

NEW JUMP IN BREAD PRICES MAY BE AHEAD

Baking Industry Pledges Effort To Save Wheat; Price Hike A "Stimulator"

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—The prospect of widespread increases in the price of bread may stimulate greater participation by eastern housewives in President Truman's "Save a slice of bread a day" campaign.

On the heels of the baking industry's promise to promote sales of small loaves of bread, open faced pies and two-layer-only cakes, bakers in New York and Baltimore scheduled a one cent a loaf price increase on bread starting Monday.

And one official of the American Bakers Association told a reporter that he "would not be surprised" if bakers in other cities have to boost prices "in view of wheat at $3.05 a bushel."

The Baltimore Evening Sun said baking firms in Philadelphia and other eastern cities would announce a one cent a loaf increase early next week.

President C. P. Binner of the Bakers Association told the Luckman committee earlier that bakers have been employing strict grain-saving measures for many months to offset rising costs of raw materials. Bread prices have gone up less than "any other major food," he said.

But Luckman's urging the bakers yesterday adopted a program which they said would save 3,000,000 bushels of wheat monthly if adopted by housewives and restaurant eaters as well.

It includes an agreement to (1) feature smaller loaves, wherever bakers are equipped to make them; (2) eliminate "consignment selling," under which some baking companies supply more bread than grocers can sell on the understanding that stale loaves will be taken back; (3) stop making bread and cake items for which there is small sale; and (4) to use substitutes for the flour which is "dusted" on breadstuffs and pastries.

The industry agreed also to study Luckman's proposal for a half-sized loaf of bread.

Airforce Breaks Long Distance Non-Stop Record

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 18—(AP)—The Eighth Air Force held another long-distance flight record today when a B-29 Superfort completed a 7,271-mile journey yesterday from America to San Antonio with no extra gas tanks.

The big ship, based here, loaded with an hour's gas supply.

The old Air Force record was 4,650 miles.

Maj. John Eigenmann of Springfield, Ill. piloted the ship. First Lt. James Campbell of San Antonio was co-pilot.

The round-about flight took the big plane from Jamaica to San Antonio over Haiti, the Bahamas, Miami, Baltimore, Kansas City, San Antonio, Brownsville, Houston and back to San Antonio.

Offers Reward For Murder Of Premier

Tehran, Oct. 18—(AP)—An offer of $1,000,000 rials (about $33,000) was made today in the weekly newspaper Mard-e Emrooz to anyone "or his heirs" who would assassinate the Iranian Premier, Ahmed Qavam, whom the paper called a "traitor."

Mohammad Masood, editor of the paper, has been imprisoned several times for violent attacks on Qavam.

China On The Brink

Full Session A "Sign Of The Times"; No Campaign For Higher Wages Due To General Prosperity; Merger With AFL Got Nowhere; Principal Features

