

Vast Foreign Aid Program Prepared

Administration Works At Top Speed To Convert ERP Into Global Aids Against Communism; President Expected To Sign Measure Today

Washington, April 3—(AP)—The Administration worked at top speed today to convert the $3,000,000,000 ERP bill into a global aid program against Communism in Europe and Asia.

President Truman was expected to sign today the new bill which Congress approved yesterday almost two weeks ahead of its own April 15 deadline.

The new program, center piece of the Administration's "stop-Russia" strategy, is designed to reach American goods and money to 16 western European nations, with extra funds for military aid to Greece, Turkey and China.

The Soviet Union and its satellites in turn have proclaimed their intent to wreck the recovery effort.

The urgent effort to start the new flow of American goods at once comes from the State Department's desire to ensure western Europe that economic help is on the way and to bolster anti-Communist forces in the April 18 Italian election.

Ready for action by the President in addition to the bill itself was an executive order creating a temporary European cooperation administration to run the European recovery program the first thirty days after that the ERP's own administration will take over.

Secretary of State Louis A. Howe announced yesterday that the State Department has a complete organization all set up and ready to swing into action Monday.

Mr. Truman also has the task which his administration has taken over from the ERP, of making the distribution of the $3,000,000,000 year-end appropriation which was authorized by Congress last year.

Mr. Truman said he did not know how long it would take to get ship loads of American food, fuel and industrial machinery moving, but he said there would be no break in the current flow of supplies financed by various special and temporary appropriations.

Army Plans Hold Berlin Position; No Provocation

Russian Squeeze Play Collides With U.S. Determination Say Officials

Washington, April 3—(AP)—Russia's opening move to squeeze the western powers out of Berlin collided today with a firm American decision to "sit tight."

The words were those of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military commander in Germany, and said Secretary of the Army Royal, they have "the full support of this department and the government."

Royal announced the decision to a hurriedly summoned news conference last night a few minutes after a telephone conversation with Clay in Berlin, followed by a quick consultation with the State Department.

"Though we will sit tight and hold our position," said Royal, "we will not be provocative."

But interviewed later on a radio program, "Meet the Press," Royal said that "in case of any attack, Gen. Clay has the authority of a military leader to shoot if he must."

Although Royal, in his news conference, made no direct reference to what long-range objectives he thinks might be behind the Russian restriction order, other informed officials expressed this idea.

Russian officials in Berlin too had for the western powers. If they could be crowded out, Berlin would become the Communist capital of a Soviet, dictated "separate" German government.

And, these officials added, more drastic efforts than the transportation order might be expected as part of this effort.

The story in the Honolulu Advertiser also speculated that initial phases of the tests had been under way for two weeks and that they may involve guided missiles with atomic warheads.

The story, published Wednesday, said the fleetship Mr. McKinley sailed from Pearl Harbor while the Russian motorship Dnestr was in "easy biocular distance" in Honolulu harbor.

Furthermore, said the Advertiser, four Russian sail ships had departed only the day before. All five, it added, will travel in consort to Vladivostok on a course that normally would take them close to the 30,000 square miles around Eniwetok which the U. S. closed to all foreign shipping.

You don't split your income during 1948. You do that in 1949 when you file a final return on 1948 income.

Soviets Demand Travel Inspection

Pointers from boxes on this map indicate routes where Russian control points were established on super highway and single railroad line between Western Power zones and their Berlin areas. The Russians demand right to inspect British, French and American trains and motor vehicles passing along the routes. First instance of Soviet clamp-down came when British military trucks bound for Berlin were turned back Wednesday night at Marienborn (underlined). U. S. military trains were held up at Helmstedt (underlined) just inside British zone, pending developments. After American authorities rejected Russian demands, later U. S. forces decided to use planes to bring passengers and freight into Berlin. Insert map shows comparative size of areas of Berlin occupied by the British, French, United States and Russians. Swift Tax Increases If Security Demands

Taxpayers Warned That Should Defense Costs Require More Than Planned, Congress Will Take Necessary Steps

Washington, April 3—(AP)—Some 50,000,000 taxpayers, now figuring how to use $4,800,000,000 they got in tax relief, were put on notice today to expect a swift tax boost if national security demands it.

The tax cut was put into law yesterday as Congress, by an overwhelming vote, overrode President Truman's veto. He had said this reduction in federal revenues "would undermine the soundness of our government finances at a time when world peace depends upon the strength of the United States."

But House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said: "If defense needs increase beyond what has been outlined, we would, of course, take any necessary steps to keep a balanced budget. The Congress will provide adequate funds which, if properly spent, will give us full protection."

In the showdown between Congress and the President yesterday, the House passed the tax cut 311 to 245. The Senate passed it 77 to 66—45 more than the two-thirds majority required to override a veto. The Senate rang up a 77 to 10 vote—19 to spare.

Deserting the President to vote for the Republican-backed bill were 20 House Democrats and 27 Senate Democrats.

The Government Printing Office immediately got the signal to start the presses rolling on new forms for reduced tax withholdings. These go into effect May 1.

This is the general tax picture now:

1. The 52,000,000 income taxpayers get reductions, effective last January 1, ranging from 100 per cent in the lowest income tax bracket to 5 per cent in the highest bracket. About 1,400,000 low income persons were removed from the tax rolls completely.

2. On May 2 tax withholdings from all wages and salaries will be reduced. And next year millions of taxpayers will get refunds from the government on the overpayment of taxes between January 1 and May 1.

3. The delegate would not permit identification but he has been concerned with the Palestine issue since last fall. He did not discuss what might happen if the partition decision is upheld.

4. The assembly will meet at Flushing Meadows, New York in special session on April 16 to reconsider the whole problem.

5. The United States is preparing to give a temporary trusteeship for the Holy Land, to take up the slack when the British end their mandate on May 15.

6. Despite the Security Council call for the special assembly, the five-vote Palestine partition committee decided late yesterday to continue work until new orders come from the assembly.

House Lines Up For New Battle Over Oleo Taxes

Hotly Debated Issue Revived; Decide On Or Before April 26

Washington, April 3—(AP)—The House lined up today for a new battle over Oleomargarine taxes.

