TWO YUGOSLAV DIPLOMATS IN CHILE EVICTED

Accused Of Fomenting Communist Campaign On Orders From Home

Santiago, Chile, Oct. 9—(AP)—Two Yugoslav diplomats, accused by the Chilean government of fomenting, on orders from home, a Communist campaign against the United States and hemisphere solidarity were expelled from Chile last night.

An official statement said the two men—Andrej Cunja, Yugoslav charge d'affaires, and Dalibor Jakasa, secretary of the Yugoslav legation in Buenos Aires, a visitor in Santiago—were acting for the new Communist international headquarters in Belgrade and had received instructions to:

"A. Intensify and coordinate a campaign against the United States of America in order to induce the greater democratic elements to join Soviet strategy against the Western democracies.

"B. Attack the policy of continental defense.

"C. Develop a plan of sabotage of production, either by means of slowing work or causing strikes and conflicts in industries producing raw materials."

Cunja and Jakasa were taken by automobile to Mendoza, Argentina, just across the border.

It was announced officially just before midnight that President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla had notified President Juan D. Peron of Argentina of his action to "counterbalance the energetically revolutionary plan of the Communist party" and that Peron had informed Gonzalez Videla that he would take the necessary steps to "defend Argentine sovereignty."

Officials said Foreign Minister Vergara Donoso told the Yugoslavs they had "seriously infringed the hospitality of our country and acted against its independence with subversive aims."

Crazed Man Kills 1, Wounds 1, Fights Officers

Officers and trusties at the Shelby County jail in Memphis, Tenn., struggle to subdue Archer Smith, a crazed prisoner who wrenched a gun from a guard and killed a Negro trusty and wounded an employe of the sheriff's office. Although the 200-pound insane man has been shot twice, battered with clubs, and is chained hand and foot, he continues to put up a terrific fight. He died in a hospital three hours later. Hunt Prisoner Hiding In Prison

Philadelphia, Oct. 9—(AP)—Moyamensing Prison officials are searching for a 27-year-old prisoner they believe may be hiding inside the prison walls.

Dr. Frederick S. Baldi, superintendent of county prisons, said yesterday James Sessions, who was being held for grand jury action after police caught him at the end of a rooftop chase last Thursday, disappeared while prisoners were being marched back to their cells from breakfast.

Dr. Baldi said guards were unable to find any trace of Sessions during a search of the prison but at the same time could find no evidence that a rope or other means had been used to scale the prison walls.

CIO Boycott Of NLRB Crumbling

Boston, Oct. 9—(AP)—The CIO boycott of the National Labor Relations Board was crumbling fast today.

The CIO convention here next week is almost certain to avoid any policy that would encourage a continuation of that boycott.

Instead, the convention will make a strenuous attack on the Taft-Hartley labor law, but will state that each of the 41 CIO unions must decide for itself whether to file complaints and petitions before the reorganized NLRB under the new law.

Arrests Follow Inquiry Into Theft Of Secrets

Former Army Photographers Accused Of Taking Classified Photographs From Atomic And Secret Weapons Projects

Albuquerque, N.M., Oct. 9—(AP)—Federal agents who have been probing thefts of confidential matter from the Los Alamos atomic project nabbed two more suspects yesterday—and at the same time revealed the investigation also has covered a highly secret weapons project outside Albuquerque.

Complaints filed immediately after the simultaneous arrests 65 miles apart in New Mexico accused George Wellington Thompson, 38, formerly of Greenwood, Miss., of taking classified photographs from both the Army's Sandia base here and the atom laboratory; and Ernest Lawrence Paporello, 29, formerly of Union City, N.J., of stealing half a dozen Los Alamos pictures.

The two were identified by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as former Army photographers at Los Alamos, where the first atom bomb was assembled. After his discharge Thompson was a Civil Service employe for a time at Sandia.

Arraigned in Santa Fe, Thompson pleaded guilty to the Los Alamos thefts but denied taking any photos from the base here. Paporello's hearing in Albuquerque was continued until next Monday, allowing him time to engage counsel.

Wife Of Brazil's President Dies

Rio de Janeiro, Oct. 9—(AP)—Senhora Carmela Dutra, wife of the president of Brazil, died shortly before midnight last night of complications following an operation for appendicitis.

Senhora Dutra, who was 63, had been in ill health for more than a year.

President Dutra was at Aeronautical Hospital when death came to his wife, who was known affectionately throughout Brazil as "Dona Santinha" (Little Saint).

FRENCH CRISIS WITHIN WEEK

Dollar Purchasing Power Nearly Gone; No Solution In Sight

Washington, Oct. 9—(AP)—The State Department admitted today that so far it is stumped for means to prevent a threatened collapse of France's dollar purchasing power within the next week.

Herve Alphand, chief of economic affairs for the French Foreign Ministry, said his country will have to stop buying essential wheat, coal and fats around Oct. 15 unless outside help is forthcoming immediately.

"We are really facing a tragic moment," Alphand told a news conference late yesterday. "France is in a very critical economic and financial situation."

Italy also needs help urgently, he declared, and unless both countries get assistance at once it will be "infinitely difficult for the Marshall Plan to succeed."

Undersecretary of State Robert Lovett told reporters the government's response to the latest Communist challenge to the Marshall Plan of long-range recovery for Western Europe will be a pursue with "calm realism" the projects now in preparation.

He described organization of a new nine-country Communist information agency for the announced purpose of fighting British and American "imperialism" as an effort "to prevent, if they can, the economic recovery of Europe."

Ship Bearing War Dead Due Arrive Friday

San Francisco, Oct. 9—(AP)—With 3,012 caskets and 16 urns stacked in her forward holds, the grey Army cargo ship Honda Knot will steam slowly into San Francisco Bay tomorrow bearing the remains of the first of America's World War II dead.

The Army has never designated a code word for the two-year operation which will bring 228,000 bodies back from 454 military cemetries throughout the world, but unofficially the procedure has become known as "Operation Taps."

The Honda Knot, her flag at half mast, is scheduled to pass into the bay shortly before noon tomorrow after an escorted 11-day trip from Honolulu. A carefully-planned commemorative ceremony is programmed for noon on the Marine Shore, just inside the Golden Gate.

