DEDICATE NEW MASONIC HOME IN CEREMONIES

Prominent Masonic Dignitaries Attend; Remodeled Building Well Sited

By CHESTER WALSH
Impressive ceremonies marked the formal dedication of the new Masonic Temple, Fifth and Pitt streets, last night. William J. Bundy of Greenville, Grand Master of North Carolina Masons, presided.

The Grand Lodge was opened at the former meeting place of Greenville Lodge No. 284, A. F. and A. M., and then it proceeded to the new building with the lodge's emblems, regalia and records. Many prominent Masonic dignitaries were there.

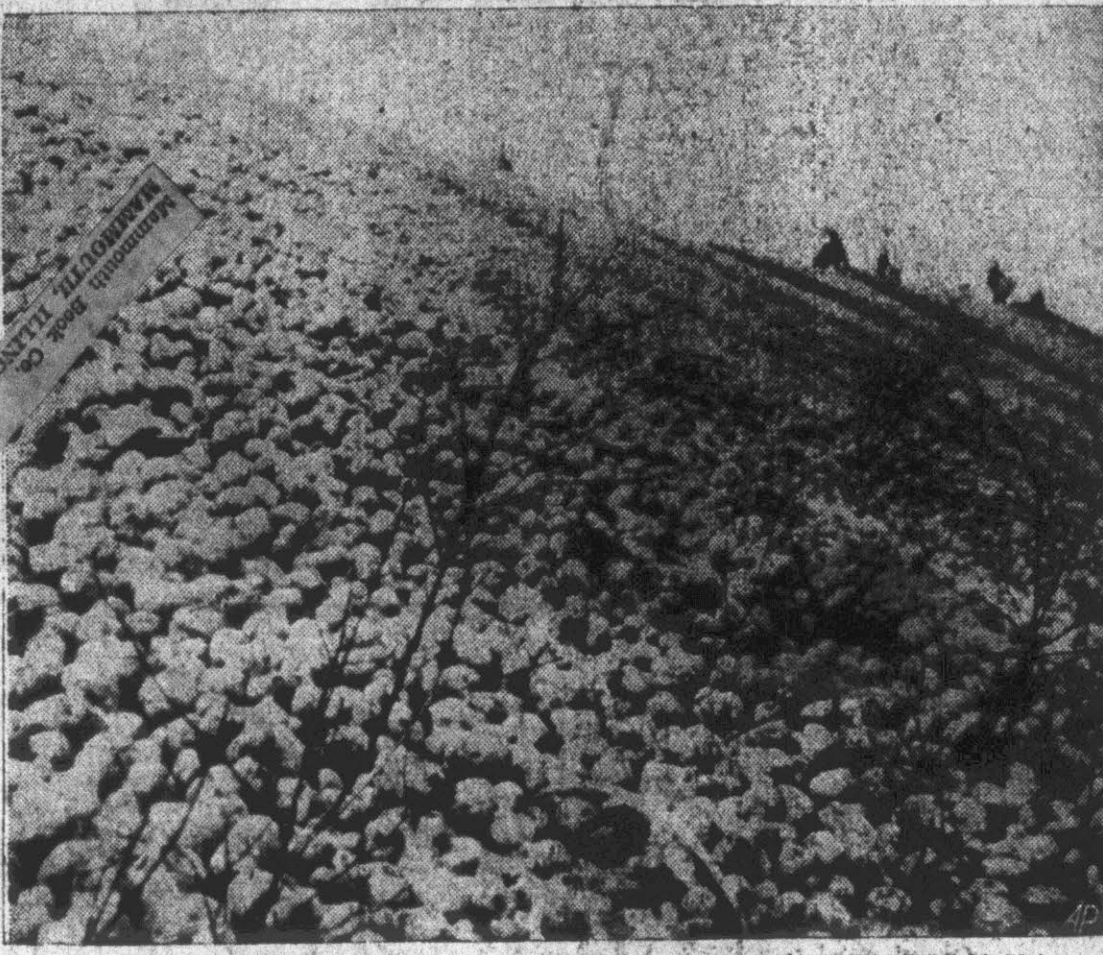

Grand Master Bundy's address was interesting and eloquent. In concluding, he paid tribute to Fred M. Stokes, chairman of the Building Committee; W. Herman Hardee, chairman of the Program Committee; and Jesse Laughinghouse, chairman of the Furniture and Equipment Committee, and others.

