BOOKKEEPINGAuditors Claim FPMA
Accounts In Poor
Shape; Can't Tell If
Funds Misused

Washington, Oct. 15—(AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) termed past bookkeeping of the Federal Public Housing Authority "a mess" today and said it points up a need for reducing the size of government bureaus.

The Wisconsin lawmaker expressed this view to a reporter as a Senate executive committee subcommittee assembled to delve further into charges by an accounting firm that FPMA's books for 1945-46 were in such bad shape they could not be audited.

Representatives of the firm—Price, Waterhouse & Co.—were billed as the day's witnesses. The company surveyed FPMA accounts at the request of the comptroller general's office.

McCarthy said during yesterday's hearing the study showed that "vast amounts of government money seem to have disappeared" as a result of FPMA's operations.

"Whether anyone did any stealing, I don't know," he said, adding that "the most generous interpretation" possible was that "no one can tell whether there was misuse of funds."

Herbert Emmerich, who headed FPMA in 1942-44, testified that "there hasn't been any showing that anyone lined his pockets." So did John N. Eddy, who was Emmerich's deputy.

E. van Horn, executive director of the Senate committee, did not dispute this, but he said:

"There was utter chaos. There was fire and smoke and brimstone all around."

McCarthy said before today's session that the federal government has grown so large "the people have a hard time finding where their money is going."

"I don't care whether its public housing or what, the principle is the same. It seems to me we need more decentralization of government—less of this attempt to do everything in Washington."

Thurmond Denies
'Profiteering'
In Sale Of Hotel

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 15—(AP)—A charge that he made an enormous profit on a hotel sale in contradiction to his stand against "racketeering real estate profiteers" is "totally untrue," governor Thurmond said today.

Answering a statement made yesterday by William P. Means of Charleston that he had sold an Edgfield hotel for $600,000 and a $48,000 profit, having paid $12,000 for it 10 years ago, Thurmond said last night that "between 30 and 40 thousand dollars was spent for new furniture and remodeling before I sold the hotel for a very reasonable profit."

'All Aboard Stricken Plane Are Rescued By Coast Guard Ship

New York, Oct. 15—(AP)—All passengers and crew members have been rescued from the huge Boeing flying boat forced down in the North Atlantic and now are aboard the rescue cutter, Bibb, Coast Guard headquarters here said it had been advised today.

Completion of the rescue operations was reported at 6:10 a. m. in a message to the Coast Guard from Capt. Paul B. Cronk, skipper of the Bibb which had been standing by the stricken plane since it landed in heavy seas 820 miles off the Newfoundland coast yesterday.

The message read: "All passengers and crew aboard. Will advise further passenger and crew details after careful check. Recommend plane be destroyed. Pilot Martin agrees."

In a second message sent by Cronk a few minutes later, the Bibb's captain reported that a total of 62 passengers and seven crew members had been removed from the flying boat, the Bermuda Sky Queen, and transferred to the rescue ship.

The Coast Guard office said it was seeking to contact agents of the operating airline for permission to destroy the abandoned plane "as a menace to navigation."

Seventeen men and a woman remained aboard the wave-tossed airliner last night awaiting daylight and the resumption of the Coast Guard's rescue operations which earlier had transferred their companions to the Bibb.

The plane was forced down when it ran short of fuel while bucking heavy headwinds on a flight from Ireland to Gander, Newfoundland, and the Coast Guard cutter went to its aid.

Rescue operations, so perilous at times, were suspended last night to be resumed at dawn today if the storm-whipped North Atlantic permitted.

Dividing United Nations

Lake Success, Oct. 15—(AP)—Yugoslav delegate today that Secretary of State Marshall's program to overhaul United Nations peacekeeping machinery was designed to destroy cooperation between Russia and the western powers.

Dr. Vladimir Popovic, Yugoslav ambassador to Moscow, declared that U. S. Delegate John Foster Dulles, Australian Chief Delegate Herbert V. Evatt and others did not like to see cooperation between the East and West and for that reason were seeking to destroy it.