Most of the remains are those of the men first to die—victims of the Japanese bombing of Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

Will Go Ahead

Lake Success, Oct. 9—(AP)—The United States, apparently certain of victory in its fight for a United Nations "watchdog" commission in the Balkans, made plain today its intention to press for U.N. condemnation of three Soviet satellites accused of responsibility for Greece's border troubles.

An American spokesman declared that U.S. delegation would deviate from its position only if the three accused nations—Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria—officially agreed to cooperate with the border commission, which was approved by the U.N.'s 57-nation political commission late yesterday by a 34 to 6 vote.

AFL COUNSEL PADWAY DIES

Stroke On Speaker's Platform At Union Convention Fatal

San Francisco, Oct. 9—(AP)—Death of 56-year-old Joseph A. Padway, general counsel of the American Federation of Labor, threw the AFL convention into stunned grief today and delayed a prospective showdown over John L. Lewis' refusal to sign a non-Communist oath.

Padway was fatally stricken midway in a long and violent attack on the Taft-Hartley Act on the convention platform yesterday. He died less than eight hours later in Stanford Hospital, shocking the 700 delegates and AFL leaders who had cheered his remarks without knowing he had sustained a stroke on the speaker's platform.

The chunky attorney, in ill health for some time, also seemed unaware

Distillers Agree To Two-Month Holiday; Brewers Meet Friday

Washington, Oct. 9 — (AP) — A two-month holiday from the distilling of liquor to save upwards of 10,000,000 bushels of grain for Europe was in prospect today, beginning about Oct. 25.

Joseph A. Engelhard of Louisville, president of the Distilled Spirits Institute, said "it is just a question of mechanics" to work out the date for the shutdown asked by President Truman and his Citizens Food Committee.

Engelhard told a reporter the switches cannot be pulled overnight but that "it could be done smoothly" in two or three weeks.

"My guess would be around the 25th," he said.

Charles Luckman, food committee chairman, turns his attention next to the beer and ale makers.

Brewing industry representatives will meet in Chicago tomorrow to discuss possible savings and will give Luckman their answer probably early next week.

Luckman said he has no doubt that the liquor industry will get together on the shutdown despite some uncertainty which developed at a conference on the plan yesterday. A number of industry officials concurred.

This was what happened at the conference:

Thirty-nine companies were represented. After a two and one-half hour discussion, 18 voted in favor of the shutdown. The remaining 21 firms abstained from voting, saying they wanted to confer further with their directors or stockholders.

Luckman said all the major distilleries were represented, but he declined to say how any individual company voted.

The companies, he told newsmen, were asked to (1) close down for 60 days and (2) release immediately all stocks of grain they have on hand or on order.

He said he assured the industry, on behalf of the Administration, that there will be no request that the shutdown be extended for a longer time, but he said he could not promise distillers will not be asked to adopt some conservation measures when the holiday is over.

Typhoon Batters Tiny Iwo Jima

Guam, Oct. 9—(AP)—A vicious tropical typhoon accompanied by 160-mile winds battered tiny Iwo Jima today, causing severe damage to American installations and an unknown number of casualties.

The typhoon for a time blotted out communications with the small Army caretaker garrison on the famous island battleground of World War II.

There were no further details.

Small Powers Angered By U.S.-Soviet Secrecy

Display Impatience At Awaiting Policy Statements On Palestine; Fail To Speed Up Declarations

Lake Success, Oct. 9—(AP)—Mounting small power resentment against secrecy maintained by the United States and Russia on their respective Palestine policies flared into the open today but failed to speed up declarations from those major powers.

Sir Mohammed Zafrullah Khan, delegate from Pakistan, angered over the delay in big power policy statements proposed that the 57-nation Palestine Committee of the United Nations Assembly close its debate immediately without hearing the great nations.

Dr. Herbert V. Evatt of Australia, committee chairman, said he had sympathy with Khan's suggestion but that he had to follow the established rules of procedure. He said there was a "reasonable" chance that the Palestine debate might be closed Saturday.

Hector David Castro of El Salvador then suggested that a deadline be fixed for delegations to get BIDAULT ENDS VISIT IN U. S.

Raps 'Comintern'; Is Satisfied With Economic Talks

New York, Oct. 9—(AP)—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault wound up his three weeks visit in the United States today after blasting the new Communist international organization in Europe as a "blunder" and an "obstacle" to peace.

Bidault expressed belief that, although French Communists had joined the nine-nation Communist "Information Bureau," the organization would not dictate the affairs of France.

The French foreign minister made his declaration in an interview last night as he prepared to board a plane this morning for Paris. He had been in the United States as head of the French delegation to the United Nations Assembly and also for consultations with Secretary of State Marshall on France's economic difficulties.

Bidault declared:

1. He was very well satisfied with his economic talks.

Tongue Stuck On Freeze Cabinet

Cleveland, Oct. 9—(AP)—A four-year-old boy, who was believed to have mistaken a valve on a deep freeze cabinet for a drinking fountain, was suffering today from a torn tongue muscle and loss of a piece of skin.

Mrs. Mary Demko, mother of the youth, Joseph, said she was making a purchase in a Catering Company store when she heard him scream.

Finding his tongue stuck to the refrigerated cabinet, she first tried to pull him away, then grabbed the tongue. It came loose but a piece of skin remained.

Knew His Subject

Two Rivers, Wis., Oct. 9—(AP) As Chief of Police Arthur J. Rahn rose last night to address a dinner meeting of the Lions Club, the hotel chef dashed in, shouting, "Hurry, chief, there's a fire in the kitchen."

Rahn sprinted through the lobby to his car, came back with a fire extinguished and quickly quelled the blaze, which was caused when a pan of grease upset on a stove.

He then resumed his talk on fire prevention.

ROBOT ROCKET PLANES CRASH SONIC BARRIER

U.S. Experimental Craft Speeds Near 1,700 MPH Off Virginia Coast

By ROBERT S. BALL

(Staff Correspondent of the Detroit News)
(Copyright, 1947, by the Detroit News)

Cleveland, Oct. 9—(AP)—American robot planes have crashed the sonic barrier at blistering speeds in the neighborhood of 1,700 miles an hour, a high government official revealed today.

The flights have been carried on for months from a lonely island off the Virginia coast, where the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA) has a small experimental station.