The Masonic Temple will house all of the local Masonic bodies—Greenville Lodge No. 284; Greenville Chapter No. 50, Royal Arch Masons; Hiram Council, Royal and Select Masters; Bethlehem Commandery, Knights Templar; Order of the Eastern Star; Greenville White Shrine and the Greenville Shrine Club.

The new building is a three-story frame structure on the site of the old R. J. Cobb property. The building and equipment cost approximately $40,000. The spacious lodge hall is ideally furnished. The heating, lighting and ventilation facilities are excellent. The building was completely remodeled. It has a wide veranda. The reception hall, leading to the stairway, is flanked on the left by a lounge room and a room furnished by the Eastern Star and a modern rest room and an office. On the right of the reception hall is the banquet room.

Lack Of Market Builds Potato Mountain In Me.

Portal Pay

Washington—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach today opposed anti-portal pay legislation on the ground it would undermine enforcement of the fair labor standards act.

As Senate debate on the measure rolled into its fifth day, Schwelmbach issued a statement saying that under some of its provisions "the millions of workers who are unorganized and without the benefit of union protection would be deprived in the future of many of the protective provisions of the present fair labor standards act."

The statement was released by the labor department in Mr. Schwelmbach's absence on the west coast.

SUPPORT FOR HOUSING BILL

LaGuardia Warns Of Chaos; CIO Says Shortage Is Disaster

Washington—(AP)—Fiorello H. LaGuardia today told Congress "chaos will set in" unless we start building homes at once. He urged prompt passage of housing legislation "or we'll lose another building year."

Turning to rent control, which is also before the committee, LaGuardia pleaded: "I beg of you to reassure millions of American families at the earliest possible moment so they will be protected from being dispossessed."

The former New York mayor declared private capital is unable to build for low income groups and added: "It's not a radical saying that. It's not Joe Stalin. It's the conservative senior senator from Ohio saying that."

His reference to Senator Taft (R-Ohio) apparently was based on legislation sponsored by the Ohio senator. This includes the aim of providing federal aid to clear slums and provide adequate dwellings for low income groups.

The CIO also pledged support of the Wagner-Blender-Taft measure. (Continued on Page Four)

Jumps Into Fire, Takes Own Life

Detroit—(AP)—While two small boys and a woman watched, a 60-year-old widower jumped into a ring of flames he had set and burned to death on a park baseball diamond last night.

The victim, identified by Police Lt. Vincent Mann as William H. Mathewson, doused his clothing and a small section of the ground with gasoline, then lit the fuel and then stepped into the fire to his death, the witnesses reported.

Lt. Mann, who described the incident as one of the strangest in his experience, said a post mortem was being conducted, but added that the man obviously meant to take his own life.

Defeated

Raleigh, N. C.—(AP)—The Senate today defeated by 32 to 10 a wage and hour bill, which would have provided a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour and maximum work week of 48 hours.

A standing vote was taken on the measure, which was introduced by Sen. Julian Altschok of Halifax, chairman of the Senate committee on manufacturing, labor and commerce. That committee had previously given the measure a favorable report.

New Georgia Governor Addresses Legislature

Thompson Rebukes Talmadge And Followers For Attempt To Seize Power; Brands Group Unfit To Speak For Party

Atlanta, Ga.—(AP)—Gov. Melvin E. Thompson declared today that Herman Talmadge and his political associates no longer had the right to speak for the Democratic party, and branded the Talmadge-sponsored "white supremacy" legislation as an invasion to fraud and stolen elections.

In a speech delivered to a joint session of the Georgia Legislature just 24 hours after the State Supreme Court had rejected Talmadge's claim to the governorship, Mr. Thompson said:

"Those who sought to seize the state of Georgia for their selfish ends, and who undertook to prostitute the Democratic platform to extend their own reign, now have no right to speak for the Democratic party."

