

Mine Operators Seek Strike Ban

Call For Speed-Up In Drive Against Walkout As Truman Sets Up Board Of Inquiry; Board Instructed To Report
Findings By April 5
Or Sooner

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—President Truman moved in on the coal strike today and operators called for a speed-up in the drive to get a court ban against the walk-out.

They said the board of inquiry set up by Mr. Truman under the Taft-Hartley law "should require only a matter of hours" to report. That report—a bare statement of facts on the 10-day soft coal shut-down—is needed before the government can ask for a federal court injunction.

Under such an order the court could levy heavy fines or even jail terms against John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers members if they failed to obey.

The President issued an order late yesterday creating the inquiry board and directing it to report by April 5, or sooner if it can. The members were expected to be announced by the White House today.

The appeal for the board to finish its fact-finding job quickly came from John D. Battle, executive secretary of the National Coal Association.

The board, he said, should "act with dispatch in order that the law of the land may be made applicable to this threat to the well-being of the nation."

But government officials estimated that it will take a week, at least, for the board to complete its task.

The strike grew out of the inability of Lewis and the mine owners to agree on how to spend the $30,000,000 welfare fund set up by their contract last July. They struck a snag over how many miners are to be eligible for pensions.

Mr. Truman invoked the Taft-Hartley emergency clause with a declaration that if the strike of almost 400,000 miners continues it "will imperil the national health and safety."

Coal stocks have been officially declared below the danger level by the Bureau of Mines. Accordingly the government has ordered sharp cuts in passenger service on coal-burning railroad trains and has promised a similar 25 per cent reduction in freight service if the strike continues into next week.

'Wooden Mother' For Six Puppies

Pasadena, Calif., March 24.—(AP)—Six deserted puppies are thriving today with the "wooden mother."

It's a rack designed by Mrs. Peggy McGarvey of the Humane Society, who frequently had trouble finding foster mothers for pups whose canine parent died or deserted them while lunch time was still an extremely important business.

The rack holds six nipped nursing bottles at just the right angle.

Jerusalem, March 24.—(AP)—A provisional Jewish government will be set up in the Holy Land May 16, representatives of the 600,000 Jews announced last night.

The British will give up their mandate in the Holy Land May 15. Members of the Jewish Agency and the Jewish National Council (Vaad Leumi) made the announcement after a joint conference in the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv.

They rejected any plan to establish a Palestine trusteeship, as suggested by the United States, even for a brief period.

Announcement of the plan to form a provisional government was more moderate than some had expected, for there had been indications a flat proclamation of a Jewish state would be made.

This was the joint Agency-Council announcement.

The Jewish Agency and Vaad Leumi have learned with regret and astonishment of the attitude adopted by the United States representatives on the Security Council concerning the United Nations' decisions on Palestine. The Jewish Agency and Vaad Leumi declare that:

"1. The Jewish people and Yishuv (Jewish People of Palestine Home-land) will oppose any proposal designed to prevent or postpone establishment of a Jewish state.

Czech Case May Mean UN Probe Within Nation

Possibility Of On-The-Spot Inquiry Seen
With Austin's Stern
Address

Lake Success, March 24.—(AP)—United States demands for fullest inquiry into the Communist Coup in Czechoslovakia today opened the possibility of an on-the-spot investigation by the United Nations.

American delegate Warren R. Austin said the Security Council could not close its eyes to the grave charges that Russia engineered last month's grab of power in Prague. He added sternly that the new Czechoslovak government and the Soviet Union must lay their cards on the table.

Austin did not go beyond this point yesterday in a speech to the council which an aide said was of a preliminary nature. It was quickly noted, however, that past council policy has been to dispatch commissions to the scene of controversy before taking final action.

So far, Prague has refused to enter the case on the grounds that the governmental switch was an internal affair. Russia has skirted the accusations and counter-charged that the U. S. and Britain are following a policy of expansion.

"Too much has happened which seems a striking similarity to what happens in other countries for the Security Council to be satisfied with perfunctory or categorical denials or with further red herrings, Austin said.

"The Council should realize that if these charges should be established they would constitute a case of indirect aggression. The United Nations would then be called upon to develop effective collective measures designed for the preservation of the territorial integrity and political independence of states, however small."

It was the first U. S. statement on the question since the case was filed last week by the government of Chile.

Rudder Missing On Fishing Boat

Manteo, N.C., March 24.—(AP)—The fishing boat Marietta radioed today she had lost her rudder 15 miles east of Bodie Island Light.

The Coast Guard cutter Raritan, based at Norfolk, and planes of the sea and air rescue service based at Elizabeth City, were dispatched to the aid of the 90-foot trawler, which had about eight men aboard.

The Marietta reported strong northeast winds and a rough sea. She will be towed to Norfolk.

"4. Upon termination of the mandatory administration, and not later than May 16—a provisional Jewish government will commence to function in cooperation with the representatives of the U.N. then in Palestine. In the meantime we shall do our utmost to minimize the chaos created by the resident government and we shall maintain so far as lies in our power the public services neglected by it.

"5. The Jewish people extend the hand of peace to the Arab people. The Jewish state will be glad to cooperate with neighboring Arab states and to enter into permanent treaty relations with them, to strengthen world peace and advance the development of all countries of the Near East."

Milwaukee, March 24.—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen proposed today a joint discussion of American foreign policy with Gen. MacArthur by means of a radio hookup.

Stassen suggested that arrangements be made for MacArthur to speak over a direct wire from Tokyo with the former Minnesota governor speaking from a radio station at Madison, Wis. Stassen made his request in a telegram to Philip F. La Follette, former Wisconsin governor who is a MacArthur candidate for delegate-at-large.

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—A new weapon to stop big strikes at least 80 days is being used now by the government.

It's part of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act passed nine months ago. But there's been no need for it till now. The government is using it in the case of the striking coal miners and meat packers and the atomic workers who threatened a strike at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The three cases will be news for some time. This explains what the government has done, can do, and why.

If the President thinks the national health or safety is endangered by a strike or lockout—going on or threatened—then:

He can set up a fact-finding board to look into the dispute. Within a time set by him, the board reports back to him.

House Fight On ERP Fading Out

Foreign Aid Program
Enlists Support Of Leading Critic

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—Prospects of a house fight to cut the $6,205,000,000 foreign aid bill faded today.

As the measure to pit American billions and military help against Communism in China and part of Europe rolled into a second day's debate, Rep. Jonkman (R-Mich.) told a reporter he is for the full amount.

In the past, Jonkman has led battles to slash foreign aid programs. He opposed them, he said, because he was against letting the State Department handle business matters.

But the new program, he said, provides for an administrator free of State Department control.

Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis.), who teamed up with Jonkman for cuts in other bills, said he hasn't made up his mind on this one.

But members of the Foreign Affairs committee noted that Smith had made no effort to trim the program while the committee was working on it. Both Smith and Jonkman are committee members, and both were scheduled for speeches during today's debate.

In addition, Secretary of State Marshall was called to a closed door session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for what members described as a review of the critical world situation.

Estimate 1,500 Czechs Flee Home

Frankfurt, Germany, March 24.—(AP)—American officials estimated today that about 1,500 Czechs have fled into the U. S. zone of Germany since the Communist coup in Prague a month ago.

Most of them are housed in refugee camps in Bavaria, eating German food rations.

A quick compromise was foreseen by both Chairman Tobey (R-N.H.) and Wolcott (R-Mich.) of the Senate and House Banking Committees as they called conferees into another closed door session today (2:30 p. m. EST).