This disclosure of American progress in the field of supersonic flight—which is flight faster than the speed of sound—was prompted by publication Wednesday of accounts from England of the 900-miles-an-hour flight of pilotless rocket craft.

As in the English experiments, the American rocket ships are launched at high altitude from a fast-flying bomber. Their controls are pre-set to send them diving into the sea after a flight of 20 to 30 miles.

Telemetering devices installed in the robot automatically transmit pertinent data to observers aloft and on the ground. Radar also is used to track the rocket plane throughout its brief but sensational flight.

"It will not be many months before we have a piloted aircraft break through the sonic barrier (750 miles an hour at 30,000 feet), although he will be flying a turbojet plane with a rocket boost," the government spokesman said.

It was revealed that great progress had been made in recent months in perfecting controls for the supersonic aircraft, whose wings are so sharply swept back that they resemble a "V."

Today's disclosures coincided with, but were not a part of, the first annual inspection by military and civilian engineers of the NACA's flight propulsion research laboratory at the edge of the Cleveland municipal airport.

Faint SOS May Be From Ships Lost In Pacific

Pearl Harbor, Oct. 9—(AP)—A faint radio distress signal sputtering out of the lonely wastes of the Pacific kept alive hope today that three U.S. seamen yet would be found safe on four lost minesweepers.

The radio for help gave the call letters of the tug Edward M. Grimm, which cut them adrift 16 days ago while it put into Palmyra, 1,000 miles south of here, to replenish exhausted fuel supplies.

The Hawaiian Sea Frontier said there was no doubt but that the signal came from a radioman operating an emergency set aboard one of the minesweepers, which have no power.

The pilot of a search plane heard the signal but it was too weak for him to obtain a bearing, the Frontier said.

It was the first trace of the four minesweepers since the Navy launched a wide aerial search a week ago after the story of the mishap came out of Palmyra.

Federal Loyalty Check

Involves Employes Of Government's Executive Branch; Purpose Is To Fire Persons Considered Disloyal; Started October 1; Background And Theoretical Example

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 9—(AP)—Here's an explanation of the check being made on the loyalty of about 1,600,000 government employes.

They're the ones working for the government's executive branch, like the Labor, Treasury and Commerce Departments.

(There's no checking being done on people working for Congress or the federal courts.)

The purpose of all this: to fire persons considered disloyal, which means tied up with Communists or fascists.

President Truman asked for the check. Congress voted $11,000,000 for it last July. The checking officially started Oct. 1.

(Other very special checks are being made by the State Department and by the Army, Navy and Atomic Energy Commission. They'll be explained later in this series.)

Who decides, in this search for disloyalty in the executive branch, who is disloyal and what is disloyalty? Government boards.

Mr. Truman said the No. 1 standard for testing loyalty shall be that:

"On all the evidence, reasonable grounds exist for belief that the person involved is disloyal to the government of the United States."

Attorney General Tom Clark has drawn up a list of about 70 organizations which he considers communistic or fascistic, or subversive.

The government agencies checking on loyalty will use Clark's list as a guide. The question arises:

Why should a man be fired from government service for being a Communist when the government permits the Communist party to exist here?

This is the government answer you'll get:

1. The Communist party can exist because the constitution guarantees the right of free speech to every citizen.

2. But working for the government is a privilege, not a right. Therefore, the government can fire a Communist or Communist sympathizer.

Here's how the check goes:

All 1,600,000 workers are fingerprinted, even though many of them have been fingerprinted before. And they must fill out an "identity" form:

Name, date and place of birth, places where they've lived and worked in the past 10 years and what organizations they've belonged to, other than religious or political.

The FBI gets these two forms and checks them against its fingerprint file and its list of "subversive" peo-

Touch Of Speculation

Attlee's Shakeup Of Socialist Cabinet Is Noteworthy Development In Political Life Of England In Relation To European Crisis; Middle-Of-The-Road Trend

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

British Prime Minister Attlee's drastic shake-up of his Labor (Socialist) cabinet—the ousting of five ministers and the demotion of Fuel and Power Minister Emanuel Shinwell, powerful left-wing leader—is a notable development, both in the political life of England and in relation to the general European economic crisis.

Mr. Attlee's paramount object clearly is to secure the utmost governmental efficiency for dealing with Britain's life and death struggle against the great depression. Having recently created Sir Stafford Cripps as minister for economic affairs, with virtually dictatorial power in that field, the prime minister now is surrounding his key man with new executive talent to strengthen the machine. Some thirty posts are involved in the reshuffling and firing. All in all it's an encouraging demonstration of John Bull's intention to see the crisis through.

However, the political aspect of the situation is perhaps even more important, from the long-range viewpoint of world peace. In ousting Shinwell from the vital fuel and power ministery (coal production being the crux of the crisis), and giving him the relatively unimportant post of war minister, Attlee took his political life in his hands. He was dealing with the most important leftist in his cabinet—a man with a big following.

Small wonder then that the question immediately should arise whether Shinwell's demotion represents a Socialist swing to the right. Several London newspapers expressed the view that it was, but government spokesmen declared this idea was without foundation. Well, maybe the prime minister wasn't making a gesture to the right, but we can be excused for at least wondering. Certainly he wasn't swinging to the left.

Anyway, your columnist is intrigued with the speculation. The general public of Britain is showing distinct signs of adopting a fairly middle-of-the-road course politically. You will recall that the Conservative Party at its annual meeting the other day pledged that if it is returned to power in the next general election it won't de-nationalize the principal industries which the Socialist government has taken over. In other words the Tories swung a bit to the left, presumably in recognition of the public's attitude.

Yes, I think the Socialists are moving a wee bit right and the Tories a little left, in preparation for

Again Advance

W. L. Whedbee, supervisor of the Greenville Tobacco Market, stated today that prices had advanced sharply on the Greenville Market since last week. That the Greenville Market averaged $49.73 on Monday of this week for every pound of tobacco sold on the Greenville Market, including damaged tobacco. Whedbee stated that top tobaccos were selling at $61, $62, $63, $64, $65 and $66 (company purchases), and that many farmers were averaging well over $60 for their entire offerings.

Name Lee Folger To Head Community Chest Drive

J. B. Kittrell, president of the Greenville Community Chest, today announced that Lee A. Folger, Jr., had been elected by the Board of Directors of Greenville Community Chest as director of the 1947 campaign of the Greenville Community Chest. The Board of Directors were reported as being very gratified that the direction of this year's campaign to raise funds for the worthy agencies participating in the Chest had been placed in the hands of Mr. Folger.