Thompson, who must pass on 151 bills apparently signed illegally by Talmadge, indicated he might veto Talmadge's number one measure—the so-called white primary bill.

He declared, however, he favored restoration of the Democratic white primary, and asked enactment of legislation which would set rigid education requirements for voting and provide separate voting booths for white persons and Negroes.

Thompson turned stinging rebuke on Talmadge for his attempt to bar Negroes from the polls by removing primaries from state control and making them subject only to party rules which could exclude any voter, white or Negro, if not acceptable to the party.

Thompson urged the Legislature to carry out Talmadge's program of expanded state services, including continuation of a 50 per cent increase in teacher salaries. He warned, however, that additional revenue was needed, and by implication supported the only pending revenue measure—a 3 per cent retail sales tax.

Bill In Assembly Affecting Schools

Raleigh, N. C.—(AP)—The biennial omnibus bill appointing members of county boards of education, who will take office April 1 for two-year terms, was introduced today in the legislature. Members whose terms do not expire by April 1 will not be affected.

The per diem and mileage pay of five members of each board is borne by the state, with county boards paying for any number over five.

Rep. McDonald of Polk sent up the bill. Appointees for Pitt County were: Paul E. Jones, W. F. Stokes, R. H. McLachlan and Alton Gardner.

LOSING FIGHT TO HOLD BACK FLOOD WATERS

Thousands Battle Rising Rivers; New Disaster To Hard-Hit England

London—(AP)—Thousands of soldiers, civilians, police and German war prisoners fought a losing battle today to hold back overflowing rivers that already had spread destruction and misery through scores of towns and villages.

Aid was on the way to stricken communities. Two army amphibians sped toward the mining village of Bentley near Doncaster in northern Ireland, where a telegraphed SOS said 1,000 persons had been trapped without food for more than 24 hours.

In the Thames valley, two villages were to be evacuated, and police delivered coal in rowboats to marooned islands at Caversham. Hundreds of fresh troops and more convoys of equipment and material were rushed to Ely in the marshy eastern Fenland region to fight "sneaking breaches in the banks of the Great Ouse River."

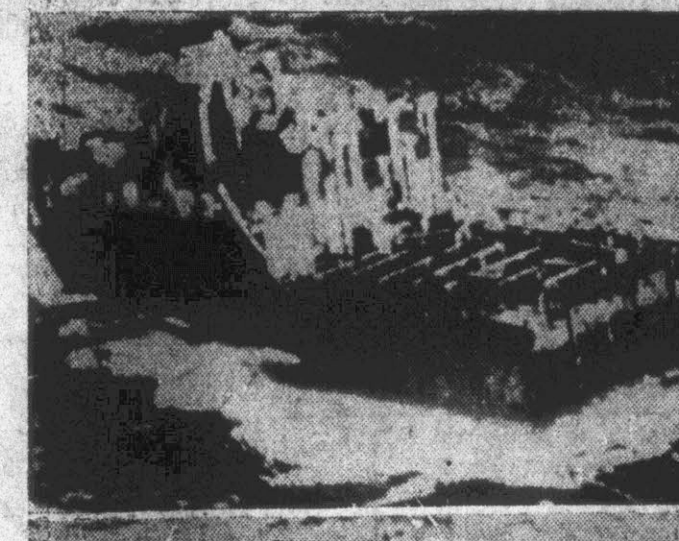

Rivers throughout the industrial Midlands were over their banks and still rising in the worst floods in living memory, and the Air Ministry reluctantly forecast rain with a "further outlook" of still more rain.

The effects on industry remained unassessed, but reports to the Ministry of Agriculture indicated the biggest farming disaster in years presenting a new crisis to a nation spending critically needed borrowed dollars to import food.

Tens of thousands of sheep and cattle had drowned, adding to the toll of 3,000,000 killed under heavy rain. (Continued on Page Four)

Acheson Convinced No War Will Follow New U.S. Policy

Tanker Breaks In Two At Sea

The stern section (top) of the ill-fated tanker Fort Dearborn heads southward toward Honolulu under its own power manned by 20 seamen who stayed aboard after the 10,448-ton vessel was broken in half during a raging storm far out in the Pacific. Washington—(AP)—Under Secretary of State Acheson expressed conviction today that American help for Greece and Turkey to block the spread of Communism will not "lead to war."

