HOUSE MOVING TOWARDS VOTE ON LABOR ACT

Final Maneuvering Under Way; Vote Expected Sometime Late Today

Washington.—(AP)—The House stiffened restrictions on industry-wide bargaining today and again refused to outlaw the union shop as it maneuvered its strike curb bill toward a vote on passage.

Added to the measure was a provision that competing employers may not get together on collective bargaining policy on such things as wages and hours.

The only exception is for those employing fewer than 100 people in plants less than 50 miles apart.

The bill already had similar limitations on unions.

Rep. Kersten (R-Wis.) proposed adding employers, to balance the bill. It was approved by a voice vote.

Some technicality could prevent a final vote before tomorrow.

But Chairman Hartley (R-NY) of the labor committee, in command of the bill, offered to bet a new hat that the House would approve it by late afternoon. The Senate may get down to action on its own, softer measure next week. An eventual compromise will have to be worked out.

The House bill got over three big humps yesterday when the House refused to:

Outlaw the union shop, which lets an employer hire anybody but requires new workers to join the union later.

Permit industry-wide collective bargaining on a national scale. Company-wide dickering by unions would be permitted.

Lift a ban on employer donations to welfare and health funds controlled by unions.

This was the general picture:

1. Rep. Arens (R-Ill.) the party whip in charge of lining up votes told a reporter a complete check showed 22 out of 245 Republicans planned to ballot against the bill. Previously he had figured 18 or 20.

2. The 187 Democrats were split, apparently about 50-50.

3. Rep. Lesinski (R-Mich.) top Democrat on the labor committee said the opposition is concentrating its skimp strength behind a last-minute motion to send the bill back to the committee. The objective there would be to take out the ban on industry-wide bargaining and put in a provision for further study of labor-management issues.

Wallace Thanked By Members Of Parliament

London.—(AP)—A letter signed by 111 members of Parliament, more than 100 of them Laborites, thanked Henry A. Wallace today for "the contribution you have made during your visit to Anglo-American understanding and to cause of world peace."

Wallace was handed the letter, whose signers included four lords, shortly before leaving for Scandinavia to continue a speaking tour pleading for "the century of the common man" and "unity of the world for peace."

The signers constituted about one-sixth of the House of Commons membership of 460 and included Knool Zilliac and other Socialist "rebels" who have opposed the labor government on foreign policy and conscription. William Gallagher, one of the two Communists in the House, was one of the signers.

A Liberal Education

In Which A Columnist Reports On What He Saw And Heard While Perched In A Seat Of The House Gallery; Warm-Up Debating On GOP Labor Bill

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington.—(AP)—Being in the House gallery this week is an education in Congress at work.

The House has been debating its new labor bill to restrict unions and expected to pass it today.

It was a cinch to pass. The Republicans, with the help of some Democrats, have had enough votes to slam it through with ease.

Since congressmen have plenty of work to do, besides listening to debates or taking part in them, usually only a handful of the 435 members are on the floor at one time.

