Map Plans For Future Of Jewish Nation

London, Dec. 17—(AP)—A Jewish agency leader said today that plans for Judea—a projected name for Jewish Palestine—would provide for Swiss-like neutrality in any possible world war.

At the same time, another Jewish spokesman pointed out that an "indefinite period of conflict" with anti-partitionist Arabs was envisaged for the new state, and to meet that threat an army of at least 10,000 would have to be maintained. It would mean an initial weekly expenditure of $500,000 he said.

Dr. Nahum Goldman, a member of the Jewish agency executive, asserted in an interview that Jewish legal experts, now working on a draft constitution for the Jewish nation, have included a neutrality clause aimed at "eternalizing friendliness for all, enmity towards none." He explained that perpetual neutrality for the new country would be justified on grounds that millions of Jews would still remain scattered throughout the world.

Declaring that the new Jewish nation would seek to join the United Nations as soon as possible, Goldman added that between 100,000 and 200,000 Jewish immigrants would be admitted into the new state by the end of 1950, with those now held in European displaced persons camps given priority.

Why A Food Drive

Former President Hoover found 20,000,000 children suffering from malnutrition from the English coast to the Russian frontier. If there is one thing a growing boy or girl needs, it is food. Children can get along in a poor home; they can dispense with an education; but if we expect them to bear the burden of rebuilding a "sorry" world then we have to begin by feeding them.

Investigate Death Farnville Infant

Pitt County Coroner Griffin H. Rouse was called to Farnville yesterday morning to investigate the death of the month-old infant of Charlie and Rebecca Moya, colored. The baby's mother said she nursed it about 4 a. m. The child's grandmother said she heard the child cry about 6 a. m. and that shortly afterwards she went to the bed and found the child dead. A physician who attended the mother at the infant's birth declined to sign a death certificate. Coroner Rouse said the child died of natural causes.

Never Saw Parking Meter, Farmer Said

Russell Rogerson, desk sergeant and clerk of the Police Court, is always a busy man, but he took time out yesterday to explain what a parking meter is. Julius Peadar, who lives near Farnville, went into police headquarters with a ticket marked "parked overtime." He asked Rogerson what the ticket was. "A parking ticket—don't you know what a parking meter is?" he asked the traffic violator. "No, I don't believe I do. You see, I live out in the country near Farnville and I've never seen one before."

Rogerson said, "Well, come around here and I'll show you," and he used a sample parking meter in the office for a demonstration.

Strength FOR THE DAY

AMONG FRIENDS

An American missionary to China was attempting, after the Japanese took possession of eastern China, to go from one town to another. At every point his credentials were checked. Once it looked as if he might be thrown into prison. A Japanese soldier was detailed to guard him and this he did, gun on shoulder marching back and forth behind the missionary. As the crowd that had surrounded them thinned out and the soldiers and officers had taken themselves off, the Japanese guard made it his business to pass close to the American missionary, and as he did so he whispered in perfect English, "Jesus, Saviour, pilot me."

This was his signal to a fellow Christian that he was in the custody of a friend. Later, when the missionary was released and had passed on to another point, he was amazed to have the Japanese officer who examined his credentials look up pleasantly, smile, and say, "What denomination do you belong to?" The missionary replied that he was a Presbyterian. "So am I," replied the Japanese officer, "I am a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Tokyo."

Christian discipleship is a brotherhood which binds together even those separated by national and political animosities. Christ came as saviour of the whole world, and he is daily demonstrating himself to be such.

The Editor,
Dear Sir:

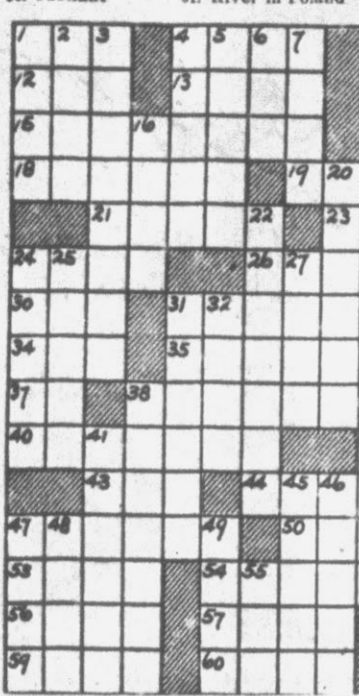

It was with great interest and surprise that I read an article in your paper of the thirteenth instant relative to the present coal shortage in Greenville. My surprise is caused by the fact that some coal dealers are blaming our State Department for the coal shortage, claiming that it is due to the fact that the Department is diverting so much coal to Europe for the alleviation of the distress which is rampant there. The Lord knows that already there is too much blame being saddled upon the present Administration for the way it is handling this and that matter but in spite of all this not one rabid republican has had the nerve to blame the Administration or the State Department for the present fuel shortage in the United States.