Addressing Dulles directly, the Yugoslav delegate shouted: "You are attempting to lure us, the small countries, to accept a program which would constitute a complete waiver on the principles of San Francisco. This is a reference to the U. N. charter meeting there in 1945."

Popovic spoke before the 57-nation political committee of the general assembly which earlier had heard China and Uruguay support the United States plan for a continuous year-round sitting of the 57 member nations as a so-called "little assembly" of the U. N.

Meanwhile, an American source said Dulles would ignore Andrei Y. Vishinsky's bitter attack yesterday on the "little assembly" proposal.

Dulles was reported to agree with Dr. Herbert V. Evatt of Australia.

Raleigh, Oct. 15—(AP)—Scores of merchants, farmers and produce dealers appeared today before the State Utilities Commission and protested an application of the Atlantic Coast Line to discontinue trains 48 and 49 from Rocky Mount south to Wilmington.

Each insisted that train service not only was essential to the communities but also to nearby farmers and truckers.

The commission did not indicate its decision, which Chairman Stanley Winborne said would be published later.

POWER LINES
UNDER STRAIN

Survey Reveals Unprecedented Demand For Electricity

By The Associated Press

The nation's power lines may be strained to the limit by Christmas. They are already taxed under unprecedented demands for electricity.

A nation-wide survey by the Associated Press shows that in some sections plans are being made to relieve hunger abroad.

1. Ask householders "voluntarily" to save electricity.

2. Urge industry "voluntarily" to rearrange operation schedules to space out demands on generating equipment. This might mean changes in working hours and conditions, even a return to the three-shift system of wartime to use power during the hours of least demand.

3. Cut off "damp power" supplies, some industries at lower rates with provision to curtail or cut off power when regular consumers' demands reach capacity.

4. Deny power to new industrial applicants until additional generating capacity can be installed.

The utility companies disagree with recent predictions in some "brownouts" on a wide scale, but they admit that in a number of sections "reserves are too low for comfort."

Cullowhee, N. C., Oct. 15—(AP)—Dean W. E. Bird, Jackson County native, is acting as president of Western Carolina Teachers College here until a successor is named to the late Dr. H. T. Hunter.

Bird was appointed yesterday by the Board of Trustees. The announcement was made during a memorial service for Dr. Hunter, who was found dead in his automobile last Friday ten miles north of Asheville. The Buncombe County coroner said he had shot himself.

CIO Calls For Return Of Price Control, Rationing

Boston, Oct. 15—(AP)—The CIO called today for an immediate session of Congress to bring back price and rent controls and rationing.

The national convention also asked for a new income tax policy which would raise exemptions to $1,500 for an individual, $3,000 for a married couple, with $500 deductions in addition for each dependent.

A group of resolutions asking fair and full employment and protection of veterans' rights were passed swiftly and with little discussion by the 600 delegates.

The convention asked re-establishment of price controls and rationing for food, clothing, and other necessities in a resolution which declared "controlled monopoly prices dominate our entire economic system, which make possible heartless profiteering at the expense of the people."

The resolution asked congressional action to "recapture speculative and excess profits" and to "eliminate margins on the grain exchange."

In asking for extension of federal rent control the convention also sought a large scale program for the construction of rental housing by the federal government.

The convention awaited, meanwhile, Secretary of State Marshall's scheduled mid-afternoon (3 p. m. EST) address.

The foreign policy debate was scheduled late in the day, after the Marshall speech.

Caldwell Citizens Ask State Board
Education Restore Fritz Certificate

Lenoir, N. C., Oct. 15—(AP)—The State Board of Education has been asked to restore the teaching certificate of R. L. Fritz, Jr., former principal of the Hudson school in Caldwell County and stop an investigation of possible criminal action in the alleged payroll padding case. The requests came in resolutions adopted here last night at a meeting of 250 Caldwell County citizens.

