Again Wins Confidence In Assembly

Schuman Cabinet Hangs On Final Passage Of Anti-Inflation Legislation

Paris, Jan. 5—(AP)—By a count of 308 to 272, the French National Assembly today voted down another attempt to amend Premier Robert Schuman's anti-inflation bill, upon whose passage he has staked the life of his middle-of-the-road coalition government.

The amendment was one of five scheduled to be voted upon today. Schuman has threatened to resign if any changes are made in his program in its passage through the assembly.

His threat gave the weight of a vote of confidence to the balloting on each individual amendment.

The amendment voted down this morning would have exempted small artisans from the choice of paying a special income tax on investing the same amount in government bonds.

When it reconvenes after a noon recess, the assembly will vote upon amendments which would reduce the tax levies on small farmers; on war, drought and flood victims and on small family-operated businesses.

Assembly circles predicted that the government's margin might be close in the voting on tax relief for war victims, but it was generally believed that it would win out.

The tax bill, as presented by the government, is designed to produce approximately 125,000,000,000 francs about $1,000,000,000 in revenue.

Saturday when Communist and rightist deputies sought to amend the measure with proposals for exemptions for those in small income brackets they were defeated by 322 to 262.

A prime topic in parliamentary circles as the deputies began arriving in the National Assembly to vote on Schuman's plan was Gen. Charles de Gaulle's speech yesterday in St. Etienne, where the wartime French leader said he would accomplish economic reform by scrapping the present trade unions and creating labor-management associations designed to eliminate the possibility of strikes.

The subcommittee, headed by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), planned to begin analyzing the records today together with another set of books on the grain speculation of Edwin W. Pauley, special assistant to Secretary of the Army.

Peiping, Jan. 5—(AP)—Favorable developments for government forces in the Mukden area, but a fresh Communist thrust toward the Peiping-Mukden rail lifeline in south-western Manchuria were reported in pro-Nationalist dispatches today.

One dispatch said "the situation in the northeast has passed from the critical to the pacification stage with government forces sweeping Red remnants from all fronts."

He expressed disappointment that a number of party members "are so absorbed in their own selfish interests that they are blind to the nobler duties of party and state."

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—A report that meat rationing would not work without price controls and that a combination of the two would "stifle" meat production came today from Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.).

The Nebraskan expressed this opinion in commenting on plans of Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) to introduce legislation shortly authorizing the Agriculture Department to prepare for meat rationing to a point just short of putting it into effect.

Under the plan Flanders outlined over the weekend, Congress would have to enact still another law to get actual rationing under way.

The Agriculture Department already is at work on some preliminary planning. Secretary Anderson, who has predicted that Americans will be asking for meat rationing by spring, told a reporter he has assigned an assistant, Charles F. Brannan, to prepare recommendations in the event the department should be asked for them.

Flanders said his bill will make no provisions for price ceilings on meat. But he expressed belief that rationing, properly handled, would have a restraining effect on prices.

Wherry, one of the chief critics of the old OPA, said his theory is "you just can't ration without price controls. Isn't that what Chester Bowles always taught us?"

Bowles is a former OPA administrator. "What's more, rationing and price ceilings would only serve to stifle meat production," Wherry declared. "Already all this talk of rationing is discouraging production. Cattle feeders are afraid to take a chance."

Wherry contended that if Congress were to authorize the Agriculture Department to go ahead with preparations, it would trim the meat supply sharply, even though rationing might never be instituted.

Marines Embark With Combat Equipment Day Ahead Of Time

Morehead City, N.C., Jan. 5—(AP)—An undetermined number of United States marines boarded two ships today with orders to clear the port by 2 p.m. for duty in the Mediterranean.

They were originally scheduled to sail tomorrow.

Long, single-file lines were formed Saturday as the marines began boarding the transports and continued until late this morning.

There was little excitement as the marines, brought here from nearby Camp Lejeune, filed up the gangplanks to two large transports, the Montague and the Baxter.

Marine and Navy officers maintained a close-lipped silence as to the number of leathernecks embarking but dockside observers placed the number at approximately 1,000.

Full combat equipment, including tanks, guns, flamethrowers, jeeps and trucks, was loaded along with the troops.

The personnel loading was completed in small groups and those embarking went straight to the ships without forming bivouacs in this port city.

The vessels were ready to sail at 1 p.m. as they awaited the early afternoon high tide before moving through a channel in North Carolina's Outer Banks a barrier reef of sand dunes.

The leathernecks, according to a terse Navy announcement, will be stationed on ships operating in Italian and Greek waters. The United States is pledged to resist Communism in both these countries.

The men, of the Second Marine Division of Camp Lejeune, saw World War II action in Guadalcanal, Tarawa and the Marianas. Now they're going to join the sailors of the Mediterranean fleet, built around the aircraft carrier Midway, plus three light cruisers and ten destroyers.

The Navy merely said the marines will arrive on the Midway, now at Naples, and the three cruisers, the Portsmouth at Genoa, Italy, the Providence at Leghorn, Italy, and the Little Rock at Piraeus, Greece.