After carefully reading about the cause of the present coal shortage as advanced by some coal dealers and their placing the blame on our State Department, I am constrained to say in the words of the Old Timer or Fibber McGee and Molly's program—"That ain't the way I heard it."

whole country will readily admit as being one of our greatest fuel exports, appeared before a committee in Washington which is investigating the domestic fuel shortage. He stated that the present fuel oil shortage was caused by the fact that during the coal strike so many consumers resorted to oil for fuel purposes and that put a strain on the fuel oil reserves. As for the coal shortage the gentleman said that there was no such thing as the production of coal was now higher than ever before in the history of the country. He also stated that the coal which was being produced in Europe although the amount might seem tremendous to a layman, was really "just a drop in the bucket" when compared to the total coal production. He said that the coal shortage for domestic purposes was due to a shortage of coal cars, and that nothing else, and if there were cars enough to come to the mines that the coal would be shipped out and there would be no shortage. That man was Mr. John L. Lewis, the president of the United Mine Workers. I think that Mr. Lewis knows what he is talking about. Perhaps the Associated Press did not think that it was worth while to send in this item over your teletype or perhaps you failed to check it. A grape fruit would be just as bitter if its name was changed to orange. In other words all this does not lessen the fact that there is a real coal shortage here regardless of the cause of it but I do not think that it is right to have our Federal government blamed for the shortage when the shortage is due to the facts as outlined by Mr. Lewis. I can put some sugar on a grape fruit and it would in a great measure resemble an orange if its name were changed to orange. In like manner, to my mind, the present coal situation can be sweetened up by having the rail road companies to expedite the return of empty cars to the mines and at the same time have more new cars built.

CARS COLLIDE, THREE INJURED

Police Holding Virginian On Seven Traffic Violation Charges

By CHESTER WALSH
The resounding crash of two cars at Elizabeth and West Fourth streets early yesterday was heard for several blocks and alarmed the neighborhood of West Fourth and Elizabeth streets. One of the cars caught fire, several occupants were injured, and a shock-up by police indicated that both cars were nearly demolished. Charles Wheeler, popular radio master of ceremonies, called the fire and police departments and the hospital to "stand by."

Police Chief Beauford Drum said a car driven by Leroy Cherry of Greenville was going west on Fourth street; that he had the green light at the intersection; that a car driven by James E. Graham, 33, of Boone's Mill, Va., traveling north on Elizabeth street, crashed the red light at the intersection.

None of the occupants of Cherry's car was injured. Wade F. Lackaye of Hixsonville, N. C., owner of the car Graham was driving, suffered multiple fractures of the spine and pelvis and other injuries. He is at Pitt General Hospital.

Graham, driver of the car, suffered two broken ribs and other injuries. He was treated at Pitt General hospital. He was released from the hospital today and police arrested him. They are holding him under $500 bond. He is charged with seven traffic law violations: crashing a red light, driving without an operator's license, driving a motor vehicle after his driver's license has been revoked, hit-and-run, personal injury, reckless driving and property damage. He will be given a hearing before Judge Jimmy Roberts in Police Court Friday morning.

Miss Dolly Mills of Greenville, an occupant of Graham's car suffered head and other injuries. She was given first aid at the hospital, but declined to remain at the hospital for observation.

Three Cars Crash At Postoffice Corner At Weekend

The three-car collision at Third and Evans streets Saturday afternoon resulted in damage to all three cars, but nobody was hurt. The police report of the collision, which occurred about 4:30 p. m. stated that a car driven by Mrs. R. E. Ellis of Greenville pulled out from the curb and an AA taxicab collided with it, and knocked the car into a car from Plymouth in which Jack B. Latham was reading.

