POLICE STATE IS ISSUE SAYS SENATOR TAFT

GOP Candidate Claims Totalitarianism At Stake In November Election

Kansas City, Dec. 30—(AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft, calling totalitarianism the "great issue" in next November's election, declared last night that the Democrats want more power "to impose arbitrary controls that won't work."

"The government today already has the power to check inflation if it wishes to do so. It can cut government spending, and urge the people to spend less and save more. x x x it can reduce the great surplus of exports on borrowed money, gift dollars, which look $10,000,000,000 worth of goods and services out of this country in excess of imports."

"It does not need the police-state powers which the President demands. It can stop the increase in prices if it really wants to do so." The Republican presidential aspirant said that "the great issue in the election next November is whether the American people desire to set up in this country a totalitarian state, a state which shall control every detail of the lives of its citizens and try to direct all production and distribution of goods; or whether they wish to resume progress towards a higher standard of living x x x."

Graham's Status Is Unchanged

Washington, Dec. 30—(AP)—The disclosure that Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham is listed in Agriculture Department records as a one-time grain speculator leaves his status as personal physician to President Truman unchanged.

"Dr. Graham will continue as White House physician," presidential secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters.

Rangoon, Burma, Dec. 30—(AP)—U. S. law, prewar premier of Burma, and eight others were sentenced today to die for the assassination of Maj. Gen. Aung San and six other Burmese cabinet ministers.

A special Burmese tribunal found that U. S. law, leader of the opposition Mochit party, was the brains behind the plot in which assassins burst into the ministers' council chamber July 19 and sprayed it with machinegun bullets.

Truman Signs Duplicate Of Anti-Inflation Bill

PRICES STILL KEEP CLIMBING

Washington, Dec. 30—(AP)—President Truman today signed a duplicate copy of legislation designed to reduce the cost of living while Secret Service men slouched through the White House for the original.

Wholesale prices edged nearer today the all-time crest of May 1920, and government economists say they can find nothing to indicate that 1948 prices will stop there.

With the exception of some items which slowed down the food group at least temporarily, wholesale prices on 900 commodities studied by the Bureau of Labor Statistics sailed unchecked past another postwar mark during the week ended December 20.

An index figure of 162.5 was recorded for that date by the BLS, which uses average prices prevailing in 1926 as its 100, or normal wholesale level. In May 1920, the bureau says prices averaged 167.2 percent of the 1926 average. Relating the index points to percentages, there is less than 3 percent difference in prices today and those existing in May 1920.

Trading With Russia

How Wise Is It For Potential 'Enemy' Nations To Maintain Trade Relations? Remember Japan? Some Place A Line Must Be Drawn; Other Countries In Similar Spot

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

For a good many years now this column has been devoted to answering questions for readers, and now your correspondent has one he would like answered. It's this: Just how wise is it for potential "enemy" nations to maintain trade with each other when the war clouds are hanging low. Do the short-range advantages balance the long-range dangers?

What set me to mulling over this problem was the news that Britain has agreed to ship tin (an essential ore) to Russia, and that the Soviet Union will send England 750,000 tons of sorely needed coarse grain. The Soviet news agency, Tass, states that Britain also is selling Russia railroad rails, and rendering assistance in the purchase of other things.

Mihai Abaicates Romania Throne

Last Monarch In Eastern Europe Resigns In View Of Constitutional Alterations; Cabinet Ministers Proclaim Republic

Bucharest, Dec. 30—(AP)—King Mihai I. abdicated today and the Communist-dominated cabinet immediately declared Romania a "popular democratic republic."

In a broadcast proclamation, King Mihai said he had abdicated in the interest of the people.

He said the present changes in Romania had made an alteration in the constitution necessary, and he would not stand in the way of the people, who must be free to choose their own form of government. He abdicated at 8 p.m.

A proclamation to the people, signed by all cabinet ministers, declared Romania a "popular democratic republic."

Parliament is now sitting for ratification of these acts.

The 26-year-old monarch returned only recently from a trip to London and Switzerland amid reports that he was seeking government permission to marry Danish Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma.