That question was raised by Rep. Mansfield (D-Mont) as the House foreign affairs committee questioned Acheson on President Truman's broad program to send money, material and military missions to the two Mediterranean nations.

Acheson hesitated for a moment and then solemnly declared: "I was going to say—no possibility that it would lead to war." He paused again then added: "I don't think it could lead to war. By strengthening the forces of democracy and freedom, you do a great deal to eliminate the friction between great powers."

On the other hand, he said, collapse of Greece and Turkey "might set off a chain reaction" among other countries—both to the east and to the west—"struggling under similar pressure."

He was asked bluntly by Rep. Smith (R-Wis) whether Congress should assume the U. S. will pursue the same policy in other countries.

"I don't think it is ever correct to assume anything," Acheson replied. "There are other areas in which we may not be able to give help. There are countries in which we may give aid in a 'different way.'"

He insisted that help for Greece and Turkey to resist communist aggression cannot wait for United Nations action but assured the lawmakers:

"We are giving very serious consideration and study to ways in which the United Nations may take hold of this problem after the present emergency is passed."

Acheson outlined the administration's position as the House group began hearings on President Truman's request for authority to send $400,000,000 and limited military aid to Greece and Turkey.

He did not mention Russia by name but commented that if the Greek-Turkish problem was put up to the United Nations it might run into a veto.

Rep. Jonkman (R-Mich) asked why the United Nations could undertake to assure Turkey's international integrity.

"If you were a Turk," Acheson replied dryly, "you would observe that the United Nations has not any armed forces and you would hesitate to put your reliance upon it."

"There is no possibility of putting the responsibility for extending the aid which Greece has asked from (Continued on Page Four)

"Sparks" Acclaimed Hero By Shipmates

San Francisco—(AP)—A one-armed radio operator who finally ground out a prayerful distress signal on a makeshift set after four attempts had failed was acclaimed a hero today by 10 survivors of the broken tanker Fort Dearborn.

Interviewed aboard the liner General W. H. Gordon, one of the rescue vessels, they all credited "Sparks," Radioman Henry F. Wieber of Los Angeles—with saving their lives.

Wieber, told of the nightmarish experience trying to transmit a distress call.

"At 12:15 a. m. on March 12 there were two terrific concussions, as if we had been rammed," he related. "I was thrown from my bunk and my head hit bulkhead."

The radioman stumbled to the radio room and turned on an emergency light. He found the antennas had been carried away with the stern section. His regular radio was useless.

Three attempts to transmit with an emergency transmitter failed. What little equipment he had was damaged by the concussion or the water accumulating in the radio shack.

There was one more chance—a small emergency transmitter for a lifeboat, Wieber went on. "It was (Continued on Page Four)

Warns Of "Chain Reaction" Should Turkey And Greece Collapse; Action By UN Would Be Too Late, If Any Taken, Says Under-Secretary Of State

Indictment On Slavery Charge Is Handed Down

Los Angeles—(AP)—A federal indictment charging that Alfred W. Ingalls, retired Boston attorney and his wife, Elizabeth, kept a Negro woman, Dora L. Jones, in slavery for 40 years was declared by U. S. attorneys today to be probably the first of its kind since he old post-Civil War reconstruction days.

The indictment was handed down yesterday after Assistant U. S. Attorney Ernest A. Tolin said the evidence indicated Miss Jones was held in servitude since she was 17 years old under threats of criminal prosecution for an incident of undisclosed nature.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingalls are at liberty under bond on a U. S. commissioner's complaint issued in San Diego.

Their two daughters appeared before the grand jury, Mrs. Helen Roberts, Berkeley, Calif., testifying three weeks ago and the other, Mrs. Ruth Castendyk, Chicago, taking the stand yesterday.

"My sister and I have long thought we should take some action to give Dora a free life," Mrs. Castendyk told reporters.

