U. S. Reports On Progress In Denazification Of Zone

Marshall Forestalls Expected Soviet Attack; Asserts Activities Go Far Beyond Directives; Diplomats Say Secretary Of State To Stay On Offensive

MOSCOW.—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall, speaking on denazification before the foreign ministers today, said that the United States has "been disturbed by frequent reports in the Soviet zone of Germany that former active Nazis may be cleared by joining the Socialist Unity Party."

Apparently speaking to Forestall an expected Soviet attack on American zone denazification, Marshall read a three page statement relating that 12,000,000 persons have been registered for investigation, 30,000 tried and 370,000 removed from office in the U. S. section of Germany.

The secretary added that the American zone denazification went far beyond allied control authority directives and asserted "there is nothing to conceal."

He pointed out allied control council had not received full reports on denazification in the eastern (Soviet) zone of Germany and a "ded" "my government opposes the denazification in favor of any political party."

Marshall said lack of uniformity in denazification procedure and practices led to distrust among the occupying powers and recommended that the foreign ministers direct the allied control council to adopt uniform laws on denazification.

Top American diplomats said Secretary of State Marshall was determined to keep U. S. foreign policy on the offensive. But as the council of foreign ministers prepared for its fourth session, top conference sources said the Americans might have to face the reality of a split Germany.

Marshall's reported decision to retain the offensive from her on in was one charged with vital implications for the outcome of this conference.

Some French diplomats here say they believe the president's declaration—assuming it will be approved by Congress—will so disturb the balance of power upon which the Russians have been counting in that part of the world that the Soviet Union would be extremely reluctant to pull troops out of the Balkans, as required by the satellite peace treaties.

It is understood from reliable informants here that as a part of the British-American collaboration in the mid east, the U. S. and let Britain know it opposed any substantial removal of British troops from Greece. The British have been saying for a year they would get their troops out as soon as possible.

Key West, Fla.—(AP)—President Truman sought today to find redemption and sunshine at this naval submarine base against a background of a grave international crisis.

Having called upon the nation to assist "free peoples" to work out their own destinies in the face of totalitarian and communist encroachment, he awaited the reaction of Moscow and other capitals to yesterday's blunt speech to Congress.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said about 20 telegrams, all favorable, were forwarded to Mr. Truman at his long weekend retreat here last night. They came from individuals.

"The President has absolutely no plans while here other than to loaf," Ross said.

The President, looking tired after a strenuous two weeks in which he delivered three major addresses and held fateful conferences on the crisis in Greece and Turkey, left Washington in his plane, the so-called "Sacred Cow," immediately after addressing Congress.

Washington (AP)—President Truman's talk to Congress on Greece and Turkey may be as memorable as the Monroe Doctrine. His call for active American help in the internal affairs of those two European countries is a turning point in American history.

In brief, he said: "Those countries are in danger of falling under communism. We must stop the spread of communism some time. Let's do it now."

But there's a paragraph in the Monroe Doctrine which can be used to justify the action Mr. Truman has taken.

When he issued the Doctrine in 1823—one of the reasons was to block Russian hopes of grabbing Oregon—President Monroe said in part:

"We won't let any foreign country come into the Western Hemisphere to interfere with the affairs of American nations. We've stuck to that. We've kept foreign powers from sticking their noses into the Western Hemisphere. But— We interfered in Nicaragua, Haiti, Santo Domingo and built up a

House Body Told Of "Strong-Arm Stuff"

Labor Committee Member Promises He'll "Get Tough" Over Activities Of Some Unions Indulging In Threats

Washington.—(AP)—Rep. Hartley (R-N.J.), chairman of the House Labor Committee, promised today to "get tough, if necessary" with what he called "strong-arm stuff" by some labor unions.

Hartley made the statement while discussing an anonymous telephone threat to Rep. Kearns (R-Pa.), a labor committee member, demanding that the Pennsylvania change his ideas about labor.

"In view of all the difficulties and sluggings and shootings we've been having," Hartley told reporters, "anything might happen."

"I'm not going to start wearing a bullet proof vest or anything, but if anybody is going to get tough, I'm prepared to get tough myself if necessary."

He was no more specific than that. But he already has asked the Justice Department to order an FBI investigation of the Kearns threat and the slaying of George P. McNear, Jr., president of the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad.

Kearns told the committee yesterday he received a call Tuesday night—24 hours after McNear was ambushed—saying he had been seen dining with McNear a fortnight earlier and "I'd better change my ideas about labor."

McNear had been in Washington to testify before the committee. Hartley said he was convinced the testimony and the shooting of McNear Monday night at Peoria, Ill were related.

Rep. Klein (D-NY) protested to the committee yesterday any inferences "that labor organizations are indulging in these threats or are involved in the unfortunate death of Mr. McNear."

But Hartley told newsmen "this strong-arm stuff by unions is pretty widespread."

He said he had just had a visit from the American Veterans Committee, which asked him to look into sluggings in Philadelphia. Veterans there, he said he was told have been "beaten up" and suffered "all sorts of intimidation" when they sought their old jobs back.

Washington.—(AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder told the Republican-controlled Congress today the Truman administration is flatly against any income tax reduction this year.

He said the administration specifically opposes granting—now or at any other time—a proposed 20 per cent "across the board" tax cut on incomes up to $30,000 a year.

The secretary was the first witness at hearings by the House ways and means committee on a bill by Rep. Knutson (R-Minn) to provide the straight 20 per cent cut. Knutson is chairman of the committee.