The meeting also passed a resolution criticizing "centralized power in Raleigh" which it said "completely eliminates local influence and authority."

Fritz is president of the North Carolina Education Association. He was elected after taking a leading

Bakers Say Grain
Goal 'Impossible'Claim Three Million Bushels Savings Per Month Is Astronomical; O'Dwyer Joins
CIO Call For Return Of Controls

Washington, Oct. 15—(AP)—A baking industry spokesman today described as "astronomical and impossible" the savings of 3,000,000 or more bushels of grain monthly predicted for the industry by Chairman Charles Luckman of the Citizens Food Committee.

In other food developments: Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York City called for a return to price controls and food rationing. In a telegram to Luckman, he said that with rationing and controls food could be sent to Europe "and at the same time food can be assured for our own citizens at prices they are able to pay."

The CIO in convention in Boston adopted a resolution asking an immediate session of Congress to restore price controls and rationing.

Representatives of the brewing industry prepared a new plan for curtailed grain usage. They expected to present it to Luckman during the day.

A spokesman for the American Bakers Association, asking not to be quoted by name, said that industry would have few specific conservation steps to offer Luckman except for the elimination of "congestion" selling of bread and a broad public education program.

In his conservation "kick-off" broadcast of Oct. 5, Luckman announced that "important grain-saving" steps in the making and selling of bread would save 3,000,000 bushels a month. Later the committee used a figure of 3,500,000.

The bakers spokesman said this apparently was a misunderstanding of information given Luckman shortly before the broadcast. Actually, he said, Luckman was advised that such a saving would be possible through conservation measures which might be used not only by bakers but by housewives, retailers and restaurants.

C. P. Binner, president of the association, did not discuss the Luckman figure but said bakers were "already at the bottom of the barrel" in grain-saving efforts.

Washington, Oct. 15—(AP)—Dixie Republicans had advance notice today that the presidential candidates are coming on an open hunt for support among 200-odd delegates at a dozen traditionally Democratic states will send to the 1948 GOP convention.

Harold C. Stassen announced that he is heading south in November for speeches and conferences in Little Rock, Ark., Dallas, New Orleans, Gulfport, Miss., St. Petersburg, Fla., and Orlando, Fla. His move may be matched soon by a decision by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) to travel in the same direction.

Taft generally is conceded strong support among the Southern delegates. Backers said he can be counted on to try to offset Stassen's attempts to break into this area, which will furnish about one-fifth of those eligible to vote on the nomination of a presidential candidate at next June's Philadelphia convention.

The Ohio senator obviously is depending on a backlog of Southern (Continued on Page Four)

Clayton Resigns

Washington, Oct. 15—(AP)—William L. Clayton quit today as undersecretary of state for economic affairs but agreed to stand by as an unpaid adviser to the secretary of state.

His wife's health was given by Clayton as the reason for his resignation, effective at the close of business today.

President Truman, accepting the resignation with reluctance, expressed "great satisfaction" over Clayton's assurance of his willingness to return to the public service if Mrs. Clayton's health improves sufficiently to permit him to do so.

Clayton wrote Mr. Truman Oct. 7.

"For at least three or four years Mrs. Clayton has been very anxious, for reasons of health, to return to our home in Houston."

"Endeavoring to meet her wishes, I have on several occasions, starting as far back as four years ago, tendered my resignation."

LEWIS FACES
SECOND FIGHT

Loses Round To Majority After Outburst In AFL Convention

San Francisco, Oct. 15—(AP)—John L. Lewis, stripped of a vice-presidency in the AFL after an historic outburst of name-calling among the federation's top leaders, faced still another battle today over his miscellaneous collection of unions in mine workers' District 50.

Underneath the current of bitterness which swept the 66th annual convention was the growing threat that Lewis still might "lose" a walk with his 600,000 United Mine Workers over the District 50 controversy.

