

Russians Express 'Regret' Over Crash; Tension Eases

Soft Answer To Skyways Incident Turns Away New Crisis; Soviet Commander Promises Allied Planes Will Be Unhindered in Berlin Flights

Berlin, April 6—(AP)—Russia publicly and officially expressed regret today about the "unfortunate" Soviet-British plane crash over Berlin yesterday which cost 15 lives.

The Soviet commander promised the British that allied planes in the future would have unhindered access to Berlin.

British officials said the Russian response was satisfactory and immediately cancelled plans to assign fighter plane escorts, beginning today, to all air transport coming into Berlin. The United States followed the British lead. U. S. and British planes flew in and out of the city today without escort.

Tension in Berlin eased off somewhat. The official Russian account of yesterday's crash incident said the Russian fighter hit the British ship as it was trying to land. The official British account quoted eyewitnesses as saying the fighter pilot was "frantically" when he hit the British ship.

The British plane, carrying 14 persons, including two Americans, crashed in the Russian zone of the city. All aboard were killed. The bodies lay in the wreckage nearly 12 hours before the Russian commander finally gave its consent early today for its removal. The Russian fighter hit the ground in the British sector of the city. The pilot's body was removed four hours after the crash.

Russian-controlled papers mentioned the tragedy in items of one or two paragraphs. They made no mention of the fact that the British commander in Germany, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, made a personal protest to the Russian commander-in-chief, Marshal Vasily D. Sokolovsky, and the latter's pledge that allied aircraft henceforth would be unhindered access to Berlin.

Sokolovsky assured Robertson the Russians had no intention of interfering with British planes using the international air corridor into Berlin, a city ruled and occupied by four powers and isolated from the western occupation zones by 150 miles of Russian-occupied territory.

The Russian's soft answer turned away a new crisis which threatened in the tense city. Robertson insisted upon an investigation of yesterday's crash, the culmination of the Russian practice of buzzing planes of the western powers, and although the blame might thus be fixed it seemed unlikely to add to the tension. Special British investigators arrived here this morning from London.

The whole plane incident obscured for a time the heavy pressure the Russians have been pouring on their effort to force British, French and American forces to get out of Berlin.

Some Violence In Strike Of Angry Truck Drivers

Carlisle, Pa., April 6—(AP)—Violence was reported today in the unique sitdown strike of a small army of angry truck drivers bivouacked in trucks on Pennsylvania's $70,000,000 "dream" highway.

Major Charles Keller of the state police announced seven of the truck drivers were fined $28.50 apiece on charges of throwing stones at two trucks whose drivers refused to join the sitdown.

Keller said the stones damaged new automobiles which were being transported on the two trucks.

The sitdowners said the demonstration on the streamlined Pittsburgh-Harrisburg express highway was a protest against a state weight law.

A committee of truck drivers said they would call on state police at Harrisburg again today with a brief outlining their demands.

"If we don't get satisfaction today, we'll go to Harrisburg and string our trucks around the state capitol," said Mark Holliday, of Somerset, Pa., a spokesman for the drivers.

State police estimated that well over 1,000 of the giant freight trucks are now in the line which started forming Sunday afternoon near the eastern terminus of the model toll

Arctic Defenses To Be Bolstered Soon

Aleutians To Be Restricted To Military Use; More Troops For Alaskan Outposts; Norway Bases Implicated

Washington, April 6—(AP)—The United States moved directly today to bolster this country's Arctic defenses—and indirectly to strengthen Norway's hold on strategic Polar Islands.

The direct action was signaled by joint Army, Navy and Air Force plans to restrict for all but military use a string of Aleutian Islands. These stretch out in a fog-shrouded line toward Russian-held Kamchatka and the Kuriles. They also cover the approaches to Dutch Harbor, which the Japanese attacked along with Pearl Harbor.

Action on the other front came in the Navy's announcement that a U. S. carrier task force will visit the Norwegian port of Bergen, April 29 to May 2, on a "goodwill mission."

Both moves were described officially as "routine."

But behind the "routine" label was this background: 1. Aleutians—Secretary of Defense

Forrestal revealed two weeks ago that Alaskan defense forces consist of only 7,000 troops and less than 100 fighter planes. At the same time, Navy officials reported that one of three mystery submarines said to have been sighted in the Pacific was spotted off the Aleutians.

Present plans call for an increase to 15,000 in the number of troops manning the Alaskan outpost, but there has been no public statement on what additional air strength is scheduled for that area.

However, the armed services indicated further expansion is in prospect in their federal register notice yesterday of a public hearing in Juneau, Alaska, May 4 on plans to restrict the Aleutians area. A spokesman for Secretary of Defense Forrestal said the whole matter was aimed at "regularizing" what already is going on.

There was no official indication here of what is going on. But McChord Field in Washington State disclosed last Friday that 28 C-82s—flying boxcars—are making "routine" flights to Alaska.

2. Norway—The Navy's announcement yesterday of the "goodwill" cruise focused attention anew on Scandinavia—reportedly under Russian pressure. Included in the task force are the 27,000-ton Essex class carrier, Valley Forge; the 6,000-ton anti-aircraft carrier Fresno; and four destroyers. These vessels are now on the last leg of a world cruise.

Such phases are true," said the letter read by chief prosecutor Tom de Wolfe. "They are marvelous propaganda in short-wave broadcasts from Germany during the war."

The prosecutor told a Federal court jury that Best also advocated a "war weariness" campaign as "the only chance Germany has of concluding peace with America."

The government introduced another recording of what was described as Best's voice.

"As far as buying bonds is concerned," the voice said, "please bear in mind that buying bonds means bombing a church, a home, hospital or kindergarten somewhere in Europe."

"One of the latest slogans among the Jews and Jewocrats of New York and Washington is 'buy a bond and bomb a church.' Do you wish to identify yourself with such misanthropes?"

It's different in Italy. The people there lived under Fascism from 1923 till 1943, when Mussolini got out. In 1946 the Italians junked their King by voting for a republic.

Italy was torn and shot to pieces by the war, ruined. Any road it takes toward prosperity is long and tough. It's had little training in democracy.

Hoffman Believed Will Direct ERP

President Awaiting Acceptance Of Studebaker Corporation Head; Sources Say He Is Pres. Truman's Choice

Washington, April 6—(AP)—President Truman awaited today the formal acceptance of Paul G. Hoffman before naming the Studebaker Corporation head to direct the European recovery program.

