Nation Observes Advent New Year

Gaiety And Prayers, Appeals For Peace And Optimistic Messages Herald 1948; Revelers Pay In Big Cities; Traffic Toll Is Lower

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS The revelry of joyous throngs, the reverence of worshippers with prayers for world peace, the somber appeal of a United Nations' leader for accord among the great powers; in this contrasting, but traditional, setting, the nation observed the advent of the New Year.

As millions of merry-makers frolicked and other millions gathered churches, the appeal for international unity was sounded by U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie who gravely told a nationwide radio audience he was "disappointed in the greatest hope of all—the hope that the major powers would move towards an understanding on disputed issues."

A more optimistic note on the U.N.'s future had been struck earlier yesterday by President Truman who said he had "every faith" in the organization as "a means of general world peace for the simple reason that we can't afford anything else."

Owner leaders expressed hope, confidence and in some cases despair over what the New Year would unfold.

But the day's accent leaned away from gaiety and from snow-covered Manhattan to the smallest hamlets, celebrating citizens roared tumultuous greetings to 1948.

Disregarding only slightly by the slanting statements of a record number of New Yorkers set the pattern to millions of America with their traditional boisterous blowout.

A police-estimated throng of 750,000—last year it was 1,000,000—marched through Times Square and cut loose with a mighty roar at the turn of midnight.

At midnight the night and supper clubs were jammed to the rafters, and a Latin quarter—a night spot with a $50 cover charge—turned away some 500 would-be customers just before midnight.

Taxis constituted almost the only surface traffic in the midtown area. The city was banned passenger cars and non-essential trucking to speed its giant snow removal chores.

Elsewhere in the nation, revelers behaved in ways that ranged from generally did it less expensively.

In Chicago, they found extra cheer in lower prices at both night clubs and theaters. The Cameo Restaurant, which charged as much as $100 last year, served the same dinner for $20 but last year's breakfast and free drinks were gone from the menu.

Sedate Boston had its entire police force out as howling, horn-blowing gunsters jammed the downtown area. Record crowds were reported by hotels and playspots.

In Philadelphia, thousands crowded the City Hall courtyard to watch the New Year in. The great City Hall clockface was darkened at 11:55 while the throngs below blasted away with noisemakers. The clock lights flashed on again at the stroke of midnight.

The nation's motorists apparently steered away from wild driving in celebrating the arrival of the New Year.

An unofficial survey across the country today showed that 17 persons were killed in traffic accidents since 6 p.m. New Year's Eve as compared to 37 fatalities in the same period on Christmas week ago. The violent death toll was 18 only one fatality not resulting from an automobile accident.

Now, he has a book out—"Heritage of Freedom," which tells the history and significance of each document aboard the train. But as to their most recent history, he says:

"It kept me awake nights, but thank God not a single item was mislaid, damaged or lost. We got most of what we were after. No one turned us down flatly. Where we turned or had difficulty it was due to a combination of circumstances, and the circumstances often were harrowing."

One of those "combinations" meant that a certain famous colonial document is not on the train now. The paper was in the local state archives, which was willing to lend it, but state law prohibited its removal from the state.

After much arranging, the state legislature passed a special law permitting the document's removal. Everybody concerned was all ready to let it go, including the governor.

Then the bill went to him for his signature. He vetoed it by mistake. There wasn't enough time left to start the whole thing over again.

The original manuscript of Woodrow Wilson's first inaugural address involved a classic snafu. The document came from Princeton University and made the Freedom Train only two hours before it left Washington for Philadelphia, where the grand tour began officially.

Meanwhile, an aide happened to hear Dr. Monaghan say he would collect them (the answer was no).

19 Die In Deadly Path Of Twisters

About 200 Others Injured As Tornadoes Tear Through Two States

Shreveport, La., Jan. 1—(AP)—Tornadoes which tore through northwestern Louisiana and southeastern Arkansas yesterday brought death to 19 persons in five towns and injured about 200 others.

Eleven bodies were recovered at Cotton Valley, La., a small oil and railroad town northeast of Shreveport. An unidentified Negro was killed at Leton, La.

A woman was fatally injured at Dykesville, La., and an unidentified Negro was killed at Haynesville. At Village, Ark., a school superintendent was killed when a high school gymnasium was demolished.

A twister also struck Gilmer, Ark., destroying one house, but there were no deaths or injuries reported there.

The funnel-shaped twister was first sighted south of Vanceville, La., by Herman Jones of Bossier City. He said he saw the funnel dip toward the earth as he drove along a highway. He abandoned his automobile for the comparative safety of a roadside ditch, he said, and watched as the funnel sucked up a house from nearby woods.

At that time, Jones said the tornado was cutting a swath about 30 feet wide.

Romping across wooded and swampy sections of Bossier Parish, the twister struck Cotton Valley from the southwest, damaging much of the business district.

Then it came back to strike the little town again, this time from the northeast, and demolished many homes.

Mayor Sam Coyle estimates 500 persons are homeless and that the list of injured in Cotton Valley alone will reach 200.

A check of hospitals in the stricken area showed at least 170 persons have been treated for storm injuries.

