Four-Power Conference Opens At Moscow

Marshall Defines Democracy In Reporting Denazification

Moscow.—(AP)—Secretary Marshall bluntly told the conference of foreign ministers today that the United States does not consider a society democratic if men who respect the rights of their fellow men are not free to express their own beliefs and convictions without fear that they may be snatched away from their home and family.

Eighty of 117 war production plants in the American zone of Germany are 100 per cent liquidated. The United States now holds only 15,103 Nazi prisoners of war mostly in Italy, while 15,873 more are rapidly being discharged in the American zone of Germany.

Europe has long been. Soviet foreign Minister Molotov was disclosed last night to have sent notes to U. S. Secretary of State Marshall and British foreign Secretary Bevin asking them for an informal discussion of the Chinese situation.

CLAIM FRANCE HAS KNOW-HOW OF ATOM BOMB

French Expert Says Process "Simple"; Atomic Village Being Built

Leke Success, N.Y.—(AP)—Frederick Joliot-Curie, ranking French expert on atomic energy, implied today that France, too, knows how to manufacture atomic bombs.

In a highly technical article written for the magazine United Nations World, the French scientist, one-time assistant to Mme. Marie Curie, declared that the principle of the atomic bomb is "simple."

Without specifically saying in cold, black type that France has the "know-how" to build atomic bombs, Joliot-Curie nevertheless gave that impression. And he added: "We are thus approaching the third stage: that of practical application of atomic energy to improve the living standards of mankind."

A digest of his article issued by the United Nations World said that "France today has the know-how to build atomic bombs, according to Dr. Frederic Joliot-Curie."

The text of the article, however, does not include that specific quotation. Yet, the article is filled with obvious implications that France knows the secret manufacturing atomic bombs but does not have the necessary materials.

American and British scientists who are expert in atomic energy developments are of the opinion that only the United States has the real "know-how" to build atomic bombs and that other countries are still in the experimental stage of atomic research.

Yet, American scientists have warned for months that the United States cannot hope to hold forever the secret of the atomic bomb. Joliot-Curie also is quoted in the digest as saying France's decision to turn her atomic research toward peace is "not based on any lack of knowledge about the atom bomb." The text also fails to disclose.

BUDENZ TAKES STAND BEFORE HOUSE GROUP

Describes "Comrade Juniper" As Mysterious Figure Backing Reds

Washington.—(AP)—The House Labor Committee kept secret today the identity of a mysterious "Comrade Juniper" described by ex-Communist Louis Budenz as a "national figure in the news."

Budenz said the man frequently attends top Communist party strategy councils, and public disclosure of his name would have "national political significance." He said the man is prominent "in labor and outside labor."

Budenz gave the real name of "Comrade Juniper" to the committee at a closed session yesterday. Earlier, he had testified that "Juniper" balked at Communist instigation of labor strikes just before the war, but only because of fear that workers, out of patriotism, might hesitate to respond.

At the same closed session, the committee considered demands by Rep. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) for perjury action against two officials of the CIO United Auto Workers Union at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company in Milwaukee. No decision was announced.

Kennedy asked the committee to seek perjury indictments against President Robert Buse and Honorary President Harold Christoffel of UAW Local 248, which has engaged in a long strike against Allis-Chalmers.

Budenz told the committee both Buse and Christoffel were Communists. Both testified at previous hearings that they never were (Continued on Page Four)

"Dangerous"

BERLIN.—(AP)—Soviet officials contend that the Salvation Army is a quasi-military organization, and oppose its application to work in Germany, an American source said today.

The Russian legal section has delivered an opinion that the organization is quasi-military because its members wear uniforms and have military titles, the informant said. The Russians also were understood to have quoted a Russian encyclopedia defining the Salvation Army as a danger to proletarian civilization.

Sen. Vandenberg Lists Queries For Officials

File Appeal

DETROIT.—(AP)—Employees of the Mt. Clemens Pottery Co. today appealed to the Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati the historic decision denying them portal to portal pay.

