Foreign Relief Legislation Revised, Passed By House

Cut Off $150 Million From Sum Asked And Clamp Restrictions On Use; Measure Is Sent To Senate For Approval

36-2 col.—FOREIGN RELIEF.—Washington, April 30.—(AP)—The House passed a $200,000,000 foreign relief bill today after cutting $150,000,000 off the sum asked by the administration and clamping tight conditions on aid going to countries under Russian domination.

The measure now goes to the Senate, where the foreign relations committee already has approved the full $350,000,000 figure.

Final passage came after the House shouted down a motion of Rep. O'Connell (R-Wis.) to return the bill to committee. The House already had voted to trim the fund and fix distribution standard where Moscow might be involved.

The restrictions were first ordered tentatively yesterday in an outbreak of protests against the activities of Russia within the countries on her borders.

The action confirming the 43 per cent cut in the relief fund, also tentatively voted yesterday, came on a roll call vote of 225 to 165.

The provision to place tight conditions on relief for Russian-dominated nations was adopted on a roll call vote of 324 to 75.

The House decided yesterday over the objections of the State Department to name definitely the countries which will be eligible for the aid—if they meet a variety of other conditions in the measure. They are: Italy, Greece, Hungary, Austria, Poland and China.

Bitter protests against Russian activities in countries on her borders dominated the debate. It ranged from an open declaration by Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) that relations with the Soviet Union should be severed to more moderate pleas against "financing communism."

Against this outbreak, Eaton and Rep. Bloom (D-N.Y.), ranking minority member on the House foreign affairs committee, counseled restraint against putting relief on a political basis. Both argued that denial of aid would help rather than harm the cause of communism.

Huge Ovation Given Guest From Mexico

Estimated 800,000 Washingtonians Cheer Aleman On Way To White House; Heavy Round Of Activities Planned

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—Miguel Aleman, president of Mexico, pays homage today to America's Unknown Soldier.

The 63-year-old chief of state from "south of the border" received one of the most tremendous ovations ever accorded a foreign dignitary when he arrived in Washington late yesterday.

He began a round of official activities last night as honor guest at a sparkling White House dinner, at which President Truman played host. He had a big program today.

10 A. M. (EST), lay a wreath on the Unknown Soldier's tomb at Arlington National Cemetery.

At noon, speak to a special session of the Pan American Union's 21-member governing board. The union is the inter-American organization of the American republics.

Tonight, return the diplomatic dinner to President Truman at the spacious Mexican embassy. The dinner will precede a reception for Washington's diplomatic corps.

Some time during the day, "Don Miguel" may find time to talk with President Truman and U. S. officials on possibilities of multi-million dollar loans to Mexico.

The nation's capital went all out. (Continued on Page Four)

Italy Will Apply To Join U.N.

Rome, April 30.—(AP)—Italy will apply for membership in the United Nations within "a few days," an informed foreign ministry source said yesterday.

He said the application was being made in anticipation that the Italian peace treaty will have been ratified by the time the U. N. acts on the request.

U. N. And Palestine

Pessimists Might Call It An "Impossible Task," This Setting Up Of A Jewish Homeland And Still Playing Fair With The Arabs; Power Politics Enter

As was anticipated, the Palestine problem is producing variegated fireworks right at the start of its consideration by a United Nations which isn't too happy in the knowledge that it must render a judgment of Solomon on the issue is to be settled.

There was one heavy outbreak yesterday when India challenged Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, to give assurances that England would abide by recommendations of the Palestine session of the U. N. Assembly. Sir Alexander rejected the charge that Britain couldn't be expected to "spend blood and treasure single-handed" to carry out recommendations of the U. N. on the future of Palestine.

That could be the acme of diplomacy because, while it seems self-explanatory, it actually doesn't say "no" and it doesn't say "yes." One suspects that Sir Alexander was being non-committal in order to leave the way open for Britain's formal answer at a later date. However that may be, the incident does illustrate the delicacy of the situation.

The U. N. is faced with what many pessimists would call an "impossible" task. It involves not only establishing a national home for Jews but safeguarding the interests of the big Arab population which outnumber the Jews about two to one—the total population of the country being estimated at close to 1,800,000. And there are other items of which more anon.

Still, it strikes me that the problem would be susceptible of solution if it could be confined to the interests of the inhabitants. I observed during visits to the Holy Land that the rank and file of Jews and Arabs get along well together if left alone despite clashes among the upper registers of the two races. The current conflict in Palestine isn't between Jews and Arabs, but between some Jews and the British.