The storm roared on through Leton and Dykesville, La., before invading Haynesville where it struck the western and northern edges of the town, doing major damage to the business section. More than 30 buildings were destroyed or seriously damaged, including a number of garages, a warehouse, a news stand, a wholesale establishment and a lumber yard.

Describe Election Of Taft As Major World Disaster

London, Jan. 1—(AP)—The Tribune, Leftist political weekly, said today the presidential candidacy of Henry A. Wallace gives Senator Taft, whom it describes as "the most reactionary of the Republican candidates," a chance to reach the White House.

"A vote for Wallace will be a vote taken from (President) Truman," the publication said, "and this split in the Democratic party's following may tempt the Republicans to believe they can win without any pandering to progressive opinion."

Greenville Grew In '47 -- Future Bright

By CHESTER WALSH Greenville experienced considerable growth and development during 1947.

The Pitt County metropolis is making great strides in developing and utilizing its resources. The tobacco market's prestige increased.

Greenville has expanded in importance as a wholesale jobbing center.

During last year more than $1,000,000 of buildings—commercial and dwellings—were constructed.

The city completed extensive street paving and drainage projects. The fire department is one of the best equipped and manned in the state.

The police department was reorganized and the personnel of the force was improved.

The city tax rate continues at a dollar, plus a 45-cent supplement voted for teachers' salaries.

Several new pastors of churches have been installed.

The school system is functioning on a high plane.

East Carolina Teachers College is prospering under the guidance of the president, Dr. John D. Messick.

Greenville has one of the largest airports in the state.

Efforts were made to revive transportation on Tar River.

The Chamber of Commerce, Merchants Association, Junior Chamber of Commerce and the civic clubs are cooperating for the development and progress of the city.

Plans are in the making for establishing a modern hospital with 125 beds, to be financed by the federal and state governments and Pitt County.

The health of the city and county has been excellent during the year and Greenville is becoming a medical center.

The appointment of Dr. S. J. Phillips as head of the County Health Department contributed much to elevating the standard of that department.

All in all, Greenville's progress during 1947 was gratifying.

The Greenville Transit Company is providing satisfactory transportation in the city, and the buses have hauled more than half a million passengers since the present company took over.

Proctor Hotel has been remodeled and renovated and entirely refurbished and Manager Kenneth Service equals to any in the state.

Many new businesses have been established here, and more are in process of development. Many retail stores have been remodeled and others are in process of improvement.

The Chamber of Commerce slogan is: "Our Greenville—yours if you come." Greenville is the shopping center of Eastern Carolina.

Mayor J. H. Boyd, Jr., reviewing the achievements of the year just ended, stated that five miles of street paving was laid here; six or seven miles of dirt streets were opened and improved; several ditches in the city were filled and filled in; and with the assistance of property owners, the ditch running from Third and Jarvis streets to First street was filled with metal pipe, making it mosquito-proof.

The mayor pointed out that the city's sewerage system, by legislative act, taking in approximately 2,500 people and property estimated tax valuation of about $2,000,000 and added that this new territory is regularly serviced in garbage collection, street improvements and maintenance.

"We have adopted and have in force a Zoning Ordinance in which the city is requiring new buildings to be placed at a correct distance from the street and from adjoining property," Mayor Boyd said, and he expressed his belief that this will be a great value as the city grows.

"We have an efficient police department headed by Chief H. Beauford Drum, that is functioning in a way that is satisfactory to the public. We believe that crime here is being held at a minimum and that we are accomplishing a great deal in this way."

The city tax has not been increased. The city is operating on the same rate as last year. A 15-cent supplement was voted for the schools for teachers' salaries. We believe 1947 has been one of the outstanding years of progress in the city's history."

The mayor said plans have been made to correctly number every house in the city, provide signs naming all streets, and that the street, drainage and other projects for the convenience of the public will be continued. He thanked the public for its cooperation.

"The Greenville Chamber of Commerce in 1948 will devote special efforts to providing year-round employment for the city's rapidly increasing population through the establishment of additional industry needed and adapted to this section." Executive Secretary Willard T. Kizer quoted President John B. Webb, Jr., as saying today.

"Transportation also will receive special attention in the new year."

1947 Building Increase

Fire Chief George Gardner, building inspector, states in his report to the Board of Aldermen that more than $1,500,000 of building operations and repairs were carried on in Greenville during last year, a considerable increase over 1946.

The inspector's report shows that 117 dwellings, including 6 four-unit apartment houses valued at $701,750, and 47 commercial buildings valued at $763,100, for a total of $1,464,850, were built during 1947.

Repairs to buildings totaled $54,000, making the grand total spent for buildings, $1,518,850.

The 1946 building report showed that 81 dwellings valued at $420,400, and 41 commercial buildings valued at $392,150, for a total of $812,550, were built during that year. Repairs to buildings in 1946 totaled $60,550, making the grand total of $873,100.

The figures for both years do not include buildings outside the city limits. The corporate limits were extended last July to take in Ellendale, South Greenville, Fleming's Cross Roads, across the river, and East 14th street extension; the building inspector said.

J.R. Turnage Dies, Ayden

Business Leader Succumbs To Heart Attack; Funeral Friday

Jesse Raymond Turnage, 65, prominent businessman and extensive farmer of Ayden, died suddenly of a heart attack at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. M. Edwards, in Ayden at 9:20 o'clock last night.

