UNION-CALLED STRIKE OPENS IN SHIPYARDS

Work Halted On 60 Vessels; Contract Negotiations Deadlocked

New York, June 26—(AP)—A strike of more than 40,000 repair and construction workers in ten shipyards, nine of them owned by the Bethlehem Steel Company, was called today by the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers (CIO).

The strike, stopping work on more than 60 vessels, resulted from a deadlock on negotiations for renewal of contracts that ended at midnight last night.

While union officials scheduled further conferences today with the Todd Shipyards Corporation and Dry Dock Corporation, they have predicted the strike would spread early next week to include all yards, except Navy, on the East and Gulf coasts.

John Green, union president, announced failure of negotiations late yesterday after a two-hour conference with J. M. Larkin, Bethlehem vice president in charge of industrial relations, and W. H. Collins, vice president in charge of shipbuilding.

Green said the company had made no counter offer on any of the union's demands, which included a 13-cent hourly wage increase and other contract benefits. Larkin said the present base rate of $1.38 for mechanics, boosted to an average of $1.53 by "overtime," (Continued on Page Seven)

Wages vs. Prices

Washington, June 26—(AP)—Emil Rieve, a CIO vice president, said today labor unions "cannot keep agreements" not to seek higher wages "if prices keep on skyrocketing."

"By and large," Rieve told a Senate-House committee, "the wage increase cycle has about spent itself, x x x but if prices continue to go up we will have no choice but to ask for wage increases."

The CIO official made these statements after telling the joint congressional committee on the economic report that Congress must take immediate action to prevent "collapse of our economy."

Third Major Veto By Pres. Truman

Wool Price Support Bill Returned To Senate With Firm "No"; Truman Says Measure Harmful To International Relations

Washington, June 26—(AP)—President Truman today vetoed the wool price support bill because he said it would have "an adverse effect on our international relations."

The veto was sent to the Senate, where the bill originated. Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) asked that it be referred to the agriculture committee, which arranged a meeting for this afternoon (1:30, EST) to consider what action will be taken.

Senate Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) told reporters there is no chance that the legislation can be enacted over the veto. A two-thirds vote in Senate and House is necessary to override the presidential rejection. Barkley speculated that the bill may be allowed to die in the committee.

The measure would have continued government prices on wool at present levels and authorized the president to boost tariffs or restrict imports for foreign wool or wool products pushed down domestic prices.

"The enactment of a law providing for additional barriers to the importation of wool at the very moment when this government is taking the leading part in a United Nations conference at Geneva" to reduce trade barriers "would be a tragic mistake," Mr. Truman said.

He added in a message to Congress: "It would be interpreted around the world as a first step on that same road to economic isolationism down which we and other countries traveled after the first World War with such disastrous consequences. 'I cannot approve such an action.'"

Big Memorial To Roosevelt Will Be Built

Warm Springs, Ga., June 26—A mighty, mountain-top monument to be known as the "Franklin D. Roosevelt peace tower" is planned within sight of the "Little White House" where the late President died.

The proposal was announced yesterday as the state of Georgia accepted as a national shrine the unpretentious, six-room cottage which served Roosevelt as his "second home."

The cottage, the "Little White House," became a memorial along with 3,000 acres of field and forest sloping upward to Dowdell's Knob, a flat shelf atop Pine Mountain.

Ivan Allen, chairman of the Franklin D. Roosevelt Warm Springs Memorial Commission, said the proposed tower—taller than the Washington Monument—would be built on the knob where the President drove frequently to meditate, enjoy picnics, and entertain friends and visitors.

Dutch-Indonesia Crisis Pending

Jogyakarta, Java, June 26—(AP)—A tightening Dutch-Indonesian crisis threatened today to overthrow the Indonesian Republican Government of Premier Sultan Sjahrir and held the prospect of renewed military action in the Netherlands East Indies.

The cabinet met for the second day to hammer out a decision on Dutch demands for formation of an interim government to rule the Indies until the United States of Indonesia becomes independent on Jan. 1, 1949. Announcement of the decision was expected late today or tomorrow.

DOUBT STORY OF "PIE-PANS"

Mysterious Flying Objects Reported By Westerner

Pendleton, Ore., June 26—(AP)—Army and CAA spokesmen expressed skepticism today over a report of nine mysterious objects—big as airplanes—whizzing over western Washington at 1,200 miles an hour.

Kenneth Arnold, a flying Boise, Idaho, businessman who reported seeing them, claims, however, to his story of the shiny, flat objects, each as big as a DC-4 passenger plane, racing over Washington's Cascade Mountains with a peculiar weaving motion "like the tail of a kite."

An Army spokesman in Washington, D.C., commented, "As far as we know, nothing flies that fast except a V-2 rocket, which travels at about 3,500 miles an hour—and that's too fast to be seen."

A Civil Aeronautics Administration inspector in Portland, Ore., added, "I rather doubt that anything would be traveling that fast."

Arnold described the objects as "flat like a pie-pan," and so shiny that they reflected the sun like a mirror.

He said he was flying east at 2,500 p.m. two days ago toward Mt. Ranier, when they appeared directly in front of him 25-30 miles away at 18,000 feet altitude.

By his plane's clock he timed them at 1:42 minutes for the 47 miles from Mt. Ranier to Mt. Adams. Arnold said, adding that he later figured by triangulation that their speed was 1,200 miles an hour.

