Unknown Killer Tries To Murder Walter Reuther

UAW President Escapes Death At Hands Of Assassin; Badly Wounded By Gun

Detroit, April 21—(AP)—The CIO's Walter P. Reuther escaped death at a gunman's hand last night. A mysterious assassin, creeping to a lighted kitchen window of the auto unionist's home, fired a shot-gun blast at Reuther, inflicting serious arm and chest wounds.

Early today, as doctors reported Reuther out of danger, a battery of Detroit's police and top detectives followed him in a search for the assassin or two men in the assault.

For a time it was feared that Reuther, UAW president of the CIO's United Auto Workers, might lose his right arm, shattered by several slugs.

Reuther himself, according to Prosecutor James N. McNally, blamed "management, Communists or a screwball." However, the prosecutor said Reuther "wasn't much help on that happened."

The 40-year-old red-haired, aggressive UAW leader has long been in a war with the Communists.

Currently his big auto union, which speaks for nearly 1,000,000 workers of the car plants, is pressing its new spring wage increase demand on the industry.

The injury to the UAW's chief left in question meanwhile the extent to which he can take part in his union's wage drive. Doctors said he would be hospitalized perhaps for weeks.

Reuther was shot a few minutes after returning home from a meeting of the UAW international executive board.

As he stood at a refrigerator in the breakfast nook of his home on the northwest side, a blast was fired through a window four or five feet from him.

The charge struck his right arm. One slug penetrated his chest cavity, stopping near the skin surface in the stomach area.

Neighbors said they saw a man dash out of the Reuther yard and flee in a car a moment after the shot. Police reported none could tell whether a confederate drove the car.

Legion Fair Controversy Ends, Judge Explains, Defends UMT

Members of Pitt County Post 39 of the American Legion last night unanimously adopted a report of its special fair committee marking the end of a controversy between the post and the fair and heard an inspiring address by Judge Henry L. Stevens, former national commander of the American Legion.

The meeting held at the Airport Inn was presided over by Post Commander Jimmie Jenkins.

In his address Judge Stevens reviewed the history of the Legion and emphasized that it had always stood, not only for aid for veterans, but for everything that meant a greater and stronger nation. As the world's greatest veterans' organization, he urged every veteran of

UN's Third Birthday

News Story Of Three Years Ago; Policy Of No More Concessions To Russia Now More Firmly Entrenched; Actions Outside Of UN; Re-Arming, Just In Case

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 21—(AP)—An Associated Press story said: "The United States delegation gave every indication of standing toughly against any further concessions to Russia on major controversies of the United Nations."

"Apparently backed to the hilt by President Truman, some of the U. S. delegates let it be known in public and off-the-record conversations that they believed this country has gone far enough in attempting to satisfy the Soviets."

Sound familiar? Sounds like something that was written today, or yesterday or last week. But it wasn't. It was written in San Francisco April 25, 1945, the day the allies opened their first meeting there to create the United Nations to keep peace.

The argument that day was over Russia's demand for three votes in the U. N. General Assembly, whenever it was formed.

This country has made some concessions to Russia since that day in '45. But what was written that day of an AP reporter in San Francisco has now become the foreign

Overwhelmed Italian Reds Hint About-Face On ERP

Rome, April 21—(AP)—Italy's Communists, overwhelmed in the election, received a hint from their top labor leader today of an about-face on the Marshall Plan.

The Communists opposed Marshall Plan aid throughout the campaign. Smarting from their worst defeat in free voting, the Communists also faced the possibility of a serious rift with some of their Left Wing Socialist allies.

With nearly complete returns apparently assuring the American-backed Christian Democrats of control of both houses of Parliament, Giuseppe Di Vittorio of the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor indicated it wants to take a stand on American aid independent of Moscow.

Official returns on all but 156 of the 41,847 precincts in the Chamber of Deputies election gave the Christian Democrats 48.7 percent of the vote, a total of 12,681,527. The Communist-led Popular Front had 7,995,601, or 30.7 percent. In third place were the anti-Communist Socialists, with 1,848,636, or 7.1 percent.

Final official returns on the Senate vote gave the Christian Democrats 10,746,151, or 47.9 percent; the Popular Front, 6,955,229, or 31 percent; and the anti-Communist Socialists, 1,850,722, or seven percent.

Thus Premier Alcide De Gasperi's Christian Democrats seemed assured of being able to form a government with the Independent Socialists, with whom they are closely allied in the present government.

The total anti-Communist vote of all parties in the Chamber race, on the basis of the nearly complete returns, was 17,030,386, and in the Senate vote, final official returns, 15,262,582.

Di Vittorio, Communist leader of the Confederation of Labor, announced he intends to ask the executive of the World Federation of Trades Unions (WFTU) to let each country decide its position on the Marshall Plan independently of Russia. This, he said, would let labor in each nation decide on the basis of the country's needs.

Di Vittorio's announcement came after a Popular Front spokesman declared that "our opposition to the (Marshall) plan is unchanged." Jacinto Cardona, information director of the Front, dejected over the election result, said his party considers the Front may be making political, economic and strategic obligations in return for Marshall Plan aid.

Cardona placed a large part of the blame for the Communist defeat on the women of Italy, who voted in large numbers. He also blamed the intervention of the Catholic Church and conceded that U. S. aid was an important factor.

Toll In Bogota

Bogota, Colombia, April 21—(AP)—The rebellion broke out in Bogota April 9 cost the lives of 1,500 persons, Red Cross officials reported today.

They said 1,500 were killed in Bogota, the capital, and 300 outside the city when mobs ran riot after the assassination of liberal leader Jorge Eliecer Gaitan.

Senate Battle Centers Around Public Housing Amendment

Washington, April 21—(AP)—Senate backers and foes of public housing squared away today for a showdown on that hot issue.

The Senate battle centers around an amendment by Senator Cain (R-Wash.) which would strike from the Taft-Elder-Wagner long range housing bill a section authorizing $500,000 government-owned and operated public housing units.

That is the most hotly disputed provision of the bill, which is aimed at encouraging the building of 15,000,000 new homes during the next 10 years. Private industry would handle most of the job, aided by federal loans and subsidies.

The bill also would extend the government's home loan insurance program, provide special incentives for rental housing construction, and authorize a vast slum clearance program.

The Senate put in four hours of slam-bang debate on the Cain amendment yesterday without reaching a vote.

There was some doubt whether there could be a final ballot today.

Nice, France, April 21—(AP)—An American naval squadron led by the aircraft carrier Philippine Sea was anchored off the French coast near Nice today for a ten-day visit.

Agents Discover Bootleg Liquor Is High Priced

Charlotte, N. C., April 21—(AP)—ABC agents swooped down on small fry bootlegging joints today and in the first three hours arrested 14 persons. They were charged with violating state liquor laws.

The roundup climaxed a week of preparatory work by ABC investigators from other sections of the state. They pretended to be customers "out for a good time." All their purchases were in plain sight.

All the liquor bought by agents, with one exception, had been purchased originally from ABC stores here. In the stores, it sold for prices ranging from $1.85 to $2.10 a pint. The bootleggers sold it at prices ranging from $3.50 to $5 a pint.

Cherry Declines To Intervene In Two Executions

Raleigh, N.C., April 21—(AP)—Two Negroes today lost their last remaining hope for clemency and will die Friday morning in the state's gas chamber.

Governor Cherry said of both cases at his news conference this morning: "I cannot intervene in either one."

The prisoners are Booker T. Anderson and Buster Hooks. Both lost appeals to the State Supreme Court two weeks ago.

Anderson was tried in Pitt County last August for burning the home of Willie Belle Crutch and of causing her death and the death of her two children, six-year-old Bobbie Eugene and year-old Jessie.

First Hospital Receives Check

Raleigh, April 21—(AP)—The first U. S. check issued under the federal-state hospital program was in the hands of the State Medical Care Commission today.

The check—for $12,806.30—is the federal government's first installment on its share of building the Roanoke-Chowan hospital at Ahoskie.

Construction of the hospital was begun last year with local funds. Since then, it became eligible for state and federal allocations.

Renew Disputes Over Occupation

Thrusts And Counter-Thrusts Between Russia And West

London, April 21—(AP)—Russian disputes with the Western powers over Germany and Austria were sharpened today with new thrusts and counter-thrusts.

In London, a Tass dispatch said a Russian mission responsible for a fatal air crash over Berlin April 5.

In Vienna, the United States and Russia blamed each other for a clash Monday on the streets of the American zone, when three Russian officers attempted to arrest a displaced person in the U. S. sector.

American Military Police wrested the woman from the Russians.