Funeral services will be held at the home Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Joyce V. Early, pastor of the Ayden Methodist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in the Ayden cemetery.

Mr. Turnage was a son of the late Elias and Laura Ormond Turnage of Ormondville, Greens County. He went to Ayden in 1906 and engaged in the cotton business and then "commercial" business. He was a director of the First National Bank of Ayden for many years; a member of the board of stewards of the Ayden Methodist Church for 20 years and secretary of the Pitt County Highway Commission for 12 years, until the State Highway Department took over the road system. He was a trustee of State College, Raleigh, for 10 years. Mr. Turnage was a member of the class of 1904 at old Trinity College, now Duke University. He was a Mason and a member of the Ayden School Board for 15 years, a charter member of the Ayden Rotary Club and was active in organizing the Coastal Plain Baseball League. He took a leading part in the development of Ayden and the schools there.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ida Barnes Turnage; two daughters, Mrs. Adelaide Stafford of Greensboro and Mrs. Frances Stillman of Ayden; one brother, Roy L. Turnage, Sr., of Ayden; two sisters, Mrs. W. M. Edwards and Mrs. Lucye Crowell, both of the home; and three grandchildren, Nancy Stafford and Francis Stafford and Judy Stillman.

Honorary pallbearers will be members of the Board of Stewards of the Ayden Methodist Church and members of the Rotary Club.

Active pallbearers will be Eugene Edwards of New Bern, Roy L. Turnage, Jr., of Ayden, Hal Edwards, of Ayden, Lloyd Turnage, Jr., of Ayden, Thomas L. Turnage, of Live Oak, Fla., nephews, and Kirby H. Smith of Ayden, Jamie Lang and Ralph Hardee of Ayden.

Lower Tariffs Go Into Effect

Washington, Jan. 1—(AP)—Tariff reduction on hundreds of products went into effect today in the United States and eight other countries in accordance with a general international agreement, reached at Geneva.

Scotch whisky from Britain, sugar and tobacco from Cuba and wines from France were included in the import duty cuts made by the United States in return for concessions on American exports.

PROTEST TEA COST Southampton, Eng., Jan. 1—(AP)—A one-cent increase in the price of a mug of tea provoked a short unofficial strike today of 1,700 dock workers, delaying for an hour the sailing of the S.S. Mauretania for New York.

Greek Rebel Forces Said In Full Retreat

Siege Of Konitsa Ends As Relief Forces Enter City; Weary Garrison Being Evacuated After Stand Against Odds

Athens, Jan. 1—(AP)—The Greek War Ministry declared today that the battered city of Konitsa has been released from siege by 5,000 Communist guerrillas who have been hammering at the town since Christmas Day.

A communique said initial relief elements entered the embattled city last night. The weary, 1,000-man garrison was being evacuated today. The relief column entered the city from the west, after dislodging rebel forces and "inflicting heavy losses" in a drive from strategic Bourasani bridge, the communique said.

The rebels, who fought desperately to take the city as a capital for a newly proclaimed Greek Communist state, presumably retreated into the Grammos Mountains. The War Ministry made no mention of the direction of the retreat. Previous reports said some of the rebels fled into Albania, north of Konitsa.

Capture of Bourasani bridge, 11 miles west of Konitsa, was announced by the government yesterday. The rebels took the bridge, one of the key points to the defense of Konitsa, on the first day of their assault on Konitsa.

The forces reported to have entered Konitsa were said to be elements of the 41st brigade, which has been moving in from Western Macedonia since guerrilla forces launched their drive on the city on Christmas Day.

The entry was said to have been effected at 10 p.m. last night, but the news was not reaching Athens because of a heavy storm which disrupted communications.

Military sources had no information concerning the progress of a second column of government troops which last night was reported only a mile and one-half from Konitsa and in communication with the garrison.

Semi-official reports said approximately 10,000 guerrillas took part in the general operation against Konitsa with 5,000 shock troops assigned the task of forcing a way into town. The remainder were scattered along lines of approach, particularly on the road from Kalpsaki to Bourasani bridge.

Seek Support Meat Rationing

Washington, Jan. 1—(AP)—Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) said today he plans to confer soon with Secretary of Agriculture Anderson in an attempt to line up big packers in support of meat rationing.

The Vermont lawmaker told a reporter that after talking with meat industry representatives he has no illusions about the difficulty of winning them over, but he feels it is worth a try.

Flanders for several weeks has been advocating rationing as the only way of coping with the meat shortage which the Agriculture Department has predicted will develop in the spring. Anderson, along with President Truman, also has been plugging for standby power to ration meat.

Flanders disclosed that he conferred in Chicago earlier this week with a group of packers.

Rep. Bonner Asks Finish Dredging Inland Waterway

Washington, N.C., Jan. 1—(AP)—Rep. Herbert C. Bonner has asked the Army Corps of Engineers to complete dredging on the Inland Waterway so that a Navy destroyer command can come here in case of a breakdown of the local power plant.