Passing traffic was held up for a time, but the police checkup showed that the taxicab, driven by Robert E. Vandford, was damaged in front about $125 worth. Mrs. Ellis' car was damaged to the extent of $30, and the parked car of the Plymouth motorist, about $20.

Corn Shelling Mill Robbed Winterville

Pitt County Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson and his deputies are investigating a robbery at the Forbes corn shelling plant at Winterville. The robbers carried away a Ford V-8 motor Monday night. Rain and muddy ground at the plant prevented the officers from getting any fingerprints. They did, however, secure some fingerprints which may lead to the arrest of the robber and his helper.

Sarsaparilla is extracted from the fibrous roots of a plant found principally in Central America.

Confusion In Tax Office As Clerks Discard Returns

Newark, N. J., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Tax officials told a federal court judge yesterday it will take until next February to recheck the records of 800,000 income tax returns thrown into confusion when two girl clerks at the Internal Revenue Bureau here threw away 400 withholding returns.

Federal Judge Guy L. Fike heard testimony by tax officials that an FBI investigation was started and weeks of extra clerical work was made necessary by the action of the clerks.

Fleas of no contest were entered by the girls, Mrs. Yetta Greenstein, 19, and Mrs. Arline Greenstein, 21, both of Newark, on charges of destroying government property.

Door Slammers And Women's Heels Are Big Noise Makers

By CHESTER WALSH
There are no psychiatric specialists in this part of the state; they are centered generally in the larger cities, a complaining Greenville citizen said to a reporter yesterday. "We need a psychiatrist to give us an opinion why people, since the war, slam doors. It's a nervous ailment manifested by almost everyone. The inborn desire of people since the war is to make a noise. That is, those who did not get under shell fire. Slamming of doors has become such a spasmodic habit with people that the noise is alarming in business places, especially in homes. The noise of footsteps, the banging of doors is public nuisance No. 1," he declared.

"In some homes I visit, everybody's quiet. They proceed about the home without noise. In other homes, engaged in pleasant conversation, the slamming of doors is so disturbing that we sometimes become alarmed and think there is a fire or something else dangerous," the critical observer said.

"Notice this," the citizen said. "When a person enters a bank they tread quietly. When they enter the postoffice, they can hardly be heard. When they enter the courthouse or the police department they trip in almost velocity. But," the observing citizen said, "just listen to the noise of women's heels in an 'avril chorus' on the floors of a Sunday school room, or in an uncarpeted home. The loud noise of women's heels and the slamming of doors is a pest. Did you ever notice that careless door-slammers try to force doors in business places to close with a lot of noise, even when a spring on them prevents it?" "Door slamming and the loud noise of women's heels are disturbing—alarming." That's what the observing citizen told a reporter in a bank yesterday.

World News . . .

That, I take it, is a promise—couched in the language of diplomacy—to safeguard Italy from aggression.

Turning to another field of foreign news, the British House of Commons has before it the warmly debated question of whether Prince Philip should be given a state allowance of ten thousand pounds ($40,000) as a royal duke and husband of Princess Elizabeth, heiress apparent to the throne.

Well, far be it from your columnist to intrude in John Bull's affairs but, having been a close observer of the royal family over some eighteen years of residence in England, I can testify that they are among the hardest workers in the world. Their time truly belongs to their people. Week in and week out they play a prominent part in all sorts of functions, and their schedules often run from morning until midnight and cover many engagements. It's a tough job, and we have been told that "the laborer is worthy of his hire."

While we are on the subject of royalty, Lord Baldwin who has just died in England wasn't the greatest figure ever to be prime minister but his name is bound to live in history as the one who forced King Edward VIII (now the Duke of Windsor) to choose between abdication and renunciation of Wallis Warfield Simpson. As Baldwin himself said to Parliament in asking it to consider Edward's message of abdication: "no more difficult, and I might say, more repugnant task ever has been imposed on a prime minister."

Baldwin was the type who followed the dictates of conscience, and he was deeply religious. Once when I was chatting with him in his private office at Ten Downing Street I asked him if he believed in prayer. He hesitated a moment and then said: "I believe that no man can go through life carrying a great burden without Divine guidance."

You, Education . . .

In short: Too Many schools let too many students spend too much time in one field of study without making them take, along with their specialty, a course of studies which will round out their thinking.