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

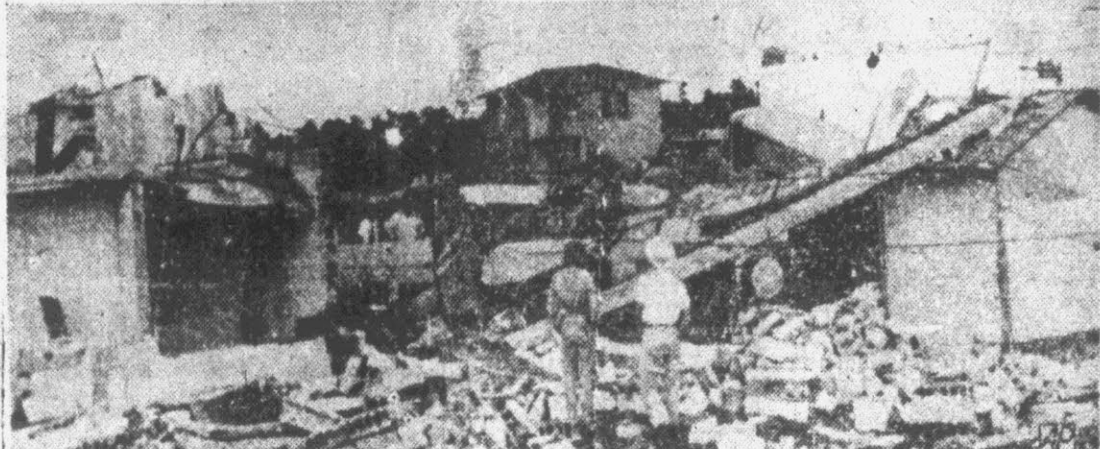

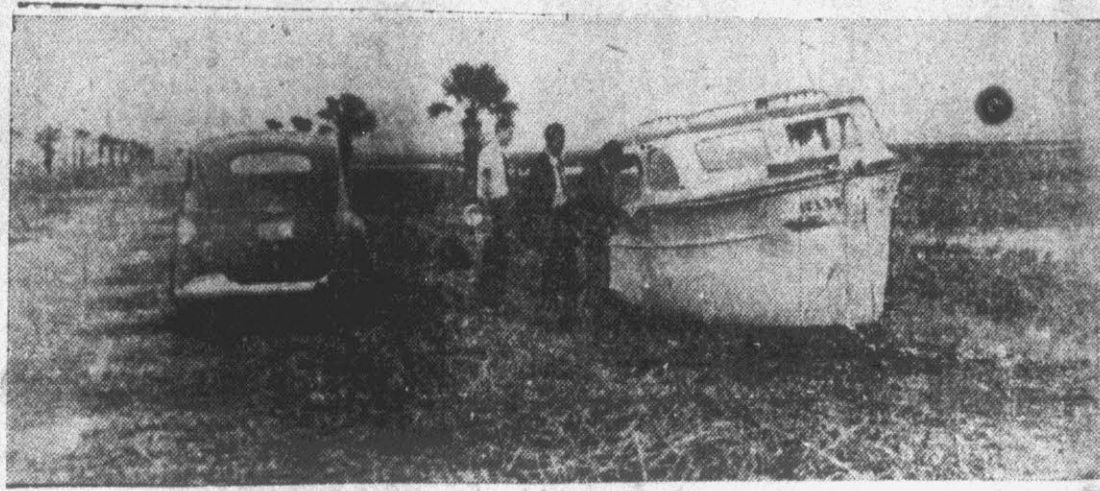

What with the roar of battle between the democracies and the Red bloc in Europe, and the constant effervescence of Russia's chief U.N. representative, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, it's small wonder that the Western world's attention is diverted from affairs in Asia.

However, that's a dangerous situation for the Occident to be in. For while we are engrossed in the defense of democracy in the West, a terrible menace is developing in the Far East—the threat of a Communist dominated Asiatic bloc comprising more than half the population of the whole world.

The crux of this Oriental crisis is mighty China—torn by civil war between the Chinese Communists and the Nationalist Government, and in the grip of a protracted economic upheaval which has even taken the lives of millions by starvation. China has reached that state of chaos which renders her prime for communistic conquest.

In token of this listen to Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, who recently made a special investigation of the Chinese situation as special emissary of President Truman. The general says that "unless drastic reforms, particularly in the economic field, are implemented soon, China will be drawn into the Soviet orbit in spite of the assistance that we Americans must extend."

Stalin Extends Cautious Olive Branch To Britain And America

Tells Visiting Members Of Parliament He Wishes To Resolve Political And Economic Issues With U.S. And Britain

Warsaw, Oct. 18—(AP)—Eight Labor members of the British Parliament told Prime Minister Stalin today when they visited him in Russia recently that he wished to resolve political and economic issues with the United States and Britain and impressed them as having no thought of war.

An Associated Press dispatch from Warsaw originally quoted the Britons as saying Stalin told them he had no thought of making war. No direct quotation was supplied on this angle, however, and the statement was revised later to say Stalin impressed them as having no thought of war.

Konni Zilliacus, head of the eight-man British delegation, said last night that Stalin added that if America and Britain did not want to settle differences "we shall wait until they regain their reason."

The parliamentary group—flown to Stalin's villa at Sochi on the Black Sea after a tour of Moscow to study Russian trade unions and factories—quoted the prime minister as saying in a two-hour interview:

"We want as close trade relations with Great Britain as possible. We are interested in the development of trade relations between our two countries.

"The sooner the two states agree, the better for good partners in common work.

"Just as the Soviet Union has always stood for improvement of political and economic relations with all countries, so it now stands for such improvement, beginning with the United States and Great Britain.

