

FIRST SOVIET REACTION TO
UN MAJORITYResentment Against
Repeated Drubbings
Displayed By Vishinsky

New York, Nov. 1.—(AP)—The first outspoken Soviet resentment in this United Nations Assembly against repeated drubbings by the "mechanical majorities" of the United States and Britain raised an obstacle today in the path of the small countries trying to reconcile big-power differences.

The Russians flared up momentarily in debate on a Yugoslav resolution on war criminals but U. N. observers noted that it was the most pronounced Soviet reaction to the steady parade of U. S. and British majorities yet registered in the U. N.

Andrej Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister and chief Russian delegate, took the assembly floor last night to urge the assembly to approve a Yugoslav resolution which would have the effect of accusing the U. S. and Britain of harboring war criminals in the occupied zones of Europe.

The assembly rejected the Yugoslav proposal by a vote of 40 to 7 and then approved a British resolution, 42 to 7, which requires governments desiring the surrender of war criminals to present adequate evidence as to their guilt.

Recognizing that the majority would be against him, Vishinsky said:

"Any resolution submitted by a minority group is always summarily rejected. Everything submitted by a group which is inspired by the U. S. of America and by the United Kingdom is good; it is raised upon a shield and immediately whirled on through the assembly by a majority vote."

Claim Americans
Fortifying Base

Moscow, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Tass, in a dispatch from Rome, said today that the United States was turning the Greek island of Thasos, off the southern coast of Thrace, into a military base for guarding the Dardanelles.

The report, which Tass attributed to "Italian journalistic circles," said the island was being equipped with underground air defenses.

The dispatch said military fortifications and highways also were being constructed by American forces in Corfu, Crete and the entire Peloponnese peninsula.

Underground Explosions
Jar Rockefeller Center

New York, Nov. 1.—(AP)—A series of sharp explosions jarred the Rockefeller Center area last night and early today as an accompanying underground fire poured clouds of oily smoke into streets jammed by theater crowds, and into the lobby of the 70-story RCA building.

Blasts continued intermittently for more than two hours before the blaze, confined to the fire-proof vault of a giant transformer, burnt itself out shortly before 1 a. m. (EST).

Fire Marshal Thomas P. Brophy said a defective cable in the transformer was believed to have set off the first explosion and the resultant fire. Other blasts followed at rapid and then lengthening intervals.

Invasion Of Kashmir

Division Of India Into Moslem And Hindu States Has Seen
Constant Threat Of War Between Two Groups; Tribesmen Great Fighters; Major Conflict Possible

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Ever since the mighty Indian subcontinent was divided into two sovereign dominions—India (Hindu) and Pakistan (Moslem)—there have been danger signals warning of the possibility of civil war between these old politico-religious enemies who frequently have engaged in sanguinary conflict through the centuries. There have been terrible communal clashes in various parts of the country. Unnumbered thousands of people have been killed, and there have been looting and burning. Much of this has grown out of the unhappy circumstance that many Moslems had been living in territory which was awarded to the Hindu dominion of India, and many Hindus were caught within Moslem Pakistan.

The latest untoward development, however—the invasion of the great princely state of Kashmir by Moslem tribesmen from the neighboring Northwest Frontier province, within Pakistan—brings the sub-continent with its 400,000,000 people nearer to civil war than anything which has transpired previously. The danger lies in these tangled circumstances. When the dominions were created, the fabulously rich maharajah of Kashmir, Sir Hari Singh, declared his independence of both Moslem Pakistan and the Hindu population of Kashmir belonged within Pakistan. And when the Moslem tribesmen invaded Kashmir recently, the government of the state charged that the invasion had been instigated by Pakistan, an allegation denied by the Pakistan government. The invasion went badly for the maharajah and he joined the Hindu dominion of India, asking for protection.

The dominion of India sent troops into Kashmir to aid the prince's forces in defense. A reliable source states that Pakistan also started a brigade for Kashmir but withdrew it when warned by Field Marshal Sir Claude Auchinleck, the British who commands the armies of both dominions, that an accidental clash between Pakistan and Indian troops would mean "war between the dominions." Officials of Pakistan and India are scheduled to meet this weekend to try to iron out the problems threatening civil war.