Hoffman returned to Washington today from Japan, where he went with Undersecretary William H. Draper, Jr., to make a survey for the Army. He was expected to contact Mr. Truman during the day. Luncheon with Army Secretary Royall at the Pentagon was on Hoffman's program.

White House sources said privately that Hoffman was Mr. Truman's choice to head the multi-billion dollar program to stop communism in Europe.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross would not confirm that Hoffman will be appointed. He did tell a news conference that Hoffman is returning to the city.

Without waiting for this last step, the President last night directed the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to turn over at once the $1,050,000,000 advance which Congress authorized.

This includes $105,000,000 to start new aid for Greece, Turkey, China and Trieste, in addition to $1,000,000,000 for the 16 western European nations taking part in the joint, long-range recovery effort.

The funds will be transferred to the executive office of the President for use until Congress votes regular appropriations.

The action, plus prompt designation of a top administrator, offered Mr. Truman a way around an inter-agency disagreement. This was whether the State Department, the RFC or the Export-Import Bank should have charge until the separate operating agency is set up.

Along with his call on the RFC for funds, Mr. Truman directed Robert A. Lovett, as acting secretary of state, to negotiate temporary agreements with the 16 western European governments.

Soft Coal Fields Settle Into Grim, Silent Waiting

Pittsburgh, April 6—(AP)—After a brief flareup of violence, the idle soft coal fields settled into grim, silent waiting today.

Quiet descended on the Harrison-Barbour county section of West Virginia where yesterday pickets clashed with strip-mine workers. Five men were arrested and held for grand jury action on warrants sworn out by Grafon Coal Co. officials.

Charges of conspiracy to inflict personal injury and to damage personal property were filed.

Twelve persons were injured, none seriously, in two outbreaks in West Virginia. Pickets fought with strip-coal truckdrivers near Lost Creek. About a dozen men suffered bruises. Ten truckloads of coal were dumped.

In Barbour county, pickets dumped 12 loads of coal and then marched into a mining property and closed a coal-loading tippie.

Elsewhere West Virginia's 12,000 miners were quiet but showed no sign of obeying a U. S. Supreme Court back-to-work order. In other soft coal states there were no reports of miners going back to work.

David Fowler, president of the 4,000 United Mine Workers in Oklahoma and Arkansas, said the men there had been angered at developments in the 23-day-old walkout. He said he doubted if they would be "inclined to go back" despite the injunction and added:

"They believe they have not had a square deal from operators on the fact-finding board."

Wisconsin Vote Is Crucial Test For GOP Camp

May Spell Oblivion For Any One Of Three Candidates Seeking Delegates

Milwaukee, April 6—(AP)—Wisconsin voters punch the ticket today on three Republican Presidential aspirants.

Some politicians think it may be a transfer to oblivion for one of three candidates — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota.

As a result of polls in Milwaukee, Dewey was given more chance than previously to pull up among the contenders, despite bear stories coming out of his headquarters here indicating that he might be the third man in the critical race.

Practically all of the politicians agreed that MacArthur will go over big or won't be a factor at all. A scattering of delegates, placing him in third position, almost certainly would put him out of the Republican Presidential race.

On the other hand, he could sweep the state's 27 GOP convention delegates and thus make himself the man to be reckoned with in the Nebraska popularity primary one week from today.

A new spokesman, Judge Stephen J. McMahon, fresh out of MacArthur's civil administration setup in Japan, voiced that Camp's last minute prediction. It was:

"Douglas MacArthur will win Wisconsin's primary by such an overwhelming majority that he will go into the Republican National convention as the people's choice for President."

That didn't jibe with what the Stassen people said.

Senator Joseph McCarthy, Stassen delegate, said a cross-section poll of Milwaukee's all-important voting districts indicated Stassen would win but that Dewey and MacArthur would have a knock-down and drag-out battle for second place.

Dewey backers weren't claiming anything. It was almost like the night before Christmas with them, when anything would do for a present. Deliberately, they had built up this psychology to the point where a Dewey delegate or two would be hailed modestly as a standoff, six or more would be looked upon as a moral victory and anything more than that number would be considered an outright upset.

On the Democratic side, a few of the candidates for the 90 district delegate posts have announced opposition to President Truman, but the party's leadership has remained mum recently.

It is these leaders who probably will swing the delegation into line for their choice when balloting begins at the Democratic National Convention in July.

Interest in the State's spring primary has been small, since only three congressional districts have contests for delegate places. All three are in Brooklyn.

America's program to rehabilitate western Europe, and halt Bolshevik aggression, has begun to swing into action with encouraging speed.

President Truman's signing of the bill last Saturday set under way a chain of developments calculated not only to implement the Marshall Plan but to complement it. As a matter of fact the wheels already were turning before the Chief Executive made the measure law.

One welcome surprise came with the disclosure that three food ships were sent racing across the Atlantic "about Friday," as one press officer in Washington put it. Two of these vessels were loaded with wheat for hard-hit Italy and the other with hard-hit Greece.

The shipment to Italy was particularly urgent, because the demoralized elements there badly need a fillip to their morale as they cross political swords with the powerful communist party in the national election April 18. The country's survival as a free nation is at stake. Furthermore, should communism win control of this strategic peninsula, the Red threat to the rest of western Europe and to the Greek-

Washington, April 6—(AP)—The government allowed John L. Lewis more legal rope today before cracking down on him and the striking coal miners for defying a court back-to-work order.

While government attorneys declined to reveal their time-table for proceeding against Lewis and the United Mine Workers Union, they hinted that the deadline for compliance will fall tomorrow.

If so, Lewis or his attorneys would have to do one of these things today to avert that crackdown:

1. Send the nearly 40,000 soft coal miners back to work, ending the strike over pensions which started March 15.
2. Fight the temporary restraining order itself by challenging its constitutionality or asking the court to dissolve it on other grounds.

If Lewis elected to do nothing, the government would proceed with a contempt citation.

Justice A. A. Goldberg, who 18 months ago fined the union $3,500,000 and Lewis $10,000 for ignoring another back-to-work order, was due to receive any motions which Lewis or the government might offer. The union's fine was cut to $700,000 when Lewis appealed to the Supreme Court.