The move is the first step in any appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court. Frank A. Picard, U. S. district judge, denied the pottery employees portal pay last month in a decision that dealt a harsh blow to American labor's nearly $6,000,000 portal pay claim against industry.

He said then that he hoped his decision would eventually be reviewed by the high court in a final test. Vandenberg, chairman of the foreign relations committee, reported on international developments at a closed meeting of Senate Republicans.

He was said to have faced a barrage of questions about the foreign and domestic effect of President Truman's proposal to extend financial and indirect military help to the two countries. Senator Wherry (Neb) told a reporter the questions ranged from future status of the United Nations to demands to know whether American troops are to be used in the Mediterranean area.

Later, Vandenberg, who has called for top rank candor on the international situation, told reporters that if anybody has any questions to ask about this proposal, I want them answered. His demand for top rank candor was being interpreted as a suggestion that Secretary Marshall discuss the crisis with Premier Stalin at the Moscow foreign ministers meeting.

Conference Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) told newsmen that Vandenberg expressed the opinion that there was "less risk involved in following the president's suggestion (for aid to the two countries) than in rejecting it." A move developed to combine the Senate and House committee hearings and thus speed action on President Truman's program for American aid to Greece and Turkey.

At the White House, officials reported a continuing inflow of comment on the president's speech. Eben Ayers, assistant press secretary said about 200 telegrams arrived overnight. He said there were many in opposition but called them obviously inspired. Most came from New York.

GO AHEAD' ON SLASHING TAX

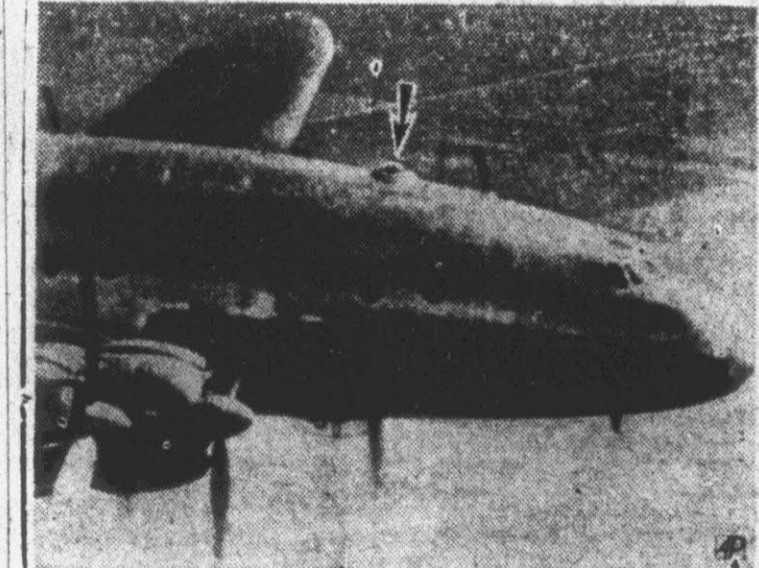

Former Treasury Officials Oppose Snyder's Appeal

Washington, March 14.—(AP)—Two former undersecretaries of the treasury urged the House ways and means committee today to go ahead with plans to slice federal income taxes 20 per cent across the board.

Their views, given the committee, which is holding hearings on the tax cutting measure sponsored by Chairman Knutson (R-Minn), directly opposed those of Secretary of Treasury Snyder, given yesterday. Magill told the committee that tax relief is necessary to keep the American system functioning by relieving incentive for business ventures.

Hanes said that we can continue to disregard the interest of the taxpayer only with the greatest peril as he supported the cut estimated to benefit taxpayers by $3,500,000,000. (Continued on Page Four)

Not In Race

New York, March 14.—(AP)—Barring a "spontaneous draft," Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan says it is unlikely that he will be a presidential nominee in 1948 because:

- 1. "I am not a candidate." 2. "I shall seek no convention delegates nor approve the efforts of others in this behalf." 3. "I think my place of service is in filling out my tenure in the Senate."