Meantime the troops of Kashmir and the dominion of India haven't fared well at the hands of the invading tribesmen. You have to know your tribesmen to understand the seeming anomaly of their success against trained soldiers. As remarked in a previous article, I spent some time on the Northwest Frontier (Continued on Page Two)

Ketchikan, Alaska, Nov. 1.—(AP)—A deep snow blanket near the top of Mount Tamnas, on Annette Island, hampered searchers seeking today to recover bodies of 18 persons killed when a Pan American Airways plane plowed into the peak last Sunday.

Eight Coast Guardsmen, led by Lieut. Comdr. F. S. Schreiber, reached the wreckage late yesterday and messaged they had found four bodies, with no survivors. The plane had apparently partly burned and exploded, scattering wreckage far and wide. With improved visibility, search planes found the spot earlier.

Two Writers Given 24 Hours To Leave The Country; Reporting
Criticized; Ambassador Takes Up Case

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Nov. 1.—Yugoslavia ordered two American correspondents today to leave the country within 24 hours.

A government spokesman said Arthur M. Brandel, correspondent of the New York Times, and his wife, Mary Lester, who represents the United Press, were being expelled because "their writing has not tended to create a better understanding between our two countries."

Brandel and his wife said they were awakened at 7:45 a. m. by a Yugoslav militiaman who told them: "I am instructed by the ministry of the interior to inform you that you have 24 hours in which to leave our country. I am also instructed also that if you do not leave, we shall take the necessary steps."

He did not say what such steps would be, nor did he give any reason for the expulsion order, the writers said. Brandel said he was informed by the manager of the Hotel Moskva, where he and his wife live, that the manager was instructed to have their apartment vacated by tomorrow morning.

Brandel covered the recent trial of peasant party leader Dragoljub Jovanovic, who was charged with treason. Jovanovic was sentenced October 8 to nine years imprisonment, and defendant Franjo Gazi to five years. The Yugoslav press subsequently attacked Brandel for what it charged was distortion in his dispatches concerning the trial.

Brandel informed U. S. Ambassador Cavendish Cannon, who said he would take up the matter with the foreign affairs ministry. He said Cannon told him he considered this a "grave incident in principle" which he intended to discuss with the highest authorities.

Dry Squad Finds
Liquor Cache In Cave Under Barn

Outhrie, Okla., Nov. 1.—(AP)—A dry squad in the prohibition state of Oklahoma played Ali Baba for six hours near here last night before finding the "open sesame" to a bootlegger's cave loaded with $53,000 worth of illicit alcoholic treasure.

The charm was a hidden valve that moved a concealed hydraulic lift in the straw-littered floor of a leased barn. The shaft led to a 12-foot deep, 20-by-40 foot cement vault.

Inside were 496 cases of whisky worth $4.50 a pint at current Oklahoma bootleg prices, officers said. In addition, there was a conveyor system, air compressor, and a set of books.

The discovery cleared up a puzzling point for farmer N. C. Miller who leased the barn to another man. "I always wondered why he wanted to spend $4,200 for a concrete floor in that barn," he told the dry squad.

Hint Compromise
Over PartitioningDifferences With Russia Over Palestine May Be Settled As Sub-Committee Resumes
Debate In Secret Session

Lake Success, Nov. 1.—(AP)—A United States "hurry-up" proposal for creation of sovereign Arab and Jewish nations in Palestine by next July 1 hinged today on British-Arab and Russian acceptance.

An authoritative source hinted that the United States might be willing to seek a compromise with Russia over differences now existing between these two major powers on the future of a partitioned Holy Land.

This development came as a special Palestine sub-committee of the United Nations Assembly prepared to resume debate at 11 a. m. (EST) in secret session on measures for implementing the proposed partition.

The Russians have suggested that any partition enforcement measures be placed under the jurisdiction of the 11-nation Security Council where the five big powers have the veto.

The U. S. has proposed that the General Assembly establish a three-man U. N. commission to go to Palestine after any proposed partition decision is taken and act in any advisory capacity to the two new countries until independence is established.

