Businessmen Say Peak Costs Ebbing

Leaders Believe Inflationary Threat Fading, Cost Of Living Going Down But Economist Says High Price Danger Still Present

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A dozen top businessmen believe the peak of business activity has been reached, if not already passed.

But their two-fold prediction to government experts a week before the market break that (a) inflationary dangers are fading and (b) price downturn is ahead still draws don't-be-too-sure reaction from at least one federal economist.

The views of the corporation executives were outlined at the first of a series of six meetings suggested by the government. These are being arranged by Prentiss Cooney and Tupper said one big farm machinery company forecast a general price drop "after the middle of the year."

Others in the group represented railroads, insurance, banking, merchandising and food processing. They predicted factory building will decline from 1947 but home building will hold us as costs decline.

The government economist who discussed the meeting was not to be quoted by name.

"Much of what these businessmen say is true. We may be closer to the catching-up period than general price trends have indicated. But the inflationary current still is very strong."

Cooney and Tupper described the session as evidence of a "changing business psychology." They attributed last week's break in stock, bond and commodity prices to a "growing public awareness" of this change.

The business group generally agreed that a decline in business activity, "if and when it occurs, probably would not be so sharp as in 1929-31," Cooney and Tupper said.

"Nevertheless it was felt that in order to make adjustments to the period of high activity, enough recession would have to occur to cause business, labor and government to adopt sensible attitudes."

In holding that inflationary dangers are lessening, the business leaders cited these trends and views in support of their position:

Business firms are buying cautiously; merchants eight months ago stopped amassing stocks in anticipation of price rises.

In an "ever-growing" number of cases, prices are reflecting supplies equal to, or greater than, demand. European crop prospects appear good. This should balance off U.S. shortages. But adoption of the full Marshall Plan will hold food prices up.

There are "definite evidences" that labor unions wish to cooperate with management in avoiding further increase in costs.

Athens, Feb. 9.—(AP)—An official report from Salonika said today that Greek troops surprised 300 K. errillas north of Xanthi, a mile from the Bulgarian border, and killed 45 before the remainder fled across the border.

Italians List Who's To Get Warships In Treaty

Rome, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Russia will get two of Italy's modern long range submarines, it was announced today.

In all, Russia is to receive 27 warships—including the 18,000-ton battleship Julius Caesar, and two cruisers—and 13 auxiliaries under the Italian peace treaty.

The Italian government made public a list of 65 warships and 62 auxiliaries which will be delivered to Russia, France, Yugoslavia, Greece and Albania.

Actual delivery awaits agreement in a four-power naval commission meeting here.

Thirteen warships and 14 auxiliaries were awarded Britain and 14 warships and 12 auxiliaries given to the United States. The United States renounced its share and Britain renounced all but a few motor patrol boats.

Included among the heavier warships Russia will get are the 9,000-ton cruiser Duca D'Aosta, the 7,283-ton cruiser Emanuele Filiberto, and the destroyers Artigliere Fuciliere and Robotti. The submarines to be delivered are the Mare and Nicchio, of 600 tons each.

France is to receive three 3,362-ton cruisers and one light cruiser, of 1,625 tons.

France also will receive four destroyers, two submarines, six motor

Storm Hampers Army Search For Victim In Crash

Missing Sergeant Believed Alive; Four Dead And Five Hurt In Wreck

Saluda, N. C., Feb. 9.—(AP)—A heavy snowstorm hampered the search today for a missing sergeant in the wreck of an aircraft C-47 which crashed and burned near here Saturday, killing four military personnel and injuring five.

An army wreck truck struggled up snow-covered Little Smoky Mountain of lift the wreckage of the plane to determine whether the missing man was trapped inside. He was identified as T-Sgt. E. M. Shaw of Hartsville, S. C.

Two inches of new snow from a fall that started early today were already on the ground when the wreck and 100 men from the Greenville, S. C., airbase under Major T. J. Hieatt arrived to press the search. It was still snowing heavily as they struggled up the 2,600-foot mountain to join the party of 150 that had spent the night scouring the wooded mountains.

Fred Morris, Saluda Police Chief said the snow would make discovery of the body difficult should Shaw have wandered away from the wreck and fallen exhausted.

A few families live near the wreck scene, about 2 1-2 miles southwest of the place.

The five survivors were reported out of danger today at the Greenville airbase station hospital.

Morris estimated that 10,000 curious visited the vicinity of the wreck yesterday.

Captain Norman S. Baylis, Public Relations officer at Greenville, said it was flying on instruments in a hawk fog and getting down on the Greenville radio range when it hit the mountain. It was within 30 miles of its destination when it struck near the mountain top, plowed ahead for 300 yards, shearing trees 18-inches in diameter, and burst into flames.

Three men were burned to death and a fourth died in a hospital at Hendersonville.

Belief that Shaw may have escaped was bolstered by the report of military policemen that they heard unidentified cries as they guarded the plane the night of the crash.

One of the main subjects of business that will come before the committee will be the selection of a new District Chairman. The present Chairman is John G. Fleming, W. F. Young, District Commissioner, will give a report on the activities for Boy Scout Week.

Korea, Test For U.N.

Position Leading Up To Present Disorders In Southern Korea; Country Divided By Occupation Forces; Failure Of A UN Commission; U. S. Can't Pull Out

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

Sometime, somewhere, there must be a showdown between the big democratic majority of the United Nations and the Red minority comprising Russia and her satellites, who thus far have hamstrung the peace organization—and Korea may well furnish an early important (if not definitive) test.

The position leading up to the present disorders in southern Korea is this: At the end of the late war the hermit kingdom, as Korea was called, was occupied by Russian troops in the northern half and by Americans in the south. It was understood that the aim should be to consolidate the two areas and hold free elections for establishment of an independent Korean government.

Instead of pursuing this policy, Russia sealed off the north from the south completely and communized the Soviet section. At the same time Red agents made an intensive drive to organize Communist cells in the south and have done their best to create unrest among the people.

Indian Army Claims Victory In Kashmir Campaign; 2,000 Slain

New Delhi, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The Indian army said today 2,000 Moslem raiders were killed Friday in the greatest battle of the Kashmir campaign.

Another 2,000 were declared wounded in the engagement near Naothana, 60 miles northwest of Jammu, capital of the southern Kashmir province of Jammu.

The predominantly Hindu and Sikh forces of the Indian army were led by a Moslem, Brig. Muhammad Uman.

An official spokesman said 11,000 attackers struck in waves, using heavy automatic weapons. They were repulsed in daylight but came back at night for hand to hand combat featuring sword play. The spokesman did not report Indian losses. Newspaper dispatches said two of the slain appeared to be foreign officers.

The army said it captured quantities of munitions and was heavily shelling Moslem positions. Machine-gun and mortar fire were returned.

Indian and Kashmir state forces have been fighting Moslem tribesmen in Kashmir since last October. India, in which the state now is included, has accused neighboring Pakistan of supporting the tribesmen. The dispute is before the United Nations Security Council.

