COAL MINERS ON VACATION FOR TEN DAYS

Take Time Out From Worries; New Deadline July 8; Shortages Apparent

Pittsburgh, June 28—(AP)—The nearly half million coal miners of the United States today shed their worries over strikes, labor laws, fuel shortages and contracts and went on a 10-day vacation with pay. The holiday, granted by the government under its contract with the AFL-United Mine Workers, temporarily eased the tension built up this week by a wildcat walkout of nearly two-thirds of the miners in protest against the Taft-Hartley Labor Act. The exodus from the pits last midnight—the largest mass evacuation in the history of the nation—emphasized the shortage which already had forced cutbacks in steel mills and had resulted in the furloughing of workers on coal-carrying railroads. The vacation sets up a new deadline for miners, operators and government officials to think about—July 8, the day the coal diggers are scheduled to report back for duty. Next Monday the government is returning to the coal operators the 2,500 mines in 22 states which were seized in May, 1946, after a 56-day strike had threatened to disrupt the nation's economy. The operators have as yet signed no contract with the AFL-United Mine workers, who always in the past have followed their slogan, "No contract, no work." Unless the union and the mine owners can get together in the next 10 days, the country faces the possibility of a work stoppage that would paralyze large segments of American industry. What the government proposes to do in such an eventuality remains a moot question. There has been no official pronouncement.

Policy Holders Affected By Firm's Failure

Raleigh, June 26—(AP)—Insurance Commissioner William P. Hodges announced today that the Keystone Mutual Casualty Company of Pittsburgh, Pa. has been declared insolvent and placed in the hands of the Pennsylvania insurance commissioner for liquidation. Hodges said that James F. Malone, Jr., Pennsylvania insurance commissioner, had notified him that the liquidation order was signed today by Judge William M. Hargest of the Dauphin County Court of Common Pleas. Hodges said that he planned to confer with Attorney General Harry McMullan on steps to be taken in North Carolina in connection with liquidation of the firm which sold an extensive business in this state in automobile liability and automobile damage insurance. In 1946, the company had a premium income of $386,937.49 from its North Carolina business, Hodges said. On June 9, Hodges notified Keystone's agents in North Carolina that the license of the firm to do business in this state had been suspended pending an investigation of its financial affairs.