DRAFT DEATH TRUMAN ORDER

President Overruled Military Experts In Decision

Washington.—(AP)—President Truman overruled his top military manpower experts in advising Congress to let the wartime draft act expire at the end of this month.

This became known today after Chairman Gurney (R-SD) made available to a reporter the transcript of a closed door session of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Gurney previously reported a committee decision to urge a delay of at least three months in the transfer of draft records from local boards to state capitals because of the troubled world situation.

The recorded testimony of Tuesday's committee meeting disclosed that both Maj. Gen. W. S. Paul, army chief of personnel, and Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, conceded under questioning that they had recommended continuance of the draft even though there have been no induction calls since October.

Senator Stalmaster (R-Mass.) asked Paul whether it would not have been better to have extended Selective Service itself, rather than (Continued on Page Four)

Big Step Toward Keeping Peace Says Churchill

London.—(AP)—Winston Churchill, commenting on President Truman's appeal for U. S. aid to Turkey and Greece, said today: "No step that I have seen taken lately has more increased the chance of the maintenance of world peace and world freedom."

He spoke at a conservative party meeting. "If such a step had been taken by the United States before the British wartime prime minister declared: 'If it had been taken after the first war, still more would it have stopped it.'"

"If it had been taken before 1914, peace might have been preserved and we should have all been living in a far happier world. I am quite sure it is our duty and will be the opinion of the great majority of the people of this country to welcome the decisions which have been reached in the great republic across the Atlantic."

"I could not say this without also saying that our policy is one, as I do not doubt is the policy of the United States, of friendship for Russia, but friendship from strength, not appeasement from weakness." (Continued on Page Four)

Russian Press Raps U. S.-Greek Action

Izvestia Starts Ball Rolling With Accusation Of Interference In Internal Affairs Of Greece And Turkey

By EDDIE GILMORE Moscow.—(AP)—The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia accused the United States today of interfering in the internal affairs of Greece and Turkey and of behaving in a manner that could not have been expected from a member of the United Nations.

It was the first real Russian editorial reaction to President Truman's speech to Congress Wednesday urging U. S. aid for Greece and Turkey. "In Washington," said the editorial, which was eagerly read by foreign delegates to the big four foreign ministers conference, they obviously do not want to consider the obligations adopted by the U. S. Government before the United Nations Organization.

"Expressing unusual nervousness, President Truman did not even deem it necessary to wait for the results of the work of the Security Council's commission sent to Greece and Turkey. "Expressing unusual nervousness" (Continued on Page Four)

POSTMASTERS ARE HELD UP

Senate Republicans Stall On Confirmation Of Nominees

Washington.—(AP)—A slight tug-of-war between Senate Republicans and Democrats is holding up confirmation of 585 postmaster nominations.

Not one first, second or third class postmaster—the kind appointed by the President with consent of the Senate—has been acted on since the 80th Congress opened Jan. 3. The Republicans, led by Senator Langer of North Dakota, want an investigation of the appointment method. The claim that in some states no Republican postmaster has been named in 14 years. The Democrats don't want the inquiry, but appear to be fighting a losing battle.

The Senate Civil Service Committee already has approved an inquiry resolution proposed by Langer. It is awaiting rules committee action. The Post Office Department is getting a little anxious about its (Continued on Page Four)

BANDIT HOLDS UP N. C. BANK

Pembroke Bank Robbed; Gunman Escapes With Accomplice

PEMBROKE, N. C.—(AP)—An unidentified bandit robbed the Pembroke branch of the Scottish Bank of between $5,000 and $9,000 at gunpoint today and fled with an accomplice who waited outside in an automobile.

The pair were reported to have headed south toward the South Carolina state line. Federal, state and county authorities were called into the case at once. Cashier John H. Hood said the "robber entered the bank at opening time and asked to have a check cashed. When his request was refused, he drew a small pistol and forced Hood and two women employees of the bank into a closet picked up the money from the counter and fled, officers were informed.