In India, two rival Moslem organizations were under government ban today in the latest aftermath to the assassination of Mohandas K. Gandhi.

The Kahkars and the Moslem League National Guard were outlawed throughout India yesterday. The Home Ministry said the reason is that they have contributed to communal strife. It accused the Guard also of aiming at "disintegrating the country." They are the first Moslem groups declared illegal in Hindu-led India.

The Hindu Rashtriya Swayam Sevak Sangh (RSS—National Volunteer Corps) was outlawed last Wednesday. The government explained its "cult of violence has claimed many victims," including Gandhi. That was two days after announcement of a general ban on private armies and groups preaching hate.

No statement was forthcoming yesterday on investigation of the administration of Alwar, little princely state south of New Delhi. The government says it is looking into a possible connection there with Gandhi's death. Alwar's Maharajah Tej Singh and Premier N. B. Khare have been called here.

(The Associated Press was in error in reporting Saturday that the Maharajah is a Sikh. He is a Rajput. His state is primarily Hindu.)

Some 1,200 RSS men have been arrested throughout India in the course of the assassination inquiry.

More Snow For State Predicted

Roads Expected To Be In Bad Condition By Mid-Afternoon

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A possible four to eight inches of snow for most of North Carolina and aleet for northern South Carolina was predicted by the Weather Bureau today.

Road conditions in most of North Carolina and in the northern part of South Carolina were expected to be hazardous by mid-afternoon, and motorists were advised not to start lengthy trips unless essential.

A light rain, sleet and snow hit the Greenville-Anderson-Spartanburg area in South Carolina early today. In North Carolina snow fell at Asheville and Charlotte, while Cherry Point got both snow and sleet.

Temperatures tumbled as a mass of cold air hit both states.

The Weather Bureau in Raleigh said that snow would fall in that area today, tonight and tomorrow with a heavy fall of sleet in eastern Carolina, parts of which were temporarily crippled only a week ago by heavy ice.

The thermometer started dropping rapidly in Raleigh this morning.

Group Orders Investigation Of Break In Market

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—An investigation of last week's commodity market break was ordered today by the House Committee investigating commodity trading.

Chairman August H. Anderson (R-Minn.) said the purpose will be to determine "the names and extent of operations of those who profited by advance inside information."

Anderson said Secretary of Agriculture Anderson will be requested to provide "complete information in regard to the leak which he states occurred in advance of the public announcement" of government grain purchasing plans.

The secretary yesterday denied published reports suggesting there had been an advance leak of official information on the government's grain buying plans. He said: "There was nothing in the nature of a market tipoff."

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations committee starts re-shaping the Marshall plan today. Reports are that Republican leaders may try to earmark $1,500,000 for loans only.

Rep. Harter (R-Mass.) of a committee which recommended separate management of the European recovery program, was said to be pushing the idea of setting aside part of the aid funds specifically for self-paying projects abroad.

Governors Set Up New Interstate College Plan

Compact Calls For Joint Financing And Operation Of Specialized Educational Facilities; Ratification Is Awaited

Wakulla Springs, Fla., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Southern governors pushed aside politics long enough yesterday to set up an interstate college plan which they hailed as the most important development of the past century in higher education.

They signed a nine-state compact calling for the joint financing and operation of south-wide colleges to offer top rate training in specialized and professional fields which no one state could afford on its own.

Their widely publicized revolt against President Truman's civil rights proposals was left in the hands of a committee where some thought it might cool off a little before they meet again on call within 40 days.

The regional education plan, calling for both white and Negro schools, won't become effective, however, until it is ratified by at least six state legislatures and is approved by the federal Congress.

While this legislative action is pending, a regional council will make a detailed survey of southern educational facilities and needs. The council will hold its first meeting at Gainesville, Fla., on March 4.

At that time, the council will also go further into the offer of Meharry Medical College trustees to turn over their institution at Nashville, Tenn. for the cooperative schooling of Negro doctors, dentists, nurses and pharmacists.

The compact signed by the nine governors provides for the participating states to contribute tax monies in proportion to their populations to a common pool for the regional schools.

Two or more states within the whole region could agree between themselves to operate joint colleges. The whole scheme could not be abandoned without unanimous consent of the participating states, but a state could withdraw on two years' notice.

Gov. Millard Caldwell of Florida said the signing of the compact was the "most significant step in high education in the South, and perhaps in the country, in the past century."

The pact was signed by the governors of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Texas, Florida, Mississippi, Maryland, Tennessee, and South Carolina. The governors of Louisiana, Kentucky, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Virginia and West Virginia were not present.

The governors' conference was called solely to discuss regional education, but it turned its attention Saturday to the President's request for laws against racial discrimination in employment and for anti-lynching, anti-poll tax, and anti-segregation legislation.

The governors capped their resentment of Mr. Truman's proposal by adopting a resolution asking for a committee to study just what the South can do about the proposed civil rights program.

Prices On Basic Food Items Drop At Retail Level

Chicago, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Some basic food items sagged a few cents at retail levels today as a result of the sharp price break last week on major commodity exchanges.

Lower prices for bread, flour, lard and meat were announced by several grocery chains as economist A. W. Zelomke of New York asserted "the back of inflation has been broken."

In announcing the price cutbacks an official of a Chicago grocery chain described the retail food business as "highly competitive" and added "we have to act fast" in response to shifting wholesale prices.

Similar announcements by other chain groups followed in rapid succession.

Although grains and some other commodities stiffened somewhat in Saturday's exchange trading after a three-day plunge, Zelomke expressed belief prices will drop from 20 to 25 per cent within the next nine months.

Rough Going For Rural Carriers On County Highways

Rural delivery mail carriers out of the Greenville postoffice had hazardous trips today on country roads trying to deliver the mail. The going was rough—extremely rough, they said, with today's heavy snowfall hiding some of the mud holes on the dirt roads.

Several carriers damaged their cars making deliveries the last three days of the past week. The carriers were unable to make deliveries the first three days of last week.

If mail delivery is stopped by the weather again, rural residents who do get to town may call for their mail at the postoffice, a postoffice official said today.

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—President Truman plans to visit Puerto Rico, The Virgin Islands and Cuba this month.

The White House announced today the President will fly from Washington on the islands tour February 20. He is to address the Jefferson-Jackson dinner here the night before.

He will spend the night of February 20 at the submarine base at Key West, Fla., and fly the next day to San Juan where he is due at 7:30 a. m. February 21.

State Assured Or Two New Representatives

Folger Out Of Running; Chatham Announces; Others Are After Clark's Seat

Raleigh, Feb. 9.—(AP)—As development followed development in North Carolina's swift-changing political scene, the state was assured today of having at least two new congressmen following November's general election.

Rep. John H. Folger of Mt. Airy, who has represented the Fifth Congressional District since 1941, caused a flurry of political activity in the district Saturday when he announced that he would not seek reelection.