The plant was damaged by an explosion several weeks ago and has been operating on a makeshift basis since. Governor Cherry asked the Navy to dispatch a destroyer escort to furnish power to the city but Navy officials said that a portion of the waterway was too shallow for such a vessel.

The district Army engineer wired Bonner that work on the channel was scheduled to start in March but if the situation here is urgent, the dredging could be started immediately and completed by February 1.

Town Escapes Near Disaster

Roxboro, N. C., Jan. 1—(AP)—People here are breathing easier today after the town escaped a possible major disaster last night when 8,000 gallons of gasoline flowed out of a tank on the edge of town and into a creek which runs through three mill villages.

The gasoline came from a 15,000 gallon capacity tank which Fire Chief Fred Long reported "burst at the bottom as it was being filled."

Calls For Farm Changes

"Pitt County farmers, always progressive, are alert to the importance of substituting other crops or livestock or poultry for the 28 per cent reduction of tobacco acreage," County Farm Agent Sam C. Winchester said today and he expressed the belief that the price of tobacco in 1948 will be almost as high as last year, but certainly no higher.

"The acres taken from tobacco should be utilized," he said.

Winchester pointed out as new channels of farm income to be explored as follows: poultry, swine, dairy cattle, high standard corn, sweet potatoes, vegetable crops, fruit and berries. The farm agent recommends that farmers start new sources of income on a small scale and to watch the markets.

"Go into something new gradually," he warned, "until you learn how to produce new projects, but put something profitable on the acres taken from tobacco."

Incidentally, there is a demand in Greenville for enough milk to justify 35 farm families to install small milking herds which would produce an annual income of $13,000, the farm agent said.

First Baby

Jerry Lynn Teel, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Teel of Route 3, Bethel, was the first baby born in Pitt County in the New Year, as far as could be ascertained.

The youngster, weighing five pounds and three ounces, was born at Pitt General Hospital at 4:45 a.m. today.

Denise-Elizabeth Koebach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Koebach of Bethel, was the second baby to arrive in the New Year. She weighs six pounds and fifteen ounces, was born at Pitt General Hospital at 8:47 a.m. today.

Controversy On XS-1 Goes To Justice Dept.

Washington, Jan. 1—(AP)—A controversy between the Air Force and a magazine involving the right to publish information considered secret by the military landed in the Justice Department today.

The Air Force referred to the government's legal branch for study the question of whether military security was concerned when the magazine Aviation Week printed a story last month reporting that the experimental rocket plane XS-1 had flown faster than sound at the Muroc Calif., air base.

The Air Force had declined to discuss the story in any form.

Earlier, Secretary of Defense Forrestal had invoked security regulations directed specifically at keeping secret data on the Air Force's high speed flight work.

Robert Hotz, news editor of the magazine told a reporter a copy of the article was shown to an FBI agent before it was published. Asserting that the present case is a continuation of a long standing disagreement over aviation security policy, Hotz said:

"Aviation Week takes the stand that the Air Force should adopt a uniform and realistic security policy."

Robert H. Wood, editor of the magazine, said on December 21 that he had withheld the story from publication for several weeks at the request of Air Force officials. He added that he had decided to publish it when he learned the Air Force was preparing to release information that the XS-1 had attained supersonic speed.

An Air Force spokesman said no such release was being prepared.

WILL LIFT BAN New York, Jan. 1—(AP)—New York City's ban on non-essential trucking—imposed by Mayor William O'Dwyer to speed snow removal—will be lifted tomorrow but the embargo against private automobiles will continue until further notice.

Labor Leader Sees 'Blowoff' In 1948

Capacity Of Utilities To Be Built Up

Improvements, Additions At Electric And Water Plants Slated For '48

Extensive improvements and additions are being made at the Greenville electric and water plants to meet the constantly increasing demand by electricity and water consumers. Buildings have been enlarged, a new boiler has been installed at the power plant and a 5000-kilowatt electric turbine generator will be installed next fall.

Martin Swartz, superintendent for the Greenville Utilities Commission, said today.

The new boiler, which will provide steam to generate 6,000 kilowatts of current, will be in operation next week. The old boiler, after being re-conditioned, will provide steam to generate 6,000 kilowatts.

Three turbine generators now in operation at the plant are of 5,000 kilowatts, 3,000 kilowatts and 1,250 kilowatts.

The present demand for current is 6,000 kilowatts, which means the operation of the 3,000 and 5,000 kilowatt turbines, with only the 1,250 kilowatt turbine as standby, when both boilers are in service there is no standby, and engineers have recommended installation of another boiler to bring the equipment up to standard.

The new water plant will have a capacity of 3,000,000 gallons of water every 24 hours. Swartz said. The new water plant is now 75 percent completed.

The old water plant has a capacity of only 1,500,000 gallons per 24 hours, and 2,000,000 gallons of water is being filtered three days each week. The old water plant was built in 1918 and the type of equipment and principle of operation is not approved by the State Board of Health, which means we cannot make any improvements on it.

The State Board of Health approves the method of purifying water for drinking purposes and also the operating conditions.

The Greenville Utilities Commission last year asked for $1,250,000 for improvements and additions at the water and electric plants, but the Board of Aldermen approved only an $850,000 bond issue for the project, the record shows.