In Berlin, W. T. Babcock, American deputy commander of the city, called his Russian counterpart the "biggest Russian of falsehoods" "since the time of Ananias."

In the British capital, the United States, Britain and France made plans which may further the split between western and eastern Germany. The three powers laid the groundwork for restoring the western section's financial stability and giving it wide self governing powers.

The Soviet news agency statement referred to the collision of a British transport and a Russian fighter. All 14 aboard the transport, including two Americans, died. The Russian pilot perished.

Tass said the commission found that "at the moment the Soviet Yak-3 was on a training flight around the Soviet Dabhof Airfield and, having lowered its undercarriage, was preparing to land."

"The British plane, which shot out of the clouds, struck the tail-plane of the Soviet plane with its engines," Tass said.

A British White Paper previously blamed the Soviet pilot for the collision. Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the House of Commons Monday Britain would claim full compensation for the crash.

U.S. May Demand Security Council Act In Holy Land

Austin Concerned Over Refusal To Carry Out UN Cease-Fire Order

Lake Success, April 21—(AP)—The United States may demand that the Security Council enforce a United Nations truce in Palestine, it was indicated today.

Chief American Delegate Warren R. Austin was reported concerned over the refusal of Jews and Arabs to take steps toward carrying out the detailed cease-fire order voted last Saturday by the Council.

Sources here said the British, who were handed the responsibility of bringing the two fighting groups together, merely had given copies of the Council decision to them. Nothing further has been reported done in Palestine to stop the bloodshed.

No enforcement provisions were included in the truce plan. In the final debate before voting, a provision for a U. N. on-the-spot commission was stricken out in a disagreement over who should be members.

The United States now is weighing a proposal to revise the truce commission idea. Also being studied is a suggestion that the Council furnish a limited number of police to assist in supervising the truce. There was no indication as to where these forces would come from.

Acceptance of the truce plan for an important role in the American plan for a U. N. trusteeship in the Holy Land. Thus the American delegation was expected to exert every effort to stop the bloodshed.

The U. S. plan to replace partition with trusteeship found rocky going yesterday in opening debate on the Holy Land problem before the special assembly's 56 national political committee.

Russia sharply criticized the United States for switching from partition to trusteeship, repeated the contention that the action was dictated by American oil and military interests in the Middle East.

Taft Opens Ohio Campaign Tour

Jibes At Stassen Speechmaking; Cites Record Of GOP

Ashtabula, O., April 21—(AP)—Ohio Senator Robert A. Taft opened his northeast Ohio campaign tour today with a jibe at Harold E. Stassen's speechmaking.

He also challenged the former Minnesota governor's claims to being more liberal than he.

"All my opponent has to do is go around making speeches about what he would do if he were president. It sounds very nice to anyone listening to him. But it isn't so easy to work out his proposals in practice."

"I've noticed my opponent going about the country claiming he is more liberal than I am. I'd like to know in what respect he's more liberal—more liberal in giving money to Europe, perhaps."

"New Dealism still is the orthodox view in Washington," he said. "It has impregnated every group down there."

The Republicans, said Taft, have eliminated all controls they could possibly eliminate, reduced expenditures and taxes, checked rent controls, restored a balance in labor relations, and have put welfare measures into the legislative hopper.

Mother Forced To Make Choice Of Two Children

Manchester, Me., April 21—(AP)—A mother had to choose between two of her children and as a result one perished in a fire that raged their home yesterday.

Mrs. John L. Childs told firemen she reentered the burning house twice in an effort to reach her baby, Said Jean. Her son, Joseph, three, died after her.

Mrs. Childs was forced to turn back from smoke-filled stairs each time to carry Joseph to safety. The third time the boy stayed outside. By then the stairs were out off.

The blaze was so intense firemen were unable to enter a second floor window. The baby's body was found in the ruins.

Washington, April 21—(AP)—Legislation to put every man in the country into government service in wartime was recommended today by Dr. Vannevar Bush.

Lewis' Attorneys Battle 80-Day 'No Strike' Order

Many Miners Still Out Despite Lewis' Action

Several UMW Locals Schedule Meetings To Vote On Work Resumption; Many Officials Expect Full Production Tomorrow

Pittsburgh, April 21—(AP)—Wide-spread idleness prevailed throughout the soft coal fields today in spite of John L. Lewis' expressed wish for an immediate work return—but signs were strong that normal operation of miners was not far off.

In several states, locals of the United Mine Workers scheduled meetings today to vote on work resumption. Many union officials expected full production to be restored by tomorrow, or Monday at the latest. Some through normal crews would be at work late today.

Lewis, President of the UMW, last night sent telegrams to district presidents saying: "I do hope you will convey to each member my wish that they immediately return to work."

That message, close on the heels of 1,420,000 fines meted out to Lewis and the Union contempt of court charges, found thousands upon thousands of miners staying away from work to show their resentment.

In some places, response to the Lewis message was immediate. But in many other mining centers, particularly western Pennsylvania, where many miners refused to work this morning, the diggers waited to learn the decision of local sessions.

At a few spots, a non-work movement was reported. At Hazleton, Pa., in the anthracite fields, about 800 men failed to work at four operations. Some 300 miners, members of local 523 at Barton, Md., voted to remain idle for an indefinite period. Other Maryland locals scheduled meetings between now and Monday.

Sam Caddy, UMW district president at Lexington, Ky., predicted a full scale return to work tomorrow at Kentucky mines.

Local 1846 at Bellair, Ohio, met but did not vote on the Lewis telegram. Instead it talked about the fine of $1,420,000 (M) which federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough imposed on Lewis and the UMW yesterday, after their conviction for contempt of court.

Opposition Rises To Draft Revival

Three Members Of House Committee Said Will Vote 'No'

Washington, April 21—(AP)—Signs of a hot draft fight in Congress began to take shape today. A second member of the House Armed Services Committee came out flatly against any peacetime revival of Selective Service. He said still a third member, as yet unidentified, will vote "no" on the issue.

"I'm against it, and the people back home are against it," Rep. Bilbo (R-Miss.) told a reporter. "I have found that out. Other members of the House will find it out, too."

As House opposition began to take voice, Rep. Engel (R-Mich.) estimated that raising the armed forces to the sizes contemplated by draft bills now under consideration would cost the country at least $2,250,000,000 more a year.

Engel is chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee in charge of military financing. The present budget for the year beginning July 1 already includes $14,000,000,000 for the armed forces, Engel said.

In his criticism of the administration's request for a draft to back up President Truman's newly proclaimed Stop-Russia policy, Bishop accused military leaders of not making effective use of present reserves. Moreover, he said, the administration has not proved any real need for a mobilization.

Bishop thus joined Rep. Short (R-Mo.), a fellow committee member, who made almost identical objections yesterday.

Senator Serves Notice Plans Oppose Atomic Renominations

Washington, April 21—(AP)—The off-again, on-again Atomic Energy Commission renominations bumped into one certain delaying factor today.

Still others may keep the whole issue open until next year.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) served notice in an interview that he will fight any confirmation move until President Truman has acted on a pending bill to give Senators a look at FBI reports on commission appointees.

Knowland is the author of that bill. It passed the Senate over sharp Democratic opposition earlier this month but still awaits action by the House.

The Californian also is a member of the Senate Atomic Energy Committee which must pass on the renominations of Chairman David E. Lilienthal and his four commission colleagues before they can be put into the Senate for a vote.

Mr. Truman yesterday afternoon after the White House first had announced they were going up and then that they had been recalled.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) conferred with the President just before the appointments were re-instated. But he declined to discuss the reasons for the mixup. He did say he would ask his committee to consider the names "at the earliest possible date."

Even if Knowland finally wins his point, there is no certainty that the Senate will get around to an early vote.

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) is a long-time foe of Lilienthal's dating back from the early days of the Tennessee Valley Authority, which

Chinese Airmen Again In Action

Bomb And Strafe Communists; Claim Many Casualties

Peiping, April 21—(AP)—Government planes today caught 10,000 Communist troops crossing a river six miles south of Tientsin and inflicted more than 2,000 casualties, semi-official reports said.

National planes also bombed and strafed Communists attacking the highway town of Yinghsien, 40 miles south of Tientsin.

In Nanking, Teng Wen-Yi, a government spokesman, announced four new Communist armies were converging on Changchun, mountain-walled capital of Manchuria. He estimated their strength at 300,000 men. He said he did not know whether they planned to attack Changchun immediately.

(Teng added that the hardest fighting in China in recent days had been at the former Japanese prison camp of Weihsien in southern Shansi province. He said Chiang Kai-Shek's troops had inflicted more than 200,000 casualties on attacking Communists at Weihsien in 10 days.)

