BACK-TO-WORK FOR STRIKERS AFTER FIGHT

Long, And Sometimes Bloody, Struggle At Allis-Chalmers Plant Ends

Milwaukee (AP)—The longest major strike in the nation, UAW-CIO Local 248's bitter and spasmodically bloody struggle at the home plant of the Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co., ended without a settlement today as lines of production workers filed quietly into the vast works.

West Allis Police Captain Harvey G. Dieckhoff said there were no clashes between union men and employees who remained at work or returned to their jobs during the 328-day-old strike.

Members of Local 248 who filed into the 155-acre plant today began receiving an 18 1/2 cent per hour wage increase which non-strikers had been getting since last August. By company estimate the strike cost $85,000,000 in lost production and wages.

The strikers returned without a contract. Only 1,500, by union count voted in yesterday's balloting and union spokesmen said members favored returning by 3 to 1.

When the strike started last April 30 the union claimed 11,000 members. An independent union, formed while the strike was in progress however, mustered more than 4,000 votes at a Jan. 26 bargaining election.

Still unsettled were union demands for a 25-cent hourly wage hike, union shop and union control of grievance procedure.

The vote was followed by warlike statements in which both the company and union declared they would "continue the fight."

W. C. Van Cleaf, company director of industrial relations, said today that less than 100 employees "whose employment status is in doubt because of their disruptive acts" had been notified by telephone.

Retract Announced Interzonal Embargo Release Was Based On Communique Already Drafted But Still Under Discussion By Berlin Authorities

Berlin (AP)—An American official in the economically merged United States-British zones of Germany says that as yet zonal authorities "have made no reduction nor embargo of shipments" of iron and steel to the Russian zone but that they will "have to set a date for action" if interzonal trade is not brought into balance.

M. S. Szymczak, director of the economics division of the American Military Government, making this statement yesterday, described as a "faux pas" a British-American announcement Friday that such shipments to the Soviet zone had been reduced and that a full embargo was being considered.

Subsequent to the latter announcement, a release cleared by the public relations office of the bilateral economic administration is

Label Of Disloyalty Presidential Housecleaning Among Government Employees; "Disloyalty" Term Also Applies To Other Americans; Why Is Communism Abhorred? By DEWITT MACKENZIE

President Truman's order for a house-cleaning among government employees has pinned the label "disloyalty" to anyone who belongs to, or has "sympathetic association with," any group which the Attorney General rules to be "totalitarian, fascist, Communist or subversive."

While this order specifically relates only to government service, it is obvious that the label of disloyalty applies equally to any citizen who associates himself with any of the groups in question. Also, since the Chief Executive's move comes so soon after the pronouncement of his new world policy against aggressive communism, it is safe to say that he once more is aiming chiefly at the Red Ism.

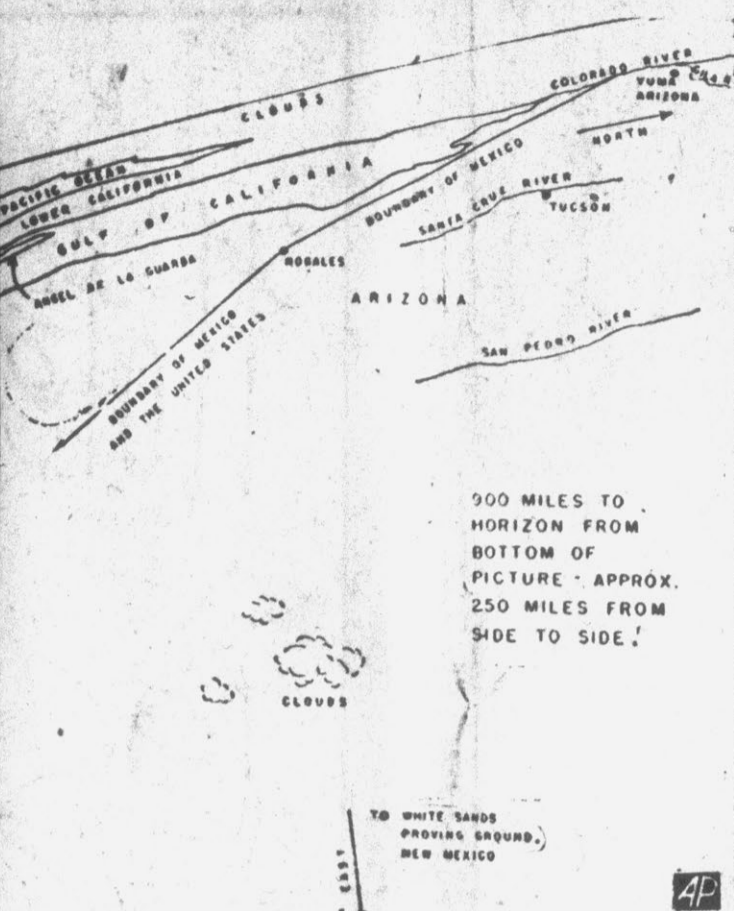

Why? What is it that places communism outside the pale of Western Democracy? What about the claim of American Communists and fellow travelers that they will be deprived of constitutional rights if their political Ism is banned?