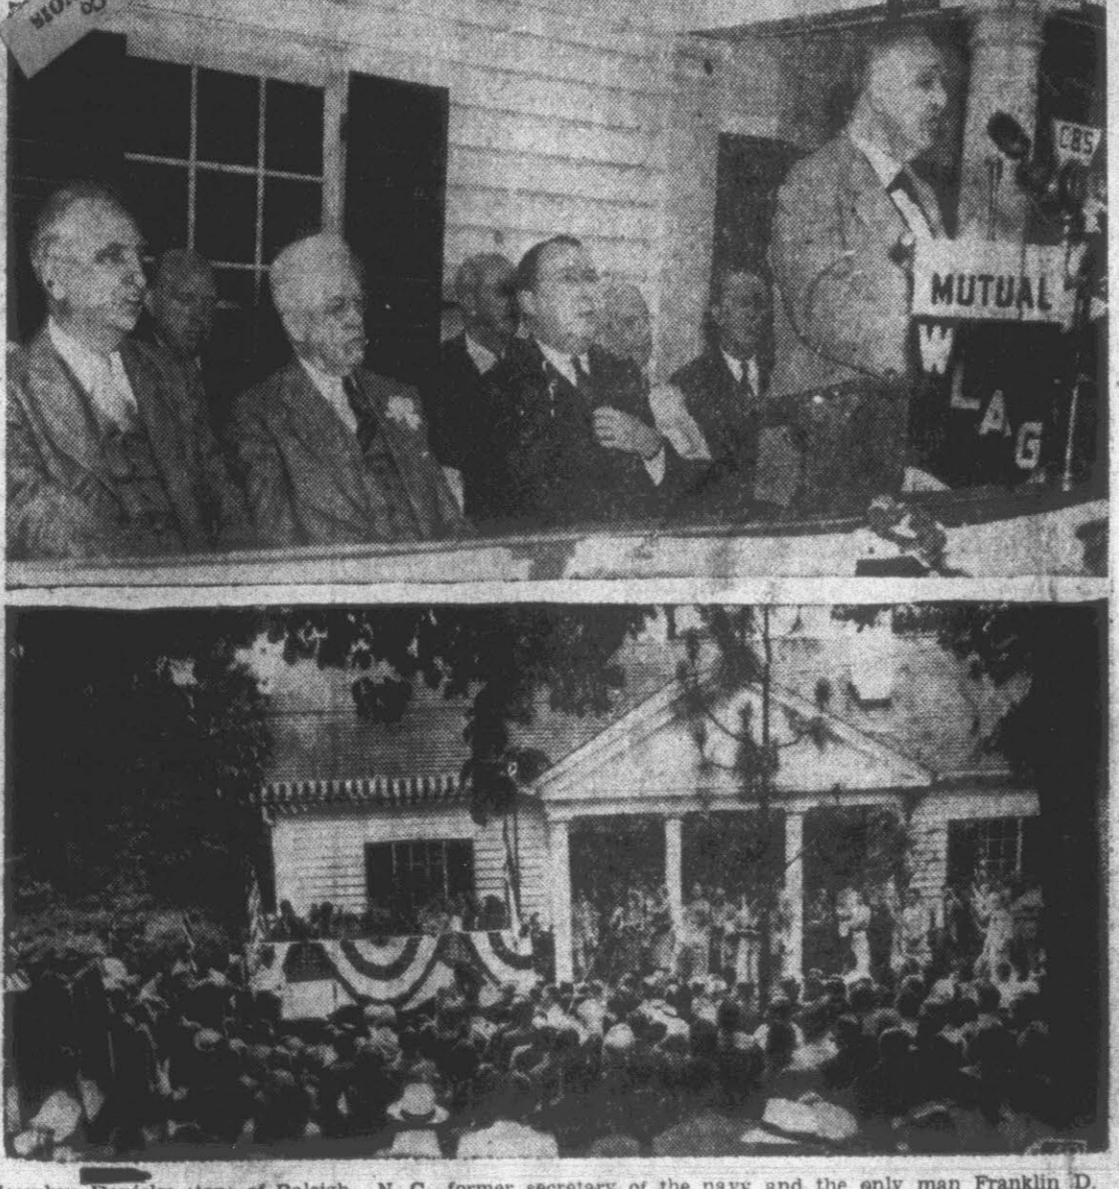

Jeep Ambushed In Philippines

Manila, June 28—(AP)—An unidentified band of armed men ambushed a United States army jeep last night 45 road miles northwest of Manila and killed the four-week-old child of medical Corps Capt. Irvin Plough, the army announced today. The ambush occurred on a heavily traveled road near Minalin, Pangasinan province. Plough and his wife were wounded. Mrs. Plough, the more seriously hurt, was treated for gunshot wounds in the shoulder.

WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE This column drew attention yesterday to the crisis in China's life and death struggle, and concluded with the observation that "doctors don't abandon a patient without giving him the benefit of every possible treatment." Well, the doctors in Washington once more have devised an emergency treatment for the sick man of Asia. The United States has agreed to sell Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek 130,000,000 rounds of surplus rifle ammunition for his hard pressed troops in their fierce war with the Chinese Communists. Chiang's government also has been authorized to purchase other military supplies from private American manufacturers. And the Export-Import Bank has announced that it will consider lending money to China for specific projects. That seems like the logical remedy to try at this juncture. It's logical because, while China's needs are many and diversified, she considers her essential requirement right now to be the wherewithal to defeat the Chinese Communists. I realize that this assertion is strong mustard and gives rise to the question of why defeat of the Communists should be placed ahead of, say, further reform in the National Government. We discussed a partial answer to this briefly in yesterday's column. It is that there is no possible compromise between communism and any other political belief on the face of the earth. No country could be part Communist and part something else. It's that cardinal fact which rapidly is dividing the globe into two camps which are at swords point politically, economically and religiously. However, that isn't the whole (Continued on Page Two)