So it's our guess that if the U. N. finds an answer to the puzzle it will be based on the fundamental fact that the Jews and Arabs can live together amicably under normal conditions. (Continued on Page Four)

MEADOWS GETS RELEASE FROM PRISON SOON

Freedom For Former ECTC President On July 28; Said Writing Book

Raleigh, N. C., April 30.—(AP)—On July 28, the gates of Central Prison here will swing open for Dr. Leon R. Meadows, one-time president of East Carolina Teachers College, Paroles Commissioner Hathaway Cross said today.

The 63-year-old educator is serving a three-year prison term for embezzlement and false pretense in connection with the handling of special and student funds while serving as president of ECTC.

Cross said with time gained for good behavior, Dr. Meadows will have completed his three-year term in a little less than two years.

He entered Central Prison on September 25, 1945, a little more than a month after conviction in Pitt County Superior Court.

During the month that passed between conviction and entrance to the prison, Dr. Meadows lost in an appeal to the State Supreme Court.

The former college president and the state's most famous prisoner in recent years has made no attempt during his prison term to seek a parole, and the Paroles Commission did not offer him one, Cross said.

However, Dr. Meadows did seek a full pardon last fall, offering in argument a letter of recommendation from Trial Judge J. Paul Frizelle. The letter recommended that Meadows be released last September, but it failed to imply that evidence of innocence had been uncovered.

The Meadows trial was the longest in the state's criminal court annals.

It is reported that Dr. Meadows has been using some of his spare time while in prison to write a book.

LABOR BILL'S SPLIT BEATEN

Break-Up Into Four Parts Voted Down By Senators

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—The Senate's Republican majority beat down today a proposal to split the big catch-all labor disputes bill into four separate measures.

Defeat of the proposal, sponsored by Senator Morse (R-Ore.), gave the Republican leadership a victory in the first Senate test on legislation to curb unions and strikes.

Morse proposed to send the pending omnibus measure back to the Labor Committee for a four-way division. He and those who backed him contended that it would assure some labor legislation during this session of Congress.

They argued that President Truman might veto an omnibus bill if it contained provisions he did not like. They said he might accept some of the measures if four separate pieces of legislation were sent to him.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, opposed Morse's move. He argued that since the House already has passed an omnibus labor bill it would be impractical for the Senate to carve its measure into four bills.

DURANT FOUND GUILTY THEFT

Colonel Gets Heavy Sentence For Stealing Hesse Jewels

Frankfurt, Germany, April 30.—(AP)—Col. Jack W. Durant was sentenced today to 15 years at hard labor and dismissal from the U. S. Army for participation in the bizarre theft of $1,500,000 of Hesse royal jewels from Kronberg Castle.

After deliberating for two days, the U. S. military court of eight colonels convicted the 37-year-old Chicago Air Force officer on eight counts. These included theft, smuggling jewels into the United States without payment of customs, and signing another officer's name without authority in an attempt to hasten a discharge from the army.

Durant, who stood erect and motionless, blanched when sentence was pronounced in a courtroom filled mostly with American women and "teen age girls."

The crowd had craned to see the glittering array of precious stones spread out before the court martial as evidence.

Specifically, the court found Durant guilty of stealing only $100,000 worth of the jewel collection, which the army prosecution valued at $1,500,000.

Conover Reports Rising Sales After Price Cut

Conover, N. C., April 30.—(AP)—T. W. Saunders, local merchant who introduced the Newburyport plan of across the board price reductions to Conover stores, reported today he had already observed an increase in the "first of the week trade volume" here. Saunders who yesterday announced that all Conover stores except one, had agreed to a 10 percent price slash, said the reductions will remain in effect until there is a noticeable evening off of retail and wholesale prices over the nation.

The only store not in the plan here is a drug concern whose owner, Carl Bowman, said he could not cut prices because he was already operating on a slim margin of profit, Saunders said.

Conover, boasting a population of about 2,000, is the first town in the state to go all out for the price reduction program made popular recently in Newburyport, Mass.

State's Supreme Court Hear Davenport Plea

Raleigh, N. C., April 30.—(AP)—The State Supreme Court today heard under advisement the case of Roderick Davenport, operator of the Big Apple loan business.

The case was argued before the court yesterday.

Davenport's attorneys—Scott B. Berkley and J. Faison Thompson, both of Goldsboro, and W. J. Bunjy of Greenville—argued that Davenport's practice of lending money at 10 per cent per week was a violation of the state's civil law and not a violation of the criminal law.

Davenport was sentenced in March, 1945, in Pitt Superior Court to five to 12 years on charges of conspiracy to practice fraud and false pretense in connection with his operation of the Big Apple loan brokerage. At that time, his attorneys made motion to quash the bills of indictment but the presiding judge denied the motion. Davenport then appealed.