On or before April 26—it will be called on to decide whether to repeal the present federal levies that have been imposed for many years.

Under a seldom used procedure the hotly-debated issue was revived yesterday after the House Agriculture committee had previously bottled it up.

Rep. Rivers (D-SC) presented 218 signatures of fellow-House members who backed his petition for further action.

An influential Republican member of the Agriculture committee, who asked that his name not be used, told reporters he expects the House to pass some sort of legislation repealing the taxes.

Rivers predicted flatly it will be a complete repeal. He is sponsor of a bill to take off the Federal taxes of a quarter-cent a pound on uncolored margarine and 10 cents a pound on the colored product.

Republican floor leader Halleck (Ind) said a compromise suspending the taxes for a year has been discussed, but without agreement. He said House leaders are not taking a hand in the controversy now, since earlier efforts to work out a compromise were not successful.

Chairman Hope (R-Kan) said he has no plans now to call the Agriculture committee together "to consider the question of altering its decision."

This is the way the battle of the oleo spreads has narrowed to date: 1. House members introduced 18 bills to repeal the two taxes. They were referred to Hope's committee.

2. After lengthy hearings, the committee voted to table all the bills, and assigned a special subcommittee to study the entire butter-margarine controversy and report on December 31.

3. Rivers started soliciting signatures for a petition to remove his bill from the committee's jurisdiction.

4. The necessary 218 House members had signed the petition by early afternoon yesterday. A house vote on the issue cannot now be avoided.

Americans Continue Guard On Berlin Railroad Building

Will Run Again

State Senator Arthur B. Conry today announced his candidacy to succeed himself as State Senator from Pitt County.

Senator Conry is a local attorney, active in civic, American Legion and veterans affairs; having served for a number of years as Veterans Officer for this county.

By virtue of having served five terms, if re-elected he will be a ranking member of the State Senate from a seniority standpoint.

Indicate Surplus In General Fund

N.C. Monthly Revenue Report Has Sizable Increase Income

Raleigh, April 3—(AP)—Prospects are bright that the state's general fund may wind up with a surplus on June 30 amounting to between $15,000,000 and $50,000,000, yesterday's monthly revenue report indicated.

Revenue commissioner Edwin Gill noted in his report for March that net general fund collection for the first nine months of the fiscal year amounted to $108,061,031, compared with $94,373,691 during the same period last year.

Revenue pouring into the general fund has already topped authorized expenditures for this fiscal year by $9,000,000.

The report shows that authorized expenditures for the fiscal year for maintenance and operation of State departments, institutions and agencies, including public schools, total slightly under $36,000,000.

Thus the fund already has a surplus for this year of $9,000,000, plus a $12,000,000 surplus with which it closed the 1946-47 fiscal year.

Boosted by a record-breaking harvest from the income tax, the fund collected a total of $43,557 during March. It was the biggest collection by the general fund for that month in history.

The income tax, on which returns were due March 15, brought in a total of $3,379,633 last month for an increase of $2,231,811 over the $2,147,822 collected in March last year.

The State's total tax collections for March amounted to $47,284,910, compared with $43,573,449 in March last year.

The gasoline tax collected a total of $2,905,361 during March a slight drop from the $2,911,220 of March last year.

Lewis Says Coal Miners Can Do As They Please

Nearly 400,000 Miners Free to Go Back Into the Mines Says Chieftain

Washington, April 3—(AP)—John L. Lewis today told striking coal miners they can do as they please about returning to work.

The unusual message came just before President Truman was reported about to ask a federal court for an injunction to end the three-week-old work stoppage.

When—or whether—the miners will return, or how soon, is a matter that the union headquarters refused to comment on.

But Lewis' words made it entirely clear that no "strike" is in progress. In a message to the members of the United Mine Workers, Lewis said:

"Any action or decision which you may care to take continues to be entirely for your own determination without direction of any character from me or from any of your international officers."

"I, therefore, now repeat that you are not under, and have never been under, any orders, directions or suggestions, expressed or implied from me, or any of the union officers, to cease work or to continue to cease work in protest to the present decision (as we see it) of the 1947 contract."

Lewis has contended the 400,000 miners left the pits because they were "unwilling" to work. They began the walkout March 15 after a dispute between the UMW chief and soft coal operators over terms for payments to miners from a pension fund.

In a letter to the miners March 12, Lewis told them the operators had "dishonored" their contract by not providing pensions nine months after signing an agreement authorizing them.

In today's letter Lewis said he had never, by his March 12 letter or by any other document, "authorized, directed, suggested, requested or recommended any stoppage of work or any continuation of any stoppage and I do not now do so."

Refuse Isaacson Passport to Go To Conference

New York, April 3—(AP)—U. S. Rep. Leo Isaacson of New York termed "frightening" today the state department's refusal to grant him a passport to attend the international conference at Paris.

"It is frightening to think that our administration refuses to acknowledge," the American Labor party Congressman said, Isaacson recently was elected to Congress with the support of Henry A. Wallace, third party Presidential aspirant.

The Bronx Congressman, who applied for the passport on March 25, informed the State Department that he planned to attend a conference on aid to Greece. The application was denied as "not in the interests" of the U. S. Government, a department spokesman disclosed last night.

Calkins resigned his post as administrative assistant to U. S. Sen. Brian McMahon (D-Conn.) last January to assume the leadership of the Wallace movement in Connecticut.

Fifty U.S. Military Policemen Bar Two Soviet Generals and Twenty Others; Temporary Roadblock Also Set Up; U.S. Freight Trains Get Through

Berlin, April 3—(AP)—The U. S. army, counter-attacking Russian restrictions in Berlin, turned back two Soviet generals and 20 other Russians today from a railroad administration building the Russians occupy in the U. S. sector of the city.

Fifty U. S. military policemen barred entrance to all but the 1,100 Germans employed in the building. Some Russian officers remained inside the offices, and the American guards permitted the Russians to bring food for them.