Levees No Obstacles To Rising Rivers, Streams

By the Associated Press
Floods from swollen rivers and streams in parts of Iowa, Missouri and Nebraska appeared headed for near record crests today as workers labored through the night to halt the onrushing waters.

In Des Moines hundreds of families were evacuated from an area covering 63 square blocks of the Des Moines and Raccoon Rivers, which join near the heart of the city, continued to rise. The Iowa capital city's business district was not immediately endangered by the floodwaters although the rivers were stretching into the residential area.

The rampaging Missouri River on the Iowa-Nebraska border spilled over farm lands as it continued to rise. Workers battled to halt an other disastrous flood.

Between Rulo, in southeast Nebraska, and St. Louis, only 54 of 250 levees had withstood the relentless pounding of the high waters. Only two of the 49 levees in the Glasgow, Mo., area remained intact.

A curfew was ordered in Des Moines last night, clearing the streets of all persons not engaged in attempting to control the Des Moines and Raccoon Rivers. Workers piled sandbags on dikes and dug levees. Eight bridges over the two rivers were closed to traffic. An estimated 1,800 persons had been evacuated from their homes.

Cherry had been indicted for forcible entry with intent to commit rape on Mrs. J. G. Tarrant, wife of an oil dealer at nearby Rich Square.

Boone was indicted on two counts of first degree burglary. Conviction on either charge will result in the death penalty. One count charges him with forcibly entering the Tarrant home to commit burglary and the other with forcibly entering the home to commit rape.

Judge Burghwin ordered a special venire of 75 to report today for the Boone case. The court ordered that residents of Kirby, Rich Square and Roanoke townships, an area where racial feeling has run high following other reports of attempted rape of white women by Negroes, be excluded from the venire.

DAVENPORT ON WAY TO STATE PRISON TODAY

"Big Apple" Operator Surrenders To Sheriff Tyson; Taken To Raleigh

By CHESTER WALSH
Roderick Davenport, of New Bern, operator of a vast loan business in half a dozen Eastern Carolina cities, and who was convicted in Superior Court here on March 6, 1946, of conspiracy to defraud and use pretense in his "Big Apple" banking business in connection with produce stores, surrendered today to Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson, justified his $15,000 bond, and was taken to State Prison in Raleigh to serve from 11 to 13 years in State Prison. The Supreme Court had affirmed the lower court's ruling.

Davenport's trial lasted nearly five weeks in a special term of court, and he testified in his own behalf. Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill presided. In his "banking business" Davenport paid five per cent interest on deposits and loaned money at 10 per cent. Solicitor David M. Clark contended for the State that the "Big Apple" banks had $1,962,500 in deposits and had loaned out less than 10 per cent of this.

In passing sentence on Davenport after the jury had returned a verdict of guilty in two cases of conspiracy to defraud and false pretense, Judge Frizzelle told the defendant that if he would pay $5,000 to the court, would order that six years of his sentences could be served concurrently. Davenport said he was broke and could not pay it.

Cases against Mrs. Sadie H. Powers, of New Bern, Davenport's secretary, Wilson Boyles of Winston-Salem, and Hal Whorton of New Bern, were not pressed when Mrs. Powers pleaded nolo contendere and Boyles and Whorton turned State's evidence. Cases against several others were not pressed.

In filing Davenport's appeal to the State Supreme Court, his attorneys made 440 assignments of error and noted 1,700 exceptions. Supreme Court Justice Emory B. Denny, who wrote the opinion, found no error and none of the exceptions were justified. He praised Judge Frizzelle for presiding so ably and noted that the Greene County jurist committed no judicial errors.

Justice Denny paid tribute to Solicitor Dave Clark for his able and fearless prosecution of the cases.

Meanwhile, Judge Fyffe of Mount Olive, receiver for the Davenport banking institution, is continuing to institute suits for collecting funds of the defunct "Big Apple" banks, and making progress.

Raleigh, June 26—(AP)—The State Highway and Public Works Commission today allocated $50,000 during the next biennium to participate with the U. S. Geological Survey in aerial mapping of certain parts of the state.

The commission was advised by engineers that such mappings, at points as yet to be definitely specified, would assist in laying out roads.

Allot Funds For Mapping State

Washington, June 26—(AP)—Mayor James M. Curley of Boston lost today his appeal for suspension of a six to 18 months jail sentence on mail fraud charges, and must serve it.

Denying the appeal, Justice James M. Proctor said "I regard the case as ended as far as the court is concerned."

"I think he (Curley) should be committed today."

The judge denied a plea of defense attorneys that the 72-year-old mayor be given a few days to clear up pressing municipal matters.

Curley, the judge declared, can settle the handling of any immediate city matters "with his keepers."

Defense attorneys told the court that a jail sentence at this time might have a "fatal termination," but Proctor was unmoved.

Then Curley's attorneys asked that the mayor be permitted to say a few words to the court.

The judge declined their request, saying "I do not think any good purpose would be served by further statement to this court."

Curley's attorneys had asked for suspension of the sentence on grounds that he is in a "most serious and precarious physical condition." He left a Massachusetts hospital to come here and appear in court.

Measure Regarded As One Of "Minimum" Essentials To Full Mobilization In Event Of Future War

Washington, June 26—(AP)—Bernard M. Baruch called today for a "work or fight" law applicable to men and women alike as one of the "minimum" essentials to mobilizing America's "full might" in the event of a future war.