Boston, Nov. 1.—(AP)—An escaped convict who jumped out of a fourth story window in a downtown police chase was captured today and held for questioning with two other former prisoners in Boston's day apart payroll raids in which hooded gunmen snatched a total of $137,000.

George Hayes, 39, who broke out of State Prison Sept. 19, was taken early this morning after injuring himself gravely in a leap from a Cambridge apartment house, police reported.

Another former convict was arrested in the same apartment a short time later, making three-ex-prisoners now held in connection with a Thursday robbery of $198,000 and a Friday haul of $29,000 from two firms.

Police charged Hayes was carrying a loaded pistol and had $1,150 in cash on him. They said they found in his car work clothes such as were worn by men in the holdups.

They said they found a total of $1,595 in the apartment of the second man arrested.

Patrick Farina, 34, third man arrested since the holdups, was charged with armed robbery in the $108,000 raid at the Sturdivant division of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Cairo, Nov. 1.—(AP)—The death toll from the cholera epidemic in the Nile Valley has taken 7,588 lives since it began on Sept. 23, but the Egyptian Health Ministry said today the number of deaths decreased yesterday, for the second straight day. A communiqué said 364 persons died of the dread disease in the latest 24-hour period.

Paris, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier added three new members to his middle-of-the-road coalition cabinet today—a Popular Republican, a Radical Socialist and a member of the leftist Democratic and Socialist Union of Resistance (UDSR).

The new members boost the number of cabinet members to 16.

Babson Discusses Commodity Prices

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 1.—Readers recently have been asking me some rather tough questions. To answer all of them, I would have to be an oracle, as well as a statistician. However, I do the best I can. Right now I am deluged with inquiries as to the peak in wholesale commodity prices will be reached and whether there will be a further rise in the cost of living. Briefly and with fingers crossed, the wholesale price peak should be seen by the early second quarter of 1948. As to retail prices and the cost of living, a further rise is inevitable.

A Glance at the Record
To bring you up-to-date on commodity price inflation, I shall risk boring you with a few statistics. The latter, as you know, are much maligned, but do serve a purpose. Since August, 1939, to recent date the Bureau of Labor's all commodity wholesale price index has advanced 108.5 per cent. Building materials have skipped ahead to the tune of 103.5 per cent, other things

Swirling Battle

Athens, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Press dispatches today said Greek troops were using planes, artillery and frontal bayonet charges against guerrilla forces entrenched in German-built pill-boxes in the Metsovo area of Epirus, and that a swirling nine-day battle apparently was drawing to a close.

These reports said from 200 to 300 of a force of some 4,000 to 5,000 guerrillas had been killed. (Government losses were not specified.)

AUTO OUTPUT
RECORD HIGHIndustry Heading For One Of Biggest
Years In History

Detroit, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Production estimates this week reveal the automotive industry not only has registered a monthly postwar record but also appears headed for one of the highest output years in its history.

The estimated output of 105,834 vehicles this week, according to Ward's reports, made October the biggest postwar month with a 461,116 total, surpassing September's 452,066 units.

October's passenger car output of 316,434, also passed the April postwar mark of 315,917.

This upsurge has put motor car makers in a position from which they can set their sights on the possibility of the biggest production year since the war, somewhere beyond the 5,000,000-unit level.