His organizers have been stepping on a lot of toes within the federation, ever since his return to the AFL in January 1946.

But anti-Lewis forces, cheered by the case with which their overwhelming numbers set down the UMW president yesterday, went right on with plans to bring the jurisdictional squabbles with District 50 before a tribunal which he could not control.

The fight was due to come over conflicting resolutions offered by a majority of the resolutions committee headed by a long-time Lewis critic, John P. Frey of the Metal Trades Department, and a minority represented by Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the UMW.

Lewis took the gloves off in his first convention speech yesterday, stinging the leadership into fighting mood by calling them "intellectually fat and stately asses."

Thomasville, N. C., Oct. 15—(AP)—Police Chief Paul M. Shore says he has arrested one man in connection with a dynamite explosion and fire Monday night at the Amazon cotton mill here where the Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, has been striking the last eight months.

He said that 56 warrants had been issued in disturbances near the mill since it reopened last week, and some employees returned. All the cases are set for trial Friday in Recorder's Court here.

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning

That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the bones of your ears—are they pale and of color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Bonner Stresses European Relief In Ruritan Talk

Rep. Herbert C. Bonner, in an address to the Winterville Ruritan Club last night, claimed to be the richest man in the world.

He qualified this statement, however, by explaining that his riches were not of a material nature, but in the number and quality of his friends.

Bonner stressed the need for help to a war-devastated Europe, not only as a humanitarian gesture to its needy peoples, but also as an effective means of combating the spread of communism in countries whose political faiths had failed them.

Comparing the devastation of Europe to that of the South following the Civil War, he went on to say that over-populated European countries had not our wealth of natural resources to fall back on in rebuilding their economic structures and getting back to the business of producing enough to feed themselves.

He also urged that farmers of the district support their farm organizations and try to produce enough food on their farms in addition to money crops, so that they could live independently of farmers in other sections.

The attendance at last night's meeting was as large as any this year, despite bad weather and roads. As usual, the ladies of the Literary Club served an excellent supper.

Two new members, A. D. McLawhorn, Jr., and Herman Day, were initiated by Ray Oglesby.

Little Speeding Is "Forgiveable"

Wilmington, Oct. 15—(AP)—The food situation being what it is, Recorder's Court Judge Winfield Smith thinks that a little speeding is forgiveable—when the speeder is on a mission to save 600 loaves of bread.

In court here yesterday, Harvey Hill Hartley explained he was speeding to a local bakery, where he is maintenance man, to open a jammed oven and save 600 loaves of bread from being burned.

"I'm sure President Truman would approve of your action," said the judge in remitting the costs of court.

Shun Publicity In Hollywood Fire

Hollywood, Oct. 15—(AP)—There was no press agency about a fire at Twentieth Century-Fox studios yesterday. Four studio employees and three city firemen suffered burns or smoke exhaustion, 12 companies fought the blaze and the studio estimated damage at $200,000. A huge back drop, 38 by 220 feet, caught fire originally and fell into an artificial lake during the fire.

There was one Hollywood touch: Camera men, ready to film a scene, photographed the fire instead for probable use in another movie some day.

Will Hunt Mushrooms On 103rd Birthday

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 15—(AP)—Mrs. Hedwig Slazyk plans a four-mile hike through the woods in search of mushrooms today to celebrate her 103rd birthday.

The only thing that might prevent the jaunt, Mrs. Slazyk said, is the weather. She's a firm believer in walking, but not in the rain.

Strength
FOR THE DAY

Three Fundamental Problems
Books and articles which deal with present world problems are being turned out by the hundreds today. But when we get to the bottom of things, most of the world's troubles arise from things which have their origin in men's hearts.

The first thing that afflicts the modern world—and has probably afflicted every generation—is fear.
In diplomatic affairs we get nowhere because nations suspect one another. There is a lack of unity in the industrial world because of the fear certain groups have lest other groups may take advantage of them.
Millions of people shut their eyes
by worrying about the things that may happen to them and to their loved ones.

