Pitt County Chapter is doing a wonderful work in its Red Cross Home Nursing courses as well as Volunteer Nurses' Aides. This latter program furnished 2200 volunteer hours in the Pitt General hospital last year. The American Red Cross must carry on.

more," he complained. "Nobody wants money for players these days — not even the good minor league teams. When you ask them if they might be willing to deal a certain player, they say, sure, but don't bring money."

"Another thing, these crazy salaries they're paying are not going to do baseball any good. The trouble is that so many teams nowadays are supported by big money not made in baseball. They're not dependent upon gate receipts."

Eppes Goes Into Final Play-Off Against Parmele

The second round of the annual playoffs sponsored by the North Carolina Negro Athletic Association will be played Monday night at 8 o'clock in Eppes High gymnasium. Eppes will meet an undefeated team from Parmele. These two teams met last season and Eppes was defeated.

Eppes defeated Scotland Neck last week in the first play-off. Probable starting lineup will be Taft and Clemons, forwards; Streeter and Johnson, guards, and Charles (Hap) Davis, center.

The Parmele team is a strong outfit, better than last season's. Clemons and Davis will be playing their last game in Eppes gym when Eppes meets Parmele.

Sports

Durham, N.C.—(AP)—It will be North Carolina versus North Carolina State here tonight in the finals of the 23rd annual Southern Conference Basketball Tournament.

The teams met only once during the season, and N.C. State managed a 49-46 verdict after an overtime struggle. The teams were scheduled to play again in February but the Raleigh fire chief ruled that an over-sized crowd violated fire and safety regulations and the game was cancelled.

Tonight's game follows the sessions of the conference basketball committee last Sunday, when N.C. State drew top position in the tournament, and North Carolina second.

North Carolina State offered a one-sided victory in routing George Washington, 70-47, in last night's semi-final bill, while the North Carolina Tar Heels defeated South Carolina 58-33.

Palm Beach, Fla.—(AP)—The elderly Connie Mack, saddled with a chronic last-place team and with no adequate farm system of his own, finds that the influx of new money into baseball in the past few years has left him with little or no chance of improving his sad Athletics.

President Truman Assigns Army Day

Washington—(AP)— President Truman has proclaimed Monday April 7 as Army Day and the period of April 6-12 as Army Week. The proclamation, inviting state governors to issue similar proclamations to honor the Army, reminded American citizens that the Army can discharge its duties here and abroad "only with the firm support of our people."

QUITE LOST

Duaneburg, N.Y.—(AP)— Highway Superintendent Arthur Tulloch received this note from a farmer residing on a snow road:
"When the snowplow opens the road past my place tell the men to be careful. There's a drift about 10 feet deep and 50 feet long just before you come to my house. My car is under it somewhere. I'm not quite sure just where."

Liner Crippled By Sudden Fire

New York—(AP)—The liner John Ericsson, swept by a spectacular $1,500,000 fire, lay crippled at her pier today while 435 passengers sought other means of passage to their European destinations. The fire, which blazed for nearly four hours yesterday afternoon, swept through the superstructure between the bridge and the two stacks of the 20,067-ton U. S. Lines vessel, engulfing the officers' quarters and badly damaging the promenade deck.

Drops In Volume And Prices Seen

Washington—(AP)—The National Association of Real Estate Boards predicted today home sales will drop both in volume and in price in a majority of cities this year.

But an association report covering a survey in 475 cities had some bad news for home owners and for home seekers:

First, high prices for residential lots are foreseen in 46 per cent of the cities, lower prices in only 7 per cent.

Second, a trend to higher real estate taxes is reported in 73 per cent of the cities. Two per cent predict lower taxes.

Prices on houses are expected to be lower as the year progresses in 53 per cent of the reporting cities, the report said.

The Nu Alpha chapter of the Omega Psi Phi fraternity entertained a very appreciative audience on Friday evening at the C. M. Eppes high school gymnasium with their annual talent hunt.

Features on this program were the best talent from various high schools in eastern North Carolina. Competition was so close it was hard for the judge to make his decision.

There were 19 students competing in this contest.

First prize was won by William H. Fuller, a tenor soloist from West Street high school, New Bern, Erman Maye, Tarboro, second, and Lency Greene of Kinston placing third.

The winner of the first prize will be given a trip to Columbia, South Carolina, in order to compete in the final and if successful will be given a full year of college training at any college or university of his choice at the expense of the Nu Alpha chapter of the Omega Psi Phi fraternity.