Attorney General Harry McMullan, assisted by Assistant Attorneys General Wade Bruton and Ralph Moody presented the state's case.

Defense attorneys further argued that the state's contention that Davenport engaged in an unlawful conspiracy for the purpose of fraud and that he obtained money by false pretense could not be sustained because his business was done in the open. Attorney General McMullan argued that Davenport's representation to investors that he could lend out money at any interest rate high enough to pay five per cent interest per week was fraud because Davenport knew he couldn't do so.

Alive After 9-Hour Swim At Sea

Clayton Boardman, wealthy oil company executive from Augusta, Ga., rests in bed at his summer home near Beaufort, S. C., and reads a newspaper account of his disappearance at sea with Dr. Harry Goodrich, also of Augusta, and two Negro boatmen after a small fishing boat capsized off Beaufort. Clinging to a cushion and exercising over and over, he will "stay up" about 10 minutes longer. Boardman remained afloat at sea for nine hours, and was cast ashore by a flood tide early Sunday morning. Dr. Goodrich was drowned and the game tide washed his body up on the beach. The two Negroes are still missing. (AP Photo)

Mystery Plane Flies By Night Over England

London, April 30.—(AP)—Recurring reports of a midnight "ghost plane swooping out of the east at tremendous speed gave the British press a sensational aviation mystery today but the Royal Air Force, while admitting the whole thing was "slightly mysterious," refused to get excited.

Eye-witness accounts said the mystery craft, first spotted by radar early in January, zooms over the East Angles coast—as though it came from the continent—and disappears inland at a speed of 400 miles an hour or more.

What is even odder is that the plane has never been seen making the return journey from England to the continent. RAF night fighters have tried regularly to intercept the "ghost plane" but so far have been unsuccessful.

Small Town Wrecked By Devastating Winds

Worth, Mo., April 30.—(AU)—Tornado winds whirled through small towns in Arkansas, Missouri and Iowa, leaving at least 20 dead today, injuring more than 50 and causing thousands of dollars in property damage.

[Hardest hit was this northwest Missouri town with a population of 233. Thirteen persons were killed and approximately 45 injured. Only half a dozen buildings in the town were left standing.

At least seven persons were killed in Arkansas where vicious winds last night lashed the small community of Bright Water and swept close to Garfield, not far from the Missouri line.

A tornado also struck Clio, a town of about 200 population, in southwestern Iowa, causing extensive property damage. No loss of life was reported.

The tornado that hit Worth swept through the center of the town, wiping out the entire business district. Two of the town's three churches and its brick schoolhouse were among the buildings demolished. Practically every tree in town was clipped off.

The community was in darkness until late last night when a mobile generator arrived from a neighboring town. Both the Salvation Army and the Red Cross set up stations and homeless were being (Continued on Page Eight)

MINE OWNERS FIGHT LEWIS

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—John L. Lewis began a new contract fight today with one-third of the soft coal industry determined to block another nationwide wage agreement.

The powerful Southern Coal Producers Association served notices at government-sponsored preliminary talks yesterday that while it is eager to make a contract with Lewis separately, industry-wide bargaining is "impractical and undesirable" from the standpoint of its members.

The Southerners enjoyed a 10 cent 1944 and, generally speaking, hope to make fewer concessions this year than some of the other operator groups have indicated they may be willing to grant Lewis.

The mine leaders' first move was to challenge, in effect, the tonnage behind each of the operators lined up against a national agreement.

He demanded to know how much bituminous coal was produced by each of the 32 producer groups represented at the preliminary session. Lewis demanded lead to a recess in the discussions until 3 p. m. EST, today.

Five Telephone Unions In East Sign Pay Contracts

ARAB STATES LACK BACKING FOR PROPOSAL

"Free Palestine" Study By UN Loses Ground; India Oppens Debate

New York, April 30.—(AP)—The Arab states apparently lost the first round today in their fight for immediate consideration of Palestine independence by the special assembly of the United Nations.

After ten members of the 14-nation steering committee had spoken, the lineup showed five definitely against the Arab proposal to send this question on to the full 55-nation assembly for a decision.

Several others had stated off the floor that they would either vote against the proposal or abstain.

This meant that it would be impossible for the Arab item to get a majority vote in committee.

The Arab states have made it clear, however, that they intend to take the fight to the assembly floor. Czechoslovakia joined Poland and India in pressing for action to give the Jews a voice in the U. N. Palestine discussions. India opened the debate today with an appeal for Jewish representation.

Noting that the steering committee had heard the spokesmen of five Arab states present their views yesterday, Indian delegate Asaf Ali asked:

"Where are the representatives of the Jewish people who will be affected? Where is Palestine?"