Marital law was declared in Peiping's theater district after 30 soldiers staged a small riot when they were refused free admittance to places of amusement. Some 30 shots were fired before soldiers were hustled off to the military garrison.

Victory For Freedom

Forces Of Democracy Score Success In Italian Vote; Exultation Should Be Tempered With Caution; Election Does Not Mean Defeat Of Communism

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Anti-Communist forces appear to have won a smashing victory for freedom in the Italian national elections—a victory likely to have a far-reaching influence on the cold-war between Russia and the democracies.

The returns aren't complete at this writing, but Premier Alcide De Gasperi's Christian Democrats and other Right Wing parties have sufficient lead so that Vice Premier Saragat has announced "The Communist party will not be admitted into the new government." If that's the true it will represent a sensational defeat for the numerically greatest Communist party outside Russia. Saragat, head of the anti-Red Socialists, interpreted the upset thus:

"The Italian election means a rebirth of democracy in Europe. The victory of democratic forces is a great setback to Russia and Communist plans for expansion. Italy is now a part of western Europe and not of the Balkans."

That's what we like to read, but let's temper our exultation with a bit of caution. Even if final returns

Government Requests Injunction From Judge Goldsborough; UMW Chief Absent In Court Fight; Court's Decision On Friday Civil Contempt Proceedings Awaited

Washington, April 21—(AP)—John L. Lewis prodded his coal miners to get back to work today while his lawyers battled against a government request for an 80-day "no strike" court order.

The court fight was before Judge T. Alan Goldsborough who fined Lewis $20,000 personally and the United Mine Workers $1,400,000 yesterday for contempt of a temporary court ban against a strike.

The temporary ban expires Friday. Government attorneys were backing Goldsborough's court asking him to replace the temporary "no strike" order with an injunction for 80 days. Figured from the time of the original order, this would forbid a mine walkout before July 1. Lewis' lawyers sought to have the injunction proceedings dismissed.</

Raleigh, N. C., April 21—(AP)—A state board of education committee is trying to find a way to cut the pupil load in public schools.

The board's finance committee will meet here Monday to go over figures it has been gathering since January. Its findings will be given to the full board Tuesday for discussion and possible final action.

The current load in elementary schools is six teachers for the first 175 pupils, with one more teacher for each 35 additional pupils. In high schools, the figure is four teachers for the first 85 pupils, with one more teacher for each 35 additional pupils.

The finance committee hopes to cut the load by at least one pupil from 35 to 34.

Girls who have been considering the music world as a career may take a few tips from Mary Osborne, talented guitarist and one of the prettiest girl musicians in the business. Mary says it is strictly talent, that counts and a girl shouldn't expect to get by on her looks alone. There's really no battle of the sexes in the music world and if a girl ventures into the jazz field prepared with a good musical background, she has reached musical maturity that even the most proficient male musicians will respect. Mary, who has been associated with Dick Stabile, Bob Chester, Russ Morgan, Joe Veseli, Louis Armstrong, Coleman Hawkins and Dizzy Gillespie, says the boys with saxophone first and look second.

Along with Mary Lou Williams, Margie Hyams, Beryl Booker, Vivien Garry, and others, Mary appears in the new record album "Girls in Jazz" (RCA Victor). These girls have managed to wedge a spearhead into the hitherto exclusive male hot music world.

Dear Judy

Compulsory military training for a big share of student discussion these days. A recent poll conducted by a magazine (Scholastic) showed that 65 per cent of high school boys and 52 per cent of the girls are in favor of compulsory military training for boys between the ages of 16 and 21. This is a marked increase over the 1943 poll when less than 30 per cent of the students polled were in favor of compulsory military training.

Farm Land Values For N. Car. Well Over '47

Washington, April 21 — (AP) — Farm land values climbed five percent in North Carolina and six percent in South Carolina in the year ended March 1, 1948.

The highest rise in value for the year, however, was 20 percent in North Dakota, the United States Department of Agriculture reported.

Farm real estate values for the country rose seven percent from March, 1947 to March, 1948 as compared with a gain of 12 percent the previous year.

Florida, Louisiana and California reported lower average values than a year ago.

Values for the nation now equal those reported in 1920, the peak year after World War I.

North Carolina's farm value is 145 percent above the 1920 high as is, however, and South Carolina's just 90 percent of that peak.

Agriculture experts reported land values up most where areas have been affected by industrial and urban developments.

They added that "more favorable returns from tobacco production during World War II contributed to higher values in North Carolina and Kentucky."

Farm land in the nation has more than doubled in value since 1935.

Dr. I. G. Greer Is Rotary Speaker Monday Meeting

By WYATT BROWN

"We must link our ideals with the practical things of life," urged Dr. I. G. Greer, an outstanding churchman, teacher and leader in the state, in his brief address Monday night to the Greenville Rotary Club on the subject "Safeguarding Our Democratic Ideals."

Mr. Greer was introduced by L. M. Buchanan while the speaker was a past president of his Rotary Club, a Past District Governor of Rotary, president of the Better Health program, Executive Secretary of the Business Foundation, former Superintendent of the Thomasville Baptist Orphanage, and now a professor of Sociology at the University of North Carolina.

"It is time to rededicate ourselves to things worthwhile. Following the battles by armies has come the battle of ideas which latter are more important," said Dr. Greer. Then he contrasted the denial of God, the discounting of the value of the individual, and the governmental control of the means of production of some countries with the American ideal of the individual's privilege to choose and make decisions as long as such are in harmony.

"Communism is no stronger than democracy is weak, regardless of the hideous implications of Communism. Some things must be re-examined in our own country," he declared.

First he cited the need of replacing the value of the individual.

"When the time comes that you regiment the individual, you have struck the death knell of Democracy," he warned.

He noted the tendency to place too much value on things instead of the main thing. He found fault with those who place emphasis on profit to the exclusion of consideration of the employee; he warned the employees not to think too much of the wage and not of the one who creates the job.

Third he cited the too strong tendency to substitute one's prejudice for the truth. "We must rise above our prejudices and give people the truth. We ought to be careful; prejudice is a dangerous thing," he warned.

"In defending our ideals, we must make our ideals work. Our ideals ought to link up with life if they are going to work. If we will defend our ideals, whatever it costs, it will be

Watch Cat

Brookline, Mass., April 21 — (AP) — Eddie Collins' watch cat did the trick.

When pennies early morning newspaper customers slid under the door of his store began disappearing, Eddie installed the watch cat.

Later police caught two youngsters trying to fish the money out with a hooked wire. They said it had been easy before Collins put the cat to work. Now, they explained, the playful watch cat grabbed the hook and saved the money.

Sgt. James Carroll tried it—and, sure enough, the cat clawed the hook.

worth it.

"We must redirect ourselves, so that tomorrow we will make the old world a safer and happier place in which to live," he declared in concluding.

LOOK for the big ANNOUNCEMENT

Hospital Rioters Will Be Removed

Goldsboro, April 21 — (AP) — Fourteen inmates of the North Carolina Hospital for Colored Insane here today awaited transfer to Central Prison in Raleigh following a riot.

Dr. Ira C. Long, the hospital superintendent, said eight rioters had been taken to the prison yesterday after authorities used tear gas bombs to quell inmates armed with razor blades and home made wire daggers.

The supervisor of the hospital's building for criminally insane, C. F. Howell, said a dozen of the building's 113 inmates were involved in the riot. The uproar came after lunch as inmates prepared to leave the dining room for an upstairs recreation room.

Long said eight rioters were taken to the prison shortly after the outbreak, and he had recommended transfer of 14 other inmates as soon as arrangements can be made.

He explained that negro prisoners are brought to the hospital for screening. The mentally ill remain.

He described the disturbance as the first since inmates tried to batter down doors with benches—12 years ago.

Lake pulsations called seiches first observed in Lake Geneva but later found in many other lakes, have not been adequately explained by science.

UN's Third . . .

How long will we need to keep men trained? For at least 50 years Forrestal indicated.

When you put Forrestal's words together they add up to one thing: He doesn't expect U. N. to be able to keep peace for years to come.

And in Congress there are a number of suggestions for revising the U. N. setup to try to make it work better.

In the House seven Republicans and seven Democrats got together on a suggestion. It's this:

Revise U. N. and (If the Russians don't like it, then Russia can get out.

And 16 Senators—Democrats and Republicans—offered their idea which, in effect, is the same as that of the House: Revise the U. N.

Senator Ferguson, Michigan Republican, introduced the 16-man idea in the Senate and he said bluntly how he feels.

If the Russians don't want to go along on a change in U. N. then the other nations should make a defense pact.

That would mean an alliance of the U. N. powers without Russia. Russia certainly would look upon that as an alliance against her.