Mihai attended the wedding of Princess Elizabeth to Prince Philip in London Nov. 20.

It was reported, without confirmation, that Mihai left at 5 p.m. for an undisclosed destination. His father, Carol II, twice renounced the Romanian throne.

Mihai twice ascended the throne of Romania—the first time when he was only six years old. He became king then upon the abdication of his father, Carol II.

The appeals court said that "there was no error" in the decree entered by District Judge J. Wastley Waring in a case in which he enjoined South Carolina "election officials from denying qualified Negro voters a voice in the primaries which constitute the real elections in that state."

The appeal was argued November 18 before Senior Circuit Judge John J. Parker, of Charlotte, N.C. Circuit Judges Morris A. Soper of Baltimore and Armistead M. Dobbie, of Charlotteville.

The court's opinion, written by Judge Parker, reiterated that "the political philosophy of the Declaration of Independence is that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed; (that) the right to a voice in the selection of officers of government on the part of all citizens is important, not only as a means of insuring that governments shall have the strength of popular support but also as a means of securing to the individual citizen proper consideration of his rights by those in power."

Washington, Dec. 30—(AP)—President Truman was informed today the country needs approximately $75,000,000,000 in public works construction to meet a backlog of demands for highways, schools, airports and similar projects.

The gap between recognized needs and completed plans "is dangerously wide," Fleming said in the letter made public by the White House.

He added there is "no exact measure of today's needs for public works" but preliminary surveys and estimates indicate that the dollar volume of necessary state and local construction for the next few years approximates $75,000,000,000.

Chicago, Dec. 30—(AP)—James C. Petrillo was called to trial for a second time today on a charge of violating the Lee act by trying to compel a radio station to hire musicians which it contended was unneeded.

Decisive Battle For Greek City Is Joined

Guerrillas Hurl New Attacks Against Konitsa; Garrison Weakened, But Defenses Hold As Reinforcements Near

Athens, Dec. 30—(AP)—Guerrillas hurled new attacks today against Konitsa, and military authorities said the decisive battle for the city has been joined.

The guerrillas seek Konitsa as the capital for the Communist state newly proclaimed by their commander, Gen. Markos Vafiadis.

The government garrison, weakened by the repeated assaults, withstood the new attacks and kept outer defenses intact after 24 hours of fighting, a government communique said. Army reinforcements slogged toward the fighting zone.

The defenders, using grenades, bayonets and knives, punched some holes in the guerrilla siege and cleared guerrilla strongpoints on both sides of the Ioannina-Konitsa road north of Kalpaki and as far as Bourzani.

Meanwhile, Greek police seized the headquarters and records of the Communist party in Pireaus Athens' port, and placed the building under guard. There were no arrests. Legislation outlawing the Communist party in Greece became effective Sunday.

On Europe's Problem

This Is The Second Of Three Stories Explaining The Marshall Plan, What It Is, How It Started, What It Is Supposed To Do; Self-Help, Ultimate Goal

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Dec. 30—(AP)—Here is an explanation of the 16 European nations asking our help under the Marshall Plan.

Thousands of experts have worked on the plan and the problem. Their work fills volumes. This is only a rough outline of what they say.

The Marshall Plan, as finally announced by President Truman, would cost us about $17,000,000,000. He wants it to work for four years, starting April 1, 1948, and ending June 30, 1952. He and the experts figure it's needed that long.

States Sen. Taylor Would Be 'Marvelous' As Vice-Presidential Candidate For New Party; Early Nat'l Meeting In Chicago; Puts Foreign Policy In Politics

Wallace's Running-Mate Not Yet Decided; Wants Speaker

Milwaukee, Dec. 30—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace, who announced last night he would run for president as an independent candidate in 1948, said today that Senator Glen H. Taylor (D-Idaho) would be "marvelous" as a running mate.

Wallace told a press conference today that Taylor was one of many persons who have been mentioned frequently as vice-presidential candidates for the "new party."

He said that Taylor and Senator Claude E. Pepper (D-Fla.) "have been most courageous and outspoken particularly in regard to foreign policy," adding that he had "the highest regard" for Pepper.