One answer is that modern communism has as a major principle that it must come to power through a revolution by force and that the establishment of a Soviet govern-

This photograph (left) of the earth, made by an automatic camera in a V-2 rocket 100 miles above White Sands, New Mexico, was taken at an altitude higher than any picture ever made before, says the Navy, which released it in Washington. More than 2,000 square miles of U. S. and Mexican territory are shown. The distance from the bottom to the curved horizon is 900 miles. Beyond clusters of small clouds is the Gulf of California (dark area at upper left) which is 65 miles wide. Beyond it are lower California and the Pacific ocean. The scene looks westward. The navy-prepared diagram (right) points out identifiable places, showing in the photo.

"Big Six" Meet

Washington (AP)—President Truman will meet with the bipartisan congressional "big six" in an unprecedented night meeting at the White House tonight.

The meeting, to be held in the residential part of the executive mansion, is set for 8 p. m. The White House did not disclose the reasons for the conference.

The "big six" is made up of four republicans and two democrats, as follows:

- Senator Vandenberg, (Mich), President pro tempore of the Senate; Senate majority leader White (Maine); House speaker Martin (Mass); House majority leader Halleck (Ind); Senate minority leader Barkley (Ky); and House minority leader Rayburn (Texas).

Proposes Cut For Occupation Force

Reduction To Minimum Of Requirements Suggested By Marshall; Outlines America's Aims In Way Of A Democratic Germany

Moscow (AP)—An authoritative source disclosed tonight that Secretary Marshall had proposed that the council of four ministers in effect order a reduction of allied occupation forces in Germany to the minimum necessary to carry out allied policies and protect security.

The proposal was made in a paper circulated among Molotov, Beven and Bidault, the Russian, British and French foreign ministers, it was learned.

Under the proposal, the allied control council for Germany would be directed to report by next June 1 what forces it considered necessary for each of the four zones on July 1 and give a similar estimate for July 1, 1948.

The paper on occupation forces was one of three passed around by the American delegation to the other foreign ministers.

The other papers covered proposals for German demilitarization and on compensation for allied nationals whose property had been removed from Germany for reparations or war booty.

The paper on demilitarization set forth the following main points as representing what the U. S. wanted in the way of a democratic Germany.

- 1. Every German state and federal constitution should contain specific and effective guarantees of freedom from search, seizure and arbitrary arrests and guarantees of other basic human rights.
- 2. The allied control council should be instructed to require observance of the principles of freedom of political action for national political parties.
- 3. Freedom for trade unions.
- 4. Freedom would be required for the circulation of ideas and the media with which to carry the ideas throughout all Germany, except for the requirement of military security.
- 5. Freedom would be guaranteed for the movement of allied personnel and goods throughout Germany on any form of transportation.

C-45 Transport Crashes Killing Three Occupants

Sumter, S.C. (AP)—A C-45 Army transport plane crashed before dawn today in the nearby Boone-town section of Kershaw County, killing all three of its occupants.

Deputy Sheriff N.A. Myers of Kershaw County, who investigated, said part of the plane burned on landing and wreckage was strewn for 75 yards.

The plane was reported on a night training flight from Pope Field, Ft. Bragg, Fayetteville, N.C. The army withheld identification of the dead pending notification of next of kin.

The Army Air Base at Shaw Field, Sumter, S.C., which sent ambulances and fire trucks, said the plane apparently attempted a forced landing at an unlighted auxiliary landing strip 15 miles northeast of Camden, S.C.

Coroner Purdy Lee of Camden investigated. Shaw Field said the transport crashed at 3:35 a.m.

BOARDS GRASP FOR SURVIVAL

House Takes Up Appropriation Bill For Twin Agencies

Washington (AP)—Both the national labor relations board and the conciliation service faced battles for their very existence today as the House took up the $1,885,568,780 labor department bill.

With two days of debate on tap two amendments were in the offing. One democratic backed, would restore conciliation service cuts.

The other republican proposed would abolish the NLRB outright. Neither may be voted on until tomorrow, however.

Rep. Gore (D-Tenn.), told newsmen the democratic amendment will be offered to offset the action of the republican controlled appropriation committee abolishing the job of director of the conciliation service and approximately 100 other top spots under the director.

The committee struck at the conciliation service after criticizing director Edgar L. Warren and asserting that anyone whose background may be subject to question should not be employed by the government.

The identity of the republican who will offer the death to the NLRB amendment was not disclosed, but GOP committee members said it definitely would be laid before the House.