Wolcott indicated late yesterday, after the second full day of discussions, that some modification of the home rule principle would be necessary.

"Every piece of legislation is the subject of compromise," he said.

Seeks MacArthur View On Policies

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—Rep. Carl Durham (D-NC) made no promises today as to whether he would debate his opponent, Thomas Turner of Greensboro.

Turner has asked Durham in a letter to appear with him in the major cities of the Sixth District.

"No one," Turner said, "should hold public office who declines to commit himself on policies and issues affecting the people."

Reached at his offices here today, Rep. Durham said "I have no comment (on the challenge). I haven't received any letter or official notice from Mr. Turner."

Durham went into office with the 76th Congress, and has served continuously since that time.

GI Loyalty

Atlanta, March 24.—(AP)—A blind war veteran had the tractor he cherished today, because loyalty is not so fickle as luck.

Homers J. Curry came here from Sandyville, W. Va., to purchase the tractor at a war assets administration sale. It was the only one available. He hoped to use it in strip coal mining near his home.

But about 2,000 other veterans wanted the tractor. In the draw for priority, 1,159 came out ahead of Curry. And then each in turn stepped aside. Curry got his tractor.

Shifts Emphasis To The Military

Berlin, March 24.—(AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay shifted the emphasis of American control in Germany back to the military today.

Clay, who received orders from Washington last night that he is to stay on indefinitely as U. S. military governor and commander in chief in Germany, announced there would be a slowing up in the process of transferring military government personnel to civilian status.

This new development occurred in the midst of a stalemate on the status of the four-power governing machinery for Germany. The Western Allies have put it squarely up to the Russians to take the initiative for getting the stalled government wheels rolling again.

The Russians started the fuss by walking out of a control council meeting Saturday. Monday and Tuesday they boycotted other agencies of the four-power government. Late yesterday they called for meetings of some other agencies and the Western powers used the boycott as a boomerang, refusing to attend the meetings until the Russians call another session of the control council.

"It's up to the Russians now," said Clay. "I think it's a desirable thing for all of us to find out just where we stand in this situation."

The Russian-controlled press here has been harping on the theme that the control council authority has been destroyed.

MacArthur Aware Of Red Pressure During Campaign

Neenah, Wis., March 24.—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur says he decided to announce his availability for public office after threats of pressure against him by the American Communist party.

Attorney Charles H. Velle said that MacArthur had written him outlining the reasons behind his announcement. Velle said he had written MacArthur expressing concern that in a presidential campaign the "idol of a nation would be exposed to political sniping and abuse of every sort."

On his reply, MacArthur said he "long understood the nature of the forces which would be unleashed against me" if he announced his availability for political office.

Draft Blueprint Shaping Up As Legislators Talk

Exemption Regulations Taking Form
As Military Draw Up
Defense Plan

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—Plans to exempt husbands, veterans and men over 27 from any peacetime draft gained fresh backing in Congress today.

While Capitol Hill waited for military chiefs to blueprint the nation's defense machinery, two lawmakers spoke out for keeping manpower demands within narrow limits.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the Senate Armed Services Committee told a reporter he expects any plan to revive selective service to leave "all real veterans of the last war as well as all married men."

And Rep. Wadsworth (R-N.Y.), who wrote the World War II draft law, said he thinks the age span should be 19 to 26 or 27. He also suggested exempting veterans.

Wadsworth said Chairman Andrews (R-N.Y.) of the House Armed Services Committee has asked him to help draw up new draft legislation.

Meanwhile it was learned that the Senate committee turned down a proposal calling for registration of men up to 45 years old.

Gurney said his committee, still awaiting information from the armed forces, "may have a more complete picture by later this week."

But he added: "I don't care if we never get a recommendation from the military. We can draft our own bill."

The South Dakotan, who has said he expects 10 of the group's 13 members to support both UMT and the temporary draft, told a reporter he hopes the committee will recommend them "simultaneously."

The two measures were asked by President Truman to back up this country's stand against the further spread of Communism in Europe.

Denies Trieste Plan 'Political'

London, March 24.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the House of Commons today the proposal to hand Trieste back to Italy had nothing to do with the April 18 Italian elections.

"I do not accuse the Soviet government, in spite of the four-power commission, of an election maneuver" in proposing to hand back colonies to Italy, Bevin said in reply to a question. "And I do not think, alternatively, I should be accused of it."

More Americans Are Coming Home

Frankfurt, Germany, March 24.—(AP)—Transatlantic air companies today reported an increase in the number of American dependents seeking transportation home from Germany.

Company officials said the increase "appears to be due to better weather." They said the dependents gave no indications they had war jitters.

Attorney Charles H. Velle said that MacArthur had written him outlining the reasons behind his announcement. Velle said he had written MacArthur expressing concern that in a presidential campaign the "idol of a nation would be exposed to political sniping and abuse of every sort."

Big Majority In Tax Cut Passage

Armament Plans
May Wipe Out
Budget Surplus

Spending Needs May Shoot Spending Figure $5 Billions Above Estimate

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—The present state of world tension may add $3,000,000,000 to the cost of running the government next year.

Government analysts said today rearmament plans now being discussed could shoot the spending figure even higher—possibly $5,000,000,000 above President Truman's present $39,700,000,000 estimate.

Mr. Truman called Budget Director James E. Webb yesterday to go over the situation with the chiefs of the armed forces.

No official figures came out of the meeting. But it was clear that even a ten per cent boost in the budget would:

1. Just about wipe out the $4,800,000,000 surplus the president has estimated of the fiscal year starting July 1. That was based on holding spending at $39,700,000,000 and keeping taxes where they are now.

2. Give Mr. Truman a new argument for vetoing the $4,800,000,000 tax cut measure scheduled to be put to him by congress today. He could say such a reduction would put the government's finances back in the red and further increase the national debt.

3. Give business a boost just when there are signs of a leveling off or downturn.

Already several budget "extras" are apparent. Over $1,650,000,000 may be required to take care of universal military training and a temporary draft revival which Mr. Truman asked to back up the European recovery program.

ERP costs already are counted in the budget. So is a $400,000,000 fund for the first year of a UMT program which Mr. Truman figured in January would later cost $2,000,000,000 a year.

Home Demonstration Agents

The Bell Arthur Home Demonstration Club entertained their husbands at a buffet supper on March 17, at 7:00 p. m. at the Bell Arthur luncheon. The building was beautifully decorated with spring flowers carrying out the St. Patrick's Day and the club colors. The recreation was also planned around St. Patrick's Day. Mrs. L. B. Bennett extended a cordial welcome to the husbands and guests. Mr. Bennett returned thanks after which the members enjoyed a delicious chicken dinner. The program for the evening was an illustrative talk on more livable homes, by Miss Verna Belle Lowery, Assistant Home Agent, and on diversified farming by S. C. Winchester, farm agent. Approximately 35 people attended this meeting.

The Palkland Home Demonstration Club was held Monday, March 15 with a total number of 16 members present. The vice president, Mrs. Leslie Peadar, had charge of the meeting. The business meeting included discussion of plans for National Home Demonstration Club week and plans for the coming district meeting to be held in Wilson, May 6.

Mrs. G. H. Pittman gave an interesting report on "Doctors East and Doctors West" by Hume. Mrs. Levi Wooten then discussed refinishing furniture and urged club members to make use of all their old furniture by refinishing it. The demonstration for the month was given by Miss Marjorie Shearin, Assistant Home Agent, who was assisted by Mrs. Levi Wooten.