Snyder said he believes substantial tax cuts can be made in the future, but he set the stage for a major clash between Congress and the executive with this statement in his prepared testimony:

"It will be time enough to enact tax reductions when and if there is definite evidence that the 1948 surplus is greater than prudent requires to be applied towards reduction of the public debt."

And if Congress is determined to cut taxes this year, he said, it may give greater benefits to the taxpayers with small incomes.

"The 20 per cent bill would give too little reduction to lower incomes and relatively too much to higher incomes," Snyder said.

He declared the flat one-fifth slash would be "not significant" to low income groups, but would:

"Wipe out most of the wartime increases in taxes on very large incomes, leave taxes on other incomes much higher than before the war."

The GOP generally favors immediate relief for taxpayers, but some members of the party have expressed dissatisfaction with the Minnesotan way of bringing it about.

Snyder Opposes Large Income Tax Cut In '47

Washington.—(AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder told the Republican-controlled Congress today the Truman administration is flatly against any income tax reduction this year.

He said the administration specifically opposes granting—now or at any other time—a proposed 20 per cent "across the board" tax cut on incomes up to $30,000 a year.

The secretary was the first witness at hearings by the House ways and means committee on a bill by Rep. Knutson (R-Minn) to provide the straight 20 per cent cut. Knutson is chairman of the committee.

The GOP generally favors immediate relief for taxpayers, but some members of the party have expressed dissatisfaction with the Minnesotan way of bringing it about.

Snyder said that even if Congress resolves to limit government spending for the fiscal year beginning next July 1 to $31,500,000,000 instead of the $37,500,000,000 proposed by President Truman, there is no assurance now the ceiling will be maintained.

Washington.—(AP)—War-torn Hungary and occupied Korea loom biggest today on any list of potential candidates for extension of support for free peoples.

Officials of several government departments already are at work on proposals to help these two nations whose plight—like that of Greece and Turkey, has resulted at least in part from Soviet Russia's expansive pressure.

The foreign help which the United States has extended since V-E day suggests that a global projection of the policy Mr. Truman outlined yesterday to Congress might later include China and Italy as well. But what other countries along the democratic frontier ultimately may claim American support remains for the future to disclose.

This government made plain its intent to bolster Hungary in announcing a $15,000,000 surplus property, credit last month, and still later voicing a sharp protest against Russia's "direct interference" in an attempt to upset the "freely elected" democratic majority in the Budapest Parliament.

However, signs this week that London, March 13.—(AP)—Britain today officially welcomed President Truman's declaration on Greece and Turkey, and the President's recommendations to congress were received in Greek and Turkish official circles here with expressions ranging from "profound satisfaction" to "extreme joy."

"The British foreign office spokesman told a crowded news conference: "The British government welcomes Mr. Truman's statement to congress. The views he expressed on the question of governments being imposed on sovereign states in Europe are very much in accord with our own views. And, on a number of occasions, we have conveyed those beliefs to certain governments whose elections have not been carried out in line with their pledges."

Sen. Vandenburg Calls On Congress To Back Truman Further Cuts In Armed Services Under Study

U.S. Must Decide Quickly In Face Of Newly Enunciated Foreign Policy; Forces Overseas Are Cut To A Minimum

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The Senate Republican Policy Committee today ordered daily sessions of the Senate to speed action by March 31 on legislation authorizing aid to Greece and Turkey as well as other bills.

Washington.—(AP)—Senator Vandenburg (R-Mich) called on Congress today to support President Truman fully in combating communistic aggression, but first advocated public hearing on method of aiding Greece and Turkey.

The chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee held a news conference after a closed meeting with secretaries Patterson and Forrestal of the army and navy departments and Undersecretary Acheson of the State Department.

He said he is insisting that every bit of information concerning the proposed extension of credits to the Mediterranean nations be made available to the public through open congressional hearings.

"The president has courageously faced the problem of communist aggression and I would expect the Congress to support him," Vandenburg said in commenting on Mr. Truman's appeal yesterday for the $400,000,000 in cash aid and indirect military help to Greece and Turkey.

"As to the methods and details of how this will be done," Vandenburg continued, "I expect Congress to reserve its own right to pass its own judgment."

For that reason, Vandenburg said he wants every question that might arise about American intervention into the troubled Mediterranean scene to be answered fully at hearings.

Congress must act, Vandenburg said, because the United Nations is not prepared at this time to consider such a situation as has arisen.

Today's discussion with the war navy and state department officials, Vandenburg said, was in general terms since no detailed bill yet has been offered. He again expressed hope Congress can complete action on legislation by March 1.

To report on the military aspects of the President's proposal to help train and sustain Greek and Turkish troops, Forrestal had Vice Admiral F. P. Sherman, deputy chief of naval operations, with him. Undersecretary of War Kenneth C. Royall and Brig. Gen. Miles Reber accompanied Patterson.

Vandenburg said the session was called "to canvass the whole situation," but that any action might be delayed for some time.

Washington.—(AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) proposed today March 1 under a new rent adjustment and decontrol board.

He said he worked his bill out with Chairman Taft (Ohio) of the Senate GOP Policy Committee and will offer it as a substitute for other rent control legislation bottled up in the Senate Banking Committee.

McCarthy said he also will introduce with Senator Bricker (Ohio) a bill to wipe out sugar rationing and continue price control under the Secretary of Agriculture instead of OPA.

He explained his rent bill would be a ring-side seat.

Favorable Vote

Raleigh, N.C.—(AP)—Favorable vote was given today by the joint Agriculture Committee on Senate and House bills to provide for a referendum by growers of flue-cured tobacco of a plan to raise funds to encourage and promote exports.

