Cabinet Revision By Franco Said New Possibility

Reorganization May Result If Spain Included In ERP Say Informants

Madrid, March 31—(AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco may reshuffle his cabinet and install a premier if Spain is included in the European recovery program, informed sources said today.

The United States House of Representatives voted 149 to 82 yesterday to designate Spain as a participant under the Marshall Plan in the $6,200,000,000 foreign aid program. The House amendment still needs Senate approval.

A cabinet reorganization program long has been rumored in Spain, and news of the congressional action stirred up such talks again. One unconfirmed report said the reorganization may occur after the next cabinet meeting, set for April 2.

Principal among the rumors is that Franco plans to create a premier, who would head the cabinet, leaving the generalissimo as chief of state.

Some observers feel that cabinet changes would see Conservatives or pro-Franco monarchists substituted for Falangists of varying degree.

Although all political parties were abolished by Franco's decree, and merged into the government party, Falange Espanola, there are several factions within Falangist ranks. These include the Fascist Falangists, the Regueta (Carlists) and the Monarchists. Carlism supports the pretender to the Spanish throne, in Spain the Bourbon line.

Most prominently mentioned for the position of premier is Esteban Bilbao Egula, president of the Spanish parliament, and Alberto Ariza, minister of foreign affairs.

First news of the congressional action reached Spain last night in regular nightly newscasts of the national radio. The report of the action was followed by a commentary from Pedro Gomez Aparicio, general manager of the Spanish news agency Efe.

Gomez Aparicio told his listeners: "Spain has shown by her acts and her position that she can offer more than she could receive. The accord of the North American House is a recognition of an injustice. As such, we receive it with tranquility, confident as we have been that it would occur sooner or later."

Duke Endowment Appropriations Over $500,000

Charlotte, March 31—(AP)—Appropriations totaling more than a half million dollars have been set aside for 140 Carolina hospitals and orphanages under provisions of the Duke endowment.

The appropriations for the current year, announced here yesterday following a meeting of Duke endowment trustees in New York, amount to $474,294.82. A total of $535,424 will go to 100 hospitals in both states and $138,860.52 to 40 orphan homes.

The beneficiaries of the annual grants include 73 North Carolina and 37 South Carolina hospitals and 36 North Carolina and 14 South Carolina orphanages.

The appropriations are based on work done by these institutions in 1947. The trustees said they would consider applications of other hospitals at later meetings.

Nightmare In Atomics

Two Recent Announcements On American Progress In Atomic Weapons Stress Need For Adequate International Controls; We Can Now Destroy Life On Earth

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 31—(AP)—Two shuddering pieces of information have been made known to the public in the past few days:

1. That we have an "adequate" supply of atomic bombs.

2. That we have enough radioactive material—if used "effectively"—to wipe human life off the earth.

It was a congressman—Rep. Keefe, Wisconsin Republican—who let it be known today that we have an "adequate" supply of bombs.

It was Senator McMahon, Connecticut Democrat, who told of the radioactive material in an article this week in Collier's Magazine.

Lewis Facing Possible Second Court Order To End Walkouts

Washington, March 31—(AP)—John L. Lewis today faced a possible second court order in as many days—this one to send his 400,000 striking miners back to work at once.

The United Mine Workers chief bowed to one summons yesterday and appeared for the first time before a presidential board of inquiry studying the facts and causes of the soft coal pension dispute.

After Lewis testified "under compulsion," the three-man board hurried to complete its report by early morning and thus speed further action by President Truman to halt the walkout which began March 15.

As soon as Mr. Truman receives the report by the boarder Attorney General Clark to seek a court injunction to halt the strike. This

Read Indictment Of Robert Best

Thirteen Acts Of Treason Said Backed Up By Witnesses

Boston, March 31—(AP)—Robert H. Best, former American newsmen, faced the accusation today of being an associate of wartime "Lord Haw Haw" and a former U.S. reporter now under life sentence for treason.

The 51-year-old Best, a native of Sumter, S.C., is on trial on a charge of treason for allegedly broadcasting Nazi propaganda from Germany during the war.

A six-page indictment read to a federal court yesterday charged he made recordings for the German radio which were beamed to the United States.

One count said Best took part in broadcast round table conferences with Douglas Chandler, a native of Baltimore, and William Joyce, described in the document as "the British renegade known as Lord Haw Haw."

Chandler was sentenced to life imprisonment after conviction in Boston. The British hanged Joyce. Tom de Wolfe, special assistant to the attorney general, told the jury yesterday Best received 1,500 Reichsmarks a month, about $400, for beaming psychological wartime speeches, designed to disrupt American morale, over Radio Berlin.

He said that Best was a commentator, news editor and translator for the German Radio Broadcast Co., while the United States was at war with Germany.

De Wolfe said the government would try to prove by two witnesses to each act that Best committed 13 overt acts of treason.

Wallace Dinner For Party Funds

New York, March 31—(AP)—A $100-a-plate dinner at the Commodore Hotel April 9 will open a national fund-raising campaign for Henry A. Wallace's third party Presidential candidacy.