Besides Hood, Miss Lois Beeson, assistant cashier, and Mrs. G. M. Chandler were herded into the closet. There were no customers in the bank at the time. The check presented by the robber was recognized as a forgery. (Continued on Page Four)

U.S.-Philippine Military Treaty Signed Today

Manila.—(AP)—A 99-year agreement providing for five major American military bases and other minor posts in the Philippines was formally signed tonight in the glittering Council of State Hall of Malacanang Palace.

The agreement, reached after weeks of negotiation, contains a proviso that in the interest of international security any of the bases may be made available to the Security Council of the United Nations.

Ambassador Paul V. McNutt signed for the United States and President Manuel Roxas for the Philippine Republic. McNutt, reading a message from Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson, said the United States "proposes to retain in the Philippines troops only so far as necessary to man the bases and to constitute a small military mission."

"Troops now in the Philippines need not be shifted to other areas to continue support of the occupation of Japan," Acheson's message said. Appropriations Raleigh, March 14.—(AP)—The $311,000,000 general appropriations bill, previously passed by the house, swept over all opposition today and was passed by the Senate. Major amendments were beaten down. (Continued on Page Four)

To Keep The Peace

Analyst Points Out Why America Has Chosen To Intervene In Far-Off Greece And Turkey; The Dardanelles; Communism's Bolshevik Tactics Policies

While there can remain small doubt in most minds regarding the far-reaching implications of President Truman's declaration of a new world-policy which is calculated to halt communistic aggression, a good many folks are puzzled as to just why Greece and Turkey have been selected as the symbols of Uncle Sam's determination. Why shouldn't we have picked any other two countries in the path of the Red advance? How is it that these two small Balkan states cast such great shadows in global affairs? Perhaps the easiest way to arrive at our answers is first to set down the objective of this dynamic new policy. To epitomize, it's aimed at preserving the security—both military and political—not only of the United States and the Western Hemisphere, but is designed to maintain world peace. Communism mingles no words in making it clear that it is out to destroy what it terms the capitalist governments. It employs not only political weapons but bolsters them with Bolshevik tactics, that is, the strong-arm methods of direct action. It has struck heavily not only in Europe and Asia but is boring into many countries of the Western Hemisphere. Things have gone far enough in the United States that Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach says the Communist party should be outlawed by Congress. Yesterday the government of Paraguay announced that "international communism" is to blame for the revolt in that country. And so the story runs. Well, now, anything which further strengthens communism, politically or militarily, increases the threat to the security of nations which wish to preserve their own forms of government. That brings us up to Greece and Turkey, and the famous Dardanelles Strait under Turkish control. These two countries, and the great waterway between, the otherwise landlocked Black Sea and the Aegean, form one of the most important strategic zones of the whole world military Turkey, which straddles the Dardanelles, is the land-

Handless Veteran Steals Spotlight In Motion Picture Academy Award

Hollywood.—(AP)—Fredric March was chosen as the best actor of the year, Olivia de Havilland was named the best actress—but handless Harold Russell stole the show at last night's 19th annual presentation of awards by the Academy of Motion Pictures, Arts and Sciences.

Russell, the veteran with the hooks in the "The Best Years of Our Lives," which won the "best picture" award, went home with two Oscars tucked under his arm. His "Best Years" role, his first in motion pictures, brought him apocalyptic acclaim as the best supporting actor, and a special award by the academy's board of directors. The board did not know he would win the supporting award, because results were kept in a sealed envelope until announcements were made from the stage. It was March's role in "The Best Years of Our Lives," depicting

Price of these houses is set at $920 each as they stand. Arrangements are being made with a contractor to move these houses here and set them up ready for occupancy. Veterans interested in these houses should contact Clay Burnett at the Colonial Ice Co. or Larry Averette at Merit Shore Store. (Continued on Page Four)

Freedom For All?