All this is only in the talking stage. Really, Congress may not take any steps toward a change in U. N. But the talk makes it clear that, after three years, many Congress members think U. N. has had miserable success in its most important field: Keeping peace.

dition in which the war left her. As Premier De Gasperi said, the country just wouldn't "be bolshevized."

That's the mighty encouragement for the rest of western Europe—and for the countries of the Western Hemisphere where the Reds are boring in through their fifth columnists.

Italy is now nearer real freedom than she has been since Mussolini took over and inaugurated police rule in 1922. If she now can consolidate her victory over Bolshevism, she will become a vital base for the forces of democracy. She guards the southern flank of western Europe.

This encourages the belief that Communism may be held along its present line through central Europe. If the Reds can be stopped there, it will be a powerful deterrent to another world war.

Strength FOR THE DAY

ONLY SURE CURE OF COMPLACENCY

A friend of mine who irritates a great many people by the frankness with which he challenges sham and pretense said recently: "You remember Mark Twain once wrote that God gives a dog fleas in order to keep him reminded all the time that he is a dog. Well, as I move around among my fellows, I make it a point to furnish all the fleas needed. People may not like it, but it is good for them and keeps them reminded of certain things they shouldn't forget."

Of course the first observation to be made here is that this public spirited flea-furnisher probably needs a few fleas himself. When we get to the place where we believe that we alone are capable of furnishing, all the ideas the world needs, a few fleas of rather gigantic proportion seem to be indicated. But it is good for every social group, for every organization, and for society as a whole to have people, irritating though they may be, who keep biting their fellows and disturbing their complacency.

Socrates declared that he was a gadfly; that was why the Athenians put him to death. If we make a list of distinguished martyrs and ask ourselves why they had to suffer, we shall find that frequently fleas and gadflies were the answer. Complacency can easily become a disease.

WE CAN LEARN FROM ITALIAN VOTERS

The results of the Italian election meant a lot to the American man-on-the-street. Almost everyone was aware of the issues involved, and there was a general sigh of relief as the first sample reports of the voting results were made known.

Democracy won, but it was a tremendous effort. Ninety per cent of Italy's voting populace turned out for this all-important election, and it was the large number of votes cast that spelled defeat for Communism.

It is this record, the ninety per cent turnout, that particularly should be born in mind by we Americans; for such a percentage has not yet been attained in any of our own elections.

True, the issues were momentous; the voters were barraged with campaign promises, threats, orders, slogans and appeals. But that grim tug-of-war could have been won by the Kremlin crowd if the voters responded as indifferently as they frequently do in other democracies.

Perhaps it was this realization that prompted the Italian Minister of the Interior to warn voters to turn out, otherwise their "good conduct" certificates — necessary to travel and business — might be cancelled.

Minister Mario Scelba knew that citizenship entailed more than mere privileges; it also entails responsibilities; and voting was one of these. To us it seems only just and reasonable, that if a citizen fails in his obligations to his government, he should be penalized.

We can only conclude that voting in the United States should be regarded as more obligatory than it is at present; that this obligation should be expressed in the concrete form of a law with conforming penalties for non-voters.

The Little Savage

Voting is an obligation and a responsibility fully as great as taxation, for the quality and actions of government depend ultimately on the voice of the people. When the voice of the majority is silent, a handful of determined and vigorous voters can represent themselves as embodying the wishes of a community, a state or a nation.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—When the rainy season begins in Burma, and the yellow parakeet flower sends out its fragrance—more delicate than sandalwood, and sweeter—the people gather in the streets to celebrate. There is celebrating at the new republic's embassy here too. U So Nyun, the ambassador, and his pretty wife, invited official Washington to a huge reception to observe the occasion, which is in the nature of New Year's festivity.

In Burma groups gather in the thoroughfares with pails of water in which they dunk their fellow citizens. The water is supposed to purify their spirits, bring peace and good fortune. Men, women and children on their holiday finery, though they expect to return to their homes wet from head to toes. U So Nyun was in somewhat of a dither as to how he could carry out this custom here. Various suggestions were offered by helpful State Department officials. One suggested rigging up a shower over the embassy door. Another suggested filling atomizers with cologne and sprinkling the guests lightly as they arrived.

U So Nyun and members of his staff thought up a better way—a huge silver bowl filled with lavender

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(F)—King Ibn Saud of Arabia has become an American watermelon fan.

"He really goes for them," said Texas-born Kenneth J. Edwards, director of the Saudi Arabian Agricultural program.

"All he ever had before were native watermelons, which look more like gourds than watermelons.

"Now he's anxious to get some big American chickens and big eggs, too."

Chances are he'll get them soon. Edwards has just received 22 Texas farm experts to organize a long term program to develop Arabia's agricultural resources.

The program, financed by Royalties from the Arab American oil company, was decided upon by the King after Edwards and five other Texas farm men successfully developed a 3,000-acre project at Al Khari, where Ibn Saud has a summer palace.

water and rose petals so that guests could pluck out a rose petal and whisk it about a bit. They worked out decorations of red, white and blue flowers. Carrying out the colors of the Burmese flag, and a program of Burmese dancers in native costumes presenting classical and modern interpretations and music played on mandolin, guitar and violin by native artists. Aung Nyun, 13, and Khine Nyun, 12, sons of the Ambassador and Mrs. Nyun, were put down for songs and piano solos.

An important part of any Burmese festivity is the feasting. Mr. Oung, the Ambassador's secretary, listed the good things with delight—

"Burmese noodles with chicken gravy, rice prepared in coconut juice, curried shrimp, fish in a bean sauce and ginger, with mushrooms and water chestnuts... fried patties of onions and eggs, curried beef in coconut juice, curried turkey and tomatoes with crisp noodles... in addition, western canapés and "snacks."

"We introduced American varieties of watermelon, tomatoes, eggplant, carrots, onions, pumpkins and squash," Edwards said. "They'd never seen anything like them over there."

"The produce was divided by the king and amir Saud, the crown prince."

"The King got two thirds—but he feeds a lot of people. He has a court retinue of more than 2,000, including a lot of hungry relatives and desert ward neuters."

Edwards hopes that eventually Arabia, which now has to import 90 per cent of its food, will become almost entirely self-sustaining.

"It's a big country—four times bigger than Texas itself," he said. "A lot of the land is unsuitable for anything but sheep raising."

"But using better seed, some insecticides, fertilizers, manure, a small amount of machinery and only a little more water, we believe we can increase production up to 100 per cent."

"But we can't do it all for them. Our program is to teach them better methods and to help them develop their own resources."

"The best way will be to develop 4 or 5 large model farms throughout Arabia similar to the one at Al Khari. Committees of Arab farmers will pick the sites. At first they'll be supervised by Americans."

"As time goes on, the King set up his program under the name of the Saudi Agricultural Development Company. The company will have a lot of American farmers and ranchers who will be interested in the project."

"These people have had a long contact with Saudi Arabia and know the country. They'll be able to help them develop their own resources."

"It's like Mexican times. Why it makes your hair stand on end to see the opportunities there are there to help people. And these Arab farmers are really grateful."

Edwards believes the "good" will approach through agriculture will make more friends for America in the middle east than "silk hat" functions.

"You got to really help them rather than just give them aid," he said.

The 68-year-old King, sold on American watermelons and looking forward to Texas-size chickens, told him:

"My people take to modern ways. Five years ago they wouldn't ride on anything but a camel. Now they all want to ride airplanes."

Even more—they want some of those King-size watermelons.

4-H Club News: Health improvement is continuously being stressed as one of the most important phases of 4-H club work in Pitt County. During April each 4-H boy and girl underwent a physical check-up as a part of each year's Club work. Daily food habits, health habits and personal appearance were considered in the physical examination as well as general health conditions. The 4-H girl and boy from each club who has made the most improvement in his health during the previous year will be the individual club's king and queen. The 4-H girl and boy in the County who has made the most improvement in health during the last year will be crowned County King and Queen of Health in a most impressive ceremony on Friday night, May 14. The names of these winners are being withheld until that time.

There will be only one Club member (boy or girl) from the county to compete in the State 4-H Health Contest. This will be the County King or the County Queen, whichever ever one has made the most improvement in his health.

The County Agents in charge of 4-H Club work feel as if this new type of health program in the County has done much to promote better health among 4-H Club members. Home Demonstration Club Work: The members of the Stokes Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. E. A. Hawkins for their monthly meeting on April 12, 1948. Fourteen of the members were present, and three guests.