"The White House" Becomes National Shrine

Joseph Daniels (top) of Raleigh, N. C., former secretary of the navy and the only man Franklin D. Roosevelt called "chief" after he became president, stands before the microphones and delivers the principal address in dedicating the "Little White House" at Warm Springs, Ga., as a national shrine in memory of Roosevelt. The late president served as assistant secretary of the navy under Mr. Daniels in World War I. Seated in the foreground, left to right: Chief Justice Fred Vinson, Ivan Allen of Atlanta, chairman of the Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial Committee, and Basil O'Connor, president of the Warm Springs Foundation. Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia sits behind Mr. Daniels at extreme right. Russia Hinted As Wanting 'Details'

Paris, June 28—(AP)—The Russian position of the Marshall aid-Europe plan appeared to be shaping up today at the three-power foreign ministers conference, and indications were that it might involve a request for more definite information. Because of a news blackout imposed by British request, official sources were silent as British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov assembled for their second session in the French Foreign Ministry's ornate hall. Tass, official Soviet news agency, said the conference's "foremost task" was to "clarify the actual meaning" of the Harvard University speech of June 5 in which Secretary of State George C. Marshall offered United States help in rebuilding Europe's war-wrecked economy. Some regarded this as a tipoff on the Russian attitude. Le Parisien, Paris liberal newspaper, reported, meanwhile, without naming its source, that Molotov "made a very precise proposition" which took up most of the discussion at the minister's opening four-hour meeting yesterday. Reliable quarters said the ministers wasted no time in coming to grips with some principles basic to recovery. Three ministers and their delegations will be luncheon guests of French President Vincent Auriol tomorrow, and U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery has been invited. This will be the first time an American representative has had an official contact with the three foreign ministers during the present conference. (Continued on Page Two)

News Blackout Over Paris Conference But Soviet Press Indicates More Definite Information From U.S. Sought By Molotov

Up To Jury

Boston, June 28—(AP)—The treason case of Douglas Chandler, 58-year-old former Baltimore writer, accused of making propaganda recordings over the German radio for broadcast to the United States during the war, went to a federal court jury today at 11:30 a. m. Judge Francis J. W. Ford delivered the case to the jurors after an 85-minute charge in which he told them to "give the defendant his due and also give the government its due."

JAPS BELIEVE RELEASE NEAR

Tokyo, June 28—(AP)—General MacArthur's expressed opinion that supervision of Japan should last a generation came when many Japanese by subtle hints were beginning to indicate their belief that foreign control was about ended. Japanese generally still were unacquainted today with MacArthur's remarks to visiting American editors here yesterday. All newspaper stories were held up until this morning to clear American censorship. MacArthur's previous proposal for an early peace, followed by withdrawal of military forces, has led to a slow and somewhat limited return of Japanese arrogance. This is noted particularly among bureaucrats and some businessmen who expect to capitalize on the reopening. (Continued on Page Two)

ST. LOUIS IS IN FLOOD'S PATH

St. Louis, June 28—(AP)—New crests of the flooding Missouri and Mississippi Rivers rolled toward a junction 20 miles north of here today as Army engineers and thousands of volunteers fought to save crucial levees in this highly industrialized metropolitan area. Most critical levees, all on the Illinois bank of the Mississippi were those protecting the Missouri Pacific railroad yards at Dupon, south of East St. Louis, and bottom lands at Venice and Granite City. Federal Meteorologist Harry P. Wahlgren predicted the Mississippi, swollen by the advance waters of the Missouri, would crest here late tomorrow or early Monday at slightly over 39 feet and "perhaps exceed" the 39.14 high water mark. State Enabled To Spend Funds On Urban Roads

Raleigh, June 28—(AP)—A recent act of congress will enable the state of North Carolina to spend some $2,957,811 on highways in its urban areas instead of being forced to watch a large portion of the money revert to the U. S. treasury. The federal act gave states another year to spend appropriations made by congress in 1944 to help finance their post-war road building programs. Chairman A. H. Graham of the State Highway Commission explained North Carolina's share of the $150,000,000 appropriation was $33,860,241, and the state has arranged for expenditure of all except $2,957,811 earmarked for road work in urban areas.