What Is Your Opinion On The Proposal To Outlaw Communist Party In This Country? Here's An Actual Argument On The Topic Which Makes You Think

Washington.—(AP)—The proposal to outlaw the Communist party in this country is bound to make men think. Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach suggested it. Congress may act on it, to outlaw the party or reject the idea. This proposal involves citizens' rights: freedom of speech and peaceful assembly, guaranteed by the constitution. Otherwise, free speech is so much a part of American living, that Americans are apt to accept it as a natural thing. In Russia, where the Communists took over by revolution, there is a dictatorship with strong limits on freedom. The Communist party in Russia doesn't permit organized political opposition. There is nothing in the constitution of the American Communist party which indicates it wants to do anything but come to power peacefully, by democratic elections. But critics of the American Communist party say they want to come to power here by force and violence and then set up a dictatorship. From here on is a boiled-down account of an actual argument between two Americans who took time out to think of freedom because of the Schwelienbach proposal. Joe: Do you think the Communist party should be outlawed? Jack: No. It might drive the commons underground and make them harder to find and watch. Besides, they have a right to say what they want. It's a right, a freedom we all have. It's certainly a freedom political parties have and the Communist party is a political party. Joe: But do you think anyone has the right to urge the overthrow of the government by force? Jack: Of course not. Anyone who does can be jailed. There's a law on the books now against that. Joe: Do you think the Communist party has a chance of coming to power by a vote of the people? Jack: No. The American people won't go for Communism. Joe: All right. So right now you don't think the commons will ever have a chance of winning by elections. (Continued on Page Four)

Visitation Week
The churches of the city are visiting in a period of visitation beginning Sunday, March 16, and running through Wednesday, March 19. A similar undertaking was carried out last year and it proved such a blessing to the churches that it was thought advisable to plan a program again this year.

The purpose of the visitation is to invite to enlist in the membership of the churches of their choice the people in Greenville who are not now identified with any church. There are three elements in this purpose that are in the minds of those who will serve as visitors. These are: (1) To make a friendly visit in the name of the church to those who have expressed some interest in the church; (2) to offer the church and its services to these people and to invite them to use the church and its ministry; and (3) to secure decisions for Christ and the church from those ready to make such decisions.

Those who are to participate in the visiting will meet at Memorial Baptist Church Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. Following a picnic supper, a brief period of instruction will be held and then the teams will go out to visit in the community. On the other nights the group will meet for supper at 6:30 p. m. and after a time for reporting and sharing experiences, the visitors will go out again for their visiting. Third Street School P. T. A.
On Wednesday afternoon the parents of the Third Street School held one of the most delightful meetings of the year.

With a colorful display of afghan knitted by the seventh grade students for the disabled veterans and nurses of countries of South America, and other displays of the seventh grade, the auditorium was filled with the atmosphere of a children's workshop. Mrs. D. M. Clark is the teacher of this grade.

Yellow daffodils throughout the room were a reminder that spring is on the march. The minutes were read by Mrs. H. B. Drum, the secretary who is succeeding Mrs. Mary Moore, who recently resigned. Mrs. Burt Greene sang "Mighty Lak a Ross," by Ethelbert Neven. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Glenn Scott.

Mrs. H. B. Drum read the devotionals from the tenth chapter of Mark, a passage pertaining to a little child.

Mrs. D. M. Clark, director of the program spoke in a most impressive and informative manner on "Mental Hygiene." She stressed the fact that we must seek self-control or self-discipline for ourselves and our children. This must come from within. It is an individual problem and must be treated as such. She quoted Dr. Carson Ryan, formerly of Chapel Hill, as saying that self-control or self-discipline is the first duty of all modern education.

Mrs. Clark led a panel discussion of helpful hints on building morale and understanding a child.

"Mazzing Meals in Our Homes" was discussed by Mrs. R. C. Stokes. She suggested that the mother allow the children to take part in the planning of the menus. Children should be seen and heard. Give them the feeling of belonging in a home.

Mrs. Graham Flanagan's topic "Don't Be Afraid to Laugh," was very helpful. She advised us to laugh with our children, but never laugh at our children. Establish a bond of companionship through fun. Do this by taking part yourself.

Mrs. Rudy Spears spoke on "Growing Along With Your Child." Do not baby your child. Do not correct your child before others. Do not make apologies for your child in the presence of others.