The meeting was called to order by the vice-president, Mrs. A. E. Rutherford. The minutes were read and approved. Mrs. Tyne Stokes, Secretary-Treasurer gave the treasurer's report. Our paper on the "Nipples of Living" was presented by Mrs. A. E. Etheridge. The subject for this month was "Little Courties to Remember in Preparing for Guests". Mrs. Lydia Barnhill, our Poultry Leader, gave some pointers to guide us in the raising of spring chicks, culling old layers and freeing our flocks of parasites. Mrs. Langford, home agent, had charge of the demonstration for the afternoon which was "Flower Arrangements for the home, church, and public buildings." All present enjoyed the information and demonstration of various arrangements she gave us.

The hostess served a delicious salad plate and iced tea for refreshments. Two new members, Mrs. Willis Overton, and Mrs. Quentin Cherry were welcomed to the Club. Miss Edith Hawkins was a guest. The meeting adjourned to meet in May with Mrs. Lucy Gray. The Home Demonstration Club schedule for the remainder of April is as follows: Simpson H. D. C. will meet with Mrs. W. J. Edwards on Tuesday afternoon, April 20, at 2:30 o'clock. Seven Pines H. D. C. will meet at the club house with Mrs. Roy C. Jones on Tuesday afternoon, April 20, at 2:00 o'clock. Bell Arthur H. D. C. will meet at the Home Economics Cottage on Wednesday afternoon, April 21, at 2:30 o'clock. Mesdames G. R. Gurganus and Richard Nichols will be hostesses. Clarke's Neck H. D. C. will meet with Mrs. Jack Andrews on Wednesday afternoon, April 21 at 2:30. Benton-Nobles H. D. C. will meet with Mrs. Linwood Baker on Wednesday afternoon, April 22 at 2:30 o'clock.

There will be only one Club member (boy or girl) from the county to compete in the State 4-H Health Contest. This will be the County King or the County Queen, whichever ever one has made the most improvement in his health.

The County Agents in charge of 4-H Club work feel as if this new type of health program in the County has done much to promote better health among 4-H Club members. Home Demonstration Club Work: The members of the Stokes Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. E. A. Hawkins for their monthly meeting on April 12, 1948. Fourteen of the members were present, and three guests.

The meeting was called to order by the vice-president, Mrs. A. E. Rutherford. The minutes were read and approved. Mrs. Tyne Stokes, Secretary-Treasurer gave the treasurer's report. Our paper on the "Nipples of Living" was presented by Mrs. A. E. Etheridge. The subject for this month was "Little Courties to Remember in Preparing for Guests". Mrs. Lydia Barnhill, our Poultry Leader, gave some pointers to guide us in the raising of spring chicks, culling old layers and freeing our flocks of parasites. Mrs. Langford, home agent, had charge of the demonstration for the afternoon which was "Flower Arrangements for the home, church, and public buildings." All present enjoyed the information and demonstration of various arrangements she gave us.

The hostess served a delicious salad plate and iced tea for refreshments. Two new members, Mrs. Willis Overton, and Mrs. Quentin Cherry were welcomed to the Club. Miss Edith Hawkins was a guest. The meeting adjourned to meet in May with Mrs. Lucy Gray. The Home Demonstration Club schedule for the remainder of April is as follows: Simpson H. D. C. will meet with Mrs. W. J. Edwards on Tuesday afternoon, April 20, at 2:30 o'clock. Seven Pines H. D. C. will meet at the club house with Mrs. Roy C. Jones on Tuesday afternoon, April 20, at 2:00 o'clock. Bell Arthur H. D. C. will meet at the Home Economics Cottage on Wednesday afternoon, April 21, at 2:30 o'clock. Mesdames G. R. Gurganus and Richard Nichols will be hostesses. Clarke's Neck H. D. C. will meet with Mrs. Jack Andrews on Wednesday afternoon, April 21 at 2:30. Benton-Nobles H. D. C. will meet with Mrs. Linwood Baker on Wednesday afternoon, April 22 at 2:30 o'clock.

Finis Written In 'Big Apple' Case Superior Court

By CHESTER WOLSH

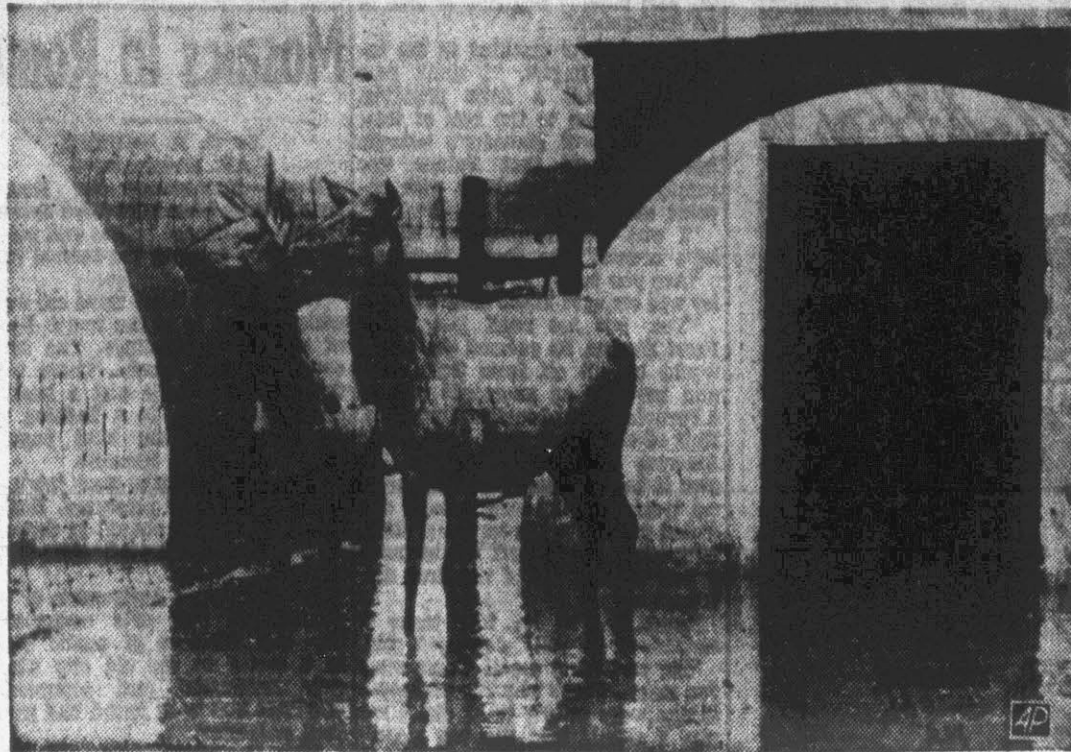

In Superior Court Monday Judge Henry L. Stevens of Warsaw, presiding over the one-week criminal term, not propped with leave, two cases involving the "Big Apple," banking business of Roderick Davidson of New Bern in several eastern Carolina counties. The two cases had been docketed in Craven County. The plan was to consolidate them and not press both with leave.

The first case involved Davenport Hal Horton, Wilson Boyles, Hugh Gaskins, Lee Smith, W. A. Brinkley, Luther Foy, Clyde Reel, O. D. Paul, Herbert Smith, Moss A. Roberts, Arthur Smith, J. L. Smith and Rufus Mills. They were charged with conspiracy and false pretense. The second case involved some of these same persons.

Davenport and some of his henchmen were convicted and are serving time in State Prison. Today's court action closed the case as far as criminal actions are concerned in the "Big Apple" Banking business is concerned. District Solicitor Dick Bundy said.

In the case of Fountain Harrington, charged with being drunk, prayer for judgment was continued two years, on condition that he be of good behavior and pay $25 fine and court costs.

Johnnie Harris, drunk, was given 30 days in jail, sentence to begin at the expiration of a term now being served.

After the evidence was completed in the case against Richard Nobles, reckless driving, the court entered a non-suit.

In the case of Russell Bryant, convicted of carnal knowledge of a female under 16 at a previous term of court, and which had been appealed and the Supreme Court found no error, Judge Albion Dunn, counsel for Bryant, introduced new evidence, and the defendant was permitted to plead guilty to trespass. The court continued prayer for judgment for two years on condition that Bryant be of good behavior and pay to Ernest Webb, father of Rhelene Webb, $500 and the court costs.

The case of Autrey Lee Haddock, charged with assaulting H. C. Smith middle-age country storekeeper, with an automobile muffler pipe, was given to the jury shortly after the midday recess. The case against J. C. Jones was non-suited.

Palace Guard To Include Women

Tokyo, April 21—(AP)—The Palace guard, once the roughest, toughest outfit in all of Japan, is to get women recruits.

The reason: women may be more polite to visitors than the 450 gruff voiced policemen now guarding the most ennobled palace.

The imperial household cautiously announced the addition of the women—30 to 50 of them. The Japanese received the news with incredulity.