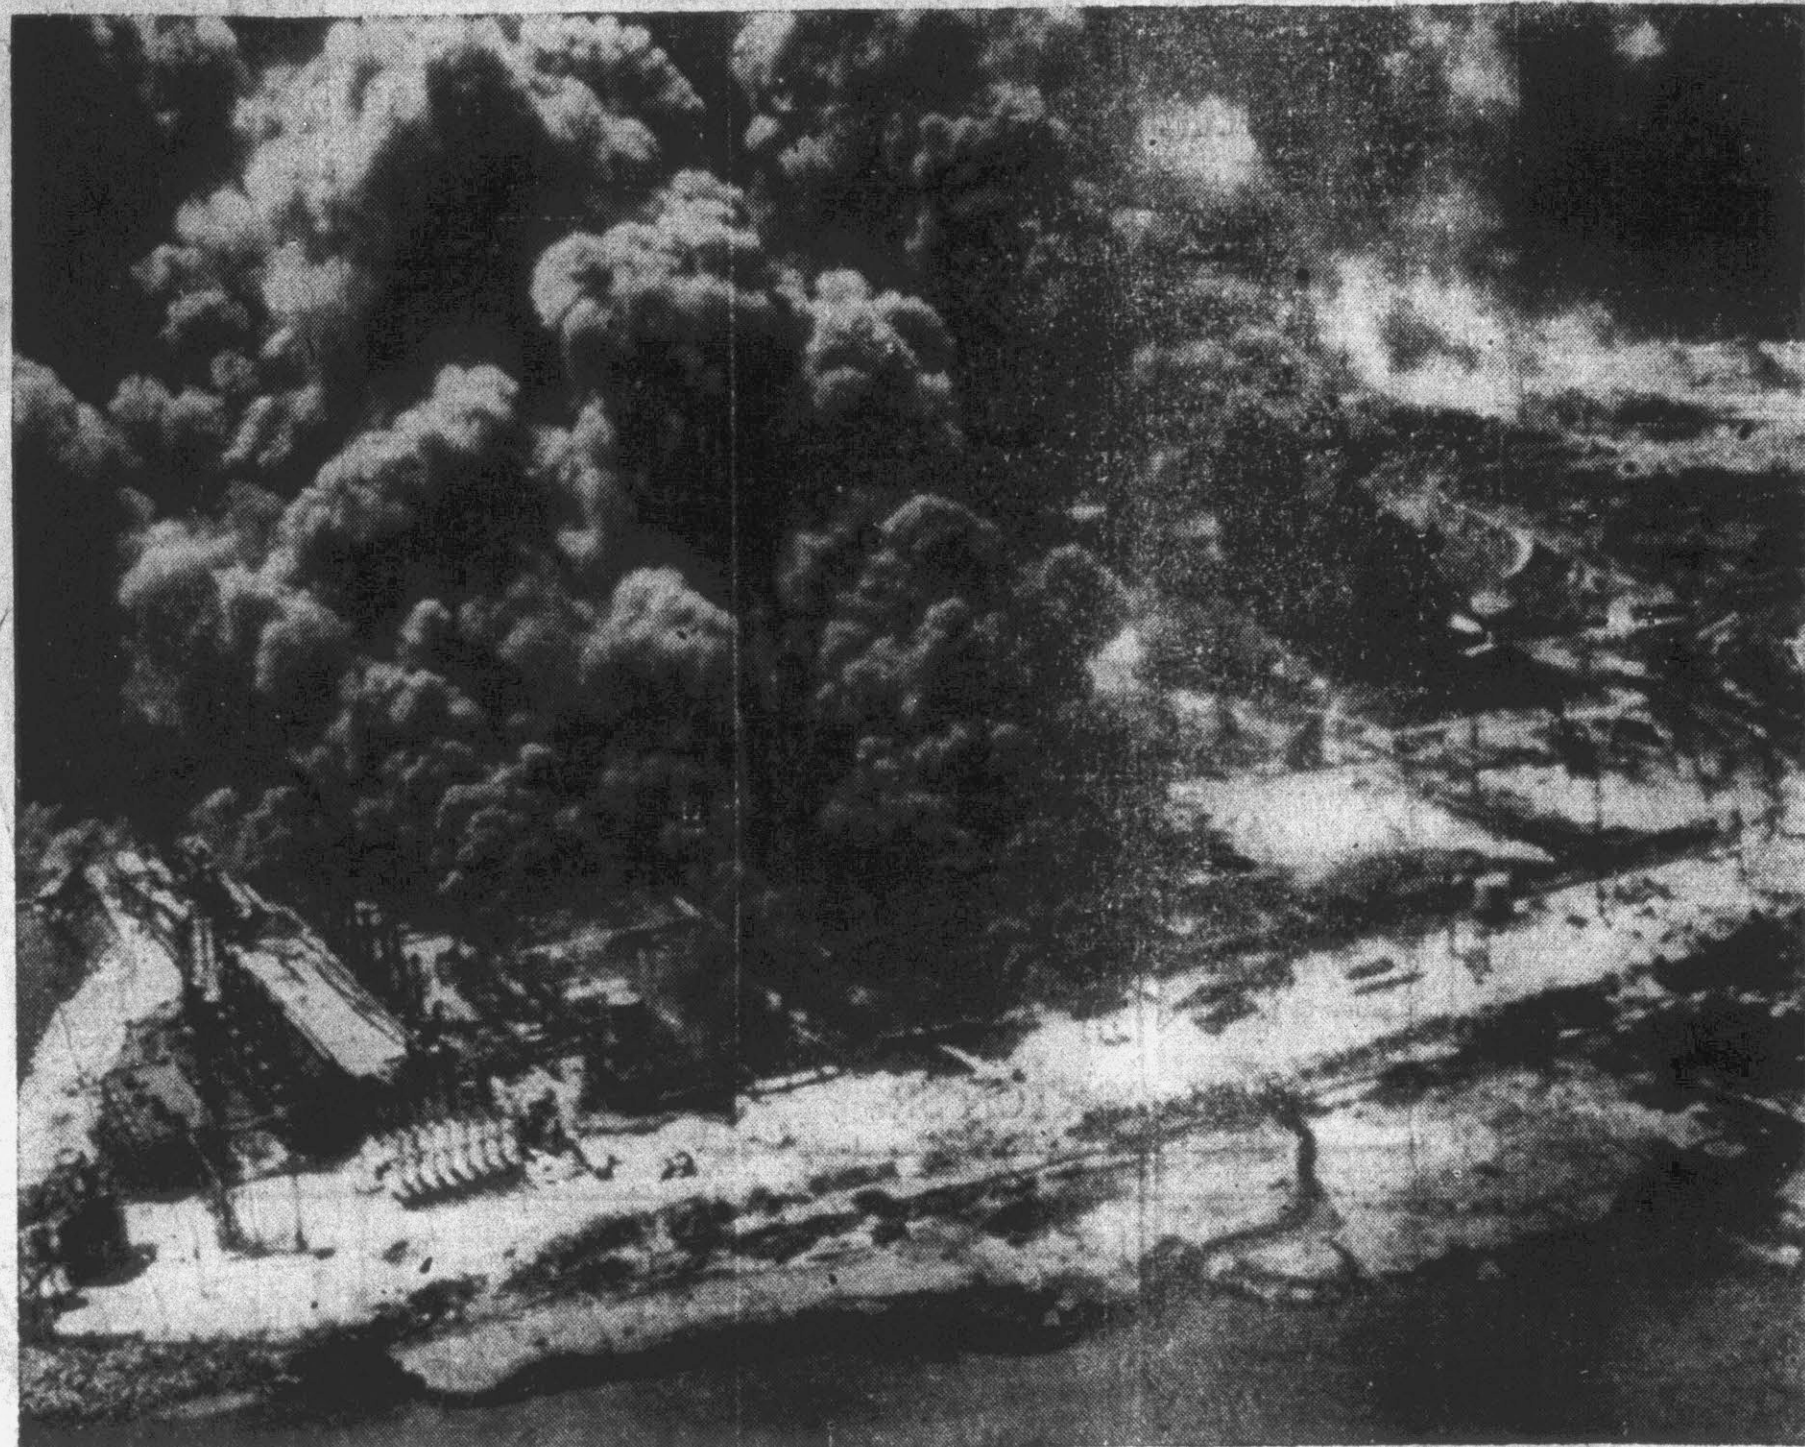

This week they pretty well jammed the floor, sitting all afternoon listening or arguing.

Much of the debate has been bitter, tart, sarcastic. And it's been shot through with politics.

Most of the time congressmen try to be polite to one another but a woman this week startled them with one of the most frank statements about another member heard in the place for years.

This was when Mrs. Mary Norton, New Jersey Democrat, cut loose on Fred A. Hartley, Jr., a Re-

Explosions And Fire Destroy Texas City Killing Hundreds

Above is an aerial view of Texas City, Texas, following a series of explosions yesterday morning that took hundreds of lives and injured more than 1,000 persons. The initial explosion occurred aboard a ship in the harbor. The picture shows columns of smoke fed by raging fires and gives a graphic picture of the worst catastrophe reported in America in the past 10 years. Early this morning the death toll had been estimated as high as 1,200. Property damage was counted in the millions of dollars.

Last Days Of Wartime Agencies Now At Hand

Pres. Truman Prepares To Wipe Out Three Major Emergency Control Offices; May Issue Order Today Or Tomorrow

Washington.—(AP)—President Truman was reported readying an executive order today to wipe out three major wartime emergency agencies and transfer rent controls from OPA to the Housing Expediter.

Officials familiar with a tentative draft of the order said it will complete liquidation of the Office of Price Administration, the Civilian Production Administration and the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion.

It also would put the skids under the Office of Temporary Controls, the agency set up last December to start the liquidation process.

Budget Bureau officials said the order "may be issued today or tomorrow."

Congress already had tabbed OTC and its sub-groups for liquidation by June 30. By issuing the executive order quickly, the President could beat that deadline by weeks.

Also Mr. Truman could put into effect ahead of a final congressional vote.

"Little Hope"

Copenhagen, April 17.—(AP)—An official bulletin said today that King Christian X, who suffered a heart attack on Easter Sunday, had spent a quiet night and that his condition generally was unchanged.

Crown Prince Frederik told a cabinet council yesterday that the king was "little hope" for the 76-year-old monarch's recovery and physicians said his strength was dwindling.

C. M. JOHNSON IS CANDIDATE

Becomes First To Enter In Race For Governorship

Raleigh, N.C.—(AP)—First formal announcement of candidacy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination next year has been made here by State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson, who has held his present constitutional office since 1932.

Johnson, a veteran of the First World War, said he planned to remain for a while at least as treasurer.

In his announcement he said that in addition to his service as state treasurer, he had obtained much knowledge of local governmental problems through his direction of the local government commission. He said he would not go into detail now as to his program but that "above all, we must protect and provide for the needs of our children through a wise and adequate program of health and education."

Psychiatrists Pass Chandler

Boston.—(AP)—Three psychiatrists have reported to Federal Judge Francis J. W. Ford that Douglas Chandler, 54-year-old native of Chicago, is mentally fit to stand trial for treason.