Budget Surplus At Record High

Washington (AP)—Continuing heavy returns from 1946 income tax payments sent the government's budget surplus to the highest point in history today.

The excess of the income over spending during the current fiscal year was recorded on treasury books as $2,367,316,000 on March 20.

This margin is expected to be reduced considerably in the three months left before the fiscal period ends June 30. Nevertheless, treasury officials expect to come up to date with the first budget surplus in 17 years.

Kinston, N. C. (AP)—The Lenoir county board of commissioners has agreed to give 25 per cent of ABC store profits to the city of Kinston and the towns of LaGrange and Pink Hill. The resolution, effective July 1, will eliminate necessity of a legislative enabling act.

Clayton Outlines Uses Of Relief Expenditure

Undersecretary Of State Breaks Down Administration's Request; $300 Millions For Greece, $100 Millions For Turkey

Washington (AP)—Undersecretary of State Will Clayton said today that all but $150,000,000 of the Administration's $400,000,000 program to help Greece and Turkey ward off communistic domination would go for military expenditures.

In both countries, Clayton emphasized in testimony prepared for the House Foreign Affairs Committee, economic rehabilitation and financial stability depend directly upon insuring their national independence and military effectiveness.

Clayton, in charge of the department's economic affairs, broke down the Administration's request into two parts—$300,000,000 for the Greeks, $100,000,000 for the Turks. Of the Greek allotment, he furnished these figures:

- $150,000,000 for military purposes
- $85,000,000 for internal costs such as reconstruction of railroads and roads.
- $50,000,000 to stabilize foreign exchange costs.

$20,000,000 for agricultural needs such as the importation of livestock.

As for the $100,000,000 recommended for Turkey, Clayton said the full sum "will be devoted to equipment for the Turkish armed forces and projects such as the rehabilitation of the Turkish railway system which will contribute most directly to the maintenance of security in Turkey."

Clayton disclosed for the first time that $50,000,000 in a separate pending measure to authorize the expenditure of $350,000,000 for foreign relief has been earmarked for Greece.

This measure was approved by the House Foreign Relations Committee last week and may reach the floor within a few days.

Other beneficiaries under this post-UNRRA program would include Italy, Hungary, Austria, Poland and China.

Washington (AP)—Undersecretary of State Acheson said today that the United States must invest funds to put Southern Korea on a sound economic basis because Russia has blocked any agreement for a unified government of that country.

Acheson mentioned this prospect when testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in support of President Truman's plan to bulwark Greece and Turkey against communism.

He did not say how much the Korean project may cost, but said the War, State and Navy Departments are considering it.

Soviet troops occupy the northern half of the country, which contains most of Korea's natural resources, Acheson said. He added that it would be a "struggle" to put the southern part of the country, now occupied by American troops, on its economic feet.

"We have attempted for more than a year to reach an agreement with Soviet Russia for a unified government of the country but have not been able to do so," Acheson commented. "Failure presents a very serious problem."

He said it was "not at all clear" how much money would be needed. An estimate of the situation, Congress will be asked to pass on any expenditures to be made.

Project Under Study Says Acheson; No Plans To Send Troops To Greece And Turkey; Relief Money Will Probably Be Gift; Will Notify UN When Congress Decides

Washington (AP)—Undersecretary of State Acheson said today that the United States must invest funds to put Southern Korea on a sound economic basis because Russia has blocked any agreement for a unified government of that country.

Acheson mentioned this prospect when testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in support of President Truman's plan to bulwark Greece and Turkey against communism.

He did not say how much the Korean project may cost, but said the War, State and Navy Departments are considering it.

Soviet troops occupy the northern half of the country, which contains most of Korea's natural resources, Acheson said. He added that it would be a "struggle" to put the southern part of the country, now occupied by American troops, on its economic feet.

"We have attempted for more than a year to reach an agreement with Soviet Russia for a unified government of the country but have not been able to do so," Acheson commented. "Failure presents a very serious problem."

He said it was "not at all clear" how much money would be needed. An estimate of the situation, Congress will be asked to pass on any expenditures to be made.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) asked if this parallels the same sort of aid the President proposed to render to Greece and Turkey.

Acheson said the situations are not exactly parallel.

The acting cabinet officer told the senators there are no plans to send troops to Greece or Turkey and apparently ruled out the idea of a loan by saying that "Greece is not in a position to borrow; it is in a state of collapse and it must be put on a sound financial basis."

Lightning Bolts Brought Terror To Plane's Crew

Tokyo (AP)—Far East Airforce headquarters told today of the terror-ridden flight of a B-17 Flying Fortress lashed by lightning that riddled it with holes and rocked it with explosions but failed to knock it down.

The Fortress, en route to Okinawa from Japan, ran into steel snow, rain and lightning while flying at 8,000 feet on the morning of Feb. 26, the announcement said. Lt. Col. Michael N. W. McCoy of Los Angeles, was commanding the ship, and five others were aboard.