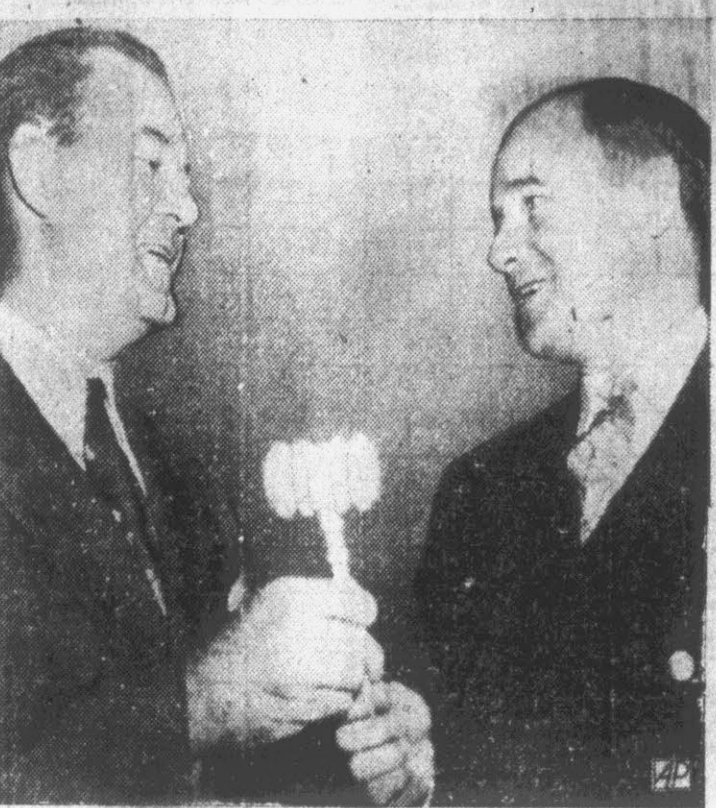

"It is certain now," the trade paper automotive news reported, "that if production in the final two months of the year continues anywhere near current levels, 1947 will be the third largest production year in history. It will be topped only by 1929 (5,358,420) and 1937 (5,016,437)."

Harbor Tryouts

Long Beach, Calif., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Howard Hughes' 200-ton flying boat, the largest plane in the world, was scheduled to be hauled from its docks today in preparation for water tryouts in the harbor tomorrow.

It will probably be next spring before the $23,000,000 craft is given its first test in the air. Hughes announced that in taxi tests around the harbor the plane may be subjected to speeds up to 80 miles an hour to determine airflow and water characteristics.

Gasoline Rations Ended

London, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Britons grudgingly gave up another of their pleasures today, foregoing private motoring to save dollars by saving gasoline.

Under the British government's new austerity law, effective last midnight, a private citizen can't drive his car at all, except on "essential business."

Officials estimate the ban will save approximately 9,000,000 pounds ($26,000,000) a year of dwindling dollar credits.

A few hours before the deadline, motorists—armed with cans, jugs and saucapans—jammed filling stations, determined to get every drop of their ration.

"They tell me," one attendant said, "they are going to take the last drop they are entitled to and intend to put the petrol in bottles when they get home."

Effect of the travel ban will be to confine the Briton more closely to his unheated home where once he could find some solace in an extra serving of tea.

Now there isn't enough tea either. That ration recently was cut to half a pound a month—inadequate for the inhabitants of this nation of traditional tea drinkers.

Surprisingly, the people accepted the cut in tea supplies with only a mild amounting of growling. Reduction in bacon, fresh meat and other food allowances brought no organized protests.

Abolition of the basic petrol ration—enough to drive 180 miles a month—aroused a storm of opposition.

U.S. Example On Italian Fleet

London, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Britain—following the lead of the United States—has announced after five days of negotiations with Count Carlo Sforza, Italian foreign minister, that she will renounce her share of the Italian Navy.

Under the terms of the peace treaty the Italian fleet was made available to Russia, Britain, the U. S. and France. It was stipulated that Italy would have to sink or scrap any major combat vessels not claimed from the reparations pool, but she could use the scrap for industrial purposes and would be spared the expense of reconditioning the vessels of the allies.

Britain also disclosed an agreement to negotiate British-Italian economic shipping, aviation and cultural pacts "to strengthen the renewed bonds of traditional friendship."

Steelworkers And UMW Defiant

Washington, Nov. 1.—(AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today began winnowing through hundreds of last minute union compliances with the non-Communist provision of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Just under the wire was the big CIO United Auto Workers union, whose executive board reversed a previous stand and advised the NLRB the necessary papers would be filed as soon as possible.

The AFL United Mine Workers headed by John L. Lewis and the CIO Steelworkers were left out in the cold by their own choice.

Both stood pat, past last midnight's deadline, on their refusal to file the non-Communist pledges and financial statements required by the law. This means the 350,000 UMW members and the 800,000 steelworkers are barred from services of the NLRB.