Normally there would be 250 marines on the four ships, 100 on the Midway and 50 each on the cruisers, along with 4,950 sailors.

States is pledged to resist Communism in both these countries.

Little UN Opens Meet Boycotted

Delegates Gather Under 'Grave Consequences' Voiced By USSR

Lake Success, Jan. 5—(AP)—Delegates to the United Nations "Little Assembly" gathered today to begin their year-round sittings as a peace-keeping body—a move which Russia has warned may lead to "grave consequences."

The delegates prepared for the 11 a.m. (EST) meeting in a tense atmosphere, faced by the prospect of a boycott by Russia and the five other Soviet countries.

A Soviet spokesman said in advance of the session that Russia still felt the U.S.-sponsored "Little Assembly" was unconstitutional and therefore would not attend. Informed quarters said the same attitude had been taken by Czechoslovakia, Poland, Yugoslavia, White Russia and the Soviet Ukraine.

A representative of the U.S. delegation maintained, however, that U.S. Delegate Warren R. Austin had not given up hope that the Soviet bloc might eventually join in the new body, which was proposed originally by Secretary of State Marshall.

The "Little Assembly," known officially as the Interim Committee of the General Assembly, was summoned amid these other developments:

The Security Council was summoned to a session tomorrow to take up India's complaint against Pakistan, growing out of the fighting in Kashmir Province.

Reports from Trieste indicated Italy and Yugoslavia had failed to agree on a candidate for governor of the Free Territory by the Jan. 5 deadline set by the Security Council. This means the issue will come back to the council this week.

The council was expected to take up the Indonesian question again this week.

Argentina, Canada and the Ukraine will take their seats on the council for the first time tomorrow, succeeding Brazil, Australia and Poland.

Challenges New Sending Marines Gesture Behind

Greensboro, Jan. 5—(AP)—North Carolina's new United Labor Political Committee today was challenged by a candidate for state office who favors the very legislation the union political combination opposes.

The union committee was formed at Salisbury last week to elect to office those it deems friends of labor. Political observers feel the group having from 8,500 to 10,000 potential members in the Greensboro area and a reported 200,000 in the state, might unsettle a number of candidates who supported anti-closed shop legislation in the 1947 General Assembly and the Taft-Hartley Act in Congress.

Donald B. Sherrill of Greensboro, wage and hour consultant and candidate for Democratic nomination as Commissioner of Labor in the May primary, today issued a flat challenge to the new political bloc.

"It is noted that a number of union leaders have combined for political action with intent to attempt defeat of certain North Carolina candidates 'next summer,'" he stated. "As a candidate for North Carolina Commissioner of Labor . . . I want it clearly understood by that group that I heartily subscribe to recent state and federal legislation to correct inequalities in employer-union-leader relationships and in union-leader-employee relationships."

Sherrill believes that such corrective legislation was necessary in the public interest, and I am still firmly of that opinion."

Sherrill said he referred specifically to anti-closed shop and the Taft-Hartley Acts.

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—Congress will have one tough baby on its hand if it tackles Universal Military Training this year.

This is an election year for most members of Congress and, while many people want military training for young men, many don't.

Friends of the idea call it Universal Military Training (UMT). Universal, in this case, is another word for compulsory.

If Congress should pass it, youths 18 to 20 would be drafted for military training for at least six months, about 900,000 of them a year.

Congressmen who voted for it would make some friends, the people who want UMT. It'd make some enemies, too. For instance, some parents.

There's a bill, really a plan, for UMT all set up and ready to be debated and voted upon in the House. Will the House go ahead with it? Maybe.

And maybe not. It may want to see whether the Senate will tackle a UMT bill this year. The bill can't become law unless both houses approve.

But Congress may act if it thinks there's enough public opinion behind UMT—and our relations with Russia get worse.

Some organizations—for example the American Legion—are pushing very hard to get action on UMT this year.

Some educators want it, but some

Investigate Extent U.S. Oil Exports

Greece Getting One-Third Of Requirements From America Says Board

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—Greece is getting 7,000 barrels of petroleum daily from military sources under the U.S. aid program—about a third of her requirements, a member of the Army-Navy Petroleum Board calculated today.

Colonel G. T. Vogel, executive officer of the board, made the estimate in response to questions from Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.), chairman of a Senate small business subcommittee on oil. Vogel said the 7,000 is a part of our overall military requirements of 342,600 barrels a day of all types of oil products for all services and occupied areas for civilian use.

The committee is seeking information on the amount of domestic petroleum, particularly fuel oil, being used for export, through both private trade channels and under the government foreign aid programs.

Outside the hearing, Senator Johnston (D-SC) announced he will ask Congress for an investigation of the oil industry at once "to see if there is violation of the anti-trust laws in regard to fuel oil."

"It looks like the big oil companies are holding oil off the market so the people will be scared and they can run prices up," Johnston told a reporter. "It looks like there's a squeeze plan going on to hurt the small independent oil dealers."

"If the big companies are doing this—as indicated in my state x x x prosecutions are in order."