The plane landed at Okinawa after three hours of flying by dead reckoning and the shaken crew found these damages:

Seventeen holes through the right wing and aileron; numerous holes from nose to tail with assorted wrinkles, melted wiring and other "bruises"; camera doors blown open; part of the underside of the left wing blown out; shield of the top antenna destroyed; trailing antenna knocked off; No. 1 turbo-amplifier burned out.

Congress Studying Support For Purge

Lawmakers Cite Truman Order As Vindication Of Congressional Anti-Subversive Drive; Legislative Needs Under Scrutiny

Washington (AP)—Congress took today to President Truman's order for a purge of disloyal federal employees like a duck takes to water.

While there was widespread comment on Capitol Hill that the order should have been issued long ago congressional leaders lost no time in laying the foundation for whatever new legal backing may be necessary.

Rep. Rees (R-Kan.), chairman of the House Civil Service Committee which has jurisdiction over government employees, said he would call the group into session quickly to determine whether legislation is needed to put teeth into the order.

Terminating the President's weekend action "good as far as it goes," Rees said in a statement that it falls however, to place firing responsibility directly on department and agency heads.

In directing the dismissal of all federal employees whenever "reasonable ground" exists to doubt their loyalty, Mr. Truman ordered the names of all workers to be checked against FBI records.

He also ordered a "master index" of all persons whose loyalty has been investigated since Sept. 1, 1939, and called for the completion of a single list of all subversive organizations.

And he specified that any employee affiliated with or in "sympathetic association" with any totalitarian, fascist, Communist or

Congressmen At Work

Congress Has Been Really Up To Its Neck In Work; Dozens Of Important Issues Have Been Studied, Many More Ahead; An Outline Of What Has Been Done By JAMES MARLOW

Washington (AP)—What's Congress been up to? It's dawdled here and there. But it's been up to its neck in work.

Labor—For weeks House and Senate Labor Committees, preparing to write bills restricting labor unions, have been hearing witnesses for and against.

They've finished the hearings and are writing the bills. The full House and Senate will have to vote on them. No one knows when.

Taxes—The House Ways and Means Committee—its job is handling taxes—has been doing lots more talking than acting.

Last week it finally made up its mind: Income taxes should be cut 30 per cent for small taxpayers, 20 per cent for nearly all others.

The full House may vote on that this week. Then the Senate, later, will have to vote. It may disagree. That will take more time.

Lillenthal—David E. Lillenthal was nominated by President Truman to head this country's new Atomic Energy Commission of five men.

Because Congress wasn't in session yet when Mr. Truman made the appointments, all five men actually are at work.

But they can't keep their jobs unless the full Senate approves. And the Senate told its Atomic Energy Committee to look into Lillenthal's qualifications, particularly.

It did, in one of the most long drawn-out quizzes of one man in recent times. What made it long, drawn-out was Senator McKellar, Tennessee Democrat.

McKellar, an enemy of Lillenthal but not a committee member, asked committee permission to question the man. He did, for weeks.

The committee finally stopped McKellar, voted 8 to 1 for Lillenthal. But the full Senate still must approve. It may do so this week, after a fight on the floor.

Postal pay—House and Senate used up much time passing bills to knock out back-pay claims of CIO unions against employers.

Will Dispose Of Leaf Purchased By Stabilizers

Raleigh, N.C. (AP)—Domestic dealers and manufacturers handling flue-cured tobacco have been notified by the Flue-Cured Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corporation here that prices and quantities now can be quoted on the 60,000 hogheads of tobacco taken in last season.

"We are not going into the foreign field to dispose of the tobacco," L. T. Weeks, executive secretary-treasurer said, adding that "we are offering it only to home sources."

The corporation bought 61,701,817 pounds of flue-cured tobacco during the 1946 marketing season for $19,378,336.44 and will proceed to distribute profits to its 80,000 stockholders when tobacco now stored at points in North Carolina and Virginia is sold, Weeks said.

He said no policy for distributing profits had been established by the board of directors, but added that it is likely they will be apportioned in a value basis of tobacco bought in from its members.

Will Tackle Wine-Bever And Improvement Bills

Raleigh, N. C. (AP)—North Carolina legislators, shooting for speedy adjournment, will return here tonight to tackle wine and beer prohibition measures and the permanent improvements bill, both of which are due to come before the House tomorrow.

The controversial wine and beer bills were reported favorably last week by the House finance committee. One bill would outlaw the sale of wine and authorize local authorities to regulate the sale of beer in 17 counties. Another bill provides for regulation of beer in six other counties.

Opponents of the wine and beer bills say they will reduce state revenues by at least $1,000,000 a year. The $48,432,256 permanent improvements bill includes appropriations for the medical care commission's good health program, including $6,250,000 to be matched with federal and local funds for building hospitals and medical centers throughout the state and $3,790,000 to be matched with $1,500,000 in federal funds for a four-year medical school and teaching hospital at the University of North Carolina.

