Inquest Tonight Into Victims Of Recent Fire

By CHESTER WALSH
Coroner Griffin H. Rouse will hold an inquest at the City Hall tonight at 7:30 into the death of a Negro woman and her two children when their home at First and Cotacohene streets burned on the night of May 15.

The dead are Mrs. Willie Belle Cratch, 27, widow of Jesse Cratch and her children, Bobbie Gene, 7 and Jessie Juanita, 1.
Police are holding without privilege of full Booker T. Anderson, 29-year-old Negro truck driver, on charges of arson and murder. He admitted to Police Chief Jim Tanner that he was in love with the woman, that she would not go to live with him, and that he figured that if her home burned she would have to live with him. Anderson admitted to being, allowing officers how he set fire to a pan of kerosene oil and placed it under the bed where the mother and children were sleeping. The three burned to death. Mrs. Annie Belle Spain, mother of the dead woman, who was away when the fire started, suffered severe cuts on an arm when she took a window in an effort to rescue the occupants. Library News

Among the two thousand new books, since last summer, at the Sheppard Memorial Library are many and varied titles. Below is a list of just a few, to entice a reader's interest:
"Off the Job Living" by Romney offers a novel concept of recreation. "Boston, Cradle of Liberty" by Jeanbines, is an historical writing that reads like a modern adventure story. "The New Science of Surgery" by Slaughter, is more than a mere layman's book of surgery. "Our Fair City" by Allen, brings the co-author of Washington Merry-Go-Round to all the big cities of our nation. "Harps in the Wind," by Brink is the story of the singing Hutchinsons.

A group of thought provoking books that are serious and practical may be represented by the following: "Four Fares to Juneau" by Small is a true story of a modern American "Swiss Family Robinson" who found new enjoyment in Alaska. "Rediscovery of Morals" by Link; "An Essay on Morals," by Philip Wylie; "The Third Way," by Cloete; "I Wanted to See," by Dahl; "An Ernie Pyle Album," by Miller; "Flower Arrangement for Everyone," by Biddle; "River of Years," by Newton, a book of the heart rather than of the head; "Juliette Low," by Pece, gives the interesting life of the founder of the Girl Scouts; "A treasury of hobbies and crafts" by Estrin and "Diesel Handbook," by Rossblom.

In lighter vein, these present the newest in fiction: "A Long Way From Boston" by O'Shea; "Presidential Mission," by Sinclair; "Final Curtain" by Marsh; "Tin Flute," by Roy; "Kingsblood Royal," by Lewis; "Gentlemen's Agreement," by Hobson and "There Was a Time," by Taylor Caldwell, her latest.

Negro Wanted For Robbery In Jersey Prison

By CHESTER WALSH
Greenville police have located Willie Hardy, Jr., 19-year-old Negro, who is charged with highway robbing David Jackson, Negro tenant farmer, of $1,100 nearly two years ago. He is in the State Reformatory at Annapolis, N. J. Chief Jim Tanner said New Jersey authorities have indicated that they will honor extradition papers and turn Hardy over to Greenville authorities.

Richard Delmar Gray, 22-year-old Negro, who also is charged with this robbery, was arrested here last Sunday. He had been living in New Haven, Conn. Jackson had settled with his landlord for his part of the tobacco crop on an October day in 1945. Police said Hardy and Gray followed him to the old NYA center, beat him up and robbed him of $1,100 and left him in a ditch. His assailants left town shortly afterwards.

Strength FOR THE DAY

LUCK OR PROVIDENCE?
There are happenings in the lives of all of us which we would have a hard time explaining on any other basis than providential guidance. Those who claim that everything happens by chance have a much harder time convincing the average person than do those who believe in providence and who trust divine guidance.

In 1934 when cholera was raging in Stockholm, an artist was seized with the plague. After the crisis passed, he desired food; but those who had been nursing him had died in the few intervening days, and it looked as if he himself would now die from starvation. He prayed earnestly that someone would come before it was too late, and a few hours after he began his praying, a man carrying a tray of food opened the door, approached without saying a word, placed the tray on the table, and then left. The patient ate ravenously. A half-hour later the man returned in considerable excitement saying he had made a mistake, the food was intended for someone on the floor above.

The waiter who brought the food said it was a mistake. Many people would have said it was a chance happening, a lucky break. The man who had been praying knew it was a providential answer to his prayers. Those who partake of the bounty of providence are very sure that the whole of the universe is in God's hands.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington—Mrs. Loudon, wife of the Netherlands Ambassador to the United States told me that her government gives a layette to all country women expecting babies—six diapers and four balls of wool.

The diapers have to be returned after the infant outgrows the use of them.

On the other hand, the Netherlands is one of the 14 countries of the world which provides for payment of maternity benefits to agricultural workers. Under the social insurance plan of the country they are covered by "combined compulsory sickness and maternal insurance."