The report was given to the court yesterday by Dr. Clarence A. Bonner of the Massachusetts State hospital at Danvers, one of three court-appointed alienists to check the defendant's mental capacity. Dr. Bonner said Chandler was given a lengthy examination.

Chandler and Robert Best, 51, a native of Sumter, S. C., were indicted here in December on charges of "unlawful, traitorous and treasonable conduct" in broadcasting over German radio between 1941 and May, 1945.

LEWIS ASSAILS KRUG CHARGE

Denies UMW Failed To Cooperate In Mine Safety Laws

Washington.—(AP)—John L. Lewis is declared today that Secretary of Interior Krug uttered "a falsehood" in charging the United Mine Workers with a lack of cooperation in the coal mine safety measures.

"That is one of Krug's characteristic clubs—a falsehood," the UMW leader told the Senate Public Land Committee after Senator Dworshak (R-Idaho) read to him part of Krug's testimony at an earlier hearing.

The committee is investigating the Centralia, Ill. mine blast March 25 which killed 111 men. Lewis reiterated today the disaster was "due to the negligence" of Krug, boss of the government-seized pits.

Beirne Working For Settlement During Week

Washington.—(AP)—Joseph A. Beirne said today he is seeking a settlement of the telephone strike this week but called for "courage" in union ranks if the walkout is prolonged.

Beirne, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, conceded to reporters that the strike will begin to tell on idle, payless workers if the dispute extends beyond Monday.

The strike leader outlined to news men what he had told a mass meeting of hundreds of striking members of the Washington Telephone and Traffic union, NFWA affiliate in Turners' Arena. Reporters were not admitted to the meeting.

"We're working toward a settlement this week," Beirne said.

"If we don't settle by Monday our people will still be out on strike but some of them may want to go back to work."

The 340,000 strikers over the nation will have to exercise "courage" to maintain their walkout, he added.

Season Tickets

Secretary Dave C. Moore, Jr. of the Greenville Baseball Club, announced today that 1947 season tickets for home games of the Greenville "Greensies" will go on sale Friday.

Quite a number of Greenville fans purchased season tickets last year, and club officials expect the demand this year will be even greater. The season ticket not only affords each fan convenience by not having to stand in line to buy a ticket, but there is also a saving in the price. The ticket is transferable. Fans are requested to watch advertisements in Friday's Reflector for full information.

Stricken City Reels To More Explosions

Thunderous Blasts And Billowing Smoke Add To Horror And Misery Of Hard Hit Texas City

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

Texas City, Texas.—(AP)—The new ship explosions today that sharpened the sorrow and misery of this stricken city looked like a giant sky rocket, coming as they did, 13 hours after twin blasts took hundreds of lives and injured thousands. It further stunned and dazed the weary citizens.

At dawn searchlights still probed crumpled steel and debris that covers uncounted scores of bodies. The blanket of black billowing smoke over the city is heavier than ever, the result of several new oil refinery fires caused by the newest explosions of the vessel flying high.

Just after 1 a.m. I walked into a downtown store building where the casualty toll was being tabulated by six men. I closed the door behind me and a terrific explosion shook the building and brought plaster from the ceiling.

One man dived under a table another hit the floor, a third rolled up against the front door, blocking it.

Two seconds later came a second thunderous blast. I yanked the door open, pushing the man out of the way and plunged into the street in a vacant lot. I watched red-hot steel streaming into the sky. A fiery black cloud climbed to 2,000 feet. The steel fragments pinged on the sidewalk and pavement.

In the dock area the jagged pieces were falling like rain.

Fifteen seconds after the second explosion rescue work got underway. A loudspeaker across from the city hall came to life with a man at the microphone profanely urging action. A siren wailed and then there was a chorus of wails and Houston, Tex.—(AP)—The weary and the injured of the Texas City disaster began arriving in Houston last night—evacuees seeking refuge in a city without death.

Forty of them, some carrying babies in arms, arrived aboard a 21-car train, but the refugees filled little more than one car.

"I don't know why more didn't come. They sort of seemed to be in a daze down there and didn't know whether to leave or not," Miss Eddie Norris, about 40, said.

She slipped from the train to one of 14 waiting buses that whisked the evacuees to the City Auditorium for medical attention. Coffee and sandwiches—free.

Philip Flores, 20-year-old water-front worker, said countless other Texas City residents were coming to Houston by truck.

"Somehow, they didn't seem to want to ride the train," Flores said. Soldiers, Red Cross workers, auxiliary police and others were on hand to care for the evacuees.

The city had 2200 cots at the auditorium. Acting City Manager W. B. Collier said.

The almost empty refugee train was a surprise to waiting officials. Hundreds of sympathetic Houstonians called police and newspapers to offer homes for the evacuees.

Britain also was reported opposed to granting committee representation to either Jews or Arabs. The committee's task will be to sift all available information on the Palestine problem and make recommendations to the regular assembly session meeting in September.

Under the British plan, the committee would comprise about a dozen small powers who have little or no direct interest in the highly controversial question, so that it could avoid the "rescue" which might result in interested parties were represented.

Flames Still Rise Over Tragic City

SEE PORTENTS OF STRIKE BY STEEL UNION

"No Contract, No Work" Attitude; Ne- gotiators Are Far Apart

Pittsburgh.—(AP)—Stickers proclaiming "no contract, no work" are appearing on steel workers' automobiles these days and a few have even been plastered in the United Steelworkers' offices here—possible portents of a major steel strike after April 30.

That's the expiration date of the present contract extension between the CIO union and the United States Steel Corp. The original pact ran out Feb. 15 but was extended by mutual agreement.

The steelworkers, who have given no official blessing to the strike campaign, explained the seals were brought here earlier in the week by Chicago members of the steelworkers' committee negotiating a new wage contract with "Big Steel."

The seals, borrowing a line often used by the nation's miners, read simply: "Deadline April 30—No contract... no work."

An official pronouncement on the negotiation with U.S. Steel and the other steel makers will be forthcoming next Monday through the union's wage and policy committee which will ratify proposals made

Austrian Treaty Tied Up Over Refugee Problem

Moscow.—(AP)—The Council of Foreign Ministers failed tonight to break a deadlock over re-transfer of displaced persons from Austria. The United States, Britain and France refused to accept a Soviet demand that these persons be expelled within six months from the date the Austrian treaty takes effect.

U. S. Secretary of State Marshall urged the handling of some 500,000 displaced persons in Austria in accordance with the resolution adopted by the United Nations General Assembly last autumn over Soviet objection.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky, deputy designated by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to argue the question, said the Russians had not agreed to that resolution, and added that the U. N. action was supposed to apply only to Germany.

Marshall charged that this, in effect, was the use of the veto of a U. N. General Assembly decision.

Parley Break-Up Is New Guessing Game

Moscow.—(AP)—Guesses on when the Moscow conference of the big four will end ranged today from the middle of next week to the middle of next month.

Authoritative sources in the Russian capital said Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain and Secretary of State George C. Marshall would like to depart about the middle of next week and reports circulated that the British already had ordered a special train for about that time.