The railroad building, near the border of the U. S.-Soviet sectors, has been occupied by the Russians under a 1945 agreement. Similarly, the Russians claim the Berlin radio station in the British zone.

Col. Frank L. Howley, head of the U. S. military government in Berlin, said the American move was made because Russians in recent nights sent guards to the building after nightfall. The Russians claim the new guard had been put in the building because of reports that criminal German elements were planning to destroy records there.

Soviet Gen. Alexander Kotovskiy protested that the American move frightened Germans in the neighborhood and inconvenienced Russian officials.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, director of a roadblock across a thoroughfare leading to Potsdam, home of many Russians with offices in Berlin. The block was set up at 11 a. m. and was to remain in force until 3 p. m. Only vehicles coming from Potsdam were stopped. The first Russian car to approach the block turned back before reaching it, and German officials said the Russians were stopping all Berlin-bound Soviet traffic.

No explanation of the roadblock was offered by U. S. authorities. The Russians two days ago set up a block between their sector and the three western sectors, but the blocks were removed the same day.

The roadblock, however, caused much less trouble than the U. S. military guard around the Soviet railroad building. Russians drove up to the building several times. They brought food and cigarettes for the Russians inside. On each occasion, the Americans inspected the baskets of food and sent them in with a German policeman.

A 56-car train arrived bearing military government supplies for U. S. forces and dependents in Berlin. It was the first such train to arrive in several days. British forces have received three trains in the last two days.

The supply train passed the Russian checkpoint at Marienborn without incident. The Russian official there merely glanced at the train commander's papers and waved him on.

Under a recent Russian order, freight trains, either military or civilian, may move into Berlin upon presentation of documents. The Russians demand the right to inspect freight trains leaving the city and both incoming and outgoing passenger trains. They have claimed Berlin is being "looted" by the western zones.

Wallace Supporter Dies In Connecticut

New Haven, Conn., April 3—(AP)—Charles E. Calkins, of Monroe, Connecticut director of the Henry Wallace movement, died last night at Grace hospital.

Calkins resigned his post as administrative assistant to U. S. Sen. Brian McMahon (D-Conn.) last January to assume the leadership of the Wallace movement in Connecticut.

Your Income Tax Cut

Questions And Answers On New Tax Law Which Congress Passed Over President's Veto; Refunds On Withholding Tax; Exemptions; Estimated Income Tax Form

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 3—(AP)—Here are questions and answers on the new tax law which Congress passed over the President's veto.

This new law, although passed only yesterday, cuts everyone's 1948 income tax back to Jan. 1.

But the boss will not start taking the new, lower tax out of your paycheck till May 1.

Q. Since my tax has been cut back to Jan. 1, then too much tax has been withheld from me. How does the boss repay to me that?

Express Doubt O. UN Reversal

Lake Success, April 3—(AP)—A delegate expressed doubt today at the United Nations assembly will reverse its decision to partition Palestine.

He declared it would be extremely difficult to marshal the two-thirds majority of the 57-nation assembly to overthrow the Nov. 29 resolution on partition.

The delegate would not permit identification but he has been concerned with the Palestine issue since last fall. He did not discuss what might happen if the partition decision is upheld.

The assembly will meet at Flushing Meadows, New York in special session on April 16 to reconsider the whole problem.

Despite the Security Council call for the special assembly, the five-vote Palestine partition committee decided late yesterday to continue work until new orders come from the assembly.

Babson: "Shall I Build Now?"

New York City, April 2—There are many factors connected with new building today which should hold up costs for some time. Most of the increase is due to two main causes:

1. Why Building Costs Are High 1. The increased power of labor unions causing higher wages, shorter hours, and poorer work. This is partly due to the higher cost of living, restrictions as to contractors, and the increased demand for labor.

2. Another factor is the cost of the building materials. This labor cost applies from the cutting of the timber in the forests through every step of transportation, milling, superintending, marketing, etc., up to the real estate man who sells the house. Moreover, this cost-situation is encouraged by Federal and State labor laws, municipal codes, social security deductions and a dozen more additions.

3. Another factor is the taxes which must be paid by those who cut the tree, mill the timber, and the lumber and other building materials.

Paradox In Peacetime

Disclosure Of "Adequate" Atomic Bomb Supply Actually Encouraging For Peace Makers; "There Are Times When Christians Must Kill"; Shall We Use A-Bombs?

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Paradoxical though it seems, the most hopeful news which workers for peace have had in a long time is the disclosing that the United States has "an adequate supply" of atomic bombs and is steadily making more.

Military strength is the best guarantee any country can have against aggression so long as the world still breeds throwbacks to barbarism. It's tough to have to admit that peace must be maintained through fear rather than through brotherly love. But that's the way it still is.

So as the garlic laden breath of war continues to blow warm upon our necks, from you know where, it is good to hear from members of Congress that David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the atomic energy commission, has given the House Appropriations committee this assurance about the status of our bomb supply. Equally encouraging is the assurance of Senator Hickman, of Iowa, chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy committee, that he believes if war comes again America should use the bomb with the aim of shortening the conflict and saving lives.

"I do not think the bomb should be used indiscriminately," the Senator told a reporter. "But I have no qualms about our using it strategically, where it will be an effective means of ending the war."

Termites Are Problem In Summer For Home Owners

Comes spring and robins appear in the North, azaleas bloom in the South and termites swarm all over the country.
Frequently confused with "flying ants" some of the termites in each colony—the scientists call them alates or winged reproductives—feel the universal urge to go out and start housekeeping on their own. So out they come from their nests deep in the ground, try out their wings in a brief flight (sometimes no more than a few yards), choose mates and set off to head a family which some day will number thousands.
Having these winged termites in or around the house is annoying, but in a way they are doing the owners a good turn, because their presence is a warning that there is an established termite colony in the immediate vicinity, which may be eating away at the understructure of the house. The swarms themselves do not eat wood; their only function is reproduction, thus perpetuating the life of the colony. It's the thousands of workers they leave behind in the nests that do the dirty work.
Of course, one doesn't always see swarmer termites, even though the property may be infested. Frequently termites swarm beneath the house, and never get out into the open. When they do get outside, they remain in sight only a short time.
Sometimes one won't see the termites themselves, but will see thousands of tiny wings in the basement, or even in the house. Swarmer termites pry off their wings as soon as they alight from their flight.
It's very easy to get rid of the winged termites just by sweeping them up with a broom. But getting rid of the army of wood-eating termites they leave behind is another matter. The worker termites live in their nests deep in the ground and come up to attack the wood in the house. They work inside the wood only and rarely come through the surface. Thus, the use of sprays, powders, fumigation and other usual methods for insect pests doesn't affect them.
The only effective and lasting way to protect a house from termites is to block off all approaches to it, in effect insulating the house from the ground, where the termites live. The only practical way of doing this in the case of an existing building is to chemical means. This is a rather involved and somewhat costly process, which calls for trained workmen and expensive equipment.