He then told the committee as it resumed debate this morning: "We are playing Hamlet without (Continued on Page Eight)

None Affiliated With NFTW But Actions Arouse Optimism Among Conciliators; Terms Call For $3-$4 Per Week Hike; Beirne Holding Out For $6

Washington, April 30.—Five unions of 43,000 telephone workers in New York and Pennsylvania called off strikes today, accepting contracts for wage increases of $3 to $4 a week.

None is affiliated with the National Federation of Telephone Workers—which called the nation-wide strike April 7—but their actions aroused optimism among government labor conciliators for an early end to the strike of 300,000 NFTW unionists.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the NFTW, said that it showed the Bell telephone system's "solid wall of opposition to wage increases is crumbling."

He made that comment in a statement as negotiations were resumed here aimed at bringing on a national settlement.

Beirne added that the NFTW's 39 unions "will maintain our picket lines until our entire dispute is settled."

A $6 weekly wage increase was the chief demand made by the New York and Pennsylvania unions as it is with the NFTW.

Four of these unions are in the New York City metropolitan area. It was announced that the agreement they reached provides:

Ending of the strike today. A general $4 weekly wage increase effective tomorrow; maintenance of union dues for members beginning tomorrow; pensions and benefits to remain undiminished during the contract period; an extra day of vacation for a holiday falling during vacation period plus "improved one week vacation treatment."

No discrimination by either party for strike or non-strike activities; fringe issues to be negotiated at departmental levels; either party may reopen the wage question once during the one-year life time of the agreement.

The settlement in Pennsylvania was reached by a union with 6,000 maintenance workers. It agreed to $3 weekly wage increases for workers getting less than $51 for $4 for (Continued on Page Eight)

U.S. C-Of-C Official Cautions Business To Be Watchful

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—An official of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce suggested today that President Truman's plea for lower prices may produce joblessness and recession instead of preventing them.

William S. Street, chairman of the chamber's economic policy committee, cautioned business to be watchful lest the White House call "result in wholesale cancellations of commitments both by business and the consumer."

The Seattle merchant suggested that unemployment might be caused "by the action now taken to attempt to prevent it."

Eugene Dennis And Josephson Indicted By Jury

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted Eugene Dennis, secretary of the Communist Party in the United States, on charges of contempt of Congress.

The jury also returned a similar indictment against Leon Josephson, New York attorney, who was accused by the House Committee on Un-American Activities of obtaining fraudulent passports for Communist leaders.

Both contempt charges grew out of the committee's investigation of Communist activity in this country. The two were accused in the indictments of disregarding subpoenas to appear and testify at committee hearings.

The District Attorney's office said neither Josephson nor Dennis, also known as Francis Waldron, was in custody, but that bench warrants were being issued for them.

Judge Ignores "Fix" Rumor In A.J. May Trial

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—Declaring that the rumor of a jury fix does not disturb me, Justice Henry A. Schwabach went ahead today with the trial of former Rep. A. J. May and three others on war fraud charges.

The rumor was relayed to the bench by Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, who represents Henry and Murray Garsson, brothers accused jointly with May and their longtime Washington agent, Joseph Freeman.

Margiotti told the court late yesterday a newspaperman had advised him another reporter covering Congress had said "it is general talk around the (Capitol) Hill that the jury in this case has been 'fixed.' I asked him what kind of a 'fix' it was and he told me that he understood that it was fixed by the defense."

Margiotti said he "inquired of all counsel for all defendants and the story was news to them."

So This Is Congress?

Uninitiated Spectators Feel Cheated When They See Congress At Work; To Them, Too Few Attending To Business; Majority Actually Are Busy Elsewhere

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—Thousands come here to see Congress at work.

They feel cheated right away. They wander into the Senate gallery, take a seat, and look down contentedly upon the senators at work.

There are 96 senators but the visitor looks down at perhaps only five or six, one talking and the others listening or reading.

Pretty often, except at voting time, there are only that many on the floor at one time.

The other senators stroll in and stroll out. The visitors, not having seen them before, can't tell whether they're senators or clerks.

A senator flings open a swinging door in the back, ducks in, listens to the speech for a second, ducks right back out. (He's either not interested in the subject or he's heard this same speech or something like it before.)

Or a senator pops through the swinging doors, catches an earful, strides across the floor, disappears through other swinging doors.

This steady activity—ducking in, bobbing out, marching across the floor, disappearing—goes on daily. So the visitor, a little bewildered, withdraws quietly and, patiently plodding through the Capitol halls, lands in the House gallery.