The second great burden which
the world bears today is fatigue.
We are exhausted after the war effort. Multitudes in the world cannot raise their hands and get started on creative work because they are tired. Here in America we live an excited existence which adds to our exhaustion.

The other great reality which mars modern life is frustration.
People, of course, have always been frustrated, but there are certain impediments to the outflow of human energy that is sending many people now to the sanatorium and making others bitter and resentful about life.

Christian faith maintains that there is a cure for these ills, that God has provided this cure, and that the cure is Christ.

WASHINGTON
LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—When our Ambassador to Pakistan, Paul Alling, and his attractive wife arrive in Karachi around the first of the year they will find the new U.S. embassy in readiness for them.

Our government is now in the process of selecting the building,
but it is certain to have large, airy
rooms and will be like other houses in the modern city, partly European,
partly Moorish in architecture
and boasting a garden.

Mrs. Alling, who is now in New York where the Ambassador-designate is working with the U.S. delegation to the UN, says she has been consulted as to decor and furnishings and is confident the embassy will be "one of which this country can be proud."

The drawing room will be done
in a pale grey, with touches of soft blues and raspberry red in drapes
and upholstery. Chippendale furniture will be used in the dining room,
with raspberry red drapes and upholstery.

The new ambassador, slender, of medium height and grey-haired, has had more than 20 years' experience as a career diplomat, chiefly with the Division of Middle Eastern Affairs of the State Department. His first assignment was as vice consul to Beirut, Syria, in 1924.

He has served the government in various capacities at Aleppo and Damascus in Syria and Montreux,
Switzerland. He became deputy director of the Office of Near Eastern and African Affairs in January, 1944, and became diplomatic agent
with the rank of minister and consul general at Tangier, Morocco, in the spring of 1945.

Mrs. Alling, tall and appealing
brunet, was Romaine Braden Lowr of Chicago. She was graduated from Northwestern University and was married to the Connecticut-born diplomat in 1923.

The Allings have two daughters,
Constance, a graduate of Wellesley College last June, and Anne, 13,
now in school in Evanston, Ill.

Constance will accompany her parents to Pakistan.

Karachi enjoys the best climate in Pakistan. Fronting on the Arabian Sea, it ranks third among the ports of India and Pakistan surpassed only by Calcutta and Bombay. It is the closest port to Europe and is the natural gateway for the products of the Indus valley as well as the border trade of the far northwest provinces.

Would Joe Dare?

an example of it:

Suppose a union whose officers have taken the non-Communist oath is trying to get the workers in a plant to join that union and tells the boss:

"You'll have to deal with our union because it represents a majority of your workers. A majority of them want our union to represent them in dealing with you."

If he refuses to bargain with the union, it can go to the National Labor Relations Board, which carries out the law, and ask for an election. Which means:

The board will conduct a vote among the workers in that plant. If the vote shows a majority of them
want the union to represent them,
the board will order the boss to bargain with the union.

Suppose he still refuses to bargain. Then the board, under law, can take court action against him to force him to bargain with the union.

So much for the union whose officers have done what the law requires so they can get the law's protection.

Now take a union whose officers,
although not Communists, have not taken the non-Communist oath.
Their union, as pointed out, gets no
help from the board or the law.

Suppose this union tells a boss it represents a majority of his workers and wants to bargain with him
for them, and suppose he refuses.
That union can't go to the board and ask it to hold an election. The board doesn't recognize that union because its officers haven't first done what the law requires of them if they want protection. Then the trouble begins.

The following is just one example of what might then happen:

If another union, whose officers have complied with the law's requirements, moves in it can get help from the board in holding a vote.
So the first union may lose out altogether.

But that wouldn't happen with a powerful union like Lewis' coal miners. It almost completely blankets
the coal industry.