Johnston said the Department of Justice is checking on storage and distribution of fuel oil at his request. He said he reported privately to it and to the Senate Small Business Committee today on the situation in South Carolina after being into it during the past week.

The senator said he will introduce his investigation resolution tomorrow.

Request AMA To Protect Public From Atomics

Cleveland, Jan. 5—(AP)—The U. S. Atomic Energy Commission today asked the American Medical Association to undertake protection of the public from atomic bombs, atomic explosions and atomic radioactivity.

The request said that in war or in peace new medical problems are faced by those exposed to atomic energy.

Although the radioactive diseases are known, the scale on which they must be fought, said the request, is unprecedented. The medical profession was asked to take the responsibility for recognition of these diseases and particularly their prevention.

UMT For America?

The First Of Three Stories On Universal Military Training Which May Become A Hot Issue In The 1948 Congress; American Legion Is Big Prop Behind Plan

By JAMES MARLOW

Income Spiraling

Raleigh, N.C., Jan. 5—(AP)—North Carolina's record-shattering income continued its upward spiral during December.

General fund collections totaled $9,321,378 during last month, compared with $7,105,196 in December, 1946; the highway fund increased from $6,700,109 to $7,462,622 during the comparable months; and the license fund jumped from $8,535 to $99,888.

Thus for the first six months of the fiscal year ended last December 31, collections totaled $74,312,567, compared with $65,548,864 for the six month period ended December 31, 1946.

Income tax collections last month totaled $4,400,695, compared with $2,946,147 for December, 1946.

Third Party Discounted

Republicans Revise Estimate Of Wallace Election Strength

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—Wary Republicans began revising downward today their estimates of the effect Henry Wallace's third party venture may have on the November presidential election.

Supporters of Senator Ohio, an announced candidate, significantly they are discounting talk that Wallace's move will make it easier for Taft to obtain the Republican nomination.

This theory had been advanced by many GOP members who contended that Taft's popularity with organization Republicans was offset by the widespread belief that he would have difficulty defeating President Truman in a strictly two-man race.

"We're not easing up any in our drive for delegates on the assumption that the going is any smoother than before," a Taft strategist told a reporter. "We think that having Wallace in the race can't hurt Taft and can't hurt the Republicans, but we don't think it makes much difference in the final outcome."

Politicians in both major party camps have been wondering whether Wallace will go the route by his obviously hopeless bid for election. Some say it might not be too difficult for Wallace to change his mind and drop out of the race later on.

WANT "MONSTER"

Raleigh, N.C., Jan. 5—(AP)—The State Museum is interested in obtaining parts of the strange "sea monster" which the passenger liner Santa Clara reportedly struck off the North Carolina coast in late December.

Frank Meacham, curator of zoology, requested today that the museum be notified should the long, eel-like fish wash ashore.

Improved Dairy Industry Is Theme Of N.C. Session

Raleigh, N.C., Jan. 5—(AP)—A healthy, wealthy and wise North Carolina through an expanded dairy industry will be the theme of the 14th annual convention of the North Carolina Dairy Products Association here January 15-16.

L. L. Ray, executive vice president of the association, said long-range plans will be discussed with the aim of building the dairy industry from an annual return of $68,000,000 to $200,000,000.

One of the features of the convention will be a panel discussion of "the need—the plan—the result—of an expanded dairy program for North Carolina." Dr. Clarence Fox, editor of the Progressive Farmer, will serve as moderator. Panel members will include D. Hiden Ramsey, editor of the Asheville Citizen-Times; E. A. Resch of Siler City, president of the N.C. Press Association; Garland Johnson, banker and mayor of Elkin; John D. Gold, editor of the Wilson Daily Times; Harvey Dinkins, farm editor of the Winston-Salem Journal-Sentinel; and Dr. J. H. Hilton, dean of agriculture, N.C. State College.

Governor Cherry will address the opening session. Other speakers will include Dr. Clyde A. Erwin, state superintendent of public instruction; former Governor J. M. Brantley; and A. J. Claxton of Pittsburgh, Penn., vice president of Meadow Gold Dairies.

Graham's Brokers Give Senators Grain Trading Records

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—A Senate committee today obtained records of grain trading by Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, President Truman's personal physician, by serving a subpoena on Graham's brokers.

Edward F. McGinnis, senate sergeant at arms, handed the subpoena to Sarah B. Herschel, a Washington representative of Bache and Company, New York brokerage firm.

McGinnis acted for a senate appropriations subcommittee which is investigating grain speculation by federal employes.

Kimball Sanborn and Earl W. Cooper, committee staff members, took Graham's records to the capitol for scrutiny by the subcommittee.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.), a committee member, told a reporter the subpoena was "just a formality" followed because of the firm's reluctance to yield its books on Graham's accounts without an order, although it had agreed to turn them over.

The subcommittee, headed by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), planned to begin analyzing the records today together with another set of books on the grain speculation of Edwin W. Pauley, special assistant to Secretary of the Army.

Lawmakers Debate Plan For Rationing Of Meat

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—A report that meat rationing would not work without price controls and that a combination of the two would "stifle" meat production came today from Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.).