"Cheese around the palace" snorted one westernized Japanese.

Youth Fellowship Meet At Grimesland

The Greenville sub-district of the Methodist Youth Fellowship held its second meeting, April 19, at 8 o'clock in the Grimesland Methodist Church. All charges of the district were represented in the group of approximately 200.

The Ayden delegation led the program with a beautiful worship service. On May 17 the sub-district rally will meet at the Simpson Methodist Church.

After the meeting had adjourned recreation and refreshments were enjoyed in the high school gymnasium with the Grimesland M. Y. F. as hosts.

Ed Barnhill, a witness for the state in the Haddock case, who was subpoenaed and failed to report, was brought into court on a capias and Judge Stevens fined him $10 for contempt of court.

Robt. Best Will Ask For Re-Trial

Boston, April 21—(AP)—Motions seeking a new trial or arrest of judgment will be filed tomorrow in federal court in behalf of Robert H. Best, convicted of treason last Friday.

Best was found guilty of broadcasting Nazi propaganda from Germany during the war.

Prosecutor Tom De Wolfe said he would ask Judge Francis J. W. Ford to impose sentence after he has acted on the motions.

In the event they are denied, counsel for Best said they would appeal to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeal.

The maximum penalty for treason is death; the minimum five years imprisonment and a fine of $10,000. Best's counsel said his appeal would be based on the following grounds:

1. That search of his Vienna apartment and seizure therefrom of certain documents were illegal.
2. That his arrest was illegal because no warrant was read or shown to him until his arrival at Bolling Field, Washington, after his transatlantic flight from Germany.
3. That the federal court in Boston was without jurisdiction as he was not brought first into the Massachusetts district but into Maine, that being the first point the Army transport plane passed entering the United States.

John Hardaway Wins Honor Wake Forest

Wake Forest, April 21—Twenty-two Wake Forest seniors and two faculty members will be formally initiated into Beta Kappa, highest national scholastic fraternity, at a special meeting following a dinner Thursday night, April 22.

John Hardaway, son of Rev. and Mrs. Richard E. Hardaway of Greenville, is among those to receive the honor.

Herman R. Schultz, 75, (above), wealthy bachelor-farmer of Le Mars, Iowa, who announced last Monday he would give away $1,000,000 worth of property to friends and relatives, is hearing from a lot of people who want part of it. Schultz has received many letters and wires containing proposals of marriage, requests for donations to charitable institutions, and begging letters. His property includes 42 farms, town properties and securities. He says he will retain enough to live comfortably. (AP Wirephoto).

HAUNTED HOLIDAY

Chapter 20

Kalanil was steeped in silence.
Vince stood at the bedroom window, not because he was interested in the twinkling lights of the distant shoreline that was gradually vanishing before a creeping curtain of night mist but because Dr. Palmer was undressing and probably suffering untold embarrassment.

Therefore it was doubly startling to hear Palmer's voice over his left shoulder, a voice that held menace and an undercurrent of terror.

"All right, Bonny, where is it?"

Vince spun around. "Where is what?"

"The packet I put in your suitcase," Palmer's eyes blinked rapidly.

"So you put it there?" Vince said softly.

"Yes. I expected to get up here before you did and remove it."

"Well, you made a mistake, Palmer. Did you forget that I was here during both murders? I am as suspect as the rest of you. They searched my things too."

Dr. Palmer looked visibly shocked.

"Tell me where they put it?"

"Johanson sent it into town — it's gone."

"But I've got to have it! I'm — I'm —"

"I know," Vince said bluntly.

"You're an addict."

"The doctor winced. "Yes. I don't take much but I've got to have it regularly. If I don't get it —" His voice grew shrill with fear.

A tremor passed over Palmer's thin frame; he reached out and took the lapels of Vince's dressing gown in his frantic fingers. "See if you can't persuade Johanson to bring some of it back! I'll make it worth your while."

Vince stared incredulously. "Even if you could bribe me, Palmer, I know Johanson wouldn't do it. He's an honest cop. I think your best bet is to tell him everything, then maybe he'll help you. Try to get hold of yourself."

Vince found Johanson poking in the long-dead ashes of Mannley's bedroom fireplace. "You'd better come upstairs," he hinted. "Palmer is about ready for a straightjacket.
I think he'll talk now."

"So it was he! What's the matter
—time for another dose?"

"I think it's just plain fear, the fear of being deprived of it."

"This ought to be interesting," Johanson commented. "The ambulance just got back from town with the bloodhounds and two telegrams from the Honolulu police. One of Johanson asked him.

"No, I switched to opium. The Japs brought it in and it was cheaper. The cocaine was just in case of an emergency."

The telegram cracked in the in-vestigator's fingers. "I think your memory needs a little prodding, Palmer. Listen to the rest of this:
"Several of Mannley's laborers have confessed that Palmer was supplying them regularly with cocaine at steep prices."

"I was only carrying out Man-nley's orders," the doctor protested.
"Are you telling us Simon Manley was engaged in the drug traffic?"

"Yes, but not until just before Pearl Harbor. He guessed the supply would be cut off from the Orient and invested an enormous sum in a Peruvian ring of cocaine smugglers.
Half of the supply came from South America early in '42. He had me give it to the laborers during medical treatment and they became addicted gradually. His case and cattle business had fallen off but he made a new fortune out of the drug distribution."

"And so you let him make a sucker out of you," Johanson said.
"He underpaid me if that's what you mean. That's why I came here—things were getting hot, I didn't see why I should hold the bag alone."

"And when you told him that the morning of Friday the 13th he told you off and you let him have it with the pearl diver's knife, eh, Palmer?"

Palmer looked genuinely surprised. "No, I didn't kill Simon.
Bonny can tell you that—we shared the same room all night."

Vince smiled thinly. "Malaria made me a light sleeper, Doctor. I woke up at two that morning and your bed was empty."

A chill shook Palmer's shoulders and traveled over his entire body.
Johanson struck a match on his boot sole. "That alters things, eh?"

"No," Palmer said slowly. "I had

Find Forgotten Mosaics In Rome

By G. E. BRUSINI

Rome.—Excavations for Rome's first subway have uncovered ancient Roman apartment houses and public baths deep beneath the central railroad terminal.

Workers first came upon old walls which proved to be the fourth floors of residential buildings. The ruins covered several blocks. There were three thermal halls and a heating system belonging to a bathing establishment of the kind popular with the ancient Romans.

Floors of the baths were intricate mosaics, perfectly preserved. Rooms where steam was poured in through tiled pipes alternated with cold swimming pools.

Prof. Salvatore Aurigemma of the government fine arts commission says the existence of public baths in a sector of the old city where only residential and commercial buildings had been found had never been suspected.

After the barbarian invasions in the Fourth Century, Rome's population, which in Emperor Augustus' times was well over one million, fell to only 100,000. Entire blocks of houses were abandoned. Pope Sixtus V (1585-1590) had extensive gardens and a great villa built for his family on this site, covering the old Roman buildings under a layer of earth.

The mosaics will be cleaned and used as a decoration for the walls of the new subway station to be built on the site of the discoveries.

Which Must Be Sacrificed By Your Executor

— His Own or Your Estate's Interests?

Any friend successful enough for you to want as your executor is probably fully occupied with his own affairs. When he is faced with the time-consuming details of settling your estate, isn't it likely that either his own or your estate's interests must be sacrificed to some extent? For this is what you are asking your friend to do:

- 1 — To spend much valuable time away from his own business (perhaps at a time when he can ill afford to do so).
- 2 — To risk suffering far greater losses in his affairs than the executor's fee he would receive.
- 3 — To assume a serious financial responsibility (liability for taxes and other obligations of an executor).
- 4 — To make decisions, for the good of the estate, which may cause him to lose the friendship of your family and associates.

Is it fair to ask so much of a friend — when this experienced and responsible bank is qualified to act as Executor and Trustee? We, of course, do not practice law. Your attorney should prepare your Will and advise you on all legal aspects of your Estate Plan.

Coastal Loop Opens Up '48 Schedule Tomorrow

Last Year's Hard-Playing Teams Start 140-Game Season Thursday; Will Be Shooting At 1947 Records

Goldboro, N. C., April 21—(AP)—The same eight teams which fought out the closest race last year in the seven-season history of the coastal plain league will start the 140-game 1948 schedule tomorrow.

First day openings will find Wilson at Goldboro, Tarboro at Greenville, Kingston at New Bern, and Roanoke Rapids at Rocky Mount.

Second openings will be Friday with the paired teams reversed. The clubs this year will have several records made last year to shoot at, including attendance of $14,115 for the regular season and the playoffs.