If the mine owners won't bargain with Lewis' union, his miners can stop work when their contract ends

and all the coal mines shut down.
No other union is going to step in and win over Lewis' miners.

The same goes for a powerful union like the CIO's steelworkers, headed by Philip Murray, who is also president of the CIO. His union blankets the steel industry.

Murray indicated yesterday that neither he nor the other officers of the steelworkers' union are going to take the non-Communist oath any time soon.

But what does a union, or its officers, gain by not getting all the protection of the law it can get?
Nothing successfully without any help from the law.

The big majority of CIO unions
so far have shown no intention of taking the non-Communist oath, although a few have indicated they will.

Elections In . . .

The rest of the 89 municipal seats. The rest of the votes went to smaller parties, ranging from moderate leftists to extreme right, plus those who still cling to Mussolini's Fascism
and thus are violently anti-Communist.

The point is that while the Christian Democrats and the People's Bloc ran about even, the former almost doubled their previous vote.
Had the Reds and fellow-travelers won a victory, Gasperi might have thrown up his hands and returned to a coalition government such as he abandoned last May when he ousted the Communist members of his cabinet. As it is, he may feel encouraged to carry on as he is, hoping that economic rehabilitation of the country under the Marshall plan will enable Italy to withstand Communism.

So as a result of this election
there still is time to rescue Italy economically and put the new republic on its feet. The alternative would seem to be a return to the totalitarianism under which the country suffered from the time
Mussolini came to power in 1925 until the war's end. This time the dictatorship would be communistic instead of fascist, but there would be the same repression of individual rights, and the public again

would be looking over its shoulder
before speaking, for fear of arrest.

Hurricane . . .

81 miles to the south, reported high winds, but no damage. Fear was expressed, however, that expected high tides might isolate St. Simons and Sea Island, thickly populated beach resorts.

Most of the shrimp fleet at Brunswick, numbering about 750
boats, was moved to safer waters.

The hurricane was a part of the storm that swept over southern Florida Saturday and Sunday. It swept out into the Atlantic and traveled northward. Yesterday it developed a second center. It was this second center that developed rapidly in intensity late yesterday and turned into the Georgia coast.

High tides were a major threat to the low coastal areas, most of which were evacuated along the 300-mile South Carolina-Georgia coast alerted. The water was pounding up over the seawall in Charleston harbor and backing up in storm sewers to flood streets in some portions of the famous Old Battery section.
Cellars were flooding. A 10-foot tide was five feet above normal.

votes to help boost his total in the early balloting, where Gov. Thomas E. Dewey apparently will have the advantage of a solid 97 votes from New York plus those he claims elsewhere.

Some of Dewey's outside support lies in six midwestern states where Stassen, the only avowed candidate for the 1948 nomination, claimed yesterday he will get the backing of 150 out of 130 delegates.

County Bar Association Meets; Dr. Leo Jenkins Speaks On GI Training

A meeting of the Pitt County Bar Association was held last evening at Clark's. The meeting was called to order by M. K. Blount, president, and the minutes of the preceding meeting were read by James R. Worsley, secretary.

Dr. Leo Jenkins, recently appointed Dean of East Carolina Teachers College, and former assistant to the Commissioner of the State Department of Education on Higher Education for the State of New Jersey, addressed the meeting. He chose as his subject "School Law."

In his talk, Dr. Jenkins spoke of racketeering practices of newly established schools in other states to capture veteran's benefits. He stated that more than $9 billion will be spent for the training and education of veterans, which includes subsistence and cost of education. More than six million veterans have taken advantage of the opportunity afforded them by the government to obtain special training for their chosen vocation.

He related many instances, and particularly those now existing in some of the northern states, where schools have been set up and fortunes being made by racketeers in this field in an attempt to educate and train veterans.

He further related how so many veterans while seeking an education, have not given thought to the vocation or profession to which they are most fitted; that there would be many misfits on this account, but on the whole a good job has been done, particularly by the old and established institutions.