The Nebraskan expressed this opinion in commenting on plans of Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) to introduce legislation shortly authorizing the Agriculture Department to prepare for meat rationing to a point just short of putting it into effect.

Under the plan Flanders outlined over the weekend, Congress would have to enact still another law to get actual rationing under way.

Widow Dies

New York, Jan. 5—(AP)—Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, 89, widow of the 23rd president, died at 7 a.m. (EST) today after an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Harrison, who was the second wife of the late president, died while suffering from asthma. With her at her death at her home at 29 East 64th Street were her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Blaine Walker, and her two grandchildren.

She was a niece of the first Mrs. Harrison and although she never occupied the White House as first lady, she lived there for two years during the illness of her aunt.

Mrs. Harrison's death leaves only four living widows of presidents, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Hint Diplomatic Labor Political Action Group

Rome, Jan. 5—(AP)—The Foreign Ministry would neither confirm nor deny today newspaper reports abroad that the Italian ambassador in Washington had been instructed to inquire into the United States announcement Friday that more marines will be placed on U.S. warships in the Mediterranean.

However, unofficial sources close to the Foreign Ministry said the Italian government had taken cognizance of certain dispatches which had portrayed the American move as intended to back the Greek and Italian governments in their opposition to Communism.

These sources said that steps in connection with the dispatches had been taken "through the usual diplomatic channels."

The U. S. Navy Department announced that an undisclosed number of marines will sail today from Morehead City, N.C., for the Mediterranean for service aboard the aircraft carrier Midway and three light cruisers, one of which is at Piraeus, Greece.)

The pro-Communist section of the Socialist party—which will open its national congress here next week on the heels of the Communist national congress now in progress in Milan—is reported ready to make an issue of the U.S. moves.

The AFM president will be asked to appear at public hearings expected to start next Monday, Hartley told reporters.

A Tower Of Strength

Population Of British Commonwealth Is Nearly One-Quarter Of World Population; Vast Land Area; Attlee Alligns Tremendous Backing With The Democracies

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Did you ever sit down with a map of the world and contemplate the extent of the British Empire and commonwealth of nations which so encircle the globe, that, as the Briton points out with justifiable pride, the sun never sets upon them?

If you have done so, you will know that this mighty combination of nations and dependencies occupies something like one fourth of the world's known territory, and that its population is about a quarter of all mankind, that is, more than 500,000,000. A round-the-world traveler will, I should guess, often find that of any "mother country" and an enemy nation would find the British flag flying over a vast number of strategic defensive "bases" in both hemispheres.

With this information in mind we can appreciate more fully the great significance of British

Plyler-Fridgen

Friday afternoon, December 26, at four o'clock, the Methodist Church at Warsaw, N. C., was the scene of a beautiful, yet simple wedding when Mr. Claude A. Plyler, Jr., of Greenville, and Miss Annette Fridgen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fridgen of Warsaw were married in a twilight ceremony by the pastor, the Rev. A. M. Williams.

The church was tastefully decorated in Christmas greens consisting of a profusion of pine boughs and ivy banked about the altar and along the sides of the church.

Miss Barbara Jean Thompson, a close friend of the bride, presided at the organ rendering a prelude of nuptial music, followed by the traditional wedding music for the ceremony.

The ushers were Haywood Sellers of Greenville and Joe Fridgen, brother of the bride.

The bride, attired in a travelling ensemble of white wine wool with matching accessories, and a corsage of bride's roses, approached the altar on the arm of her father where she was met by the groom and his best man, C. A. Plyler, Sr., father of the groom.

The bride's mother wore black with accessories to match and a corsage of red roses.

The groom's mother chose brown crepe with deep luggage tan accessories and a shoulder corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Plyler received her education in the Warsaw schools and East Carolina Teachers College.

Mr. Plyler attended the Greenville high school, University of North Carolina and East Carolina Teachers College and served in the navy in World War II. He is co-owner of Plyler's Super Market.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Plyler left for a honeymoon in and around Asheville, N. C.
They are at home 308 Harding street.

New Year's Party
The Woman's Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild sponsored a New Year's party at the parsonage for the members of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church honoring the Rev. and Mrs. Robert W. Bradshaw. Receiving with the pastor and his wife were the chairman of the Board of Stewards, Mr. William Taft, the chairman of the Board of Trustees and Mrs. Marvin Blount, the president of the W. S. C. S. Mrs. S. R. Underwood, Jr., and Mr. Underwood, the president of the Guild, Miss Annie Daurie Askew, and two representatives of the Youth Fellowship.

Miss Bettie Anne Young and Fredrick Brooks, Officers of the Woman's Society received throughout the lower floor of the house and invited guests into the dining room where coffee, tea, fruit cake, cookies and mints were served from a beautifully appointed table. Young ladies at home from college for the holidays assisted with the serving. Approximately 150 persons called during the evening.

January Woman's Club Meeting
The first meeting of the new year of the Greenville Woman's Club was held on Friday afternoon at the club-house with a good attendance.