If two-thirds of the farmers approve such a measure in the referendum to be held in July, a tax of 10 cents an acre of flue-cured tobacco would be imposed. Any farmer could get his money back by 30 days' written notice.

Other states in which flue-cured tobacco is grown are being asked to approve similar plans.

MAY PROPOSE UN WATCHDOGS

Boundary Commission For Balkan States Considered

Lake Success, N.Y.—(AP)—Authoritative sources said today that the United States may propose the establishment of a permanent United Nations boundary commission to watch over the trouble spots in the Balkans.

These sources said U.S. officials felt it may be advisable for such a commission to watch the borders of Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria for some time.

Such a step appeared to be tied in closely with President Truman's declaration of America's new foreign policy aimed at halting the world march of communism, especially in the Balkans.

There was no indication just how far the American delegation to the Balkans.

ONE SLAYING SAID SOLVED

West Coast Police Announce Youth Signs Confession

Los Angeles.—(AP)—Inspector Norris Stensland of the sheriff's office announced early today apparent solution of one of four brutal slayings of women in Los Angeles and vicinity in the last two months.

He said Myron Funk, 23, a husky foundry moulder of nearby South Gate, signed a statement admitting he killed Mrs. Mae Lorena Preston, 46, also known as Mae Lund, a friend of his and his father, Frank Funk, 52, a cement contractor.

The father and son had been held since Tuesday night on suspicion of murder but Frank Funk was released early today. The strangled body of Mrs. Preston, who lived in Bellflower, Calif., was found Tuesday along the San Gabriel River near suburban Norwalk.

Stensland said a murder complaint would be filed today against Myron Funk. He said Myron related these details:

Myron and the woman got into an argument, he "hit her on the jaw once," pushed her onto a bed.

'Terrific Crisis' In Bulgaria Is Rumored

Istanbul, March 13.—(AP)—Rumors of a crisis in Bulgaria circulated in Turkey today in connection with reported movements of foreign diplomatic personnel.

Usually reliable sources said a United States diplomatic courier stopped at the Bulgarian frontier was told by a guard, "there is a terrific crisis—I can't say more."

BRITAIN HAILS TRUMAN TALK

Turkish Premier Pleased; Moscow Maintains Silence

London, March 13.—(AP)—Britain today officially welcomed President Truman's declaration on Greece and Turkey, and the President's recommendations to congress were received in Greek and Turkish official circles here with expressions ranging from "profound satisfaction" to "extreme joy."

"The British foreign office spokesman told a crowded news conference: "The British government welcomes Mr. Truman's statement to congress. The views he expressed on the question of governments being imposed on sovereign states in Europe are very much in accord with our own views. And, on a number of occasions, we have conveyed those beliefs to certain governments whose elections have not been carried out in line with their pledges."

In Istanbul, Premier Recep Peker of Turkey said the President's "American and human speech" indicated the United States had awakened to the world situation. The premier said he believed the speech reflected American public opinion in a day when security was no longer a problem.

Eddy Gilmore, chief of the Associated Press Bureau in Moscow, said that when the Russians did speak "it is to be expected that President Truman's request for $400,000,000 to aid Greece and Turkey will be branded here as United States interference in the internal affairs of other nations."

Truman And History

The President's Decision To Intervene In Europe May Be As Memorable As The Monroe Doctrine; Greatest Problem Of Our Time; New Big Questions

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Washington.—(AP)—President Truman's talk to Congress on Greece and Turkey may be as memorable as the Monroe Doctrine. His call for active American help in the internal affairs of those two European countries is a turning point in American history.

In brief, he said: "Those countries are in danger of falling under communism. We must stop the spread of communism some time. Let's do it now."

But there's a paragraph in the Monroe Doctrine which can be used to justify the action Mr. Truman has taken.

When he issued the Doctrine in 1823—one of the reasons was to block Russian hopes of grabbing Oregon—President Monroe said in part:

"We won't let any foreign country come into the Western Hemisphere to interfere with the affairs of American nations. We've stuck to that. We've kept foreign powers from sticking their noses into the Western Hemisphere. But— We interfered in Nicaragua, Haiti, Santo Domingo and built up a lot of ill-will for ourselves in the minds of Latin Americans. For years we've been trying to erase that feeling by our "Good Neighbor" policy toward Latin America.

But we've always, except in wartime, kept out of the internal affairs of European nations. Now Mr. Truman, worried over Russian expansion, wants to change that.

Is that contrary to the Monroe Doctrine? Not if you look at a paragraph in that Doctrine which says: "We won't interfere in the internal affairs of European nations unless our rights are invaded or seriously menaced."

Yesterday, in talking to Congress Mr. Truman said we must help Greece and Turkey because our "national security" is involved.

There's no doubt about the greatest problem of our time: can capitalism, under American leadership live peacefully side by side with communism, under Russian leadership?

Or, will the question have to be answered at last by war between this country and her allies and

Winterville F. H. A. Club Meets

The Winterville F. H. A. Club held its regular meeting in the high school library on Wednesday, March 12, 1947. The club was called to order by the president, Barbara Dull.

This meeting was devoted to the election of new officers. Before we voted campaign speeches were made by the candidates.

While the nominating committee was counting the votes, we had entertainment which consisted of a card-eating contest. The chairman of the entertaining committee was Arlene Joyner. Delicious refreshments were also served by the refreshment committee whose chairman is Hilda Cratt.

The area outcome of the important election is as follows: President, Cordis Hines, vice president, Annie Rose Harrington, secretary, Shirley Decht, treasurer, Mary Alice Jackson, parliamentarian, Louise Tripp, song leader, Amy Cayton, historian, Sarah Jane Rollins, and reporter, Virginia Worthington.