Wallace and his running mate, Sen. Glen H. Taylor will address the gathering.

Other speakers listed are C. B. Baldwin, Wallace ticket campaign manager; Vito Marcantonio and Leo Isaacson, American Labor party congressmen, and Paul Robeson, Negro singer.

Crowd Wrecks Home Of Ohio Communist Leader

Columbus, O., March 31—(AP)—Two weeks of heckling by stones and telephone calls were climaxed last night when the home of a self-proclaimed Communist leader was stormed by a crowd and badly damaged.

A crowd of 300 watched and cheered 30 or 40 persons who broke into the Southside home occupied by Frank Hashmall, 26-year-old former New York college student.

Hashmall, his wife and child were away.

Before police came the gang broke all the windows and much of the furniture, but left untouched four bookcases filled with Communist and other literature.

Sheriff Ralph Paul announced he planned to see if Hashmall, who calls himself executive secretary of Franklin County (Columbus) Communists, could be declared a public menace and forced to leave town.

Hashmall refused to talk to reporters about the incident.

He came here two weeks ago and announced his position in public statements. Newspapers smothered his telephone number, but one paper published it with the wrong exchange. The owner of that telephone complained it was ringing all the time and every time he answered he got abuse.

A stone was thrown through Hashmall's window Saturday. Then two men knocked on his door. There was a disturbance and all three went to police headquarters. Hashmall did not file a complaint and the men were released, but police promised to patrol his street.

Last night's affray started after the gang began throwing stones through the windows. A patrol car scattered them, but an hour later they returned.

step is provided under the Taft-Hartley Act in case of "national emergencies."

As the number one foe of the Taft-Hartley Act, Lewis was well on the way toward providing his first and most spectacular test case. He had defied the formal and informal requests of the President's board of inquiry to tell his side of the pension controversy. The Justice Department was forced to ask the federal court to back up the board's summons.

And he has steadfastly refused to meet a basic requirement of the act—to take an oath that he is not a Communist. A bitter anti-Communist, Lewis has blasted that provision as "an insult."

When Lewis responded to the subpoena yesterday, he vigorously denied that he had inspired the miners to walk out by his letter to them March 12. The letter said the operators had "dishonored" their contract by not agreeing to Lewis' pension proposal. It suggested that the local unions "hold meetings" to discuss this question.

The "meetings" resulted in a partial shutdown of the soft coal industry. It spread rapidly until its effects were nationwide. Steel production and railroad passenger and freight services were curtailed.

If the federal court grants an injunction against Lewis and the miners, his March 12 letter to the membership might play an important role in the legal argument. The court might ask him to withdraw or revise that letter because of its effect.

Quarantine

The town of Winterville has outlawed all dogs for a period of ninety days for the safety of the public. Mayor C. D. Langston, by virtue of the authority vested in him, has issued an order guaranteeing all dogs male and female. The proclamation states that any dog found running at large during this time will be shot on sight by a policeman.

The mayor warned dog owners to keep them on their premises. The quarantine order was issued to eliminate the danger of being bitten by a dog with rabies, the mayor said.

Phillips' Death Penalty Modified

Raleigh, N.C., March 31—(AP)—Governor Cherry today commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of Charlie Phillips, Angier tenant farmer who was twice convicted of slaying his wife.

Phillips was scheduled to die Friday.

The governor's decision came as Phillips' 73-year-old father, Jim Phillips of near Oxford, was waiting in the governor's office planning to plead with the "governor to have mercy."

On being told of the governor's decision, the short, slender, blue-eyed old man said:

"Thank God, I knowed the governor would not take my boy's life."

The 32-year-old Angier tenant farmer was accused of slaying his wife in a dinner table argument on Aug. 18, 1946. Tried in Harnett Superior Court in September 1946, he was convicted and sentenced to die. The conviction was upheld by the State Supreme Court.

However, on the eve of his execution, an alleged suicide note was discovered and Phillips was granted a new trial. Handwriting experts disagreed on authenticity of the alleged suicide note, and Phillips was convicted a second time. Again his conviction was upheld by the Supreme Court.

Nell McM. Salmon, Lillington attorney, waged and won a fight for Phillips' life. He fought the case through two Superior Court trials and in two Supreme Court appeals.

The governor, who began studying the case last week, received three petitions from Harnett County urging clemency. One was signed by 11 of 12 jurors at the second trial, one by officials of Harnett County, and the third by Harnett attorneys.

Students Favor Draft And UMT In Voting Test

Chapel Hill, N.C., March 31—(AP)—Students supporting the draft and Universal Military Training stole the thunder from an opposing group at the University of North Carolina last night.

The committee against conscription, an organization composed of student group representatives, called a meeting on the campus.

Everything was progressing nicely in the committee's favor until a large group of supporters of the two proposed measures invaded the session.

After two hours of speeches and questions and answers, a vote was taken.

The proponents of the two national programs outvoted the anti-draft and anti-UMT group, 395 to 95.