"If these countries wish to improve relations with the Soviet Union, they will be welcomed. We shall be prepared to go forward to meet them irrespective of what the economic setup may be in those countries."

School To Open

The Greenville City Schools will be open Monday as usual. No new cases of spinal meningitis have been reported and the one victim is reported to be getting better.

In the high school building Monday morning, Dr. Phillips, county health officer, will make an examination of the entire school body.

Only the members of the student body of the high school are requested to stay away from all crowds for the time being.

BIG WELCOME FOR RESCUERS

Boston, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Coast Guard cutter Bibb, which rescued 69 passengers and crew from the trans-Atlantic liner Bermuda Sky Queen, today ploughed at 20 knots through heavy seas toward a warm welcome in Boston harbor tomorrow.

The Bibb reported she was encountering unfavorable winds but still hoped to make the harbor at noon.

Acting Mayor John B. Hynes will lead a delegation of city officials down the harbor in police and fire boats to welcome the rescuers and rescued harbor craft prepared to tie down whistles in a noisy reception.

The American Red Cross will have representatives on hand with food and clothing for men, women and infants aboard the rescue craft.

The Bibb reported the rescued, including several children still "in line shape," although some were "stirred emotionally and would not be able to look at the incident objectively for two or three weeks."

One of the rescued passengers, Tina Lewin, said in a radio interview that she was amazed at "the absolute lack of panic" when the big flying boat went down in the North Atlantic.

"The steward announced you'd better break up your card game because we're going down to get a weather report. We thought it was odd, but everyone sat calmly. It was a wonderful landing. There wasn't a bump."

South Piedmont Teachers Oppose NCEA Action

Charlotte, Oct. 18—(AP)—Classroom teachers of the South Piedmont district of the North Carolina Education Association were on record today opposing the State Board of Education's recent action in revoking the teaching certificate of R. L. Fritz, Jr., NCEA president.

The teachers took their stand here yesterday in the district convention, unanimously adopting a resolution disapproving the board's action. The resolution, in addition, asked that the general assembly amend the law to deprive the state board of the "implied power" under which Fritz' certificate was revoked.

Fritz was not present as the South Piedmont group championed his cause as well as taking a stand on further increases in teacher salaries.

Anniversary

Anchorage, Alaska, Oct. 18—(AP)—Alaska celebrated the 50th anniversary of the territory's purchase from Russia today.

Numerous guests from the U. S. and from all over Alaska assembled here for the territory's biggest celebration.

In ceremonies yesterday at Fort Yukon, where on Aug. 9, 1867, Capt. Charles Raymond arrived and informed the residents that the British trading posts was part of the territory of Alaska, an American flag was again raised over the old fort.

It was on Friday, Oct. 18, 1867, when the actual transfer of the territory was made from Russia to the United States at Novo Arkhangel'sk, now Sitka, histories show.

MORE GUARDS ON TRAINLOAD OF PRISONERS

Military Prison Train Carrying Offenders To Coast; Seven Escapes

St. Lake City, Oct. 18—(AP)—With a reinforced armed guard over approximately 150 of the worst men the Army's got, a military prison train rolled across Utah toward California today following seven escapes in three states.

All but one of the prisoners who escaped in wild leaps from the speeding train have been recaptured, one critically wounded. Still hunted by Kansas police is the seventh man, identified by Army authorities as James D. Anders, 21, of Jamestown, N.Y.

The train is carrying the handcuffed prisoners, many serving life terms and facing dishonorable discharges for such crimes as murder, rape or desertion, from Greenhaven, N.Y., to detention barracks at Camp Cooke, Calif.

Camp Carson, Colo., where a successful, widespread search for one of two prisoners who escaped in the snow-covered Colorado Rockies was directed, Lt. Col. H. F. Ames, public information officer, blamed the prisoners "the worst the Army's got—willing to go to any extreme."

Ames said three German prisoners of war, sentenced to life imprisonment for crimes committed while in PW camps, were with the Americans on the train.

Prominent N.C. Educator Dies

Raleigh, N.C., Oct. 18—(AP)—Dr. E. C. Brooks, president emeritus of N. C. State College, died at his home here today after three weeks of serious illness.