Mr. Kittrell stated: "We believe that we are indeed fortunate in having Mr. Folger to bring to the fall campaign of the Greenville Community Chest his very splendid abilities, and we think that the people of Greenville will be happy to know that this annual fund raising campaign will be under the capable direction and guidance of this outstanding young businessman of the city. Mr. Folger will bring to the fall campaign a wide experience and a wealth of enthusiasm. He has already commenced making his various committee assignments and planning for the drive which will take place at a later date."

The Board of Directors of Greenville Community Chest have approved requests from eight participating agencies and have approved a 1947 budget for the Community Chest in the total amount of $11,-000. Those participating agencies include among others, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Thrift Shop, and the Teen-Age Club.

Mr. Folger is a veteran of World War II; he served with the Army Air Forces with distinction and saw service overseas. Injuries sustained in Africa placed Mr. Folger in various Army hospitals and he returned to Greenville at the close of the war to resume his activities with his automobile sales and garage firm of Folger Buick Company. Mr. Folger is married and has two children.

Since becoming a resident of Greenville several years before the war, Mr. Folger has taken an active part in the civic and social life of the community.

Dry Ice Experiment On Hurricane Standing By

Washington, Oct. 9—(AP)—Military and civilian scientists are now ready to sprinkle a little dry ice experimentally on the tail of the first young hurricane that comes along, a joint Army-Navy announcement said today.

Scientists of the Army Signal Corps, the Office of Naval Research and the General Electric Company, whose laboratory men were the first to demonstrate the precipitation of clouds by dropping pellets of dry ice through them, will make the experiment.

The services said they "are standing by awaiting an alert which will take them flying into the heart of the first suitable incipient hurricane many hundreds of miles away from the United States shores."

Three aircraft—two B-17s and one B-29—will be used, with one of the Flying Fortresses doing the dry ice "seeding" of clouds and the other two planes carrying observers.

"We are in far too preliminary a stage to think of stopping a hurricane," said one of the scientists. "At this point we are interested only in seeing and recording any effects the dry-ice technique will have."

Lesser Known Cuts Are Economical

You'll do your food budget a good turn these days by using the lesser known cuts of meat. Breast of veal, beef brisket, beef short ribs, and veal or beef shank are among the excellent buys now.

a Rector Recipe

Stuffed Breast of Veal Roast

Ask your meat dealer to remove the breast bone from a veal breast and cut a pocket at the wide end.

Season pocket and outside with salt and pepper and fill with stuffing made by mixing together the following:

2 tbsp. onion browned in 4 tbsp. bacon drippings
2 tsp. Wilson's B-V dissolved in ½ cup hot water
2 qts. soft bread crumbs
½ tsp. sage
2 eggs, beaten
milk to moisten slightly

Place skewers through meat at open end and lace with clean string to hold the dressing in place.

Arrange meat on rack in a shallow roasting pan and bake in a slow oven, 325° F., for about 2½ hours.

Make gravy as usual, adding Wilson's B-V for extra deliciousness.

A 4 lb. breast of veal roast will serve 8.

Happy Team Mates

Baked potatoes, baby lima beans (canned or frozen), and head lettuce with Thousand Island dressing are good team mates for the stuffed veal breast shown above. The garnish is pickled beets and onion rings, in case you didn't know.

Quality Tells

Use Wilson's Certified Margarine for the lima beans and baked potatoes and you'll be favorably surprised at its sweet, mild flavor. Wilson's Certified Margarine is made of such high quality ingredients that no preservatives are used in its manufacture. So give it a try, soon. You'll like it. Easy on the budget, too.

Back-to-school Items

Box lunches call for delicate, fluffy doughnuts. Youngsters just love them. For good frying, use Advance Shortening; for a spicy flavor, add whole cloves or stick cinnamon to the fat while frying.

Deviled Clear Brook Eggs add a zippy flavor along with good nutrition. A grand combination!

Fried Certified Chicken, wrapped in waxed paper, is always welcome in the lunch box. Chicken is plentiful and very reasonable in price right now; so why not give the youngsters a treat often? Dad, too, if he carries a lunch. Certified Chicken is available New York dressed or Quick Frozen ready for the skillet.

Yours for ease,

Members and the following guests, Mrs. J. C. Trotman of Winston-Salem, Mrs. Teddy Fountain of Falkland, Mrs. Louis Gaylord, Sr., Mrs. Louis Gaylord, Jr., Mrs. Luther Bowling and Miss Evelyn Lyon were greeted at the door by the hostess. Lovely arrangements of fall flowers were used throughout the house.

Following a delicious luncheon, the club was delighted to hear Miss Evelyn Lyon. The new youth director of the Eighth Street Christian Church gave a very interesting and instructive talk on "Youth and Religion of today."

After the program a short business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. C. H. Edwards. Mrs. J. J. White was welcomed back into the club and Mrs. J. H. Rose as a new member. An invitation from the Woman's Club was graciously accepted to attend a tea given in honor of the teachers of the city schools and the college.

The new books were distributed and the club adjourned.—Reported.

Mrs. James, Hostess to Clio Club

The Clio Club held its first meeting of the year Tuesday, October 7, with Mrs. Dink James as hostess. She received the guests at the door into her home, lovely with fall flowers.

Mrs. Aubrey Shackell presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. B. Hawes. She welcomed Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Georgia James as guests for the afternoon. During a brief business meeting the new books were announced by Mrs. James Moye, and attractive year books prepared by Mrs. E. C. Wilkerson and Mrs. W. L. Whedbee were distributed to the members.

The hostess, Mrs. Dink James, gave a most interesting and entertaining program on the life and work of Stephen Foster. As she pointed out he was certainly one of the best known and best loved song writers because in his work he expressed the love, hope, disappointments, sadness and gladness of the average American in music he loved to sing and could understand. Mrs. James then sang, "Jeannie with the Light Brown Hair," "Beautiful Dreamer" and "Come Folks," assisted by her sister, Miss Agnes Fullilove. They blended their lovely voices in singing, "Come where My Love Lies Dreaming." Mrs. James' 11-year-old daughter, Elizabeth, very graciously played the accompaniments on the piano.