Atomic Research Near Chicago

Oak Ridge Tenn., Jan. 1—(AP)—Reversing plans announced last September, the Atomic Energy Commission has decided to concentrate the bulk of its research activities at Argonne National Laboratory near Chicago.

The idea expressed by labor's spokesmen that new inflation controls will be a first order of business for the new session of Congress was shared by the "NAM News," publication of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Franklin D. Roosevelt's campaign in business circles for the last year promises that inflation can be curbed by this method—it will be resumed by the Administration and New Deal groups," the NAM publication added.

"The crisis in the battle will be reached within 60 to 90 days after Congress reconvenes on January 6."

Fear Another B-29 Crashed In Alaskan Area

Anchorage, Alaska Jan. 1—(AP)—Fear that a missing B-29 Superfortress and its nine crewmen may have fallen into the waters of Cook Inlet were expressed today by a veteran Alaska construction engineer.

Cliff Lenthain, who said he was dining with his wife in the lobby of a downtown hotel when the sky lighted up "like the glow from a neon sign," placed the origin in the flash as directly west of the city about over-mid-channel of the inlet.

"It was snowing at the time, but the sky was so bright that buildings on the street were lighted up," he said.

Selling Reserves

London, Jan. 1—(AP)—The Treasury announced tonight that Britain sold $100,000,000 worth of sterling area gold reserves during December.

The December gold sales brought the total drain on British reserves to $512,000,000 since September.

The Outlook For 1948

Here is a Summary Of The Outlook For 1948 As Seen By Business Leaders: Prices, Trade, Manufacturing, Enterprises, Food, Minerals And Business In General

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS

General: First half of 1948 a continuation of 1947's closing trends; second half more uncertain with mid-year readjustment expected by many.

Consumer prices: Still higher, especially in food and clothing.

Retail trade: Continued high activity, but possible sudden decline ahead of other businesses; "buying strike" against high prices feared.

Foreign trade: If Marshall Plan approved exports will surpass 1947's record of $14,500,000,000; heavy favorable balance should be narrowed.

Steel: Continued high output exceeding 1947's peacetime record of approximately 84 million tons of steel ingots and 68 million tons of finished steel products; shortages nevertheless continuing.

Automobiles: Higher production than in 1947, but still not enough to meet demand.

Heavy machinery: Business possibly as good as 1947, or better, but feelings mixed because of unsettled foreign market and uncertain domestic future.

Oil: Production up six percent over 1947's estimated record of 1,850,000,000 barrels.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. James Guy Forrest announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Thorne, to William Glenn Smart, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Smart of Forest City, North Carolina. The wedding will be solemnized in the spring.

Mrs. John Alonzo Harper, Jr., who before her marriage on Wednesday evening, December 31, in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, was Miss Alyce Ruth Bundy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William James Bundy of Greenville. Mr. Harper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Alonzo Harper of Rocky Mount.

Harper-Bundy

In a formal candlelight ceremony solemnized on Wednesday evening,

December 31, at 8:30 o'clock in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, Miss Alyce Ruth Bundy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William James Bundy, became the bride of Mr. John Alonzo Harper, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Alonzo Harper of Rocky Mount. The Reverend Robert W. Bradshaw officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The church with its background of woodwardia, Oregon fern, pink snapdragons, pink gladiolas, and pink cathedral candles made a lovely setting for the ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. G. W. B. Hadley, organist. Miss Jean Bradley of Greensboro sang "I Love Thee" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." "The Lord's Prayer" was sung as a benediction.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of blush pink slipper satin designed with a basque bodice and a low square neckline. The slim tapering sleeves pointed over the wrists, and the full skirt with double scalloped folds, ended in a long circular train. Her full length veil of blush imported silk illusion was attached to a blush satin bandeau edged with miniature pink tube roses. The bride carried a prayerbook topped with a white orchid.

Eugene Prata of New York, N. Y., was best man and the acting ushers were Hurley Mooring, Tommy Wallace, Ed Jolley, Russell Proctor, Jr., Xavier High and Dewey Weaver, all of Rocky Mount.

Mrs. Wesley Thomas Collier of Roanoke Rapids was matron of honor. Miss Kathryn Youngblood of North Hollywood, California, acted as maid of honor. They wore dresses of emerald green tissue taffeta fashioned with low petal neck lines, long fitted sleeves, full skirts and Persian puffs draped at hip-line. They carried cascading arm bouquets of shaded pink snapdragons tied with the same shade of satin ribbon.

The bridesmaids were Miss Virginia Peale of Durham, Miss Carolyn Carter of Mt. Airy, Mrs. Frank Sherrill of Winston-Salem, and Mrs. Leonard M. Ernest, Jr., of Greenville. They wore dresses identical to those of the matron and maid of honor and carried similar bouquets.

Misses Dolly Best and Anne Hamric were junior bridesmaids. They wore pale pink taffeta dresses designed with round necklines, full skirts and ruffled cap sleeves. Their flowers were similar to those of the bridesmaids.

Mrs. Bundy, mother of the bride, wore a dress of white Roman crepe, trimmed with gold sequins, and a purple orchid.

The groom's mother wore a gown of electric blue crepe. Her corsage was a purple orchid also.