Taylor said last night that he is considering running for vice-president on a ticket headed by Wallace.

Wallace said he didn't believe he would enter any Democratic primaries but said that he wanted to campaign in as many states as he could. He hoped that his running mate would be "a good speaker," he said, in order to share the burden.

"It all depends upon how much I can stand physically," Wallace said. Wallace expressed the opinion that "there is a great latent, progressive spirit in the South."

"I've never given up hope on the South," he said. "We have great hopes of winning in 1948."

Such questions as selection of a national headquarters and a name for the new party will be decided at a national meeting to be held in Chicago soon, Wallace said.

Washington, Dec. 30—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace catapulted foreign policy into the presidential campaign today by embarking on the first serious third party effort since 1924 amid Democratic jeers and fears and Republican cheers.

Wallace's announcement that he ran for president as an independent candidate next year propelled American relations with Russia into the race as an issue.

It apparently shook the political structure of the party he served as vice president and possibly reshaped the die from which the Republican nominee will emerge.

Politicians are almost unanimous in their judgment that Wallace has an even smaller chance of election than the late Robert M. LaFollette Sr., who carried only his home state of Wisconsin under the Progressive banner in 1924. LaFollette polled 4,822,000 votes, more than any other observers think Wallace will get, despite a vast increase in the electorate.

But the same politicians agree that Wallace's attack in his Chicago radio speech last night on what he called the "bipartisan reactionary war policy" will require answering by the two major party candidates during the campaign.

Blasts Startles Boston Series Of Underground

Boston, Dec. 30—(AP)—Twenty-five persons were burned or injured by flying glass last night when a series of terrifying underground explosions tossed manhole covers high in the air, blew out fronts of a score of stores and windows of office buildings and left busy Dewey Square in the downtown section strewn with rubble.

Deputy Fire Chief William F. Quigley said half the injured were firemen who were burned prying open manhole covers after the first few of six blasts. None was apparently hurt seriously. Twenty were treated at City Hospital.

Quigley said the explosions apparently were caused by accumulation of gases in pipes under snow-covered streets. The nature of the gas was not determined immediately.

The deputy chief reported that bursts of flame shooting from the covers pried open by the firemen burned many of them on the legs. The blasts shattered windows as high as the eleventh story of office buildings and blew out every front window in one six story office structure.

The explosions sent hundreds, including theater crowds, scurrying for the cover of doorways and other shelters. Eye witnesses reported that the first blasts sent a shower of glass into the street and only the speedy retreat to cover saved many from serious injury.

Urges Democrats Write Definite Policy On Taxes

Washington, Dec. 30—(AP)—Rep. Dingell (D-Mich.) proposed today that Democratic leaders in Congress and Administration officials get together and draft a "definite, unified democratic tax policy."

He told reporters his own idea is that "when the time comes to cut taxes," the first cut should be "cost of living tax relief" for persons with low incomes.

Dingell said Democrats should work out a precise policy as a reply to the Republican proposal to cut individual income taxes by $6,000,000,000. President Truman twice earlier this year has vetoed Republican bills to slash taxes by $4,000,000,000.

Washington, Dec. 30—(AP)—The United Nations Security Council was summoned today for its last meeting of the year to deal with the long-pending Indonesian question.

Michigan Star's Leg Injury Held No Set-Back

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 30—(AP)—Whether a leg injury will prevent Michigan's All-America pass perfectionist Bob Chappius from leading his mates into the Rose Bowl game against Southern California Jan. 1 was a possibility, today though Coach Fritz Crisler did not appear unduly concerned.

Late last night, Crisler said the injury had not been fully checked. He added that "he didn't believe" it was serious.

The Michigan trainer, Jim Hunt, described the injury as "a muscle tear with some internal bleeding" which should be negligible in view of the prompt treatment it received.

The handsome, black-haired tailback from Toledo, who this year tossed and ran his way to within 20 yards of the 1,039 yard Western Conference record he set himself in 1946, tore a thigh muscle here midway in yesterday's practice at Brookside Park.

Whatever the result, Crisler, whose Western Conference champs are rated a slightly better than touchdown favorite over the USC Trojans, is well healed in the tailback department.