Mrs. Ola Forbes told us that "every home needs a workshop." She gave a very personal viewpoint as she has given her children such a splendid one at her home. She advised that a child be given tools he can handle easily and a task at which he can succeed. You may be sure that success breeds confidence and self-assurance.

"When Parents Disagree" was discussed by Mrs. Glenn Scott. By all means wait until the children are asleep before you discuss problems. A feeling of harmony between mother and daddy reacts favorably on the child and gives a firm sense of security.

Mrs. Helene Kirkpatrick spoke on the value of "Putting First Things First." This will help form a well balanced life. Children need happy living, understanding parents.

There were many individual problems discussed in a question and answer manner. They were personal, specific problems and were very helpful.

Mrs. Clark ended the program by suggesting that we concentrate on growth-giving activities for children. She called our attention to a splendid article in the March Reader's Digest which tells us that every life needs a brook, which sometimes sings a base-note too.

Our president, Mrs. Vance Arnold, presided over a short business session.

A report was given stating that the office and teachers room were being decorated by the P. T. A. A very gratifying financial report was made by Mrs. T. F. Smaw.

The prize for attendance was won by the fourth grade, whose teacher is Miss Laura Foley.

Forty-eight members were present and enjoyed a social hour. Delicious refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mesdames John Lawes, Glenn Scott, Eric Bowen and H. B. Drum.

Birth Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McLawhorn of Greenville Route 3 announce the birth of a daughter, Trudy Elaine on Tuesday, March 11, in Pitt General hospital. Mrs. McLawhorn is the former Miss Magdeleine Boyd, of Black Jack.

Red Oak News

Forget the slander you have heard. Forget the nasty, unkind word. Forget the quarrel and the cause. Forget the whole affair because forgetting is the only way. Forget the storm of yesterday. Forget the chap whose sour face forgets to smile in any place. Forget you're not a millionaire. Forget the gray streaks in your hair. Forget the coffee when it's cold. Forget to kick, forget to scold.

Forget the plumber's awful charge. Forget the ice man's bill is large. Forget the coal man and his ways. Forget the wainter's blustery days. But don't forget that the regular Sunday services will be held at Red Oak Christian Church Sunday, March 16th, with Rev. Horace G. Quigley in the pulpit. All members are urged to be present as a vote will be put before the membership as to whether or not we will begin our building program on our church in the near future. Be sure, members, to be there and let your views be known.

Don't forget ladies, that the men beat us last Sunday, putting them just two points behind the women in the total number of points. When that army of fine young men from the Sunshine class walk in every Sunday morning, it makes our hearts swell with pride. We are so proud of them. And there is another class we are proud of and that is the Martha Jolly class of young married couples. Already they have grown until we are beginning to wonder where we will put them. That's all right, men, you keep right on coming. We ladies are not afraid of you. We really expect to win this contest! We did it before, and we can do it again.

Don't forget that circle No. 1 of Red Oak will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ola Kittrell Monday night at 7:45 o'clock. All the women of 35 years of age are asked to be present and to bring their husbands. Circle No. 2 will also meet Monday night at the home of Mrs. Hazard May with Miss Annie May and Mrs. H. W. Nobles as hostesses. This is a most active group of the young women of the church and they hope to have a large crowd present.

The quarterly business meeting of Red Oak will meet at the church Tuesday night at 7:45. All members of the board and all members of the church are asked to attend. Practice on our minstrel is going along at a steady gait. There are about fifty or sixty people in this minstrel and indications are now that it will be a huge success. We are planning to present this minstrel in the Red Oak club building on Friday night, March 28th. Watch the paper for further notice.

A friend in Ayden called recently to tell us that Mrs. Nan Tyson of Ayden would celebrate her 90th birthday on March 25th. Mrs. Tyson is the widow of Mr. Ben Tyson, the donor of the tract of land on which Red Oak Church now stands. This is very interesting to know, and wouldn't it be a nice gesture if several of our members would send Mrs. Tyson birthday greetings. Remember the date is March 25th, and the address is Mrs. Nan Tyson, Care Mr. B. W. Tyson, Ayden, N. C. Congratulations to Mrs. Tyson, many happy returns of the day!