The hostess, Mrs. L. M. Gurganus, served lemonade, cookies and nuts which were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The Pierce Home Demonstration Club was called to order on Thursday, March 18, by the president, Mrs. Barrett Sumrell. The president led the business discussion which included participation in National Home Demonstration Club Week.

The County Bookmobile, the Tours that may be taken in early summer, and the District Meeting in Wilson, May 6. The following book reviews were presented to the club: "Green Light," Douglas, by Mrs. Jerome McGlohon; "Salvation on a String," Paul Green, by Mrs. Edwin Harrington; "Frontier on the Potomac," Jonathan Daniels, by Mrs. Edwin Harrington; "Uneasy Spring," Robert Malay, by Mrs. Barrett Sumrell; "My Eyes Have a Cold Nose," Hector Cheving, by Mrs. Barrett Sumrell; "Deborah," Marion Castle, by Mrs. Barrett Sumrell. Mrs. T. S. Worthington gave the monthly report on the "Nieces of Everyday Living" which included practices in "Table Service." Miss Shearin, Assistant Home Agent, assisted by Mrs. Barrett Sumrell, was in charge of the demonstration on "Fashions in Windows." The hostesses, Mrs. Blaney Sumrell and Mrs. Joe Sumrell served delicious Angel Food cake topped with whipped cream and a cherry. The meeting was then adjourned.

The Greenville sub-district of the Methodist Youth Fellowship was organized in the Ayden Methodist Church on Monday night, March 15. The sub-district is comprised of the Ayden, Greenville, Grimesland, Walstonburg, and Bell Arthur charges. The Rev. Graham Eubanks, Youth Fellowship Conciliar, was in charge. FIRE ALARM TODAY

A fire alarm from Box 122 was sounded this morning about 10 o'clock when an automobile caught fire on Dickinson avenue. Damage was slight.

Eppes Sociology Club Hears Dr. W. E. Marshall

On Tuesday March 23, at 2:30, the Junior Sociology Club and their sponsor, E. L. McConnell, inaugurated a series of chapel programs by presenting Dr. W. E. Marshall of East Carolina Teachers College as speaker.

Dr. Marshall chose as the subject of his address, "Living According to the Golden Rule."

"Not square acres but square men make a nation great, America," he said, "has not yet achieved true freedom. She can only reach that goal when all men learn to live by the Golden Rule. All who learn to do this are at least free in conscience. In order to live according to this rule, men and women of all ages must practice more freely certain precepts. These include: (1) Be big about the little things; (2) Use leisure time advantageously; (3) Fight for what is right, but don't humble your opponents; (4) Don't alibi. The world is too full of alibis. Accept your defeat like a man; (5) Learn to solve your own problems and don't run from them. Gather facts, analyze them, organize them, and then act; (6) Be absolutely honest and reliable at all times. Don't just be a starter. Develop 'finishive' as well as initiative; (7) Don't take yourself too seriously. No one is so important that the world will cease to exist without him; (8) Maintain your self-respect always. Never feel sorry for yourself, or you'll become a beggar for opportunity; (9) Learn to cooperate. The world, the United States, North Carolina, Greenville and Eppes High have all been built on cooperation; (10) Abandon hatred, jealousy, and prejudice. If we can't learn to live by the Golden Rule then we are not fit for freedom."

Umstead Favors Compromise Man

Raleigh, N. C., March 24—(P)—Sen. William B. Umstead thinks that the Democratic party's Presidential candidate should be a man who can "heal the breach" in the party.

He told a press conference yesterday, however, he has no recommendation of a candidate to replace President Truman, who the Senator has suggested drop out of the running for the nomination.

The press conference was held at Umstead's headquarters for his campaign for renomination.

"I have been so occupied with my own position I haven't gotten around to the point where I'm prepared to give any advice as to who the candidate should be," he declared. "I have no picked choice for the nomination at this time."

The candidate should be, he added, "a person who could heal the breach in the Democratic party and unify and make more solid its front in the coming election."

Girl Scout Camp Opens June 20th; Better This Year

By CHESTER WALSH

The Greenville Girl Scout Council's camp committee, at a meeting at the Rotary building Monday night, decided to open the summer camp at Camp Hardee, on Pamlico River, below Chocowinity, on Sunday, June 20.

Mrs. J. Knott Proctor is commissioner of the Girl Scout Council.

All of the camp staff has been engaged; improvements at the camp, including the waterfront, are to be made; illumination is to be improved, and every facility for the pleasure and safety of Girl Scouts and others who attend the camp will be provided. A physician and a registered nurse will be available at all times. Improvements in the kitchen and dining room will be made.

Charles B. Bissette, chairman of the Girl Scout Camp Committee, presided. He praised Mrs. E. L. Henderson, Girl Scout executive secretary, for her good work, and urged Chester Walsh, chairman of the Girl Scout Inter-Racial Relations Committee to "carry on" in the work with the Negro Girl Scouts.

Reports at the Camp Committee meeting, some of them outside of the summer camp routine, indicated that renewed interest is being manifested in Girl Scouting; that the troop leaders are doing good work and that parents are showing more interest. "The Girl Scout Camp Committee meeting was like a family conference for the welfare of the young people," one of the members said.

All members of Usher Board No. 1 of Mt. Calvary F. W. B. Church are urged to be present at the church Wednesday night at 7 o'clock for the final rehearsal of the Easter play entitled "The Way of the Cross," arranged in a prologue and four acts under the direction of Esther M. Porter.

Other members of the church who are participating please be present also.

The decoration committee will meet at the church at 9:30 p. m. Friday night in the basement instead of Saturday noon.

Big Strike . . .

ment in spite of the wishes of the union members.

Within five days after those 15 days are up the NLRB must tell the attorney general the result of the secret vote.

(The 80 days in which a strike or lockout has been forbidden by the court are now used up.)

Whether the workers' secret vote is "no" to the employer's last offer—or whether the dispute is now settled—the attorney general must go back to court.

This time he asks the judge to wipe out the no-strike order he issued 80 days before. The judge has to do this.

Then the strike or lockout is free to go on, if it has not been settled. But there's one more move, even though the strike or lockout is now taking place.

The President makes a full report to Congress. It's now up to Congress to stop the strike, if it will, by passing a special act.

Mark Hanna III Jailed In Forgery

Mark A. Hanna III (left) is escorted from the Federal building at New Orleans en route to jail under charges that he was involved in the forgery of two checks totaling $60,000 against his uncle, C. H. Hanna, Cleveland, O., industrialist. The FBI said the 39-year-old prisoner is the grandson of Mark Hanna, famed Republican senator from Ohio for many years. He was held for authorities at Buffalo, N. Y., where the charges against him were made. (AP Wirephoto).

Until this month none of this long machinery had been used. There had been no strike or threatened strike big enough to call for it.

Now three times this month the government has put the machinery into motion. This is how:

1. At Oak Ridge 900 AFL workers threatened a strike in a wage dispute. President Truman set up fact-finders March 5. They reported back March 16. The strike still threatened.

On March 19 the attorney general got a court order forbidding the strike. That stopped a strike. The machinery now is operating.

2. Meat packers, asking higher pay, struck March 16. The same day Mr. Truman set up fact-finders. They're still fact-finding. The packers still are striking.

Because the fact-finders haven't reported back to the President, the attorney general can't get a court order to stop the strike.

3. John L. Lewis' coal miners started striking March 15 to make the mine owners accept his ideas for a pension system. Yesterday Mr. Truman set up fact-finders in this case.