No Indications Wallace Attack Changed Votes

Three Hours' Testimony Apparently Fails Impress Senatorial Committee

Washington, March 31—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace came to town and fired both barrels at the government's "stop Russia" policy.

But there was no sign today that he switched any votes in Congress on the issues of military aid and universal military training to strengthen the armed forces.

In fact, chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the Senate Armed Services committee remarked:

"It is evident Congress will pass some form of selective service and may adopt a universal military training program."

For two hours and 58 minutes yesterday Wallace held the Washington spotlight as the star witness against America's military plans. He spent almost 45 minutes reading a bitter attack against President Truman's policies which he said are leading this country towards war.

And then for more than two hours he faced a barrage of questions from members of Gurney's committee.

More than 400 people jammed into the hearing room. The audience was quiet and intent—but gave no sign either of sympathy or hostility.

After firing his prepared broadside at the administration's policies at home and abroad, questioning by Senators brought out these Wallace viewpoints:

1. Our leaders should meet as soon as possible with Premier Stalin to get an "overall agreement" that will halt an arms race between Russia and the United States.

2. Russia has been no more guilty of aggression than the United States.

3. The United States' military policy toward Russia changed after the death of President Roosevelt.

4. Russian expansion in Europe is over and the Soviets are not a menace to the United States.

Several times Wallace referred to the urgent need of a meeting with Stalin to iron out differences between east and west.

Reports A-Bomb Supply Adequate

Lilienthal Says U.S. Making More; No Numbers Disclosed

Washington, March 31—(AP)—The United States has "an adequate supply" of atom bombs and is steadily making more, Congress members said today.

They reported that this information came from David E. Lilienthal, Atomic Energy Commission chairman, during secret testimony before the House Appropriations Committee on February 28.

On the strength of Lilienthal's statements, the committee yesterday recommended an additional $150,000,000 for the commission's work, the full amount asked.

While committee members were reluctant to discuss Lilienthal's testimony, they agreed privately with the statement of Rep. Keefe (R-Wis.) that "we have an adequate supply of bombs already manufactured."

They said they were not given any exact numbers and declined to say where the bombs are stored and how big they are.

The conclusion I drew from the testimony," Keefe said in an interview, "is that we are proceeding rapidly with development of the entire atomic energy program. I am satisfied that the atomic program is proceeding in the interest of the protection of America."

Meanwhile, the chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee said today he believes that if war comes again this country should use the bomb with the aim of shortening the conflict and saving lives.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) put it this way to a reporter: "I do not think the bomb should be used indiscriminately. But I have no qualms about our using it strategically, where it will be an efficient means of ending the war."

House To Wind Up ERP Bill Tonight

Leaders Put Pressure On Passage Of Foreign Aid Measure; Time And Amount Of Aid Are Only Decisions To Be Made

Washington, March 31—(AP)—Time and amount were the big issues as House leaders put on the pressure today for passage of the $6,200,000,000 foreign aid bill.

Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana ordered the session to start early and run late.

"We said before we'd be through by April 1," he said, "and I think we will."

And Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio), managing the measure on the floor, told a reporter "We'll wind it up today."

The main but unwritten purpose of the bill is to block the march of Communism across Europe and China.

There is disagreement over how long Congress should pledge this country to help Europe recover and what the cost should be this year. The bill now provides for a one-year program at a cost of $5,300,000,000.

"Time and amount are the big things left," Vorys said. "And I think they'll be left substantially as is."

He predicted the House would beat down.

A proposal by Rep. Hand (R-NJ) to rip out all military aid—$275,000,000 for Greece and Turkey and $150,000,000 for China.

Another by Rep. Vursell (R-Ill.) to slash the European recovery total to $4,000,000,000.

That would leave just the program's duration and cost to be thrashed out.

The way the foreign affairs committee drafted the bill, Congress would have to okay a new program and a new appropriation every year.

But it also says something about the money remaining available until mid-1952. Some congressmen regard that date as a moral commitment to a four-year program. They want to knock it out.

The House spent eight hours yesterday putting things in and taking others out.

It put in:

An invitation to Spain to get in on the European recovery program.

Provisions empowering the foreign aid administrator to ban shipments of war supplies to Russia and her satellites, and to do his best to see to it that western Europe doesn't make American materials into war goods for eastern Europe.

A requirement that half the cargoes shipped for European recovery be carried in American vessels.

It took out:

Authority for the chartering of 200 American ships to countries receiving help.

Train Blasted In Palestine War

Twenty-Four Known Dead; Seen As Retaliatory Action

Jerusalem, March 31—(AP)—The Cairo-Haifa train was blown up on the Palestine Coastal Plain today and 24 persons were killed, the government announced.

Sixty-one persons were injured.

The blast occurred at Binyamina, 20 miles south of Haifa. The engine and four coaches of the train were derailed. The train was en route to Haifa, major Palestine port.

A government spokesman said he believed there were few if any British among the casualties.

Open Spring Offensive In Attack On Guerrillas

In Attack On Guerrillas

Athens, March 31—(AP)—The Greek army's spring offensive seemed to be unfolding today as troops drove against Communist guerrillas in the snow-capped mountains of northern Greece.