The white haired adviser to Presidents in two world conflicts declared, however, that while this country faces a future that is "unrestful" it is "not alarming."

"I see no war with Russia as an immediate threat," he asserted in an address before the first graduating class of the Armed Forces Industrial College.

Baruch cautioned that "with the new instrumentalities of mass destruction, we will not have time to improvise" should war come again.

Accordingly, he said, this country (Continued on Page Six)

Hartley, Landis Split Over How To Handle UMW

Washington, June 26—(AP)—Reps. Hartley (R-N.J.) and Landis (R-Ind.), the No. 1 and No. 2 framers of the Taft-Hartley labor law in the House, split sharply today over how to cope with John L. Lewis and the growing soft coal stoppage.

Rep. Hartley, co-sponsor of the act placed on the books last Monday over President Truman's veto, lashed out at Lewis as a "rebellious and muttonous citizen."

He called for adding a whole new section to the law to deal with Lewis and the "challenge" of other union leaders.

On the other hand, Rep. Landis second in command on the House Labor Committee and a former miner, said he thinks the soft coal operators ought to "give in" to some of Lewis' contract demands in order to remove the threat of a full-fledged strike July 8.

Washington, June 26—(AP)—The new labor law can stop a coal strike or any big strike—but only for a while.

In the end—when all the machinery set up under the law to stave off a strike is exhausted—workers are free to strike.

Here's an ABC on coal and the new law. Both will be in the news now. Any big strike could be handled the same way.

Mass Protest Against New Labor Law Considered Unwise By William Green; Plans To Fight Measure In Courts; Says Action Emphasizes Need For Labor Unity

Washington, June 26—(AP)—AFL President William Green today rejected pleas from member unions for a general strike in protest against the new Taft-Hartley labor union control law.

Green called presidents of the AFL's 105 unions to a conference in Washington July 9; Green told reporters, after an emergency meeting with resident members of the AFL's influential executive council that he thought it "unwise and inadvisable" to bow to telegrams and letters from unions throughout the nation asking that a general strike be called.

"Instead, we are going to fight the measure in the courts and seek to maintain our rights under the bill in negotiations with employers," Green said.

The AFL will organize politically "with the purpose of defeating every member of Congress who voted for this terrible legislation," he continued.

"We are not reconciled to it and we will carry on the fight against it just as vigorously as we did while the bill was going through Congress," Green told reporters.

Passage of the new law, enacted over President Truman's veto, has "emphasized" the need for unity of all labor, the 74-year-old AFL president said.

He expressed the opinion that its passage has hastened toward merger of the CIO and AFL, adding that further meetings on consolidation of the two big labor groups possibly will be held in the near future—although none is scheduled at the moment.

On the political front, Green said the AFL and CIO "probably will have parallel objectives, but that does not mean the AFL plans to create a separate political action committee like the CIO's."

Previously the AFL, through its general counsel, Joseph A. Padway had served notice that some provisions of the law will be challenged promptly in the courts. Padway said approximately 75 lawyers for the union will meet here this week-end to discuss which sections of the law "are clearly unconstitutional."

The July 9 conference of AFL presidents will consider a program to deal with the Taft-Hartley bill and the international officers and attorneys will explain to the various union heads how the new labor relations act affects them.

Green said national officers and representatives of locals "all are confused and wonder what the bill really means—how it applies to each union and what it can do under the bill and what it cannot do."

Coal Users Feel Effects Of Four Day Tie-Up

Pittsburgh, June 26—(AP)—Steel mills and railroads, feeling the effects of the four-day-old coal stoppage, began to lay off workers today as wildcat walkouts by the nation's miners appeared to gain rather than lose momentum.

Some of the 22,000 idle miners said they were jumping the gun on the 10-day mine vacation which begins at midnight tomorrow. But the majority were walking out in bitter protest against the Hartley-Taft labor law.

Railroads in Birmingham, Ala., began laying off trainmen on coal runs yesterday and a road official estimated several hundred workers would be affected within a week.

The UMW, apparently, was making only scattered efforts to get the men back.

The navy coal mines administration said it had received reports of a back-to-work order in the northern West Virginia fields.

emergency, he tells the attorney general to act.

4. The attorney general asks a federal court judge to issue a court order—an injunction—to stop the strike.

5. When, and if, the injunction is issued, the union and the employer are supposed to get together to try to reach an agreement.

6. While the union-employer talks go on, the president calls back his special board of inquiry for further investigation.

7. The board must report back to the president within 60 days after the injunction is granted.

8. In its report, the board must say what the latest offer of the union is.

WORLD TODAY

Standardization of arms among the countries of the Western Hemisphere as a measure of mutual security is being made a matter of vital urgency by the heads of America's fighting services.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Army Chief of Staff, emphasized the need of speed yesterday in testifying before the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives which is holding hearings on President Truman's proposal to effect such standardization. Eisenhower declared that danger would threaten both North and South America, and he was emphatic in saying that now is the time to organize for defense.

Secretary of the Navy Forrestal and Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Chief of Naval Operations, also supported legislation to authorize the U.S.A. to aid in standardization. They said if legislation was enacted the Navy proposes to trade new warships to Latin American countries for obsolete vessels.

One of the most telling points at the hearing was made by both Eisenhower and Nimitz—that if the United States doesn't furnish arms and training to the rest of the Western Hemisphere, some other countries will. Secretary of State Marshall and Secretary of War Patterson previously had said the same thing.