Less than 24 hours later Thurmond Chatham, wealthy Winston-Salem blanket manufacturer who was defeated by Folger for the Democratic nomination in 1946 after two bitter primary battles, announced he would seek the post.

Others in the Fifth District who are considered as potential candidates are: State Rep. John Taylor of Stokes County, Ex-State Senator J. Hampton Price of Rockingham; L. K. Martin, Winston-Salem attorney; and State Rep. Winfield Blackwell of Winston-Salem.

Folger said he was retiring from Congress because "I just want to go back home x x and practice law with my son."

The state will have another new congressman in the Seventh District. Rep. J. Bayard Clark of Fayetteville announced last week that after 20 years of service he would not seek reelection.

Clark's surprise announcement already has brought a statement from S. Bunn Frink, Southport attorney and member of the State Ports Authority, that he would campaign for the post and a statement from T. A. McNeill, Lumberton attorney, that he was considering making the race.

McNeill said that "numerous friends and political advisers have asked me to become a candidate for the office vacated by Congressman Clark, but I am of the opinion that he (Clark) should be asked to reconsider his decision."

Japanese Prime Minister And Cabinet Resign

Tokyo, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Tired and downcast, Prime Minister Tetsu Katayama said tonight he and his cabinet resigned because they had been "riding a whirlwind."

His brief comment came in an exclusive interview. Then he entered General MacArthur's office to report circumstances leading to the end of the first cabinet under Japan's new constitution.

Katayama was the first Christian Prime Minister in the nation's history. He said he believed "some good" was accomplished during his seven months in office—a period beset by growing economic and political problems.

The 61 year old official declined to give his specific reasons for resigning.

Fire Drill Saves Blind Children

Pittsburgh, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Marching in single file as they had been taught, 11 blind children found their way to safety last night when fire broke out in the school for the blind.

The youngsters, ranging in age from five to 10, were sleeping on the school's second floor when the blaze started in a maid's room.

In perfect fire drill order, the children filed downstairs to an assembly room while firemen extinguished the blaze that caused damage estimated at about $400.

A Limit To Resources

Country Running Low On Basic Materials; Iron Ore Especially Noted; Implications; Taconite; Foreign Ores; The Security Angle; St. Lawrence Project

By BRUCE BROSSAT

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Americans, used to thinking they are eternally blessed with national resources, are having to face a new fact:

The country is running low on some of the materials it needs most. Secretary of Interior Krug issued another warning last week in his annual report. And the matter of iron bobbled up in Congress during debate on the St. Lawrence seaway.

Iron means steel, and steel is basic in our complete industrial life. It's the substance that goes into our bridges, skyscrapers, houses, automobiles, tractors, ships and trains.

All Krug said about iron ore was this: "Supplies of high-grade iron ore are limited."

He didn't say how limited. But others have.

McGrath Considers Showdown In Dixie

Grain Controls

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A Senate-House Economic subcommittee voted unanimously 6-0 today for restoration of controls on the liquor industry's use of grain through Oct. 31.

President Truman had asked Congress to reimpose these controls. They expired Jan. 31.

Mr. Truman said in a special message "that the shortage of grain jeopardizes the national security."

The subcommittee's recommendation goes now to the full economic committee.

Demand Reduce Tax Refund Rate

Overpayments Result In Refunds Totalling Near $3 Billions

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Fresh demands arose in Congress today that the government cut the interest it allows people and corporations who over-pay their income taxes.

Such overpayments resulted in refunds totaling $2,897,000,000 during the fiscal year which ended last June 30.

Edwin W. Pauley was on the list for $3,630. Eddie Cantor got $53,986. Charles Chaplin $13,402, and United States Steel Corporation got back $63,580,903.

In submitting its annual report to Congress of those given a refund or credit amount to $500 or more, the treasury did not specify how much represented interest.

But Chairman Tobey (R-NH) of the Senate Banking Committee noted to newsmen that the government allows six per cent interest on tax refunds, against an average of only about two per cent on its bonds. He said he thinks Congress should cut the interest rate to the lower figure.

Chairman Hoffman (R-Mich.) of the House Expenditures Committee, which received the treasury list declined comment. He said the interest rate is a problem for other commodities.

Hoffman's name was one of the tens of thousands shown in the tabulation. He was listed for a refund of $1,455 on income taxes.

Broadly Hint At U.S. Depression

Moscow, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Russian newspaper readers got a full account today of last week's drop in U. S. commodity prices and a broad hint that the American depression forecast by Soviet economists may be here.

The Moscow press gave big play to predictions by American economists of a major crisis. "The dispatch did not indicate that the newspapers devoted any space to U. S. economists with opposite views."

President Truman's declaration that there is danger of an economic crash if Congress does not regulate the price situation received wide play.

Wealthy Spinster Dies In Junk-Filled, Old Home

Lynbrook, N. Y., Feb. 9.—(AP)—A rag-wrapped 400-pound spinster—one of two reputedly wealthy sisters—died yesterday in the barricaded and junk-filled house where they had retired from the world ten years ago.

A doctor had to climb through a kitchen window to reach the body of Elsie Wolff, 43, who apparently died of a heart attack.

Police then battered down the nailed and bolted rear door of the crumbling, two-story, five-room frame house.

"Mother wanted us to live here," said the surviving sister, Edith, 47, who had cared for the semi-invalid Elsie.

Both sisters had attended New York University.

The sisters, their neighbors said, locked themselves in the kitchen after the death of their father, Harry, a well-to-do Lynbrook, Long Island, merchant. Their mother, Lena, died about 20 years ago.

Stacks of tin cans, boxes, newspapers and other debris littered the kitchen. The other rooms were crammed with junk and with merchandise—mostly unsalable—which they had removed from their father's store.

The house was without electricity, gas or water. A kerosene stove in the kitchen was the only comfort.

Democratic Chairman May Carry Truman Civil Rights Banner Into South With Invitation To Speak At Political Dinner In Atlanta

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Democratic chairman McGrath may carry President Truman's civil rights banner into the heart of Dixie next month for a showdown with balking southerners.

McGrath has been invited to speak at a Jackson-Jefferson Day dinner in Atlanta March 5. If he follows present inclinations, the national chairman will make Mr. Truman's 10-point civil rights program the core of his speech.

Before he does, however, McGrath is expected to tell the Georgia party organization just what he has in mind and give them a chance to withdraw the invitation.

In any event, the Democratic chieftain apparently is committed to no retreat from Mr. Truman's February 2 message to Congress which angered many Dixie Democrats.

In that message the President called for action to set up a fair employment practice commission, make lynching a federal offense, ban state poll taxes and do away with "Jim Crow" rules on trains and buses.

Although southerners almost unanimously condemned these, evidence developed that many are reluctant to break away from the party.

Senator Hill (D-Ala) put the view of this group into these words: "I'm for states' rights but I'm for President Truman's election."