Wilson finished the season in first place last year with 79 wins against 51 losses, only 9 1-2 games ahead of Goldboro, the fifth place team, in the closest race in history. Runner-up Kingston disposed of Tarboro and then took Wilson four games to two to cop the playoff title.

Other records set included 7,006 fans for a playoff game between Wilson and Kingston for a league and state record, Wilson's 14,943 fans for three games in the finals, and Tarboro's 2,200 for a playoff game. Only one club, Rocky Mount, failed to top the 1947 attendance record. Four of them—led by Wilson with 134,948 for the regular season—topped the 100,000 mark. Others were Roanoke Rapids, 117,366; New Bern 104,246; Rocky Mount 100,730; Goldboro 92,126; Tarboro 70,282; Kingston 68,986; Greenville 64,780.

The league this year increased the player limit from 15 to 16 and the monthly salary limit from $2,250 to $3,000, exclusive of managers. The teams are limited to four veterans, eight players with not more than two years experience and are required to carry four rookies, five clubs have the same managers returning. Lefty Max Wilson at Wilson, Bill Herring at Goldboro, Steve Collins at Kingston, Stu Martin at Roanoke Rapids and Bill Hamons at Tarboro.

New Pilots are Harry Soufas (most valuable player last year) at New Bern, Bill Phebus at Greenville and Cecil (Turkey) Tyson at Rocky Mount.

Dizzy Events On Baseball Fronts

New York, April 21—(AP)—While the major leagues were getting their campaigns under way, dizzy things were happening on other baseball fronts.

At Orlando, Fla., Dennis Brantley swung at a third strike and then, when the catcher threw wild to first, raced around the bases to score the only run as Orlando defeated Gainesville, 1-0, in a class D Florida league game.

At Thomaston, Ga., high school pitcher Hugh Frank Radcliffe fanned 28 rival batsmen in winning a regulation nine-inning game, 10-0. The 28th strikeout was made possible when the Thomaston catcher dropped a third strike, sending the batter to first. Radcliffe promptly whiffed the next man.

Western Maryland beat Johns Hopkins 20-16, in a Mason Dixon game that produced nine errors, 28 bases on balls, 11 stolen bases and two home runs with the bases loaded.

Greenies Wallop Pirates 16-2 In Final Exhibition

By BERT MOYE

The Greenville Greenies brought their exhibition series to a close last night by walloping the Pirates of ECTC, 16-2, in a game that ended after seven innings of play by mutual agreement.

The Greenies did most of their scoring in two big innings—scoring seven runs in the first frame on four singles, two walks and Garland Little's homer over the rightfield wall with three mates aboard, and came back in the fourth to put across six runs on five singles, a double, two walks, two stolen bases and a wild pitch.

Garland Little and Joe Alamo shared the pitching honor in last night's tilt, with Little pitching for the first four innings in which he allowed four hits, one run, walked two and struck out six. Joe Alamo pitched the final three frames, and allowed one hit—that a homer over the scoreboard in left field with none on. He walked one and struck out one.

Emil Carter, Bob Cohen, Wiley Nash, Vernon Blas and Garland Little each got two hits apiece to lead the 13-hit attack off the four Pirates hurlers—which brought a total 28 hits in their last two exhibition tilts.

Jimmy Futrell, centerfielder for the Pirates, led the five-hit attack for the Teachers with his homer and a single in two trips to the plate.

Back In Brooklyn... Pap

It was in the summer of 1946 that Leo Durocher made the observation that "nice guys finish last!"

And now that he has returned to the Brooklyn Dodgers after a year of enforced inactivity, he is prepared to defend that attitude on the diamond just as he has been doing in articles appearing in national magazines. When Durocher speaks of "nice guys," he means the ball players who lose easily. The hardest-losing managers in baseball, past and present, were the ones who boasted the winningest records. John McGraw, in the past, and Joe McCarthy, of today, took defeat mightily hard.

Durocher is like that, too. "When it comes to losing," says Durocher, "I wear my heart on my sleeve, right where everyone can see it. You can't tell me that any man likes to lose. I don't like to lose, and I don't care who knows it."

Actually, Durocher has mellowed in the past year. However, he still wants his ball players to play for keeps, and to win. He wants hustle and scrap and insists that big league baseball is a rugged game and should be played that way. He asks no quarter, and gives none. And in his book "nice guys finish last," he wants no part of that position.

Chicago, April 21—(AP)—A substitute for welterweight champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson was sought by promoters today to oppose George Abrams in the 10-round main event of tonight's boxing card at the International Amphitheater.

Robinson last night cancelled his bout with Abrams after physicians said he was suffering from an attack of influenza.

Durocher Opens Season Playing Infield 'Hunch'

New York, April 21—(AP)—Pres-ton Ward, a 20-year-old rookie who never played higher than Class A ball before, was at first base for the Brooklyn Dodgers when the National League champions opened against the New York Giants yesterday.

Even Leo Durocher, the greatest hunch-player among the managers, seemed to agree his latest maneuver deserved an explanation. After all, Ward was slated to return to the minors only a week ago.

"It's this way," said Leo, "I'm just giving the kid a chance to make good on something he said to me in a hotel lobby down south. Know what he said? 'I've decided to turn him loose to get more experience, but I thought I'd talk to him first—he's such a fine, big good-looking kid.'"

"So I asked him where he would like to be sent, where he thought he would learn the most. He didn't seem to get what I meant, so I tried again."

"I said I meant did he think he could hit in Class A or Class Double A. He said well, he liked best to hit in parks where there was a short right field fence."

"That got me to thinking, but I told him I still needed to know what classification he thought he could hit in so I could send him there."

"That was when he said it. He said: 'Why, Mr. Durocher, I don't know but what I can hit in this league.' How do you like that?"

"So that's why he's out there today. He's going to get a chance to make good on what he said in that hotel lobby. He'll be there tomorrow too, but after that I can't say. One thing I know for sure, I'm not confused about first base. I always know that if Nobody else can play it, Jackie Robinson can."

"What's so confused about that?"

Spirit Undaunted

Salt Lake City—(AP)—Five times Mrs. S. M. Kalm went skiing. Five times they carried her off the course with one leg or the other broken. This year it was different. Twice she tried snowy slopes and went home unhurt.

"It just takes perseverance," she said. "I believe I have finally mastered the sport."

No-Hitters Missing As Big League Play Opens

By JOE REICHLER

(Associated Press Sports Writer) About the only thing missing in yesterday's and Monday's major league opening games was a no-hitter.

Practically everything else happened, to the delight of 331,788 fans who set a record for opening day attendance.

As for the results themselves, Brooklyn sneaked past the Giants 7-6 in New York; the Cards shut out Cincinnati 4-0 in St. Louis; Washington gained revenge for its one-sided defeat by the Yankees Monday, thrashing the world champions 9-1; Detroit defeated the White Sox in Chicago 5-2 and the Indians set a record inaugural crowd of 73,163 home happy with a 4-0 triumph over the St. Louis Browns.

In other games, the Philadelphia Phillies had a successful home opener as they whipped the Boston Braves 3-1, and Pittsburgh did likewise with a 3-2 win over the Chicago Cubs. The Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics were idle.

Here are some of the opening day highlights:

Eighteen home runs were belted yesterday and Monday—not an unusual number, but look what some of them produced:

Stan Spence, Vern Stephens and Bobby Doerr hit theirs in succession in one inning—a record-tying feat—but the Red Sox lost anyway.

George Vico, rookie first baseman of the Tigers, smacked one on the first pitch served him in his first major league game.

Tommy McBride of the Senators slammed one—with the bases loaded in the first inning.

Mike Tresh of the White Sox hit one—his first in 787 games. He had not hit a four pager since 1940. Previously he had hit only one home run in 10 years of the majors.

Three rookies—Hank Sauer of the Reds, Romanus Bagall of the Pirates and Vico—hit homers.

Two pitchers—Allie Reynolds of the Yankees and Rip Sewell of the Pirates—joined the homer brigade. In addition to Spence and Stephens, recent additions to the Red Sox, Eddie Miller and Billy Cox celebrated their transfers to new clubs with homers. Miller, the former Redleg, put the Phils ahead with his homer. Cox provided the winning margin with his two-run drive.

Bert Haas, traded by the Reds to the Phillies during the winter, and Lee Culberson, transferred by the Red Sox to the Senators, did not hit home runs, but each collected four hits in his new uniform.

Locke Maintains Lead As Finals Begin In Tourney

Southern Pines, N. C., April 21—(AP)—Bobby Locke, the South African sharpshooter, held a four-stroke gain as final 36-hole firing began in the Carolina open golf tournament here today.