If swarms of termites show up in or near your home, the best bet is to call a reliable termite control concern at once to have a complete check made of the property. Such inspections may save lots of money by preventing expensive damage, if the home is infested. If possible, save a few specimens of the winged termites for the inspector and show him the area from which they come.

War Marriages
Seen Boosting
Building Industry

Cupid, whose praises are sung constantly by diamond merchants and greeting card manufacturers, should now hear the same chorus from another industry. Builders in North Carolina and other Southern states can credit some of the post-war building demand to his wartime activity, according to a Title Council of America report on population trends and their effect on construction.
The rush to the altar during the past seven years is one reason for today's peak demand for new homes and interior renovation, the report says. It has helped to boost the number of households in 15 Southern states by about 700,000.
Apparently, the cherub with the bow and arrow aims best in the bright lights of the city. The number of families in Southern urban areas increased 21.8 percent. It increased 15 percent in rural non-farm areas and decreased 15 percent in rural farm areas.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

A HOME FOR THE BUDGETEER is what the architect, Walter T. Anicks of Ann Arbor, Mich., calls this Plan No. 714. The house covers an area of only 908 square feet, but it contains a combination living-dining room that is 28 feet long and more than 11 feet wide. A basement can be included by planning a stairway in the utility room. This also would leave space for expanding the kitchen and providing a breakfast nook. The architect suggests gray shingle exterior walls, siding or brick with white trim, a yellow entrance door and a roof of colored asphalt shingles.—(AP Newsfeatures).

Mrs. E. J. Garrett graciously entertained at an informal tea Wednesday afternoon honoring Mrs. George Garrett, the former Elsie Lewis of Fairmont.

Colorful arrangements of spring flowers, tulips, mixed jonquils and snap dragons, with accents of lavender lilacs and Dutch iris were effectively used throughout the house.

Madames William Faison and Rex Hodges greeted the guests at the door. Mrs. Betty Pott Young directed guests to the living room, where Mrs. Tom Webb presented them to the hostess. Receiving with the hostess were the guest of honor, Misses Elsie and Dixie Lewis, sisters of the bride.

Madames Lee Polger and Charles Calhoun invited the guests into the dining room, where at a beautifully appointed table, covered with imported lace cloth, Mrs. R. M. Garrett and Mrs. E. W. Meyers poured tea. A beautiful arrangement of white snap dragons and lilacs of the valley, flanked by silver candelabra holding white candles, graced the center of the table. A wedding bell showered with ribbons and valley lilacs, hung from the chandelier.

Mrs. B. B. Sugg, Jr., assisted in serving sandwiches, bridal cakes, nuts and flowered mints.

About fifty of the younger set called during the afternoon.

Paintings Of Southern Birds At Art Display

Twenty paintings and drawings by Athos Menaboni, distinguished painter of American birds, will be shown during the Art Festival. Menaboni, a native well-known painter of Italy, came to America several years ago, married an American and now lives in suburban Atlanta, Ga. In a bird sanctuary where he spends his days studying at close range the birds he paints with meticulous attention to the smallest detail of feathered form, color, and design.

Shown at the Vose Galleries in New York City last summer they immediately drew the attention of the officials of the National Audubon Society who were so pleased with them that they made arrangements to have them brought to Greenville. The exhibit carries a sizeable fee and it is only through the generosity of Marvin K. Blount that the Festival Committee is able to show the paintings here.

All bird lovers are especially invited to see these bird paintings. They will be hung in the Woman's Club and will be here April 8th through 11th only.

Harris-Bullock
The wedding of Miss Faye Bullock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bullock of Greenville, N. C. to Mr. James Ray Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Harris of Greenville, N. C. took place Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Parker's Chapel Free Will Baptist Church. The J. D. Vernelson officiated at the ceremony.

Mr. Leon Fleming, Jr., organist, and Mr. Hershel Snuggs, soloist, presented a program of wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. James E. Bullock, was attired in a pink girdle suit with navy blue accessories. She carried a prayer book corsage of purple orchids.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Mr. Paul W. Harris, as best man. Ushers were Messrs. Thomas G. Johnston and Lloyd W. Johnston.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained at a reception for the wedding party, relatives, and out-of-town guests at their home.

Among the out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Harris, Jr. and twin daughters, Connie and Cathy, of Charleston, S. C. and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Eland and Mrs. Dorsey Baugher of Norfolk, Va. Mr. Lee Shaw and Miss Daisy Shaw of Williamston, N. C. and Mr. and Mrs. A. McLachlan, Mr. and Mrs. Hallett Willoughby, R. A. McLachlan, and Miss Dorothy Spain of Bell Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Gervais Vincent and Mrs. Clarence Vincent of Winterville, Mr. and Mrs. Hazel Bullock, Mr. William Cherry, and Mr. Walter Reid Tripp of Stokes.

A DELIGHTFUL EGG HUNT
The boys and girls of the first grade of the Belvoir School were delightfully entertained at an Easter egg hunt by Miss Lena Whitcomb, an aunt of McAlvin Turner Jr., a pupil of the first grade.

Miss Whitcomb, who has been in New York has returned to her home in Robersonville, N. C.

The hunt was given at the home of Mrs. McAlvin Turner, a grade mother of the first grade.