In the event Chappius is sidelined for the New Year's Day classic, Crisler said his duties will be assumed by Gene Derricotte, the 175 pound Negro flanker from Defiance, Ohio, and Walt Tenings, a 188 pound utility back felder from Chicago.

Terps Edge Out Boxing Victory

New Orleans, Dec. 30—(AP)—Maryland's Terrapins held the boxing championship of the Sugar Bowl today but their margin of victory was the shortest in four years of slugging at the southern winter sports show.

The Terrapins, Southern Conference champions, edged through by a single point over Michigan State's Spartans last night, winning four bouts and gaining a draw in another on a card pronounced by Sugar Bowl officials as among the best in the nine boxing shows that have been held here.

Kramer Again Loses To Riggs

Pittsburgh, Dec. 30—(AP)—Jack Kramer, who made his professional tennis debut in New York last Friday, got out of a sick bed last night to lose for the second time to Bobby Riggs, 8-6 and 6-1, before 3,703—the largest tennis crowd in the history of the Gardens.

Riggs was in control of the situation most of the way as Kramer, bedridden yesterday afternoon with a cold, was obviously off his game.

Pitt Countians Attended American Farm Bureau Convention In Chicago

Several Pitt county residents have returned from the American Farm Bureau's 39th annual meeting in Chicago where a resolution was passed calling for continuation of government price supports on farm commodities.

The resolution said the supports should be on a scale varying from 90 to 95 percent of parity, according to "the importance and peculiar condition of the commodity and its supply and price position."

The local Farm Bureau members among the 157 who made the trip to Chicago by special train are: Dr. M. T. Frizzelle, Ayden; Mrs. Thelma E. Hardee, Greenville; Mrs. J. L. Stanley, Greenville; Mrs. H. B. Randolph, Greenville; Louis Speight, Winterville; Luther Dall Winterville; Hesse Ray Stokes, Ayden; Otis R. Stokes, Ayden; R. L. Collins, Ayden; M. E. Dixon, Ayden; E. C. Davenport, Winterville; Harry Dall Ayden; T. L. Brooks, Greenville and Mrs. Mildred Adams, Greenville.

During the four-day meeting, they took part in commodity conferences and discussions on various phases of agriculture, with emphasis on the nation's farm program for the future.

Among the speakers at the convention were Congressman Harold D. Cooley, Nashville, N. C., and J. B. Hutson, president of Tobacco Associates, Inc.

Cooley, pleading for retention of 90 percent of parity support told some 5,000 delegates that "except for price support at 90 percent of parity, our own North Carolina farmers would be facing bankruptcy right now."

In an address on "Maintaining Agricultural Exports," Hutson said: "It appears that farm production can be, and probably should be, maintained during the years just ahead at fully one-fourth above the level of pre-war years."

"The people of the United States have never faced a more important decision," Hutson said, "than that confronting them in connection with the European Recovery Program."

Aldermen Will Hold Last Meeting 1947 Thursday Night

The Greenville Board of Aldermen will meet at the City Hall Thursday night at 7:30 for the final meeting of the year. Mayor Jack Boyd will preside.

The year 1947 goes down in the records as one of the most progressive in the city's history. The various municipal departments are better organized and are cooperating harmoniously, the mayor said. The city limits were considerably extended last July 1, increasing the population by about 2,500 persons and adding a large amount of taxable property.

SIGN WEDEMEYER

Los Angeles, Dec. 30—(AP)—The Los Angeles Donors of the All-America conference have signed Herman Wedemeyer, St. Mary's star halfback, to a 1948 contract, but may trade him to the San Francisco 49'ers for Frankie Albert, one of the greatest of the T formation engineers.

MISSED REWARDS

Enid, Okla., Dec. 30—(AP)—Yeggs tried but failed to crack a safe at the Magnolia Petroleum Co. here over the weekend.

They missed a double reward. The safe jammed shut seven years ago and the company has a standing offer of $12 to anyone who can open it.