Strength FOR THE DAY

GENEROSITY MUST BE RECIPROCAL

Some people do not know how to accept gifts and favors. They are eager to give, but for some reason they do not seem to be able to accept when others want to give to them. They seem to regard it as a virtuous piece of self-abnegation if they can arrange things so that they are always giving and never receiving.

It is true that it is more blessed to give than to receive. Our Lord said that. But he also demonstrated by example that there is a time for receiving as well as for giving. When his disciples and others complained about the prodigality of the women who anointed his feet with precious ointment, he rebuked these complainers and declared that this woman had done a beautiful thing. When he was crucified, he was wearing a coat, or tunic, "without seam, woven from the top throughout." Probably an admirer gave him this.

The truth is that people like to get a thrill out of it and we should not be too sure that the matter here is to give. We will make friends more often by accepting gifts than by giving them. To decline a favor when it is proper that it should be received is to affront the person who makes the offer.

Many a person misses the opportunity for wide friendships because he mistakenly believes that life consists entirely in giving, and not at all in receiving.

HARRY TRUMAN'S CANDIDACY

There's going to be a rude awakening in the ranks of Southern Democrats at about the time the National Democratic convention opens. It will come with the realization that their party has no prominent political figure which can possibly be built up into a real presidential candidate, with the exception of Harry Truman.

The lack of prominent party leaders was the natural result of President Roosevelt's long tenure of office, and his almost complete control of Democratic party policies. There was not room for other political luminaries in his era because he outshone them all.

During the years when they were in the minority, Republicans consolidated their strength, and considerable number of widely-known political figures emerged. Several of them are now competing for the GOP nomination.

The Democratic party has but one man who can be seriously considered as having even a slim chance of winning the presidency. There are no others who have the necessary stature in the public eye, or who can be regarded as possible timber. There is not sufficient time to build up an alternate for Mr. Truman from out of the party's ranks.

Angry talk of "seceding" from the Democratic party by the Solid South must be regarded as emotionalism. The South has even more to lose should the Republicans win, and a GOP victory would be certain should Dixie revolt against its historical party affiliations.

Today, President Truman's chances for re-election are very slim; not only because of Southerners' ire, but many other Democratic figures have found reason for political dissatisfaction.

If the President truly desires a Democratic victory in the coming elections, he must learn to work with his fellow-Democrats and make his administration a Democratic Administration rather than a Truman Administration. Only in this manner can his party be again welded together; only in this manner can both he, and the party, even hope for victory in November.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WOMEN'S RIGHTS GO PAN AMERICAN

Washington—Political and civil rights have been granted to the women of 11 American republics within the past 30 years.

Elimination of discrimination against women in the 10 remaining republics will be sought at the Ninth International Conference of American States at Bogota, Colombia, next month.

The Inter-American Commission of Women, created at the Havana conference in 1928, will urge the signing of an over-all treaty for equal political and civil rights for their sex.

A 257-page report on women's status will be submitted to the conference by the commission's chairman, Miss Minerva Bernardino of the Dominican Republic.

The report represents five years of work and fully covers the status of women in the 21 American republics on the following points: nationality, political rights, legal capacity of married women, guardianship, right to exercise any trade, employment, or profession, women in industry, existing discriminations in the penal and civil codes.

Miss Bernardino, who will attend the conference, not only as the commission's chairman, but as a full delegate of the Dominican Republic, says that 500 copies are already enroute to Bogota to be distributed among delegates.

"Years ago," she says, "in the early history of inter-American relations, a step such as the proposed convention on equal rights for women would likely have been looked upon as infringement on sovereignty."

"But at this stage of western civilization, when governments as a whole are striving to shape their internal affairs to the pattern of world democracy, political leaders recognize the need for facilitating action on major problems."

"If the UN is drafting a document on human rights for people of the world, the western hemisphere should look after its own affairs."

The Inter-American Commission of Women is composed of members appointed by the governments of the 21 republics and has headquarters in the Pan American Union building here. Miss Mary Cannon, a member of the staff of the U.S. Women's Bureau, is the American delegate to the commission, which meets here annually.

Miss Bernardino hopes that the commission, which up to now has been an autonomous body of the Pan American Union, will be made a part of it at the Bogota conference.

Miss Bernardino has been associated with the commission for 14 years. She was recently selected 1946 "Woman of the Americas." The honor was given by the United Women of America—a Pan American organization with affiliated branches in all the central and South American countries.

Two other women have been given the award, Gabriela Mistral, Chilean famous poet and consul at San Francisco, was chosen in 1946, Carrie Chapman Catt, this country's outstanding feminist leader, was selected in 1947.

Miss Bernardino says she plans to resign soon as chairman of the Inter-American Commission of Women. She contemplates writing a book on the women of the Americas and another on Pan American relations. She says she will also go on a lecture tour of the United States.

Urging Farmers To Grow More Grain In 1948

College Station, Raleigh, March 23. North Carolina farmers are being asked to grow more corn, oats, barley and other grain crops but fewer livestock and poultry products during 1948. G. T. Scott, state director of the Production and Marketing Administration, said here today.

In announcing 1948 farm production goals for North Carolina as set by the Secretary of Agriculture, Scott said the demand for food continues to be high both in this country and abroad. However, he added, the critical feed supply situation makes necessary a reduction in the goals for livestock and poultry.

The 1948 goal for corn production is 2,354,000, an increase of 9 percent over 1947 acreage. The goal for wheat is 600,000 acres, an increase of 15 percent, and for oats, 523,000 acres, an increase of 1 percent.

Farmers are asked to produce 1,221,000 acres of tame hay about the same as last year. The goal for cotton is 794,000 acres, an increase of 27 percent, and for Irish potatoes, 73,800 acres, an increase of 2 percent. The greatest decrease is seen in the goal for flue-cured tobacco, which is 602,000 acres as compared with an acreage of 800,000 in 1947. The burley tobacco goal is up 21 percent, from 9,600 to 11,577 acres.

The goal for sweet potatoes is 63,000 acres, a decrease of 2 percent. No State goal for peanuts has been announced, but the recommended national goal is 16 percent below the 1947 acreage, picked and threshed.

The national goals for poultry and livestock have been reduced as follows: Eggs, down 9 percent; hens and pullets, down 8 percent; turkeys, down 12 percent; and cattle and calves for slaughter, down 11 percent. A national increase of 1 percent is expected for milk and 2 percent for sheep and lambs.

Tar Heel farmers are asked to produce about the same number of spring pigs this year as in 1947.

Raleigh, N. C., March 24.—(AP)—The American Legion's eighth annual Tar Heel Boys' State will be held at Chapel Hill June 13-26. The negro division of the Boys' State will meet at the same time at Durham.

"Rights" Fight By Carolinians

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—Senator Hoey of North Carolina and Senator Maybank of South Carolina last night carried their fight against President Truman's Civil Rights proposal to the nation's radio listeners.

The two Carolina Democrats appeared with Senator Hill (D-Ala) and Senator Russell (D-Ga) on MBS program from Washington.

Hoey said the number of lynchings in the South had dropped from 255 in 1892 to one in 1947.

"And yet," he said in opposition to the President's request for anti-lynching legislation, "they want a federal law to prevent lynching at a time when the south has the problem whipped."

Maybank spoke in opposition to the Federal poll tax bill. He characterized it as "a process designed by and for politicians, who would create political turmoil for their own benefit at the expense of an already overly abused south."

The South Carolinian termed the proposed law "a clear invasion of the liberties of the American people."

Hill spoke against the fair employment practices bill, while Russell said the south is entitled to better treatment than to be "kicked as a political football in every election year and to have our good name constantly bartered by political auctioneers."