It was left to Eisenhower to make the disquieting disclosure that other countries already are trying to sell arms to Latin America. He declined to amplify.

Of course the point of wholesale standardization is that the United (Continued on Page Four)

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

June 2, 1907

Mrs. R. W. King gave a delightful party on Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Hazel Mitchell of Kingston.

Miss Mattie Moyer King, assisted by Carl Wilson, received at the front door and served crystallized fruit and bonbons to the guests as they arrived.

As soon as all the guests were seated in the library, Miss Amine King passed around little souvenir purses, containing fifty beans, which were used as money in the auction sale that soon followed.

Miss Jamie Bryan bid off at 23 beans, a package labeled "The House Keeper," which proved to be an old black cat. A package marked "A Souvenir of Greenville" but which turned out to be an old vase-line bottle, was knocked down to Miss Margaret Blow at 49 beans.

The auction sale having been finished, the guests scattered to the spacious porch and yard where delicious refreshments were served by Misses Mattie Moyer King and Margaret Blow.

After refreshments had been finished, the young people were recalled to the library to participate in a guessing contest. Miss Mattie Moyer King asked 23 questions, the answers to which was some kind of nut. To the first person who correctly answered a question, a card was given. Miss Margaret Blow, who had the largest number of cards at the end of the contest, was awarded a prize, a beautiful copy of "Lucille." The prize was presented by Carl Wilson to Miss Hazel Mitchell in a very touching speech.

After some time spent in very pleasant conversations the guests departed, thanking the hostess for a delightful evening's entertainment.

TOBACCO WORKERS SHOULD GET SECURITY NUMBERS

The date for the opening of the tobacco markets is getting near.

Workers should check now to see if they have their Social Security Account Number card to show to their prospective employers. Marshall Barney, Social Security manager in Rocky Mount, said today.

Processing plants and warehousemen all are becoming more and more careful about making complete Social Security information returns, and this means that the worker must be able to show his Social Security Card.

Application blanks can be obtained at any Post Office, Employment Service Office, or at the Social Security Administration office in Rocky Mount.

Wage-earners who have lost their cards should apply in the same way as they did before, and they will be mailed a new card with their same number on it.

The number of goals has increased in the United States until there are more than $1,000 registered.

Snuggs-Hellen

Miss Christine Tyson Hellen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl West Hellen, and Mr. Hershel Francis Snuggs, son of Mrs. Wallace Joyce of Winston-Salem and the late Mr. Walter Snuggs, were married in a double-ring ceremony Saturday, June 21, at five o'clock in the Memorial Baptist Church. Rev. Richard E. Hardaway officiated. Leon Fleming, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. Don Adcock of Durham, accompanied by the organist, played "I Love Thee" and "Traumerei" on the flute. James Russel Bray, cousin of the groom, sang "Because" and "Oh Promise Me."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a wedding gown with a fitted bodice of embroidered net beaded with seed pearls. The low round neckline was outlined with seed pearls. The sleeves were long and finished at the hand with a ruffle of embroidered net. The skirt was plain white tulle over satin, finished in the back with a panel of ruffles extending from the waist to the end of the train. Her full-length veil of illusion fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, rose buds and lily-of-the-valley, centered with an orchid. She wore a string of pearls given to her by the bridegroom.

Miss Betsy Hellen, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. She wore a dress of light green net over tulle with a ruffle. The dress had a bouffant skirt with ruffles extending from the waist in the back to form a bustle. The head dress was pinned with bow and streamer in the back. She wore matching gloves of green tulle. She carried a bouquet of yellow painted daisies and also used the daisies in her head dress.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Earl Hellen Jr. of Greensboro, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. William

C. Council of Greenville. They wore yellow net dresses identical to that worn by the maid-of-honor. Their bouquets were of blue painted daisies and the blue daisies were used in their head dress.

Mr. Pete Dobbins of Winston-Salem was the best man and ushers were Earl Hellen, Jr. of Greensboro, brother of the bride, Vance Anderson, Jr. of Raleigh, cousin of the bride, Taylor Matlock of Greenville, and John McPhaul of Red Springs.

Mrs. Hellen, mother of the bride, wore an aqua crepe dress with a flowered hat and a corsage of pink roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue crepe dress with blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Immediately after the ceremony the parents of the bride entertained in their home at a reception for the bride couple, members of the bride party, close friends and out-of-town guests. The house was beautifully decorated throughout with white gladiolas, magnolias and lilies, and lighted white tapers. The bride's table was covered with a handsome cut-work and lace cloth, with a centerpiece of white lilies and gladiolas and baby's breath and flanked by white candles in crystal holders. Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Tyson, and Mrs. W. L. Hall introduced them to the receiving line. Bridal ice and cakes, nuts and mints were served by Mrs. Oscar Robertson of Robersonville, Miss Mary Eakes and Mrs. M. T. Matlock of Greenville. Mrs. E. J. Hellen of Raleigh presided over the guest book.

After the reception the couple left for unannounced points. For traveling the bride wore a white suit with white accessories. She wore the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Snuggs graduated from East Carolina Teachers College in 1944. She has done graduate work at the University of North Carolina. For the past year she was a member of the faculty of the Thomasville schools.