Attorney General Clark obtained the present restraining order from Judge Matthew F. McGuire Saturday night. It was directed against Lewis and the UMW, but also ordered the soft coal operators who customarily bargain with Lewis to begin negotiations "forthwith" to end the pension dispute.

The operators assembled today to discuss their position. They had offered to negotiate "contract grievances" two weeks ago if the miners would go back to the pits.

WILSON BONDS SOLD

Raleigh, N.C., April 6—(AP)—The local government commission today sold a $1,750,000 issue of city of Wilson electric light, street and storm sewer bonds to a seven-firm syndicate at an average interest rate of 2.4899 percent. The bonds will have an average maturity of 18 1-2 years.

Tar Heels Turn Out In Army Day Celebrations

By The Associated Press

North Carolinians turned out today for parades and speeches celebrating Army Day.

Topping the program in the State was a huge parade and an appearance by Air forces Secretary W. Stuart Symington at Raleigh. At Asheville, more than 500 persons were expected to take part in a parade, followed by a medal presentation ceremony conducted by Maj. Gen. John E. Sloan, U. S. Army retired, and Commander Charles F. Tillinghast, U. S. Naval Reserve.

Two special programs were planned at Greensboro. Mayor Fielding L. Fry will speak tonight at a program in a downtown theater. A. T. College scheduled a special program under the direction of Maj. Edward C. Johnson, head of the school's ROTC unit.

More than 2,000 soldiers were scheduled to march in the parade at Raleigh, which sponsors termed the capital city's largest since 1919.

In the line of march were five bands, 800 paratroopers from Fort Bragg, the 850-member senior ROTC detachment from N. C. State College, National Guard troops and army reserve corps units.

Scheduled to stand with Symington in the reviewing stand were Governor Cherry, Maj. Gen. John Hall Manning, Commander of the 30th division; Maj. Gen. S. Leroy Ervin, Commanding General at Fort Bragg; and Maj. Gen. William D. Old, Commanding General of the Ninth Air Force.

Poll-Watchers In Italian Election

Rome, April 6—(AP)—Il Popolo, official organ of the government party said today Interior Minister Mario Scelba intends to assign 400,000 poll watchers to keep the peace at Italy's April 18 elections.

The Christian Democrat newspaper reprinted an interview with Scelba, the story said, announced the government has measures ready to deal with any eventuality. He urged all Italians to vote without fear.

The Washington State Department is concentrating on this problem, and the possibility of a mutual defense alliance with the recently created western European union is expected to come under survey. As a matter of fact it wouldn't be surprising if this is one of the subjects (Continued on Page Two)

Rowan Approves Work Of Patrol

Salisbury, N. C., April 6—(AP)—The Rowan county commissioners yesterday issued an official statement declaring that the work of the State Highway Patrol in their county was satisfactory.

The commissioners by unanimous vote rescinded a resolution of March 1 which had condemned the patrol for alleged inefficiency and the allegedly making arrests for trivial violations.

The statement rescinding the March 1 resolution declared that the original action was taken without sufficient investigation.

Begin Campaign To Move College

Winston-Salem, N.C., April 6—(AP)—Forsyth County and Winston-Salem citizens today started a campaign rolling toward a $1,500,000 goal—their share in financing the transfer of Wake Forest College to this city.

The campaign was launched last night at a dinner of 400 civic and business leaders who heard D. H. Ramsey, general manager of the Asheville Citizen-Times, describe the transfer as "an undertaking of great moment to North Carolina and your community."

It's Different In Italy

We've Had Democracy From The Beginning, Our People See No Need For Change; Italy Ruined By War And Fascism; Thinking Divided Over Road To Prosperity

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 6—(AP)—Italy's problems, as it moves toward the critical elections of April 18, are different from this country's.

We've had a democracy from the beginning. And with our two big political parties a third party has never had much chance.

This country now is wealthy, strong, well-fed and has full employment. The people are not thinking of drastic change. They see no need of it.

It's different in Italy. The people there lived under Fascism from 1923 till 1943, when Mussolini got out. In 1946 the Italians junked their King by voting for a republic.

Italy was torn and shot to pieces by the war, ruined. Any road it takes toward prosperity is long and tough. It's had little training in democracy.

The people there, tormented about the future, are seeking to make a decision they hope will lead to jobs and food.

As they try to decide, their thinking is split many ways: Rich, poor, middleclass, aristocrats, farmers, landless peasants, factory workers; Catholics bitter against the Communists as enemies of religion; people who want the King back; people who want Fascism back; peasants who want the land divided so they'll get some; workers who want the government to take over factories and industries and give them a share in running them; businessmen and conservatives who want no change; people who want sharp reforms, fast; people who want reforms, but slowly; people who fear Communism would mean an end to liberty.

These people, with their mixed hopes and fears, will go to the polls April 18 to set up a permanent government (they have a temporary one now).

They'll do it by electing members of parliament: a Senate with about 400 members, a chamber of deputies with 578.

Any party which won a majority of seats in parliament would run Italy. But no one party is expected to get a majority.

So any majority will have to be made up of the representatives of several parties voting together.

In this April election more than 40 million voters will take part. (Continued on Page Four)

BEAUTY SPOTS

BY BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
The next time you see a young lady with what appears to be a smudge of dirt in the shape of a four leaf clover or a heart on her face, don't be alarmed. The newest trick to add to the grab bag of feminine foibles is the revival of granny's beauty spots though grandma may have blushed at the thought of wearing one at the bosom line of her dress as today's glamor girl is doing.

Little black patches in stars, crescents, triangles, clovers and hearts are taking their place along with petticoat frills and waistline nippers to round out the old-fashioned look. The fad, revived by Clarence Barnes, an artist, has been seen on models in showings of the summer collections of Mildred O'Quinn, Lilly Dache and Adele Simpson.

The girls wore them on the shoulder with décolletée evening gowns, next to a dimple on the chin, or just below the corner of one eye.

Young Musician To Play In Trio

Among the student musicians who will play this evening at the Greenville Music Club is David Gilbert, pupil of the sixth grade in the Training School on the college campus. Young Gilbert will play the flute in a woodwind trio, the other members of which are Donald Adcock, flutist, of Durham, and William Adcock, clarinetist, also of Durham, students at East Carolina Teachers College.