N.C. Dairymen Produced More Milk Last Year

Raleigh, N.C., March 24.—(AP)—North Carolina dairymen produced 19 and one-half per cent more grade A milk last year than in the year before.

In 1947 they sold 206,588,879 pounds of Grade A milk, compared with 172,866,041 pounds in 1946. C. W. Pegram of the State Department of Agriculture reported.

Dairymen of the state also sold five per cent more ungraded milk—111,228,019 pounds, compared with 105,486,199.

Imports of milk from other states declined from 65,063,749 to 63,880,661 pounds.

Education Said Basis Of Liberty

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—Dr. Frank P. Graham last night told University of North Carolina alumni that the freedom of America is founded on the freedom of education.

The University of North Carolina president declared that "in this critical hour when freedom is in retreat or under monstrous threat in many parts of the world it is imperative that our universities be free in America."

"The colleges and universities must be not only centers of thorough scholarship, eminent teaching and advance research but also strongholds of intellectual freedom and high training grounds of student honor, self-government and responsible campus centers."

Victor S. Bryant of Durham, chairman of the Trustee's Visiting Committee, said a survey of the university shows "most of the serious problems (at Chapel Hill) arise from sudden expansion."

The entire community is dangerously over-crowded," he said, adding, "the quality of the faculty must be raised. We have attempted to maintain a big league staff with minor league salaries."

Flood Menace Is Seen Easing Off

Chicago, March 24—(AP)—The danger of major floods in most of the stricken river communities in the East and Midwest appeared easing today.

There was no heavy rainfall in the flooded areas of South Central New York state and Pennsylvania and several Midwest states, generally fair weather and normal temperatures were reported over most sections of the country. Some rain and snow fell in the northern Rockies from Montana Southwestward into Northern California.

Although swollen rivers and streams in many of the flooded communities began to recede, scores of people remained homeless and water covered some lowlands and thousands of acres of lowlands.

In Pennsylvania the state's three major rivers—Susquehanna, Allegheny and Delaware, began to fall yesterday. Schools closed by the high water reopened and highways here being cleared of debris.

In the center of the Midwest flood area, at Quincy, Ill., on the Mississippi river, workmen continued to sandbag danger spots in the South Quincy Drainage district levee. A stretch of about 30 miles on U. S. highway from Taylor, Mo., to Keokuk, Ia., has been blocked due to high water.

Hanged Himself While At Play

Auburn, N. J., March 24—(AP)—Barry Wayne LaFave, eight, who was named New Jersey's "healthiest and prettiest" baby boy in 1941, hanged himself accidentally yesterday while playing a game of "cow-boys and horse thieves." Police Sgt. Henry McHerr said.

The child's parents discovered the son's body in the basement of their home after returning from a business trip to Camden.

McHerr said Barry apparently hanged himself with a rope noose thrown over a basement beam. His cowboy hat lay on a chair nearby.

Music and hula dancing are features of the opening of the Hawaiian legislature.

Numbered Houses, Street Signs In Near Future

Lost in the wilderness. No, not that. Lost in Greenville if a person is looking for an address in the residential sections. People who come here have a hard time finding the place they are looking for and there are many here who "are lost" if they get several blocks away from their own neighborhood.

Mayor Jack Boyd said today that these worries are going to be over shortly. The city employed J. N. Farlow, Raleigh engineer, to map the city and on the map to designate by number every building.

Greenville To Make Boy Scout Camporee Success

By CHESTER WALSH

"The people of Greenville are honored by the coming of about 1,500 Boy Scouts to the Camporee to be held at the airport April 16 for a three-day stay," Mayor Jack Boyd said today. "I feel that every agency—Churches, schools, civic, fraternal and commercial organizations, as groups and as individuals, should come forward and do personal service to make these youngsters happy and welcome while they are here."

The mayor paid tribute to W. F. (Red) Young, active leader in Boy Scouting here; Colon McLean of Washington, president of East Carolina Council of Boy Scouts; Penn T. Watson of Wilson and Eugene Grimes of Washington, district Boy Scout executives; J. B. Kittrell, chairman of the Camporee Steering Committee, and his committee for their good work; the troop leaders, and others for their interest, and urged that "everybody get behind this Camporee and welcome these Boy Scouts who will be the men of tomorrow."

"Incidentally, Mayor Boyd said the city's facilities will be generously used to make the camporee a success."

Cherry Looking Into Sentencing Of 14-Year-Old

Raleigh, N.C., March 24—(AP)—Governor Cherry is "looking into" the case of a 14-year-old boy sentenced last week to 30 years in prison for second-degree burglary. "As I understand it," the Governor said last night, "there has been right much misunderstanding about the case. Anyway, I'm looking into it."

The boy, David Bryant of New Bern, was indicted on a charge of first degree burglary, a capital offense, after he entered the home of Lucille Elliott of Chapel Hill. However, he pleaded guilty to second-degree burglary in Orange Superior court and was sentenced by Judge Chester Morris of Currituck.

A storm of protest has arisen over the sentence.

Escape Damage By Big Twister

Charlotte, N. C., March 24—(AP)—A thickly populated section of North Carolina escaped serious damage last night when a Tornado roared across the state.

The twister struck first in Mecklenburg county, near the South Carolina border, shortly after 6 p. m. (EST). It continued a threatening northeasterly course at a high altitude for more than 100 miles across the state's heavily industrialized Piedmont section.

Three of North Carolina's larger cities, Salisbury, High Point and Greensboro, were in the path of the high winds. Radio warnings alerted residents along the storm's course but the twister remained above 500 feet as it roared on.

Three hours after striking near Charlotte and near Greensboro, the tornado crossed into Virginia where it apparently dissipated itself.

Eastern Air Lines pilots plotted its course and relayed warnings through weather bureau stations. The course of the storm roughly paralleled U. S. highway 29, popularly called the main street of the south.

Trees, houses and power lines were damaged near Charlotte, but only one person suffered injury.

Cotton Growers Can Save Money Treating Seed

College Station, Raleigh, March 23—North Carolina cotton growers are losing millions of dollars annually from failure to treat cotton seed before planting, Howard R. Garrison, Extension plant pathologist at State College, said today.

A survey in 1946 showed that only 57 per cent of the acreage in the state was planted to treated seed.

Failure of growers to use treated seed on the other 43 per cent of the crop resulted in the following losses: $5,721,077 cash from growers' pockets, 39,347 bales of lint cotton, 24,886 tons of cottonseed oil, and 11,074 tons of cottonseed meal. Estimates of these losses, the pathologist said, are based on the average increase in yields from seed treatment obtained in past demonstrations, and the prevailing prices of lint cotton and cottonseed.

Even greater losses probably occurred in 1947. By far the greater percentage of losses resulting from damping-off diseases of young plants which received so much publicity in 1947 occurred on farms where untreated seed was used. Needless to say, he added, there is an urgent need for more cotton growers in North Carolina to plant treated seed.

Seed treatment is a simple and inexpensive practice, ranging from 15 to 20 cents per acre planted for the cost of the material used, the exact cost depending upon the rate of seeding, the extension worker stated.

Claim Soldiers Anxious To Work

Moscow, March 24—(AP)—Red Star, the army newspaper, said today a majority of demobilized Soviet servicemen are foregoing their paid vacations to go into factories. Soviet soldiers are guaranteed a month's vacation upon demobilization.

Red Star said the servicemen are anxious to make use of their army experience in Soviet industry.

Johnson Offers N C Referendum On Liquor Issue

Raleigh, March 24—(AP)—Charles M. Johnson today was pledged to recommend a statewide liquor referendum if elected governor.