Mr. Snuggs attended Wake Forest College and the University of North Carolina and was a member of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity. He served with the Medical Corps in the Army for five years.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Joyce, Mrs. L. B. Gilliland, and Mr. Art Simmons of Winston-Salem; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hellen, Miss Bertha Hellen, Miss Fannie Dark, Miss Jane Hall, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Anderson and John Anderson, Miss Sarah Moore of Raleigh, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hellen and Mrs. Leonard Taylor of Vanceboro; Mrs. James S. Bray, Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Webb, Mrs. Robert M. Smith and Mollie Shanton Smith of Mt. Airy; Mr. and Mrs. Morris E. Food Consultant to Wilson & Co.

Beat the Heat with Cold Meals

When high temperatures continue day after day, it's time to take life a bit easier. Cold meals save work in the kitchen; please the family, too.

Attractive Platter of Cold Cuts...tempt lagging appetites

Pictured, above, starting at top center and moving clockwise around the plate are: (1) Certified Vienna Sausage, (2) Certified Deviled Ham on crackers (slices deviled ham through a pastry tube to make rosettes), (3) Sliced Meats, (4) Certified Lasting Flavour Truam (chopped ham), (5) Lasting Flavour Cooked Ox Tongue, (6) Lasting Flavour Veal and Pork Luncheon Meat, and (7) Potato chips spread with Certified Ham Salad (in center of plate).

Key to Coolness

Long, hot days are bound to wilt even the heartiest of appetites. A cool, crisp supper works wonders in reviving it. Serve a platter of Wilson's Lasting Flavour meats with Certified canned meats for garnish and added variety, and you have a marvelous start. Add a zippy hot potato salad (for the one bag dish), a plate of chilled garden-ripe tomatoes, a variety of bread (rye, whole wheat, white) with Clear Brook Butter or Certified Margarine, and tall glasses of thinking food tea or chilled milk, and the weather is forgotten. Finish off with fresh raspberry ice box cake and everyone's on top of the world.

Know Your Meats

Your family will enjoy cold cuts frequently if you give them enough variety. You can always depend on enjoying the flavor of cold meats if you insist on getting Wilson's Certified and Lasting Flavour cold cuts and Wilson's canned meats.

Wilson's Lasting Flavour meats come in long 6 to 8 lb. tins and may be purchased whole or sliced. Truam, delicious in flavor, is made entirely of chopped ham and is just the right size to fit a slice of bread. Grand for sandwiches! The other eight varieties of Lasting Flavour meats are equally good. If you're wise, you'll get acquainted with all of them along with Wilson's other delicious cold cuts.

You nutrition-wise homemakers will be glad to know that cold cuts provide the same high quality proteins and B vitamins that meats you cook yourself contain. So please your family, and yourself, by serving Wilson's high quality cold cuts often these hot days.

Salad Wise

Vegetable salads are excellent served with cold cuts. If you haven't tried raw cauliflower in fresh vegetable salad you're missing a trick. It's especially good sliced fairly thin and marinated in French dressing for at least an hour before you pop it into the salad.

Sincerely,

George Rector

Strength FOR THE DAY

IS CHRISTIANITY ON ITS LAST LEGS?

Someone once said to Thomas Carlyle: "Don't you know that Christianity is on its last legs?" "Oh, yes," replied Carlyle. "I know, but Christianity is always on its last legs."

By this he probably meant two things. In the first place people have been prophesying for the last 2,000 years that the Christian Church was about ready to go out of business. Singularly enough, however, the Christian Church is the one institution which has survived the ravages of the centuries. Sometimes it becomes very weak. Its voice of testimony and its flame of spiritual guidance become at times so feeble that men cry out in despair or in derision. But the Church keeps on. A brave voice is at last raised. The light finally increases until it shines with much brightness.

In the second place, Carlyle must have meant that there is never a day when Christianity is not perilously near to defeat. Morally, you and I walk along the edge of a precipice almost every moment of our lives. Just as the world is said to be within 30 days of starvation even war, as midsummer, so the human race is perilously near to spiritual starvation all the time. When the forces of good win out over the forces of evil, they win by a narrow margin. When the battle is won at one sector, it breaks with mad fury at another.

Yes, Christianity is on its last legs. But let us not worry about that; it always has been.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington.—The death of Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean, long the capital's No. 1 hostess, leaves Mrs. George Mesta, a wealthy widow, undisputed title to the position—at least as far as celebrity-gathering is concerned.

It is true the capital boasts other hostesses of distinction who limit their guest lists a little more tightly, but whose affairs are marked by greater elegance. But Mrs. Mesta's parties, chiefly by the glitter of the names on the guest lists, have captured a lion's share of the spotlight.

Mrs. Eleanor Patterson, publisher of the Washington Times-Herald, entertains frequently and exquisitely in her lavish mansion on Dupont Circle but never publishes her guest list.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, former U. S. Minister to Norway, once said to be the only American woman who ran a true salon, at 76 is still among the top-flight hostesses of the town. But her dinners are smaller and rarely get into the papers.

The parties of Mrs. Morris Cafritz, beautiful wife of the city's biggest realtor, are gala affairs that are the topic for conversation for days after.

Mrs. Alice Nicholas Longworth, Mrs. Robert Low Bacon and Mrs. Eugene Meyer, wife of the owner of the Washington Post, are also famed party-givers—not to mention the crème de la crème of capital elite, the "Cliff Dwellers." About the only ones who know of their entertaining are those invited, for these ladies would as soon have their names in the society columns as in a police lineup.