The steelworkers, however, stepped in at the eleventh hour with a challenge expected to lay the groundwork for a court test of the board's power to make the non-Communist rule stick.

The United Auto Workers, despite their compliance, had taken a similar legal step. Specifically, the steelworkers questioned the board's authority to toss out 22 already-pending cases involving union petitions for collective bargaining rights.

An official of the NLRB said it might take weeks to clear the paper work caused by the rush of unions to meet the deadline. On Oct. 14 the board had 3,400 cases pending. Those brought by unions which have failed to comply with the two key provisions of the act are subject to dismissal.

Moscow, Nov. 1.—(AP)—The publication Culture and Life printed today a letter from a reader assailing the U. S. radio broadcast to Russian listeners for carrying a report on an American court action which held a person could be "insulted" by being called a Communist.

"How dares the American radio broadcast such 'friendly' announcements to a country where the word Communist is holy?" asked a letter signed by Maj. A. A. Kriev. "How dares the American radio insult the Soviet people?" said the heading over the letter.

Tobacco Men Favor 30
Per Cent Acreage Cut

Henderson, N.C., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Warehousemen from three flue-cured tobacco belts are in favor of cutting leaf production by 30 per cent next year as a measure toward assuring favorable prices to growers.

The stand was taken at a meeting here yesterday of approximately 300 warehouse representatives from all but four flue-cured markets of the Eastern North Carolina, middle and old belts.

Along with the warehousemen's reports of declining prices, the three belts represented, which will reopen for sales next Monday after a suspension called as a result of Great Britain's ban on tobacco imports. The 1947 marketing season was concluded on the border belt of North Carolina and South Carolina when the sales holiday went into effect at the end of auctions Tuesday. The season's total for the border belt was 297,919,842 pounds sold for an average of $41.84 per hundred pounds.

Out of yesterday's meeting, called by Fred S. Royster of Henderson, president of the Bright Belt Warehouse Association and chairman of the Flue-Cured Tobacco Marketing Committee, came a prediction of heavy offerings and normal sales for the remainder of the season.

Classification Labels

"Top Secret," "Secret," "Confidential" and "Restricted"
Information In Government Agencies; Agencies And How They Are Used By Army And State Department

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 1.—(AP)—The government calls some kinds of information "top secret" or "secret" or "confidential" or "restricted." A government official uses one of those labels on a piece of information he thinks should not be made public.

But what do they mean and what's the difference between information that is "top secret" and "secret"? This is an explanation.

Those labels have been used for years by certain government agencies like the Army, Navy and State Department.

This is understandable since much of their work involves the nation's welfare.

Couldn't an agency use one of those labels to cover up its own mistakes when the nation's welfare is not involved? Sure. That's always a problem.

But some months ago President Truman thought standards or rules for using these labels should be drawn up for all government agencies.

The job was given to a group called the Security Advisory Board, made up of representatives of the Army, Navy and State Department.

This board has finished its work after much public criticism, and sent its recommendations to Mr. Truman. He'll have to okay or reject them.

But here are examples of the labels as they are used by the Army and the State Department.

Top secret—Army:

1. Information on certain troop movements, such as sending General George Patton and his armored troops to North Africa in World War II.

2. Information on certain new or vital methods of war, like the atomic bomb.

3. Information on war plans.

Top secret—State Department:

1. Information which, if made public, could be expected to lead to war.

2. Information about his own country from a foreigner who, if it became public, might be killed.

Secret—Army:

1. Information on an important event while it's happening, such as the sending of munitions to the coast of France during the Normandy invasion.

Another example might be an improvement in a tank before it got into battle. Once it was captured, there's no need for secrecy.

It is possible, however, that

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

November 1, 1907

J. E. Greene has returned to Winterville from a trip to his old home near Williamston.

At last relief seems to be in sight for the tobacco farmers. The American Tobacco Co., which has so long ruled the tobacco world with the ruthlessness of a czar, is now to feel the big stick of an aroused national government. With the active cooperation of the tobacco growers, the Trust may now at last be outlawed and competition in tobacco markets restored.—Progressive Farmer.