The commission, which this week made the first of several reports on education, said: "Specialization is a hallmark of our society, and its advantages to mankind have been remarkable. But in the educational program it has become a course both of strength and of weakness."

"Filtering downward from the graduate and professional school levels, it has taken over the undergraduate years, too, and in the more extreme instances it has made of the liberal arts colleges little more than another vocational school, in which the aim of teaching is almost exclusively preparatory for advanced study in one or another specialty. . . ."

"Today's college graduate may have gained technical or professional training in one field of work or another, but is only incidentally if at all, made ready for performing his duties as a man, a parent and a citizen."

"Too often he is 'educated' in that he has acquired competence in some particular occupation, yet falls short of that human wholeness and civic conscience which the cooperative activities of citizenship require."

"The crucial task of higher education today, therefore, is to provide a unified general education for American youth. Colleges must find the right relationship between specialized training on the one hand, aiming at a thousand different careers, and the transmission of a common cultural heritage toward a common citizenship on the other."

Which means: It's all right to specialize in some field but a youth should know enough about other fields of thought so he won't have a narrow, one-track mind."

The House group would also seek the information from Anderson. Anderson has taken the stand that he cannot, under present law supply such information. He suggested to the Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday that Congress change the law and let him make public names of all traders, including members of Congress.

He said he had talked to President Truman about it and felt sure Mr. Truman would sign such legislation. When Barkley introduced his legislation, Senator Tobey (R-NH) wanted to know whether it would authorize Anderson to make public the names of any members of Congress who might have engaged in speculation.

Barkley said they would not be exempted. Barkley's resolution would amend the Commodity Exchange Act. It would authorize Anderson to "publish from time to time the names of any or all traders on the boards of trade and any other information in his possession relating to the amounts of commodities purchased or sold on such boards of trade by each such trader."

WAR COST AUSTRALIA ALMOST NINE BILLION
 Canberra (AP)—World War II cost Australia a total of approximately $8,819,000,000, Prime Minister and Treasurer Joseph B. Chifley reported to Parliament in his budget for 1947-48.

Among the costs were $2,744,000,000 for pay to servicemen; $2,080,000,000 for "aircraft and warlike stores and equipment"; and $840,000,000 for reciprocal lend-lease to United States forces.

At the peak of World War II operations the United States was producing about 45 percent of all armaments being produced by all belligerent nations.

Women IN THE CHURCH

by Mary Fowler

In many hundreds of churches across the nation, where women gather for special Christmas services, a "Prayer for Peace," issued by the United Council of Church Women in the Church Woman, will be used. The prayer reads: "O God, who didst prepare of old the minds and habits of men for the coming of One who should bring a new gospel to the earth whose Spirit ever worketh to illumine our darkened lives with the light of that gospel, prepare now our minds and hearts, we beseech Thee, that the Spirit of Christ may dwell within us, that we may follow the star of His Heavenly wisdom, and that He may ever reign in our thoughts, affections, and actions as King of Love and the very Prince of Peace. Amen."

Question any man any philosopher, any sage who has become famous for the purity of his life and the clearness of his moral vision, and he will draw you the same picture of the man whom truth has made free."

"The most important thing for China's future is the education of the millions who are now rocking in the cradles of China," says Dr. Lucy C. Wang, president of Hwa Nan College, Poochow, China, and one of the nation's leading women educators. This emphasis on the education of future leaders was stressed by the Nationalist Government of China during the eight years of its war with Japan.

While there is no "mass starvation" in Japan today, the people are greatly undernourished, reports Miss Elizabeth G. Vining, formerly associated with the Friends Service Committee in Philadelphia, now tutor to the Crown Prince. "People are not dying in the streets," he says, "but they are thin and pale and tired; they look drawn and anxious. The small children of four or five appear the healthiest. The pets of their families, they get the best of whatever there is to eat. They are also undoubtedly older than they look. Three small friends of mine, little girls of eight, ten, and twelve, look not a day older than five, seven, and nine."

LEADING THE WAY INTO A NEW GOLDEN ERA...