The telephone company had no immediate comment.

It Takes Optimism

Peace Misaid Somewhere At The Moscow Conference But Isn't Irretrievably Lost; Future Relations With Russia Depend On Stalin's Future Plans

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

It takes something akin to chronic optimism to enable one to view the Moscow conference in any other way than "through a glass, darkly."

Still, speaking as one who has his pessimistic times, it strikes me that this shouldn't be allowed to become a moment of despair. Peace certainly has been mislaid, but it isn't necessarily lost irretrievably. There is a chance—perhaps with the odds against it—that the latest developments may mark the extreme swing of the pendulum toward disaster and that the return-swing may set in.

One gets encouragement for this viewpoint from a statement in the Senate yesterday by Senator Vandenberg, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee. After saying that the only hope of peaceful agreement with Russia is to make it plain to her that "there is a deadline of ideals beyond which we will not retreat," he expressed the belief that there is a chance for the United States and Russia to find a basis "upon which to live and let live in this world."

Much—indeed, perhaps everything—depends on the ultimate action which may be produced by that private ninety minute talk Tuesday night between Premier Stalin and General Marshall. If we could have lifted the roof of the Kremlin and listened in, we should be in better position to judge how the battle goes.

So far as concerns the parley of the Big Four foreign ministers, it has encountered nothing but grief in attempts to write a German treaty—the most important step in the reconstruction of peace. Over the tortuous road of failure the conferees finally arrived at the American-sponsored plan for a forty year, four-power pact to keep Germany disarmed. This disarmament was the one thing on which all had agreed at the outset—but the proposal flopped.

John Hightower, AP correspondent with the U.S. delegation, reported that one "high American source" said it was "the most depressing development in international relations in this world."

Death Toll Currently Estimated At 650, With 3,000 Injured; Governor Declares State Of Emergen- cy; Fire Threatens High Octane Gas Tanks; Residents Returning

By the Associated Press
Texas City, Tex.—(AP)—Gov. Beauford Jester issued a proclamation declaring a state of emergency in explosion-shattered Texas City today, even as reassured residents who had fled the city began returning to their homes.

The governor, in his proclamation issued at Austin, outlined steps to be taken to keep the situation under control in the stricken city.

Meanwhile, firefighters massed to smother flames in oil tanks which still threatened to ignite other tanks of high octane gas.

J. H. Hill, deputy mayor appointed by Mayor J. C. Trahan, to aid him in the emergency said water and light utilities were back in operation. He said there was no further fear of water contamination.

He would not estimate the damage done to Texas City by the five terrific explosions yesterday and today. He said it was too early to attempt it.

The death toll remained at an estimated 650, with 3,000 injured, according to Dr. Clarence Quinn, medical coordinator appointed by Mayor Trahan. Gov. Jester said the Red Cross had reported that 364 have been embalmed, 400 were positively known to be dead, and another 200 to 250 were believed dead.

The wind, blowing from the north last night, had subsided and billowing smoke from burning oil at noon was rising in swirling columns straight above the fires.

Earlier plans to use demolition equipment to halt the spread of fire was abandoned at noon, Hill said.

"We won't try it at this time. We see no need for it."

He said four major fuel storage tanks had been extinguished, but even as he made the report to Hal Boyle, Associated Press writer, there was a fresh shower of smoke and flames roaring skyward. Reports circulated that a new tank had collapsed and caught fire.

Hill said the city would be sprayed with DDT by planes as a protective measure.

This morning Deputy Constable Herbert Whitmore had said that all of Texas City was in danger. Hill

Union Charges Strike Breakers Are Employed

Atlanta.—(AP)—The Southern Federation of Telephone Workers said today Attorney General Clegg had been asked to investigate the union's contention that the Southern Bell Telephone Company is bringing "strike breakers" across state lines.

The union released for republication a telegram which it said Henry Meyer, chief counsel for the National Federation of Telephone Workers, had sent. Clark offering to substantiate charges that the telephone company had brought "strike breakers" across state lines contrary to the Byrnes law.

The telephone company had no immediate comment.

Inter Se Club
Speaking on the life and works of Sholem Asch, Mrs. P. D. Duncan gave a most delightful presentation of her subject. Author of "The Nazarene," "The Apostle," "East River," and other novels which are best sellers, Mr. Asch is also a well known dramatist and short story writer. In fact, he "is by far the most prolific and widely known Yiddish writer of our day."

Reading from his only group of short stories which has been edited in English, "Children of Abraham," Mrs. Duncan was contagious in her enthusiasm about him. Some of his outstanding characteristics as a writer were revealed in the selections read. "All of his writing is nationalistic and moralistic in tone. It is full of the drama of everyday people and everyday living. He is most gifted in describing Patriarchal Jewish life, and he writes with understanding of the joys of the Jewish devotion as well as the martyrdom of his people."

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Sam B. Underwood, Jr., presided over a short business meeting. Mrs. W. A. Brown was hostess to the club. Following the order of business, Mrs. Brown invited the guests into the dining room where Mrs. F. P. Brooks graciously served an ice course. Other dainties were served; the group enjoyed a lovely social hour together.

Hostess to Bridge Club
Mrs. Charles Alfred Forbes was hostess to members of the bi-monthly bridge club on Thursday evening at her home near Stokes.

High score went to Mrs. Marvin Barnhill and Mrs. Gordon Clark with low score.

The living room was decorated with spring flowers.

Cold drinks were served during progressions. After the game a delicious ice course was served. Members present were Mesdames Everett Knight, Gordon Clark, Elmer Parker, Franklin Roebuck, Frances Van Dyke, Clifford Whichard, Larry Barnhill, Tracey Barnhill, Marvin Barnhill, H. P. Congleton and Miss Rebecca Cherry. Mrs. Francis Norris was a guest.

The Round Table Entertained
Mrs. J. W. Higgs delightfully entertained the Ladies of the Round Table on Tuesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Helene Higgs Kirkpatrick, on Evans street. The home was attractively decorated with spring flowers. After a short business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. D. H. Conley, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. D. S. Spain, Jr. She gave a very interesting talk on "Japan, Today and Tomorrow." She described Japan as a land in which nature is beautiful everywhere, and the sense of beauty is universal among the people. She told about the American occupation and McArthur's work, and said that it would take 20 years for the Japanese people to know what democracy is.

Mrs. E. E. Rawl gave the news.

Employers To File Quarterly Tax Returns This Month

April is the month for all employers to file their payroll tax returns for January, February, and March of 1947. At the time this return is filed, you are responsible employee. If you do not have each of their account numbers you should take steps to obtain such numbers immediately. The employer also includes in his tax report the name of the employee and the amount of wages paid to each during the first three months of this year.

The tax rate is still one cent on the dollar. At each pay period the employer withholds one cent on the dollar of the employee's wages. You withhold one per cent also from your own payroll. At the end of the quarter, you send it to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

The Social Security Administration has a record of all wages paid to each employee. This record is used to determine the amount of benefits due him when he reaches 65 years of age, or to his family when he dies.