Arraignment has been set for March 31.

Jap Filibuster Has New Nomenclature

Tokyo—(AP)—Japanese legislators, who have been practicing democracy for months now, came up today with their first filibuster.

Only they don't call it that in the Orient—it's too hard to translate. They call it "unfinished deliberation."

Social Democrats in the Diet objected to a government attempt to increase the number of electoral districts and announced they would talk far into the night, if necessary, to prevent a vote.

France Holds Out For German Coal

Will Not Agree To Economic Reconstitution Of Germany Unless Demands Granted; Big Four To Permit Other Allies Express Views On German Treaty

Moscow—(AP)—France notified the Council of Foreign Ministers tonight that she could not agree to economic reconstitution of Germany unless other powers agreed to her demands for guarantees of German coal.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France, answering the rejection of his request for coal guarantees by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin last night, said:

"I am directed by my government to state that we cannot be parties to agreement on other problems raised—economic unity, level of industry and reparations—without a previous settlement of the scheme for export of coal in a sense which is in conformity without request."

Deputies of the four-power foreign ministers were reported today to have agreed that as a future point, all allied belligerents and all former enemy states which turned against and fought Germany should have a chance to express their views on the German treaty.

PATENTS WERE GIVEN RUSSIA

Congressman Offers Marshall "Proof" Of One-Way Deal

Washington—(AP)—Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.), said today he will arm Secretary of State Marshall in Moscow with additional proof that Russia has obtained thousands of valuable German patents from America.

Thomas told a reporter the evidence is from the files of the House committee on un-American activities, of which he is chairman.

"Our antiquated patent laws provide the greatest way I know of," he said, "for giving away vital military information. It's a one way deal."

"I think an explanation is due General Marshall from Soviet foreign Commissar Molotov, since they got all these patents from us, why Russia has refused to give us a single patent since 1927." (Continued on Page Four)

Confusing, Isn't It?

Take The Past Week Or So, Things Have Been Happening Right And Left; No Wonder The Little Guy Is Mixed Up; Where's This Merry-Go-Round Headed?

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington—(AP)—The little guy, any little guy trying to get things straight in his head, is having bad days.

Things are popping. He thought he'd get things straight after the war but it's after the war now, and look—no go. Too many things. Take the past week or so, here he was, minding his own business, and look what happened. Just in a week, his head's a jumble.

The four foreign ministers star a pow-wow in Moscow. Up pops Molotov the Russian.

"Hey, boys," he says, "let's you and me talk about China."

They didn't go there to talk about China. They went there to talk about Germany and Austria. But Molotov says "let's talk about China."

and Greeks. For why? To squash the Communists. Where? They? Nobody knows. Does it mean war with the commies some day maybe? Nobody knows, certainly not the little guy.

The congressmen, some of them start to grumble. This was a hot potato Mr. Truman left. What were they going to do with it?

The same day in Moscow Bevin the Britisher, laces into Molotov. He says: "Hey, you. What's all this talk I hear about the Russians taking Germans into the Russian Army?"

The little guy wouldn't know where all this was taking him but he could understand this part a bit about Germany and Austria. But Molotov had been needing Marshall and Bevin. Now they're needing him. Some fun. But when were they going to get down to cases? Diplomats say all this takes time.

The little guy wouldn't know. But up pops Molotov, kicking off again. He says: "We want $10,000,000. (Continued on Page Four)

Supreme Court Asked To Review Picard's Ruling

Washington—(AP)—Attorney General Tom C. Clark today asked the Supreme Court for an immediate review of the decision by U. S. District Court Judge Frank A. Picard which denied employees of the Mt. Clemens Pottery Company bonus to normal pay.

In a petition filed with the high tribunal, Clark said the public interest will be "promoted" by prompt settlement of the questions involved in the historic case.

Suits approximating $6,000,000,000 on portal pay claims have been filed against companies in numerous states.

Clark's petition said: "The public interest in the prompt settlement of the scope of the de minimis doctrine (the doctrine that courts will not deal with trivial matters), as applied to walking time and preliminary activities under the Fair Labor Standards Act is apparent."