Immediately following the ceremony the parents of the bride entertained at a reception at the Woman's Club for the wedding party, out-of-town guests, and friends. The club was decorated with assorted greens, pink flowers and candles. The bride's table was covered with a satin cloth centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, and silver candelabras on either side.

Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Massey greeted the guests and Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Barrett introduced them to the receiving line. The receiving line was composed of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bundy, the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Harper, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bundy, grandparents of the bride, the maid of honor, matron of honor, best man, bridesmaids and ushers. Assisting throughout the club rooms were Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Bundy of Farmville, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Edwards, Mrs. Aubrey Shackell, Mrs. Morgan Fambrough of Rocky Mount, Mr. and Mrs. Hinton Best, Mrs. W. L. Best, Mrs. Mabel Glenn Hamric and Misses Peggy Mitchell, Peggy Rose Smith, Joyce Corbett, Elizabeth Kittrell, Betsy Nobles, Jane Massey, Ella Frances Viola and Mary Ann Duncan.

Mrs. Harper was graduated from Greenville High School, attended Greensboro College, and was graduated from the University of North Carolina.

Mr. Harper was graduated from Rocky Mount High School and is now attending the University of North Carolina. He served three years in the army air corps.

Following the reception the bride and groom left for unannounced points. After January 5 they will be at home in Durham.

On Monday afternoon Miss Jane Massey and Mrs. M. B. Massey entertained at tea honoring Miss Bundy. Tuesday Mrs. S. D. Bundy entertained at her home in Farmville at a delightful luncheon and following the rehearsal that evening Mr. and Mrs. Hinton Best and Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Barrett gave a dance at the Greenville Country Club. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bundy of Farmville were host and hostess at a luncheon in the Magnolia room Wednesday for the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

Memorial Baptist Church will meet on Monday afternoon at 3:30 in the following homes: Annie Armstrong circle with Mrs. J. B. Spilman.

Fannie E. Beak circle with Mrs. E. T. Odom.

J. B. Lawrence circle with Mrs. J. S. Webb.

Lottie Moon circle with Mrs. J. M. Boyd.

Henrietta Hall Shunk circle with Mrs. W. E. Moore.

Strength FOR THE DAY

A NEW YEAR'S TEXT
"Lo, he goeth before you . . ."
It was with these words that the angel disclosed to the wondering disciples the whereabouts of Christ after the resurrection. He had gone before them into Galilee.

He always goes before us. When there is a pathway to be blazed through circumstances we have never encountered, he goeth before us. On some dark night wherein we are called to tread paths of agony, we can be sure of a guidance which will make our steps as if we walked in the light of noontday sun. The mysteries of religion are many, but it is the first step in faith, and every step after that will lead us into the dawn. An impossible gulf may seem to yawn between ourselves and certain achievements, but if we are diligent and trusting we can leave the issue in hands far stronger than our own.

Here is a good text to hold close to our hearts on this first day of the year: "Lo, he goeth before you . . ."
The disciples had much to learn, even after they had seen the risen Lord, but they knew that beneforth they would walk as followers of that One who goeth before his disciples.

CHIN UP FOR '48

With the mysterious future of a new year now lying before us, it seems odd that so many are looking towards the days to come with misgivings.

Today, we Americans are the richest, mightiest, most relied-upon people of the world; and yet a sort of doubt in our own future is reflected by public figures, and it has reached down to the man-in-the-street.

Never before has there been so much reason to have faith in the future. Employment is soaring, production is still engaged in trying to make up for war-time shortages; and as a companion to high prices, almost everybody has a couple of coins to jingle with the keys in their pockets. The end of this boom is not in sight, nor is there any real reason yet to expect a 'bust' that some fear is to come.

An exciting election year is ahead for those who like their politics served piping hot; new inventions, new industries, new goals and new hopes, all are to be had in 1948. Take your pick, or take them all.

The New Year will also bring armfuls of happiness to thousands and thousands of proud young parents, and that is important to all of us, for it is for them that we build today.

Surely, we'll each of us have our troubles, but none so great they cannot be overcome; and in overcoming them we ourselves grow in strength for other tests that lie ahead. Difficulties are a part of our everyday life and how we meet them is what matters.

Greenville Grew . . .

1948 will put industrial development at the top of its program of work, and it will increase its efforts to assist in the full and well rounded development of the city from commercial and civic standpoints, in order that Greenville may be a better place in which to live and work," Secretary Kyzer said.

"Within a few weeks the entire membership of the Chamber of Commerce will be asked to suggest items to be included in the organization's program of work for its fiscal year, beginning February 1.
From these suggestions the complete program will be made up," Kyzer said.

"The Pitt-Greenville Airport Commission in 1948 will devote determined efforts toward the establishing of regular scheduled air service to Pitt County through the use of the Pitt-Greenville Airport, in addition to further promotion of the airfield's use for civil aviation," L. M. Buchanan, chairman of the commission, said today.

"With the handing down of final decision by the Civil Aeronautics Board in December, the way is now open for action by the commission to intensify its efforts to obtain air transportation of mail and passengers and freight for the benefit of the city and county," Chairman Buchanan added.