In a letter to the Allied Church League, Inc., Lexington, Johnson wrote that he would make the recommendation "without qualification or hesitancy."

Meanwhile, Kerr Scott's headquarters here prepared to welcome a new associate manager of the Haw River man's campaign for governor. He is Capus Waynick of Raleigh, who will begin his campaign duties Monday.

In accepting the Scott appointment, Waynick announced he would resign as director of the North Carolina Social Hygiene Society to give full time to the campaign.

During the 30's he served as state highway chairman, director of the state division of purchase and contract and director of the U. S. employment service. He also has served in both houses of the general assembly.

He formerly was editor of the High Point Enterprise and formerly published the Greensboro Record.

Johnson's pledge on a liquor vote was made in response to a question from the Allied Church League. In answer to another question, as to whether he favored the "gag" rule of the lower house of the legislature, he wrote:

"I am opposed to any rule, by whatever name called, which would

Nose-Bleed Was Due To Bullet, Police Discover

Atlanta, March 24—(AP)—The prolonged nose bleeding of a 16-year-old high school boy mystified doctors here—until X-rays revealed a bullet lodged near his brain.

Then Robert G. Liggett admitted detective Lieut. Glyn Cowan said, what he had been ashamed to tell before; that he had shot himself accidentally Sunday night.

The detective said the boy told him he was inspecting the gun when it discharged. The bullet penetrated the roof of his mouth and lodged near his brain.

Liggett said he went to bed without first aid of any kind, but saw a Doctor Monday when his nose began bleeding excessively.

Hospital attendants said no effort would be made to remove the slug at this time.

Some observers have interpreted the "gag" rule as designed to prevent a statewide vote on liquor.

Voters Oppose Beer-Wine Sales

By The Associated Press
Voters in two Western North Carolina counties yesterday opposed the sale of beer and wine but official results of the vote in both counties today awaited court action.

Referendums on the continuance of legalized beer and wine sales were held in Swain and Graham counties.

Complete, unofficial returns compiled in Bryson City for the Swain county vote showed 1,902 for discontinuance of beer sales to 270 in favor of continuing them. The same vote was 1,904 against to 263 in favor.

The unofficial returns from 11 of 13 precincts in Graham county showed that 1,785 voters opposed the continued sale of wine and beer, while only 182 approved. The unreported precincts are small and could not alter the outcome, election officials said.

Ballot boxes in both counties were impounded after the unofficial count pending hearings before Superior Court Judge Don Phillips. In both counties petitions asked that injunctions forbidding the referendums be issued. The petitions were received too late to cause postponement of the vote yesterday.

Piece Together Dramatic Story Of Plane Crash

Woodland, Wash., March 24—(AP)—Officials pieced together today a dramatic story of the deaths of eight air crash victims and the survival of two other fliers in rugged Washington mountain country.

Searchers found bodies of the eight yesterday. The 10 men were aboard an air force transport plane which crashed into a mountain Sunday.

Survivors were Major John B. Harding, Portland, Ore. the pilot and PFC John M. Belmonte, East Boston, Mass.

The two survivors had crawled through several miles of deep snow in the timbered wilderness—the pilot with a broken leg—to reach a cabin Monday night. Tuesday morning they called to loggers working nearby. Both had frozen hands and feet and suffered from shock.

Their rescue was the first, due to the whereabouts of the C-47 plane which vanished Sunday afternoon during a heavy rain storm. The transport was approaching Portland Air Base for a landing after a flight from Fairfield-Suisun Base, California.

Bodies of the others were found last night by searchers. Four were huddled together under one wing of the plane. Another—his leg severed below the knee—was found against a tree several hundred yards down the mountain from the shattered transport. A sixth was seated in the burned out radio cockpit.

Two bodies were located about a mile from the wreckage when searchers persisted on the possibility that there were more than the officially listed eight men aboard.

Lt. P. A. Toomey, casualty officer of the Fairfield-Suisun Air Base, said the identification of two men who boarded the plane just before it departed was not known.

Today's biggest power bargain

It's a Complete New Buick Engine and We'll put it in Your Car at a Price You'll hardly Believe

Yes sir, here's a big bargain for Buick owners—a brand-new straight-from-the-production-line Fireball engine. We'll put it in any Buick from 1937 models on up.

We'll take out your old mile-weary engine, put this one in, and make your car brand-new again as far as power is concerned.

Pep and snap come back—right up to 1948 standards. You get new-engine mileage from every gallon of gas. Oil consumption drops. And you enjoy the thrill of the liveliest, most responsive engine on the road today—the same engine that makes Buick the snappiest car on the highways.

Think what this will mean to you—in comfort of driving—in new dependability—in sheer fun. Think of the extra worth of your car when it comes time to turn it in.

As to cost—it's so moderate it makes this change-over today's best power buy. Installation cost varies somewhat with car model. But we'll be glad to give you the figure down to the dollar if you'll drive around.

Don't put it off. Make up your mind to drive a 1948-powered car now. Come in and talk it over.

A Delight to Handle

A "smoothie" if there ever was one! This new clutch with its easy, toe-touch response makes driving more fun than ever.

WHY WE CAN MAKE THIS OFFER

Out at the Buick plant, engine production is going great guns. It's stepping along faster than complete car output. So we have these brand-new engines ready to put in your car right now.

Quick Starts and Driving Zip

This 1948 ignition system with centrifugal and vacuum automatic control puts snap and go into starting and get-away.

Greenies Bow To Kinston, 11-2, In 'Baseball Opener

The Greenville High School baseball squad opened a rugged season in rugged fashion, going under a landslide of Kinston power, 11-2. The Devils got their talons on 15 hits while Greenville was only able to master five off the Mockmen's offerings.

Kinston opened the contest by shoving across a tally in their half of the first frame. However the G-Men were able to match this one and in their half of the same frame they also sent a man across the plate. Farley walked after Joseph whiffed and advanced on Allgood's infield out. Hugh Hardee then rapped out a bingle to right sending

Helping Hand To Latin Baseball

Columbus, O., March 24—(AP)—American baseball is about to extend its helping hand to the West Indies and the Latin Americas.
Robert L. Finch, soft-spoken but forceful publicity chief of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues (the minors), takes off Sunday from New York on a flying jaunt which may bring the "down under" loops into organized baseball.
Finch will reach Havana March 29 for a conference with members of the Cuban Winter League. The next day he'll move over to San Juan for a two-day confab with Jorge L. Cordova, president of the Puerto Rican professional league. April 1 will find him in the Dominican Republic, where the Dodgers are training.
He plans to arrive in Balboa April 2 for a conference expected to last several days with Stamford Graham, head of the Panama League, "Donny" Donovan of the Canal Zone circuit, and their associates. Both Finch said, had indicated a desire to join the national association.
While in Balboa, Finch will decide whether to move on to Venezuela.

"They have as much baseball in Venezuela as they have coffee in Brazil," Finch said, "and they want to join our association, too."
Following his personal talks with the league chiefs, Finch will return to Havana for April 8 and 9 conferences with representatives of all the Caribbean, Central and South American circuits interested in setting up a post-season championship series.