Fighting was reported on two mountainous fronts, along the southern Albanian border, and near the Yugoslav border north of Salonika.

The Greek general staff issued only a terse communique saying "clashes continued" in the Philites and Crucia Mountains areas. Philites is near the west coast of Greece northwest of Konitsa, and the Crucia Mountains are northwest of Salonika.

Newspaper accounts in Athens said the army is gaining in a series of fights.

Artillery and rocket-firing Spitfire airplanes are being used to smash against an estimated 600 guerrillas in the Crucia Mountains, only 10 to 15 miles from the Yugoslav frontier, press reports said.

Heavy attacks by the army were reported 30 miles north of Mount Murgana in the Pogoniani area. Mount Murgana is about a 4,500 feet peak and is surrounded on three sides by Albanian territory. It is about 22 miles from Corfu Bay in northwest Greece.

Refugees were reported streaming out of the battle area and into the Greek frontier.

Heavy action was believed to be developing in a 20-mile stretch between Mount Murgana and Pogoniani. It was reported U.S. military advisers and observers of the United Nations special commission on the Balkans were watching the fighting in the Mount Murgana area.

Communists In China

No Surprise To Anyone That Situation In China Is "Touch And Go"; Red Forces There Working Hand In Glove With Muscovites; No Cooperation Possible

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Senator Arthur Vandenberg, in urging quick Senate approval of $463,000,000 M aid for China, described that unhappy country as "a major victim of that conspiracy of aggression which undermines the peace of the earth."

The Senator was, of course, speaking of aggressive Communism, and he declared that the situation in China is "touch and go. This graphic estimate of the position will cause little surprise, since the general public of Western countries have been well aware that China was in desperate straits. However, it is an astonishing fact that many people still believe the fiction that the Chinese Reds aren't of the Russian brand but are merely agrarians who are fighting for their place in the sun.

That's a terribly dangerous error, since defense against the spread of Communism in the far east depends on recognition of the truth that the Chinese Communists follow the Moscow pattern. The Chinese Reds have carefully spread the false tale that they have nothing to do with the Soviet Union. However, the evidence is clear enough that

'Invaders' Take Tar Heel Games

By the Associated Press
North Carolina college baseball players know today how their grandfather felt after Sherman passed through the state.
Invading northern teams almost made a clean sweep of things yesterday in their current campaign against Tar Heel nines. In three games against Yankee teams, only Duke was able to claim a victory—and that after calling out four pitchers to stop Cornell, 18-16.
The University of North Carolina and Wake Forest couldn't do so well, though. North Carolina, plagued by an epidemic of wildness in the ninth inning, lost to Pennsylvania, 7-5, and Wake Forest was the 3-2 victim of Michigan State.
Carolina held a 5-4 advantage going into the ninth but a comedy of errors, underlined by three wild throws, cost the Tar Heels the victory as the Pennsylvanians pushed over three runs—two of them unearned.
Wake Forest succumbed to a one-man attack in a sustained 14-inning attack. Neill Ricketts, who scattered 10 Deacon hits effectively, drove in all three Michigan State runs with three hits in five trips.

Duke's triumph was its sixth of the season, and came after Blue Devil batters had poled four homers. Johnny Falwell collected two of them, while Freddie Folger and Stu Erickson followed suit.
Davidson, engaging the only non-northern nine in state action yesterday, fell before Washington and Lee, 10-4—the identical score for the Generals.
It's North against South again today with Michigan State going to Duke, Pennsylvania to N.C. State and Cornell at North Carolina.

Kentucky Plays Oilers Tonight

New York, March 31—(AP)—Kentucky matches its youth and speed against the height and experience of the Phillips Oilers tonight in the finals of the Olympic basketball tryouts.
A capacity crowd of around 18,400 is expected to jam Madison Square Garden to witness the settlement of basketball's burning question: "Can a great college basketball team beat the nation's best AAU club?"
There's no doubt about the qualifications of each quintet. The Kentucky Wildcats (36-2), breezed to the NSAA title and won its first two tryout tests handily.
Phillips (41-3) captured its fifth straight AAU crown and swept its two trials here just as easily.
Kentucky will start its usual five of Ralph Beard 5-10 1-2, Ken Rollins (6 feet) Alex Groza (6-7) Cliff Barker (6 1-2), and Wallace Jones (6-4). This quintet averages close to 22 years in age and 6-2 in height.
Against this fleet combination, the Oilers are expected to pit R. C. Pitts (6-4), Jesse Renick (6 2 1-2), Bob Kerland (7-feet), Lew Beck (5-10), and Gordon Carpenter (6-7). That team averages around 27 in age and 6-5 in height. Kentucky is five years younger—and the Oilers have a three-inch advantage in height.