In 1946 the birth rate was 50 per cent over that prevailing in pre-war years, and the death rate has dropped. The number of babies born in Holland in 1946 totaled 283,802. The average born annually in the years from 1936 to 1939 was 174,916.

Living conditions are getting better in Holland, Mrs. Loudon says, though rationing of food stuffs, clothing and fuel still continues.

Mrs. Loudon says weekly rations of food per person are:

2 1/2 loaves of bread; 2 quarts of milk; 1/2 pound of meat; 1/2 pound of jam; 3/4 pound of sugar; 1 ounce of cheese.

Once a month each person gets one ounce of coffee and every six weeks one-half ounce of tea.

The country's big problem, however, is the dollar exchange problem, as it is with many other European nations. The Hollanders, proud and thrifty, are most concerned over strengthening their economic status through trade with other countries.

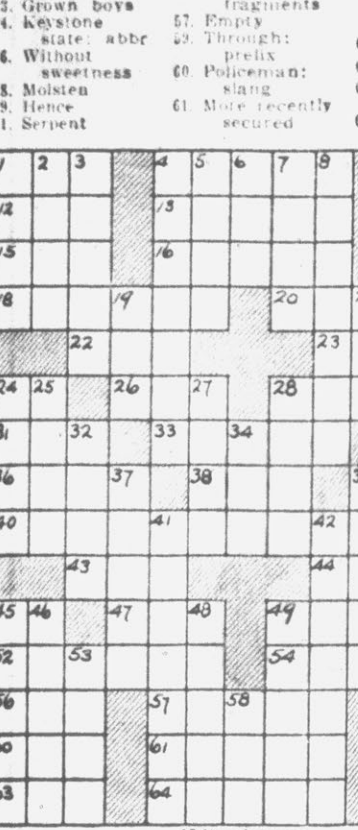

The exportation of bulbs for the production of which Holland is noted, showed a sharp increase during 1946. Great Britain provided the most important market. Fruit, fresh vegetables, vegetable seeds, cheese and other dairy products are also largely exported.

A woman here who is familiar with the situation in the Netherlands says that the Dutch are having difficulty getting Dutch cheese, that friends in this country are buying Edam and Gouda cheeses to send over.

Hoover Plan . . .

Declining to suggest a deadline speed big-power treaty making, the for getting Russia's agreement to New York lawmaker contended: "The more we fool around with it, the more we get involved in international handouts."
Taber's opinion was advanced against the background of a two-hour private huddle between Hoover and an appropriations subcommittee. At that meeting yesterday the former Republican chief executive expressed his approval of a $725,000,000 Army appropriation request for civilian relief in Germany, Austria, Korea and Japan.

It probably will be at least a week or ten days before the subcommittee completes its review of the Army's "civil functions" financial needs, including the relief program in the occupied zones.

As did Hoover himself, Taber took the position that United States relief problems will remain unsettled unless and until formal peace pacts have been written with the major axis powers.

Taber said the treaties are necessary to restore German and Japanese enterprise along with efficiency for their own recovery because, he added, neither country will use any initiative until it knows what its future is to be.

Potatoes . . .

At very low prices it sold some of alcohol plants and starch manufacturers. Some went as livestock feed. More went to the government's school lunch program.

After all that, the government still had 22,000,000 of the 87,000,000 surplus bushels on its hands. It destroyed them.

Why couldn't those 22,000,000 bushels have been shipped abroad to starving peoples? The Agriculture Department explains it this way:

Flour, which can be bought for 5 to 6 cents a pound, is far cheaper than potatoes to ship abroad.

The cost is about 18 cents a pound to de-hydrate potatoes, which are 90 percent water, so they can be shipped in a space-saving way.

So, the Agriculture Department says, UNRRA, which was sending relief abroad, didn't want those 22,000,000 bushels as a gift.

The most recent case of the government's buying of surplus potatoes was in Alabama.

Of this early 1947 Alabama crop the government figured 28,500 bushels were surplus. It bought them.

It gave 21,000 to the school lunch program and destroyed the remaining 7,500.

The Agriculture Department says there wasn't anything else to do with them. How long does this program go on?

Under the law, until Dec. 31, 1948. The Agriculture Department has asked Congress to re-consider this whole problem but there has been no action.

Rehabilitation . . .

of the enemy countries and, in order to achieve this, urged that the United States make an immediate peace with Japan, and that the present plan of a temporary centralized German Government in the American and British zones of Germany be carried out immediately, subject to our military direction.

Many observers will agree that much could be achieved in the way of rehabilitation if, say, America and Britain should make an early peace with Germany and Japan. However, it's clear that nothing like complete recovery could be accomplished without the cooperation of Russia. The question of France's attitude also arises, and in this connection Mr. Hoover expresses the belief that if Moscow and Paris would cooperate, world economic recovery could come in two or three years.