Dr. Brooks, who was one of eight educators to rewrite the courses of study for the elementary schools of America, also was a member of the National Finance Inquiry Commission under the auspices of the National Council of Education.

He became president of State College in 1923 and held that post until his retirement in 1934. Since then he had engaged in research.

Export-Import Trade In Philippines Grows

Manila, Oct. 18—(AP)—Philippine foreign trade is booming. Imports and exports in the first nine months of this year were valued at $528,500,000, and the Bureau of Census and Statistics estimated today that the total for the year will be $800,000,000—about three times prewar volume. Last year the total was only $369,000,000.

Bar's Peace And Quiet Shattered By Big Doe

Yonkers, N.Y., Oct. 18—(AP)—Everything was pleasant and peaceful yesterday in Brophy's Bar and Grill.

Three men stood at the bar nursing their beers. Suddenly one glanced at the plate glass front window. His eyes bulged.

"Look out!" he yelled—and dived under a table.

There was a crash. The window fell in and a 170-pound doe stood in the barroom.

The other two customers joined their companion. The doe leaped over the bar smashing bottles, and dashed out the door.

A garage was next. Two mechanics jumped into a greaspit as the doe leaped through the door, out into the street again and into another bar and grill—this time by the front door.

Men and a woman dashed for shelter as the beer crashed against the shuffleboard. Now bleeding and dizzy, the animal staggered for the door but bartender John Moss belted it to its knees with a baseball bat. It was shot by a patrolman.

St. Joseph's Hospital will serve venison today. Where the doe came from nobody knows.

Babson On 'Providing For Families'

Lawrence, Kansas, October 17.—To those who are troubled about the financial outlook, I want to say that only as a few families adopt careful estate planning will our nation reduce its "booms and busts."

In other words, for every additional family providing for the future, the "booms" will be less dangerous, and the "depressions" will be less severe. I feel very certain about this.

"Think More of Children We give too much time to business and too little to our children. A busy executive gives almost no time to thinking of the future which is to be a very essential part to his later-life development. Also think of the farmer or business man who has been pouring all his profits back into the farm or business. He sells out and finds himself with a grand bank balance, but no income until he puts his money to work. He is to sit down and do some very serious thinking. His entire future depends on it.

Test Ballot On Revising UN Is Scheduled Today

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—Meet the new champion—For a long time most people around here thought that Louis Y. de Zychinski had the longest title in Washington. He's the special administrative aide to the fourth assistant postmaster general.

But today Don E. Petty accepted appointment as "chairman" of the committee on statement of principles of administrative law of the section of administrative law, American Bar Association.

Political Committee To Vote On Establishing Group To Iron Out Differences Between U. S. Proposal And Amendments

Lake Success, Oct. 18—(AP)—The first test vote on Secretary of State George C. Marshall's proposal to overhaul United Nations machinery was scheduled today with its advocates confident of piling up an impressive majority.

The initial balloting lineup in the 57-nation Political Committee was expected on the question of establishing a drafting group to iron out differences between the U.S. proposal and a series of amendments from countries supporting the plan generally.

Only Russia and her supporters have spoken against the plan for a year-around "Little Assembly" in debate this week and American sources based their optimism on general endorsement from a long list of delegations, including Britain, France and China.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko made it plain yesterday that none of the softening and clarifying amendments would have any effect on Russia. He called the plan, illegal and contrary to the U.N. charter and said so at the assembly scheme was concerned the Soviet Union does not have "the word compromise in its glossary."

Gromyko coupled his statement with another sharp attack on the United States and said this move was all part of an American plan to "dictate" world policy. His bitter

FARM PROBERS MOVING SOUTH

Rocky Mount, N.C., Oct. 18—(AP)—The House Agriculture Committee moved deeper into the South today carrying the apparently unanimous endorsement of farmers in this area for the present government farm program.

Not one of the witnesses spoke against the program of price support and acreage allotments. They urged refinements and in some cases asked that the program be made permanent.

Rep. Harold D. Cooley of North Carolina, a member of the committee, in summing up yesterday's hearing, said:

"The testimony has shown that we should preserve the present farm program and strengthen it, if possible, every part of it. We certainly should continue soil conservation on a nationwide basis, continue acreage adjustments to enable farmers to keep supply in line with demand, and by all means we should keep the price support program."