Babson Discusses Air Transportation

Babson Park, Mass., June 28—In these days of helicopter taxicabs it is hard to believe that seventy-five years ago we could count on taking twelve to fifteen minutes for going a mile by horse and buggy. Unless we could afford to spend four hours "commuting" each day, we did not live even ten miles away from our work; twenty miles was out of the question. Today, with modern transportation, it is not uncommon to live in one state and work each day in another. Old And The New The automobile, now with us over half a century and still furnishing speedy transportation on the country highways, has already become slow and ineffective in many ways. For example, to get from the heart of Boston to its Logan Airport is now such an uncertain process by automobile that a helicopter has been making flights direct to the airport from a roof at the Boston Bus Center. The time involved has been between one and two minutes. A suburban delivery service by helicopter was started by one of Boston's department stores some months ago. Now, a fleet of air taxi-cabs is being predicted. We are appearing to develop air transportation, useful in peace or war, on an immense scale. A new troop transport plane is planned to carry fifty tons of cargo or four hundred dived troops. Without refueling, it will fly more than eight thousand miles. The future promises enormous planes which will "go through" in any weather, flying high above the storms because of their pressurized cabins. Safety Increasing The four recent severe plane crashes have dimmed the safety record of the airlines but remember that as of December 1946, seven airlines in this country had a record of no deaths from accidents in the past decade. Our airlines know that their very existence depends on constantly reducing risk of accident. The National Safety Council announced in May of this year that not a single death occurred in 1946 during the scheduled passenger flights of sixteen U. S. airlines. They are on the way to better (Continued on Page Two)

SHOWDOWN ON BALKANS NEAR IN UN BALLOT

Whether Russia Will Back Satellites Is Question To Be Settled

Lake Success, N. Y., June 28—(AP) Russia and the Western powers in the United Nations Security Council headed today for a showdown on the touchy problem of the Balkans. The question uppermost in the minds of most delegates was whether the Soviet Union would back up her satellites—Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania—when the time came to vote on committee findings that those three nations were responsible in some degree for the bloody guerrilla warfare in Greece. The crisis was expected to be reached when the time came for Russia to vote on a proposal to keep a two-year United Nations vigil over the Balkans, right in the Soviet backyard. The tenseness of the situation was emphasized yesterday when the United States told the Security Council that it would be called upon to use force, if necessary, to stop anti-Greek activities of the three Soviet Balkan satellites. In the toughest language used thus far by an American in the council, Chief U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin directly accused Greece's northern neighbors of "using force against the territorial integrity and political independence of Greece." Austin said if these activities could not be stopped by peaceful means the United Nations had no other course left except to invoke "enforcement action."

ARABIAN OIL IMPORT PROBE

Washington, June 28—(AP)—Senator Brewster (R-Me.) today called for a "full inquiry" into why the navy must import millions of barrels of oil from Arabia while Russian tankers are carrying U. S. petroleum away from west coast ports. Brewster said he would follow up with a resolution to authorize an investigation of the whole oil shortage question by the senate commerce committee. John L. Sullivan, undersecretary of the navy, wrote the senate investigating committee that the navy has had to arrange to import 500,000 barrels of fuel oil a month for the next six months from the Persian Gulf area. Sullivan described the price of $1.05 a barrel as "the current prevailing price for oil in that area." Brewster, who is chairman of the committee, issued a statement last night saying: "On April 16, 1947, the American Arabian Oil Company offered the navy 3,400,000 barrels at 40 cents a barrel. The navy said it didn't take it then because it was not ready and that the oil had an excessive sulphur content. The navy has said it was wrong on the sulphur. This is the same oil." Brewster added that the American Arabian Oil Company "had paid back a $39,883,000 loan made it by the Standard Oil Company of California and the Texas Company, and in addition has paid these companies as stockholders $22,000,000 in dividends, $11,000,000 each. "This is approximately the profit on the difference between 40 cents and $1.05 a barrel between 1941 and 1946."