Mrs. Mesta and the Trumans were good friends even before Mr. Truman became vice president and "Truman" figured prominently in the Ts on any prospective party-giver's invitation list.

When Mr. Truman became vice president he still got around to the shindigs at the home of his friends. His new job prohibits him from such gallivanting around, but his daughter, Margaret, has been to many of the Mesta parties. In fact, she was a guest of honor at one last year.

During the past season she has entertained in honor of the late O. Max Gardner on the occasion of his appointment as ambassador to Great Britain, Chief Justice Vinson and Gen. Eisenhower.

Ranking guests at many of her parties have included Attorney Gen.

The One Who Doesn't Like Fences

eral Clark, Secretary of War Patterson, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, Secretary of Labor Schweitzer, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, Secretary of the Interior Krug, Speaker of the House Martin and former Speaker Rayburn.

This summer Mrs. Mesta takes off for Mid-Cliff, her Newport estate. Meanwhile, she has planned a number of small dinner parties and a series of luncheons.

World Today

States would be the arsenal for the entire Western Hemisphere in event of an attack directed against both continents. No other nation is equipped industrially to cope with such an emergency. Any nation which wasn't a party to the standardization program would be unable to defend itself, and therefore would be a weak link in the chain.

Eisenhower said that complete cooperation between the United States and Canada is imperative. This is true because in the event of another war one of the first moves of the enemy would be an air attack on the industrial centers near the Great Lakes.

Military experts learned invaluable lessons regarding standardization during both World Wars. There were times when lack of coordination between allies like England and France was damaging. The same was true among some of the German allies, but in both conflicts Germany had a considerable degree of standardization among its followers.

Hitler achieved this through the simple expedient of forcing small countries to accept outmoded German armament in barter trade for the foodstuff which the fatherland needed. Once a country was equipped with German arms, it had to secure ammunition and replacements from the fuhrer's arsenals.

Of course it takes more than standardization to turn the trick. You must have resources, and that's what America still has.

ployer was such as wage increase. The president can make the report of the board public.

9. Then the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), which administers the law, steps in. It conducts a vote in all the plants where the union members work.

10. The workers vote on whether to accept the employer's last offer or to follow the judgment of their leaders in rejecting it.

11. Once NLRB announces the result of the vote—even though it means a strike through not accepting the offer—the attorney general must ask the court to end the injunction against a strike.

12. That leaves the union free to strike. But the president must take one more step. He must report to Congress on the whole situation.

13. Then it's up to Congress either to do nothing, and let the strike occur, or pass a special law to prevent the strike.

If it passes such a law there's this question: Can any law compel people to work if they don't want to?

Perhaps 100 or more days will have elapsed between the time the president first sets up the special inquiry board and when he turned the case over to Congress.

So the strike will have been delayed that long unless Congress in the end tries to pass a law to stop it altogether.

As to the coal case: The government seized the mines a year ago when John L. Lewis and the mine owners couldn't agree on a contract.

The government made a contract with Lewis. It had seized the mines and made the contract under a war time law.

But the law—and the contract with it—expire June 30. On July 1 the government must turn the mines back to the owners.

Under the government contract, the miners are allowed a 10-day vacation, starting June 27. They're due back July 7.

They start out while the government has the mines and are due to return when the owners have them.

But will they return July 8 if, by that time, the owners have not made a contract with Lewis? Probably not.

In staying away they'll deny they're on strike. They'll say the can't work without a contract.

The president won't be able to tell till July 8 whether the country will face a coal strike. If he then begins the new law's machinery working the coal strike may be delayed until fall. Maybe.

If the miners stay away after July 8, the No. 1 problem will be. Can any injunction against a strike stop them from staying away?

Mary Nelson Family Hold Family Reunion

In the fine spirit that is an in-born characteristic of the Mary Nelson Smith Family, the descendants of this noted pioneer educator of Pitt County gathered in Winterville Sunday, June 22, to hold their first family reunion since the pre-war year of 1940. There were present about 70 members of the Smith, Nelson, Cox, and other related families. The reunion began at 11:00 a. m. with a Holy Communion service in St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Rev. Thomas P. Noe, of Wilmington, was the specially invited celebrant at this service, and was assisted by Mr. Ashley T. St. Amand, also of Wilmington. In the sermon, based on a text from the Book of Revelation, Rev. Mr. Noe included a fitting tribute to the missionary and educational accomplishments so capably performed by Mrs. Nelson Smith, and to the indomitable will to serve God which she instilled into her children.

Service at St. Luke's was followed by a picnic dinner in the grove beside the residence of Mrs. A. T. St. Amand. Following this a meeting was called by the secretary, Wm. Edward Cox, Jr., in the absence of the chairman, A. letter from Rev. Claudius P. Smith, fellowship chairman, was read, in which he expressed regret at his being unable to attend this reunion. Mr. Herbert Cox, of Washington, spoke briefly of the late Mrs. J. D. Cox's gift of $500 to the Mary Nelson Smith Alcove in Sheppard Memorial Library at Greenville, and of her $1,000 gift to St. Luke's Church, Winterville. Also left for the upkeep of the church was a $1,000 bond, willed to St. Luke's by Mrs. B. T. Cox at her death two years ago, as was announced at the reunion by Mrs. J. T. Gaylord of Winterville. Mrs. Huldah C. Covert magnanimously extended to all members of the family an invitation to reside at any time in the future at her estate, and that of Mr. Fred Smith and Mrs. Olivia C. McCormack, near Tarpon Springs, Florida. Mrs. W. E. Cox, of Southern Pines, reported on the Mary Nelson Smith Memorial Fund, which was completed in 1938, the income from which constitutes a scholarship that will afford college or seminary education for a candidate for the Episcopal ministry year after year in perpetuity.