N. C. Brooks Is New President Kiwanis Club

By CHESTER WALSH

The Greenville Kiwanis Club last night unanimously elected Nathan C. Brooks president for 1948 to succeed Eli Bloom.

W. Arthur Tripp was elected vice-president and Dr. Melvin Holt, Wyatt Hixsmith, Hunter Keck and W. H. Woolard were elected to the board of directors. The other four directors are J. Arthur Collins, T. E. Gardner, Milo Smith and Tom Wilson. The new officers and directors take office in January.

The four retiring directors are David A. Evans, Judge J. W. H. Roberts, Guy V. Smith and W. H. Woolard. Woolard, who was serving the unexpired term of Odell Calhoun, was re-elected last night.

The Kiwanis Club is winding up one of its most successful years. Its good work in underprivileged child activities has received praise from International and District Kiwanis headquarters. The club is assisting several students to go to college and it has given considerable medical and surgical assistance to underprivileged boys and girls.

The Greenville club sponsored the organizing of the flourishing Farmville and Washington Kiwanis Clubs and with Goldsboro jointly sponsored organizing of the Kinston Kiwanis Club, which has about 80 members.

The club passed a resolution expressing appreciation of the good work Police Chief Jim Tanner has done in Greenville.

J. Arthur Collins, Jimmy Phelps and Judge J. W. H. Roberts had birthdays and they contributed a nickel for each year of their ages to the Underprivileged Child Fund.

Lee Roy Bell won the attendance prize, given by Albert Lum. It was announced that "Ladies' Night" will be observed Friday, November 21.

The Kiwanis will meet with the Business and Professional Women 13, when U. S. Senator W. B. Umstead will be the speaker. Bryan Brown told the Kiwanians about his visits to the Lake Placid, N. Y. Kiwanis Club and Kiwanis International headquarters in Chicago.

Crash Due . . .

Yesterday.

A possible cause of the crash was advanced by William L. Baker, editor and publisher of the Ketchikan Chronicle, who said he believed the 3,610 foot elevation listed for the peak on charts was incorrect. Baker voiced his theory after accompanying search planes on their flights around Mt. Tangas.

Baker said the altimeter of a Coast Guard plane in which he was flying showed 3,400 feet at the level of the wreckage and that the summit loomed several hundred feet above, apparently at 4,000 or 4,100 feet. The crash scene was about six miles from the Annette air field.

Britain had 70,000 women in its "land army" during World War II.

Pirates Play Air-Borne Gridders Here Tonight

Box Office Opens 8:30
The East Carolina Pirates, with a week of extensive practices behind them, play host Saturday night to the Special Troops of the 82nd Airborne Division, Fort Bragg, in a tilt scheduled for 8:45 p. m. in Guy Smith Stadium.

Coach Jim Johnson received another setback today when it was announced that Abb Williams, first string halfback, will probably be sidelined for this game. Williams received a knee injury last week against the Apprentice School in Newport-News, which has since taken a turn for the worse. Thus another Pirates joins the injured list, which already has claimed Fullback Henry Borneman and Center Willard Pendleton. Borneman is out for the season with severe broken ribs, and Pendleton sprained his hand early in the week. The condition of Hubert Musselwhite is still a question mark, as he is under treatment for a knee injury.

The injured list has somewhat been brightened by the return to action of R. B. Lee, veteran tackle; Stanley Peel, end; and Bill Darby, halfback.

Highlight of this week's scrimmages has been the play of Buck Wilson and Sam Stell, Wilson, one of the most aggressive men on the squad, has been shifted from center to guard, and is showing up well at that position. Stell, 6 foot-1 inch end from Tarboro, is pushing the veteran Frank Winesette at the left-end post.

Ellie Fearing, left-halfback, is expected to spearhead the Pirate attack, backed up by little Pete Everett at quarterback; Allen Berry at full, and either Jack Davis or Bill Darby at the right halfback slot.