The guest speaker was Dr. Allen Hurlbert, head of Administration at ECTC.

Mrs. Vance Perkins, president, presided over the interesting business session. The members adopted the new constitution, which had been under discussion for several months. Bulletins were distributed showing the progress made in the various departments in recent months and announcing special programs planned for February and praising the work of the Junior Woman's Club. These bulletins from the president and printed by Mrs. Cora Powell, are greatly appreciated by the members. It was announced that Mr. June Rose will discuss the curriculum of the city schools at the February meeting. The principals will join in a panel discussion.

The annual New Year's Eve party of the Greenville Shrine Club was held last Wednesday night, December 31st from nine o'clock until two at Clark's Club over the river. The club was beautifully decorated with Sudan Shrine banners and bright colorful New Year streamers very appropriate for the occasion.

Master of ceremonies, Mr. James E. Tanner, greeted the Shriners and their ladies and other guests and invited them to dance to the beautiful music by Hal Thurston's Orchestra. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches and ice drinks were served throughout the evening.

At twelve o'clock the New Year was welcomed by singing old familiar songs by the entire group and noise making by favors presented earlier in the evening. This was followed by a floor show "Hits and Bits" of Broadway which furnished real entertainment. Then another hour of dancing was very enjoyable.

As a closing feature, Master of Ceremonies introduced the distinguished guests as follows: Mr. W. J. Bundy, Potentate of Sudan Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smith, Morehead City, Mr. Smith is Potentate's aid, Mr. George Allie, treasurer of Sudan Temple; Mr. and Mrs. Phil J. Rollins, Mr. Rollins is assistant of Al Chemist Sudan Temple; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ramsey, Fayetteville. He is chairman of Cripple Children Hospital Committee.

This party's success was due to the arrangements being so well planned by Mr. Paul Scott and his committee and Mr. Carroll Chaucey and his committee for the decorations.

The ladies and guests as well as all the Shriners expressed that this was the most enjoyable party yet, and are looking forward to another one to begin the year of 1948.

The new officers of Greenville Shrine Club are Mr. James W. Brewer, president; W. C. D. Ward, vice president; Mr. Jesse R. Laughinghouse, secretary-treasurer.

of elementary and high school curriculum and members will look forward to a most interesting meeting.

Miss Joan Oppelt, a student in the music department at the college, sang two numbers, "Because" and "When Love Is Kind," accompanied by Leon Fleming at the piano.

Mr. Dan Vornholt, chairman of the Literature Department, then introduced the speaker, Dr. Allen Hurlbert, whose topic, "The Child and His Curriculum," was of keen interest to his hearers. His talk, dealing with major changes in children's school experiences, presenting the areas of social language and science experiences and the results of training today as compared with that of several years ago, was most interesting and informative. Visitors present for this meeting, Mrs. Sue Bowden, Miss Emily Hyman, Mrs. Leonard Topping of Greenville, and Rev. H. F. Jones and Mrs. Burnell Temple of Kingston, were welcomed. At the social hour following the meeting, Mrs. J. H. B. Moore, Mrs. H. F. Jones, Mrs. B. McK. Johnson, Mrs. R. L. Humber, Miss Elizabeth Hyman, Mrs. W. R. Jones, Mrs. R. V. Keel and Mrs. Closs Hearne were hostesses, and delicious refreshments were served.

Christian Science Service
"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, January 4.

The Golden Text: Isaiah 44:6: "Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts; I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God."

Among the citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible: "Give ear, O ye heavens, and I will speak; . . . ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect; for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he" (Deuteronomy 32:1, 3, 4). And from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine metaphysics, as revealed to spiritual understanding, shows clearly that all is Mind and that Mind is God, omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience—that is, all power, all presence, all Science" (Page 275).

'Safety Lane' Is Opened; Confer Garage Owners

By CHESTER WALSH

The North Carolina Mechanical Division of the Department of Motor Vehicles opened one of the state's 40 "safety lanes" on Broad Street, between Center and Long Streets, here today, with Walter A. Dall of Winterville as supervisor. He had five specialists on his staff of inspectors. This week's operations are for garage owners and garage mechanics.

Beginning next Monday, the "safety lane" will open for inspection of motor vehicles in conformity with a law passed by the last General Assembly requiring motor vehicles to be officially inspected once during 1948 and twice each year thereafter.

The law was passed as a safety measure to reduce the appalling toll of highway accidents and deaths. Motor vehicle owners should take with them their registration card, driver's license and a dollar bill for the inspection fee.

Five motor vehicle specialists, trained at the N.C. Institute of Government, Chapel Hill, are on duty at the Greenville "safety lane," which was established for the Greenville district, including nearly a score of counties. They are E. N. Crawford of Pikeville, M. R. Lamm of Springope, J. E. Lucas of Godwin, J. I. Lynch of Wendell and R. T. Jordan of Greenville.

Supervisor Dall said motorists going to the "safety lane" here for inspection should approach it from Dickinson Avenue.