David is the talented son of Dr. and Mrs. Karl V. Gilbert of East Carolina Teachers College. He has been studying the flute under Donald Adcock for some time. The trio in which he will appear has been trained by Herbert L. Carter of the college department of music. The numbers to be presented are "Adagio" by Mozart and "Presto" by Haydn.

With Nina Abernethy of Rocky Mount as accompanist, Donald Adcock will play Handel's Sonata No. 1 for flute and piano. William Adcock will play a movement from the Sonata in F Minor for clarinet and piano by Brahms. Elizabeth Drake of the college faculty will be his accompanist.

Also on the program for the evening will be Mrs. Herbert L. Carter, soprano, who will sing two operatic arias, with Martha Cammack of the college faculty as accompanist. The meeting will take place at 8:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. Herbert Waldrop.

Baptist BWC Groups Form Federation At Rocky Mount Meet

Approximately 125 members of Business Women's Circles from ten churches of the Baptist Roanoke Association organized a Federation of Baptist Business Women of the Roanoke Association at a meeting last night in the First Baptist Church in Rocky Mount. Mrs. Chester Walsh and Miss Grace Smith, both of Greenville, were elected president and secretary.

Other officers elected were Mrs. A. J. Melton of Farmville, first vice-president; Miss Sadie Taylor of Rocky Mount, second vice-president; Miss Kathleen Spain, Tarboro, treasurer. One representative from each group present comprised the nominating committee. It was also voted that the chairman of each BWC will serve as members of the board of directors of the federation.

Miss Margaret McGregor, who was appointed temporary chairman at a meeting last fall, presided at the supper hour and until permanent officers were elected. The fall meeting of the federation will be held in Greenville at the Memorial Baptist Church on Monday, October 11, at 7 o'clock. Miss Louise Galphin, chairman of the Inabell Coleman Circle, extended the invitation.

Equally interesting is the unconfirmed report from Madrid that Myron C. Taylor, President Truman's personal envoy to the Vatican, has discussed with Generalissimo Franco the question of Spain's position in event of war between east and west. Taylor conferred with Franco last Thursday.

And then we get from Washington the announcement that a carrier task force will visit Norway this month "for the promotion of good will." The warships will go to Norway after paying a call on southern England. It may or may not be purely coincidental that both Norway and Sweden are gravely concerned over Russia's intentions towards them. The position of these Scandinavian countries is most uncomfortable, as Moscow reaches for full control of neighboring Finland.

Eggs Produced In State Are Larger

College Station, Raleigh, April 6.—Eggs produced by commercial poultrymen in North Carolina have increased in size considerably during the past few years, according to T. T. Brown, poultry specialist for the State College Extension Service.

A few years ago, most of the eggs exhibited at egg shows throughout the state were too small—below standard weight of 24 ounces per dozen in many cases. At the shows this year, however, most of the eggs were too large, ranging from 28 to 32 ounces per dozen.

Some producers said their eggs were so large that it was difficult to select eggs small enough to be classed as medium-sized, Brown stated.

Strength FOR THE DAY

CULTIVATING A GOOD HABIT
At church a few Sundays ago, a young couple with a child sat in front of me. It was obvious that the parents had not brought the child to church until they had impressed upon him the necessity for decorum. His slight moving about was no major distraction to anyone who had a real interest in the church service and the sermon.

As I watched this family I thought how wise these parents are in establishing early in the life of their child the useful habit of church-going. Many parents insist that it is unwise to take children to the church service, giving as their reasons that the children may disturb others, that they cannot understand the sermon, and that it creates in the child's mind an aversion to church attendance.

Of course a child should not be taken to church until it knows how to behave in public assembly. Children do understand a little of the service and a little of the sermon, and even if an adult carries away a little of these he is doing well. As to the contention that compulsory attendance makes a child dislike church, the answer is that no child likes compulsion but that most adults admit that the things they prize most in their lives are the result of kindly but firm compulsion, usually imposed by their parents.

NEW OPPORTUNITY IN AUTO INDUSTRY

The "low-priced" automobiles we once knew are pricing themselves out of the field which made the motor car a part of the American scene.

Many - horsepower engines, luxuriously appointed interiors and shining chrome fittings have been added to the once-simple machine. Higher prices have also been added, and therein we find cause for complaint.

True, all of today's cars are superior pieces of craftsmanship and artistry; everything, from gleaming, smooth enamel to the tough tire-casings which promise more safety and comfort, are far ahead of the dreams of 1927.

And despite their higher cost, the buyer gets more for his dollar in purchasing today's car. The mileage-life of his auto is several times that of the older models, if given reasonable care.

But, automobiles are becoming more and more of a necessity to the tempo of our civilization. People are no longer willing to live cooped-up in crowded cities and prefer the suburbs. The day of the big cities is past, we are told, and evidence that this is true has already made itself apparent. This would indicate that private means of transportation will become more and more important as time goes by.

Low-salaried clerks and laborers provide a potentially tremendous market for a cheap automobile.

A car that was designed to "get you there and back" would not require expensive interiors, nor fancy trimmings and accessories. High speeds could be ruled out, for it's against the law to go over fifty-five MPH in most states, and city traffic speeds are much lower.

The old "Model-T" is a great example of a "people's car" for its era. Henry Ford depended upon mass appeal for selling his cars, and how they sold! That same market is open today for an industrialist who will sacrifice luxury features for the sake of lower prices and a bigger market than even now faces the industry.

When the vacuum left by the years of non-production in the auto industry is filled, perhaps then the industry will turn to a now neglected market in desperation and find a new boom among the families in the lower income brackets.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—The first traveling library was a horse-drawn book-wagon used in Washington County, Maryland, in 1905. Today some 377 bookmobiles or "libraries on wheels" travel the highways and byways of America, taking their precious store of books beyond the reach of a public library.

Yet 35,000,000 people in the United States today still have no public libraries within reach. Of these 32,000,000 live in small villages or in the open country. Having few books of their own, they are deprived of a basic means of education. To show these people without library service what good service is and how they can have it, the American Library Association, working with 44 state committees, is behind legislation to stimulate state and local interest in the project.