The employer sends his quarterly tax return to the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Greensboro, N.C. Then the amount of earnings of each employee is sent to the Accounting Division of the Social Security Administration, where the wages are credited to the employee's account.

The Well Baby Clinic, sponsored by Emmanuel Methodist Church, Philadelphia, Pa., has been interfaith in sponsorship since its founding by the Rev. John J. Buchanan, the pastor, and Dr. Herman Hirsch, former army doctor of the Jewish faith. The National Council of Jewish Women provides a proportion of the financial budget of the clinic, and two members of the organization give time as volunteer workers in the keeping of records. The nurse is a member of the Roman Catholic Church. Friends of all faiths have donated to the project. The small patients represent several nationalities, coming from Polish, Irish and Ukrainian homes. Some of the babies are brought to the clinic from the Negro section of nearby Fairmount.

Miss Yuboa Dju, the first social worker attached to silk filatures and other textile factories in Wush, Kiangsu Province, China, and a pioneer in industrial welfare for workers and their children there, is now in the United States as an exchange consultant under invitation by the U. S. Department of Labor. Miss Dju prepared for her work at Gungling Christian College, Nanking, China; and later studied at Columbia University, and at the School For International Studies in Geneva, Switzerland.

As a "missionary of reconciliation" from Japan to the United States, the Rev. Mrs. Tamaki Uemura, of Tokyo, Japan is now touring the churches of America under the auspices of the women of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. Mrs. Uemura, an ordained minister of the United Church in Japan, and one of its outstanding preachers, is the first citizen of Japan to be permitted by General MacArthur to leave the country. She has been warmly greeted wherever she has spoken.

At Nanking, Peiping, and other student centers in China where the cost of living is about 10,000 times that of pre-war days in Chinese dollars, malnutrition and vitamin deficiencies are taking heavy toll among youth. A recent physical examination of 275 women students at Yenching University, Peking, showed that 103 had low blood pressure, 67 had trachoma, and 24 had pulmonary tuberculosis.

ECTC Science Club Elect New Officers

Members of the Science club at East Carolina Teachers college have elected officers to direct the activities of the club during the 1947-1948 school term. Audrey Freezer of Lexington, sophomore, is the new president of the organization. Other officers include Josie Joyner of Shapshurg, vice president; Lola P. Stephenson of Willow Springs, secretary-treasurer; and Floyd R. Collins of Cerro Gordo, public relations director.

"Small World" Not So Small Says Flier

Washington—(AP)—Milton Reynolds, who made a round-the-world flight in less than 79 hours, said today "whoever says it's a small world hasn't gone around it lately."

The Chicago manufacturer talked with reporters at the White House after receiving the congratulations of President Truman for himself, Capt. William P. Odum, pilot, and Carroll (Tex) Sallee, engineer, on the flight.

Revises Opinion Of GI Behavior

Tokyo—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Robert J. Eichelberger, who sharply reprimanded his Eighth Army troops a year ago for criminal behavior, praised current American GIs today as among the best he had seen.

"I've known a lot of American soldiers in the last 42 years," Eichelberger told an informal press conference, "but this is the best show I've seen."

The Eighth Army commander who led Australian troops in early phases of the Buna campaign, added that "I never expect to see a finer fighting man than the Australian soldier."

Rep. Vogler To Run For Office

Charlotte, N. C.—(AP)—Rep. James B. Vogler of Mecklenburg county said today "I am definitely planning to announce my candidacy for the office of state treasurer in the near future."

Vogler has served in the General Assembly for 10 years. He said he would make formal announcement of his candidacy for treasurer possibly within a week.

He is executive secretary of the North Carolina Food Dealers Association.

Greeks Fail To Trap Leftist Guerrillas

Athens—(AP)—Rumors circulated in Athens today that the Greek army operation against leftist guerrillas in the Pindus mountains of northern Greece was doomed to failure and a usually reliable source declared that many guerrillas had escaped a trap set for them.

"We'll be fortunate to trap 400, where we anticipated the seizure of 1,500," one office was quoted as saying.

Schwellenbach Holds Up Action

Washington—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and his top conciliators indicated today they will hold off another 24 hours before making any new move to end the telephone strike.

"We'll see what develops from the company and union first," said one key figure in the federal efforts to unsmother the nationwide tie-up, now in its eleventh day.

Both the striking National Federation of Telephone Workers and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company—parent of the Bell System—held aloof from Schwellenbach's plan for arbitrating the scores of local issues and ten basic demands which led to the strike.

Partially Lift Strict Curfew

Jerusalem—(AP)—British authorities ordered today a partial lifting of the strict curfew which had held more than 500,000 of Palestine's Jews under virtual house arrest since the hanging of four Jewish extremists yesterday morning at Acre Prison.

There was no relaxation of vigilance, however, on the part of the military, who remained alert for the first sign of retaliatory measures which the Jewish underground had promised in the event any of its members were executed.

PIN-WORM MYSTERY ENDED

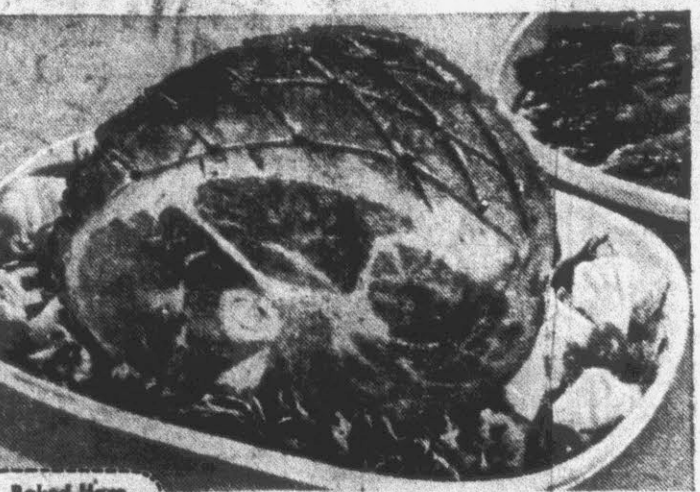

Pin-Worms have been causing trouble for centuries, and millions of victims have desperately sought a way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body. Science has at last solved the problem! It is now also known that Pin-Worm infection spreads rapidly and can cause real distress if neglected. So beware of that aggravating rectal itch, and act fast. Ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P-W at the first sign of Pin-Worms. P-W is a medical sound treatment based on an officially approved drug principle. The easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms easily and safely. It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Wilson's Weekly Bulletin By George Rector

Food Consultant to Wilson & Co.
Let Meals Sing of Spring
The magic touch of Spring is upon us. Sunday meals as well as every day meals need to keep in step. Bright colors, zesty flavors, new ideas spell renewed interest in cooking... in eating... in living.

Baked Ham (Sund End)
Place half of a Wilson's Certified Ham, fat side up, on a rack in a shallow baking pan. Bake in a slow oven, 300°F., 25 min. per lb. If a meat thermometer is used, insert the bulb to the center of the largest muscle, being careful not to let it touch a bone. Bake until internal temperature reaches 155°F. If you wish to glaze the ham, remove it from the oven half an hour before it is done, peel off the skin and score the fat in diamond shapes with a sharp knife. Dot with cloves, sprinkle with brown sugar and return to a 350°F. oven to brown.