CIO Announces Strategy Of Combating Labor Act

Washington, June 28—(AP)—The CIO high command passed the word to member unions today that the battle of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act will be fought in the courts and in the 1948 national elections. Rejecting all suggestions of a general protest strike, the 51-member CIO executive board decided to (1) attack the new law's constitutionality and (2) call on the AFL and railroad unions for a united attempt to beat the congressmen who voted for it. Meanwhile CIO unions will be advised to make their own decisions on whether to involve themselves with the new National Labor Relations Board in any way. As a starter in the court fight, President Philip Murray said, the CIO will take aim on the Taft-Hartley bill's ban against union political contributions or editorial expression for or against congressional candidates in newspapers supported by union funds. "We will not comply with the unconstitutional limitations on political activity which are written into the Taft-Hartley bill," Murray said. Murray proposed a meeting of himself and leaders of the other big unions to work out joint strategy. He sent invitations to William Green, president of the AFL; Al-

MAJOR BATTLE IS UNDER WAY IN MANCHURIA

Mudan, Manchuria, June 28—(AP)—Government forces drove relentlessly toward flaming Szepping-kai today as their leaders claimed that 50,000 Communist troops—three-fifths of the entire Red string force in Manchuria—had been killed or captured in this costliest battle of the past year. The Communists, at the same time, broadcast reports that they had killed or captured Government soldiers in winning control of most of Szepping-kai in a 12-day fight. "Pending more exhaustive intelligence, however, estimates of losses by both sides should be considered with reserve." Szepping-kai, rail city roughly midway between Changchun (the Manchurian capital) and Mukden, probably will be fully in Government hands within 48 hours. Nationalist leaders predicted confidently after the seizure of a key ridge north of the city. Lieut. Gen. Yu Chin-chung emphatically denied reports that Government troops would evacuate Manchuria and an official army spokesman told the Associated Press "moreover, it is the policy not only of the military authority but of the National Government, to refuse to give up Manchuria."

MASS LAYOFFS SCHEDULED BY STEEL FIRMS

Pittsburgh, June 28—(AP)—The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. said today that 10,000 workers in its district mills would be furloughed by Monday in the largest mass layoff in the nation's steel industry because of a complete shutdown in the nation's mines for a miners' vacation. This drastic slash in the Pittsburgh-Youngstown, O., district came as nearly a half million coal miners went on a 10-day paid vacation. Carnegie-Illinois, top steelmaker in the structure of the U. S. Steel Corp., nation's largest producer, gives employment in the district to about 55,000, including maintenance and office workers. The layoffs affect only production workers, of which there are about 40,000 in district mills. The U. S. Steel subsidiary announced yesterday an immediate cutback in district operations of 50 per cent from a peak theoretical capacity of 104 per cent to about 45 per cent. A Carnegie-Illinois spokesman said today that the deep operations slash to conserve merger supplies of coal would result in the banking of 10 additional blast furnaces, raising the total of those banked to the equivalent of 14 1-2 of the 25 steel-making furnaces the firm operates. LOW POINT IN AAF HISTORY

Williams Field, Ariz., June 28—(AP)—Major Gen. James P. Hodges, commanding general of the Flying Trainees Command, declared at pilot graduation ceremonies here that the United States will be without an airforce five years from now unless more pilots are trained. He made the statement yesterday a few minutes before he pinned wings on the three Americans in Class 47-B, the smallest class ever to graduate at Williams Field. Twelve Chinese pilots, the last of several thousand cadets sent to this country for training, also graduated. The general said the graduation marked a low point in the history of the once-mighty U. S. Air Force. "I wonder," he said, "how many realize that within five years we will cease to have an airforce if our training program is not substantially increased." He added that present reserves are from two to seven years old in their profession and "we know from (Continued on Page Two)

Will Act Next Week On Rents

Washington, June 28—(AP)—President Truman will take action next week, probably Monday, on the bill to extend rent controls through next February 29, the White House said today. The measure also allows voluntary rent increases up to 15 per cent where landlords and tenants agree on leases running through 1948. Mr. Truman has until midnight Wednesday to act on the legislation, but since present controls expire June 30 he is expected to announce his decision Monday. "Home-Run" Try Stops Schedule