Dr. Jenkins stated that in many instances on-the-job training has been very much abused and the purpose and intent of the act violated. Some states have lightened up considerably in requirements necessary for on-the-job training, and it must be clearly shown that the trainee intends to apprentice himself and get the training necessary to follow his chosen work.

At the conclusion of his talk, the meeting was thrown open for a round table discussion and many questions were propounded to Dr. Jenkins by the members present.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

UNC Reserves Likely To See Lots of Action

Chapel Hill, Oct. 15—Jack Plich, Johnny Clements and Hosea Rodgers who previously this year have been running as Carolina's second string offensive backfield, along with many line reserves, stand to be anything but idle when the Tar Heels meet William and Mary at Williamsburg Saturday.

While Coach Carl Shavely still banks on Charlie Justice, Jim Camp and Walt Pupa, the starting ball advancing backs on the 1946 team which won the Southern Conference championship and a Sugar Bowl bid, he is not blind to the figures which show that the reserves often have been more effective in games played this season.

Main trouble has been inadequate blocking. That goes for both backs and linemen. And when the inevitable observation (about losing) goes up that friction among the players is responsible for shabby blocking, all persons really close to the team know that such a report is so much turkey. In more polite English, simply not true.

But the blocking hasn't been there, all hands also concede, and if the second stringers, or the third stringers block better, then they'll

Attendance

Chicago, Oct. 15—(AP)—For the second consecutive season, American League teams played before more than nine million fans, helping to set a new all-time high for major league baseball attendance.

The official 1947 attendance for the A.L. of 9,486,069 was a decrease of 135,113 from the 1946 total. The drop was mainly caused by poor weather at the start of the season.

The National League drew an unofficial count of 10,390,289—boosting the overall total to a new high of 19,876,358. The paid total last year was 18,534,444.

As for Justice, that worthy has been holding up his end of the deal. His kicking has been sensational. He has been caught napping at times on defense, but he has been as good as his mates in that department. Brilliant defenses of the opposition and lack of blocking have curbed him on his specialty—long runs—but he has at times shown the spring in his legs that put him into last year's headlines, and Carolina supporters believe he will really blossom out one of these first Saturdays.

do the playing. There has been considerable experimenting this week. If the Tar Heels are as null and void against the Indians as they were against Texas and Wake Forest, there will be wholesale experimenting on Saturday's field of battle.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. Letters Protest Boudreau Trade

Cleveland, Oct. 15—(AP)—A conservatively estimated 4,000 letters have poured into the Cleveland Indians front office in the last ten days on l'affaire Boudreau, and energetic Bill Veck will need his famous vitality to fulfill his self-appointed task of answering them.

Veck already is sorting the cards and letters into various classifications and underlining pertinent passages with red pencil.

"I think that anyone who takes the time to write a letter certainly has the interest of the ball club in mind and should get an answer," the Tribe president observed. And some of his answers run upwards of 250 words.

Operations For Musial, Munger

St. Louis, Oct. 15—(AP)—Two of the St. Louis Cardinals' top players, bedeviled by physical ailments during the past season, faced appendectomies today as the Redbirds employed surgery in an effort to improve their performance on the baseball diamond next year.

First baseman Stan Musial and Pitcher George Munger entered St. John's Hospital yesterday for the operations by Dr. Robert F. Hyland, the Redbird physician.

Dr. Hyland also will perform an operation to remove bone chips in Munger's right elbow. Musial will return later this winter for a tonsillectomy.

"BIG QUAIL. THAT IS" Durham, Oct. 15—The manner in which the undefeated Maryland football team, which faces unbeaten Duke in Duke stadium Saturday, bursts into action from their "T" formation has been well-described by one sports writer. He said, after seeing the Old Liners for the first time, "They go into action like the flush of a covey of quail—big quail, that is."

Solon Contents Can Stop Russia At River Elbe

London, Oct. 14—(A)—Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.) contended today that the United States could check the march of Communism "at the river Elbe" by helping to rebuild Germany's economy.