We are very proud of our new officers. I would like to say at this time that this will be my last write-up for the F. H. A. club. I have really enjoyed being the reporter for this club. Ann Manning, Reporter.

Literature Department Meets

The Literature Department of the Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. Bertha Parker on Tuesday afternoon, March 11. Mrs. K. T. Futrell was assisting hostess. The home was festive with spring flowers.

In the absence of the chairman, the vice chairman, Mrs. W. H. Woolard, presided. After the business was attended to, the following new officers were elected for next year: Mrs. Louella Stanell, chairman; Mrs. Dan Vorholt, vice chairman; Mrs. J. W. Tetterton, secretary; and Mrs. N. C. Brooks, reporter.

Mrs. K. T. Futrell introduced the guest speaker, Miss Mary Green of the English faculty of E. C. T. C. Miss Green gave a most able and interesting review of the four historical novels of Mrs. Inglis Fletcher, namely, Raleigh's Eden, Men of Albenmar, Lusty Winds of Carolina and Toll of the Brave. Miss Green gave a short biographical sketch of Mrs. Fletcher's life to show that she was fitted by skill, heredity, education and by benefit of travel, to write the books which have glorified the past history of North Carolina. The books have been translated into ten languages.

Many of the same characters were used in several of the books and each book used three types of characters, the gentleman planter, an exotic fascinating woman and a strong, brave woman of heroic mold. The early life of North Carolina was developed in these four books beginning with the period of settlement, then trade, love of the soil and freedom of the individual which led to the American Revolution.

Delicious refreshments consisting of tea, sandwiches, olives and fancy cakes were served by the hostesses.

End of the Century Club
The End of the Century Club met with Mrs. R. M. Garrett on Tuesday, March 11. Her home was made more beautiful with lovely arrangements of spring flowers.

The usual routine club business was conducted by Mrs. Ficklen Arthur, president. The annual donation of $25 was voted to the Shepard Memorial library and the report of the nominating committee of officers for the next two years was given and approved. These will be Mrs. J. T. Little, president; Mrs. R. J. Slay, first vice president; Mrs. C. A. White, second vice president; Mrs. J. B. Spillman, recorder and secretary; Mrs. R. C. Stokes, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Edward Batchelor, treasurer and Mrs. J. S. Mevc, custodian.

The program, a musical one, was most interesting. Miss Ona Shindler presented a small group of her high school students, consisting of Jim Haney, violinist; Juanita Stokes, soloist; the boys quartet composed of Sam Northrop, Carl Denton, Rufus Sterk and Howard Proctor, and the girls trio composed of Betsy Flye, Barbara Gardner and Rosamond Nicholson.

This program was a real treat to the members of the club and very much appreciated and enjoyed by them and the guests who were Mrs. John Butz of Ohio, Mrs. E. J. Garrett, Mrs. Myers and Miss Mary Harding.

Mrs. Thomas Webb assisted her mother in serving a delicious salad plate.

the arrangements for the tea. She had provided two lovely birthday cakes iced in the Girl Scout colors—green and yellow. The children were thrilled that they were real cakes and that they were cut for them to eat with their ice cream.

Troop 4 volunteered to decorate the club and fix the tea table. They did a splendid job. The table was lovely and was a credit to the troop and their leaders, Mrs. J. C. Riddick and Mrs. Carl Adams. They took a very unattractive and crude table and made it most attractive with crepe paper and candles. One Scout furnished a potted plant that added to the pleasing effect.

Mrs. Waldrop gave a prize of one dollar, to be added to the troop's contribution to the memorial fund.

The Scouts and Brownies had a very happy time singing songs, doing the grand march, and enjoying their refreshments.

The Memorial Baptist Church Fourth and Greene streets, will hold a revival meeting beginning Sunday, March 23rd, and running through Sunday, March 30.

The visiting minister in this series of meetings will be Dr. F. Orion Mixon, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church of Raleigh. Dr. Mixon will arrive on Monday, March 24, and will deliver his first sermon that evening, and each week day evening at the same hour.

Dr. Mixon is a native of Yemassee, S. C., and is a graduate of Furman University and of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary of Louisville, Ky. Dr. Mixon is pastor of one of the largest churches in North Carolina, the Tabernacle Church having a membership of 3,500 and with 2,500 in the Sunday school. Before coming to Raleigh he held pastorates in South Carolina and in Georgia, the last being at the First Baptist Church of Tifton, Ga. Dr. Mixon is known as a great preacher and as an experienced evangelist. At present he is leading all of the protestant churches in Raleigh in a visitation evangelistic effort, similar to the one that is planned in Greenville. He has held many meetings in a number of Southern states.

the plants, moving it back and forth until black spray droplets appear on all leaves.

PURE GRATITUDE

Goshen, Ind.—(AP)—One transient who stopped at the Salvation Army Citadel for a free meal and took part in religious services, sought to repay the kindness.

He left a note on the basement wall which read:

"I've fixed your light meter so it won't register."

He failed to mention that in "fixing" the meter all of the fuses blew out.

Blue Mold Can Be Controlled With Fermate

The cost of producing tobacco plants can be greatly reduced by cutting the plant bed space in half and controlling blue mold by spraying or dusting with Fermate. For effective blue mold control, the plants should be sprayed or dusted twice a week as soon as they reach the size of a dime, said Assistant County Farm Agent S. J. Weeks.