Buchanan praised the recent organizing here of the Greenville Aero Club by about 25 pilots to stimulate public interest in civil aviation.
Tommy Sellers is president of the club.

"The Pitt County Health Department plans to go along with its program of better health and a better sanitary environment for the people of Pitt County," Dr. E. J. Phillips, health officer said today.

"In addition to the school health, pre-school, maternal and infants, crippled children's and tuberculosis clinics, a mass X-ray examination of Pitt county residents is planned under sponsorship of the Pitt County Tuberculosis Association during 1948," the health officer added.

Dr. Phillips said the spring and summer immunization clinics will be held as usual.

The Department of Sanitation under direction of Senior Sanitarian Charles Morgan, plans to continue the drive toward standardization and improvement of public eating places, markets and other places where food for human consumption is sold, to assure Pitt County residents of food handling establish-

Future Farmers Of America To Hold Judging Contest

The Pitt County Future Farmers of America will hold a crop judging contest in Winterville next Monday. Each county school will send three representatives to participate.

Federation officers and L. A.
Arnold of the Grimesland High School, president, will have charge of the judging contest, the first held since the federation was organized on December 12. J. H. Mobley, agriculture teacher at the Winterville High School, said.

The team making the highest number of points will represent Pitt County at the crop judging contest to be held in Rocky Mount on January 8 under auspices of the North Carolina Improvement Association.

Agriculture students have studied 114 different kinds of crop seeds to identify. They will also judge samples as to purity, soundness and true to variety. The contest will be helpful to the boys by providing experience in knowing what good seed are and how seedmen produce them, Mobley said.

T. B. Elliott of Woodland, district supervisor of vocational education, will present the banner to the winner.

Dr. Messick Will Speak At NCEA Meeting Jan. 14th

Dr. John D. Messick, president of East Carolina Teachers College will be the speaker at the meeting of the Pitt County unit of the North Carolina Education Association at the Grimesland High School
Wednesday night, January 14, at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Edna Earl Baker, president of the local unit, will preside.

The purpose of the meeting is for in-service training of teachers and their relation to pupil, parent and community. Pitt County has one of the strongest NCEA units in North Carolina and is making much progress in educational standards. The county is proud of its teachers and the work they are doing for the boys and girls of the community, an NCEA official said.

Locals Take Winterville In Twin Bill

By WAYNE SMILEY

The Greenville Midgets came through with another win last night by the overwhelming score of 48-5. Billy Wooten came through with 8 field goals and 4 free throws to account for 20 points.

Wooten promises to become an outstanding forward for Coach Kittrell's quintet, as he hit on eight of sixteen throws at the basket. Others who showed great promise were Eddie Parley and Sidney Briley. Parley scored 6 points and stood out on the floor. He may prove to be one of the most dangerous men on set shots in the conference.

Sidney Briley came through with 10 points in one quarter and was outstanding in getting the rebounds.

Linwood Hooks stole the show for Winterville, and Ed Evans and Lex Keeter prevented local scores on numerous occasions.

Seeing action for Greenville: Eddie Parley, Glenn Scott, Joe Rowland, Sam Hux, Billy Wooten, Jake Higgs, Sellers Crisp, Sidney Briley and T. Smoot.

Winterville players who saw action were: L. Hooks, D. Hobgood, Lex Keeter, W. McGlohon, Wingate C. Roberson, Ed Evans, G. Tripp, Bobby McGlohon and Wainwright.

The Greenville Intermediates had a close call last night with their Winterville opponents as the game ended with a score of 15-11.

Greenville led throughout the game by the narrow margin of a one or two point lead.

Julian Vainwright, Bobby Odum and Larry Flye were outstanding on the locals' defense, and showed skill at getting the ball off the backboards which proved to be the margin of victory.

The game was a rough and tumble affair, and Winterville's fighting spirit impressed watchers as having a good chance of coming out high in the conference standings. Winterville's outstanding players were Donald McGlohon, Dick Buck and Phil Miller; all three proved to be a constant threat of scoring anywhere on the court and their defensive play was good.

Seeing action for Greenville: Billy Tucker, Larry Flye, Julian Vainwright, Johnny Sideris, Dickie Gray, Leon Moore, Virginius Haymes, Billy Woolfolk, Bobby Odum, and Lyman Ormond.

For Winterville: B. Haddock, J. Hooks, E. Haddock, Phil Mellon, D. Buck, D. McGlohon, R. Kittrell, Whitehurst and Stocks.

Mrs. E. R. Fesler Funeral Services Friday 3 O'Clock

Mrs. Florence Long Fesler, wife of E. R. Fesler died at her home in Detroit, Mich., Monday night at 10:30 following several months of illness.

The body was to arrive in Greenville this afternoon and was to be taken to the home of her sister, Mrs. K. W. Cobb 300 Pitt Street, where funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon by the Rev. W. Bradshaw, pastor of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church. Burial will be in Greenville cemetery.

Members of the Board of Stewards and the Board of Trustees of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church and members of the Board of Directors of the Home Building and Loan Association will be honorary pallbearers.