No Hit, No Run Pitching Stars Murry Dickson

New York, March 31—(AP)—Murry Dickson of the St. Louis Cardinals, hurled the second no-run, no-hit nine inning spring exhibition game in baseball history yesterday. The performance showed manager Eddie Dyer he was justified in standing by the little righthander last year when he couldn't win for losing.
The Cardinals, and Dickson in particular, had tough luck all through the 1947 season. He wound up with 13 victories and 16 losses. The fans were down on him, but Dyer kept rushing him into vital contests despite the boos from the crowd.
Murry picked on the world champion New York Yankees in St. Petersburg, Fla., yesterday. He faced 30 batters, walking five and hitting one. He struck out six. The Yankees' best effort was a screaming liner that Joe DiMaggio hit straight at shortstop Tommy Giviano.

John D. Larkins Speaks on Cancer

By CHESTER WALSH
"Seventeen million Americans have cancers today and there have been more deaths resulting from it than during World War II, from Pearl Harbor to the end of hostilities," former state Senator John D. Larkins of Trenton told the Pitt County Unit of the North Carolina Cancer Society at a supper meeting at the Woman's Club last night.
"If it took three billion dollars to develop the atomic bomb it is worth more than that amount to discover a cure for cancer, the disease that ranks next to heart disease in the death toll each year," he added.
Larkins, who is chairman of the State Cancer Society's drive for funds for cancer control and research, which will be carried on in Pitt County the week of April 11-17, shocked the audience when he said there is cancer in one of every two homes in this country and that one person dies of cancer every three minutes, and that means an average of 188,000 will die of the stealthy killer this year.
He said North Carolina people last year raised $300,000 for polio control and research, and yet only three persons died of polio in the state that year. In comparison, he pointed out, deaths from cancer are three to one over tuberculosis. Getting closer to home, the state cancer control drive chairman said 30 persons in Pitt county died of cancer last year; nine of tuberculosis, and seven from automobile accidents, but none from polio.
The speaker quoted medical authorities as saying that cancer in its early stages can be effectively cured. He urged his hearers to "be missionaries in banishing the false pride people have about cancer. It is not contagious, nor hereditary," he declared.
Larkins said he spoke from experience, and told of early diagnosis of a cancer on his face which was entirely cured because of early diagnosis. He reminded that every person who has cancer is a "time bomb" from within at some time of its existence, but people are inclined to postpone diagnosis and early treatment. He urged the workers of the Pitt County Unit of the North Carolina Cancer Society to make it a year-round job to teach people to leave off their mock modesty about what may be suspected to be cancer and to seek prompt medical advice.
He said 25 per cent of all money raised during the coming Cancer Fund Drive will be used in cancer research to find a cure for the killing disease. He urged the workers to "work as a mighty team to arouse the people about the seriousness of cancer and help to make possible the ultimate solving of the cancer problem."

Annual Dramatic Festival Held In Ayden March 19

The Pitt County Negro schools presented their Annual Dramatic Festival at the Ayden High School on the evening of Friday, March 19.
Students from the W. H. Robinson High School presented "The Used Well" under the direction of Mrs. D. W. Ivey. The Pitt County Training School, under the direction of Miss C. B. Payton, offered "The Wife of Two."
Director F. H. Mebane and a number of players from the Farmville High School presented "Sister Sue"; Bethel High School students under the direction of Miss Serena A. Carter gave a presentation of "The Brave Shall Serve"; Ayden High students under the direction of Miss L. L. Dillard and Miss Stella Dixon gave a performance of "Who Is Mr. Winston?"
Mrs. B. C. Maye, secretary of the Pitt County Negro Teachers Association, described the plays as giving an opportunity for the broadening and deepening of insight into human life, and "they also gave students a standard by which they can tell the difference between good and poor plays."

H. B. Sugg was the master of ceremonies.
The New Jersey city of Elizabeth was named after the wife of Sir George Carteret, one of the men who received a grant of the whole province.

Jamaica Opens Racing Season

New York, March 31—(AP)—The New York racing season is scheduled to begin tomorrow at Jamaica, but labor trouble may postpone it.
Grooms and exercise boys announced they would strike against some 130 horse owners and trainers at 6 a.m. tomorrow unless they signed an agreement with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (AFL).
The union said it believed such a walkout would halt racing. However, Luke H. O'Brien, general manager of Jamaica, declared: "We will operate."

Order Physical Exams In Boxing

Boston, March 31—(AP)—Professional boxers would be forbidden to compete in Massachusetts unless certified by a Doctor if they had been knocked out six times in a year under a bill approved by the Legislative committee on public safety.
The measure, which requires that Doctors passing on a boxer must be selected by the boxing commission, was sent to the state house today.
It would be effective if the boxer had been ruled knocked out, either by a ten count or a technical Kayo.

Duckpin Record Set By Southpaw

Colchester, Conn., March 31—(AP)—Ten nights in a bowling alley brought Paul Gyome of Colchester a new world's record for 100 games of duckpin bowling.
The 27-year-old southpaw rolled the last of his ten series of ten games each last night, finishing with a total of 12,722 for the 100 games. That was 276 pins better than the old record, set December 18, 1940, by Gordon McIlwee of Winchester, Va.