The four-year medical school and teaching hospital may be attacked on the floor, but it won such overwhelming support in the joint appropriations committee last week that its approval by the two houses seems virtually assured.

Passage of the permanent improvements bill will bring state spending protected for the 1947-48 biennium to a record total of $36,025,342.

Ask Deportation Of German Scientists

Washington (AP)—The Federation of American Scientists urged today that the German scientists brought to this country for work on military research projects be denied jobs in private industry or education.

Their return to Germany "as soon as possible" also was suggested in a letter to President Truman from W. A. Higginbotham, executive secretary of the federation.

Washington (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee today unanimously cited Leon Josephson of New York for contempt. He has refused to testify to a subcommittee.

Josephson was described in testimony to the committee Friday as a member of the Russian secret police and a figure in a passport forging ring in America.

Officials Refuse to Obey Law Raleigh, N. C.—The attorney general gives an opinion in an interesting and unique case from Bethel, Pitt County. The legislature gave that place a dispensary and required town commissioners to appoint two policemen. This they refused to do. The opinion says that under the circumstances the dispensary commissioners should demand that the town appoint policemen and if it fails or refuses to do, then the dispensary commissioners shall themselves make the appointments. The opinion says that unless this was done the town would be given power to negative a plainly expressed law. If the town refuses to pay the policemen's salaries the dispensary commissioners are to pay these out of dispensary funds.

Chapter 23

Gloria drove up to The Hacienda as though the Law were in pursuit. Her face was flushed and dark anger flared in her black eyes. It was only two o'clock, and she was not due until four.

"If anybody comes for me, I'm not here!" she said, excitedly, bursting in and stopping for a moment at Bert's door. "I'm going out to the kitchen, to talk to Tony."

Bert grinned. Never a dull moment since Gloria had joined the band! "Nobody'd think of looking for you there. But hadn't you better drive your car into the garage first?"

"Oh, what a nit-wit! Shows how upset I am!" Gloria hurried out through the back door.

Bert guessed that Blackey Davis was mixed up in this, and it was no surprise when the orchestra leader's big yellow sport car ground to a stop outside.

Guided by Bert's voice on the telephone, Blackey came directly to the office. His handsome, swarthy face was etched with fury. He looked mad enough to kill.

"Where is she?" he demanded.

"Where's Gloria?"

Bert looked at Blackey levelly, remembering that night he had faced Blackey across the other's desk, at the Oasis, asking for a job.

"He said blandly into the telephone. 'Four for tonight at eight? Yes, we can take care of you.'

Before he had hung up, Gloria was there in the doorway, her eyes shooting fireworks. Her voice lashed out at Blackey. "What do you mean following me here?"

They faced each other like game cocks ready to spring, fury to fury, will to will. Then suddenly Blackey's face softened, as he gazed, hungrily, at Gloria's flaming beauty—her white shoulders, the swell of her firm, round breasts. His voice softened, too, but his choice of words was wrong.

"Cut out the comedy, Gloria. You don't belong in a two-penny joint like this. Get in your car. You're coming back with me."

Gloria seethed with hatred. "You're not giving me any orders—not any more!" she flung back, and with a scornful look, she walked away.

Blackey caught her wrist and roughly turned her around. "You heard me, didn't you?" he thundered. "You're coming back with me!"

"Let me go, you—!" she spluttered wrathfully, trying to jerk away.

Bert was on his feet, his temper flaring.

"Take your hands off her, Davis! You're not pulling any caveman stuff around here!"

"Keep out of this, you cheap little—!" Blackey never finished the sentence. Bert's fist connected with his jaw and he reeled against the doorframe.

"Get out of here before I throw you out!" Bert yelled at him.

Blackey took an uncertain step forward, fist raised, then stopped. Four lean, fit-looking ex-veterans had popped out of their rooms and were ganging up around him.

"What's all the rumpus?" Eddy demanded. "Who's this loud mouth, anyway?"

Roy and Charlie looked as though they would enjoy a fight. Against such odds, Blackey Davis was in a spot.

"We'll settle this thing later, McLane," he said, sullenly. "And don't forget it."

"Scram!" Carolina towered over him, fist clenched. "Or do you want some help?"

Blackey made a swift, undignified exit, wiping blood from the corner of his mouth. The four boys grimly escorted him to the door.

White as paper now, Gloria was holding her wrist.

"Let me look at it," Bert said anxiously. A dark bruise circled it like a bracelet. "The big brute! Come on, let me bath it."

Gloria was swaying. Bert caught her around the waist. Suddenly she went to pieces, breaking down upon his shoulder in tears.