This looks better to him. There are more men on the House floor. (There are 435 House members, so more of them are bound to be on the floor at any one time than you'll find in the Senate.)

The visitor cocks an ear to hear what the congressman with the waving arms is yelling at the other congressmen.

Some of them may be reading newspapers. Some will be sitting with dead-pan faces. Some may be listening sharply.

But again the visitor feels cheated. The congressman making the speech may be talking about something as simple as potatoes.

One after another, talking maybe only two minutes each, half a dozen other congressmen jump up, talk, wave their arms, sit down.

Once more the visitor wanders away, thinking maybe: So this is Congress. (Continued on Page Four)

Tavasso-Hawkins
In an all white ceremony, Miss Rachel Whichard Hawkins, of Greenville, became the bride of Elmen C. Tavasso of Greenville, on Saturday, April twelfth at 8:00 o'clock in the afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church with the Reverend Dr. Robert Boyd, pastor of the church, officiating, using the double ring ceremony.

Baskets of white gladioli, snapdragons and carnations interspersed with glowing cathedral tapers were used against a background of fern and evergreen.

Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Guy Smith, organist. Miss Elizabeth Bridgers sang "Oh Promise," "Because," and benediction the "Lord's Prayer" was sung.

The bride entered with her brother, Leo Hawkins, by whom she was given in marriage. Her wedding gown was of chantilly lace and bridal satin. The basque bodice, of lace, was fashioned with a high yoke, buttoned down the back and at the wrist with little satin buttons. Lace ruffles, edged with satin, outlined the yoke and neckline and the long sleeves edged in points over the hands. The full flowing skirt, of satin, extended into a court train and her fingertip veil of bridal illusion, edged with chantilly lace, fell from a tара of orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book topped with an old white lace handkerchief on which rested a white orchid snowed with valley lilies and white satin streamers.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Leo Hawkins, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Frank Phillips, Jr., and Misses Irene Forbes and Nina Baker who were dressed identical to that of the maid of honor and each carried an old-fashioned nosegay of white and red carnations, tied with white satin ribbon.

The bridegroom's mother also wore black with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother honoring the wedding party, intimate friends, and out of town guests.

Beautiful arrangements of spring flowers, greenery and white candles, tied with white tulle, were used throughout the home.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. John Whichard, Mrs. Miller Griffin introduced them to the receiving line which was composed of the bride couple, their parents and attendants. Mrs. Julius Whichard directed them to the dining room where Mrs. Leon Barnhill, Mrs. J. P. Moss, Sr., Mrs. Stuart Hawkins, Mrs. Harry Spritler and Mrs. Durwood Hawkins served lime punch, iced cakes, nuts and mints from a beautifully appointed table covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white iris, carnations and fern in a crystal bowl, flanked by white tapers in crystal candelabra. Mrs. Scott Usher presided over the bride's register and good-byes were said to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nobles.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. James Reva Hawkins and the late Mr. Hawkins. She received her education in the schools of Greenville and for sometime has held a position with the Greenville Broadcasting Company.

The bridegroom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Tavasso of Darby, Pennsylvania. He served three years in the U. S. Marine Corps, fifteen months of which were spent in the Pacific area. At present he is employed by the National Carbon Company of Greenville.

At home Willow Street, Greenville. On Friday evening immediately following the rehearsal for the "Tavasso-Hawkins" wedding. Mrs. Carl McKinney, Mrs. Astor Richardson, Miss Mary Eakes and Mrs. William Council graciously entertained at the home of Mrs. McKinney on Woodlawn Avenue honoring the wedding party.

Beautiful arrangements of colorful spring flowers presented a lovely picture throughout the home. The dining room table was indeed a thing of beauty with its covering of a white linen cloth centered with a lovely two tiered wedding cake iced in white surmounted by a miniature bride and groom, flanked by white candles in crystal candelabra. Mrs. Richardson served the cake, after the bride couple had cut the first slice, while the other hostesses served green and white ices, nuts and mints.

Miss Hawkins was presented a corsage of white carnations and gifts of silver in her chosen pattern by the hostesses.

Love Vs. Politics
Loretta Young, Joseph Cotten and Ethel Barrymore co-star in "The Farmer's Daughter," romantic comedy-drama based on the adventures of a young housemaid who wins a seat in Congress and marries her employer, himself a congressman. Miss Young, playing the housemaid defeats the candidate sponsored by her employer played by Cotten, and by Miss Barrymore as his mother. Charles Bickford, in his first comedy role, is featured as Cotten's butler, a free and easy individual who calls his employers by their first names. "The Farmer's Daughter" is the feature attraction at the Pitt, Sunday and Monday.