At this reunion Mrs. A. T. St. Amand was elected chairman, Wm. Edward Cox, Jr., vice chairman, George Herbert Cox, secretary, and Charles Davis, of Eureka, treasurer. Mr. Samuel Worthington, of Greenville, was appointed historian.

Navy Recruiting Team To Be Here

A team of United States Navy recruiters will be stationed in Greenville from July 1 through July 15, according to word received from Chief Gunner's Mate B. F. Parrish, in charge of the New Bern Navy Recruiting Substation. An office will be maintained, during that period, on the second floor of the Greenville Postoffice Building. According to Chief Parrish, this action is a result of the expressed willingness on the part of Greenville's younger male citizens to enlist in the Regular Navy and in the new civilian Naval Reserve. At frequent intervals, recruiters will be at ECTC to explain the Naval Reserve program to those students who are interested.

Tired, "All-In"—Listless Feeling Brought To Halt

As Vibrant Energy is Released To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition—lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic, nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula, which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Alex SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the digestive juice when it is not organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges through your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy glow in your skin—firm. Succeed Dr. Brooks
In September

The resignation, effective September 1, of Dr. Frederick P. Brooks, physician at East Carolina Teachers College since 1935 and director of the health and physical education department, has been announced by Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, college president. Dr. C. F. Irons of Greenville has been appointed physician at the college to succeed Dr. Brooks and will begin his work in September.

After leaving the college, Dr. Brooks will devote full time to his private practice. Commenting on the resignation, Dr. Cooke commended Dr. Brooks for his long and efficient service to the college.

A native of Monroe County, West Virginia, Dr. Irons has been a practicing physician in Greenville for the past eighteen months. He received his medical training at the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond and was also there for his internship. During World War II he was in the army and saw service in Europe. At the time of his discharge he was a major in the Medical Corps. On the campus he will direct health work and be in charge of the college infirmary. He will continue his practice in the city.

Dr. Irons' wife, Dr. Malene Grant Irons of Greenville, pediatric specialist, is an alumna of East Carolina.

Police Traffic School Awards Diplomas To 16

By CHESTER WALSH

Police Chief John R. Thomas of Rocky Mount, speaking at the Police School of Traffic Enforcement graduation exercises at the City Hall last night, complimented the Greenville police department for its efficiency and commended Mayor Jack Boyd and the Board of Aldermen for their support of Chief Jim Tanner in improving the department. Barbecued supper was served.

He gave some timely advice which emanated from years of experience. Fire Chief George Gardner introduced the speaker. Chief Tanner presided and commended 11 Greenville and five Washington policemen for taking the 44-hour training course in their own time and predicted they will be better officers. Judge J. W. H. Roberts presented the diplomas and quoted Solicitor Eli Bloom as saying that Greenville police, in testifying in Police Court, showed good results of attending the school. Rev. Richard E. Hardaway said the invocation.

Mayor Boyd expressed appreciation for the fine cooperation between local law enforcement officers and Washington police, giving due credit to Greenville Chief Tanner and Washington Chief Wheeler for the good work. Dr. L. H. Swindell, mayor of Washington, expressed gratification over the results of the police school. Guests recognized at the meeting included Capt. Lester Jones of the Highway Patrol, B. R. Lyon and P. S. Bailey of the FBI, Bloom and others.

The police school was sponsored by the FBI and the N.C. Institute of Government. Greenville Policeman H. B. Drum won a prize for turning in the best papers.

Washington aldermen present were Lee Stewart, James Silverthorn and Bonnie Singleton. Fred Fendleton, editor of the Washington News, and Chester Walsh of the Reflector, and Alderman Berry Bostic, N. C. Brooks and Heber Tripp were guests.

Charge Three With Larceny Of Auto

Greenville police are holding Willie O'Neal, 21, James O'Neal, 24, and John Albert Sanders, Negroes, on charges of the larceny of a car belonging to Marine Master Sgt. Anstie McBeth of Camp Lejeune last Sunday. The car was recovered by Kingston police between Kingston and New Bern. It was not in running order.

The trio will be tried in Police Court Friday.

Washington, June 26—(AP)—Rep. Dorn (D-SC) said today there is a black market for GI bonds developing in this country.

The South Carolina veterans of World War Two told reporters: "I understand that in some sections of the country armed forces leave bonds are being bought up by loan sharks and others—at a discount. This practice seems to be spreading."

"It is criminal," he said, "at this stage to cheat the GI of the full value of his bond, because I am convinced as a member of Congress that before the present session ends in July, the terminal leave bonds will be made negotiable."

"I, therefore, urge that all GI holders of armed forces leave bonds defer taking any discount on their bonds at least until the end of this session of Congress."

Poll Indicates Tax Cut Favored In Both Houses

Washington, June 26—(AP)—Reports circulated on Capitol Hill today that informal polls show a two-thirds majority of both House and Senate in favor of enacting the rejuvenated $4,000,000,000 tax slash bill.