"Oh, Bert! He's so terrible when he's angry! I never should have come out here at all today—"

"There, there, honey, never mind! He won't bother you any more, while I'm around." He pressed her shoulder, reassuringly.

Gloria looked up at him behind wet lashes. "Thanks—darling."

Eileen had reached the doorway as Gloria spoke. But neither of them saw her, and she silently withdrew. She came to Bert some time later, while he was running through a new fox-trot number with the band. She had on her hat and jacket.

Gloria, still depressed, was seated at a table, drinking a coke. She brightened as she saw the younger girl.

"Hi, hello, Eileen. Just back from town? Sit down and have a coke."

"I'm just going." Eileen forced a

Airplanes

No boy is ever too young to be interested in airplanes from the time he first is conscious of the noise and fast movement of a plane overhead. Making model planes is a hobby that lots of boys follow for many years, and there are several grand books at the library which will help you to know and understand planes, and how to make models.

"Airplanes and How They Fly," by Marshall McClintock, is a fine book which explains the principles of aviation.

"The Story of American Aviation," by Jim Ray, is new to the library and has lots of color pictures and very clear explanations of the development of airplanes in our own country.

"Model Planes For Beginners," by H. H. Gilmore, is a splendid book for the boy who is just starting on this hobby, with charts of different types of planes, and complete lists of the necessary tools and materials. The directions are clear and easy to understand.

"Building and Flying Model Airplanes" is published for air youth of America, and is a book for the advanced maker of model planes. There are pictures, sketches and full directions for flying and non-flying models, and a very complete index and guide to the drawings. Many boys will be especially keen about the chapters on gas models.

Next time you are in the library, ask the librarian to show you the shelf where these and other airplane books are to be found. They are all there to help you to enjoy your hobby.—Mrs. Roscoe Hauser, Jr.

Twelve Students Finish Work In Winter Quarter

Twelve students at East Carolina smile, and looked at Bert.

"Going so late?" he asked. "It's almost time for dinner, isn't it?"

"I'll be back in time to sing," Eileen answered quietly. She turned away, avoiding his eyes.

Then Bert saw Mr. Halliday, hat in hand, waiting for Eileen at the door. They had been together a great deal since his arrival Saturday night. Even Bert's mother had noticed it, and had evidently been puzzled about it, too.

Bert had a growing sense of uneasiness now, as the two got in the banker's car and drove away.

SECOND LEND - LEASE

We wonder if you too have seen the similarity between President Truman's proposed plan to aid nations threatened by Communism and President Roosevelt's Lend-Lease Program aimed at stopping the Nazis.

Both programs were designed to halt the expansion of aggressive dictatorial powers whose intention to assimilate their weaker neighbors was most obvious.

But this time it is different, in this way:

America is contemplating aid for Greece and Turkey before these small nations are forced to their knees. President Truman is anxious to avoid hearing again that painful expression of "too little, and too late" with its attendant disasters to the cause of freedom.

Now we can't pretend that Greece and Turkey are ruled by democratic governments, circumstances have made it otherwise. But the attempt of Communists to use force in choking their own precepts down the throat of the Greek people, and the war of nerves over control of the Dardanelles arouses the impatience and disgust of the free nations who are looking on.

In the background, too, there is fear; fear and suspicion that should Greece and Turkey bow in submission the Red wave would not stop there, but would inundate all Europe. There are already leaks in the dike.

The decision to do something about it must have been hard to make, but President Truman did not hold back when he realized that the boundaries of freedom are not confined to these United States.

America will continue to be the "Arsenal of Democracy."

Strength FOR THE DAY

LOVE REMAINS CENTRAL

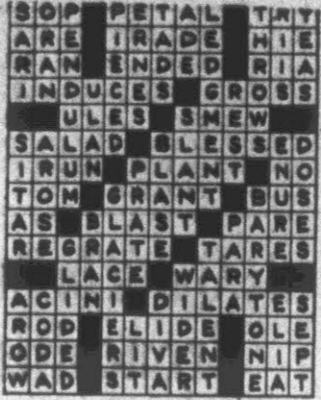

An American visitor to China spoke one Sunday morning in a Chinese church. On the walls of the church were inscribed in Chinese characters, "God so loved the world that He gave his only begotten Son." In the center of this inscription was a cross, and in the center of this cross was one of the Chinese characters. Upon inquiry he found that this character means "God so loved."

The cross stands for love. The men who out Christ to death intended that it should stand for hate and punishment; but God gathered up its tragic circumstances and used them to show forth his love for mankind. The divine love was so great that the Heavenly Father was willing to give what even the best among humans hesitate to best, namely, the life of an only begotten son.