Melody for Spring
Keep your menu in tune with the season. Start with a fresh fruit cocktail, then bring on the baked Certified Ham, parsley buttered potatoes, asparagus bundles topped with pimiento strips, tossed vegetable salad and hot crescent rolls. Mint ice cream with a touch of chocolate sauce will finish the meal in perfect harmony.
Pineapple chunks tipped with marshmallow cherries and bits of curly endive give the main dish extra eye appeal.

Repeat Performance
Leftover ham is delicious when scalloped. Combine 1 1/2 cups diced, cooked Certified Ham with 4 hard cooked Clear Brook Eggs (sliced), 1 cup diced, cooked celery and 2 cups medium white sauce (made of 4 tbs. Certified Margarine or Clear Brook Butter, 4 tbs. flour and 2 cups milk and water from cooking celery). Top with buttered crumbs and bake at 375°F., 20 to 25 minutes.
Grind smaller pieces of ham coarsely and add to scrambled eggs. Makes a mighty tasty breakfast. Add grated onion and diced green pepper and, presto, it's a luncheon dish you'll be proud to serve.

Snack Scoop
Sandwich time is any time whether it's noon, tea time or midnight. If you've been looking for a snappy treat, you'll like this delectable ham and cheese spread. Combine 1 can Certified Baked Ham, 1 cup grated Certified American Cheese, 2 tsp. catch-up, 1 tsp. prepared mustard, and 2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce. Spread on bread, Melba toast, fingers or crackers and broil until slightly browned, about 5 min. This amount spreads 7 or 8 slices of bread. Grand either as a sandwich or canape spread.

Sincerely,
George Rector

IS THERE GOOD IN DENOMINATIONALISM?
People often speak of the disgrace of denominationalism. It is indeed a disappointing matter that the disciples of Christ do not agree more readily than they appear to. The tragedy becomes even greater when we realize that for the most part Christians are separated by nonessentials and that so far as the great emphasis of the faith are concerned, they are practically in agreement.

But there is one aspect of denominationalism -- a good aspect -- which we sometimes fail to observe. Every denomination emphasizes some aspect of the faith above all others. The members of a particular denomination may find themselves in complete agreement with the rest of their brethren on most matters, but there are some aspects of the faith which to them appear particularly important, and these they point out and delineate. One denomination emphasizes personal experience; another, the Sacraments; another, the sovereignty of God; another, religious liberty. Perhaps if we gave up our denominationalism, we might lose a sense of the importance of each of these things.

This is not to say that some sort of church union would not be beneficial. Certainly it would. But it would not be beneficial if it had to be purchased at the cost of sterile and stifling uniformity. If we swept diversity utterly away, our agreement might bring us to darkness instead of to light, to death instead of to renewal.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington.—Miss Frances Johnson was 63 years old a few weeks ago.

"I'm not exactly a debutante, you know, but I'll tell you something," she says with a laugh as bell-clear as that of a lass of 16. "I'm having a grand time when most old ladies are sitting in black satin, rocking back and forth on the porches of old ladies' homes."

Miss Johnson, a pioneer in photography some 53 years ago, is still actively engaged in that profession. She has come to Washington, her birthplace, from New Orleans to enter a collection of her latest works in an exhibit here with three other outstanding photographers.

Most of the Johnson exhibit is comprised of selections from a work she began 15 years ago—recording the Old South in photographs. This work, which is bringing her sizable dividends, has taken her through Virginia, Georgia, Mississippi, the Carolinas and Louisiana.

Of such fine quality are her photographs the Library of Congress is incorporating her original negatives in its Pictorial Archives of Early American Architecture.

Before returning to New Orleans, where she has bought a home in the "Vieux Carré," the camera artist plans to photograph in color the gardens of Charleston in bloom.

Miss Johnson went to Paris to study art after completing her schooling here. Upon her return she entered journalism and became the first news photographer in the Capital.

She couldn't quite make up her mind as to whether I should report she had started out in the Benjamin Harrison administration. She was afraid such a revelation would "date me too definitely."

Cameras were just being introduced to the public. Miss Johnson wrote to George Eastman of the Eastman Kodak Co. in Rochester, N. Y., her mother's home town.

"I asked him to please send me a shadow box," she says.

She got the kodak immediately and began making photographic history.

When Admiral Dewey was returning with his flagship, the Olympia, fresh from his Manila triumph in 1898, Miss Johnson went to Naples to meet him. To the dignified old admiral she presented a card from Theodore Roosevelt, then governor of New York.

"I had enough Natural Chilean Nitrate last year to sidedress about one-third of my cotton. We had a very dry August and the cotton that wasn't sidedressed turned yellow and lost a good many leaves. The sidedressed cotton stayed green and the bolls were bigger. It was the same effect I used to get with a nitrate potash sidedressing. I suppose the sodium in the Chilean Nitrate acted about like potash does."

SURGERY FOR CRIME "CURE"

Doctors Grant Burglar's Request For Brain Operation

Pittsburgh—(AP)—The brain operation on an off-convicted burglar requested as a means of ridding himself of criminal tendencies has been performed and pronounced a surgical success.

The operation was performed yesterday upon Millard Wright, 35, who petitioned Allegheny county courts for permission.

Wright, father of two children, is awaiting sentence for a series of burglaries. Convicted many times in a criminal record dating back to 1923, Wright could be sentenced to life under the habitual criminal act.

"I hope this turns out all right," he said as he was wheeled into the operating room. He was under the knife three hours. He was in good spirits today and ate a hearty meal.

The operation was performed gratis by Dr. Yale David Koskoff as a court behavior clinic psychiatrist watched. In the surgery, the front part of the brain is separated from the rest.

The operation is not rare. It has been performed frequently with considerable success in mental institutions. The Wright case, however, is the first in this area in which a criminal sought the operation.

The mental results will take time to determine.

Embassy Staff In Moscow Attacked

Berlin—(AP)—Armond D. Willis, erstwhile United States information officer in Russia, says members of the American embassy staff in Moscow "are building their reputations and their careers on being Russian-haters."

This, Willis declared here was one reason he resigned the post in Moscow he had held since last September. He said another was that staff members had objected to his releases. He was interviewed on his way home.

"You can't be in the Moscow embassy five minutes before you hear some vicious crack about Russians," Willis said, referring to the staff as "a bunch of pixies."

Concord Man Is Bundy Successor

Raleigh, N. C.—(AP)—At the closing session of the 160th annual communication of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina last night Luther T. Hartsell, Jr., of Concord, was elected Grand Master of Masons in North Carolina succeeding William J. Bundy of Greenville.

Dr. Maxwell E. Hoffman, Asheville, was elected deputy grand master; Wilkins P. Horton, Pittsboro, senior grand warden; Dr. Wallace E. Caldwell, Chapel Hill, junior grand warden; Herbert C. Alexander, P. O. M., Charlotte, grand treasurer; and Wilbur L. McIver, Raleigh, grand secretary.