The Library Demonstration Bill, as this legislation is known, was introduced in the Senate by Senators Lister Hill (D-Ala.) and George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) and in the House by Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins. It is not the purpose of the bill to provide library service to all areas without it, or those which are inadequately served, but to demonstrate what can be done to establish permanent library service for those areas.

The bill provides for state supervision. The Federal government makes grants to states to assist them in conducting the demonstrations of library service, but its sponsors say there is no interference with state and local initiative and responsibility in carrying out the program. Vehicles used as book-mobiles range from motorcycles to 40-foot trailer trucks—station wagons, small panel trucks, trailers attached to passenger cars, school buses, army ambulances and trucks, a city bus and a jeep.

The bookmobiles generally make their rounds once or twice a month. Some leave books at regular distributing stations—post offices, filling stations, country stores, homes or churches—where patrons select their reading material. Others give door-to-door service to homes or schools along the route.

Librarians say that rural people, like others, want to use good books for many reasons. They want to learn new things, to follow current events intelligently, to find relaxation or to develop their understanding generally.

Rural schools need many more books than they can afford to buy. People in remote regions who have been reached by traveling libraries count on the service as much as on the other ties that link them with the world outside. The American Library Association says that only 600 counties in the United States have county-wide library service.

1500 Boy Scouts Expected To Join In Camporee Event Here April 16

Interest is picking up considerably in the Camporee plans of the Boy Scouts as they prepare to invade Greenville on April 16-18 for the spring outing at the Greenville Airport.

An advance notice to all Boy Scout troops says, "Talk about rain, expect rain, look for rain, wait for rain, prepare for rain, and, in fact, be disappointed if it does not rain." Well, if rain does come, the boys will be ready, according to P. T. Watson, East Carolina Council Camping and Activities Chairman. "But we hope it doesn't rain," says Mr. Watson.

The 1500 boys who will converge on Greenville have a store of great surprises awaiting them. Besides the numerous contests which will be reeled off, the Scout has an individual duty to perform, according to the advance instruction sheet which has just been received.

Arrival time at the Camporee will be from 11:00 o'clock Friday morning until 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The Scouts will begin immediately setting up their camp sites. Originality and orderliness in setting up the sites will count a great deal in the final awards. Each patrol is urged by local Scout officials to make the plans in detail and to carry them out as planned.

The entire Camporee will be based on the patrol method. A patrol is the unit, and all contests will be judged from that standpoint. The meals will be served family style by the patrol family, and the meals will be judged upon the scout ethics of advance planning, balanced diet, cleanliness, etc.

The foremost thought in the minds of Scout officials is that the boys must have a good time. But care must be exercised that the fun is kept on an organized basis. No stone is being left unturned by J.B. Kittrell and his arrangements committee of Greenville to see that every boy and every patrol is placed so that he can have the best time of his scouting career. Yes sir, it's going to be a big time in Greenville on April 16-18.

The U.S. Aircraft industry grew from an annual production of $280 million in 1938 to $20 billion in 1943. 7,325 miles in 1941.

Future Teachers Conduct Classes

East Carolina Teachers College has 52 student teachers working during the spring quarter in four schools in the eastern area of the state and conducting classes from the first grade through the high school. Dr. J. L. Oppelt, director of student teaching and placement at the college, has announced.

This quarter the group of student teachers is the largest for the year. During the year 1947-1948 school term, 137 seniors at the college have taught or are now teaching in the public schools and are preparing themselves to enter the profession of teaching. Of these 103 are women, and 34 are men. Among the 52 students teaching this quarter are women outnumber men by 38 to 14 respectively.

The Greenville High School, with 24 student teachers this spring, is providing work for the greatest number of college seniors. Other schools in which teachers now have assignments are the Training School on the campus, the New Hanover High School in Wilmington, and the Saratoga High School in Wilson County.

Wildlife Club Will Meet At Airport Inn

The Pitt County Wildlife Club's monthly supper meeting will be held at the Airport Inn Wednesday night at 7 o'clock. The supper will be "dutch treat." President Jesse R. Moye will preside. All members and hunters and fishermen are invited to attend. The club will help to formulate recommendations on the 1948 fishing and hunting regulations which will be presented to the State Wildlife Resources Commission at a public hearing to be held in Kinston on April 12.

Members and others who plan to attend the regular meeting should notify Johnny W. Overton, club secretary, not later than tonight.

Pitt Farmers Specializing In Hog Production

Better hog production is being emphasized in the 1948 farm program of Pitt County, according to Jack Kelley, animal husbandry specialist for the State College Extension Service.

Last year the county stressed corn production, with civic organizations of Greenville sponsoring a corn growing contest. Now, under the leadership of County Agent S. C. Winchester and Assistant Agent W. H. (Bill) Pruden, farmers will give special attention to hog production as the best method of marketing their corn, Kelley said.

The same civic groups will sponsor several 4-H Club pig projects in the county this year. The agents are working with several of the purebred breeders to develop better hogs so that foundation stock can be furnished to the commercial growers in the county, making it unnecessary for them to go out of the county to buy good breeding stock.

Kelley said the county already has a good pasture program which includes crimson clover, rye grass, and small grains for winter grazing, and Ladino clover for year-round grazing.

Among the purebred breeders in Pitt are Joe Moye of Farmville, a Duroc breeder and the only man in the state who has purchased two $1,000 boars; C. H. Caraway of Farmville and Marvin T. Barnhill of Stokes, both Berkshire breeders; and H. T. Smith of Fountain, another Duroc breeder. Last year Smith entered his sows in the production registry program. The sows farrowed an average of 24 pigs each and raised 19 pigs each from the two litters, with the heaviest litter weighing 412 pounds. Four of the five sows qualified in the production registry with the required weight of 320 pounds or more per litter. Smith sold 63 hogs last year for breeding purposes, and he expects to increase that number this year.

SENIORS TO PRESENT PLAY AT EPPES SCHOOL TONIGHT

The Senior Class at C. M. Eppes Negro High School will present a play, "Sensations of '48," in the school auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock. Those who have seen the show say it is sparkling and entertaining. The public is invited.

Highway Patrol Makes Record In District A

By CHESTER WALSH

State Highway Patrol Troop A, which includes 27 northeastern counties of the state, made a great record in highway safety in March when they had only one fatality to report, and Capt. Lester Jones, commander of the district, with headquarters in Greenville, was receiving congratulations yesterday.