Sam Mele Tabbed Future Star For Boston Red Sox

By FRANK ECK
AP Newfeatures Sports Editor
Sarasota, Fla.—Sam Mele is on his way. Veteran baseball observers predict the Astoria, Long Island, lad will be one of baseball's coming stars.
Manager Joe McCarthy of the Boston Red Sox has been sold on Mele to such an extent that Stan Spence, slugging outfielder obtained from Washington, is being counted on to play first base.
This means Mele is likely to be the Sox's fulltime rightfielder playing next to Dom DiMaggio with incomparable Ted Williams in left. Mele has learned a lot from Williams and DiMaggio.
"Last season I had trouble getting under fly balls," says the 25-year-old former New York University athlete. "I was awkward. Dom gave me some tips about how to get in position to throw on fly balls and on grounders and Ted talks to me day in and day out about hitting."
Mele admits he pressed so much as a freshman in 1947 that he often was worn out from worry. Joe Cronin, now the team's general manager, used him in the No. 3 batting slot ahead of Williams. Then he was switched to No. 5 behind the Kid. And anyone batting in front or behind Williams, especially a rookie, is a target for the pitchers.
"You know," remarked Mele, "I went into a bit of a slump batting behind Williams. The pitchers would walk Ted to get at me and I was bearing down."
McCarthy never saw Mele until camp opened this spring. An example of how he feels about Sam is best shown during hitting practice and in exhibition games. Mele is back batting behind Williams. "And make believe I don't watch his every motion," says Sam seriously.
"Mele is the kind of player you don't see every day," says Cronin. "Why, he's had only two seasons in organized ball and yet he hits like a real big leaguer. He may become a great right handed hitter." Cronin himself was no slouch at the plate for his lifetime mark is 302.
Mele at 187 is seven pounds heavier than last year. He says he is always willing to learn and hopes he has Dom, "The Little Professor," as a roommate indefinitely.
Christened Sabath Anthony Mele Jan. 21, 1923, Sam is a nephew of Tony and Al Cucinello, ex-major leaguers. He has three brothers. Emil captains Brooklyn's St. Francis College basketball team while Al and Dom play semi-pro ball in New York. Though Al (Dutch) Mele, Cincinnati rookie, was born in New York, he is not related to Sam.
Sam was scouted by Neil Mahoney after Bill McCarthy, NYU coach took the six-foot one outfielder to Boston for a tryout. He was signed to the Boston chain by the late Herb Pennock. After three years as a marine he played 119 games for Scranton, Pa., in the Eastern League and hit 342 in 1946. Last year in 123 games he batted 302, even playing a few games at first base. Twelve of his 137 hits were homers.
Mele has tremendous power and a great arm. He is not much of a pull hitter as a lot of his blows find right center. His features remind you of his uncle, Al Cucinello, but on a much larger scale. Physically he resembles Joe DiMaggio, the Yankee slugger.
Boston writers thought so much of Mele that only recently they voted him and Earl Torgeson, Braves' first baseman, a dual award as Boston's top rookie.
Mele says he received a "nice raise" when he signed his 1948 contract and hopes only to fulfill some of the predictions the experts are making regarding his future.

Fans Anticipate A Mighty Clash

New York, March 24—(AP)—Can Kentucky beat Bartlesville's famed Oilers in the Olympic basketball trials?
The question may be a bit premature but cage customers who saw the wonderful Wildcats from Kentucky rout Baylor, 58-42, for the NCAA championship last night already were discussing the possible duel of these two mighty quintets.
And the fans were anticipating an individual clash between two great centers, Alex Groza, 6-7 Kentucky pivot, and the Oilers' seven-foot Bob Kurland.
Before the twain can meet, Kentucky must win two games in its bracket of the trials while the Oilers have to do the same in the independent part of the tourney. Both are heavily favored to come through for the final in Madison Square Garden, Wednesday, March 31.
As a result of Kentucky's one-sided triumph, here's the way the pairings shape up for the Saturday openers:
2 p.m. (EST)—Oakland Bittners vs Denver Nuggets.
3:45 p.m.—New York U. vs Baylor.
8 p.m.—Oilers vs the Prospect Park (Brooklyn) YMCA, National "Y" champions.
9:45 p.m.—Kentucky vs Louisville, NAIB champions.
On Monday, the semi-finals will be held with the two college victors opposing each other. The two surviving independents also will clash.

Girl Baseball League Tryouts Scheduled Soon

Irvington, N.J., March 24—(AP)—Athletic ladies who want a job paying $55 to $100 a week for playing baseball will apply here tomorrow.
The All-American Girls Baseball League, a midwestern circuit which will expand to 10 clubs this year, is scheduled to hold tryouts for female ballplayers in the east who think they can hit, field and throw in a skillful as well as ladylike manner.
The league, which drew nearly one million fans in its fifth season of operation last year, features former major league stars as managers. Johnny Rawlings, one-time New York Giant luminary, will supervise the tryouts. Rawlings piloted the championship Grand Rapids, Mich., club last year.

Blackwell Still Hot

Clearwater, Fla., March 24—(AP)—Ewell Blackwell, Cincinnati Reds' mound ace who has given up no runs and just four hits in eight exhibition innings, makes his third start today against the Philadelphia Phillies.
Boston writers thought so much of Mele that only recently they voted him and Earl Torgeson, Braves' first baseman, a dual award as Boston's top rookie.
Mele says he received a "nice raise" when he signed his 1948 contract and hopes only to fulfill some of the predictions the experts are making regarding his future.

Bill Holland Is First Entrant In Inaugural Race

Clutch Pitcher For Philadelphia In Curt Simmons

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Clearwater, Fla., March 24—(AP)—The Philadelphia Phils think they have found a clutch pitcher, and they don't mean a chucker who is banking on to the ropes most of the time.
The "stopper" is young Curt Simmons from Egypt, Pa. Many stories have been written about the sturdy young southpaw, but we don't recall seeing any concerning his ability to come through when the pressure is on.
Bob Carpenter, youthful Phil owner, provides those data.
"You know his record in high school and American Legion ball," Carpenter says. "What I like about the boy is his performance under fire."
"We took the Phils over to Egypt for an exhibition game, and with all the home-town fans looking on critically, Curt struck out 11 of our men."
Wilmington, Del., was the next stop in Simmons' career.
"At Wilmington," Carpenter continued, "and appearing in his first pro game, he fanned 14 men, with a crowd of 9,000 looking on."
"Wilmington had to win a game to finish in second place. Simmons won it. The club had to win its game in the semifinal of the Shaugnessy playoffs. Simmons won it. It had to win in the finals to make it league champion. Again it was Simmons."
"Then he brought him up late last year. He pitched one game, against the Giants. The Giants used Johnny Mize in the leadoff spot so he would get five chances to hit, as he was after the home run championship. He didn't get the home run, and the Giants got only five hits in losing, 3 to 1. You see why I call him a great pressure pitcher?"
"How many games do I think he'll win this year? I'll be glad if he wins 10 games. We're not pitching an 18-year-old kid to death. When he's 23-24 years old, maybe he'll be winning pennants for us."

Big-City Opposition To Truman Heralds Struggle

Washington, March 24—(AP)—Reports of new big-city opposition and a "serious political situation" in California multiplied signs today that President Truman may face a tough fight for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Chicago politicians visiting Washington were said to have brought word that they fear it will not be long before the rash of criticism for Mr. Truman's policies breaks out in their ranks.

Unlike the Dixie complaint against the President's civil rights program, northern opposition is based on the Administration's about-face on Palestine.

At Los Angeles, Democratic State Chairman James Roosevelt summoned 62 prospective national convention delegates to an "urgent meeting" in Sacramento next Thursday. Roosevelt issued the call "because of the serious political situation."

He did not amplify. But there have been demands within the party in California for the expulsion of county central committee members who have announced their support of Henry A. Wallace's third party candidacy.