Columbia, S. C., June 28—(AP)—A mass home run attempt by 16 members of the state penitentiary baseball team here yesterday backfired today as the team's schedule was cut short. All were confined to a special escape-proof cell block after guards found they had saved through one bar and were working on another of their regular cell block, Superintendent Wyndham Manning said. As a result the baseball schedule "has been slightly interrupted, to say the least," Manning commented dryly today. (Continued on Page Two)

NATION TODAY

BY JAMES MARLOW Washington, June 28—(AP)—Under the new labor law some unions and employers probably will be "bootlegging" to keep up good relations. That's what's being predicted here by some people close to the problems of unions and employers. For example: A closed shop is outlawed by the new law. A closed shop is where everyone belongs to the union and only union men can be hired. A boss and union no longer can agree to that in writing. But they may practice closed shop methods secretly. They'd be violating the law but it might be hard to prove. Here's an illustration: Six years ago, amid a lot of bitterness on both sides, a union moved in on employer Brown's plant and organized his workers. Since then Brown has had to deal with the union bargaining with it about wages, working conditions, vacations, and so on. For the first couple of years it was tough going while the big problems between Brown and the union were being straightened out. Then things settled down in Brown's plant. He and the union both felt that one of the reasons for peace was that he had agreed to a closed shop. So, under the closed shop contract, for years now Brown has been hiring none but union men. But now the new law says Brown can't permit a closed shop any more—or at least after his present contract runs out. Which means: It will be illegal for Brown and the union to agree that Brown can hire only union men. But suppose, following the law, he starts hiring non-union men in his highly unionized shop. U.S. Intervenes In Threatened Indonesian War

Batavia, Java, June 28—(AP)—The U. S. State Department requested the Republic of Indonesia today to "cooperate without delay in the immediate formation" of an interim federal government and promised to consider financial aid when the government was established. There were indications that the eleventh hour delivery of the State Department's message to the Indonesian government had started the start of Dutch military operations Monday. Earlier an Indonesian Republican army spokesman reported evidence that Lt. Gen. Siem Spoor had ordered his forces to be prepared to launch "united action on all fronts" Monday, but Spoor, commander of Dutch forces in the East Indies, denied this.

Boone Admits To Crime After Conviction

Raleigh, N. C., June 28—(AP)—Two hours after he was sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday for first degree burglary, James (Dick) Boone, 21, Rich Square Negro, admitted to officers he was involved in the incident which led to rape of a white woman. On the stand in Northampton County Superior Court Boone had denied any connection with the rape on which Will Cherry, 24, another Rich Square Negro, has been sentenced to death. Highway Patrolmen W. V. O'Daniel and O. W. Dean said that Boone, while being taken to Central Prison here, told them he had helped open a window screen while Cherry entered the home of Mrs. J. G. Tarrant. Boone later repeated his admission to reporters here. Cherry was a witness against Boone.

Strength FOR THE DAY

The Idolatry of the Goddess
Is America Christian?
T. S. Eliot, the well-known critic and poet, wrote recently of his own England words that might well be applied to America:
"A Cry from the North, from the West and from the South Whence thousands travel daily to the timekept City; Where My Word is unspoken, In the land of tobaccas and tennis flannels
The rabbit shall burrow and the thorn revert,
The nettle shall flourish on the gravel court,
And the wind shall say: Here were decent goddess people: Their only monument the asphalt road
And a thousand lost golf balls."