Fermate spray can be prepared by mixing one pound of Fermate with 25 gallons of water. To mix the Fermate spray, place the required amount of Fermate in a fruit jar, fill the jar two-thirds full of water and shake vigorously until the Fermate is thoroughly wet. Then stir the wetted Fermate into the full amount of water and the spray is ready to use. The spray mixture should be kept well-stirred while spraying. A fresh batch of spray material should be mixed for each application.

Approximately 3 to 3 1/2 gallons of spray mixture will be needed to spray 100 square yards of plant bed for the first four applications. As the plants grow larger, about 4 gallons will be needed for the fifth and sixth sprayings. For the remainder of the spraying use about 5 to 6 gallons of the spray mixture per 100 square yards of plant bed.

Growers who plan to spray their plant beds should be equipped with a sprayer which develops about 150 pounds of pressure or more; 25 to 30 feet of pressure hose; and a 7 to 9 foot spray rod extension.

When applying the spray, keep the spray nozzle about 1 foot above

National Service Life Insurance

National Service Life Insurance was offered by the Federal Government to members of the armed forces because of the unusual hazard of war, and "because it was realized that the death of a serviceman would mean the loss of a present or future breadwinner to his family," according to James D. Walters, of the Veterans Administration Greenville office.

"Some sort of income had to be set up to replace his earnings if he failed to return," he said. "Because of the low pay of a soldier at the time the Insurance Act was passed in 1940 ($30 per month to a private), it was necessary to furnish the insurance at low cost. Consequently, it was decided to offer temporary insurance (term insurance), because the low cost ran to around 65 cents per month per $1,000. In that type of insurance all the premiums paid go to pay for the claims of those who die in any given year. "For those who have others depending on them for a living and for those who have not yet arrived financially, this is one of the finest plans of protection ever devised. The main objection to term insurance is that it never builds up any cash or loan values; it offers protection only. The solution to obtain these advantages is to convert to one of the several permanent plans of NSLI."

City Will Pave Five Miles Of Streets Shortly

By CHESTER WALSH The Greenville Utilities Commission has practically completed installation of necessary water, sewage and gas pipes along five miles of the city's streets which are to be paved. The city has completed the curbs and gutters. Mayor Jack

Boyd said the contractor, Brown Paving Company, is ready to start pouring asphalt as soon as the weather permits.

The paving program will cost approximately $250,000; the various underground utilities, $65,000. Funds for the paving project were authorized by a bond election last year. The Utilities Commission had funds on hand to pay for their part. Many streets have been resurfaced.

The Board of Aldermen wisely selected the streets to be paved, and every section of the city is getting a share. It should be remembered that street improvements and paving work was at a standstill during the war years. City authorities are proceeding with careful plans and the paving has been laid where it was most needed. With the war now behind us, it is safe to assume that as time goes on the paving program will proceed as necessary.

Host To Kiwanis Directors At Turkey Dinner

By CHESTER WALSH

David A. Evans was host at a turkey dinner at his home, 421 Jarvis street, last night to the officers and directors for their monthly meeting. President Eli Bloom presided.

The directors discussed the Kiwanis International Convention in Chicago, June 29-July 3; reviewed the activities of the Underprivileged Child Committee's good work in providing medicine and surgical attention for worthy young persons; commended Arthur Tripp for his organizational work for the Washington club; made plans for the Washington Kiwanis Club's charter and ladies' night banquet on April 7; heard a report from Tom Wilson, Jaycee past president which stated that the Junior Chamber of Commerce will stage an "air show" at the formal opening of the City-County Airport; made tentative arrangements to have the Seventh Kiwanis Division meeting in Greenville in the spring; heard a report from the Attendance Committee that the club attendance is now over 90 per cent; received a Carolinas Kiwanis District award for membership gain in 1946, and discussed other matters.

Lieut.-Governor Ed Rawl outlined some of his plans for the international convention and the divisional meeting to be held in Greenville.

President Bloom appointed the Kiwanis minstrel committee. Re-ng drunk and disorderly, 30 days on roads and pay $50, costs deducted; Robert Lee Anderson, colored, not guilty; Henry Daniel, colored, 90 days on the roads, suspended provided he pay $50, costs deducted, and he was placed on probation for two years; William Sinton, colored, 90 days on the roads, suspended provided he pay $50, costs deducted, and he was placed on probation for two years.

ports indicated that the Greenville club is one of the best functioning in the Carolinas.

The social hour as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Evans was a delightful fellowship affair. Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Ed Williford served the sumptuous repast. Those present were President Bloom, Vice-President N. C. Brooks, Lieut.-Gov. Rawl, Secretary Dave Moore, Miss Smita, Arthur Tripp, Judge J. W. H. Roberts, J. Arthur Collins, Tom Wilson and David Evans officers; Bill Tait, Dr. J. M. Barrett and Ed Williford, guests, and Chester Wash public relations chairman. Directors Guy V. Smith and W. H. Woolard were not present.

Fliers Find Old Plane Wreckage

Asheville, March 13—(AP)—Civil Air Patrol fliers who yesterday reported "discovery" of a wrecked PT-17 trainer plane in the rugged Mt. Pisgah area near here, apparently had sighted only remnants of a crash which occurred more than a year ago and from which bodies of the victims long since had been removed, Russell Howell, Buck Spring lodge caretaker said today.

The CAP fliers, seeking wreckage of a recently lost Cessna in the same area, will continue search for the Cessna, missing with pilot J. R. Brite and his mother, Mrs. C. C. Hollon, both of Waco, Texas, since February 22.

PIN-WORM MYSTERY ENDED

Pin-Worms have been causing trouble for centuries, and millions of victims have desperately sought a way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body.