Two Issues On Labor Measure Block Accord

Washington, May 28 - (AP) - Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today that Congress members writing the final draft of labor legislation are in "flat disagreement" on two issues, but are in accord on nearly all other provisions. The Ohio senator told reporters the issues on which House-Senate conferees are deadlocked are: 1. Whether food processors and plant guards should be excluded from coverage by the Wagner Collective Bargaining Act, as provided in the House bill. 2. What rules of evidence should apply in consideration by the courts and the National Labor Relations Board of unfair labor charges.

Propaganda Film Said Backed By White House

Washington, May 28 - (AP) - A subcommittee reported to the House un-American activities committee today that some of the most flagrant communist propaganda films were produced as the result of White House pressure. The report did not say who occupied the White House at the time the films were produced. The report was based on an investigation recently completed in Hollywood by Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) and Rep McDowell (R-Pa).

Good way to keep a Honey Happy

THINK back to the days when your Buick stood proud, shiny and new at your door. A touch of your toe and that two tons of car romped away gentle as a breeze - and just as obediently glided to a soft, sure stop.

That's the kind of driving that's right in the heart and soul of Buicks. It's there for you to have for years and years - especially when your car gets the kind of care such a honey should have.

That doesn't mean just filling her up and seeing that the oil doesn't get low. Nor a periodic lube job done with "one-kind-for-all" lubricants. It means competent care by men familiar with every part of a Buick - by men who know Buicks best and have an interest in seeing that you get the greatest satisfaction from yours. Every detail of our service is aimed at this goal. The men are specialists on Buicks. They work with Buick-designed tools. They're backed up by a parts department stocked with Buick-engineered parts that are just made for Buick cars.

TIME TO REPOWER?

Suppose your Buick is crowding the big figures in high mileage. Suppose you don't want to wait for that new one. Here's a happy answer.

If your Buick's any model year from 1937 through 1942, you can make it factory-fresh as far as power is concerned with the Buick Power Package.

This is all the major assembly of a new Buick Fireball engine except carburetion and electrical systems. It puts good-as-new zip and performance into high-mileage cars.

Changing over takes less time and often costs less than a really thorough overhaul and replacement job. Easy payments if you wish. Come in and talk it over.

The Kinston Eagles flew high last night as they took a 9-1 victory over the Greenies behind the four-hit hurling of their ace hurler, Sammy McLawhorn, before a crowd of 2,000 spectators at Guy Smith Stadium. The win for the Eagles was their first in the last four starts and ended the series between the two clubs at three-all for the season.

From the hand being on the same was played under protest by Manager Johnny Pare, on the grounds that McLawhorn's delivery was illegal. Johnny Pare started on the mound for the Greenies and received credit for the loss, his fourth of the season. The Eagles collected six hits off Pare in the second frame in which they killed four runs enough for them to win the game. Hank Raschler came to his relief in the fourth stanza and was touched for five runs, six hits and two walks.

Sammy McLawhorn had little trouble in last night's game as he was in rare form and never did get into deep water. The Greenies were able to convert only one of their hits into a run and this came about in the sixth frame when Lee walked and Jack Bomar tripled to bring him home. The other three hits, all singles, were secured by Johnny Pare, Howard Jenkins and Charlie Chute.

Kinston added three runs in the fifth frame on three singles and a walk, and added their final run in the seventh frame on Johnny Winkel's home run over the left field wall.

that quite a few fans from our neighboring City of Washington were in attendance. It was also noticed that they did not pull so terribly hard for either team, but that they really did give the umpires a razzing when they made the slightest mistake according to their way of seeing things. Possibly the main reason for this is due to the fact that three of the league umpires made their home in Washington. They are Chippy Wagner, Ox Langley and A. R. Hudson.

One of the biggest rackets in the baseball racket was discovered during the game at Kinston Monday night. Upon entering the park a fellow had parked his large flat bottom truck along the first base line on the fence outside in just the right place to get an ideal view of the game. Upon passing a fellow was seen to jump on the truck but was advised by the owner that the price for the "grandstand" seat would be two bits. The truck was loaded. Quite a few people are seen standing on trucks peeping over the fence here at recent games—wonder if the same racket is being worked. At the Wilson Municipal Stadium are signs printed on the fence which states that it is a $10 fine to peep over the fence. Why not adopt it at the local park?

Greenville plays Roanoke Rapids here Thursday night, Tarboro on Friday night and Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock plays the New Bern Bears here.

DIAMOND DUST

By BERT MOYE

Many compliments have been heard recently by the fans on the part of the baseball officials to leave the lights on at the ball park following each game. Many fans were complaining of the fact prior to the start of this several days ago. With the parking space being limited at the park, many fans are forced to park a long distance from the stadium and it was mighty hard for them to locate their cars in the darkness.

Looking around the stadium of recent games it has been noticed