Crusaders Meet Wolfpack In Bowl Program

New Orleans Dec. 30—(AP)—Holy Cross, the NCAA champion, goes against North Carolina State, the Southern Conference titleholder, on the short end of the odds in tonight's feature of the Sugar Bowl basketball program.

The Wolfpack, winner over the crusaders last year during the regular season, rates only a slight edge with Jack McComas, regular guard, on the injured list.

A capacity crowd of 8,500 is assured for the semi final event on the Sugar Bowl's sports agenda with Tulane and Oklahoma meeting in the preliminary game.

Tulane, Southeastern Conference runnerup, and Oklahoma, the NCAA runnerup, are about evenly matched in the opinion of sports writers covering the twin bill.

Leo Durocher To Manage Annual All-Star Team

New York, Dec. 30—(AP)—Leo Durocher is slated to manage the National League entry in next year's All-Star game although he has proposed that the job go to Burt Shotton, who led the Brooklyn Dodgers to the National pennant this year.

League President Ford Frick said he received a letter from Durocher in which Leo suggested that Shotton deserved "the honor that has always gone to the manager of the pennant-winning team."

But Frick turned down the proposal. The league executive said it was "generous and sportsmanlike" for Durocher to make the gesture but:

"My recent decision that the incumbent manager of the championship team shall be the All-Star team leader still stands."

Walcott Listed 'Top Contender'

Washington, Dec. 30—(AP)—For the first time in almost two years the National Boxing Association recognizes a logical contender for the heavyweight championship held by Joe Louis.

In its quarterly ratings released last night, the NBA threw the mantle of "No. 1 threat" about the shoulders of Jersey Joe Walcott, the veteran who floored the champion twice before dropping a split decision early this month.

The NBA listed four other heavies in the honorable mention class—Ole Tandberg, Elmer Ray, Joe Baksi and Joe Maxim.

Strength FOR THE DAY

NO MORE FRONTIERS
We have been hearing for some years that there are no more frontiers.
The poor young men at the present are "cribbed, cabbined, and confined" in a world that is at least static and perhaps on the decline.
Fifty years ago a man could go West and make a fortune, but that is all gone today; there is no West. The West is now as well developed as the East.

The slogan "No more frontiers" is the slogan of defeat. As a matter of fact, there are just as many frontiers today as there were a hundred years ago. Some people seem to feel that we have to have wide-open prairies to have frontiers. The truth is that every time a person discovers a new way of doing anything he opens up a frontier and invites pioneers to go in and stake out claims. The frontiers today are not just beyond the Mississippi; they are everywhere. Especially are they to be found in chemical laboratories, in airplane factories, in the great research centers where electronics and television are being developed. The academic world presents vast frontiers which men are invited to penetrate in search of new learning.

ador's wife says.

The Jan. 6 gift-giving is not elaborate. Rich and poor alike lay out their shoes beside their beds, find small toys, candy fruit sometimes a coin or two, when they awaken. Some children prepare a little heap of grass beside the shoes. That is for the camels on which the kings ride.

Senora de Beat says that as the day approaches her children move closer the figures of the three kings to the Christ Child in the little creche that depicts the scene of the nativity.

In the creche at the Cuban embassy there are also five little lambs, one for each of the Belt children. The youngsters also edge their shoes closer and closer to the Christ Child as the Day of Epiphany draws near.

Spit-roasted atsking pig is the traditional holiday dish in most Latin countries, and for dessert there are "bunueos," a sort of bun "mostly air inside," served hot with syrup.

There are also sweets imported from Spain. These are called "turrones" and vary according to the provinces from which they come. Those of Alicante province are made mostly from nuts and are hard. Those of the province Jijona, on the other hand, are more like guava paste.

Wilson's Weekly Bulletin

By George Rector
Food Consultant to Wilson & Co.

Let Younger Set Entertain
All youngsters like to give parties. If they start taking responsibility for entertaining a small group, it's easier for them as they grow older and parties become larger and more elaborate.