Huskies Try Out Passing Power

Seattle, March 31—(AP)—Coach Howie Odell kept his eyes peeled for good passing arms today as the Washington Huskies got in their first drills of the spring football practice.
The new Husky coach indicated that every player who can toss the pigskin will be given a chance to show his accuracy. Odell is looking for key men for his T-formation offense.
A major part of today's two-hour practice was devoted to splitting the squad into backs, centers, linemen and ends.

Home Run Attack

El Centro, Calif., March 31—(AP)—The New York Giants home run attack seems to be in form and the Pittsburgh Pirates ought to know it. The Giants have whipped the Pirates two straight days on four baggers. The Pirates' Ralph Kiner, 1947 home run king, also is finding his eye. He hit his second of the season yesterday.

Play Football On College Pattern

New York, March 31—(AP)—Next season the nation's high schools will play their football on the college pattern.
A uniform set of playing rules was adopted this week by a special committee representing both the college and high school organizations.
Whereas in the past there have been as many as 150 differences in the two codes, the revised standards reduce these differences to half a dozen, none important.
The main differences remaining deal with length of quarters and substitutions.
"It is the belief of both groups that the new code represents considerable progress in giving logical and orderly coverage in such a way that the code may be used as a textbook in any study group," the committee said in a statement.
William Bingham, athletic director at Harvard, represented the National Collegiate Athletic Association. H. V. Porter of Chicago represented the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations.

Nightmare . . .

controlling atomic energy in this country.
Through his committee Congress keeps a check on what is being done about the development of atomic energy in this country. Which means:
The committee is in close touch with the Atomic Energy Commission, headed by Lillenthal, which bosses the whole atomic energy program.
The Post, indignant at McMahon for his place in Collier's, says Lillenthal's commission had no advance knowledge of it.
McMahon, asked today if he had any comment on the Post editorial, said:
"Mr. Bernard Baruch two years ago said 'we are all engaged in a race between the quick and the dead.'
"There is nothing which my article revealed which is not known to every nuclear scientist in the world worth his salt.
"That's the reason why the scientists in this country and elsewhere desperately want effective international control of atomic energy.
"Unless the truth is brought home to the peoples of the world, atomic energy may well spell destruction for mankind."
Those two items of information—Keefe's and McMahon's—came at a time when this country is getting tough with Russia.
If President Truman's call to build up our armed forces was intended to jolt Russia's nerves, this latest information may give them another jolt.

Chairman Larkins commended Mrs. J. Vance Perkins, Pitt County commander of the Cancer Fund Drive, and her co-workers for their public service and warned that education about the symptoms of cancer is one of the best weapons to combat the disease, when linked with research and medical service.
At the conclusion of his talk, the speaker answered questions put to him by the half a hundred men and women present. He said 40 per cent of the money raised in this county will remain here.
Mrs. J. Vance Perkins presided over the meeting. Dr. J. L. Winstead presented the speaker.

Strength FOR THE DAY

CAN THE CHURCH SURVIVE?

In the face of indifference, unbelief, worldliness, and just plain everyday sin, many people claim that the Church has failed and is going to pieces.

Is this true? The answer to that is to be found in the words of Jesus concerning his Church: "The gates of hell shall not prevail against it."
We are not sure what may happen to the Church, but we can be perfectly sure it will never go to pieces.
It will be established on the earth until the end of time, and when all else fails, it will triumph.

There is much to be discouraged about today, but there also is much about which can be greatly encouraged. At different points in the world, real revivals of religion seem to be taking place. In certain youth groups throughout the country, a new spirit of religious enthusiasm has flared up. Church people are addressing themselves to tasks which would have seemed impossible a decade ago. In every branch of the Christian Church, leaders are both encouraged and discouraged.

There are some of us who are betting on optimism. We do not believe that the world is going to be blown to pieces by atom bombs; rather we believe that there is going to be a mighty demonstration of the power of Christian faith before many years are passed.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—Mother's Day, especially honored on May 9 in this country, will turn their thoughts to mothers of other countries on that day this year.

Through the General Federation of Women's Clubs, thousands of American mothers will send CARE packages on Mother's Day to women in Europe.

For individual contributions of $10 packages of food or clothing will be sent to some woman they themselves know, or to a needy woman whose name is listed at the Federation headquarters here.

Special food packages are set up for England, Ireland, Italy and other countries according to the tastes and desires of the people of that country, but the standard food package contains: one lb. braised beef, 1 lb. liver loaf, 1 lb. corned beef,
2 lbs. shortening, 2 lbs. sugar, 1 lb.
apricots, 1 lb. raisins, 7 lbs. flour, 2 lbs. chocolate, 2 lbs. white milk powder, 3 oz. egg powder, 1 lb. coffee (1 1/2 lb. tea substituted for British packages), 6 oz. soap, 1-4 oz.
yeast.

In addition to the food packages there are packages made up of blankets, knitting, woollens, cotton, lay-ettes, etc.

Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, extension secretary of the Federations Foreign and Territorial clubs, says:
"There is an opportunity to make Mother's Day of 1948 a day that will long be remembered by the unhappy undernourished mothers in many countries. It will also give evidence of our good faith and intentions toward the stricken peoples throughout the world. It is believed," she adds, "that the mothers of the United States would prefer to deny themselves a gift that day in order to send a gift to another mother in a distant country."