Cooley said not a single witness has suggested repeal "of a single part" of the present program.

"The evidence has been very clear that but for the program tobacco prices would have collapsed this year," he continued, "this would have meant bankruptcy for us."

Cholera Still Taking Heavy Toll In Egypt

Cairo, Oct. 18—(AP)—Cholera has taken 1,602 lives in the Nile valley since the disease became epidemic last September 23, the Egyptian health ministry announced today. In the 24 hours up to yesterday morning, the announcement said, 223 deaths were reported, a record for such a period.

JOINT EFFORT LOCATE PLANE LONG OVERDUE

DC-3 Cargo Plane Disappears With A Crew Of Three After Leaving Charlotte

Charlotte, N.C., Oct. 18—(AP)—Army Air Force and Civil Aeronautics officials today combined their efforts to locate a missing DC-3 cargo plane which disappeared with its crew of three after leaving Charlotte Thursday night.

The plane, operated by Strato Freight, Inc., left the Charlotte airport at 7:14 o'clock that night for Gainesville, Fla., a flight over a well-traveled route which normally requires but one hour.

Since then no word has been received from the three men aboard, identified by company officials as Saul E. Kornish of Ott. Mass., pilot; Robert Piper of Pittsfield, Mass., and formerly of Oswatimie, near Kansas City, co-pilot; and Dwight Coulter, of Pittsfield, a company executive.

R. D. Beaumont, Charlotte agent of the freight line, termed the plane's disappearance as "peculiar." He said it was "hard to understand" inasmuch as the area between here and Gainesville is heavily traveled and populated. He said, however, the plane might have got off course and flown over the mountains to the west of its route.

The pilot, Beaumont said, had flown the route many times.

K. W. Lindemann, Civil Aeronautics inspector, said the Greenville Army Air Base has been asked to send out search parties for the missing plane. Efforts to spot it from commercial aircraft yesterday were unsuccessful and three airports along its route, Spartanburg, Greenville and Anderson, S.C., reported no word from it.

Belief that the plane might not have crashed was voiced by one CAA attendant who explained that "he could have gone in anywhere and just neglected to contact his headquarters."

Caribbean Storm Heads Straight For Mainland

Miami, Fla., Oct. 18—(AP)—Another "potentially dangerous" storm is headed toward Florida.

The blow was expected to reach full hurricane intensity today as it swept west northward through the Atlantic across Turks and Caicos Islands in the Bahamas.

In a 4:30 a.m. (EST) advisory, the Weather Bureau said the storm was centered about 70 miles east of Turks with strongest winds estimated at 60 to 70 miles an hour near the center and squalls extending outward 200 miles to the north and east.

The storm itself moved about 13 miles an hour on an easterly-northerly straight course toward the mainland.

Hurricane hunter planes were to set out at daybreak to check its progress and intensity.

Jap City Nearly Lost To Flames

Tokyo, Oct. 18—(AP)—Kyodo News Agency said today 12 Japanese were killed or injured Friday in a $4,000,000 fire that destroyed nearly two-thirds of Shimomozaki, on the extreme southwestern tip of Honshu Island.

The agency said 4,950 were made homeless as the flames destroyed some 799 homes and an occupation force barracks. Occupation personnel, hampered by a shortage of water, smothered the flames with bulldozers and dynamited buildings to localize the fire.

CIO Convention Ends

Menace Developing In Far East, Threat Of Communist Dominated Asiatic Bloc Comprising More Than Half Of World's Population; Frontlines In The Orient

By JAMES MARLOW

Boston, Oct. 18—(AP)—The CIO convention here—dull as it was, and it was mighty dull—can be taken pretty much as a symbol of the times.

For example: America is in a highly prosperous period now. Wages are high and so are prices.

A convention of unions like this one—41 CIO unions met here—might have been expected to demand a campaign demanding higher wages all around.

The CIO didn't. If unions are going to ask for higher wages, that is left up to the individual unions. The CIO itself took no stand on that.

The old chestnut about merging with the American Federation of Labor—it's been bobbing up for years—got nowhere.

The CIO and AFL are both lousy between them. AFL, climbing about 1,000,000 more than the CIO—and they don't need to merge.