Mrs. Fisher, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Long, was born and reared in Little Rock, Ark., and she had resided in Detroit for many years. She was well known in Greenville, having visited in the home of Mrs. Cobb a number of times. Surviving are her husband and two sisters, Mrs. Cobb of Greenville and Mrs. Louise Lanekaw of New York.

Lost Roll Linoleum

Allen Jefferson of Tarboro, Route 3, a farmer, lost a roll of 9 by 12 linoleum from his truck passing through Greenville Tuesday and reported it to police. The person who found the linoleum is requested to contact police headquarters.

Another Hamilton, name of Andrew, didn't make it though he was the man who defended Peter Zenger in the famous freedom of the press case of 1735, for which New York City presented him with a scroll and a gold snuff box. Dr. Monaghan wanted the scroll; he wasn't particularly interested in the snuff box.

With the case manufacturers screaming they didn't have much time left, investigation turned up the parchment scroll in the Pennsylvania Historical Society which was happy to lend it.

But in a highly legal paper the owner of the Hamilton items had stipulated that the snuff box could not leave the society. Dr. Monaghan said fine, all he wanted was the scroll. Three lawyers representing the owner's family were consulted. They conferred and studied and it was finally decided that the owner must have meant the restriction to apply to the scroll as well as the snuff box.

There were other odds some successful, some futile, but all had in common endless telephoning, telegraphing and scattered parties of the first and second parts.

"I even had to do some telephoning to get a certain George Washington letter out of a bank vault," Dr. Monaghan recalls. "Who was the owner? Me."

Buses Transport More Than Half Million Persons

By CHESTER WALSH

More than half a million persons have ridden on the Greenville Transit Company's passenger buses since the present corporation took over the line September 14, 1946, Manager David W. Hardee, Jr., said today.

The buses operate on regular schedules from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily and from noon to 9 p.m. Sundays, and they travel within three blocks of every area in the city except one.

Special bus schedules are maintained for white and Negro school children. The fleet of two buses has been increased to five. The buses travel nearly 5,000 miles each week over the city's streets. The company's franchise permits it to charter buses to any point in the state.

In addition to other improvements, the Greenville Transit Company is now building a bus terminal and service garage on the Bethel highway, across Tar River, to look after its own equipment and the garage will cater to servicing other passenger buses.

The Greenville Transit Company is a home-town concern. Godfrey Oakley is president, James Keel is vice-president, Jake Hadley is secretary, and James M. Moye is treasurer. The company's service here is entirely satisfactory, Mayor J. H. Boyd said.

Airliner Has Freakish Mishap

Atlanta, Jan. 1.—(AP)—Twenty-one passengers were shaken up but none was injured seriously when an Eastern Air Lines plane collapsed its landing gear during a sudden squall at the Atlanta airport today.

The plane was thrust into the air while rolling down a runway. The freakish gust then dropped the twin-engined airliner against the pavement with such force that the wheels collapsed.

Midnight Ended All Recordings

New York, Jan. 1.—(AP)—James C. Petrillo's "never again" ban on the making of recordings and transcriptions by members of his American Federation of Musicians silenced recording studios across the nation this New Year's Day and posed the question: "What happens now?"

No one ventured to answer for sure, but there are some of the angles mentioned among industry leaders and those who followed the progress of the previous ban imposed in 1942.

In the hectic rush to beat the ban that lasted in some studios right up to the stroke of last midnight, record and transcription firms built up a backlog they estimate will last from one to five years.

They doubt that home record users and radio listeners will notice any effects of the ban before six months at the earliest, except possibly for the overnight success of some yet unwritten tune which couldn't be recorded.

prefer to have the original Covenant of the League of Nations as an example of Wilson's work. This involved permission from the Library of Congress and the widow of the World War I president.

While these arrangements were being made, the aide, without telling anybody, went ahead and removed the Wilson inaugural. The train left Philadelphia without it and traveled four days with an empty case.

"The empty case," says Dr. Monaghan, "attracted more attention than the Declaration of Independence. There was lots of hot speculation over our motives in leaving Wilson out. But we finally got the Covenant draft in."

Getting Alexander Hamilton's own volume of his "Federalist" papers aboard the train involved a long odyssey of telephoning and waning hope. After a dozen calls, Monaghan found the secretary of the man who now owns the papers. The secretary said permission from both him and his wife would be needed.

The wife, it developed after more calls, was vacationing in the Adirondacks. Dr. Monaghan phoned her for three days. On the fourth, they made contact and permission was granted.

And where was the husband? In Honduras vacationing. Cables didn't reach him. Four days later he suddenly turned up in New York, and that's how the "Federalist" caught

Our New Year's Wish

Our experience with Pontiac owners has taught us that a lot of pleasure and satisfaction comes into the family circle when a new Pontiac arrives. That is why this New Year's Day seems to be such an appropriate occasion for us to wish that all of you who are waiting for new Pontiacs might have them to enjoy right now.

And it is a pleasure to tell you that the Pontiac factory is doing everything possible to help us make this wish a reality at the earliest possible time. An extensive factory expansion program has been virtually completed, and as fast as additional raw materials are made available, Pontiac production will be increased.

We also want to thank you for your patronage and for your patience and understanding throughout the year which has just come to a close. Our hope for 1948 is that we may continue to merit your business and your priceless goodwill.