Southern Governors demonstrated something of the same reluctance to both despite a demand by "Jim Isipps" Gov. Fielding H. Wright that they call a separate convention to name "independent" Presidential electors.

The Governors shouldered this move aside at their Wakulla Springs Fla. conference. They did, however, vote (1) to set up a committee to carry the South's complaint to Washington and (2) to meet again in 40 days to take a second look at the situation.

McGrath's Atlanta speech is scheduled just 26 days hence.

If he makes his address there, the national chairman is expected to remind the southerners that they have no practical place to go if they leave the Democratic party.

The same tack already has been taken by Senator Sparkman (D-Fla) who managed the Congressional campaign for the party in 1946.

"After all," Sparkman told North Carolina Democrats at Greensboro Saturday night, "what would the south have to gain by bolting the Democratic party? Certainly we can expect little consideration from

Jean Lane Show in Art Gallery

A solo exhibit by Jean McIver Lane of the Art Department of East Carolina Teachers College opened on February 2 in the local art gallery.

Miss Lane was born in Goldsboro. Her father, William Cobb Lane, was a school administrator in High Point, Albemarle and Sanford and a teacher of science for 25 years. On her mother's side she is descended from the well-known McIver family and a cousin of the late Dr. Charles D. McIver. She was educated at Woman's College U.N.C., Columbia University and the University of Penn. She had painting instruction from Gregory Ivy at Woman's College, George Martin of Columbia University and Elliott O'Hara of Washington, D.C. and George Rocks Beach, Maine. Miss Lane has taught art in Southern Pines, Durham and Winston-Salem city schools. She designed book covers for J. B. Lippincott Co. of Philadelphia. This is her third year at East Carolina Teachers College and she is now acting head of the art department.

The exhibition at the gallery contains 34 paintings which cover a variety of subjects: there are several local scenes, one a scene of trees on the local campus, another called Tar River at Greenville, Washington Park, a suburb of our neighboring town is also represented with several paintings of majestic trees. There are portraits, still-lives, landscapes, sand dunes, flowers—two of flower paintings are of the beautiful rhododendrons of Western N. Carolina. Several of the paintings are scenes in the New England states, made last summer while Miss Lane was studying and painting with Mr. O'Hara. She says many of these were painted especially for this show in Greenville. The artist has used as her medium of work, water-colors for the most part but oils, serigraphs and woodcarvings will also be found in the exhibit. It's an interesting show, particularly interesting to everyone in our section of the state and locally where the artist is well known and admired for her work as teacher, civic and religious worker, contribution to the music life of the community, possessing a beautiful contralto voice, as well as for her paintings.

Ted Weems Has Versatile Orchestra
Ted Weems and his orchestra, who will play for a dance in Greenville February 17, are equipped to "swing 'em hot or play 'em sweet." He features the old combination of four brass, four sax and three rhythm, with the accent on individual performers backed up by smooth orchestrations.

Weems comes from a musical family but it took a contest to start Ted on the musical road. When he was a small boy he wanted a pony, so he entered a contest that offered ponies for the first three winners.

Ted won fourth prize, which was a violin, and his father told him that since he had won it he might as well learn to play it. He and his brother Art played for socials, church functions and schools in Pittsburgh but his first professional chance came as a member of the Mason Dixon Seven. Ted and his brother were billed as the "Million Dollar Twins," although they were not twins and earned just three dollars and a half per night.

After he organized his own band Ted turned song composer and wrote a song called "Uptime." On the arrangement sheet he instructed the band to "swing it" on the last chorus. This was the first time this phrase was used and it ushered in a new era in dance music.

One of Ted Weems favorite people is Leopold Stokowski, the famous conductor. Stokowski told Weems that the intonation of his orchestra was the best he had heard in a popular band.

Ted's music-library contains arrangements covering 800 tunes and is valued at $40,000.

The Golden Text Romans 8:9: "Ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you."

Among the citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible: "Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath to the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein: I am the Lord." (Isaiah 42: 6, 8 to 1st.) And from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit, God, has created all in and of Himself. Spirit is eternal, divine" (Page 335).

Blizzard Lashes This Area With New Snow Fall

By CHESTER WALSH

Old-timers today were reviving their belief in the old legend that if the groundhog comes from his winter hibernation on the second day of February and the sun is shining enough for him to see his shadow, that that is a sign or portent that there will be 40 more days of winter weather. The weather prognosticating varmint did see his shadow last Monday, but the next day was a beautiful sunny one. Since then the sky has been overcast by low-hanging clouds and drizzling rain much of the time. Some of the sleet and snow which fell more than a week ago is still on the ground.

Mrs. C. E. Maiden, U. S. Weather observer in the Greenville area, reported today that the temperature at 8 a.m. today was 29, three degrees below freezing.

Fine snow, whipped by a stiff wind from the northeast, started falling here shortly after 9 o'clock today. The fleecy flakes were sticking on the frozen ground.

Fuel oil and coal dealers sent out another warning to householders and others that there is a fuel shortage and urging that they conserve their fuel supplies. They suggested that householders not try to heat an entire house. What fuel supplies are now on hand — and that's not much — is being carefully apportioned by the dealers.

People of the United States normally consume 100 million pounds of tea a year, enough to make about 90 billion cups.

'Spiritual Rebirth' Sought By City 200 Years Old

Reading, Pa. —(AP)— This 200-year-old city is "seeking spiritual rebirth" as it observes its bicentennial this year.

That is how religious leaders interpret the official seal chosen by the City Fathers to mark the celebration which is continuing throughout 1948. Using traditional "Pennsylvania Dutch" symbols of a heart and tulip, the seal expresses gratitude for the past generosity of God and the hope of establishment of God's Kingdom on earth by the spiritual rebirth of the city's citizens.

Reading was founded in 1748 by the Quakers Thomas and Richard Penn, sons of William Penn. Most of Reading's early settlers were DP's seeking refuge from religious persecution abroad. The German Moravians and the Brethren joined the Quakers, and their religious traditions strengthened the first pioneers.

"The deeply religious character of the founding fathers and the religious tradition which has marked its people through the years are fittingly represented in the symbolism of the official bicentennial seal," declared Dr. E. E. Fischer, president of the Lutheran Pennsylvania Ministerium, Philadelphia. "We ask that the Providence of God will continue to rest over this prosperous community in the years that lie ahead."