If times were tough and labor unions felt that their backs were against the wall, they might think of getting together.

Some of the things considered at this CIO convention will be heard about for years to come.

Take the Fair Employment Practices Act, for instance. Such an act, which would in effect compel bosses to hire workers regardless of color or creed, has been knocked down in Congress.

The CIO is on record as favoring it. In the years ahead the CIO and other labor groups can be expected to be working on congressmen to (Continued on Page Four)

Strength FOR THE DAY POWER OF SPIRITUAL THINGS Archimedes, the Greek mathematician born about 300 B. C. declared that if he could find a point upon which to place the fulcrum, and thus support a lever, he could raise the earth up and down with his hand. That point, of course, would have to be outside the limitations of time and space, and for that reason Archimedes could not perform his spectacular feat.

In things spiritual the fulcrum lies outside the limitations of time and space. Archimedes could not find a place to put his fulcrum, but the Christian does find a place where the fulcrum, the Gospel, may rest. And by this means he performs miracles, today as ever.

Man's hope is outside the limitations of time and space. There, in an area which cannot be comprehended by the five senses but can be apprehended by faith, our powers enable us poor mortals to rise above life's limitations and accomplish things marvelous in character. The power of heaven is at our disposal, if we could only bring ourselves to believe it and to use these powers. Jesus assured his hearers that if they would but believe and not doubt in their heart, they could remove mountains and cast them into the sea. But not by their own powers; only by powers outside the limitations of time and space.

By HOWARD DOBSON (For Jane Eads)

Washington—If foreign diplomats can be intimidated, or even just dazzled by architecture, the new State Department building is the one to do the job. The outside is plain, almost severe, but inside the huge bronze doors, the first thing you see is an expanse of marble about the size of a basketball court. Surrounding it are square marble pillars two stories tall.

The building, started in 1940, was intended for the War Department, as you can tell at once. Looming over this acre or so of marble is a mural painting dominated by war planes and resolute looking GIs carrying machine guns and similar implements.

There is a vast reception room outside Secretary Marshall's office, and it is decorated by a mural depicting major battles of the Revolutionary War. It is now covered by a tasteful green drape, but before the drape was hung Marshall had a couple of official callers—Lord Inverchapel, the British ambassador, and the Duke of Windsor.

Having a natural interest in government accommodations for reporters, I looked up the press room on my first trip to the building. It is tucked away at the end of a labyrinth of oyx-walled corridors. Well, it looked like oyx. Maybe it was just black glass.

In the popular phrase of war veterans, they (the reporters) never had it so good. First, there is a lounge with big leather sofas and deep chairs. Off this is a smaller room suitable for a quiet game of whist or some other gentlemanly diversion.

In a long room beyond the lounge, each newspaper and wire service has a well-lighted, sound-proofed stall much like you might find in a stable for horses that win lots of money.

On the wall hangs a portrait of former Secretary Cordell Hull, with a message of welcome from him to the press corps. Tip-toeing out, my head bending low from memories of the police station press rooms I have frequented, I went to check up on some of the department's current business.

It didn't seem proper for an outsider to kibitz on a real State Department press conference, so I hummed up a man to ask how things are going with that constitutional amendment to limit the terms of future presidents. He said things are going fine. Eighteen states have ratified it.

On my way back to the office, I walked by the awkward old building the State Department used to occupy, now occupied by other government offices. The place looks comparatively lonesome now, but somebody hasn't given up.

Him? Oh, That's Vishinsky Making Another Speech

Russians is a matter of debate. The Chinese Reds say it's not, but the Chinese Government says they are, and many impartial observers agree with the Government. Anyway, the dragons' teeth which the Chinese Communists are sowing will grow crops which will be just for Moscow's mill.

China is the main base of Western democracy in the Orient. Supporting that vast country with its 500,000,000 population should fall under Russian domination, and to this should be added most of the rest of the Oriental peoples. If you join Russia's 200,000,000 to that bloc you have considerably more than a billion people—over half the world's population.

There's nothing outlandish about that thought, for the idea of an Asiatic bloc has been running strong among the Far Eastern countries. The great Nehru, head of the new dominion government of India, is an exponent of an Asiatic confederation, and also is a socialist with sympathy for some Russian ideas, though he is thumbs down on dictatorship.