ABC Officers Raid Whiskey Still And Arrest White Man

Pitt County ABC officers J. M. Ward, J. L. Taylor and C. T. Manning raided a 300-gallon submarine type whiskey distillery in the Whitechapel section of Pitt County Saturday afternoon and arrested Joe Farmer, 30-year-old farmer, after a footrace through woods and fields.

Ward said the still was being operated for the first time since erection. The officers also found 600 gallons of sugar and cornmeal mash, two copper coils and other distilling equipment. No whiskey had been made, they said.

Farmer was released from custody Saturday night after a $200 cash bond was posted for his appearance in County Court Tuesday.

G. E. aris Named Regional Chairman University Program

George Edward Harris, of Greenville, has been notified by President Francis P. Gaines, of Washington and Lee University, of his appointment as regional chairman of the University's bicentennial program in this city.

As a prelude to the University's plan of year-long celebration in 1948-49 a bicentennial financial program to raise $3,000,000 for presentation to the University on its two hundredth anniversary was started early last year. This campaign will reach its climax in a series of local drives in every part of the country in January.

The bicentennial fund will be used to finance scholarships, endowment, and plant development as Washington and Lee progresses into its third century. Commenting editorially The Birmingham News said:

Mr. Harris will be in charge of the financial program in this area and a national network of such committees will promote the celebration. The campaign in Greenville will open on January the eighth.

Mr. Harris, local writer, is a member of the Class of 1923 at Washington and Lee.

This hardening of the British attitude toward aggressive Communism lends fresh strength to the Marshall Plan for European rehabilitation—a program which Moscow has vowed to defeat. A positive stand by London in this dangerous crisis is vital to maintenance of solidarity among the Western democracies. It is a great morale builder.

Britain is hard hit economically, but she is on the road to recovery and remains a tower of strength for the democracies.

Strength FOR THE DAY

WHAT MAKES RELIGION VITAL?

Some people's religious experience resembles a station-to-station telephone call; others, a person-to-person call. The station-to-station call is general in its nature, and maybe we reach the person we want to reach and maybe we do not. We pay more for a person-to-person call but we are sure to reach our party if he is anywhere to be reached.

Vital religious faith is a personal relationship between man and his Maker. There is nothing general about it. It is a specific matter in the widest sense of that term. God is a Person; true religious faith brings us in contact with this Person. Religion which consists wholly or chiefly in mere membership in an organization is never vital religion. Religious faith which pleases God and produces results brings man in contact with his Maker fills him with the joy of fellowship, gives him a sense of personal co-operation with a Power far above his own. Is your religious experience a station-to-station or a person-to-person matter? There is an eternity of difference between the two.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—As Chief Justice of the United States, Fred M. Vinson ranks next to the President in any line-up where protocol is strictly adhered to.

He had to take a backseat the other night, however, when he was a guest at the father and son banquet of the National Press Club. The sons had their eyes on the Redskins, Capital's professional football players, and rushed them for autographs.

"I know I'm strictly playing second fiddle," said the justice with mock bitterness when he got up to take a bow.

The Master of Ceremonies nevertheless built him up as a great athlete. He introduced him as a famous second baseman back in 1909, when he played intercollegiate baseball on the team of Centre College at Danville Ky.

"I refute the claim and the reputation. I was a shortstop—but, a pretty good shortstop," the justice said sort of wistfully, eyeing the youngsters.

"Now I've found out how I really rate with the young fry." Be that as it may, the Chief Justice ranks as No. 1 spectator-sportsman in capital circles.

Probably the most active muscle-builder in the President's cabinet is Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal. His devotion to physical exercises goes back to the time he entered college.

A rather puny chap, then, he was nicknamed "Runt." He went in for boxing, wrestling, tennis and setting-up exercises. A well-aimed blow in a boxing bout flattened his Irish nose, a mark he will carry through life.

Aside from the military aspects, Secretary of State Marshall's career as a student at Virginia Military Institute became athletics. During his last two years the six-foot, husky youngsters gained considerable fame in Virginia as a football tackle. Today he gets most of his exercise from horseback riding.

In his earlier years Secretary of Commerce Harriman was a polo player of note, was a member of the U. S. team that defeated the Argentinians in 1928. Still earlier he was a member of the Groton and of the Yale undergraduate crews. Now his principal diversions are skiing, bowling and croquet.

Secretary of Interior Krug played center on the University of Wisconsin's football team. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder plays an occasional game of golf, but for the most part top men in the government these days have little time for anything more strenuous than bridge, gin rummy or poker.

President Truman once in a while finds time to pitch a mean horseshoe on the back lawn of the White House.

Phantoms Play Kinston Tonight At 7:00; GHS Gym

Coch Boley Farley throws his 1948 edition of the Green Phantom cagers into their conference schedule tonight against the Red Devils of Kinston at the GHS gym. The contest, originally scheduled for tomorrow night, will be the G-Men's second.

In an effort to remedy the many weak points in the Phantom attack Coach Farley instituted a full practice schedule which continued over the Christmas holidays. Kinston and Greenville both dropped early season contests to the Wilson Cyclones by similar margins. The Phantoms looked very weak on both offense and defense in that game and dropped a 15 point decision to the class AA club.