All of this is serious business for Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath and his aides who are committed to getting the nomination for Mr. Truman. They had few worries on that score so long as the party flareup remained strictly southern.

McGrath was silent. But there seemed little doubt that if the revolt spreads the President may be caught in a party cross-fire that would be difficult to withstand.

Farm Bureau To Hold Out For Support Prices

Greensboro, N. C., March 24—(AP)—Executive Vice-President R. Flake Shaw says the North Carolina Farm Bureau will continue to fight for the present 90 per cent farm support prices because a proposed Congressional bill ranging from 80 per cent downward doesn't give a fair break to Southern crops.

The Farm leader said the Aiken Bill, intended to replace the present national farm program expiring at the end of the year, is "weak" in its support of tobacco, cotton and peanuts.

The Aiken bill proposes a flexible support price formula in the national farm program. It would determine support prices, from 80 to 60 per cent of parity, based on the supply picture in relation to a normal year's crop. Each crop would have the alternative of using the present parity formula or a 10-year moving average, whichever gives the highest price.

Potato Crop Is Late This Year

Wilmington, N. C., March 24—(AP)—Farm agents said today the Irish Potato crop in southeastern North Carolina would be two to three weeks late because of late planting.

Farmers today were able to work their fields for the first time in two weeks because of recent heavy rains. The entire area has experienced unusually heavy rainfall throughout winter and early spring.

Growers said other truck crops, including beans, peas and greens, would be correspondingly late in reaching market.

BIG MOVING JOB—The 15,000-ton building which formerly was a movie theatre at the Pecos, Tex., Airbase is moved three miles into the city of Pecos for municipal auditorium. Equipment used included 24 nose wheels from B-29 planes.

Astronomer Has New Planet For Earth's Family

Cambridge, Mass., March 24—(P)—Harvard observatory announced today discovery by a California astronomer of what may be the fourth minor planet in history which has moved into the orbit of the earth.

Dr. C. D. Shane of the Lick Observatory in Mount Hamilton, Calif., reported to Harvard that astronomer C. A. Wirtanen had discovered "an object x x x with an extraordinary motion." It was described as of 13th Magnitude—visible only through a fairly strong telescope.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple of the Harvard observatory, world clearing house for astronomical information, said the object appeared to be an asteroid or minor planet about two miles in diameter. He said it would be the fourth of the known 1,600 such planets to swing into the earth's orbit which is about 93,000,000 miles from the sun.

Chicken And Egg Production Cut

Washington, March 24—(P)—So you think egg and poultry prices are too high?

Farmers think they aren't high enough. So they're cutting their flocks sharply.

A special agriculture department survey of hatchery operations issued today indicates that 20 per cent fewer chickens will be raised this year than last. The department had suggested a cut of seven percent.

Says Austria To Keep Democracy

London, March 24—(AP)—Austrian Foreign Minister Karl Gruber says his country will carry on its free democratic system.

Gruber advanced this opinion on the eve of his departure for home. He told newsmen he was disappointed but not downhearted at the lack of progress by the big four deputy foreign ministers on a peace treaty for Austria.

'Youngest Atlantic Flier'

Jacques P. Hall, two-months-old, described by Pan American World Airways as "the youngest child ever to fly the Atlantic unaccompanied" is handed over to his grandmother, Mrs. O. P. Villere, (left) of New Orleans, La., by Stewardess Patricia Willkie at LaGuardia Field in New York. The child is the son of Jacques and Madeleine Hall, known on the English variety stage as Joyce Stewardess Willkie looked after Jacques on the flight. (AP Wirephoto).

Playing Around

Springfield, Mass., March 24—(AP)—His wife's plea that he was only playing around like husbands do won Ralph Baughan, 23, a suspended sentence on a charge of assault and battery.

His wife, Mame, 34, then told the judge: "He was only playing around like husbands do when he cut me. He didn't mean it."

The court imposed a six months suspended sentence after hearing her testimony yesterday.

UN Is Not Yet . . .

U.N. agency for bettering world trade.

The U.N. took a hand in the cholera epidemic in Egypt last October through the World Health Organization, sending a supply of vaccine to halt the disease.

A world conference on freedom of information, intended to study obstacles to the free flow of information, has just opened in Geneva.

Leaders here feel that a lot of hard and patient work has gone into putting the U.N. where it is now.

Political difficulties have grabbed the spotlight but the delegates say that much honest-to-goodness work for the benefit of humanity has been done in quiet committee rooms.

Times are dark at this stage. But these leaders feel that "infinite patience" is required now.

Some even say that it will be a miracle if the ultimate goal of the U.N. is achieved "in my lifetime, or yours."

The cast includes Binnie Streeter.

Children Melted Judicial Heart Of Stern Jurist

New York, March 24—(AP)—Five frightened children melted the judicial heart of a Brooklyn judge yesterday and won freedom for their father.

Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz listened unmoved as defense attorneys pleaded for a suspended sentence for Richard K. Lukeman, 30. Then Leibowitz sentenced Lukeman to a year in prison for fraudulently collecting $17,000 in a summer-camp-for-children promotion.

Lukeman was allowed to say goodbye to his children and the five youngsters—all under eight years of age—filed tearfully into the ante-room where their father waited.

The judge watched, wiped his own eyes, then called Lukeman and the children before him.

"I may be criticized for what I'm about to do," he said, "but I can't blot out the picture of these five lovely children from my mind."

Press Charter Finds Hypnotism Talks Are Voted Cured Veteran

Geneva, Switzerland, March 24—(AP)—Russia tried today to prevent discussion of an international charter for the world press.

The steering committee of the United Nations conference on freedom of information rebuffed the Soviet delegate, A. E. Bogomolov.

The Russian had proposed to delete from the agenda three items which he said were "infringements on the sovereign rights of states."

The committee voted nine to two (Russia and Yugoslavia) to retain the disputed items.

Consideration of the drafting of a charter of the rights and obligations of information media;

Consideration of possible continuing machinery "to promote the free flow of true information," including the possible establishment of a permanent international organization and regulating the issue of press cards for correspondents; and

Consideration of problems involved in setting up government information services to make information available in outside countries, including possible international agreements to assure facilities and safeguards for such services.

Safety Council Man Has His Troubles With Broken Arm

Chicago, March 24—(P)—Paul Jones is director of publicity for the National Safety Council.

He's the man who keeps track of how many accidents occur on highways, in the home and on the farm. At intervals he issues warnings against driving after drinking, holding fireworks in one's teeth or hanging storm sash in a high window.

At present Jones is having trouble keeping up with his work. His arm is broken in two places. He slipped and fell on an icy driveway at his home.

Baltimore, March 24—(AP)—A judge has decided that hypnotism has brought Wilbur Shattuck's mind back to America and 1948, after a series of lapses in which the veteran thought he was still fighting Japs in the South Pacific.

Shattuck was also cleared yesterday of charges that he stole a radio from his boss last fall. Psychiatrists said he believed he was carrying an ammunition case—about the same size as the radio—to his besieged buddies on Bougainville Island.

Judge Joseph Sherbow was told how Shattuck stumbled over imaginary underbrush and slapped at imaginary flies while under the influence of hypnosis at a veterans administration hospital here. Dr. Jacob H. Conn, court staff member assigned to the Shattuck case last December, told how he watched the sweating veteran relive the horrors of war, and describe the death of a mortar squad while he berated him, self for not bringing ammunition.

Yesterday Dr. Conn announced: "He is now completely cured, your honor. He is now ready to return to work."

"He is an excellent example of what can be accomplished when all the community agencies work together as a team for the benefit of mentally disturbed citizens."