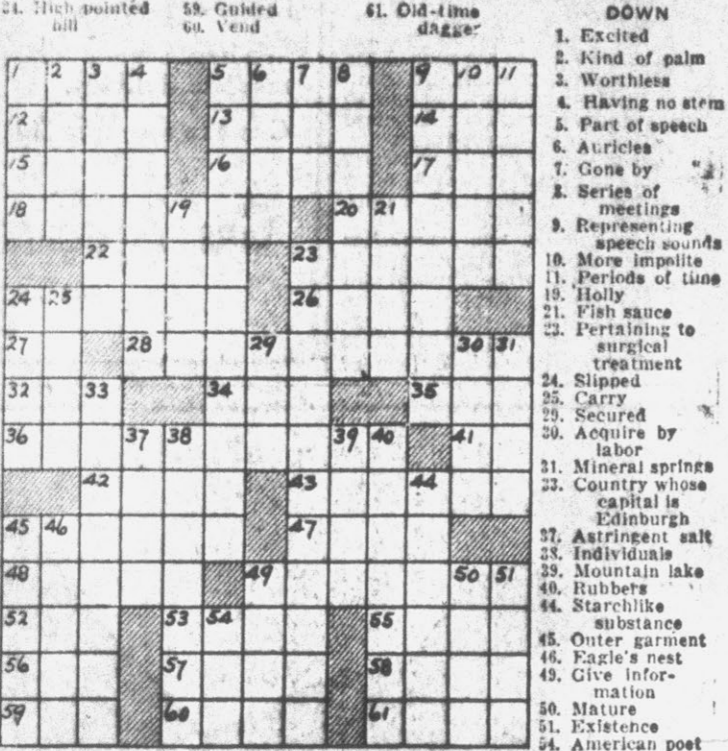

Throughout the ages men have been confused in their minds about what the cross of Christ means. All sorts of fantastic notions have arisen, and these have sometimes been set forth as true doctrine. But the New Testament makes the cross message very plain. The crucifixion of Jesus Christ was God's way of showing how much He cared for mankind. The Chinese congregation understood this when they put the words "God so loved" right at the very center of the cross. That is where they belong.

as to whether there were any plans to notify the United Nations, Acheson replied that this government can't very well tell any international organization its intention until Congress decides final policy by supporting or rejecting the President's proposal.

He noted that the Export-Import Bank has earmarked $500,000,000 for a possible loan for China, that Congress had authorized aid for the Philippines and that this government had spent nearly a billion dollars in Italy since that country surrendered without notifying the U.N. of any of these actions.

Observing that the projected aid to the two Mediterranean countries "goes far beyond the bounds of these parallels," Vandenberg said he thinks it would be a "matter of comity" to tell U.N. this nation's plans after Congress acts.

"That would be a desirable thing to do," Acheson replied. As he did in previous testimony before the House group, Acheson stressed that Greece might collapse if the United States waited for the United Nations to extend help.

In response to questions by Vandenberg and Senator Connally (D-Tex.), Acheson said it would take at least 30 days to get the United Nations Assembly into meeting. Many other details would be required before any action could be taken, he said.

Police Charge Julius Wilson With Shooting

Police are holding Julius Wilson, 35-year-old Negro, in jail without privilege of bond, on a charge of shooting with a pistol Dave Henry Stator, Negro, during an altercation at Second and Cotanche streets, Saturday about 6 p.m. Stator is in a serious condition at Pitt General Hospital with a bullet wound in his abdomen. Policeman D. W. Early, who investigated the shooting, said the row started over a 50-cent debt.

Chief Jim Tanner quoted Wilson as saying "Stator was coming on me with an axe. I shot at him once and missed; I shot again and Stator squealed like a pig."

Judge Was Kind To Aged Negro In Court Today

In Police Court today, Willis Hemby, 75-year-old Negro tenant on the Tom Wilson farm near Grimesland, who was charged with being drunk on the street, told Judge Jimmy Roberts: "I took my father, Freeman Hemby, 103 years old and unable to get about, who lives on West Fifth street in Greenville beer, drank a little myself and the stuff 'got in my feet and angled me up after I left."

The septuagenarian Negro won the sympathy of Judge Roberts who continued prayer for judgment after Hemby had promised that he would not be back in court on a similar charge until he is over the century mark. Hemby went free, and the verdict was approved by court officials and spectators.

by the lower courts. We also have to face the self-evident truth that all Communist organizations, no matter of what country, take their orders from Moscow. Their policies are Russian and not those of their homelands.

We see constant proof of this in the fact that when Russian interests are involved in any international issue, the Communists of all countries come to the defense of Moscow with absolute unanimity of language. That has happened time and again in the United States since communism got a foothold here.

These are a few of the many reasons why communism is going under heavy fire in democratic countries.

Winterville To Quarantine All Dogs 90 Days

By CHESTER WALSH

Mayor W. L. Hunsucker of Winterville today issued an order that all dogs are to be kept in quarantine in Winterville for 90 days. Dog owners have been ordered to confine their dogs. All dogs running at large after today (Monday) in Winterville will be shot on sight by police.