This is in singular contrast to five fatal highway accidents in the same month last year, and a credit to the patrol.

The one highway fatality during March this year was when a car driven by M. L. Elmore of Dover, collided with an 83-year-old woman who stepped in front of his car about three miles south of Kinston last March and was killed. A Lenoir County coroner jury exonerated Elmore, after it was testified that two cars were approaching from opposite directions, that the woman waited for one to pass, then crossed the highway to step in front of the other car.

Incidentally, Troop A, (27 northeastern counties), under command of Capt. Jones, reported in March of 1947 the staggering number of 27 accidents, five of them fatal, and 13 of the victims were in hospitals at the end of that month.

The majority of the March 1947 accidents occurred on highways 301 and 17, in Sgt. Tom Brown's district of three counties, Craven, Carteret and Pamlico counties. That's the seashore coast line highway to Florida over which so many motorists from the north travel.

Conditions were bad in that area last year, Capt. Jones said today. Tourists were going south during the winter and they were breaking all speed laws. Our patrolmen arrested numbers of them and cited them to courts. Many of us read in state newspapers letters from tourists en route to Florida, severely criticizing the North Carolina highway patrolmen and the judges who tried them for endangering life and property with excessive speed.

The patrolmen along that route have done a fine job. The papers did not say along with letters of complaint, that highway patrolmen arrested a northern police commissioner, a judge, an alderman, a prominent business executive, and others for buzzing the highway at from 60 to 80 miles an hour, when the state law allows a 35-mile auto limit, and 45 for trucks.

"It is a record on court books that every motorist the patrolmen arrested on that north-south highway were convicted and penalized when they appeared in court. Incidentally, many of the touring motorists posted bonds, forfeited them instead of appearing in court, and then when

Student Service For Employment

A plan for widening the field of high school graduates' job applications this spring was outlined and approved by the Greenville city school and county authorities last week.

A representative for Mrs. J. B. Spilman, manager of the Greenville Employment Office, called on the city and county school authorities and the following plan was formulated.

An employment service interviewer will visit the senior classes in the high school and in the college and supervise the filing of job application cards, at the same time giving instruction in fundamental procedures in asking for a job. The cards will be sorted into categories listing individuals as limited to various types of employment and a system will be established which will permit a student job applicant to receive every consideration in being referred to a job that will utilize his strongest possibilities. In some instances special counseling interviews will be arranged, and GATB tests will be given. Thus, any employer who interviews a student job applicant can be sure that he is talking to a person with definite aptitudes for his line of work, and students will be able to talk to more than one prospective employer. Typing and dictation tests will be administered to stenographic applicants, so that specific speed ratings can be quoted to prospective employers, as well as clerical aptitude ratings.

The variety of jobs which a student would be permitted to investigate should have the effect of making him more satisfied with the result when he accepts a job, and less likely to go about questioning for another. It would also give employers equal privileges in selecting an applicant from several qualified ones.

Law violation prevention, is the policy of our state highway patrol," Capt. Jones told a reporter.

Spring Fever?

If you're not feeling just right, can't enjoy the outdoors, due to a hang-over of winter sluggishness, chances are what you need is good old Calomel.

Both Mr. Rose, city school superintendent, and Mrs. Spilman, manager of the local employment office, think this method of selecting workers from the entry applicant group should make better qualified and better satisfied workers for the Greenville employers.

Chapter 7

The completely inert thing that had once been Simeon Mannley lay on the polar bear rug in the game room. The flamboyant purple pattern of his pajamas made the blood stain almost undiscernable but his pale eyes were wide open staring at the ceiling in mild bewilderment.

Dr. Palmer's thin restless fingers merely confirmed what Vince already knew. "He's dead—stabbed, about four hours ago," Palmer said slowly.

Vince reached for a cigarette. "When did you find him, Luki?"

"I did not find him, sir, Bernie did." The Hawaiian pointed to a corner of the room where a frightened overall-clad youth shrank from their stares.

Vince eyed him casually, guessing that he was about seventeen and a farm hand judging from his clothes. "Who are you? Tell us about it."

The boy's voice was truculent, resentful. "I'm Bernie Oland."

It was evident he wouldn't be cooperative and Luki volunteered to help out. "The Olands have a farm, sir. Bernie and his father take care of the lawn and flowers at Kalani and Bernie comes every morning to clean out the fireplaces and lay fresh wood in them."

"I come into the big room first," Bernie suddenly found his tongue. "an' lay fresh wood, then I come in here and see him. He nodded at the body. "When I call him he don't answer so I go around to the kitchen. I hear noises up above an' I think it's Lin, the Chinese, but it turns out to be Luki." His voice rose and fell in the undulating rhythm of Scandinavian.

"Mr. Mannley was not expecting Mr. and Mrs. Donovan, sir," explained the Hawaiian, "so he gave them my room and I took Kim—he is the cook."

The Donovans again, Vince pondered. What part was that strange little couple playing in all of this? He turned to Dr. Palmer who was nervously fingering his moustache. "I suppose we'd better call the police immediately."

"The police?"

The medical man was obviously horrified at the idea. Vince shrugged.

Excitement High
As Date Nears
For "Follies"

By FRANK HOGG

Excitement runs high on the campus of East Carolina Teachers College as the day for the presentation of "Follies of 1948" draws near. This show, presented by the Veterans Club, under the direction of Eli Bloom, well known Greenville civic leader, is a follow-up of last year's highly successful "Dixieland Minstrel."

Those who witnessed last year's performance are even more interested in this year's, due to the statement of Eli Bloom, "This is the best show ever to be presented in Eastern North Carolina." Last year two solid hours of enjoyment were provided for all. This year, new routines, beautiful girls, songs you love to hear, and the ever funny clowning of black faced comedians, join hands with the men's chorus, duets, love ballads, etc., thus insuring a gala evening of fun for all, whether young or old.

April 7-8 at 8:00 p.m. at the Austin building on the ECTC campus are the dates for the presentation. Price of admission is 75c for all seats. Net profits will go to the Veterans Club Athletic Scholarship Fund, established in memory of former students who paid the supreme sacrifice for their country.