The guests on arriving enjoyed playing ball, ring games and etc., in the large shady yard. After all the guests had arrived each one was presented with an attractive little bucket by Miss Whitcomb and Mrs. Turner. A grand idea for each child was to put the eggs he found in his own bucket. The group was then ushered to a large green pasture where over six hundred candy eggs were hidden. What a delightful time the youngsters had looking for the beautiful eggs the Easter Bunny had left. Also to the children's surprise at the other side of the pasture were hidden beautiful hen eggs. What thrilled youngsters when they ran with shrills and laughter to continue their egg hunt.

Two beautiful Easter baskets were given as prizes. One to the girl and one to the boy finding the largest number of eggs. Master Cecil Turner of Greenville finding 47 eggs and Miss Dora Ann Brown of Belvoir finding 40 eggs were the lucky ones.

While the youngsters sat in a group laughing and talking about the hunt, pictures were taken.

On leaving, each child was given a shovel to be used with their bucket. The children on leaving said and showed they had had a most delightful time that would always be remembered.

Besides the children of the first grade the guests were Misses Harriett Lou and Debby Turner, Miss Jean Whitcomb of Robersonville, N. C. and Master Cecil Turner of Greenville.

40 Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
April 3, 1908

There was considerable frost and some ice this morning.

It can be said to the shame of those who engage in it, that there will be plenty of shad fishing along Tar river tomorrow.

When a man starts out to be a candidate in the present day method of seeking office, he should count the cost.

It is almost nonsensical for an intelligent person to argue that prohibition takes away from people's liberties. It is just as sensible to say that not allowing a man to steal is taking away his liberty.

Inter Se Club
"Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." Mrs. Sam Northrup used this wise quotation taken from Proverbs in her talk on "New Trends in Child Psychology."

She Book Club on Tuesday afternoon, March 30th, at the Episcopal Parish House.

She gave in her talk the early basic foundations for child training and pointed out that the quality of the care we give our children is just as important as the quantity. She told also that we as parents do not prepare for extra responsibilities nor do we train for additional duties every act of child care and guidance involves some forms of psychological training.

Christian Church Announcements
The members of the Eighth Street Christian Church will have as their primary consideration this Sunday the retirement of the repair debt. The repairs are completed and the congregation assembled in the sanctuary last Sunday. Being Easter Sunday no attempt was made to raise the funds necessary to pay the repair bill. This Sunday, by action of the board of officers, is the day set aside to raise the money necessary to pay the total repair bill.

It will be necessary for every one to do his part. The attention of all members is called to the fact that it was an emergency which had to be met. It is expected that the membership will rally to this as in all other matters of importance.

The circles of the Woman's Council will meet as follows on this Monday:
No. 1, with Mrs. J. F. Nelson.
No. 2, with Mrs. A. W. Harris.
No. 3, with Mrs. Ploye Staton.

The young people of the Christian Youth Fellowship will sponsor an "All Church Party" on Thursday night at the church from 7:30 p. m. till later. This is an amateur "talent" night and the total membership of the church is invited.

Science Lecture Heard At College

Dr. Walter A. Dew, eastern manager of the Extension Division of E. de Pont de Nemours and Company, gave a lecture-demonstration of new developments in chemical research at East Carolina Teachers College on Thursday evening. The talk was sponsored by the Science Club of the college. Audrey Pezzer, junior from Lexington and president of the club, introduced Dr. Dew to the audience. Dr. Dew's talk, which was non-technical in nature, discussed the values and multiple uses of such products as rayon, nylon, and various types of plastics. He stressed the economic values of chemical research in providing new and superior products and providing jobs for many thousands of workers.

Four Marines In Trouble Again

Tsingtao, China, April 3—(AP)—Four leathernecks released only Thursday after three months captivity by Chinese Communists were "in dutch" again today.

Brig. Gen. G. A. Thomas, Marine Commander, ordered the quartet arrested for going out of bounds (into Communist territory). The arrests complied with a Red demand that the Marines be disciplined.

Sources close to the General reported, however, that they would not be dealt with harshly. Their imprisonment was considered enough punishment. They were captured Christmas day while on a duck hunting trip. The discipline, it was said, probably will be brief confinement to barracks and loss of a couple of months pay.

The four are Cpl. William L. Pollard, Fort Worth, Tex., Pfc. Carroll W. Dickerson, Olathe, Kas., Pvt. Robert Hart, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Pfc. Thomas Kapodistria, Buffalo, N. Y.

Pollard said in an interview yesterday they were fired upon without warning by the Reds, whom they had mistaken for Chinese Nationalist troops. Pfc. Charles J. Brayton, Jr., of Governor's Island, N. Y., the fifth member of the hunting party, was wounded fatally.

General Thomas declined to divulge other terms under which the four were released, but he confirmed earlier reports that the Reds had demanded ransom of 125,000. It could not be learned whether anything was paid.

Filipinos Oppose Ratification of Spanish Treaty

Manila, April 3—(AP)—Opposition to ratification of a treaty of friendship with Spain mounted in the Philippine Senate today.

The treaty was signed last Sept. 27. The question comes up for a vote Tuesday. Members of President Manuel A. Roxas' Liberal party could fight but 14 votes, two shy of the two-thirds majority needed for ratification.

Minority members of the Senate, and a few of the Liberals, argued the pact violated a provision of the constitution limiting land ownership to Filipinos and U. S. citizens.

The treaty would allow Spanish Nationals to buy and sell immovable property in the Philippines.

HAUNTED HOLIDAY

By Cameron Dockery

Chapter 5
"And now we'll hear from the Donovans!" Simeon Mannley's voice booming out of the hall that followed Julia's dance startled them all.

"Oh no, we couldn't!" Iris Donovan's knitting fell from her lap. "Nonsense!" Simeon turned to the others. "I'll have you know that we have two celebrated professionals of the stage with us, my friends."

A low murmur was the only comment. Vince guessed that the Donovans were as unfamiliar to the rest of the group as they were to him.

"Please, Mr. Mannley," Iris begged. "It's been such a long time . . . Simeon scowled. He walked across to them and towered above them. Only Vince was in a position to see that his small eyes were steely gleams.