A Clean Farm Is A Safe Farm
Spring clean-up on the farm is like giving the farm a new suit of clothes or a new dress. It is a spring tonic. A check upon debris accumulation, says the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the National Fire Protection Association cooperating, will expose many unsightly places that are also accident and fire hazards on farms.
Poor housekeeping means letting trash and old furniture accumulate in attics, sheds, barns and out buildings and all too often this is where fire hazards are in hiding. These fire hazards may be oily rags, or frayed electric cords, or even cobwebs and dust gathered on electrical switch boxes and lamps. A spring clean-up will eliminate all these and make the farm a safer and healthier place.
A paint job too may be in order to complete the spring tonic. When this is accomplished it is easier to keep the farm in top working condition with everything in its place and a place for everything.—Anelia S. Capehart, Negro Home Demonstration Agent.

GREENIES TRY OUT SENATORS

Test Power Against Class B Team Tonight; Rains Hamper Drill

By BERT MOYE

The Greenville Greenies, growing restless after five days of idleness caused by April rains, are anxious to meet tonight the Harrisburg Senators nine, a Class "B" team, trained by Lester Bell, formerly of the St. Louis Cardinals. The game will begin promptly at 7:30 p.m. tonight at Guy Smith Stadium.

The two-game series with Clinton Monday and Wednesday was washed out as was Sunday's game with the Harrisburg Senators.

Manager Johnnie Pare has 21 ball players now, and he is allowed to carry 18 for the first 30 days of the season, hence there will not be much cutting down prior to next week, it was noted. Many of the hopefuls here for tryouts have not had a fair chance due to the rainy weather, and Pare wants to be sure before too many releases are issued that he is retaining the best possible men.

Pare plans to use Fraker, Lynch, Collier and Bobbie Pare in the infield. Catching will be handled by Yeagle and Simmons, and Manager Pare will probably play part of the game himself. The outfield will include Mauney, Dunkel, and Nessamar. Pitchers, who in all probability will see action in tonight's tilt, will include Johnny Foell, Rex Benton and Phil Redden.

SUNDAY THE DAY

The Greenies are scheduled to play the Harrisburg Senators here again on Saturday. On Sunday at 3 p.m. the Lexington Club of the N.C. State League will play here in an exhibition game.

The Greenies go to Wilmington Monday and Tuesday night play a return game here at 7:30 with the Wilmington Club.

On Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Guy Smith Stadium the Greenies will play the Smithfield club. Thursday will see the opening of the Coastal Plain League with Greenville going to Tarboro for the opening game and the two teams playing here on Friday night.

British Champion's Jaw Broken In Bout

Doncaster, England—(AP)—Bruce Woodcock's jaw was broken in his fight with American Heavyweight Joe Baksi Tuesday night, it was disclosed today. He is in a hospital here.

The British heavyweight champion lost by a technical knockout in the seventh round of the scheduled 10-round contest in London.

Tracksters Get Chance To Show Wares Friday

The GHS track team found too much water on the State College track Monday, and had to substitute a visit to the museum in place of running against Broughton High.

Nevertheless, the season will open for the local tracksters tomorrow afternoon at 3:45 on the field beside Smith Stadium. The seniors have been challenged to a dual meet by the high school boys who are not graduating this year. The only two lettermen are members of the senior team.

Lewis Evans, their sprint star, has been suffering a bad knee while Henry Turner will run in the 880 or the mile or both.

Other possible stars on the graduating team are: Dave Clark in the 440 and hurdles; Doug Guthrie, discus; Van Moore, high jump; Charles Allen, broad jump; Willie J. Lewis, sprinter; Hogan Gaskins, who handles the weights.

Taylor, Tucker, Humber and Jackson are other runners on the senior squad.

Speedy Sideris has more experience than other members of the junior team. He is a low hurdler and distance runner. Sideris is a probable contestant in the 100, 220, hurdles and broad jump. Jimmy Tanner is the weight-man for the juniors.

Other runners include Bobby Fleming, William McGlohan, Jimmy Cox, Rex Guthrie and Dwight Garrett.

George Minshew will high jump and throw the javelin, Fred Joseph and Paul Stokes look best with the discus.

R. B. Starling is sponsor for the senior squad and Mr. Robinson will coach the junior team.

Musial's Lessons Pay Off For Marty Marion

By JACK HAND

Stan Musial's batting lessons to Marty Marion have paid off with the first St. Louis Cardinals victory of the season.

Coming up in the eighth inning of yesterday's only big league game, with the world champs sporting a slender 2-1 advantage over Cincinnati, Marion poled a two-run homer that assured George (Red) Mungler of his first win.

There have been years when Marion failed to hit a single homer in an entire campaign and he has hit only 17 out of the park in seven years. Last year his average slumped way off to .233 and there were stories that Mr. Shortstop was on the downgrade.

One day while Marion was taking batting practice in Florida, Musial, the 1946 batting king and most valuable player in the National League, caught a flaw in his stance.

"I think you would get a little more power if you didn't take such a wide stance," Musial advised his teammate. "I don't want you to think I'm butting in but it's a little trick that has helped me."

Mr. Shortstop took the advice to heart, changed his stance and started hitting with more authority. Now he's aiming for the fences.

It has been a long time since Marion went 4 for 4 like he did yesterday off Cincinnati's rookie pitcher, Ed Ertutt, when he bunched three singles with his clinching homer.

Musial tied the score with his first hit of the year, a homer into the right field bleachers. Enos Slaughter's double followed by Whitey Kurowski's single broke the tie. After Dick Sisler forced Kurowski, Marion came through with his clout to provide the clincher 4-1.

Louis Wants To Fight But Too Few Challengers

New York—(AP)—Joe Louis is tired of waiting and the Twentieth Century Sporting Club is tired of looking for "logical" contenders, so the field narrowed today to two heavyweights previously brushed off in the search for a challenger.

Joe Baksi's refusal to sign after his impressive seventh-round knockout of Bruce Woodcock in London Tuesday night left only Jersey Joe Walcott and Mello Bettina as possible Louis opponents for a June title match.

"It will have to be Walcott or Bettina now," said Sol Strauss, acting director of the Twentieth Century.

Cannon Murder Case Heard In Superior Court

By CHESTER WALSH
In Superior Court today, Leon Earl Cannon, Ayden retail merchant, who is charged with murder in connection with the shotgun slaying of his wife, Mrs. Theima Cannon, at their home in Ayden on January 20, submitted, through his attorney, a plea of second degree murder. Shortly afterwards Judge John J. Burney of Wilmington, presiding over the two-week criminal term, recessed court for lunch. Cannon's submission of the plea of guilty to second degree murder eliminated the need of a jury. After the midday recess, Judge Burney was hearing testimony of various witnesses as to the mental condition of the defendant.

Testimony at the coroner's inquest was that Cannon shot his wife in the kitchen of their Ayden home. A witness quoted Cannon as saying, shortly after the shooting, "She asked for it, and she got it." The case has attracted considerable public interest.