The line, sparkplugged by the versatile John Wyatt, 200 pound tackle, is expected to be at full strength. At the ends will be Stanley Peel, or Chuck Conner, and Frank Winesette; the guard posts will be handled by Henry Andrews and Amos Sexton, with R. B. Lee and John Wyatt in the tackle spots. At center will be C. O. McMullen, who continues to be one of the mainstays of the Pirate eleven.

Little is known about the 82nd squad, but Coach Johnson has been drilling his team to its limits in an attempt to capture another win. The Pirates have dropped three tilts while taking two.

Goldsboro Wins Over Midgets By 14-0 Score

Goldsboro's Midgets handed the "Mighty Mites" of Greenville their second loss of the season as they defeated Greenville 14-0 here yesterday. The visitors tallied in both the first and last periods to take the win.

The "Baby Quakes," capitalizing on a blocked punt, scored early in the first quarter when Anderson crashed over from the 2-yard line. Anderson added the extra point on another line buck.

The visitors' final TD came as Gibson hit paydirt from the 1-yard line. Anderson once again scored the extra point.

Hux, Gardner, Joseph and Rowland were the stalwarts in Greenville's line while the entire Greenville backfield played well.

Work Of College Stressed By Dr. Messick

Dr. John D. Messick, president of East Carolina Teachers College, speaking at a dinner meeting of the Nash-Edgcombe chapter of the college alumni association Friday evening in Rocky Mount, stressed the role of the Greenville college as an institution devoted to the training of teachers.

Though the student body has changed during the past few years, largely because of a sharp increase in the number of men students, stated Dr. Messick, the primary purpose of East Carolina remains unchanged. He said that the college has the aim of constantly in-

PHANTOMS TOP WILLIAMSTON BY 13-0 SCORE

Tallies In Second Quarter Indicate Better Offensive Team-Play

By SPRIDON SIDERIS

Scoring twice in the second quarter, Greenville's Green Phantoms finally broke into the win column by posting a 13-0 win in a non-conference game over a scrappy Williamston High School team that didn't stop fighting until the final whistle. The win broke a four-game losing streak for the local eleven.

The Phantoms showed an attack that has been lacking since the Tarboro game by tallying twice in the second stanza on a long pass and on the same double reverse that produced the only Greenville TD against Edenton last week.

Williamston wasn't pushed all around by any means. In the second quarter the Williamston wing man went from his own 30-yard line down to the Greenville 10-yard marker on a pass with a lateral on the end before he was hauled down. Then in the final fourth the visitors unleashed a passing attack that carried them up the field twice before an alert secondary combined with a charging line put an end to both of these threats.

On offense Jack Morgan, wing-back, turned in one of his best games and showed a pass catching ability that has been lacking in previous games by snagging Perkins' long heaves, one that scored, another that brought the Phantom team from their own 30-yard line to the visitors' 12, and a final one that was caught out of the end zone, therefore nullifying the catch.

Fred Joseph, pile-driving fullback, gained yardage through the middle and n off-tackle slashes time and again.

Tailback Glynn Perkins, through his kicking, wasn't up to his usual par, threw long passes and ran one of the tallies over, showing about his best offensive game since the season started.

William McLawhorn, the Phantoms' blocking back, was hurt early in the game, reeling a twisted knee in a pile-up. Jimmy Cox, utility back, took over "Willie's" position and turned in another fine game.

On both the defensive and offensive stages of the contest the Greenville line charged hard to throw the Williamston backfield for losses, or else pile them up at the line of scrimmage, and in the tackling role they opened holes in the visiting team's forward wall and also gave the Greenville passers ample protection. Ends Vann Morgan and Sam Northrup turned the end sweeps inward where the backfield could stop them. Except for the first part of the opening quarter the Williamston eleven found it hard going over the tackle slots held down by Shelly Beard, with Ben Roberson and Jim Tanner alternating in the other slot. The middle held up well with hard-charging

Bobby Fleming and Al Smith performing capably as guards. Paul Conway, the recently promoted center, showed that he was out to stay on the first string. McDonald Bland proved to be a utility defensive player, holding down positions like tackle end, backer up and halfback whenever the visitors had the pig-skin.