Following this delightful entertainment a delicious dessert course was enjoyed by those present.

Chatham Book Club

Mrs. L. T. Shotwell was hostess to the Chatham Book Club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Biltmore street. Arrangements of colorful fall flowers were used throughout the house as a setting for the program.

Following a brief business session of the club, which was presided over by Mrs. C. E. Blair, the recently elected club president, the hostess served a tasty dessert course with coffee and nuts.

Mrs. J. L. Savage of the city schools faculty had charge of the program. It seems that Mrs. Savage has recently made a visit to the historic city of Charleston, S. C. Being a very alert and accurate observer the speaker was able to bring with her off this visit many interesting and valuable bits of information about that colorful, historic town. By the use of well-defined organization and an easy and nimble manner she brought these things to the club in a very fine program.

Mrs. Currin of Oxford and Mrs. Swope were guests of the club.—Reported.

Mrs. James Danel Nicholson of Bethel, who before her marriage on September 19 was Miss Elsie Nadine Whitley, daughter of Mrs. Robert Lee Whitley and the late Mr. Whitley of Bethel. Mr. Nicholson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Nicholson of Williamston.

A motion was made and carried that a committee be appointed to contact the principals of the schools and work out a rainy day schedule.

Mrs. J. H. Waldrop closed the meeting with prayer.

For the program the parents met with the teachers in the class rooms for group conferences.

Stokes Bridge Club

Stokes.—Mrs. Gordon Clark was a most charming hostess Thursday night when she entertained members of the club at her home.

The room was beautifully decorated with profusions of fall flowers.

Mrs. Sam Gray won high score, while Mrs. Clifford Whichard scored low. Others playing were: Mesdames Elmer Parker, H. F. Congleton, Larry Barnhill, Marvin Barnhill, Tray Barnhill, and Jack Tripp.

Coca colas and cookies were enjoyed during the game and later Mrs. Clark served a delicious sweet course.

St. Paul's Auxiliary General Meeting

The first general meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church, Greenville, was held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the parish house.

Mrs. Charles White, president, with very fitting words paid homage and honor to a very devoted member, Mrs. Richard Williams, who had passed away, and Mr. Hauser offered appropriate prayers.

The meeting continued with devotions led by Mrs. Roscoe Hauser, Jr., who used Evangelism as her theme. Mrs. J. H. Thomas, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and gave the treasurer's report in the absence of Mrs. J. Brooks Tucker. Reports were made by the chapter chairmen: Mrs. E. E. Forbes, Mrs. W. I. Wooten, Mrs. Picklesimer for Mrs. H. S. Ragsdale, and Mrs. George Renfro: The chairmen of departments: Mrs. Thomas Sellers for Mrs. Robert Greene, Mrs. Anthony for Miss Hennie Long, Mrs. W. L. With loving respect to Mrs. Williams, the social hour was dispensed with. Mrs. White closed the meeting with prayers.—Reported.

Inter Se Club

Mrs. David Evans was hostess to the Inter Se Book Club on Tuesday afternoon. Brazil, the second topic in a group of programs on South America, was presented by Mrs. Joseph Taft. Settled by the Portuguese, Brazil was ruled from Lisbon until 1808 when the royal family fled from Napoleon's army and took up residence in Brazil. In 1822 the Brazilians declared their independence from Portugal and were ruled by Emperor Pedro and then his son, Pedro II. In 1889 the royal family was exiled. The republican constitution adopted in 1891 was the first of several, the last one having been adopted in 1946, as her history as a republic has been marked by much internal conflict.

Brazil, the fourth largest country in the world and almost entirely in the tropics, has a large area which is sparsely settled and greatly undeveloped due to climate and geographical conditions. The southern highlands, the heart of Brazil, has a more favorable climate and here are located over half of the people, and most of the farms, factories, railways and mines. This region is the coffee pot of the world.

The most interesting section of Brazil is the Amazon jungle, with its profusion of interesting plant and animal life.

Brazil is still a pioneer land in many ways and has many resources which are undeveloped.

Mrs. Burke Stancil, the president, presided over a short business meeting. Mrs. Excel S. Webb was welcomed as a new member. After the exchange of books, the hostess, assisted by her daughter, little Miss Anne Evans, served delicious refreshments.—Reported.

Strength FOR THE DAY

Is Modern Man Self-Sufficient?

The outstanding characteristics of modern life is that little by little God has been dropped out of the thought and planning of man. Whether we like their teachings or not, Charles Darwin and Karl Marx have left an indelible stamp upon the thinking of the average person. Darwin removed from scientific thinking the necessity for God, and Marx did the same thing in the field of economics.

We live in a world today, therefore, in which, little by little, God has been expelled first from one area and then from another. The world is getting along, and it believes quite well enough, without a vital belief in God. People live year after year without attending any church or uttering a prayer or reading a line in the Bible. These people who thus disregard God are not evil or criminal in their intents or behavior. They are simply people who find no place for God in their thinking and living.

But certainly there are ominous warnings arising of approaching storm. We have been through two world wars, and as if that were not enough, the catastrophies following each of the wars have been as devastating as the wars themselves. Insanity, intemperance, juvenile delinquency are on the increase. Divorce has increased beyond all calculations.

We may well ask whether the smooth, sophisticated creature known as man is getting along too well without God.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—A half million good income tax refund checks, totaling about $22,500,000, are unclaimed in internal revenue offices every year.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue estimates that of 52,000,000 individual returns for 1946, some 31,000,000 called for refunds averaging around $45 apiece.

Among the largest piles of unclaimed checks were 52,000 for the Brooklyn office and 15,000 for the New York district, which includes the Wall Street section. Other districts holding large numbers of unclaimed checks included Chicago and Baltimore. The latter is where Washington's shifting population files its returns.

The bureau reports that although the payees of the 1946 checks are appearing or being found by the hundreds internal revenue offices all through the country still hold large wads of unclaimed checks.

Even then, a spokesman for the bureau says, the number which remains uncalled for over a long period is small in proportion to the number of refunds made from day to day.

As soon as the returns come in the offices get busy and write out the refund checks, mailing them to the addresses given by individuals on the returns.

However, by the time they go through the regular channels and are delivered, lots of folks have moved, especially in the bigger cities.