These reports were accompanied by widely voiced speculation that only a Senate filibuster could stop the tax measure—changed to make the cuts effective next January 1 instead of this July 1—if the Republicans choose to call for another showdown.

Football Dream Dashed By North State Ruling

By JOHNNY COREY
East Carolina's entry into the North State Conference is going to deal a smashing blow to the 1947 state football eleven. Even though over 65 men are expected to report for practice which gets underway September 1, the squad will practically be paralyzed due to the ineligibility of six star first stringers to play, because of a North State Conference rule which forbids players who have transferred twice from other schools to play.

Those ineligible are Pete Everett, Slade Phillips, Elie Pearing, Charles Brown, Louis Tartarski and Jim Taylor. Taylor did not play here last fall, but played first string fullback for the University of Nevada. He was to be counted on heavily this season. Everett played for Wake Forest in his freshman year, while Brown played for Duke.

Phillips for William & Mary, and Pearing for Carolina. Bill Britt, Charlie Justice's understudy at Carolina, was planning to come to ECTC this fall, but will not come now due to his ineligibility. Britt will be remembered for his outstanding playing while at Greenville High School a few years back.

Among those eligible to play are four starters from last year. They are Frank Winesette, 200 pound end from Pivmouth; Center Willard Pendleton, Portsmouth, Va.; Tackle R. B. Lee, Kinston; and Tackle John Wyatt, Portsmouth, Va. Last year reserves who will probably receive first string positions this season are Hubert Musslewhite, flashy halfback from Greenville; Amos Sexton, hard-hitting guard from Alabama; Bill Kittrell, 200 pound plunging fullback from Winston-Salem; and Joe Allgood, hard-hitting fullback from Kinston.

The Yankees from the Training School overwhelmed the Dodgers from Third St. yesterday 23 to 4. The Dodgers were weakened by the absence of several key players. Sawyer with four for five and Tyndal and Evans with three hits each did the damage for the Yankees. Brown and Teel with three hits apiece were the leaders for the Dodgers.

BEARS DEFEAT GREENIES 7-6 DESPITE HITS

Locals Out-Slug New Bern 17 to 9 But Fall Short In 9th Frame Rally

By BERT MOYE
The New Bern Bears made it two in a row over the hapless Greenies last night in New Bern by taking a 7-6 victory. The loss for the Greenies put them in full possession of seventh place in league standings as Goldsboro handed the league-leading Rocks a 10-2 loss.

After scoring singletons in the first, second, third and fifth frames the Bears pushed across their winning three runs in the eighth. Brooks singled, advanced to second on a wild pitch, Settle walked and pitcher Sheehan got a freak triple down the first base line to bring home Brooks and Settle. Zumbo hit to second baseman Lynch who bobbled the ball, with Sheehan scoring. Greenville scored one run in the third frame when Lynch reached first on a fielder's choice, went to third on Lee's single, and came home on Willie Mauney's single. One more was added in the fifth when Lee singled to right field and Knowles errored, allowing Lee to take second, and Jack Bomar singled to bring him home. Another singleton in the eighth when Bobby Pare reached first on a fielder's choice, Bill Bomar singled and Johnny Foell singled to bring home Pare.

The Greenies staged a three-run rally in the ninth but fell short of one run of knotting the count. Lee, first up, doubled, Willie Mauney doubled to bring him home, Jack Bomar singled to bring home Mauney and Marvin Mauney doubled to bring home Jack Bomar. Tommy Lee with two doubles and two singles in five trips to the plate and Willie Mauney with a double and two singles in five trips to the plate led the 17-hit attack off Jerry Sheehan, the Bears' hurler.

Johnny Foell pitched the entire game for the Greenies, allowing nine hits, seven runs, four of them of the earned variety, struck out three men and walked a like number.

He wasn't. The coat was returned.

DIAMOND DUST

By BERT MOYE
Sideline: Despite the fact that the Greenies made seventeen hits they were unable to hit when hits would have brought home men on bases, seven of the hits being literally wasted by the Greenies. A dozen locals were left stranded on bases. . . Three of the Greenies' four errors figured in the Bears' scoring. . . Howard Jenkins went in to pinch hit for Bill Bomar in the ninth with two on bases but whiffed the bouncer. Bomar in his last two trips to the plate had hit safely. . . Greenville made two double plays to help stave off several Bears runs. . . Five of the Greenies' six runs were earned. . . Of the seventeen hits made by the Greenies five were for extra bases, with every man hitting successfully with the exception of Foell.

The Greenies' loss to the Bears last night was their seventh straight loss and during their past eleven games have only won one game—that being with Kinston on last Wednesday. Foell's loss was his eighth of the season. He has eight wins.

Garland Little, southpaw, will be on the mound for the Greenies when they open a two-game series with the Roanoke Rapids Jays here at Guy Smith Stadium tonight.

Rex Benton, who was recently sent to the Palatka club of the Florida State League for a trial, has been returned to Greenville.

Definite word from Charlie Chute, who left to go home on business several days ago, is that he will not return to the Greenies.

Miss Edna Barnhill, of Williams- ton, secretary of the Coastal Plain League, has recently been promoted to associate editor of the "Veconomist," Virginia Electric and Power Company employees' publication, for the Southern Division. The announcement was made in the current issue of the magazine.