All Billy Hodges along with Whaley and Jones spark the Devil quint while the Green men bank on Olynn Perkins and 64" George Minshew. Joe Allgood, Jimmy Cox, and Joe Sawyer will probably round out the Phantom five. The Phantoms will be at full strength except for Sam Northrop, lanky forward who suffered a sprained ankle during holiday practice.

The Jayvee squads of each school will square off in a preliminary duel at 7 p.m.

New Miler On Horizon

Washington, Jan. 5 — (AP) — Indoor track fans will have a new pair of heels to look at this season.

For Browning Ross of Villanova won the featured mile in the Washington Evening Star games Saturday night in 4 minutes 13.7 seconds — the fastest mile ever run here.

The time was the more remarkable because the race was run without spikes on an unbanked board track.

Ross hasn't been looked upon as a miler before because he has preferred the longer distances.

But Jack Milne of North Carolina who came in second and the favored Bill Hulce of the New York A.C. who ran a bad third, will back up the theory that this 22-year-old Navy veteran has plenty of the stuff good milers are made of.

Although Ross showed that the newcomers may create some stir when the 1948 Olympic jobs are passed out, the better known boys weren't swamped completely.

Herbert McKenley, the 400-meter champion from Jamaica, took the 600-yard invitation run in 1:13.5 beating Royce Crimmin of Brown. And Dave Albritton, skinny as a peg stick and as full of bounce, showed that at 35 he is still one of the world's great high jumpers.

Officially he cleared 6 feet 3 1/2 inches. But when the man at the public address system suggested he jump once more for the crowd, Albritton obliged—and leaped 6 feet 11 inches.

Nittany Lions Get Big Welcome
State College, Pa., Jan. 5 — (AP) — The Penn State football team got a rousing welcome on its return from the Cotton Bowl game.

A crowd of 2000 was on hand yesterday as the Nittany Lions arrived here after holding Southern Methodist to a 13-13 tie at Dallas, Tex., on New Year's Day.

Penn State Coach Bob Higgins told reporters he felt his team lost no prestige by emerging from the bowl game with no better than a tie.

National League Boss Confident Troubles Behind

By GAYLE TALBOT

New York, Jan. 5 — (AP) — The National Baseball League enters 1948 in the finest financial condition of its long career after having drawn more than 10 million fans last year, and with a flag race coming up that should curl the hair, says President Ford Frick with undisguised pleasure.

"For the first time in 15 years we haven't a problem in the world, financial or otherwise," he rhapsodized as he surveyed the snow-clad city from his office window high in Rockefeller Center. "All we have now are rich clubs, eager to grab the best of the new talent and not willing to sell anything. It's a great feeling."

So rapt was Frick in his contemplation of a problemless future at a fat salary that it was necessary to haul him by main strength out of his reverie and induce him to discuss the second of his new year treasures, the race itself.

"Ah, yes," he consented reluctantly. "It should be one of the greatest races ever. Any one of the eight clubs (Ed's note—That's all the National League has) could win it. It's mighty tough to figure. Some of the experts are talking about a four-club race—Brooklyn, New York, St. Louis and Boston. How can they overlook that Cincinnati club? Or Pittsburgh? Or Philadelphia? Or Chicago?"

"If they get a little in the right places, any one of those last four could be right up there. And all of them are spending money and bringing up the best they can find. Our whole league, as a matter of fact, is getting the cream of the young talent. I would be willing to bet, say, an ice cream soda that we beat the American League in six of the next 10 World Series."

Coaches Gather In New York For Grid Conference
New York, Jan. 5 — (AP) — New York will become a bustling football coaches' market this week when athletic chieftains from some 300 colleges and universities gather to talk mainly about the "sanity code" and grid rules changes.

Between 600 and 700 mentors are due in town to attend meetings in connection with the annual session of the National Collegiate Athletic Association—and many of them are bound to be sounded out by institutions seeking to fill coaching vacancies.

West Virginia, looking for a successor to Bill Kern, is reported sending up a special committee of the athletic council to interview about 15 prospects for the job.

Kramer Pulls Up Even With Riggs
Toledo, O., Jan. 5 — (AP) — Big Jack Kramer played brilliant tennis last night to overpower Bobby Riggs, 6-4, 7-5, before 3,755 in Toledo's new sports arena.

The triumph enabled the former amateur champion and Davis Cup hero to pull even at three matches apiece with the king of the professionals.

Picked Team To Play 'David' Men

By JACK HEDGEFETH

A picked group of East Carolina Teachers College All-Star Basketball players will play host to the popular and hilarious House of David basketballers Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the college gym.

The game will be an exhibition match.

The House of David, well known throughout the country for their display of court comedy, is nevertheless one of the top teams in basketball skill that is touring the country today. Boosting a record of over 2000 games played, the "Bearded Beauties" never fail to give their fans a look at some of the classiest floor work ever seen on a basketball court, mixed with a hardwood crowd that you have to see to believe.