It's not only that some of the 31,000,000 persons to whom checks for refunds are mailed move to other addresses, according to my informant.

"Some die, some become insane, some are in hiding from their wives or the law—anything—and can't be easily tracked down for love or money," he told me.

The Post Office is not allowed to deliver government checks to any forwarding address unless it has a formal notice of change of address filed by the individual concerned.

This is to prevent such checks from getting into improper hands. Thus the Post Office is required to return refund checks to the internal revenue office of the area where the addressee is supposed to be living.

The local collector's office where the return was filed holds the check for about six months. If it is then not called for he sends it to the General Accounting office.

Getting the check from the GAO is not so easy. The GAO asks a raft of questions. However, the bureau says the chances are that 30,500,000 individuals get their checks, cash them and that's all there is to it. Eventually, most of the checks get called for.

"We're much more plagued with the people demanding refunds who don't have them coming," the bureau says.

the next general election. Under normal circumstances that would come in 1950—but it might come earlier if the Socialists should unexpectedly be defeated in Commons, or should Prime Minister Attlee decide to go to the country voluntarily for a fresh mandate.

It's an interesting fact that the Socialists didn't come to power in the last election entirely under their own steam. A lot of middle-class conservatives decided to give a new broom a trial and voted Socialist. That didn't mean these voters had adopted the Socialist tenets, but merely that they were willing to see how they worked. As a matter of fact, a lot of conservatives who voted against the Socialists, promptly gave the new government full support as a sporting proposition.

So we see both Socialists and Conservatives fishing for the big middle-of-the-road vote, or that's the way it looks from this chair. And this means that at present the British Isles don't present fertile soil for the Bolshevist drive to communize the world.

Federal Loyalty . . .

ple. For example: Names of members of the Communist party or organizations in sympathy with Communists. The case is closed if the FBI finds nothing in this check of files and if there's no "tip" that a man's disloyal.

(The FBI doesn't check all the way back on everyone. The money voted by Congress wouldn't pay for all that. It checks where it's suspicious.)

But take the case of Jones. The FBI thinks he needs a real check. It goes away back through its FBI agents all over the country: where he worked, what he said, who his friends were, what organizations he belonged to.

If nothing is found against him, he keeps his job. But suppose the FBI finds something "unfavorable" or "doubtful."

The FBI report goes to the government agency which employs Jones. There a board of three specially appointed men consider his case.

He can't see the evidence and he'll never be told who his accusers are. But he can go before the board with his own attorney and witnesses.

If the board believes him innocent, he keeps his job. If the board thinks he should be fired, Jones can appeal to the head of the agency.

If the agency turns him down, Jones has one last appeal: to a 15-man appeal board.

(Although Congress voted the money for the check last July, the board has not been set up yet. Government officials are supposed to pick 15 outstanding citizens for the board so accused persons get a fair deal.)

The board—it will be divided up into five panels of three men each to handle different cases—can call Jones in personally to defend himself or it can judge him on the evidence.

No one in the executive branch so far has been fired as a result of this general loyalty check, according to officials who point out the check started officially only Oct. 1.

(The State Department, which is in the executive branch, has fired people. As pointed out, though, it's doing a special checking job.)

People looking for jobs in the executive branch get pretty much the same checking over as those now employed there.

Secretary of State Marshall did not attend today's Palestine session but he was said to be keeping close touch with the Palestine problem. Marshall had an appointment in New York this forenoon with Prince Feisal Al Saud, foreign minister of Saudi Arabia.

of the seriousness of his condition. He wisecracked about his clumsiness on the speaker's stand, and stopped talking only when California Federation President John Shelley insisted he wanted to make an announcement. Padway introduced Shelley.

Then the British-born labor lawyer slumped in a chair, fumbled for his high-blood-pressure pills, dropped a glass of water, and grabbed for his fluttering papers.

Finally, his friend Daniel J. Tobin, head of the teamsters, proposed from the convention floor that Padway's report on the legal fight over the Taft-Hartley Act be continued Friday afternoon.

The convention was recessed for lunch and Padway was half-carried from the platform to a waiting automobile. Few of the delegates saw that.

President William Green, visibly shaken when informed of the attorney's passing, said: "Judge Padway died as he lived, fighting for the cause of labor."

Arrests . . .

Bonds of both were fixed at $10,000. Thompson was held in the Santa Fe city jail, where the FBI said a doctor attended him for nervous indigestion shortly after his arrest. Paporello was lodged in the county jail here. His attorney said he expected to arrange bond today.

Ignoring a welter of rumors—including one published report that the Sandia base is building huge caverns for atomic war defense—the War Department has stated only that the $10,000,000 installation is the principal field unit of its special weapons project. Spokesman have said all construction and operations are restricted data.

Emergency Operating Schedule To All Electric Consumers:

The Emergency Schedule which was set up, following the burnout of our largest generator at the power plant, has made it possible to supply electric current for refrigeration and other essential needs with as little interruption as possible, notwithstanding the fact that it is a great inconvenience to be without complete electric service even for a little while.

Individuals and business houses generally have been very cooperative; however, there are still a few who could, without being handicapped, be a great deal more conservative, which would be a definite advantage to us in trying to spread the short supply as equitably as possible over the whole system, and we most earnestly urge everyone to use just as little current as possible. This is especially important in the evening with darkness coming earlier each day.

Circuits will be pulled, if necessary, at the same time or during the same hourly periods each day, just as nearly as possible; this provides for no service to be off more than one hour at a time, and a strict conservation of current will definitely lessen the out periods.

Repairs by General Electric Company are progressing according to schedule and it is expected now that repairs will be completed by the last week in October, and you may rest assured that we are just as distressed about the matter as you are, and that everything possible is being done to restore complete electric service.

Your full cooperation is requested, urged and appreciated.

Abrupt Halt To Driving Lesson

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 9—(AP)—Horace McCrocklin, 74, felt he should learn to drive an automobile so he could pick up the groceries. He had owned cars for years.

He got Frank Boss, 76, to teach him.

"It was a right smart little accident," McCrocklin said today as he explained he gave the car too much gas and instead of rounding a curve hit a power pole. He and Loss escaped with bruises and cuts.

McCrocklin said someone else could pick up the groceries.