"But I insist," he said softly. "I won't take no for an answer."

After an ugly defiant moment, Iris Donovan reached for her husband's hand and drew him to his feet. "Come on, Bud, we'll give them the old act."

Their little outworn Vaudeville patter was almost pitifully unfunny but the storm of applause that followed it was a tribute to their courage. Simeon's face showed surprise. "It's getting chilly," he decided. "Shall we go into the game room?"

Vince Bonnay, turning to retrieve his cigarette case, was startled to find that Julia had not accompanied the others. He followed her to the stone balustrade bordering the terrace. She was gazing off over the water and when she turned tears girded her lashes.

"Oh Vince, wasn't it appalling?" "Awful," he agreed. "but they didn't want to do it, you know."

"It was cruel of Uncle Sim to make them. They're so pathetic somehow."

"Didn't he invite them here?" The strange couple were puzzling.

"No, they just arrived last night. They took a bus and got the stone keeper on the main road to drive them down. Uncle was quite annoyed."

"But surely he isn't that vengeful?"

"You don't know Uncle Sim very well, do you?"

The acidulous tone made him bend closer to stare into her eyes but the shadow of a swaying cedar branch swept across them. John Bissett's voice, heavy with sarcasm, broke in upon them.

"Well, all the games aren't going on inside are they? Mr. Mannley wants to see you, Bonnay—alone."

Mannley's bedroom opened off the main hall and it was there that Vince found him; the naval officer was still tingling from Bissett's rudeness.

"I'm afraid your secretary thought I was up to no good," he said.

"Hah! That love-sick Bissett! Always mooning around after Julia."

"Aren't his sentiments returned?" Suddenly the answer was important.

"No evidence of it," Mannley said. "I've other plans for that young woman, anyway. He clasped his hands over his fleshy stomach. "But to get back to my letter, I'm almost inclined to drop it—too damned embarrassing."

"That's up to you," Vince said. "I wasn't even sure you weren't joking."

"Twenty thousand dollars isn't a joke even to me."

Vince waited and Mannley lit a fresh cigar. Suddenly he jerked thumb toward an oil painting that hung over his bed. It was a Hawaiian beach scene.

"Behind that is a small safe. One week ago the money was in it; now—"

"When did you miss it?"

"Two days before I wrote you. Hadn't opened the safe for a week myself."

"Who else knows the combination?"

"Sophie and Bissett. But anyone could have access to the room."

"Surely you don't suspect anyone in your immediate family?"

Plans to Attend Science Meeting

Dr. Charles W. Reynolds, director of the department of science at East Carolina Teachers College, has accepted an invitation to participate in the program to be given at a conference on the education of teachers in science on April 16-17 in Washington, D. C.

The meeting will take place at Wilson Teachers College in Washington. Programs will be based on the theme "Issues in Teachers Education as Seen by Science Teachers in Teachers Colleges," and will include discussion on the teaching of science in the elementary and the secondary schools. Dr. Reynolds is one of a small group of educators who have been scheduled to appear as leaders of panels on the program.

Take Blood Test Of Ancient Man

Washington, April 3 — (AP)—American scientists have just finished taking blood tests on a native of Mexico—with some interesting results.

Why interesting? Well, this Mexican is 15,000 years old, which is pretty old to have your blood tested. (He had type A).

Dr. William S. Laughlin of Harvard University told the American Association of Physical Anthropologists all about it. He conducted the tests.

"If this finding is verified," he said, "it will be the oldest skeleton whose blood type has been determined."

The remains of this elderly Mexican were found last year. His name is Tepepan man, and his blood was checked by grinding up some of his bones and testing them—a method generally frowned upon by physiologists, except for 15,000-year-olds.

This has nothing to do with the blood tests, but scientists figure Tepepan was an elephant-hunter. They found the skeleton of an ancient pachyderm close by the Mexican's old bones.

Keep Powder Dry Says Sec. Royall

New York, April 3—(AP)—Defense Secretary Forrestal urged the United States in effect last night to keep powder dry while waiting for the world to accept the United Nations as its agency of peace.

"I have faith in the United Nations over a very long future," Forrestal said, "but I do not believe that it can give us the political solutions for all the world at once."

The cabinet member spoke at a dinner of West Point and Annapolis graduate societies celebrating the unification of the armed services.

Chisox Resigned To Berth In AL's Second Division

By BOB MYERS
Pasadena, Calif.—There is a familiar lack of Chicago White Sox achievements in the 1947 record books, and unless something most unusual takes place, a similar situation will prevail in 1948.

Rightfielder Taft Wright hammered the ball for a 334 average, veteran Luke Appling kept rolling right along at shortstop and hit a .306, and Leftfielder Ed Lopat led the club with a splendid mark of 16 games won and 13 lost. Their efforts were the main reason the Sox finished as well as they did, which was sixth place. Wright, Appling, and Lopat, who should be as good or better, but Lopat was traded to the high riding New York Yankees, who needed a first class pitcher a lot less than the White Sox do.

However, all is not complete gloom in the Chisox camp, and the boys think they might improve a little. The Sox have high hopes that the Yankee deal might turn into a pleasant surprise, for in exchange he received a good hitting catcher in Aaron Robinson, and two pitching prospects he thinks might make up for the loss of his erstwhile star hurler. The rookies are Rightfielder Fred Bradley, who won 13 and lost four with Kansas City last year, and Lefty Bill Wright, a 16-9 hurler with one of the best earned run averages in the American Association.

With the notable exception of Wright, the outfield could use more punch, but again Evans has hopes with the recall from Hollywood, with whom the South Siders have a working agreement, of Gus Zernial, who clipped the ball for 244, and Jimmy Deling, who batted .316. Deling particularly was regarded as a likely prospect a year ago, and the Sox somewhat reluctantly parted with him out for more seasoning. There is also Grover Brown, who went .275 in 140 games for Gadsden, Ala. last year, and a youngster from Waterloo, Ia., who hit .289, Gerald Seal. The holdovers include Ralph Hodgin, Bob Kennedy and Wright.