Wilson's Recipes

Cheeseburgers

Season with 1 1/2 lb. hamburger 1/2 tsp. salt dash of pepper

Divide into 6 equal amounts, shape into patties, place on sheet of waxed paper, allowing plenty of space between, and cover with another sheet of waxed paper. Flatten each patty until it is about an inch larger in diameter than the bun to be used. Cook slowly until brown on one side. Turn and top with a slice of

Certified Cheese

Continue cooking slowly until hamburger is cooked through, second side is browned, and cheese is softened.

Meanwhile, cut 6 buns in half and toast on the grill.

Spread with Wilson's Certified Margarine or Clear Brook Butter and fill with the grilled meat and cheese. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Satisfy Appetites

High schoolers want substantial food at a party so be sure to have plenty of milk on hand, or serve home-made chocolate malted milk to double as beverage and dessert.

If the crowd is large and you want to economize, add 3/4 cup dry bread crumbs soaked in 1/4 cup milk and 4 tsp. B-V dissolved in 1/4 cup hot water to the malt in recipe above. This will "stretch" the recipe to serve eight.

Make It Easy

Should the 'teensters prefer to serve dessert as a separate course, they'll probably want a salad with the cheeseburgers. Make it an easy one... both to make and serve... such as modded cranberry pineapple salad. Serve with Wilson's Mayonnaise.

No Reservations Accepted For Rides On Rocket

Chicago, Dec. 30. — (AP) — Volunteers who contend they're willing to be shot into the sky in a V-2 rocket have offered their services to the Navy's high-altitude research program—but the service isn't brooking any reservations.

"Several" Americans including a few former service personnel have written in saying they're ready to ride in a missile that can soar 100 miles up into space and attain a speed of more than 3,000 miles an hour.

This was disclosed to reporters today by Dr. T. J. Killian, science director, research division, of the Office of Naval Research (ONR) who said in an interview at the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science:

"They did not look on it as a suicidal venture. I think they expected us to provide means of getting them back safely."

Killian and other naval scientists said the Navy has no plans to take anyone up on the offer, but Killian said that if the problem of "deceleration" (gradual slowing down) of a man on such a flight could be worked out, it might be possible for a human being to survive the world's fastest nine-minute ride.

(That's the time it takes for the average flight of a V-2 in tests conducted to date, employing two rockets to study conditions high above our planet. It would be necessary to "decelerate" a man because of the tremendous momentum his body would have picked up during the flight.)

"A man could survive the launching of a V-2, because the acceleration at launching is not great," Killian said. "And insulated in a steel container with plenty of air, I don't believe he'd be affected by cosmic or solar radiation during a flight of only eight or nine minutes."

Truman Working On Oil Shortage

Washington, Dec. 30. — (AP) — President Truman has informed Senator Burnet R. Maybank of South Carolina that he is working on the fuel oil shortage.

The President's letter, in reply to a telegram from the South Carolina senator, reads: "In reply to your telegram re the fuel oil situation, am working on it and hope we can get some results."

us and others.

But even by 1952, those 16 nations say, they don't expect to be eating as well as they did before the war.

So much for food and farming. Now look at their industry.

Western Europe has a lot of industries but for more than 50 years those countries have had to rely on outside supplies for the raw materials their factories used.

Before the war they had enough coal and iron for their needs. But they were short of, or wholly lacked, other raw materials like cotton, wool, lumber, paper, rubber and oil. They had to import them. They still do.

By importing raw materials for their factories, they turned out finished goods which they sold abroad or to one another. In that way they made their exports pay for their imports.

They made money, too, by selling abroad special foods and drinks like cheeses, wines and liquors, and through shipping, investments abroad, and tourists.

During the war they had to sell much of their investments abroad. So a lot of income from those investments is gone.

And in the war their ships were sunk, trucks and freight cars and factories and houses were smashed. Here's an example of what happened:

Before the war Western Europe was able to get along on the coal produced by Britain, and Ruhr section of Germany, and Poland.

Now coal production in Britain and the Ruhr is away down. Britain hasn't been able to send Europe coal since the war ended. Poland isn't sending much.

Yet coal is part of Europe's backbone. It's an inter-locked backbone, with the various parts depending upon one another. For example: If Europe can get more fertilizer and farm machinery it can grow more food. With more food, miners can turn out more coal. With more coal, more steel can be made.