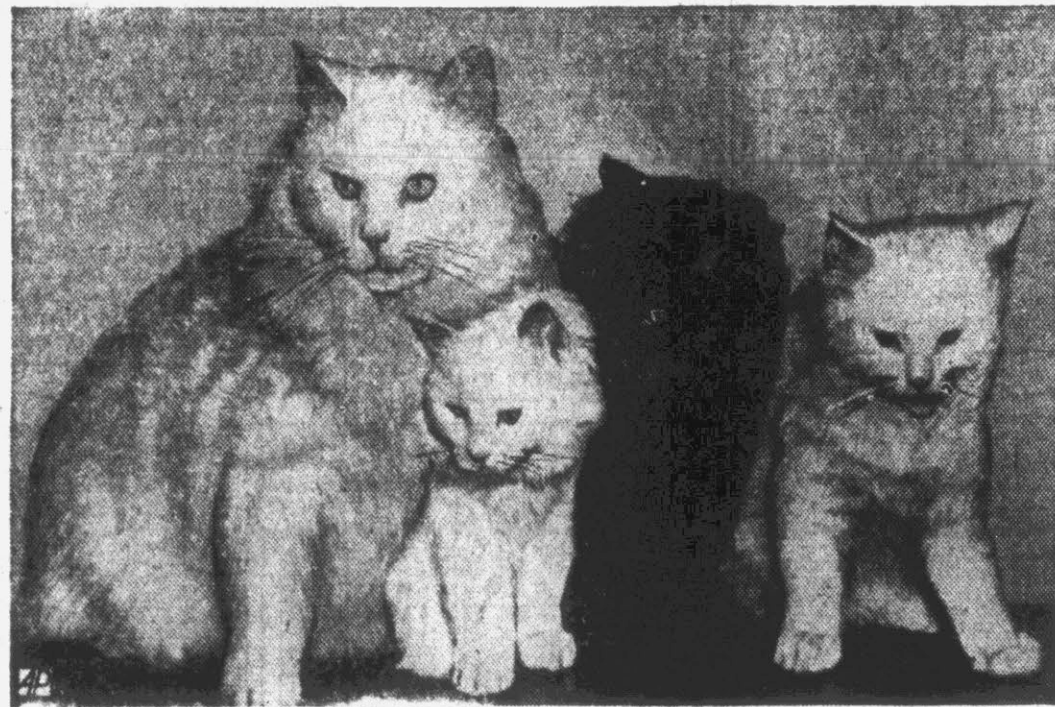

Denis Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia, declared the symbolism should "serve to remind the people of Reading and Berks County of the One True God, and their obligations toward Him."

Praise was also forthcoming from Rt. Rev. Henry K. Sherrill, Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church, while Rev. Kenneth G. Hamilton speaking for the Moravians, noted the "need for spiritual emphasis in these days."

The so-called "wailing wall" in Jerusalem is believed to be a remnant of King Solomon's temple.

Mrs. Annie M. Godley Died Early Sunday

Mrs. Annie M. Godley, 74, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carrie Holiday, 206 West Fourth Street, Greenville, at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning. She had been in failing health for several years and critically ill for a week. Funeral services were conducted from the Christian Church in Grimesland this afternoon at 2:30 by the pastor, the G. H. Sullivan of Wilson. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery in Greenville.

Mrs. Godley, daughter of the late J. D. and Polly Ann Stokes Adams, was born and reared in Pitt county. She was married in 1895 to W. B. Godley of Beaufort County. They moved to Grimesland in 1906 and she had resided there since that time. Mr. Godley died in 1933. Mrs. Godley was a member of the Christian Church in Grimesland.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Carrie Holiday of Greenville, Mrs. Ehl G. Tucker of Grimesland and Mrs. W. L. Stell of Petersburg, Va., six grandchildren; six great-grandchildren, and a brother, Tom Adams of Chocowinity.

BOWLING BOOMING IN LAND OF BIRTH

Berlin—(AP)—Bowling, the American way, is becoming a highly popular sport in Germany—the country where, according to tenpin historians, the game originated. Reports from the U. S. Zone of Occupied Germany say that 76 alleys are in use throughout that area with another 54 being installed.

Strength FOR THE DAY

UNDER COVER

For anyone who loves trees and shrubs, it is a gruesome sight to see them being eaten up by pests. Take the tent caterpillar, for instance. He builds his castle of destruction, enclosing it in a huge web. He can bring trees to the ground as surely as can the ax men.

But at that, he is not so ruthless as the aphid, and for the simple reason that the aphid does his worst work out of sight. You can look at the tree and see what the caterpillar is doing but the aphid gets under the leaves and stems and eats his way about until the limb is dead, and finally the tree. The caterpillar is out in the open. He invites the exterminating torch. But the aphid accomplishes his ruinous design before anyone realizes that something catastrophic is taking place.

Likewise, the person who is out in the open with his sin and devilry is easier to deal with than the sneak or the hypocrite. And the sins in ourselves or others which we can see plainly and deal with summarily are not nearly so ruinous—no matter how bad they are—as the sins which lurk deep and do their evil under cover.

Watch out for the aphid—for the aphid which destroys trees, and for weaknesses of aphid nature which destroy the soul.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington — Mrs. Truman was belle of the ball that Mrs. Perle Mesta gave for visiting radio girls to wind up their three-day convention.

"Why, she just seems to be like one of us," said several of the girls afterwards.

The day before the first lady had entertained for the women broadcasters at a White House tea. The President, who usually stays away from these affairs, made a surprise appearance, and Mrs. Truman mingled with the group, urging them to taste the chocolate cakes or "brownies," which she said were "very good."

Ranking guests with Mrs. Truman at Mrs. Mesta's party were Mrs. Fred Vinson, wife of the chief justice, and many cabinet wives, all decked out in their most elegant evening gowns. Margaret Truman was also on hand, as were other young women of the capital's official family, including Dr. Snyder, daughter of the secretary of the treasury.

Dr. Snyder, a brunette, is a radio commentator herself. She has her own program on a local station, and old-timers in the business say she's got a real future before her.

Small flower-decorated tables had been set up throughout the spacious rooms of the United Nations was the motif for both decorations and the unusual food served from five different buffet tables.

"John Bull" presided at one where English dishes, such as the famous beefsteak and kidney pie, were served. French, Chinese Russian and American dishes were temptingly offered from the others by young girls costumed in native dress of the four countries.

Turkey, with cranberry sauce, ham with hot potato salad, and a tomato aspic featured the American dishes. Borscht and planked sturgeon headed the Russian menu, chop suey and chow mein the Chinese. Little cakes, pastries and ice cream burdened the French table.

Mrs. Mesta, who is co-chairman with Wilson Wyatt of the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinners highlighting the centennial celebration of the Democratic Party, conceived a special decoration of political character for Mrs. Truman's table.

The centerpiece consisted of a series of six tableaux in which the Democratic donkey and the Republican elephant engaged in a boxing match. The donkey was the victor. Republicans and Democrats got a kick out of the show, with the Republicans trying desperately to revive the fallen elephant in the last tableau.

While still living up to her reputation as the capital's No. 1 hostess, Mrs. Mesta is, according to co-workers at National headquarters, one of the town's hardest working Democrats.

She spends hours every day at headquarters on preparations for the dinners, which are to be held Feb. 19 and thereafter throughout the nation. The dinner planned here for one leading hotel grew so big that it was decided to stage a "twin" dinner at another with distinguished guests equally divided between the two hotels.

President Truman will dine at one and move to the other to speak. Close to 3,000 are expected to attend the dinners here, where 20 pretty girls, daughters of Democratic officials, wearing costumes of 100 years ago, will distribute the souvenir programs.