VISIBLE SIGNS OF THINGS INVISIBLE

Sacraments play an important part in religion. A sacrament is sometimes defined as a visible sign of an invisible grace. It is the acting out, as it were, in a religious ceremony of spiritual processes beyond the mind of man to comprehend or the vocabulary of man to describe.

Take, for instance, the two Biblical sacraments of baptism and the Lord's Supper. In baptism we have the enactment in symbolic form of the washing away of our sins and our ingrafting into Christ. These great spiritual truths are acted out symbolically as the sacrament is administered. On the part of the person who is baptized, the occasion means the consecrating of his heart to God in such a way that the grace of God comes down and transforms his heart. In the case of infants, it is the offering of their children to Christ by faithful parents, that his grace may operate in their behalf.

The Lord's Supper is the acting out of our Lord's sacrificial life and death. It speaks a message about vicarious sacrifice which words cannot possibly express. It operates in a sphere which is beyond speech. It tells us that in our salvation there are forces at work which we not only are unable to see but even to understand. We are presented with a few obvious symbols which we can understand. The roots of these go back into the eternal purposes of God.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington—Mrs. William E. Borah, widow of the famous Senator from Idaho and one of the town's most popular hostesses, has lived here for 39 years and still finds life in the capital a thrilling adventure. She finds this social season one of the gayest in many years and is happy that the official "day at home," one of Washington's oldest institutions, is staging a revival. She is nevertheless relieved, though, that the custom is on a much simpler scale than in pre-war days. Then it was the custom for official hostesses, diplomatic, cabinet and congressional wives to announce that they would receive callers on a certain day each week through the winter months. That meant that everyone would be welcome, even total strangers. It meant elaborately set tea tables presided over by prominent ladies. It meant that anywhere from five to 155 guests could be expected. Mrs. Hull, wife of the former Secretary of State, once was swamped with more than 1,000 callers.

Mrs. Borah remembers the days when sightseeing buses drew to a stop before the entrance of her apartment building and the driver would call out that Mrs. Borah was staying "at home" and they could drop in if they wanted to. "There were a lot of curiosity-seekers in those days too," she recalls. "We used to have to put away our best bibelots, but someone would always manage to get away with an ashtray or something."

She says she remembers the last "at home" she had. Among the guests was a vague-eyed young girl accompanied by a nurse. She believes the girl was suffering from some sort of mental ailment and that the nurse thought getting her around to such parties might be good for her. "The girl asked Mrs. Borah if she might take a flower with her as a souvenir. Mrs. Borah graciously urged her to, but when the maiden went out the door the hostess was dismayed to see she had taken the entire bunch. "They were my choicest flowers, too," she says.

Mrs. Borah was beginning a collection of elephants—they now number more than 1,000 and are made of all sorts of woods, ivory, crystal, jade, carnelian—and some of these would be missing after a tea party. "I'm glad though they are remaining the custom," she says. "It's very nice for the wives of the members of Congress, and they are really thrilled. It's a good way to get acquainted, and then, of course, you always have such a good time."

U.N. And . . .

 me' conditions.

Official hostesses are smarter today than they were in the past. There's no publication of the fact that they are entertaining. However, Mrs. Fred Vinson, wife of the Chief Justice of the United States, has been seeing her friends Monday afternoons, the traditional day for the Supreme Court ladies. So has Mrs. Harold Burton.

Unfortunately that is the whole story. If it were, the solution would be comparatively simple. The greatest obstacle lies in the fact that Palestine is so strategically located that its control is of vast interest to the major powers—militarily, politically and economically. As a military base it affords a powerful defense of the Middle East and safeguards the eastern approaches to the Suez Canal. The friendship of the many Arab peoples in that part of the world is being sought. And petroleum in Arabian hands is desired by many. Thus we see that Palestine is the center of a mighty game of power politics. This has become hotter as Soviet Russia has reached for a place in the eastern Mediterranean which heretofore has been dominated by Britain. Palestine still remains an important link in Britain's chain of imperial defenses, and the fact that London has turned the question of a Jewish national home over to the U.N. doesn't mean that England is prepared to relinquish the mandate. Only necessity would impel the British Government to abandon such an important base.

So This Is . . .

 Congress. What he doesn't know is that most of the senators and representatives are busy elsewhere, in committees or in their offices. The visitor might get a better idea of Congress at work if he took the trouble to visit the committee meetings and listen in there. But whole swarms of visitors shepherd by Capitol guides, flood into the galleries every day, sit, listen, and leave, undoubtedly puzzled.

Huge Ovation . . .