Teco Echo Staff Members Attend N.Y. Convention

Five members of the staff of the Teco Echo, student newspaper at East Carolina Teachers College, are attending the Columbia Scholastic Press Association convention at Columbia University in New York on March 20-22.

The delegation from the Greenville college includes Editor Bernier Jenkins of Greenville, Managing Editor Ella Cashwell of Saxapahaw, Associate Editor Marilyn Maxwell of Greenville, Sports Editor Bernard West of Greenville, and Reporter Sophie Fieschel of Vaughan. This year for the first time the Teco Echo has entered in the Columbia newspaper magazine contest. The paper, with issues of the winter quarter being used, was entered too late to be judged in competition with others of its class; but a post-contest critical judging and rating of it will be given. Also for the first time East Carolina Teachers College will be officially represented at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Expected attendance at the association meeting in New York this year will exceed 3,000 students representing 1,250 school publications.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 18 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 18 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

National Service Life Insurance

The veteran who has converted his National Service Life Insurance to a permanent plan, as well as the veteran with the original term N.S.L.I. may continue to reinstate his lapsed policy without taking a physical examination, it was pointed out today by the Greenville Veterans Administration office.

Recent congressional legislation VA explained, extended the deadline for such reinstatement by a comparative health statement from February 1 to August 1. Some veterans are apparently not aware that the extension applies to converted NSLI policies as well as to insurance.

The only difference in reinstating permanent plans of insurance from reinstating term insurance is that all past due premiums, plus interest, must be paid to reinstate a lapsed converted or permanent plan policy. Interest is at the rate of 4 per cent since August 1, 1946, and 5 per cent prior to that date.

In the case of term insurance only two premiums need accompany the comparative health statement. One of these is to pay for the first month after default—the period of grace—during which the insured was covered although no payment had been made. The other is to cover the premium month in which the payment is made. A "comparative health statement," it was explained, is simply a statement by the veteran that he is in good health on the date of application for reinstatement as on the day his insurance lapsed. Regardless of the length of time the insurance has been in a lapsed state, the comparative health statement may be used—provided the veteran acts before August 1.

Folger Opposes Policing World

Washington—(AP)—Rep. Folger (D-NC) is opposed to the United States becoming "policemen of the world."

Speaking on the House floor yesterday on the question of aid to Greece, the North Carolinian said "we regret that Greece was offered no choice except between a totalitarian and fascist regime or communist control x x x

"I am not ready to vote for something that may send our boys into another war to perpetuate intolerable fascist authority anywhere in spite of my opposition to communism for any people. Let's offer democracy. That's a sure cure for totalitarianism and communism too. But let's offer democracy in a democratic way."

Dairies Facing Trial In April

Charlotte, N.C.—(AP)—Five dairies today faced trial at the April 14 term of Mecklenburg County Superior Court on charges of allegedly watering and misbranding milk sold here.

A grand jury yesterday returned indictments against: Foremost Dairies, Biltmore Dairies; Frank Black, trading as Springside Dairy; Joe Black, trading as White Oak Dairy; and Elam Robinson, trading as Robinson's Dairy.

Recently, a grand jury made presentments against 18 dairies and individuals here. The jury gave no explanation to Judge Hubert E. Olive of its disposition of the other presentments.

Has Scheme To Speed End Of Legislation

Des Moines, Ia.—(AP)—State Representative Harold Nelson has his own scheme for speeding up adjournment of the Iowa legislature.

The Sioux City Republican has a clear box filled with earth on his desk in the House chamber. Sprouts of corn, wheat and oats are visible.

"When the corn gets a couple of inches high," Nelson said, "the farmer members will become restless and will want to go home."

DANCE ON THE DESERT

By Florence Theel

AP Newsfeatures

Chapter 22
Pete, too, had the notion that they weren't finished with Blackey Davis.

The Hacienda's advertising in the Monday newspaper naturally featured Gloria, as their new singer, and the paper was scarcely off the press before Bert realized their fears were fully founded.

Gloria had only just arrived, to run over her songs with the orchestra.