Quite apart from that, Moscow has been trying ever since Bolshevikism came to power to thrust its influence into India through Afghanistan which lies on the Afghanisthan north-west frontier. Maybe the Russians think there's an omen in the fact that the Khyber Pass between Afghanistan and India provided the route of invasion into Hindustan for Alexander and other conquerors.

This is a crucial moment in the fight between democracy and aggressive totalitarianism. It is truly a world war, with two great fronts to be held—in Europe and the other in the Orient. Neither can be neglected.

CIO Convention . . .

(Continued from Page One) pass such a law. So, you'll be hearing more about fair employment practices for years to come. There's no sign Congress will pass such a law any time soon. The same goes for another item: The CIO is going to work year after year for Congress to pass some kind of national health insurance. (Some people call it socialized medicine, but the CIO doesn't.) The CIO considered 36 resolutions in all. Very few of them could be expected to be achieved immediately.

Most of them are long-range goals with which labor, and particularly the CIO, will busy itself in the years ahead.

(Continued from Page 1) "trust," you may have all the confidence in the world in the men who are handling things, but it is my advice that you also get enough investment training so that you can intelligently watch them. Trust beneficiaries who often consult with their trustees get the best service. Trustees usually are very glad to discuss such matter if they feel you understand what you are discussing. Books and classes exist to help people get such training.

Lawyers are often made custodians of estates and get very well paid for such work. How much time are such busy men given to the study of investments? Lawyers want their doctors and dentists to attend summer classes to keep up to date. Lawyers should be fair to their trusting clients and give the financial side of their training continuous post-graduate study.

Lawyers are so pressed with detailed work which they must do that they seldom take time to present new thoughts to their clients. Busy lawyers are not good salesmen to hesitate to suggest to clients that they revise their wills, form trusts and plan their estates intelligently. Yet, these things are far more important for the clients families than the detailed legal work upon which their time is mostly spent.

Warning to Farmers I have just visited the wheat country where farmers are reaping much wealth. They are getting more money than they ever dreamed of, but have no knowledge of what to do with it. As a result, this central west is now infested with "get-rich-quick" promoters. They are trying to get away from the farmers their hard earned money, much of which the farmers will need to draw upon when low prices and poor crops come again—as they will.

My advice is that after setting out of debt you spend one-third of your profits on improvements, one-third put in government bonds or cash for "the day when it doesn't rain," and then use the other third to start an irrevocable trust for your family's protection. Regarding this consult—not your dentist as the radio talks about—but your lawyer and banker. They also should be visited every six months!

Stalin . . . (Continued from Page One) "Cooperation between countries having different economic systems is possible. That already has been proved by experience. "If, however, they do not want to improve their relations with the Soviet Union, we shall have to do without them. We shall nevertheless be able to carry on. "We will wait until they regain their reason and understand cooperation between nations is necessary. We can wait. We are a patient people. "In Washington, Stalin's remarks were received with cautious reserve. One reaction was that "it will be interesting" to see whether his words are translated into "more cooperative action" by the Soviet delegation to the United Nations. "American government leaders have expressed themselves as fairly certain that Russia does not want and will not risk a war at this time, although they are equally convinced the Russians will press their case by every political means available up to the point of an open and formal break with the United States."

Bethel PTA Plans Halloween Event
On Thursday evening, October 16, the Bethel Parent-Teacher Association met in the auditorium of the Elementary School and discussed plans for the annual Halloween Carnival which will be held at the high school building on October 31. Mrs. Ralph Carson presided and Mrs. C. G. Garrenton conducted the devotional. During the business session the group voted to become affiliated with the Parent-Teacher organization, after which the president conducted an open discussion on plans for the Halloween program. She read a list of the committees that had been appointed and asked for any suggestions that might improve the event. The group voted to have a bingo stand for the children in addition to the one generally conducted for adults. A number of patrons volunteered to donate cakes for the adults' bingo stand.

Different features of the program were discussed including the popularity contest, baby contest and the program in general. It was announced that some new attractions would be added this year.