Science has at last solved the problem! It is now also known that Pin-Worm infection spreads rapidly and can cause real distress if neglected. So be sure of that aggravating rectal itch, and get it fast. Ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P-W at the first sign of Pin-Worms. P-W is a medically approved drug principle. The easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms easily and safely. It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

SENATE LADIES MEET, EAT, CHAT AND DO GOOD WORKS By JANE EADS Washington—Every Tuesday the Senate Ladies—about 60 wives of the lawmakers—meet in their own rooms on the first floor of the Senate office building to work for the Red Cross, to eat a box lunch and to chat.

Eight new members have just been admitted. They are the wives of Republicans Raymond L. Baldwin, Connecticut; Harry P. Cain, Washington; James P. Kem, Nevada; George W. Malone, Nevada; Arthur V. Watkins, Utah; John J. Williams, Delaware; and Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., Massachusetts, and the wives of Democrats John J. Sparkman, Alabama, and Elbert D. Thomas, Utah.

A citation from the Red Cross credited the Ladies with being the "smallest group making the most dresses in the shortest number of hours" of any volunteer group working for the organization.

And in December, 1943, when Mrs. Vandenberg was pushing camp and hospital service, a special project for servicemen was the making of 500 Christmas stockings filled with approved gifts.

Mrs. Robert Taft of Ohio was first vice president of the Senate Ladies when Mrs. Truman resigned as president and moved into the White House.

Chapter 20

On Sunday, everybody had late breakfast. Some of the boys were hanging in the sunny patio, while inside, under Halliday's direction, Bert and Eddy were setting up an accounting system, when a car stopped upon the driveway.

"Can't be customers this early!" Bert said, but he slipped on his new blue jacket, just in case it might be, and went to the door.

Then, to his astonishment, stood Gloria deSylvia, looking like Carmen in a low-cut light green dress, with flaming hibiscus blossoms in her tangle of black hair and heavy golden armbands hanging from her ears. She wore red slippers with spike heels and black lace stockings, and her dark eyes glowed, with their peculiar ascination, as she took off jeweled unglases.

"Why, Miss deSylvia, this is a surprise!" Bert exclaimed, with her. "Come in and see what we have done to the old place."

"I have read about it," Her voice had a rich and moving huskiness. "And I can see you have done wonders." She glanced briefly into the main dining room; then, choosing the geranium satin armchair as a becoming background, she smiled at Bert with the air of a goddess bestowing gifts.

"I have come to sing for you, Bert."

Research On Guided Missiles Well Along

Albuquerque, N.M. — (AP) — Improving on German know-how which introduced the world to rocket warfare, the Army says its guided missile research is well along toward developing American rockets calculated to be "far superior" to any employed by the Nazis.

The progress report from Lt. Col Harold R. Turner, ordnance specialist who has directed experiments the past year at the White Sands, N. M., proving ground.

she said enthusiastically. "It's really a knockout." She got up suddenly, walked to the dining room door, as though making a dramatic entrance, then turning towards him in the doorway, she began to sing.

Eddy and Mr. Halliday had come out, and stood listening. Tony rushed out from the kitchen, wiping his hands upon a towel.

Gloria smiled enchantingly upon them when her song was ended. She said to Bert, "If I don't draw enough business in a week to prove I am a good investment, we will call it quits and you won't owe me a penny. Is it a bargain?"

"Miss deSylvia wants to come and sing for us," Bert said, rather rattled. "Oh, pardon me—this is Mr. Halliday, and my brother, Eddy, and our partner, Mr. Perrelli.—Eileen, too, had joined them during the introduction.—And this is Miss Eileen Farwell, our singer—Miss deSylvia."

"I'm so happy to meet you all," Gloria said charmingly. "What do you all think of my idea? He has everything to gain and not a thing to lose," she said with more truth than modesty.

She smiled directly at Eddy. "Well, I don't know—" He looked as though he thought Gloria was gynaemic.

Tony said gallantly, "You have the very beautiful voice. People would follow anywhere to hear you."

Bert glanced at Mr. Halliday, for his reaction. But the banker's face was blank.

Bert said, temporizing, "Suppose we think it over, Miss deSylvia, and let you know."

Then, to everyone's surprise, Eileen settled the matter.

"Miss deSylvia is right, Bert—two singers are much better than one. And since she is so generous as to offer to come on—speculation, I think you ought to let her."

Gloria's eyes widened, as though it were something new to have another woman champion her. But she had scored, she knew.

"I will start tonight, then. My costumes are outside in the car. I can rehearse my music with the band now—my time you're ready."

Bert and Tony looked pleased. Mr. Halliday, non-committal. But Eddy, more intuitive, perhaps than the others, had the solemn look of one who could foresee trouble.

And, had they known the reason for Gloria's presence among them, the others doubtless would have looked solemn, too.

Chapter 21

Certainly the other members of the band had no misgivings about Gloria deSylvia. To a man, they were delighted that she'd come with alacrity, they had quit their something to go inside and practice with her, and if they had any lurking doubt that the Hacienda night club might not continue its first two nights' success, the sultry singer's presence completely dispelled it.

The young boys, Roy Crosley, the drummer, and Charlie Morrison, who played the sax, were plainly smitten. Plump, good-natured Phil Meredith, the trumpet player, was really quite self-conscious. Pete, usually pessimistic, injected a gay note in the strumming of his guitar, and Carolina, Bert's army buddy, partly summarized the conviction of them all.

"With you here for a drawing card, Miss deSylvia, we'll probably have to build an addition to the place."

It was amusing the way they jockeyed for her favors, but it was obvious from the outset that Gloria had singled Bert out to receive her own.