Bert had said, "Might as well come out early and have dinner with the family." He owed her that much consideration anyway, he felt.

So Gloria was standing right there at his desk, crisp and cool in a tight-fitting yellow linen frock, with dangling turquoise earrings and matching slippers, when the telephone rang.

"Who?" Bert's face blanched. "Yes, Miss deSylvia is right here." He handed Gloria the phone. "It's Blackey Davis. He sounds kind of mad."

"What do you want?" Gloria demanded into the mouthpiece, without any preamble. "Why do you call me here?"

Bert saw her lips draw together in a tight, thin line, as she listened silently to Blackey's somewhat lengthy answer.

"I told you Saturday night I'm finished, and that's what I mean!" Her eyes and voice had taken on a hardness that gratified Bert and yet surprised him. The receiver disc vibrated noisily, as Blackey spoke again, though Bert could not make out what he said.

"Well, I'm busy now," Gloria said sharply. "Ang don't call me again." She hung up the receiver. There were spots of anger in her cheeks.

Bert walked for her explanation. For a moment she seemed about to speak, then evidently decided explanation was unnecessary.

"Maybe I'll nap for half hour before we start rehearsing," she said. "It was terribly hot driving out."

"Why, sure," Bert said, understandingly. "You can use Mother's room. She and Eileen have gone shopping in Palm Springs, with Mr. Halliday."

He conducted Gloria to a bedroom at the end of the long hall. His own photograph in air-corps uniform confronted him on the bureau, as he opened the door. On the table were writing materials and a half finished letter. He thought of covering it, but changed his mind.

"A little shut-eye will fix me up swell," Gloria yawned and softly closed the door.

It was certainly unfortunate that Eileen and her mother returned so soon.

"Gloria's resting in your room, gals," Bert said, jotting down a reservation. "She got pretty tired, driving out."

"Oh?" Eileen looked pretty tired, too, as she dumped small parcels on his desk.

His mother carried her purchases in to Tony, in the kitchen.

"You don't mind, do you, honey?"

"No, of course not," Eileen answered quickly, turning away. But she did mind—very much. It was one thing, her manner said, to step aside for Gloria professionally, if that helped Bert in his business. But to have Gloria usurp her room was another thing entirely.

"I think I'll run over my songs with Eddy," she said a little stiffly, and went out into the dining room, where Eddy was copying an arrangement.

Mrs. McLane came back to Bert.

"I think Eileen is a little upset," she said with characteristic frankness.

"You mean about Gloria being in your room?"

"I mean about the way things have been ever since Gloria came," his mother said gently.

Bert looked surprised and a little irritated. "Why, what do you mean? Eileen knows I'd never even look at anybody else."

Mrs. McLane looked at him, unsmiling. "You may not realize it, dear, but you've been looking at Gloria pretty constantly. Maybe you aren't even aware that when we were all having sandwiches and coffee late last night, it was Gloria you sat with, and not Eileen."

"Oh, for Pete's sake! We were just discussing something. Eileen knows better than to mind. I'll go fix things with her right now."

But a succession of phone calls prevented. It was a full hour before Gloria came out of Eileen's bedroom, fresh and rested looking, and Eileen, trying to be a good sport but not succeeding, went into it, hot and tired, to get dressed for the evening's work. There wasn't time now for any relaxation.

That night it was the same. Gloria's sultry songs, her vivid personality completely eclipsed Eileen's performance. In comparison, Eileen felt deep humiliation, she was completely colorless.

And it only made things worse when Bert tried so hard to spare

WRITER—Lilla van Saher, (above) Hungarian actress and a graduate of the School of Medicine in Paris, has turned to writing as a career and will live in the U. S.

her feelings.

"Come on, give them an encore, honey!"

But the thin applause, which quickly died, certainly didn't warrant another song. Eileen told him in a strained voice, "I'm too tired, Bert. Please let Jerry take my time."

She left the stage, and little Jerry Sneed, the freckle-faced lad who was also dishwasher, came out in his bright cowpuncher's outfit and twirled his lariat. He strung it out, for the folks evidently were enjoying it. And that was all okay.