Tony Lupin, waived out of the American League and picked up by the Phillies in 1947, and then released, is back for another try after establishing himself as one of the outstanding first basemen and hitters (241) with Hollywood in 1947. Floyd Baker, good fielder, who hit .305 at third, Arpling looked up by Jimmy Jack Wallace, at short, and Dave Michaels and Don Kellway will divide second base honors.

Madison, Wis., Apr. 3—(AP) Twin awards are at stake tonight in the NCAA boxing tournament finals. The eight champions, to be crowned in the University of Wisconsin Fieldhouse ring, will win both top Collegiate boxing honors and automatic spots at U. S. Olympic team berths.

The 11th annual tournament, which in two days has attracted 34,000 fans, has been designated as a regional qualifying test by the Olympic boxing committee. Final bouts for this country's mitt squad will be staged June 29-30 at Boston.

Two upsets and the first knockout of the meet featured last night's semi-finals witnessed by 13,800 fans who saw Wisconsin quality men in six weight classes and clinch the team trophy.

Dropped were two defending champions, Bantamweight Gerry Audair of Syracuse, N. Y., and middleweight John Lendensch of Wisconsin, who lost decisions to Bill Moss of Louisiana state and Eddie Rader of Maryland, respectively. Lendensch's defeat was the only loss suffered by a Wisconsin fighter in 14 bouts of the tournament.

County Calvin Vernon, Badger Negro light-heavyweight, turned in the first knockout, dropping Ralph Seal of Virginia first on his face in 61 seconds of the third round.

No Science, But Fans Cheer Last Bout At Garden

New York, April 3—(AP)—Across the ring, the Madison Square Garden today as the 20th Century Fox film "The Last Days of Pompeii" was shown. The film was shown for the first time in the city for the next six weeks.

An old fashioned brawl brought the weekly winter boxing shows to an end last night. Paddy Dwyer of Brooklyn won his second straight fight, knocking out Terry Young of New York in a fierce 10-round battle.

Blood flowed freely and evidence of a close fight was seen as the two fighters landed a near equality of blows in 17:14 with a free swinging exhibition.

Dwyer bled from his nose and mouth from the third round on. Young's blow was split early in the fight. Referee George Walsh and Judge Tom Gulliford voted for Dwyer. Judge Jack O'Sullivan thought Young won.

Cincinnati Has Earned Respect

Tampa, Fla., April 3—(AP)—The other National League clubs are beginning to tip their hats to the Cincinnati Reds.

Not that they detect any dainty, lady-like qualities about Johnny Neun's lads. It's just that there is a growing respect for the team, based on its showing in exhibition games.

Neun himself squats contentedly on the bench, an enigmatic smile on his cherubic map, and says little, but you get the idea things are coming along all right with him.

He's still worried about second base; the outfield, although formidable, isn't just as he'd want it. But to date the club has shown a tendency to explode long hits for big innings, and pitching that isn't to be laughed off.

One of the big question marks has straightened into an exclamation point—Virgil Stallup, at shortstop.

"He's making the play-out there," Neun says with satisfaction. "Someone asked, 'If Stallup doesn't hit 250, will he still be the shortstop?' Neun replied promptly: 'If he doesn't hit, he's still our shortstop. Plenty of great shortstops never could hit. Who cares whether a good shortstop can hit or not?'"

Skating Queen's Title Appears More Secure

Colorado Springs, Colo., April 3—(AP)—Gretchen Merrill's chances of retaining her national figure skating championship looked brighter today after she had whirled through her free skating routine.

The Boston blonde trailed Yvonne Sherman, of New York, in the compulsory school figures, and must defeat her in free skating tonight to take her sixth senior ladies crown. The compulsory figures count 60 percent toward the title. Scores were not announced, but it was reported unofficially that Miss Sherman won the required figures by less than a point.

Heves Alan Jenkins, of Cleveland, retained his junior men's championship last night when he won the free skating contest after carving the most exact school figures earlier in the championships.

Ferriss Improves Despite Defeat

Sarasota, Fla., April 3—(AP)—The performance of Dave (Boo) Ferriss yesterday's 6-1 loss to the Philadelphia Phillies was encouraging to the Boston Red Sox board of strategy. Ferriss finished up and looked better than he has at any time in the pre-season drills. He kept his pitches low and had good control of his slider.

Dodgers Begin Long Trek Home

Fort Worth, Tex., April 3—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers began the final leg of their journey to Ebbets Field today. The Dodger contingent, headed by Manager Leo Durocher, met the Fort Worth Outlaws of the Texas League today.

Meanwhile, the Dodger "B" squad is at Atlanta where they meet the Southern Association Crackers today.

Simmons Stars Against Red Sox

Cleaver, Fla., April 3—(AP)—Curt Simmons, youthful Philadelphia Phillies pitcher star, turned in another impressive exhibition yesterday as the Phils defeated the Boston Red Sox 6-1.

Simmons, pitching seven innings held the Sox to four hits and one run. He walked seven and fanned three.

Detroit Uses Varsity Squad

New Orleans, April 3—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers used their probable "varsity lineup" as they trounced the New Orleans Pelicans, 12-3 last night in the opener of a three game series. Fred Hutchinson worked the first six innings and Hal White finished up. The Tigers took the field with Johnny Ligon at short and George Vico at first. The other positions were filled with regulars from last season.

April 3—Chicod High School defeated Grimsland 13-66 in the third win of as many baseball games this season.

Leading the thirteen hits were Fornes and Brown, each with three hits in four appearances at the bat. Spencer started the winners, being replaced by Benck Smith and Hodges hurried for the losses.

Phantoms Lose To Tarboro, 7-2

Coach Hugh Carr's Tarboro Tigers defeated the Greenville Phantoms yesterday afternoon in a Northeastern Conference baseball game, 7-2. The win for the Tigers was their first in four starts and was the second straight loss for Coach Booley Farley's nine.