Blair House, Uncle Sam's official guest house for visiting dignitaries, is undergoing a spring house-cleaning just like any other American home. From top to bottom, rugs, draperies, upholstery are vacuumed, brushed, cleaned. Closets are cleaned out for moth. Woodwork is washed.

Mrs. Victoria Geaney, long-time housekeeper at the beautiful residence on Pennsylvania Avenue near the White House, says nothing needs to be replaced and that no painting will be done this year.

Mme. Nehru, wife of the new Indian Minister to the United States has served with distinction in various fields of activity in her country.
For seven years Mme. Nehru was honorary secretary to the Delhi women's League. She is currently its vice president. Since 1940 she has been a member of the All India Women's Conference. During the famine of 1942-1943, she led a medical relief unit to stricken areas.
More recently she was a member of the emergency committee of the Delhi Administration. That was during the disturbances of 1947. She is also provincial commissioner for the Hindustan National Scouts Association and is closely connected with the students' Congress.

HAUNTED HOLIDAY

Chapter 3
Julia Manny didn't explain her remark and after a quick glance at her face Vince didn't press her. They drove in silence, Julia concentrating on avoiding the chuckholes of the narrowing road. When they were about twenty miles from town she swung the car suddenly onto a private road.

"Now you're on the great Simeon Manny's property," she announced.
They drove on dirt carpeted with needles from the towering firs and cedars above them, their tires making almost no sound. The coarse scrubby underbrush had been removed leaving only the finest specimens of shrubbery and the largest trees. Once a deer blocked their path staring at them with wide uncomprehending eyes then pivoted and loped off into the timber.

"It rather gets you, doesn't it?"
Julia said thoughtfully.
Vince nodded. "I used to think it just poetic fervor when they compared forests to cathedrals."

Vince didn't know what he had expected Kalamiti to be like—certainly not the elaborate cream-plastered and dark-beamed Queen Anne affair it was. He caught a brief glimpse of sunlight gleaming on the depthless waters of Hood Canal then they drove beneath the porte-cochere and the front door swung open as though timed to their arrival. A young man stood there.

"Julia!" he exclaimed. "I'm glad you're back. Hugh has—" He stopped suddenly and peered into the car at Vince. "Oh, I'm sorry—I didn't see you at first—let my glasses be in the house."

"Quite all right," Vince answered.
He had turned to reach for his suitcase so the roadster top had temporarily obscured him. As he turned back he had a quick glimpse of Julia shaking her head in warning to the other man.

She performed the introduction
smoothly. "Commander Bonney, Vince, this is John Bissett, he's secretary to Uncle Sam."

Vince nodded, studying the broad-shouldered, vague-eyed young man and suddenly envying him his good looks. Even to his unaccustomed eyes it was obvious that Bissett was in love with Julia Manny.

"Everyone is down at the cove but they'll be up for cocktails soon," Julia glanced at her watch. "It's six—kind of foolish for swimming, Vince, I wouldn't advise it unless you're desperate."

"It's keep. I'll just shower and shift to a fresh suit."

They stood in a cool dark hall which extended across the house to a flagged terrace. The hall branched to the right leading to a double stairway. The walls were paneled with dark wood for three feet then the beige plaster was decorated with excellent Oriental prints.
The entrance to the living room was guarded by two grim furnished suits of Japanese armor. Now a dusky figure in which stared jacket came toward them on silent feet.

"Luki please attend to Commander Bonney's luggage," Julia ordered.
"He is sharing a room with Doctor Palmer."

John Bissett was sorting over the mail Julia had brought, staring at the envelopes vacantly. I'll bet he hasn't seen one of them, Vince thought, he's so damned anxious to tell Julia about this Hugh fellow.

"I think I ought to say hello to Mr. Manny," he said.

Julia laughed. "He's probably hidden in the shade of his super-colossal umbrella down on the beach. Why don't you change now then you can have a talk with him before dinner while the others are dressing."

Vince knew he looked wilted and a shower sounded good; he bowed,
"Your every wish is my command,
dear lady," and followed the silent Luki.

As he reached the stairs he heard Julia say "Now John, what's all this about Hugh?" Her voice was tired and fraught with anxiety.

Two Candidates For Governor To Share Platform

Raleigh, March 31—(AP)—Interest in the race for governor will focus tonight on Chapel Hill, where two candidates for the Democratic nomination will share a platform.

R. Mayne Albright of Raleigh and Oscar Barker of Durham will address the Carolina Political Union, non-partisan student organization at the University of North Carolina. Two other gubernatorial aspirants were busy at other points. Kerr Scott of Haw River was scheduled to wind up three days of conferences in the western part of the state. State Treasurer Charles Johnson, after a home-county rally at Burgaw, where he formally opened his campaign, was to speak at Sanford this morning.

In a speech at the "Johnson-for-Governor Day" rally at Burgaw, Johnson presented his platform. He admitted it might be necessary to add further planks later.