After the discussion was concluded, Mrs. Carson appointed a committee to meet and make a decision on the purchase of curtains for the Elementary School stage.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
October 18, 1907
On Friday night Miss Lillian Carr happily celebrated her birthday with a gathering of her friends at the home of her parents on Greene street. A beautiful picture they made, all bright, joyous and happy in the present, with never a thought of the care the future might bring. When all the guests had assembled in the parlor there were two contests, one a literary study arranged on hand painted score cards, and the other a writing contest was awarded Luther Bowling for writing the best telegram. Miss Margaret Blow won the prize. Then after some time spent in music and merriment the guests were invited into the beautifully decorated dining room where cream and cake and other delicacies were served by Miss Mildred Carr, Pattie Wooten and Estie Whichard. The color scheme was in pink and silver. A circle of pink candles, returning to the parlor the amusement of the evening was further increased by a mock marriage in which Miss Lillian Burch represented the bride and Charlie Horne the bridegroom.

China To Demand Ryukyu Islands

Nanking, Oct. 18—(AP)—Premier Chang Chun said today China would demand the Ryukyu Islands—which include Okinawa—and a big share in reparations from Japan. Reporting to the standing committee of the people's political council, Chang Chun said China's basic views, declared editorially that President Truman "fiddles with ineffectual schemes" to persuade America to eat less, but that "famine waits for no man's pleasure—no even that of the congressional committees whose members have been surveying Europe with critical eyes." The conservative Spectator said that there was "every danger that the whole question will be carried forward into 1948—which is a political year." It added that "for America to attach political or economic conditions of any kind to whatever assistance she may extend to this country and others, would be altogether improper."

British Press Lambasts Delay In U.S. Relief

London, Oct. 17—(AP)—Britain's weekly press lambasted the United States today for delays in financing European relief, and one newspaper declared repayment of the $3,750,000,000 U.S. loan "is not Britain's worry, but America's." The New Statesman and Nation, a weekly which often reflects leftist views, declared editorially that President Truman "fiddles with ineffectual schemes" to persuade America to eat less, but that "famine waits for no man's pleasure—no even that of the congressional committees whose members have been surveying Europe with critical eyes." The conservative Spectator said that there was "every danger that the whole question will be carried forward into 1948—which is a political year." It added that "for America to attach political or economic conditions of any kind to whatever assistance she may extend to this country and others, would be altogether improper."

Phantoms Lose, 20-0, To Hard-Hitting Kinstonites

By SPYRIDON SIDERIS
Taking it on the chin for the third straight game, Greenville's Green Phantoms lost a 20-0 decision to the Kinston Red Devils in Kinston last night on a wet and slippery field.

It was the locals' second straight conference loss and extended their present losing streak, which started with a 6-0 loss to Dunn, to three games.

The Phantoms, despite the fact that they had been told about him, found Joe Whaley, the Red Devils' line-running fullback, was all he was supposed to be as time and again he would go through the Greenies' defense for long gains, and his passing arm kept the secondary from closing in too close.

After the first quarter, in which they were scored on twice, the Greenville team settled down and kept the Kinstonians out of touchdown territory until the final quarter.

Lack of a scoring punch and a tight Kinston defense that rose up to stop them whenever a scoring threat was at hand, kept the Greenies from talking.

Kinston won the toss and elected to receive. The winners brought the kickoff back to their own 35-yard line before being stopped. A plunge into the middle netted a few yards.

On the next play, a reverse with the ball going to Wingback Bobby Grady went the 58 yards to the goal line without a hand being laid on him. The play had completely surprised the Greenies' secondary.

Bobby Hodges' placement for the extra point was no good and Kinston led 6-0 with less than two minutes of the ball game having elapsed.

Receiving the following kickoff, the GHS eleven proceeded to rack up a first down after running the pigskin back to their own 45-yard marker. A fumble in the backfield with Hodges of the Red Devils forward wall recovering.

The Devils, led by Whaley, drove down to the 2-yard line where Bobby Horton, halfback, lugged it over for another six points. This time the kick for the point after touchdown was good.

The two teams battled it out during the second quarter, in which the local gridgers made their biggest threat of the game. Glenn Perkins intercepted one of Whaley's long passes on his own 30-yard line and went all the way to the 10-yard marker before the last Kinston defender made a lunge and brought him down.

This was as far as the local gridgers got. Two line plays netted only losses and two passes, one almost intercepted and the other incomplete, put an end to the try.