Last year's engagement played before a capacity crowd, saw the hardwood downmen at their best as they "brought the house down" with a display of ramble classic basketball. The tilt won acclaim from students and outsiders as being one of the best entertainments presented all year at the college.

The KAISER and the FRAZER need no changes to bring them up-to-date!

You really should investigate what the Kaiser and the Frazer offer you before you buy any car! If you don't, you may let habit lead you into an investment which can soon be greatly depreciated. You might buy a "new" car which is merely a "face-lifted" prewar model. The chances are that such a "new" car will be obsolete when its manufacturer gets around to announcing a really new, postwar automobile! What happens to your investment then?

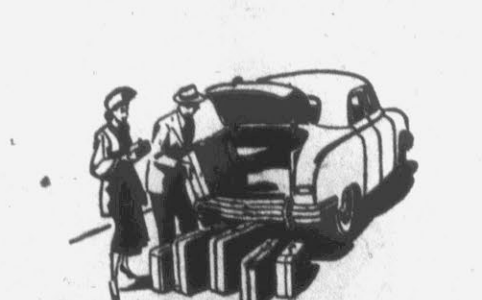

You take no such gamble when you buy a Kaiser or a Frazer. These cars are new from the ground up. And their newness is by no means confined to the styling which has been so flatteringly imitated! There is new design, new engineering and new manufacturing technique in virtually every feature of these ultra-modern cars. For proof, examine the Kaiser-Frazer exclusives described below — just a few among scores! Come in and see the others!

The ride you never forget! K-F's engineers discarded prewar ideas of chassis construction. By redistributing mass and load, and cradling both seats between the wheels, they created a ride never known before in any car.

Wider than high by 8 1/2 inches! But that's only half the story of the super-safe roadability of the Kaiser and the Frazer. A low center of gravity and effortless steering give you that feeling that car and road were made for each other!

Moving the rear seat well forward of the rear wheels provides twice as much luggage space as in the highest priced cars on the road! There is ample room for seven large bags in this spacious 27-cubic-foot compartment—in addition to the spare wheel and tire.

Two hundred miles is hardly half a tankful in a Kaiser or a Frazer! Many owners report phenomenal economy—24 miles to the gallon and more—in these cars equally acclaimed for their sprightliness in traffic and their hill-climbing power on the highways.

You pay the regular price • No trade-in necessary • Highest allowance on your old car • Immediate delivery!

Both cars are serviced with genuine factory parts, wherever you go, by one of the 4 largest automobile dealer organizations in the world.

Indicate Greek Guerrillas May Attempt Attack

Athens, Jan. 5—(AP)—Speculation that Greek guerrillas might attempt a new offensive in northwestern Greece was stirred today by reports of fresh troop movements across the Albanian border in the vicinity of Philates.

Greek press dispatches said the movements had been spotted by government reconnaissance planes north of that town, which is situated near the Albanian frontier about 38 miles southwest of Konitsa—target of a guerrilla drive which was smashed last week by government troops.

The dispatches also reported that the highway west of Konitsa still was under fire yesterday from a

Says MacArthur 'Receptive' To GOP Nomination

Madison, Wis., Jan. 5—(AP)—Douglas MacArthur, General of the Army and supreme commander for the allied powers in Japan, definitely has indicated that he would be receptive to the Republican nomination as president of the United States, a prominent supporter said today.

Wisconsin Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman said that a message from the general expressed the belief that "there can be no greater satisfaction than such as comes from the confidence reflected in the selection by one's neighbors for public service—no more challenging responsibility than lies in the fulfillment of their trust."

"I am sure," Zimmerman said.

Sixteen Missing In Hotel Debris

Jerusalem, Jan. 5—(AP)—Rescuers dug today into the debris of the Semiramis hotel for 16 persons missing after the three-story stone structure was leveled by a bomb which police said the Jewish underground had planted. Three persons were known dead.

One informant said the hotel was one of five district headquarters for an Arab military group. The known dead included Manuel Salazar Travesedo, acting Spanish consul. Seventeen were injured.

Grain Market

Chicago, Jan. 5—(AP)—A good demand for cash corn caused a rise in yellow grain futures on the board of trade today. With trading becoming very active, grains spurred to new highs in the closing minutes and ended just about at the day's tops.

UMT

(Continued from Page One) That's thrown more wood on the UMT fire. So in December, 1946 President Truman appointed a commission of civilians to tell him whether our youths need some form of compulsory training. This commission was made up of two college presidents, a former ambassador to Russia, a Catholic priest, a Protestant minister, a judge, a woman welfare worker, and a business man. This commission worked five months, heard more than 200 witnesses talk for and against UMT and turned in a 450-page report urging UMT right now. The eight commission members, unanimous about the need for UMT said it is an "urgent military necessity." This was in May, 1947. Spurred on by this report, the House Armed Services Committee in June started a month-long hearing listened to 28 witnesses, and okayed a bill for UMT. The bill went up to the House for action. But by then it was late in the summer of 1947 and the full House went home without acting on UMT. The bill, unchanged, still stands waiting for the House to tackle it now, or skip over it. The Senate has no similar bill ready to be acted upon. But the