To those who regard religious faith as the most precious possession of their lives, the attitude of some people toward religion is incomprehensible. They never attend church. Almost every Saturday night is a gay party, and, weather permitting, a considerable portion of Sunday is a playday. Sometimes these people get pretty well frightened when the stock market breaks or when they lose their jobs or go to the hospital. But usually they revel in life as it is and scoff at the desirability of making it any better. Most of them are decent people, but they are goddess people, whose only monument is the asphalt road and a thousand lost golf balls.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS
Washington—Mrs. Mildred Smoot, soft-voiced principal of the Indian Head elementary school in nearby Maryland, has enrolled seven children of German scientists.
None of the children speaks English. Neither does any of the teachers speak German, but the children are happy and rosy-cheeked and are adjusting themselves very well.
Mrs. Smoot disapproves of the children's being publicized.
"They are different from the other children in the school anyway, and that makes it hard enough for them," she told me.
"They are bright children, and we don't have a bit of trouble with them," she said, adding:
"our procedure is to make everything as democratic as possible in the way we try to help them."

The youngsters' fathers were brought to this country by the Navy to install and teach the operation of German machines at the Indian Head Naval Powder Factory. About seven families reside at the Government Hotel.
In addition to a few pre-school children and the boys and girls at the elementary school, there is a boy, Ralph Peucher, 15, the only one old enough for Lackey High School.

Ralph is also the only one of the lot who speaks English. He speaks it without an accent and is a big help to the others. One of the mothers also speaks English.
"The children do very well with the sign language so far," says Mrs. Smoot.
She agrees with Ralph that the chief difference noticed by the children between the school in Indian Head and the schools in Germany is that "discipline is less rigid."

"We work on self-control, rather than control from the outside," she explained. "You can see that the German children are used to a more formal kind of schooling—walking in straight lines in the hall, for instance. Our children, though orderly and quiet, go as they please. That is hard for the newcomers to understand."

Some of the German children, she said, are beginning to think "anything goes" and there have been a few minor instances where the control necessarily had to come from the outside.
Mrs. Smoot said it has been difficult to measure the children's achievements, but she thinks she's got them as nearly as possible in the right classes. They are learning English more rapidly than she thought they would.

It All Depends

The teachers in the school say that slang seems to be easiest, however.
"One thing," says Mrs. Smoot, "we are having no trouble convincing them America is a pretty wonderful place. They are already aware of its advantages."

story by a long shot. There's another highly important angle to which Catholic Archbishop Paul Yu-pin drew attention yesterday that China's civil war actually is a "foreign war." He added that unless the United States gave assistance, "she herself may be the next victim," and China may become the birthplace of World War III.
The significance of the archbishop's remark about a "foreign war" is of course that it echoes Chinese Nationalist Government charges that Russia is aiding the Chinese Communists in their effort to overthrow the Nanking Government and establish communism in China. As a matter of fact, this charge isn't new, but has been maintained by Chiang's Government for a long time. The Russians are accused not only of furnishing the Chinese rebels with war supplies, but with having turned, important military positions over to them when the Soviet forces were withdrawing from Manchuria.
Anyway, the vital point is that if the Chinese Communists should be successful in their rebellion, Moscow ultimately would add China with its five hundred millions to the Soviet sphere of influence. That would make Russia the dominant power in the Orient. Small wonder then that Archbishop Paul Yu-pin should think of China as the possible birthplace of a third-world war.

So China would seem to be confronted with a very terrible paradox: that she must forge peace in the flames of war.

safety records with radar devices as an aid to landing and in preventing collisions. Recently Howard Hughes of Trans World Airlines, offered to put his new anti-collision safety device at the disposal of other companies as well as his own. A new type propeller will permit fast emergency stops. General Electric units on a recorder which automatically records a flight. This will help to find out the cause of accident. It will reveal actions of the pilot and the plane. It is said that most recent plane crashes have stemmed from errors in human judgement. This means even greater care is needed in selection of pilots. For they must combine qualities of character, high skill and responsibility.

Health Regulations
Air transportation develops new health problems. Our health regulations can not be too strict. Just one flea, louse, or mosquito can carry such disease as yellow fever, or typhus. We have heard in the past of the traveler to China returning with a rare Oriental disease today we are all open to foreign plagues. The Mexican importer who this Spring brought smallpox into N.Y. traveled by bus. Supposedly he was examined by U.S. health authorities as he came into the country.
Infections in the very early stages are easily recognized. Our health regulations and inspections must be especially strict in the future. For men and women on business or pleasure going from one country to another by rapid air travel can well be the carriers of infection.