Nick Johnson pitched five-hit ball for the visitors while the Tigers pounded two Greenville hurlers for ten hits and took advantage of ten mistakes to do their scoring. Tarboro had 690 big frames, scoring three runs in the fifth on a walk, sacrifice, two errors, and a single; then came back in sixth to tally twelve more in an error, two walks, stolen base, two wild pitches, and a passed ball. Longest blow of the afternoon was Glyn Perkins' homer over the rightfield wall which came in the ninth inning. Dick Joyner, with a double and single, led the locals. Catcher Cullen Cobb with three singles and Pitcher Nick Johnson with two singles led the visitors' attack.

Kiner Is Finding Home Run Range

Tucson, Ariz., April 3—(AP)—Big Ralph Kiner, after a slow start, is finding the home run range for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Kiner banged a homer in the eighth inning yesterday to break a 7-7 tie against the New York Giants. Ed Stevens followed with a two-run fourth homer to clinch the game.

Police, Deputies Run Down Speeding Negro Motorist

By CHESTER WAJAH
In Police Court last Monday Judge J. W. H. Roberts found Alex Darden, colored, guilty of careless and reckless driving and speeding, and fined him $200 and ordered that his driver's license be revoked for a year.

The Greenville police radio car, with Policemen Harris and Nigh in it, said they saw Darden speeding on 14th street late at night and chased him. When the speedometer got up in the high 60s the police radioed for assistance. Darden put out his lights. Headquarters flashed the message on the radio and Deputy Sheriffs Loyd Manning and Jasper Lee Mills, in a sheriff's radio car, took up the nocturnal chase. The officers quoted Darden as saying he did not know they were chasing him.

Police have recovered Leroy Cherry's Plymouth, which was stolen from near the Proctor Hotel Thursday night after he parked it and left the keys in it. Police arrested J. D. Stocks and J. R. Williams, white youths who live at rural points and charged them with larceny.

Authorities said the car was driven to a point across Tar river and that it turned over; that the youths later righted the machine and drove it back to where it was parked early Friday morning.

State highway patrolmen recovered Frank P. Brooks' Plymouth car in Raleigh Thursday. It was stolen a week ago. Damage was slight.

Two Candidates File For Office In Pitt County

By CHESTER WAJAH
Only two candidates for office—Arthur B. Corey, incumbent, and J. Ficklen Arthur, for the State Senate—have filed notice of their candidacy with the Pitt County Board of Elections, it was learned today at the office of Chairman J. Henry Harrell.

Charles P. Gaskins, incumbent, filed for the office with the County Board of Elections today.

Wayland Hunsucker, a former mayor of Winterville, has announced his candidacy for the Board of County Commissioners through the press, but he has not filed with the Board of Elections.

County offices and seats in the House and Senate of the General Assembly to be voted on at the Democratic Primary on Saturday May 29 are:

Register of Deeds, Charles P. Gaskins, incumbent.
Coroner, Griffin H. Rouse, incumbent, and, incidentally, the man who would act as sheriff if something happens to the county sheriff.
State senator, Arthur B. Corey and J. Ficklen Arthur; House of Representatives, S. C. Worthington and Frank Kilpatrick of Ayden, incumbents; County commissioners; Judge and solicitor of County Court, Judge Dink James and Charles Woodbee, respectively, incumbents; Surveyor; Township constables.

Two deadline for candidates to file for office is April 17, at 6 o'clock. Challenge day is May 22. Registration books open April 24 and close May 15.

J. Henry Harrell, who has served so acceptably as chairman of the Pitt County Board of Elections for the last 12 years, explained today that he recently tendered his resignation as chairman of the board, and urged candidates to wait and file with T. F. Fountain of Falkland would be appointed chairman to succeed him. However, Fountain was unable to procure a suitable office in Greenville and decided not to accept the office. Chairman Harrell graciously consented to continue as chairman this year.

Candidates are expected to file notice of their candidacy shortly. The political pot is beginning to boil, and indications are that some new contestants will be in the race according to the man on the street.

Draft Eisenhower

Albany, N. Y., April 3—(AP)—A "Draft Eisenhower" drive was urged today upon the state convention of Americans for Democratic Action.

A. A. Berle, Jr., state chairman of the liberal party, said Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower could not be expected "to give the final word" now on his availability as a presidential candidate.

Board Aldermen In Busy Session

By CHESTER WAJAH
The Board of Aldermen in session at the City Hall Thursday night, accepted the resignations of W. H. Woodard and Lewis G. Cooper as members of Shepard Memorial Library Commission and appointed Try Wagner and Joseph S. Mayo to serve their unexpired terms.

Mayor Jack Boyd appointed Dr. Paul A. Toll, Joseph S. Mayo, Tom Rivers, L. S. Ficklen and Mrs. D. M. Clark members of the City Planning Board to terms ranging from one to five years, respectively, in order named. The aldermen unanimously passed the City Planning Board ordinance.

The board passed an ordinance making it unlawful for any person to have more than two dogs on his premises. It passed an ordinance prohibiting the keeping of cows in the city, but immediately rescinded it upon request of its advocates.

Upon request of the City Zoning Commission, the Board of Aldermen authorized the approval of the lot at the northeast corner of Third and Industrial streets as being in an industrial zone, and authorized Building Inspector George Gardner to issue a permit for the building. It is understood that in such cases a building would be in conformity with dwellings in the residential section.

Pentecostal Holiness Church was released of its assessment for paving in front of the church.

Aubrey Tilley was appointed assistant tax collector to succeed Glen W. Brooks, who recently resigned.

Engineer Henry L. Rivers showed a map and reported that a sewer can be installed on Maple Street by tunneling under Third Street and emptying into Green Mill Run. The board requested the Utilities Commission to install the sewer.

Upon request of Earl Forbes, the board reduced the license fee of $50 for wrestling and boxing exhibitions to $25.

Charles Morgan, city sanitarian, attached to the County Board of Health staff, reported eating places and milk in the city to be very much improved. Only Grade A milk is sold here now, he stated.

The board returned an offer of Attorney J. W. H. Roberts for the city-owned lot between the Employment Office and the swimming pool.

The mayor referred the request for some two-hour parking meters to the mayor, street committee and Merchants Association.