Mrs. McLane, who returned shortly after Gloria's arrival, frankly expressed her doubts to Mr. Halliday. "I heard her sing one night at the Oasis, and she certainly was popular. But somehow I feel she doesn't belong here—the boys would do just as well with someone less spectacular."

But Gloria scored instantly with Bert when she generously suggested, "How about my singing a few songs for the guests this afternoon? It might be good advertising."

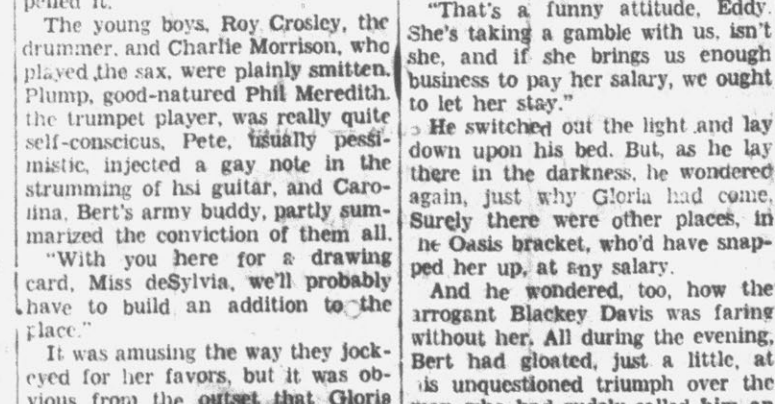

"Well, if it won't make too long a grind for you—"

"Nonsense," she laughed. "What a couple of songs, anyway?"

Pepper Shyne's wonderful write-up had brought a flock of Sunday evening business, and, with the celebrated Gloria deSylvia added to the advertised entertainment, the customers acted like people who had paid for tickets to the "bleachers" and had been given tickets to the

"If we only could afford to have you with us."

ing the administration's new foreign program today brought one of the slowest sessions of the past year, although prices generally were on the upside.

Transfers tapered to around 650-380 shares.

Check all your needs while they are yet future and your mind is clear for thinking. See that all tools are ready and in place: trucks, planters, plows, hoes and harrows, renew and subscribe for your local paper (The Daily Reflector), overhaul the chick brooder, sharpen the lawn mower, get the woe pre ready for summer, so the cooking will not be any trouble. Don't wait until you are real busy and then say, "So many things to be done and no help," when the best place to find a hand is your own. Now is the time to start the garden.

Home will always be sweet home if we keep it so. Now is the time to paint up, clean up and mend up. An older youth club was organized in the Paeonius community. President, William Joyner, Greenville, Route 5; Secretary, Joe Spain;

Now is the time to have faith in farming, it has never failed. Wise is the farmer who never stops to worry when he fails, but tries again.

When you plant a tree think of it as producing a crop of food or feed and also make a shade tree.

Watch the fires this month, don't let them get away and burn over the forest and destroy the young undergrowth of trees.

Drain wet spots, oil harness and fit it to the horses so it will be ready when needed.

NEAR BALANCE OF 1947 BOOKS

Experts Say President's Estimated Budget Will Be Met

Washington.—(AP)—The government has a good chance to finish the 1947 fiscal year with a balanced budget—the first since 1930. And if the budget is not balanced on June 30, a number of government analysts agreed today, it will come closer than at any time since 1931, when the deficit was $462,000,000.

The analysts told a reporter that President Truman's January estimate of a $2,293,000,000 deficit for the current fiscal year will prove much too high because:

1. Taxes, swollen by high level business and income payments to individuals, give promise of topping the $40,230,000,000 January estimate by a billion dollars or more.
2. Spending is proceeding at a rate far under the $42,523,000,000 January estimates and may undercut that figure by over a billion.

Thus, most government statisticians now think fiscal 1947 may even end with a small surplus. They say the prospect will not be changed materially by need of aid for Greece. The $250,000,000 mentioned for that purpose wouldn't be enough to upset the picture very much and not all of it could be spent by June 30 anyway.

Truman And . . .

Russia and her allies?
Communism has spread in Europe since the war. Communist guerrillas in Greece have been seeking to overthrow the government there. Turkey has been stiff-arming Russia, her neighbor, a long time. If Greece and Turkey fall under Communist control, Russia will dominate the whole Middle East and maybe Africa and Asia. With that kind of enormous tide of communism, those countries in Europe which now are not communist might have to succumb. Then the United States and the Western Hemisphere—some of the American nations might go communist too—would face a communist world. By preventing communist control of Greece and Turkey, this country would be blocking the spread of communism. Further, by such a move it would be leaving isolationism behind and moving into leadership on the non-communist world. But all this raises questions—big questions. Greece and Turkey are in Russia's backyard. What would we do if Russia tried to do in some Latin American country what we're talking of doing in Greece and Turkey?

We'd shake the Monroe Doctrine at Russia, sure. But what will we do if Russia sets up a Monroe Doctrine of her own now to warn us away from European countries? She probably won't, at this time. We're stronger than Russia now. We have the atomic bomb. But the time may come when Russia will be as strong as we are, or stronger, and have a bomb of her own. What then? There's this, too: The Greek and Turkish problem might have been solved—just might—by the United Nations. But Mr. Truman says there's no time for that now. We're going to do the job. But how will other nations in the U.N.—Russia, for instance—use our example in Greece and Turkey as an excuse for acting on their own, outside the limits set by the U.N.? Is what Mr. Truman proposes now going to have a lasting effect on the United Nations?

merely setting down what observers noted at the time. He was given credit for recognizing that such a war would create chaos throughout the continent, and that the distressed populations would provide fertile soil for the spread of communism. Then would be the time for the world-revolution staff to get busy. Well, in 39 Hitler and Stalin made the non-aggression pact which was followed immediately by the war. Chaos hit Europe on the double-quick. Then came a staggering deviation which Moscow hadn't expected. Hitler became suspicious of Russia and attacked her, with a resulting upheaval which created far greater disorganization than anyone had dreamed of. Finally, as the tide turned and Russia began to thrust the Germans back in the East, she inaugurated her delayed campaign for the establishment of communism abroad. Country after country was communized and brought within the Soviet zone of influence. With the end of the war the crusade increased, not only in Europe but in the Far East, and in the Western Hemisphere. Finally we arrive at the Russian attempt to secure control of Greece, Turkey and the Dardanelles. Continuation of the freedom of these two strategically located states is generally held to be essential to world security.