Conclusion
So each development in transportation brings with it not only its technical problems of operation, but problems of human safety and health. In the small developments and in the million dollar researches it becomes our responsibility to see that scientific and commercial progress be directed more and more to the end of truly servicing human health and happiness. The time is approaching when certain airplanes se-

Will that cause new bitterness, new trouble, maybe work stoppages at a time when Brown is anxious to make money by turning out all the goods he can.
If he thinks so, then this may happen: He and the union won't agree in writing that they have a closed shop in his place.
But, by secret understanding, Brown and the union may agree that he will hire only union men.
A non-union man, turned down by Brown, could complain about it to the National Labor Relations Board would have to investigate.
But that's where proving Brown and union had a closed shop conspiracy would come in. It might not be easy.
This doesn't mean that all employers would enter such an arrangement with a union.
Some who have disliked the union in their plant undoubtedly will use every means the new law gives them for weakening the tight grip of the union.

Bell Arthur Club: Mrs. Robert McArthur and Mrs. and saluted nuts.

J. L. Cashwell were hostesses to the Bell Arthur Club on Wednesday, June 25 at the Home Economics Cottage. The president, Mrs. J. L. Cashwell, presided. The secretary, Mrs. B. L. Bateman, read the minutes of the May meeting and called the roll. Mrs. Gordon Lee, Food Preservation Leader, discussed the preparation of peaches for freezing. Mrs. Cashwell reported on our international neighbor, Czechoslovakia. The club decided to have a picnic and invite their families on July 11th at 6:30 p. m. at the Farmville Recreation Park.

After the demonstration on "Simple Entertaining," the hostesses served punch, cheeses dainties and cookies.

Renston-Nobles Club: The Renston-Nobles Club met at the new and attractive home of Mrs. Jack Dail with Mesdames Luther Dail and George Harris as hostesses. Mrs. Obed Castellio, president, presided. Mrs. Ralph Worthington gave interesting facts on the international neighbor, Japan; Mrs. C. M. Stokes gave a report on Czechoslovakia. Mrs. J. B. Speight, Food Conservation Leader, gave a demonstration on "Freezing Foods for Home Use." After the program the guests were invited into the dining room. An attractive arrangement of mixed summer flowers were found on one end of the tea table. Mrs. Charlie Davenport served punch. The hostesses passed party cookies, cheese dainties, and sandwiches. Guests included Mesdames R. H. McLawhorn, Sr., L. W. Tucker, Powell Speight.

Sweet Gum Grove Club: Twenty-two club members and 12 visitors were present at the Sweet Gum Grove Club meeting on Thursday at the home of Mrs. John Whichard with Mrs. S. A. Moore as joint hostess. The Whichard home was attractive with arrangements of roses, larkspur, glads throughout. Mrs. Whichard, president, presided. Mrs. Wadie T. Carson opened the meeting with an inspirational devotional. Eric Whichard, veteran of World War II and son of Mrs. John Whichard, told club members about the interesting things he saw while in combat duty in France. His talk was illustrated with pictures. Mrs. Moore, Foods Leader, demonstrated the preparation of peaches for the freezer locker. She used absorbic acid in syrup to prevent discoloration of the fruit. She also reviewed the book "Frontier on the Potomac," by Daniels. Mrs. C. H. Bailey gave her third book report for the year.

After the demonstration the guests were served punch, sandwiches, cookies and saluted nuts from a beautiful tea table in the dining room.

The guests were: Mesdames E. G. Webb, John James, Jr., Robert Station, J. P. Moss, John James, Sr., Lester Stokes, Bert Whitehurst, Clarence Barnhill, Johnnie Stokes, Linwood Briley, and Misses Janell Whitehurst and Beth Briley.

It was a real joy for the Home Agent, Mrs. Langford, to attend three grand club meetings this week. In fact it seemed that there was more real enthusiasm and Home Demonstration Club spirit at the Seven Pines meeting on Tuesday, Renston-Nobles Club on Wednesday, and Sweet-Gum Grove on Thursday than any meeting she had attended on three consecutive days in a long time.