Collect Chest Of Books To Send
French Children

Members of the Association for Childhood Education at East Carolina Teachers College have prepared a Treasure Chest of books to be sent to children in France. All of the 57 members of the organization took some part in the project and served on committees for collecting funds, selecting and purchasing the books, making the chest and shipping it to Treasure Chest headquarters in New York, where it will be sent abroad. Last year the college ACE carried out a similar project of providing books for foreign children.

Lucille Blalock, junior from Timberlake, was chairman of the Treasure Chest committee. Ellen Joyce Clark, junior from Everetts, is president of the organization, and Dora E. Coates is faculty advisor.

Thirty volumes, carefully selected to meet the needs and interests of children of all ages and many of them beautifully illustrated, make up the contents of the chest. Funds were provided by contributions of members of the ACE on the campus.

Modern medical science through constant research has in the last decade done much to increase the life span of us all. Knowing this, it has been all too easy for us to call upon a doctor only in our hour of need, when in the majority of cases early diagnosis and treatment by a Medical Doctor could have prevented more serious complications from arising.

Ask Italians For Anti-Red Vote

New York, April 6—(AP)—Millions of Italian-Americans have sent letters and cables to relatives and friends in Italy urging them to vote anti-Communist.

A coast-to-coast spot check indicates the flood of pleas is increasing as the April 18 elections draw closer.

It's Different . . .

A dozen parties will have candidates seeking parliament seats. They range from:

Communists and their allies, the left-wing Socialists, who probably would try to take over industries, to milder leftist groups; to middle-of-the-road conservatives; to people who want a king; to people who want Fascism back.

Only the major parties will be listed here. Reading from extreme left to extreme right they are:

1. The popular front. This is made up of Communists, left-wing Socialists, and smaller groups sympathetic to the Communists.

All those in this group have pooled their efforts to get as many seats as possible.

The Communist leader is Palmiro Togliatti, well trained in Moscow. Pietro Nenni, oldtime Socialist, is leader of the left-wing Socialists.

2. The Socialists. Until a year ago, they were part of one large Socialist party. But they broke off when Nenni's left-wing Socialists decided to string along with Togliatti's Communists.

The leader of the Socialists is Giuseppe Saragat.

The Republicans. These people, a strong force in 1946 in overthrowing the king and setting up a republic, are a little left of center. Their leader is Rinaldo Ossola.

4. The Christian Democrats. This middle-of-the-road party has huge Catholic backing. Its leader is Alcide de Gasperi, now Premier.

5. To the right of the Christian Democrats are a number of other parties, including one that wants a king, and one with Fascist leanings.

But what kind of vote will the parties get April 18? Guesses from Italy put it this way:

The extreme left popular front—maybe 35 to 45 per cent; the middle-of-the-road Christian Democrats—maybe 30 to 35; with the rest divided up among the other parties.

Then—with no party or group of parties having a clear majority—the fight will start to take control of the government.

That fight will be in the Assembly—which first picks a president, and then must approve the cabinet of the man the president names as Premier.

Graziano Wins; Mauls Horne In Non-Title Bout

Washington, April 6—(AP)—If there's anything that middle-weight champion Rocky Graziano doesn't need, it's a rest cure. He showed that last night as he defeated Sonny Horne of Valley Stream, L. I., in a non-title bout that went the full 10 rounds.

He also showed he will need plenty of work if he expects to defend his title successfully against Tony Zale on June 9, probably in Newark, N. J.

Graziano is famed for his knock-out punch. It was completely unopposed last night. Repeatedly Graziano swung, and repeatedly he missed, sometimes by as much as six inches.

Yet so powerful is Graziano—a stocky little character with the muscles of a 250-pounder—that his glancing blows did more damage than the straight ones from the light-jabbing Horne.

At the end Horne had had cuts over both eyes, and looked tuckered out.

Graziano didn't have a mark on him, and looked as if he was ready to fan Horne for another 10 rounds. The judges all voted for Graziano, but many of the 5,181 customers booed when the decision was announced.

Graziano, who at 160 weighed a pound less than Horne, pretty well summed up the situation in the dressing room after the fight. "I needed this one," he said. "If they don't ban me out of the ring, they'll rust me out."

He was referring, of course, to the fact that he hasn't fought since he won the title from Zale last summer.

Play Wednesday

Manager Bob Coleman of the Evansville Braves stated today that their second exhibition game to be played here with Pawtucket of the New England League, will be played on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Guy Smith Stadium. The game was previously announced to be played at night.

The Pawtucket Club, which are holding their spring training in New Bern, is also a farm of the Boston Braves, and like the Evansville Club, plays Class B ball.

Pirates Lose To Elon In Season's Opener By 6-4

By JACK HEDGEPEETH

The Elon Christians jumped on Bob "Lefty" McCotter here yesterday, for three hits and two runs in the first inning and proceeded to hold that margin as they defeated Coach Jim Johnson's ECTO Pirates 6-4 in a North State Conference baseball game.

York led off with a single and came scampering home when Steve Walker drove a triple to center. Mills' single sent Walker into score.

Frank Roberts, Christian hurler, went all the way, scattering 12 hits effectively.

McCotter, No. 1 Pirate pitcher, hurled effective ball after the first inning, striking out nine Christians before being relieved by Bill Pulp in the eighth.

McCotter failed to receive the support of his teammates afield, who misused 6 times, allowing Elon to score 3 unearned runs.

The loss was McCotter's first as an ECTO hurler. He was undefeated in five attempts last year.

The Pirates outthrew the visiting Christians 12-8, but the inability to hit with men on bases proved fatal, as the Elon infield racked up two double plays while playing errorless ball afield.

Batting honors for the day went to McCotter, Pirate hurler, who slugged out 2 singles and a triple in three attempts. "Lefty" drove home 2 of the Pirates runs, and scored the other two himself.

Steve Walker, Elon captain, had a triple and single to lead his team.

The Winston Free Press says Tommy Lee, who was traded to the Eagles plus cash for Bob Cohen, has failed to come to terms with the club and has returned to his home in Elizabeth City... Cox not on contract as a player, has seen duty in college fronts, and at the present holds the job as head coach at the Tarboro High School... a total of 19 Tobs are working out daily under Max Wilson in preparation for the opening of the season... Hurling Display By Schoolboys

Philadelphia, April 6—(AP)—Three schoolboy pitchers hurled a total of 22 no-hit no-run innings in a 13-inning baseball game.