More steel means Europe's factories can turn out more machinery to turn out more coal to turn out more food, and so on.

VERY USEFUL GADGET . . . A DILEMMA

A dilemma makes a very fine hat rack . . . quite a trophy, too, after you have licked one of the things.

That financial dilemma seems to be the most common and irritating of the whole tribe of dilemmas which folks find themselves always on the horns of.

Sure, we know that one should not end a sentence with of . . .

But we have helped hundreds of good Americans to get off the horns of that financial monster. Many of them started with a small savings account. They added to it persistently and consistently . . . and we happily added in their dividends.

Before long their financial dilemma became as gentle as a lamb.

We have seen it happen again and again. And don't underestimate the potential power of an infant size savings account, or your ability to add to it.

Start now to make that financial dilemma into a hat rack. Naturally we'd like to have you come in and do your starting with us.

Long Line Now Await Driver's Licenses Here

By CHESTER WALSH
That long line of people at the City Hall is composed of motorists whose names start with A and B who are awaiting their turn to renew their drivers licenses.

The last General Assembly passed a law requiring all motor vehicle drivers whose names start with A and B to pass an examination for renewal of their present licenses, which expire Wednesday at midnight.

A and B motorists who do not secure new driver's licenses by December 31 will be liable to arrest for driving without a license.

Beginning January 1, persons whose names start with C and D must apply for new licenses.

Persons whose names start with A and B who have not secured new license may apply after January 1, but they cannot drive a motor vehicle until they get new licenses.

The State Highway Safety Division examiner has been on duty daily in the Highway Patrol offices at the city hall for several months. Applicants for driver's licenses dribbled in occasionally and many have put off standing the examination until the end of the year. Now they have to stand in line for a long time.

If your name starts with A or B and you have not stood the examination, your driver's license expires at midnight, December 31, highway department officials warn.

Color Slides On Rotary Program

By WYATT BROWN
Color slides of Manila and Tokyo were shown the Rotarians last night by Dr. Herbert Hadley who took them while he was serving as a doctor in the Navy during the war. There were some highly colorful pictures of Panama, too.

Harrell Haynes of Hartford, Conn., was a guest of the club. Bill Sheldon and J. R. Taylor of the Ayden Rotary club were visiting Rotarians last night.

The Rotary club voted to sponsor the overseas relief drive of the Church World Service which collects used wearing apparel to send to the needy of the world. Rotarian Charles White was appointed the chairman of the committee to put on the drive.

The program was presented by James Fleming, chairman of the program committee. Bob Bradshaw, club president, presided.

But to get back to the case of Russia, she has declared open warfare against the Marshall Plan which is being backed by the democracies for the rehabilitation of western Europe. Moscow's purpose clearly is to extend the domination of communism to the English Channel. Should the Soviets succeed in this campaign there would be small hope that another great war could be averted.

Despite this England needs grain and other supplies so badly that she is risking her neck to trade with Russia. Probably both countries secure some advantages. And as Undersecretary Foster said of our trade with the Russians, the "goods we get from them are highly important to our own industries."

Still, it strikes me that there is some place where a line might well be drawn on such trade. There is some strategic spot at which a halt ought to be called—a problem which should be and undoubtedly is, absorbing the attention of many governments in these perilous days.

Heirlooms Of Tomorrow

Many cheap imitations of the real thing have been attempted in copying this famous Hepplewhite Drop Leaf Table with separate banquet ends, but Craftique has made a true reproduction, out of the same kind of solid mahogany as was used over a hundred years ago, together with a faithful copy of every detail, even to the hand craftsmanship employed. Even Hepplewhite's finger-joint hinge on the gate legs has been reproduced here... and, note the deep sweep of the drop themselves, with many uses in or out of the dining room. No table has ever been designed that gives more functional use in any size room with such graceful flexibility.

The chairs of Colonial "fiddleback" design are an Early American style popular for their sturdy construction and yet graceful in proportion and detail. These chairs are big enough to be comfortable. Of course, they are made of solid mahogany and covered in attractive needlepoint. All pieces, tables and chairs, have the same authentic dull satin-smooth finish.