TRADERS Alexandria, Minn.—(AP)—Two of Uncle Sam's postmen went all out in the matter of trading. Spencer Smith, Alexandria rural mail-carrier, wanted to go to California, and Fred G. Schroeder of San Bernardino, Calif., wanted to move to Minnesota. With permission of the Post Office Department in Washington, they exchanged jobs. And to prevent any housing problem they swapped houses and furniture, too.

MR. T. O. EDMONDS

"Indigestion forced me to live on soft foods and broths and my strength went so low I could hardly walk across the house but, thanks to Retonga, I now eat anything I want, and feel fine," gratefully declares Mr. T. O. Edmonds, well-known home owner of Route 3, Anderson, S. C.

"Although I got to where I lived on soft foods I still suffered from sour stomach, and gas pressure up against my chest sometimes almost choked me. Muscular pains in my arms and shoulders seldom stopped, even though I took strong laxatives almost every night for constipation and hoping to clear out toxic poisons. Sometimes I suddenly felt so shaky I had to sit down; and most nights I slept so little that mornings I had to drive myself out of bed. I sometimes thought I would never be good for anything again.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

WE CAN TAKE IT

Christians have always been ridiculed. Some years ago a piece of papyrus was found in Rome upon which was the rude drawing of a jackass mated to a cross and beneath, written in Latin by some scoffing unbeliever of the first Christian century, were these words: "Alexander worships this God."
But there is a story of how during the first Christian century an unbelieving Roman said to a humble Christian, "So you worship the Carpenter of Nazareth, do you? Well if he is a carpenter, what do you suppose he is doing now?" To which the Roman Christian replied, "He's making a coffin for your emperor."
Christians can afford to be laughed at, both then and now. They know that eternity is on their side. Their mountains are filled with horses and chariots of fire. Having ears, they hear; having eyes, they see. The scoffer goes down at last into the dust and all the things he loved become as ashes, but the God of the believer is from everlasting to everlasting, and his truth endureth forever.
It is when men are supported by such a faith that life becomes for them secure and contented. Only the truly religious people are truly happy. All other happiness is superficial and temporary.

To Keep Peace . . .

bridge between Asia and Europe and through the centuries the conquerors have battled for its control.
Twelve hundred years before Christ the Greeks under Agamemnon besieged Troy near the mouth of the Dardanelles. In our own time the Allies of the first World War tried unsuccessfully to dislodge the Turks from the strait in the bloody Gallipoli campaign. And the Greek peninsula stands as a mighty sentinel to guard the flank of the Dardanelles.
The Turks have controlled the Dardanelles for 500 years, although the strait long has been internationalized. Now Russia is reaching for domination. Should she succeed, it would give her control of the eastern Mediterranean and the whole great Middle East.
This would so completely upset the already badly battered balance of power in Europe and the Mediterranean theatre as to jeopardize world peace. Such wholesale control of territory by Russia, or by any other single nation, couldn't help menacing the security of other countries.

Strength is given this viewpoint by the fact that U. S. Secretary of State Marshall, whose task is to handle this crisis, is widely credited with being the greatest military strategist of our time. He must believe in this method of halting communism, or he wouldn't support it. President Truman tells us that "the United Nations and its related organizations are not in position to extend help of the kind that is required."
So the United States proposes to come to the aid of Greece and Turkey because (1) they are hard pressed, (2) they haven't the wherewithal to defend themselves, (3) they are easy geographically for the U. S. to reach, and (4) Britain's own economic crisis makes it impossible for her to give material assistance to these allies. The alternative would be for America to isolate herself, but this would mean tossing the bulk of free Europe, Asia and Africa into Moscow's hands.

Some claim the new policy must lead to war with Russia—and obviously war could eventuate. Those who favor the policy, however, say there is far greater danger in giving Bolshevism a free rein. They maintain that the present show-down may clear the air.
War is not inevitable, though none can deny that it is possible.

Jack: If the majority of the people wanted it, it would be all right with me. That would be democratic.