VA Warns Vets On Buying Or Selling Homes

Veterans who intend to buy or sell homes of recent construction were advised by the Veterans Administration to investigate before doing so to determine if such houses were built under priority rules.

If so, declared Charles H. Ball, loan guaranty officer for the North Carolina region, it is possible that the seller may be prevented from disposing of the property for more than the price set in his permit plus the cost of repairs, additions, alterations, improvements, sale commissions and incidental costs for conveyance of property.

Sermon's Theme On "The Cross"

Increasing attendance and continued interest mark the revival services being held in the Emmanuel Baptist Church. Speaking to a well-filled church last night, the Rev. J. A. Nelson dealt with the various attitudes to the Cross of Christ.

"There are those," said the speaker, "to whom the cross has become commonplace. It has no effect upon their way of living. They continue to live selfishly with no sense of responsibility to Christ or His Church. Some resent the Cross because it interferes with their daily life. Much that they allow is condemned by the Cross. The Cross calls for pleasure to sacrifice, from worldliness to righteousness, from selfishness to self-denial, and they will have none of it. Then there are those who crucify Christ afresh. They crucify Him on a cross of gold, or ambition, or worldly pleasure. Some crucify Him afresh by their cold, formal religion which denies His power and shuts out His spirit. The Cross is more than a past event, it is a principle of life, a way of life, a process of eternity. Let us take up our cross in a spirit of love and sacrifice and follow Christ day by day."

Duke Dancers' Recital Made Wonderful Hit

By CHESTER WALSH
The dance recital by the Modern Dance Group of Duke University under direction of Miss Modena Lewis, at East Carolina Teachers College last night, was the best interpretative dance program presented in Greenville in many years.

The dance recital by the Modern Dance Group of Duke University under direction of Miss Modena Lewis, at East Carolina Teachers College last night, was the best interpretative dance program presented in Greenville in many years. Art and music lovers who failed to attend the recital missed a rare treat. The small, but representative audience was generous with its applause, and at the conclusion of the program the applause was prolonged until Miss Lewis appeared on the stage.

The twenty-two young women dancers, pretty and appropriately costumed, talented and accomplished, appeared to manifest genuine joy in their terpsichorean interpretations of some wonderful poems and stories.

Locals Drop Second Game To Goldsboro

Lose Early Lead In Sixth Frame To Fall 14-6; Rogers Leads 13-Hit Attack With Three Singles In Five Trips

By BERT MOYE
 Manager Bill Herring's Goldsboros made it two in a row over the Greens last night in Goldsboro by routing the locals 14-6. The loss for the Greens put them in possession of the cellar.

Greenville went into the lead in the first frame with three runs when Lynch walked, Mauney doubled, R. Pare doubled to bring home Lynch and Mauney, R. Pare went to third on Fraker's infield out and scored on Chute's ball which was error'd by second baseman.

However, the Bugs came back in their last of the first to knot the count at three-all on double, two singles and three walks.

The Greens then jumped out in front with one run in the second when Benton and Lynch singled and R. Pare brought Benton home; scored another singleton in the third when Luke reached first on fielder's choice and singles by Rogers and Benton enabled Luke to score.

Goldsboro scored a singleton in the fourth on two singles and an error and the Greens ended their scoring for the night in the fifth when J. Pare doubled and scored on Roger's single.

Goldsboro put across what proved to be their winning runs in the sixth frame on two singles, an error, a walk, two stolen bases and a hit batsman. Their big inning was the eighth when they tallied six times on a triple, two doubles, two singles and two walks.

Rex Benton started on the mound for the Greens and pitched five and two-thirds innings, allowed eight runs, five of which were earned, nine hits, two strikeouts and five walks. He received credit for the loss, his first this season.

Ranweiler relieved him in the sixth and pitched the balance of the game. He was touched for six runs, five hits, two strikeouts and three walks.

Gus Rogers, Greens' shortstop, led the 13-hit attack by the Greens with three singles in five trips to the plate. Robert Pare collected two doubles and drove in three of the Greens' runs; Rex Benton collected two singles in his three trips to the plate.

Coach John Cameron's Pirates jumped on the Cherry Point baseball nine for seven hits and seven runs in the eighth inning Tuesday, and went on to defeat the Marines 14 to 9.

Bob "Lefty" McCotter started on the mound for the Pirates and was pulled in the eighth for a pinch-hitter. During his seven-inning stint, McCotter was nicked for seven hits and eight runs. Five runs were unearned, as his teammates miscued six times. McCotter was relieved by Bill Fulp, who hurled the eighth and ninth innings, and received credit for the win.