Need Of Municipal Recreation Plan Stressed In Talk By Junius H. Rose

A municipal recreation building and supervised play should be provided by the city for its children, declared J. H. Rose, supt. of city schools, speaking before the Training School P.T.A. Wednesday afternoon.

Under the present inadequate recreational facilities, Mr. Rose pointed out, the children are seeing too many harmful movies; listening to radio programs—too many of which are bad; and too often seeking their diversion at juke box beer joints.

"The time has come," he warned "when we should worry more about the moral development of our children rather than about their mental development."

"The work being done by the churches, parents, teachers and the recreation commission of the city has done a great deal toward cutting the juvenile delinquency of the city," he continued, "but the facilities used by these groups are not adequate for the growing problem."

Goldsboro, soon after World War I, provided a community building and supervised play program which has proved one of the best investments that city ever made, the speaker declared.

He warned against attempting to dump parental obligations on any organization or groups, as any community effort could only supplement the home and parents, not provide a proper substitute.

Following Mr. Rose's talk, the P.T.A. group held a discussion of the local educator's speech and heartily concurred in his views and recommendations.

Mrs. Rufus Stark introduced the speaker, and Mrs. Vance Perkins, president of the P.T.A. group, conducted the business meeting which followed.

"No Confidence" Vote Soon Due In Parliament

London—(AP)—A tense House of Commons resumed today a three-day debate on Britain's economic plight, with government critics complaining that plans outlined yesterday by Sir Stafford Cripps were not broad enough to meet the present crisis.

In opening the debate, which will be climaxed tomorrow when opposition forces seek to put through a "no confidence" vote against the government, Cripps said an inter-departmental planning board would be created to guide industrial recovery.

Cripps declared that although the government could not force workers into plants against their will, it planned to guide production by means of control of raw materials, capital investment and taxation.

Forecasting continued austerity for British consumers, he said that 25 percent of British-made goods would be earmarked for export. Passenger train services will be reduced 10 percent on June 1, he said, and queues will continue to form at retail stores because stocks of distributive trades cannot be augmented at the expense of under-manned essential industries.

Upward Trend In Wheat Hits High

Chicago — (AP) — Although the volume of wheat arriving at the nation's terminals is more than double the receipts of a year ago, the price of grain hit another new 27-year high, yesterday as flour milling interests continued scouring the country for additional supplies.

At one time, March wheat was quoted at $2.81 a bushel on the board of trade, the highest since the record $3.25 on May 11, 1917.

Brokers said cash wheat arrivals are rapidly absorbed in commercial channels and that there is nothing resembling an adequate supply at terminal points to meet the need for food abroad. During the past seven weeks, the price of wheat has advanced approximately 50 cents a bushel.

Hungary Protest No Dead Issue

Washington—(AP) — Under Secretary of State Dean Acheson said today this government probably will take some further step in the next day or two in the dispute with Russia over Soviet actions in Hungary.

Acheson told a news conference that Lt. Gen. V. P. Sviridov, Soviet occupation forces commander in Hungary, has rejected outright last week's protest by the United States that Russia is directly intervening in Hungarian internal affairs to support a minority effort to oust the "freely elected" majority in Parliament.

Acheson declined to say what steps are contemplated, but said the Russian reply, received yesterday, is under consideration.

New Round Of Wage Demands Undecided

Washington, March 13—(AP)—The 51 key men of the CIO and its member unions will determine today and tomorrow whether to press new wage demands to keep pace with living costs.

The CIO's executive board is meeting to study what has been happening to the balance between wages and prices since all but the heaviest controls were lifted in October. The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports prices still climbing.

PRELIMINARY GAMES ENDED

Semi-Finals In Pitt Cage Tourney Start Tonight

The final preliminary round in the Pitt County Basketball Tournament was run off last night in the Wright gymnasium, East Carolina Teachers College, with the Grifton boys defeating Belvoir 53 to 24. Chapman scored 24 points for the winners and Smith made 9 points for Belvoir.

In the most exciting game of the run-offs, the Grimesland girls were victorious over Farmville with a score of 19-18. At the half, Farmville was leading the score, 12-6. Then, Grimesland started gaining and in the last few minutes, they took the lead and kept it. Elks led the winners with 12 points and Moore score 6 points for Farmville.

The last game of the round was won by Bethel boys, over Arthur with a score of 34 to 30. Whitby and Hemmingway each scored 12 points for Bethel. Stocks made 11 points for Arthur.

The games played last night were much faster and more interest was shown than before. This closed the preliminaries and tonight, the semi-finals will begin at 7 o'clock with the Ayden girls playing Grimesland girls. Ayden boys will meet the Farmville boys at 7 o'clock. At 9 o'clock the Chicod girls will play the Winterville girls.

On Friday night there will be other games which will complete the semi-finals and there, on Saturday night, the winners will play the final games.