But Bert couldn't help wondering, as he watched them, what Eileen and Mr. Halliday were talking about so earnestly over in the corner.

"ANY BUDWEISER ON THIS TRAIN?"

"YES, SIR. JUST ASK FOR IT."

Because of the unprecedented demand for Budweiser, it's true that you can't count on getting it every time you ask for it. But, ask for it always to enjoy it often. We are planning another expansion of the often-expanded facilities of the world's largest brewery. Meanwhile, we are making Budweiser available equitably if not abundantly.

So, to get your share, don't say 'beer', say

AERIAL SHOW WILL BE HELD AT AIRPORT

Jaycees To Dedicate Field Sunday, Mar. 30; Fine Program

By CHESTER WALSH

Sunday, March 30, will be an important day in Greenville. The Junior Chamber of Commerce will formally dedicate the million-dollar airport with impressive exercises. An effort is being made to have Governor Fleming come here to speak. Van C. Fleming, Jr., president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said today.

The Naval and Marine Air Reserve Unit of Norfolk, Va. will put on an air show with Grumman Avenger carrier torpedo bombers, Vought Corsair fighters, Grumman Hellcats and other types of aircraft.

The air armada will simulate a strafing and bombing attack over the city and airport, followed by a typical "break-up" and mock carrier landing at the airport.

After the landing of these planes they will be on display at the airport, together with the Lockheed twin-engine patrol bombers and the reliable PBV Catalina amphibian patrol plane. Convenient platforms with steps will be placed by the public. Pilots and aircrews will be on hand to emphasize interesting features of their planes and answer questions. Tommy Sellers, committee chairman and a former Marine pilot, said today.

A portable recruiting information booth will be centrally located, and a sound trailer will be there to describe the aerial exhibitions and provide music. The Naval-Marine Air Reserve Unit will parade over the streets of Greenville.

The day's activities will start at 9 o'clock with the Carolina Breakfast Club (civilian pilots) meeting at the Airport Inn; 10:30 a. m., air race for civilian pilots; 1 p. m., air show starts, with Navy and Marine corbat planes performing formation tactics.

At 2 p. m. Dan Bryan, professional stunt pilot from Durham, will demonstrate daredevil aerial acrobatics.

At 2:20 p. m. Carl Dunn, professional stunt pilot from Wilmington,

Top Net Pros In Semifinals

Philadelphia — (AP) — Professional tennis' four best shotmakers — Champion Bobby Riggs, Don Budge, Fred Perry and Frank Kovacs — confirmed the judgment of the experts by reaching the singles semifinals of the $10,000 Inquirer Pro Court Tourney.

All four get a day's respite today before Friday night's semifinal play.

In semi-finals doubles matches yesterday, Kovacs and Perry trounced Nogrady and John March, New York, 6-3, 6-3, and Riggs and Budge teamed to eliminate Van Horn and Sabini, 6-2, 13-11. The double final will be played Saturday night.

Wildlife Survey On Deer Shows Increase

Washington — (AP) — The Forest Service reported today wild life is thriving in the 152 national forests specially in the deer department.

The deer population in these protected areas has risen from 450,000 in 1921 to 1,992,000 last year, the service said in a survey issued in connection with National Wildlife Restoration Week.

IN AGREEMENT

Canberra — (AP) — Australian Minister of External Affairs Herbert V. Evatt said today that the Australian government agreed with Gen. MacArthur's view that armed occupation of Japan should be terminated as early as possible.

Can't Sit! PIN-WORMS CAUSE FITTING AND THAT AWFUL ITCH

One of the warning signs of Pin-Worms is a nagging rectal itch which often causes fitting and broken sleep, and may lead to even more serious distress.

It is no longer necessary to put up with the trouble caused by Pin-Worms, because science has at last found a way to lick these stubborn pests easily and safely.

Get JAYNE'S P-W at the first sign of Pin-Worms. P-W is a medically sound treatment based on an officially recognized drug element which has proved very effective in dealing with this ugly infection. The small P-W tablets act in a special way to destroy Pin-Worms. P-W means Pin-Worm relief!