Mrs. Hoard Braucher, president of the National Recreation Association, 315 Fourth Avenue, (New York City), has appealed to the women of all churches in America to adopt the slogan, "Every child is my child," as they approach May Fellowship Day, May 7. She urges that in all communities church women ask these questions: Is there backyard play arrangements to pre-school-age children? Is there a safe swimming place? Space for tennis and other sports? Is the school used for recreation as well as education? And if any answer is "no," that efforts may be made to correct the situation.

The Rev. James L. McIlwain, missionary in Jubbulpore, Central Provinces, India, recently traveled "the pilgrim trail" to sacred Badrinath Temple, high in the Himalayas. "Of all the pilgrims, none touched my heart more than the widows," he says. "Widowhood is considered a curse among Hindus for it is thought that the wife must have done some great wrong to cause her husband's death. As a result, she will be punished by being reborn a woman. One escape offered is that of death while on a pilgrimage. If she dies, her soul will no longer know rebirths but will become one with God. So, after a beautiful ceremony of dismissal with shaved head, the widow begins her pilgrimage."

In an appeal to the people of the world on the occasion of the thirty-sixth year of the Republic of China, Mme. Sun Yat-sen, widow of the founder of the Chinese Republic, and sister of Madame Chiang Kai-shek, asked for help so that her people might have "the power to lift themselves from the drudgery of poverty." She says, "We are asking you to continue the programs (of relief) that help the people to help themselves. . . . We have the prospect of becoming wholesome human beings, able to contribute to world livelihood and culture. If we are to achieve these earth-moving tasks, we must continue to receive outside help for those projects which reach the people in the fields of medicine, child care, education, and industrial co-operatives."

Seek Cause Of Airliner Mishap

Propellor Crashed Through Fuselage In Flight Killing One

Miami, Fla., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Investigators today sought the cause of a freak mishap that killed a crew member and imperiled the lives of 68 other persons aboard a giant Eastern Air Lines Constellation.

The plane, with a flight attendant dead, its No. 3 engine propeller gone and No. 4 engine out of control, groped through clouds for 300 miles before making an emergency landing at Bunnell, Fla., Saturday afternoon.

At the controls were Capt. Henry T. Merrill, famous EAL pilot and transatlantic flyer and Pilot W. E. Johnson. They brought the big plane to an emergency landing at an abandoned Navy auxiliary field after radioing they were preparing to "ditch" the craft in the ocean.

The plane, enroute from Boston and New York to West Palm Beach and Miami, was about 100 miles east of Brunswick, Ga., when the No. 3 engine threw its propeller.

The prop ripped through the fuselage and killed Flight Attendant Gilbert Paul Polz of Evansville, Ind., who was in the galley. It also knocked out the plane's radio and cut the controls of the No. 4 engine.

Near-Forgotten Law Is Revived; Peace In Town

Bedford, Pa., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Things were pretty quiet in this community Saturday night and according to Assistant Police Chief H. A. Clark, they're going to stay that way—thanks to a 76-year-old law.

Under the law, almost forgotten since its passage in 1872, five women and 75 men have been banned from buying beer or liquor as persons of "known interperate habits."

A list of those involved has been posted in each of Bedford's 11 bars, Clark said, and all tavern owners have been informed they will be subject to a fine of $25, 30 days in jail and possible liquor license suspension for selling drinks to offenders.

"We just decided we'd put up with these people long enough," said Clark yesterday. "We got tired of helping them home at night. If we brought them in and fined them, we were working a hardship on their families. This will work better."

The list will be revised every 90 days, Clark said, with the understanding that an improvement in conduct will bring a restoration of drinking privileges.

Attorney Urged Enter Candidacy

Lumberton, N. C., Feb. 9.—(AP)—T. A. McNeil, local attorney, said over the weekend that "numbourn friends and political advisers have asked me to become a candidate for the office vacated" by Rep. J. Bayard Clark, who announced last week he will not seek reelection as representative from the seventh North Carolina district.

McNeil said he would make no further statement until he had conferred with Clark and asked him "to reconsider his decision," not to run.

Will Investigate Mine Explosion

Greenwood, Ark., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Investigators will go into the Sunshine Coal Mine near here today seeking the cause of an explosion that killed eight miners, three of them brothers.

The blast occurred yesterday afternoon as the day and night shifts were preparing to change. All the dead were day workers. Three night shift miners, who had entered the mine a few minutes before the accident, escaped injury.

Osteopaths On New VA Basis

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The Veterans Administration today put osteopathic physicians on the same basis as doctors of medicine in its "home town" medical care program.

Dr. Paul B. Magnuson, chief medical director of VA, said veterans receiving treatment away from VA hospitals or clinics now may ask for the services of an osteopath.

TROUT FISHERMAN—W. R. Fithian, president of the Kansas City chapter of Missouri Trout Fisherman's Association, prepares for opening of the state season March 1 by unlimbering one of his 24 fly rods to test its balance.

Trolley Stolen By Man Wearing Transit Uniform

Baltimore, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Police speculated today whether a retired motorman's itch to get behind the controls again accounted for a trackless trolley theft.

The legitimate operator, Andrew Pugh, had left the car only for a moment, to make a report in the barn, when an informant ran in and shouted:

"Your trolley's been stolen! It's gone east on eastern avenue."

Before the unscheduled run was over the car had defied a policeman's whistle to go through a red light, picked up a passenger, and damaged an automobile. The borrower continued his flight on foot, and witnesses said he wore a transit company uniform.

Company officials could only suggest he was somebody "who no longer is in our employ."

Fashion World Is Double-Crossed

Paris, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Christian Dior, the designer who introduced the look that last year was called new, has crossed up the fashion world again. He's shortened skirts this year.

Not much, just enough to trick the Paris experts who had quite frankly expected him to lengthen them some more.

To be exact, the difference this year amounts to only an inch, or from 13 inches above the ground to 14. Aside from that, which didn't appear too world-shaking to the laymen present, Dior's three-hour show yesterday presented no startling innovations.

Plan Circulate Wallace Petition

Greensboro, N. C., Feb. 9.—(AP)—The Progressive Party's Executive Committee announced that beginning this week petitions will begin circulating to put the party on the North Carolina ballot next November.

The recently formed party which is supporting Henry A. Wallace for president stated that:

"Top-flight counsel has been employed to get the petition drawn in proper legal form. Numerous requests have been coming in from people all over the state who want to begin collecting the 10,000 signatures necessary to get a new party on the ballot."

U.S. Holds Third Place In Olympics

Games Ended But Discord Over Hockey Lingers On; Intense Competition As Sweden And Norway Top Field

St. Moritz, Switzerland, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The fifth winter Olympic games were ended, but the discord of an unprecedented ice hockey row lingered on today as the athletes headed for their homes in 28 nations.

Sweden won the majority of honors during the 10 days of competition. The United States finished third in total points.