Locke, defending the title he won in his first tournament appearance in this country last year, counted a 13 under par 131 at the halfway point. Yesterday he fired a 67 to go with his first day's record setting 64.

Four strokes back of the leader was Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., who fashioned a sparkling 33-65, seven under par, in yesterday's round over the 6,881-yard Mid Pines course. Palmer, a player on the touring pro circuit, had a 70 the first day.

Senator Speaks At Farmville On World Problems

Farmville, April 21.—The major problem of the world and of the United States in this hour is the establishment and maintenance of world peace.

Senator William B. Umstead said here Monday night.

In a speech delivered before the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, the Senator stated that along with its efforts to establish peace, the United States must do what appears necessary to protect the nation's security.

"Most Americans realize that we must build and maintain an adequate national defense program until Russia and nations controlled by her clearly show their intentions to end acts of aggression and to preserve world peace," he said.

The European Recovery Program is not only vital to the economy of Western Europe, but it is also an active counter-attack against communism and the threat of further aggression, he added.

A successful ERP will result in stronger, more productive European allies for world democratic forces. Umstead continued. It will strengthen the United Nations because the UN is based upon a concept of free and independent nations and the ERP has the same goal.

Discussing the importance of agricultural products in the ERP, the Senator pointed out that America must maintain high farm production for many years. He stated that present indications are that the exportation of flue-cured tobacco to Europe and other countries under the ERP will about equal the average exported during 1946 and 1947.

Umstead deplored reports that opposition had been voiced in Congress to movement of tobacco under the recovery program. "Tobacco, as a commodity, is an integral part of our world economy," he asserted. "Tobacco products have a high value to people in all of the countries under the ERP and in China. Taxes on tobacco provide large revenues for many of these governments as it does for ours."

"The inclusion in the program of nothing more than a recognition of the part which it can be expected to contribute to the over-all objective of the program. To the tobacco growers in the United States it means the opening up of foreign markets and a continuation of substantial exports of tobacco."

Italy May Soon Get Invitation

London, April 21.—(AP)—Italy's electoral rebuff of communism may bring her an early invitation to join the Western European Alliance of Nations.

Diplomatic quarters expressed this belief today, and officials in Whitehall (the British foreign office area) said the invitation may come before the end of April.

Pre-School Clinics Announced Today

The Pitt County Health Department announced today that Pre-School Clinics for all children who are to enter school next September for the first time will be held at:

Third Street School, Greenville, April 22.

Training School, Greenville, April 20.

It is requested that parents have their children at the school at 9 o'clock.

Any children who failed to attend the clinic held Wednesday, April 20, at West Greenville School may attend either one of these two clinics.

Hopes Veterans Won't Be Issue

Raleigh, N.C., April 21.—(AP)—Mayne Albright, a candidate for governor, says he doesn't want to see "the veterans or the veteran bonus turned into a political football."

A veteran of the recent war, Albright told a rally in Morganton last night that he would favor a referendum on the question of a bonus "only if a majority of the veterans themselves indicate they want such a referendum."

"For me or any other candidate definitely to advocate a bonus at this time, when neither a majority of the veterans themselves nor any one of the five or more veterans' organizations in the state is pressing for it, would simply be a bid for votes," he declared.

State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson, another candidate for governor, said last night that North Carolina should offer greater opportunity to its youth.

Addressing the Men's Club at Carthage, Johnson asserted that "lack of opportunity will cause our young people to leave the state. Youthful brains and enthusiasm, given the proper setting and opportunity, can do more toward future progress of North Carolina than any other one asset within our borders."

Pay Tribute To Former Members Of U.S. Senate

Washington, April 21.—(AP)—The Senate pays tribute today to eight former members who died in the past three years.

Scheduled speakers at the memorial services (3 p. m. EST) were Senators Brooks (R-Ill.) and Hoey (D-N.C.).

The late senators to be honored were James Graves Schugham, Nevada Democrat; Hiram Warren Johnson, California, Republican; John Thomas, Idaho Republican; Carter Glass, Virginia Democrat; John Hollis Bankhead 2nd, Alabama Democrat; Charles Oscar Andrews, Florida Democrat; Josiah William Bailey, North Carolina Democrat; and Theodore Gilmore Bilbo, Mississippi Democrat.

Winston-Salem, April 21.—(AP)—Tommy Lee Phillips, 17, is not entitled to get money from the estate of his parents he was convicted of killing, a Forsyth Superior Court jury has decided. But the state Supreme Court may be asked to rule on the issue.

The high school youth was convicted last month of the new year's eve rifle slayings of his parents in their home near Winston-Salem. He is serving 50 to 60 years.

Jail Women For Selling Infants

Los Angeles, April 21.—(AP)—Two middle-aged women were in jail today, booked on suspicion of buying babies from unwed mothers for $200 each and selling them to married couples for as much as $1,200.

Mrs. Marie Chaplin, 51, was arrested as she left the Glendale Community Hospital yesterday. Later authorities booked Mrs. Isabel Drucker, 53, her cousin, of Glendale.

Both women denied any wrongdoing and said they had nothing to do with the sale of any infants.

B-29 Missing

Tokyo, April 21.—(AP)—A B-29 with a crew of 10 disappeared on a training mission yesterday over the western Pacific. U. S. 20th Air Force Headquarters reported today.

More than 50 air force planes are searching for the big bomber.

The B-29 left Guam yesterday on a training mission to Farallon De Medinilla Island, 350 miles north of Guam.

Catch Teen-Aged Bandit In Fight

New York, April 21.—(AP)—A 14-year-old boy, armed with a .45 caliber automatic, wounded two men and exchanged 18 shots with police officers said, before he and a teen-aged companion were captured yesterday after an attempted holdup of a Park Row pawnshop.

As rush-hour crowds ducked for cover, police subdued the youths in a three-minute running gun battle. They were identified as Henry Gonzalez, 14, eighth grade public school student, and Donald Portelli, 16.

Authorities related this version of the incident:

The boys entered the Zirmo Company pawnshop about 5:15 p. m. Gonzalez whipped out the big automatic and announced a "stickup." An instant after the announcement he opened fire, seriously wounding a clerk, Stanley Zerlin, 31. A customer, Randolph Chung, 27, was wounded in the chest by a second shot.

Gonzalez then slugged store manager Louis Singer, 48, with the butt of his gun and the two youths fled.

A traffic policeman, attracted by the shots, fired twice into the air as the pair emerged from the store. The unarmed Portelli surrendered quickly. Gonzalez was captured several blocks away after exchanging a fusillade of shots with two other policemen.

Nickel Subway Ride Is Doomed

New York, April 21.—(AP)—The world's biggest ride for a nickel is doomed.

Announcing a 10-cent fare for the city's subway system and a seven-cent tariff for bus and trolley lines, Mayor William O'Dwyer last night ended a tradition as old as the 44-year-old history of the Metropolitan underground railroad.

Train Blows Up, Two Men Killed

Ewring, Tenn., April 21.—(AP)—A large Clinchfield Railroad locomotive exploded 10 miles south of here early today, killing the engineer and fireman.

The explosion occurred in a mountainous gorge on the railroad's route to North Carolina. It threw sparks into nearby woods, setting them afire.

outs yesterday.

"The men cannot risk their lives to dig coal when they know the government is against them," was the reaction of David Fowler, president of district 21 in Arkansas and Oklahoma.

But the Lewis telegram late yesterday sent Fowler, along with the other district presidents, into action.

Lewis himself refused to talk and his aides here said they knew nothing about the quiet appeal to get the miners back on the job.

But from the coal towns came the word that district heads had received this telegram from Lewis:

"We are today (Tuesday) executing bonds perfecting appeals. I do hope you will convey to each member my wish that they immediately return to work."

What Lewis referred to in the telegram was the posting of a $1,420,000 bond—the amount of his and the union fine—as the first step in an appeal which will be carried to the Supreme court if necessary.

Psychiatry Not For Man Alone

Atlanta, April 21.—(AP)—Some times, says Dr. L. C. Moss of Fort Collins, Colo., dogs become mentally ill from associating with people.

Hence, says Dr. Moss, psychiatry is going to the dogs.

Dr. Moss in an address prepared for the National Convention of the American Animal Hospital Association here today explained he had reached his conclusions after studying human beings.

Then he added: "Exploration of human behavior has led to the inevitable conclusion that mental states and environmental influences play a major role in shaping the lives of pets and other domestic animals."

Abuse or pampering by humans can produce psychotic dogs, Dr. Moss continued, though people are not altogether to blame.

The association of dogs with other dogs, he declared, can produce mental illnesses, too.

The member of the veterinary faculty at Colorado A & M College said dogs are influenced by fear, pain, jealousy, suspicion, frustration and dominance of stronger members.