Report College Planning Use Electric Generator

East Carolina Teachers College is making preparations to resume the production of electricity in its own plant, according to an official announcement from the campus today. This step is being taken because of the present local power shortage.

In former years the college produced most of the electricity used on the campus. But more recently the institution has been taking advantage of the low cost power and highly efficient service offered by Greenville's municipal plant, and, as a consequence, allowed its own plant to get somewhat out of repair. Work is now bringing this machinery back into operating condition. It is believed that this action will release a considerable amount of power, a great deal of which is expected to become available for general use.

Another announcement from the college which is of considerable general interest is that of a football game between the local college team and Elon college. This game is now set for 9:15 Saturday night in Guy Smith Stadium. Such a time is a bit late for starting a football game. But according to information from the office of the Utilities Commission, this starting time will cause no hardship on current production.

A recent survey made by the Utilities Commission, which was designed to show the hour by hour consumption of electricity for the various days of the week, revealed that the lowest demands for electrical current were found to start just after 9 o'clock on Saturday night. In fact, the requirements for that time fall so low that nothing like full production is needed. And so the hour for the football game was set to fit into these conditions.

Two Million Dollars Loss Due Hailstorm

Levelland, Tex., Oct. 9—(AP)—Hail caused in less than an hour an estimated $2,000,000 damage to crops, buildings and residences in the Levelland area yesterday.

No one was seriously injured, but several persons were hit by the falling hailstones. The hail, accompanied by 2.24 inches of rain, fell 40 minutes.

Disadvantage In Increased Wages

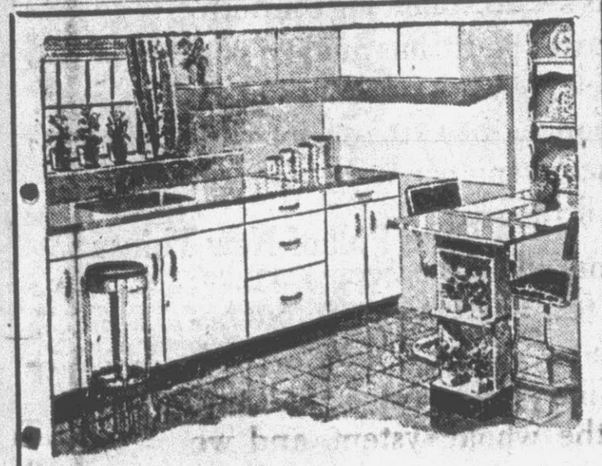

Raleigh, N.C., Oct. 9—(AP)—Some 90 tenants at Halifax Courts and Chavis Heights, housing developments for low income families here, have found out that getting wage boosts has its disadvantages.

The tenants have been given six months to find new quarters in this city where there is a near-desperate housing shortage because they are now making more money than is allowed for persons living in the low-cost quarters.

PONTIAC
A fine car made finer

A Product of General Motors

Lasts long... and lasts well!

The records prove that no car lasts longer than a Pontiac—but this is only half the story! For Pontiac continues, throughout the years, to render fine performance—to give its owner the same thrill he felt when he first took the wheel. Owners who have driven their Pontiacs for five, seven, and even ten years will testify that their cars still give complete satisfaction in every way. For Pontiac is a GOOD car—designed and built to stay on the job. This is a basic Pontiac virtue—and is true of Pontiac year after year. So regardless of when you expect to get your next car, get a Pontiac. It will not only last long—it will last well!

DUE TO OUR UNFILLED ORDERS ON HAND, you may experience some delay in getting a new Pontiac. Place your order now to avoid further delay. In the meantime, let us keep your present car operating at top efficiency.

"I BELIEVE in the insurance business and its future, and that the American agent is the instrumentality through which it reaches its highest point and attains its widest distribution.

I will do my part to uphold and upbuild the American Agency System which has developed insurance to its present fundamental place in the economic fabric of our nation, and to my fellow-members of the NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF INSURANCE AGENTS I pledge myself always to support right principles and oppose bad practices in the business.

I believe that these three have their distinct rights in our business: first, the Public; second, the Insurance Companies; and third, the Insurance Agents; and that the rights of the Public are paramount.

Realizing that only by unselfish service can the insurance business have the public confidence it merits, I will at all times seek to elevate the standards of the insurance profession by governing all my business and community relations in accordance with the provisions of this Code and by inspiring others to do likewise."

Durocher 'Very Happy' Over Results Of Conference With Branch Rickey

New York, Oct. 9—(AP)—Leo Durocher flew back to the West Coast today leaving behind the impression that he was in the good graces of his boss, Branch Rickey, and that his chances of regaining his old job as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers were better than fair.

Boarding a plane at La Guardia Airport for Los Angeles last night, Durocher, whose season-long suspension ended with the last putout of the World Series, was his old wise-cracking, loquacious self. Jovial and smiling as he and Laraine Day, his film actress wife, waited for the take-off, Durocher revealed that he had a three and a half hour conference with the Dodger president and was "very happy with the result."

"Obviously, I can't tell you what went on, and any statement will have to come from Mr. Rickey," Durocher told reporters who came to see him off. He admitted that the job situation was discussed.

The strongest clue that Leo may already have been re-hired or will be soon came from Miss Day who jokingly told one of the reporters that she was considering purchasing a book on "How To Speak Spanish In 10 Easy Lessons." The Dodgers are considering an offer to train in the Dominican Republic.

GHS GRIDDERS PLAY JACKETS

Meet Elizabeth City Friday In Fourth Out-Of-Town Game

By SPYRIDON SIDERIS

Playing their fourth straight out-of-town game, Greenville's Green Phantoms journey to Elizabeth City Friday to tangle with the Yellow Jackets in a Northeast Conference game.