FUTURAMIC OLDSMOBILE

History is in the making at Oldsmobile. In celebration of the fifty years just past . . . in anticipation of even greater years ahead . . . America's oldest motor car manufacturer is now swinging into production on the first of an entirely new cycle of superlatively fine cars—the Futuramic Oldsmobile. Here is a car so new and exciting, it requires a brand new word—Futuramic—to describe it. A car with styling so daring and dramatic, it's just as modern as Oldsmobile's Hydra-Matic Drive. A car so advanced and ahead of the times, in every way, it heralds the dawn of a new Golden Era. Watch for the 1948 Futuramic Oldsmobile—soon to be seen in our showrooms.

Baby Pirates Play Thursday; Two Greenville Players Are In Line-Up

The ECTO Junior Varsity baseball team will play host to Coach Leon Brogden's powerful New Hanover High quint from Wilmington on Thursday in the college gym. The Baby Pirates opened their season against Bethel High with an easy win last week and are expected to put a fast outfit on the floor against Wilmington.

Starting lineup for ECTO will include two Greenville boys, Jimmy Putrell at forward and Ben Harrison at guard. Baxter Gray at forward, James Price at guard and Carol Tarking at center round out the number one team. A host of capable reserves will make it tough on the New Hanover lads who will be playing their first game of a three-day trip with the college five.

Coaches Brogden and Davis and their boys will arrive in time for supper Thursday; they will spend the night and go on to Norfolk Friday and Saturday for games with

A one-handed pivot shot in the last minute of play carried the University of Maryland to a 59-58 victory over Davidson last night at College Park, Md., in the first Southern Conference game of the season for the winners.

Johnny Edwards pulled the game out of the fire after the Terrapins, leading 27-25 at the half, trailed for most of the second period.

Another Southern Conference team, Wake Forest, handed a 61-30 pasting to a visiting Atlantic Christian College quint, making it five victories in seven starts for the Deacons.

Other contests involving North Carolina colleges last night saw Hanes Hosley of Winston-Salem turn back Catawba, 53-40, at Salisbury, while High Point was taking the measure of the visiting Chatham Mills squad, 66-53.

Lesnevich-Fox Bout Protested By Contender

Philadelphia, Dec. 17—(AP)—The newly announced light heavyweight title bout between Champion Gus Lesnevich and Billy Fox has met with the disapproval — to put it mildly — of the Edward Charles camp.

The announcement yesterday by Fox's manager, Frank (Blinky) Palermo, that the young Philadelphiaan would be given a crack at the title at Madison Square Garden March 5 produced two quick reactions:

In Cincinnati, Gene Elkus, one of Charles' managers, said the Cincinnati fighters' handlers had been on the verge of signing for a June title bout between Lesnevich and Charles when they learned of the Fox set-to.

At Cleveland, Fight Promoter Larry Atkins declared angrily that he had "offered Lesnevich $50,000 to fight Charles—more than Joe Walcott got to fight Joe Louis. Evidently Lesnevich is afraid to fight him."

Abundant Deer In Alleghenies For Huntsmen

Baltimore, Dec. 17—(AP)—Although deer hunters are accumulating record kills in the central Alleghenies this year, the state game officials of Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia aren't too worried. In fact they generally expect an even more abundant season next year.

For they estimate approximately 180,000 deer are still roaming the woodlands between the North Carolina-Kentucky boundary and the Mason-Dixon line.

West Virginia's state conservation commission estimates its deer herd at 140,000.

Virginia's antlered population is set at about 25,000, while Maryland game authorities believe their approximate 15,000.

Time, was only a few years back when the herds were threatened with extinction at the hands of hunters. As a result of strict, protective hunting laws during recent years, however, the light-footed specimens have multiplied by leaps and bounds.

BUY POWER HITTER

Philadelphia, Dec. 17—(AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies have purchased power hitter Roy Cullenbine from the Detroit Tigers in a second move to revamp the club that finished led for seventh place in the National League last season.

All-Star Pilot Post Is Up To Leo Durocher

Brooklyn, Dec. 17—(AP)—Whether or not Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers will pilot the National League All-Stars in the major's annual all-star game next year is up to Durocher himself.

Durocher was given the green light by National League President Ford Frick yesterday.

Frick said, "The 1948 manager of the Brooklyn club will lead the league team in the all-star game," meaning Durocher.

Barney Shotten, who filled in for Durocher in 1947 and led the Dodgers to the pennant, can be the National's manager only if Durocher elects to step aside.