Joe: But just remember: Every-where the communies have taken over, they've set up a dictatorship to crush opposition. Such a dictatorship here would mean an end to freedom as we know it.

And it could happen here. So by letting them have freedom now to grow strong, you may be making it possible for them later to wipe out the kind of freedom you gave them.

Jack: When you put it that way I don't know.

Joe: Why don't you know? You talk of freedom. But what kind. Look back on what you said.

Right now you're all for letting the communies have freedom, but really only because they're too weak now to be a danger now.

But when you think they might some day win control, you're not so sure you don't want to wipe out their freedom now so they can't wipe out our freedom later.

So you're treating freedom as a luxury: you give it to the weak but not to the strong.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES
By the Associated Press

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Stan Musial's batting eye seems as good as ever. The St. Louis Cardinal star smacked out two hits yesterday as the Cards whipped the Yankees, 4-1. His single started a three-run uprising in the fourth inning that produced the winning tallies.

Lakeland, Fla.—Manager Steve O'Neill of the Detroit Tigers said he will send Pitchers Virgil Trucks.

The Movies Today

Phi — "HUMORESQUE," Joan Crawford, John Garfield.

State — "RAIDER OF SOUTH," Johnny Mack Brown, Western.

Sarasota, Fla.—The unanswered question, "Where's Ruffy York?" has been answered—in part. The Red Sox reported that the big first baseman, unheard from since last season, was driving here from his Cartersville, Ga. home. The chores of spring training don't appeal to the big first sacker.

Pasadena, Calif.—Pitchers Joe Haynes and Frank Papish of the Chicago White Sox are in sick bay. Haynes is nursing a sore elbow and bruised ankle while Papish is recovering from being hit in batting practice yesterday.

The winners of last night and tonight will stage the final plays for tomorrow evening.

Shelley Beard Is Winner Of Pitt Oratory Contest

Last night in the Pitt County original oratorical contest sponsored by the American Legion, Shelley Beard of Greenville won first place. The contest was held in the Greenville High School library where seven students spoke original orations.

Emily Pierce of the Belvoir High School won second place with her speech, "The Privileges and Responsibilities of an American Citizen." The third place winner was Betty Joyner of Arthur High School. Her oration was: "Our Framing Fathers."

The local American Legionnaires provided $25 for prizes which was divided into four individual awards of $10.00, $7.50, $5.00, and $2.50 which were won by Shelley Beard, Emily Pierce, Betty Joyner, and Frederick Brooks respectively. Other orators who participated were Betty Mobley, Alfred Saleed, and Bernadine Worsley.

Spring Weather Prevails Today; Trees In Bloom

By CHESTER WALSH

Today is the fortieth day since the groundhog came out from his winter hibernation to see about the weather. On February 2, the rodent saw his shadow and went back to his burrow and sleep.

Less than an inch of rain has fallen since then, but there have been some clear, cold days. On February 14 — Valentine's Day — the mercury dropped to 13 degrees above zero.

An old-timer who claims to be a good weather prophet today claimed that the groundhog always comes out on the fortieth day to observe the weather.

The weather-predicting varmint came out at noon today. It was cloudy and he did not see his shadow, but there were trees in bloom and the official weather bureau thermometer was at a summertime level.

At 8 a. m. today, it was 62 degrees, and cloudy, hot and sultry. About a quarter of an inch of rain fell during the night and this morning.

Must Get Permit For Buildings, Law Requires

By CHESTER WALSH

A state law requires that all persons planning to erect any building in an incorporated municipality to apply to the official building inspector for a permit, exhibit the plans and be advised as to what the Building Code provides. The law provides a penalty for violation.

Here in Greenville, there have been several instances where a person or firm started out to erect a building without a permit and they had to stop work and construct the building according to law.

The Building Code is primarily to safeguard life as well as property. The services of a building inspector is free. He will gladly confer with those who intend to build advise them as to what type of construction is permissible and what materials are required to go into the various kinds of buildings.

Fire Chief George Gardner is the building inspector for Greenville.