Jack Yerkes of Frankford High school did not allow Benjamin Franklin high a hit for four innings yesterday. Yerkes then moved to third base and his successor on the mound, Ken Stretch, pitched seven perfect frames. Yerkes came back to pitch two more scoreless and hitless innings.

Harvey Klinger, starting hurling for Benjamin Franklin, did not yield a hit or run for nine innings before giving way to Joe Mareno, who allowed three hits and the lone Frankford run in the 13th.

Giants' Outfield Named By Ott

Phoenix, Ariz., April 6—(AP)—The New York Giants' first string outfield will be Bobby Thomson, Whitey Lockman and Willard Marshall.

Manager Mel Ott said yesterday Thomson would be the center-fielder with Lockman playing left and Marshall right.

Thomson, regular centerfielder last year, had been playing left and Lockman center recently. Marshall has been playing right field in his usual brilliant style and there was no doubt that he would retain his job.

Frankie Baumholtz is certain to start in right with Hank Sauer or Augie Galan in left and Johnny Wryostek and Clyde Vollmer dividing centerfield chores. County's Cancer Drive Plans Set Pitt County this week launched its greatest drive for funds to fight cancer. The county has assumed a goal of $4,500 as its share of the state's $200,000 campaign.

Mrs. Vance Perkins, county campaign chairman for the American Cancer Society, said she expects the local goal to be reached soon and hopes Pitt county would go well over its quota by the end of April.

"This is not a charity drive," the chairman pointed out. "On the contrary, it is a campaign which benefits alike every person in the community—old, young, rich, poor white and colored—because cancer is no respecter of persons. Statistics show that cancer will strike one out of every two families.

"Conservative doctors tell us that from a third to a half of the people who develop cancer can be cured, if they receive early and adequate treatment. It is to finance a program to save the lives that are being thrown away needlessly—from $50 to $200 in North Carolina each year—that the American Cancer Society needs funds. At the same time, the Society's program is aimed ultimately at stamping cancer out completely through some discovery yet to come from the research laboratories."

The campaign chairman pointed out that funds raised here will be used to finance a three-fold attack on cancer through research to find the cause and cure for all types of cancer, through public education in the symptoms of early cancer and what to do about the disease if it strikes; and through service to cancer patients.

"I am confident," Mrs. Perkins said, "that the people of Pitt County will contribute not as a donation but as an investment in protection for themselves and their families."

A corps of volunteer workers has been organized to call on as many persons as possible during the week of April 11 to ask for contributions. The chairman urged, however, that people not wait for a solicitation call. Contributions may be sent to Mr. W. H. Woolard, treasurer, at the Guaranty Bank and Trust Co. in Greenville.

Italian Reds Call One-Day Strike For April 12

Rome, April 6.—(AP)—The Communist dominated Italian General Confederation of Labor called a nationwide general strike today for April 12, six days before the Italian National elections.

The confederation charged that the Mafia (Black Hand), with political support, was responsible for the killing of 35 Sicilian labor leaders and said the strike was being called in protest.

Earlier executive committee members of the Confederation said the strike specifically would be a protest against the disappearance of Placido Rizzuto, a Sicilian Communist labor leader. Rizzuto disappeared three weeks ago. Police have offered a reward for information

Corey Speaks At Lions' Weekly Supper Meeting

Highlighting the weekly supper meeting of the Greenville Lions Club was a talk delivered by State Senator Arthur B. Corey on the City Manager form of city government.

Senator Corey outlined the four major forms of city government provided by the North Carolina state law before explaining the structure and functions of the City Manager municipal government. He told his audience the procedure by which the council or board of aldermen is elected. He said that the council appoints a trained professional administrator to fill the post of City Manager, who is responsible to the council only.

The local attorney gave a short history of the City Manager form of government, pointing out that North Carolina has approximately twenty-six towns and two counties using this type of government. Reiterating his previous statement that his talk was "purely informative, not argumentative," the Pitt legislator emphasized that it would do well for citizens to give serious thought to the City Manager government in these changing times.

Program chairman, George Wilkerson, introduced Senator Corey by saying that he has served in the North Carolina State Senate since 1933.

The club heard a report by E. K. Willis, chairman of the Easter Seal committee, who thanked various

Begin Writing Draft, UMT Bill

Washington, April 6.—(AP)—A note of discord in the Senate Armed Services committee over universal military training today failed to throw the majority off key. There still was plenty of harmony for revival of the draft. And members predicted committee approval of UMT as well.

The discordant note was sounded by Senator Edward V. Robertson (R-Wyo.) in advance of the committee's meeting today at 10 a. m. EST. (to start writing draft and UMT legislation.

Robertson, a committee member, said the administration is trying to "ride" UMT through Congress "on the coattails of selective service." The administration's plan is to package the two preparedness measures in one bill.

There is a lot of support in Congress for a limited draft. There is a good deal of stiff opposition to UMT.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) said the Senate Armed Services group "undoubtedly" will decide first whether to handle the two programs in one bill or separately. Gurney is for both UMT and the draft, but he declined to say whether he favors packaging them.

Said Robertson: "I don't think a 'single package' bill would pass. But I predict that if there were two bills, Congress would pass selective service rapidly and do nothing about UMT this session."

Rotarians See Movie On Cancer

By WYATT BROWN The Rotarians saw a sound movie last night entitled "Time Is Life" which showed the seriousness of cancer and the proper way to proceed. Preceding the exhibition of the movie Dr. John Winstead spoke about cancers and the drive to raise funds to carry out the program of the American Cancer Society. Dr. Carl Adams served as operator of the projector.

Visiting Rotarians last night were R. E. King of Washington and Dr. Grady Dixon of Ayden. Guests of the club were Erskine Duff, Willard T. Kyser and Dr. A. D. Underwood. Two new members were greeted last night: Harold Thomas and Allen Hurlburt. The program was presented by Lindsay Wilkerson of the Program Committee. Members were reminded of the district conference of Rotary to open in Fayetteville on Thursday of this week. Dr. Herbert Hadley, who is in charge of solicitation in the cancer drive next week, asked for volunteers and got quite a few. Bob Bradshaw, club president, presided.

end of recurring periods of distress that have plagued the industry in the past, said G. Edworth Huggins. The program is made possible by current good profits of mills and already is well under way, he said.