Reached at his Barrow, Fla., home, Shotten said that the selection of Durocher was "the way it should be."

In Los Angeles, Durocher said, "This is the first I've heard of it. I'll have to think it over awhile."

Yankees Draft Nick Ognovich

New York, Dec. 17—(AP)—Wake Forest Backfield Star Nick Ognovich, winner of the Jacobs Blocking Trophy two years running, has been drafted by the New York Football Yankees of the All-American Conference.

Ognovich and other college grid stars of the past season were selected by member clubs in yesterday's secret draft meeting here.

Jackie Robinson To Be Honored

Los Angeles, Dec. 17—(AP)—Baseball's rookie of the year, Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was to be honored today by some 400 admirers—including Brooklyn manager Leo Durocher—at a luncheon sponsored by UCLA alumni.

The former four-sport star at UCLA who went on to become the first Negro standout in major league baseball will receive a gift from the Los Angeles Bruin Club. Wilbur Johns, UCLA athletic director and one of Robinson's closest advisors, is luncheon chairman.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington—The 30th anniversary of Finland's independence was occasion for a two-day celebration with native music and good things to eat at the Finnish legation. attractive Vappu, 19-year-old daughter of the minister and Mme. Jutila, wearing the native dress of Padasjoki a south central province of Finland, helped greet the hundreds of guests. First there was a reception for top Washingtonians, then a party for members of the Finnish colony. Vappu's costume consisted of a brilliant orange-hued vest with bright blue scarf and homespun skirt of blue stripes. Heikki and Sakari, the minister's sons, are both at school. The former is a freshman at Cornell University, the latter a freshman at Purdue. Mme. Jutila was handsome in a floor-length green velvet gown. Finnish delicacies including a fish and an egg pirakka, were served, along with other canapes, sandwiches and little cakes. The pirakka is a pastry with a filling combined with rice. Among the important guests at the parties was Kalle Ruusunen, noted Finnish opera singer.

H.R.H. Prince Wan Walthayakon, the Ambassador of Siam and his Princess also entertained the other evening at their beautiful embassy in honor of two handsome princes.

He has also translated "Catherine the Great," "Frederick the Great," "Congress of Vienna" and "Cavour" into the Siamese language. In addition, he has done a translation of "Journey's End" for the Siamese theater. H.R.H. Prince Bira is a famous amateur motor racer on the continent.

The brocade fabrics that Secretary of the Interior, Krug brought home with him from his tour of the Pacific islands, Japan and China last year are being made into lounging robes for himself. But they are being fashioned into gowns for the Missus instead. A Washington designer is making the secretary's wife an evening gown out of some elegant, black all-reel silk brocade with a lily pattern. Some lengths of handsome gray silk, woven with gold discs, are being fashioned into a dinner and cocktail ensemble.

Students seek job to work as cadaver Berkeley, Calif. (AP)—Just for fun, Student Ellis Byer inserted this ad in the University of California daily.

Wanted: Freshman with light schedule, to work as a cadaver. No previous experience necessary. Two dollars per hour. A lot of applicants, he reported, answered just for fun, too, with stories like: "My other employers always disliked the fact that I was dead." But it was surprising, he added, how many seriously sought the job.

Happy Holiday all Year Round

CHRISTMAS comes but once a year? Don't you believe it! Not when you can travel in style that's bright and gay as a holiday wrapping — and just as sure to bring a sparkle to the eye. Not when you've a big Fireball straight-eight with which to explore those pleasant little roads that are as full of happy surprises as a Christmas morning. Not when you've a car like this, that can be snug and cozy as a seat by the fire when the weather's bad — yet wide open to the sun, the sky, the stars and the moon when the season's right. Not when every mile you travel is cradled on four soft coil springs that give your car a gait as smooth and flowing as its long and tapering lines.

Not, in short, when you've a Buick Convertible, with push-button top, self-adjusting front seats, and electro-hydraulic door window lifts that are more fun to operate than a new toy train. With this one, the holiday spirit lasts all year. With this one, that happy, contented, at-peace-with-the-world feeling knows no season.

It's too late, of course, to put one in your driveway for this Christmas morning. But why not see your Buick dealer, and fix things up for a future time? Just the news that you've got an order in for a sparkling new Buick Convertible will be enough to give your household its merriest Christmas ever.