He declared for these things: Higher teacher salaries; reduced teacher loads through employment of more teachers; use of state surplus funds to help poorer areas erect school buildings; a school health program; a state referendum on secondary road improvement bonds; an "adequate marketing system" for farm products; increased appropriations for needy old people and dependent children; a "reasonable expansion of state services, with such tax relief as necessary to correct injustices"; more industry for rural communities; and concentration in Raleigh of "those governmental functions which are statewide in their application."

Sellers' Plane Like Pullman Coach In Air

By CHESTER WALSH

Cruising in Tommy Sellers' four-place Stinson Flying Station Wagon plane at a 2,500-foot altitude is like riding in a Pullman coach. That's what a hoboing reporter said yesterday afternoon after half an hour of cloud-hopping with the former Marine pilot at the controls. Winterville and Ayden were easily visible from over the airfield here. "One feels safe in the air while watching motor vehicle traffic on the highways below," he said.

The Flying Station Wagon, with a cruising speed of 140 miles an hour, is upholstered like a coach; it has a radio and loud speaker in the dome, landing lights, all-blind flying instruments, a stall-warning indicator which flashes a light and sounds a small siren when the plane's speed slows up too much, and dual half-wheel control sticks. The cabin is nearly sound-proof and ordinary conversation may be heard during flight.

The new plane is based at the Greenville Airport. It may be chartered for special trips on short notice. Several nights ago a businessman had to be in Raleigh at a certain time. He communicated with the Barnes Aircraft Service, operators of the airport. Sellers had the Stinson Flying Station Wagon tuned up and flew the man to Raleigh in 25 minutes and he made his connections. Today, Sellers was scheduled to fly a well known tobaccoist to Tennessee.

The Barnes Aircraft Service has three trainer planes, which are used at the government and Veterans Administration approved aviation school being conducted at the airfield. In addition, the school will shortly add a course in commercial flying, using Sellers' Flying Station Wagon for training.

Sellers was a first lieutenant in the Marine Air Corps during World War II and had service in the South Pacific. C. S. Steinmeyer, manager of the airport, was a captain in the Army Air Corps, and was in the South Pacific.

The Barnes Aircraft Service maintains service and repair shops for planes at the airfield. Leon Livingston, with 20 years' experience, is chief mechanic. Small planes are available for flights over the city.

A. G. Kettles, pilot, and M. L. Villard, photographer, who are making an aerial survey of Pitt county for the federal government, said the Greenville airfield is one of the best in the country, with its paved 5,000-foot runways and clear approaches. The airport is operated under control of the Pitt-Greenville Airport Commission. Willard T. Kyzer is executive secretary.

Greater Tobacco Yield Required

Dobson, N. C., March 31—(AP)—This year's indicated demand for flue-cured tobacco will warrant greater yields per acre, says J. B. Hutson of Washington, president of Tobacco Associates, Inc.

He told a Farmers Day audience here last night that indications are that the demand "will be such as to make it profitable for growers to increase the yield per acre 10 per cent over the average yields of 1946 and 1947."

"Many farmers whose yields have been low will find it profitable to increase their yields even more than 10 per cent," he added.

He mentioned better fertilization, closer spacing in rows, good cultivation, high topping and careful suckering as important in improving both yields and quality.

"The part that growers acting alone can play in holding export markets and in increasing profits," he declared, lies in better crop practices.

Negro Died Without Doctor's Services

Communists In . . .

building up to what now has become a full-blown civil war. Grumlich comments:

"Whether Stilwell would think the same about Chinese Communists now is something that can't be answered. He died Oct. 12, 1946."

In any event, the Generalissimo was under American pressure to cooperate with the Chinese Reds. His present reaction to the situation was made clear Sunday at Nanking in a statement to the people's political council on the eve of the meeting of the National Assembly which is to elect the nation's first constitutional President and make the new constitution effective. Said Chiang of the ten years which he had worked with the council:

"I have committed many blunders during those ten years, but the worst was my tolerance towards the Communists. I allowed them to take part in the people's political council and save them other privileges which resulted in our present civil war. However, I am confident we will not repeat this mistake."

There is no possible hope of cooperation between the Chinese Communists and any Chinese government, unless it is Red. The consensus of observers long has been that the civil war must be fought to a finish.

This spring, first thing...

...you've got a date that just can't wait!

So, clear out! Get down the street, where a Conoco Mileage Merchant can drain out dirty, contaminated winter oil and refill with Spring-time Conoco Nth... the oil that OIL-PLATES as it lubricates!

It's like this: When Nth Oil (Patented) enters your engine, a special added ingredient fastens extra lubricant so closely to metal that cylinder walls and all working parts are actually OIL-PLATED!

Because this extra OIL-PLATING stays up on cylinder walls... won't all drain down to your crankcase, even overnight... a Spring change to Conoco Nth Motor Oil extra-protects from "dry-friction" starts... from power-choking sludge and carbon due to wear!

That's why, for extra-cool, extra-powerful, extra low-cost miles you'd better...