A dog owned by Ray Oglesby escaped from his premises several days ago and showed symptoms of hydrophobia. It was reported to have bitten several dogs. Oglesby had the dog killed and sent its head to the State Health Department in Raleigh. Examination of the head indicated that it had rabies. Owners of dogs bitten by Oglesby's dog should have the canines killed at once.

Civil Service Tests For Open Positions

A Civil Service Examination for the positions of Field Assistant and Claims Assistant with the Social Security Administration has just been announced by a Field Board of the United States Civil Service Examiners.

This examination is being held for appointments under the Civil Service regulations to positions in field offices of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance in North Carolina and other states.

The beginning salary for most of these positions will be $2,394 per year, with some beginning at $2,644 per year.

In addition to passing a written test, applicants for both positions must have had at least two years experience in Government, business, education, industry, or the armed forces, a substantial portion of which was public contact work. Certain provision has been made for the substitution of education for the above experience.

Application forms may be secured from your local post office.

The joint statement mentioning suspension of shipments said the action was being taken because the Russian zone had become more and more delinquent in deliveries to the British-U.S. zone promised in an interzonal trade pact. The statement said that the British-American zones had shipped 94 percent of pact commitments to the Soviet zone.

FIRE LOSSES IN U.S. AT ALL-TIME HIGH!

YES, fire losses last year were at an all-time high. And one of the most tragic aspects of this situation is that many property owners do not realize until the fire is over that they were woefully under-insured.

Consider your own home. If it were destroyed by fire, would your present insurance cover the loss—or would you have to dig into your own pocket for a good many thousands of dollars? Remember, building costs are much higher today than before the war.

Then the Senate may vote, and disagree. It will go on like that, department by department, probably late into June. tenor, will give a recital at C. M. Eppes High School auditorium. He has been heard from Maine to California, from northern Canada to Mexico, in the concert halls of Europe and by soldiers on leave from the world battlefronts during the last war. The season of 1945-46 he made more than 60 appearances before capacity audiences totaling more than 100,000 music enthusiasts.

The distinguished tenor's progress in the field of vocal art has won him many distinctions, including the award of the degree of Doctor of Music from Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, Ohio, and Doctors of Laws from Morehouse College, Atlanta, Georgia.
Roland Hayes was the first Negro artist in the field of music who was chosen to represent his people in the seventy-fifth anniversary of the thirtieth amendment, celebrated on December 21, 1940, in the nation's capital. He was head by a distinguished audience in the concert hall of the Library of Congress.
Hayes' concerts in Royal Albert Hall, London, and the National Art Gallery, London, with Dame Myra Hess, have been praised by U. S. Ambassador John S. Winant and General Jacob L. Devers. Command performances before King George and Queen Mary are among his treasured memories. Recently Life Magazine introduced several household articles that were presented to Hayes by the Royal Family of England.

Demand Milk Control Legislation Be Quickly Passed As Vital Need

Raleigh, N.C.—(AP)—Dr. C. V. Reynolds, State Health Officer, today called on all North Carolinians to demand passage of legislation "that will protect your milk supply."

Dr. Reynolds referred to a state-wide minimum milk bill now before a Senate public health sub-committee, and said "the health, perhaps lives of our babies x x x rests in the hands of these gentlemen (legislators). The kind of milk the sick and aged in North Carolina will drink in the future is involved, as well as whether the general public is to be given the protection it's entitled to."

"Upon no committee of the 1947 General Assembly has there been imposed a greater responsibility than that which at present rests upon the sub-committee studying the bill calling for a state-wide law to protect our people from mislabeled and dangerous milk."

Dr. Reynolds' statement continued: "Why wait two years or any length of time, to find out what our needs are? We already know. Investigations of the State Department of Agriculture and the Grand Jury of Mecklenburg County have uncovered enough evidence to warrant passage of this law immediately."

"The milk problem can never be handled in crazy-quilt fashion with each county left free to protect the people or deferred to those in the milk industry who put dollars above the health of our children."

Deafened People May Now Hear Clearly

Science has now made it possible for the deafened to hear faint sounds. It is a hearing device so small that it fits in the hand and enables thousands to enjoy sermons, music and friendly companionship. Accepted by the Council on Physical Medicine of the American Medical Association. This device does not require separate battery pack, battery wire, case or garment to bulge or weigh you down. The tone is clear and powerful. So made that you can adjust it yourself to suit your hearing as your hearing changes. The makers of Belton, Dept. 5118, 1450 W. 19th St., Chicago 8, Ill., are so proud of their achievement that they get a full demonstration of this remarkable hearing device in your Write Belton today.

Good News For Folks Who Suffer From

✓ STOMACH GAS
✓ SOUR FOOD TASTE
✓ ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress. Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition: loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of his gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better. Avoid punishing yourself with over-loads of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.