The big seventh was featured by "Big Boy" Ricks' slashing single to left with the bases loaded. Hayes and Wynne followed with one-base blows, and Boyd collected his second hit of the inning, a base-clearing double. After Stell had walked, Williams fied out to center to end the rally.

George Wynne, Pirate catcher, found his batting eye, banging out two doubles and a pair of singles to lead the ECTC 15-hit attack. Jessie Boyd and Junior Hayes contributed three hits apiece to follow Wynne in the batting department.

Holloway and Lusk were best for the losers, collecting two hits each in five attempts.

MOYE ENTERS SEMI-FINALS

Reynolds May Strong Adversary In Annual Golf Tourney

Simon Moyer, defending champion of the Greenville Country Club, advanced to the semi-finals yesterday of the annual tourney but only after overcoming one of the toughest tests he has faced since he first picked up a putter at the tender age of four. Reynolds May, playing rugged, excellent golf pushed Moyer to twenty holes, two more than scheduled before he was defeated.

On the front side, Moyer, after halving the first three holes, went one up when May missed his second shot and was short of the green; they evened up on the next hole when Moyer pulled his second shot into a trap; they halved the next one, the par five number six and May went one up on seven when Simon missed his short putt; Moyer, however, squared the match on the ninth when May pulled one out of bounds. Both players shot the first nine in 38, three over par.

On the back side Moyer took the first with a par, May evened on the second, May went one up on the third, they halved the fourth; Moyer evened the match on the fifth and went one up on the sixth; they halved the next two and May evened the play on the ninth. Both had 38 again. They evened the nineteenth and May lost on the twentieth. Moyer was playing consistent golf but May was a little erratic, although constantly making brilliant recoveries. On the deciding hole, Moyer hit one down the middle but May sliced his drive into a ditch, recovering with a beautiful shot out of the ditch only to land in a trap, however, he pitched out and the ball rolled within four feet of the hole. He missed his putt. Moyer made his putt for a par four and the match was over.

Other matches to be played this week in the championship flight will be Ernell Webb, Jimmy Phelps, W. L. Allen-Boyd Moore; and Tyson Bilbro-Luke Herring. Men defeated in the first round of this flight will be matched for play in the first flight include Don Conley, Henry Harrell, Ken Phillips, Dave Mosier, Tom Smoot, Hunter Keck and Bill Taft.

In the second flight Howard Waldrop advanced to the finals after another closely fought match when he defeated A. C. Ruffin on up on the eighteenth hole. The other finalist in this flight will be decided when Doc Barrett plays Dr. Haney.

In the third flight Billy Morton meets Graham Flanagan and Dr. Billy Brown plays Herbert Waldrop. The fourth flight semi-finalists are Jesse Moyer-Jack Edwards and Cecil Bilbro versus Bill Davenport. The fifth flight will see Red Corbett playing Joe Taft and Curtis Perkins, Jr., playing Gentry Galloway, the Clouter. The sixth flight had one match yesterday with the Rev. R. Adamsnaw defeating Ty Wagner; other matches are Grove-Ernest, S. J. Tracy-Wendoece, and J. H. James-Ernest, Jr.

All the above matches will be played by sundown this coming Sunday.

Wolves, White Sox Win In School League

The league-leading Wolves came back from what looked like sure defeat yesterday to win over Dave Clark's Bears by the score of 15-14. The Bears tallied ten times in the third and four times in the fourth to take a comfortable lead only to lose out in the last two innings. With the score at 14 to 10 in the last of the seventh, and with two outs, Glenn Perkins hit for the circuit. After Lewis and Joseph had reached base safely, Jim Tanner came through with a base-clearing homer to tie the score. The winning run scored moments later when Clark erred to allow Fleming, to score the winning run.

Sherrod White's Blue Devils continued in their slump and still have their first game to win after losing to the White Sox, 9 to 4. Errors kept the Devils in trouble, and in the end was the cause for the loss. Mahlon Tucker, with four singles, Rufus Stark with two singles and Conrad Taylor with a home run, were the leaders for the Devils. Billie White with a double and two singles, Murray Cooke with a double and triple and Billy Jordan with a double and single, were the leaders for the winners.

Good as New—OR IS IT?

JUST because a part comes out of any brand new carton doesn't mean it is as good as the part it replaces.

It can't be any better than the engineering skill that went into its design—or the quality that went into its production and inspection.

That's why the sure way to make a Buick car "good as new" is to use Buick Engineered Parts.

Engineered by Buick men, built to Buick standards, these are exactly the same as the original parts. Their quality, durability and performance are known factors that you can count on.

So why take chances? We know your Buick from top to bottom. Nothing goes into it in our shop that doesn't measure up to the quality of the car.

And that goes for the workmanship as well as the materials used.