The United States provided an unexpected heroine in Mrs. Gretchen Fraser, winner of the women's special slalom and second in the Alpine combination ski event.

France's Henri Oreiller was the star individual performer, winning two first places in downhill skiing and the Alpine combined.

But long after these performances are forgotten, the tug-of-war over which of two United States hockey teams should represent the U.S.A. will be remembered.

The U.S. Olympic Committee hockey team came, saw, and remained just tourists in this picturesque Alpine resort, where tattered bunting flaps lastly over worn and dirty snow.

Initial, the Amateur Hockey Association of America, was accepted as the U.S. entry by the Swiss Olympic Committee. The A.H.A. team placed in the nine-team tournament, and finished a good fourth behind Canada, Czechoslovakia and Switzerland. This fourth place, however, will ever show in Olympic records.

For the International Olympic Committee ruled out the A.H.A. entry. Brundage, American I.O.C. member, said the A.H.A. represents commercial interests in ice hockey. The I.O.C. also decreed that the International Ice Hockey Federation, of which the A.H.A. is a member, shall no longer be the governing body of amateur ice hockey throughout the world.

The I.O.C. struck boldly to prevent future disputes. It made a draft rewrite of the Olympic regulations, which Edstrom acknowledged were "contradictory." After final polishing, they will be published, probably next summer.

Competition was intense. Only 12 1-2 points separated Sweden from fourth-place Norway in the Associated Press team tables based on 10-5-4-3-2-1 points for the first six places.

The final standings: Sweden 52 points, Switzerland 77, United States 73 1-4, Norway 69 1-2.

Trouble Ahead For ECTC Quint

Pirates Now Lead Conference But Big Tour Coming Up

Greensboro, Feb. 9.—(AP)—East Carolina Teachers College, leading the North State basketball race with a 3-1 record, faced plenty of trouble this week when the Pirates take on four conference foes in a western tour of the state.

ECTC, idle over the weekend, was tied with Appalachian until Saturday night. Eton shaded the Appa 44-42 to drag them down to second place in the standings with a record of six wins and three defeats.

The rest of the standings showed Catawba in third, followed in order by Lenoir Rhyne, High Point, Eton, WCTC, Guilford and AOC.

Bob Tate of WCTC still leads the scoring parade with 229 points. Leo Kantowski, Lenoir Rhyne freshman, bobbed up to second place from fifth by garnering 50 points in four games for a total of 201.

This week's schedule: Monday—WCTC at WCTC, Catawba at Newberry.

Tuesday—Appalachian at Guilford, ECTC at WCTC, Catawba at Woford, AOC at High Point.

Wednesday—AOC at Eton, ECTC at Lenoir Rhyne.

Trackster Rates Dodds As Best Of His Pupils

Boston, Feb. 9.—After backtracking over his 40-odd years of coaching, the veteran Jack Ryder today rated Old Dodds, the Boston A.A.'s famed flying person, as the greatest of his pupils who have won a total of 93 national track championships since 1907.

Dodds rocked the sports world a week ago Saturday when he lowered his own indoor mile record from 4:06.4 to 4:05.3 but his mentor says he can wreck several other marks. "Old is in such wonderful shape this season that I'm certain he can set new records at every distance from 1,000-yards to three-miles if given an opportunity," Ryder boasts.

While gaining his 21st consecutive indoor mile victory here Saturday night, Dodds, without the slightest competition, turned in a 4:06.1 stint, the fastest that distance has been run indoors in Boston.

Race Attendance Is Falling Off

Miami, Fla., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Attendance at Greater Miami horse racing tracks was slightly under a year ago as the second half of the season began today. Wagering, however, had dropped $3,826,355. The gate count was down 2,704.

Through Saturday, $44,769,437 was wagered by 709,044 fans over a 58-day period covering 38 at Gulfstream Park and the first 20 of Hialeah's 40-day meeting. Gulfstream lost two days due to a horsemen's strike over purses.

Austria 51, Finland 49, France 39, Italy 25, Canada 24 1-4, Belgium 18, Britain 15, Hungary and Czechoslovakia 10, Holland 6, and Poland 1.

The Americans won three firsts. One was in its old specialty—the four-man bobsled event which went to the daring team piloted by Frank Tyler of Lake Placid, N.Y.

The other two were "first-time" firsts—18-year-old Dick Button of Englewood, N.J., in men's figure skating, and Mrs. Fraser, Vancouver, Wash., housewife, in the special slalom.

Two Intramural Quints Boasting Perfect Records

Hardwood Battles During Week Put Norport And Bulldogs On Top

By BERNARD WEST

This week's round of men's intramural basketball at ECTC terminates with two quints boasting perfect records and riding in a two-way tie on top of the 18 intramural cage squads at East Carolina.

The Norport quint and the Bulldogs each have three wins out of three starts to their credit to share top-place honors in the tournament.

These two hardwood aggregations will be matched in next week's feature intramural scrap in order to decide the top contender for the intramural crown.

Second place in the tournament is held by a lone contender, the scrappy Ramrod quint. The Ramrods have conquered three of their four opponents for a .750 percentage.

Five teams share third place positions. They are the Greenville Phantoms, the Manteo Redskins, the Wild Kids, the Peona All-Stars and the Buccaneers. Each team battling for the third spot position is plugging a .667 percentage, with each having two wins out of three starts.

Hardwood battles raged in the intramural race this week about the Bulldogs, Norport, the Greenville Phantoms, the Cellar Dwellers the Moonshiners, the Vampires, the Peona All-Stars and the Ramrods emerging victorious. The starting Bulldogs humbled the heretofore unbeaten Buccaneers with a 30-7 drubbing while Norport made Louisville's Wildcats howl with a 41-20 defeat.

Greenville's Phantoms handed the Burlington Bees their third setback, 31-28, and the Cellar Dwellers climbed from the cellar to paste the Rocky Mount Lovers 24-18. The Moonshiners clipped Hopewell's Cagers 28-27 for the Virginia lads' second loss and the Moonshiners' second win. The Vampires clinched their first win as they dumped New Bern's Bears 23-11. The All-Stars from Peona moved into the five-way tie for third place with a close 16-14 triumph over the Lillington Tigers and the high-flying Ramrods edged Kingston into the fourth place race with a 28-28 victory.

The standings of the East Carolina Men's Intramural Tournament are:

Ticket Scramble In Baltimore To See Louis Bout

Baltimore, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Local fight fans are scrambling for tickets to get a chance to see for themselves tonight if it's true what they say about Joe Louis.

The world's heavyweight champion is scheduled to go four rounds against Leo Matriciani, an ambitious Baltimore fighter, in a four-round no decision exhibition.

Ringsiders said Louis' reflexes were slow in his December title bout with Jersey Joe Walcott in New York, and that he was no longer the vaunted Brown Bomber of his younger days.

There is every indication Louis considers tonight's engagement as not much more than a personal appearance. It is to be his last U.S. appearance before sailing for England.