The case of Joseph E. Beaman of Farmville, found not guilty by a jury of driving his car while drunk in Greenville, developed unusual results. The judge expressed surprise that the jury did not return a verdict of guilty, and ordered the grand jury to indict him for perjury in connection with his testimony. The grand jury indicted Beaman.

At the trial Greenville Police Chief Jim Tanner and Detective George Crawford testified that Beaman was driving the car when they found it on the pavement on Dickinson Avenue.

Judge Burney ordered Beaman held under $5,000 bond. Beaman provided the $5,000 bond yesterday, two well known Farm-later today said this danger seemed passing.

The city's 15,000 residents had dwindled to about 1,000 today. A R. Duncan, Houston policeman, said. Many made homeless have moved to a nearby army camp and to Galveston, Houston and other towns. The fear of chlorine gas last night caused others to leave. A false rumor spread that an official evacuation order had been issued, and caused hundreds to move. The gas is still a threat today, and gas masks are worn.

Highways leading to Texas City are blocked and no one is allowed to enter the razed ghost town unless he is on official business. The weather was clear but cool, and blankets were being worn in Indian fashion by hundreds. The task of embalming the 223 bodies at the improvised morgue in the school gymnasium was completed early today. But more bodies are still being found and moved to the gymnasium. Lines of dazed citizens stand outside, waiting to enter a few at a time to identify relatives.

Only a few instances of looting were reported. Citizens signing the bond. Beaman was released from custody. He had been in jail several days.

Judge Burney was expected to pass sentences this afternoon on Julius Wilson, Negro, for assaulting with a pistol David Henry Station, Negro, and Katie Clyde Drake, elderly Negro woman of Greenville, for criminal abortion on Annie Lee Hines, 19-year-old Negro.

A jury today returned a verdict of guilty against James Porter, Negro, for larceny of a sum of money. He gave notice of appeal.

were reported. Highway patrolmen picked up a Negro last night. They found $6,000 in cash on him, and took him into custody. L. D. Romine, Red Cross official, said the major problem facing them today was the feeding of the homeless, and the rescue and relief workers. Financial aid was being given to the poor in hospitals and elsewhere by the Red Cross.

sional vote one change favored by the Senate Banking Committee. This is a proposal to shift rent control activities from OPA to the office of Housing Expediter Frank R. Creedon.

It further would have the effect of eliminating OPA, as such, from debate over the rent control extension legislation. However, the House Banking Committee is debating a bill to repeal the Putman Emergency Housing Act, which is administered by Creedon's office, and put rent controls on a local basis.

bill because in last November's election campaign they promised they'd come up with a labor bill. He blasted the Democrats. Then an 81-year old Democrat from Allen's own state — Rep. Adolph Sabath, the oldest congressman in length of service — jumped up.

He called the bill the most "vicious and restrictive" ever brought before the House.

Then he said the Republicans are trying to "strip labor of all organizational rights, while ignoring the collusive organizations of industry and business."

Sabath had hardly sat down, and it was a long attack on the Republicans he made, when one of the top Republicans took the floor.

This was Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, floor leader of the Republicans. He said the bill was the kind of bill "overwhelmingly demanded by the people of this country."

Right behind Halleck came Rep. Arthur Klein, a New York Democrat and a member of the labor committee. Klein and five other Democrats on the committee not only voted against the bill in committee, but condemned it.

Said Klein: "As a member of the committee on labor I can say that we have not adequately studied this problem of labor-management relations."

He said the bill was actually written by members of some of the biggest businessmen's associations in the country. All this took a great deal of time — was just a warm-up. This kind of talk continued but eventually the House members got down to examining the bill itself.

tional relations since the end of the war. Secretary Marshall bitterly blamed failure on Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov.

Then came the long awaited meeting between Generalissimo Stalin and General Marshall — two of the outstanding figures of our time, and both capable of being hard as nails. Hightower tells us that there was no doubt among those familiar with the secretary's plans that he probably had a "brass tacks talk" with Stalin, emphasizing the seriousness with which the United States views the present world situation.

The future likely depends on Stalin's response — not necessarily on his immediate answer to Marshall, but on developments. It's clear, of course, that the Communist chief has had a definite program in working out Russia's post-war realignment of power. It has been a sweeping program which has given Moscow domination over wide reaches of the European continent. The question in the minds of the Western Allies always has been how far Moscow intended to go under that plan.

Future relations between Russia and the Western Allies depends on whether Moscow's program of expansion finally has been satisfied or at least has gone as far as the Kremlin thinks it wise to carry it. If it has, there can be peace. If it hasn't, the division between the allies will continue to grow, and no man can foresee the consequences.

"While I will not go into detail as to my program at this time, I do wish to make one simple statement which I hope to make the keynote of the service I desire to render. I shall always keep in mind that government is justified only by the high character of service rendered by its officials as servants of the people and ask to emphasize the human as well as material values by meeting the needs of the underprivileged and those afflicted and handicapped in life. Above all we must protect and provide for the needs of our children through a wise and adequate program of health and education."

"The nation cannot afford to continue to kill and wound with impunity the men who mine the nation's coal," he told the committee.

Lewis said the policy of the Coal Mines Administration toward the miners had been one of "harrassment, oppression and intimidation — all pursuant to Mr. Krug's policy."

He read off coal mine fatality statistics and told the senators it isn't enough to devise safety codes — they must be effectively administered.

"And that is what Krug didn't do," he thundered.

"Krug did not live up to the pledge signed by him on the President's desk. He didn't live up to his contract, and we had the Centralia disaster, and we'll have others."

The main question is: Will there be a steel strike as the result of failure after three months to scratch the surface of demands and counter proposals?

Thus far, it seems unlikely that the negotiators will be able to break the impasse by April 30.

The magazine Iron Age reported a "50-50 chance" of a strike, saying negotiations between company and union "have produced nothing."

Work On Wage-Price Report For Friday

Washington—(AP)—The Senate House Economic Committee, armed with a "congressional staff report" saying higher wages now would lead to still higher prices, worked today on a wage-price statement which Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) plans to issue Friday.

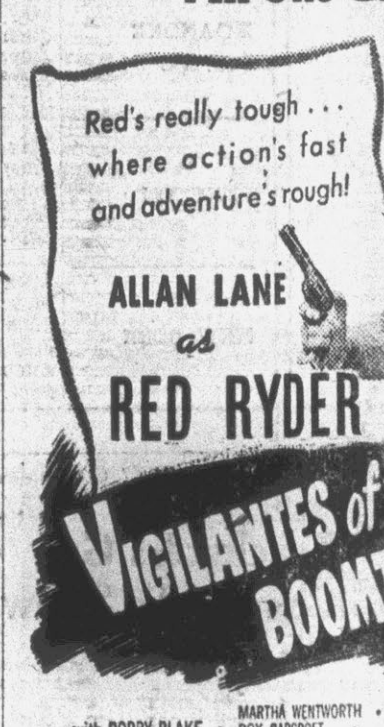

Taft told reporters the analysis written by Gustav Peck, labor economist of the congressional staff, carries some "pretty good arguments" against wage boost pleas advanced by CIO President Philip Murray.