A ranking member of the powerful house appropriations committee, he asserted that "the old world situation is so feverish, so explosive that anything could happen at any time."

Enroute home from a month-long investigation of conditions in Europe, particularly in Germany, he asserted in an interview that "Russia's Peter the Great once was content with a window on the Baltic; no the Soviets want a bridgehead on the Atlantic."

FIGHT CAR WEAR, RUST, SQUEAKS, RATTLES WITH UNDERSEAL RUBBERIZED PROTECTIVE COATING

It's down underneath where any car shows its first signs of wear. That's where flying rocks, gravel and corrosive road salts eat away at under-surfaces, rust fenders through, start annoying squeaks and rattles. No wonder cars get old, ugly and noisy before their time!

Don't let that happen to your car! Protect it with "UNDERSEAL" Protective Coating, the new sprayed-on coating that covers under-surfaces with a tough, 1/8 inch thick "hide" which protects against rust, muffles squeaks and rattles, insulates against drafts, cold, heat, fumes, dust. Ask us about "UNDERSEAL" Protective Coating today. It's guaranteed to protect for the life of your car.

Tobacco Prices Generally Fall Off On All Belts

Baleigh, N.C., Oct. 15—(AP)—Tobacco prices on the flue-cured middle belt took their biggest tumble of the season yesterday with averages for all grades dropping $2 to $7 per hundred pounds.

Greatest losses, from $5 to $7, were recorded for common and low quality leaf, fair and low smoking leaf, all primings, and thin non-descript.

Sales continued heavy but offerings were inferior.

On the eastern belt, most grades were off from $1 to $3. Quality also was lower than the previous day.

On the border market, weaker demand sent prices down from $1 to $6, with most losses in the $2 to $3 range.

Look For Possible Assistant In Escape

State Prison officials yesterday were investigating the possibility that a former convict might have aided the escape of Robert Golden, 28-year-old honor-grader, from the Greenville highway shops.

A car operated by a former convict was seen in the area about the time Golden disappeared on Monday. It was learned Golden, sentenced from New Hanover County in June, 1941, to 12-24 years for store-breaking and larceny, was a prisoner at Pitt County prison camp but worked at the Greenville shops as a trusty.

who told the committee shortly after Vishinsky's blistering 57-minute speech yesterday at attacks on the motives of other delegates are becoming "stale."

The feeling within the American delegation was reported to be that Vishinsky's repeated rambling attacks were only bolstering the market proposal and confidence was expressed that the plan for a year-around "little assembly" would be adopted. A series of amendments was anticipated, however, and the major task appeared to be to keep the plan within the bounds laid on his points after hearing the down by Marshall. Dulles planned speakers.

"thanks to Hydra-Matic Drive!"

GM HYDRA-MATIC DRIVE

These words from Oldsmobile's new "radio song" have never been so aptly illustrated as in a typical ride to a football game. There's often a long distance to be covered. There's always traffic to contend with. Yet, if you're the driver of an Oldsmobile with Hydra-Matic Drive, you can... "Just forget the clutch and gear. All you do is sit and steer!" That's true in football traffic, or any other traffic. True on the highway, too. Hydra-Matic Drive takes care of all gear shifting—automatically—through four forward speeds. And the clutch pedal is eliminated completely! What makes it even more impressive... this will be the ninth football season in which Hydra-Matic Drive has enabled Oldsmobile-owning fans to go to the games the easy way. GM Hydra-Matic Drive is a fully perfected, fully proved feature—and there's still nothing else on the market to compare with it.

Oldsmobile introduced Hydra-Matic Drive* 8 years ago. Today, Oldsmobile is still the lowest-priced car to offer it. Add to this Oldsmobile's traditional style-leadership—plus Oldsmobile's all-round, fine-car quality—and you'll see why so many football fans are Oldsmobile fans as well. You'll agree that...