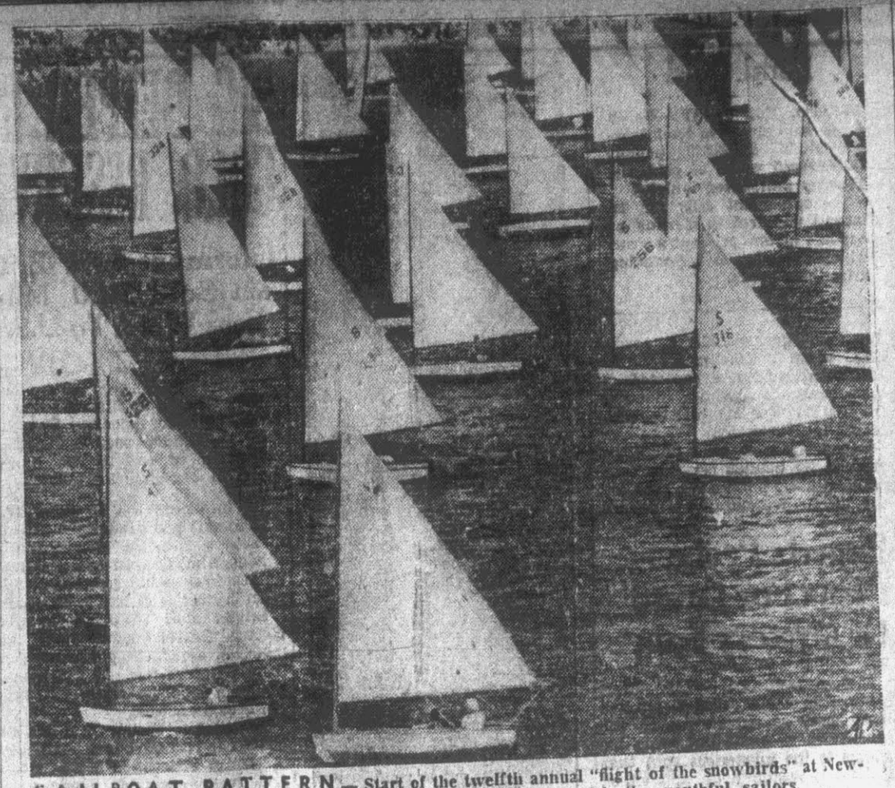

Elizabeth City will probably be ruled the favorite to win by virtue of their 13-6 victory over the Kinston Red Devils last week.

The Phantoms will be on the rebound following their 6-0 loss to a fast Dunn High School eleven. They will also be out to get revenge for the 31-0 setback handed them last year in Elizabeth City.

Drills this week for the Greenies have been devoted to correcting the mistakes made in the Dunn game. Most of the offense has been centered around the Greenville passing attack and the defense has found the first string backfield running around trying to stop a passing game that the Yellow Jackets may throw at them.

The locals will probably be at full strength for the coming contest, barring any injuries between now and game time, with the exception of Ben Robinson, tackle, who has an injured side, but is expected to be ready by game time.

Next week the Greenville team takes on the Kinston Red Devils for its fourth conference game, with the game scheduled to be played in Kinston.

Griffith Names Kuhel Manager Of Senators

Washington, ct. 9—(AP)—Joe Kuhel, who used to be a fancy fielding first baseman for the Washington Senators, was named manager of the club today.

Kuhel, 41, succeeds Ossie Bluege, who was made head of the Senator farm system.

President Clark Griffith did not disclose any terms of the contract with Kuhel except that it is for one year.

Kuhel has had four months experience as a manager. Last May 28 he took over the fifth place Hot Springs, Ark., team in the six-team Class C Cotton States League.

Wedding Gown For Princess Is Palace Secret

London, Oct. 8—(AP)—Princess Elizabeth's wedding gown, now being stitched from secret designs sketched by the queen's dressmaker, will cost something under $800, it was disclosed today by one of the few persons around the court who really know.

The informant begged to remain anonymous. But a palace spokesman declared a press item asserting the gown would cost $5,000 and be the equivalent of six years of clothes ration coupons, "bears no resemblance to the truth."

The board of trade has allotted the future queen a special group of coupons for wedding clothes, but has not disclosed how many. She will be married November 20 to Lt. Philip Mountbatten, who renounced his titles of Prince of Greece and Denmark.

All preparations for the wedding have proceeded in secret.

Tarheel Cotton Crop Is Above 1946 Production

Raleigh, N.C., Oct. 9—(AP)—North Carolina's cotton growers are harvesting a crop of approximately 450,000 bales, about two per cent more than their 1946 production, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service announced yesterday.

Harvesting of the crop is well underway in the southern Piedmont section and is getting in full swing in the coastal areas, the report said. The harvesting is expected to be extended over a longer period than usual.

The cotton crop suffered heavy weevil damage especially in coastal areas where a smaller crop than anticipated earlier is expected. In some Piedmont counties, however, the crop is better than was expected earlier in the season.

Reports from farmers indicate a yield of 349 pounds per acre compared with 370 pounds last year and the 10-year average of 348 pounds.

Lend Gold

The agreement calls for an interest payment in sterling at one-half of one per cent a year, with repayment or refinancing after three years.

Experts Probe Plane For Cause Of Mystery Spin

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 9—(AP)—Half a hundred persons called themselves lucky today as experts probed the innards of an airlines flagship for a clue to the mysterious spin that flopped it upside down and shook up pasengers and crew 8,000 feet above the earth.

None of the 53 aboard yesterday was seriously injured. Capt. Charles Sisto, pilot, wrestled the four-engine American Airlines DC-4 back to normal and made an emergency landing here. Most of the passengers continued their flight from Dallas to Los Angeles in another plane.

Company engineers and Civil Aeronautics Authority representatives were making the investigation to find what went wrong.

Shortly after passing El Paso, Sisto said the plane on automatic pilot went into a steep climb. Before he righted it with manual control it dived 5,000 feet and flew upside down.

DIG DEEPER IN GOLD RESERVE

Informant Says Britain Sold $120 Millions Worth To U.S.

London, Oct. 9—(AP)—An authoritative government source indicated today that Britain—dipping further into her dwindling financial reserves—had sold another $120,000,000 worth of gold to the United States in exchange for dollars.

The informant said he understood that formal confirmation of reports of such a sale had been withheld pending final decision on a new public relations policy government official disclosure of such transaction.

Britain sold $80,000,000 in gold to the United States early last month in her first dip into her gold reserve. Before that sale the reserve had been reported officially to total about $2,400,000,000.

In addition to this fund Britain has dollar resources in the holdings of British citizens in dollar stocks and other securities. Their exact total has not been estimated officially in Britain, a Treasury spokesman said today.

The September gold sale came after the $400,000,000 balance of Britain's dollar loan from America was frozen by British-American agreement.

The "freezing" followed Britain's announcement that she could no longer honor the convertibility clause of the loan agreement.