Matriciani, on the other hand, seems determined to make a fight of it.

He's been training just as hard as he does for a regular bout. The young heavyweight says he's not going to run from Joe.

"The champ took this bout because he needs work to prepare for his next title fight," Matriciani explained, "and he will appreciate the tactics I propose to use."

"Louis can't recover his coordination by just fooling around and so far as I am concerned, I want to help him and at the same time help myself."

"If I make a decent showing, it will enable me to get other bouts."

Williams-Minelli Matched Tonight

Philadelphia, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Lightweight Champion Ike Williams from Trenton, N.J., and Livio Minelli, welterweight from Italy, meet in a 10-round non-title bout tonight at the Arena with a summer shot at Ray (Sugar) Robinson as the possible prize.

The Williams-Minelli contest has attracted widespread interest and is expected to bring a capacity crowd of 10,000 fans to the ringside.

Both fighters will be risking 12-fight win strings.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Charles A. Comiskey the Third, 22-year-old grandson of the Chicago White Sox founder, has been elected president of the Waterloo, Ia. Three I League club—the beginning of a baseball executive career which eventually will lead to the presidency of the White Sox.

Young Comiskey, who recently graduated from St. Thomas College, Northfield, Minn., will move to Waterloo within the next two months. Waterloo, a White Sox farm club, won the 1947 Three I League playoff championship.

Pirates Tounce Duke 'B', 57-44

Thrift Sparks Team To Victory In Non-Conference Contest

By JACK HEDGEPETH
The E.C.T.C. Pirates, led by Roger Thrift, Jack Everett and Charlie "Bill" Moye, won their second game in as many days Saturday night, when they tounded the Duke "B" basketball team in a non-conference tilt in the local college gym.

Sparked by freshman forward Roger Thrift with 19 points, the Pirates rolled up a commanding lead in the first half and led at half-time 35-17.

The Blue Imps threatened only once. At the ten minute mark in the first half, they moved ahead 13-12, but two quick baskets by C. B. Moye sent the Pirates ahead where they remained the rest of the way.

Employing the use of the same defense they used in stopping Lenoir Rhyne Friday evening—a close man-to-man defense—Coach Porter's aggregation held the Blue Imps to five goals from action in the first half.

Charlie "Bill" Moye broke the home-court jinx that has hung over him this year, and racked up 16 points, but had to concede high scoring honors to Roger Thrift who bagged 19 Jack Everett was true on 3 field goals and five out of 5 free tosses for 11 points.

Best for the Baby Dukes was L. Leuffer with 11.

Lineups: Duke — Thompson 6, Stone 2, Lauffer 11, Farinella 8, Penny 8, Simmons 9.

E.C.T.C.—C. Moye 16, Everett 11, Thrift 19, Eton 2, Moye 6, Maennle 3, Wilson, Flye, Bauer, Harrison.

Livestock Market Feels Price Break

Grain Prices Begin To Stabilize But Other Commodities Fall Off; Cautious Attitude Evident In All Economic Quarters

New York, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Grain prices began to stabilize today but the price break spread suddenly to the livestock market.

Hogs fell to the lowest price since January 6, 1947, and cattle slid as much as $3 a hundredweight. Lambs also were down.

Cotton prices fell again in New York and wholesale butter prices in New York dropped 3 1/4 cents a pound for top grade Rubber and hides were up.

Retail prices of flour, lard, bacon, steaks and bread continued to decline, but the movement was on a relatively small scale and there was no certainty that it was permanent.

In Washington, the house committee investigating commodity trading ordered an inquiry into last week's market break. Committee Chairman August H. Andresen (R-Minn.) said it wished to determine the "names and extent of operations of those who profited by advance inside information."

Industrial Boom In South Noted

Baltimore, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The "Blue Book of Southern Progress" notes an industrial boom in the 16 states below the Mason-Dixon line. The Blue Book, just published by the manufacturers record of Baltimore, says the South turned out nearly three times as many manufactured products last year as it did in 1939.

On the basis of incomplete data, it placed the value of Southern manufacturing products in 1947 at about $30,000,000,000. Approximately $11,200,000,000 in such products were turned out in the Southern states in 1939.

County Roads Now Almost Impassable; Schools Are Closed

The Pitt County schools, which were scheduled to reopen today, are scheduled to resume classes Wednesday, but school officials, in the face of the near-blizzard prevailing over this section today, are inclined to postpone the reopening until better conditions prevail. Dirt roads in all sections of the county are almost impassable, this who have ridden on them, said. The ground had been frozen to a considerable depth, and several days of thawing the latter part of last week made the roads spongy and hazardous.

Greenville city schools were in session today, but school officials indicated that if the snowstorm continues the schools will go on short time again and close daily at 1 p. m.

Heart Operation Success; Holds Promise Of Life

Valvular Obstruction Successfully Removed; Latest Medical 'Miracle'

Charleston, S.C., Feb. 9.—(AP)—A delicate heart operation which offers hope to thousands of rheumatic fever victims was performed successfully for the first time here 10 days ago by Dr. Horace C. Smith, assistant professor of surgery at the medical college of the State of South Carolina.

As a result of the operation a 21-year-old Canton, O., girl who had been given only a slim chance to live another year now can look forward to a fairly normal existence.

The girl, Betty Lee Woolridge, is up and about at Roper Hospital today and will return to her home later this week—the first human being ever to have a heart valve obstruction successfully removed.

When Betty Lee was 18 years old she suffered a "full blown" attack of rheumatic fever. Since then she has been a virtual invalid and has suffered two severe attacks of heart failure.

Dr. Smith examined the girl and his first impulse was to send her back home.

"She was in very poor condition. She didn't look like she could stand any kind of operation," Dr. Smith said.

As a result of rheumatic fever, scar tissue had formed in one of the heart valves, creating a barrier to the flow of blood from one chamber to another. There was a heavy congestion of the lungs and abdominal organs. She had to be propped on three pillows to breathe. Veins in her neck stood out like cords. Her abdomen was greatly distended with fluid. Her liver was greatly enlarged and pressure in her veins was two and a half times normal.

Since the operation nearly all these conditions have disappeared. The operation required an hour and a half.

The patient's chest was opened, baring her heart for surgical operation. Dr. Smith held the heart in his hand and applied a "purse string suture" around the area through which the valve-cutting instrument was to pass.

Through manual control, the surgeon lifted the heart, located the scarred valve and manipulated the special instrument through an incision in the heart wall and into the valve.

The special instrument, designed by Dr. Smith and made by the college machinist, was designed to cut away the scar tissue which had formed in the valve. As the instrument was closed the tissue was cut away. Then the instrument was withdrawn extracting the tissue. The purse string suture was tied snugly and the job was done.

Such an operation had not been attempted by surgeons since the 1920s, Dr. Smith said. There were several attempts by American surgeons 26 years ago but only one patient survive and he was not benefited, Dr. Smith added.
